School Notes

Ola C. Jones, Co. Supt.

Friday, Jan. 19, was spent in attendance at the San Jose Training School at Albuquerque observing work in all the grades. Many new methods of teaching Reading and Language were exhibited. I only wish that all the teachers could attend this school as the training is just as beneficial for the English-speaking child as it is for the Spanish-speaking one.

Saturday was spent in Santa Fe, where beneficial programs were given by the heads of the different departments of the State Department of Education. Vital problems were discussed, the one of most importance being future finances for the schools. A tentative tax program was submitted by a Committee of seven, who represented the tax payers, and was accepted by the group in session.

Tentative agreements of the Committee appointed by the section on teacher training of the New Mexico Educational Association were then submitted, but no definite action was taken. The Committee commended the distinct advance which must be made in teacher certification requirements by the State Board of Education and the State Superintendent.

Dr. Siegfried from the State University discussed an equalization plan whereby the children of the schools throughout the state would be allowed equal opportunities for an education. The distribution of finances would be based on class works which of course would be worked out according to the daily attendance.

Koshare Club

We had a lovely meeting last week. Thelma Shaver presented a small setting called "The Charm of the Old Album." The characters were Bea Romero, Rhoda Freeman, Margaret Shaver and Vena Louise Snow. It carried out the thought of modern, stylish styles of dress, and sensible, old-fashioned dressing. The program will, it is thought, entertain the students in one of the assembly programs sometime this semester. Every girl is at one time or another a leader in a program to entertain the other girls. The club is going to sell a cook book in a few weeks with all the best recipes that the girls have brought, that their mothers considered their best. It is not known at what price it will be sold, but it won't be over 25c.

J Verl Groce was taken ill the first of the week and is now at Hotel Dieu in El Paso. His father, mother, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Groce, his wife, and mother-in-law, Mrs. F. L. Boughner, are there and at the last report, his condition showed an improvement.

Funeral of Chas. Joyce of Carrizozo met in regular session at the home of Mrs. R. E. Lemon Friday afternoon, Jan. 19. The meeting was called to order by the President, Miss Ella Brickley, with Miss Thelma White, the secretary, also being present. "America, the Beautiful" and "O, Fair New Mexico," were the opening songs, after which the Club Litany was read, led by Mrs. Paul Mayer, and followed by the Lord's Prayer. The Pledge of Allegiance was then given and the first verse of the Star Spangled Banner was sung. Roll Call of anything miscellaneous was responded to by a very few.

The Secretary read from correspondence showing that three children were benefitted from Child Welfare donations sent to Santa Fe, where the fund work matched, amounting to $21.00. Three children were fitted in glasses. Miss Ryden's report on the Red Cross sales, was the amount of $90.00.

This being the annual election day for the officers for the ensuing year - the nominating Committee presented the following names -

- President, Mrs. C.W. Young. First Vice-President, Mrs. Clara Snyder. Second Vice - President, Miss Thelma White. Treasurer, Miss Nellie Shaver. Parliamentarian, Miss Ella Brickley.

There being no further nominations from the floor, the above officers were elected by acclamation. A humorous parliamentary drill was then given by Zoe Glassmire, Club Parliamentarian. This was done in the form of a Playette, a small club of women holding a meeting, at which everything was done in a wrong and unbusiness-like manner, and then corrected according to Parliamentary Law.

Those taking part were - Mesdames Paul Mayer, acting as President; R. E. Lemon, acting as Secretary; Zoe Glassmire, Parliamentarian; Meses. J. M. Beck, C. W. Young, Miss Ella Brickley, members.

At the close of the business session, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Nellie Branum, who was in charge of a most interesting program as follows -

- Address by Mr. John E. Hall, "Legislation." Mr. Hall brought out thoughts on what is called the "New Deal." Piano solo, "Fifth Waltz" by Godard. - Leslye Cooper. Vocal solo, with guitar accompaniment, "The Old Spinning Wheel" and "When It's Lamp Lighting Time in the Valley" -

Following the death of our esteemed citizen, Charles Joyce, notice of which appeared in our last issue, the funeral services were held last Saturday afternoon at the Methodist Church, with Rev. Jordan preaching the sermon in the absence of Rev. Lawson, who was ill. A quintet composed of Meses. Gillette, Lemon, Clouse, Young and Miss Cooper, with Mrs. Kelley at the piano, sang two selections, after which the remains were conveyed to the local cemetery, where Carrizozo Lodge No. 30, I. O. O. F., performed the last ritualistic ceremonies for the dead.

The popularity of the deceased was evidenced by the large attendance at the funeral and the beautiful floral offerings bestowed by his many friends. Chas. Joyce was born at Allen, Kans., in 1888 and resided in Kansas until they came to this place in 1915 and for a period of 14 years he was in the employ of the E. P. & S. W. and S. P. railroad companies. After leaving that service, he entered the laundry business in which he continued until his death. He leaves a wife and two daughters, Lala and Marion, besides other relatives in Kansas, most of whom were here for the funeral. The sympathy of our community is extended to the bereaved family.

