

TOWN PICK-UPS

Baron Aurriemma

came in on No. 12 Wednesday and left soon after for Capitan and the lower valley, where he will begin his Lincoln county campaign for the Salvation Army.

He will go to Lincoln, Fort Stanton, Capitan, thence to Corona, and finish up his campaign in Carrizozo.

Summer Frolic

At Community Hall, Tuesday evening beginning with 5 o'clock, the Epworth League of the M. E. church will present a program that is sure to please everybody.

Don't fail to see "Blue Beard's Wives," "The Midgets" and vote in the Popularity Contest. Many other attractions will be including eats.—Come.

John and Harriet Blackshere son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Blackshere, came in Monday from Cottonwood Falls, Kansas and by their coming, the family is complete. They drove the distance of 1000 miles in less than two days. As the children will remain here with their parents and attend school, we extend the hand of welcome and hope they will like Carrizozo.

Evelyn Grumbles

left last week for Riverside, Cal., accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. Roy Grumbles and grandmother, Mrs. M. L. Grumbles. She wrote back to her mother that she is having a very pleasant time and on expiration of her visit, her mother will make the trip to Riverside and bring her home.

Sheriff John Brady

turned in his old Buick car to the City Garage this week and in return, purchased a new Chevrolet Sedan. John now skims over the county like a bird in search of violators of the law. The old Buick had 58,000 miles to its credit, all of which proves that the cars put out by the General Motors Corporation stand the test in all cases.

Mrs. Floy Skinner

Mrs. Emmett Ferguson and son Kenneth were here from the Nogal-Mesa Wednesday, doing some shopping and returning in the afternoon.

J. P. Jolly

father of L. A. Jolly, the Model Cleaner, made a trip to Corona last Friday and returned Tuesday evening. Mr. Jolly had ample time during his stay at Corona, to ascertain facts concerning crop and range conditions in that locality. He found the bean raisers in the best of spirits over the abundant amount of moisture they have received. It was the prevailing opinion that they have never had a more promising year than that of the present, and unless something unusual happens, such as hail, etc., the bean crop will be a bumper. The flock and range is in fine condition. On the whole, Corona is sitting pretty.

Jolly, the cleaner, has employed Christy St. John to help him with his work.

The Titworth Company

being victims of the flood a short time ago, their warehouses were flooded which put the company to much inconvenience in getting the canned goods to a place of safety, and now, as will be seen in their ad in this paper, they are selling canned goods in a sacrifice sale in order to put in new stock. While the labels on some of the cans were soaked off in water, the contents are guaranteed. Here is an opportunity to get good grades of canned goods at sacrifice prices and yet have the same guaranteed.

Russell H. Marvin, O. D.

Optometrist of El Paso, Texas, came through here Tuesday on a pleasure trip to principal places of New Mexico. On his trip, he will visit our mountain resorts, such as Eagle Creek, Ruidoso, Pine Lodge in this locality and afterwards to Santa Fe, Albuquerque and Taos. Dr. Marvin has his professional card in this paper and Carrizozo people making trips to El Paso, will do well to drop in at his office when needing glasses fitted. He will not pay professional visits to this place, but as his card says, the office number is 103 Texas street, El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wack

were here from Tucumcari the latter part of last week and paid the Outlook a pleasant visit. While here, they told of the severe illness of Rev. Douglas, who was once pastor of the local Methodist church. Rev. Douglas had been on a trip in the south and had eaten some fruit which had been 'stung' by the dreaded Mediterranean fly. In spite of everything that could possibly be done for him, his condition for the worse gradually increases. The Wacks left Sunday evening for their home in Tucumcari.

Mrs. Ira Greer

and sons Fred and Jack arrived here from the Greer ranch in the San Andres mountains Saturday, where they spent about two weeks with the Lester Greer family. They stayed over for the day and left on No. 12 for their home in Tucumcari. They had a pleasant visit at the Greer ranch and said that the angora goats were fat and healthy and the range in excellent condition.

Alfred Richardson

left Saturday for his home in Alvarado, Tex., where he will spend a week with the home folks. This is Alfred's first visit to his home town since coming here last fall to attend school.

FIRE STATION AND TRUSTEES' OFFICE

Foregoing what is to follow, we must take the reader back eight years, as it has been that long ago since Carrizozo first organized a fire company, since which time, the town has shared in the state fund derived from taxations on fire insurance companies operating in New Mexico.

This fund is then distributed among fire companies wherever they may exist and our allotment for the first year after the company was organized was $300. Since that time, our portion has increased gradually, until in the year of 1928, we received the snug sum of $1100. When the fund was small, the Trustees purchased three lots on which the fire station now stands and rested at that, because of the fact the fund was exhausted. In the intervening years, the Board saved the apportionments until in the beginning of the present year, they had on hand, $4000 which amount was used to erect the building as it now stands. It will be readily seen by the above facts, that the public has not been taxed for the cost of the building, as some might presume but quite to the contrary, as no taxation has been imposed on us in the least.

The building is 30x50 and has a concrete vault 7x7, the thickness of which is 12 inches. The office for the Board of Trustees is 14x20, the lavatory is 4x8, leaving the remainder of the building for the use of the fire equipment and street grader. The building is made substantial in every manner, the same being constructed by contractor T. J. Pittman, under the supervision of the Trustees and by the committee consisting of S. F. Miller, T. E. Kelley and the Mayor, G. T. McQuillen. The roof is 3 ply and cemented; it has flares in each corner to prevent snow and ice from settling in the corners, as all such moisture will now slide from those places into the center of the roof, leaving no dampness to remain there and rot the roof. The vault is equipped with a time lock and the furniture in the office is of the very best of hard wood and will last for centuries. It has a complete water system and lights abound on every hand.

The office has a good hardwood floor, under which is a solid concrete foundation. There is a large chandelier, assisted by an ample amount of single incandescents over the office, in the vault and lavatory, while on the outside, there are 3 ornamental lights, all of which, when the building is lighted, presents a neat and tidy appearance. Concrete walks extend from the entrances to the main sidewalk, between which the Trustees will plant trees and flowers to assist in beautifying the appearance of the structure as a whole.

