

ANCHO NOTES

Sunday evening, April 12, four Ancho families united in a Progressive Dinner...

The party next went to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Frame, where Mrs. Frame was assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Pete Frame...

The salad course was found at Mrs. Balknap's, where a table in T shape was vivid with orange and yellow. Huge yellow chrysanthemums held the place cards...

After a pause to enjoy the Sunday program of Seth Parker over the radio, they progressed to the Prustt home for the dessert, where Mrs. Prustt, being a marvelous cake baker...

The Carrizozo High School Orchestra and Chorus gave a little sample of their work at the Crystal Theatre Monday night. The audience, though not large, received the numbers very warmly...

As the next number was heard Eva Vigil, the Mezzo Soprano, who took second place at Tulare. She sang well and displayed her wide range and well modulated voice...

Joe Romero is putting a new roof on his business building on El Paso avenue this week.

Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Skinner have returned from Las Vegas, where they visited Mrs. Skinner's sister, Mrs. Chloe White and brother, Robert Boerna...

Judge Seth F. Crews was here Wednesday in the interest of school matters at Ocuca.

LOCAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bergland, daughter Eleanor and son William of Los Angeles were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hanley last Friday...

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Bryan and children are here from Carrizozo and will make this their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan are the parents of Mrs. E. J. Short, formerly Miss Ethel Bryan...

W. F. Peacock and Miss Novaline May were here from Nogal Wednesday, doing some shopping, after which they returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maxwell and little sons were Carrizozo visitors from their ranch above the Malpais Wednesday. They are preparing for the lambing season which is near at hand.

Chevrolet cars were sold to the following people last week at the City Garage—A. S. Roberts, Walter LaFleur, Jr. and Cooper Hightower. The first-named sale was mentioned last week as a Buick, but was later found to be a Chevrolet instead.

J. M. Penfield, daughters Ruth and Joanna were here from their home in Lincoln Wednesday, staying over and leaving for home late in the afternoon. Spring is on in earnest in the historic town of Billy the Kid; fruit trees are in bloom and the air is full of natural perfume.

Will Entertain Distinguished Visitor

Friday evening, April 24, Coalora Rebekah Lodge No. 15, will entertain Mrs. Cody, the President of the New Mexico Assembly, I. O. O. F., Mrs. Stout, Grand Guardian and Mrs. Cody's daughter at I. O. O. F. Hall. After the reception, a luncheon will be served at the social hour. All members of the order are urged to be present.

Special Services for Rainbow Girls at El Paso Last Sunday

Acting on an invitation from Mrs. D. A. Saunders of El Paso to attend the special services for Rainbow Girls at the First Presbyterian Church, Mrs. S. O. Spoles was present at the morning service, which is set apart each year for the Rainbow Girls.

Noteworthy on the sacred program, was Georgia Saunders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Saunders and chaplain of the Rainbow for Girls, who offered prayer before the large congregation. The Saunders family will be remembered by their many friends here, as they were Carrizozo residents for several years when Mr. Saunders was one of the train dispatchers at the local station. A short outline of the program follows:

Prelude (Gounod) by Mrs. Lilian Pierce; Chimes - Doxology; Invocation and Scripture Sentence; Lord's Prayer; Gloria Patri; Psalter-Sel. 37; Psalm 103; Hymn 374; The Scripture by Worthy Advisor Sidney Rice; Anthem by Webbe; Prayer by Chaplain Georgia Saunders; Response to Prayer, Rainbow Girls; Hymn 353; Offertory Prayer; Offertory Solo; Sermon The Rainbow Hope by Rev. Congdon; Benediction; Chimes Response; Postlude.

Roadmaster Brown Shot at Duran

Roadmaster Hood Brown was shot Monday night at Duran by a Mexican girl, who had been in his employ for several years. No motive was given for the shooting. He was brought to the Johnson Hospital and after an examination, Dr. Johnson ordered him sent to Hotel Dieu at El Paso. He was shot through the left lung and his condition at last reports, was not encouraging.

The County Clerk's reports for December, 1930, January, February and March, 1931, are hereby approved.

The Board of Commissioners appearing to have no further business before them, hereby adjourn as a Board of County Commissioners and convene as a Board of Equalization this 7th day of April, 1931.

The Board of Equalization hereby recesses at 5 p. m., this 7th day of April, 1931, to 9 a. m., Monday, May 4, 1931.

Henry Lutz, Chairman. S. E. Greisen, Clerk.

New School Budget

Quite an array of Tax Specialists visited Carrizozo this week for the purpose of making Lincoln County's School Budget for 1931-32. Included in the party were: R. H. Grissom, new State School Budget Auditor; F. B. Magruder, Assistant Land & Tax Agent of the S. P. Co.; Hugh Sawyer, representing the New Mexico Tax Payers' Association; T. M. DuBois and J. A. Brubaker, members of the county school budget commission. Two days were spent in determining what money the schools are to have for the next fiscal year.

The meeting was opened Tuesday morning in the Supt.'s Office and Mrs. French, Supt.-Sec'y of the County Board, presented the County Budget as made by the board at its regular meeting April 6. These figures represented the schedule of small increases in salaries for teachers whose services have been satisfactory in the past and were in line with the policy in force during the past two years. Mrs. French recommended to the commission that the general outline of County Board Budget be followed, including the small raises to competent teachers.

In outlining his position on new budgets, Mr. Grissom stated that the Tax Commission would allow no raises in salaries of teachers or bus drivers. The Budget for each district was worked over and approved the same as last year. No cuts were made in salaries and no raises allowed. Direct Charges were not materially changed. Where enrollment met the legal requirements, extra teachers were allowed. The emergency fund for next year, to take care of increases in attendance and transportation for families outside the 3 mile limit, is less than one half that allowed for the current year.

Several districts had representatives present at the meeting, including Lincoln, San Patricio, Corona, Hondo, Capitan and Juneta.

The County Teachers' Convention is being held in Hondo, commencing this morning.

This meeting promises to be one of the most successful ever held in the County. A large number of the most prominent educators of the State are on the program, including Col. D. C. Pearson, President, New Mexico Military Institute; Dr. A. O. Bowden, Pres. New Mexico State Teachers' College; Frank Carron, President, New Mexico Normal; Mrs. Georgia Lusk, State Superintendent; Dr. Jas. F. Zimmerman, President, State University; Dr. L. S. Tiresman of the State University; Grace L. Corrigan, State Rural School Supervisor; Dr. J. W. Diefendorf, State High School Supervisor; Hon. Louise H. Coe, State Senator from this District will also make a talk on the Educational Bills passed by the 1931 Legislature.