Won't be Long Now

before the baseball season will be on us and we should be ready to get in the game early. We have plenty of good material here to start with and while we had a good team last year, we should have a better one this year—so let's begin right now to not only talk about it, but act at the same time.—Let's go! There is lots of talk about trying to induce Billy Gallacher to manage the team. We couldn't get a better man for that position. Don't back up on us, Billy, we need you!

Mr. and Mrs. Seaborn Gray and family of Pecos, N. M., visited Mrs. Sarah C. Gray and family for the last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Cochran, J. W. Cochran and Mrs. Harry Charlton were Carrizozo visitors from Nogal last Saturday.

Lovely cakes and coffee were then served by the hostesses, Mesdames Lemon, Lovelace, Johnson, Rentfrow, D. L. Groce, Cooper and George Dingwall. The next meeting will be held February 16, at the home of Mrs. C.W. Young.

SYNOPSIS

A girl finds herself in a taxicab in New York with a strange man who speaks of an awful shock. Escaping from him, she stops at the Biltmore, wondering who she is. Her memory in gloom. She has a wedding ring...

This time when Doris opened her eyes, she discovered that two men were watching her. One was the same old man. He had brought a friend in this time, a person of equally respected years.

"Looks like her, Murphy, all right." "I want to speak to the young lady," said the policeman at Rocky's elbow.

"Who's the young lady?" Rocky did not falter as he lied: "My wife."

Two more men were coming from the car behind. There was a fearful, quiet tread, a breathless expectancy in their walk. Knowing nothing yet, Doris felt terrified.

The officer returned, "I'm sorry to ask you, but you'll have to come to the station with us. We received a tip over the telephone that Diane Merrick was in this car."

"That's utterly ridiculous," Doris felt Rocky's strong grip on her arm. The bluster in his tone was a thinly concealed artifice.

"If you want to arrest us, that's your lookout," said Rocky. The fat-faced cop pushed his face into the car, looking over the wheel at Doris.

The motorcycle cop drew up beside them. "Not so fast." Doris knew then that the policemen were still suspicious.

Her heart was beating wildly. The door opened slowly. A blond impassive face looked out.

"Hello, Swenson. Is Mr. St. Gardens in?" The butler swung the door open.

Doris was bewildered and exhausted child. She sat down in the nearest chair. The room was going round and round.

"Beatrice isn't in. Someone's giving her a dinner and dance at the country club. I didn't stay. I just got in."

"That's the matter?" She could not follow her thoughts. She was being stupid. She could not pretend to be the real Doris any more.

Doris said shakily, "He said, what's her name—a girl who shot her husband at a wedding—am I?"

Lesson for January 28

STANDARDS OF THE KINGDOM

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 6:1-48. GOLDEN TEXT—Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Teaches the People

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus' Rules for Right Living.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Following Christ's Ideal

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—A Christian According to Christ.

