Funeral of O. Basford

The funeral of O. Basford, chief engineer at Fort Stanton, occurred last Sunday, he having passed away the day previous, following an operation which his weakened condition could not withstand, it being the second operation he had undergone during the past year.

The funeral which was one of the largest ever held at the Fort, was conducted by Carrizozo Lodge No. 41, A. F. & A. M., with G. S. Hoover of Capitan and a Past Master of the lodge performing the last sad rites.

Mr. Basford was at one time in the U. S. Service on the high seas and held a certificate entitling him to duty on any seafaring vessel belonging to the government. He was a life member of the Order of Elks and a member of the local lodge of Masons of Carrizozo, a goodly number of the members taking part in the burial rites. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Juanita Baca Basford and one child to mourn his loss, to whom the sympathy of their many friends is extended.

Mike Barnett Dies

At about 7:30 Wednesday morning, Mike Barnett, proprietor of the B & B Service Station here, died at an El Paso hospital after an illness of several weeks. Mike had been ailing for some time prior to going to the hospital and at different times since being there, the reports came to the effect that he was improving, but a message came Tuesday night to his brother, Meyer, that his condition was serious and Meyer received it in time to catch train No. 1, arriving there shortly before his death.

Mike was for a long time a fireman for the old E. P. & S. W. Railroad, but when he opened up the filling station, he resigned and has since conducted that place. During the World War, Mike served his country in the Naval service with much credit. His long residence here made him well known to most people over the county and also in our neighboring county of Chavez. He was of a friendly disposition and charitable in every way. He leaves a father in New York, three sisters and four brothers, William of Vaughn, Meyer of this place, Harry of El Paso and Samuel of New York. The names of his sisters who reside in New York and also that of his father, are not known to us, but to the survivors, the sympathy of this community is extended. The remains were interred in El Paso.

On Saturday next, he will have about 15000 pounds of fine Alberta peaches ready for sale and Carrizozo people should take advantage of the opportunity to get fine fruit at prices that will astonish you. Drive down and investigate.

Eagle Company Takes Over KOB Commercial Rights

To Broadcast Programs from Radio Plant Over State College

El Paso Post—

Dean R. W. Goddard, New Mexico A. & M. college and E. E. Wilson, Eagle Broadcasting Co., Tuesday announced that the Eagle Broadcasting Co. has taken over the commercial rights of station KOB, State College, N. M. The change becomes effective immediately, although the date for the formal opening program under the arrangement has not been set yet.

A working arrangement has been made so that the college technicians remain in charge of the mechanical phase of the station and the college reserves whatever time it will need for broadcasting agricultural affairs, markets, etc.

Dean Goddard announced that work is being rushed toward stepping up the station's power from 10,000 to 20,000 watts, to make it one of the 13 strongest stations in the U. S.

Eagle officials announced that the company will obtain a franchise in a national hookup as soon as details can be arranged. In the meantime a staff of Eagle artists is being organized to replace as far as possible the recording programs.

The new arrangement will not affect WDAH in El Paso, though it is planned to keep from interfering with the station's time if possible. Programs through almost the entire day will be given at KOB.

The Eagle Broadcasting Co. now has control of five stations, KGKB, Brownwood; K G K L, San Angelo; KGFI, Corpus Christie; WDAH, El Paso, and KOB, State College.

Hendren—Thompson

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Thompson, at Alvarado, Texas, Tuesday evening, Aug. 6, Miss Alene Thompson and Wm. C. Hendren, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hendren of Tulsa, Okla., were united in marriage with the Rev. W. E. Kimbrough of Fort Worth officiating.

The bride is well known here, having served the school board of Carrizozo for several years as teacher of piano in our schools, during which time, she has made many warm friends and admirers in our community.

The groom is employed at Fort Stanton, where he has charge of the public health service in property accounting work at the U. S. Marine Hospital. He is well known and like his estimable wife, has many friends over the county who are awaiting the opportunity to offer congratulations to the happy couple.

The bride is a graduate of the Fort Worth High School and also of the American Conservatory of Music at Chicago and the groom is a graduate of both the Oklahoma and Kansas Universities.

