

LARGEST COUNTY
CIRCULATION

Near Pre-historic Malpais
and Gran Quivira

Carrizozo Outlook

"THE HOME PAPER"

Oldest Paper in Lincoln County

Published Weekly in the Interest of Carrizozo and Lincoln County

8 PAGES

VOL. XXI — NO. 21

GARRIZOZO, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO, FRIDAY, JULY 5, 1935

PRICE $2.00 THE YEAR

Kelvinator Demonstration Excites Unusual Interest

The Kelvinator "Open House" Party at the El Cibola Hotel last Friday, resulted extremely successful from every view point.

The Kelvinator Company, through its local representative, New Mexico Mechanical Equipment Co., assisted by its Home Economist, Miss Virginia Seery, Mr. Percy, Mrs. Bishop and Mrs. B. D. Garner, proprietress of the hotel, gave an open house party at which about 40 ladies attended. Ice tea, delicious ice cream and cookies were served to all.

A very interesting lecture was given by Miss Seery, in which she demonstrated saving and preserving food which will balance the weekly or monthly budget through the use and assistance of the Kelvinator Refrigerator. Two beautiful models of the Kelvinator were on exhibition during the demonstration.

Mr. Percy gave a very interesting talk pertaining to refrigeration in general. He explained that the Kelvinator Co. was the oldest electrical refrigeration manufacturer—also was one of the most reliable financially of any corporation in the country. Mr. Percy showed a very interesting talking moving picture entitled "Mama Gets Her Man" which was enjoyed by everyone.

At the close of the party, the ladies present participated in the drawings of two very fine and useful gifts. The first prize was won by Mrs. Maude Eschem and the second went to Mrs. Tennis Smoot. The two drawings of the lucky tickets were made by little Marvin Smoot, four years of age.

Attention, Masons!

Carrizozo Lodge No. 41, A. F. & A. M., will hold a Regular Communication Saturday night, July 6, for the purpose of business.

All Master Masons are cordially invited.

S. B. Bostian, W. M.
R. E. Lemon, Sec'y.

A party made up from the following families were Fourth of July guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Johnson at Mountain Park. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Cazier, Mrs. P. M. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Barnett and family, Mr. and Mrs. Treat, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Johnson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Ferguson.

The third Lincoln County Singing Convention will be held at Corona on July 14. Everybody is invited to come with a well-filled basket. The singing was begun at 10 a. m. and will end at 3:30 p. m. For full particulars, we refer the reader to the article on page 5 for more detailed information.

In a recent letter to W. C. Hendren of Fort Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Land, who are located in Sayansab, Ga., send their best regards to their old Amigos at the Fort, and also of Lincoln County.

Poe Corn, Coach of the Roswell high school, came over to spend the 4th with his wife and baby daughter here. Mrs. Corn will be remembered as the former Miss Margie Roland.

Diamond Dust

STANDING OF THE CLUBS
	Won	Lost
White Oaks	10	2
Cobras	7	4

Credit should go where it belongs—so we are taking our hats off to 'Red' Huffmeyer (Father Time,) for his excellent pitching at Fort Stanton last Sunday. The Carrizozo Cobras battled Red fiercely for six innings and had the game well packed in ice by a score of 8 to 3. Red settled down, like the veteran he is, and coupled with four consecutive walks by the "Intemperate" Sally Ortiz, the score was tied 11-11, when Carrizozo was leading 11 to 5. As we said before, Red took the situation in hand from then on and his contemporaries produced enough hits to cross the plate twice more, thus putting the shades down for the Cobras by a score of 13 to 11. No one was hurt, and the only casualty was near at hand when Celly Sandoval, playing his piano accordion, blended harmony with "Moonlight and Rose" to the tune of "Jaste Manine Shante, Jaste Musha." Second the Motion—not Manuel. As it was, we failed to get the names of the umpires, but the man behind the catcher, was a humdinger. We can gamble he has been a ballplayer in his time—a la "Casoso" Wrecking Crew of Shorty Dawson's managerial ability. The biggest day in American history is approaching, so let's quit and all take in the big Jubilee.

Carrizozo outfit Stanton 18 to 10, Manuel Chavez collecting 4 hits in 6 trips to the plate—one of them being a long triple to left center.

White Oaks added to their percentage by annihilating Lincoln on the local grounds by a score of 14 to 1. The Reptiles and the Miners will tangle in the near future. Watch for the date and be sure to attend—this game will be for "blood."

In a game composed of Carrizozo aspirants, Capitan won by a score of 15 to 10.

Fourth of July—Fort Stanton, Adobe and Gran Quivira—success to all What's 'writ-is-writ'.

Excellent pitching by "Red" Ozburn, supplemented by heavy slugging on the part of his teammates, gave Camp Capitan an easy 20 to 2 victory over Hondo at Hondo Sunday afternoon.

Baptist Church

At ten o'clock the Sunday School will study the life of one of the great heroes in the age-long struggle for liberty—national and personal. If you are not already enrolled in Sunday School, we will be glad to have you come with us.

At eleven o'clock the pastor will bring a message on "Our Struggle for Liberty."

At eight, the sermon subject will be "Standing on the Side-Lines."

In an interview with Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, he said to Dr. H. E. Woolver: "We Americans should not forget that in every crisis in the history of our nation it has been necessary for the people to re-discover the value of prayer—and how necessary at this moment! Prayer and daily reading of the Bible in every home in this land would mean a revived and dynamic America fit for her place of service in the world."

Duck, Here Comes the Five-Ten

In The Third Judicial District Court of the State of New Mexico Within and for Lincoln County.

Ben Rentfrow, Plaintiff

vs.

M. S. Crockett, Defendant.

No. 4234 Civil.

