DIAMOND DUST

Diamond Dust is rejoicing this week, and justly so: Carrizozo gave Vaughn a good trouncing last Sunday by a score of 10 to 4. Carl Shaw pitched masterful ball for our team and was accorded A-1 support by his contemporaries, both in the defensive as well as on the offensive. From the Pecos River to Nopal Creek, the whip-like cracks of our boys' bats could be heard. In other words, our Wrecking Crew was doing its stuff in the usual manner. Manny Ortiz took the batting honors by slamming three doubles in succession. The scenes will be changed next Sunday, when Vaughn will invade the Carrizozo stronghold and try to even things up. This will be a game full of pep and thrills and you can't afford to miss it! Manager Reynolds is entering his team in the baseball tournament which begins in El Paso on July 16 and ends on the 29th.

ANCHO ITEMS

Mrs. Geo. Titaworth of Capitan was the guest of Mrs. Belknap the first part of the week, returning home Wednesday. Mary Pickett Warden left Saturday for an extended visit in Tucumcari. Bryan Hightower made a business trip to Carrizozo Tuesday. Mrs. Belknap was hostess at a 1 o'clock luncheon Wednesday, in honor of Mmes. Harry Straley's and Ted Hefren's birthdays. The tables were beautifully decorated with red, white and blue covers and centered with vases of summer flowers. The same color motif being carried throughout the three-course luncheon. Birthday favors were drawn and each read their respective fortunes. A toast was given by Mrs. Belknap to the honorees, which also included Mrs. Helen Allen of El Paso. Birthday cakes made by Mmes. Kile and Frame and lighted with candles were presented to Mmes. Straley and Hefren. Immediately after the luncheon the honorees were asked to remain seated and were showered with many lovely gifts. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. S. J. Pruet.

That was the grand old principle of government established in the days of Jacksonian Democracy. That is the principle which certain New Mexico democratic party leaders, who apparently are in the party saddle, would now restore as the first tenet of government in this state. Government of democrats, by democrats and for democrats! That, in effect, was the outspoken demand of several speakers in Monday's democratic committee meeting at Santa Fe. Their leadership was sufficiently strong to secure passage of a resolution in support of their demand. In effect, what is asked by these leaders is that every one holding any kind of office or performing any kind of public service, be summarily thrown out unless they qualify according to partisan standards. Men like Dr. H. L. Kent, president of the state agricultural college, performing effective public service and working unselfishly for the public welfare, are to be kicked out so that some machine-labeled party striker may have a job. It's a grand old system. It helps to build up campaign funds. The unfit man shoved into a job by a party boss has to pay the two per cent campaign fund assessment and like it. He can be dumped into the discard if he refuses. True, the spoils system is not particularly healthful for the public service. It takes no account of efficiency, economy or the public welfare, but what do things like that amount to when political bosses are building personal machines?

BUSINESS MEN'S CLUB

At the regular meeting of the Carrizozo Business Men's Club and 6 o'clock dinner at the Carrizozo Eating House Wednesday evening, there were 29 in attendance. Twenty regular members and also 9 visitors as follows: Messrs. Shipley, Evans and Ivy, Alamogordo; Atkinson, Roberts, Monk, Spurlock and Penix, Corona; Straley, Ancho. The object of the meeting was to effect an organization, which was done after the dinner. The officers of the organization which will be known as the State Highway Number Three Association are as follows: President, F. H. Johnson, Carrizozo; Vice-Pres., A. J. Atkinson, Corona; Treasurer, F. B. Evans, Alamogordo; Secretary, F. L. Boughner, Carrizozo. Board of directors for the new organization chosen at the meeting are as follows: Alamogordo, F. B. Evans; Ancho, John Straley; Corona, B. H. Roberts; Carrizozo, R. E. Blaney; Ocurra, J. V. Taylor; Encino, Hon. R. C. Dillon; Three Rivers, Ed Dunn. Tularosa, Vaughn and Duran to be filled. Briefly, the outline of the work will be to invite in, all who are in towns along highway No. 3, to send as many representatives as possible to meet with the highway commission on July 18, as they were received yesterday by secretary Boughner from Santa Fe. Realizing the necessity of early action for the improvement and maintenance of highway No. 3, and with the knowledge that if we remain inactive, other localities will get the lion's share of the appropriation, prompted the Business Men's Club of Carrizozo to effect the above named organization. Secretary Boughner read a telegram from Senator Hatch to the effect that CCC Camp F-17 N near Capitan, will be re-established in the near future.

