HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Hi School Reporter:

Last Wednesday the Seniors took a turn at entertaining the assembly. The program was very good despite the numerous mishaps which occurred. On Tuesday the school held its election. Everyone was required to register. We did our best to make it like a regular election. Our efforts were repaid by the evident enjoyment and good derived from it. Saturday the Grizzlies took a trouncing at the hands of Capitan. It was a thrilling game from the spectators' point of view. There was only one score made. One of the Capitan players broke thru our secondary defence and ran 60 yards for a touchdown. A good game but we hope you'll improve for the next one. Wednesday the Juniors presented a one-act play entitled "A Big Mistake." It furnished enough laughs for us all. Everyone enjoyed it immensely.

Hitch-Hiker Killed in Store at Vaughn

E. Vaughn, Nov. 4 - An attempted break-in at the Barnett store here Thursday night brot death to a hitch-hiker.

Wm. Barnett, proprietor of the store, hearing a noise in the store took his gun and investigating, found a man attempting to enter the place.

Barnett fired and the man was fatally wounded. Officers later identified him as James Vannoy of Altan, Ill.

A coroner's jury was called Friday to investigate the death and the jury freed Barnett of blame in the killing. Officers are attempting to locate relatives. No arrangements have been made for a funeral.

Broke His Wrist

Monday morning at his home on the east side, Saturnino Chavez, Jr., broke his left wrist when practicing pole vaulting. The pole snapped and he fell with his entire weight on the arm. The member was set by Dr. Johnson and Sat is getting along nicely.

Come! Look! Laugh!

Beantown Baby Show, at Old Courthouse Auditorium, Friday at 7:30 P. M., Nov. 18. Given by P. T. A. of Lincoln. Admission, 10 and 20c.

American Legion Dance

There will be a dance on Armistice Night, November 11, at Lutz Hall, given by the members of Benjamin I. Berry Post of the American Legion. Special entertainment will be assured all who attend and a good time will be had by both young and old. Tickets will be on sale in a few days, so reserve that night to attend the American Legion dance. Music by "The Revelers."

Entertainment Committee, C. O. Garrison, Chairman.

L. T. Griffith, editor of the Tribune at Lovington, N. M., was in this vicinity the latter part of last week on a deer hunt. Mr. Griffith said he was Ancho bound having heard there were a lot of deer in that country. He also paid the Outlook a sociable call while in town.

LOCAL MENTION

Carrizozo Defeats Hondo

The Carrizozo Football team played Hondo at Hondo last week and emerged victorious.

Hondo put up a game battle, tried hard but was never able to seriously threaten Carrizozo's goal line. Max Brady and Montes for Hondo were outstanding. The lone touchdown for Carrizozo was scored in the first half with just one half minute to go. The Carrizozo boys missed opportunities to score by failing to take advantage of breaks in their favor. Score Carrizozo 6, Hondo 0.

NOTICE

Members of the Woman's Club of Carrizozo are hereby reminded of the coming bazaar to be given by the club in December, the date of which will appear later in this paper. Also bear in mind that each member is expected to donate to this event. A good idea would be, to paste this notice up in a conspicuous place as an additional reminder. Mrs. B. L. Stimmel, Chairman.

Bakery Changes Hands

With the beginning of this week, the Carrizozo Bakery, which has served Carrizozo and vicinity so faithfully for nearly two years, changed hands, the purchasers being Cathey & Reaves, who come to us well recommended from Fort Worth, Texas. On assuming ownership of the bakery the Outlook wishes to introduce them to our people and as to their efficiency, we wish to say that they are both experienced in their line of business and are bakers of the first grade.

Cathey and Reaves are both good live-wires and their wives are here with them. Like the former owners, Trimble and Beckett, they are here to stay and will cast their lots with us. As we have done in the past, so we again wish to appeal to our people to call on our new residents and not only give them the glad hand, but to give them the patronage which is justly due them.

We regret to lose Trimble & Beckett from our business circle and still hope that they will remain with us and establish themselves in some other line.

At the same time, we extend them the hand of welcome to our new people and wish them, as we did the former owners on coming to our town, the best of success in their future business endeavors.

Elected Municipal Judge

Mr. John Gutknecht, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ziegler, was elected to the office of Municipal Judge at Chicago during the recent election. Mr. Gutknecht ran on the Democratic ticket and Chicago went over the top.

Rev. Edmundo Alvililar of Alamogordo held services in the local Spanish Methodist Church this week.

Tony Yurcic of the Helen Rae Gold Mines was here yesterday, attending to some business matters in connection with his company's interests. He came down from Nogal in the morning and left for the mines in the afternoon.

Have Your Dollar Ready when Roll Call worker calls on you—Or mail it direct to Roll Call Chairman at White Oaks.

Help those less fortunate than yourself by freely giving your dollar and becoming a member!

REMEMBER—That 50c of every dollar membership remains in Lincoln County Chapter Treasury for Local Relief and the other 50c helps National Red Cross carry on Emergency Relief wherever need-d. DO YOUR BIT!

CONGRATULATIONS

The election is over and the mighty decision made by the greatest Nation on earth, has been registered at the ballot box. We would be selfish indeed and the action would merit extreme condemnation if we neglected so great an opportunity which leaves the way open to us, as good losers and good sports, to offer a word of congratulation to the winners.

Since Tuesday, we have been treated with a much appreciated amount of courtesy from our Democratic friends, with the exception of a few, who forget to be good losers when reverses come to them. But on the whole, we have been handled very nicely. We congratulate the winners and at any time, if needed, we promise to help and assist in any movement for the good of our community.

To those who have suffered defeat, we wish to say that they are to be commended for the gallant fight they made in the face of a hopeless situation. They worked faithfully and deserve much credit. Nationally, it would seem that the Republican party is doomed, but such is not the case, for out of the ashes of the past there will arise a new party with new leaders which will appear four years hence and be stronger than ever.

Then let the grouch return to his tent and the kicker return to his shell, and as neighbors, regardless of past political differences, let us face the future with confidence.

Selman-Bonnell

At the Chapel in Fort Stanton last Sunday, Marshall Selman and Miss Mildred Bonnell were united in marriage with the Rev. Bishop Howden, F. B., of the Episcopal Church of Albuquerque performing the ceremony, in the presence of parents and close friends. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Bonnell of Glencoe and is one of the most popular young ladies of that locality. The groom is an employee of the State Highway Commission. They will make their home in Lincoln County, presumably in Capitan.