NOTICE OF SALE

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of the Final Judgment and Decree of Foreclosure, Appointment of Special Master, and Order of Sale made and entered in the above entitled and numbered cause of action on March 25, 1935, in the above named Court, the undersigned special master, as provided, by the Court in said decree, will offer for sale and sell to the highest bidder for cash, at the front door of the Courthouse in Carrizozo, Lincoln County, New Mexico, at 10 o'clock A. M., on the 31st day of July, 1935, all of the following described property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the sums of money hereinafter mentioned, which have been awarded to the plaintiff in said decree, said property being situated in Lincoln County, State of New Mexico and described as follows, to-wit:

N $\frac{1}{2}$  section 9, township 8 south, range 9 east, 5 $\frac{1}{2}$  NE $\frac{1}{4}$ , N $\frac{1}{2}$  SE $\frac{1}{4}$  section 19, township 7 south, range 9 east, N. M. P. M., containing 480 acres. Together with all improvements thereon including one mile fence, one 12 foot Sampson windmill and tower and all well equipment, and one Lone Star pump jack.

All sums to be realized from the sale of said property are as follows:
Principal of Judgment . . . $1854.14
Interest to date of sale . . . 80.84
Attorney's fees . . . 188.83
Special Master's fee . . . 15.00
Court costs . . . 11.50

2150.31
together with the costs of this sale. The terms of sale are that purchaser shall pay cash at the time the property is struck off to him, except that plaintiff is permitted to bid up to the amount of his judgment without cash payment.

Grace M. Jones,
Special Master.

Mrs. Lillian Lane, daughters LaRue, Sarah Lee and Mrs. Ray Sipple, were shoppers from our neighboring town of White Oaks, Tuesday.

Lell St. John and Abe Sanchez built a boxing ring on one of Lell's vacant lots on the east side, and the boys flock there for an evening for a good limbering up. Come over and see some lively scraps.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jordan and son Jack of Carbon Hill, Ala., and Miss Fannie Mae Jordan of Birmingham, Ala., were guests of Rev. and Mrs. L. D. Jordan in Belen last week. This was the first time Mr. Jordan has seen any member of his family since he came to New Mexico in 1917.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Thornton of Oscura were Carrizozo visitors the latter part of last week.

Davidson—Titworth

Albuquerque Journal:

Allan Davidson, announcer at KOB, and Georgia Dean Titworth will be married July 14. Friends of Miss Titworth were apprised Sunday afternoon at an announcement tea given by Mrs. Schuyler B. Foster and daughter, Mrs. Harry Hickox, aunt and cousin, respectively, of the bride-to-be, at the Latif Hyder home in Parkland Hills. Miss Titworth is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Norman Titworth of this city. She was a Phi Mu pledge at the University of New Mexico and is a member of Beta Sigma Phi young business women's sorority. At present Miss Titworth is employed in the office of Rodey and Dickason, attorneys. Mr. Davidson came to Albuquerque more than a year ago from Piedras Negras, Mexico, where he was an announcer for XEPN. He attended the Port Arthur Business and Radio College at Port Arthur, Texas.

—Mr. Davidson is a brother of Deputy Sheriff Jack Davidson under Sheriff A. S. McCannant and Miss Titworth is a niece of Geo. A. Titworth of Capitan.

Miss Ruth Petty and small brother Jesse returned the first of this week from Maricopa, N.M., where they visited their older brother Vernon for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Pfingsten, small daughter, Wells Pfingsten, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Thomas of Hondo and Gerald Tully of Glencoe attended the rodeo at Silver City on the 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hayden, daughters Marion and Norma of Denver arrived here yesterday morning and will visit with the Roy Shafer family for a week or so. Mrs. Hayden is a sister to Mrs. Shafer.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sipple, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Myers and son Vernon of Haxton, Colo., came in Wednesday and will spend a month with the Ray Sipple family of the town of Heart's Desire, White Oaks. Mr. Sipple is a brother to Ray and Mrs. Myers is Mrs. C. A. Sipple's daughter.

Ex-Judge Edwin Mechem was here this week from Las Cruces, attending to some court matters.

Ralph Petty is in Cloudcroft this week, taking part in the golf tournament and visiting his brother, Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bamberger and Miss Grace Jones spent the 4th at Eagle Creek.

Personals

County School Superintendent Mrs. Ola Jones, sons Tom, Jr., Paul, Mrs. Selma Degitz and Mrs. Watson, are in Denver this week. Meadames Jones and Watson attending the convention of the National Educational Association and Mrs. Degitz visiting her daughter. The convention will close tomorrow and the party will return the first of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Juan Martinez and the children left Sunday for Oakland, Calif., where after a short visit with the Ben Lujan family and other relatives, they will attend the San Diego Exposition. Fred Baldonado is re-joining Mr. Martinez at the local S. P. station while he is absent.

H. E. Miller, genial representative of the Standard Oil Company with headquarters in Roswell, was here this Tuesday, calling on the local trade. While in town, Mr. Miller made this office a pleasant visit.

T. C. Romero, mother, Mrs. Roberta Romero, sister, Mary and Judge H. M. Maes were Carrizozo business visitors the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gunther Kroggel and Mrs. Kroggel's sister Mrs. Rita Wharton attended the Rodeo and dance at Adobe on the 4th.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Chavez, June 26, a boy. Mother and son are doing nicely.

Gus Grossmiller and son Ralph were down from Coyote Tuesday. Ralph prefers our climate to that of Phoenix where he says you can fry an egg in the sun most any time. Ralph will remain until the beginning of school.

The Ben C. Sanchez, Saturnino Chavez, Lell St. John, Nick Vega, Manuel Chavez and Joaquin Ortiz families, Joe and Leandro Vega, Jos Chavez, Marshall St. John, Juan Beltran, Celestino Sandoval, Macario and Pablo Navarro and the Sabino Vidaurri family, attended the ball game at Fort Stanton last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burnett of the Burnett Cash Grocery and Market, small son, accompanied by Emery and Boss Galloway, the two store clerks, attended the rodeo at Adobe on the 4th.