The bride's home town paper, the Alvarado Bulletin, has the following to say, which is but a portion of an extensive complimentary article:

Mrs. Richard McCall of Fort Worth sang "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly" as pre-nuptial songs. Miss Grace Kelley accompanied her at the piano. Miss Kelley played the wedding march, "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin. During the ceremony, "Traumerci" was played.

Miss Margaret Thompson, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid and Alfred Richardson of Carrizozo, N. M., as best man entered from the dining room. The bridesmaid was dressed in a colonial gown of yellow georgette and cream lace. She carried an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds.

The bride and groom came through to the altar, which was banked with vines, ferns and tall baskets of pink gladioli and rose zinnias. There were other baskets of flowers and palms about the living and dining room.

The bride was beautiful in her wedding gown of Stehli egg-shell crepe bridal satin, trimmed with hand run lace, made with long sleeves, long bodice and long skirt of uneven hem line. Her veil was of white bridal tulle, and her cap was caught with a wreath of orange blossoms. Her slippers were of white satin. She carried a semi-colonial bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies, from which fell cascades of white ribbons.

Punch was served to about 55 guests by the Misses Doris and Pauline McLeroy.

Mr. and Mrs. Hendren left by automobile for a two weeks trip to northern parts of New Mexico and Colorado, and will return Sept. 1, to Fort Stanton. Mrs. Hendren's traveling suit was of tan woolen crepe with accessories of beige.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Farmers of United States at Last Get Together for Mutual Benefit.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

FOR the first time in history the farmers of all sections of the United States are getting together to work for their mutual benefit. Wheat growers, corn growers, cotton planters and live stock raisers, numbering more than two millions, decided at the meeting of the American Institute of Co-operatives in Baton Rouge to create a national chamber of agricultural co-operatives with headquarters in Washington. This organization, which is expected to be the strongest of its kind in the world, will be ready to function almost immediately and its officers will represent the nation's farmers before congressional committees and in all ways act for them in public matters.

This action follows closely on the formation of a committee of leaders of farmer co-operative groups for the purpose of organizing the producer-owned $20,000,000 grain marketing corporation proposed by the new federal farm board. The members of this committee are now conferring with their respective groups and conducting a drive for membership. They meet again in Chicago August 26 and soon thereafter will be in Washington preparing for incorporation of the big concern. William H. Settle, head of the Indiana Farm Bureau federation, is chairman of the committee. He was prominent in the "farmers' revolt" at the Republican national convention last summer. The new corporation was officially named the Farmers' National Grain corporation.

To the meeting in Baton Rouge, Chairman Legge of the federal farm board set forth his views of the problem of rehabilitating American agriculture, and his outline of the board's program was approved by the other members. Mr. Legge made it plain that the only farmers' organizations which will receive financial help from the board are those that are efficiently organized and properly administered within the provisions of the law. The kind of co-operative organization he has in mind is one that will exert a real influence as a stabilizing agency in the marketing of the products of the more than 6,000,000 farms, an organization that will exert, as he put it, "at least a measurable degree of control" over the flow of those products to the markets and an agency virtually in control of the condition under which the products of American farmers are sold. The board, he emphasized, never will buy or sell any commodity.

President Hoover completed the membership of the farm board by naming Samuel R. McKelvie, former governor of Nebraska, to represent the wheat growers. Mr. McKelvie accepted the appointment with the understanding that he may withdraw at the end of one year. He is the owner of the Nebraska Farmer and was endorsed by a large number of farm organizations, and Mr. Hoover chose him for the place after the different wheat groups were unable to unite upon a recommendation.

JOHN W. GARRETT of Baltimore, banker and former diplomat, has been appointed American ambassador to Italy to succeed Henry P. Fletcher who is retiring from the service and will leave Rome very soon. Mr. Garrett has had nearly twenty years of service in the diplomatic corps and other foreign service. He was first secretary of the American embassy at Rome from 1908 to 1911 and also has served as minister to the Netherlands, Venezuela and the Argentine and was secretary general of the Washington arms conference.

