

NOGAL NOTES

By "Canyon Cal"

'Did you go up in the arceoplain?' I was asked a short time ago. 'Not ME, for I am contented to stay where I'm 'at,' sez I in reply. Them got durn foolish contrapshuns a int no place fer a feller with a weak heart. (I would go up and somethin'd get on the bum with the machine, but everything went by OK, 'cause I didn't go up last Sunday.)

This week's dry weather has been of great benefit to the bean harvesters. John Self and Otis Hust have finished their harvesting and will begin threshing the last of the coming week. Those looking for the new bean crop, should see what has been raised in the canyons near Nogal.

A goodly number of people attended the dance last Saturday night. Come again Saturday, September 20.

Anson Butler, brother of Mrs. Lee Self, arrived this week from Sweetwater, Texas, and has accepted employment at the Star Cafe in Carrizozo.

Mrs. Blanche White and children and Mrs. Chas. LeBaron were Carrizozo visitors Saturday, returning home in the evening.

Mrs. Helms is visiting relatives at Roswell this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hust, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse May, enjoyed a day's fishing at the Bonito Dam last Sunday.

There will be singing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Zumwalt next Wednesday evening. Everybody is invited.

His former worship, ex-judge Hon. Homer McDaniel, was in Carrizozo Thursday.

Mrs. F. L. Skinner and mother, Mrs. Lina Zumwalt and Miss Leora Peak were Carrizozo visitors this week.

A large number of people from Nogal attended the Flying Circus held last Sunday at the Kudner ranch in the Venado Gap.

Fair Notes

1—The teachers of Lincoln county held a meeting with the committee in charge of school events of the Lincoln County Fair Saturday and after disposing of a number of matters and making suggestions to the Fair management, drew for places in the basketball tournament, the drawings resulting as follows: 1 Carrizozo vs Capitan boys. 2 Hondo vs Corona boys. 3 Carrizozo vs Corona girls. 4 Capitan vs Hondo girls.

2—It was agreed to have the eligibility list of each school in the hands of the chairman by October 1st. 3—Track events will be the same as last year.

4—Mulchay of Albuquerque will referee the tournament, if his services can be secured, and will also act as starter for the races.

5—Track officers as follows: Gladys Gardenhire, clerk H. S. boys; Dorothy Wright, clerk H. S. girls; Ethel Johnson, clerk grade school boys and girls; Messrs. Traller, Cummins and Rockwell, grade school judges; Messrs. Madison, Hester and Grear, race judges.

6—Any school desiring information with regard to school events should write either of the following, the first named being chairman of the committee: R. R. Gillette, Carrizozo; C. V. Koogler, Capitan; D. U. Groce, Corona.

ANCHO NOTES

School opened Monday with an enrollment of 59 pupils. It has been increased to 72, which allows the school 3 teachers, Hilda Key, Ethel Johnson and Mrs. Drura Frame.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Meyer of Mountainair, children, Paul, Pauline and Mrs. Meyer's father, A. J. Furman, visited friends and relatives here last week.

Miss Louise Hall left this week for Lubbock to continue her studies at West Texas Tech. College. Virgil and Halley Hall left for Smithville, Okla., to attend Fulson Training School.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sweet arrived recently from Henrietta, Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Storey have as their guests this week, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wood of Mountainair.

Warren Kenyon made a business trip to Arizona last week.

Mrs. Jimmie Knight and son Tommy were El Paso visitors on Labor Day.

Mrs. Vera Berryhill of Kenna and Mrs. Wallace Berryhill of Gallup have returned to their homes after spending a few days with Mrs. L. L. Peters. Mrs. J. D. Martin, who spent six weeks with Mrs. Peters, accompanied Mrs. Vera Berryhill to Kenna.

Tom Kilgore is expecting a visit soon from his brothers, Jud of Houston, Ga., whom he has not seen in 41 years and Jim of Ft. Worth, who has made frequent trips here in the past few years.

The Woman's Club held its regular meeting Sept. 6, at the home of Mrs. T. J. Straley. Mrs. Elbert Brown is to represent the club at the State Federation meeting at Albuquerque in October.

The ladies are contemplating the purchase of a fence for the schoolhouse. This is one of the first activities on the winter's program. Plans were discussed whereby to raise funds for this purpose. Then, later, they expect to beautify the grounds. Mrs. Belknap, vice-president, who is one of our most active members is away on her vacation and we are eager for her return. The hostess served a delectable salad course. Next meeting will be on Sept. 20, with Mrs. B. W. Wilson.

Mrs. R. E. P. Warden is in Albuquerque this week.

T. E. Kelley

returned Wednesday from Riverside, California, where he had been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed R. Kelley, who were ill, but we are glad to learn that they are recovering nicely. Mr. Kelley remained until their conditions would warrant his return.

7—If satisfactory arrangements can be made, J. L. McDermott will bring his merry-go-round and ferris wheel, the fair committee to have charge of both and no booths or other attractions to be set up during the fair.

8—Maggie E. Lovelace will again have charge of the Flower stand; Clara T. Snyder of the Hot Dog stand; Mary McCammon of the Country Store. Other assignments to be announced later.

9—The 'Capitan Boomers' will play for all dances.

10—Candidates for public office may place their card on the Track program for $1.00—Committee, 4th Annual Lincoln Co. Fair and School Track Meet.

Call for Republican County Convention

A Delegate Convention of the Republicans of Lincoln County is hereby called to meet at the gymnasium in Capitan, N.M., on Sept. 29, 1930, at the hour of 11 a. m., which said county convention is to nominate a Republican County Ticket to be voted for at the general election, Nov. 4, 1930, as follows, to-wit:

One candidate for State Representative; 1 candidate for County Commissioners from each of the 3 commissioners' districts; 1 candidate each for Sheriff, Assessor, Treasurer, Clerk, School Supt., Probate Judge and County

Table with columns: Pct.No., Name, Votes for Hoover, Delegates. Lists precincts like Lincoln, Hondo, Arabela, etc.

The chairmen of the several precincts are hereby requested and instructed to call precinct primaries for Sept. 20, 1930, by posting at least one week previous to said primaries, not less than 5 notices in public places in the precinct, said notices to give the hour and place of precinct meetings where said primaries are to be held.

Surveyor and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention.

The several precincts of Lincoln County will be entitled to representation in said convention on the basis of one delegate for every 10 votes or major fraction thereof based on the vote cast for Herbert Hoover for President at the election held in Nov., 1928. On the above basis the precincts of Lincoln county are entitled to representation as follows:

No proxies will be accepted in said convention unless held by a resident of the precinct in which the regularly selected delegate resides. Done at Carrizozo, N. M., this 6th day of Sept. 1930. Attest: J. V. Tully, S. W. Kelsey, Chairman, Secretary.

New Bakery for Carrizozo

Trumbell & Beckett have rented the big front room in the Wetmore building and are installing an up-to-date bakery.

These gentlemen are from Artesia, where they were engaged in the bakery business, and seeing the need of a bakery here, they at once began to make arrangements to locate here.

They will open up as soon as they get their equipment installed, with a full line of baked goods such as bread, cakes, pies and other things good to eat in the baked goods line. We welcome the bakery to Carrizozo. Watch for their opening announcement.

CRYSTAL THEATRE

T. J. Pittman, Mgr.

Friday, Sept. 12—John Gilbert, Eleanor Boardman, Conrad Nagel and Renee Adoree in "Redemption." A drama taken from the book by the same name.

Saturday-Sunday—Geo. Sidney and Charley Murray in "Cohens and Kellys in Scotland." A comedy, with the well-known team working together again.

Monday-Tuesday—Kenneth Harlan in "Paradise Island." A comedy-drama, with some wonderful singing by Harlan.

Thursday-Friday—Ernest Torrence, Lewis Stone and Catherine Dale Owen in "Strictly Unconventional."

W. R. Lovelace

stockman of Corona was a Carrizozo business visitor Wednesday.

CORONA GLEANINGS

Floyd Varney, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Varney of Albuquerque, passed away Thursday, Sept. 4, 1930. Floyd was born and reared in Corona and lived here until about eight months ago, and his untimely passing is a shock to his many friends. Besides his parents, he leaves his sister and a younger brother, Herold, all of whom have the deepest sympathy of the entire community.

Miss Geraldine DuBois of the DuBois Drug Store, is in Wichita, Kansas, for a few weeks attending a school of Pharmacy. Before returning, she will visit her grandmother, Mrs. A. B. McKay and her old schoolmates in Kansas City and southeastern Kansas.

B. A. Penix, A. H. Johnson, Mrs. Nannie Stone, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Penix, Mildred and Dorothy attended the funeral of Floyd Varney in Albuquerque Saturday.

All of the Corona teachers attended the Teachers' Meeting in Carrizozo Friday—they report a good meeting and an interesting time.

Miss Edna Atkinson entertained a number of her friends Friday evening.

Dorward Atkinson and sister Mrs. Bessie Standhart were greeting old friends here Sunday.

T. M. DuBois, smilingly, announces the birth of twin grandchildren, a boy and a girl. They arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Greor, Sept. 8, 1930.

Mrs. Bertha Butler left Friday to take up her duties as teacher in the Estancia school.

Mrs. Nannie J. Stone and the Misses Dorothy Wright and Lois Martin were in Estancia Sunday.

Republican Primary Call

The Republicans of Precinct No. 14 will meet in the District Courtroom at the Court House in Carrizozo at 7:30 p. m., Saturday, Sept. 20, for the purpose of selecting 26 delegates to the County Convention which will convene in the Gymnasium at Capitan on Monday, Sept. 29, 1930, which convention will name candidates for various county offices as mentioned in the general Republican call.

A. L. Burke, Precinct Chairman. Mrs. Josefa Vega, Vice-Chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Wells of White Oaks were Carrizozo visitors yesterday, staying through the day and returning home late in the afternoon.

Lighting Rates to be Reduced

At the last regular meeting of the Village Council, the New Mexico Light & Power Company presented a new schedule of rates. Under the new schedule, which will become effective at once, changes are made in the lighting rates, resulting in an approximate saving of 20 per cent to customers, either by a reduction in their bills, or an increased number of kilowatt hrs. A reduction was also made in the Village Street Lighting rate.

BORN—Sept. 6, to Mr. and Mrs. Emil P. Sanchez of San Patricio, a girl. Mother and daughter are doing nicely.

FORT STANTON NEWS

Dr. and Mrs. Westhafer entertained Dr. and Mrs. Faget, Dr. and Mrs. Elarbee and Dr. and Mrs. Kunkel at a bridge party in their home here. The affair was in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Faget, who will leave for New Orleans next month.

On Tuesday evening, Sept. 9, Rev. Smith entertained at a big garden party for the kiddies at the Fort, at the Community House. The place was all decorated up with Japanese lanterns, and everything. Dainty refreshments were served. Judging by the laughter, it is believed that everybody had a good time.

Rev. Morgan, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Gregory of Los Angeles will open special evangelistic services at the Amusement Hall in Fort Stanton, Sunday evening, at 7:00. Special bible instruction and good music is assured. These meetings are to be held for the good of the public and everyone has a cordial invitation to attend.

A miniature golf course is being constructed here by the Trowel Club.

Revival at Fort Stanton

Beginning Sunday, Sept. 14, Rev. Morgan, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Gregory, all of Los Angeles, the Gregorys being singers, will hold a series of meetings in the Amusement Hall, except on moving picture nights, when the meetings will be held in the chapel. Rev. Morgan's meetings are non-sectarian and he endeavors to reach people of all denominations who are in need of assistance, especially those who through illness and misfortune, have lost hope in the world. He is a forceful and convincing speaker and the singing of the Gregorys, will be a great factor for good during the meetings. See the ad on page 8 and arrange to attend.

Candidates So Far

On account of a mix up in dates the Republican organization was compelled to set their county convention date for Monday, Sept. 29, instead of the 27, which latter date was finally agreed upon by the Democratic organization. Republican candidates so far, are: J. E. Brady, Sheriff; S. E. Greisen, Clerk; Elmerdo Chavez, Probate Judge; Alice French, Supt. of Schools; R. A. Duran, Mrs. C. D. Mayer, T. M. DuBois, Treasurer; S. W. Kelsey, M. J. Barnett, Sam Bigger, Frank Vigil, Earl Rountree, A. F. Stover, Assessor. Commissioners—1st Dist., T. J. McKnight, Mr. Buchanan, Amarante Lucero, Santiago Luna; 2nd Dist., Higinio Mirabal, Frank Sultemeier; 3rd Dist., No candidates announced; A. T. Pfingsten, Representative.

Political Announcements

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for County School Superintendent of Lincoln County, subject to the action of the Republican County Convention. Alice M. French.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of County Clerk, subject to the action of the Republican County Convention. S. E. Greisen.

Attempted Robbery

Early Tuesday morning J. T. Gardenhire, night watchman at the Titworth store at Capitan, was awakened by a noise in the store and saw three persons in the rear end who gained entrance by breaking in a window. He fired into the trio and they made their escape, leaving traces of blood behind them. No arrests have been made, so far.