Jose and Juan Otero were here from their ranch near Capitan last Friday, attending to some business matters. The boys report—good rains in that locality.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Kent were here from Oscura Tuesday, doing some shopping and returning home in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bogle were down from Coyote Monday evening. It is like old times again to see Roy and the Mrs. driving down in the cool evenings as they did in years gone by.

M. Doering has returned from a pleasure trip to the Grand Canyon and Yellowstone Park. He reports a good time with his granddaughter and other relatives, whom he met and accompanied him on the trip.

Mrs. T. M. DuBois of Corona was a visitor in town last Saturday.

Ancho Items

The Ancho Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. M. R. Hendrix, Thursday, June 27. On account of a very few members present, there was no business meeting. The Study was very ably conducted by Mrs. Jack Pruett. At the close of the study period delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Guests of the day were Mrs. Bennett and Mrs. Kilmer of Ancho and Mrs. Clyde Barnhill of Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Barnhill and Archie Barnhill are spending the summer with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Kilmer.

Rev. Johnson delivered an excellent message to a well-filled house Sunday, June 30. After services, nearly everyone gathered at a well-chosen spot at Jack's Peak and enjoyed a delightful picnic lunch. After lunch, Rev. Johnson gave another nice talk and Miss Johnson favored us with a solo.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl were Ancho visitors Sunday, attending services and the picnic.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hendricks of Jack's Peak were Roswell visitors last week.

Sylvia Gresham and Sophia Zamora are on the sick list this week.

A. W. Drake is expecting his sister from Arkansas next week, for a visit.

Mrs. J. M. Frame has returned from San Francisco and is feeling fine.

Mrs. Poole Earnest is home after spending most of the winter at Hot Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Penix and daughter were guests at the Frame home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Goodson were White Oaks visitors Sunday.

Mrs. L. L. Peters has returned from Kenna where she had gone to be with her sister, Mrs. Martin. Her mother accompanied her for a prolonged visit.

Mr. and Mrs. John Walker of Jack's Peak have moved to Carrizozo.

E. H. Hendricks was in Carrizozo Monday on business.

Rose Mary Hanley is out again after having the chicken pox.

Here Comes the Band

The Roswell Chamber of Commerce is sending a delegation on a good-will tour as far east as Carrizozo. They will be in Carrizozo July 17, from 1:45 to 2:30 p. m. There will be 100 in the party; will have a 80 piece band with them and will give a concert at Carrizozo. Turn out and make the visitors welcome.

—The Business Men's Club.

Good Rawleigh Route open near you. Industrious man can earn better than the average income. Complete line of household necessities, established 46 years. Permanent. Write us today. —Rawleigh, Dept. NMG-15-Q, Denver, Colo. J 26

The J. S. Clower family spent last week-end in Roswell.

The 4th of July

GOOD old freedom and equality have been with us so long in these United States—and who shall deny that we have them—that it has become a "property of easiness" and we are prone to forget, with all the Independence days we have observed since that far day of the first one born of the spirit of '76, just how it all came about. It has been some time since we have heard a "Fourth of July Orator" or heard the "Declaration of Independence" read at the fair grounds. So, let's take a moment's pause and do a little looking backward and recover, perhaps, a few forgotten thrills, advises a writer in the Kansas City Star.

The hall in which our freedom was born is still standing there in Independence Square, Philadelphia. Little changed with time. Some of the chairs the delegates sat in and the desk upon which the president of the congress wrote his "John Hancock" are there. Portraits of the signers look down from the walls. But who today can recall the actual happenings of those fateful years of June and July, 1776 years ago, when our independence was in travail? What actually happened on July 4, the subsequently dedicated day? When was the immortal document proclaimed to the nation? Was the great step taken amid a tumult of shouting and bell-ringing and firing of cannon, as it came to be celebrated in after years?

Glorious in legend as was that first Fourth 175 years ago, it was a day of deep and cautious solemnity. They were not noise-makers who assembled to launch a new nation "dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal." The day fell upon a rainy Thursday. In Philadelphia's old statehouse there was no stately ceremony. No crowds were waiting, outside as yet to hear "the joyful news." In fact, there was an atmosphere of grave uncertainty in the hall as to the fate of the great charter of American liberty. There were a good many minds that were not fully made up as to the wisdom of the declaration.

To state the historical truth, by the record, independence had already been declared July 2, two days before. It was on that day that Richard Henry Lee's resolution, introduced in the congress some weeks before, was passed by a bare majority, declaring "that the United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, Free and Independent States, and that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them, and the State of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved." In effect that action was a severing of the political tie between the colonies and Great Britain. Why, then, is not July 2 the "day we celebrate"?

Because those fathers of the Republic recognized the gravity of the step they were about to take and that it meant war and bloodshed. They were practical, methodical and just men, and were bred in the parliamentary sense had constitutional law. They recognized that more than a mere resolution was necessary to justify their action to the world, and that "a decent respect for the opinions of mankind required that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation." They were determined not to go before the world as mere "revolutionaries and rebels," but statesmen representing a just cause and a new ideal of government "with the consent of the governed."

So, July 4 became the day we celebrate because it was not until then that the congress was ready to go before the judgment of the people and of other nations with a candid statement of the causes that impelled them to the severance of the ties that had long bound them to the mother country. The act was not consummated without long and careful deliberation. The idea of independence had been long a-borning. The fashioning of the great document that bore defiance to the King and proclaimed a new nation was not as smooth and easy a task as it may appear from a reading of the beautifully engrossed transcript in the archives at Washington now accepted as "the original Declaration of Independence."

The idea of a declaration of independence had its birth 15 years prior to July 4, 1776. James Otis, the "fery-tongued orator," sounded the first note in the state house at Boston in 1761. Nearly a month before the writing of the formal declaration, Richard Henry Lee, a spokesman for the Virginia delegation in congress, introduced his resolution which, so far as the record was concerned, finally became the formal declaration. It precipitated a serious debate, for there were many who "were not ready for the question." On June 11, a committee was appointed to prepare a suitable doc-laration of causes. In support of Lee's resolution, composed of Thomas Jefferson, John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, Roger Sherman and Robert Livingston.