OSCURA NOTES

Macion Hust, who has been quite ill this week, is staying at Jim Greer's place near Carrizozo. Mrs. Maggie Brazel has moved to the Loudon place, she having leased the place from Mrs. Loudon for the summer. Buck Dillard took his wife to Hot Springs this week for the benefit of the baths. Mrs. Roy Frazier of Tucumcari spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dillard and the Walter Riggs family. Baby Wettstein had his first outing on the 4th, that being his introduction into society circles. A crowd of Oscura people met at Mrs. Maggie Brazel's on the 4th and enjoyed a bountiful and well prepared dinner. Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Parker, daughter Bernice and son Arvel were here from the Jicarilla country yesterday. A. H. Kudner, of the O-O Ranch in the Venado Gap will leave Sunday on No. 4 for Chicago. Mrs. Chonita Martinez left this morning for Albuquerque, where she was called to the bedside of her grandson, Ben Reyes, who underwent an operation recently.

OUT-OF-THE ORDINARY

We see by the Santa Fe New Mexican that a man by the name of George Zimmerman of New York, has exhibited one of the most astounding acts of gameness ever heard of, as far as we are informed. In his native state, physicians gave him until November to live and instead of weeping and wailing over his impending doom, Zimmerman immediately began to make merry with his friends. He threw a big party and invited his friends. The assemblage was so great that he had to borrow a certain number of chairs-and where do you think he got 'em? From the undertaker. All night long, the merriment went on with all kinds of entertainment. His daughter assisted her father, but the mother was heartbroken and remained at home. Now, at the age of 52, he is in a camp near Glorieta, N. M., having the time of his life. He says he does not want to wait for flowers and all kinds of eulogies over his remains. He wants the boys to forget all that and join with him in having a good time. Maybe he will fool the doctors, after all-who knows? At any rate, Hurrah for Zimmerman! On July 5, the Navajo Indians at Flagstaff, Arizona, gave a big "feast" and as a feature to the occasion they had a couple of Hula Hula dancers on the program. Now, the Navajos believe that a man who will gaze upon a semi-nude woman will lose his eyesight. So the big bucks, wanting to have front seats and miss nothing, they covered one eye, for as they reasoned out the matter, they would still have one optic left for the next dance. A meek and lowly lady with a soft, dark brown voice, was soliciting money in Albuquerque last week and as she received contributions, she blessed the money and told the good people that the blessing would multiply the contributions and that bread cast upon the waters would return a hundred-fold. She obtained from 25c to $1.20 from each sap and skipped the town. The district attorney has only one wish in his bosom now, and that is to bring the saint back for the blessing of the court. Barnum was right! On July 10, in Paris, Alfred Julien went to his uncle's grave, touched off a powerful bomb and blew himself to pieces. The shock shattered windows in many neighboring houses. Blood, hair, teeth, whiskers, parcels of clothing, porous plasters and other articles were scattered for blocks in every direction. The blushing young Amse Amet Mutfa at Bucharest, Roumania, aged 120, who was so deeply in love with the dashing dapper, Zaro Agha, 160, who died not long ago, died as soon as she received the news of his death. She said Zaro made love to her 100 years ago, but her Dad got sore about it and sent her to a harem. After that, she tried to vamp him, but he would always high-hat her. At Ruidoso on the 4th, were: Mr. and Mrs. Poe Corn, Mrs. F. Kehoe and son Frank, Mrs. O'Conner and son, Mrs. Erva Claunch and John Stevenson.