Thus ends this description of the new building, but it must be seen to be appreciated, and last, but by no means least, we wish to commend the Board of Trustees for their interest taken in the town, not only for the erection of this building which is a credit to the town, but for other things they have done, whereby they have sacrificed a portion of their valuable time for the interest of Carrizozo, to the end that they might make Carrizozo a better and more pleasant place in which to live.

Laverty—Brown

Last Friday evening, at the home of Rev. Ludlow, Mrs. Edina Laverty and Elbert Brown, both of Carrizozo, were united in marriage, after which, the happy couple, accompanied by a number of friends, went to Coyote, where a big wedding supper awaited them and where a pleasant evening was spent. The bride is the oldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. P. M. Shaver and the groom is a son of Mrs. Eliza Brown, who resides on the old Brown homestead at Nogal. The contracting parties are both well known over the county and are members of our leading families in these parts.

The groom, Mr. Brown, is in the employ of the Southern Pacific company. They will make their home in Coyote, where the groom is now employed. Both parties have a host of friends here and in surrounding localities who are wishing them the best of everything in their new life.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. McClintock

arrived home Monday from a trip which took them to all principal places in the state of Texas, where they visited relatives and friends. They were absent about two weeks and had a pleasant visit.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Stadtman and family have moved to Roswell and are now permanently located in their new home at 902 Penn. Ave. While we congratulate Mr. Stadtman on his advancement and promotion with the Equitable Life Insurance Co., we regret to lose the family with whom we have been so long associated, but inasmuch as Roswell is such a short distance from here and this is a part of his district, we may hope to see him occasionally, and Mrs. Stadtman and the children may also pay us a visit in the future. Let's hope so.

Mrs. Elsie Charles

entertained a number of little friends of her youngest daughter Virginia Tuesday evening in honor of 'Ginger's' 8th birthday. They assembled at 6 p. m., and were taken to the Blue Bonnet Cafe, where delicious refreshments were served, and afterwards taken to see the Ted Wells picture 'Beauty and Bullets.' Ginger received many nice presents from her little friends.

