CARRIZOZO, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1930

PRICE $2.00 THE YEAR

Should a Tax Dodger be Elected To the Governorship?

(By the Republican State Central Committee)

The fact that Mr. Seligman settled five years of taxes for 28 cents on the dollar is cause to question his fitness for governor. There are people who become delinquent in their taxes because they haven't the money when taxes are due. They are delinquent because of their poverty. Mr. Seligman is rich. He has been rich for many years. He knew that if delinquent for four or five years he could force a big reduction in his already low taxes. By being delinquent five years he saved for himself 72 cents on the dollar. Now he asks to be elected governor. The man who refuses to pay his taxes should at least have the excuse of poverty.

We must refer again to the bank tax law he and Governor Hinkle, now the Democratic candidate for Land Commissioner, got through the Legislature. Under that law $75,000 of the surplus in Mr. Seligman's bank is absolutely exempt from taxes. For example, a widow lives in Santa Fe. Her taxable property is a house and lot assessed at $2,000. She paid her taxes in 1928, amounting to $87.35. At the same rate Mr. Seligman's bank should have paid $3,275.62. It paid nothing, thanks to the law he and Hinkle wormed through the legislature. You don't want an expert Tax Dodger elevated to the powerful position of governor.

Election Proclamation

In accordance with Sec. 301, Chapter 41, Session Laws of 1927, we, the undersigned board of county commissioners within and for Lincoln county, and state of New Mexico, on this 20th day of Oct., 1930, do hereby proclaim and give public notices of an election to be held in the several precincts of said county on Tuesday, Nov. 4, 1930, the purpose of which is to elect persons to the various offices hereinafter named and to vote upon the constitutional amendment No. 1 proposing to amend Article XXI by adding the following section which shall be numbered Sec. The Methodist Church Services next Sunday in Carrizozo at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. At Ancho in the afternoon, Sunday School at 10 a. m. Let us put first things first. If you are not in Sunday School and church every Sunday you ought to be there and you are cordially invited. In the multitude of things which claim your time do not forget the most important of all - your own soul. There are many things we can do on Sunday and many places we can go, but we feel better on Monday and the rest of the week after we have worshipped God in His house on Sunday.

LOCAL MENTION

"BILLY, THE KID"

will be here at the Crystal Theatre Nov. 27-28-29 and everybody in the county should see the great picture. This picture was shown at Kansas City last week to crowded houses. In a letter received from Dr. R. T. Lucas Wednesday, he said, among other things, that they saw the picture in the process of life-size films and it was much enjoyed, more especially when Carrizozo was mentioned. The pictures at the Crystal are exceptionally good and the sound is excellent, and the best way to convince yourself, is to attend.

Mrs. B. C. Jarvis

daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Aguayo, who has been visiting with the home folks here for a short while, made a trip to El Paso early this week, but returned and will remain for a while longer before going home for the winter season.

J. H. Farris

our old friend from El Paso, former operator at the local station, came through here last Saturday, on his return trip from the Carlsbad Cavern I. O. O. F. Conclave, but as his leave of absence was about up, he took the next train out for home so as to report for duty. Come again, when you can stay longer, K. C.

Joe Aguayo

followed close on the heels of Albert Snow when he brought down a big black bear in Tortolita Canyon a short distance from the old Aguayo homestead. After being skinned and dressed, the bear weighed 251 pounds. Joe remembered the Outlook office with a choice portion, for which we return our thanks.

Wm. J. Langston

member of the State Executive Committee of the I. O. O. F. and a delegate to the recent big initiation and Grand Lodge convention at the Carlsbad Cavern, gave his report to the local lodge Tuesday night.

Carrizozo lodge No. 30 was honored at Grand Lodge by the selection of Mr. Langston as Grand Marshal for the coming year. Calvin Carl assisted Mr. Langston in representing the local lodge in absence of the regular delegate, John Harkey, who found it impossible to attend. J. H. Farris of El Paso, formerly of this place and still a member of Lodge No. 30, attended the Grand Lodge and also the big ceremonies at Carlsbad Cavern.

Dr. Fred R. Baker,
EyeSight Specialist

COMING AGAIN

Dr. Fred R. Baker, Texas' Leading Optical Specialist, will be at the Garrard Hotel, Monday, Oct. 27 ONLY. Dr. Baker was president of the Texas Optical Society, National vice-president and a member of the Texas Optometry Examining Board. He holds the New Mexico State Board License and is registered in Lincoln County. He has been making regular visits here for several years and says he will furnish names of 25 leading local citizens as references who are wearing his glasses. Don't fail to see him!

CRYSTAL THEATRE

T. J. Pittman, Mgr.

Friday Only, Oct 24 - "Melody Lane," with Eddy Leonard and Josephine Dunn. Benefit of the Methodist Missionary Society.

Saturday-Sunday - Hoot Gibson in "Spurs."

Monday-Tuesday - "Men Like That," with Hal Skelly and Doris Hill.

Wednesday-Thursday-Friday - "Flight," with Jack Holt and Ralph Graves. Columbia Special.

Dennis Chavez

and associate candidates on the Democratic state ticket rushed into town Wednesday, accompanied by a car equipped with an amplified phonograph which furnished much amusement for the children in competition with McDermott's Carnival, but he didn't object, as he is always glad to see the kids have some extra enjoyment, at his expense.

The machine stood in front of the courthouse until 8 o'clock before enough people came for to be entertained. It was a cold night and also a cold meeting, so much so that Warren Graham, candidate for state treasurer, got his wires crossed two different times and began to give the Democrats a - 1 instead of the Republicans. It was just too bad, but it seemed that Dennis couldn't break him off it. Dennis did some better, but at the close invited all Spanish-Americans to the front, extending a special invitation to sheriff Brady and as he came down the aisle, the audience applauded much more than at any time during the cold meeting. As the crowd dispersed, the quaint refrain of a burro was heard in the distance.

If the Democrats should happen to get into power and fulfill their pledge of free text books, we know of several old head Democrats who would profit by it by picking up where they left off, as one of them was heard to remark that his kid was taken out of school before entering the 4th grade or thereabouts (about eleven years ago) because he could not afford the price of a set of 4th grade books which was $40.00 at that time. But of course, he blames Hoover and all the Republicans.

Mrs. B. D. Garner

of Picacho and Miss Charlotte Kell, of Roswell were here Monday, Mrs. Garner attending a meeting of Board of Education.

Wants McCollum Fired

And now comes one Arthur Seligman, candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket, demanding the removal of Professor McCollum of the 4th ward school in Albuquerque, because he expressed his gratitude to certain candidates on the Republican ticket, for their friendliness and assistance to the cause of education. Friends of the movement for better education will remember this when they cast their votes on election day. But we presume that Seligman's act will receive the approval of the Lincoln County Weekly News.

The McDermott Carnival is offering rides Saturday and Sunday for 5 cents to all children holding tickets.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

President Hoover Talks of Problems and Policies in Three Speeches.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

THREE public addresses in two days gave President Hoover opportunity to say a lot of things about our problems, our institutions and our prospects. His utterances on each occasion were dignified and well considered; they were praised by his admirers and fellow Republicans, and belittled by some Democrats and others who do not agree with his national policies.

Speaking before the convention of the American Legion in Boston, the President told the Legionnaires that the ideals and purposes of their organization must be translated into cold realism of the day to day task of citizenship; and he reminded them that the Legion is consecrated by its constitution to the high purpose of upholding the laws of the country. He touched on preparedness, and said that real peace in the world requires something more than treaties, that all international good will is founded on mutual respect among the nations.

Mr. Hoover expressed warmly the nation's gratitude to the men who served in the World war and its sympathy for wounded and disabled veterans. He continued:

"In addition to hospitalization, rehabilitation, war risk insurance, adjusted compensation, and priority in civil service, the government has undertaken through disability allowances to provide for some 700,000 veterans of the World war. Our total outlays on all services to World war veterans are nearing $900,000,000 a year and to veterans of all wars nearly $900,000,000 per annum.

"The nation assumes an obligation when it sends its sons to war. The nation is proud to require this obligation within its full resources. I have been glad of the opportunity to favor the extension of these services in such a manner that they cover without question all cases of disablement whether from war or peace.

"There is, however, a deep responsibility of citizenship in the administration of this trust of mutual helpfulness which peculiarly lies upon your members, and that is that the demands upon the government should not exceed the measure that justice requires and self-help can provide. If we shall overload the burden of taxation we shall stagnate our economic progress and we shall be the slackening of his progress place penalties upon every citizen."

LATER in the day the President appeared before the American Federation of Labor convention and gave the workers of the nation a message of hope and encouragement. He said that co-operation resulting from conferences which he initiated has materially minimized the adverse effects of the business depression, that wage levels have been generally maintained, that industrial strife has been reduced to a minimum and that some of the slack in employment has been taken up by the speeding up of public works construction. He called for nation-wide teamwork to pull the country out of the slump and set it once more on the high road to prosperity.

Referring to the displacement of as many as 2,000,000 workers by labor saving devices and a breakdown of wages on account of destructive competition, Mr. Hoover said that one key to a solution of the problem lies in reduction of this competition possibly by a revision of regulatory laws. This was interpreted as a suggestion for amendment of anti-trust laws.

Likening the American "system" to a race, with the government as umpire, Mr. Hoover said that "Socialism or its violent brother, Bolshevism, would compel all the runners to end the race equally," while "anarchy would provide neither training nor umpire," and "despotism or class government picks those who run and also those who win."

But all the menace does not come from without, the President said, adding that "there are always malevolent or selfish forces at work which, unchecked, would destroy the very basis of our American life."

Mr. Hoover defended the conservative policies of his administration, and denounced governmental interference in business as "a destruction of equal opportunity and the incarnation of tyranny through bureaucracy."