Capitan Parent-Teachers' Association

The Capitan Parent-Teachers Association will have a special program on Child Health at the Capitan School Gymnasium May 1. At 6:30 p. m., a picnic lunch will be served and everybody interested in the welfare of children, are invited. Program will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Food Hints That Will Appeal to All

By NELLIE MAXWELL

"Good housekeeping is not necessarily good home-making. Spotless floors may grace a house, not a home. Real living means comfort, happiness and growth."

Nowadays with the loveliest of linens and laces for the table, so many up-to-date hostesses save the wear and tear on these pieces for more state occasions, and for one's intimate friends the delightful colors in crepe tissue are used for cloth and napkins. It is such a saving on both the linen and the nerves, for if an accident occurs a fresh crepe cloth may be quickly placed with no damage to either the feelings of the hostess or guest.

One may buy just the note of color in napkins and tablecloths that may be carried out in the refreshments, table decorations of flowers and glass or china.

saucer and perhaps the butter plate, then glass is used for salad plates and other table accessories (may be the usual silver. In this way one's table may be furnished without buying a whole dinner set.

Garnishes should be featured as much as possible. Not only are they appealing to eye but they serve as appetizers and in many cases supply the body with mineral salts greatly needed.

Ham Sandwich de Luxe.—Chop cold cooked ham fine, add prepared mustard. Beat three eggs, add a cupful of milk and mix well, add a bit of salt. Spread the ham on bread, make sandwiches and cut into triangles. Fry in hot butter after dipping into the egg mixture. Serve this dish for luncheon with hot coffee.

The ordinary deviled ham when spread on buttered bread and covered with a thin slice of cheese, then browned in the oven, makes a most unusual combination.

To keep the family happy and well nourished, one must be constantly alert to find new combinations.

We have favorite foods, as we have favorite friends, yet it is not possible nor wise for us to always be served with the foods we like best, or associate with people always agreeable.

We may develop character in our restraint in regard to foods as we do in our companionship of friends.

As a rule our cooks prepare too complicated foods, which we are told are not good for our alimentary tract, overworking our organs of digestion.

We are advised to go at least one day a week with no food at all, but plenty of water or fruit juice. This gives the stomach a rest and food will be much more enjoyed after such a fast day.

Big vegetables and fruits in abundance and plenty of bulky foods like brown bread, cereals and fibrous vegetables. The simple diet is the best, using freely all kinds of vegetables in season and but one or two at a meal when meats are served.

The common foods served daily often become monotonous, if they are served day after day in the same way.

Lay away all unused clothing, jewelry, pictures, ornaments in boxes to give to those less fortunate. Things that we are tired of are often highly treasured by another.

Hashed Brown Potatoes a Welcome Dish

Have you ever wondered how the restaurant chef made those delicious hashed-brown potatoes, folded over like an omelet, with a crisp brown crust on the outside? Hashed-brown potatoes are easy to make and are a good way to warm over boiled potatoes. Cut or chop the cooked potatoes into pieces the size of the tip of the finger, or dice the potatoes first into pieces of this size and cook quickly, taking them from the fire before they become soft or mushy.

- 4 cups nearly cooked potatoes
1/2 cup hot water
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
2 lbs. fat
1/2 cup hot water
Parsley

Combine the potatoes and onions, salt and pepper. Melt the fat in a smooth heavy skillet, add the water, put the potatoes in a thin even layer, and cook slowly until a gold brown crust is formed.

Delicious goodies that the wood people like. And all through it the guest of honor ate and ate and ate, and ate, for he said, "I can enjoy a turkey dinner party when I'm the guest and not the food, and it is fine to be so big and strong that the silly people don't want you, ha, ha, ha, gobble, gobble, gobble."

Story for Children When the Sandman Comes

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

The fairies had a party today—a dinner party. It was a turkey dinner, but it was a different kind of a turkey dinner from any you could imagine.

Mr. Turkey Gobbler.

All the fairies are feeling quite weary now from their wonderful day but they will soon be fast asleep.

However, that is not telling you about the party.

In the first place they had a guest of honor. I don't believe you could ever, in a hundred years—or at least fifty—guess the name of the guest of honor.

Well, it was none other than Mr. Turkey Gobbler himself. He came with his chest way out, strutting proudly along, followed by some of his family.

They called a turkey dinner party one which had Mr. Turkey Gobbler for the guest of honor, so you see it wasn't the usual kind of a turkey dinner, for Mr. Turkey walked to the party instead of being carried in on a platter!

"Well," he gobbled-gobbled, as he walked to the pine-wooded grove where the fairies were going to have their dinner party, "these silly people think they have paid me an insult when they have said I was proud and vain and—tough—not good to eat!"

"Ha, ha, gobble-gobble, as if I cared about being tough. In fact I like it.

"That's why I'm the guest of honor here!"

"Yes," he continued, "haven't I a chatter, and not for the way I'm cooked on a platter."

"I almost could sing a song about that for joy."

And, then, would you believe it, that silly old turkey began to sing—or shriek—we would have called it.

"Gobble, gobble, gobble," he called, and he thought it was a perfect song.

"Good health, my dears," he went on, "is most important. Of course it is well enough to have turkey dinners."

"I am proud that they have such parties named after our family, but just the same this is a very delightful, a most enchanting, a most exciting, a most beautiful change."

"You're a fine speechmaker," laughed the Queen of the Fairies, "but dinner is ready now and we are all very hungry."

At that very moment a lovely tablecloth of new spring ferns was laid in front of all the invited guests, and such a feast as they did have of berries, nuts, and all sorts of other de-

Plenty of Becoming Millinery

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

The woman who is not really beautiful can appear so this season through the magic of her hat. The individual type, it is "so becoming." For instance, if her ladyship wants to show her curls she chooses a cloche with a very shallow crown so that it sets back on the head in the bewitching pose caught by the camera as shown at the top of this group.

Very wide brims are also "in" again. The model centered to the left is of novelty straw, its crown being crisscrossed with narrow velvet ribbon.