Reading Declaration of Independence From Balcony of State House.

The task of formulating the causes and writing the document fell to the facile pen of Thomas Jefferson. But it was not finally accepted wholly as Jefferson wrote it. Many passages were stricken out and several amendments attached to it. But on July 4, Jefferson's final draft of the "form of announcing the fact of separation" was formally adopted and ordered printed and distributed to the assemblies, conventions and councils of safety throughout the colonies. This printing had only two signatures—those of John Hancock, president, and Charles Thomson, secretary of the congress. On July 19, congress ordered the declaration to be "fairly engrossed on parchment," and it was not until August 2, 1776, that the great sheepshead was unrolled in the presence of the Continental Congress. Fifty of the fathers signed the document on that day. Six did not affix their signatures until a later date. And one, Thomas McKean of Delaware, did not sign it until five years later.

But with the signatures of Hancock and Thomson, the document became official, so far as the outside world was concerned, on July 4. On July 8, Washington had it read to the army, and to the public from the balcony of the statehouse, a day that became one of public rejoicing.

Weight of Liberty Bell
The Liberty Bell, which is still preserved in Independence Hall in Philadelphia, weighs 2,088 pounds.

"Give Me Liberty Or Give Me Death"

THE orator had a definite place in the building of America. In the Eighteenth century oratory was a fine art and not the lost one that it is today. Therefore, writes Elizabeth Ellicott Poe, in the Washington Post, the place that Patrick Henry held and holds in the affections of the people for the part he played before and during the American revolution is one that cannot be too highly estimated.

Hanover county, Va., which has given many notable men and women to the Old Dominion's Hall of Fame, has every right to be proud of the achievements of this Henry of Studley. As early as 1763 he was sounding the keynotes of freedom in unmistakable tones. He was a country lawyer who had made an early marriage rather foolishly and was struggling to keep a growing family in the necessities of life when, in 1763, he became aroused in behalf of what was known as "The Patrons' Cause" concerning the right of the clergy to receive the same price for their tobacco as other Colonists. In 1765 Henry was elected to the Virginia House of Burgesses. From time he took his seat he introduced act after act defining the rights of the colony, especially in the matter of the obnoxious stamp tax and, against great opposition, carried all of his resolutions through the sheer force of his logic and his eloquence.

This made Patrick Henry the leader of the colony, in many senses of the word. Patrick Henry came rightly by his love of freedom, his historical sense and powers of oratory. For he was a cousin of the historian, William Robertson, of Scotland, and of the mother of Lord Brougham. His mother was a Winston of that noted English family and his father saw to it that he had a classical education and every possible advantage in the way of proper learning.

In 1774 Henry was foremost in the call to form a Continental congress. George Mason, author of the Bill of Rights, himself an author and patriot of more than usual ability, said of Henry: "He is by far the most powerful speaker I ever heard. Every word he says not only engages, but commands the attention, and your passions are no longer your own when he addresses them. But his eloquence is the smallest part of his merit. He is in, my opinion, as well in abilities as in public virtues, and had he lived in Rome about the time of the first Punic war, when the Roman people had arrived at their meridian glory, and their virtues not tarnished, Henry's talents must have put him at the head of that glorious commonwealth."

Golden Phantoms

FASCINATING TALES OF LOST MINES
By Edith E. Watson

LOST DUTCHMAN MINE

NO SERIES concerning golden phantoms would be complete without a story about the famous Lost Dutchman mine. In fact, a book might be written about it, because in the century that has elapsed since its discovery legends have sprung up about it that would furnish a volume of interesting—and often exciting, even blood curdling—reading.

The very location of the mine is unusual. It lies somewhere in Superstition mountain, that great, picturesque labyrinth which stands out of the desert forty miles from Phoenix, Ariz. Yet, somewhere among these hiding-places where anything beautiful, gruesome, or strange might be concealed, at least one person lives. Who it is, how he manages to exist, what he knows of the secrets of Superstition are questions which he alone can answer. But there he is, self-constituted guardian of the mountain. He is armed, and those who venture near his place of concealment realize that fact very soon, though all of them have not lived to warn others.

1843 is nearly a century ago. It was in 1843 that a young Mexican, Carlos, the illegitimate son of Don Miguel Peralto, fled from his father's wrath up into the winding ways of Superstition. He was followed by two Indians who had orders to bring him back, but at last, after many weeks had passed, only one returned.

This Indian had much to tell. Carlos had discovered one of incredible richness, and had started for home with the news, hoping to soothe his father's heart. One of the sudden mountain floods which sometimes catch wayfarers had swept him away, however, before he had come far, and with him had gone the other Indian and the horses. Carlos had lived only long enough to tell the survivor his story, and to point out the location of the mine.

The Indian was able to show Don Miguel the place, and the old don worked the mine for five years, becoming rich from its proceeds. Then the United States became the owner of all that territory, and Don Miguel decided to send in one last enormous expedition, to take out all the gold possible, and then to retire gracefully. Four hundred men, accordingly, and a thousand mules, were sent to the mine.

There were Apaches in the region in those days, as soldiers of a later generation could relate. They had seen the miners and their mules, and they decided to stop this increasing procession of strangers who made free of the land. So they suddenly gathered about the pack-trail, in such numbers and with such violence that the Mexicans were unable to stand against them. Only two boys crawled away and managed to keep out of sight. All the rest perished.

Carlos gave the mine its first bloody baptism; the four hundred miners wrote the second chapter with their gore. But that was only the start of the story.

Several years later a German prospector named Jacob Walz lost his way among the twisted canyons of the eerie mountain. Wandering about without any idea where he was going, he finally stumbled onto a camp where three Mexicans received him with native hospitality and gave him food and water. Two of the men were the boys who had escaped from the Apache raid; the other was a comrade who was to share their labor and their riches. They were working a wonderful mine, they told Walz.

