

WOMEN FOR HOOVER

Approval of the soundness of President Hoover's work toward national relief will be voiced by millions of republican women voters in November, Mrs. W. Hyatt, representative of the women's division of the republican national committee, declared during a short stop in Albuquerque Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Hyatt was at the Hotel Alvarado conferring with Mrs. Margaret Medler, national republican committeewoman, and Miss Margaret Chadwick, vice-chairman of the republican state committee.

"Millions of women who supported Mr. Hoover four years ago will again give him their support.

"Eighteen million women voted in both the republican and democratic parties four years ago. That was 6,000,000 more than voted in 1924. We feel that even a greater increase will be seen in this year's voting.

"From my contacts in New Mexico, I am confident that a few women voters in the state will not vote. New Mexican women appear to be good students of politics, and interested in political party work.

"A vast majority of the women voters of the republican party will give their support to President Hoover's conception of the republican prohibition plank.

"We understand he will explain his exact stand in his nomination acceptance address."

Ship Ahoy!

Last evening at about 7:30, an airplane, bearing A. H. Kudner, E. M. Swasey, former publisher of the New York Evening Journal, Johnny Quigley, pilot, Lieut. Commander A. W. Gorton and co-pilot E. Abramson, came in from Los Angeles and made a landing at the Kudner airport. Mr. Kudner and party had been attending the yearly festival at Bohemian Grove which attracts people from all parts of the country and some from across the water.

Tomorrow morning, these gentlemen, with the exception of Mr. Abramson and with the addition of Tom James of the Kudner ranch, will leave for the Grand Canyon where they will be met by mountain guides with saddle horses for the party. They will follow these guides over mountain trails, leading from the Grand Canyon and encircling all the mountain regions until they return to Carrizozo through the White mountains.

Lieut. Commander Gorton has a remarkable record both at home and overseas. He bears the distinction of being the first to successfully hook to a dirigible, when he hooked to the Los Angeles three years ago.

Mesdames Don Ferguson and Bryan Casier, accompanied by little Hilda Barnett, who spent seven weeks with Mrs. Casier at Tucumcari, came in Wednesday to visit with relatives. Bryan and Don will be here for the week-end.

There will be a big dance at Mae's Hall at Lincoln on August 5. Music by Stewart's Orchestra from Capitan. Everybody invited. Come!!!

Mrs. B. D. Garner of Picacho was a Carrizozo visitor one day this week.

LOCAL MENTION

Among those who attended the golf tournament at Alamogordo were the Gallachers, McClintocks, Becks and Finleys. All report a good time.

Out in Texas they call Speaker Garner "Cactus Jack." And Governor Roosevelt is the fellow who got stuck with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wettstein were here from Oscura Saturday of last week.

Conductor C. A. McCammon, Mrs. McCammon and daughter Ardene returned last Saturday from a three weeks' trip to Illinois, where they went to answer a message from Mc's aunt, who was ill, and in a few days after their arrival at Medora, she died and the remains taken to Paducah, Ky., for burial. While in the east, they visited at different places where they had relatives. They say that old Illinois was never more blessed with abundant crops than at the present time.

Adolph Sanchez was here from the Jicarillas Saturday and went with the East-Siders to Alamo Sunday to play ball. "Like father, like son," Adolph's father, Joe Sanchez, was the star catcher of the old White Oaks team many years ago, and Jimmy Lea was the pitcher.

T. A. Bigelow and Brooks Lewis visited at the Bigelow ranch near Lucy last Sunday, where George Bigelow has been for the past week.

A. P. Jones from his ranch beyond the Malpais, was a Carrizozo business visitor Monday of this week.

Mrs. Gladys Gardenhire and "Sonny" were here Tuesday from Capitan to be with others of the R. W. Dozier family before they left for Tucumcari to make that place their home.

Harry A. Miller attended the golf tournament and the Carrizozo-Alamo baseball game at Alamogordo last Sunday.