Sheer bodies with all-over braiding done in variegated patterning as pictured at the top to the right, present an interesting phase of dreamy millinery. Note in this model that there is a suggestion of a bandeau, which emphasizes an off-the-face flare for the brim.

Those who feel at their best in a snug hat of the toque variety may select from among a collection of chic types of which the clever little black-and-white straw model to the right in this group is one. It is a crochet type, snug as can be in the hand—the sort that must be worn to be appreciated.

It's a bit of a poke which concludes this quintette of spring chapaneux, a sand-color, baked, to be explicit, with a band and bow of brown grosgrain ribbon. Its brim is pleated at the back as are so many of the new models.

Personal "I. Q." The intelligence quotient or "I. Q." of a person is determined by multiplying the mental age by 100 and dividing by the actual age.

Some call this an era of romance so far as millinery is concerned, for we are seeing the return of the pretty little ribbons, and bows, and frills, and furberies, and graceful brims, and handsome effects, which tried to the picturesque.

And so, lady, does not buy her hat this season because it's "the style," but rather because, being her

Keeping Record of Home Expenses

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture—WNU Service.

When a family has decided to keep an itemized record of household expenses, who should keep the account? The one who does the bulk of the purchasing, usually the wife, is generally the best person to attend to this task.

A Good Place to Keep Accounts.

up in a convenient place an ordinary blank book with a pencil attached to it. Then each one who pays for goods or services can note the kind and cost of what has been bought.

Personal expenses, if covered by a lump sum or allowance, are not entered among the household items. The homemaker probably carries in her purse a small notebook for writing down petty cash spent. Some items are doubtless paid by check, either monthly or at the time of purchase.

All these miscellaneous entries must be collected and classified in one permanent record book to obtain a true picture of how the family money is being used.

A very good classified record of family expenditures has been designed by the bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture. It is made in loose-leaf form, so that unnecessary pages can be removed.

The following groups of expenditures are shown in the marginal index: Food, housing, operating, furnishings and equipment, clothing, health, development, personal, automobile and savings. Purchases are transferred at regular intervals from the miscellaneous entries in the daily notebooks to the proper heading, so that at a glance one may see what is spent for food, clothing, and so on.

Anyone could make such a record out of a blank book, or, by sending fifty cents to the government printing office at Washington, D. C., obtain the special loose-leaf printed form. Among them are a number of other pages for information about family finances, such as accounts payable and receivable, a household inventory, records of insurance policies and investments, and for the rural family, the value of products furnished by the farm for home use or sold by the homemaker.

When several different people in the household handle money and make purchases, it is a good plan to keep makes no difference whether the records of expenditures are made by the husband, the wife, or some other member of the household. It is practical to have one person enter all the items so that classification may be uniform.

A DOCTOR'S ADVICE for Stubborn Bowels

"Drink at least six glasses of water daily—preferably before meals. Eat bulkier foods, such as vegetables, fruits and coarse breads. Use a mild laxative as needed."

That is Dr. Caldwell's advice to people with stubborn bowels. He specialized on the bowels; treated thousands for constipation and its ills. The prescription he used over and over in his practice has become the world's most popular laxative! "Syrup Pepsin," as it is now called, was tested by more than 47 years of practice.

Today you can get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drugstore in America. It is always the same; made exactly according to the original prescription, from laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other valuable ingredients. Nothing in it to harm even a baby. It does not gripe, sicken or cause any discomfort. But it moves the bowels; it gets rid of all the searing waste which clogs the system; makes you billious, headachy, gassy, bloated, weak, half-sick. A doctor should know what is best for the bowels. Syrup Pepsin is a famous doctor's choice of a safe, pleasant, effective laxative for men, women, older folks, babies and children.

Virginia's Shrines

Westover, Virginia, Estate of William Byrd II.

(Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.)
(WNU Service.)

THE setting aside of three areas in Virginia as the Colonial National monument, by proclamation of President Hoover, creates what might be termed a "junior national park" that is a shrine of American history. Included in the monument is the southern half of Jamestown Island, where the first Virginia settlement was made; a portion of the town of Williamsburg; and the eastern half of Yorktown, with the surrounding battlefield area.

But there are many other shrines in this region in which so many of the leaders of the Republic lived. As one wanders up the James river, journeys up the Rappahannock, follows the Virginia shore of the Potomac, or motors along the eastern foothills of the Blue Ridge, he discovers hundreds of fine old estates that have played a part in the drama of America.

What a galaxy of gems of residential architecture greet us as we ramble around the Commonwealth!

Mount Vernon, the home of homes in American history, has been described and pictured innumerable times. Monticello, second only to Mount Vernon in its sacredness as a shrine, unrivaled in its perfection of line, angle, and curve, unsurpassed in the magnificence of its situation, has also been described by many pens. Arlington, with its memories of Robert E. Lee and its Valhalla of soldier dead round about, is a third Virginia estate well known to all readers.

But Westover—what fairer spot is there than this fine old home, with its memories of the second William Byrd and his fair daughter Evelyn? The emerald clasp of the golden necklace of the James, it has been called. As one sits on that glorious lawn, with its magnificent trees, two centuries old, history recreates itself.

Courtly cavaliers in brilliant coats, flowing ruffles, satin knee breeches, and with silver shoe buckles, jeweled swords, and golden snuff boxes, gather there and pay court to lovely ladies with powdered hair, patches, fans, and dresses of flowered brocade, who come and go as in the days when William Byrd II was known as the Black Swan and Evelyn's beauty was the toast of two continents. We see again William Byrd III, in his scarlet regimentals, riding off to his command in the French and Indian war, or in his lordly coach-and-six with liveried attendants, going with his ladies to visit their neighbors at Shirley and Brandon and other seats of the "River Barons."

The fine old mansion, chaste and beautiful in its design, mellowed to old rose in hue, lovingly restored by its present owners, stands in as rich a glory as in any period of its history in the midst of its magnificent river-bordered, yew-and-elm-studded lawn.

Shirley and Brandon. Shirley is its neighbor up the river, Brandon down the stream. Who that has visited Shirley could ever forget this fine old three-storied, dormer-windowed, square-butt mansion? For nearly two centuries it has sheltered hundreds who have played distinguished roles in the drama of American history. Here came, to wed the lovely Elizabeth Hill, John Carter, son of "King" Carter of Corotoman who owned a quarter of a million acres of Virginia's choicest land and built a dozen batonial seats for his many sons and daughters; and here also came Light Horse Harry Lee to woo and win the fair Anne Hill Carter.

