Where Are the Passengers?
Germany's Victory.
Surprising the Greek.
The Billion Dollar Age.

San Diego, Calif.—Officials of the Santa Fe road, gathered in convention, were told by their president, Mr. Storey, that something is happening to railroad passenger business in the United States.

In 1922 the Santa Fe carried 15,000,000 passengers. In 1928 the number had dropped to 4,200,000.

That means a good deal to railroads, to owners of railroad stocks, and to the automobile industry.

Automobiles, privately owned, and public automobile bus lines, have made the change.

And Mr. Storey's figures will change again soon, when fully developed air travel takes 90 per cent of long distance travel from railroad and motor bus lines.

Do not hurry to sell your Santa Fe or other sound railway stock, however. Railroadings now is really railroadings, not stock jobbing. And better methods, bigger locomotives, longer trains, better yards and a thousand improvements, including, especially, loyal co-operation by railroad union workers, have more than made up for the drop in passenger travel. Freight is the thing now, and that depends on prosperity.

Germany lost the war, but wins in other directions. Recently the German Bremen, lowering the record across the Atlantic, took the "blue ribbon" from the British.

Now the North German Lloyd liner Europa has beaten the Bremen's record.

The Europa, magnificent 50,000 ton ship, according to builders here and in Britain, would be too expensive for American or British lines. The investment of $50,000,000 could not be profitable.

Germany, beaten, is able to do what the winners of the war cannot do.

A Greek philosopher was exiled because he said the sun was probably bigger than all of the Greek islands. We know now that the sun is a million times bigger than the earth, and in distant space other suns are a million times bigger than ours, making them one million million times bigger than the cosmic grain of sand we live on.

An Italian, Professor Bendant, announces discovery of the fact that our solar system is fifty times bigger than astronomers thought. What would the old Greek have said to that?

This is the billion dollar age. The old plain million, once revered, is as unimportant as the extinct hanson cab.

Gen. W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, foresees expenditures by his company in the next ten years amounting to ten billions of dollars.

Ten thousand millions is a good many dollars. The Pennsylvania has already spent six thousand millions.

The running time from New York to Chicago will be cut to fourteen hours within a few years.

Trains will carry passengers' automobiles with them as ocean steamships now carry them. Radiophones will enable travelers to talk to their offices and to their homes.

The house of representatives voted to increase the national contribution to good roads from $75,000,000 to $125,000,000 a year for three years, beginning next July.

This will mean, in three years, $375,000,000 for better roads alone, good news for all citizens, for the automobile industry, its employees and for the unemployed.

On April 6 the Mormon church will be one hundred years old. Plural marriages has gone, but the church remains powerful, with numbers increasing, after a century of struggle and opposition. Nearly one million Mormons will celebrate the day; the main celebration at Salt Lake City, others all over this and nearly all European countries and in Mexico, Australia, Hawaii and the South Sea Islands.

The late Lord Balfour was powerful in establishing and guaranteeing Jewish rule in Palestine. To honor his memory, every Jewish child born in Bessarabia next week will be named for him, the boys Balfour, the girls Balfouria.

CORONA GLEANINGS

Pete Frame is in an El Paso hospital recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

Selby Whitely and family left Tuesday morning for Fort Sumner, where they have purchased a farm.

Aaron Prestridge and George Ollar of Vaughn visited relatives here Sunday, returning home on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Clements, sons Woodrow and Julian, left Wednesday for Arizona for a short stay with Mrs. P. H. Kersey. They will visit at Red Rock and other points before going to Colorado, to spend a short time with relatives of Mr. Clements.

Willie Hillman and Mrs. Ruby Mayes were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hillman. Alton has been quite ill with flu and appendicitis, but is able to work again now.

Ed Kimmons and family spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kimmons.

Mrs. O. M. Downing spent several days with friends at Clovis last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. DuBois entertained about forty guests with cards Saturday night. Prizes were won by Mmes. Dan Simpson, Frank Sultemeier and Wilbur Dishman.

The trophies won by our High School basketball team at the district meet at Alamo recently, have been received and are now on display in the Corona Trading Co. This is the first time that Corona has won the district cups and we are quite proud of our championship team, even though they were not allowed to play in the State Tournament because of erroneous reports concerning the supposed ineligibility of Julian Clements, Archie Perkins and Joe Atkinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Rountree were in Carrizozo Monday on business.

George Simpson is the newest member of the Corona School Board. He succeeds A. J. Atkinson. In the Cedarvale district, Abb Stroope succeeds L. O. Foster.

There will be a dance Saturday, April 12, at the Gym., with music by the "Mountain Boomers."

Mrs. Alice Sultemeier drove to Vaughn Thursday evening for a few minutes' visit with her sister, who made a short stop there enroute to points in Texas.

Jack Kemper made a business trip to Albuquerque Tuesday.

Mrs. A. J. Atkinson, who has been in the Carrizozo hospital for rest and medical attention, is reported as better.

In the week-end edition of the El Paso Times, appeared a picture of Leola Lovelace, the 1930 Beauty Queen of the El Paso School of Mines. Leola is the daughter of W. R. Lovelace of Corona.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Schwab and baby daughter of Roswell visited at the home of Mrs. Minnie Perkins Sunday. Mrs. Schwab will be remembered here as the former Miss Kate Perkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brooks of Alamogordo are spending a few days with Mr. Brooks' mother, Mrs. J. C. Richards.

Corona was visited by a good snow last week, which made the stockmen and bean farmers wear a broad smile.

First Shot Fired for the Beginning of the Big Dam Project

Last Saturday morning, W. B. Kirkland, Supt. of the New Mexico Division of the Southern Pacific, visited this office and assured us that the big dam project on the Bonito which we have looked forward to for so long was about to begin. To show that this was the true state of affairs, Monday morning saw Assistant Engineer E. S. Bissell and a force of men were on the scene and a blast was arranged, which was to start the movement. A. B. Zumwalt, Supt. of the water works, in view of his 21 years of faithful service in the company's employ, was selected as the best fitted to touch off the blast, which he did and the roar that it caused when it echoed and echoed through the canyons was something good to remember.