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S decision to suspend work on the three cruises that were to be laid down in navy yards next autumn aroused a lot of adverse criticism as well as praise. One of those who expressed his disapproval was Paul V. McNutt, national commander of the American Legion. In a reply to Mr. McNutt the President says he is relying on the agreement between the United States and Great Britain looking to complete equality in the strength of their navies. He describes the agreement as "the first step of the renewed consideration of reduction of the excessive world naval armament" and holds it to be "a forward step of the first importance," reiterating his position that defense is all that the United States is seeking.

DRASTIC economies in the American military establishment are contemplated by President Hoover, and he has ordered a general staff survey of army expenditures. He expects a report with recommendations in time for the submission of an economy budget at the next regular session of congress. Branches of the military establishment, especially the cavalry and the coast artillery, were alarmed and at once began marshaling arguments in their behalf. Outside the army the opinion was that the President's move was a threat especially against the many "political" posts that are of no military value and are maintained at great expense through the influence of congressmen and politicians of the districts or states in which they are located.

Senator Bingham of Connecticut said: "At least 50 of the garrisons which the taxpayers are now called upon to maintain are not needed for national defense and have no military value. The army is considering the establishment of three large divisions East, South and Far West—and the limitation of army posts to a few, well planned and chosen because of the proximity to divisional headquarters as well as their availability for training large units of the service together, would be not only economy but sound military practice."

"Of course the infantry school at Fort Benning, Ga., the general service schools at Fort Leavenworth and similar projects should be maintained, but there are forts and posts all over the country that should be abandoned, the property on which they are located should be sold, and the proceeds applied elsewhere in the service."

LOSS of the Lamport and Holt liner Vestris with 112 lives last November off the American coast was due in part to overloading, according to the findings of the British board of trade which conducted a long and thorough inquiry. Other contributory causes were the "tender" condition of the ship; her insufficient margin of stability and reserve of buoyancy; the heavy weather encountered, and water finding its way into the lower bunkers. Some of the company's agents in New York and several of the ship's officers came in for varying degrees of blame.

REPRESENTATIVES of Soviet Russia and China began negotiations for settlement of the Manchurian quarrel, meeting on a train placed on the border line near Manchouli. The Chinese emissaries were said to have indicated a willingness to restore the Chinese Eastern railway to its "status quo ante" provided that Russia furnishes guarantees to refrain from Communist propaganda in Manchuria.

Continued unrest along the Manchurian border, blamed largely on the "White" Russians, led the Soviet government to order out all the Siberian reserves up to the age of twenty-seven years. They were assembled at Khavaraovsk, Vladivostok and Chita.

HALF a million cotton mill workers of England went on strike rather than accept a 12 1/2 per cent reduction of wages proposed by the employers. Consequently practically all the mills of the Lancashire region were closed. The operators refused to yield and the weavers and spinners would not listen to talk of negotiations, so it seemed the dispute was likely to be long drawn out. The minister of labor, who is Miss Margaret Bondfield, says there is no action her department can helpfully take at present.

CHILE and Peru have signed a protocol complementary to the general treaty concerning Tacna and Arica. It states emphatically that no part of the territory covered in the general treaty shall be ceded to a third power, which seems to put an end to Bolivia's strong hopes of gaining an outlet to the Pacific ocean.

SUDDEN Communist uprisings in two sections of Colombia were put down after bloody battles with the soldiers and police. The casualties were at least a dozen killed and many hurt. Thursday, August 1, was named "anti-imperialism day" by the Communists, and they made demonstrations in many of the large cities of Europe, though their activities were curbed by the authorities everywhere except in the Soviet republics.