1—King Faisal of Iraq leaving the presidential palace in Berlin after a call on President Von Hindenburg. 2—New $4,000,000 Mid-Hudson bridge connecting Poughkeepsie and Highland, N. Y., which has just been opened. 3—Judge Edward S. Matthews of Columbus, Ohio, who was elected commander in chief of the United Spanish War Veterans.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Dictator Leguia of Peru is Ousted by a Military Revolution.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

ELEVEN years of dictatorship by Augusto B. Leguia was enough for Peru, or at least for its army, so he has been ousted from the office of president, together with his entire government.

The revolutionary movement started in the province of Arequipa, where the troops, led by Lieut. Col. Sanchez Cerro, arrested some of their officers and took control of Arequipa, third city of the republic. The revolt spread rapidly to other provinces and was easily successful everywhere. Meanwhile there was surface tranquility in Lima, the capital, and President Leguia attended the races as usual. But this didn't last long. A military junta got busy in Lima, the cabinet was forced to resign, and a few hours later Leguia himself gave up his office and took refuge on the cruiser Almirante Grau. The vessel steamed away, the intention being to land the deposed dictator at some foreign port; but the junta sent a wireless threat to have the officers court martialed if they did not return within 48 hours, and they yielded. At this writing the fate of Leguia is uncertain. It was understood he would be put on trial for his "misdeeds," this course being insisted on by the students of Lima and also by Cerro.

A temporary government was set up in Lima with Gen. Manuel Maria Ponce at its head. However, Cerro went to the capital city within a few days, and his Arequipa junta was recognized as the real government of the country. Before resigning, Leguia designated Gen. General Martinez and then General Sarmiento as heads of a new cabinet, but the military revolutionists would accept neither. Leguia thereupon wrote his resignation, saying: "I hereby close another chapter in Peru's history."

The State department in Washington was informed that Lieut. Com. Harold F. Grow, U. S. naval reserve, of Greenville, Mich., and Elmer Faucett of Savona, N. Y., both aviators, were being detained by the Peruvian revolutionists. Ferdinand L. Mayer, American charge d'affaires at Lima, was instructed to take "all appropriate measures" to secure Grow's release. Though the two men were held as prisoners, the State department was not much concerned about their safety. Mr. Mayer in a message to Washington said the revolutionists had promised to protect foreign nationals and maintain order.

IN A report published by the Treasury department it is disclosed that the internal revenue receipts for the fiscal year June 30 last, were a little more than $3,000,000,000. This was just about $100,000,000 more than the receipts of the previous year.

Most of the increase was registered in income taxes, which showed a gain of $78,000,000 over the 1923 fiscal year, notwithstanding the fact that the 1 per cent tax reduction voted by congress last December affected the quarterly payments of taxes paid in March and June of the present calendar year. This increase was attributed largely to the exceptional prosperity enjoyed by corporations and individuals in the calendar year 1923, against which the taxes collected in these two quarters were assessed.

There was diversity of opinion as to whether or not it would be advisable or possible to continue the 1 per cent reduction for another year. President Hoover wishes this to be done if it can, and the Republican leaders in congress are ready to support legislation to that effect if the President recommends it. No definite statement as to whether business conditions will make this continuance possible has been issued from the Treasury department, but Secretary Mellon and some of the officials under him are said to be very doubtful as to his wisdom, fearing that a deficit would be created due to reduced customs receipts and shrinkage in current revenues.

UNLESS belated returns change the figures materially, Senator Cole Blease and James F. Byrne will be the candidates in a run-off Democratic primary in South Carolina to choose the man to fill the seat now held by Blease. In an eight-cornered race for the gubernatorial nomination Olin D. Johnston was well in the lead. In both cases nomination is considered equivalent to election.

Democrats of Idaho in state convention nominated Joseph Tyler of Emmett to oppose Senator Borah. The Republicans re-nominated Borah and Representatives Burton L. French and Addison T. Smith by acclamation.

For the Republican gubernatorial nomination in California James Rolph, Jr., mayor of San Francisco, had a good lead over Gov. C. C. Young and Byron Flitts, district attorney of Los Angeles. Young was endorsed by the California Anti-Saloon league, which explained that Flitts also was dry, "but something had to be done to defeat Rolph."

Mississippi Democrats re-nominated Senator Pat Harrison and the eight sitting representatives in the lower house.

In the run-off Democratic primary in Texas Mrs. Miriam Ferguson was decisively defeated by Ross S. Sterling for the gubernatorial nomination.

PERHAPS a dozen naval yards and shore properties will be eliminated as no longer necessary to the efficient operation of the naval establishment, or at least drastically cut down in their activities, as a result of the survey made by Assistant Secretary of the Navy Johncke and chiefs of navy bureaus. Several shore establishments probably will be consolidated and all possible obsolete equipment scrapped. This will be a part of the Navy department's contribution to the President's retrenchment program, and naval officers say it will save millions of dollars.

The navy yard at Charleston, S. C., the naval plant at New Orleans, the naval ordnance plant at South Charleston, W. Va., and the naval torpedo plant at Alexandria, Va., are shore properties virtually certain to be affected by the economy survey. In the past all efforts to close shore properties along the Atlantic coast have been blocked by political pressure.

NOT more than fifteen hundred members of the Grand Army of the Republic were able to attend the annual encampment that was held in Cincinnati, and hardly a thousand could take part in the grand parade which always is the feature of the gathering. All that could muster the strength walked in the procession, for those old boys resent the infirmities of age and hate to be carried in automobiles on that occasion.

The United States marine band was present by special act of congress and played at all the important functions of the encampment.

Annual meetings were held by the six subsidiary organizations of the G. A. R.—Army Nurses of the Civil War, National Women's Relief Corps, Ladies of the G. A. R., Daughters of Union Veterans, Sons of Union Veterans, and its auxiliary.

MELVIN A. TRAYLOR of Chicago, Nicholas Dosker of Louisville and Morton Prentiss of Baltimore were appointed at a conference with President Hoover to prepare recommendations for utilizing available financing agencies for drought relief. Their work was based on a broad plan of setting up state and local credit corporations to act as intermediaries in handling loans to farmers of the affected regions. The results of their study of the question were submitted to the financial representatives of 15 states who met in Washington with Secretary of Agriculture Hyde. Henry M. Robinson of Los Angeles was made chairman of this financial committee, and the meetings continued throughout the week.

Secretary Hyde, who is chairman of the general drought relief committee, presented a report from the American Railway association showing that the railroads already had transported 600 carloads of feed and live stock at special half rates which were put into effect in the affected areas. Most of the hauling thus far has been in Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, and Maryland.

Mr. Hyde also announced the appointment of a federal "co-ordination committee" which will assist the federal and state committees in their work. C. W. Warburton of the extension bureau of the Department of Agriculture will head the group.

An optimistic note in the general agricultural picture was seen in the agriculture department report that farmers intend seeding 4.5 per cent less winter wheat this season than last year. The state Democratic council of Kansas lined itself up with Governor Reed, adopting a resolution opposing the reduction in acreage of "any crop which can be produced with profit in this state."

PRESIDENT HOOVER was gradually making up the new federal tariff board. First he named as its chairman Henry P. Fletcher, Pennsylvania Republican and former diplomat, and then he selected for membership Thomas Walker Page of Virginia, a Democrat, and a widely known economist. Mr. Page, who is sixty-four years old, served on the original tariff board under President Taft, and also on the tariff commission under Presidents Wilson and Harding.

WHILE excited throngs were witnessing the national air races at Chicago, gasping at the extraordinary stunts flying and starting at the notable figures of aviation gathered there, four aviators from Germany completed a flight from Berlin to New York in six hops. Some time ago they had reached Iceland, and after delay there they flew on to Greenland, then to Labrador and Halifax, and finally to New York harbor. Their leader is Capt. Wolfgang von Gronau and their plane is a Dornier-Wahl flying boat.

The first fatal accident at the air races occurred when Lieut. Jack P. De Shazo, a navy flyer, crashed, killing himself and a concession holder at the port.

THOUGH the attacks of the Afridis on Peshawar have been repulsed, the danger to the British on the northwest frontier of India is not removed. The Waziris to the southwest have become active and many encounters are reported. While conferring with the mullah of one band of tribesmen, an English captain was shot in the back and in the ensuing fight eight of his men and thirty-two of the natives were killed.

Mahatma Gandhi's peace terms were still under consideration but there seemed little hope of their acceptance or their alteration.

COLLAPSE of the northern rebel alliance against the Nationalist government of China seemed imminent, if dispatches from Shanghai could be relied on, and President Chiang Kai-shek was preparing for an early drive toward Tientsin.

The Nationalist government, upon the instructions of General Chiang, issued an order granting amnesty to all officers of the northern coalition, excepting Generals Yen and Feng, in the event they professed allegiance to the central government and would renounce their connections with the rebel leaders of the north.

DEATH was busy among well known persons during the week. Among those who passed away were Lon Chaney, star of the screen; Frank O. Wetmore, dean of Chicago bankers; Thomas Sterling, former senator from South Dakota; W. R. Spillman, chief postal inspector; J. R. Gordon, president of the Emergency Fleet corporation; Rev. Dr. David G. Wylie, president of the Lord's Day alliance; U. N. Baltagaber, former commissioner of pensions; Edward P. Morse, New York capitalist; and Justice E. Ray Stevens of the Wisconsin Supreme court.

PREMIER Wlady Slawek of Poland and his cabinet resigned because of disputes with the parliament, and President Moscicki called on Marshal Pilsudski to form a new government. He that veteran "strong man" is again the nominal as well as the virtual head of his country.

NATION NEEDS HOME MAKERS

By MRS. THOMAS ALVA EDISON.

BECAUSE the art of home making has declined so much in recent years, due to the trend originating in woman suffrage and the World war, the country is facing a situation of widespread restlessness. Men no longer find satisfaction in their homes. Unless the women of America make a decided effort to return to the business of home making, the most vital institution of the country is threatened. America is essentially a nation of homes. The woman who doesn't want to make a home is undermining our nation.

An aversion to housekeeping exists on the ground that there is too much drudgery connected with it, but every business and everything in life is 98 per cent drudgery.

As a matter of fact, a good home maker must have executive ability and be a good purchasing agent, an economist, something of a chemist to supervise the diet of her family, and a gracious hostess. She also should be versed in music, art and literature to have a proper background and to be able to entertain herself, her husband and her friends.

A college education is invaluable for such a home maker. If the family finances make it necessary to choose between sending a boy and a girl to college, the girl should be the one elected. The boy can get his broadening contacts in business and elsewhere.

The college woman, however, must realize that home making is her highest goal and that it is a full-time proposition which is as much of a business as running an office. In flocking into outside business, women have lost their prestige in their own field without making up for it by accomplishment on a par with that of men in business.

EVIL IN MODERN RESTLESSNESS

By DR. CLARENCE A. BARBOUR, President Brown University.

Despite the many burdens that every human heart must bear alone, too few people carry their troubles patiently or kindly. Everybody has a life to live and a burden to bear and each ought to meet them face to face without fear.

How many married people are content to sit down at home in the evening? How many have to go somewhere—to play bridge, visit, or otherwise actively occupy themselves? They are not satisfied to read a book or quietly talk. "What 'movie' is playing tonight—where can we go this time?"

The human heart is a solitary place. We have an inner life which we must bear alone. It is a chamber which none can enter, and with all our outside cares and diversions we must look inward and face our own problems.

One of our greatest burdens is the consequences of sin. We are forgiven for the guilt of our sins, but the consequences are not taken away. There are a goodly number of people of whom it is true that their sin is finding them out.

On the other hand, what can we do to carry our burdens, how shall we endure them? Don't waste time trying to shake them off, because you can't do it. It is a paradox, but nevertheless true, that the way to bear our own burdens is to bear those of others. Self-forgetting service to others lightens our own cares.

MODERN YOUTH MORE SERIOUS

By PROF. ALFRED ADLER, Viennese Psychologist.

The hard-boiled parents of today, the men and women who a few years back were the flaming youth of America, are meeting retribution. Their children are growing up the best behaved, most conservative generation of a century. The little girl who poutingly says, "Oh, mother, don't smoke so much," and the small boy who reproves his mother with: "That's your second cocktail this afternoon," are all signs of the younger times.

The youth of today is more serious, more romantic. These growing boys and girls have a greater social conscience than their predecessors.

As a result, they detest the hardness, the cynicism and materialistic outlook of their parents. The pendulum has swung back again. Only this time it is Victorian romanticism which is on the side of youth.

KEEP UP FIGHT ON CANCER

By DR. GEORGE H. BIGELOW, Massachusetts Health Commissioner.

The death rate from cancer has apparently increased more than 50 per cent in Massachusetts during the last 20 years, the greatest increase in any state in the Union. Whatever we do for cancer may well influence what we do for a far larger problem of the other degenerative diseases. Unattended time and thought has been given to the various aspects of the problem by the outstanding citizens of the state. This has resulted in definite hospitalization measures, so that next year at the Pondville hospital, for example, we expect to serve nearly 1,000 patients.