THIS is the favorite season for national conventions, and some of the most important last week heard and considered some vital propositions. Delegates to the A. P. of L. meeting received the report of their executive council dealing with means for alleviation and removal of unemployment causes and with effort to carry forward attainment of political objectives of unions; with the campaign to unionize the South, and specific details of national policy toward immigration; judicial action in industrial disputes, and the approach of more intimate industrial association with enterprise and organization of other countries. President William Green dwelt especially on the campaign for the five-day week. Among the resolutions submitted was one for change in the federation's prohibition policy from modification to repeal. Another asked the federation to support unemployment insurance legislation.

Before the National Association of Manufacturers, in session in New York, President John E. Edgerton of Tennessee proclaimed the "unashamed resistance of organized industry" to governmental pensions for the aged, insurance for the unemployed and similar legislation. He declared nothing has happened to weaken the confidence of understanding minds in the soundness of the American economic system or scheme of government. James A. Emery, general counsel for the association, upheld lobbying for and against legislation as a private right and a public duty. He sounded a warning that public expenditures, unless checked, soon will consume one-fifth of the national income.

FOLLOWING the lead of their fellow Latin-Americans in other countries, Brazilians took up the revolutionary movement, seeking to overthrow the government of President Washington Luis and to prevent the inauguration of President-Elect Julio Prestes. They asserted Prestes was elected by fraud and that new elections must be held. Such rapid progress was made by the revolutionists that their complete success may be a matter of history before this is read. On the other hand, the federal government declared the revolt would be suppressed. The rebellion started almost simultaneously in several of the most important states, notably Rio Grande do Sul, Parana, Minas Geraes and Pernambuco. By the middle of the week the important city of Pernambuco had been captured by the revolutionists after two days of fighting, and large armies were converging on Sao Paulo, center of the vast coffee-growing region. Numerous smaller cities and towns were occupied without bloodshed.

Of course the rebels were not having their own way everywhere, for the federal armies and the navy were active, and two classes of reservists were called out. Measures were taken to protect Rio de Janeiro from attack. It was feared the food problem in the capital city might become serious.

GREAT BRITAIN'S hope to revive her declining trade by the institution of free trade within the empire was definitely shelved in the imperial conference. After J. H. Thomas, secretary, had given the facts and figures of England's distress and asked if something could not be done about it, the representatives of one dominion after another arose and declared in effect that they would not give up the protection of their own industries for the sake of Great Britain. All of them, however, expressed hope that Great Britain would buy more of their agricultural products, and there were covert suggestions of a British tariff on foreign food, against which the present British government is pledged. Premier Bennett of Canada, voiced what seemed to be the general opinion of the dominions when he said flatly: "In our opinion empire free trade is neither desirable nor possible."

ENGLAND'S huge dirigible, R-101, largest in the world, crashed and exploded near Beauvais, France, soon after its start for India, and 48 men perished, only seven of those aboard surviving the disaster. Among the victims were Lord Thomson, minister of air; Sir W. Heaton Brancker, director of civil aviation, and many other leading air experts and airmen. The ship was flying low through a dark, stormy night and apparently dipped so far that it struck a hill. The bag ripped and sparks from the motors set off the inflammable hydrogen gas.

Following a day of official mourning in France decreed by the government, the bodies of the dead were taken to London and placed in state in Westminster hall. A solemn national funeral service was held and the remains were then interred in a common grave at Cardington, the home port of the ill-fated dirigible.

Most of the fatalities in this disaster were due doubtless to the use of hydrogen gas in the bag. Helium gas, which is used in American dirigibles, is not inflammable; but the United States has the only unlimited supply of that gas and its export is forbidden by law. It is likely this ban will be removed by the next congress.

One of the big Lufthansa passenger planes of Germany was caught in a violent squall at Dresden and was dashed to earth. Six passengers, the pilot and the mechanic were killed.

ANNOUNCEMENT is made of the betrothal of King Boris of Bulgaria and Princess Giovanna, daughter of the king and queen of Italy. The official organ of the Vatican denies a report that the Vatican had consented to an arrangement by which the first son of this union would be reared in the Bulgarian Orthodox church and any other children would be brought up as Roman Catholics.

CHICAGO'S underworld "pulled a fast one" the other evening which caused Police Commissioner Alcock and his men much embarrassment. Four young thugs held up the automobile of Mrs. Thompson, wife of the mayor, at the door of her residence and took all the jewelry the lady was wearing, as well as the gun of her policeman-chauffeur. It may have been sheer bravado or, as the police suggest, a frame-up to have Alcock ousted so that a man more lenient to organized crime in Chicago might have his place.

The campaign to jail the Chicago master criminals or drive them from the city is progressing slowly and not so surely. Several of the worst gangsters have been arrested on vagrancy charges and held in heavy bonds; but unscrupulous lawyers and magistrates who are over-observant of technicalities may frustrate the best efforts of the crusaders.

BY a resolution adopted by the National Poultry, Butter and Egg association in annual convention in Chicago, an organized attack was started on the federal agricultural marketing act.

The resolution "calls upon and implores the leaders of representative units of this industry to lay aside all other considerations and join a movement to perfect an organization with prestige and power enough to carry on a determined fight" against the farm act and any other "radical legislation in general and that affecting our own industry in particular."

The officers of the association, whose industry is estimated by them to approximate a volume of a billion dollars annually, are instructed by the resolution to "accept it as a mandate to proceed with all possible force and dispatch."

SPIRITUAL WEAPONS IN A WORLD WAR
(World's Temperance Lesson)

LESSON TEXT—Galatians 5:13-26.
GOLDEN TEXT—And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown; but we an incorruptible.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Learning Self-Control.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Law in One Word.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Secret of Self-Control.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Making Prohibition Effective and Permanent.

The lesson topic is not a happy one. The Scripture text chosen clearly refers to the inner conflict going on in the believer. Having been born of the flesh and of the Spirit (John 3:6); there is an unceasing conflict going on between the two natures (Gal. 5:17). The insurrection springing out of the carnal nature cannot be put down by the Law of Moses. Victory can only be accomplished through the energy of the indwelling Holy Spirit.

The committee has further designated it "a temperance lesson." It has a real bearing on temperance in that it shows the only way to destroy the infernal liquor business; namely, to lead individuals to a personal knowledge and experience of Jesus Christ.

Having in Galatians 3 and 4 shown that the believer is free from the law as a means of justification, Paul makes practical application of this doctrine as follows:

I. Christian Freedom (vv. 13-15).
1. It is not an occasion to the "flesh" (v. 13).
Liberty is not license. The notion that when one is free from the law he is free from constraint, is wickedly erroneous. License of the flesh means not merely the indulgence of the flesh in actual material sins, but in the expression of a self-centered life (v. 15).

2. By love serving one another (v. 13).
Freedom from the Mosaic law means slavery to the law of love. Love thus becomes the fulfillment of the law—"Love thy neighbor as thyself" (v. 14).
Walking in the Spirit results in:
1. Loving service to others.
2. Victory over the flesh (vv. 16, 17).
By the "flesh" is meant the corrupt nature of man expressing itself in the realm of sense and self.

III. The Works of the Flesh (vv. 19-21).
By works of the flesh is meant the operation of the carnal nature. The one who chooses to live according to the impulses and desires of his natural heart will be practicing the following sins:

1. Sensuality (v. 19).
The sins enumerated here, practiced in the sphere of the body, are:
(1) Fornication. Fornication includes all sexual sins, in married and unmarried life.
(2) Uncleanness. This includes all sensual sins, open or secret, in thought or deed.
(3) Senselovousness. This means the wanton, reckless indulgence in the shameful practices of the flesh.

2. Irreligion (v. 20).
These acts take place in the realm of the spirit and are:
(1) Idolatry.
(2) Witchcraft or sorcery. This means all dealing with the occult, such as magical arts and spiritism.
(3) Sins of temper (vv. 20, 21).
These take place in the sphere of the mind and are:
(1) Hatred. (2) Variance, which means strife and contention. (3) Emulations; jealousy. (4) Wrath; bursts of passions. (5) Seditions; factions in the state. (6) Heresies; factions in the church. (7) Envyings. (8) Murders.

4. Sins of excess (v. 21).
(1) Drunkenness. This means indulgence in intoxicating liquors.
(2) Revellings, acts of dissipation under the influence of intoxicants.

IV. The Fruit of the Spirit (vv. 22-24).
This indicates action in the realm of life. The product of the Holy Spirit indwelling the believer.

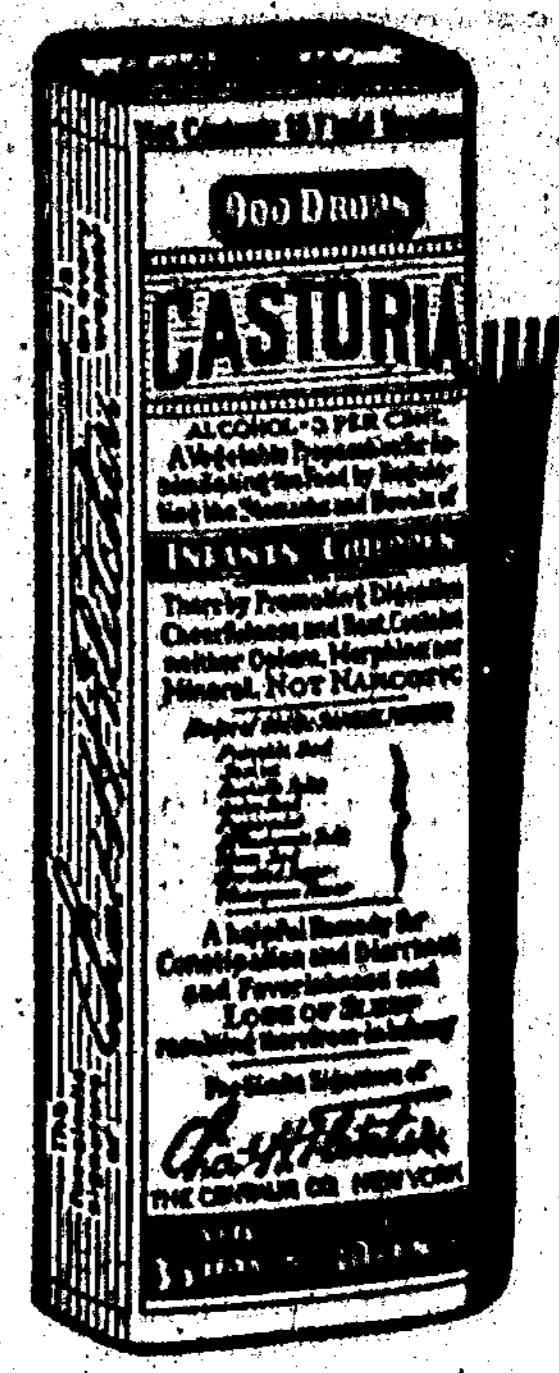

1. Love to God and man.
2. Joy; glad-heartedness because of what God has done.
3. Peace with God and fellowman.
4. Long suffering; taking insult and injury without murmuring.
5. Gentleness; kindness to others.
6. Goodness; doing good to others.
7. Faith; believing God and committing all to him.
8. Meekness; submission to God.
9. Temperance; self-control in all things.