We understand that the project when completed will be a rock-fill dam, 400 feet long, 150 feet wide at the base, 18 feet at the top and 85 feet high. The elevation of the spillway is 7,380 feet. The dam will be 8 miles southeast of Parsons and 15 miles from Capitan on the Bonito. The estimated cost of the project is a half-million dollars. We are not at this time authorized to say that the contract has as yet been awarded, but inasmuch as the bids were opened on Wednesday, it would seem more than likely that the same has been let, as the firms bidding on the project are from the largest, most reliable and the best financially situated of any corporations in the country. For the above information, we are indebted to Engineer E. S. Bissell, who has extended us every courtesy in answer to our questions. Mr. Bissell said that when the dam was completed, there will no longer be any fear of Carrizozo being cautioned about the use of water, as there will at all times be an ample supply in storage for all wants. A force of men are now at work under Mr. Hutchins in erecting a telephone line from here, direct to the camp, where the work has begun.

Improvements at the Carrizozo High School

Through the courtesy of Mayor McQuillen and Trustee S. F. Miller, the Outlook man was driven to the Carrizozo School yesterday and shown the new improvements made during the past month. Those who have not visited the school since the work began will be surprised at the manner in which the entire place has been improved. First of all, the ground was plowed and a layer of good, rich fertilizer applied, after which, 40 Chinese elm and box elder trees were planted. To protect the trees and Bermuda grass which has also been sown, a neat 7-wire fence was made around the yard, furnishing three entrances to the school, one from the north, one from the south and one from the east, each entrance being ten feet wide.

Next to the building, flower boxes have been built and a variety of flowers and vines planted, chief among which are Virginia Creepers and Chrysanthemums.

To the Civic Dept. of the Carrizozo Woman's Club belongs the credit for the idea of beautifying the school ground as well as furnishing a major percentage of the cost of carrying out the project, the Board of Town Trustees defraying the remainder of the expense. Mr. R. C. Sowder donated the wire for the fence posts, Mr. T. A. Spencer donated the lumber needed in the fence and flower boxes, to which favors, Carrizozo bows her thanks. The total cost of all things mentioned was $300. The work was sponsored and supervised by the Mayor and Trustees, which body gladly sacrificed the time which took them away from their business duties. So, we draw the curtain on one of the nicest improvements made in Carrizozo for a long time. Drive down and take a look at the Carrizozo High School's new spring dress.

CRYSTAL THEATRE

T. J. Pittman, Mgr.

Wm. Haines and Karl Dane in "Navy Blues."

Saturday and Sunday — Glen Tryon in "Skinner Steps Out."

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday — Gary Cooper, Richard Arden, Walter Huston and M. A. Ryan in "The Virginian;" 25-50c.

Thursday Only — Marian Davies in "Marianne" and Special Program, for the benefit of the Contestants in the Commercial Class of the High School.

and J. T. Jolly were here yesterday from Corona, attending to some business and leaving for home in the evening. Harry said that the prospects are exceptionally good for the Corona region. Stock is in good condition, grass is coming up nicely and bean raisers are plowing the ground and getting ready for the first planting which will take place in May, we understand.

VILLAGE ELECTION

passed off quietly, but 60 votes being cast. With only one ticket in the field, the interest manifested in the election was small and those who remained at home repeated their approval of the ticket as was made at the mass meeting. The Board now stands as follows:

Mayor, George T. McQuillen; Trustees, Albert Ziegler; S. F. Miller, T. E. Kelley and A. C. Snow; Clerk, Frank J. Sager; Treasurer, P. M. Shaver.

Vandals at Work

It is hard enough for residents of a town like Carrizozo to go to work of planting young trees and shrubs in order to help beautify the surroundings, but after all the work and trouble to say nothing of the expense, to have a roaming, roving, drunken set of vandals tramp down the little trees and otherwise mutilate the work of those who are trying to build up instead of tear down the town. Since the last issue of this paper, some band of miscreants have been committing the above acts in several places over town. Citizens who have been victims of these outrages have investigated and found out just where to place the blame and any future acts of this nature will be met with vigorous prosecution.

Many complaints have been turned in during the past week about the street lights being out and on investigation, the lamps were found to be broken and the switches smashed. Such depredations must stop at once, as it is a criminal offense to mutilate street lights and the punishment for that offense is heavy.

No one could be more watchful than Marshal Lutz, but he cannot be everywhere, and after he has gone over a certain part of his beat, the mischief is done behind his back, but he is on the track of the despoilers and it will go hard on the guilty parties.

District Typing and Shorthand Contest

will be held at Alamogordo April 11, at 9 a. m. Two members from each class in typing and shorthand will represent the Carrizozo High School. The novice, or first year class will be represented by Katherine Kelt and Frank Shelton. The second year or amateur will be represented by Evelyn Grumbles and Dorothy Dozier. These students have been working on their machines a minimum of three hours a day for the past week and hope to make a good showing in the contest. The novice shorthand class will be represented by Julia and Mary Romero, and the second year or amateur, by Helen Frances Huppertz.

The Commercial classes are also sponsoring the picture, "Marianne," with Marian Davies besides some special numbers they will give with this show. Come and see this show and by doing so, help the class in their work.

Mrs. R. R. Green

Mrs. Cleve Brown and son Owen were here from Corona Thursday to have Owen's tonsils removed at the Johnson Hospital. Mrs. Green predicted much prosperity for the Corona district for the spring and summer; bean raisers are highly elated over the good amount of moisture in the ground.

RADIO RUBE'S R-A-M-B-L-I-N-G-S

Two comedians, A. M. S. 'n' Andy, who nightly amuse over sixty million people, have been insured by their employer, the Pepsodent Company, for $50,000.00. The contract for this radio advertising feature costs the company $750,000 for a year. It had to lease wires to all parts of the country to carry the service to thirty radio stations every night. The insurance was taken to cover the loss on the lease if anything should happen to Correl or Goaden, the blackface comedians, making it impossible to continue the programs.

In Collier's hour, the editor, Uncle Henry and Professor Lucifer Butts continue to amuse the listeners early Sunday evening. The 'Professor' always has a big surprise for the visitors, who never know what he is going to 'pull' next.