- 1. The Characteristics of the Subjects of the Kingdom (vv. 1-12). Those who are members of Christ's kingdom must possess character consistent with the nature of the King.
- 2. Profound grief because of spiritual insolvency (v. 4). The mourning here is not because of external grief but because of the keen consciousness of personal guilt before a holy God.
- 3. Humble submission to God's will (v. 6). This meekness is an outgrowth of mourning over spiritual insolvency.
- 4. An anxious longing to conform to the laws of the kingdom (v. 6). The one who has received the righteousness of Christ as a free gift follows after the purity of character which expresses itself in deeds of righteousness.
- 5. Merciful (v. 7). Subjects of the kingdom now take on the character of the King. He was the pre-eminently merciful one.
- 6. Purity of heart (v. 8). Since Christ the King is absolutely pure his subjects must have purity in order to enjoy fellowship with him.
- 7. Peacemakers (v. 9). The one who has received the peace of God through Jesus Christ will not only be at peace with his fellows but will diffuse peace to others.
- 8. Suffering for Christ's sake (v. 10). The world hated Christ the King. Therefore those who reflect his spirit in their lives shall suffer persecution (II Tim. 3:12).
- 9. Suffer reproach (vv. 11, 12). To have all manner of evil spoken against one falsely for Christ's sake is an occasion for glorying.
- 10. The Responsibilities of the Subjects of the Kingdom (vv. 13-16). The subjects of the kingdom are to live such lives as to purify and enlighten those around them. Their responsibilities are set forth under the figures of salt and light.
- 11. Ye are the salt of the earth (v. 13). The properties of salt are (a) penetrating; (b) purifying; (c) preserving. Since salt only preserves and purifies in the measure that it penetrates, so Christians only, as they enter into the life of the world, can preserve it from decay.
- 12. Ye are the light of the world (vv. 14-16). The subjects of the kingdom should so live as to prevent the way from stumbling and falling.
- 13. The Laws of the Kingdom (vv. 20-49).
- a. As to deeds of righteousness (v. 20). The deeds of the subjects of the kingdom must spring out of natures which are like Christ's.
- b. As to sincerity of life (vv. 21-23). The duty of the subject of the kingdom is to conserve and sustain his own life and the lives of others.
- c. As to organized life (vv. 27-32). The family is the unit of society. The two awful sins against the family are: a. Adultery (vv. 27-30). b. Divorces (vv. 31, 32).
- d. As to oaths (vv. 33-37). Speech is the absolute test of character. The truth, and that alone, is to be uttered by a subject of the kingdom.
- e. As to behavior toward those who do not recognize the laws of the Kingdom (vv. 38-49).
- a. Not revengeful (vv. 39, 40). Turning the other cheek after being smitten, means, after one insult prepares for another without revenge.
- b. Willingness to do more than is required (v. 41). Rather than quarrel with a man for causing you to do that which you cannot help, show willingness to do more.
- c. Be charitable (v. 42). Our hearts should always be open, ready to give to all, worthy or unworthy.
- d. Love enemies (vv. 45-48). Love to our enemies consists in: (1) Blessing them that curse us; (2) doing good to them that hate us; (3) praying for those who spitefully use us. Such behavior affords the positive proof that we are God's children.
- e. Wasting Life Many a person wastes much of life waiting for an opportunity to do some great thing. While thus waiting for large opportunities, they overlook the little daily duties, the doing of which will inevitably fit us for the accomplishment of greater tasks.
- f. A Christian Attitude No matter how much a man may differ from you, that is no reason why you should not maintain a Christian attitude toward him and treat him kindly at every opportunity.

WOMAN'S STATUS INVOLVED

Contrasting views as to the proper status of women were taken in proposals brought up in Germany and in Montevideo (Uruguay) Pan-American conference. Abolishment of woman suffrage is among plans discussed by Nazis for the constitutional reorganization of Germany in the next year.

EDITORIAL COLUMN

Pay the Veterans Instead of Plowing up Crops
State Record:

Richard C. Dillon, former governor, recently made a statement at his home in Encino, endorsing some of the policies of Senator Bronson M. Cutting. The statement as reported in the Encino Enterprise, in part, is as follows:

"If I were candidate for the senate or congress, I would take the position that the bonus is now a legal obligation which must be taken care of not later than 1945; that the government is now trying desperately to get money in circulation; that the debt should be paid as a relief measure, instead of waiting until it becomes due."

"Also, I would favor just compensation for those who were disabled in the war or because of the war. I would endorse Senator Cutting's position as to the veterans. Aside from the justice of it, it would mean the distribution of a vast amount of money in New Mexico. Cutting's position is right. Why not pay the veterans on their adjusted compensation certificates and disabilities—rather than plow up crops."

A good many observers are interpreting the statement to mean that Mr. Dillon would like to be elected to congress and that he would like to make the race on the Republican ticket with Senator Cutting. It was Mr. Dillon's signature as governor of New Mexico on a writ of election—as the federal constitution terms an appointment—which first sent Mr. Cutting to the senate. Subsequently, after Mr. Cutting had been elected for a six-year term, but before he had taken the oath of office, Governor Dillon twice declined to accept his resignation. In view of this record, it is easy to see Mr. Dillon's devotion. Whether his political judgment is equal to his devotion, is another question. We do not believe it is.

Thoughts of Jerusalem

As Christmas passes and the old year gives way to the new, thoughts of Jerusalem, the Holy Land, appear in thousands of minds—and the sentiments those thoughts express are echoed in thousands of hearts.

No place in the world, not even those imagined places beyond the atmosphere of the world we know, has exerted so strong and unfailing an influence on the imaginations as has the Cradle of Christianity.

In Jerusalem, practically unchanged through 1900 years, are the scenes that Christ knew. The age-old hills of Judea remain through time, as do the green pastures and still waters of Biblical significance. The Garden of Gethsemane is there, and the Cradle of Jesus. The River Jordan, by its name the mightiest of all the rivers of the world, flows on as ever, serenely to the sea. And in quiet Palestine, are streets and buildings

BACK TO FARM FOR THE GIRLS

Why don't more women leave the office and go back to the farm? The question is asked by Miss Jessie Coope, assistant principal at McKinley High school, Washington, D. C.

After all, 75 per cent of the people are dependent on the 25 per cent who grow the crops, she explained. And under the heading of agriculture comes dairying and forestry.

According to Miss Coope, a girl need not have completed her general education before she start learning this profession.