Castoria corrects CHILDREN'S ailments

WHAT a relief and satisfaction it is for mothers to know that there is always Castoria to depend on when babies get fretful and uncomfortable! Whether it's teething, colic or other little upset, Castoria always brings quick comfort; and, with relief from pain, restful sleep.

And when older, fast-growing children get out of sorts and out of condition, you have only to give a more liberal dose of this pure vegetable preparation to right the disturbed condition quickly.

Because Castoria is made expressly for children, it has just the needed mildness of action. Yet you can always depend on it to be effective. It is almost certain to clear up any minor ailment and cannot possibly do the youngest child the slightest harm. So it's the first thing to think of when a child has a coated tongue, is fretful and out of sorts. Be sure to get the genuine; with Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the package.

Old Colonial Warfare

The Penobscot expedition was commanded by Colonel Westbrook. Its purpose was the capture of Father Raskie. Raskie says: "In order to prevent Father Raskie's flight to French territory, Westbrook, in March, 1723, led the party up the Penobscot." On March 9 they arrived at Old Town, above the present site of Bangor. Westbrook's party attacked the Indian fort. When morning came nothing remained of the settlement except ashes and embers of the ruined building."

EDITORIAL COLUMN

Seligman Dodges Taxes; Republicans Double Road Work

Dear Mr., Mrs. and Miss Voter—

By the Republican Central Committee

We are nearing the end of the campaign. Our weekly letters have been truthful at all times. We think our conclusions from the facts have been fair. We believe we represent the best interests of the people of the State.

We have written much of the betterment of roads and schools under the Dillon administration, as compared with the previous 4 years of Democratic control. It so happens that the people, wherever you find them, who have the best roads and the best schools are the most prosperous and happy.

Roads and schools measure human progress, all the way from barbarism to the highest degree of civilization the race of men has been able to make.

During the 4 years of Democratic administration from 1923 to 1926, the following road work was done with federal aid—Graded and drained, but not surfaced, 93 miles; gravel surfaced, 819 miles; concrete, 44 1/2 miles; oil surface, none. During that period about 1000 miles of lower type roads were constructed, reconstructed, or improved without federal aid, and about 160 miles of gravel surfacing were placed on state roads.

Road Work Doubles

From 1927, when Gov. Dillon assumed control to the present, there has been completed, or is now under construction to be completed this year, the following Federal Aid projects: Graded and drained, non-surfaced, 81 miles; gravel surfaced, 584 miles; oil surfaced, 101 miles; concrete, 15 miles. State construction, reconstruction and improved, 2500 miles; gravel surfaced, 500; oil surfaced, 400.

Bear in mind that under the Dillon administration there was twice as much road construction as under the 4 years of Hinkle and Hannett, and much higher grade of construction and surfacing, and especially in the quality of bridges built.

Democratic Property Tax

In property taxes the cost for 4 years was $1,500,000 greater under Hinkle and Hannett than the Dillon administration, due to the fact that the gasoline tax, under the Dillon administration has grown from $773,392.90 for the last calendar year of 1929 to $2,270,686.65 for 8 months of 1930. The gasoline tax for 1930 will be about $2,750,000.

The increase year by year in the sale of gasoline is due to the constant improvement of the public highways, bringing thousands of tourists annually into and through the State.

The schools you know about. We must have good teachers and a 9-months' term. The Democrats say they will reduce taxes. The only way they can cut expenses is to shorten school terms or reduce the pay of teachers, or both. There is no property tax for highway construction. The federal government and the owners of automobiles pay for the construction and upkeep of our roads.

As to Mr. Seligman

The Democratic candidate is resorting to his usual tactics in politics. He is trying to create dissatisfaction among Republicans in Spanish-American counties. Then he seeks to have the malcontents make a fusion with the Democrats of the county. In bringing about such deals, Mr. Seligman makes no promise of reforms, no claims that the public will be benefitted — It is just a matter of getting votes.

You may judge of how far he will go to bring about such fusions when we state that it has been charged and not denied that he is promoting and financing the candidacy of Elfege Baca for judge of the 7th judicial district.

As a rule, New Mexico has able and honorable judges. There has been a demand in all parts of the state for judges of ability and integrity. No one knows better than Mr. Seligman, the unfitness of Elfege Baca, for the judgeship, but he is spending money to make successful a fusion between Democrats and disgruntled Republicans in the counties of Valencia, Socorro and Sierra. Elfege Baca and his candidacy for the judgeship, makes the center of the fusion.

If he can get votes to help him on to the governorship, Mr. Seligman cares nothing for the mental or moral equipment of the judge of the seventh district.

Outstanding features of the new Chevrolet 6-cylinder truck

NEW DUAL WHEELS

6-CYLINDER 50-HORSEPOWER MOTOR

NEW RUGGED REAR AXLE

NEW FULLY ENCLOSED BRAKES

To every man who buys trucks, there are certain features in the new 1 1/2-ton Chevrolet that recommend it especially for modern hauling.

The rear axle is larger, heavier and more durable. The rear brakes are larger, and all four brakes are completely enclosed. Chevrolet's 50-horsepower valve-in-head six-cylinder engine combines modern performance with unexcelled economy.

Dual wheels, along with six truck-type cord tires, are optional equipment at slight extra cost. In addition, the new heavy-duty truck clutch, the 4-speed transmission and the heavier, stronger frame are factors of outstanding importance to the modern truck user.

Come in today and arrange for a demonstration of the new Chevrolet truck!

Proposed Constitutional Amendments

Proposed Constitutional Amendment to be Submitted at the General Election November 4, 1930.

Pursuant to the provisions of Senate Joint Resolution No. 3, approved Feb. 26, 1929, as enacted by the Ninth Legislature of the State of New Mexico, the following constitutional amendment as provided by an act of Congress of the United States, is to be submitted to the qualified voters of the State of New Mexico at the General Election to be held November 4, 1930.

Mrs. E. A. Perrault, Secretary of State.

Constitutional Amendment No. 1 Proposing to amend Article XXI by adding the following section which shall be numbered Section 11.

S. J. R. No. 3

Approved February 26, 1929

Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of New Mexico:

Whereas, The State of New Mexico is the owner of certain areas of land within the National Forests within said State and said lands are scattered throughout the Forests in small tracts and are not so located as to enable the State to administer them for timber purposes.

Whereas, there are large areas of land within the State now owned by the United States.

Whereas, an exchange by the State of its timbered lands for a larger area of grazing lands of equal value would secure to the state part of the remaining federal public domain for lease sale to private parties and thereby increase the taxable property in the State.

Now, Therefore, the following amendment to the Constitution of the State of New Mexico is hereby proposed to Article XXI by adding the following section which shall be numbered Section 11 thereof:

Section 11. This State and its people consent to the provisions of the Act of Congress, approved June 15, 1926, providing for such exchanges and the Governor and other State Officers mentioned in said Act are hereby authorized to execute the necessary instrument or instruments to effect the exchange of lands therein provided for with the Government of the United States; Provided, that in the determination of values of the lands now owned by the State of New Mexico, the value of the lands, the timber thereon and mineral rights pertaining thereto shall control the determination of value. The Legislature may enact laws for the carrying out of the provisions hereof in accordance herewith.

Enmienda Constitucional propuesta para ser sometida a la eleccion general el dia 4 de Nov., 1930. Persiguiendo las provisiones de la resolucion conjunta del Senado No. 8, por la Novena Legislatura de Nuevo Mexico, la siguiente enmienda constitucional, segun proveida por un acto del congreso de Estados Unidos, es sometida a los votantes calificados de Nuevo Mexico en la eleccion general el 4 de Nov., 1930.

Sra. E. A. Perrault, Secretaria del Estado.

Enmienda Constitucional No. 1 Proponiendo Enmendar el Artículo 21, de la Constitucion de Nuevo Mexico, anadiendole las Seccion I I.

S. J. R. No. 3

Aprobado Febrero 26, 1929.

Resuelto por la Legislatura de Nuevo Mexico:

Por cuanto, que el Estado de Nuevo Mexico es el dueño de ciertas areas de tierra dentro las Forestas nacionales dentro dicho estado, y que dichas tierras es-dividas por trochos pequenos y estando localizadas de tal manera que se le dificulta al estado generalizarlas para propositos de madera.

Por cuanto, que hay areas grandes de tierra dentro del estado ahora pertenecientes a los Estados Unidos.

Por cuanto, que un canje hecho por el estado de sus tierras de bosque por areas mas grandes de terrenos de pasto de valores iguales aseguraria al estado parte del restante dominio publico para arrendamiento o venta a personas particulares y asi aumentaria la propiedad sujeta a contribuciones en el estado.

Ahora por lo tanto, la siguiente enmienda a la constitucion de Nuevo Mexico por esta se presenta al Artículo XXI anadiendo la siguiente seccion que sera numerada seccion I I de la misma:

Sec. II. El estado y su pueblo consenten a los previstos de la ley del congreso, aprobado Junio 15, 1926, que provee para tales canjes y el gobernador y los otros oficiales del estado mencionados en dicha ley son por esta facultados de emitir el documento o documentos necesarios para efectuar el canje de tierras prevenidas en el mismo con el gobierno de Estados Unidos; con tal que en la determinacion de los valores de las tierras ahora pertenecientes al estado, el valor de las maderas sobre las mismas y los derechos minerales que pertenecen a las mismas debern controlar la determinacion de su valor. La legislatura podra redactar leyes para efectuar los previstos de esta resolucion de acuerdo con la misma.