The German pretended to be remarkably ignorant of such things as mines. He acted indifferent, but he looked and listened avidly, and watched for a chance to do something that should make the mine his—alone. The chance came; he caught up his rifle and fired three times. The third sanguine chapter was written.

And now, having gained sole possession of the golden secret, the "Dutchman" did a characteristic thing; he gathered up a load of nuggets, took them to Phoenix, grew garrulously drunk, and told all who would heed that he had a very fine mine!

Naturally, everyone wanted to know where—when—how. This he would not tell. The mystery pleased him. The fattery exalted him. But when anyone tried to follow, he became a stubborn old fellow who would not lead; just sat down and waited until they left. Or got out of sight and fired—to kill.

Even murder did not keep back the increasing number who tried to trail Walz to the mine. He began to feel worried; what if someone should find it? The only safe thing was to hide the place so thoroughly that no one would know where it was. He covered the opening with logs, concealed them with rocks and dirt.

So he went to Phoenix, and there he grew ill and died.

As he felt himself going, the old man tried to tell a friend about the mine. He gave him a box full of nuggets, and tried to describe where they came from, but who can describe one place in that mysterious mountain and be understood? The friend spent the rest of his life hunting the place. His son is carrying on the search—and so are hundreds of others. But the mine remains hidden.

A Few Little Smiles

BREAKING THE NEWS GENTLY

Young Bobby came home late from school looking very sheepish. "Dad," he said to his father, and there was a tone of despondency in his voice, "do you remember telling me how you were expelled from school?" Father laughed. "Why, yes, my son," he said, "that was a good story. But it's ancient history now." Bobby brightened. "It's funny how history repeats itself, isn't it, dad?" he replied.

CLEVER, HUH?

"Your wife is very ingenious." "I should say so. It seems to me she finds a new place to hide my dress shirt studs every time."

Restored to Good Health

She was visiting a zoo and eventually came to the bears. "Are these animals carnivorous?" she asked the keeper. He scratched his head, and then smiled brightly. "They was, ma'am," he answered; "but they're all right since we washed 'em in carbolic."

Vocabularitis

"Your daughters have had every advantage." "Till say so," answered Mr. Dustin Stax. "They can understand every word on a menu."

IF AND WHEN

Mrs. Bragg—I could have married four of the wealthiest men in town. Her Hubby—Why didn't you? The whole four might have been able to pay your dress bills.

Sheet!

"Are all the news-cameramen here?" "Yes, your honor." "Lights O. K.?" "Yes, your honor." "Sound O. K.?" "Yes, your honor." "Good! Then let justice take its course."

Deception

"Do you permit yourself to deceive the public?" "No," said Senator Borghum. "The public has learned all kinds of tricks. I'm doing pretty well to keep it from deceiving me."

The Silver Lining

Mr. Smith—I figure the drought cost us over three thousand bushels of corn. Mrs. Smith—Dreadful, dear. But remember, there wasn't a day all that summer that we couldn't get salt out of the shakers.

After That It's Different

Bettina—Would you object to a husband who sat up in bed and smoked? Ruthina—I certainly would, but I intend to keep quiet about it until I get one.

Desired Effect

Bingle—My wife works in an office, and she often comes home too tired for words. Bungle—Where's that office? Do you suppose they could use another married woman there?

Standing Up

Mary—Sit down and tell me all about your horseback ride with that handsome young groom. Myrtle—I'll tell you all about it, but if you don't mind, I won't sit down.

CHARMING LITTLE RUNABOUT FROCK

PATTERN 933

The whole fabric world echoes with the words "Shantung"—"Linen"—"Eique." The whole fashion world reflects "femininity" in its styling, even when the styling is decidedly tailored! So take a cue, and combine the two! For the casual little runabout frocks you need so many of, Pattern 933 is the Right Answer. Charming in its simplicity, the yoke becomes a slashed excuse for a sleeve and a note of femininity is reflected in the simple bodice by means of front and back tucks. The clever detail of belt and pocket subtly conforms with the yoke styling. Choose novel crystal, wood or cork buttons.

Pattern 933 may be ordered only in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards 36 inch fabric.

SEND FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coin preferred) for this pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE.

Complete, diagrammed sew chart included. Send your order to Sewing Circle Pattern department, 232 West Eighteenth Street, New York.

Smiles

COMPLAINT

"Are you complaining of the cost of living?" "I am," answered Farmer Corn-tassel. "When I go to town it costs me all out of reason to have my pants pressed."

His Hard Task

Junior came to school with the glad news that his father had work again. "What is he doing?" asked the teacher. "Oh, he's got a hard job," said the child. "He's got to watch six watchmen."—Border Cities Star.

Demand for Improvement

"The radio is a marvelous mechanism." "It is," replied Miss Cayenne. "All that's needed now is to find some way to fill it up with material that will include a large supply of good news."

ENJOY

Wrigley's Spearmint Gum

QUALITY GUM

Cottons of New Style Importance

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

SUMMER cottons were never so lovely as they are this year, when their new fashion importance has caused them to be styled as carefully and as beautifully, and often as formally as the most expensive silks. They have blossomed forth in the stores in such alluring array that even if you have forgotten how to thread the bobbin of your sewing machine, you will find yourself buying dress-lengths for your own sports and daytime summer clothes and for pretty frocks for your little girl.

With cottons being declared so really high-fashion this season, at the same time so practical and inexpensive, it is no wonder they are creating such a furore in the style realm, they are simply irresistible. Then, too, they include such a wide variety of weaves to choose from, there is not the slightest difficulty in finding a proper kind for any pattern you may have selected.

Seersuckers are of course big news—and there are several types that merit attention for street and sports wear. The shironecker plaids, in very fine-creaked seersucker, are equally attractive in two tones of one color or in vari-colored designs in bold or small patterns. The sports dress, to the left in the group illustrated, is made of this sort of plaid seersucker. It buttons all the way down the back and proves its practicality in that it may be worn separately or over a play suit of hatter bodice and shorts. The ensemble is smart for beach, bicycling or tennis. Anyone who can sew even a little bit can easily make this simply though effectively styled dress.

