NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Anglo-American Agreement on Naval Limitation Getting Nearer.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

RAMSAY MACDONALD, prime minister of Great Britain, told the assembly of the League of Nations in Geneva that he and Ambassador Davies in their many conversations concerning naval armament limitation had reached an accord on seventeen of the twenty points under consideration, and that he hoped to be able very soon to announce a full settlement. But dispatches from Washington and Geneva indicated that the three points unsettled were vitally important and that on these Great Britain and the United States were still far apart. They involve cruiser tonnage and the comparative fighting value of vessels armed with 6-inch and 8-inch guns. General Davies sent a long communication to the State department and it was considered at a White House breakfast attended by Secretary of State Stimson, Secretary of the Navy Adams and the members of the navy general board. Cruiser tonnage figures were not made public, but it was learned that the British cruiser requirements, though less than in 1927, were still far above the tonnage figures favored by President Hoover and would not give parity for the United States even if all our fifteen cruisers are built. The British insist they must have a large number of small cruisers, outside of the parity figures, to protect the world's sea lanes and protect British shipping.

Both Mr. MacDonald in Geneva and American officials in Washington were hopeful that the points of difference could be adjusted, and the prime minister said that as soon as this was accomplished he would formally announce his intention of visiting the United States to confer with President Hoover and Secretary Stimson.

Artiste Briand, premier of France, invited the chief delegates of the European nations to the league to a meeting for the purpose of hearing his plans for a political, economic and social federation of European powers. He wished the delegates to submit the scheme to their governments and ask for their suggestions. Briand made it clear that the proposed federation is not aimed against the interests of the United States of America. Both Ramsay MacDonald and Dr. Gustav Stresemann accepted to like Briand's plan.

THAT the League of Nations would adopt the Kellogg pact outlawing war as its policy was a probability, made strong by the fact that such a course was said to be favored by Great Britain, France, Belgium, Germany and Japan. In his opening speech before the assembly, Premier Briand declared the pact was really framed in the ideals of the league; and, following him, Foreign Minister Hymans of Belgium advocated a closer linking of the pact with the covenant of the league. He held the former was infinitely stronger than the covenant because it interdicted all wars of aggression while the covenant of the league left the door open for war when the council was unable to reach unanimity as to the identity of the aggressor. "The covenant is already old," he said, "The Kellogg-Briand pact embodies progress."

ADHERENCE of the United States to the World Court for International Justice came a big step nearer when delegates of forty countries belonging to that tribunal unanimously accepted the Root protocol, which was later approved by the assembly of the League of Nations. The United States government was officially notified of this action.

FOREIGN MINISTER STRESEMANN of Germany and his fellow delegates to the reparations conference at The Hague reported the results to the German cabinet and received the unanimous approval of the other ministers. The cabinet agreed to take all necessary measures to make the German people realize that the Hague agreement really represents a step forward, and not a defeat as the German nationalists are trying to label it.

In his address before the league assembly Premier Briand of France declared that at the reparations conference he would have been untrue to peace and concord if he had allowed "several millions of money" to prevent France from helping to liquidate the problems of the great war. Had he held back on concessions he would not have been entitled to be welcomed back to France. The nations must be ready to make concessions.

Orders for evacuation of the Rhineland by the British and Belgian forces have been issued, and the French are preparing to get out as soon as they can conveniently.

VIGOROUS action by the British brought about a partial cessation of the hostilities in most parts of Palestine and the Arabs were beginning to realize that England meant to make good on her pledge to protect the Jews there. But all around the Holy Land there was nothing but revolt among the Moslems. Floods of propaganda proclamations were scattered among the Arabs of bordering states calling on them to engage in a holy war to help their fellow Moslems in Palestine.

The British colonial office appointed a commission to investigate the race war, but announced that "no inquiry is contemplated which might alter the position of this country in regard to the mandate or the policy laid down by the earl of Balfour in the declaration of 1917 and embodied in the mandate, of establishing Palestine as a national home for the Jews."

FOR a few days it seemed likely that negotiations, conducted in Berlin, would bring about an agreement between Russia and China concerning the Chinese Eastern railroad and perhaps end the threat of war. But the plan failed, at least temporarily, and both nations continued to concentrate their forces on the Manchurian frontier. A late dispatch reached London from Tientsin saying that 3,000 Soviet soldiers had invaded Sinking, Manchuria, and were marching on Hl. In the region about Manchouli the Chinese were establishing their first line of defense, but it was believed that in case of serious Russian invasion they will fall back on the passes in the Great Khingan mountains, which have been strongly fortified. Several thousand Russian troops were moved two miles across the border in the vicinity of Manchouli, and there were repeated clashes in that sector.