J. M. Beck has received word from his son Marshall, who is in Pittsburgh, Pa., to the effect that he will leave Pittsburgh Dec. 15, and will pay a visit to his grandmother, Mrs. F. Mueller, at St. Louis, after which he will come to Carrizozo and spend the holiday season with the home folks. Marshall has a good position with the Westinghouse Corporation at Pittsburgh.

Women's Missionary Society

of the Methodist Church met with Mrs. F. L. Boughner Tuesday with Mrs. Doyle Rentfrow and Miss Dia Herringa as assistant hostesses. This was the regular monthly meeting of the Society; 25 were present.

P. T. A. Minstrels

Rehearsals for the P. T. A. Minstrels were held last night at the Hi School Auditorium and the next will be held at the same place next Monday night. All interested will please attend.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Shelton were here Tuesday from Coyote and voted, leaving for home after exercising that right and privilege.

Mrs. R. V. Holloway of Oscura was a Carrizozo visitor this Thursday.

Pick Warden of Ancho was a Carrizozo business visitor on Wednesday of this week.

LYRIC THEATRE

R. A. Walker, Owner

Saturday, Sunday and Monday - Will Rogers in "Down to Earth;" also Serial "Danger Island" and Comedy.

W. S. Armstrong of Coyote was a Carrizozo visitor to cast his vote on Tuesday of this week.

Mrs. Kathryn Bilbo and children and Mrs. Clarence Spence mother of Mrs. Bilbo, visited relatives and friends here this Monday.

Barber Oscar Snow had quite a disappointment while out deer hunting last week. He took a shot at a big buck and wounded him, but he got away.

A. P. Jones and son Curly, ranchmen from their ranch beyond the Malpais, were visitors in town Tuesday of this week.

Among those who killed their deer were Henry Hoffman and Tennis Bigelow. Please accept our congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stewart and infant son of the Coyote country were Carrizozo visitors Tuesday of this week.

Will Rogers in "Down to Earth" at the Lyric Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Famous Sayings

"I'm glad the election is over."

Capitan Wins Championship

The football championship goes to Capitan for Lincoln County.

On the local gridiron Saturday last Capitan took the Carrizozo football team to a neat trimming and succeeds Hondo as Lincoln County Champions.

Mirelez starred for Carrizozo. The outstanding event was the work of Lumpkins of Capitan who made a 60-yard dash for a touch down and as it developed the only touchdown of the game.

The work of Lumpkins was outstanding and he was backed by a team that played that with their usual dash and courage.

Carrizozo did some smooth passing and completed three good passes but as a whole their playing was sluggish and not up to standard and it is freely predicted that next Saturday when the team faces Weed on the local grounds that new faces will appear in the starting line-up. Score Capitan, 7; Carrizozo, 0.

The gate receipts were small for such a game and it is hoped that this attendance will step up as the boys need the encouragement of the home people and people and they need the money. -Contributed.

Colonial Dance

given by the Woman's Club on Wednesday night, Nov. 23 at Lutz Hall. Music by "The Revelers."

Wear your costume if you have one. Good time for everybody. Novelties, Confetti, etc.

Prize for the best waltz. Help make this your best Thanksgiving dance. Music by "The Revelers."

A MESSAGE OF PATRIOTISM

El Paso Times:

During the campaign, President Hoover impressed the country with his grave earnestness. Few who heard his speeches could doubt that Mr. Hoover believed most intensely that the welfare of the nation demanded a continuation of his administrative guidance. The fervor of his utterances bespoke a sincerity which none could gainsay. Hence his disappointment must have been all the more painful when the election returns informed him that the majority of the voters had turned from him and had elected his opponent.

But the president was one of the first to recognize his defeat. Then, notwithstanding his disappointment, he sent to Gov. Roosevelt this telegram:

"I congratulate you on the opportunity that has come to you to be of service to the country and I wish for you a most successful administration. In the common purpose of all of us I shall dedicate myself to every possible helpful effort."

It was a gracious message from the vanquished to the victor. It bespoke that good sportsmanship which inevitably is identified with a gentleman. Above all, it fairly breathed a spirit of statesmanship and of highest patriotic purpose.

As with that other much-condemned president of whom the people now speak with reverence, Woodrow Wilson, Herbert Hoover will rank higher in history than he does in public estimation during these present days of passionate discontent. But however we have disagreed with his policies, whatever faults and shortcomings and failures and mistakes we have charged against him, let us equal his good sportsmanship with our own. Let us freely acknowledge that, when all has been said, against him that truly can be said, the fact remains that we can point to no man who is more earnestly consecrated, heart and soul, to the service of our country, and to the welfare of our people and to our redemption from distress, than is Herbert Clark Hoover.

Sanchez-Aguilar

Yesterday morning, in our neighboring town of Tularosa, occurred the marriage of Raymond Sanchez to Miss Sophia Aguilar. The bride is the daughter of Postmaster and Mrs. Clovis Aguilar of that place and is very popular. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Felipe Sanchez, old-time residents of Lincoln County, but now of Tularosa. He is also a brother of Abe Sanchez, fireman at the local roundhouse stationery. Their friends here join with their many friends in Tularosa in wishing them an unmarred happiness.

The Republican and Democratic Headquarters were places of much activity and amusement during the closing days of the campaign. On election night, the heating stoves at both places were knocked down in the confusion and milling around. As is usual in election time, some good fist fights were in evidence as the final episode, but the boys have forgotten their grudges and are good friends once more.

World's Largest Organ

The organ in the convention hall at Atlantic City is now virtually complete and is by far the largest organ in the world in number and sizes of pipes, wind pressure used, and horse power employed. This was necessary, due to the immense size of the auditorium, which is the largest building of its type in the world and has a total seating capacity of 41,000. The organ is being built by the general bond funds issued by the city of Atlantic City for the building of the auditorium proper and its equipment, and its cost is $368,000.

How would you like to lose your double chin and your too prominent hips and at the same time make your skin so clean and clear that it will compel admiration?

