Eastern Stars Entertained Distinguished Guest

Last Thursday evening at Masonic Temple, Mrs. Fay Parrish of Las Vegas, Grand Matron for the Eastern Star of New Mexico, was the guest of honor of Comet Chapter No. 29.

At six o'clock an elaborate banquet was held at the Carrizozo Eating House and the menu served in keeping with the usual custom of that popular hotel with its array of courteous waiters.

During her stay among us, the Grand Matron was the house guest of Mrs. Anna Stimmel, Matron of the local Chapter, Mrs. C. A. McCammon, Associate Matron and Miss Ella Brickley.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Football Game Last Saturday

Mistakes they made, fumbles were many but they never ceased to fight. Those who failed to see the game missed a treat. The game was 'chuck-full of interest and thrills. It was a game that showed every man doing his best but outstanding was the work of John Jackson, Joe Garcia, Elmo Aguayo, Lawrence Hicks and Grant Miller.

It might be well at this time to mention for the benefit of the players in future games that battles are not won by defensive fighters. Hannibal, Caesar, Napoleon, Frederick, Grant and Foch always took the offensive and believed that it was the way to win battles.

Alamo put up a game fight and their drive at the center of the Carrizozo line made consistent gains, but the necessary punch was lacking. Alamo players deserving special mention are: Lee, Beckett, Holcomb and Billup. Lee especially showed persistent dash and courage.

Carrizozo plays at Hondo today, and on Saturday, Nov. 5, Capitan and Carrizozo play here for the championship of Lincoln County. Business houses will be asked to close and assuredly the work of this team is such that the town should turn out at least once to see them play.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Mosier, small son Marvin, Marvin Roberts, A. L. and Lewis Quirke made a trip to the Gran Bivirra last Sunday, where they viewed the ancient ruins of the old city and vicinity and returned via Corona. There was a scene of activity south of the old church building which was erected in the year of 1629.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Rentfrow of their ranch friends the Malpais, visited friends here last Saturday, remaining over to attend the Jericho Club dance given on that night.

The Republican County Candidates

held a well-attended and enthusiastic meeting at Baca's Hall Tuesday night. Judge Elerdo Chavez presented each candidate in his usual eloquent manner, and wound up by delivering a short address in which he stressed the fact to the people that a vote cast for R. C. Dillon for governor in the coming election, would mean a stepping stone to the return of sound and efficient government in the state of New Mexico.

The candidates present were: S. E. Greisen, Leopoldo Gonzales, Miss Eva Rose, Pete Johnson, Ernest Key, R. E. Fresquez, T. M. DuBois, Lupe Gabaldon and Diego Salcido. Candidate Sam Bigger could not be present on account of illness in his home, and Ernest Key made a short talk in his behalf. After the speaking, a big dance was enjoyed until 1 o'clock, when all departed wearing happy smiles in their faces. The candidates will hold a meeting and dance at Community Hall tomorrow nite. Music by "The Revelers."

American Legion Dance

There will be a dance on Armistice Night, November 11, at Lutz Hall, given by the members of Benjamin I. Berry Post of the American Legion. Special entertainment will be assured all who attend and a good time will be had by both young and old. Tickets will be on sale in a few days, so reserve that night to attend the American Legion dance.

Entertainment Committee, C. O. Garrison, Chairman.

Mrs. Roy Bogle of Lordsburg was here for the week-end, attended the reception of the Grand Matron and visited old Carrizozo friends. Mr. and Mrs. Bogle resided at Coyote for many years, during which time Roy was superintendent of the pumping station for the S. P. He met with an accident about 6 months ago by falling from a high scaffold and had to be taken to the S. P. Hospital at San Francisco, but he has recovered sufficiently to be able to attend to business again and is rapidly gaining his normal health.

Mrs. J. C. Jones and Mrs. E. E. Clarke of Tucumcari were guests of Mrs. F. L. Elliott and Mrs. C. A. McCammon last Friday.

Alamogordo ladies who attended the meeting of the Woman's Club of Carrizozo last Friday, were: Mesdames F. C. Rolland, J. E. Farley, N. D. Snyder, A. A. McNatt, J. R. Green and Ferrie Shelton.

This office is in receipt of a newsy letter from Samuel Miller of Long Beach, Cal. It contained a snap-shot of his lovely home at that place; also a newspaper clipping we'll run if space permits. Mr. Miller says his wife is slowly improving from her recent illness; he also sends their best wishes to their friends here, and says they hope to see us some time in the future.

Mother M. Hilda, Provincial Superior of the Sisters of Mercy with headquarters at Cincinnati, Ohio, visited the Sisters of Mercy at Santa Rita's Convent in Carrizozo, Wednesday and Thursday. Mother Hilda has over one thousand sisters under her jurisdiction and ninety-one convents to visit annually. The Mother Provincial was accompanied by her assistant and secretary, Mother M. The Jericho Dance

The Fourth Jericho Club dance at Lutz Hall last Saturday night was well attended considering the fact that there were several other events being on at the same time over town. The Revellers gave excellent music, the dance fans had a good time and the Jericho Club has side stepped its November dance in courtesy to the Woman's Club of Carrizozo which organization has announced its dance for Nov. 23. The Jericho Club hereby announces its next dance for December 31, New Year's Eve, when we'll again be seeing you.

What Does the Governor Mean, State Control of Teachers?

We are quoting Gov. Seligman in what he said at most places on his trip through this section of the state. While he advocates taking the teaching profession out of politics, does not his words convey the meaning that it would throw their chances entirely to the mercy of politics? The teachers are wondering just what he means - here is his statement:

"I believe that provision should be made in the law that a list of qualified teachers should be kept in the state department of education and that when a vacancy occurs in any county in the state, the position must be offered to the eligible teacher next on the list."