Each local cancer committee has an education sub-committee, a responsible group in each city, facing the diversified cancer problem. The statewide cancer program has been launched. We have found an irresistible public demand for service in this field, and we are striving desperately to anticipate and guide this demand.

WOULD DO AWAY WITH SECTS

By DOCTOR COFFIN, President Union Theological Seminary.

The achievements of science have been major contributing factors in the decline of Christianity. If Christendom is to be reborn denominationalism and nationalism must disappear from the Christian church. Denominationalism is detrimental primarily because it now represents social distinctions rather than differences in belief.

In a manufacturing town the owners and executives are to be found in a church of one denomination, the skilled workers in another and the ordinary laborers in another.

To meet conditions in the modern world the church must create an appreciation of God; must reconcile science and God's relation to the universe, and must refuse to be identified with political or commercial greed.

SCENIC PLAYGROUNDS OF AMERICA

By G. M. KILBOURN

A Boy Ranger in Alaska

TO HAVE been the youngest ranger in the national park service, and to have spent a winter in a patrol cabin in the wildest of all the parks—Mt. McKinley park, Alaska, at sixteen years of age, with his nearest neighbor forty miles away, was the recent experience of Bill Myers of Lapeer, Mich., now a journalism student at the Michigan state college at East Lansing. He returned in August, 1923, after thirteen months in Alaska.

The job of being a ranger included driving dog teams through snowy, wind-swept winter waste lands where his only hope of reaching the night's shelter lay in that unexplainable but undeniable sixth sense of the dog leader which enables him to follow a trail long buried or a year old; down steep ice hillsides, or around ledges where footholds for the dogs and sleds had to be hacked in solid ice, while great valleys yawned below; or through rivers of water which ran on to rivers of ice—caused by the breaking through of warm springs which overflowed the frozen valleys, only to freeze on top of them. It included mining your own coal from the nearest mountain-side vein in zero-weather, or rescuing mountain sheep that had stranded in a four-foot snow-fall and would otherwise have starved. It included being shaken by an earthquake, which rocked the cabin and set his lantern swinging like a pendulum, but didn't wake the hard-working boy ranger to share the excitement with a guest, who later recounted it. The job included, in fact, nearly everything, as witness his diary's record of January 25: "Got breakfast and washed the dishes; did a month's washing; cooked dog feed; baked four loaves of yeast bread; roasted a ham; made two shelves, and a cover for the water bucket; sorted and straightened a bunch of old nails; oiled the tools; got supper ready. And they say they loaf on government jobs!"

"Ranger Bill" Myers.

Quoting the claim of the Far North that the dog team is the world's most efficient means of transportation, "Ranger Bill" explains: "Seven dogs, for example, can pull five hundred pounds (plus the driver) twenty miles a day, on a fair trail. Dogs and driver will consume about ten pounds of food a day. On five hundred pounds of food they can travel a thousand miles, which is supposed to be farther than any other animal or animals can travel, carrying their own food."

The rescued mountain sheep had to be forced to eat at first, but were soon quite tame, eating hay, oats, rye-crisp, dried apples, and potato peelings alike, and nosing into forbidden cupboards. One, Bill relates, "was real timid the first day and would eat nothing, but 24 hours later he was eating magazines and sleeping bags."

"Oh, Ranger, would you be afraid to hunt grizzly bears with a club?" asked a maiden tourist, recently arrived via the Alaskan railroad.

"Not if there were enough members in the club," he replied.

Back in civilization, the boy confides, he felt awkward and shy: "I hadn't had on a white shirt, or a suit, for over a year. I had rarely seen a mirror, and my hair had been cut twice during the year. I was almost run over in Seattle, for I couldn't get used to the wear and tear of the cities after living 2,500 miles from them."

"There was many a time when there seemed no sweeter thing on earth than a good hot bowl of meat and potatoes with a steam radiator to heat it over. But now that I have these 'luxuries,' I find myself longing for a good dish of dog rice and gravy, and one of those old cabins that we couldn't stand up in without bumping our heads. Linen sheets don't seem nearly as comfortable as that itchy sleeping bag I used to roll up in. Nor do white shirts and B. V. D.'s compare with a Filson flannel shirt and a suit of Mendelco's underwear—for real comfort!"

(© 1934, Western Newspaper Union.)

Cairo's Rug Trade

Cairo, because of its winter tourists, has become one of the great rug capitals of the world. Oriental rugs of all descriptions are bought every summer by the merchants of the city and are taken to Cairo for the winter season. The rugs of Turkey, Persia, China and other countries are collected there to be offered at retail prices to tourists and at wholesale prices to firms of London, Paris and New York. Cairo now ranks with Constantinople and Washburn in this trade.

On the Funny Side

A REAL DISCOURAGEMENT

Maid—I am afraid I must leave you, ma'am.
Miss—But you only came yesterday.
Maid—But I can see you don't trust me.
Miss—But I gave you the key of the cellar, of my jewel case, of master's desk.
Maid—Yes, ma'am, but none of them fit.

THEN HE FOUND OUT

"Was it a case of love at first sight?"
"No, second sight. The first time he met her he didn't know she was an heiress."

Precedences

There's social precedence in crime, The true philosopher believes. Some rogues steal fortunes at a time And some are merely chicken thieves.

Last Word in the Air

A group of pilots were buzzing about something or another as the flight commander approached, and several times he caught the expression "the last word in airplanes."
"Will," he said, as he reached the group, "what is the last word in airplanes?"
The group chorused: "Jump!"

Beginning of Trouble

"When I get rich I shall proceed to enjoy life," said the sanguine person.
"Maybe you will," answered Mr. Canroz. "But the chances are you'll have my experience. You'll find that you are up against a long program of acquired tastes, such as olives, Roquefort cheese and Wagnerian music."—Washington Star.

Food Worker

Kindly Lady—Why don't you go to work?
Tramp—I would if I had the tools.
Kind Lady—What sort of tools do you want?
Tramp—A knife and fork.

A Most Interesting Time

Hubby—Well, did you enjoy the concert?
Wife—Yes, it was lovely. I was lucky to sit next to Mrs. Joyce. I haven't seen her for several months and we had so much to talk about.

HAMMER-HEAD WON

Pereh—"Who won the nail-driving contest at the picnic?" Bass—"Why, the hammer-head shark, of course!"

Varying the News

And still we sing a little song For hope we never lose. The world has never gone along With nothing but good news.

Seeing is Believing

Walter found his mamma talking to a very stout woman.
"Walter," said his mother, "this is your great-aunt."
"Yes," said Walter, gazing at her ample proportions, "she looks it."

Would Rather Walk

She (after the shipwreck)—Don't look so worried, Mr. Young. Some passing vessel is sure to pick us up.
He—That's just what I'm worrying about.—The Humorist.

Dangerous Discrepancy

"A government official is but a servant of the people," said the man with old-fashioned ideas.
"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum. "The trouble is that in so many cases the tips amount to more than the regular wages."—Washington Star.

Names of Nuts

Doctor Lion—Now, Micky, tell me the names of some nuts.
Micky—Coconuts, brazil nuts, and Jergel-me-nuts.

South West NEWS ITEMS

New Mexico receives 1,292,125 barrels of oil a day out of the Hobbs field for institutions and schools, under the new proration announced for the Hobbs oil field, State Land Commissioner Austin D. Crile stated in Santa Fe.

James B. Button, superintendent of the Arizona State Bank Department, said recently in Prescott, that the Glendale Bank of Commerce in Glendale, Ariz., which closed April 30, will pay a 25 per cent dividend to depositors soon.

Walter S. Tracy of Kansas City, Mo., and his wife, were in the Gila County hospital at Globe, Ariz., suffering from an attack of typhoid fever contracted in wandering over desert and mountainous regions of New Mexico and Arizona.

To extract copper from raw ore by a newly invented method, the American Dominion Copper Products Corporation, of Phoenix, with an authorized capital of $1,000,000, recently filed articles of incorporation with the Arizona Corporation Commission in Phoenix.

Cyrus McCormick, Jr., Chicago Harvester machinery magnate, who is building a ranch home at Nambe, N. M., has offered a price for the best plan submitted for ultimate development of architecture around the plaza in Santa Fe, N. M., to combine style of architecture and commercial adaptability.

The large livestock territory tributary to Magdalena, N. M., in Socorro and Catron counties is being restocked with cattle. J. J. Jeffers and sons, who recently bought a 274-section ranch in Catron county, are moving 3,000 head of cattle to the ranch. This number includes about 1,400 steer and heifer yearlings.

Nail pickers used by the State Highway Department of New Mexico saved motorists of the state $267,300 in tire and tube repairs during the last year, it is estimated by the department. The electric nail pickers cover 5,590 miles of the main trunk line highway system of the state and are kept in continuous service except for times when snow and rain cause a temporary cessation of work.

Warrants issued for Arizona by the state auditor's office in Phoenix, totaled 50,249 during the past fiscal year, and disbursements $12,647,327.83, Harry Hogebe, chief deputy auditor, announced in Phoenix. The general state fund contributed most of the warrants, with 38,776 being issued to deliver $7,370,414.30. The state highway fund was second, with 10,360, disbursing $5,193,042.75.

To augment the state of Arizona's force of agricultural instructors, Halbert W. Miller, director of Arizona's vocational education, recently announced the appointment of John S. Full of Phoenix, as assistant supervisor. Fuller will visit regularly each of the fourteen counties of Arizona to supervise and to organize additional Future Farmers of America Clubs among the youthful agriculturists and ranchers of Arizona.

District Judge Reed Holloman of the New Mexico first judicial district recently issued instructions to all county sheriffs in his district to abide by the fingerprint law of the 1929 Legislature. Judge Holloman called the attention of the various sheriffs in his district to the law and requested that if they have not done so to install fingerprinting equipment in their offices at once to take a record of all persons coming before them, charged with a felony.

At least fifty men now serving time at the New Mexico penitentiary are subject to recall by the various District Courts for recidivism under the habitual criminal law. Such were reports in Santa Fe, following the sentencing of Clarence W. Wittman and Juan Valles in the first district. While official confirmation was lacking, there were understood to be fifty remaining cases, consisting of second, third and a half dozen or so fourth term violators who were improperly sentenced in the various District Courts.

Irene Miller, 32-pound "big game hunter, is the only woman member of the Otero County Big Game Protective Association, with headquarters in Alamogordo. A membership drive during the past week netted the organization eighty-two new members, which brings the total membership to 173. Fred Sherman of Deming, president of the New Mexico Game Association, was the principal speaker at a meeting at Tularosa recently. He said foreign hunting and fishing licenses during the past year brought $46,000 to the state of New Mexico, while resident licenses totaled $136,000.

The fatal shooting of Frank Norman, youthful government pathologist, by George Barnhart, was declared accidental by a coroner's jury at Alamogordo, N. M. The victim's body was found in the Lincoln national forest.

Severo Munoz of Clifton, Ariz., held in connection with the fatal shooting of Nemesio Lopez, at Clifton, was exonerated by a coroner's jury when testimony was introduced showing Lopez was killed to prevent his slaying Miss Angela Ulloa. Lopez, it was testified, had fired one shot at the girl when Munoz shot him down.

Improved Uniform International Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. F. R. FITZWATER, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, (c) 1930, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for September 14

JEREMIAH, THE PROPHET OF INDIVIDUAL RELIGION

LESSON TEXT—Jer. 1:1-10; 14:7-22; 21:27-34.
GOLDEN TEXT—So then each one of us shall give account of himself to God.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jeremiah, A Man Who Would Not Give Up.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jeremiah, A Man Who Would Not Give Up.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Being Obedient to God.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Responsibility of the Individual.

1. Jeremiah's Call (Jer. 1:1-10).
1. It was prenatal (vv. 4, 5).
Before Jeremiah was born God ordained him a prophet unto the nation.
2. His diffidence (v. 6).
This seems to have grown out of his youth and inexperience.
3. His hesitancy overcome (vv. 7, 8).
God graciously appeared to him and made clear that he should:

a. Go where sent.
b. Speak as commanded.
c. Be not afraid of his faces.
The servant of God is called upon to face strong enemies. Only the conviction of his divine commission will enable him to face the foe.
d. The divine presence assured.
It matters little as to the strength of the foe if the messenger is blest with the presence of God.

4. The divine message given (v. 9).
Not merely the thoughts, but the proper words to express the thoughts are put into the prophet's mouth.
5. The nature of his ministry (v. 10).
It was to be wider than that of prophesying. Six words are given as descriptive thereof. The first four are destructive in their implication—"root out," "pull down," "destroy," and "throw down"; two constructive—"build" and "plant."

II. Dialogue Between Jeremiah and God (Jer. 14:7-22).
The occasion was a most severe famine which had come upon the land, (vv. 1-6) as a result of which many were dying.