Get on the scales today and see how much you weigh—then get a bottle of Kruschen Salts which will last you for 4 weeks and costs but a trifle. Take one-half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—cut down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—and when you have finished the contents of this first bottle weigh yourself again.

Now you will know the pleasant way to lose unightly fat and you'll also know that the 6 salts of Kruschen have presented you with glorious health.

But be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at any drugstore in the world and if the results one bottle brings do not delight you—do not joyfully satisfy you—why money back.

Favors Love-Making School

Love-making should be taught, not learned by experience, declared Prof. A. E. Heath, of Swansea, Wales, in an address at the social hygiene council summer school. "We should not dare to play the violin without knowing anything about it," he said, "and yet we do not seem to think it necessary to learn this important art of love-making. There would be more hope if appeals to the younger people are made on esthetic rather than moral grounds," he added.

President Orders Tariff Action to Help Employment—Steel Corporation Sees Business Improvement—Doings of the Presidential Campaigners.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

FURTHER protection for American industries and American workmen against certain foreign competition may be expected in the immediate future. Some days ago Frank X. Eble, United States commissioner of customs, began a series of hearings on the complaints of manufacturers that the dumping of foreign products on our markets at ruinously low prices was threatening our industries. Mr. Eble heard the testimony of representatives of various industries and examined the foreign goods they took to Washington. He was urged to correct the evil by ordering higher import duties.

Then President Hoover, fulfilling promises made in several speeches, directed the federal tariff commission to open at once an investigation into the foreign competition that is distressing the manufacturers and causing increased unemployment in many American communities. Mr. Hoover's letter was directed to Chairman Robert L. O'Brien of the commission and appended to it was a list of sixteen industries that are being adversely affected, together with the names of the cities and towns that are injured by the influx of foreign goods. The letter said:

"You recognize that currencies in thirty countries have now depreciated from 5 to 65 per cent, which has reduced the standards of living in those countries and greatly widened the difference in cost of production between the United States and those localities. I would therefore be obliged if the tariff commission would expedite this matter in order to afford all possible relief to unemployment in these communities. I urge this expedition because of this possible retardation of increasing employment of our people. If it shall prove that the differences in cost of production between here and abroad in these industries have altered the basis of the tariff duties, I wish to receive recommendations of the tariff commission at the earliest possible moment."

Included in the injured industries are rug and grass rugs, brushes, leather gloves, silverware, jewelry, chemical products, electric light bulbs, cutlery, pottery, rubber boots and shoes, iron and steel products, lumber products, canned vegetables and fish and dried beans. The list was compiled by the Commerce department.

DIRECTORS of the United States Steel corporation came to the front boldly with action that indicated they could see real improvement in the business condition of the country. They voted to declare the quarterly dividend on the preferred stock, although it was not earned during the previous three months, and no margin of profit had been shown for the issue since September of last year. Payment of the dividend requires the outlay of $6,304,010, and the net loss for the quarter ending September 30 was announced as $20,371,709. But a special supplementary report was made showing gains in production since last July and still better gains in the shipments of finished steel. Three months ago the directors had warned the holders of preferred stock that continuance of the dividend payments would depend on improvement in business conditions.

Wall Street had been tense with excitement in advance of the dividend announcement. Probably no group of men could be assembled in Wall Street whose combined opinion would be more highly respected by the financial community than the Steel directors, representing, as they do, the strongest banking interests in the country.

GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT returned to Albany from his campaign tour of the Middle West and the South with the assurances of Democratic leaders that the southern states had definitely returned to the Democratic fold. His speaking program from this on was somewhat uncertain but probably was to include talks in Boston, New York and other eastern cities.

President Hoover made a quick trip to Indianapolis where he spoke Friday night and then hurried back to Washington to put the finishing touches on addresses to be delivered in Newark, N. J., and New York city. The latter he was said to consider one of the most important of his campaign. Some of Mr. Hoover's advisers were urging him to make another tour of the Middle West, the real battle ground; others thought he should make a big transcontinental swing that would land him at his home at Palo Alto, Calif., for election day. Al Smith's speech in Newark, which was broadcast by radio, was listened to with intense interest. He devoted a great deal of it to the liquor issue, and that had the effect of bringing Senator Borah out into the open with the flat assertion that he would vote for Hoover, though he indicated he was not going to take part in the campaign. The Idahoan characterized Smith's address as "the most effective talk for President Hoover in this campaign."

SEVERAL hundred thousands of unemployed men from many parts of England and also from Scotland and Wales moved in groups on London during the week and concentrated there to demand that parliament rescind the "means test" which requires a recipient of the dole to furnish proof that he has no other means of support. There were few untoward incidents in their march for the authorities of the towns through which they passed provided them with food and shelter. But it was feared there might be rioting in London, so the regular police of the metropolitan district and civilian volunteers sworn in as special police, some 40,000 in all, were mobilized to keep order. This was due mainly to the fact that the Communists were active among the marchers and, as always, were eager to stir up trouble.

One of the preliminary incidents was a lively street fight between jobless men and the British Fascists organized by Sir Oswald Mosley. The millionaire baronet, addressing a meeting in the East End, had been heckled, and, at the head of his black-shirted followers, was on the way to their headquarters, near the parliament buildings, followed by a seething mob. Near Trafalgar square Sir Oswald's men broke ranks and engaged in a sharp battle with their tormentors.

During a debate in the house of commons on a motion of censure for the government's dole policy—which motion was defeated—Prime Minister MacDonald declared the means test could not be abolished but promised that some phases of the policy would be reconsidered. These, he said, might include the items of pensions and savings, which under the present arrangements must be spent before an unemployed person is eligible to receive benefits.

NEITHER the French nor the British government wishes to take up the matter of the war debts to the United States until after the Presidential election. The French chamber of deputies voted to postpone the debate on the question by deciding to give prior consideration to domestic matters. Several days previously Premier Herriot had indicated that France intended to pay an installment on its debt on December 15, but it was revealed that no provision for such a payment had been made in the French budget.

Questioners in the house of commons tried to learn the British government's intentions regarding the American debt, but Neville Chamberlain refused to say anything definite.

One Conservative asked Chamberlain to promise there would be no payment until the house had debated the matter, but he replied that he was "not in a position at present" to discuss the matter. Other members jumped up to ask further questions, but the chancellor refused to answer.