Lighter in weight are the crepecord seersucker variations with corded lines emphasizing the color-stripes in either pastel or high shades. You will have a difficult time choosing between these colorful stripes and the gay seersucker plaids. A dress of each is the best solution to this problem.

Flaxon batistes, which you probably wore in rosebud-sprigged prints when you wore braids and hair ribbons, are just as cool and sheer and dainty as ever. This year they are especially chic in new lively plaid and floral designs. The best of it is you can depend on them being in reliable fast colors.

That smart tailored budget frock which we are picturing to the right is made of one of the fashionable flaxon batistes in very sheer yet firm stripes. You will enjoy a dress like this for summer daytime and spectator-sports wear. One of the fascinations of stripes is they make up so effectively. The gown illustrated is no exception to the rule. This striped batiste comes in red or blue with white or yellow, also brown with orange. The tie and belt of organdie in a matching shade add a pleasing trimming touch. Pleated short sleeves and buttons all the way down the front are nice details.

The little girl is wearing a pretty frock which is made of lightweight crossbar cotton seersucker in red and white. The collar and pocket are piped with bright red.

© Western Newspaper Union.

FLOWER JEWELRY

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

The new gold flower-jewelry is so attractive you will fall in love with it at first sight. The centers of the flowers are of turquoise, coral and pearls. The clips fastening this charming black lace-and-net cape with matching halo hat which has a large clip at the back, the bracelets and the ornaments on the face bag show how decorative and flattering a touch these pretty jewel-centered gold flowers impart to today's costume. With the now-so-fashionable white chiffon evening gowns you couldn't think of anything more pleasing to wear than a gold flower jewelry ensemble as here pictured. This stunning lace-cape-and-hat ensemble was shown in the style revue in connection with the Lace ball recently given in New York.

FASHIONS HAVE NEW ACCENTS OF COLOR

White is still the top, but there are some new notes creeping into the song. They will never be able to steal the place that pure white accords have held for so long, but they are a great boon to those whose skin doesn't take kindly to white. With navy, with black, or with brown a deep shade of pink, called desert rose is used. In plique or alk it makes gilets and collars and bunches of flowers for the neckline of a frock.

Chamois is the other color that is stealing into the accessory picture—the real thing or rough silk that is dyed the same tone. When the leather is used it makes belts and sacot scarfs, to be worn with navy or gray when matched to chamolis gloves and bag.

Just as there are new colors in accessories, so are there new colors in hostelry. There is a coppery shade that blends beautifully with brown or tan ensembles, to be worn with brown shoes.

Peasant-Influence Noted in Various Dress Items

The peasant influence is felt in all sorts of angles of female attire this season. Blouses go in for great big sleeves that are banded tight at the wrist, embroidery of peasant motive is used on dresses and good-looking sports oxfords have thick soles stitched in hemp.

One of the smartest results of the "back-to-the-soil movement" is a two-piece Paquin daytime dress in a soft shade of blue. The straight skirt is given fullness by small kick pleats in front. The rounded high neck is formed by a sunburst of wide tucks and is edged by a band of blue pearls and metal which continues on the left shoulder to form an epaulette.

Chiffon Blouses

Gay blouses of chiffon in such shades as turquoise, chartreuse, mauve, best root, and coral are going to look awfully smart with white crepe suits this summer.

Dust, Spray Halts Bean Leaf Hopper

Copper Compound Is Found Good Protection If Applied Early.

By L. H. Shropshire, Assistant Entomologist, Illinois State Natural History Survey.—WNU Service.

It is too early in the season to determine whether bean leaf hoppers will be plentiful enough to cause serious damage to the bean crop this year. However, the hoppers frequently reduce the crop by 50 per cent, and adequate preparations for dusting or spraying the beans with a copper compound will be good crop insurance.

Unprotected beans yielded 50 per cent less than those that had been sprayed or dusted in tests conducted at the Cook county branch experiment station of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

A copper dust containing tobacco and gypsum is one of the dusts and sprays that has proved effective in controlling the leaf hopper during the tests. It was applied at the rate of about 20 to 25 pounds to the acre. Applications were made five times, beginning as soon as the plants were well above the ground and continuing until five applications were made.

The 3-6-50 Bordeaux spray also proved effective, but was not quite as good as the dust. Nicotine sulphate spray had little value in controlling leaf hoppers.

Bean leaf hoppers do not hibernate in the garden regions of Illinois, but migrate to the beans late in the season. They constitute one of the worst enemies of beans and frequently infest gardens in heavy numbers.

Cut Grass Hay Early Is Recommended by Expert

"The leading slogan about grass hay is to 'cut it early.' Disregard 'first bloom' and 'second bloom' of timothy, and cut as soon as the heads are completely out. . . . Hay cut early will contain 8 per cent or more protein, and is much more palatable to the dairy cow. It is cow hay. If the meadows were fertilized this spring with nitrogenous fertilizer, there will be an even higher percentage of protein in the hay (as protein is made from nitrogen) and, of course, a higher yield. . . . Cut your hay early and get two crops of quality hay."

This is a statement made by Prof. L. A. Keegan of the Rhode Island experiment station. It may be said that several experiment stations have been paying more attention to making good hay from timothy and other grasses and invariably reports are to the effect that through fertilization and early cutting, a hay is produced which is much superior to that grown on meadows not rich in nitrogen and cut late.—Hoard's Dairyman.

Feed for Work Horse

One of the poorest bits of economy on the farm is to try to save on the feed of work horses, says a writer in Pathfinder Magazine. It is a common error as feed supplies get low to increase the quantity of roughage and lessen the amount of concentrated feed. An idle horse can eat enough roughage to supply its needs for proteins, vitamins, and minerals, but a working horse cannot. If deprived of an adequate amount of concentrated feeds the work horse begins to draw on body fat for energy needed, and when that is exhausted it begins to draw on the muscles with the result that efficiency is constantly decreased. If this condition continues a complete breakdown is inevitable. The work horse should be fed chiefly on grains and other easily digested concentrated feeds with only enough roughage to keep the digestive tract in good order.