Marion H. ust, ranchman of Oscura, was a Carrizozo business visitor on Wednesday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Barnett and children made a trip to the Greer ranch in the San Andres mountains, where Mrs. Barnett and the children will visit the Ira and Lester Greer families, while Meyer went on to El Paso on business and also to visit his brother Harry and John Haven of Three Rivers, who is confined in a hospital, but whose condition shows a marked improvement at this writing. On his return trip, Meyer will bring the folks home.

Lahoma Bigelow and Johnny Jordan spent Sunday at the Bonito Dam.

Mrs. Wm. S. Brady is in El Paso this week visiting with her daughters Bonnie and Native.

The Open Forum

Reeder-Paden

In the town of Socorro last Friday, July 22, at the Presbyterian parsonage, Mrs. Elsie Padon of Carrizozo and R. E. Reeder of Tucumcari were united in marriage by the pastor of the above named church.

The bride is forelady of the local telephone station, for which company she has served for the past eleven years. She is the oldest daughter of Mrs. T. E. Armstrong, manager of the Welmore Apartments. The groom is a Southern Pacific operator in Tucumcari, at which place the newlyweds will make their future home.

Mrs. Reeder will not leave the service of the company at once, but will relieve Mayor McQuillen during August while the manager is on his vacation and will perform the same service for others on their vacation periods, after which she will go to her new home in Tucumcari which is in readiness for its occupants. The many friends of both parties join in wishing them the best of everything.

Carrizozo vs. Tularosa

The Carrizozo Ball Team was idle last Sunday, as the game with Corona was postponed to a later date. Manager Miller has put his boys through some stiff workouts this week, preparatory for the game with Tularosa at the local park, next Sunday, July 31. Fans, Tularosa comes here this time to beat us and we don't mean maybe! All of you come out and give us your support and see some hair fly.

The Beauty Contest

In the Beauty Contest which closed last Saturday night at the Lyric Theatre, Kathryn Kelt was chosen for the girls and in the Kiddies Revue, little Hope Colette Terrell won the laurels. The judges, supposed to be five in number, did not appear and as to who they were, nobody seemed to know. The promoters are now in Ruidoso and will conduct the same kind of proceedings Sunday night, so we understand.

Kathryn Kelt represented the New Mexico Light & Power Company.

Mesdames Albert Ziegler and Charles Coplin will entertain the Carrizozo Bridge Club at their home Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Roberts and daughter Gwendolyn Joy went to Capitan last Sunday to meet some friends and from there went on a picnic near Angus.

Another Big Time for Dance Fans, August 20

In answer to the many questions from people who attended the dance given by the Jericho Club at Lutz Hall, July 16, as to when the club would give another dance, the "Jerrys" wish to announce that they will entertain the public at another big dance on Saturday night, August 20, at Lutz Hall. Music by "The Revelers."

Many compliments have been made on the manner in which the last dance was conducted and people who attended expressed themselves as having such a pleasant time, that they will be assured of being better entertained on the coming occasion. Keep the date in mind and lay your plans to attend. Refreshments will be served free of charge and the pleasure-loving public is cordially invited.

The Last Congress

"Out of the welter of conflicting political interests and divergent view - points in the last session of Congress, a general pattern of financial rehabilitation has appeared," notes the Washington correspondent of the Boston Christian Science Monitor, for which President Hoover is directly responsible.

The concrete achievements of this session of Congress are thus listed in a New York Times dispatch from the national capital: "Creation of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation with a capitalization of $2,000,000,000.

"Expansion of the Federal Farm Loan System with $125,000,000 new capital.

"Establishment of a system of home - loan banks, capable of furnishing upward of $500,000,000 to small - home owners and builders in meeting their requirements.

"Enactment of the Wagner relief bill, providing $2,100,000,000 for relief of destitution and construction of public works; of this, $1,800,000,000 is to expand the capital of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

"Ratification of the Hoover one-year moratorium on inter-allied debts to enable European countries to avert a financial catastrophe.

"Release of about $800,000,000 in gold through enactment of the Glass-Steagall act.