WHEN the assembly of the League of Nations meets in special session the third week in November to consider the Manchurian problem and the Lytton report, both Japan and China will be well represented. Yosuke Matsuoka will be chief spokesman for Japan, and he and his two colleagues will be in Geneva with a free hand to act as they deem wise. They may even decide that their country must withdraw entirely from the league.

Dr. Yuen-Li Liang

Chief representative of the Chinese Nationalist government will be Dr. Yuen-Li Liang, who passed through the United States recently on his way to Geneva, stopping briefly in Washington. He was formerly judge of the Shanghai court of appeals and is a finished diplomat and a strong debater.

The line of strategy Matsuoka will follow is indicated by his statement: "I will talk to the league as though talking to God. I will tell what I think is just and will let it go at that. I will not deal with men; I will deal with God. God transcends all racial hatreds and understands any language. If the league can also face God and do what I think is for the ultimate good of humanity I am satisfied."

IT WAS announced in London by the India office that the third Indian round table conference would open in London about the middle of November and probably would continue until the Christmas holidays. Neither Mahatma Gandhi nor any member of the All-India Congress party is to be among the Indian delegates unless the preliminary list already issued is enlarged. Nor will there be any women delegates. Several princes will attend but most of those rulers will be represented by their prime ministers. The conference sessions will be in the building of the house of lords and Mr. MacDonald will act as chairman.

ITALY has been busy celebrating the end of the first decade of Fascism, and Premier Mussolini has been making interesting addresses in Turin, Milan and other cities. The Turinese have been the most active of the Duce's opponents, but he moved among thousands of workers in factories without escort and made profers of peace to them, urging them to join the Fascist party. Then, in an outdoor speech heard by half a million, the premier put forth a plea to the United States to cancel or reduce the European war debts. Continuing with international matters, he declared Germany's demand for armament parity was fully justified but that the Germans must wait until the world disarmament conference breaks up in what he predicted would be failure. He said Italy would remain a member of the League of Nations because "the league is very sick and we cannot abandon it."

Without mentioning France by name he made what was interpreted by the crowd as a challenge to that nation—whose frontier is only 40 miles west of there—in his statement that "Turin has never been afraid of war."

After being banqueted in Turin by Crown Prince Humbert and his bride, the Duce went on to Milan where he predicted that within ten more years all Europe would go Fascist and that before the end of the century Italy would again be the leader of civilization.

The premier said there was no need to waste time reviewing the past or thinking of it—that his thought always was for the future.

"In these days of unrest and uncertainty elsewhere in the world there are countries far older than this which do not know what their future will be. We know. We are sure of our future and are advancing always straight ahead with courage and determination."

He expressed the opinion that sometimes his words were misunderstood abroad, adding: "I am desirous of peace and tranquility, but I also am anxious for new battles and fresh combats."

SINCE Raymond Robins dropped out of sight on September 3 not a clew to the whereabouts of the noted Chicago reformer, philanthropist and publicist has been found. His friends cannot understand how a man of such prominence could thus disappear and have no renewed the search for him. However, they fear that he was slain and not merely kidnaped as was at first believed.

Robins was a powerful figure in Chicago civic affairs for many years. He was a leader of the Progressive party and in 1914 was its candidate for United States senator from Illinois. He has a home in Maline and another in Florida. Leading people of the country were his friends. He was a noted orator, a temperance worker and a supporter of prohibition, but never was known as a snoop, his friends say, although he waged war on bootleggers in the Florida county where he resided.

That Florida rum runners might have waylaid him in New York seemed improbable to many, but it is the only theory of his disappearance his friends have. They think a powerful syndicate, having bases in Florida and New York, may be responsible.

COL. AND MRS. CHARLES LINDBERGH have announced that their second son has been named Jon Morrow Lindbergh. The Jon was chosen for a Scandinavian forebear of Colonel Lindbergh, and Morrow in honor of Mrs. Lindbergh's father, the late Dwight W. Morrow. Probably the family will call the baby Jon, those close to the Lindbergh household said.

The family nurse, Betty Gow, returned from Scotland, and was whisked away to the Morrow home in Englewood, N. J., in a station wagon.

LED by Acting Mayor McKee, the board of estimate of New York decided that the project for the Thirty-eighth street tunnel under the Hudson river must be abandoned for the period of the depression. It asked the Reconstruction Finance corporation not to lend the port authority money for the project until the city has a chance to be heard; and it officially warned the port authority that if it tried to go ahead with the scheme they could not allow any streets to be dedicated to the tunnel approach.

IN A Navy day message to the nation President Hoover took occasion to warn the powers of Europe that, if current negotiations for effecting further reductions in world armaments fail, the United States will build up its navy to the full strength permitted by the London treaty.

Diet Didn't Do This!

HAPPY little girl, just bursting with pep, and she has never tasted a "tonic!"

Every child's stomach, liver, and bowels need stimulating at times, but give children something you know all about.

Follow the advice of that famous family physician who gave the world Syrup Pepsin. Stimulate the body's vital organs. Dr. Caldwell's prescription of pure pepsin, active senna, and fresh herbs is a mild stimulant that keeps the system from getting sluggish.

If your youngsters don't do well at school, don't play as hard or eat as well as other children do, begin this evening with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This gentle stimulant will soon right things! The bowels will move with better regularity and thoroughness. There won't be so many sick spells or colds. You'll find it just as wonderful for adults, too, in larger spoonfuls!

Get some Syrup Pepsin; protect your household from those bilious days, frequent headaches, and that sluggish state of half-health that means the bowels need stimulating. Keep this preparation in the home to use instead of harsh cathartics that cause chronic constipation if taken too often. You can always get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store; they have it all ready in big bottles.

SACRED PIGEONS 'Go Hungry' Thousands of sacred pigeons of Stamboul, Turkey, are joining the beggars in seeking contributions so that they may survive. It has been the custom that every good Moslem, on his way to pray, scatter a handful of grain to the sacred birds. As prayers are said five times a day the pigeons waxed fat. The Turks recently started an economy program however, and among their reductions has been the amount spent for grain for the birds. Weak from lack of food, the pigeons are migrating from the courtyards of the mosques where they have lived since the first two were taken there by Sultan Bayazid in the fifteenth century.