Proposed Constitutional Amendment to be Submitted at the General Election November 4, 1930.

Pursuant to the provisions of Senate Joint Resolution No. 8, approved March 9, 1929, as enacted by the Ninth Legislature of the State of New Mexico, the following constitutional amendment is to be submitted to the qualified voters of the state of New Mexico, at the general election to be held November 4, 1930.

Mrs. E. A. Perrault, Secretary of State.

Constitutional Amendment No. 2 Proposing to amend section VI of Article XII of the Constitution of the state of New Mexico.

S. J. R. No. 8

Approved March 9, 1929

Be it Resolved by the Legislature of New Mexico: Section 1. That Section 6 of article XII of the Constitution of the state of New Mexico, entitled "Education" be and the same hereby is amended so as to read as follows:

Section 6. -a- A State Board of Education is hereby created, to consist of 5 members, who shall be appointed by the Governor by and with the advice and consent of the senate, and not more than 3 of the members of said Board shall at the time of their appointment belong to the same political party. The terms of office of the members of said Board shall be 6 years; but members of said Board first appointed hereunder shall be appointed and hold their offices for terms as follows: 2 for 4 years and 3 for 6 years, from and after January 1, 1931.

-b- Members of said board may be removed from office only by judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction for such causes and under such procedure as may hereafter be provided by law. Vacancies in the membership of said Board shall be filled for the unexpired term by the Governor. Members of said Board shall receive such compensation and expenses as may be provided by law and until different provision is made, shall receive the same per diem and expenses now provided by law for members of the State Board of Education.

-c- The State Board of Education shall have the control, management and direction of all public schools, under such regulations as may be provided by law; and until otherwise provided by law, said board shall have all the powers now vested by law in the state board of education and in the superintendent of public instruction. Said board shall annually elect one of its members chairman and shall prescribe its own rules of order and procedure concerning its official duties. It shall adopt a seal, with an appropriate device thereon and such seal affixed to any instrument, signed by the superintendent of public instruction, shall be prima facie evidence of the due execution thereof. Said board shall appoint a superintendent of public instruction who shall be an experienced educator and shall be selected solely on the basis of merit, administrative ability and professional preparation. The state superintendent of public instruction shall hold office at the pleasure of said board and shall receive such compensation as may be fixed by law. The state superintendent of public instruction shall be the secretary and chief executive officer of said board and shall perform such duties as said board may direct and may be invested with such of the powers and duties of said board as said board may by regulation provide.

-d- The superintendent of public instruction shall, during his term of office, reside and he and said board shall keep the public records, books, papers and seal of said board at the seat of government.

-e- The legislature may provide for district or other school officers subordinate to said board.

-f- The provisions of Article V of the constitution of the state of New Mexico, insofar as same relate to the office of state superintendent of public instruction, are hereby repealed.

-g- This amendment shall be effective January 1, after its adoption; but it shall not affect the term of office or the compensation of the superintendent of Public Instruction elected at any general election held prior to or concurrently with the election at which this amendment may be adopted, but said officer shall during the remainder of his term of office be subject to all the remaining provisions hereof.

Enmienda Constitucional propuesta para ser sometida a la eleccion general Nov. 4, 1930. Persiguiendo las provisiones de la resolucion conjunta del Senado No. 8, aprobada Marzo 9, 1929, decretada por la Novena Legislatura de Nuevo Mexico, la siguiente enmienda sera sometida a los votantes calificados de Nuevo Mexico en la eleccion general Nov. 4, 1930.—Sra. E. A. Perrault, Secretaria del Estado.

R. C. S. No. 8

Aprobada Marzo 9, 1929

Resuélvase por la Legislatura de Nuevo Mexico: Sec. 1. Que la seccion 6 del articulo XII de la constitucion de Nuevo Mexico, titulado "Educacion," sea y la misma es por esta enmendada a que diga como sigue:

Sec. 6. -a- Una junta de educacion del estado se crea por esta, que consista de 5 vocales, quienes seran nombrados por el gobernador con la anuencia y acuerdo del senado, y no mas que 3 de los vocales de dicha junta en ningun tiempo de su nombramiento pertenezca al mismo partido politico. La duracion del destino de los vocales de dicha junta sera de 6 años; pero vocales de dicha junta primeramente nombrados con arreglo a esta enmienda y retendran sus destinos por terminos como sigue: 2 por 4 años, y 3 por 6 años, desde y despues de Enero 1, 1931.

-b- Vocales de dicha junta se podran separar del destino: solamente mediante el juicio de un tribunal de jurisdiccion competente por tales causas y bajo tales procedimientos como sean en el futuro prevenido por ley. Vacantes entre los vocales de dicha junta seran suplidos por el tiempo no expirado, por el gobernador. Vocales de dicha junta, recibirán tal compensacion y gastos como sea prevenido por ley y hasta que diferentes disposiciones sean hechas, recibirán la suma per diem y gastos ahora prevenidos por ley para vocales de la junta de educacion del estado.

-c- La junta de educacion del estado tendra el control, gobierno y manejo de todas las escuelas publicas, con arreglo a tales regulaciones que sean prevenidas por ley; y hasta que sea de otro modo prevenido por ley, dicha junta tendra todos los poderes ahora investidos por ley a la junta de educacion del estado y el superintendente de Instruccion Publica. Dicha junta anualmente elijira uno de sus vocales como presidente y senalara sus propios reglamentos de orden y procedimiento en cuanto a sus deberes oficiales. Adoptara un sello, divisa correspondiente en el mismo y tal sello se fijara a cualquier instrumento, firmado por el Superintendente de Instruccion Publica, sera evidencia prima facie de la debida ejecucion del mismo. Dicha junta nombrara un superintendente de instruccion publica quien sea un educador de experiencia y sera escogido solamente sobre bases de merito, habilidad administrativa y preparacion profesional. El superintendente de instruccion publica del estado tendra su destino a placer de dicha junta y recibira tal compensacion como sea fijada por ley. El superintendente de instruccion publica del estado sera el secretario y oficial ejecutivo principal de dicha junta y desempeñara tales deberes como dicha junta ordena y se le investira con tales de los poderes o deberes de dicha junta como dicha junta prevenga mediante regulacion.

-d- El superintendente de instruccion publica durante el termino de su destino, residira y el y dicha junta tendran los registros publicos, libros, papeles y sello de dicha junta en la cabecera del gobierno.

-e- La legislatura podra proporcionar oficiales de distrito y otros oficiales subalternos a dicha junta.

-f- Las disposiciones del articulo V de la constitucion de Nuevo Mexico, encunto se refieren al destino de superintendente de instruccion publica son por esta derogadas.

-g- Esta enmienda tendra efecto en Enero 1, despues de su adopcion, pero no afectara el termino del destino o la compensacion de superintendente de instruccion publica elegido en cualquier eleccion general verificada previo a o concurrentemente con la eleccion en la cual esta enmienda sea adoptada, pero dicho oficial durante lo restante del termino de su destino estara sujeto a todas las disposiciones de la misma.

Another cut in the cost of travel by air. The Transcontinental Air Transport, on its "air-rail-water" trip "around the Americas," cuts $100 off the price of a 16-day tour.

Air transportation is settling down to a business basis. William H. Mullins, son of the late James Mullins, and, like his father, among the most highly respected men in Ohio, gives to Salem a home for nurses. This gift, in memory of his mother, sets an excellent example to others that can afford to be generous. Young Americans, wondering "if there is still a chance," might study Mr. Mullins' start in business on his own account. When very young he saw a locomotive that had been in a smashup on the Fort Wayne road that he bought for his value as "scrap," set himself and two or three mechanics to work, restored it and sold it for enough to start what became a big, successful business. There are chances for those that have energy.

BANKERS REPORT DROP IN SAVINGS

Lure of Stock Market Partly to Blame, but Slackened Speculation Expected to Bring Return to Thrift.

The first recession in the nation's savings account in banks in the twenty years during which records in this field have been kept by the American Bankers Association, was disclosed for last year in the recent annual compilation prepared by its Savings Bank Division. The shrinkage amounted to over $195,000,000, on the basis of figures for the year ending June 29, 1929, whereas a year earlier the reported increase was over $2,300,000,000, the largest ever recorded. The number of savings depositors also decreased during the year covered by more than 500,000 accounts. The lure of the stock market and affiliated activities are cited as part of the explanation for these changes.

The association's statement says that savings deposits in banks and trust companies of continental United States on June 29, 1929, stood at $28,217,656,000. The recession in savings, it declares, indicates a fundamental change in the savings situation, irrespective of whether it is temporary or not.

How Savings Used to Grow "In 1920 savings deposits increased $1,562,000,000, in 1927 almost $1,400,000,000 and in 1928 over $2,300,000,000," it says. "It appears now that some influences in one year have taken the gain that might reasonably have been expected in savings deposits for 1929 and lowered them from the high mark of the preceding year. This recession is not one coming as a result of drought, famine, unemployment or conditions outside of the United States.

"A year ago it was stated: 'The year closing June 30, 1928, registered the largest gain in savings deposits in banks and trust companies of continental United States ever recorded in the history of this country.' What a difference one year makes! From a gain of more than $14 billion of dollars in savings deposits to a loss of almost 200 millions!

"The loss in savings deposits is reflected also in the loss of savings depositors. The year 1929 showed a total of 52,664,127 depositors, against 53,188,348 for 1928, a loss of 524,221.

"Industrial production was much higher last year than the preceding year. Factory payrolls were considerably greater. In production, employment and trade, advances were made over the preceding year. In the farm areas the improvement noted for 1928 did not recede in 1929, and the livestock industry in all its branches was prosperous.

