Cent-a-Mile Trips to Mexican. Points announced by S. P.

Plans for the extension of its "cent-a-mile" excursions to include travel into Mexican territory as far south as Mexico City were announced today by the Southern Pacific Company.

The new feature has been added to the company's so-called Dollar Day program from May 27 to 30, inclusive, it was made known by the railroad's representative here, on advice from E. W. Clapp, general passenger traffic manager.

Roundtrips into the southern republic will be operated over the S. P.'s west coast of Mexico lines, via Nogales, and the Mexican National Railways, via El Paso, according to the agreement.

The 10 mile tickets to Mexico are to be offered along with the general Dollar Day reductions in California, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico, it was declared, but the Mexican travel will have a return limit of June 10, whereas June 6 has been fixed as the limit for the excursions in 6 western states.

Mrs. Nellie Branum is in receipt of word from her cousin, Mrs. W. E. Baker at Santa Anna, Calif., to the effect that Mrs. Branum's aunt, Mrs. Lucy Levens, passed away on March 29.

Mrs. Levens was one of the old settlers of Nogal and a sister to the late Thos. W. Henley, father of Mrs. Branum better known among his many friends in Lincoln County as "Uncle Tom." Many years ago, people came from far and wide to get some of the wonderful sweet corn, which Mr. Henley raised every year on his place in Nogal. Mrs. Levens will be kindly remembered by the many old friends of the family at Nogal, Carrizozo and elsewhere over the county.

Carrying On

Woman's Club of Carrizozo

The last meeting of the club year was held at the home of Mrs. Roy Shafer. Assistant hostesses were Mesdames Nickels, LaVallee, Rentfrow, Grumbles, O. J. Snow, and Nellie Branum.

The meeting was opened by singing "It's My Flag, Too." The Afghan committee reported all chances not being sold the Afghan could not be raffled off. The date to be set when all the chances were sold and the place of raffling to be named later.

The question of dumping rubbish along the High-Ways was brought up. A visitor from out of the State was taken for a ride across the Mal Pais to see one of the Scenic Wonders advertised for tourists in New Mexico. The visitor stated the fact that one of the things "took his eye" was the rubbish dumped along the High-Way. If this is allowed to go on what will it be in a few years time? Beautiful yucca, cactus and cedars are dug up and carried away to die. Why not leave them there as nature intended them to be for the tourist to see how these plants grow in the rock? As citizens of Carrizozo would it not be better to keep the Mal Pais Road as one of the main attractions for tourists in New Mexico and in this way bring people through Carrizozo? Why not have an official dumping ground and not be dumping our trash along the public highways.

At the close of the business meeting Mrs. Lemon took charge of the installation program.

Piano solo, Mrs. Hendren.
The Woman's Club of Carrizozo was organized in the spring of 1920 and federated in the fall of the same year, with Mrs. R. E. Blaney as the first president. We have had eight presidents since.

Mrs. Mendenhall sang the songs for the installation, playing her own accompaniments. As Mrs. Clouse retired from office the song "I Love You" was sung. When Mrs. Clouse presented the new president, Mrs. Zoe Glassmire, Mrs. Mendenhall sang "Always." As the song "The Girls of My Dreams" was sung the first vice-president, Miss Brickley, and the second vice-president, Mrs. Young came forward for installation. After the vice-presidents were installed the secretary, Mrs. John Hall, and the treasurer, Mrs. Clara Snyder came forward for installation as Mrs. Mendenhall sang "Your the One We Care For."

The club joined hands and sang "Auld Lang Syne."

FORD V-8 IS HERE

Johnno Wells came in Wednesday evening from Denver, accompanied by one of the new Model V-8 Fords, which the Carrizozo Auto Company has been demonstrating to the inquiring public since Johnno's arrival.

Yesterday morning, Mr. Shafer took the Outlook man out for a ride and it proved to be much like taking a "siesta" on a cool sleeping porch. In the first place the newspaper friend was about to ask Roy to start his engine, thinking he had killed it on making the stop, when he was politely informed that it had been running all the time, so noiselessly and smoothly did it run.

He took us first on the highway, where he made from 60 to 65 miles an hour in second and from that to 85 and then 90 in high. When asked how it would act in case of an impending accident at that rate of speed, he could come to a complete stop within a few feet like a person gently alighting from a train. He then sought the roughest roads he could find, where no work had been done and the V-8 bounded over the bumps and ditches with as much ease as reclining in a rubber-tired rocking chair. Out on the highway the going at such a terrific rate of speed as 90 miles an hour we were of the opinion that we were passing through a cemetery, but Roy said, "these are only mile posts we are passing." To add to this, in answer to another question, he said that it was next to impossible to have a turn-over from the fact that the V-8 being so evenly balanced and so low geared, made such an accident out of the question. See it at the Carrizozo Auto Co.