Why not start in the back yard? If the soil isn't good, find out why it isn't—if the grass is greener on the other side of the fence, see what you can do to make yours just as green.

For the girl with the scientific turn of mind, Miss Coope suggests agricultural research.

In this case, a girl must have her degrees, must have studied her sciences. This field though hard to get into, is not overcrowded as are many others.

The overcrowded fields? Well, stenography is the most popular selection, I find. Girls think they will have soft jobs as secretaries, but it isn't true. I feel that a knowledge of shorthand and typing is a good thing for every one to have.

Other careers women should try more often are law, accounting and banking. Some banks already have women advisers. Although not thriving now, the insurance business offers a good field for women.

One profession that requires no preparation have a good general and cultural education is travel directing. Many women get a great deal of pleasure out of acting as glorified guides, and jaunting all over Europe.

That brings up the subject of railroad business. There are always places in railroads for women, as ticket agents, and advisers for tourists.

Through questionnaires, the students at McKinley High have stated preferences regarding the professions they would like to enter. The most popular professions chosen were office work, engineering, and commercial work.

Miss Coope has arranged a series of vocational talks by well-known members of various professions. I want the students to realize how much study is required in the professional world, she said.

Washington Digest National Topics Interpreted by William Bruckart

Washington.—While all of us are wondering whether the new year upon which we go recently embarked will see an end to the misery and suffering wrought by the depression; wondering whether the President's program for spending our way out of the depression is going to work; wondering whether our countless domestic problems can be solved—I believe most of us have been overlooking a grave danger that appears now to be rushing headlong at us.

Some months ago, I wrote in these columns observations gathered in Washington that Japan was on a fence, undetermined which way to jump. Japan seems now to have decided. Her course, unless quickly changed, will lead directly and with startling suddenness into conflict with Russia.

But that is not all. Clouds of stormportending intensity are gathering in Europe. They center about another Franco-German conflict. And Russia is watching the potentialities of that situation as well.

Military and naval students here, and there are some of the greatest of the military and naval scientists in the world, located in Washington, assure me that neither a conflict between the Japanese and Russians, nor a Franco-German controversy ending in arms can be localized. Others among the peoples will be drawn in, despite efforts to keep the peace.

A picture of conditions among the powers at this writing, as given me by men acquainted with the details, shows relationships to be something like this:

Russia and France regard Hitlerized Germany as a constant menace and they have understandings that take in Poland and several other lesser states that always have been allied with France as military allies. It might be called an entente. Then, Germany and Japan, each aware of the forces at work against them, have been reported as trying to establish some sort of an agreement to act in concert against Russia. Italy, likewise, is said to be playing one group against the other in an effort to gather something for herself. And behind the scenes, so to speak, the British John Bull is shown as trading for advantages between the two groups, seeking all of the while to avoid a European conflict but apparently out in the open, or nearly so, in support of Japan against Russia.

Present indications are that there will be little meddling with the tax laws this session. The program of the administration, as thus far unfolded, is read by many as avoiding new tax levies until congress returns in January, 1935.

Also, Japan has been buying scrap iron for a year or more. That has been almost the only market for scrap iron which the United States has had, but it has been a good market. Freight cars that are not of sufficient value to be repaired are being broken down and the scrap shipped to Japan.

And last, but of great importance, is the news report that vast deposits of nickel have been discovered in Mongolia. Nickel, as every one knows, is a highly important metal in war plans, and the deposits, as large or larger than those in Canada, are being worked to the fullest.

dent Roosevelt spoke, in a dinner speech commemorating the late President Wilson's birthday, that there was danger of war, he told the country then of a danger that is much more grave than he desires to admit at this time.

But if war does come, all of our problems will be changed at once. Unemployment will disappear quickly; farm surpluses will be absorbed, public works, debts, taxes, credit, currency questions, all of these will be changed, and in their place will come new problems.

President Roosevelt is following out a policy in respect of his dealings with congress when he was forced to call it into extraordinary session last March. Then, through circumstances resulting from the distressed condition of the country at the moment, the President was able to formulate a program for relief only in piecemeal fashion.

Now, the President is doing to same thing. He saw the advantages of the system that he was forced to use once, and is capitalizing again on the personal popularity which he has through out the country. Consequently, his speech, his message on the state of the Union, was in the form of generalities. He made not a single specific recommendation. But they are forthcoming now in numbers. One by one, the projects of his plan move from the White House to the Capitol, there to be accorded support by the tremendous majority which the Democratic party holds. Few, if any, of them will be rejected. The reason is the Democratic majority is afraid to oppose the President.

Politicians, even in the President's own party, are mystified by his wide popularity. And when a politician is mystified, he doesn't know what to do about it! The result is that the President is going to get on as he desires with consolidation or expansion or extension of his recovery plans about as he desires. Republican leaders in congress are not going to raise much of a fuss. Their policy is to let the Democrats take all of the rope they can use, and hope they will trip themselves. Democrats count on the personal popularity of the President to carry them along to re-election, for they don't see anything else to do.