1. The prophet confesses the people's sins (vv. 7-9).
He made no evasion of sin, but plead with God not to abandon his people. Abandonment would be interpreted by the heathen enemies as God's inability to help them. No merit could be pleaded for the people, so he plead for the sake of God's name that God would not leave them.

2. Too late for mercy (vv. 10-12).
(1) Jeremiah's prayer declared useless (vv. 10, 11).
Because of the gross wickedness of the people, God informs Jeremiah that punishment is inevitable.

(2) Religious services of no avail (v. 12).
The disloyal people of Israel hoped to turn aside God's wrath by engaging in the services of Jehovah. Such services are an abomination.

3. The doom of false prophets (vv. 13-16).
Even though false prophets lulled the people to sleep, God held them responsible. God gives sufficient discernment to enable people to know their leaders. No one can plead ignorance in such cases.

4. Waiting upon God (vv. 17-22).
(1) Jeremiah walling the sufferings of his people (vv. 17, 18).

(2) Jeremiah pleading for his people (vv. 19, 20).

(3) Pleading for forgiveness (v. 21).
He based his plea on covenant relation, not upon personal merit.

(4) Hope only in God (v. 22).
He acknowledges that the nation's only hope was in the living God.

III. The New Covenant (Jer. 31: 27-34).

1. Promise to build and to plant instead of to break down and pluck up (vv. 27, 28).

2. Freedom from the power of heredity (vv. 29, 30).
No longer shall the children suffer for the sins of their parents. Those who are joined to Jesus Christ are under a new law of life superior to the law of heredity.

3. The law written within (vv. 31-33).
Through regeneration the heart has not only the desire but the power in the Holy Spirit to rise above and to be free from carnal impulses.

4. Teachers no longer needed (v. 34).
God shall speak directly to all from the least unto the greatest so that no longer shall the knowledge of God be dependent upon the human teacher.

5. Sins no more remembered (v. 34).
When God forgives, offenses are remembered no more.

Rest in the Lord
The Holy Spirit cannot operate on a restless spirit.—Selected.

The Book That Does Not Deceive
My heart has deceived me a thousand times, but this Book has never deceived me once.—Moody.

With God
With God, go over the sea; without Him, not over the threshold.—Russian proverb.

The Wages of Sin
You don't have to institute a lawsuit to collect the wages of sin.—Moody.

Kyoto Turns Into a Venice for One Day

Scene in Kyoto, the ancient capital of Japan, after one of the worst typhoons in history when 10,000 houses in Kyoto and the neighboring city of Osaka were flooded.

Reds Shout, but There Is Nothing Much Doing

View of the Communists gathered in Union square, New York city, to celebrate the third anniversary of the execution of Sacco and Vanzetti. The "electric chair" shown in the center of the crowd was expected to arouse their ire, but they merely yawned, while squads of mounted and foot police stood by. Communist speakers shouted "down with everything," but nothing happened.

First Hundred Voyages Are Over

Left to right: Chief Engineer J. L. Wosser, Mate Gus Lind, and Capt. A. A. Sawyer, with the flag that is rarely seen on the high seas. It is the one hundredth voyage pennant which few ships ever obtain and which no ship flies more than twice—on entering port at each end of the one hundredth round trip between the same ports without interruption. The seamen above are members of the crew of the S. S. Calawall which has made 100 trips between Los Angeles and the Hawaiian Islands. This feat required seven years.

MODERNISTIC CLOCK

This clock, in Oakland, Calif., is the first of its kind in the world, having three dials set in an inverted pyramid. It is made of chromium and vitrolite and is illuminated by neon gas. It is operated by electric current from the power house where it is constantly regulated by a master clock.

EYES FOR GRID

Frank Yablonski, University of Pennsylvania guard, with the new protective helmet which he will wear next season. Regular optical lenses can be screwed into the headgear and can be easily replaced in case of breakage.

Breaking World's Pulling Record

Straining every muscle in their powerful bodies, "Bill" and "Colonel," the team belonging to George Wilcox, of Greenville, Ohio, breaking the world's pulling record by exerting a 3,600-pounds tractive pull at the Jay county fair at Portland, Ind. This is equivalent to pulling 40,102 pounds on a wagon on granite block pavement, or to pulling eight 14-inch plows six inches deep in ordinary wheat stubble.

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS

Notice for Publication

State Land Sale
Lincoln County
Office of the Commissioner of Public Lands
Santa Fe, New Mexico
Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the provisions of the Act of Congress approved June 20th, 1910, the laws of the State of New Mexico and the rules and regulations of the State Land Office, the Commissioner of Public Lands will offer at public sale to the highest and best bidder at 10 o'clock a. m., on Friday, October 24th, 1930, at the front door of the court house in the town of Carrizozo, county seat of Lincoln County, New Mexico, the following described tract of land, to-wit:

Sale No. 2428
NE1/4SW1/4 Sec. 5, Twp. 6 S., Rge. 11 E., containing 40.00 acres, N. M. P. M. Improvements consist of a small store building, adobe house, barn, corrals, well, windmill, tank and other improvements, valued at $1081.00.

No bid will be accepted for less than Three Dollars ($3.00) per acre and the successful bidder will be required to pay at the time of sale five percent (5%) of the amount of his bid, the value of improvements and the costs of sale. The balance of the price offered will be payable at any time within thirty (30) years with interest on all deferred payments at the rate of four percent (4 percent) per annum, in accordance with the terms of the contract to be entered into by the successful bidder, form of which will be furnished upon application.

All minerals on the said land are reserved to the state and the Commissioner reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Dated at Santa Fe, New Mexico, this 24th day of July, 1930.
A1-010 Austin D. Crile, Commissioner of Public Lands.

Notice for Publication

Department of the Interior
U.S. Land Office at Las Cruces, N. M., July 22, 1930.

Notice is hereby given that Mattie B. Brown, of Corona, N. M., who, on Jan. 27, 1927, made homestead entry, No. 032839, for NE1/4, W1/2SW1/4, E1/2SE1/4 Sec. 22, NE1/4 Sec. 35, Township 2 S., Range 14 E., N. M. P. Meridian, has filed notice of intention to make 3-year Proof to establish claim to the land above described, before Mary C. DuBois, U. S. Commissioner, at Corona, N. M., on September 27, 1930. Claimant names as witnesses: F. H. Armstrong, Alton Hillman, John Bernhard, Roy Owen, all of Corona, N. M.

A15-S12 L. Keo Llewellyn, Acting Register.

In The Probate Court

State of New Mexico
County of Lincoln) ss. No. 294
In the Matter of the Estate of Frank S. Bash, Deceased.

Notice of Administrator
Notice is hereby given that at the regular September, 1930, term of the Probate Court of Lincoln County, the undersigned was appointed administrator of said estate, and has qualified as such, and all persons having claims against said estate are hereby required to file the same with the administrator within the time required by law.

Chas. H. Thornton, Administrator, Postoffice: Oscura, New Mexico.

Notice for Publication

Department of the Interior
U.S. Land Office at Las Cruces, N. M., Sept. 3, 1930

Notice is hereby given that Edward F. Haskins, of White Oaks, N. M., who, on May 15, 1926, made Additional homestead entry, No. 030012, for S1/2NE1/4, E1/2NW1/4, Sec. 34, T. 4 S., R. 13 E., N. M. P. Meridian, has filed notice of intention to make three year Proof, to establish claim to the land above described, before Frank J. Sager, U. S. Commissioner, at Carrizozo, N. M., on Oct. 18, 1930.

Claimant names as witnesses: John A. Wilson, B. W. Wilson, Alix Fambrough, all of Ancho, N. M., Chas. Williams, of White Oaks, N. M., V. B. May, Register.

HOUSES FOR RENT-Inquire at Prehm's Bargain Store.

Notice for Publication
Department of the Interior
U.S. Land Office at Las Cruces, N. M.
August 27, 1930

Notice is hereby given that Harry A. Gallacher, of Carrizozo, N. Mex., who, on May 24, 1927, made homestead entry, No. 033404, for S1/2 Sec. 3, NE1/4, Sec. 9, NW1/4, NW1/4NE1/4, S1/2NE1/4, Section 10, Township 6 S., Range 9 E., N. M. P. Meridian, has filed notice of intention to make 3-year Proof, to establish claim to the land above described, before Frank J. Sager, U. S. Commissioner, at Carrizozo, N. Mex., on October 11, 1930.

Claimant names as witnesses: Louis Nalda, Jimmie Cooper, Peter M. Johnson, Oracio Corona, all of Carrizozo, N. Mex., V. B. May, Register.

In The Probate Court
State of New Mexico
County of Lincoln) ss.
No. 291

In the Matter of the Estate of Thomas E. Welch, Deceased.
Notice of Executrix
Notice is hereby given that at the regular September, 1930, term of the Probate Court of Lincoln County, the undersigned was appointed Executrix of said estate, and has qualified as such, and all persons having claims against said estate are hereby required to file the same with the Executrix within the time required by law.

Lucile N. Welch, Executrix, Postoffice: White Oaks, N. M. S5-19

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION
Department of the Interior
U.S. Land Office at Las Cruces, N. M.
Sept. 4, 1930

Notice is hereby given that Ramon Ramirez, of Arabela, N. M., who, on Nov. 6, 1925, made Original Homestead Entry, No. 029871, for NW1/4 and SW1/4NE1/4, Sec. 8, T. 8 S., R. 18 E., N. M. P. Meridian, has filed notice of intention to make five-year Proof, to establish claim to the land above described, before Dan C. Savage, U. S. Commissioner, at Roswell, N. M., on Oct. 18, 1930.

Claimant names as witnesses: Lupe Castillo, Santa Cruz Guebara, Jose Candelaria, Nick Brill, all of Arabela, N. M., V. B. May, Register.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION
Department of the Interior
U. S. Land Office, Las Cruces, N.M.
Sept. 5, 1930

Notice is hereby given that Fred V. Sweet, of Ancho, N. M., who, on April 16, 1923, made homestead entry, No. 038969, for SW1/4SW1/4 Sec. 27, N1/2, SE1/4, E1/2SW1/4, NW1/4SW1/4, Sec. 33, T. 4 S., R. 10 E., N. M. P. Meridian, has filed notice of intention to make 3-year Proof, to establish claim to the land above described, before Frank J. Sager, U. S. Commissioner, at Carrizozo, N. M., on Oct. 20, 1930.

Claimant names as witnesses: Dick Berry, Robert Storey, Walter Hobbs, Ralph Sweet, all of Ancho, N. M., S12-010 V. B. May, Register.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION
Department of the Interior
U. S. Land Office at Las Cruces, N.M.
Sept. 5, 1930

Notice is hereby given that Dick Berry, of Ancho, N. M., who, on Mar. 12, 1923, made homestead entry, No. 038970, for All of Sec. 34, T. 4 S., R. 10 E., N. M. P. Meridian, has filed notice of intention to make 3-year Proof, to establish claim to the land above described, before Frank J. Sager, U. S. Commissioner, at Carrizozo, N. M., on Oct. 20, 1930.

Claimant names as witnesses: Fred V. Sweet, Ralph P. Sweet, Robert Storey, Walter Hobbs, all of Ancho, N. M., V. B. May, Register.

Old Abe COAL
Hot & Clean

The Coal you have been using for years.

"Makes Warm Friends"

Leave orders at Carrizozo Transfer & Storage Co. Phone 140 or Truck Driver.

Pratt Bros & Haskins

FOR SALE - Steel Roofing, Barbed Wire, Nails - all in car loads. Plaster Board, also in car loads. - Western Lumber Co., Inc.

Carrizozo Meat Market

Is equipped and is handling Baby Native Beef at Bargain prices. Also cured Meats, Fresh Eggs, Bread, Crackers, Lunch Meats and Cheese. Husmanized Electric Refrigerator Come in and see the Old-Time Bronco Rider and Cowboy and let him cut you some Steaks. Hot Chili, Pies, Doughnuts, Coffee, Soft Drinks Lish Leslie, Prop.

LODGES

COALORA REBEKAH LODGE NUMBER 15 I.O.O.F.

Meets second and fourth Fridays of each month. Mrs. Birdie Walker, Noble Grand Mrs. Rachel West, Sec'y. Carrizozo New Mexico

CARRIZOZO LODGE No. 30, I.O.O.F. Carrizozo, New Mexico. J. W. Harkey, Noble Grand W. J. Langston Sec'y-Treas. Regular meetings every Tuesday night.

CARRIZOZO LODGE No. 41 - Carrizozo, New Mexico. A. F. & A. M. Regular Meetings, 1930 Jan. 11, Feb. 8, Mar. 8, Apr. 12, May 10, June 7, July 5, Aug. 9, Sept. 6, Oct. 4, Nov. 1-29, Dec. 27. M. J. Barnett, W. M. R. E. Lemon, Secy.

COMET CHAPTER NO. 29 ORDER OF EASTERN STAR Carrizozo, New Mexico. REGULAR MEETING First Thursday of each month. All Visiting Stars Cordially Invited. Mrs. Mae English, Worthy Matron S. F. Miller, Secretary.