Brandon, seat of the Virginia Harrisons—who can describe its simple beauty, with its two wings, its central structure connecting them, and its delightful garden, as it has been restored by its present owner?

A hat of the flowers that grace the river garden of Brandon would constitute a catalogue of all that are beautiful and capable of thriving in the kindly soil and genial climate of the James. They have been brought together in a way that combines the beauty of the formal and the charm of the unstudied. A 35-foot grass walk leads down from the old garden to the river, and as one looks from the front porch of the house down through the vista formed by the trees of the lawn that was the old garden, the prospect of the James is unsurpassed.

One wishes that he could take his readers on a ramble around Williamsburg, visiting the house of George Wythe, teacher of Thomas Jefferson, John Marshall, James Monroe, Henry Clay, and Edmund Randolph; stepping at Basset hall, where Tom Moore wrote "The Firefly," and inspecting the John Pogo home, where the plot of Mary Johnston's "Audrey" was laid. And one regrets that space limitations permit only a mention of Claremont Manor, Upper Brandon, Weyanoke, Flower de Hundred, and Amptill, colonial gems come down through the ages to us.

On the Upper Neck. But the Northern Neck calls us. Here is Sabin Hall, with a situation as beautiful and a garden as delightful as can be found in all America. "King" Carter built it for his son Landon, one of whose wives was Maria Byrd of Westover.

At Mount Airy, with its three houses grouped about a central axis and connected by curved, covered ways, always have lived the Taylores, intermarried with the Platers and the Ogles of Maryland. The race horses of Governor Ogle and those of Colonel Tayloe were the most famous of the early American turf, and Colonel Tayloe's race track brought the elite of two colonies together.

Farther up the Northern Neck we come to Stratford, ancestral home of the Lees of Virginia. From its precincts went two signers of the Declaration of Independence. Descendants of the original owner have included governors of Virginia and Maryland, generals in four wars, members of constitutional conventions, and many another whose name graces the pages of American history.

Today it stands as a pitiful relic of its one-time glory, but a Connecticut chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy has recently acquired it and is making plans for its restoration to the aspect of days when Richard Henry Lee, Francis Lightfoot Lee, Light Horse Harry Lee, and Robert E. Lee were born there.

On the north bank of the Rappahannock, at Fredericksburg, stands Chatham, the home of the Fitzhughs. There George Washington courted Martha Custis, there Robert E. Lee courted Mary Randolph Curtis, there Abraham Lincoln visited the Army of the Potomac.

And across the river is the little home where lived Mary Washington, mother of the First President. One loves to visit the shrine. Where Mary Washington lived. When George Washington reached maturity and left the Ferry farm, where he had spent most of his tender years after leaving Wakefield, his sister Betty invited their mother to come to Kenmore, nearby, which Fielding Lewis had built for his bride. Her answer was: "My wants are few. I feel perfectly competent to take care of myself." So she moved, instead, to the little cottage because "George thought it best."

History raises the curtain and gives us a glimpse of her life there. Her daughter frets at not hearing news of her brother George at the front, and is admonished that "the sister of the commanding general should be an example of faith and fortitude." Lafayette visits her. He enters her garden by the side gate and finds her raking leaves and wearing a linsey-woolsey dress and a broad-brimmed hat over a pleated underscap. She takes his hands in both of hers. "AN, Marquis," she exclaims, "you have come to see an old woman. But I can make you welcome without changing my dress."

Speaking of this visit later, Lafayette declared that he had seen "the only Roman mother living at this day."

Two damage suits against the Pickwick-Greyhound bus line as a result of the Isleta crossing accident in which twenty-two people were killed, were dismissed by Federal Judge Colin Neblett in Santa Fe. The cases have been settled and dismissed as on motion of counsel for the plaintiffs. They were the cases of Leo Luft, who sought $5,000 and interest for the death of Thelma Ruby Luft, and May C. Childers, who sued for $5,000 for the death of Richard Childers in the accident.

Ed Deringer has acquired a three-year lease on the municipal airport at Chandler, Ariz., and will conduct school of aviation.

James Kennard, New Mexico convict, who was sentenced in Albuquerque for three to three and one-half years on conviction of a holdup here in 1925, was convicted by a jury recently under the habitual criminal act and given a life term in the penitentiary. The life sentence is mandatory on conviction on a fourth offense. It was the first life conviction under the New Mexico law.

REGULAR PAINS

The modern Miss needs no "time out" for the time of month.

If you've ever taken Bayer Aspirin for a headache, you know how soon the pain subsides. It is just as effective in the relief of those pains peculiar to women!

Don't dedicate certain days of every month to suffering. It's old-fashioned. It's unnecessary. Aspirin will always enable you to carry on in comfort. Take enough to assure you complete comfort. If it is genuine aspirin it cannot possibly hurt you. Bayer Aspirin does not depress the heart. It does nothing but stop the pain, so use it freely.

Headaches come at inconvenient times. So do colds. But a little Bayer Aspirin will always save the day. Neuralgia. Neuritis. Rheumatism. Pains that once kept people home are forgotten half an hour after taking a few of these remarkable tablets. So are the little nagging aches that bring fatigue and "nerves" by day, or a sleepless night.

Genuine Bayer Aspirin tablets cost so very little after all, that it doesn't pay to experiment with imitations!

W. N. U., DENVER, NO. 15-1931.

Rooster "Firebug"

A Brunswick (Maine) farmer has a firebug on his farm in the form of a rooster. He reports that while on the way to the barn he smoked a cigarette and placed the lighted end on a well curb before entering the barn. A moment later the rooster entered the barn with the cigarette, still burning, in his beak. The farmer shouted and as the rooster turned and ran it dropped the cigarette into chaff, which burst into flames. The blaze was stamped out before it had spread far.

SWEETEN ACID STOMACH THIS PLEASANT WAY

When there's distress two hours after eating—heartburn, indigestion, gas—suspect excess acid.

The best way to correct this is with an alkali. Physicians prescribe Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

A spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in a glass of water neutralizes many times its volume in excess acid; and does it at once. To try it is to be through with crude methods forever.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. All druggists have the generous 25c and 50c bottles. Full directions in package.