This, in the opinion of the teachers, would mean that the power to contract with teachers would be taken entirely away from local boards and placed that appointive power directly in the hands of the politicians. While on one hand, he professes to be in favor of taking the matter out of politics, his real attitude is to throw it deeper in and it does not require a master mind to see it.

Republican Women's Club held its second meeting at the Courthouse Monday afternoon at 3 p. m. Mrs. Hobbie, the president, called the meeting to order. Mrs. French gave an instructive talk on the Lame Duck Session. Miss Melans spoke on Party Loyalty and concluded with the following parody-

Loyalty to G. O. P. From county and from state From Nation wide and great There comes the challenge strong 'Tis loyalty, loyalty, loyalty to G. O. P. Hoover is our man, We'll soon possess the land, Through loyalty, loyalty Yes, loyalty to the G. O. P. O, hear ye brave, the sound The elephant trumpets around, Hear the challenge now 'Tis loyalty, loyalty, loyalty to G. O. P.

Arise to dare and do Come all Republicans true, Come old members and new Show loyalty, loyalty Yes, loyalty to G. O. P. Let Dillon's banner float, Sound forth the bugle note, Our victory we dot Through loyalty, loyalty Yes, loyalty to G. O. P. Our respects we pay To local candidates today We know the challenge old Of loyalty, loyalty, loyalty to G. O. P.

While on toward victory we aim, Our platform we proclaim Throughout our own domain, 'Tis loyalty, loyalty, loyalty, Yes, loyalty to G. O. P.

The next regular meeting will be held at the Court House Monday at 3:30 p. m. A good meeting will be held and refreshments will be served. We anticipate a good, enthusiastic crowd. The following program will be given-

Timely Comments on a Recent Democratic Speech - A. L. Burke Our Schools, the Foundation of Citizenship - Miss Eva Rose. The Business of a Public Servant - Ernest Key, Visitors welcome; County Candidates especially invited to be present.

Dan Ortiz was in from his homestead at the head of the Malpais last week-end.

Shining Stockholm

Scene on Stockholm's Quays.

Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.

STOCKHOLM is celebrating, this year, the one hundredth anniversary of the opening of the Gota canal which connects the Swedish capital with Goteborg on the North sea, 245 miles across the kingdom.

Even without its party adornment, which it has donned for the celebration, Stockholm is a city that fairly shines. Its quays are the city's front doors, with steps always freshly scrubbed. Under brilliant summer sun, even the cargoes of many of the harbor's sailing craft, moored in front of royal palace, town hall, and house of parliament, glisten, for they are laden with countless cords of silver birch, the city's fuel.

Every year, in gorgeous midsummer, floral regalia, Stockholm stands faultlessly groomed to receive only a few score American visitors, while other continental capitals, included in customary tourist itineraries, are thronged with thousands from western shores. The average traveler does not decide casually upon a trip to Stockholm, nor, unless he comes directly from New York by ocean route, does the American always arrive in the most amiable frame of mind. It is a long, hard journey from western or southern Europe to the historic city founded seven-centuries ago—as a fortress to resist the forays of Baltic pirates.

From Paris, for example, unless one selects the speedy and exhilarating airplane mode of travel, the major part of one day must be spent on the train to Amsterdam; thence there is an all-night journey to Hamburg, then another full day on the train to Copenhagen, and finally, by train, ferry, and train again, a second night is required to reach one's destination.

Stockholm's prosperity, like that of the entire country, is founded in large measure on forests—the city's name, Isle of the Log, suggests it—but there is no evidence of this in external appearances. There was a time when the metropolis was built of wood, and it required six disastrous conflagrations, recurring over a period of two and a half centuries, to convince its citizens that their safest insurance against flames lay beneath their feet.

City built of and on Granite. Stockholm today is built of granite, upon granite foundations. A landowner blasts his building material from the site of his proposed structure, and by the same operation makes his cellar. The result is a city of somber, unadorned gray-stone apartments and business buildings, conveying the impression of having been erected for eternity.

Architecturally one enters a new world on reaching Stockholm. No slightest suggestion is to be found of that classical Greek influence so conspicuous in most of the capitals and chief cities of southern, central and western Europe.

For twelve years Stockholm labored on its town hall. It was finished, as planned, for formal dedication in 1923, the four hundredth anniversary of the beginning of the reign of Gustavus Vasa, Sweden's first hereditary ruler.

The hall, in contrast to the customary granite, is built of exceptionally large red bricks. Its interior is as impressive as its exterior. On one side of a great inner court is the famous blue room, rising from the ground to the full height of the building. This is used for official banquets and similar civic affairs.

Here, each year on a Sunday in August, a picturesque event is staged, when awards are made to Stockholm's great army of workmen farmers, one of the most interesting groups to be found in Europe.

The Swedes are noted for their love of the soil and all that it produces, and this passion for growing things cannot be stifled by the circumstance of metropolitan existence; so the city has set aside countless acres of suburban territory for conversion into garden plots, and these are rented to workmen for the equivalent of $5 for a summer season.

Here the laborer builds a tiny cottage—one room and porch, usually. He can buy a complete house ready-made for $100 and set it up like a jig-saw puzzle. All summer he and his wife and children live on their "little farm." He continues his work in shipyard or factory, but early in the morning, before he goes to his job in the city, and when he returns in the afternoon, he joins his wife in hoeing the vegetables, training the roses over the doorway, cultivating the dahlias, pansies, violets, and sweet peas.

Garden Prizes Awarded. Toward the end of the summer the housewife is kept busy canning and preserving the produce of her dollhouse garden, while the husband concentrates his efforts upon the flowers.