PERSONALS

Albert and Oscar Snow, accompanied by their sister, Mrs. Charley Jordan and Miss Vena Louise Snow left Sunday morning for their old home in Stephenville, Texas, to attend a big family reunion. They will return Saturday or Sunday. Mrs. Marshall St. John and the children are visiting relatives in Las Cruces. This office is in receipt of a nice letter from our old friend and former neighbor, Roy Bogle, who is now at Lordsburg and with the S. P. water service. Roy said among other things, that he hoped the Outlook had by this time, gone Democratic. Don't be alarmed, Brother, there isn't a chance. We don't believe in the sales tax. Mrs. Juan Martinez, daughter Margarita and son Trinidad left Tuesday night for Tularosa where they will visit with relatives for a few days. Mrs. T. J. Grafton and son Hugh of Angus were here last Saturday, remaining for the greater part of the day and returning home in the afternoon. Mrs. Wilbur Coe of Glencoe and Miss Eva Rose of Hondo have just returned from a two weeks' educational tour with a group of four hundred people from Mexico City. Mrs. Coe will entertain with a Spanish party tonight at her Glencoe home in honor of Mr. Smith of Fort Stanton who conducted this tour. A wonderful array of antiques and various souvenirs were brought home by Mrs. Coe and will be on display tonight. -Roswell Dispatch of July 7. The following Carrizozo people were visitors at Cloudercroft on July 4: Mrs. and Mrs. V. L. Cruse and son Fred, Mrs. A. V. Swearingen and son Ansel, Miss Lala Joyce, Johnson Stearns, Tommy Hughes, and Ralph Petty, who was in the golf contest at the tournament. Mrs. Charles Coplin, son s, Bobbie and Donnie, arrived here Sunday morning from Kansas City to spend the summer months with Mrs. Coplin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ziegler. Mr. Coplin, who is buyer for the big Kline Department Store at K. C., is leaving this week for eastern markets on a purchasing trip in the gent's furnishing goods line. Mike Brady was a business visitor at Alamogordo this week. Mrs. S. F. Degitz and Miss Ruth Ryden will leave next Monday on a pleasure trip to California, where they will enjoy their vacations. Have a good time, ladies! Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kendrick of El Paso, visited at the home of Mrs. Maggie Pfingsten from July 3 to 7. On their return, they were accompanied by Miss Clara Pfingsten, who will visit with the Kendricks for several weeks. Mrs. Kendrick is a daughter of Mrs. Maggie Pfingsten. D. N. Bonnell of San Patric was a caller at this office the latter part of last week, on his way to Albuquerque, where a project of federal construction work

Mrs. Elsa Charles entertained the Wednesday Bridge Club at the Carrizozo Eating House this week.

Mrs. Rebecca Townsend leaves today for Lovington and other places where she will visit her father, J. L. Taylor, brothers Dru and Zack and a sister, Mrs. Ben Graham. She will be absent one month.

Bridal Shower

Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Montie Gardenhire, Mrs. Gardenhire and sister, Dorothy Dozier, were hostesses at a bridal shower in honor of Mrs. Fay Harkey. Forty-eight printed invitations were sent out by the hostesses. After the shower, in which Mrs. Harkey was the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents, dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Clyde Crowe of Alamogordo, former Carrizozo barber, was seen in town one day this week. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Davine and Miss Frances Aguayo, are out with new cars.

At Ruidoso on the 4th, were: Mr. and Mrs. Poe Corn, Mrs. F. Kehoe and son Frank, Mrs. O'Conner and son, Mrs. Erva Claunch and John Stevenson.

Taxes! Taxes!

Congress has adjourned. But the eyes of the public are still turned on Washington. And most of them, figuratively speaking, are fixed on the treasury building.

The last Congress, like its predecessor, was extraordinarily expensive. It appropriated billions, and the budget, which has contained a wide gap between income and outgo for some time, is still further out of joint. In brief, legislative activities of recent months have done nothing to mitigate the tax problem—they have made it considerably more imposing than it was.

It may be taken for granted that much of the money appropriated will serve one good purpose or another. Perhaps none of it will be wasted. That, at this time, is beside the point. We are reaching the stage where businesses and individuals can no longer pay heavier tax levies—and where many relief activities, because of their cost, are hampering, nor forwarding recovery.

Government is precisely like an individual. Every citizen knows of useful things he would like to buy. He can't buy them because he hasn't the money. It isn't a case of what he wants to do—it is a case of what he can do with the means at his disposal.

We have lost sight of that individualized idea of government spending—and states, counties and cities have been even worse offenders than the federal government itself. It is an unquestioned fact that investors are putting money into tax-free bonds, where it does nothing for the sake of industry, because of the fear that taxation will continue to take most of the profit out of private business. Jobs are lost, factories are closed, homes and farms are foreclosed, industrial development is brought abruptly to a halt—because of high taxes.

These are facts, not hot air. Cost of government is our greatest and fastest growing problem.—Industrial News Review.

Taxes! Taxes!

Congress has adjourned. But the eyes of the public are still turned on Washington. And most of them, figuratively speaking, are fixed on the treasury building.

The last Congress, like its predecessor, was extraordinarily expensive. It appropriated billions, and the budget, which has contained a wide gap between income and outgo for some time, is still further out of joint. In brief, legislative activities of recent months have done nothing to mitigate the tax problem—they have made it considerably more imposing than it was.

It may be taken for granted that much of the money appropriated will serve one good purpose or another. Perhaps none of it will be wanted. That, at this time, is beside the point. We are reaching the stage where businesses and individuals can no longer pay heavier tax levies—and where many relief activities, because of their cost, are hampering, nor forwarding recovery.