Mrs. Chloe Fisher of Capitan visited her son and wife, County Clerk and Mrs. S. E. Greisen on Wednesday of this week.

T. J. Stokes returned this week from Midland, Texas, where he had been for the past three or four weeks.

Last Sunday a young couple from Carrizozo were taking pictures at the Bonito Dam and so engrossed were they in the scenery, that they failed to notice the "No Trespassing" signs. Mr. Randle, the Dam keeper, was not such an ardent worshipper of scenic beauty and told them that "ignorance of the law excused nobody" and assessed a $50.00 fine on each of them, but the fines were not levied. — Contributed.

Johnson-Wilson

Last Sunday evening, with Judge A. H. Harvey performing the ceremony, Miss Lorraine Wilson of St. Louis and Edward Johnson of Carrizozo were united in marriage.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Wilson, Mr. Wilson being a fireman on the 'Frisco line out of St. Louis. She came here a short time ago and during her stay the young couple formed an acquaintance and the result is the old story which has been told and re-told throughout the ages.

The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Johnson and at present is employed on the State Highway. He was educated in our schools and belongs to one of the oldest and among the highest regarded families in this county. Mrs. Johnson is now at her home in St. Louis and on her return, the newlyweds will settle down to married life in Carrizozo and the best wishes of their friends will attend them.

FORT STANTON NEWS

The Lincoln "Tom Cats," who audaciously had dared to challenge the Stanton Braves, met their Waterloo here last Sunday and were practically crushed in a veritable merry-go-round with a score of 3 to 11.

Mr. Lane, chicken rancher at the Fort and his friend, Harvey Brown, narrowly escaped with their lives in an unfortunate automobile accident between here and Capitan last Saturday night. Both sustained numerous cuts and bruises. The car was damaged beyond repair.

Mr. Brown, who was pinned under the wreck, was rescued by Sam Cox of Fort Stanton, who happened to pass by immediately after the accident. It seems that some inconsiderate motorist had left a big boulder in the middle of the road, which he had used under the wheel of his car to keep it from rolling back when changing a tire. Lane's car hit this boulder at 35 or 40 miles an hour, which sent the car about 15 in the air and landed it in the field upside down.

Mr. and Mrs. Saturnino Chavez, daughter Bertha, sons Reuben and Essequiel and Mrs. Chavez' mother, Mrs. Petra R. Gonzales, motored to the Patos mountain near Rubenton last Sunday for a short visit with Mrs. Felix Guebara and family.

Engineer R. W. Dozier and family will leave this evening on No. 12 for Tucumcari to make that place their home. The reason for the change is that R. W. has but a short time to put in at this end of the division, while his long rest in Tucumcari, he can hereafter spend at home.

EDITORIAL COLUMN

Democrats Have Nothing to Offer

From the Labor World:
The working people of the country and industry in general are more interested in something constructive that means jobs, wages and profits.

Strangely, the Democratic party has completely ignored labor in its platform. It has ignored all protection for the wage earner's salary. Tariff for revenue only is offered, which of course, means starvation wages. There is nothing in the platform about immigration; in fact, they are silent on the subject, probably because Tammany and Frank Hague both want the bars let down.

No constructive plan is offered to rehabilitate industry, and unemployment relief, either by a dole or jobs, is also ignored.

The coal miner, the millworker, those in the textile industry, copper, oil and lumber are not offered a single thing, except tariff reduction.

The Democratic party has staked its all apparently on the repeal of the 18th Amendment and modification of the Volstead act to permit light wines and beer.

It is true that the American Federation of Labor has in its program the return of light wines and beer, but everything else that the A. F. L. advocates and stands for, the Democratic party is silent upon in its platform.

It is, therefore, quite apparent that the big interests of Wall Street dictated the platform, which is in line with a policy to squeeze wages down to the lowest point in many years.

The farmers also are offered little or nothing, and they are already, like labor, up in arms. The issue of jobs and bread and butter is the great issue before the whole world, and it cannot be cast aside for the issue of repeal of the 18th Amendment, with which Congress alone can deal.