What North Dakota's New Capitol Will Look Like

HERE is the architect's drawing of the new state capitol of North Dakota that is to be erected in Bismarck. It will cost less than $2,000,000 and will be the third state capitol building to be domeless. The others are in Nebraska and Louisiana. North Dakota's fine structure was designed by Holabird and Root of Chicago associated with Joseph Bell De Remer and W. F. Burke, architects of that state. The lofty tower will be visible at a great distance from Bismarck.

OUR BEDTIME STORY

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

WHILE Buster Bear and King Eagle were quarrelling over the big fat fish which King Eagle had made Plunger Fish Hawk drop, Plunger and Mrs. Plunger had down back to the Big River to try for another. Plunger is not one to waste any time crying over spilled milk, which means, you know, fretting about things which have happened and cannot be helped. He had lost the finest, fattest fish he had caught for many a day, but crying about it wouldn't bring it back. The only thing to do was to try to catch another. So Plunger and Mrs. Plunger knew nothing about the quarrel between King Eagle and Buster Bear, nor how neither got the fish after all, but Granny Fox, who ran had no breakfast, and Buster Bear is not one of those people who believe in going without breakfast. He might have had a breakfast had he been willing to eat what he could get, but you remember he had set his heart, or rather his stomach, on fish and had turned up his nose at the thought of anything else. So his stomach was empty and he was cross. Did you ever notice how crossness almost always goes with an empty stomach?

Presently as he shuffled along mumbling and grumbling he came to some plants the roots of which are very good eating. That is, they are very good to Buster. He dug up a lot, for the ground was soft, and his great paws with their big claws make very good digging forks. As he dug he ate, and when at last he stopped digging it was because his stomach was as full of those roots as it wanted to be. He had had enough. There was still room for some dessert, but of the roots he had had all he wanted.

Dear me, dear me, what an important thing a stomach is! It was Buster Bear's stomach that got him into the quarrel with King Eagle. It was his stomach that put him in such a rumbling, grumbling temper. And now it was this same stomach that restored his usual good nature. He no longer grumbled and rumbled. He even laughed as he sat there all alone in the Green Forest and thought of how first Plunger the Fish Hawk, then King Eagle, and lastly he himself had been sure of that big, fat fish which Plunger had caught in the Big River, and how after all it had been Granny Fox who had eaten it.

"Three of us quarrelled for that fish and some one else, who wouldn't have known anything about it but for that quarrel, got it. It certainly is a funny old world," muttered Buster, "I guess that quarrelling doesn't pay. Not the ones who do, anyway. Ha! What is that?"

Buster cocked his head on one side and listened. His little eyes began to twinkle. "That sounds to me very much like the hum of Busy Bee," said he. He looked eagerly in all directions. Just back of him he discovered some flowers, and there sure enough was Busy Bee. "Ha!" said Buster Bear again.

"Hum-mm!" said Busy Bee and was gone.

"Honey!" exclaimed Buster Bear. "That's what I need. Fish would have been good, but honey will be better."

"The hum of little Busy Bee is sweetest of all sounds to me; it thrills my heart and stomach, too, as nothing else can ever do."

"I wonder where Busy Bee is storing that honey. It is just what I want to top off with."

Buster smacked his lips and then smacked them again, and little by little his mouth began to water. For Buster Bear has a very sweet tooth, such a sweet tooth that he will risk a great deal for the sake of filling his stomach with sweets.

CHANGE

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

BEFORE we know the spring is here we find the summer all about. And then the first faint frosts appear and summer's skies are blotted out before we note the falling leaves. The leaves are covered by the snow. Yes, all the things the earth receives as swiftly come, as swiftly go.

So suddenly the seasons pass. Not even winter lingers long; The hills again are green with grass, The skies again are filled with song. And so it is with joy and grief, For grief and joy are always strange; The bursting bud, the falling leaf, So quickly do the seasons change.

We find some comfort even in this. We know how fragile joy can be; And, wise with sorrow, when we kiss Perhaps we kiss more tenderly, Love better and live better, too. And grieve, perhaps, with greater hope

Artificial Wool Made From Jute

WOOL at 25 cents a pound, instead of the current price of 35 cents, is promoted by this Columbia university savant, Prof. Ralph McKee, head of the department of chemical engineering, who is here exhibiting some of the artificial wool that has been created in his laboratory, using jute as basic material. At the left is the artificial wool in the raw and manufactured state, while at the right is real wool in both the raw and manufactured state.