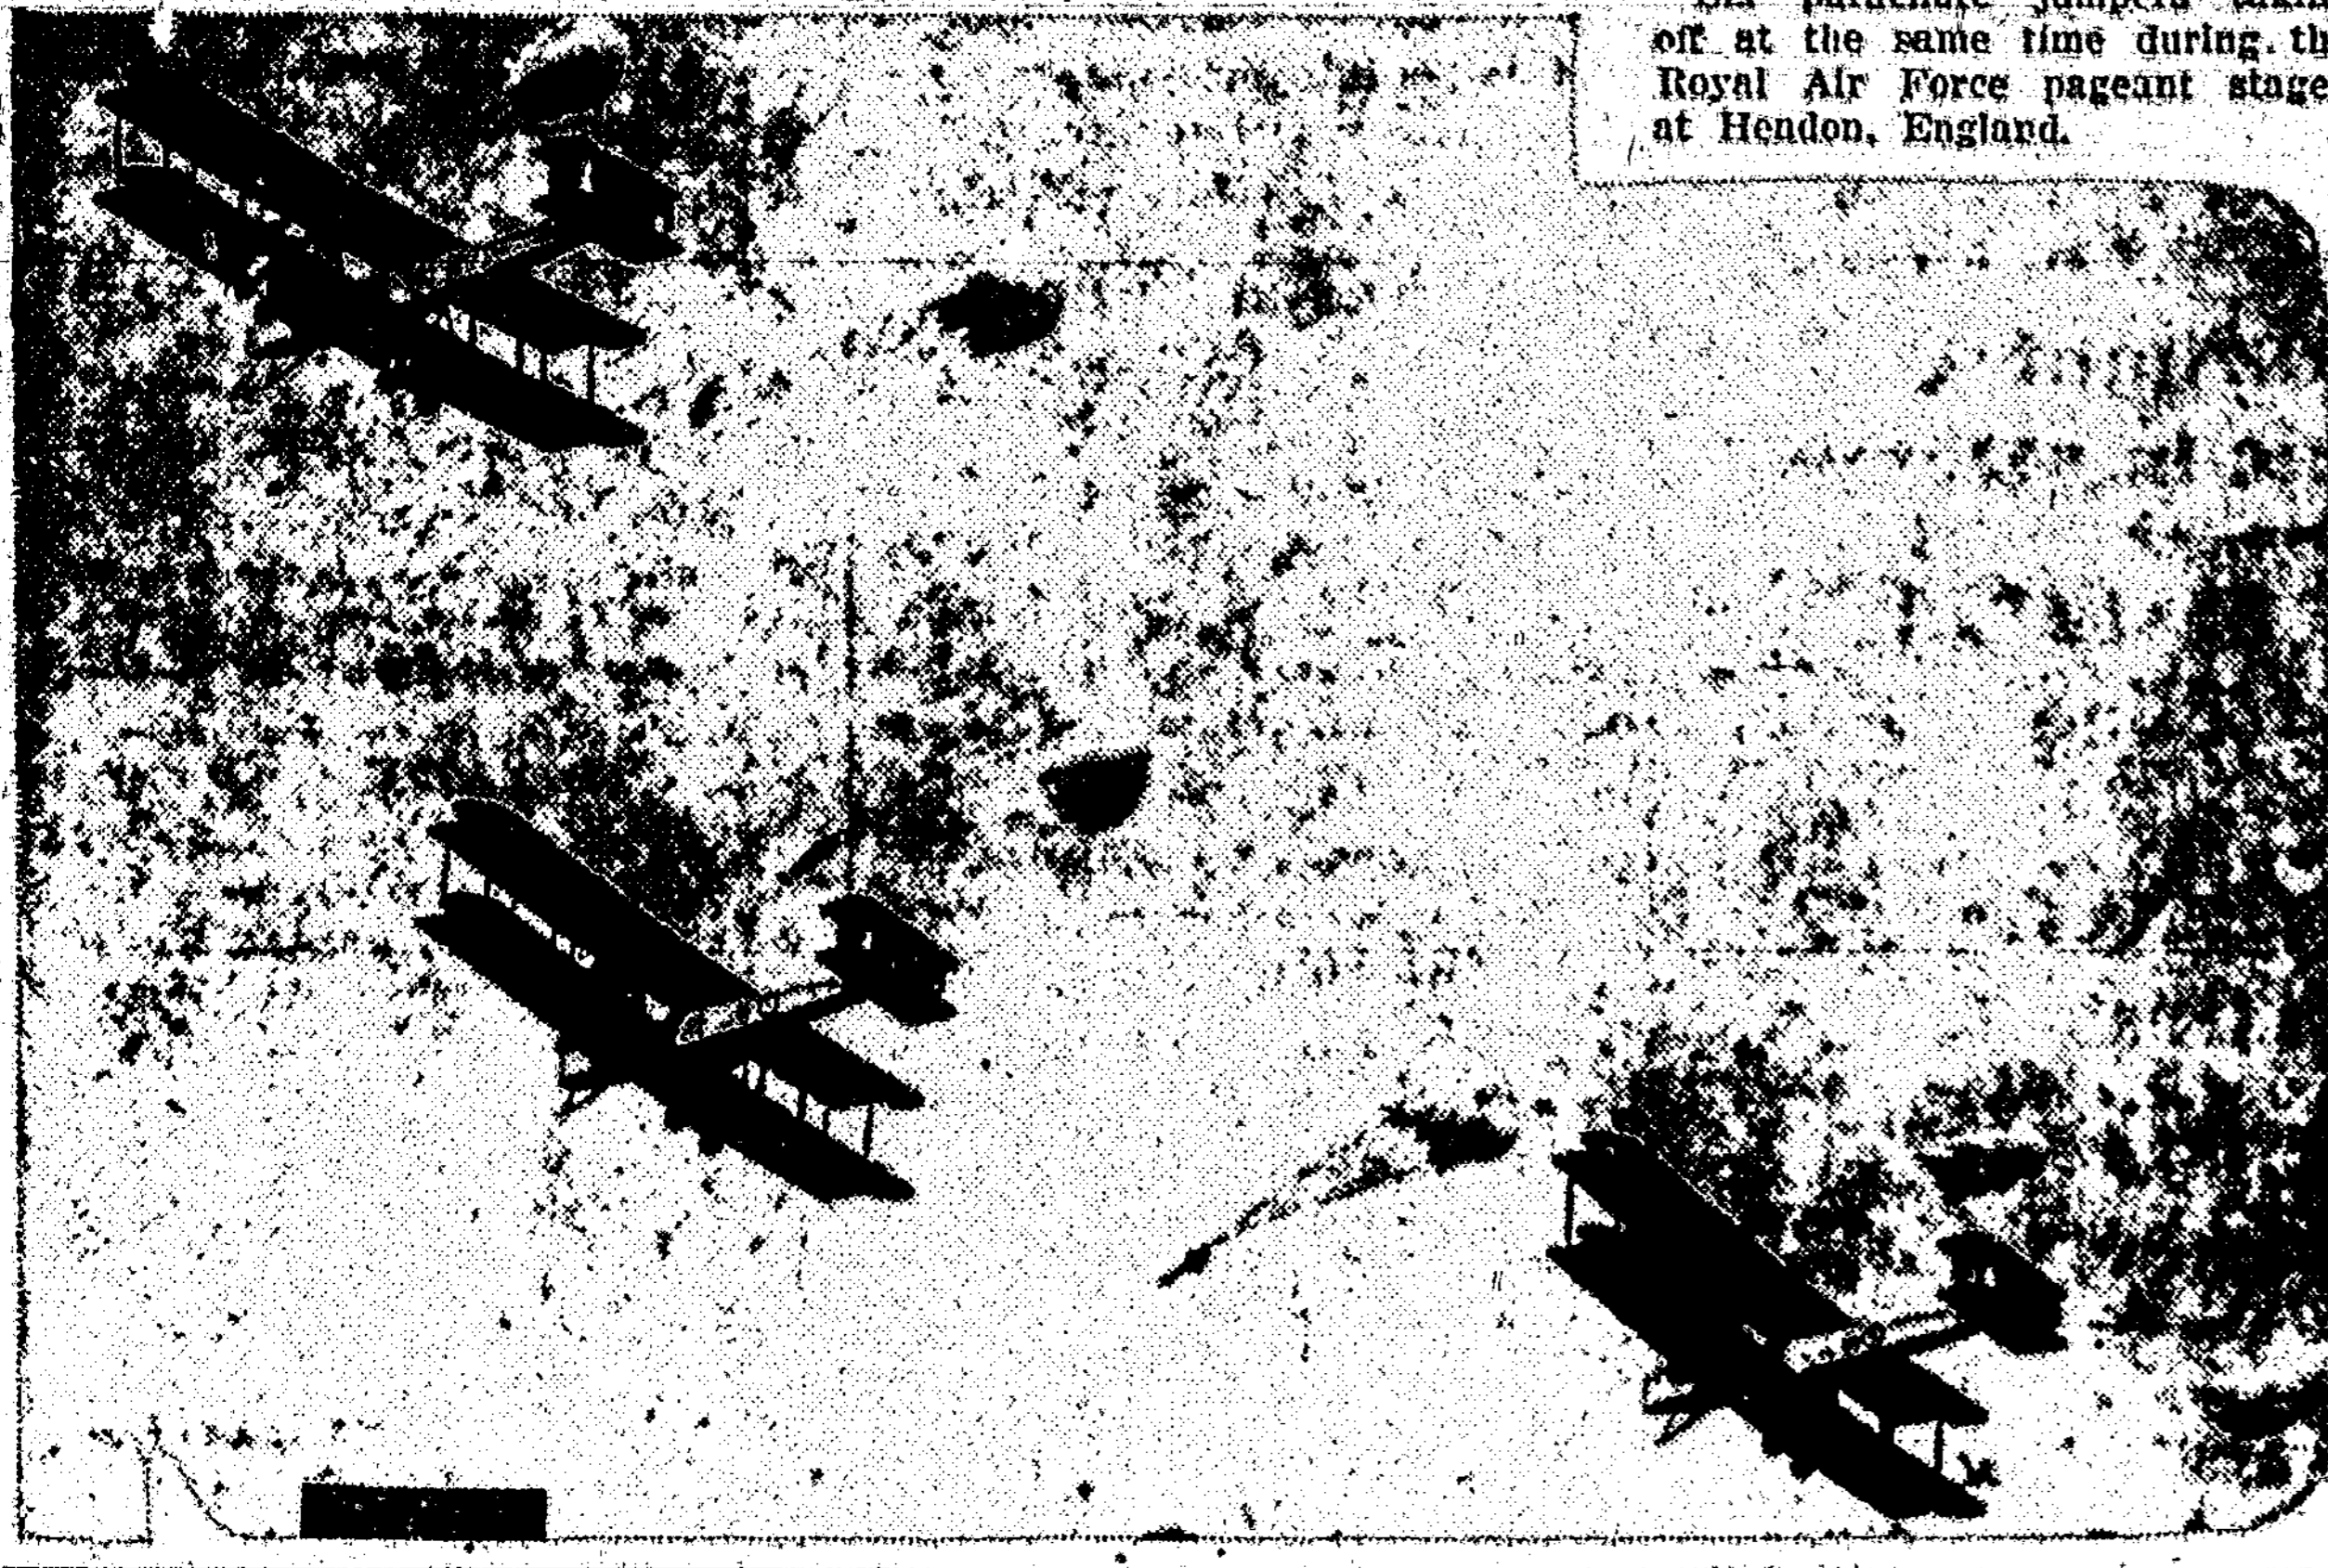

Mr. and Mrs. E. Bello

were here from their ranch north of town Monday and were wearing smiles over the nice rainfall they have had in that locality. Mr. Bello said that of all years since his coming to these regions, this season has them beat by far, for moisture. Grass is nearly knee high on his grazing land with sheep and lambs rolling fat.

Attention to the public to call and look over the new town fire station and Trustees' office.

TILDEN TO QUIT AT END OF YEAR

Big Bill Says He Is Playing His Last Season.

"The year 1920 sees the end of my international tennis," writes William T. Tilden II, nine times ranking tennis star of the United States and mainstay of American Davis cup teams since 1920, in Liberty.

Announcing his retirement from international competition, "Big Bill" states he will remain an amateur and continue to play tennis "as long as my two wobbling legs will function and my aged and enfeebled arm will swing, as long as my age-dimmed eyes can see a ball."

Davis cup competition will know no longer the smashing cannon-ball service and amazing all-around tennis of the greatest player of modern times. In the future, Tilden says, he will play as an individual, not as a member of any American team.

"I have had a grand time, but I must hereafter write and speak of my triumphs and failures in world tennis in the past tense, for I am through," the Philadelphia writes.

"Not through with the game, but through with international competition. My future status will continue to be amateur. I have no thought or intention of turning professional," Tilden, who has been ranked No. 1 in American tennis since 1920, has had frequent squabbles with the United States Lawn Tennis association, and spent the winter of 1929-30 in involuntary retirement. He makes humorous, but rather dignified, reference to his differences with the U. S. L. T. A. in announcing his withdrawal from international competition.

"I hope to be able to play for years in exhibitions at schools and colleges or in public parks where I feel I am aiding in the development of our future champions.

"Not only have I no chance but I have no burning desire to sit in the seats of the mighty in the councils of the U. S. L. T. A. My views are at variance with the traditions of the association but not with its ethics. I fear I would want to see too much progressiveness and liberalism in its administration. I am for the players, first, last and all the time."

Phosphorus Not Basis of Firefly Brilliance

Flies blaze, worms glow, fish flash—all, so scientists say, because of a substance called luciferin. About this time of year fireflies may be seen nearly every night over dark fields. Each insect appears to give a brief blaze of light at intervals—whence its name. There are some forty well-known kinds of living creatures which possess this light-flashing power, including the glowworms and various fish.