Roosevelt Supported by Bratton

The Hot Springs Herald, by the way, one of our good exchanges, takes a poke at another paper for stating that Senator Sam Bratton of New Mexico (dry) will support Franklin D. Congress, Eager to Adjourn, Passes Relief Bill Designed to Suit President—Meaning of Lausanne Agreement—New Franco-British Accord.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

SPEAKER GARNER, having established his pet campaign issue of government loans to individuals, was content to let stand President Hoover's veto of the Wagner-Garner relief bill containing that feature. No attempt was made in either house or senate to pass the measure over the veto and both chambers speedily prepared and passed new bills designed to conform in the main to the President's wishes. Mr. Garner, assuming that most of you gentlemen would like to go home, fixed things so the two bills were sent to immediate conference, so the differences could be ironed out and congress could adjourn.

In the senate the remarking of the measure was managed largely by Senator Wagner of New York. One amendment adopted at the instance of Senator Glass would permit federal reserve banks for a two-year period by vote of the federal reserve board and in "unusual and exigent circumstances" to make loans to any individual or corporation unable to secure credit from other banking institutions. This at first was repugnant to the President but he changed his mind over night and informed Senator Glass would not object to its inclusion in the measure.

In other respects, save for minor variations, the measure is much the same as the one Mr. Hoover vetoed, with the Garner loan clause omitted.

GREAT BRITAIN and France announced a new understanding, known as a "confidence" accord, which the French regard as a renewal of the entente cordiale. They agree to work together for the restoration of Europe and to keep each other mutually informed of questions coming to their notice similar to that "now so happily settled at Lausanne."

Sir John Simon, telling parliament of the accord, said flatly it has nothing to do with the war debts due the United States from Britain and France, adding: "If the French people believe such is the case they will be quickly undeceived." On the other hand, when Premier Herriot announced the agreement in Paris he declared that Great Britain cannot now undertake to negotiate a new debt settlement with America without first consulting France. Simon said the pact was not intended to be exclusive and that Germany, Italy and Belgium had been invited to associate in its provisions with France and Britain.

EUROPE is saved again, subject to ratification of the Lausanne agreement, as Winston Churchill declared in the British house of commons. And ratification is subject to cancellation or heavy reduction of the war debts the European nations owe the United States. No European power has directly proposed to the United States a revision of those debts; but such action is hoped for and even expected by statesmen of the former allied nations of Europe. The sentiment in Washington is absolutely against cancellation.

That, in a nutshell, is the status concerning the pact signed at Lausanne by the European powers whereby Germany is to be relieved of all obligations in the way of reparations on payment of a lump sum of 3,000,000,000 gold marks—about $714,000,000. At the same time that they initiated this agreement the representatives of Germany's chief creditors signed a secret "gentlemen's pact" that their respective parliaments would not ratify the treaty until the United States had reconsidered the question of reducing the debts due her from Europe. And if America's decision is adverse to such reduction, the Lausanne treaty becomes of no effect and the reparations situation reverts to its former status under the Young settlement. The German government declared Germany had nothing whatever to do with the gentlemen's agreement.

Churchill vigorously attacked the whole proceedings at Lausanne. He said that, from his knowledge of public opinion in America, he believed "no more unfortunate approach toward debt cancellation could have been made."

Prime Minister MacDonald and Chancellor of the Exchequer Chamberlain both replied to the attacks of Churchill and others. The latter said: "We are still ready to cancel all debts due us. If the United States should decide to cancel all debts due her, our offer is still open. If America still feels she must ask us to pay more than we have received, we must consider what we are going to do."

Before we know what America will propose to do in the matter it would be unreasonable for us to consent to cancel the debts of our European allies."

Though the Lausanne agreement reduces Germany's liabilities in the way of reparations to about one percent, it does not remove from Germany the stigma of having been solely to blame for the World War. Therefore it is rejected by Hitler's Nazis and is distasteful to the Nationalists. Hitler declared that the new treaty "will not be worth three marks within six months." The German cabinet approved Chancellor Von Papen's action in signing the treaty.