SALAD DRESSINGS

ONE may vary a salad in countless ways by the dressings used. Adding a tablespoonful or two of apple butter to a bottled salad dressing will take it out of the ordinary class.

Standard Mayonnaise.

Mix in a small bowl one-half teaspoonful of sugar, the same amount of salt and a dash of cayenne. Add an egg yolk and half a teaspoonful of vinegar. Now add three-fourths of a cupful of olive oil, drop by drop, until the mayonnaise begins to thicken, then add it a little faster, beating well; add two tablespoonfuls of vinegar and lemon juice or all lemon.

Potato Mayonnaise.

Bake a small potato, take off the skin, mash and add one teaspoonful each of salt and sugar, the same of mustard, one tablespoonful of vinegar; rub this mixture through a fine sieve. Now add three-fourths cupful of olive oil and another tablespoonful of vinegar.

Economy Dressing.

Take two tablespoonfuls each of cornstarch and flour, one teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful of mustard, three tablespoonfuls of vinegar, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, three-fourths cupful of vegetable oil, one cupful of hot water, one egg. Put the egg, unbeaten, with oil, salt, vinegar, mustard and sugar well mixed. Cook the cornstarch and flour together with the cupful of water, mix with a little cold water. Cook until thick then add at once to the bowl with the other ingredients and beat until smooth. Put into a pint jar and keep in a cool place. It will keep for two weeks or more.

Honey Dressing.

Put two tablespoonfuls of honey into a bowl, add one tablespoonful of lemon juice and three tablespoonfuls of olive oil. Season with salt to taste. Serve on lettuce and add a dash of cayenne. If served on fruit do not add pepper. (© 1932, Western Newspaper Union.)

Smart Sports Coat

An attractive departure from the classic polo coat is this sports coat worn by Anita Louise, baby star of RKO-Radio Pictures. The new high neckline effect is carried out by means of the buttoned lapels; the sleeves are cut in rather an intricate way, with more of the flat metal button trim.

Tailored Suits

Spring suits are tailored, simple yet youthful in line. Most of them are double-breasted and have patch pockets and large lapels.

HUSTLE NO VIRTUE IN CHINESE EYES

If I were to try to sum up in a phrase the main difference between the Chinese and ourselves, I should say that they, in the main, aim at enjoyment, while we, in the main, aim at power. We like power over our fellowmen, and we like power over nature. For the sake of the former we have built up strong states, and for the sake of the latter we have built up science.

The Chinese are too lazy and too good-natured for such pursuits. To say that they are lazy is, however, only true in a certain sense. They are not lazy in the way of tropical peoples; that is to say, the Chinese will work hard for their living. Employers of labor find them extraordinarily industrious. But they will not work, as Americans and western Europeans do, simply because they would be bored if they did not continue doing their daily work.

Nor do they love hustle for its own sake. When they have enough to live on, they live on it, instead of trying to augment it by hard work. They have an infinite capacity for leisurely amusement—going to the theater, talking while they drink tea, admiring the Chinese art of earlier times, waiving in beautiful scenery, or playing games. Living in the East has, perhaps, a corrupting influence upon a white man, but I must confess, that, since I was in China, I have regarded laziness as one of the best qualities of which men in the mass are capable. —Bertrand Russell, in the Modern Thinker.

Criticism of Chicago

Police Put Musically

The Princess M'dvni, better known as Mary McCormic, the grand opera singer, has decided that America does not live up to its reputation for speed. The other day she was dashing through the Chicago loop in her high-powered foreign car when a traffic officer ordered the machine to the curb and began to make out a ticket.

"But I am in a great hurry," protested the diva, "I have a matinee and already I am late."

But the officer continued writing, taking the usual half hour to write the words necessary on the ticket. A taxi came along and the singer grabbed it, leaving her chauffeur to settle with the policeman. As she slammed the taxi door, the singer said sarcastically:

"You police look so fortissimo, but you are painfully andante."

How One Woman Lost 10 Lbs. in a Week

Mrs. Betty Luedcke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it."

To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back.

But be sure and get Kruschen Salts—imitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health.

Candle-Blowing Test

A candle-blowing test for tuberculosis is filling Turkish school children and their parents with a flurry of fear. Health inspectors line up all the children in a class at an equal distance from a lighted candle which they in turn try to blow out. Those whose puffs are successful are considered safe as to lungs; those who fail to extinguish the flames are catalogued as tubercular suspects, and their parents are warned.

Swimming Pool Handy

Firemen pumped water from the swimming pool in the basement of the Y. M. C. A. building in Berkeley, Pa., to fight a fire on the third floor. Water lines feeding the pool were turned on simultaneously. Firemen estimated the pool would supply water for three hours of fire fighting.