And while the subject under discussion is the personal popularity of the President, Washington observers attached great importance to his personal visit to the halls of congress for delivery of his message on the state of the Union. You will remember, the message was broadcast. Numerous writers and other observers here maintain that Mr. Roosevelt was hardly giving a thought to congress, even though he stood before its membership in person. He was concerned then, he had been concerned before, only with making his position clear with the folks back home. In that manner he succeeded in getting pressure exerted on congress for the things he wanted done.

Present indications are that there will be little meddling with the tax laws this session. The program of the administration, as thus far unfolded, is read by many as avoiding new tax levies until congress returns in January, 1935. In the meantime, the congressional elections will have been held and the average person is not going to get excited about future taxes; the Democrats will be able to campaign without having to fight Republican argument calling attention to increased burdens of taxes.

But more taxes will have to be levied in another year. The President has proposed to congress the greatest peacetime budget in history, a budget that proposes the appropriation of $10,000,000,000. That is almost two times as much money actually as there is in the United States, for the money stock of the government ranges only slightly more than $5,000,000,000. So it means that government credit, government debt will be boosted to new heights. Unless our government wants to do the dishonorable thing of defaulting on its obligations, the notes and bonds it sells on which the money is borrowed for budget use will have to be repaid. The taxpayers will pay and pay and pay!

For instance, when the public debt reached its highest point, about $28,500,000,000, the interest on it amounted to $960,000,000 annually, or about $90,000,000 a month, more than $2,500,000 a day. The figures are stupendous, but they can be larger. If the present average rate of interest paid by the treasury is continued; that is, if the government does not have to pay a higher rate than the 3 1/2 per cent now paid, the interest bill on the debt of about $31,500,000,000 will approach $1,100,000,000 a year. Mr. Roosevelt said in his budget message that the debt ought not be allowed to go higher than $31,500,000,000.

So it seems to me that when President Roosevelt spoke, in a dinner speech commemorating the late President Wilson's birthday, that there was danger of war, he told the country then of a danger that is much more grave than he desires to admit at this time.

FOR BREEDER OF NEW PLANTS Ability Now Recognized by Patent Office.

Granting of plant patents is the newest addition to the activities of the patent office, writes Copway P. Coe in the United States News. While the number of such patents is small, compared with the more than 1,000,000 patents of all kinds which have been issued, they have shown a large increase, since the passing of the plant patent law in 1930. Eventually the protection afforded plant breeders by the new law may prove important in encouraging the development of new plants.

What is the procedure in filing an application for a plant patent? In filing an application for a plant patent the specifications should be in duplicate and the drawing also, where colors are involved. Color drawings must be made on heavy (two or three ply) Whatman paper (or equal), in permanent water or oil colors. Where color is not a variation upon which the plant depends for its patentability the drawing may be filed in black and white, in which case only one copy of the drawing will be necessary.

The reason for filing the drawings and specifications in duplicate is that it may be necessary to have the experts in the Department of Agriculture pass upon the applications as to whether the variety is new; and in such cases the patent office would not care to allow the original application to pass out of its possession. In the case of a plant patent, the onus must allege that the plant has been asexually reproduced and that it has not been introduced to the public prior to May 23, 1930.

The form used in plant patents is substantially the design form of claim.

The bureau of plant industry of the Agricultural Department is consulted as to whether or not the variety of plant for which a patent is requested is or is not a new variety. The report of the bureau of plant industry enables the examiner to determine what his action shall be upon the examination of the application.

Plant patents are classified in class 47, plant husbandry, subclasses 53, 61 and 62.

What are the grounds of issuance of a patent? Some merits claimed are easily established. For example, the length of the period of ripening is regarded as a distinctive characteristic of different varieties of grapes.

One grape which has been patented ripens from 15 to 25 days earlier than ordinary varieties. In the patent granted for this grape it is explained that this quality of early maturity greatly simplifies the problem of harvesting. The harvest of this variety can be completed before the familiar Concord grape is ripe. The date of ripening in this particular case is established by affidavits from three responsible experts in grape culture.

For some fruits, flavor and color are distinctive features on which a patent is granted.

The patent office will consider affidavits from those botanists or horticulturists of recognized ability in their line as to the newness of a variety for which a patent is sought. No plant patent can be issued for a variation due to climatic conditions, cultivation methods or soil treatment.

Are certain varieties of plants barred from the operation of the plant patent law? Tuber-propagated plants are definitely made unpatentable by the law. Plants reproduced from seeds are not included within the scope of the present law.