Such fish and insects have been called "phosphorescent," but this is incorrect. The element of phosphorus does not enter into this natural light at all. Luciferin is the substance involved. The word is patterned after Lucifer, the name of the morning star, which, according to Webster's New International dictionary, is a Latin word meaning "bringing light." The natural light found in fireflies, fish, and glowworms is many times more efficient than the light manufactured by man.

One Drawback

E. E. McGriff, of Portland, a newly elected member of the house of representatives and formerly judge of the Jay Circuit court, once in his more youthful days, was called on to pitch in at a political meeting at Hartford City. He had gone there to hear John W. Kern and some other notable Democrats, but due to some mistake the advertised speakers did not appear, and McGriff, among others, was pressed into service.

After the meeting he was talking with an old German citizen and commented that they had had a good meeting.

"You bet, it was a good meeting," replied the man, "but it was a shame we had no speakers."—Indianapolis News.

Misunderstanding

The late Avery Hopwood, the playwright who bequeathed a quarter of a million to the University of Michigan for annual literary prizes, was talking one day in New York about a banned book.

"The Liberator," he said, "banned this book because they misunderstood it. The thing is ludicrous, really."

"It reminds me of the colored woman who staggered out of a chiropractor's establishment with a very large and heavy burlap bag on her back. "Calls these a chiropractor," she granted, "and can't stuff a dog!"

EDITORIAL COLUMN

Modern Rip Van Winkle

Last week's dispatches contained the account of a man, Jesse Harding Powery, a sad-eyed, stoop-shouldered man, aged 71, who has been an inmate of the state prison at Charlestown, Mass., who had just been released from that institution after having spent 56 years of his life behind the gates, he being sent there when he was 15 years old.

In releasing him, he was taken to the state farm at Bridgewater, he being too old to earn a livelihood for himself, there to spend the remaining years of his life. It was 40 miles from the state prison to the state farm over which, he was driven in an automobile. On the way, he met numerous automobiles and saw an airplane soaring overhead on the trip. After arriving at the farm, he said: "the world has gone mad; where are all the horses?" During his long incarceration, this modern Rip Van Winkle had known nothing of the rapid changes wrought during the long period of his confinement. When he went there, there were no automobiles; the telephone was only in its swaddling clothes; the art of flying, although it was spoken of occasionally, was laughed off and ridiculed.