N. Y. Woman Lost 14 Pounds of Fat

One 85 Cent Bottle of Kruschen Salts Did It

"I am starting on my second bottle of Kruschen Salts and am real pleased with results. I take it for reducing and so far have lost 14 pounds and I think it is doing wonders for me. I do not feel so tired evenings when I get home from work."

A generous bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks costs but 85 cents at any druggist in America—take one half teaspoon in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—put out pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—that will help Kruschen take off your fat.

Before the bottle is empty surplus fat is leaving you—indolence changes to activity—you'll feel younger—eyes will brighten—step grows spry. Millions know this—you ought to know it! Kruschen Salts is the ideal treatment for constipation, indigestion, headaches, nervousness and acidity.

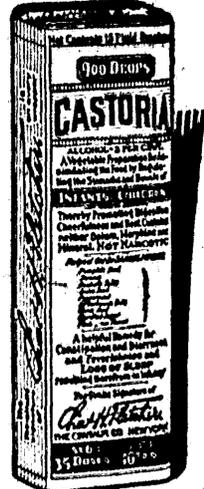

Take Kruschen every morning—It's the little daily dose that does it—It not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.—Adv.

Castoria... for CHILDREN'S ailments

ARE you prepared to render first aid and quick comfort the moment your youngster has an upset of any sort? Could you do the right thing—immediately—though the emergency came without warning—perhaps tonight? Castoria is a mother's standby at such times. There is nothing like it in emergencies, and nothing better for everyday use. For a sudden attack of colic, or for the gentle relief of constipation; to allay a feverish spell, or to soothe a fretful baby that can't sleep. This pure vegetable preparation is always ready to ease an ailing youngster. It is just as harmless as the recipe on the wrapper reads. If you see Chas. H. Fletcher's signature, it is genuine.

Castoria. It is harmless to the smallest infant; doctors will tell you so.

You can tell from the formula on the wrapper how mild it is, and how good for little systems. But continue with Castoria until a child is grown.

Like Coffee... the best Gasoline is Blended

THE sun beams cheerfully through an eastern window. The subtle fragrance of the morning coffee adds zest to the morning air, advance notice of the joy to come as you give the "cup test" to the coffee blend—your choice. Coffee roasting is important, of course, but the most skillful roaster cannot make a popular coffee from just one type of coffee bean.

CONOCO Gasoline is blended, just as carefully as the finest coffee. In CONOCO blended gasoline you'll find: Natural Gasoline, for quick starting; Straight-run Gasoline, for power and long mileage; Cracked Gasoline, for its anti-knock qualities. Motorists are fast learning that this is so. The result is a fast increasing group of gasoline connoisseurs who have added to their knowledge of the good things of life the fact that good gasoline must be blended.

The CONOCO Red Triangle marks the spots where CONOCO Balanced-Blend Gasoline may be found. Try it today.

Real Public Service

Manufacturer:

In eight years. Eight years ago, in 1923, the American railroads embarked on a comprehensive campaign to improve their properties to provide the shipping and traveling public with higher standards of transportation service.

During those eight years their expenditures amounted to more than $6,600,000,000. The result is that America, at present, has not only the best railroad service in its history, but the best in the world.

The lines have given us more comfortable, more reliable and faster trains. They have eliminated car shortages—once the bane of the shipper. They have increased the carrying capacity of freight cars. They have established an enviable safety record, both for passengers and employees. They have practically done away with any uncertainty in the matter of rail transportation.

In that time they have met severe competition. Their taxes have steadily risen, their earnings have steadily fallen. Profits, ever since the war, have been below the 5 1/2 per cent "Fair Return." These profits have now diminished almost to the vanishing point. So serious have conditions become that severe railroad retrenchment—a thing which will, in the long run, principally damage the public—is imminent. Railroad credit is impaired.

The record of the lines during the past decade is one of real public service. It is to be hoped that during the coming decade they are given the chance to earn the profits that an essential and progressive industry deserves.

Aliens Barred Out

Congress failed to provide additional protection for American workmen at its last session, but President Hoover is making up for that failure by excluding aliens who are likely to become public charges.

The law provides that aliens likely to become public charges may be excluded, even though the national quotas under which their applications are made have not been reached. The President has taken the attitude that every laborer that comes to America during the depression is liable to become a public charge and for the last five months, aliens have been rigidly examined as to their prospects for self-maintenance and by that means, over 100,000 have been kept out of the country, a reduction of 85 per cent on the whole. Mexican immigration was cut down during that period of 95 per cent.

Nowhere else, in the low-price field is there such a wide selection of fine coachcraft as in the Chevrolet line—and Chevrolet alone in its class provides the many recognized advantages of Body by Fisher. This means not only attractive styling, handsome interiors and fine, modern appointments—but also the safest, most durable body construction known—wood-and-steel scientifically combined.

And as for performance—remember that Chevrolet gives you a smooth, easy-running six-cylinder motor that develops fifty horsepower, yet operates with less expense for gas, oil, tires and upkeep than any other car you can buy!

When you get ready to buy a low-priced car, inspect the line of new Chevrolet Sixes now on display at your dealer's.

LIFE'S COMFORTS, JOYS ENHANCED BY MOHAIR FLEECE

USE MUCH MOHAIR
IN RAILROAD CARS

Raises as One Fabric to Withstand Wear and Tear of Continuous Service.

PERHAPS you have sometimes wondered why all railway seats are upholstered in the same material, the familiar mohair velvet that in our childhood days was invariably a bright red or green and always of one or two standard patterns. Today even train interiors have become color-conscious and soft greens and taupes and warm blues are seen but are still of the same mohair velvet to the extent, it has been estimated, of twelve million yards in the trains of the country.

The reason for this is that no other fabric has been found that will stand all the hard wear and tear that 24-hour service means. Made from the fleece of the angora goat, mohair velvet or velmo, is one of the most popular and serviceable of fabric materials. One hundred million yards are in use on automobiles, buses and many more on motor buses and for the interiors of airplanes.

In addition to this, velmo is also used for upholstering furniture, for draperies and even for rugs and is especially in favor with the housewife because it is chemically moth-proofed in manufacture. It is also used for theatre curtains and chair coverings, because of the sound absorption the deep pile fabric affords, which is an important consideration in talking picture theatres. Like everything else, mohair velvet has "gone modern" and can be had in an endless variety of colors and patterns and weaves. Over five hundred shades of green alone are reported by one New England mill.