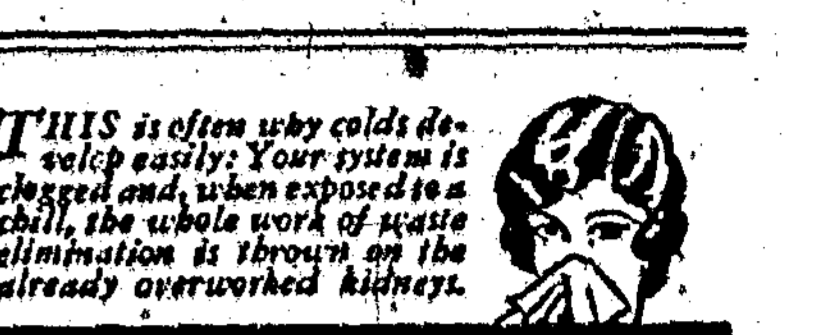

All reproduction must be asexual by cuttings, layerings or other such methods. One of the mushroom patents notes that the variety can be reproduced in one generation by sexual spores and in the next asexually.

Plant patent applications are handled in Division No. 1 of the patent office, which also handles certain phases of plant husbandry, garden and florist supplies and certain farm implements as well as devices used in propagation of plants.

How to Stop a Cold Quick as You Caught It

The simple method pictured above is the way doctors throughout the world now treat colds. It is recognized as the QUICK, safe, surest way to treat a cold. For it will check an ordinary cold almost as fast as you caught it.

Ask your doctor about this. And when you buy, see that you get the real BAYER Aspirin Tablets. They dissolve almost instantly. And thus work almost instantly when you take them. And for a gargle, Genuine BAYER Aspirin Tablets dissolve so completely, they leave no irritating particles. Get a box of 12 tablets or bottle of 24 or 100 at any drug store.

Does Not Harm the Heart

Why Liquid Laxatives are Back in Favor

The public is just returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have learned that the properly prepared liquid laxative will bring a perfect movement without any discomfort at the time, or after.