PROFESSIONS

T. E. KELLEY Funeral Director & Licensed Embalmer Residence Phone 33 Carrizozo New Mexico

W. H. BROADDUS - Optometrist - Will be in Carrizozo the Third Wednesday of each month at the office of Dr. Shaver. Practice limited to Fitting Glasses.

S. B. Bostian ELECTRICIAN Wiring and General Repairing P. O. Box 146 - Residence at 2nd and Tularosa Sts., Phone 61 Carrizozo, New Mexico

DR. R. E. BLANEY, Dentist - Masonic Building - Carrizozo New Mexico

Dr. Marvin - Optometrist - Glasses Fitted THE BORDER OPTICAL CO. 103 Texas Street El Paso, Texas

SERVICE

We have built our bank on it. Our efforts center around it. Our success depends on it.

"Try First National Service" S - A - V - E !

FIRST NATIONAL BANK Carrizozo - New Mexico

OLD DOC BIRD says: When your feet ache, it's a Sign of a Hot Stomach.

Step right up to our Fountain and Refresh Yourself with a dish of our Delicious ICE CREAM or a glass of ICE COLD SODA

Next Call for a good SMOKE We Have 'Em - OH, BOY! Majestic Radio

Rolland's Drug Store Carrizozo - N. M.

Dainty Kraft

Home-Made

Candies

Pure and Wholesome Made and For Sale at the Home of

Mrs. C. O. Davis

Second Residence South of S. P. Club House

Notice for Publication
Department of the Interior
U. S. Land Office
Las Cruces, New Mexico
August 7, 1930

Notice is hereby given that Ysidro Chavez of San-Patricio, N. Mex., who, on May 28, 1924, made additional homestead entry No. 028870 for SW1-4 Sec. 27, SW1-4 NE1-4, NW1-4 SE1-4, S1-2 NW1-4 Section 35, Township 11 S., Range 16 E., N. M. P. Meridian, has filed notice of intention to make 3 year Proof, to establish claim to the land above described, before Eunice P. Hall, U. S. Commissioner, at Capitan, N. Mex., on September 23, 1930. Claimant names as witnesses: T. S. Chavez, Manfor Chavez, Jacobo Sanchez, all of San Patricio, N. Mex.; Mabro Sanchez, of Hondo, N. Mex. A15 S12 V.B. May, Register.

WE ARE HEADQUARTERS FOR

Barbed Wire
Nails
Steel Roofing
Sheet Rock
Cement
Oils & Greases
Grain Bags
Lumber
Lath

Feed
Groceries
Medicines
Bale Ties
Dynamite
Fuse Caps
Auto Casings
Tubes
Gent's Furnishings, Etc.

Our Prices Are Reasonable
The Titsworth Co., Inc.
Capitan - New Mexico

WE CARRY:

Lumber, Shingles, Doors, Sash, Mouldings
Steel Roofing, Barbed Wire, Nails, and
Everything Necessary to build a House.

Call and See Us
Before Placing Your Orders

Western Lumber Co., Inc.
Carrizozo, New Mexico

Carrizozo Eating House

Best of Accommodations To All the People, All The Time.
Table Supplied With Best The Market Affords

Mrs. E. H. SWEET, Proprietor

We Carry in Stock - At all Times -

Samson Windmills, Pipe Fittings, Cylinders, Pump Rod and Leathers, Slate Surface, Asphalt and Felt Roofing, Galvanized Iron, Eave Troughs and Conductor Pipe, Galvanized Rainproofs, Stove Pipes and Flues, Linoleum Rugs and Yard Goods, Bolts, Valves and Floats. Plumbing, Pipes and Supplies

John W. Harkey
Sheet Metal Work & Plumbing
Box 306 Carrizozo, N. M.

WANTED - Someone to bale hay on shares; one mile from railroad loading point. J. R. Blackshere & Son, Red Lake Ranch.

Paper napkins and doilies at the Outlook Art & Gift Shop. Rainbow Pins at the Outlook Art & Gift Shop

FOR SALE OR RENT - One two - r house, furnished; also one f room house, unfurnished, c to school. - Apply at the t look office.

W. H. Broaddus Optical Specialist, will b Carrizozo Wednesday, Sept. at Dr. Shaver's office. Gl fitted. S5-

FAVORITE COLORS FOR SHOES INCLUDE BROWN, GREEN, WINE

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

According to orders from fashion headquarters footwear must be as lovely and as colorful as the gown, suit or ensemble with which it is worn. Which means with the costumes in the new and exceedingly handsome dark greens, deep wine and various brown colorings which are scheduled for the coming months we are going to wear shoes made of fine supple kid in perfect match colorings.

It is very evident that the creators of our frocks, our wraps, our headwear and our footwear have made it a point to "get together" and talk it over with the result that we are going to match from head to foot especially in view of the fact that the jeweler, the pocketbook maker and even the handkerchief designer have joined this matchmaking group. It is a matter for rejoicing that shoe stylists have selected the soft and supple kid as the medium-elect for our fall and winter shoes. A kid shoe, like a kid glove, has a decided elasticity which the smartly attired woman demands in her footwear, for the woman with a reputation for being well dressed at all times—who is invariably the subject of admiring glances—is the woman who is absolutely comfortable in her clothes. One among many arguments in favor of kid for lady's shoe is that being more or less porous, it allows the foot to breathe, as it were, hence its comfort. Then again it is resilient and a shoe made of it conforms to the foot like a glove to the hand.

shoes with the same discrimination that is exercised in choosing a gown or a hat, for the footwear can make or mar the entire costume. Today color is one of the greatest factors in shoe. Leather specialists have recognized and appreciated this fashion consideration. In typical American spirit they have met the challenge with the result that kid shoes are easily obtainable in almost any color from deep wine, green and copper brown to the most esthetic pastel shades.

Shoes in tuneful color play an important part in achieving sartorial perfections for each of the costumes in the picture. The afternoon frock to the left is of rose-rust faille silk with the inevitable lingerie touch of dainty lace at the neck and the wrists. Brown kid pumps with beige trim complete the color symphony.

The ensemble is of silk in that very new dark color designated as date-plum—one of the off-black shades heralded for this fall. Please to observe the three-quarter length of the coat for it, confirms the news of a coming vogue for long-coat ensembles. The coat is lined with a lightweight matching wool fabric with stitched bands of the same trimming as the dress. The hat is in self-color and the kid shoes are a deep wine tone. (© 1930, Western Newspaper Union.)

How to Make the Blueberry Pudding

Easy enough for an inexperienced bride to get ready, and delicious enough to offer to the most distinguished person you know, is this quick blueberry pudding for which the bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture furnishes a recipe:

- 1 quart blueberries
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 2 cups soft bread crumbs,
- 1 tbs. salted butter,
- 1 tbs. lemon juice, if desired.

Pick over the berries, wash, drain, mix with the sugar, water and salt and boil for five minutes. Combine the bread crumbs and butter, add to the hot fruit, stir until well mixed, and let stand on the back of the stove for about 30 minutes, but do not let the pudding cook. Add the lemon juice and serve the pudding while still warm with plain or whipped cream.

HOMEMAKERS PREFER KITCHENS THAT ARE LIGHT AND AIRY

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

When a homemaker looks over a house with the possible intention of renting or buying it, she lingers in the kitchen longer than in any other room. It is vital to her that her workshop should be light and airy, of good proportions and with a pleasant exposure and outlook. Of special importance is the equipment—not only what it is, but how each piece is placed with relation to all the others. The homemaker has to think of the work that will go on in the kitchen, of how she goes about each task, and what equipment and tools she will need to do it easily.

Builders have been known to supply excellent ranges, cabinets, sinks and ice boxes, all placed so that many unnecessary steps were taken by the housewife in her daily work. After the water and gas pipes and the electric wiring have been put in and the sink installed with cement, it is expensive to make changes. When one is planning and building a new home this difficulty can be anticipated while the house is still on paper.

Even when mistakes have been made with some of the fixed equipment, it may be possible to move other pieces about to correct matters somewhat. One of the larger kitchen furnishings which can usually be moved is the kitchen cabinet, if it is on casters. As the sink and the work table or cabinet are the nucleus of the food preparation center, it saves steps to have the cabinet as close to the sink as space permits. In the illustration, taken by the bureau of economics of the United States Department of Agriculture, the cabinet is at right angles to the sink in a rather small kitchen. After mixing a cake, for instance, bowls and other utensils can be put immediately on the drainboard to be washed, without any extra steps. Water is within reach for filling saucepans or using in recipes, as well as for washing vegetables or fruits or cleaning up dishes.

At the sink there should be brushes for cleaning vegetables, paring knives, measuring cup, scissors, strainers, colander and other small articles, hung up if possible. The garbage can should also be near the sink. As one thinks over the various tasks to be done in Handy Food Preparation Center.

In the course of a day, it will be realized that sometimes the same kind of tools are wanted in more than one place. A few duplicate articles which can be found quickly and without walking about will be worth many times their cost. For instance, sharp knives are wanted for paring and cutting foods in the food preparation center, and also in the serving center. A bread knife kept by the bread box and board or placed on the table with the bread will save extra steps and unused cut slices of bread. One might have two measuring cups: one at the work table or cabinet, and one near the sink.

WHEN BABIES FRET

THERE are times when a baby is too fretful or feverish to be sung to sleep. There are some pains a mother cannot put away. But there's quick comfort in Castoria!

For diarrhea, and other infantile ills, give this pure vegetable preparation. Whenever coated tongues tell of constipation; whenever there's any sign of sluggishness, Castoria has a good taste; children love to take it. Buy the genuine—with Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on wrapper.

Carry Your Medicine In Your Handbag

Our Vegetable Compound is also sold in chocolate coated tablets, just as effective as the liquid form.

Endorsed by half a million women, this medicine is particularly valuable during the three trying periods of maturity, maternity and middle age.

98 out of 100 report benefit
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Not a Philanthropist
"Would you lend money to a person in real need of it?"
"Certainly," answered Mr. Finchum. "The more a person needs money the bigger the rate of interest he is willing to pay."

Sunday at the Beach
"How did you find the water?"
"By looking between the bathers!"
—Exchange.

The use of soft coal will make laundry work heavier this winter. Red Cross Ball Blue will help to remove that grimy look. At all grocers.—Adv.

If the ancient Greeks had had railroads, they would have gone down to the depot at train time.

Who would cross the ocean merely to play 400 games of bridge on the way?

Reformers are not content to think what they like; they want everybody else to think it.

Lunatics have habits that are the most fixed.

A Sour Stomach

In the same time it takes a dose of soda to bring a little temporary relief of gas and sour stomach, Phillips Milk of Magnesia has acidity completely checked, and the digestive organs all tranquilized. Once you have tried this form of relief you will cease to worry about your diet and experience a new freedom in eating.

This pleasant preparation is just as good for children, too. Use it whenever coated tongue or febrile breath signals need of a sweetener. Physicians will tell you that every spoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Get the genuine, the name Phillips is important. Imitations do not act the same!

PHILLIPS Milk of Magnesia

STORY FOR THE CHILDREN WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

The Twins, Latitude and Longitude, were telling their story to David, and all that they did and all the help they gave.

"It all sounds very fine," agreed David. He really couldn't help liking the twins.

"We're all over the world," Latitude said, "but perhaps we mean more to ships and the people on ships than to any others."

"When anything happens they can always send word just exactly where they are by telling what we measure."

"If it weren't for us they'd have a hard time."

"It would be pretty difficult to simply send word they were somewhere on the Atlantic Ocean, for example."

"We heard you were adventuring, and as we're most important inhabitants of the Living Map, we stopped to have a chat."

"We called out to you awhile ago, but then we were so busy for a few moments we didn't have time to chat ourselves."

"Then we thought we'd talk to you here, you see."

"That's mighty kind of you," David said. He really did like the twins immensely.

"We have an engagement to lecture this afternoon," said Latitude, "on the 'Long and Short of It'—that is the Chorus.

Latitude is very fat, He moves from East to West; Longitude is very thin, He thinks his way is best— He has his up and downs it's true, He goes from North to South But—"

They suddenly broke off singing, and Longitude shouted:

"We'll be late, Brother Twin, if we don't hurry. We really must hurry and not linger any longer."

So David never heard the end of that poem which they had made up about themselves and which they had sung to him.

With a good-bye wave to David they had rushed off, leaving him sitting alone, and saying to himself:

"It's a pity one is so fat and the other so thin. It makes them both look so queer!"

"But in spite of that, I like them. They are as jolly as can be, and really, I feel as though those Twins were certainly my friends now."

(© 1930, Western Newspaper Union.)

We're Longitude and Latitude, the twins without a last name, But even lacking that, you know, we certainly have gained fame, In books it really is a sin The way they so dully put us in.

Latitude is very fat, He moves from East to West; Longitude is very thin, He thinks his way is best— He has his up and downs it's true, He goes from North to South But—"

They suddenly broke off singing, and Longitude shouted:

"We'll be late, Brother Twin, if we don't hurry. We really must hurry and not linger any longer."