On Thursday night of last week, over the National network, a program came which gave a glimpse of the experiences of 'Billy the Kid' and others who were his associates and also of his enemies during the Lincoln County War. It was interesting, but the names were all wrong, for instance: Sheriff Brady was called Sheriff Bradley and other names were confusing to those who are well acquainted with the history of that period.

In the ranks of the unemployed, was one Will Rogers of Beverly Hills, Calif., but now has a small job which began with last Sunday night, when he made his bow to the listening public in a 15 minute program of funny sayings and received, for that one period, the modest sum of $12,000. Being an idle Weary Willie for so long among the unemployed, he thought it best to accept that small job until he could get something better. He now has an engagement to make a series of talks and if made at the above wages, he may be able to keep the wolf from the door. He will begin at 8 o'clock each Sunday night, mountain standard time, over the Columbia network (St. Louis.)

BORN—Monday morning at 2 o'clock to Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Rowland, a boy. Mother and son are doing nicely.

Clarence Stillwell

has a force of men engaged in cleaning the pipe line from Coyote to Ancho. The work is being done by means of a metallic worm, made to fit the pipe and after inserting the device, it works its way through the pipe by means of the water pressure. This worm is three feet in length and cleans the pipe perfectly.

Mrs. E. S. Bissell

came up from El Paso Tuesday, remaining over and leaving this morning, accompanied by Mr. Bissell, who will return here next Monday.

Census Enumerators

Mrs. Grace Hobbie has been appointed for this precinct, and members of the census bureau are here instructing enumerators over the county. The work will begin soon. Be ready with your answers to the questions asked.

TAKE IT FROM DAD

By Frank H. Choley

Is There Really Any God?

"Dad, we got the debating society formed, and she's going to be a warm one. Everybody wants to join now, but she's a closed corporation, and we're going to have our debates behind closed doors." Bob advised his father after both were comfortably settled for the evening with the old log fire in the living room sending out a cheering, warming blaze.

"Why the secrecy?" smiled back the understanding Mr. Smith.

"Well, we're going to debate a lot of mighty important questions, and we don't want to be bothered with any wisecracks from anyone who does not mean business. I've got to be getting at my side of one tonight. It's a tough one, too, and perhaps, as usual, you can help me."

"Yes, perhaps. But how do you know we'll both be on the same side?" "Well, I never thought of that, but I bet we are, 'cause I know you. Here it is: 'Is There Really Any God?' and I've got the affirmative."

Dad smiled quietly, with the remark, "That is some question, and as new as the ages. I'd hate to have the negative, Bob."

"Well, I don't know, Dad. Of course we believe there is a God. You and mother have always taught me there was, and it's nice to believe there is but, Dad, honest the 'preponderance of evidence' (Mr. Smith coughed to save the chuckle that just would come) is against the idea, that is, it's easy to believe what you want to believe, but it's not so easy to prove it. With all that's been said and written, nobody has ever really seen him, Dad, and isn't seeing proof?"

"But, here, Bob, I thought you had the affirmative?"

"Yes, Dad, I have, but I'm just trying to get you to argue. The trouble is, I don't know where to begin. I can't just dish up a lot of beliefs. I've got to have facts, and say, Dad, facts about God are mighty scarce."

"You mean about how He looks and talks and what He eats? Yes, those sort of facts will be hard to get. But, Bob, use your brain! You do not necessarily have to see a thing to be absolutely convinced that it exists, do you? That would be childish. If you had a terrible pain in your tooth and came to me for relief and I looked in your mouth and said, 'Boy, you must be mistaken. I can't see any pain,' you'd think me utterly unreasonable, wouldn't you. Yet, there is a pain because you can feel it."

"There is an incandescent electric globe burning in your desk light. I say to you, 'how come?' You say, 'electricity, of course!' I say, 'but I don't see any electricity. How does it come, by the pound or the peck?'"

"Now, Bob, to me the surest way to know there is a God is to feel him and see His presence in 'lighted faces' and in countless situations and circumstances which cannot be explained without a belief in His presence."

"Bob, when you are impelled to do a kind and generous act; when you are impelled to play square when you have an opportunity to cheat to your advantage, and after a moral wrestle you do the splendid thing, that's God in you."

"No man or boy who is living up to his very best in every way, day by day, doubts that there is a God even when they do seriously doubt other men's interpretations of God."

"On the other hand, Bob, did you ever fall in a situation when some one was counting on you to be big, fine, and splendid? Did you ever feel sick at heart and utterly ashamed and perhaps go off and cry and then declare that never again would you so utterly forget yourself? That's God you feel!"

"But there is much evidence to see, too, Bob, that is quite as irrefutable. There is one fine little spot in the life of Napoleon that is great. He was once on the deck of a vessel at sea when a group of skeptical officers, wise in their own conceits were debating the same question you are about to debate, only they had all taken the negative. Napoleon stood quietly wrapped in his great military coat listening and finally he raised his hand, and pointing to the star-filled sky, he said quietly, 'And, gentlemen, who made all that?' The debate was over."

"Who can study the marvels of the human body; who can watch spring come in the garden or in the wilderness; who can look but for a few hours into the microscope to observe the absolute order and majesty of life unfolding, growing, maturing and again reproducing itself, and say there is no infinite or universal cause which we name God for want of a better name?"

"Dad, I see it and feel it and know it, but it's hard to express, isn't it?"

"Bob, I can't imagine our little finite human minds being able to prove much at all about the majestic infinite cause." "If we could define and classify and prove out God, I'd be afraid after all He wasn't big enough for His job of keeping a hundred million worlds organized and on the move."

"Dad, I bet I can win that debate!" And he did!

PROBLEM IN USE OF LEISURE

By MRS. FREDERICK EDEY, National Girl Scouts Vice President.

THE most vital subject confronting men and women everywhere is the question of what shall be done with leisure time. Many of the educators are asking themselves and every one else just what leisure is, where it originates, and how shall leaders in organizations for youth direct the leisure time of their young followers.

Sixteen years ago, a man residing in England answered that question for boys and girls when he, in his rare wisdom, created the boy scouts and the girl guide programs.

Fourteen years ago, a far seeing American woman answered the question for us by bringing the girl guide program to this country and adapting it to our American girls. She promoted girl scouting. The man was Robert Baden Powell and the woman was Juliette Low of Savannah, Ga.