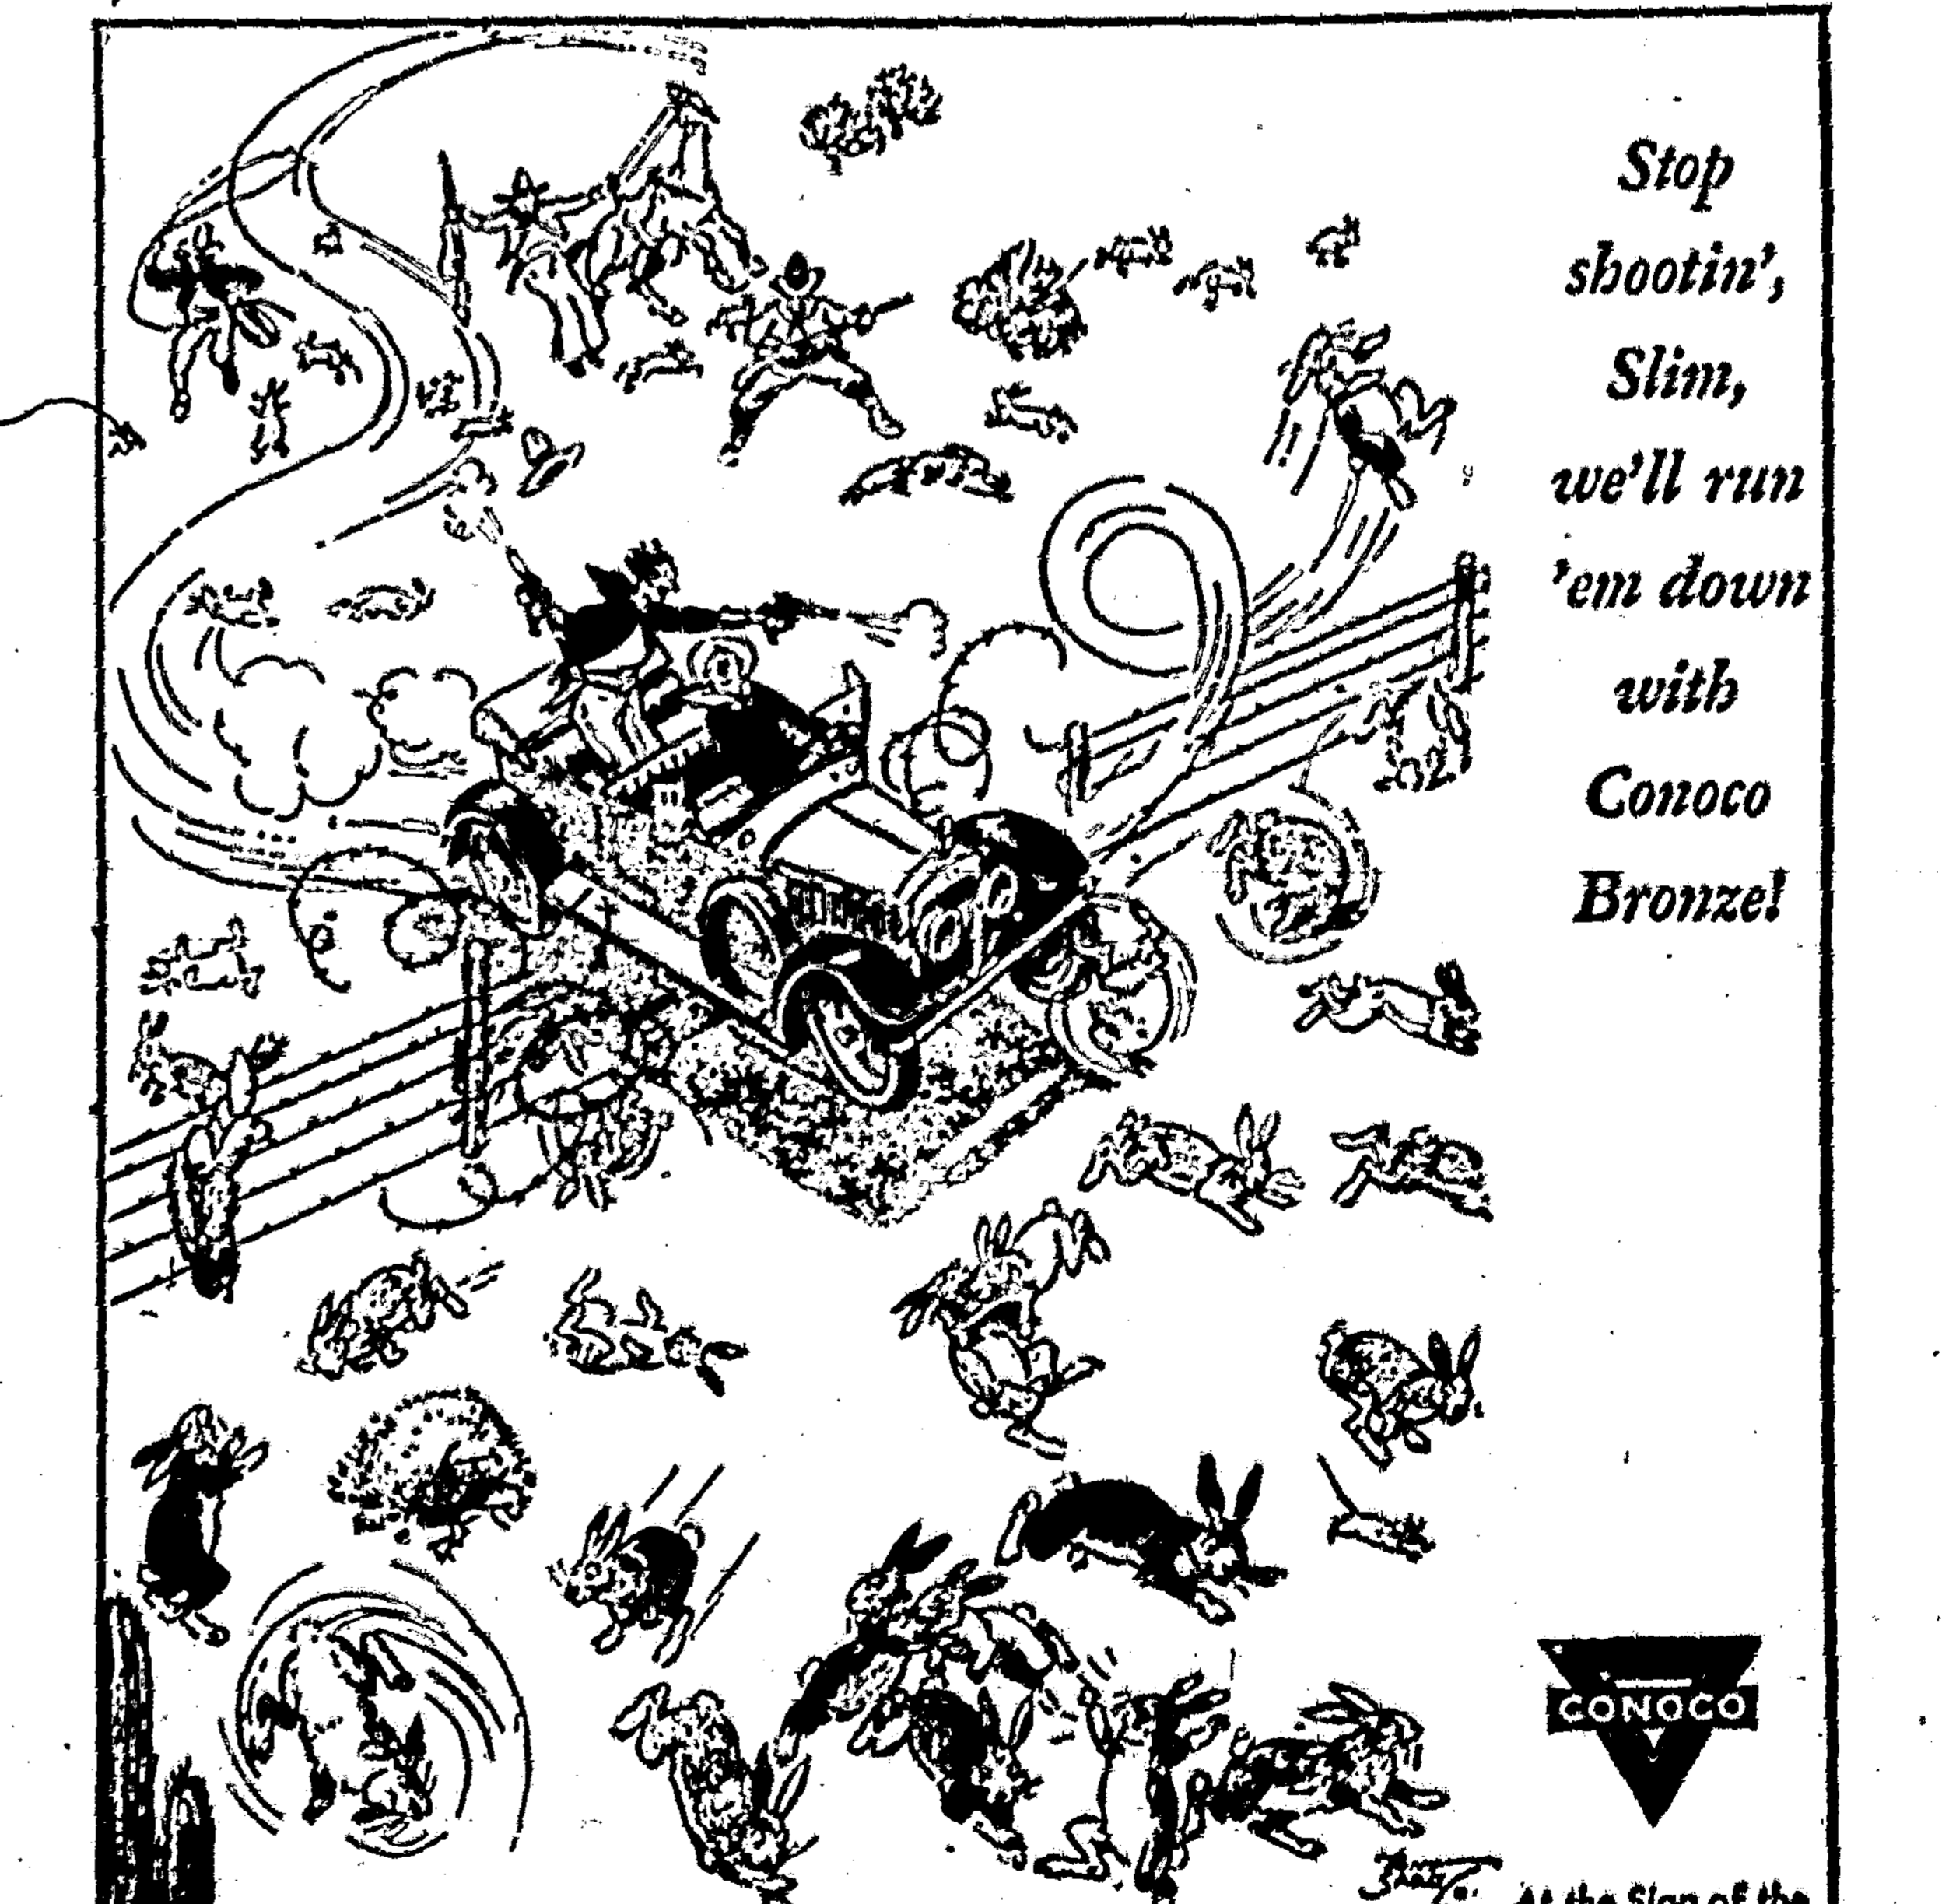

The dose of a liquid laxative can be varied to suit the needs of the individual. The action can thus be regulated. A child is easily given the right dose. And mild liquid laxatives do not irritate the kidneys.

Doctors are generally agreed that senna is the best laxative for everybody. Senna is a natural laxative. It does not drain the system like the cathartics that leave you so thirsty. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a liquid laxative which relies on senna for its laxative action. It has the average person's bowels as regular as clockwork in a few weeks' time.

You can always get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drugstore, ready for use. Member N. R. A.