So David never heard the end of that poem which they had made up about themselves and which they had sung to him.

With a good-bye wave to David they had rushed off, leaving him sitting alone, and saying to himself:

"It's a pity one is so fat and the other so thin. It makes them both look so queer!"

"But in spite of that, I like them. They are as jolly as can be, and really, I feel as though those Twins were certainly my friends now."

(© 1930, Western Newspaper Union.)

Mites Attack Oranges
Oranges or grapefruit which have a rusty appearance have been attacked by rust mites, animals so small that it has been estimated that half a million of them could find room on a grapefruit. These insects puncture the outer cells of the rind and suck the oil from it. Although the food value of such fruit is not reduced greatly, buyers generally prefer bright fruit, consequently the russets sell at a discount of 25 to 50 cents a box.

SOME TIMELY HINTS ABOUT FOOD FOR THE FAMILY TABLE

By NELLIE MAXWELL

It is often in the early fall days we suffer from the aching heat; then, if over, we need to serve food that will be appealing and refreshing.

Apple Surprise.—Peel and core six good flavored apples and place them in a shallow pan. Sprinkle with three-fourths of a cupful of sugar and pour over one-half cupful of water, simmer for a few minutes, then fill the cavities with one small can of diced pineapple and place half a cupful of cinnamon candies around the apples. Cook for twenty or more minutes, then add one-half cupful of nuts and one marshmallow for each apple. Cook again until the apples are tender, remove and cool. Serve with whipped cream.

Chocolate Buttercotch Pudding.—Take two cupfuls of scalded milk, two and one-half tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, one-fourth of a cupful of sugar, four tablespoonfuls of cocoa and a pinch of salt. Mix until well blended, then cook until smooth and thick. Add the vanilla (a few drops), twelve marshmallows and six pieces of buttercotch. Mix until all the ingredients are well blended. Pour into molds and chill. Serve with whipped cream.

Plum Pudding.—Dissolve one package of lemon gelatin in boiling water or half water and the other fruit juice, using a pint of liquid; stir in three-fourths of a cupful of grape-nuts, three-fourths of a cupful of cooked chopped prunes, three-fourths of a cupful each of raisins and nuts chopped, and one cupful of ground-peanut brittle. Stir all into the hot gelatin and when well mixed set aside to mold. Serve with whipped cream.

Salmon Souffle.—Flake a can of salmon and season with paprika, salt and lemon juice. Cook one-half cupful each of bread crumbs and milk ten minutes and add to the salmon; then add the yolks of three eggs, beat as thick and lemon colored and set and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Turn into a buttered baking dish and bake until firm.

Egg Sandwich.—Chop hard cooked eggs, moisten with lemon juice, season with salt and pepper, spread over a lettuce leaf, place on a buttered slice of bread. Cover with a plain buttered slice.

Raisin Sandwich.—Butter brown bread cut very thin and cover one slice with chopped raisins mixed with mayonnaise.

Sraban Dressing.—Beat four egg yolks, add one teaspoonful each of mustard and salt and one tablespoonful of sugar, one tablespoonful of butter, four tablespoonfuls of vinegar and a dash of red pepper. Cook all until thick, in a double boiler. Cool and add cupful of whipped cream and one cupful of nut meats.

Where the child must carry a lunch at school, every effort should be made to make the food appetizing. Fresh fruit when it is possible should always be included. Jams, jellies, dried fruits such as figs, prunes and raisins or dates will help out when apples, oranges and fresh fruits are not available.

Fruit Paste.—Thoroughly mix chopped dates, raisins, dry figs and finely ground nuts with orange juice and a little cream. Spread generously on thin, buttered bread.

Quick Orange Jam.—Take two cupfuls of orange pulp and juice, one lemon, pulp and juice, and one and one-half cupfuls of sugar. Boil ten minutes. Put into jelly glasses and seal. Serve in sandwiches or with toast. A small glass of this jam makes a dainty addition to the lunch-basket.

For a wholesome sandwich, spread one slice of the buttered bread with orange marmalade and the other with cottage cheese. Put together and wrap.

Carrot, Celery and Nut Sandwich.—Mix ground raw carrots, celery and nuts with lemon juice and boiled dressing. Put the mixture into cases made by scooping out a roll cut in half. Fill the halves together.

Party Sandwiches.—These should be served as soon as prepared. Mash bananas and fresh raspberries in equal amounts and moisten with sweet cream, add a pinch of salt and a bit of sugar if needed. Spread white bread with butter, then with the fruit mixture. Put the slices together and cut into fancy shapes. If the fresh berries are not obtainable, use raspberry jelly. If desired especially festive, decorate the top of small sandwiches cut into rounds with a spot of the jelly.

(© 1930, Western Newspaper Union.)

add cupful of whipped cream and one cupful of nut meats.

Where the child must carry a lunch at school, every effort should be made to make the food appetizing. Fresh fruit when it is possible should always be included. Jams, jellies, dried fruits such as figs, prunes and raisins or dates will help out when apples, oranges and fresh fruits are not available.

Fruit Paste.—Thoroughly mix chopped dates, raisins, dry figs and finely ground nuts with orange juice and a little cream. Spread generously on thin, buttered bread.

Quick Orange Jam.—Take two cupfuls of orange pulp and juice, one lemon, pulp and juice, and one and one-half cupfuls of sugar. Boil ten minutes. Put into jelly glasses and seal. Serve in sandwiches or with toast. A small glass of this jam makes a dainty addition to the lunch-basket.

For a wholesome sandwich, spread one slice of the buttered bread with orange marmalade and the other with cottage cheese. Put together and wrap.

Carrot, Celery and Nut Sandwich.—Mix ground raw carrots, celery and nuts with lemon juice and boiled dressing. Put the mixture into cases made by scooping out a roll cut in half. Fill the halves together.

Party Sandwiches.—These should be served as soon as prepared. Mash bananas and fresh raspberries in equal amounts and moisten with sweet cream, add a pinch of salt and a bit of sugar if needed. Spread white bread with butter, then with the fruit mixture. Put the slices together and cut into fancy shapes. If the fresh berries are not obtainable, use raspberry jelly. If desired especially festive, decorate the top of small sandwiches cut into rounds with a spot of the jelly.

(© 1930, Western Newspaper Union.)

Vegetables Which Can Be Scooped Out to Make Container for Filling

Eggplant Scooped Out and Filled With Dressing.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Among the various stuffings used for vegetables like cymbalings and eggplant which can be scooped out to make a container for the filling, the following has been found very good by the bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture. The eggplant pulp is cooked and mixed with the other ingredients:

- 1 large eggplant
- 1/2 cup melted butter or other fat
- 1 1/2 cups dry bread crumbs
- 1 small onion, finely chopped
- 1 cup cooked string beans, peas, or other left-over vegetables
- 1 tsp. salt
- Pepper

Wash and cut the eggplant in half lengthwise. Remove as much of the white portion as possible without breaking the shell, cut the pulp into small pieces, cook in a small quantity of hot water for ten minutes, or until tender, and drain. To the melted fat add the bread crumbs, stir until well mixed, and reserve half of the crumbs for the top. To the remaining crumbs add the other ingredients and the eggplant pulp, mix thoroughly, pile lightly into the eggplant shells, sprinkle the top with the crumbs, place in a shallow baking dish, pour a few tablespoonfuls of hot water around the shells to keep them from sticking, and bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. Serve in the baking dish.

The Mazaroff Mystery

By J. S. FLETCHER
W. N. U. Service

Illustrations by IRWIN MYERS
(©, by Alfred A. Knopf, Inc.)

CHAPTER VIII—Continued

"Show them in!" said Maythorne. He turned wonderingly on us as the girl withdrew. "Manners!" he exclaimed. "Here in London? What's that mean? Something fresh! Well, Manners?" he continued, as the sergeant and another man, both in plain clothes, came into the room, staring curiously at their surroundings, "what brings you here? Take a seat—you know these gentlemen."

Manners grinned at Crole and myself. He jerked a thumb at his companion, a quiet-looking, observant man.

"Detective Sergeant Corkerdale, of the Yard, gentlemen," he said. "Well, Mr. Maythorne, I'm here on business you can guess at. The fact is, I learned something yesterday, and I hurried to town, by orders, and I've been to New Scotland Yard, and told all we know. They've put Corkerdale here on to help me. Two or three things happened one way yesterday. All the folks—Elphinstones—left Marrasdale tower for London, sudden. Then, the High Cap lodge party broke up and came here, too—same train. Later in the morning that old chap Cowie, that lives in a cottage close by Relver's den, came to me and said that he'd something to tell—something, he said, that he'd kept to himself until the gentlemen had gone away from Mr. Courthope's. Then, when I'd assured him that no harm would come to him, he went on to tell me that on the night of Mazaroff's murder, some little time after hearing a shot fired near his cottage, he went out, and from behind his garden hedge, saw two men, close by. One, he said, was the big fat gentleman from High Cap lodge, the other was Parslave. And, says Cowie, he saw 'em go away together, talking, sort of whispering, in the direction of Courthope's. Now, as we know, Parslave's never been seen since—in our parts. Where is he?"

"Is that what you've come to see Doctor Eccleshare about, Manners?" asked Maythorne.

"That's it, sir!—me and Detective Sergeant Corkerdale here are going to see Doctor Eccleshare and hear what he's got to say," answered Manners. "If Parslave was with him that night, then I want to know why—and I want to know where Parslave is now!"

"Then I'll save you some trouble, Manners," said Maythorne. "Parslave is where he's probably been ever since the night of the murder—or, rather, since the day after. He's in Doctor Eccleshare's house, at Paddington!"

The two policemen looked at each other. But that was only for a second; each turned sharply on Maythorne. The man from New Scotland Yard spoke.

"That looks like some sort of collusion between him and this doctor," he said. "They'll have to be seen."

"We were just going to see them when you came," remarked Maythorne. "You'd better come with us. Come along!—we'll go see him, and hear the latest."

We all five filed out and squeezed ourselves into a taxicab. Maythorne bade its driver to set us down at the corner of Chapel street. Arrived there, he turned a little way down Edgware road, looked at his watch, and beckoning the rest of us to follow, entered the saloon bar of a pretentious looking tavern. There, in a quiet corner, a tankard of ale and a plate of bread-and-cheese before him, sat the queer clerk, Cottingley, quietly munching, and reading a newspaper.

We grouped ourselves round Cottingley. Maythorne, instead of plunging straight into business, invited us all to take a drink, and said nothing until each of us had a glass in his hand. Then he turned on the clerk.

"Well?" he said.

Cottingley leaned closer, over the little table at which he sat.

"Eccleshare," he answered in a low voice, "came home, from Euston, about six-thirty last night. Three suitcases and a guncase. Parslave came out and helped to carry them in. At seven o'clock Eccleshare came out, alone. He went to Riggs's, round the corner here in Chapel street. He dined there. He left there just after eight, and went home. About nine o'clock Parslave came out. He went to a public house, higher up the street, and had a pint of ale there. Then he went back. Neither of 'em showed again last night; neither of 'em left the house this morning. But about nine o'clock a van came there and left six trunks—the sort of trunks people use that are going long-distance traveling; those strong, zinc-lined affairs. They were carried in by the men who came with the van. That's all."

"Elenty!" observed Maythorne. He glanced significantly at the man from New Scotland Yard. "Eccleshare is going to clear out!" he said. "What do you think, Corkerdale?"

"What I think," Corkerdale answered, "is that the sooner we get to business the better."

"The simplest thing to do," said Maythorne, "is to walk in there, say that Parslave's been seen to enter, and have it out with the two of them. Come on!—we'll go there and walk straight in."

We left Cottingley and, led by Maythorne and Manners, went off to the quiet side street. Maythorne knocked; the door was opened almost instantly by a tall, elderly woman in cap and apron.

"Doctor Eccleshare at home?" demanded Maythorne. "Just so—thank you, we'll come in."

He and Manners were over the threshold before the woman could say anything; the rest of us crowding closely behind, and, looking over their shoulders, found ourselves gazing on a big, roomy hall, set in the center of the ground floor. And there, before us, and now turning on this incursion with wondering and surprised faces, were our two men. The trunks of which Cottingley had spoken were open on the hall floor, Parslave, in his shirt sleeves, was engaged in packing things into them, under Eccleshare's superintendence. Clearly, as Maythorne had suggested, Eccleshare was contemplating a departure.

He turned on us sharply as we crowded in, and the look that he gave us was one of nothing but surprise; there was no annoyance, no sign of self-consciousness; it was easy to see that all that was in his mind was just wonder at our presence.

"Hullo!" he exclaimed. "What's this? You, Manners?—and a whole company behind you? What's arisen?—some new development?"

Manners, without hesitation, pointed to Parslave, who, on his knees beside a trunk, had turned to stare at him, open-mouthed.

"Doctor Eccleshare!" he said. "What's that man doing in your house?"