Joan of Arc Flag Flies Once more the flag of Joan of Arc is flying in Rheims cathedral, where she ended her mission. It was a member of her Scottish bodyguard who designed her original battle flag, a reproduction of which has been presented to the archbishop of Rheims by Scottish and English friends of France. The designer of the original was Hamish Polworth, who after serving with Joan's warriors, became a monk and died at Dunfermline abbey.

Beautiful New Zealand Not content with rivaling Switzerland, New Zealand has wonderful fjords as beautiful and impressive as those of Norway, says a traveler. The mountains come down to the edge of the sea and end abruptly in precipices a couple of thousand feet deep, which continue under the sea for another two thousand feet, so the biggest liners can steam there in perfect safety.

What Can You Do For The Pains Of Rheumatism?

Pain Ended In Few Minutes, This Way

It has now been discovered by thousands of rheumatic sufferers that the pains of that distressing disorder can be eased in as little as a few minutes... relief and comfort in almost as little time as it takes to tell!

Doctors advise two tablets of Bayer Aspirin taken with a full glass of water. Then a rest of a few minutes... and that is all. Pain is eased quickly—sometimes almost unbelievably.

Relief comes so fast because of the peculiar quick-dissolving property of Genuine Bayer Aspirin. The tablets you take dissolve almost INSTANTLY in your stomach. And thus you get practically instant relief. The fastest, safer relief—it is said.

EDITORIAL COLUMN

The Election

Voting in both of the Carrizozo precincts, A and B, began early and continued gradually throughout election day.

The total vote in the two precincts was 679, which fell over 100 below the registration. Why this happened, none have been able to explain.

The Democrats carried everything except the County Clerk, Mr. Ernest Key being elected by a nice majority.

Pete Johnson and Ernest Key both carried Carrizozo, but Pete lost out in other precincts and was defeated by a small majority.

Everything being Democratic in the National Election, the radio and other modern conveniences have already so well informed the people, that no word from us would be news to our readers.

The depression, the bonus marchers, and the evil effects of the world war figured prominently in the defeat of President Hoover.

Had it not been for the addresses he made in the different states, the effects of which helped him so much, his defeat would have been more intensified.

With both Houses of the National Legislature Democratic, and with the addition of a President of the same belief, it is better that it is so, for every act of the new administration will be hung on the party in power and they cannot blame anything on the opposition.

We would be poor sports to crab or bellyache over the result for it was the Will of the Majority. And by that, we cheerfully abide.

Neither do we take the President to task for anything, for he made a gallant fight for what he deemed was the right thing in a losing battle. Hoover was a game until the last, and when the result was made known, he wired his congratulations to Gov. Roosevelt.

If the Democrats can rescue the country from the throes of this depression, they will be hailed as leaders of great merit, but if they do this, it will be something they have never done before. During the war and under a Democratic administration, with the many thousands of our boys overseas, had they all been at home during that period, a depression as bad as the one we are now undergoing would have been upon us. During Cleveland's administration, Coxey's and Kelly's armies of idle, hungry men marched on the National Capitol with flaming banners bearing such inscriptions as "Going to see Grover" and other insulting mottoes of lowest disrespect to the President of the United States. Well, it's all over now and the smoke has cleared away, but unless we are making a wrong statement, Dame History will repeat itself.

Mirages Seen No More

Certain parts of Kansas were formerly noted for the number of mirages to be encountered there at rather frequent intervals, but in recent years these interesting sky pictures have disappeared and the reason is said to rest in the fact that the state has been largely planted with wheat and the lack of variety in the landscape gives no opportunity for the formation of a mirage.

In a year of great misfortune caused by economic depression, in which the American Red Cross assumed heavy burdens of relief for the unemployed, the organization also responded to emergency needs in 60 disasters in the United States and its insular possessions.

During the twelve months ending June 30, 1932, the Red Cross gave aid to 75,000 families totalling 338,000 individuals, with expenditures of $2,760,788. These people were in distress because of drought, flood, forest fire, tornado, snowstorm, mine explosion, or other similar great disaster.

Fall Fashions—1932 vs. Gay 90's

FASHION news reports from style centers pertaining to the new autumn mode say that the cigarette silhouette is to rule in new fall frocks for the modern miss, with the full sleeve created to accentuate the cigarette silhouette.
As this study in styles indicates, a full sleeve is just as full of shirred texture under one name as another.
The Victorian vamp of the gay 90's was proud of her leg o' mutton sleeves and this autumn Miss America of 1932 will simply doze on the dolman sleeve. The dolman sleeve is in fact a healthy juvenile balloon-sleeve well on its way to full-blown maturity.
Of course, forty years ago, when the leg o' mutton sleeve was all the rage, cigarettes would never have been mentioned in connection with styles.
The belle of that era did not smoke since the raw tobacco used in making old fashioned cigarettes did not have the mildness which the tanning process gives to the modern cigarette which Miss America of 1932 prefers.
But the descriptive term seems applied quite naturally to the modern straight and youthful silhouette which is inspiring the fall mode.
The dolman sleeve in its design permits the style creators to narrow the bodice lines by crowding the shirred sleeve-top in toward the center of both front and back, thus giving the effect of an eight-inch wide front and back and creating the straight line essential in the cigarette silhouette.

TOKYO REBUILT

Strolling Down a Tokyo Lane.

Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.

IF ONE who witnessed the destruction wrought by earthquake and fire in 1923, returned to Tokyo today, he would hardly recognize the Japanese capital, for on the former debris-strewn site has risen the new Tokyo.

Rebuilt Tokyo is a city of broad streets, of many splendid buildings, of spacious parks. For the tourist it has lost much of its charm; but, after all, it belongs to the Japanese, not to the tourist. Old property lines were obliterated to widen and straighten the streets, because bitter experience had proved that broad streets serve to prevent the spread of fire, and because new knowledge of hygiene taught that the public health demands light and air.

The buildings of the new Tokyo are solidly constructed, to resist both earthquakes and fire. The parks are spacious because the people have taken to athletics, because they still want gardens to wander in, and because huge parks make forever impossible that horror of 1923, when 20,000 people, feeling with their possessions to a small open square, were caught there by the fire and burned to death.

The old wooden bridges that spanned the many canals of the city have been replaced by modern stone or steel and concrete bridges, which, if less picturesque, will not burn and will carry safely the buses which go to all parts of Tokyo.