AGREEMENT with the governments of the Dominion of Canada and Ontario on the St. Lawrence seaways project was on the verge of being completed, but presumably would not be in time for action by the senate at this session. Premier Henry of Ontario said it would be signed "within a week or so." President Hoover had directed the efforts to bring the matter to a speedy conclusion, and Hanford MacNider, minister to Canada, was in Washington assisting the State department in the negotiations, in which Secretary Stimson, Canadian Minister Herriot, James Grafton Rogers, assistant secretary of state in charge of the St. Lawrence plan, and John Hickerson, the department's expert on Canadian affairs, were especially active.

An interesting incident was the offer of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt to go to Washington and help President Hoover in expediting the negotiations. The President immediately and politely refused the offer, advising the governor to go ahead with his vacation cruise because "international treaties fall under the jurisdiction of the federal government."

GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT did proceed with his cruise, sailing with his three sons up the New England coast and bearing a figurative olive branch at the masthead, for he was in Al Smith waters. His 89-foot yawl, Myth II, put in for the first night at Morris Cove near New Haven, and proceeded thence to Stonington, Conn. There he met J. Harold McGrath, Rhode Island state chairman, and others from that state, to whom he said:

"I not only fully understand but greatly appreciate Rhode Island's standing by our old friend Governor Smith in the convention, and I know now I am going to receive the same display of loyalty."

His visitors assured him he would carry Rhode Island, and in further conversation Roosevelt made it plain that he was glad to forget past dissensions.

The governor's next stop was at Wood's Hole in Massachusetts, and there, too he made a bid for support from Smith's strong friends. Continuing along up the coast in leisurely fashion, he was due to reach Hampton Beach, New Hampshire, on Sunday, and there fire the opening gun of his campaign.

IMMEDIATE does not mean now in the lexicon of the Democrats in the senate. Twice they were given the opportunity to vote for immediate legalization of beer, in accordance with their national party platform, and twice they refused. Their intention, now achieved, was to put off the test until after the November election. Their excuse was that they should not be called on to vote on the proposition until an authoritative definition of an intoxicant could be obtained. Senator Bingham's beer bill was buried in committee, and later Senator Shepard of Texas prevented consideration of a resolution offered by Bingham instructing the surgeon general of the United States to poll leading physicians and physiologists as to their opinion of what constituted an intoxicating beverage.

Ashurst of Arizona then took a hand. "The senator from Connecticut," he chided, "has been attempting to do what he called 'test the sincerity of the Democratic senators.' Never did he apply a true test. Let me tell him how. Let him introduce a joint resolution proposing to amend the Constitution by abolishing the Eighteenth amendment and let the roll be called. There will be no attempt on the part of the Democratic senators to avoid their platform."

Whereupon the wily Bingham immediately produced just such a resolution and asked unanimous consent to call it up for action. Senators Robinson and Watson, minority and majority leaders, agreed this was not the proper occasion for such a measure, so the resolution remained on the table.

WHETHER Smith Reynolds, young heir to the great tobacco fortune, committed suicide in his home at Winston-Salem, N. C., or was murdered is still unsettled. The coroner's jury found he came to his death at the hands of "persons unknown," and so his widow, the former Libby Holman of stage fame, and his chum and secretary, Albert Walker, were set free by the police. Rut Sheriff Transou Scott says the case is by no means closed, and the authorities will continue their inquiry into the suspicious circumstances surrounding the tragedy. The case is sensational in the extreme and the details have filled many columns in the newspapers.

Mrs. Reynolds, weeping and near collapse, departed from Winston-Salem with her parents for Cincinnati, their home, and was expected to go from there to some secluded place in the mountains. Leading lawyers agree that her unborn child, if born alive, will be a legitimate heir to the $15,000,000 left in trust to young Reynolds by his father, though there is a possibility that this child's chance to inherit might be eliminated by a $1,000,000 settlement which Smith Reynolds gave his first child when her mother obtained a divorce. In any case it does not seem that Libby Holman is due to receive any considerable part of the big estate.