Eccleshare, in his turn, stared—first at Parslave, then at Manners. "Parslave?" he said. "Why shouldn't he be in my house? He's in my employ—my man!"

"Your man—your servant?" asked Manners. "Since—when?"

"Since I engaged him at Marrasdale," retorted Eccleshare. He looked from one to the other of us. "I don't know what concern it is of anybody's, Manners," he went on, "but since you seem extraordinarily inquisitive, I may as well tell you that I've sold this practice and I'm going to South America—on other pursuits. I wanted a strong, capable man—preferably a countryman, used to outdoor life—to go with me, and I engaged Parslave. That's why he's here."

Manners drew a long breath and shook his head.

"You know that we've had a bill out for Parslave this last two or three days, Doctor Eccleshare," he said. "Posted all about the district! Why didn't you tell us where Parslave was?"

"Pardon me, my man, I know nothing whatever about any bill," replied Eccleshare. "I was never near Marrasdale nor Birnside nor Glichester the last few days I was in your parts. I neither saw your bill nor heard of it."

Manners became official in aspect and tone. He jerked his head towards Corkerdale.

"Oh, very well, doctor!" he said. "This is Detective Sergeant Corkerdale, from New Scotland Yard. I've been there this morning and laid before the authorities certain facts concerning you and Parslave, and if we don't get some satisfactory explanation from you, I shall just have to ask you to come with us and explain things elsewhere."

Eccleshare's big face flushed a little. But he made an obvious attempt to keep his temper.

"You know that we've had a bill out for Parslave this last two or three days, Doctor Eccleshare," he said. "Posted all about the district! Why didn't you tell us where Parslave was?"

"Pardon me, my man, I know nothing whatever about any bill," replied Eccleshare. "I was never near Marrasdale nor Birnside nor Glichester the last few days I was in your parts. I neither saw your bill nor heard of it."

Manners became official in aspect and tone. He jerked his head towards Corkerdale.

"Oh, very well, doctor!" he said. "This is Detective Sergeant Corkerdale, from New Scotland Yard. I've been there this morning and laid before the authorities certain facts concerning you and Parslave, and if we don't get some satisfactory explanation from you, I shall just have to ask you to come with us and explain things elsewhere."

Eccleshare's big face flushed a little. But he made an obvious attempt to keep his temper.

"You know that we've had a bill out for Parslave this last two or three days, Doctor Eccleshare," he said. "Posted all about the district! Why didn't you tell us where Parslave was?"

"Pardon me, my man, I know nothing whatever about any bill," replied Eccleshare. "I was never near Marrasdale nor Birnside nor Glichester the last few days I was in your parts. I neither saw your bill nor heard of it."

Manners became official in aspect and tone. He jerked his head towards Corkerdale.

"Oh, very well, doctor!" he said. "This is Detective Sergeant Corkerdale, from New Scotland Yard. I've been there this morning and laid before the authorities certain facts concerning you and Parslave, and if we don't get some satisfactory explanation from you, I shall just have to ask you to come with us and explain things elsewhere."

Eccleshare's big face flushed a little. But he made an obvious attempt to keep his temper.

"You know that we've had a bill out for Parslave this last two or three days, Doctor Eccleshare," he said. "Posted all about the district! Why didn't you tell us where Parslave was?"

"Pardon me, my man, I know nothing whatever about any bill," replied Eccleshare. "I was never near Marrasdale nor Birnside nor Glichester the last few days I was in your parts. I neither saw your bill nor heard of it."

Manners became official in aspect and tone. He jerked his head towards Corkerdale.

"Oh, very well, doctor!" he said. "This is Detective Sergeant Corkerdale, from New Scotland Yard. I've been there this morning and laid before the authorities certain facts concerning you and Parslave, and if we don't get some satisfactory explanation from you, I shall just have to ask you to come with us and explain things elsewhere."

Eccleshare's big face flushed a little. But he made an obvious attempt to keep his temper.

"You know that we've had a bill out for Parslave this last two or three days, Doctor Eccleshare," he said. "Posted all about the district! Why didn't you tell us where Parslave was?"

"That sounds very threatening, Manners," he answered. "What explanation do you want?"

Manners hesitated. "I'm no lawyer!" he exclaimed. "No hand at putting things—as they ought to be put, Mr. Crole? there is a lawyer. Perhaps—"

He glanced appealingly at Crole, and Crole turned to Eccleshare with a smile.

"The situation is this, Doctor Eccleshare," he said. "You know as well as we do that Mr. Mazaroff was murdered at or near Relver's den on the third night after his arrival at the Woodcock. He was also robbed of all his valuables, and of important papers. About the same time, this man, Parslave—no implication on you, Parslave, mind, in what I say!—dis-

"Hullo!" He Exclaimed, "What's This?"

appears, mysteriously. Parslave is now discovered in your house, here in London. You've given an explanation of that. But—there's more, and it is this, I think, that Sergeant Manners is particularly referring to. After you and Mr. Armistead and your host, Mr. Courthope, left Marrasdale yesterday morning, information was given to Manners to the effect that you and Parslave were seen near Relver's den on the night of the murder, just after the informant had heard the shot fired which was, no doubt, the immediate cause of Mazaroff's death. Now, my dear sir, I think you should explain—anything that you can explain."

"Before I give any explanation," said Eccleshare, after a pause, "I should like to know who it was that saw Parslave and myself near Relver's den on the night of the murder."

"Well—it was Cowie," said Manners. "The old man who lives in the cottage near Relver's den. He saw you—both."

Eccleshare nodded. He was looking from one to the other of us, and for a moment or two he remained silent, evidently thinking.

"Look here!" he said, suddenly. "Am I—or is Parslave—or are the two of us suspected of the murder of Mazaroff?"

No one answered. Manners moved uneasily in his chair; the man from New Scotland Yard preserved a grand stoic countenance; Maythorne showed what seemed to be indifference; Crole and myself looked on. There was a brief silence—broken by Manners.

"I should like to know what Parslave there has to say about his movements that night!" he said. "A rare lot of trouble he's given us!"

"I'm quite sure that Parslave hasn't the slightest notion that he gave you any trouble," remarked Eccleshare. "You forget, I think, that Parslave can't read—so he hasn't learned anything from the newspapers. But—Parslave, tell Sergeant Manners what you did that evening you left Marrasdale."

Parslave, thus bidden, screwed up his face to the feat of remembrance.

"Coughthwaite fair day that was!" he said. "I'd been there. Come away from there end of the afternoon. Then I went home, and according to orders—doctor's orders, there—changed clothes. 'Cause, why? I was to go to London that night. Got my supper then, and after that walked along to the Woodcock. I went in there and had a pint—the strange gentleman as was stopping there, he come into the room where there was a regular crowd on us, drovers and shepherds and such like. He stood treat all round—drinks and smokes. Generous, he was! Then he went away. I stopped a bit longer, then I went off. To meet the doctor there—by arrangement. I met him. That's all as I did that night—before leaving."

"Did you ever mention to anybody that you were going to London?" asked Maythorne.

"No, master, I never did," replied Parslave. "Hada'n't no cause to. I'm a lone man—neither kith nor kin, nobody to leave. Paid up, I did, where I lodged—and just went off."

"Where did you meet Doctor Eccleshare?" asked Manners.

"Where it had been arranged," replied Parslave, promptly. "Near Relver's den. He was to be there and give me orders and my traveling money. And there he was!"

"Just so!" Eccleshare said. "There I was—and I think I'd better tell you, as things are, precisely what happened. Possibly, I ought to have told all this before. But I had reasons—for silence."

I felt that at last there was going to be some revelations as to the murder of Mazaroff which, up to then, had never been made. And I began to feel a curiously sickening sense of apprehension, not unconnected with the events of the previous evening. Eccleshare knew something!—so, too, probably, did Parslave. But—what?

"I say I had reasons for keeping silence," continued Eccleshare, settling down to talk to us. "I had!—strong enough for me. Perhaps I've been wrong—perhaps in these cases—murder!—nobody should keep silent, under any circumstances. And yet—you'll see, as men, that I had reasons, and weighty ones. Now I'll tell you—as it seems absolutely necessary—precisely what happened to Parslave and myself on the night on which Mazaroff met his death. Let me begin at the beginning. Before I went up north, to Marrasdale, I'd decided to sell my practice—had sold it, in fact—and to leave England for South America and a quite different life—prospecting, shooting, hunting, and that sort of thing. I wanted to take with me a man who'd be useful to me—preferably a countryman; a game-keeper, used to outdoor life, was the sort of man I had in mind. At Marrasdale I came across Parslave—as you can see for yourselves, he's just the very muscular sort of chap that was wanted. He is, as he's said just now, a lone man—nothing to tie him to England. He's thoroughly up in woodcraft and that sort of thing; in short, he was the very man I was looking for. I broached the matter to him, and we very soon came to terms. There were certain things that he could do for me here in London, so I arranged that he should come up in advance of me and stay at my house until my return. We arranged further that on the night after Coughthwaite fair, which he had to attend on business, he was to meet me, and I was then to give him money and some final instructions, and he was to leave for Newcastle and London."

"Why by Newcastle?" asked Maythorne. "It's a detail, but why not by Black Gill Junction and Carlisle?—the more usual western route?"

"I'll tell you," answered Eccleshare. "Parslave has some interest in a bit of cottage property in Newcastle; as he was leaving England—he wanted to see a solicitor in Newcastle who manages that property and to give him some instructions about it. So we arranged that, after seeing me, he was to cross the moor to that little branch line that runs east of Marrasdale, catch the last train to Newcastle, stay the night there, see his solicitor in the morning, and then go on to King's Cross. All of which, he will tell you himself, he did."

"Very well—and—your meeting that night?" asked Maythorne.

"I'll tell you," answered Eccleshare. "Parslave has some interest in a bit of cottage property in Newcastle; as he was leaving England—he wanted to see a solicitor in Newcastle who manages that property and to give him some instructions about it. So we arranged that, after seeing me, he was to cross the moor to that little branch line that runs east of Marrasdale, catch the last train to Newcastle, stay the night there, see his solicitor in the morning, and then go on to King's Cross. All of which, he will tell you himself, he did."

"Very well—and—your meeting that night?" asked Maythorne.

"I'll tell you," answered Eccleshare. "Parslave has some interest in a bit of cottage property in Newcastle; as he was leaving England—he wanted to see a solicitor in Newcastle who manages that property and to give him some instructions about it. So we arranged that, after seeing me, he was to cross the moor to that little branch line that runs east of Marrasdale, catch the last train to Newcastle, stay the night there, see his solicitor in the morning, and then go on to King's Cross. All of which, he will tell you himself, he did."

"Very well—and—your meeting that night?" asked Maythorne.

"I'll tell you," answered Eccleshare. "Parslave has some interest in a bit of cottage property in Newcastle; as he was leaving England—he wanted to see a solicitor in Newcastle who manages that property and to give him some instructions about it. So we arranged that, after seeing me, he was to cross the moor to that little branch line that runs east of Marrasdale, catch the last train to Newcastle, stay the night there, see his solicitor in the morning, and then go on to King's Cross. All of which, he will tell you himself, he did."

"Very well—and—your meeting that night?" asked Maythorne.

"I'll tell you," answered Eccleshare. "Parslave has some interest in a bit of cottage property in Newcastle; as he was leaving England—he wanted to see a solicitor in Newcastle who manages that property and to give him some instructions about it. So we arranged that, after seeing me, he was to cross the moor to that little branch line that runs east of Marrasdale, catch the last train to Newcastle, stay the night there, see his solicitor in the morning, and then go on to King's Cross. All of which, he will tell you himself, he did."

"Very well—and—your meeting that night?" asked Maythorne.

"I'll tell you," answered Eccleshare. "Parslave has some interest in a bit of cottage property in Newcastle; as he was leaving England—he wanted to see a solicitor in Newcastle who manages that property and to give him some instructions about it. So we arranged that, after seeing me, he was to cross the moor to that little branch line that runs east of Marrasdale, catch the last train to Newcastle, stay the night there, see his solicitor in the morning, and then go on to King's Cross. All of which, he will tell you himself, he did."

"Very well—and—your meeting that night?" asked Maythorne.

"I'll tell you," answered Eccleshare. "Parslave has some interest in a bit of cottage property in Newcastle; as he was leaving England—he wanted to see a solicitor in Newcastle who manages that property and to give him some instructions about it. So we arranged that, after seeing me, he was to cross the moor to that little branch line that runs east of Marrasdale, catch the last train to Newcastle, stay the night there, see his solicitor in the morning, and then go on to King's Cross. All of which, he will tell you himself, he did."

"Very well—and—your meeting that night?" asked Maythorne.

"I'll tell you," answered Eccleshare. "Parslave has some interest in a bit of cottage property in Newcastle; as he was leaving England—he wanted to see a solicitor in Newcastle who manages that property and to give him some instructions about it. So we arranged that, after seeing me, he was to cross the moor to that little branch line that runs east of Marrasdale, catch the last train to Newcastle, stay the night there, see his solicitor in the morning, and then go on to King's Cross. All of which, he will tell you himself, he did."