On the appointed Sunday in August each family takes its prize products—blossoms, fresh and canned vegetables, and fruit—to the blue room. Here the women, arrayed in the peasant attire of their native provinces, display the results of their summer recreation and diversion.

These workingman gardens were introduced during the pinching years of the World war, when Sweden was more or less isolated and when all food products commanded fabulous prices.

Although the emergency no longer exists, the gardens are continued, not only because they are financially successful—the vegetables raised each year are valued at more than half a million dollars—but because they have promoted the health and happiness of the working classes and have contributed materially to the attractiveness of the capital's environs.

The "little farms" are a special boon to the children of the working classes, who must store up energy for those long, dark hours of fall, winter, and spring schooling. Judged by American standards, the lot of the school-boy or girl in Stockholm is one of the most unenviable in the whole world of education.

School life begins at the age of six. The hours are trying and Saturday is like every other week day. In winter, of course, the pupil must get up and dress by artificial light, and he starts for school while the street lamps are still burning. He begins his day's task at 7:45; at 10:35 he goes home for breakfast, returns to the classroom at noon, and is dismissed at 2:35 or 3:30 according to his age. In mid-winter it is dark at the later hour.

After the first snowfall, children living in the environs of Stockholm make their way to school on skis.

Fond of Study and Sports. Under such circumstances, it is natural that the children of Stockholm should take their studies somewhat more seriously than children in American cities; yet, when the summer vacation season arrives, no youngsters in the world enter upon their outdoor frolics with greater joy. The children of the wealthier classes accompany their parents to summer homes outside the city, many of them situated on the countless islands which dot Sweden's Baltic shore line; yet even here they pursue their studies in natural history with the zest of a sport.

One of the distinguishing characteristics of the Stockholm youth is his fondness for sports, with a special predilection for that most graceful of all exhibitions of skill, javelin-throwing. Association ball (played with a round football), in which the head is used very largely as the propulsive force, is the national sport of the country, while bicycle endurance races, skiing and skating, and boating in summer are also extremely popular.

Social Life in the Winter. When the long days begin to grow short, when the well-to-do middle class and the aristocracy return from their country estates, when the autumn rains set in, and the lights begin to twinkle in apartment windows in the early afternoon (only the very wealthy can afford to live in private homes in Stockholm), the social life of the city awakens from its summer sleep.

Then comes a long succession of dinners, musicales, theater parties, opera parties, and suppers. At least one feature of this Stockholm social life would meet with the hearty approval of the average American man of affairs: there is no such obligation as a dinner call. Swedes do not visit informally, nor would it ever occur to a Stockholm woman to telephone a friend and say that she expected to call. One goes to a friend's home only when he or she has been especially invited; but, having accepted such an invitation, he obligates himself to reciprocal entertainment. Thus the many-weary winter road begins.

The most distinctive feature of a Swedish repast is the smorgasbord (sandwich table), variously described as a "super-super hors d'oeuvres" or a concentrated delicatessen store, and a general assault on all the rules of diet. To count calories while feasting at a smorgasbord would require the services of an expert accountant equipped with several adding machines.

Southwestern Briefs

Arizona's twenty-eighth annual fair is scheduled for Oct. 24 to 30.

Bids were opened for work on ten miles Tucson-Nogales highway, starting twenty-two miles south of Tucson, Ariz., and ending at Santa Cruz county line.

An emergency relief loan of $90,800 was made to the state of New Mexico by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, according to advices from Washington. Gov. Seligman states he will make known where the money will be spent when it is received.

Deer hunting will be allowed in four new state game refuges in New Mexico. Those to be opened are the Twin Springs, Eagle Nest, Magdalena and Council Rock protection areas. In addition hunting will be allowed in other refuges customarily thrown open.

Through Yavapai county (Ariz.) mining on the whole is not manifestly active. There are several properties showing signs of real energy. One of the foremost prospects is that being engaged in by the Hassayampa Gold Mining Company in the Walnut Grove district.

The Arizona State Banking Department has practically completed its contract for disposal of 10,000 goats from the Kingman area. The goats were sold I. O. B. Kingman at 55 cents per hundred pounds, the average of the goats shipped being about 94 pounds per head.

The Hot Springs, New Mexico, High school is financing its band and buying school books from the proceeds of their football games this year. They report a net of $46 from the first two games with Hatch and Las Cruces. There was an $85 crowd out for the Cruces game, of which the Las Cruces team received $50.

The Roosevelt water conservation district, which has operated against many discouraging obstacles, announces a cut of $1 an acre foot for water for fall planting. This is expected to result in an increase of acreage of grain and alfalfa in this, the second largest irrigation project in the Salt River Valley of Arizona.

A total of 220 miles of roads are to be built in six Indian reservations in northwestern New Mexico and northern Arizona at the cost of $174,000, with funds from the emergency construction act. This was the announcement following a conference here of J. P. Kinney, director of forestry for the Indian bureau, and superintendents of Navajo and Zuni reservations.

The drought that prevailed during the first three weeks of September was broken during the last week of the month, and according to the record at New Mexico State College, 1.37 inches fell during that week. The Jornada range reserve reports from two to four inches, indicating that the rainfall was heavier in the mountain regions, where rain would do the most good.

Five of Arizona's sixteen territorial governors were born in the month of October. John P. Hoyt, fourth governor, born Oct. 6, 1841, in Ohio; Lewis Wolfley, eighth governor, born in Pennsylvania Oct. 8, 1839; Nathan O. Murphy, tenth and fourteenth governor, born October 14, 1849; John M. Goodwin, first territorial governor, born Oct. 18, 1854, in Maine; and Benjamin Franklin, twelfth governor, exact date for birth unknown.