The Causes of the Drop "The causes of the recession are possibly multiple. There is scarcely any reason to doubt that one of the important factors draining away savings and decreasing depositors has been the lure of profits to be made in stocks. For a number of years the people have been regaled with stories of profits made in stocks in all types of companies. During the last few years there has been a specious philosophy preached that panics such as formerly occurred were no longer possible.

"If it was the lure of profits in stocks which caused the recession in savings, then a factor in future savings will be the success attendant upon this venture of savings depositors in stocks. If the experiment did not prove generally successful, then another year will doubtless witness an increase in savings deposits as well as in savings depositors."

HELPING YOUNG FOLK TO BECOME BANKERS

Through the American Institute of Banking, which is the American Bankers Association's educational section, the banking profession is educating 35,000 bank men and women in the technical and scientific departments of their work. These students are enabled by this institute, which is entirely non-commercial in its operations, to obtain a grasp of the finer points of banking without interrupting their employment or interfering with their earnings, in their bank jobs.

The courses given, including banking economics and law and bank administration in all the departments, have been worked out under the direction of senior college educators and the lectures are always given by practical men, such as lawyers in the legal courses, experts in banking operations and college professors in the economics courses. There are chapters with meeting rooms in over 200 cities and also a number of smaller study groups are fostered with correspondence aid.

It has been said that the A. I. B., as it is familiarly known throughout the banking field, is the greatest adult educational organization in the world and is supplying the banking business with the largest supply of trained workers each year that any comparable line of business is receiving. The organization holds an annual convention attended by hundreds of young bank workers as well as senior bank officers actively interested in furthering the institute's educational work, at which numerous technical subjects of practical banking application are presented and discussed. This year's convention will be held at Denver, Colorado, June 14 to 20.

RADICAL CHANGES TRANSFORM BANKING

National Commission Sees Changing Opinion on Branch Banking Issue—Studies Group and Chain Banks.

NEW YORK.—Modification of the attitude of bankers on the long disputed branch banking question is forecast in a review and report covering rapid changes going on in banking issued here by the Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association. The report, however, after referring to recent proposals that national banks be given branch banking powers within the business territory surrounding their location, declares that "we do not believe that so-called 'trade-area' branch banking is likely to gain the support of any large percentage of the banking fraternity."

The commission says that the "most important development that has affected American banking in recent years involves the rapid growth of multiple banking organizations in the form of group, chain and branch banking systems," and adds that "we present this report as an unprejudiced economic study and have no theories or policies to urge at this time." The statement says that the commission's information indicates there are now 269 group or chain bank systems, which control 1923 banks and $15,235,000,000 in aggregate resources, and that there are only six states and the District of Columbia where it does not find any group organizations.

The Commission's Investigation "We have been in touch with the managers of many important bank groups," the report says. "Aside from the obvious economies of centralized operation and control a number of these organization heads very frankly tell us that they do not feel that the system has been in operation and tested long enough to justify them in making positive or sweeping statements as to its advantages or disadvantages compared to unit banking.

"The Banking and Currency Committee of the House, which is conducting an investigation into the developments, has called a number of operating heads of some of the great group systems. These men declared that they found, under certain conditions, definite operating and economic advantage in both group and branch banking over independent unit banking. Some thought group banking was only a transitional stage, that branch banking was preferable and if it were permitted on an extensive enough scale they would change their groups over to branch systems. Others held that group banking was preferable.

"Some hold that the ideal plan was a combination of the two with group bank units for localities strong enough to support complete banking institutions and with branch offices extending further into the smaller places requiring banking services but not large enough to support complete banks. Several of those who advocated multiple banking declared that nevertheless they believed there would always be room for vigorous independent unit bank competitors.

Government Officials Express Views "The Comptroller of the Currency recommended that national banks be given branch banking powers within 'trade-areas.' The Governor of the Federal Reserve Board appeared to be in general agreement with the Comptroller. He said there were 24,846 banks and 3,647 branches, a total of 28,493 banking offices; that in this total, 6,353 offices were either branches or bank members of groups, or both, leaving 22,140 banking institutions that might be "definitely termed independent unit banks, having no branches and in no way connected with group affiliations. He said all the banks had total loans and investments of $53,500,000,000, of which the group and branch systems held $30,000,000,000, or more than half.

"He opposed nation-wide branch banking at present but said that ultimately, if bankers became trained and experienced in the larger technique of 'trade-area' banking he thought it would in time evolve nation-wide branch banking under control of relatively few banks, but he did not believe this would mean monopoly or lack of competition. He favored branch over group banking which, however, he said represented an economic development along 'trade-area' lines and would spread unless something else were substituted and thought 'trade-area' branch banking would serve this purpose.

"It is the intention of the Commission to develop its own studies in these questions, watch carefully every move that is made and every bit of information that may develop in this connection and keep itself prepared to give an unbiased and accurate statement of the facts of the case whenever that is desired," the report concludes.

Federal Reserve Pays Government In the fifteen years since its establishment in 1914, aggregate net earnings of the Federal Reserve System's twelve regional banks have amounted to $15,216,000, of which $90,675,000 has been paid to the member banks as dividends, representing 8 per cent annually on their contributions of capital to the reserve banks, while $177,424,000 has been added to the surplus of the reserve banks and $147,110,000 has been paid over to the Federal Government as a franchise tax.

BEANS

Every family should be well supplied with canned beans for winter use. We know they are conducive to good health and they add attractiveness, palatability, variety and bulk to the diet as well as mineral salts. The only way this supply can be furnished is by canning during the growing season.

The United States Department of Agriculture recommends that we use the pressure cooker for canning all types of beans due to the fact that beans are a non-acid food and as such are more difficult to properly sterilize. A pressure cooker assures perfect sterilization with consequent keeping qualities. Either glass jars or tin cans can be used in the pressure cooker. The following recipes will assure any homemaker of perfectly canned beans.

Beans (Lima)
Carefully sort and grade for size and age. Old ones dry or can for soup. Boil young beans in water to cover two minutes, older beans, five minutes. Pack boiling hot into containers to within one inch of top, add one level teaspoonful of salt for each quart, and cover with water in which they were cooked.

Will it come to this?

ON November 4, the voters of New Mexico will be called upon to express their approval or disapproval of the tobacco tax recently passed by the State Legislature.

Frankly speaking, this is just another "nuisance tax"—justifiable, perhaps, in a war emergency, but now merely another burden.

The State naturally needs money—all states do—but why pick on the poor smoker?

There is no more reason for a tobacco tax than there is for a local tax on patent medicines, candies, soft drinks, or canned goods.

So watch your step, voters—there's no telling where it will stop!

IN New Mexico the tobacco tax calls for a state stamp of two cents on a package of twenty cigarettes, one cent on a five-cent cigar, and various rates on all other tobacco products—and this in addition to the tax now paid to the Federal Government.

In plain language, such a tax is beyond all reason.

No other commodity, necessity or luxury is so taxed.

Why single out tobacco?

Most other taxes are based on wealth and income—this one is not. It is a daily tax on you because you smoke.

Smokers, are you going to allow yourselves to become tax victims and be penalized day after day for the privilege of smoking?

PILING IT ON THICK

Perhaps you don't know it, but you are already paying a whacking big tribute to the Government—SIX CENTS on every twenty cigarettes.

The highest rate of tax in history is piled onto the poor man's best friend, his best-loved luxury—sometimes his only luxury.

Yet the state now proposes to pile its own tobacco tax on top of the big tax you pay to Uncle Sam.

Do you want this bill to pass?

Do you want to pay a double tax on your smokes? Is it fair to load this extra burden on smokers?

WHY TWO TAXES?

No fair-minded man objects to paying his fair share of expense, whether Federal, State, or local.

But why should he pay TWICE, just because he is a SMOKER?

Isn't this too much of a tax on their proverbial good-nature? Is there any logical basis for such discrimination against smokers?

WHAT TO DO ABOUT IT

It is up to you, Mr. Smoker. If you sit back and wait for someone else to protect your rights and your pocketbook, and if every smoker does the same, this law may become permanent.

But if enough tobacco users will register their votes against this unjust and discriminatory tax measure it can and will be defeated.

Go to the polls and vote NO!

FAIRY TALE FOR THE CHILDREN WHEN BEDTIME HOUR COMES

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

You have heard of the Every-Day-Is-Nice Club. Now some of the elves had been complaining of the weather. It was neither sunny, nor was it rainy.

"What is this we hear from some of our club members?" roared old Mr. Giant.

He did not sound cross but his voice was very loud and powerful and well

"What is This We Hear?"

sulted to his great body and big head. The elves who had been complaining—Edie and Elsie, Elf particularly—hung their heads in shame.

Would they be turned out of the club? They wondered. They feared they would, and yet they did so hope they wouldn't.

"Oh, Mr. Giant," said Elsie, "I am so sorry. It was all my fault. I started breaking the rules. I complained of the weather.

"Edie only followed my bad example."

"Oh, I grumbled just as much," said Edie. "Yes, Mr. Giant, if it hadn't been for me, Elsie would have made the most of the weather and enjoyed herself."

"And I said the weather was not the right kind at all. I was much more harsh about it than she was."

"No," said Elsie, "if anyone is to be put out of the club, it should be myself."

"No," screamed Edie, "please, Mr. Giant, make it Edie and not Elsie."

Mr. Giant was smiling. He was very happy.

"You both did break the rules of the club," he said, "but there are many things worse than that."

"If you had told on each other and had been tattletales, then you would both have been put out of the club. "But each was ready and willing to take the blame."

"Yes," agreed Witty Witch, "if there is one thing I hate, it's a tattletale. "Such a person is a coward and wants to be praised, while another is blamed."

"Ugh—" And Witty Witch shivered at the very thought.

"And so?" continued Mr. Giant, "you will both be kept in the club, and neither of you will lose your badge. "You will simply have to get up a very nice and jolly party this evening to make up for complaining of the weather."

"What a lovely punishment," said Elsie and Edie together, as they hugged each other, for they felt that each had been a real and true friend to want to take all the blame.

"Yes," said Mr. Giant, "and we must remember that the reason we are having in-between, damp weather, is because the cloud children are visiting the sun's rays, and so we have half and half of each kind of weather."