Government is precisely like an individual. Every citizen knows of useful things he would like to buy. He can't buy them because he hasn't the money. It isn't a case of what he wants to do—it is a case of what he can do with the means at his disposal.

We have lost sight of that individualized idea of government spending—and states, counties and cities have been even worse offenders than the federal government itself. It is an unquestioned fact that investors are putting money into tax-free bonds, where it does nothing for the sake of industry, because of the fear that taxation will continue to take most of the profit out of private business. Jobs are lost, factories are closed, homes and farms are foreclosed industrial development is brought abruptly to a halt because of high taxes.

These are facts, not hot air. Cost of government is our greatest and fastest growing problem.—Industrial News Review.

SUCH IS LIFE—Had 'Em On!

By Charles Sughrue

Find Happiness in Contentment

Great Philosopher Right in His Summing Up of Life's Joys.

"To think I used to complain of monotony and boredom in our suburban life! Why, my idea of heaven now would be just having things back to what they used to be!"

The woman who said that was one of a group who had, little to worry about except the shortcomings of suburban life—until a series of events which began with a bank failure and a scandal touched the lives of all of them.

The turn of a week had left her father impoverished, her best friend's husband a suicide, another friend with grounds for divorce, no wonder her idea of happiness now was not something new, not more excitement, but "just having things back to what they used to be!"

"I'm getting to be like my grandmother," she added. "All she ever wanted out of life was just to go on without getting a telegram."

And many of us will agree that her grandmother had the right idea: The more we see of life and of people, the more likely we are to come to the conclusion that the nearest approach to happiness is found in peace and contentment. Those who struggle restlessly for something they have not got are usually found, on achieving that, to be just as restlessly struggling for something else again. And it is doubtful if they ever get as near to happiness, or give as much happiness, as those who are content to "pursue the even tenor of their way," liking what they have, and therefore having what they like. There is a limit, of course, beyond which content may become stagnation, but as we look about us the dangers we see are usually of the other extreme, the discontent of people with what they have, the restlessness which distorts their sense of values, the fear of boredom which enslaves them to empty excitements that can give no real joy or lasting satisfaction.

The great philosopher, Shopenhauer, seems to have seen eye to eye with the grandmother who wanted merely to go on without receiving bad news. These are his words:

"The happiest lot is not to have experienced the keenest delights or the greatest pleasure, but to have brought life to a close without any very great pain."

Little Girl's Face Inflamed by Psoriasis Healed by Cuticura

"My little girl's face was so inflamed that her eyes were swollen almost shut. The trouble was diagnosed as psoriasis. She scratched night and day and was not able to obtain rest. The scratching aggravated the trouble and each finger tip was red and swollen with infection. She became so emaciated that she was very pathetic looking.

"After three months' suffering I recalled the Cuticura treatment used by my mother. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and used them according to directions. The first treatment brought relief and she is now healed." (Signed) Mrs. Marie J. Johnson, 4720 Ames Ave., Omaha, Neb., March 14, 1934.

PETERMAN'S ANT FOOD

Explains 10-Year Increase in Heat

Expert Blames Drouth on Pressure at Sea.

Chicago.—The increase in the mean temperature in the United States over the ten year period from 1921 to 1930 need not cause fear the weather will continue to grow progressively warmer. It was stated by Dr. Griffith Taylor, professor of geography at the University of Chicago. Temperatures tend to follow a cycle, Doctor Taylor pointed out, and in a survey of the succeeding ten years the mean may be lower.

As a generally unduly warm year, while cool years produce abundant rainfall, Doctor Taylor said. There is no correlation so definite, however, which can result in an accurate prediction of the amount of rain that will fall in a given period.

Forecasts Still Puzzle. "Meteorologists do not know themselves how to accurately make long range forecasts on heat and rain spells," Doctor Taylor declared, "and the best we can do is piece together various factors we have considered in the past and try to correlate them."

Doctor Taylor advanced a theory as to one of the causes of the prolonged drouth which has held the American midcontinent in its grip since April 1. This theory is based on a high pressure area in the Atlantic area.

This area is approximately 1,200 miles wide and 800 miles long and lies midway between the Azores and Bermuda. Its normal barometric pressure is high, about 30.3 inches. The normal barometric pressure in Chicago and the Middle West is 29.13 inches.