Deer are plentiful in the Kaibab forest this year, says a communication received by the Flagstaff (Ariz.) Game Protective Association from Supervisor Walter G. Mann of Kanab, Utah. Hunters are allowed one deer, either a buck or a doe. Supervisor Mann reported fawn deer, crated and ready for shipment from the nearest railroad point, may be had this year for $25 each. Fifty fawns have been raised at Fredona and Kanab, he said.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has purchased all of the remaining unsold bonds of the Middle Rio Grande Conservancy district, according to word received by Senator Sam G. Bratton's office. The unsold bond issue approximates $5,784,000. The price at which the bonds were sold was 90 cents, the telegram to Senator Bratton's office from his secretary in Washington, said. It is expected that more than 100 persons will be given work after active construction again gets under way.

Within the past few weeks two separate groups of scientists have visited Arizona for special duty. One group from Europe was studying desert plants at the desert laboratory at the University of Arizona, and the other, also from Europe, were astronomers who were making an inspection of the Lowell observatory at Flagstaff. Arizona not only has more to interest the seeker of scenic attractions, but from the depths of the Grand Canyon to the tops of her highest peaks and across her enchanted deserts there is a wealth of material for scientific investigation unlike that found anywhere else on earth.

A line of nineteen airways beacons which will guide planes across northern Arizona, are in official operation between Kingman and Winslow.

The "painted desert" area of 52,000 acres has been added to the Petrified forest national monument in Arizona under a proclamation signed by President Hoover. An announcement by the Department of the Interior said, 22,322 acres already were government owned and the remainder privately owned. The land is a few miles north of the Petrified forest. A strip a mile wide connects the two areas.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, C. 1931, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for October 30

THE CHRISTIAN AND LAW OBSERVANCE

(World's Temperance Sunday)

Romans 13:1-7; 1 Corinthians 9:19-27; Galatians 3:1-10; 1 Peter 2:11-17. GOLDEN TEXT—Be not deceived: God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. Galatians 6:7.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Laws for Me to Keep.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Why We Have Laws.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Observing the Law for the Sake of Others.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Church and Law Observance.

I. The Christian Obligation to the State (Romans 13:1-7).

The believer is a citizen as well as a Christian. The instructed Christian will be loyal to the state as well as to the church.

1. Obedience to rulers (v. 1-4). This obligation is upon all Christians. The civil government is ordained of God and rulers are his representatives.

2. The spirit in which the Christian renders obedience to rulers (v. 5). He should regard it as his obligation, not only because it serves a good purpose but because it is morally right.

3. Method of expressing this obedience (v. 6, 7).

a. In payment of taxes. The citizen who enjoys its benefits is morally bound to support the government.

b. Payment of duty upon merchandise, and license fees. The business exchange between nations must be regulated, and for this the citizen should pay.

c. Veneration to magistrates, "fear to whom fear." Those who have the fear of God in their hearts will venerate their rulers and representatives.

d. "Honor to whom honor" is due. Civil officers should be honored because of the ministry they perform.

II. The Christian's Self-Control (1 Cor. 9:19-27).

The true way to get people to be free from intemperance is to help them gain self-control.

1. Paul's own life and example (vv. 19-23). Though free from all men, he made himself servant unto all.

2. The Isthmian games (vv. 24-27). Paul uses these popular games to illustrate the need of self-control.

a. Life is a race (vv. 24-25). In order to win a prize there must be self-denial and definite exertion. The Christian obtains life by contact with Jesus Christ through faith (John 3:16; 3:36; 5:24). This he must possess before he can begin the race.

b. It is a fight (vv. 26, 27). The Christian has a real antagonist—his carnal nature.

III. The Christian Life and Walk in the Spirit (Gal. 6:1-10).

Those who are freely justified in Christ will live and walk as follows:

1. Restore the sinning brother (v. 1). "Restore" is a surgical term which means the placing back of a dislocated member to its place. We are members of the body of Christ and the sinning of a brother ought as really to give us pain as the dislocation of a member of our body.

2. Bear one another's burdens.

3. Bear our own burdens (v. 5).

4. Support teachers of God's Word (vv. 6-9). It is incumbent upon those who are taught in the Word of God to give of their means for the support of the teacher (1 Cor. 9:14).

5. Be not weary in well doing (v. 9). Some fall of the reward because they quit even when the goal is near.

6. Work for the good of all men.

IV. The Christian's Behavior as a Sojourner and Citizen (1 Peter 2:11-17).

1. As a sojourner or pilgrim (vv. 11, 12). Christians are pilgrims on the earth. They are journeying to their eternal home in the heavens. Such citizenship demands

a. That they abstain from fleshly lusts (v. 11).

b. Behave so as to glorify God before the world (v. 12). The word "conversation" means behavior.

2. Behavior as citizens (vv. 13-17). He has a responsibility as a citizen on the earth. As such he should

a. Obey all requirements of civil rulers (v. 13). His duties as a citizen he performs as the Lord's free man, not through servile fear.

b. Honor all men (v. 17). We should see in every man the image of God, and in that sense give honor to him.

c. Love the brotherhood (v. 17). The brotherhood is composed of those who are children of God by faith in Jesus Christ.

d. Fear God (v. 17).

e. Honor the King (v. 17). This has a peculiar significance because in all probability the wicked Nero was then reigning as emperor.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

Many a man lives as though he thought God was afar off.

You may understand love, but you cannot overestimate it.

For the faithful man the way to heaven is right straight ahead.

When Faith grows lacking it takes a frying pan. Doubt carries a box of sardines.

Neal's Mother Has Right Idea

Within a few months there will be no more feverish, bilious, headachy, constipated, pale and puny children. That prophecy would surely come true if every mother could see for herself how quickly, easily, and harmlessly the bowels of babies and children are cleansed, regulated, given tone and strength by a product which has proved its merit and reliability to do what is claimed for it to millions of mothers in over fifty years of steadily increasing use.