But what a splendid party they all had that evening. It was just as jolly as could be.

Mr. Giant had fine ideas!

Oyster Stew Tempting Dish for Evening Meal

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Because October has an "R" in its spelling—and also happens to be a suitable season for eating oysters, we are apt to welcome this flavorful shellfish with especial eagerness after being deprived of it for several months. In the fall, too, there are often cool periods that suggest something temptingly hot for the evening meal. Nothing could be more satisfactory for the purpose than a good oyster stew. The bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture tells how to make it.

1 quart milk
1 quart oysters
1/2 lb. melted butter
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
Chopped parsley

Heat the milk in a double boiler. Strain the oysters from their liquor and pick out any small pieces of shell that may be clinging to them. Heat the oyster liquor slightly and remove the scum which rises to the top. Blend the flour and butter and stir into the milk until thickened. Add the oysters and the liquor and cook for five or ten minutes, or until the edges of the oysters begin to curl. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Serve in hot soup plates with finely chopped parsley sprinkled over the top.

To the Moon by Plane

Popular Cheese Sandwich Can Be Made Extra Tasty

Hot cheese sandwiches are not much in evidence during July and August, but they are so good that one turns to them for luncheon or supper menus as soon as the weather cools a bit. There is a trick or two about making them so that they are extra tasty. The bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture explains the special points here with slice the bread thin and remove the crust. Without buttering the bread, make it into sandwiches with thin, even slices of American cheese as the filling and a sprinkling of salt and a drop or two of tabasco for seasoning. Melt sufficient butter to cover the bottom of a smooth skillet and brown the sandwiches delicately on both sides. Take care that the butter does not become so hot that it browns the sandwiches before the bread is heated through and the cheese melted. Serve the sandwiches at once with a salad of vegetables or of sardines.

Bureau of Home Economics Suggests Way of Making Cake Frosting

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A good many women who can make an excellent, light, feathery cake have trouble with the frosting. In the old-fashioned "boiled frosting" method the sirup, cooked "until it spins a thread," is poured gradually into a beaten egg-white. Sometimes the icing is just right, sometimes it hardens too fast and cannot be put on the cake successfully, and sometimes it does not harden at all, but remains sticky or even runs off the cake. When a candy thermometer is used in making the sirup results are more uniform, but the work of combining the hot sirup and the beaten egg-white must be skillfully done.

A different and simpler method of making frosting is suggested by the bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture. A double boiler is used and the ingredients, including the unbeaten egg whites, are all put in at the same time. This frosting never actually boils, but it becomes thick and creamy very quickly and hardens nicely. The crust is crisp and glazed while underneath it the frosting is soft, light and moist. Various flavors may be used.

Phosphorus One of the Mineral Constituents of Common Foods

Some Common Sources of Phosphorus in Foods.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A well-rounded diet supplies us with energy foods, body-building material, vitamins, and minerals. Phosphorus is one of the mineral constituents of a number of our common foods, which has a marked effect on growth. In a series of charts prepared by the bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture the results of various laboratory studies made with small experimental animals are shown. For example, a rat which was given a diet adequate in every way except for the amount of phosphorus received, was found at the end of 9 weeks to weigh only 60 grams. Another rat from the same litter and fed in the same way except for the addition of a sufficient amount of phosphorus, to make the diet adequate, weighed 115 grams at the end of the same length of time. The picture, which is from these charts, shows what a wide variety of foods supply phosphorus.

Some of the common sources of phosphorus listed by the bureau are: Almonds, dry beans, fresh lima beans, buttermilk, cheese, cowpeas, eggs, fish, graham flour, rye flour, hazelnuts, lentils, lean meat, milk, oysters, peanuts, pecans, potatoes, peas, both fresh and dry, shredded wheat, walnuts, whole wheat, and wheat bran. Many of these foods are eaten in the course of a normal varied diet; it is chiefly important to make sure that some of them are always present in the menu. Other valuable constituents, too, are contributed by most of the foods mentioned.

Vanilla Frosting

1 cup sugar
1/2 cup cold water
1 egg white

1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. vanilla

Put the sugar, water and unbeaten egg-white into the upper part of a double boiler. Have the water in the lower part boiling. Commence beating the mixture with a Dover beater at once and beat constantly while it cooks for seven or eight minutes. It should then look just like ordinary boiled frosting and should be almost thick enough to spread. Take it from Cake being Made in Double-Boiler.

Teaspoonful of Tea to Cup Is Good Average

Brewing a social cup of tea is an art unknown to many housewives. While the amount of tea to use will depend on the individual's taste, O. F. Hutchinson, tea examiner stationed at New York city for the federal food and drug administration, says that about a teaspoonful to the cup is a good average. Boiling water must be used or the leaves will not open fully and impart their full strength and flavor to the beverage. But tea should never be boiled nor should the leaves stand in the water longer than five or six minutes, in his opinion.

Mr. Hutchinson puts the tea in an aluminum strainer, puts the strainer across the top of the teapot, and pours boiling water through the strainer until the pot is full, covering the body of the strainer. After it has drawn for three or four minutes he takes the strainer out and has a cup of tea that is just to his liking.

Buttered Bread Crumbs Add to Baked Tomatoes

Wash tomatoes, remove the stem ends, cut in half, place in a shallow greased baking dish, cover with buttered bread crumbs seasoned with salt and pepper. Add a little water to keep the tomatoes from sticking to the dish. Bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes, or until the tomatoes are tender and the crumbs brown.

Extra Compensation

Betty Lou's father gave her a nickel every week for learning her Sunday school lesson. One Sunday morning when he offered her the customary 5-cent piece, she refused it.

"What's the matter?" he asked in surprise.

"Well," replied Betty Lou, "there's a lot of hard words in the lesson this week so I'll have to charge you 10 cents!"

FUR-JACKET CLOTH SUIT MUCH IN AUTUMN FASHION LIMELIGHT

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

Rah, rah, rah! Here it is, college girls and women everywhere, who are interested in "the latest," just the costume you've been wanting to wear to the football games this fall or about now—the fur-jacket cloth suit. It is simply too smart for words.

The fur-jacket costume is the pet of Paris. It is the most captivating, "sitty" fashion that ever illuminated a fall season. You can get it in any sports for of your choice, and if your checkbook will not admit of real fur, shee no tears, for the fur fabric types are amazingly good looking.

Neutral, gray, light, caracol, khaki or spotted leopard, cheese, which you will, you are sure to go right in your selection and, having decided, the next step is to consider the cloth for the skirt and the lining of the jacket. Yes, indeed, the jacket must be lined with the cloth of the skirt, else you fall to accent the ensemble idea which would be a sad sin of omission.

The blouse to wear with it? Why not one of the new wool lace over which every one is raving? Or perhaps you prefer one made of the very smart eyelet-embroidered wool jersey or just plain jersey in a bright hue, if you must.

Maybe your fancy turns to long tressed for the skirt and the lining and the beret—for, of course, you are planning a matching beret. There is only one excuse for the beret not matching the tweed of the skirt of the one-piece dress (yes, some folks like a one-piece frock best with their fur jacket, and fashion is willin') and that excuse is because the beret is made of the fur of the jacket.

Truth is these fur-jacket and beret sets are smart enough to wear with any one of those pretty deep green, wine red, or radiant brown lightweight wool frocks which are finding their way into your autumn and winter wardrobe. Look stunning, too, with a velvet or velveteen skirt.

The majority of these swanky fur or fur-fabric jackets follow simplest "sportsy" lines and are belted and have huge collars.

the stove, add the vanilla, and continue to beat about five minutes or until it has thickened.

If the icing is not sufficiently cooked place it in the double boiler and re-cook for a short time; or, if it is too stiff, add a small quantity of water and cook again.

For chocolate frosting add two ounce squares of unsweetened chocolate to the other ingredients, and follow the same method given for vanilla frosting. The chocolate frosting will take longer to thicken to the right consistency.

SOME RECIPES THAT WILL BE LIKED BY THE FAMILY

By NELLIE MAXWELL

Come, my beloved, all the cup which clears Today of past regrets and future fears— Tomorrow: why tomorrow I may be myself. With yesterday's seven thousand years. —Omar Khayyam.

The bride of today with all her equipment in culinary knowledge has no fear of failures in cookery. Up-to-date cook books with clear directions for preparing even the simplest foods gives assurance to the most inexperienced.

Here is one which any bride will like to try:

Fancy Biscuit.—Take two cupsful of flour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of shortening, one egg and two-thirds of a cupful of milk, one-third cupful of sliced dates, four tablespoonfuls of peanut butter and one egg yolk. Stir the dry ingredients, work in the shortening with a fork until well blended, add milk and well beaten egg to form a soft dough. Roll out on a floured board and cut small rounds. Spread one with peanut butter, place one or two slices of dates and cover with another round. Press the edges together to seal.

(the butter and dates. Brush with egg diluted with a little milk or water and bake in a hot oven. If preferred, cut the rounds larger and put the butter and date on one-half and fold over, pinching the edges together.

Mocha Frosting.—Take one-fourth cupful of butter, one tablespoonful of cocoa, two cupfuls of confectioner's sugar and three to four tablespoonfuls of strong coffee infusion. Cream the butter, add the cocoa. Stir in the sugar and coffee gradually. Beat until smooth and spread on the cake.

Coffee Ice Cream.—Scald one and one-half cupfuls of milk with one-third of a cupful of finely ground coffee, strain through a double cheese cloth, add one cupful of sugar, the beaten yolks of four eggs, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt; cook over water until thick, adding one-fourth cupful of sugar and one cupful of cream; cool, add three more cupfuls of cream and freeze. Serve garnished with maraschino cherries.

Cottage Pudding.—Cream one-fourth of a cupful of butter, add two-thirds of a cupful of sugar gradually and one egg well beaten; mix and sift two and one-fourth cupfuls of flour with four teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one-half teaspoonful of salt; add the dry mixture alternately with one cupful of milk and bake in a shallow cake pan. Cut into squares and serve with a lemon sauce or with crumbled fruit and cream.