Nature's Joke

If this fellow's mother could see her son she probably would stop hatching out chicks. He is called "Repeal," because he was so unexpected. The twenty months old Rhode Island Red rooster has horns like an old ram, a comb like a coral reef, clucks like a hen that has just laid an egg, and has no spurs. Repeal raised such an uproar in the barnyard near Los Angeles where he was hatched with his three-horned horns that he has been removed to a cage of his own.

Chicago's New Fair

By LEONARD A. BARRETT

Those who visited the World's Fair during the opening days in May agree that in many respects it is an entirely new fair. Many additions have been made to the buildings which attracted the crowds last year. Many new exhibits are to be seen, and in all respects it is well worth another visit to those who attended last year and certainly worth the time and expense to those who did not have the privilege.

Economically the fair is an important asset. Truly, cost is upward of forty million dollars and reports have it that about eight million were spent in improving the grounds and

Sets a New Record

Fraulein Gottlieb, noted Austrian athlete, established a new world's standing high jump record for women when she cleared the bar at 1.52 meters. The previous mark was held by an Italian girl.

exhibits for this year. But, while this expenditure may seem exceedingly large, it must not be forgotten that the net profit last year was far beyond expectations, and this year it is safely estimated that it will bring hundreds of thousands of dollars into the currency circulation of Chicago. Any investment which brings a net return of so large an amount as that is certainly attributable to two factors, the merit of the exhibit itself, that it attracts so large a number of persons, and the financial management, which was of a very high character. We are informed that many of the Chicago hotels, which were on the verge of receiverships, were able to pay all back taxes, make necessary improvements, pay all other debts, and carry on as dividend paying corporations. This is not the only good result in a financial way derived from the fair. The railroads greatly benefited from the increased travel during the continuance of the fair last year. We should not forget the expenditures in many other directions on the part of those who visit Chicago, attracted by the fair. Circulation of money means progress.

The educational advantages of a visit to the fair are also an important factor. Nowhere can one see more for fifty cents than he can at the exhibit on the Chicago lake front. The latest improvements in modern industry can be studied in detail. Exhibits in all the departments of scientific research are open to inspection and one could spend many profitable hours at these exhibits. It is a good investment both from a financial and educational viewpoint. It will pay you immensely to take advantage of the opportunity.

Early Americans Had Elephants. Early Americans dwelt with elephants, scientists assert

The Household

By Lydia Le Baron Walker

Whether the family is large or small, some one has to do the catering for it. And this is true whether the food is cooked at home or whether it is provided from some nearby delicatessen shop. The family fares best and at far less cost when the food is home-prepared as well as home served. Constant recourse to the food shop simplifies getting food ready and cooked, but it also makes the table lack the pleasant variety which can be supplied when home-cooking is done.

There are two chief items to remember when catering to a family. One is food, the other is thrift. The food should be so bought that it can be served without monotony, and each member have some dishes to his or her liking at every meal. And coupled with this the food should be so wisely bought that extravagance is not incurred. This is just good management whether a family has ample means or must be penny wise.

It is not always luxuries which are responsible for extravagance in food costs. It is the wise use of luxuries and the distribution of them as occasions demand which should be considered. To have foods out of season is not as costly today as a generation ago, but still it is not actually cheap.

Catering Problems. Where there is a large family or at least one that is not small, it is easier to have variety and every one have dishes to the liking, than it is when the family consists of two or three. To cater to a fault-finding family is enough to wear the caterer down and a revolt may do good. Insist that some one else does the catering for just one week, go away for a few days, or supply the table from the food shop continuously over a period of a week or more. This will quell criticism, if, and provided, the one who is the caterer really does set a good table.

This advice is not for the woman who sets a negligible table. It is usually the case that a poor table is not a cheap one. It is poor because the one who does the catering is not interested in seeing that food is bought thriftily or served well. She probably could set a far better table on the same money if she gave the subject her real attention.

Proper Seasoning. Every woman who does any cooking craves the reputation of being a good cook. Of the thousands, yes, even the millions, of cooks that there are, comparatively few rightfully gain the desired goal. One of the main essentials is the seasoning of food. This is so generally slighted. Without the right seasoning it is impossible for food to have the delicious flavor desired. It is impossible to instill the wanted zest, piquancy, richness, and lusciousness with any one flavoring or seasoning preparation. What these preparations are intended for is to aid the cook, and many kinds of spices, acids, herbs, sweeteners, etc., are at her command. Without them she is at a loss. She cannot rely upon any one. Variety is imperative. The simplest seasoning must be used correctly. Do not send vegetables to the table unsalted, without pepper, and without butter, if this is needed. Meat should be given similar attention.