PERU experienced an attempt at revolution when a lot of civilian Communists led by army officers rebelled against the government and seized the important commercial city of Trujillo. But within a few days loyal troops had bombed them into submission and recaptured the city.

Brazil was not having so easy a time with a revolutionary movement that broke out in the state of Sao Paulo with the expressed intention of overthrowing the government of Provisional President Getulio Vargas. The city of Sao Paulo was occupied by the insurgents and it was reported that they had been joined by federal troops sent against them.

OVER in Belgium the government was having a serious time with striking miners led by Communists. There were several bloody conflicts between them and the troops, especially in the Charleroi area, and there was danger that a general walkout of workers throughout the country would ensue. Factory hands in the Flanders textile region were joining the strikers. King Albert returned from a vacation in Switzerland to take charge of the situation.

ON JULY 21 there will open in Ottawa the economic conference of the British Empire, which gives promise of being one of the most important gatherings of its kind ever held. Almost one-quarter of the world's population will be represented, and it is the hope of Britain that the conference will succeed in diverting about one-third of the world's trade to Great Britain and her dominions to the disadvantage of the United States, Argentina and other countries now holding a considerable share of the British commonwealth trade. This hope, in the opinion of competent observers, will scarcely be realized.

R. B. Bennett, prime minister of Canada, is host to the conference, and he has this to say of its objects and ambitions:

"The Imperial Economic conference should devote its energies and abilities, with a common purpose and whole-hearted zeal, to deepening the channels of intra-imperial trade by judicious adjustments of tariffs and other measures, which will aim to create a larger volume of mutually profitable trade between the different units of the empire than now exists, and to make their unrivaled resources available in greater degree for the diffusion of a higher standard of well-being among its citizens than they now enjoy."

Among the highly interested unofficial observers will be those from the United States, eager to know what will be the results of the present tariff law that is aimed largely at Canada. It is known in Ottawa and in Washington that Mr. Bennett is ready to say to the English delegates: "Give us a preference in your market and we will give you free entry of goods not produced in the Dominion." Which would be a sad blow to the United States business man if it were not for the fact that the English manufacturer would be handicapped by transportation charges.

At the age of eighty-six a scientist and electrician won a fresh reputation by delivering one of the witziest and most entertaining after-dinner speeches ever heard in the Savoy hotel, London, writes Henri Pickard in the Cincinnati Enquirer. This pioneer octogenarian was Col. O. E. Crompton, the Faraday medalist of 1922, who was accorded a complimentary dinner by admirers, friends and colleagues.

Who wants second-choice tires

WHEN FIRST-CHOICE cost no more?

GOODYEARS are first-choice G-rated first in quality by a nation-wide vote of more than 2 to 1.

Goodyears are best. The public says so—the public buys so! More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind—and have for 17 years.

And as to Goodyear prices—they're as low as you'll pay even for an unknown or second-rate tire.

In a year when everyone's careful with money, don't take chances on tires.

You can get the best tires that ever came from the world's largest rubber factory—if you stick to this simple question:

Why buy any second-choice tire when FIRST-CHOICE costs no more?

IMPORTANCE OF BEING IMPORTANT

Matter of Moment, as You Look at It.

"The importance of being important is, it seems to me, too disturbingly impressive to the people who would like to be, or, at any rate, seem to be, important," said Mr. Cato Ninotalls. "If course, there are people who are undoubtedly important, but it is not so much the result of their special efforts to be important as of a combination of circumstances and their individual talents. That is to say, they are not important merely because they want to be important, but because of the natural order of things. There are other people who are not important, but who seem to be important. I don't know whether this is merely the result of chance or is brought about by good management. Which ever it is, it seems to require no great effort by them, and they undoubtedly fool a great many people. Sometimes I suspect that they even fool themselves. There are still others of high ambition—or perhaps strong egotism—who notwithstanding their vast expenditure of effort, thought and imagination, are unable to make themselves seem important; and their persistence is a trial to their own nerves, and an irritation or, even worse, a bore to their acquaintances."