Since that time, the two national organizations have been working to perfect the manner in which this program shall be given the boys and girls of America.

Girl scouting is a program for the leisure time of the teen-age girl, a program of play, outdoor and indoor living, the future necessities of life cut down to suit the growing mind and administered in small and attractive doses in groups of not over forty girls by a well chosen and trained leader.

In these days, when women have assumed the burdens of wage earners, we are training our girls, as a fundamental part of their future, to be ready to care for their homes, and at the same time to be prepared to fare forth in the pathway of life with a knowledge of sorts which can be further developed and made a useful adjunct to their being self supporting.

SHORTER WORKDAY MUST COME

By PRESIDENT WHITNEY, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

There is widespread unemployment in every walk of life. It exists not only in the ranks of labor but among business and professional men as well. The cause is easily seen in the development of the machine age. Machinery is replacing workers everywhere, for the greater efficiency which machines make possible eliminates jobs for trainmen and engineers that were available five years ago. The same is true in nearly every other line. The actual number of jobs is fewer now than before, while our population continues to increase.

It is useless to hope and pray for a return of "better business" to eliminate unemployment. It is not bad business that is creating unemployment. It is unemployment that is creating bad business.

Business cannot improve until unemployment is eliminated, for the unemployment destroys the purchasing power of the people. The one solution, therefore, is to shorten the working hours so that jobs may be created for all the workers now idle, and at the same time stabilize wages at their present level. This will be done. It is inevitable. When? I don't know. But if it is not done within, say, three years, we shall see millions literally walking the streets, jobless.

RESPONSIBILITY OF THE PRESS

By GOV. LOUIS L. EMMERSON, Ill.

Newspapers of the nation play almost as important a part in the life of the country as the government itself. One of the chief functions of a newspaper is to form a check on government. I would stress the responsibility of the press to fight unceasingly against that which is bad in government and against encroachments on the public rights.

The public interest demands that newspapers be kept clean, that their editors be fearless. The responsibility of newspapers toward government consists chiefly in assisting government and its administrators in any efforts to advance the general welfare and in remaining constantly on the watch against encroachments on the public rights.

Regardless of your political beliefs, you owe it to yourselves, to your community and your state to align yourselves definitely with that which is good in government, and unceasingly to fight that which is bad. The day when you can take sides on a great public issue, for political reasons alone, is past. Have your opinions, keep them clean, but keep to the facts in your news columns.

AUTOPSY BOON TO HUMANITY

By DR. LUDWIG HEKTOEN, Chicago Pathologist.

Of late years a significant change has been observed in the attitude of the general public toward autopsies, to the vast benefit of medical science. Where formerly physicians met with the greatest antipathy when they suggested an autopsy, relatives and families of the dead now frequently grant the hospital's request. In 1928 more than 40 per cent of the deaths in one hospital were followed by autopsies, with the consent of the relatives, and much valuable information obtained thereby.

The autopsy is of such material significance that it may be used as a gauge of hospital efficiency. It replaces speculation with exact knowledge based on observance. In 1896 a Boston physician reported a series of autopsies on persons who died of obscure abdominal complaints, his observations leading to the comparatively simple operative procedure since followed in such cases, which he first named appendicitis. Many lives have been saved and much pain avoided because of the results of his study.

GIRLS NOT BETTER STUDENTS

By CARROLL R. REED, Minneapolis School Superintendent.

Minneapolis schools are just running "true to form" with schools in other cities throughout the United States when the majority of class honors are won by girl students. Girls are more ambitious in the matter of attaining marks than boys are, but that is only a part of it. There are more extracurricular activities in which the boys are interested; boys are more apt to be working during their high-school years than girls are, and there are also more girls than boys in the classes finishing. We are not to think that boys are not as good students in most cases as girls are; there are just more contributory circumstances to the girls excelling in marks.

Barriers of Rock Dust

Come In for Criticism

The so-called rock-dust barriers, which are being recommended by the bureau of mines to prevent the tragic, progressive explosions which take so many lives in the mines of the country, are effective only when properly installed.

Inspections carried on by the bureau have indicated that in many mines the barrier is a hurdle only and not a true barrier. In other words, the linged shelves, upon which are placed large quantities of very fine rock dust, are erected anywhere from two to five feet from the ceiling of the mine passages, and, when tripped by an explosion, present a fine fireproof curtain from that point to the floor, but leave a sufficiently large opening above the dust for the flames to go leaping through.

Other shelves have been found so sturdily erected that no ordinary rush of air from an explosion would unseat them. Nothing short of a heavy charge of dynamite would get them into action.—Washington Star.

Don't Like Swaying Homes

Apartment houses in the form of sky-piercing towers now are the vogue for homes among wealthy New Yorkers. Charles Driscoll tells of one such tower in which apartments near the top rent for $30,000 each. But high winds make the tower sway so violently that tenants who are not good sailors complain of seasickness. The result is vacant apartments and a new rental problem.—Capper's Weekly.

Harold's Mother

Knew Answer

"Yes, sir, I am certainly proud of my little boy," says Mrs. H. M. Smith, 421 Topeka Ave., Topeka, Kansas. "He's five and weighs fifty-seven pounds. He's the picture of health as you can see, and I feel like he'll always be that way as long as I can get California Fig Syrup. I have used it with him ever since he was a year old. I knew what to give him for his colds and his feverish, upset spells because Mother used California Fig Syrup with all of us as children. I have used it freely with my boy and he loves it. It always fixes him up, quick."

In many homes, like this, the third and fourth generations are using pure, wholesome California Fig Syrup because it has never failed to do what is expected of it. Nothing so quickly and thoroughly purges a child's system of the souring waste which keeps him cross, feverish, headachy, bilious, half-sick, with coated tongue, bad breath and no appetite or energy as long as it is allowed to remain in the little stomach and bowels. Fig Syrup gives tone and strength to these organs so they continue to act as Nature intends them to do, and helps build up and strengthen weak, pale and underweight children. Over four million bottles used a year shows its popularity. The genuine, endorsed by physicians for 50 years, always bears the word "California."