No main dish responds better to seasoning than fish. For a simple seasoning for broiled fish, done over coals, under flames or in the oven, dot with butter, squeeze lemon juice over it and dust with pepper and salt. Or prepare the seasoning and pour it over the fish.

This interestingly cut two-piece crepe sports dress, ideal for the country club, has a navy and white striped skirt and white sailor-collared blouse, trimmed in the same fabric as the skirt. Matching hat and gloves.

Light Wall Color. When the sitting room is very small an effect of space will be obtained if plain paper of a light color is used on the walls.

Picturework should match the paper, but curtains can be of a contrasting color.

They should be of plain material and tone with the carpet, which should also be as plain as possible. Do not overload the walls with pictures, but select a few of moderate size and hang them carefully. Open-air subjects create the illusion of distance, and are more effective than portraits and indoor scenes.

Color in the Room. The floor covering of a room is usually darkest, the ceiling lightest and the walls a medium shade. The floor space around the floor covering should have a soft, rich sheen and be kept free of scratches and cared for just as your furniture is cared for.

Washington Digest

National Topics Interpreted
by William Bruckart

Washington, — Armed with more power than any President of the United States, or the head of any democratic government, ever has had, President Roosevelt has started what he hopes will be the final drive for economic recovery. He has all of the weapons in his own hands. There can be no mistake that he is prepared to use them.

One-Man Control

When the second session of the Seventy-third congress adjourned, the work it had done together with the enactments of the first session, completed the transfer to the Chief Executive of more authority than any congress ever before had delegated to the head of the government. In fact, a survey of the acts seems to indicate that congress delegated to Mr. Roosevelt at least 50 per cent of the power ordinarily reserved to the legislative branch alone. Some of the grants were of a temporary character, of course, but nevertheless the President has them and they cannot be taken away until after the first of January, 1935, irrespective of their nature, unless exigencies should arise under which Mr. Roosevelt will call the congress back for an extraordinary session. Those exigencies do not now appear on the horizon.

The above paragraphs are a necessary prelude to the further statement that for the coming six months, at least, the country will have a distinctive one-man control. Ordinarily, we are prone to consider this government of ours in a little different manner because, in a period when congress is in session, the restrictions which its enactments embody serve to circumscribe the powers of the executive branch of the government. In the forthcoming six months, however, the executive branch may operate with all of the freedom discretionary authority carries in the New Deal legislation.

Because of the great speed which characterized passage of the New Deal legislation for which the President asked, its full meaning was overlooked temporarily in many cases. Now that congress has gone, however, appraisals are possible in the light of the relationship existing between various items of the New Deal, and this has occasioned more than the usual amount of discussion in Washington.

One line of discussion frequently heard is that Mr. Roosevelt has placed himself in a spot where he can claim full personal credit for the success of his program. By the same token, and since success is not yet assured, he is on the spot where he must accept full responsibility for failure of any part of the program to accomplish the job which he has outlined. From what I hear around Washington, there seems no disposition anywhere to take away any of the credit. The politicians on the President's side dare not seek any of the credit, for their records show them to have been wholly subservient to his will. Anti-administration politicians are continuing to play dead, for their strategy is apparently one of allowing the calf all of the rope. If failure attends any units of the program, they will make great capital of it. If success is complete, they can do nothing about it anyway, thus they are in a blind alley for the time being.

This position, I am told, does not mean that the Republicans and other anti-administration groups will not fight back. I have explained in earlier letters that they are going to foment trouble by attacks on various of the policies to show vulnerable points.

As I said at the outset, the story of the Seventy-third congress is the story of the broadest loan of power ever given. It must be described as a loan of power, because congress can take it back at any time by mustering sufficient votes for repeal of the laws it enacted. But it must be remembered that, under the so-called Norris amendment to the federal Constitution, the recently adjourned session of congress was the last session. In other words, when adjournment was voted, it was an adjournment sine die. It was finished. It cannot be reconvened without a call by the President and that, as I reported above, is hardly within the realm of possibilities. All of which is by way of saying that Mr. Roosevelt will have the use of these loaned powers completely and unequivocally until next January.

Just a Loan of Power

It might be added that he will have most of them for much longer because, although congress can exercise its right to take them back, recovery of the grants of power is not as easy as it may seem. For example, normally, repeal of a law is accomplished by a majority vote in congress. But one must stop to consider here that Mr. Roosevelt may not want to give up the authority vested in him. He has the power to veto an act of congress. Then, to get those powers back congress must override the veto. To override a veto it is necessary under the terms of the Constitution that two-thirds of each house shall have voted in the affirmative.