DALE JACKSON and Forest O'Brien, flying the Curtiss-Robinson monoplane St. Louis Robin above St. Louis, Mo., established a record for sustained flight that may stand for a long time. They remained in the air 420 hours 21 minutes and 30 seconds, and then landed not because they or their engine was worn out, but in order to attend the funeral of a friend, another aviator, who was killed in a crash. They made 77 contacts with another plane, 47 of which were for refueling, and they flew approximately 25,200 miles, or about the distance around the world at the equator. The two pilots earned more than $42,500 by their exploit. The flight was especially a triumph for the motor, a six-cylinder air-cooled radial type engine designed by Arthur Nutt. After being feted in St. Louis, Jackson and O'Brien started on a tour of the country in their record-breaking plane, following about the same route taken by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh two years ago.

An endurance flight started at Minneapolis ended in the crashing of the plane and the death of the pilots Owen Haugland and Capt. Preston L. Clechton. They had been up 154 hours. Lieut. Harold Bromley, intending a nonstop flight from Tacoma, Wash., to Tokyo, came to grief as his monoplane slid down the runway and turned over on its right wing and was smashed. He promised to make another start as soon as he could get another plane. Roger Q. Williams and Lewis Yancey, the New York-to-Rome flyers, after being entertained in New York, flew to Chicago, Yancey's home city, where they were given a great reception and banquet under the auspices of the Chicago Press club.

SEVENTEEN hundred convicts in Auburn prison, New York state, made a desperate attempt to gain their freedom, battling the guards and police for five hours and burning down some of the prison buildings. They seized the arsenal and armed themselves with rifles, pistols and four machine guns, and the ensuing fight was sanguinary. Two convicts were killed and four guards were wounded. Four of the prisoners made their escape in the confusion. This affair, coming only six days after the futile uprising of the inmates of Clinton prison, Dannemora, aroused the state authorities, and Governor Roosevelt called for a thorough investigation. The New York state prisons are admittedly greatly overcrowded, and more outbreaks are feared.

M. POINCARE, who resigned as premier of France immediately after the parliament had ratified the war debt settlements with the United States and Great Britain, has been succeeded by Aristide Briand, who retains his portfolio of foreign minister, and who has made almost no changes in the cabinet. Briand's first task was to obtain a vote of confidence for the government's negotiations at the international conference to put in operation the Young reparations plan, which meeting was scheduled for August 6 in The Hague. The vote was given Briand by a big majority. It was announced in London that Prime Minister MacDonald would not attend the conference and that Great Britain would be represented by Foreign Minister Henderson, Chancellor of the Exchequer Snowden and William Graham, president of the board of trade. MacDonald and his government have declared their opposition to the Young plan as it now stands, feeling that it involves too much sacrifice of British interests for the benefit of France.

Spoil of Victory
Willie, age six, and Bob, age seven, brothers, each received a new suit from their grandfather, who offered to give a bright new dollar bill to the one who kept his clothes clean the longest.

The boys, alone, were playing near an old well one Sunday, when Bob accidentally slipped into it. Willie ran to the house, gleefully exclaiming:
"Oh, grandpa, I got the dollar! Bob has ruined his new suit!"

"How?"
"Why, he fell into the well." Grandfather, by working frantically, was able to rescue the almost drowned boy by pulling him out by the hair of the head.

Weed Control Work Shows Good Results

County agents and a large number of farmers in 21 counties in the State have tried calcium chlorate in an effort to control noxious weeds in places where it is difficult to handle them with machinery, says G. R. Quesenberry of the New Mexico Agricultural College.

The county agents and farmers who have used the calcium chlorate have treated Johnson grass, bindweed, blue weed, and many of the various other troublesome types of vegetation. When carefully applied, most of the results have been very encouraging. They indicate that for the control of noxious weeds on ditches, fence rows and other places where the weeds are difficult to handle, and from which source most of our field infestation comes, with calcium chlorate these places can be very satisfactorily handled. The use of this chemical for that purpose alone will be greatly increased within the next year or two.

In the experiments made, the chemical was used as a dust or liquid spray and killed practically all of the various weeds and shrubs on which it was applied. A quiet day should be selected for this work, as the wind is troublesome in applying both the powder and the mist spray. A light shower a day or so after the application causes no bad effects and may be of considerable advantage. On the other hand, a dashing rain within a short period after the application may carry away most of the solution.

Sensational Announcement

Detroit, Aug. 14. — One million Chevrolets have been placed on the road since the first of the year.