"Now, it seems to me that being important must be rather burdensome, and seeming to be important is even more so. On him who is important many things are loaded that, by rights, should be carried by other people, but with his peculiar talents I doubt that he finds oppressive a load that would crush most of the rest of us. Importance is his job in the world, and he is built to endure it. It is not likely that the burden of imitation importance—that is, that carried by the people who seem important—is nearly so heavy; added to the workaday pack of him who is important it is probable that it would hardly be noticed; but for the carriers it is sometimes so great that close observation shows that now and then they stagger under it for all their knack of maintaining misleading appearances. There is a hard life, but they like it because so many people think that they are important."

"My sympathy goes out to those who want to seem important, and can't. They strive so hard, and achieve so little. Nor do they ask much, for while they would undoubtedly like to be important, they would be fairly well content if they could just manage to seem important. Life with them must be a succession of disappointments, of trial and error, with error predominating. It seems to me that somebody whose oral flow and command of expression were equal to it should explain to them that they do not know when they are well off, for not being important is one of the easiest—if not the easiest—of life's assignments. He who is important pays for it with hard work, however equal to the task he may be; he who seems to be important pays for it with worry, whatever the degree of tranquility he may present to the world; he who fails in his efforts to seem important must find a bitter tang in all life's savors; on the other hand, he who is willing to leave the job of being important, or seeming important, to others is relieved of many of life's most arduous requirements. His responsibilities are light and his obligations are lighter, for he does not, like the people who are important or who seem important, have to be all things to all men. It is his privilege to get out of the hurly burly for a contemplative period now and then, and thank his lucky stars that he has no aspirations that interfere with a quiet and comfortable life."

"What things do you regard as important nowadays?" I asked Buck.

"How would I know?" he responded.

"Why shouldn't you know?"

"Only the historians of century hence will be able to tell what was important nowadays."—Indianapolis News.

Old Custom Retained

The letters "L. S." on legal documents are the abbreviation of Latin "locus signilli," meaning place for the seal. The Romans used to take off their signet rings and imprint their seals on all documents, and the present legal practice is a survival of that custom.

Slapped by "Her Majesty"

In a voice that could easily be heard throughout the large hall, Colonel Crompton acknowledged the compliments paid him by telling some amusing stories of his early scientific days.

"I am about the only person who has ever been slapped by such a model of dignity as Queen Victoria," he declared. "That happened in '31 or '32, when I introduced into Windsor castle the type of lighting which you see in this room today. Of course, it is common now, but at that time it was a novelty."

"Her majesty said she had never seen anything like it before and promptly slapped my face."

"But when other people admired the light she was very fair about it. When someone wanted to introduce me later Queen Victoria waved him aside with the remark: 'This young man had the cheek to have his own way, and his own way happened to be right.'"

HEARD ABOUT TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Rentfrow of their ranch across the Malpais visited Carrizozo friends on last Saturday. The famous Cravens' Bat Cave is located on their land and it is really worth seeing. We know this by actual experience, for a party of us made the trip, crawling under huge boulders in order to reach the various rooms of this colossal cavern.

The Sabino Vidaurri, Ben C. Sanchez, Mrs. P. C. St. John, L. C. St. John, Ernest Lopez and Joe Navarro families attended the ball game and golf tournament at Alamogordo last Sunday.

"The Sharkey-Schmeling fight pictures shown last Sunday night at the Lyric Theatre was certainly a good pugilistic affair," observes Yardmaster J.S. Snyder. "It seemed to me that Schmeling had the heat of the fight throughout; it ought to have been counted as a draw, at least. Anyway, it brought the title back to the United States."

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Grafton, son Hugh, grandson Jimmy Stewart and Herman Conbrusch were Carrizozo visitors Monday and made this office a friendly call.