I am making no assertion that any such attitude will be taken by the President. None can make it for none knows what the President's attitude will be when the time comes for a decision on the point. It is worthy of thought, in my opinion, however, that here is a condition where the system of checks and balances between the legislative, judicial and executive branches of the government have placed a powerful whip in the hands of the Executive. Students of the Constitution tell me that it is a very unusual condition. Frankly, as I see the situation at this time, it will take an overturning of public sentiment equal in magnitude to the landslide by which Mr. Roosevelt was elected to force a return of that power to congress were the President desirous of retaining it.

When Mr. Roosevelt came into office March 4, 1933, the congress, according to the Constitution, held the power to levy and collect taxes, to borrow money, to regulate foreign and domestic commerce, to coin money and regulate its value and to govern its relation to foreign coin, to combat counterfeiting, to set up inferior courts, to declare war and grant letters of marque and reprisal, to raise and support the army and the navy and control calls for the militia, to define and punish piracy, guard the copyright of creative work, and to make all necessary laws for carrying out these various powers.

Legality Questioned

What has congress retained of these vast powers, given it by the Constitution because it represents the people? There is a divergence of opinion. Surely, however, there has been delegated to the President some of the most important of those powers, and some authorities like Senator Borah of Idaho, and some of the Democratic conservatives claimed the delegation has been illegal. Whether that contention is true, of course, is a matter for the courts.

To examine just a few of the things done by congress will illustrate the extent to which it went in granting authority to the President. Take the laws creating the Agricultural Adjustment administration and it will be seen that the authority to levy and collect taxes was granted and at the same time a big handful of control over interstate and foreign commerce was given to the Executive. Production control under the so-called Bankhead cotton control law is just that. An important control over interstate and foreign commerce was given the President also under the national recovery act. General Johnson, administrator, exercises that authority, of course, but he does so under executive direction.

While the power is circumscribed to an extent, congress gave the President authority to change the value of the dollar. He cannot vary it greater than between fifty and sixty cents, as we used to measure cents, but the power to coin money and regulate its value rests with Mr. Roosevelt to that extent. The implications go much further. The treasury has an immense fund of gold which it can use in maintaining the relationship between our dollar and foreign coins.

Under the present set-up, congress gave away temporarily the right to make laws, or a part U. S. in Many of that authority. In Businesses nearly all of the acts of the New Deal congress, much discretionary power to draft regulations and rules for administration of the new laws was accorded the Executive. Anti-administration leaders contend that in using this discretionary power, the executive branch has put government into countless businesses. Through the Reconstruction Finance corporation, for example, the government owns or has influence in through the medium of loans such businesses as banking, dairying, cotton and wheat and other grain stocks, in the mortgage field, railroading and in the various fields of commerce and industry such as those touched by the Tennessee Valley experiment.

In the charity field, the government has gone a long way. It is providing work in numerous ways. Various experiments are being worked out with these funds, voted by congress, for distribution under the President's direction. Some of the money is being used, for example, for the building of whole towns in conjunction with a government-owned manufacturing plant.

Through NRA, it is to be mentioned also, the anti-trust laws were virtually, if not wholly, suspended. The recovery act made the anti-trust laws inapplicable where corporations signed the codes and complied with the blue eagle requirements. Under that same set of laws, too, the government virtually became a partner in all businesses, since it exercises authority over their manufacturing practices and policies as well as their methods of production and distribution.

Finally, it ought to be mentioned that no longer can an individual sign a contract by which he will agree to make payment in gold. All such contracts entered into heretofore, if they are still in effect, mean nothing because they cannot be enforced as to payment in gold. The treasury has become the owner of all monetary gold within the confines of the United States.

"Seven" Long Regarded as the Mystic Number

The figure seven seems to stand out prominently among its monosyllabic companions. Is it because it is the only numeral that has two syllables? Whatever the explanation, it is certain that seven is regarded as a mystic number, and has always had a peculiar attraction for us.

In the first place we have the "Seven Wonders of the World": The Egyptian Pyramids. The Mausoleum erected by Artemisia at Halicarnassus. The Temple of Artemis at Ephesus. The Walls and Hanging Gardens at Babylon. The Colossus of Rhodes. The Statue of Zeus, by Phidias, in the great temple of Olympia. And the Pharos, or Lighthouse, at Alexandria.