Both the United States and Great Britain have rejected the Chinese demand that they surrender their extraterritorial rights in China, but in both cases the prospect is held out that such action may be taken later when the Nationalist government has progressed so far that there will no longer be need for the foreign courts.

CAUGHT in a terrific storm over the waste lands of the Southwest, the big Transcontinental passenger plane, City of San Francisco, bound from Albuquerque to Los Angeles, was destroyed probably by a lightning bolt and its five passengers and crew of three were killed. The dead were Mrs. J. B. Raymond of Glendale, Calif.; A. B. McGaffey of Albuquerque, N. M.; Campbell of Cincinnati, Harris Livermore of Boston and William H. Beers of New York, passengers; J. B. Stone and A. E. Deitel, pilots, and C. F. Canfield, courier.

Another aviator killed by lightning was Maj. John H. Wood, noted speed pilot and president of the Northern Airways company. His plane exploded over the desert south of Needles, Calif., and he went down to his death with its wreckage. His mechanic escaped with a parachute.

Pilot T. G. Reid, at the Cleveland air races, set a new record for solo endurance flying and then presumably fell asleep, for his plane crashed and he was instantly killed. Lady Mary Heath, who also crashed at Cleveland and was severely injured, was reported as having a chance for recovery. Jimmy Doolittle, crack flyer of the army corps, was practicing for stunts at the Cleveland show when, in a tremendous dive, both wings of his plane crumpled; he went over the side with his parachute and landed unhurt.

Piloted this time by Capt. Ernst Lehmann, the Graf Zeppelin made the return trip to Friedrichshafen with speed and safety. The huge airship was welcomed by premiers and other officials of all the German states and an immense throng of private citizens; President von Hindenburg was prevented from being present by the death of his sister. The Zeppelin's round-the-world flight from its home port was made in 20 days, 4 hours and 18 minutes, establishing a new record. After conferences at Akron, Ohio, Dr. Hugo Eckener said the Goodyear-Zeppelin and German Zeppelin corporations would join in establishing transoceanic dirigible lines. It will require from two to four years to place the ships in operation.

REPUBLICANS of the senate finance committee formally reported to the senate their tariff bill, and the opponents of the measure spent several days jockeying for the best position from which to attack it. The radical Republicans, led by Borah, determined to try to have tariff revision limited to agricultural products, and in this they counted on the support of many Democrats. The radicals also sponsored a joint resolution introduced by Senator Blaine of Wisconsin authorizing all members of congress to have unlimited access to secret corporation income tax returns while the tariff bill is pending. The Democrats through Senator Simmons made it known they would try to obtain the same results by a resolution directing the finance committee to get the income tax information from the treasury.

FOUR hundred officers and men, picked as the best of the army's engineering forces, were ordered by Secretary of War Good to duty in the jungles of Central America to survey the route of the proposed Nicaraguan canal. Their findings and report will go far toward determining whether or not the government will undertake to build that waterway, the estimated cost of which is about a billion dollars. The survey, which will require two years, will be supervised by the interocean canal board appointed by President Hoover.

CHICAGO mourns the death of two of her best citizens, Judge Frank Comerford of the Superior court, and William E. Dever, former judge and mayor. Judge Comerford, who was in the prime of life, was justly regarded as one of the city's most valuable jurists—courageous, wise, honest and a determined upholder of the dignity of the courts. Elected to the Illinois legislature when but twenty-six years old, Comerford was expelled from that body because of his attacks on corrupt members, but he was sent back by his constituency. Physical disabilities kept him out of the army when war was declared, but he was active in other ways in his country's service. He was elected to the bench in 1926, and presided in several notable cases. Mr. Dever, who lived most of his life in Chicago, was classed as a truly great citizen. He was a leader of Democrats for many years and his record both as judge and as mayor was excellent.

Fredrick F. Proctor, builder of New York's first vaudeville theater and originator of the vaudeville chain, passed away in Larchmont, N. Y. He rose from errand boy and circus performer to the high position in the theatrical world which he relinquished last May when he sold his chain of more than twenty theaters to another corporation.

MRS. CALVIN COOLIDGE was given the honor of christening the new light cruiser Northampton Thursday, when it was launched at Quincy, Mass. The name of the 10,000-ton vessel was selected to honor the former President, whose home is in Northampton, Mass. He was unable to be present, however. Secretary Adams represented the Navy department, and Mrs. Coolidge was accompanied by a large delegation of Northampton citizens.