Now, as he came to life again, the whole world is changed, horses are virtually a thing of the past—radio, telephone, wireless, the airplane and many more things gave a shock to this man taken from his living grave. It is no wonder that he said: "the world has gone mad!" We agree with him in more than one sense. We believe the world, or that portion of it, was, which sent the boy, a mere child, to the state prison for 56 years. No matter what the offense was, he was but a child and should have been dealt with as such. It would seem that the boy had no friends to intercede for him, no one to extend a helping hand, in the dark hours of his long incarceration, he had heard nothing of the outside world. He was buried alive. During this time, while the world was undergoing such a change, waiting justice slept and Jesse Harding Powery died, only to be resurrected without hope and doomed to a place as a public charge for the few remaining years of his pitiful existence.

During this long sleep of sleep, the modern Rip Van Winkle eked out a miserable existence almost within the sound of the voices of moralists and preachers of the Gospel, crying out the wrong things of the world and bemoaning everything else in the way of injustice except the damnable incarceration of the friendless boy, who was buried for life in the dungeon of a state prison. Thus, did waiting justice sleep, but when the last trumpet sounds, the guilty will be revealed.

More things come to those who don't wait for them, than to those who do.—Chicago News.

Recapitulation

11 of the original class graduated with the classes of 1928 or 29, Carrizozo, 5, including David Saunders graduated from other High Schools.

5 plan to continue their education and graduate with the classes of 1930 and '31.

2 have died.

3 girls married and dropped out.

3 refused to climb when the rocks became rugged.

The Class of 1929 will be remembered for a number of things. First: they dedicated the new auditorium—Second, they maintained a high educational standard all the way through school. Fourth, they excelled in athletics and in music, being good, clean, fair sports, although distinguished for their hard fighting in what ever they undertook. At home or on the road they were highly complimented for their exemplary conduct and deportment.

Previous classes have made good records and the class of 1929 inherited a good morale, which they have passed on to the Class of 1930, unblemished. The board of education is justly proud of them and the teachers who developed them. On May 31 their education was no longer duty of the commonwealth of New Mexico, and they passed out from under the control of the board of education of the Municipality of Carrizozo never to return. The Board and the citizens of Carrizozo will watch their future progress with interest. The board has always felt that the class stood together remarkably well and were fair and loyal to each other, the faculty and to the school, and in their school work and in their school activities were anything but quitters and the parting word of the board to the class is, we are proud of you. In your future activities remember, history has never yet donated a page to a quitter.

We want to tell you a little story before we turn with open arms to welcome those who picked up the Torch you tossed to them May 31, 1929.

Once upon a time we had a war in this country which we call the Revolutionary War. An iron souled people said, "we'll live our lives as we want to live them, we will develop our civilization as we want—develop it—we'll make our laws as we want to make them, we'll do these things or we'll die, and they meant what they said.

So they wrote on their standards "Liberty or Death;" they burned the slogan on buckskin shirts, they wrote it and scattered it all along the Atlantic Seaboard as they lined up to battle the mightiest Kingdom of that day.

The hardest shocks of the war fell on the New England colonies. Certain generals in that section had distinguished themselves and in due time a monument was raised for them with 4 or more tablets, one for each name. On one plate was carved the name of General Montgomery, who was admired for his patriotism and dashing courage and who was revered by his men. He crossed into Canada, took Montreal and in the depths of winter stormed the almost impregnable defenses of Quebec where he fell dead before its walls.

In that same expedition was another general of fiery courage who fell wounded in the same assault which was repulsed. This general later distinguished himself at Saratoga, where he again fell wounded, charging at the head of his men who followed his lead as the soldiers followed the famous Mad Anthony Wayne. His name should have been on the monument that stands to this day, but they left the slab blank. The One hundred and ten million people of the United States would object to having his name written among those of our early heroes.

Down the road, glory and immortal fame awaited this general, who was needed and trusted by the immortal Washington, but he quit and he had to accept the fate of a quitter. So the monument has stood for years with one plate blank and it will remain blank until it crumbles to dust and is blown into the Atlantic Ocean. The rocks became too rugged for him, for the name that might have been carved on that plate was General Benedict Arnold, who quit.

Your motto was, "Climb, Though the Rocks be Rugged," an excellent slogan, but we want to remind you to be prepared to climb, for the rocks will be rugged, otherwise, there will be no climbing and no progress. Select your objective and keep going. Don't quit, for as surely as you do, someone will pass you and get what you wanted and often it is just around the corner from where you quit.

This letter has been approved by each member of the board of education and Supt. J. M. Helm. We invite the people of Carrizozo to assist in making the school term of 1929 and '30 the best we have ever had and we want to see the Class 1930 write as good if not a better record than that written by the Class of 1929.

"The King is dead, long live the King" but a few of us will have to be pardoned for feeling a little "choky" as the class of 1929 fades into the past.

Facts About the Telephone

On January 1, 1929, there was one telephone for each six persons in the United States.

There are more than 2,500,000 telephones in the world, 59 per cent of which are in this country.

During 1928 Washington, D. C., telephone users made 190,200,000 local calls and 5,400,000 toll calls.

The transmission wire in the Bell System would circle the earth at the equator more than 2,500 times.

The Arizona was the first American battleship to be equipped with telephones and loud speakers. This was in 1916.

During 1928 1,175 private Branch Exchanges were added to the 49,593 in the territory of the New York Telephone Company.

MORE TELEPHONE COMFORT

Once upon a time, when the telephone bell rang, we rose from positions of comfort and ease, rushed to the receiver and conducted conducted conversations panting and out of breath. Telephoning under these circumstances often proved annoying. Today the telephone is brought to us. We need never change the pose of comfort and ease. The modern house is wired with a telephone connection in practically every room. A portable set is plugged in, and you take the message where you are.—House and Garden.

VACCINATION NOTICE

The laws of New Mexico require all children of school age to be vaccinated against small-pox before they can be admitted to the public schools of the state. We understand that all rural and municipal schools will begin early in September. I would advise that so far as it is convenient to do so, that parents attend to the vaccination of their children during the month of August, so as to give that important requirement attention before the opening of school.

Dr. F. H. Johnson,
County Health Officer, Lincoln County.