This sensational announcement, indicating as it does, the great popular appeal of the new six cylinder car, was made at the central offices of the company here today as assembly plants in various parts of the country were operating on the biggest summer production schedule in the history of Chevrolet.

Never in the history of the industry has any other manufacturer equalled the achievement of placing a million six-cylinder cars on the road in less than 8 months. In fact, according to observers, this is more than three times as many six-cylinder cars as were ever produced by a manufacturer during a like period.

The record-making model, probably the most famous of all Chevrolet record cars, rolled off the assembly line at the huge Flint, Mich., plant on Aug. 5. It happened to be a sedan — the new Imperial sedan, introduced a few weeks ago. The glistering record-breaker was welcomed at the end of the assembly line by W. S. Knudsen, president and other high Chevrolet officials.

Without any ceremony, the car left the plant for Detroit, where it will be presented as one of the interesting exhibits that are to be a part of the mammoth Chevrolet sales convention in Detroit, Aug. 14-15-16. The entire Chevrolet sales supervisory force of nearly 2,000 men will be on hand for the biggest convention of its kind ever held by the company. The rapidity with which Chevrolet marched on to the record of a million sixes in less than 8 months will be noted from the following tabulation of the dates when the various epoch-marking sixes were on the road—

First Six, Jan. 1.
250,000th Six, March 6.
500,000th Six, April 24.
750,000th Six, June 12.
1,000,000th Six, Aug. 5.

More Days of Vacation Pleasure

Winding Roads Lead to Summer Playgrounds

August—late summer still calls the motoring world. Everywhere, vacation lands invite you from beyond the hill ahead or the next bend in the road.

As you travel, telephone ahead for reservations. The assurance of a comfortable place to stay makes each day's trip more pleasant.

Whether your trip takes you to a quiet mountain resort or a distant city or town, daily contact can be maintained with home or office—by telephone. It's quick and inexpensive.

Know the Number?

On most out-of-town calls by number you can generally hold the line while the connection is being made, just as you do on a local call.

If, when placing a long distance call, you tell the operator you will talk with anyone at the called telephone but do not know the number, she will inform you just before completing the connection. Calls of this nature are known as station-to-station calls and are less expensive than person-to-person calls.

Keep a record of those out-of-town numbers you frequently call. When the operator gives you a number you had not known, jot it down. It will save you time and speed your service on future calls.

Wire Highways Are Always Open

The laws of New Mexico require all children of school age to be vaccinated against small-pox before they can be admitted to the public schools of the state. Another Record!

a Million

SIX CYLINDER CHEVROLETS

on the road in less than eight months!

Less than eight months have elapsed since the first Chevrolet Six was delivered into the hands of an owner—and already there are more than a million six-cylinder Chevrolets on the road! And the reasons for this overwhelming success are easy to understand.

Into a price field that had hitherto been occupied exclusively by four-cylinder cars—Chevrolet has introduced a six-cylinder car of amazing quality and value. Not only does it offer the smooth, quiet, velvety performance of a great six-cylinder valve-in-head motor—but, from every standpoint, it is a finer automobile than was ever before thought possible at such low prices! Its beautiful new bodies—which are available in a variety of colors—represent one of Fisher's greatest style triumphs. And its safety and handling ease are so outstanding that it's a sheer delight to sit at the wheel and drive. In fact, the new Chevrolet Six has completely changed every previous idea as to what the buyer of a low-priced car now has a right to expect for his money.

You owe it to yourself, as a careful buyer, to see and drive this car. For it gives you every advantage of a fine six-cylinder automobile—in the price range of the four and with economy of better than 20 miles to the gallon! Come in today!

Don't Be Ungrateful

Here is some good advice from the Belen News—

When you owe a man, don't dodge him because you haven't the money in your pocket.

Talk to him when you think you will be able to pay him.

When you trade with a merchant on credit, keep on trading with him even though you can't pay as promptly as you would like to.

Don't go past his store and pay cash to some one else. It isn't right. Don't do it.

The Titworth Company