As most foreigners in Tokyo stay at the Imperial hotel, that is the natural place to start a cursory inspection of this strange new-old city.

Directly opposite the hotel is Hibiyu park. Its great athletic field is almost constantly in use. Actually the boys begin to play baseball there as soon as dawn makes it possible to see the ball.

Beyond the azaleas is an artificial lake, with a great bronze crane and a wisteria arbor and dwarf trees—just what we think of as typically Japanese. Still farther along, there are playgrounds for children and tennis courts and an outdoor gymnasium, with parallel bars and all the usual paraphernalia. This part of the park is always crowded. You see some first-class athletic stunts and can watch excellent tennis, and you begin to wonder whether the artificial lake is not meant for the tourists and the tennis courts for the Japanese.

Girls in School Uniform.

More of Hibiyu park is devoted to the new Japan than to the old; so, also, among the crowds of people in the park, more are dressed in European than in Japanese clothes. The young men playing tennis are in flannels and sweaters; the old men watching them are generally in kimonos and heavy overgarments.

The girls, who so eagerly take part in some of the milder sports, are generally dressed in the blue uniform characteristic of the schools—a uniform which would be appropriate to any American school. If American schoolgirls cared nothing about fashion, if it is raining, as it so often is, these schoolgirls carry ugly black alpaca umbrellas. Their mothers, on the other hand, who are dressed in Japanese clothes, carry lovely, broad-spreading, paper umbrellas, gay in color and at the same time serviceable. If you look down from an upper window on a rainy day, the street seems strewn with lovely flat flowers.

The clothes in Tokyo are always interesting. Most of the people one sees in the main business section are dressed in European clothes, and a large proportion, especially among the young people, throughout the city; but there seems to be no hard and fast rule. You will see a man dressed exactly as he would be in New York talking with a friend who is entirely American as to clothes, except for wooden clogs; and perhaps the third member of the group may wear American shoes, a kimono, and a bowler hat.

But what do these people who have adopted European dress do when they go home? Perhaps the answer is in the architecture of the better class of recently built private houses. The rich man has his European house, but this European house almost invariably has its Japanese wing, where there are no chairs, but soft white mats on the floor; where there is no clutter of furniture and pictures; rather, a single picture, a single spray of flowers, a lovely, low, red lacquer table, and peace; where the beauty of the room lies in the mat texture of the wood used, in proportion, and simplicity and the almost exquisite cleanliness.

They Cling to Their Clogs.

There is no doubt that Japanese clothes are more comfortable than ours, except that the foreigner would always be worried by the shoes. And yet it is these wooden clogs to which the people seem to cling most tenaciously. Shoe shops are everywhere and are among the most interesting for a foreigner, since here are foot-gear for men and women, for girls and maidens and staid married women. Shoes change with the age of the wearer as much as with the purpose for which they are worn. Always of wood or straw, their trimming changes in color and material and shape, so that in a shoe shop, you can study the fashions as they have been ordained by custom.

There are no Paris dressmakers of London tailors who set the fashions as they please. In Japan the cut of dress does not change from year to year, but only from youth to age. Little boys are dressed in sober colors, little girls in the very gayest of flowered kimonos. Then, as girls grow up, they adopt plain colors, subdued and lovely in tint, set off by elaborate obi, or sashes, of heavy brocaded silk.

The most famous shopping street of Tokyo, the Ginza, was utterly destroyed by the fire and earthquake. It is today by no means a beautiful street, its buildings of uneven height and of every kind of architecture.

Here are the great department stores, comparable with similar stores in the United States, often similarly arranged, displaying their goods attractively. They are rather more expensive than other shops, but carry only good quality and have fixed prices. For this reason they are popular with the Japanese and seem always to be crowded.

Bicycles Are Numerous.

The Ginza is banal except for the people; and, after all, it is always the people who make a street. There are very few streets in this world worth remembering empty. The Ginza is always crowded. There are trolley cars and buses and taxis, a few private motors, a rare jinricksha (generally containing a tourist), and countless bicycles. It seems as if most of the bicycles of the world were in Tokyo, and that most of those in Tokyo must be in the Ginza—that is, until you go into another street.

And there seem to be more trick bicycle riders in Tokyo than in all the circuses of Europe and America, only in Tokyo they perform on the street and do not know they are performing. Not only can a man on a bicycle wind his way unconcerned through crowds hurrying in all directions, but he can do it carrying aloft a three-tiered tray filled with bowls of soup.

One goes to the Ginza again and again, partly because it is the place one naturally goes to buy anything, from fruit to a Mikimoto pearl or an umbrella; but principally because it is a wonderful place to get a cross-section of the life of the city.

The Imperial palace, with its vast walled grounds, is the heart of Tokyo. This was originally the palace of the shoguns, who as war lords, felt they should be well protected. They built, therefore, a tremendous moat around the palace grounds, a length of perhaps two miles. Outside of this, several hundred yards from the inner moat, was another, the outer moat, and between the two no building was permitted.

Business Buildings Look Western.

In front of the double bridges leading to the palace is a broad expanse of tree-dotted land, a relic of the open space decreed by the shoguns. It is not cut by boulevards, but still separates the palace grounds from the Marunouchi, the important business section of Tokyo. Here are the railroad station, the great office buildings, the Imperial theater, the banks, all solidly built, all Western in architecture, but all with that subtle and indefinable touch which makes them Japanese.

The Marunouchi, the Nihonbashi, and adjoining districts of the city might be a part of Chicago or New York, except that, on account of earthquake conditions, no skyscrapers are permitted. One or two of the great banks are as fine as bank buildings anywhere, and in the vaults of the Mitsui bank it seems that much of the wealth of the world might be stored, and safely stored.

The new American embassy is a handsome building, on a hill about a mile from the palace, but very near the Gaimusho, or foreign office.

MAKING A LIVING

Deuteronomy 24:14, 15; Amos 8:1-18; Mark 6:34; Luke 12:13-21; Luke 19:1-10; II Thessalonians 3:6-13; I Timothy 6:17-18.

GOLDEN TEXT—I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. Romans 12:1.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus' Idea of Being Rich.

SYNOPSIS—The Right Way to Make Money.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Right Ways of Earning Money.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Christian Spirit in Business.