As mothers find out from using it how children respond to the gentle influence of California Fig Syrup by growing stronger, sturdier and more active daily they simply have to tell other mothers about it. That's one of the reasons for its overwhelming sales of over four million bottles a year.

A Western mother, Mrs. Neal M. Todd, 1701 West 27th St., Oklahoma City, Okla., says: "When my son, Neal, was three years old he began having constipation. I decided to give him California Fig Syrup and in a few days he was all right and looked fine again. This pleased me so much that I have used Fig Syrup ever since for all his colds or little upset spells. It always stops his trouble quick, strengthens him, makes him eat."

Always ask for California Fig Syrup by the full name and see that the carton bears the word "California." Then you'll get the genuine.

Youth's Peculiar Diet. Delbert Fadden, age nineteen, of Seattle, Wash., says he dined on bugs, berries and frogs for 15 days "just for the fun of it." The boy had gone into the heavily forested Olympic peninsula without weapons, maps or compass on a photographing jaunt. He liked it so well that when his food ran out after 15 days he lived on what he could find for two weeks more.

Taking Their Measure. "Do those people who moved into the flat across the hall seem to be desirable neighbors?" asked the man. "No," replied the woman. "I watched everything that came out of the moving van. They haven't a thing that we would care to borrow."

Our superstitions now arise from what we know of science.

Why Voters Are Discouraged

New Mexico State Tribune:

This is the season of false values and spurious prophets shouting from the housetops. It is the campaign season when many men seek to gain control of government. The public seems apathetic, or discouraged. Absorbed in its own vital problems it is paying little attention to the politicians. Which is dangerous. The political situation in New Mexico has never been more confusing. It is hard to see thru the smoke barrage into the heart of issues. It is difficult to tell what it is all about. Who will really befriend the people? Who has an honest program to offer? What party and who have a sincere interest in the many problems that will arise within the next two years. Who is right or wrong in this magnificent political controversy that now occupies the public stage?

Of one thing the Tribune is convinced, that Seligmanism is an overwhelming menace to good government. We say that despite the fact that the liberal Senator Cutting will again support Seligman, despite the fact that the democratic party appears united behind him and despite the fact that the Brotherhoods have given him their unqualified approval. With all this we still cannot stomach Seligman. We have never been more earnest than when we say that Arthur Seligman is definitely killing democracy in New Mexico. The man is usurping all the prerogatives of free people. He has craftily gathered into his hands the powers of an autocrat. He has devised a personal tax supported machine that devotes its energies to his success because it means bread and butter to them.

As result he is democratic national committeeman, governor, candidate for governor, president of the fiscal agency, chairman of the fiscal board, and potential candidate for United States senator. As result there is no democratic party, only Seligman.

As governor he has continued to act in private capacity that accrues profits from his official capacity as governor. He trampled on constitutional mandates by demanding the resignation of every board in the state, directly throwing every institution into partisan politics. He defied the constitution by refusing to name his appointees in time for confirmation by the senate. He has in short brazenly and crudely flouted the safeguards of democracy and has set himself above the law. We challenge any Seligman supporter to deny that statement or to justify his action.

Efforts to Bring Insull Back From Greece for Trial—New Canada Tariff in Effect—Big Political Guns Are in Action.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

WHEN Samuel Insull, the former utilities magnate under indictment in Chicago, was about to take a plane from Italy to Greece in his flight from justice, he wrote to his wife: "I am feeling as if I were going on a real adventure." He was from Saloniki he hustled down to Athens and within a few hours of his arrival at the Grand Bretagne hotel he was taken into custody by the Athens police. At first he was merely detained on a question as to his passport; then, at the formal request of the American consul, he was arrested and taken to jail, where he was given a comfortable room. By the next morning his legal representatives had got to Premier Venizelos, at whose instance the attorney general examined the affair, found there was no legal basis for Insull's detention and ordered his release. The convention of extradition between the United States and Greece was not in force, the instruments of extradition not having been exchanged. Twenty-four hours later Insull was told he was free to go where he pleased, so far as Greece was concerned.

There was a possibility of Insull's being handed over to the United States on the strength of a former treaty, and the whole matter was to be laid before the court of appeals in Athens. Of course the American government was determined to try in every legal way to bring him back for trial. Consul Morris in Athens was instructed to keep close track of him.

Developments in the Insull affair, far too numerous to be detailed here, included the decision of the banking committee of the senate to investigate the collapse of the Insull utilities system. James H. Stewart, federal operative who had charge of the committee's inquiry into the New York Stock Exchange last summer, went to Chicago vested with broad powers to inquire into all phases of the situation. Martin J. Insull, indicted with his brother and who was arrested in Orillia, Ontario, was released under bail pending extradition proceedings.

UNCLE SAM is now getting a large dose of the tariff medicine he has been giving the rest of the world for many years. At midnight of Wednesday the new Canadian tariff increases against United States products went into effect in accordance with the trade agreement between Canada and the United Kingdom, Southern Rhodesia, the Irish Free State and South Africa, reached at the recent imperial conference. The principal items on which Canada has raised the tariff against the United States are:

1. Iron and steel products, including steel plates, steel sheets and also structural shapes.
2. Anthracite.
3. Leather products of all kinds.
4. Gums of many varieties.
5. Chemicals of all kinds.
6. Toilet accessories, including perfumes, soaps and bath salts, in which there has been a huge trade between the United States and Canada.
7. Cotton goods.
8. Processed and fabricated steels, such as cutlery, machinery and wire products.