Quite Immature

Little Jane was telling her mother about the date tree that a neighbor had grown from a seed. "How big is it?" her mother asked. "Oh, it's quite big," replied Jane, "but it isn't old enough to have dates yet."—Exchange.

Col. Lindbergh's Baby Is Found Murdered—Senators Drop Political Squabbles to Revive Mr. Hoover's Economy Program.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

COLONEL LINDBERGH'S stolen baby was murdered, probably soon after the kidnaping. The body of the infant, badly decomposed and with fractures of the skull, was found, partly covered with leaves and debris, near a road in the Sourland hills less than five miles from the Lindbergh estate. Physicians said the little boy had been dead for at least two months. He was stolen from his nursery on the night of March 1.

The finding of the body was accidental. It was discovered by William Allen, a negro truck driver, and three companions who stopped by chance at that particular place and, stepping into the woods, discovered the little skeleton. Identification was soon established by the fragments of clothing, the nurse, Betty Gow, assisting in this. The skull was fractured on both sides, one break possibly being a bullet hole.

With the finding of the baby's body the authorities were freed from all restraint in their efforts to capture the kidnapers and murderers. Col. H. Norman Schwartzkopf, head of the New Jersey state police, said they had a group of persons under suspicion and that immediate steps would be taken to accomplish their arrest. The search for these cruel criminals is country-wide and it is certain no mercy will be shown them if they are caught.

UNDOUBTEDLY senators and representatives have been hearing from the home folks as well as from President Hoover on the matter of legislation designed to reduce government expenditures and to balance the budget.

In the senate, at least, politics began to give way to common sense and recognition of the national needs, and Mr. Hoover was highly gratified with the developments. The senate decided to set up a new economy committee, proposed by the Democrats, and on it were named three members of each major party. Senator Wesley Jones of Washington, Republican, was made chairman, the other members being Bingham of Connecticut and Dickinson of Iowa, Republicans; and Byrnes of South Carolina, McKellar of Tennessee and Bratton of New Mexico, Democrats.

The President immediately invited these gentlemen to breakfast with him and they all discussed plans to salvage the economy bill which the house ruined and to speed up the passage of the revenue raising bill which was being debated in the senate.

Savings of more than $230,000,000 are regarded necessary by the administration above its cut of $369,000,000 in the budget estimates for next year. This curtailment should permit the $1,000,000,000 tax bill to make ends meet in 1933.

Mr. Hoover re-emphasized his belief in the furlough plan of "staggering" federal employment as opposed to the house provision for a straight 11 per cent cut in federal salaries above $2,500. Under his proposition, he believes, $55,000,000 will be saved next year while thousands of workers will be enabled to hold their positions.

Senator Watson of Indiana, Republican leader, put his full influence behind the tax measure and said he was confident that it, as well as the economy legislation, would be passed by a dominant non-partisan combination. The revenue bill was reported to the senate by the finance committee in the form agreed upon after a conference with Secretary of the Treasury Mills. It raises the income tax and corporation rates above the increases voted by the house.

SENATOR ROBINSON, Democratic leader of the senate, put forward his scheme for providing $2,300,000,000 for the relief of unemployment, and President Hoover endorsed it in principle. The President then outlined his own proposals in this line, under which the Reconstruction Finance corporation would loan not to exceed $1,500,000,000 for the various purposes contemplated. Of this amount, from $250,000,000 to $300,000,000 would be loaned to states for the relief of unemployment distress and the remainder would be loaned to public and private agencies to aid in the financing of "income producing" construction projects.

To procure funds for this undertaking the Reconstruction Finance corporation would be authorized to sell debentures in the amount of $1,500,000,000. For this purpose its borrowing power would be increased to $3,000,000,000.

Neither the Robinson nor the Hoover plan was enthusiastically received by Democratic senators.

soldiers' homes to civilians who served in the quartermaster corps during the war with Spain, the Philippine insurrection and the China relief expedition.

CARTER GLASS, the strenuous senator from Virginia, fighting to put through his banking reform bill, created something of a sensation by asserting that certain Chicago bankers, whom he did not name, had "hired some congressmen" to oppose the McFadden branch banking bill several years ago, and also had employed a skillful lobbyist at a high salary. He declined to name the congressmen, too. Representative Morton D. Hull of Illinois, who was active in opposing the McFadden bill in the behalf of the Chicago banks, would not discuss the Glass charges but indignantly denied having been hired. The lobbyist in question, E. N. Baty, said he acted as executive secretary of the Chicago and Cook County Bankers' association and received only his regular salary.