I. Treatment of Hired Servants (Deut. 24:14, 15).

1. Oppression forbidden (v. 14). The man who hires out is usually poor. The employer should not take advantage of his condition.

2. Foreigners to have the same treatment as fellow countrymen (v. 14). Those who fear God will accord the same treatment to foreigners as to their own countrymen.

3. Servants to be promptly paid (v. 15). The laborer was to be paid at the end of the day. The credit system in these times is greatly to be deplored.

II. Ill-Gotten Wealth (Amos 5:11-13).

1. By oppression of the poor (v. 11). The rich built magnificent houses of the proceeds extorted from the poor. They took the bread out of the mouths of the poor by high rents and taxes—a picture of the conditions of our own day. The prophet assured them that God would interpose saying that they built houses and planted vineyards, but they would not be privileged to live in them nor to drink of the wine thereof.

2. By affliction of the just (v. 12). This they did by taking bribes. Many are today living in luxury from the proceeds derived from bribes.

3. By turning aside the poor in the gates (v. 12, 13). Because the poor had no money to hire advocates, they were turned aside. It is difficult today for the poor to get justice in the courts.

III. Jesus, the Carpenter (Mark 6:3).

While Joseph lived, doubtless Jesus assisted him in the carpenter trade. He is therefore known as the carpenter.

IV. The Rich Fool (Luke 12:13-21).

Mahy today are seeking gold and forgetting God. Those who are concerned with getting riches while neglecting God are displaying utter folly. Observe.

1. His increase in goods (v. 10). His riches were rightly obtained, for the ground brought forth plentifully. It is not sinful to be rich. The sin is sometimes in the use made of riches.

2. His perplexities (v. 17). His land was producing more than his barns would hold. He did not know what to do about it. Had he personally held right views of life and a sense of stewardship to God, he would have seen that his barns held enough for himself and a surplus for the poor.

3. His fatal choice (v. 18, 19). He chose to enlarge his barns and to give up his life to ease and luxury.

4. The awful indictment (v. 20, 21). God called him a fool. Riches furnish neither contentment in this life nor a guarantee of continuance of life. It is not only foolishness, but madness to forget God while heaping up riches.

V. Reward for Laborer (Luke 10:10-23).

When Christ ascended on high, he gave gifts to men (Eph. 4:7-12). At His return to the earth, He will summon his servants to give an account of their stewardship. He will give rewards for faithfulness (vv. 10-12) and will impose judgment and condemnation upon the faithless.

VI. The Man Who Will Not Work Should Not Eat (II Thess. 3:10).

Growing out of Paul's teaching concerning the coming of the Lord, a tendency to idleness developed at Thessalonica. Earnest attention to present duties is the Scriptural attitude toward the Second Coming of Christ. Those who will not work should not eat. This is the right principle governing all charitable work.

VII. Peril of Working for Money (I Tim. 6:6-11).

Those who are working for money fall into temptation and a snare, and are exposed to many foolish and hurtful lusts. The obligation is to see these things and follow after righteousness.

No Comfort There

"When a sinner is dying, he finds no comfort in counting the hypocrites in the church."

True Happiness

Happy are they who have learned the art of abiding within the inviolable protection of the eternal God, the shield on which all arrows are bunted, all swords turned aside, all sparks of malice extinguished.

Fountain of Blessing

Change of circumstances should not affect a Christian's joy. He should be independent of life's sorrows and losses. Then he becomes also a fountain of blessing in the world.

John's Mother Praises Doctor

There isn't a mother living who won't agree that no half-sick child should be the subject for an experiment with medicines of uncertain merit. When your child is bilious, headachy, half-sick, feverish, restless, with coated tongue, bad breath, no appetite or energy, you know that nine times out of ten it's a sign his little stomach and bowels need purging. And when you know that for over fifty years leading physicians have endorsed one preparation for this condition, there doesn't seem to be any reason for "trying" things.

Rich, fruity California Fig Syrup clears the little stomach and bowels gently, harmlessly and in a hurry. It regulates the bowels, gives tone and strength to them and to the stomach; and helps to give your child new strength, energy and vitality. Thousands of Western mothers praise it. Mrs. Joseph W. Hill, 4906 Bedford Ave., Omaha, Nebraska, says: "I'll never forget the doctor who got me to give my baby boy, John, California Fig Syrup. Nothing else seemed to help his weak bowels. That was when he was just a baby. He suffered a good deal before I gave him Fig Syrup, but it stopped his trouble quick. I have used it with him for colds and little upset spells ever since. I consider him a Fig Syrup boy."

Insist on the genuine article. See that the carton bears the word "California." Over four million bottles used a year.

Scientists on Trail of Fire Secrets of Indians

One of the oldest scientific mysteries, the reputed ability of savage priests and medicine men to make themselves immune to fire, is to be investigated this summer by agents of the Smithsonian Institution. Dr. Truman Michelson, of that institution, has been studying the sacred beliefs and folk-lore of the Fox tribe of Indians in Iowa. Among this lore he found the habit of medicine men conducting certain ceremonies to plunge their bare arms into boiling water or to take up and handle burning firebrands. Educated members of the Fox tribe ascribe this trick to the previous bathing of the hands and arms in the juice of an unnamed weed which grows profusely in the prairie country. The juice, it is believed, protects the skin temporarily against heat.—Pathfinder Magazine.

All Concerned in Deal

Forty-five years ago I owned a lumber business in a little country town in Manitoba. We were all desperately poor; a $10 bill looked as large as a bed sheet.

One day a farmer asked me to sell him, on credit, $10 worth of lumber, explaining that he had sold some hogs to the butcher, who could not pay him. The butcher would go good for the lumber bill, he said. I explained to the farmer that I would as soon trust him as the butcher and told him to get the butcher, who confirmed the farmer's story.

I asked the butcher if he sold meat to the Grand Central hotel, where I was boarding. He said he did and that they were owing him money. I told him to go to the hotel and get me two $5 meal tickets on account of his meat bill, which he did, and I furnished the farmer with the lumber.

So the hotel paid for its meat, the butcher for the hogs, the farmer for the lumber, and I for my board without any money passing.—W. J. Palmer, in Wall Street Journal.