THE new Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil is not only the fastest selling oil in Conoco history... it is establishing a new high mark in public acceptance... By a wholly new characteristic, Penetrative Lubricity, this motor oil is attracting motorists from other brands with a quickness unprecedented in the oil world... this would not be possible if this oil were not the finest and safest motor lubricant yet introduced.

It is the Germ Process which gives Conoco the essential points of superiority that make possible these things: 76% less motor wear; reduced carbon formation; lowered operating temperatures; greater gasoline mileage; resistance to dilution; and instant lubrication at the first touch of the starter.

The Germ Process adds to a supremely fine paraffin base oil, a precious oily essence lacking in all other oils. This makes possible the metal-penetrating safety factor that we call "Penetrative Lubricity." Try this new oil today... at the sign of the Red Triangle.

Our National Future

While Americans as a general rule have confidence in the future of their country despite the vapors of a few pessimists of internationalist mind, it is of particular interest at this time, following the crash in our stock market of a few months ago and the slump which followed it, to note the opinion of European on the future of the American continent. Some such opinion was expressed recently in a circular issued on American securities by Buckmaster and Moore, members of the Senior Stock Exchange at London. This circular sets out a comparison of the situation in America and Great Britain and advises the customers of the firm to sell their British industrial securities and buy good American stocks of an industrial nature. As quoted by the New York Times this British circular says in part:

"Industrial prosperity in England is much more than temporarily depressed. We are some way down the road of a long decline, at the end of which we shall find our relative industrial position entirely different from what it was in the 19th century.

"On the basis of this view, we would sell the shares of almost all British industrial companies operating at home, particularly the shares of the older industries.

"Prosperity depends upon growth. The economic, political and climatic advantages of the United States and Canada, during the next few decades, will be so overwhelmingly great that these countries offer the most attractive field for investment. There is room for immense expansion and the desire for it. Wealth is the main objective, the pace will be hot and the profit high."

Americans of course will find no comfort in the gloomy view as to British possibilities. We would much prefer to have Great Britain and the other nations of Europe prosperous, with their unemployment problems settled. This would be good, of course not only for Europe, but for America and the rest of the world, too. But we can at least find great satisfaction in the prophecy as to the future of America.

Too often we do not appreciate the boundless resources which nature has given us and of which we are making an increasingly full use, under the American system of private enterprise and individual progress. While there may have been some temporary advantage in selling Uncle Sam short during last October and November, that time is past and we are now ready for the long pull up hill again. Certainly we ought to have the same old confidence in the future of our country, and even greater confidence, now that the nation has withstood the shock of stock market liquidation and is ready for constructive action again.

Three Trees or More planted in front of your residence will help beautify the town. Will you do it?

Chevrolet's New Closed Model

Detroit, April 1—A further indication of the advantages which accrue to the motorist through the economics of great volume production is seen in the announcement by the Chevrolet Motor Company today of a stylish new closed model—the Chevrolet Special Sedan, with body by Fisher. Introduction of the new model, with its many expensive car features, brings the Chevrolet passenger car line up to nine body styles, three open and six closed. The Special Sedan has been in production for several days and shipments are now going out to dealers.

A leading feature of the new model is its equipment of six wire wheels, with large chrom-plated hub caps. The two spare wheels are mounted in special fender wells. The exterior color scheme combines smart Boulevard maroon on the body with a harmonizing shade of red on the wheels. Rich appointments found in the interior include arm rests, silk assist cords, combination vanity case and smoking set, rich upholstery fabrics and wide, deep seats with form-fitting cushions.

Like other passenger models of the 1930 Chevrolet, the car is powered by the 50 horsepower, six cylinder, valve-in-head motor; it has fully enclosed, internal expanding four wheel brakes, four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers and a bigger rear axle. The price of the Special Sedan has been set at $725, f. o. b., factory, Flint, Michigan.

BANKERS FIND GROUP BANKING WIDESPREAD

Over 13 Billion Dollars of Bank Assets in Affiliated Systems Numbering 1,850 Members—In Nearly Every State.

Over 1,354 banks with more than thirteen billion dollars in resources are shown to be associated with chain or group banking systems in the United States in facts recently gathered by the Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association. The chairman of the commission, R. E. Hecht of New Orleans, pointed out that the facts indicate that "almost 7 1/2 per cent of our banks and over 18 per cent of our banking resources are in the great net of group or chain banking that now covers almost every part of the country."

The commission's facts comprised chain and group banking affiliations in the broadest sense of the term, the report said. They included those groups in which the controlling element was a particular bank, there being reported 78 instances of this class involving 407 banks and about $6,473,000,000 in combined banking resources. They included also groups in which a non-banking holding company, not subsidiary to any particular bank, was in control and of this class 28 instances were found, involving 380 banks and nearly $5,235,000,000 in resources. The report also included groupings in which control was exercised by individual persons and these cases numbered 167, involving 1,071 banks and about $1,465,000,000 in assets.

The Total Figures

The total was over $13,275,000,000 in aggregate resources. Some of the systems comprised 50 to 100 banks each. Head offices of the groups were found in all jurisdictions, but nine of the states and the District of Columbia.

"We have not included in these figures," the report says, "banking groups in which a commercial bank, a trust company and an investment house, and sometimes a savings bank, are tied together by some form of stock holdings and operated as complementary elements in an organization rendering complete financial services. We have held that such groups are similar to a departmentalized bank and different in the purposes and operations from a chain or group banking system."

"For purposes of the present report we define chain or group banks as systems in which centralized control, whether corporate or personal and either rigid or informal, directs the operations of two or more complete banks, not functionally complementary, each working on its own capital and under its own personnel and located in one or more cities or states."

Commenting on the question whether the rapid development of chain banking was in the nature of a reaction against restrictions imposed on branch banking by the banking laws in many states the report says that observation does not wholly confirm this theory since chain banking is prevalent in some states where virtually no restriction is imposed on branch banking, as well as in those where the establishment of branch banks is prohibited. It adds:

The Question of Branch Banking
"However the facts do show that anti-branch banking laws have been a factor in some cases, and probably in some sections, in the spread of chain banking. Instances have come to our attention where expansion along chain bank lines has been carried out by state banks whose expansion along branch bank lines was stopped by the passing of state laws prohibiting further branches. Yet whether expansion would have been along branch bank lines if the laws had imposed no barriers, it is impossible to say. There is obviously a well developed banking opinion in some sections that the chain bank method brings to banking the strength and efficiency of a big organization without depriving them of their local individuality and sympathies. In view of the mixed factors noted, we feel it is unsafe to generalize as to what bearing branch banking laws have on chain developments."