JOHN MOTLEY MOREHEAD, American minister to Sweden, appeared before the senate judiciary committee and recommended modification of the Eighteenth amendment to permit a form of state liquor control similar to the Bratt system which has been in force in Sweden for fifteen years. Since his appointment to the Stockholm post in 1930 Mr. Morehead has made a careful study of the system and is convinced that it is successful and satisfactory. The State department consented to his appearance before the committee.

The minister labeled unwise or impossible all proposals for nullification of the liquor laws, repeal of the Eighteenth amendment and modification of the Volstead act. He argued that satisfactory enforcement of the present liquor laws was virtually impossible.

FRANCE'S elections and the assassination of President Doumer gave the republic a new chief executive and there will soon be a new premier. Albert Francois Lebrun was elected president and installed at once. Only a Communist and a Socialist opposed him, and he received 633 of the 824 votes in the joint session of the chamber of deputies and the senate.

Premier Tardieu, whose support was riddled in the elections, immediately tendered his resignation, but was persuaded to hold on until about the first of June, when a new cabinet will be formed.

There is little doubt that the new premier will be Edouard Herriot, leader of the Radical Socialist party, which was the biggest winner in the elections. The Socialists also made considerable gains. If they do not work in co-operation with Herriot, he may have to make a deal with the moderate right wing headed by Tardieu. It might be well again to call attention to the fact that Radical Socialists of France are really neither very radical nor actually Socialists, but are liberals with a program for the aid of agriculture, industry and commerce. It is not likely that there will be any decided change in France's international policies under Herriot.

FULLFILLING expectations, President Hoover vetoed the so-called Democratic tariff bill, which transferred from him to congress the power to make changes in tariff rates as recommended by the tariff commission. The roll was called in the house and it was found the proponents of the measure could not muster the two-thirds majority necessary to override the veto.

MRS. HATTIE W. CARAWAY, senator from Arkansas—the only woman ever elected to the senate—has announced her candidacy for a full six-year term. The political leaders in her home state were surprised, and Gov. Harvey Parnell gave up his ambition to wear a toga, declaring he would retire from politics at the end of his term. However, Mrs. Caraway has plenty of opposition in the primary of August 9, for there are six other candidates for the Democratic nomination for senator. The winner, of course, will be elected in November. Some of her rivals are veterans in public office and prominent in state politics.

The other day Vice President Curtis wished to leave the senate chamber, and he called on Mrs. Caraway to the chair, thus making history, for never before had a woman presided over the senate. She sat in dignity but had nothing to do.

ALBERT B. FALL, former secretary of the interior, has served out his time in the New Mexico penitentiary and returned to his ranch home at Three Rivers, N. M. To a reporter Mr. Fall declared that time would vindicate the naval oil reserve plans he made when in office and that were the cause of all his troubles. It only needed some war scare like the Sino-Japanese situation, he said, to teach the people the value of the Honolulu oil base which he championed.

GASTON B. MEANS was indicted by the grand jury in Washington on charges of having swindled Mrs. Edward B. McLean out of $104,000 by promising to procure the return of Colonel Lindbergh's kidnaped baby. While the grand jurors were hearing that story, there came out a tale of another possible victim of Means, also a wealthy and prominent woman—Mrs. Finley Shepard of New York, the former Helen Gould.

The Lindbergh baby did not figure in the alleged swindling of Mrs. Shepard. The story, hinted at by District Attorney Leo A. Rover while arguing over Means' bond in the McLean affair, was that Means was paid by the New York woman after he represented that he could give her information on Communist activities which might threaten her daughter or her fortune.

LIEUT. AND MRS. MASSIE and Mrs. Fortescue sailed away from Honolulu, despite the efforts of the local authorities to make Mrs. Massie remain to testify in the second trial of the men accused of attacking her. Prosecutor J. C. Kelley declared himself determined to press the retrial, notwithstanding the absence of the complaining witness. He said if she did not appear in court on May 25 he would ask a warrant for her arrest, which, however, would be of no effect on the mainland.

SENATOR TASKER L. ODDIE of Nevada, Republican, brought upon himself the wrath of the Democrats and some of the Republicans when, as chairman of the post office committee, he urged his resolution rescinding the senate's order to cut the treasury and post office appropriations 10 per cent. It was intimated that he was especially interested in saving the jobs of several thousands of customs inspectors and postal employees who would be useful to the Republican party during the campaign.

It was brought out that Senator Oddie had taken it on himself as chairman of the appropriations subcommittee in charge of the treasury and post office bill to decide that a 10 per cent cut was "impossible." Senators Kenneth McKellar (Dem., Tenn.) and Carter Glass (Dem., Va.), both of whom have contended the savings could be made without discharging an employee, asserted that for two weeks Senator Oddie had refused to call the subcommittee together. When Mr. Oddie maintained it was his right to determine when the committee should meet he was heartily jeered.