HEARD ABOUT TOWN

Rev. L. D. Jordan left Wednesday evening for Corona, to spend two or three days. He expects to return in time for the services at the Baptist Church Sunday morning and evening.

W. H. Broadus, Optical Specialist, will be in Carrizozo Wednesday, Nov. 16, at Dr. Shaver's office. Glasses fitted.

Henry Delgado, former barber at the Carrizozo Barber Shop, was here from Roswell on election day.

FOR RENT—Pasture for 100 Sheep. — Apply to Dr. Carl E. Freeman, Carrizozo, N. M., phone 136 F 2.

Lorenzo Casaus, father-in-law of Estanislao Bello, was here from Claunch on election day.

Economy's Limit

The Misses Julia Romero, Katherine Kelt, Willie Kelt and Mary Lewis have started a new 'Depression Fad' in Carrizozo. They are making burlap skirts and dyes them in different colors. Watch for them tonight at the American Legion Dance.

Mrs. J. A. Brubaker and niece, Miss Florence Bruton were here from Capitan Monday.

Isaac Marquez came in from Tucumcari last night for a brief visit with the Saturnino Chavez family.

NOTICE

My wife having left my home and fireside, I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by her nor is she authorized to make collections on accounts. Harry A. Miller.

Conductor C. A. McCammon exercised his right to vote Tuesday of this week.

Fatness or Slimness

The tendency to be fat or slender is largely inherited, though most persons who are overweight can achieve a material reduction by proper habits of diet and exercise, says Hygeia Magazine. When one is underweight, there should always be an examination for organic trouble.

Defect in Speech

Speech defects occurring in children may be caused by disorders in the emotional life, says Calvin T. Ryan in a Hygeia Magazine article. Among the causes he lists: lack of understanding of parents, inconsistency of treatment, laxity in discipline, dependence, dominance on the part of the parent, a too closely planned schedule, influence of a too dynamic personality, overactivity, quarrelling, partiality, irregularity in the home, and unwise discipline.

Baptist Church

The Pastor is just back from the State Convention, which met in Albuquerque on Thursday and Friday of last week. The meeting was well attended and was one of the best sessions held in many years. Considerable progress was shown by the reports of the work throughout the state. We had good services at Corona, both morning and evening, last Sunday. The B. Y. P. U., though small in numbers, is enthusiastic and the members are planning many things for the near future.

We will have preaching services in Carrizozo next Sunday morning and evening. It is our hope that we will be able to arrange our work that we can have services regularly twice each month hereafter. "Come thou with us, will do thee good."

ANCHO NOTES

The Bridge Club met with Mr. and Mrs. Allan Kille Saturday evening. Hi score was won by John Straley and low score went to Mr. J. M. Frame. Little slams were made by Mrs. G. F. Pruett and S. J. Pruett. Refreshments were served; Mrs. Kille was assisted by Mrs. John Straley.

The Hightower family were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lamb on the Colts ranch near Gran Quivira.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Silvers spent Wednesday in Ancho visiting friends and hunting.

Mesdames Annie Henderson, Eva Wilson and Drura Frame attended the Teachers' meeting in Roswell last week.

5 carloads of cattle and 18 cars of sheep were loaded out last week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Straley, Jr., of Pueblo, Colo., were guests at the Straley home in Luna the first of the week; they left for El Paso where they will visit other relatives before returning to their home.

Dr. Johnson and the County Nurse were up investigating the diphtheria case of the Bateh children; also examining the school children to see if there were any carriers or had symptoms of diphtheria.

Jack Strong of Coyote was a Carrizozo business visitor today.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Frame were here from Ancho Wednesday and made this office a friendly call. Thanks, folks; come again.

The State Game Department

announces that a special season on does and antlerless deer on a restricted area 15 miles southeast of Alamogordo has been authorized by the State Game Commission to relieve a congested over-stocked condition there.

The season will be from Dec. 1 to Dec. 15 and applications for permits will be received at the office of the State Game Department up to Nov. 22. Permits will be issued to the first seven hundred persons filing applications. If seven hundred applications are not received by Nov. 22, permits will be issued thereafter until that number is reached. Only 700 permits will be issued, and these to holders of regular 1932 hunting licenses only. The permittees will be authorized to enter the area in 3 separate groups for a period of 5 days each. The date each permittee may hunt will be specified upon the permit. Where parties are going together the applications should so specify. The first group will enter the area on Dec. 1 and check out not later than Dec. 5. The second group may enter on Dec. 6 and check out not later than Dec. 10. The third group may check in on Dec. 10 and must check out not later than December 15.

Hunters will be required to check in to the west side of Alamogordo, to the north side at the Woods' Ranch and to the south side to the forks of the road to Shelton's Ranch.

Deer with antlers must not be killed, as a sufficient number of bucks will have been removed during the regular season. No turkey may be killed.

No charges for the permit will be made, but applicant must hold a regular 1932 hunting license. Only persons actually intending to go there to hunt should apply, and it will be expected that everyone to whom a permit is issued will go and get a deer.

Elliott Barker, State Game Warden.

Supreme Judge A. H. Hudspeth is here for a few days this week and cast his vote at the election Tuesday.

Egg Is Two Foods

The egg, from the standpoint of nutrition, really is two foods instead of one. The white provides proteins of high biological value for body-building and maintenance. The yolk supplies concentrated fuel for the body, protein and an unusually rich store of minerals and vitamins necessary for growth and development.

Sent Away for Using Scent

Under King Henry VIII of England subjects who used scent were sent away—for varying terms. Henry abhorred perfume and made a law against its use, says Aromatics Magazine.

Possibilities

The nice thing about a year's suspension of international debts is that anything can happen in a year.—Buffalo Courier-Express.

In Praise of Merchants

There are not more useful members in a commonwealth than merchants. They knit mankind together in a mutual intercourse of good offices, distribute the gifts of nature, find work for the poor, add wealth to the rich, and magnificence to the great.—Joseph Addison in the Spectator.

Slumber

A natural sleep of three months is credited to a woman in Brazil. Couldn't any good housewife do that if she had time?—Buffalo Evening News.

Eskimos Like Chocolate

Even Eskimos like chocolate. Arctic traders now carry chocolate bars to trade with Eskimo women and children for walrus teeth, petrified ivory and carvings.