Castor Oil in Demand
New York city now is consuming more castor oil than at any time in its history—but not as a medicine. Hundreds of tons of castor beans are arriving almost every fortnight in Brooklyn from India and, according to M. C. Brown of the Bush Terminal, they are mainly for conversion into lubricating oil for airplanes. The sudden new demand for castor oil, he says, also has provided additional jobs for many persons in India, where the cultivation of the castor plant is being increased.

Different Games
Florida players the other day reported four perfect hands issued on a single deal at bridge. Bridge is an effete game. If in poker, for instance, four royal flushes had been issued on a single deal, the facts would have been obtained from the survivor's confession at the inquest of the other three.—Arkansas Gazette.

An Old-Timer
The Lake Champlain sea serpent which was first observed by the discoverer of the water and reappeared recently after an interval of 25 years is now 300 years old and destined to immortality, having reached the venerable maturity of a tradition.

Light Planes in Demand
The demand for light airplanes throughout England has outstripped the manufacturers' ability to provide them. Soon, the London traffic authorities comment, the problem of crowded roads will be solved by the light airplanes.

Traffic cop gets summons

Even he can't get away with it

"DON'T try to put anything over on Nature," is the way a cop would express it. "Sooner or later she'll get you. Give you a ticket and lay you up in a place where you'd rather not be. Even cops can't get away with it. Like everyone else, if they don't pay attention to the warnings they get a summons that lands them in the doctor's office."

"What the doctor advises is Nujol. Says Nujol will regulate you just like you regulate traffic. Keep things from getting in a jam. And the doctor is right. Just ask the healthiest men on the Force. If they need Nujol—which all the exercise they get—what about the fellows that roll by in their cars?"

"Just take a tip from me. You may have the best intentions in the world. But everybody gets tied up at times. Nature can't always take care of things without help."

"Our Medical Chief tells me that Nujol isn't a medicine. It contains absolutely nothing in the way of medicine or drugs. It's simply a pure natural substance (perfected by the Nujol Laboratories, 2 Park Avenue, New York), that keeps things functioning at all times as Nature intends them to. Normally, Regularly. It not only keeps an excess of body poisons from forming (we all have them), but aids in their removal."

Start Nujol today. It won't cost you much—not more than the price of some smokes. Worth a try, isn't it? You'll find Nujol at all druggists. Sold only in sealed packages. Get some on your way home today.

Gulf Stream Temperature

The temperature of the Gulf stream is several degrees higher than that of neighboring oceans. Water has a remarkably high heat capacity. It is four times that of air, five times that of earth. The water of the Gulf stream carries its accumulated heat, derived from the tropical sun, for a long time and to great distances, giving it out gradually to the air.

Hydro-Plants Increase

According to the United States geological survey, the local capacity of water-driven electrical generators of 100 horse power or more in the United States on January 1, 1928, was 13,571,000 horse power, an increase of 10 per cent for the year.—New England Utility News.

Engineer John Harrison

was here from Tucumcari last Sunday and took No. 4 back across the mountains to "Tucum." He told us about the new son born to engineer and Mrs. Bert Holland, about two weeks ago. His name is George Henry and according to John, his build and general make up would indicate that he will make an engineer. He was also pleased to inform us that his son, Billy Harrison, is the proud father of a big boy, born Sept. 4, at his home in Long Island, New Jersey. When the Harrison family lived here years ago, Billy went to school to Mrs. Elizabeth Gumm, who is now our esteemed postmistress.

Dr. F. S. Randles

Double-Header

Monday morning at 5 o'clock, at the St. Rita Church, Father Terrazas united in wedlock, Julian Najar and Miss Marquez, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melchor Marquez, who were residents of Rabenton for many years but who now live on a ranch in the Gallinas mountains, to which place the happy couple left immediately after the ceremony, and after the customary "baile" settled down to home life.

Next in order was Filiberto Rodriguez vs. Sra. Rodriguez, who have weathered many storms together, but not being married by the church, they decided to go through it all once more. Their wedding falling on Mexico's Independence Day and both being ardent patriots of their country, they put on a celebration that Joe Apodaca, their next door neighbor, is still complaining from lack of sleep. It's all in a lifetime, but this was twice for the Rodriguez, and the friends of the trio wish them many more happy celebrations.

Last Friday night these gentlemen initiated 12 women members at Navarro's Hall, with Mrs. W. P. Dolan being elected as president and Miss Beatrice Pina as secretary. The necessary number of men members could not be acquired to initiate at this time, but it is hoped that it will not be long when all the young Spanish-American set will realize the worth of this order and join the same.

The Catholic Union