But an upholstering fabric is by no means the only service the mohair fleece renders. The finest indoor carpets are made of a rich, deep pile mohair velvet. Lap robes and steamer rugs, lifelike stuffed animals, trimmings for house slippers and even wigs and transformations are made from this snowy fleece which more closely resembles human hair than any other known fibre.

Each fibre is much stronger than wool and due to its unique physical structure takes a fadeless dye. Because of its sleek surface, it does not readily retain dust and dirt and in fact, the pile surface acts as a brush and makes the traveler's clothing actually cleaner at the end of the trip than it was before!

So great has the demand been for this fleece that within a comparatively few years, the industry of angora goat raising has been transferred from Turkey and South Africa to the United States, which now leads the world both in the production and manufacture of mohair fleece.

MOTHS WILL DIE
RATHER THAN EAT
TREATED MOHAIR

AT LAST science is making headless against the moth, that harmless looking little insect that causes damage to household effects to the tune of $400,000,000 annually. In regard to at least one important fabric, mohair velvet, victory has been achieved.

All fabrics made from animal fiber, which is largely protein, are normally attractive to moths. Exceptional cleanliness, exposure to sunlight and the use of moth deterrents applied at home are sometimes helpful, but the thorough and scientific way to thwart the enemy is for the material to be permanently mothproofed with chemicals at the mill when it is being made. So successful is this process that mohair velvet, or velmo as the rich pile fabric made from the hair of the angora goat is called, once considered by housewives as the moths' heaven is now recognized as their Waterloo. It has indisputably been proved that moths will starve themselves to death rather than eat mohair velvet that has been so treated. This feature alone, aside from the long wearing qualities, easy care and luxurious appearance of velmo, recommends it as the ideal fabric for furniture upholstery.

For other furnishings, frequent airing and plenty of sunlight will tend to reduce the breeding haunts of the house moth. Killing the moth on the wing will do no good as by the time it has reached the flying stage it has already deposited its eggs and is ready for death. It is these eggs or larvae which, hatching out, seize the animal fibers which have not been chemically treated and eat them.

NOTICE

Board of County Commissioners.
RESOLUTION

Whereas, Petition for the calling of an election to vote on a Union High School to be composed of School Districts No. 2,
No. 4, No. 5, No. 20, No. 25, No.
23, and No. 35, having been duly presented and found to be in accordance with law.

Now, therefore, it is resolved that an election for said purpose shall be held in said districts on the 7th day of May, 1931.

Living Happily

We live in an ascending scale
when we live happily, one thing leading to another in an endless series. There is always a new horizon for forward-looking men, and although we dwell on a small planet, immersed in petty business and not enduring beyond a brief period of years, we are so constituted that our hopes are inexcessible . . . and the term of hoping is prolonged until the term of life.
—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Glamorous Spain

Spain, it is safe to say, is richer in romance, in luxuriant natural beauty, from the peaks of the Pyrenees to the orange groves of Andalusia, in priceless gems of architecture, in relics of widely differing civilizations, ancient, medieval and modern, in the abundance of local fetes of gay color and charm and in the pride with which the people regard their glorious history, than any other country. The lure of glamorous Spain, once it has made itself felt, will never be lost.

Leprosy Not Incurable

Lepers have been cured. In fact, there have been at least 60 cures at

President Hoover Urges Economy in National Expenditures—Earthquake Practically Destroys City of Managua—Knut Rockne Dead.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

President Hoover

PRESIDENT HOOVER returned to Washington after an eleven-day cruise to Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands, with a countenance that approximated the shade of an almost ripe tomato. West Indian sun and wind had burned his face badly, and there was a strong suspicion the skin would peel. There was no question, however, that he was rested, and greatly so, as a result of his leisurely trip.

One of his first announcements was that a tax increase could be avoided if his budget and other recommendations for expenditures were not increased by congress next winter. To that end he appealed to the nation to bring pressure on congress against "the demands of sectional or group interests."

The statement was made in the face of lagging income tax receipts indicating a treasury deficit of perhaps $800,000,000 at the close of the current fiscal year, June 30. It was regarded as part of the President's effort to mobilize public sentiment against further soldier bonus legislation, farm-rent appropriations or similar proposals in the new congress to convene in December.

Senator William E. Borah, Republican insurgent, Idaho, retorted through the press, that "the record is that congress has appropriated less than the budget bureau has recommended each session for the last few years." He declared his willingness to cut off the $200,000,000 provided for the administration's naval building program.

BLIZZARD in Rocky mountain and plains states took a toll of eleven lives, including five children, two men and a woman in Colorado. Scores were in a serious condition from frostbite and exposure.

Thousands of cattle perished in a wide area including Wyoming, Colorado, South Dakota, Nebraska and the western parts of Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. In the southern part of the storm area, peach, apricot and other stone-fruit crops were ruined.

The child victims of the storm were pupils at Pleasant Hill school, Tower, Colo. The morning of the blizzard Maude Moser, the teacher and eldest classmate because of the storm, Carl Miller arrived to take the pupils to their homes in the school bus. Miss Moser started to walk to her home. There were twenty-two children in the bus when Miller started, all between the ages of eight and thirteen.

Three miles from Pleasant Hill, the bus plowed into a snow drift ten feet deep and stalled. Outside the mass of falling snow was a curtain, obscuring the road, tracks and covering fence. Miller tried to back toward the school but could not get the wheels of the bus free from the drift.

After remaining with the children for many hours, Miller realized he must get aid or all would perish. In the driving storm he started out, thinking he could reach a farmhouse. Struggling on for more than three miles he fell exhausted in a cornfield and perished.

Five of the children were dead when a rescuing party found them, but the rest were saved.

There were other tragedies in the storm that swept the mountain states and other sections; but this tragedy was one to arouse the utmost pity. Bravely the children met their fate! They sang and bowed and played to keep warm, as they were told by the driver before he left them to seek aid, as urged by the young leader put in charge, until the merciless wind and chill benumbed them into helpless drowsiness.

KNUTE KENNETH Rockne, football coach of the University of Notre Dame, with a name that became a collegiate byword, plunged to his death with five fellow passengers and two pilots on a Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., air liner in the mid-Kansas grazing country.

Knute K. Rockne

Witnesses said the craft, flying through clouds and fog, lost a wing in the air and hurtled to the ground like a crippled bird.