Despite the scores of improvements incorporated in these new models, prices have been kept within the low Chevrolet price range, the Imperial Sedan listing at $925 and the Sport Coupe at $845, both f. o. b. factory, Flint, Mich.

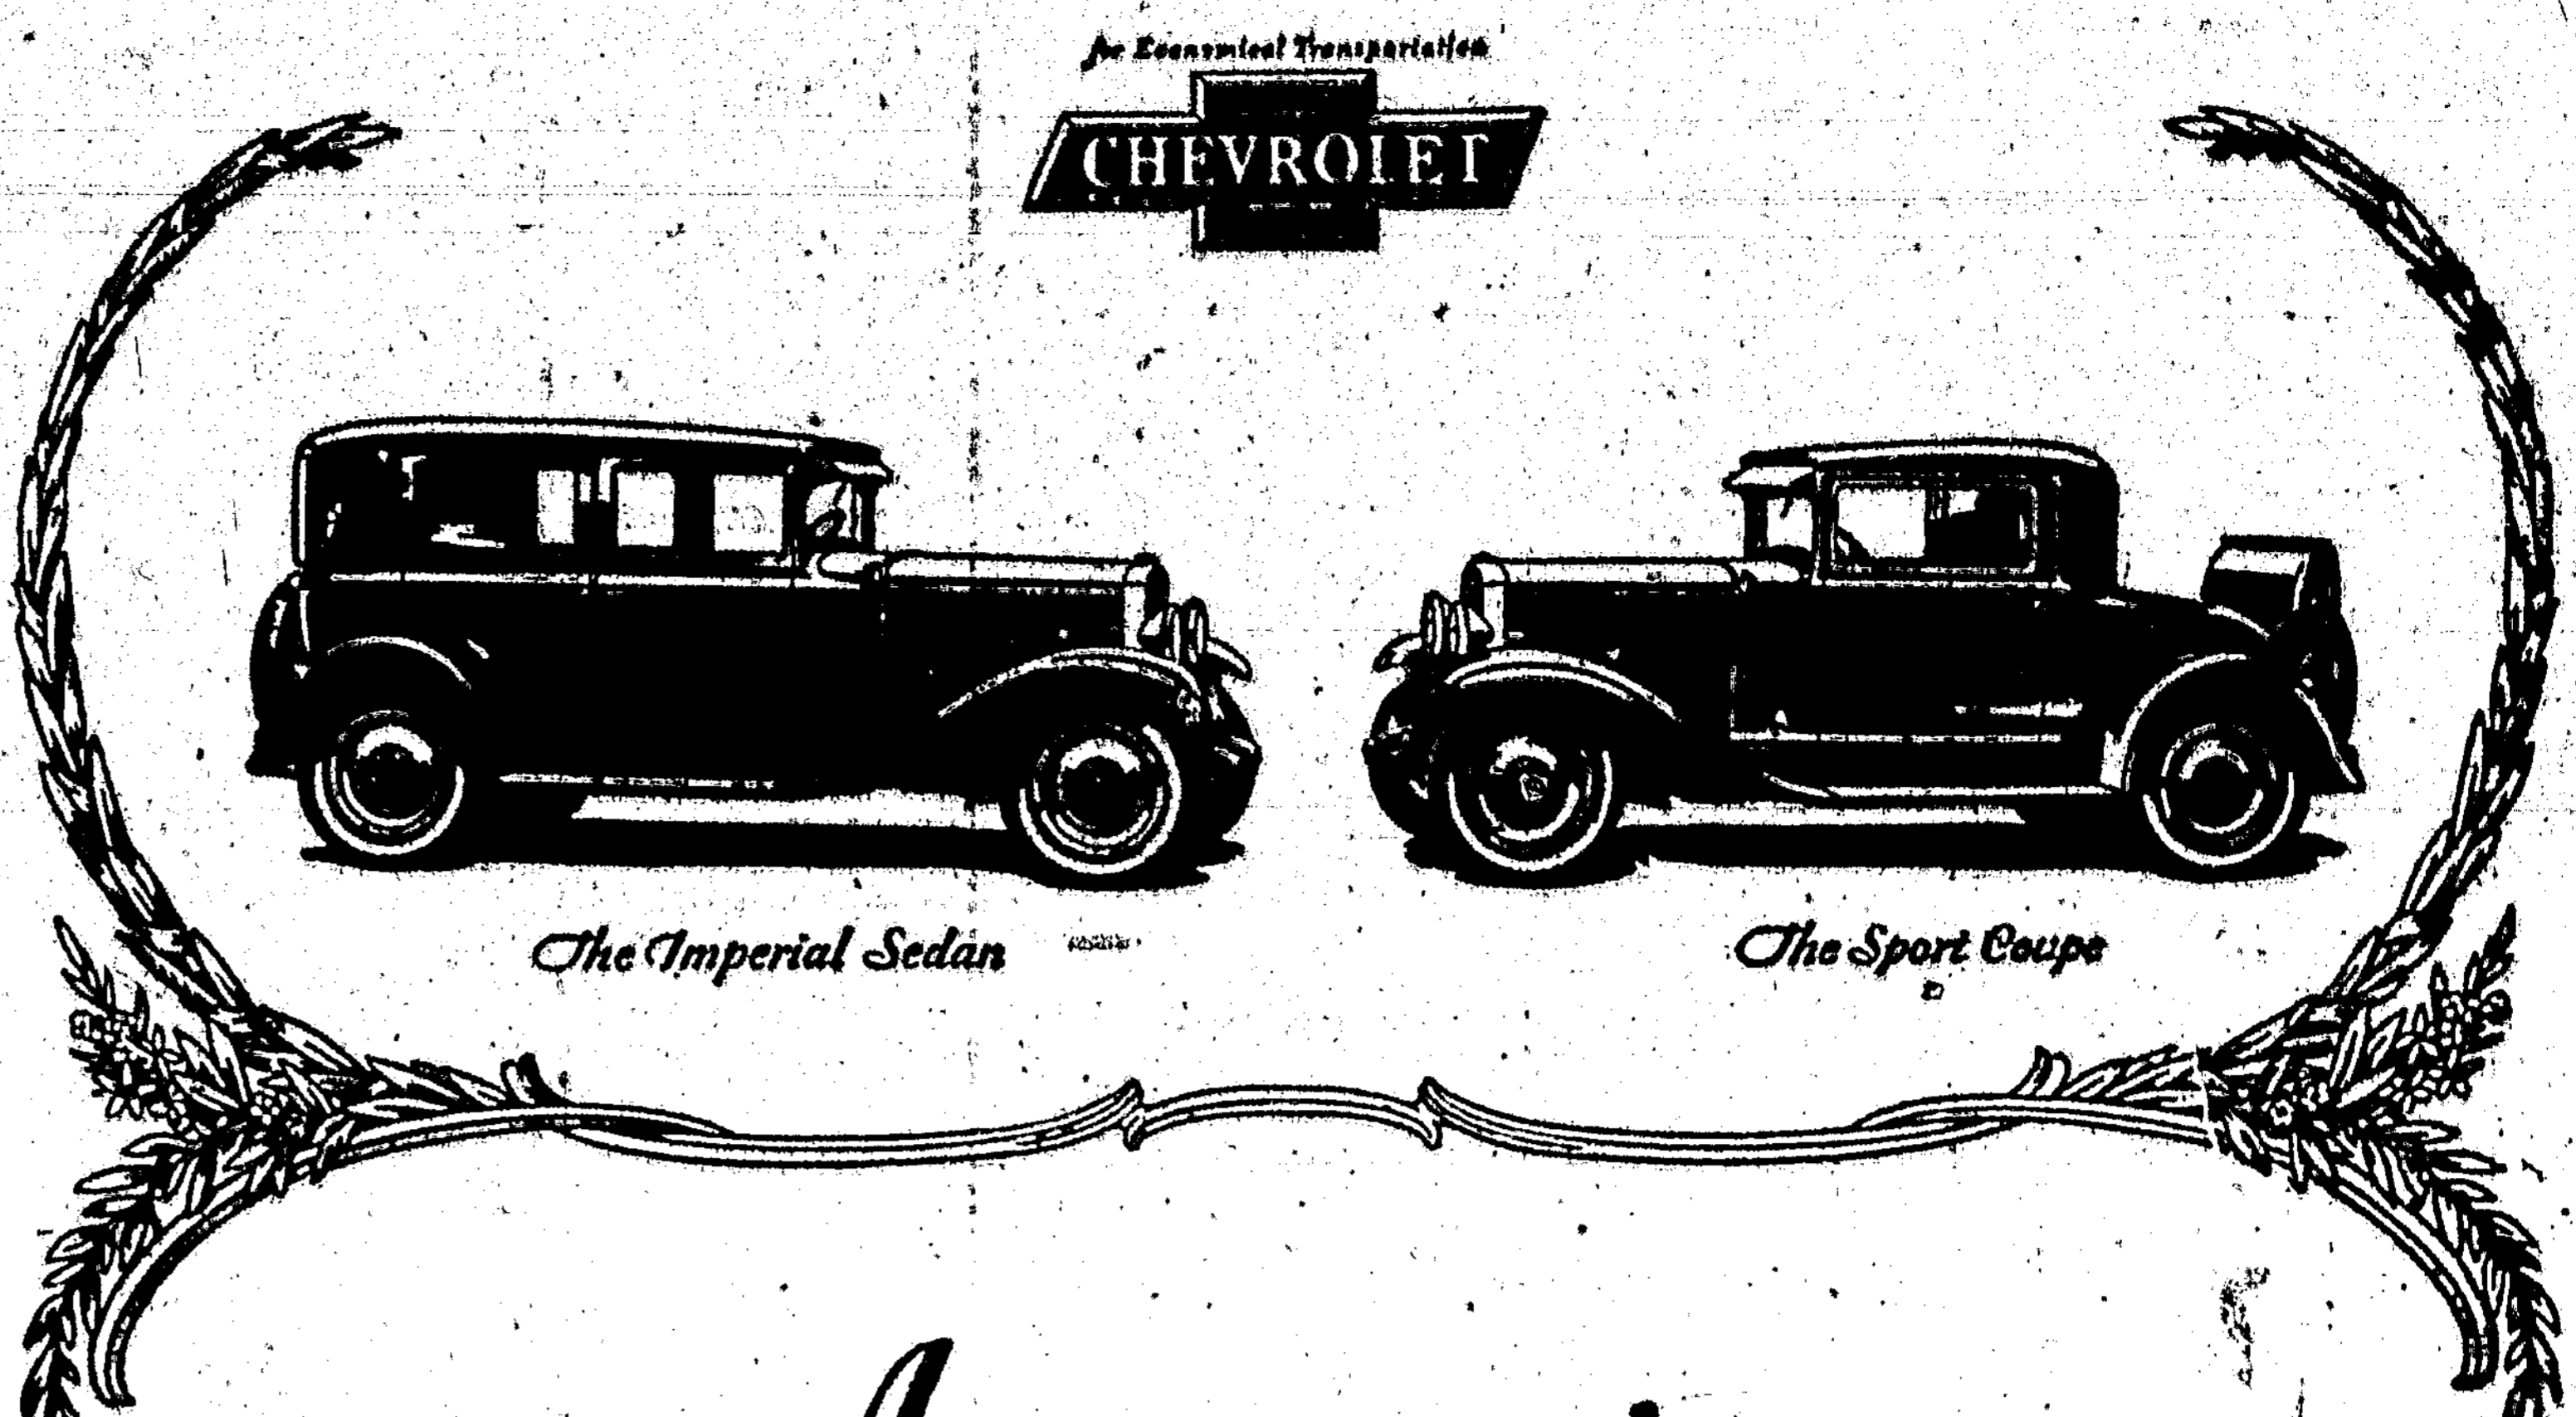

The new Imperial Sedan is introduced because of a widespread demand for a style car in the low priced field. On this model, the famous Fisher designers have lavished their skill with very noticeable success. It has smart concave-front pillars with rakishly molded visor and in the back, the rear quarters are stylishly fitted with Landau bows.