Secondly, the Seven Wonders of the Middle Ages: The Coliseum at Rome. The Great Wall of China. The Catacombs of Alexandria. The Ruins of Stonehenge. The Porcelain Tower of Nanking. The Mosque of St. Sophia, at Constantinople.

The seven wonders of the New World are: Yellowstone Park, The Garden of the Gods, Niagara Falls, Natural Bridge, Yosemite Valley, Mammoth Cave, and Giant Trees.

The seven virtues are: Faith, Hope, Charity, Prudence, Temperance, Justice, and Fortitude; the seven deadly sins, Pride, Envy, Anger, Greed, Sloth, Gluttony and Covetousness; the seven champions of Christendom, St. George (England), St. Andrew (Scotland), St. David (Wales), St. Patrick (Ireland), St. Denis (France), St. James (Spain), and St. Anthony (Italy); while the seven Sages of Greece (the Seven Wise Men) were Solon of Athens, Thales of Miletus, Pericles of Corinth, Pittacus of Mitylene, Cleobolus of Lids, Bias of Priene, and Chilon of Sparta.

The Seven Hills of Rome are the Palatine, Capitoline, Quirinal, Aventine, Caelian, Esquiline, and Viminal. The Seven Sleepers of Ephesus were said to be Seven Christian youths who fell asleep in a cave and did not awake till two or three hundred years later. The Seven Seas are North and South Atlantic, North and South Pacific, the Arctic, the Antarctic, and the Indian ocean; and the Seven Stars (or planets), the Sun, the Moon, Mercury, Venus, Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

There are also the Seven Ages, Seven Liberal Arts, the Seven Psalms and the Seven Great Hymns. — Montreal Family Herald.

Woods Fires Increase

That greater care must be exercised by motorists when discarding cigars and cigarettes is demonstrated by the fact that last year careless campers and smokers ignited the woods in 1,872 places. This represented an increase of 31 per cent over the year before. In California, where there is a law prohibiting the discarding of smokes from automobiles, many owners carry a special ash receiver which not only holds the discarded cigar or cigarette, but provides a sure means of extinguishing it.

BERMUDA ONIONS

The fact is that the importation of onions from Bermuda has been greatly reduced, due to the phenomenally successful production of Bermuda onions in Texas in recent years. The Texas crop is closer at hand and can be brought to northern cities with one shipment, while the genuine Bermudas must be handled twice. The number of people who can tell the taste of a Texas Bermuda from that of a Bermuda is so small as to have little or no effect on the trade. There is but a single crop a year in either place. The Bermuda crop is in the neighborhood of 10,000 pounds to the acre. The Texas yield averages better than this—another reason for its successful competition—and occasionally goes as high as 34,000 pounds to the acre.

ANNOUNCING 12 MONTHS' GUARANTEE AGAINST ALL ROAD HAZARDS*

Effective today, Firestone guarantees their complete line of tires against all road hazards for 12 months*. In addition, Firestone gives the industry lifetime warranty against defects in workmanship and materials.

*When used in commercial service, these tires are guaranteed for 6 months.

SAFEST TIRE FIRESTONE EVER BUILT

THE New Firestone High Speed Tire for 1934 was built to give you the same dependable service it provided for the 33 drivers who started in the torturous 500-mile grind at Indianapolis May 30.

This new tire has a wider tread of flatter contour, deeper non-skid, more and tougher rubber, giving you more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

Besides being Safety Protected on the outside it is Safety Protected on the inside. Eight additional pounds of pure rubber are absorbed by every one hundred pounds of cords. This additional rubber surrounds every cotton fiber inside every cord in every ply. This is accomplished by soaking the cords in liquid rubber by Gum-Dipping, a Firestone patented process.

Heat caused by internal friction of cotton fibers destroys tires—causes separation and blowouts.

Gum-Dipping counteracts friction and heat—provides greater adhesion and strength, assuring car owners of the greatest Safety, Protection and Economy that it is possible for human ingenuity to build into a tire.

Every one of the 33 drivers at Indianapolis chose and bought Firestone High Speed Tires. Race drivers KNOW tire construction—they will not risk their lives or chance of victory on any other than Firestone.

At terrific speeds the cars plunge into the treacherous turns—tires are braced against the scorching brick track—so hot the tires fairly smoke at times—they give—yield and stretch—every conceivable force works to tear the tire to pieces, yet Firestone High Speed Tires "come back" on the straightaways. Not once during the entire race did a tire fail.

Surely this is the most amazing proof ever known of Extra Strength, SAFETY and Dependability. Call on the Firestone Service Dealer or Service Store nearest you TODAY. Equip your car with new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934.