Rockne had only recently recovered from an illness which a year ago had threatened to terminate his brilliant coaching career. Last year, however, he developed one of the very best of his many excellent teams, and made a schedule for 1931 which indicated that he looked forward to an equally great team this year.

American football sustains a great loss. Americans lose one who typified the best in useful, wide-awake citizenship.

President Hoover in an official statement described the death of Rockne as "a national loss."

THE development of Fascism in Italy is to be marked further on July 1 of this year by the banishment of the twelve good men and true from the penal courts of Mussoliniland. Juries are abolished with the reform of the courts of assizes, or those which try criminal cases, which Premier Mussolini will put in effect three months hence, and for them will be substituted a juridical committee, or what's called a "college" consisting of two professional judges and five nontechnical citizens who are called "assessors."

But every one cannot be an assessor. Only special categories of citizens who have high moral and intellectual, if not political attainments, will run the risk of having their names in the wheel to be drawn as assessors.

The reform of the courts of assizes and the abolition of the jury is a result of the reformed penal code in Italy, a work on which Minister of Justice Rocca and his collaborators have labored for five years. The reform was brought about by what were considered scandalous decisions often returned by juries made up of men of insufficient intellectual attainments to distinguish between the facts and the emotional bunk of the lawyers.

Discontent with these abuses had accumulated in less than a century for the jury system was only introduced in Italy in 1848.

Chancellor Brüning

DURING the formal adjournment of the German Reichstag the Brüning cabinet is armed with parliamentary certified dictatorial powers to run the country until next autumn, when the Reichstag reconvenes. The government also prepared measures to curb attacks on President Hindenburg.

The emergency decree enormously curtails the vital civil rights anchored to the German constitution. Among the action on article 48 of the constitution, enabling the President to take dictatorial measures when "security and order are threatened," the decree curtails the personal rights of citizens such as the freedom of speech, the inviolability of homes, freedom of the press, secrecy in the mails, the right to meet when unarmed, the right to form associations, or own property.

Public announcements of political gatherings must be confined to the barest facts. Newspapers infringing upon the terms of the decree may be suspended for eight weeks, and other publications may be suspended for six months.

The public speaking "muzzle decree," the old timers eloquently claim, is more severe than a "kaiser" in the days of the former kaiser.

RUSSIA bade open defiance to the international grain conference at Rome when Abraham Kisin, Soviet delegate, declared that, far from reducing her wheat production, his country would increase it this year and that instead of giving up her policy of so-called "dumping," she intended to increase her wheat exports in order to pay for her imports, which exceed $500,000,000 a year.

"Any proposal to exclude from economic intercourse a nation occupying one-sixth of the world's surface is foredoomed to failure," Kisin said. "Russia's population is increasing at the rate of 4,000,000 a year, which is proportionately twice as great as the increase of Europe's population, therefore we must increase our wheat production."

The United States Agricultural department has estimated that spring wheat plantings would be reduced 14.7 per cent. This exceeded the hope of the farm board for a 10 per cent cut.

THE Cuban Supreme court has given a decision against President Machado's suspension of newspaper publication, holding that he acted in violation of the constitutional provision for free speech when he shut down presses which had published information and criticism detrimental to the government.

Mr. Machado set forth the necessity of public security and order as reason for the prohibition of publication but without any showing that there was an emergency or that the newspaper comment was contrary to the public good.

A VAST financial organization with millions of capital to relieve the distress caused by low prices of their commodity, is declared to be in process of formation by Chicago capitalists, headed by William Wrigley, Jr.

Details of the scheme have not been revealed, but the main idea is understood to be to accumulate large quantities of baled cotton and hold it for higher prices. Cotton is now selling at prices ruinous to the planters and is a drug on the world market.

The plan is also said to embrace a system of trading credits by which the vast surplus of cotton will be exchanged for commodities, of which the cotton growers stand in dire need. These include farm equipment of all kinds, groceries and clothing.

Arrow Points to Managua

EARTHQUAKES and fire in Managua, Nicaragua, took an estimated toll of 1,000 dead and many thousands injured, many of them American. The American legation, the British legation, and Nicaraguan government buildings were all destroyed. Fire following the earthquake razed twenty blocks of the business district, causing an estimated property damage of $30,000,000.

American agencies were quick to respond to the need for help. The Red Cross rushed supplies. Marines, sent to the little republic on a political mission several years ago, were used to maintain order and relieve distress.

It is too early to know definitely the extent of the disaster. Managua's population was in the neighborhood of 40,000. The region of this city is dotted with evidences of its volcanic character, and history records at least two major volcanic disasters. Nicaragua has been less afflicted with earthquakes than its Central American neighbors.

So far as is known there is not a habitable building left in the once beautiful Central American city, the second in size in the republic. President Mendiola himself abandoned the national palace for a tent.

BASEBALL loses two of its major luminaries in the passing of Ernest S. Barnard and Byron B. Johnson, the president and the ex-president of the American league dying within sixteen hours of each other. Both devoted their lives to the American national game. Their terms of service in the presidency spanned the life of the league itself.

When Johnson quit the sports desk of a Cincinnati newspaper to seek his fortune in the business administration of baseball, James J. Hill had arrived as the empire builder of the Northwest, and John D. Rockefeller had established the dynasty of Standard Oil. As each of those in his separate sphere wore the Napoleonic mantle, so Johnson did in baseball. Under his leadership a rather rowdy sport became, on its artistic side, a profession, and, economically, entered the company of large affairs. It was Johnson's genius that wrought the miracle.

Mr. Barnard would have been fifty-seven years old on July 17. He had been re-elected president of the American league for a five year term. His activity in connection with the draft controversy and to the adoption of the schedule is believed to have hastened his death.

Arnold Bennett

IN THE death of Arnold Bennett, English literature has lost one of its masters, and an unbelievably long list of novels, dramas and essays comes to an end. Absorbed in the workaday world about him, never a propagandist or a preacher, shunning the many introspections of the day school, Bennett with mingled realism and romanticism portrayed the human comedy. With gentle irony and exacting attention to detail, he laid bare the dull materialisms and the shams of civilization; filling the most insipid with exciting interest, but never receding from his detachment to turn crusader. Sufficient of his works will survive to assure Arnold Bennett a permanent place on the world's bookshelves.