"The recent era of rapid chain bank developments has found specific reflection in some state legislative action tending to restrict or control chain or group banking. Also we find a sharp difference of opinion among state bank commissioners who have expressed their sentiments regarding chain banking."

In a foreword to the report, issued in booklet form by the association at its New York City headquarters, Chairman Hecht says that "The Economic Policy Commission does not take a stand in advocacy of or in opposition to this new method of concentrating banking resources through the affiliation of banks into groups and chains, but is simply offering as a fact finding body what we believe is the first complete national picture of this rapidly growing movement."

SCHOOL SAVINGS GROW

A total of 4,227,926 school children participated in school savings banking in the United States during the last school year, depositing $27,673,104 and rolling up net savings of $19,836,926, including total bank balances now accumulated in this movement to about $1,000,000,000, according to the annual report of the Savings Bank division of the American Bankers Association. Schools in the number of 15,000 are enrolled in the plan.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Hopeful Signs in Business and Industry Indicate Returning Prosperity.

RETURNING prosperity is heralded in hopeful signs seen in various lines of business and industry in the United States. Reduction in red-count rates by Federal Reserve banks and cheaper call money have given great vitality to the stock market. Money is cheaper today than it has been in five years. In New York the official call rate dropped to 2 per cent while some loans were made outside at 1 1/2 per cent.

The United States employment service in Washington reports that business and industry are consolidating the progress made in January for an expected upturn in employment during the spring months. The automobile industry has made a sharp upward swing in production, registering the largest output of passenger cars and trucks since October. Other industries such as electric equipment, airplane, silk and rayon show increasing activity with a full complement of workers.

The gigantic building programs projected throughout the country, together with great betterment programs by public utility companies, will furnish employment to an army of workers, the report states.

WORLDWIDE demonstrations have been featuring the struggle between established religion and the atheistic commission of Russia. Bishop William T. Manning of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York recently participated with other clergymen in a prayerful protest against Russia's anti-religious policy at services held at the cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York city.

Pope Pius, before a congregation of 60,000 in St. Peter's in Rome, led Catholics of the world in intercessory services against religious persecution in Soviet Russia. In Chicago, New York, London and many other cities, Catholics participated in similar services.

Anti-religious demonstrations continue in various parts of Russia and plans have been completed by the Society of Militant Atheists for the opening of an "anti-God congress." Germany and Czechoslovakia report attacks by communists on churches in some parts of those countries.

HOPED that a way has been found to break the Franco-Italian deadlock over naval parity, which threatened the very life of the five-power naval conference in London, was seen in remarks made by Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, after a private talk with Premier MacDonald. M. Briand said:

"Always when things seem at their worst one finds a way out. That is true now. We have been talking about means to bring the conference to a successful conclusion and we are going to apply those means as quickly as possible."

In refusing to discuss details, the French leader continued: "I am in the habit of chattering too much, and then I am reproached for it afterwards. We have been taking our hearings and experts have been making the observations precise."

The smile on Premier MacDonald's face as he left M. Briand gave further assurance that the situation had taken a new turn and that optimistic events were in the air.

However, this optimism is not shared by the other powers and a suggestion to adjourn the conference until June, is met at Geneva concurrently with the League of Nations preparatory disarmament committee has been offered.

OUT of the tense situation that confronts grain producers of the country comes an important announcement from the Farmers National Grain corporation, the grain co-operative of the Federal farm board. In making public the result of their survey on congested grain storage facilities in the United States, they announced their intention of purchasing and building additional elevators throughout the grain producing area, by means of loans to co-operative associations.

"In less than three months the movement of the new wheat crop will begin in the Southwest," said the corporation's officers. "There is great need for facilities in that area. Some new construction is required and some of the existing houses need enlarging. Some houses now owned by others must be acquired by co-operatives. Some sub-terminal warehouses should be built."

The harvest is farther away in the spring wheat area, the report said, but the problem is "in some respects similar, and hardly less pressing."

GREAT BRITAIN is mourning the passing of one of its most eminent public men. The death of Earl Balfour removes from the scene one of the great Victorian statesmen. He was the last surviving minister of Queen Victoria, but so keen was his intellect and so persistent his youth that until his final retirement a year ago he was regarded in Great Britain as a modern statesman.

The end came peacefully to the statesman, who was in his eighty-second year. He had been distressingly ill for a long time with laryngitis.

From the time he entered parliament in 1874 until the closing years of his life he figured as an important factor in British politics. He succeeded his uncle, Lord Salisbury, as leader of the Conservative party, and served as premier from 1902 to 1905.

CENSORSHIP by federal courts over imported obscene, immoral or treasonable literature was almost unanimously adopted by the senate, and included in the tariff bill, after two days of spirited discussion, in which charges of intolerance, denunciations of the principle of censorship and pleas for the protection of the morals of young America rang through the senate chamber. The amendment to the tariff bill, as adopted, provides that questionable literature may be seized at the port of entry, but cannot be destroyed until it has been judged in a federal court and adverse decisions appealed.

PRIMO DE RIVERA rests in a soldier's grave, honored by the highest tributes a nation can bestow. The body of the man who ruled Spain as dictator for six years and then went into exile, was placed beside the body of his wife in San Isidro cemetery in Madrid.

Premier Berenguer and foremost dignitaries of the country, including King Alfonso, participated in the funeral.

The man, who in 1923 seized, and for six years held in his soldier's hand, the destinies of 50,000,000 Spaniards and the ancient dynasty, came to his end suddenly and alone in a hotel room in Paris, a virtual exile. He had lived there quietly for the month that elapsed since he took the hint from his successor that his presence in Spain might be dangerous and would complicate the task of a transition government and crossed the frontier into France. De Rivera was in his sixty-first year.

INCOME tax receipts from the March 15 collections as shown by the treasury totaled $314,200,558, exceeding by more than $10,000,000 collections for the same date last year. This sum was the total for the month of March as shown in the treasury statement for March 15.