Previously these and all other American products had been entering the Dominion under Canada's general tariff rate. Canada has been the best customer of the United States, but now much more of her trade will go to Great Britain.

AS THE Presidential campaign drew toward its close major parties unlimbered their biggest guns and the oratorical battle grew loud and fierce. For the Republicans Calvin Coolidge opened the week with an address at a rally in Madison Square garden, New York city. He came out squarely and forcibly for the policies of President Hoover and said he was convinced the public welfare required that gentleman's re-election. The former President attacked the Democratic leadership in congress for attempted raids on the federal treasury, assailed Franklin Roosevelt for failing to announce his stand on the soldier bonus question, and warmly praised Mr. Hoover for his moves to maintain "sound money."

Former Senator Jim Reed of Missouri, selected by the Democrats to reply to Mr. Hoover's Des Moines speech, went to that Iowa city and attacked the President in his well-known scathing manner, dwelling at length on both his policies and his personality. He declared the Chief Executive's address was "a series of incorrect statements and unjustifiable deductions," and especially contradicted Mr. Hoover's statement that only the steps taken by the administration kept the country from going off the gold standard.

Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa, himself no mean orator and denouncer, answered Reed on that gold standard matter, accusing the Missourian of flagrantly misstating the facts and citing figures that he said upheld the assertions made by Mr. Hoover.

The President himself, still in his new fighting mood, made his second big speech Saturday evening in Cleveland, and there was a chance that he would yield to the importunities of his followers in the Middle and Far West and deliver several more addresses before election day. His opponent, Governor Roosevelt, was busy in his own state during the week but found time to make a radio address over a nationwide hookup in reply to a questionnaire on the subject of federal relief to those in distress, increased appropriations for public works as an aid to employment, unemployment insurance, and child welfare. It was announced that Governor Roosevelt's next trip would be through the South and Middle West, though why he should go into the southern states is a puzzle.

SENATOR DAVID A. REED of Pennsylvania, who went to Europe in the summer at the direction of President Hoover principally to find out the attitude of Great Britain and France on the Manchurian question, returned and immediately reported at the White House. To the press he denied categorically that any bargain or secret agreements had been made by the United States with either Great Britain or France on the course to be taken in handling the Lytton report and other developments in Japan and Manchuria.

The Chinese National government has announced that it accepts the Lytton report as a basis for negotiations, but a large group of influential and powerful Chinese has declared against it, asserting that "it is suicidal for China to place further reliance in the League of Nations, which is exposed to impotence and inability to uphold right and justice."

Dictator JOSEF STALIN has taken steps to scotch the plot to bring about his downfall, which was mentioned in this column some weeks ago. The Communist party of Russia has expelled from its ranks as traitors Leo Kamenev and Gregory Zinoviev, two once powerful friends of Lenin, and they were locked up in Lublanka prison. Twenty other Bolsheviks were ousted along with them. Kamenev was formerly commissar of the Moscow district and president of the people's commissar and is a "brother-in-law" of Leon Trotsky, the foe of Stalin. Zinoviev used to be commissar of the Leningrad district and president of the Communist Internationale. Both were accused of plotting against Stalin in 1927 but were forgiven when they abjectly apologized. The decrees of the central executive committee of the Communist party says that both commissars were discovered by the Gaysayon or secret police to be falsifying documents in order to compromise the work of the party's control committee.

EUROPEAN powers are still intent on bringing about disarmament—each for the other fellows—and their various plans seem as far apart as ever. Norman H. Davis, American delegate to the disarmament conference in Geneva, is striving to reconcile the various demands as applied to naval strength, and was in London during the week trying to find a compromise between the British thesis of many and small ships within global tonnage figures and America's desire for fewer and bigger ships. Mr. Davis, however, did not confine himself to naval matters, but discussed disarmament generally with Prime Minister MacDonald and Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell, first lord of the admiralty. He also met Sir Walter Layton, England's leading economist, and talked about the coming world economic conference.

N. H. Davis

Premier Herriot of France also was in London, conferring with Mr. MacDonald on Germany's demands for arms equality. He has devised a disarmament plan providing for a consultative pact which would include the United States, and he consulted Mr. Davis about this.

CAPT. WOLFGANG VON GRONAU and his three companions who were making a round-the-world flight came to grief in the Indian ocean. But their radio was working after their plane was forced down by a broken water pump, and the British steamer Karagola responded to their call and rescued them, taking them and their flying boat to Rangoon.

NORTHERN Ireland is having serious trouble with its unemployed. For two days a mob of ten thousand jobless men raged through Belfast, fighting the police and setting fire to many large buildings. After one man had been killed and more than thirty seriously wounded, the disorder was quelled. But in a few hours the rioting was resumed with increased fury and it was necessary to call on British troops. The Enniskillen Fusiliers and the king's royal rifles were sent in a hurry.

TWO years ago the American Bar association appointed a committee on criminology to study gangsters and their operations. The committee has now made its report, stating that organized crime by gangsters is based largely on supply and demand and that prohibition "brought about a demand for the services of outlaws such as we never had in this or any other country prior to prohibition."

The committee consists of George A. Bowman of Milwaukee, chairman; Herbert Munro of Detroit and William D. Knight of Rockford, Ill.; all prosecuting officers.

ANNOUNCEMENT was made by the Reconstruction Finance corporation that it had deposited $3,000,000 with the Treasury department as capital for its agricultural credit corporations at Minneapolis, Minn., and Wichita, Kan. Both these regional concerns were expected to start immediately making loans to farmers and stock raisers in their respective districts. The loan agencies in Columbus, St. Louis, Spokane and Salt Lake City already had their funds.