The interior is smartly upholstered in deep-tufted plush, and the car is equipped with an adjustable driver's seat, and other items commonly found in smart cars of this type, such as completely equipped instrument panel, smoking set, etc.

It is finished in lustrous black, with molding in Saginaw green and striping in tusk ivory. Exterior bright work, such as radiator, head lamps and landau bows are chromium plated.

The new Sport Coupe is also offered in response to a demand for a style car for two passengers, and includes a comfortable rumble seat in the rear and a rear window that is easily raised and lowered by means of a convenient Ternstedt regulator.

Introduction of these two new models comes simultaneously with the announcement that more than 950,000 of the new Sixes have already been delivered into the hands of owners and that the Chevrolet factories are operating on the biggest summer production level in the Officials predict that the entire nation-wide dealer organization will be sampled with the new cars in two weeks or less. In many of the larger centers, the new cars are already on display. PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Davis daughters Helen and Margaret came in from their home in Forney, Texas, last Saturday and spent five days as guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. U. Finley, leaving for home yesterday. Mr. Davis is a brother to Mrs. Finley.

H. J. Garrard

received word last Saturday of the death of his brother, who died at his home in Megargel, Texas, last Friday. Mr. Garrard had returned from his bedside the middle of last week, when there was still hope for his recovery, but after leaving, his condition became worse and he passed on. The funeral was held Sunday with Masonic honors.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Branum mother, Mrs. Geo. Rustin and Mrs. John Townsend made a trip to Tularosa last Sunday and returned with a goodly supply of those fine peaches mentioned in an ad in another place in this paper.

Mrs. Zoo Glassmire

and little son Haden came in Monday from Lawrence, Kans., where they had been for the past 3 weeks at the bedside of Mrs. Glassmire's mother, who was very ill, but who is now on the road to recovery.

Bert Holland

was here from Tucumcari last Saturday, having made a run from that place and returned the following morning. Bert met his old running mate, John Harrison, while here and they had a good talk together. Bert was for a long time John's fireman, but now that Bert is an engineer, they meet but seldom, but it's worth the time they spend together, when they do meet.

Claud Branum

has purchased the Joe West residence and will convert the big tank which has been in use for a swimming pool, into a storage tank. Mr. and Mrs. Branum will occupy the place as a town residence, still retaining the home on the ranch for a dwelling place in such times as they wish to remain there to see to the stock on the range. Claud will make some extensive improvements on the new home and we congratulate him on his purchase.

Notice

The office of the Village Clerk is now in the new Fire Building just west of the Community Hall.

Office hours will be from 9:00 to 12:00 a. m. and from 1:30 to 4:00 p. m.

10% Discount will be allowed on all water bills paid on or before the 10th of each month, instead of the 15th, as heretofore. 2t
By order of the Trustees.

Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Peters were here the first of the week from Capitan. Mr. Peters predicts a splendid trade this fall in the grocery and general store line in which he is engaged, as a result of the wonderful rains in that locality.

Card of Thanks

We desire to return our thanks to our friends who interested themselves and rendered aid and sympathy in the recent illness and after the death of our beloved brother and esteemed friend, Pedro Falxa, also for the beautiful floral offerings at the last sad rites.

Respectfully,
Peter Falxa,
Louis Nalda.

Mrs. Erva Claunch

will leave tomorrow for Tulsa, Okla., to pay a visit to her mother, Mrs. J. R. Adams. She will be absent about two weeks. Jack and Evelyn will remain here, Evelyn with her grandfather, J. R. Adams and Jack on the Claunch ranch near the Gran Quivira, where he is having a great time in training to be a cowboy.

Ed Harris

has decided to sell his garage on El Paso avenue and if you are interested in a purchase that will bring you good returns, see Ed and he will offer you a bargain. Get busy.

Paul Mayer

moved into his new quarters Tuesday, mention of which was made last week. The big safe was the hardest of all and it took four men to get the heavy safe into the new quarters. By Saturday, Mr. Mayer expects to be ready for business next door to the C. D. Mayer store.

Wayne Zumwalt

and brother Cliff, who came here with his family about two weeks ago, left Tuesday morning for a trip through the Pecos Valley. They will visit the Carlsbad Cavern and other places during their stay. Mrs. Cliff Zumwalt found the altitude too high for her here, so she left again for Los Angeles last Friday, accompanied by her nephew, Gladney and niece, Irene Zumwalt, the latter two returning home Monday evening of this week on No. 12.

T. J. Pittman

left Tuesday morning for Cloudcroft, after finishing up the Village Trustees' building. The structure has some work left to be done, but the Trustees concluded it would be better to wait until next spring for that work, as it is of a minor nature. The office is all fitted out with suitable furniture, the walls are all painted, the lights have been installed and ready for the next council meeting. The work, as a whole, is a credit to the town. Stop in and see it.

East Side Notes

Passes On

On Wednesday night at ten o'clock, July 31, at Hotel Dieu at El Paso, Esteban Medina died following an operation for an abscess in the head, of which ailment he was a sufferer for about 3 months.

Mr. Medina was an old resident of Lincoln County, coming here over 40 years ago. When the old E. P. & S. W. first went through here, Esteban entered the service of that company at Capitan, later coming here in 1905, where he and his family resided until a year ago when he transferred to Tucumcari for service. Mr. Medina was well liked by all who knew him, and many are the friends in Lincoln county who will mourn his passing.

The remains went through here Friday morning on No. 2 for Tucumcari and were accompanied by Mrs. Medina, Isaac Marquez, Joe and Alex Chavez. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Catholic Church of that place and interment made in Sunnyside cemetery, with Dunn's Funeral Home in charge.

He leaves a wife, Mrs. Lola S. Medina, 3 daughters, Mmes. Ramirez, Marquez and Salcido of Tucumcari; two sons, Alex and Joe Chavez of Carrizozo, to all of whom the sympathy of this community is extended.

Joe Navarro

caretaker of the S. P. Club House, has some of the most wonderful flowers this year than he has had for several years. Their beauty and fragrance has attracted attention not only from people of the town, but visitors and tourists, passing and re-passing, are always sure to drop a word of praise for the caretaker and his flowers. Joe certainly "saves" his oats.

The Spanish-Speaking Public