MAJ. GEN. ENOCH CROWDER'S distinguished career came to an end with his death in Walter Reed hospital, Washington. The general, who was a legal expert, was the creator of the draft system used by the United States in the World war. He also was judge advocate general of the army and in 1917 was detailed as provost marshal general. In 1923 he was appointed ambassador to Cuba and resigned in 1927.

OHIO'S primaries put that state into the wet column, and may mean that there will be a prohibition referendum plank in the Republican national platform.

Attorney General Gilbert Bettman easily won the Republican nomination for senator on an anti-prohibition platform, leading Louis J. Taber, dry, master of the National Grange, by about 55,000 votes. Next November Bettman will face Robert J. Buckley, wet Democratic incumbent, who was renominated without opposition.

David S. Ingalls, assistant secretary of the navy for aeronautics, who made repeat his issue, won the Republican gubernatorial nomination from Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown, dry, and his nearest opponent in a four-cornered race. Ingalls will run in November against Governor White, Democrat, who favors a prohibition referendum. The governor will be the favorite son of the Ohio Democrats for the Presidential nomination.

PAPERS KNOWN AS X Y Z DISPATCHES

In 1797 strained relations existed between the United States and the young French republic. The United States, desiring to repair the friendship between the two countries which had been of such importance during the American Revolution, sent three commissioners to France to effect an understanding. The government of France—the Directory—was pressed for funds, and the commissioners were given to understand that the United States could have the friendship of France only upon terms which amounted to an international bribe; that otherwise war might be expected as the result of affronts the French felt they had received at the hands of the United States.

The American commissioners sent back to their government a series of dispatches describing their reception and the French proposals. President Adams, after seeing these dispatches, sent word to congress that no agreement with France was in sight, and that no terms "compatible with the safety, the honor, or the essential interests of the nation" could be obtained. Copies of the dispatches were forwarded to congress at its request.

In the copies, the letters X, Y and Z were diplomatically substituted for the names of the French agents who had presented the offensive proposals. Hence the papers were called the X Y Z correspondence. The relations contained in the dispatches caused a great sensation, and preparations were begun for war with France. Some conflict, indeed, did break out upon the sea. Later, however, a satisfactory relationship was established between the two countries.

Too Young
Mrs. Blank, who has been married nearly three years and out of college more than twice that number, went to the front door of her home one day recently in response to a knock. She was confronted by a little boy, probably twelve years old, selling Sunday school calendars. He eyed her keenly for a moment, sizing her up from her golf oxfords to her straight bob, and inquired: "Is your mother home?" "No," came the answer. "Is your father home?" "No." "Well," the youngster said after a pause. "All right, then." Mrs. Blank, he decided, was too much of a child to transact business with him!

When You CAN'T QUIT

Fatigue is the signal to rest. Obey it if you can. When you can't, keep cool and carry-on in comfort.

Bayer Aspirin was meant for just such times, for it insures your comfort. Freedom from those pains that nag at nerves and wear you down. One tablet will block that threatening headache while it is still just a threat. Take two or three tablets when you've caught a cold, and that's usually the end of it.

Carry Bayer Aspirin when you travel. Have some at home and keep some at the office. Like an efficient secretary, it will often "save the day" and spare you many uncomfortable, unproductive hours. Perfectly harmless, so keep it handy, keep it in mind, and use it. No man of affairs can afford to ignore the score and more of uses explained in the proven directions. From a grumbling tooth to those rheumatic pains which seem almost to bend the bones, Bayer Aspirin is ready with its quick relief—and always works. Neuralgia, Neuritis. Any nagging, needless pain.

NO TABLETS ARE GENUINE BAYER ASPIRIN WITHOUT THIS CROSS

Get the genuine tablets, stamped with the Bayer cross. They are of perfect purity, absolute uniformity, and have the same action every time. Why experiment with imitations costing a few cents less? The saving is too little. There is too much at stake. But there is economy in the purchase of genuine Bayer Aspirin tablets in the large bottles.

Showing General Knox in Diplomatic Light

One thing about the World war: little or nothing has been said about the soldiers going hungry. In this department, at least, the old hardships seemed to have been successfully eliminated. In contrast, one recalls Washington at Valley Forge. The plight of the Continental army became so desperate that Washington finally sent General Knox and Captain Sargeant to explain their condition to congress.