ALL candidates for the house and senate are being polled as to their views on prohibition by the Woman's Organization for National Prohibition Reform. The replies so far tabulated show that 347 candidates of all parties are for straight repeal, 42 are evasive and 23 are opposed to repeal. Out of 228 replies from Democratic candidates, only one was opposed to straight repeal. Out of 170 replies from Republican candidates, on the other hand, 105 were for repeal, 42 evasive, and 23 opposed to repeal.

DR. ALEXANDER FLEXNER, director of the new Institute for Advanced Study which is to open in a year and will be located in or near Princeton, N. J., announces that Prof. Albert Einstein, discoverer of the relativity theory, has accepted a life appointment as head of the school of mathematics. The eminent scientist will occupy a home in Princeton with Mrs. Einstein; will be in residence at the Institute annually from October 1 to April 15, and will make a yearly visit to Germany.

ANNOUNCEMENT was made also of the appointment of Prof. Oswald Veblen, generally recognized as one of the leading American mathematicians and until now professor of mathematics at Princeton university, as a professor in the institute's school of mathematics.

The institute, it is announced, will be exclusively a postgraduate university, entirely separated from the "collegiate" activities of existing American higher education. It will be devoted to scholarship and research in the spirit of pure science without outside distractions.

IN THE presence of high government officials and Communist party leaders, Soviet Russia formally opened at Dnepropetrovsk the largest hydro-electric plant in the world. The development represents an investment of 230,000,000 rubles (nominally $110,000,000) and will have an ultimate capacity of 750,000 horsepower with an annual production of 2,500,000,000 kilowatt hours of electricity. It will supply electricity for 16,000,000 people in an area of 70,000 square miles, including the Donetz coal basin and the huge Dnepropetrovsk metal works.

During the ceremonies Col. Hugh L. Cooper of New York, who designed and supervised the construction, and six members of his staff were decorated by the government.

HUNGARY has a new premier, Julius Goemboes, and there is not a count or a baron in his cabinet. In his first address to parliament he promised to restore liberty for the people, freedom of the press and the secret ballot. What was more remarkable, this man who has been notorious as Hungary's greatest Jew-baiter, renounced his anti-Semitic views.

"I want to tell the Jews I have revised my opinion of them," he said. "I realize now that they showed the same heroism and patriotism during the war and after as other Hungarians. Those Jews who are willing to share the fate and responsibilities of Hungary, I welcome as Magyar brothers."

VORWARTS, the Social Democratic newspaper of Berlin, accuses former Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm of plotting to overthrow the German republic and restore the monarchy with the help of Chancellor von Papen, General Von Schleicher and President Von Hindenburg. It says the prince is to be proclaimed regent of Germany at a propitious moment, and that at the same time former Crown Prince Ruprecht of Bavaria will be proclaimed head of a Danubian kingdom. "A product of pure phantasy," says the government at Berlin.

Modern Contract Bridge

By Lella Hattersley

No. 23 Redoubling

WHEN an opponent has doubled your bid or your partner's, it is never advisable to change the declaration unless a really advantageous switch can be made. If your partner is a sound bidder, do not worry about flying to his rescue. More than likely he has no desire to be rescued. He might even be prepared to redouble, in which case he would most bitterly resent your needless attempt to "save" him.

Many players are entirely unaware of the highly advantageous odds in favor of a redouble at contract. These favorable odds are produced by the huge increase of trick values in a successful doubled and redoubled contract.

The following table is computed on the assumption that the declarer will never fail to make his contract by more than one trick. This assumption may be considered arbitrary, but between partners who thoroughly understand each other's bidding only an abnormal distribution should result in the loss of more than one trick when one or the other has redoubled.

BONUS INCREASE ON SUCCESSFUL REDOUBLE

WHEN NOT VULNERABLE	No Trumps	Majors	Minors	100	200	300	400
1.....	120	110	90	100	100	100	100
2.....	190	170	130	100	100	100	100
3.....	260	230	170	100	100	100	100
4.....	330	290	210	100	100	100	100
5.....	400	350	250	100	100	100	100
6.....	470	410	290	100	100	100	100
7.....	540	470	330	100	100	100	100

WHEN VULNERABLE	No Trumps	Majors	Minors	200	300	400	500
1.....	170	100	140	200	200	200	200
2.....	240	220	160	200	200	200	200
3.....	310	290	220	200	200	200	200
4.....	380	340	260	200	200	200	200
5.....	450	400	300	200	200	200	200
6.....	520	460	340	200	200	200	200
7.....	590	520	380	200	200	200	200

To illustrate how these odds work out, let us assume that a player not vulnerable has bid six hearts and been doubled by the opponents. If he fails to make his contract by one trick he would pay a penalty of 100 points. Had he redoubled his penalty would have been increased only by 100 additional points. Now, assuming that the declaration was successful, doubled and redoubled, the winning player would score 720 below the line and 100 above for his successful contract. In short, the redouble would have increased his score by 410 points. Supposing that the contract would hinge on the failure or success of one finesse or one drop, the odds favoring success in a redouble are 4.1 against 1.

Should the bidding indicate, however, that there might be a wide swing, either above or below contract, it should be borne in mind that the bonus for over tricks is generally only one-half as great as the penalty for additional under tricks. Therefore, if the information has not been more or less exact, it would tend to diminish the advantage of a redouble.

Slams

When contract was a very young game, players new to its strategy and somewhat overawed by the unheard-of necessity of having to bid for a contract to score it, grasped at every straw that might help them in the novel and hazardous enterprise of bidding for a slam. "Slam cues" of every sort and description were invented. Spectacular methods some of these were, by which slams could be arrived at only after an intricate and horribly confusing series of bids, which purported to show the location of all the aces and (in some systems) even kings.