PRESIDENT HOOVER has announced his purpose of completing the housecleaning which he commenced a year ago in the southern patronage situation. Commenting on the recent report of a senate committee, Mr. Hoover pointed out that the incidents dealt with were not recent and that all federal officials known to have engaged in improper practices had either resigned or been removed.

"Under instructions to the various departments of the government," said the President, "a system has been established by which those reprehensible practices have been absolutely stopped and the system of purchase and sale of appointments, so far as it existed, has been ended."

ALTHOUGH two and a half billion dollars will be spent for streets and highways throughout the country in 1930, the economic loss from congestion and accidents due to inadequate planning in metropolitan areas will equal this amount, President Charles M. Hayes of the Chicago Motor club declared at a meeting of traffic experts of the American Automobile association in Washington.

PRESIDENT ORTIZ RUBIO, in the course of an informal interview with the press in Mexico City, announced that President Hoover had accepted his personal invitation to visit Mexico City during his Presidency. President Rubio did not reveal the date of the proposed visit. He is anxious for the American President to return his visit to the United States last year.

The Mexican chief also announced that the government had invited a committee of international bankers, the chief holders of Mexico's foreign debt, to meet with representatives of the Mexican government in Mexico or New York to attempt to reach a more definite understanding on the debt question, with a view to making a settlement which the Mexican government could and would live up to. An agreement, he said, would encourage the owners of factories and business to extend their activities, giving work to thousands of unemployed.

BANDIT hordes in Kiangsi province of China have massacred more than 2,000 men, women and children in the Fuan district. Reports reaching Shanghai said the wholesale slayings were committed early this month under the direction of the bandit chieftain, General Chuteh. He is reported still occupying the district. Fearing further massacres, American, British and Japanese gunboats are patrolling the Yangtze river.

SECRETARY WILBUR has appealed to all evangelical bodies in the United States to join in the drive to eliminate illiteracy.

The "shocking facts" of illiteracy are being called to the attention of the church organizations now, he said, in order that plans can be made at the annual meetings this spring for active participation in the campaign sponsored by the government.

Mr. Wilbur said that the 1920 census reported 4,031,905 persons ten years of age and over unable to write in any language.

OWING to extensive activities of communists in the Philippines, Gen. C. E. Nathorst, chief of the constabulary, has made a request to Governor General Davis that proletarian congresses be denied the use of the mails throughout the islands.

The boycott of American goods, spread of communist doctrines among the ignorant masses of the islands and the active participation of communists in the recent school strike at Manila were among the activities which caused the request to be made.

PROHIBITION has become a dominating issue in the nation within the last few months, according to a survey made by the United Press.

Recent developments show that about 100 bills have been introduced on the subject in congress; 12 states have prohibition legislation either introduced, or about to be introduced; 11 recent polls have been taken inquiring prohibition sentiment and some still are under way; hearings have been started on several national measures; both wet and dry forces are tightening their lines for concerted drives either toward legislation or toward election of congressmen or state officials this fall.

A TWENTY-FOUR hour strike was declared in Cuba as a protest against unemployment. The affair passed off without serious disturbance. The police charged that the strike was in compliance with orders from the third international in Moscow. It was estimated that 300,000 workmen walked out. Public utility plants and railroads were about the only industries not affected.

New Mexico State Comptroller Rupert F. Asplund is going to find out who's who in his office force. He has gotten out a questionnaire to be filled out by every employee working in or out of his office. A question usually prominent in quizzes of this sort at the capital is conspicuous by its absence; nobody is asked whether he is a Republican or a Democrat. For the most part the interrogations are obviously intended to bring out the employee's fitness for the job he holds. He is asked to give his scholastic attainments, what occupation he followed before coming to the capital and other information relative to his training and experience.

Lesson for April 6

THE LAW OF THE CROSS

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 16:13-28.
GOLDEN TEXT—If any man will come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow Me.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Proving our Love for Jesus.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Proving Our Love for Jesus.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Denying Self for Christ.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Cross-bearing in the Christian Life.

The lesson topic is narrower than the Scripture text. It includes Christ taking account of His ministry, Peter's confession, Christ's prediction concerning His death and His teaching concerning the cost of discipleship.

I. Christ, the King, Taking Account of His Ministry (vv. 13-17).

1. The place (v. 13).
It was at Caesarea Philippi, the northern limit of Jewish territory, practically in Gentile territory.

2. The time in Christ's ministry.
The cross was only a few months away. The King had already been rejected. They had charged Him with being in league with the devil and sought to kill Him. It was highly important that the disciples have clear views as to Christ's person in order to stand the test of His trial and crucifixion.

3. Peter's confession (vv. 13-16).

(1) The occasion (vv. 13-15). Two questions asked by Jesus Christ provoked this confession. a. As to the opinion of the people concerning Him (vv. 13, 14). They recognized Him as a teacher and prophet of more than human authority and power. Had He been content with this, He would not have been molested in Jerusalem. It was His persistent claim of being the God-man, the very Son of God, that sent Him to the cross. b. As to the personal opinion of the disciples (v. 15). It was not enough for them to be able to tell what opinion the people held concerning Jesus. It was necessary that they have definite, correct and personal knowledge of and belief in Him. (2) The content (v. 16). It consisted of two parts. a. "Thou art the Christ." This avowed Jesus to be the Messiah—the fulfiller of the Jewish hopes and expectations. b. "The Son of the living God." This acknowledged Him to be divine. It was the recognition of His glorious person in keeping with the Jewish hope (Isa. 9:6, 7).

4. Christ's confession of Peter (v. 17).

Those who confess Christ shall be confessed by Him (Matt. 10:32, 33). Christ pronounced a blessing upon Peter—not in the nature of reward, but a declaration of the spiritual condition of Peter because of his clear apprehension of his Lord.

5. Christ's charge to the disciples (v. 20).

He asked them not to tell any man that He was the Messiah. The time was not ripe for such testimony.

II. The New Body, the Church, Announced (vv. 18, 19).

Following the confession of Peter, Jesus declared His intention of bringing into existence a new body, to the members of which He would give eternal life, and into whose hands He would entrust the keys of the Kingdom. Peter was to have a distinguished place in this body. Association in this new body cannot be broken by death, for the gates of Hades shall not prevail against it.