Just a plain cottage pudding may be used for various desserts, varying the sauce which is served with it.

Orange juice is such a pleasant drink that nobody needs to be urged to drink it. The average person thinks nothing of buying a bottle of medicine that costs a dollar or more, but now much pleasanter and cheaper orange juice is. It regulates the bowels, refreshes and pleases the palate all at the same time, which cannot be said of most medicines. One need not fear any bad results from getting the orange juice habit—the more you take the better you like it and the healthier you are. For a daily drink any time it is acceptable and a glass taken at night is one of the best of night caps.

Peach Tartlets With Raspberry Sauce.—Spread rich pastry over small inverted patty tins. Bake until a light brown in a hot oven. Place them in the tin and fill with halves of peaches, cut side down, cut very thin and kept in the original shape. Pour hot red raspberry jam or sauce over them, return to the oven to bake until the peaches are soft. They may be served fresh if so wished, topping with a bit of whipped cream.

Happy Again

"Nothing seemed to please Betty Jean," says Mrs. James W. Nolen, 113 Center St., Dallas, Texas. "She was feverish and fretful. Her appetite was poor; she seemed bilious. "A child specialist recommended California Fig Syrup and it certainly made my little girl happy, well again in a hurry. We have used it over three years for all her upsets."

Mothers by thousands praise this pure vegetable product. Children love it. Doctors recommend it for feverish, headachy, bilious, constipated babies and children; to open the bowels in colds or children's diseases.

Appetite is increased by its use; the breath is sweetened; coated tongue is cleared; digestion and assimilation are assisted; weak stomach and bowels are strengthened.

For your protection the genuine always bears the name California.

KILLS 103 RATS ON NEBRASKA FARM

A Nebraska farmer killed 103 rats in 12 hours with K-R-O (Kills Rats Only), the product made by a special process of aquil, an ingredient highly recommended by the U. S. Government. It is sure death to dogs, cats, poultry or even baby chicks. K-R-O is today America's most widely used rat and mouse exterminator. Sold by druggists on money back guarantee.

DOCTOR'S Prescription gives Bowels Real Help

Train your bowels to be regular; to move at the same time every day; to be so thorough that they get rid of all the waste. Syrup Pepsin—a doctor's prescription—will help you do this. When you take this compound of laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other valuable ingredients, you are helping the bowels to help themselves.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the sensible thing to take whenever you are headachy, bilious, huffish, sick from constipation. When you have no appetite, and a bad taste or bad breath shows you're full of poisonous matter or sour bile.

Dr. Caldwell studied bowel troubles for 47 years. His prescription always works quickly, thoroughly; can never do you any harm. It just cleans you out and sweetens the whole digestive tract. It gives those overworked bowels the help they need.

Take some Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin today, and see how fine you feel tomorrow—and for days to come. Give it to the kiddies when they're sticky or fussy; they'll like the taste! Your druggist has big bottles of it, all ready for use.

Dr. W. E. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN A Doctor's Family Laxative

THE VANCE MYSTERY SOLVED

By LILLIAN MACDONALD

(By D. J. Walsh.)

IF YOU don't know Vance you have missed seeing a very pretty corner of the country. It is forest land and one expects red men to part the sumacs and tread the noiseless pathways. The town is small and doesn't speak of itself as a city. There's one movie house—not a talkie. But the pride of Vance is its Old People's home, a truly beautiful building and (what is more rare) well managed. Few of the old folks grumble, excepting just enough to keep them cheerful. They have to fall back on their rheumatism or their fanciful pasts. They have well cooked food and plenty of it.

They even have (or had, I should say) a beauty. Mrs. Rosie Grant was exactly seventy-seven, had eighteen children, fifty grandchildren and a "great," or so, all alive and all handsome. Her husband had passed on at the trifling age of ninety, some years before. "I married an old man, but a good one," she says, lightly.

At Wayce farm lived the Wayce couple alone, for their children were all married. Then suddenly, without warning, Grandpa Wayce appeared, ex-soldier (in the Civil war), and a fine old fellow for his years. "I do hope we can take proper care of him," said Susan Wayce. "He looks strong, but you can't be too careful of old folks. We must see he doesn't go out nights and catch cold."

Grandpa liked to be petted. He took the best chair as a matter of course, and was ready to indicate exactly the parts of the chicken he preferred. He told the minister his church was too draughty for old folks. He trotted to the circulating library and found books to occupy his long days. "He's just a dear, and not a bit of trouble!" exclaimed Susan.

Henry Wayce, who was a shrewd observer of character, said nothing. It was quite all right until grandpa took to being out nights. At first poor Susan was terrified. She wanted to call the town marshal and have him sought for. But Farmer Wayce shook his head. "Don't you do that, Lite. I know the Wayces, and grandpa isn't like any other old man I ever saw. You don't know the Wayces. You know me. I'm not so much a Wayce as a Telfer. Dad said I took entirely after ma, and you ought to be glad of it." He said no more, but looked cryptic.

At the same time Mrs. Mudd, the matron at the Old People's home, was sadly disturbed in her mind. Like every one else, she loved old Rosie Grant, for that aged coquette had managed to coax all kinds of favors from her, and it is a fact that nothing wins the heart of a trained social worker so surely as to be gently imposed upon. For four nights Rosie had not appeared at prayers, and when her room was visited she was not there. "I felt like the summer air would do me good," was all the explanation given.

"You know the rules, Mrs. Grant," said the matron. Rosie dimpled, and gave a curious suggestion of tossed curls, although her silvery locks were thin and neatly plaited. "Now, Mrs. Mudd," she said, "you like us real well, and I enjoy this lovely air. Besides, you like us to keep our windows open."

Mrs. Mudd sighed. "I'm glad she's an old lady," she said to herself. "She must have been a handful when she was young." Down at the Wayce farm Susan questioned grandpa. "Don't you know you might be killed by a motor car, running around at all hours of the night?"

"So might you," was the testy reply, and Susan forbore to remark she was always safely in bed around ten o'clock, herself. Then one night grandpa failed to report. Susan telephoned the police station and was told that the marshal already had his hands full because one of the old folks had disappeared from the home. Poor Susan began to cry. She loved old grandpa, and was sure "something dreadful" had happened. "Some crazy person is murdering the poor old folks, and they've killed grandpa," she sobbed to Henry. "You don't know the Wayces," he said when he'd heard the story, and then he whistled.

"I've a theory," was all he would say, however, and he insisted that Susan undress and go to bed, doing that same thing himself. The next day dawned a shade lovelier than any summer day Susan had seen before. She felt a resentment that nature should ignore human anguish and set the stage, as it were, for a joyous comedy when poor dear grandpa—but, there! news was coming. Wasn't that motor car stopping right at the gate? She pushed a last hairpin into her hair, and smoothed her dress, and ran downstairs. Henry, she saw, was approaching the arriving car with exasperating deliberation. She nearly fell over with surprise. For out stepped grandpa in a new suit, and he handed out a woman with what was amazingly like a pre-Civil war flourish—Susan had seen it in the movies.

Susan gasped. "Well, if it isn't Rosie Grant!" she cried, "but how in the world did you two meet each other? Were you rescued together or what?"

"Rescued, indeed!" Rosie tossed her head. "I should not. Tell her, Bruce." Rosie turned to grandpa, who looked a trifle sheepish.

"This lady isn't Rosie Grant any more. She's Rosie Wayce. Now, don't get peevish, folks. You've treated me fine, and I've liked being with you real well for a visit. But a man likes his own home, after all, and my Rosie, here, finds the same. She can't get the pork and beans she's craving where she's been staying, and she likes going out evenings in summer time the way I do. We have a lot of tastes in common. So we thought we'd get married. Now, I have a nice little bungalow, but there's some work to be done, so suppose we stay with you for a few days, a honeymoon, like, and of course we're prepared to pay you. Only, no restrictions. We're old enough to know when to go in and out and what we can eat."

Henry Wayce looked at his wife. Far too dazed, she was, to speak a word. "Told you you didn't know the Wayces," he said triumphantly.

Tiny Tropical 'Possum

Sought by Scientists

A tiny opossum no bigger than a mouse, with nine little ones clinging to her fur, was found hiding in a bunch of bananas by a grocer in Waco, Texas, and turned over to the zoology department of Baylor university. Dr. G. E. Potter, head of the department, reports the find in the magazine, Science.

These tiny tropical opossums have been reported as banana-bunch immigrants a few times before, but this specimen seems to set a record for the size of the family traveling. Previously discovered specimens have had only two or three young ones. Doctor Potter states that the mother was seen several times to run her sharp snout under one of her offspring on the floor and toss it into the air, and on to her back, where it dug its little paws into her fur and wrapped its tail around hers, after the manner of the young of our larger native opossum.

Doctor Potter notes that all these mouse-like opossums thus far found on bunches of bananas have been females, usually with young ones. He suggests that an animal so encumbered tends to hide in the bunch when it is disturbed on the plantation and subsequently in shipping, instead of trying to escape as the males may possibly do.

It is quite likely that more of these interesting little animals arrive in this country than are ever reported. Grocers may mistake them for mice and kill them. It is hoped that whoever finds a tiny opossum-like animal hiding in the fruit section of a grocery store or delicatessen will take the trouble to capture it and send it as quickly as possible to the nearest college biology department or zoological park.

The Simpler Way

Emil Ludwig, the German historian, said on his departure for Germany: "One thing I don't like about America—you have too many divorcees. Why marry at all if you're going to divorce?"

"Why not emulate our modern German ways? Two modern German girls, Gretchen and Elsa, were lunching in a restaurant when a waiter brought Elsa a note. Gretchen must have recognized the handwriting, for she said:

"That's a note from Baron von Wienerwurst."

"Yes, dear," said Elsa. "I'm engaged to the baron, you know."

"Oh, are you?" said Gretchen. "I was engaged to him myself last month."

"The dear!" said Elsa. "I wonder whom he'll marry eventually?"

The Hunter

Matthew Luce, Harvard's director of morals, said at a Boston musicale the other day:

"Morals, to the ultra-modern mind, have a wrong, a degraded significance. The ultra-modern idea of morals is like Wash White's idea of hunting."