Fortunately, for the good of the game of contract, it was not long before more thoughtful types of players came to recognize the inherent weaknesses of this supposedly technical "slam bidding." It soon became apparent that by the time partners succeeded in locating all the aces in the pack, they had usually managed to push each other up to a slam bid which failed because of the lack of additional honor-cards and distributional values to back up their ace.

Modern contract has discarded all the outworn methods of "slam bidding," and recognized the fact that the only way to arrive at a sound slam contract is just as one arrives at a sound game contract—by partnership information, trick valuation and deduction.

A few basic rules which must always be adhered to for successful slam bidding are:

From your first declaration to your last, concentrate on showing dependable honor-trick values.

Be sure that every bid you make has some sound reason for its existence. Never give a direct inference for a slam unless you have some slight doubt as to its favorable outcome and wish to invite your partner's cooperation in deciding the matter; because the most important rule of all is this: When you are sure of a slam, bid it, do not ask your partner to bid it for you.

Mother of 7—Still Young

THE woman who gives her organs the right stimulant need not worry about growing old. Her system doesn't stagnate; her face doesn't age. She has the health and "pep" that come from a lively liver and strong, active bowels.

MIXTURE OF COLOR IN THE SAPPHIRE

Stone Long Famous for Its Wide Range.

Sapphire, the birthstone of September, may be golden, yellow, pink, brown, black, gray, blue, green or violet, and occasionally has no color at all! The term, to the lapidary, means any corundum except the ruby, and includes the oriental amethyst, the oriental peridot and the oriental topaz as well as the brilliant, lustrous blue stone to which people through the ages have given the title "sapphire."

Corundum is a combination of oxygen and aluminum, created in the volcanic fires of the dawn of time, says Nature Magazine of Washington. Like Cleopatra, "age cannot wither nor custom stale" its infinite variety, and yet the wide range of colors is caused merely by minute impurities which creep into the atomic structure of the stone.

It is one of the marvels of the mineral kingdom that a crystal occasionally is blue on one-half the length of the crystal and yellow on the other half; or that sometimes the blue and red alternate in thin stripes to impart to the crystal a purplish plum color.

And it is equally marvelous that some stones, viewed through the length of the crystal, appear blue usual cathartic. You'll be rid of all that poisonous waste, and you haven't weakened the bowels. You'll have a better appetite, and feel better in every way. The constant use of cathartics is often the cause of a sallow complexion and lines in the face. And so unnecessary!

Would you like to break yourself of the cathartic habit? At the same time building health and vigor that protects you from frequent sick spells, headaches, and colds? Get a big bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin today. Use often enough to avoid those attacks of constipation. When you feel weak and run-down or a coated tongue or bad breath warns you the bowels need to be stimulated. Give it to children instead of strong laxatives that sap their strength. It isn't expensive.

Good Word for Starlings

Stomachs of 14 starlings killed near Norristown, Pa., showed the contents consisted of 93 per cent of clover weevils, a destructive plant pest. The record was sent to the state department of agriculture in defense of its claims that starlings are beneficial to farmers.

No household is complete without cloven can openers; one in every place you look for it.

Constitutional Amendment No. 1. A Joint Resolution Proposing an Amendment to the Constitution of New Mexico Authorizing the Exchange of State Lands in the National Forest for Lands of the United States of Equal Value as Provided by Act of Congress Approved June 16, 1931.

Whereas, the State of New Mexico is the owner of certain areas of land within the National Forests within said State, and said lands are scattered throughout the State in small tracts and are not so located as to enable the State to administer them for the best purposes.

Whereas, there are large areas of land within the State now owned by the United States.

Whereas, an exchange by the state of its timbered lands for a larger area of grazing lands of equal value would secure to the state part of the remaining federal public domain for lease or sale to private parties and thereby increase the taxable property in the state.

Now, Therefore, the following amendment to the constitution of New Mexico is hereby proposed to Article XXI by adding the following section which shall be numbered Section 11 thereof: Section 11. This State and its people consent to the provisions of the act of Congress, approved June 16, 1931, providing for such exchanges and the Governor and other state officers mentioned in said act are hereby authorized to execute the necessary instrument or instruments to effect the exchange of lands therein provided for with the government of the United States; provided that in the determination of value of the lands now owned by the state of New Mexico, the value of the lands, the timber thereon and mineral rights pertaining thereto shall control the determination of value. The legislature may enact laws for the carrying out of the provisions hereof in accordance herewith.

Constitutional Amendment No. 2. A House Joint Resolution proposing to amend Sec. 4 of Art. 4 of the Constitution of New Mexico and fixing the time of holding an election thereon. House Joint Resolution No. 16. Approved March 15, 1931. Be it enacted by the legislature of New Mexico: Sec. 1. That it is hereby proposed to amend Sec. 4 of Art. 4 of the constitution of New Mexico, said article being entitled, "Legislative Department," so to read as follows: "Sec. 4. No bill shall be introduced at any regular session of the Legislature subsequent to the 15th legislative day, except the general appropriation bill. Bills to provide for the current expenses of the government, and such bills as may be reported to the Legislature by the Governor by special message, or bills relating to the emergency or necessity requiring such legislation."

School Carnival at Capitan

On the night of Oct. 7, in the Capitan Gymnasium, the annual carnival was given by the faculty and students of the Capitan Public Schools. It was one of the most successful events in the history of this school, every one did his or her part and the school cleared $75.00 from the undertaking.

The hall was artistically decorated in colors which were those belonging to the high school and grade classes. About 18 booths were arranged in the gymnasium each of which contained such amusements as Bingo, target shooting, candy stores, etc. The wild man and the boxing matches by students and men of the town, also clowns and balloons to please the children, made up an evening of rare enjoyment and the faculty and students wish to thank all those who contributed to the success of the carnival.