"Very well—and—your meeting that night?" asked Maythorne.

"I'll tell you," answered Eccleshare. "Parslave has some interest in a bit of cottage property in Newcastle; as he was leaving England—he wanted to see a solicitor in Newcastle who manages that property and to give him some instructions about it. So we arranged that, after seeing me, he was to cross the moor to that little branch line that runs east of Marrasdale, catch the last train to Newcastle, stay the night there, see his solicitor in the morning, and then go on to King's Cross. All of which, he will tell you himself, he did."

"Very well—and—your meeting that night?" asked Maythorne.

"I'll tell you," answered Eccleshare. "Parslave has some interest in a bit of cottage property in Newcastle; as he was leaving England—he wanted to see a solicitor in Newcastle who manages that property and to give him some instructions about it. So we arranged that, after seeing me, he was to cross the moor to that little branch line that runs east of Marrasdale, catch the last train to Newcastle, stay the night there, see his solicitor in the morning, and then go on to King's Cross. All of which, he will tell you himself, he did."

"Very well—and—your meeting that night?" asked Maythorne.

"I'll tell you," answered Eccleshare. "Parslave has some interest in a bit of cottage property in Newcastle; as he was leaving England—he wanted to see a solicitor in Newcastle who manages that property and to give him some instructions about it. So we arranged that, after seeing me, he was to cross the moor to that little branch line that runs east of Marrasdale, catch the last train to Newcastle, stay the night there, see his solicitor in the morning, and then go on to King's Cross. All of which, he will tell you himself, he did."

French Sailor's Unique Reward for Heroic Deed

The rewards of heroism are not always what they should be, the philosophers will tell you—and they might cite very handsly the recent case of Capt. Lucien Malbert, mariner and shipmaster. Captain Malbert commands the rescue tug Iroise, stationed in the harbor of Brest. An S O S call ticked through a raging storm. Captain Malbert was sleeping in his oilskins, as was his crew; all he had to do was cast off from the dock, which he did. He rendered aid to the steamer in distress; he almost lost his own ship in the violent sea; he limped back to port 48 hours later without food or sleep, exhausted. And what happened? The port authorities fined him 500 francs ($20)—for crossing the breakwater without a permit! The case caused a scandal loud enough to reach Paris, and the fine, luckily, was remitted on the personal intervention of the minister of finance.

Most Perfect Arms

Arms of which the armless Venus de Milo might have been proud have been found at Milan, Italy. Italian painters and sculptors agree that Signorina Cobelli, noted Milan beauty, possesses the most beautiful pair in the world. The question was settled by a vote of the artists, which gave Signorina Cobelli a decisive majority. The search for the most graceful arms has been conducted throughout Italy for several months.

How Islands Got Name

If you think the Canary Islands were so named because the trees were full of yellow songsters, guess again. Large numbers of dogs roaming around caused King Juba II of the Mauritania, who discovered the islands, to take the Latin name "canaries," meaning "dogs," and bestow it on the place.—Exchange.

Literal Obedience

Hotel Clerk—You left orders not to be awakened unless something terrible happened?
Guest—Yes, what has happened?
Hotel Clerk—You may rest peacefully—nothing has happened.—Barcelona Esquella.

A Prudent Suggestion

"Many people have suffered embarrassment because of their social aspirations."
"Yes," answered Miss Cayenne. "Before you insist on getting into the swim you want to make quite sure you are a swimmer."

Putting It Literally

Vicar—What induced you to send for me, Mr. Jones?
Jones (who is deaf)—What does 'o say, Betty?
Betty—'T says, what the deuce did you send for him for?

Language Colors

A system of colored disks to be worn indicating the various languages, to enable travelers to find those who can converse with them, has been put forward by the International Language association.

Church on Water

A "floating church," made from a steamer to serve the bargemen of the River Spree in Germany, recently celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary.

No Place to Rest

If you will work hard until you reach the top, you need to work only twice as hard thereafter in order to stay there.—Lafayette Journal and Courier.

More Than a Free Country

Victim—I think your bill is rather high, doctor.
Doctor—Well, you know this is a free country.—Brooklyn Eagle.

That Cockney Accent

School Inspector—Now what sort of dyes do we get in England?
Cockney Boy—Wet 'uns!

Monday's Troubles

The main trouble with Monday morning is that it has so much agenda.—Arkansas Gazette.

The prices of cotton and linen have been doubled by the war. Lengthen their service by using Red Cross Ball Blue in the laundry. All grocers.—Adv.

Don't expect much of others. Then you can be pleasantly surprised, occasionally.

Somewhere, sometime, when nobody notices, a bug gets the crime bug in his noodle.

Every college graduate is educated to a certain degree.

He who laughs last forgets how before his time comes.

NEW MEDICINE CABINET SIZE

THE IDEAL FAMILY LAXATIVE
50¢
NON-HABIT-FORMING
Effective in Milder Doses
Insist on the Genuine
FOR CONSTIPATION.

Motor Rocks the Cradle
Mothers who spend part of their day in rocking the baby now may turn that task over to the electric cradle and go about their housework. The cradle, consisting of a bassinet mounted on an upright frame, differs little from the conventional kind except that it contains a motor connected to a rocker arm, which functions when connected to a light socket. In the base of the stand are handy drawers for the baby's clothing.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

ACHES

There's scarcely an ache or pain that Bayer Aspirin won't relieve promptly. It can't remove the cause, but it will relieve the pain! Headaches, Backaches, Neuritis and neuralgia. Yes, and rheumatism. Read proven directions for many important uses. Genuine Aspirin can't depress the heart. Look for the Bayer cross:

Very True, Sometimes
Willie—Say, pop, what is a wheel-of-fortune?
Father—Well, er—nowadays, the steering wheel of a car, my son.—New Bedford Standard.

Lincoln and Jefferson

Records show that Lincoln and Jefferson were the two Presidents who did not claim church membership.—Country Home.

People who are extraordinarily fond of nature, and never get enough of it, live in town.

Many a self-made man blames the job on his wife.

She Lost 19 Pounds of Fat in 27 Days

During October a woman in Montana wrote—"My first bottle of Kruschen Salts lasted almost 4 weeks and during that time I lost 19 pounds of fat—Kruschen is all you claim for it—I feel better than I have for years."

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast.

Be sure and do this every morning for "it's the little daily dose that takes off the fat."—Don't miss a morning. The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts is carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

If you want to lose fat with speed get an 85¢ bottle of Kruschen Salts from any live druggist anywhere in America with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Smith
of Oscura were here last Saturday evening, Mrs. Smith attending the Crystal Theatre, while V. P. attended the regular communication of Carrizozo Lodge No. 41, A. F. & A. M., after which they motored home. Mr. Smith is on the signal service for the S. P. at Oscura.

Flowers! Flowers!
for all occasions. Funeral pieces as well as designs for parties, receptions, made to order.
Mrs. C. E. Agnew, "Rose Acres" Phone 78, Alamogordo, N. M. Orders also taken at Rolland's Drug Store.

For Sale
SCHOOL BOOKS
The Pitworth Co., Inc.
Capitan, N. M.

Cow Struck by Lightning
Last Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock, just before it began to rain, Mrs. Petra Gonzales sent out two little boys to drive her milk cow home from the pasture, and as the boys were pretty near to the house it began to rain very hard, so they started running on ahead of the cow towards home and they had not gone very far from the cow when a bolt of lightning struck and killed it. Had the little fellows been trailing behind the animal, they too, would have been killed, but they were very fortunate.

Sunday School
in the Methodist Church next Sunday and every Sunday at 10. Regular church services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. The sermon subject for the morning service is "Orientation." For evening, "Settled." You are cordially invited to attend these services.

Gardenhire-Shaw
Miss Frances Gardenhire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gardenhire of Capitan and Jack Shaw of Fort Stanton were married in the Methodist parsonage Tuesday afternoon, with the Rev. Lawson officiating.

George Dowdle
our old friend who runs the movie theatres in Alamogordo, blew in for a brief visit the first of the week, and paid this office a pleasant call. He is the same old George, yas suh!

Mrs. Chas. Young was called to the home of her parents last week on account of the death of her father in Texas and is remaining for awhile to comfort her mother, who will probably return with her daughter for a short stay, after arranging the family affairs.

Estanislao Bello
the smiling ranchman from the upper country was a business visitor here Wednesday. No matter how things go, Bello always wears a smile for everybody.

Geo. Clements, Sr. and Jr.
were here from their homes near Corona Tuesday and Wednesday. They had good reports to make concerning stock, range and the bean crop, the latter mentioned industry, in particular they said was the best for many years.

Three-Linkers Here From Alamogordo
Tuesday night, Carrizozo Lodge No. 30, I. O. O. F. received a visit from District Deputy Grand Master A. J. Newsom, who came up from Alamo, accompanied by Chas. E. Thomas, S. W. Stout, Jas. E. Anderson and J. J. Holden. The principal purpose of Mr. Newsom's visit was to confirm the recent installation of the new officers of the local lodge. Good talks were made by the visitors, all of whom predicted a big revival in Odd Fellowship for the coming fall and winter. Other visitors were: H. Triplett, Ft Stanton; Cecil Moore and Shirley Phipps, Carrizozo. Light refreshments were served after the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maxwell were here this week, accompanied by their son Warden, who left for Wardensville, W. Va., to attend school. Warden spent his vacation here, during which time, his father took him to the best trout fishing places in Colorado.

LADIES' HATS—An Eastern manufacturer sent us a lot of the latest style in fall and winter hats, to sell for $2.00 and up. It
Doering's Store.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION
Department of the Interior
U. S. Land Office at Las Cruces N. M.
Sept. 8, 1930
Notice is hereby given that John E. Wilson, of Ancho, N. M., who, on Nov. 6, 1925, made additional homestead entry, No. 028918, for NW 1/4 Sec. 13, N 1/2 Sec. 14, T. 4 S., R. 13 E., N. M. P. Meridian, has filed notice of intention to make 3-year Proof, to establish claim to the land above described, before Frank J. Sager, U. S. Commissioner, at Carrizozo, N. M., on Oct. 25, 1930.
Claimant names as witnesses: Edward F. Haskins, White Oaks, N. M., Barney Wilson, Leslie L. Peters, L. Parker Hall, Ancho, N. M. S12-010 V. B. May, Register.

FOUND — Near the eastern mail box at the local railroad station, a pocket knife with keyring attached and key. Owner may have same by calling at the Outlook office, proving property and paying for this ad.

Eric Williams
George Elmgren and H. F. Decker of Fort Stanton were Carrizozo visitors during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Fagan of Fort Stanton were Carrizozo visitors Wednesday of this week. Mr. Fagan is on a short vacation.

Evangelistic Meetings
Beginning Sunday, Sept. 14
Rev. Morgan, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Gregory
—All of Los Angeles, California—
Will Conduct a Series of Evangelistic Meetings in the Amusement Hall, Ft. Stanton,
Daily at 7 p. m.
With the Exception of Moving Picture Nights—Monday, Thursday and Friday, when Services will be held in the Chapel.
You are Cordially Invited to Attend These Services.

EXTRA VALUE WITHOUT EXTRA COST

Ford
NEW FORD COUPE

THE constant effort of the Ford Motor Company is to find ways to give you greater and greater value without increase in price—frequently at lowered price. This applies not only to the manufacture of the car, but to many other important factors that concern its usefulness to millions of people.
Because the Ford is made economically, distributed economically, serviced economically—because it runs economically—it is a value far above the price you pay. Among its outstanding features are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, Rustless Steel, five steel-spoke wheels, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, large number of ball and roller bearings, the extensive use of fine steel forgings and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

Carrizozo Auto Company
(Successors to Western Motors, Inc.)
Authorized Sales & Service
Roy Stafer, Mgr. Perry Sears, Salesman — Phone — 50

ZIEGLER BROTHERS

Fall

- - A New Fashion Season

A New Season is Approaching - - and with it a new creations of Fashion.

There is something different - - something inspiring about Fall which seems to be mirrored in the new fall fashions of the season.

Come in and let us show you what we have to offer in New Fall Coats, Dresses, Millinery and Shoes.

You will be pleased with both the merchandise and the real values to be had at

ZIEGLER BROTHERS

"UNIVERSAL PROVIDERS" CARRIZOZO, N. M. ESTABLISHED in 1886

GM
GENERAL MOTORS
RADIO

Now on Display!

The New

GENERAL MOTORS

RADIO

with Tone Selector

A new name in radio... General Motors! A new contribution to the complete enjoyment of radio reception... the Tone Selector!

Handsome period models of radios and radio-phonographs embodying everything that Product of General Motors stands for... advanced design, superlative performance, outstanding value... and bringing to radio reception, actual mastery of tone with the Tone Selector.

See them... hear them... today!

F. A. English, Dealer
Carrizozo, N. M.

STANDARD OF QUALITY