Sprayed Fruit

Consumers who have been led to believe that it is unsafe to eat fruit sprayed with arsenical mixtures may have their fears allayed. The secretary of agriculture has announced a further restriction in the quantity of lead residue permitted on apples and pears in interstate commerce. Ordinary washing of the fruit before eating will remove the residue, while peeling or cutting-out-the-stem-and-blossom ends, where the residue is most difficult to wash is an added measure of safety.

Pigs Need Copper, Iron

Milk is deficient in copper and iron, and when pigs consume nothing but milk, they do not get a sufficient amount of these constituents to maintain the normal hemoglobin content of their blood. Then they lose their vigor, become anemic, inactive and listless, and are very likely to be trampled and crushed by the sow. Some forms of so-called thumps in young pigs, which some years ago was supposed to be caused by lack of exercise, are also the result of lack of iron and copper in the milk of the sow.

Around the Farm

Garden celery originated in Germany.

Czechoslovakia is trying to stimulate interest in sheep raising.

Minnesota is the leading barley-producing state of the Union.

Despite official effort to keep production within bounds, farmers of France are increasing their wheat acreage this year.

Bison Bones Shed Light on Earliest Americans

A spot in northern Colorado where Smithsonian institution scientists discovered ancient animal bones is believed to be the oldest habitation site in America, says Pathfinder Magazine. The bones have been identified as those of a species of bison which are thought to have followed closely upon the receding glaciers of the last Ice age and to have inhabited the North American continent at the same time as the mysterious "Folsom men." These men made odd-looking tools known as Folsom points, which have been found scattered widely over the continent and in connection with animal bones of great age. More detailed evidence of the race, however, has never been found. Scientists are, therefore, looking hopefully to this site with the expectation that it may throw light upon the nature and origin of this primitive American. The "Folsom man," ancestor of the American Indian, is believed to have come from Asia.

Question

Do the good die young or are they only good while they are young? an exchange asks.

44 PREMIUMS

CLABBER GIRL BAKING POWDER

FLY-TOX
Why do you spray?
FOR BEATS!
Will a cheap quality spray do the job?—IT WILL NOT!
What's the answer?
BEST KILLS MOSQUITOES
BY 10 000 TESTS
SPIDERS & MOSQUITOES

TWEET, TWEET!

THE FLAVOR'S SWEET

BUY IT, TRY IT

IT'S A RIOT

HEY THERE YOU, YOU'LL LIKE IT TOO

GRAPE-NUTS FLAKES!

ONCE you taste Grape-Nuts Flakes, you'll cheer, too! Crisp, sweet, golden-brown flakes with plenty of real nourishment. One dishful, with milk or cream, contains more varied nourishment than many a hearty meal. Try it—your grocer has it! Product of General Foods.

WITH AUNT LUCY'S BLESSING!

IT WAS NICE TO MEET YOU, MRS. KINGSTON! YOU KNOW, I THINK YOUR NEPHEW IS A VERY NICE BOY!

I SUPPOSE HE'S TOLD YOU I'M RICH, SO YOU THINK HE'S QUITE A CATCH!

GOOD! IF SHE REALLY LOVES HIM THAT REMARK WILL HURT!

SHE PUT ME THROUGH COLLEGE AND LAW SCHOOL, MONEY, AND HANDLING HER AFFAIRS IS THE BIGGEST JOB I HAVE.

WELL—THEN WE'D BETTER GIVE IT ALL UP, JACK! I LOVE YOU... BUT YOUR AUNT—WE COULD NEVER BE HAPPY!

POOR AUNT LUCY, SHE DOESN'T MEAN TO BE CROSS, BUT HER HEADACHES AND INDIGESTION MAKE HER SO IRRITABLE!

PROMISE ME YOU'LL TELL HER WHAT I TOLD YOU, DEAR... IT REALLY MAY BE COFFEE-NERVES!

MARY'S MOTHER HAD YOUR TROUBLE ONCE! SHE CUT OUT COFFEE AND 'TRIED POSTUM. THE CHANGE WORKED WONDERS! WON'T YOU TRY IT, AUNT LUCY?

OH, MERCY! I WILL... IF YOU'LL JUST STOP RAVING ABOUT MARY!

CURSES! I KNEW THAT GIRL MARY WAS UP TO NO GOOD! NOW I'LL HAVE TO DUCK!

WASN'T IT NICE OF AUNT LUCY TO GIVE US THIS CRUISE FOR A WEDDING PRESENT?

SHE'S BEEN JUST TOO WONDERFUL FOR WORDS SINCE SHE SWITCHED TO POSTUM!

30 DAYS LATER

"I DIDN'T suppose coffee could harm anyone... except, of course, children!"

"Oh, yes... many adults, too, find that the caffeine in coffee can upset nerves, cause indigestion, or prevent sound sleep!"

If you suspect that coffee disagrees with you... try Postum for 30 days. Postum contains no caffeine. It's simply whole wheat and bran, roasted and slightly sweetened. It's easy to make... and costs less than half a cent a cup. It's delicious, too... and may prove a real help. A product of General Foods.

FREE! Let us send you your first week's supply of Postum free! Simply mail the coupon.

GENERAL FOODS, Battle Creek, Mich. W.M.U. 6-28-38
Send me, without obligation, a week's supply of Postum.

Name _____
Street _____
City _____

Fill in completely—print name and address
This offer expires December 31, 1933

THE OUTLOOK

Published Weekly in the interest of Carrizozo and Lincoln County, N.M.