III. The King Predicts His Death (vv. 21, 23).

This prediction was no doubt startling to the disciples. They did not yet realize that redemption was to be accomplished through the passion of the cross. So unwelcome was this announcement that Peter cried, "This shall not be unto Thee." Later Peter saw through the darkness to the sunlight on the hilltops beyond. A new hope filled his breast (I Pet. 1:3, 4). Victory through death is yet the stumbling block of many.

IV. The Cost of Discipleship (vv. 24-26).

Life can be saved only by losing it. If we are going to be Christians, we must share Christ's suffering.

1. There must be denial of self (v. 24). There is a wide difference between self-denial and denial of self. All people practice self-denial, but only real disciples of Christ deny self.

2. "Take up His cross" (v. 24). This cross is the shame and suffering which lie in the path of loyalty to Christ.

3. Follow Christ (v. 24). This means to have the mind of Christ—to be like Christ.

PICK GALLANT FOX AS DERBY CHOICE

Conservative Judges Back Horse Cutting Odds.

Winter favorites seldom cross the wire first in the Kentucky derby. For that reason the announcement that Gallant Fox, at 8 to 1, is favored to win the derby may not be taken too seriously.

The report, however, is that conservative judges are backing this horse which accounts for the shrinkage in his price from 10 to 8.

At this stage of the race wild plunges are launched on the merest shadow of foundation.

For example:

Uncle Luther had a pretty good workout. The next day they hammered his price down from 100 to 40 to 1. Other derby horses being played in the future books are: All Upset; Busy and Buckeye Poet, backed from 100 to 60 to 1. Broadway Limited, hammered down from 100 to 40 to 1. High-Foot, the best played horse in the derby, is now at 12 to 1, but he has earned the right to attention through his fine races down South.

Bookies have ceased to gamble on the derby since Black Gold sent so many bank rolls to the shambles. Tom Kearney says his Big Store is lucky to break even on the derby each year and that he operates it only because it has become an institution and not because it is a profit producer.

"They're getting too smart for us," Tom hints.

Lefty Grove is this year's highest priced baseball pitcher. He is to receive $25,000 for the year. Dazzy Vance, who received that amount last year, has taken a cut.

Old-time pitching stars didn't fare so well. Walter Johnson got $20,000 at the last. Christy Mathewson drew $12,000, Ed Walsh received $7,500.

The 3,000-hit club, a very exclusive order in baseball, has only five members. They are Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Hans Wagner, Nap Lajoie and Eddie Collins. But another member is knocking at the door. Rogers Hornsby had 2,700 at the end of the 1929 season and needs just 291 more to get in. At the end of the 1930 season he will be within halting distance and 1931 should put him through.

Ty Cobb has 4,101 to his credit and he really belongs to a higher order, one in which he may be the only member for eternity.

We can remember old-time ball players who not only wouldn't have spent the afternoon on the Florida links but would have guessed that a pibblek was a new type of bung-starter.

Back home years ago there was a lady who took flu-flu lessons by mail in case of being accosted by a masher, which she never was, before or later.

Nelle Taylor Ross has gradually convinced the bulk of the composers that the name is Taylor, not Taylor. On the other hand we just saw another reference to Rogers Hornsby in the singular.

Joe McCarthy, of the Cubs, has thought a lot about the game since last fall. His latest observation is: "It has been said thousands of times by all the managers in baseball that pitching is 70 per cent of the battle. I would be willing to go a little stronger and make pitching 85 per cent of a winning team's strength."

Managers in baseball are always on the lookout for left-handed first basemen. A left-hander at first base is regarded as having the edge over any right-hander in throwing.

It may be that the managers have gone over to the porters because of the records of left-handed throwing first basemen in the past, but the 1929 figures will not bear them out in their preference. Lew Fonseca, a first baseman who throws with his right hand and arm, had 107 assists while Lu Blue, a left-handed first baseman, had 88, and Lou Gehrig, another left-handed throwing first sacker, totaled 82 assists for 1929.

New Orleans wants to stage a post-season football game in that city between the champions of the southern conference and a team to be selected by the champions, as an annual climax to the football season, starting this fall. New Orleans will guarantee $60,000 to the competing teams. The idea is to play the last week in December or New Year's day.

A trophy 18 inches high has been received by the University of Iowa military department as the result of Iowa's victory in the national inter-collegiate rifle match held last April at St. Louis. The traveling trophy was held by Missouri in 1927 and by George Washington university last year.

Believe it or not, Jack Sharkey's real name is John Zukuskas. Sharkey may disagree, as he frequently has declared that his Lithuanian name is John Cocoseky, but the Lithuanian legation is determined that this error be corrected.

In a letter to British newspaper men an attache at the legation protested the "offensive mutilation of Sharkey's Lithuanian name." "Cocoseky is an absolutely impossible combination of letters calculated to make anybody familiar with the Lithuanian language writhe in anguish," he said.

She gave a very interesting description of her trip to Atlantic City, which was enjoyed by everyone.

Fading Figures of the Old West

One of the fast-fading figures of the old west, with all its primitive features, Joe Apodaca and his burros, has been constant food for comment, particularly from strangers from the east. In all kinds of weather and under all kinds of circumstances, Joe, with his team of burros hitched to an old-fashioned light springless wagon could always be seen wending their way through town, with no seeming intention other than to put in the time at odd jobs which require no haste, for Joe absolutely refuses to be rushed. But to get back to our story, Joe, being very fond of his burros, missed one of them a few weeks ago and instituted a search for it. The burro's tracks finally led to where the ass had fallen into an old abandoned well and summoning help, it was pulled to the surface, but its back had been broken by the fall. Instead of killing the animal, as some would have done, Joe took it home and did everything he could for it, but to no avail and it finally died.

Now, burros are plentiful in the mountains and on the ranges, where Joe could go and replace his loss, but he declines to do so and now, as the scenes open, we see Joe with the one remaining burro drawing the same wagon over town and filling his place among the fast-moving automobiles which throng our streets, with no fear of anything and asking no favors of anyone. Joe is strictly trustworthy. If he tells you he will do anything, he will snap a hamestring to do it, but he won't be rushed; he takes his time.