A. B. Sanchez, Lell St. John, Tony Perea and Syl Baca attended the Santana's Day dance at Lincoln Tuesday night.

This morning just as we were ready to go to press, the news came to us of the severe burning of a child of Mr. and Mrs. Adolfo Freeman. The child lit a match and threw it into the tank of an old abandoned car near his home and his face was badly burned.

Saturnino Chavez, Jr., won the consolation prize in the first flight of the golf tournament held at Alamogordo last Sunday and Monday. Good for you, little Sat. Keep it up!

Some eastern tourists passed through here last week and among them was a blonde by the name of Dolores Payne. When we told her that her first name meant "pains," in Spanish, she exclaimed excitedly, "My own Paynes have burdened me enough, and to think that I must also bear those of some conquistador, why, it's pure nonsense. Call me Jane Doe; I've made my resolution!"

Mrs. A.C. Letcher and daughters spent Sunday at Ft. Stanton.

Carrizozo S. - A. 11:
Alamogordo 2

The East-Siders returned from Alamogordo last Sunday night somewhat worn out, but still rejoicing over their clean-cut victory over Alamo's strong team.

"Skeeter" Perea twirled a fine game, with St. John starting behind the bat, but having to retire early in the game due to a badly split hand which was caused by a foul tip. Alamo was saved from a goose egg only by a few miscues by some of our boys in the latter part of the game. But up to that time they faltered not, and batted the old sphere mercilessly. Alfredo Lopez and Joe Chavez carrying off hitting honors for the day. Alfredo hit two homeruns and Joe accounted for one, besides a couple of singles.

The Mesalero Indians were scheduled to play Alamo's colored team and when they failed to show up, the dusksies insisted that our boys entertain them for five innings and they made 9 scores to our 5. St. John plans to bring the darkies here for a game in the near future and give them a run for their money.

Watch for the date! If you miss this game, you will miss a big, hearty laugh.—By Fan.

Letter from Charles Gordon

This office is in receipt of a letter from Charles Gordon, who was at one time a resident of Fort Stanton, but is now in New Orleans at the Marine Hospital, undergoing some slight repairs before he returns to Cuba, where he has been in the marine service since leaving Fort Stanton in 1928. When at Stanton, Charley managed the baseball team and knows people all over this part of the county. He would be pleased to hear from his old friends at Carrizozo, Fort Stanton, Capitan, Hondo, Lincoln and all along the stage route. He also says that it is rumored there that Dr. T. B. H. Anderson, the famous ball player, will soon return to Fort Stanton. He reads the Outlook and is pleased to see the names of his former associates and friends, to all of whom he sends his kindest regards.

A. J. Lahan Died Tuesday at Alhambra, California

On Tuesday, July 26, at the noonday hour, Mr. Lahan, former resident of this place, died at his home in Alhambra, Calif. Mr. Lahan was at one time connected with the old Carrizozo Trading Co., being associated with Mr. Henry Lutz for several years. He afterwards was a partner with Frank Maxwell in the sheep business.

The family left here for Alhambra about 14 years ago, at which place they have since resided. No man was more highly honored and more implicitly trusted than was A. J. Lahan. His word was as good as government bond and many of his old friends who still reside here will testify to that fact and will be sad to hear of his passing.

He leaves a wife, Mrs. Pauline Lahan; two daughters, Adellina and Edna, both of whom are school teachers in their home town. The sympathy of this community is tendered to the surviving relatives.

Girl Scouts

The girl scouts held a meeting Tuesday at the schoolhouse, six members being present, namely: Alice and Agnes Degner, Edna McBrayer, Ruth Barpett, Wilma Snow and Captain Mary Johnson. After business was concluded, the scouts went to the Indian Painted Rocks on the Taylor ranch. There will be no meeting in August as most of the girls have planned to be away during the month. It is worth while to reflect on the fact that there are some values which are not affected when the stocks break. There is life. And here is a verse for those who would capitalize life's values:

"He that findeth his life shall lose it, and he that loseth his life for My sake shall find it."