THE $1,000,000 libel suit Gus O. Nations, former prohibition agent, filed against Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former assistant attorney general, in 1929, in connection with a series of articles she wrote about prohibition enforcement was stricken from the docket in Federal court at St. Louis for failure to prosecute.

Mr. Nations said he could not proceed any farther with the suit because he had been unable to obtain service on Mrs. Willebrandt, but he asserted that suits for $20,000 damages each were pending against her in New York and Washington for alleged injury done to him by the articles.

The only observation of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt to the news that the $1,000,000 libel suit filed against her by Gus O. Nations had been stricken from the record was: "The action speaks for itself."

LESSON TEXT—Luke 16:19-31. GOLDEN TEXT—And yet I say unto you, That even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

In this lesson we are afforded a look into two worlds where we see extremes of character and conditions. In this present world we see a rich man reveling in luxury and a poor man in sore affliction, begging at the rich man's gate.

Horns of Moses Traced to Medieval Painters

It was the custom of medieval artists to depict Moses with horns. The colossal figure in the church of St. Pietro in Vincoli at Rome, regarded as Michelangelo's masterpiece, shows the Israelite leader with horns.

meaning 'rays of light darting out,' while the word for horn is qeren; and it is believed that the first translators of the Bible into Latin confused the words, thus giving currency to the horn tradition.

Ancho Woman's Club Has Birthday Party for Mrs. Frame

Ancho Woman's Club members and other friends gave Mrs. Drura Frame a delightful surprise party on the evening of her birthday, April 8. About 30 were present and many games and other amusements enjoyed.

Besides capturing one of the prizes, Mrs. Frame was the recipient of a number of birthday gifts and a beautiful birthday cake. Other prize winners were Mmes. Hightower and Pruett. At a late hour, refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served, after which the merry-making continued, the participants seeming loath to terminate a very pleasant occasion.

Mrs. Frame is one of Ancho's most popular teachers, admired and beloved by pupils and patrons, and has been active in social and community affairs, as well as up to date and progressive in her school room.

Tough for New Mexico Democracy in 1932

The Roy Record, known as one of the strongest Democratic papers in the state and one of Governor Seligman's ardent supporters in the last campaign, has the following to say, which is far from being complimentary: Viewing the thing from angle, now that the smoke of battle has cleared away, we make the prophecy that it will take greater efforts, more diligent labor and a whole lot more campaign funds to keep Harding county and others in this section of the state, too, in the Democratic ranks in the battle of ballots in 1932. Mayor Geo. T. McQuillen, M. U. Finley and T. E. Kelley attended a meeting of the above named body last Saturday at Albuquerque concerning which, the Santa Fe New Mexican has the following to say:

Despite a fiery session, the New Mexico Game Protective Association will go on record for two outstanding proposals this afternoon if sentiment expressed at the morning session here today prevails. The proposals are that Edgar L. Perry, former state game warden, be hired as a paid secretary of the state association and that the next state legislature be asked to submit to the voters a constitutional amendment to prevent the governor from changing the members of the game commission without cause.

The proposal to hire Perry brought the most debate, it being charged by some that his appointment would be "waving a red flag" in the face of Judge Oella Nebbett, the new chair-

Eighty-nine at Sunday School last Sunday. There is a class, a place and a welcome for you there. We are somewhat crowded for class room, but don't let that keep you away; we'll make room for you somehow. Mrs. Beck favored us with a very much appreciated solo, and Miss Sweet will treat us to some more violin music next Sunday night. And by way of comment on Miss Sweet's talent, let me say that when some people draw the bow across the strings they play a fiddle, just ordinary music—but when Miss Louise plays the violin it is violin music and of the best. She is our own home girl and is with honor in her own country.

And let me call your attention also to the fact that there seems to be an increased interest in things spiritual and worthwhile in Carrizozo. Let us keep up that interest. The best is none too good for us and the more of it we have, the better we are.

Remember Sunday School next Sunday morning and church service in the evening. Church service at Capitan in the morning. We have a good Sunday School there also under the capable leadership of Mr. Pitkin of the Capitan High School.

Fort Stanton to Have Crack Baseball Team

The team is in the process of formation and from the looks of things, expects to have one of the best teams that ever represented the Fort. It is the intention of the team to book games with high class semi-pro teams for week-end games. Most of the players that were with us last year are with us again this year and spring practice is under way. The ball ground is being put into good condition. A good semi-pro pitcher and a good utility infielder would be welcome additions to the team. Any players of this kind who are interested should communicate with Eric Williams, secretary of the club. Also the team would like to hear from other teams who wish to book games.

High School Chorus and Orchestra Concert

On Friday, April 24, in the high school auditorium, the high school orchestra and chorus will give their last concert of the year. The program will consist of two groups of well varied numbers by both the chorus and orchestra. Along with the larger organizations will appear four soloists: Truman Spencer, Saxophone; Wayne Van Schoyck, Flute; Ansel Swearingen, Trumpet; Eva Vigil, Mezzo Soprano.

The first three were prevented from entering in the district meet because of the shortage of time for preparation for that event. They are now ready to appear before the public.

Persons who attended the last concert in January, can expect to find that the two organizations have made at least a 25 percent improvement over their last appearance. The proceeds of this concert will go toward paying for the sweaters and music purchased this year. Buy your tickets from members of either the chorus or orchestra and help them end the year with a clean slate. Tickets can be purchased from Reid Dudley at Rolland's Drug Store at any time.

ALL CARDS for the Waterless Cooker Vouchers must be turned in by May 1st at Ziegler Bros.

Decorative Coates Plant
Earthenware bowls artistically painted with octal have a wonderful sense of character about them. They need very little attention, and being natives of the desert, comparatively little water. So if a housewife forgets to water them for a week, no irreparable damage will be done. But they must have plenty of light and they should be given light and sun upon the window sill.

Early American Glass
The first industrial enterprise in the United States was a glass bottle factory erected in the Virginia colony soon after 1607. It was located in the woods about a mile distant from Jamestown. Window glass was manufactured in what is believed to be the first glass factory in New Jersey. It was built about 1788, a mile west of Allowaytown, Salem county, by Casper Wistar.

Largest Bottle Plant
One of the European companies, here known, called Wacker in Germany, is the largest bottle plant in the world, a product of 2,000,000 bottles a day.

The Fathers
In this day prosperity a man who can get more than his own weight in cotton is the most successful.