It will be remembered that General Knox was very generously proportioned and it happened that Captain Sargeant was far from wearing tatters. One member of congress noted this and remarked that in spite of the tale of starvation and rags he had seldom noted a gentleman so fat and one so well dressed. "It is true," said General Knox "for out of respect, the choice was made of the only man who had an extra ounce of flesh and the only one who had a whole suit of clothes."

"There's a Death Message for This Man, we must catch him when he comes through here"

His mother had died suddenly. His family was perplexed about notifying him, for he was "somewhere on the way to California." Just where, nobody knew.

They did know, however, he was motoring over a route selected by the Conoco Travel Bureau. So the death message was wired to Albuquerque, New Mexico, which was on that route.

The Continental office set every Conoco station attendant in Albuquerque looking for the traveler. All day Conoco men asked motorists their names. And finally the right man was found, the message delivered to him. An unusual incident. Just one of many out-of-the-ordinary happenings, however, that have earned a Nation-wide reputation for the Conoco Travel Bureau and its services.

We do more than furnish road maps, help choose routes and supply other travel information. We look upon every Conoco Passport holder as a personal friend to be served in every way possible. Every Conoco station is a branch of the Conoco

Travel Bureau, and every Conoco attendant is the traveler's well-informed friend.

If you are planning a motor trip, write us where and when you want to go. Or fill in convenient application at any Conoco station. We will send you a Conoco Passport, 1932 road maps and other travel information. Our service is absolutely free . . . maintained for the benefit of American motorists by Continental.

Debauching a Gift from Heaven

The Radio has debauched industry. It is sinking lower and lower in the plane of decency. Few persons of intelligence any longer attach any importance to it as an instrument of pleasure and instruction.

It has come to take about the place of our intellectual diversion that the stud-horse bill has attained in literary circles. The cheapening of the radio amounts in the magnitude of its offense almost to a National calamity.

The men responsible for this rape of Radio are to be classed with kidnapers of children. For the time being the public is without any adequate defense—save that it may cut the communication.

And the wonder is that the promoters of these advertising campaigns over the radio, which occupy now virtually all of the round of hours, should be unable to comprehend the nature of their offense against good taste no less than of gentility.

It is a statement within the truth that the radio is a debauched industry and that its offense against decency is almost unforgivable.—Burlington, Ia., Post.

"Mike" Enroute

This office is in receipt of a letter from M. Doering, written on his way east, in which he speaks of the Kansas girls, who are expert baseball players and then reviews the good train service he has enjoyed.

He also speaks of the low rates being given for meals in the eastern cities and turns his attention to the many people who are taking advantage of the rates offered by the railroads. He says the "Wise Men" take the sleepers, but does not say that he imitated the comfortable example.

He goes at length in explaining the new device just installed, which makes getting into the upper berths such luxury, but fails to state just how much he received for advertising the Pullman Company's good service. He says that the porters are very kind in assisting you in and out of the berths; also to furnish you with a drink of water (or sumpin.) The last named luxury, he thinks is a "scream," so do we.

He states that the women of the east have banned the permanent wave and are wearing their hair like the man, parting it on one side. This, he thinks, is to conserve in the presence of the depression. His train of thought through the entire letter seems to center on the modes and customs of the ladies, but he again turns his attention to the new ladder device in the sleeping cars and says he doesn't see why he didn't think of that and "rake off" some easy money.

The letter in full, would take so much space that we are simply touching on the high-lights, being more particular to mention how pleased Mike is with the ladies of the east who have deserted the Beauty Parlors and are patronizing the barber shops taking the "cave men" for example. In fact he is so well pleased with the fair sex, that we are at a loss to know just how long he will be absent.

Silver Affects Us All

It is true that the silver problem is of international moment. And it is likewise true that it makes itself felt in every home, every business, every community.

The astounding drop in the value of silver has imperiled the purchasing power of half the world and has given our foreign trade, and that of other countries, a terrific blow. It has thrown thousands of men out of work because silver mines are unable to operate at a profit. It has confused the monetary standards of the world.

Here is a problem demanding the assistance and thought of the world's best minds—and a problem, the solution of which will be to the direct economic benefit of all.

"Lest We Forget"

Please note the announcement elsewhere in this paper, of Decoration Day services to be held next Monday at the Methodist Church in Carrizozo and at Angus School House.

Through the rest of time America will wear the coat of mail which her heroes have forged with their brawn and brain and welded with their life blood. And the garment of glory woven in the hell of No Men's Land will adorn her until nations are no more. But next Monday she will weep as she strews flowers on the graves of her fallen. And well she may. They have made their last march for her. They have fought their last battle. They have answered their last Roll Call, and the order, "At Rest!" has been given. And whether they rest under the sod or under the sea; on hill or plain be their graves flower-strewn or neglected the great blue dome of heaven covers them all, and he who sits on the right hand of the Father know the price they paid. It is a good thing to strew flowers upon the graves of the dead. I am glad that it is a national custom to decorate the graves of the nation's heroes once each year. It is not only a debt of gratitude, but a debt of honor; not only a patriotic duty, but a holy thing.