"What's your paw?" Mrs. Wash White asked her little son, when she got home from Mrs. Pinckney Dabney's kitchen in the evening and found Wash missing.

"He gwine huntin'," said Junior. "He gwine huntin', an' he say ter git de 'aters an' onions ready fo' a fine stew in de mawnin'."

"Fine stew—huntin', huh? Did he tek de shotgun wiv him?"

"None; de dark lantern."

Voracious

A voracious trout with a pair of false teeth he had picked up in the river, bit the bait of Lester Green and put up a terrific battle that dragged Green seven miles down the river, according to the correspondent of the Waterbury (Conn.) Republican's Prospect. The battle occurred in Roaring brook near Bethany, Conn. The fish bit, and after the seven-mile trek down stream, Lester braced himself against a rock and pulled the line with all his strength. Suddenly something gave way and Lester fell back in the water and the trout disappeared. Examining the line, Lester found he had hooked a perfect set of false teeth. It is thought the fish was using the false teeth to augment his own.

Can I Learn to Fly?

by William R. Nelson

Gliding and Landing

"WELL do take-offs and landings. You know how to take off and I want you to do it without my help," said my instructor. "The landings will be easier than you think."

I had heard other students say how difficult landing an airplane seemed at first, and I had misgivings about that maneuver. My instructor apparently sensed my fears and attempted to dissipate them.

"Landing is not a mechanical maneuver," he continued. "But it is a nice piece of 'feel' flying you will pick up by practice. You take off and I'll tell you what to do as we come in. Relax. Don't be so tense. I'll correct anything you do that's wrong."

My take-off was ragged, but with his help we got off and flew around the "pattern" at 1,000 feet. Just after we made the third turn he cut the motor to idling, which was my signal to push the stick forward slightly and hold it there for the glide in.

"Keep the nose down in gliding," he cautioned through the phone. "If the plane slows up noticeably the nose is not down far enough. That is dangerous. You may stall and 'spin in.' If the plane picks up speed, your angle of glide is too sharp."

He signaled for another turn. I became confused and had to be helped in it. Banking the plane with its nose aimed slightly downward in a glide was a strange experience. There was nothing I could use as a guide to tell me exactly where we were, what my angle of glide was, whether or not I was diving the ship too fast, or when to come out of it.

My instructor helped me straighten out and as we neared the ground he spoke again:

"Start bringing the stick back slowly at about twenty feet from the ground. Just level out slightly there and hold the stick still. Now work it back slowly. Not too fast. Now back some more. See that nose come up? Not too fast. Make it come up without climbing. Bring the stick back some more."

As the stick came full back we settled onto the ground in a forward sliding movement.

For forty-five minutes we kept it up. Each time I made mistakes. And each mistake he corrected.

Coming Down Smoothly

POLISHING up the take-off and landing was the next step. I had some trouble with the take-offs, but felt few corrections of the controls.

"Now see if you can put her down without my help this time," my instructor spoke through the speaking tube as we neared the last turn toward the field from 1,000 feet.

"You are gliding fine. Keep the nose down well in the gliding turn. Gun the motor (open the throttle) about every fifteen seconds when gliding." My first glide in was smooth enough to require no help. But as we neared the ground (at forty to fifty miles an hour) he had to help me again.

"Don't level out too soon. Never push the stick forward in landing. If you have pulled back too fast and the nose climbs, hold the stick still. That old nose is heavy. It will come down again. See?"

"It did come down. As it did I pulled the stick slightly back and continued the movement, stopping only when the plane would climb slightly."

By working the stick back, I was told later, I was working the tail down to landing position. I could tell when it was coming down by watching the nose of the plane. If it seemed to come up slowly and the plane did not gain altitude, I was working the stick back correctly. If the plane lifted into the air suddenly, I had pulled back too far. It was then I had to hold the stick still for a second or two until the plane settled down again. And all the while we were slipping along just above the ground.

"Notice that settling feeling," my instructor spoke just before we landed. "That indicates loss of flying speed. When you feel it you should be only two or three feet off of the ground. If you are higher you will 'pancake' in, and if too high you may 'wash out' the landing gear. Learn to feel the ship's movements as it lands."

Around and around the pattern we went. Each time something or other was wrong with my landing. Each time my instructor corrected my mistakes. And each correction brought a resolve from me to "do it right next time." But "next time" last time's mistake was replaced with another. There seemed to be so many things to remember all at once, and things happened so quickly.

Location of Graves

It is a mistaken idea that graves are placed so they are not directly east and west. In modern cemeteries graves are located so that they conform to the paths leading through the cemetery, rather than to a certain point of the compass.

Whole Volume in Her Short, Pungent Comment

An anecdote about Theodore Dreiser, the novelist, is going the rounds of New York. Mr. Dreiser has recently written the story of his love affairs; beautiful girls, it seems, have bothered him to death for 30 years, and his successes have surpassed Don Juan's. All this makes the anecdote very interesting.

A pretty girl—so the anecdote runs—sat in the lounge of a New York hotel reading Mr. Dreiser's story; while two men stood in talk near her. The two men separated, and then one of them came over to the girl. He knew her. He was a magazine editor.

"Do you know who that chap was who just left me?" he said.

"No," said she. "Who was it?"

"Theodore Dreiser."

The girl put down her magazine, hurried to the door, and gave Mr. Dreiser a long, careful look. Then she came back and sank into her chair again.

"Merciful heavens!" she said.—Detroit Free Press.

INDIGESTION GOES—QUICKLY, PLEASANTLY

When you suffer from heartburn, gas or indigestion, it's usually too much acid in your stomach. The quickest way to stop your trouble is with Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. A spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids—Instantly. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

Try Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, and you will never allow yourself to suffer from over-acidity again. It is the standard anti-acid with doctors.

Breaking It Gently

It was the scent of summer in the air that sent a certain business man hurrying to his tailor.

During the winter months, however, his figure had altered. No longer was he tall and slim.

His tailor spotted the change, but, knowing his customer, kept a discreet silence as he measured skillfully.

"About the same as last year—eh?" queried the business man, as the measuring-process came to an end.

"Oh, yes, sir," replied the tactful tailor. "Chest a bit lower, p'raps, that's all."

Honest men with backbone, when in office, have to depend all the time on multitudes of honest men who haven't any.

FEEL MEAN?

Don't be helpless when you suddenly get a headache. Reach in your pocket for immediate relief. If you haven't any Bayer Aspirin with you, get some at the first drugstore you come to. Take a tablet or two and be rid of the pain. Take promptly. Nothing is gained by waiting to see if the pain will leave of its own accord. It may grow worse! Why postpone relief? There are many times when Bayer Aspirin will "save the day." It will always ease a throbbing head. Quiet a grumbling tooth. Relieve nagging pains of neuralgia or neuritis. Check a sudden cold. Even rheumatism has lost its terrors for those who have learned to depend on these tablets. Gargle with Bayer Aspirin at the first suspicion of sore throat, and reduce the infection. SMASHING ALL SALES RECORDS!

THE new Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil is not only the fastest selling oil in Conoco history... it is establishing a new high mark in public acceptance... By a wholly new characteristic, Penetrative Lubricity, this motor oil is attracting motorists from other brands with a quickness unprecedented in the oil world... this would not be possible if this oil were not the finest and safest motor lubricant yet introduced.

It is the Germ Process, which gives Conoco the essential points of superiority that make possible these things: 76% less motor wear; reduced carbon formation; lowered operating temperatures; greater gasoline mileage; resistance to dilution; and instant lubrication at the first touch of the starter.

The Germ Process adds to a supremely fine paraffin base oil, a precious oily essence lacking in all other oils. This makes possible the metal-penetrating safety factor that we call "Penetrative Lubricity." Try this new oil today... at the sign of the Red Triangle.

Return With Prisoner

E. E. Clark, State Deputy of Nebraska and Sheriff R. M. Bruce of Sheridan County of the same state, came in Sunday morning and left on No. 12 that evening, in charge of the bank robber, who was arrested here last Tuesday by Sheriff Brady and Deputy Pete Johnson; the particulars of which appeared in this paper last week. Before leaving, the officers handed this office an unsolicited open letter which is self-explanatory and contained the following:

To the Public:

Sheriff R. M. Bruce of Sheridan County, Nebr. and State Deputy E. E. Clark of Nebraska, wish to state that they very much appreciate the recent capture of Harold Dominisse, a bad and extremely dangerous man from Nebraska and who is now wanted by that state for a bold daylight stick-up and bank robbery at the First National Bank at Hay Springs, Nebr., and also wanted in Iowa for robbery and jail breaking.

The people of Lincoln County, New Mexico, are to be commended on their judgment in the selection of such an efficient sheriff as they now have and also of his able deputy. In the capture of this dangerous criminal the sheriff and chief deputy showed excellent judgment and official ability, and if there were more sheriffs like these, all fugitives from justice would be playing in hard luck instead of running at large. We have had occasion to work with numerous officers over the country and we find Sheriff Brady to be one of the best and a man of excellent nerve, ability and judgment.

Respectfully,

R. M. Bruce, Sheriff of Sheridan County, Nebr.
E. E. Clark, State Deputy Sheriff of Nebraska.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE THIRD JUDICIAL DISTRICT

During the past 15 years, I have been actively connected with our District Court, 5 years as Court Stenographer, and the past 10 years as District Attorney, representing Dona Ana, Otero, Lincoln and Torrance Counties.

Having been nominated upon the Republican ticket for District Judge, I pledge myself, if elected -

To promptly decide all cases tried by me. Unnecessary delay in decisions often amounts to a denial of justice.

In the selection of jury commissioners, I will select good citizens, and in instructing them as to their duties, will advise them to choose men who are law-abiding citizens and who believe in the strict enforcement of our laws.

In the appointment of members of the county school boards I will select persons who are interested in the welfare of the schools and the school children; and not upon their qualifications as politicians.

If the above mentioned meets with your approval, your vote will assist in carrying out these pledges.

Respectfully,