Sainted heroes of America, we bring our tribute of flowers to you!

That is all our belated gratitude can do. Living heroes of America, you are still ours to have and to hold. Accept our gratitude, our praise, and our devotion.

"El Puerto"

The above is the name of the new summer resort in the Nogal Canyon, where lots are selling rapidly. This beautiful place is owned by Rich Huat, who has a nice home and a wonderful orchard in the canyon above where the new resort is located. Mr. Huat conceived the idea that to lay out a plat and offer lots for sale would be a winner and so far, he has succeeded.

The spot is located on the Nogal Creek and is lined with forest trees which afford beautiful shade and springs afford plenty of pure water. This being only a short distance from Carrizozo, people may make their summer residence there, come and go at their pleasure without interfering with their business interests.

People who are desirous of having a nice summer home close to Carrizozo, would do well to see Mr. Huat before the best locations are taken up.

• There's an old saying that you don't miss the water 'till the well runs dry. How true of telephone service: The telephone runs errands . . . keeps you in touch with market prices . . . bridges distance . . . gives protection . . . brings news . . . unites friends . . . hunts jobs . . . saves time . . . reaches the folks back home, the youngsters away at school or out-of-town friends.

A single call may mean a hundred dollars to you. The lack of a telephone in time of need may even cost a life. The value of the telephone is unlimited. And it costs but a few cents a day.

Baked Stuff So Good Tramps Tried to Steal It

Last Sunday night, several tramps awoke Mr. and Mrs. Dave Beckett at the local bakery and demanded something to eat, and on being refused admittance to the bakery at the late hour, they went to the front and threw a rock through one of the plate glass windows. The rock passed on to one of the show-cases, destroying a good quantity of baked goods. The police searched the railroad parks without success and phoned police in every direction, but there being so many advance agents of prosperity on the road at this time and the darkness preventing accurate identification, that the search was given up.

FORT STANTON NEWS

Rev. E. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Kunkel and children motored to Tularosa last Monday, where the doctor and his family are to make their home in the near future. They extended their trip to La Luz, where the Reverend and the Doctor, who both are patrons of art found much interest in watching the manufacture of fancy Mexican pottery, as executed by skilled craftsmen.

Miss Viola M. Chauvin, Fort Stanton beauty and nurse, is leaving on her vacation with Seattle, Wash., as her destination. She will travel by bus, train, ship, and airplane. It is understood that it is not to be an ordinary vacation trip, in that she will, when reaching Seattle, meet her fiance, Mr. Jack Draper. Together with her and his mother she will further extend her trip in a pleasure voyage to Alaska. She wouldn't reveal whether this is to be a honeymoon trip, but the happy smile on her face seems to indicate that this is her anticipation. Mr. Draper, who is now studying medicine in the University of Seattle, was for many years Roanoke technician at the Fort.

Passes to His Reward

Thursday evening near the stroke of the midnight hour, Rev. John H. Skinner, aged 79, and one of the early settlers of these regions, passed quietly away following an illness of about two years and in view of that fact was not unexpected.

Rev. Skinner came here from Texas 51 years ago, since which time he had made Lincoln County his home. In the early days he worked at anything his hands found to do and aside from such labors he preached the Gospel to the people in the mountains and at Bonito, where for many years he made his home.

The funeral services were held at the Baptist Church yesterday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Jordan, assisted by the Reverends Short and Askins of Capitan. A choir of ladies sang two selections and the Reverend gentlemen mentioned above, made a few short addresses, all of which were tributes to the excellent Christian character of the deceased, after which Carrizozo Lodge No. 30 I. O. O. F. escorted the remains to the local cemetery and there performed the last sacred rites for the dead.—Continued next week.

Mr. Newberry states that he expects to have the well finished within 10 days.

Ward Rice, who received a badly sprained knee while working with his 'lolly washer system' is improving quite rapidly; he will soon be able to resume his duties.

Rev. R. B. Sherman, Missionary of the National Presbyterian Church, was present at our Miner's Meeting Friday evening and gave us a very interesting sermon.

Mrs. C. W. Wade has prepared a very nice croquet court; several of the neighbors run in every once in a while for a much-enjoyed game.

Mr. Barker and Mr. Wade were in Carrizozo Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Batman visited Chas. White Monday evening.