A. L. BURKE, Editor and Publisher
Largest Circulation in The County

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Six months, in advance $1.00
One year, in advance $2.00

Entered as second class matter January 6, 1911, at the post office at Carrizozo, New Mexico, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Advertising forms close Wednesday at noon. News columns close Thursday night. If you do not receive your paper regularly, please notify the Publisher. Advertising rates on application.

Office Phone No. 24

NEW MEXICO PRESS ASSOCIATION
MEMBER

EDITORIAL COLUMN

Forecast of Tugwell's "Phooey"

Rexford Tugwell, sent out by the Washington "Brain Trust" to enlighten the students at the State University, failed to make the hit he came here to accomplish. The fact that his talk caused more ridicule than praise from other parts of the country and newspapers of note have made comments on his talk. We quote the Sioux City Journal in the following:

"There probably will be a good of this kind of talk in the next year or so. Brain trusters who have high positions in the government probably will go about the country scaring the people to death with all sorts of predictions of dire consequences of the Supreme Court's decision. That may be done as a buildup for further attacks upon the Constitution in the campaign of 1936.

"The New Dealers are hard losers from Mr. Roosevelt down to and beyond Prof. Tugwell. They built unwisely and they saw their dream castle tumble into ruins at their feet. They evidently felt and still feel that the Supreme Court, created for performance of the duty of protecting the nation and the people against unconstitutional legislation, should have indorsed and approved their theories.

The Tugwells have told us their theories would work, but they didn't. They told us they were Constitutional, but they weren't. Now they predict internal strife. Maybe they are guessing wrong again."

"According to signs of the times, the federal government is about to face a big blockade on nearly every measure of the New Deal. Banker groups are openly talking of refusing to accept or go forward under the terms of the new banking bill. They say that they can leave the Federal Reserve System. Employers say they will endeavor to have the Wagner Labor Disputes Bill declared unconstitutional.

Utility companies will attack the holding bill in a similar manner. Firms hit by processing taxes intend to contest the validity of the AAA. It might be added to this, that there is hardly a measure in the New Deal category that is likely to escape. Next winter's session of the Supreme Court will have a vital effect on the nation, says The El Paso Times.

When you dine and dance look your best. Daintiest of Frocks—so reasonably priced you will want several.—Burke's Outlook Art & Gift Shop.

Must Be Clean

Be certain that the hardwood floors are perfectly clean before either waxing or shellacking them. If all stains are not removed they will show very plainly under the polished surface.

Notice for Publication

Notice is hereby given that the Lincoln County Board of Education will receive sealed bids for contracts for the transportation of school children in the following districts for the school year 1935-36:

District No. 1, Lincoln: route No. 1 and route No. 2.
District No. 2, San Patricio: route No. 1 and route No. 1 A and Rt. 2 High School bus to Hondo.
District No. 3, Ruidoso: high school bus to Hondo.
District No. 4, Picacho: route No. 1 Rt. 2 High School bus to Hondo.
District No. 6, Encino: route No. 1.
District No. 9, Ramon: route No. 1 and route No. 2.
District No. 14, Jicarilla: route No. 1 and route No. 1 A.
District No. 15, Alto: route No. 1.
District No. 21, Ancho: route No. 1, route No. 2, route No. 3, route No. 4.
District No. 28, Capitan: route No. 1, route No. 2, route No. 3, route No. 4.
District No. 30, Loh: Grade School (route No. 1, No. 2, No. 3, No. 4).
District No. 32, Arabela: route No. 1 (Blackwater one) and route No. 2.
District No. 34, Asperus: route No. 1.

District No. 34, Erwin: route No. 1.
District No. 35, Stetson: route No. 1 and route No. 1 A.
District No. 45, Macho: route No. 1.
All bids must be in the office of the Lincoln County School Superintendent at Carrizozo, New Mexico, on or before 7 P. M., June 28, 1935.

In awarding contracts the Board will consider the equipment of respective bidders and reliability of proposed drivers. The amount to be paid for said contracts will be governed by the budget allowance for respective routes. All bids must be stated in dollars and cents. All truck drivers will be required to carry liability insurance. Details concerning these routes may be secured from the Local Board of Directors of respective school districts or from the office of the County School Superintendent.

The County Board of Education reserves the right to reject any or all bids submitted.

Lincoln County Board of Education,
By Ola C. Jones, Secretary,
June 7-28

Novelties
Magazines
Candies
Cigars of All Kinds
Prescriptions Carefully Compounded.
Majestic Radios
Rolland's Drug Store
Carrizozo, N. M.

Santa Rita Church
Rev. Fr. Salvatore, Pastor.
Sunday Mass at 8 a. m.
Evening Service at 7 p. m.
The public is cordially invited.

St. Paul's Church
(Episcopal)
Rev. L. E. Patee, Vicar

Baptist Church
L. D. Jordan, Pastor.
Reid Dudley, S. S. Supt.
Sunday School at 10 a. m. every Sunday.
Preaching Services at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. on the 1st and 3rd Sunday in each Month.

Movie Handkerchiefs
Reasonably priced at the Burke's Outlook Gift Shop.

WANTED—Two or three cows (either milk or range) to milk during the summer. Have plenty of grass and water.—Apply at this office.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
Carrizozo — New Mexico

"Try First National Service"
Deposits Insured under U. S. Government Plan

Carrizozo Home Laundry

Satisfaction Guaranteed

Work Called For And Delivered

Phone 50 Carrizozo, N. M.

Carrizozo Dry Cleaners

Cleaning . Pressing . Alterations
Clothes called for and Delivered.
Suits Cleaned & Pressed 75c
John Clower, Prop. Phone 66

ECONOMY Cash Grocery & Meat Market
At Your Service

PHONE 62

Stamped Baby Beef
Lunch Goods

ICE FOR SALE

Fancy and Staple Groceries.
Fresh Fruits and Vegetables
Your patronage greatly Appreciated.

PHONE 16

For Dependable
Passenger - - Express
And Freight Service

By
Roswell-Carrizozo Stage & Truck Lines

Office at
George's Auto Service
Carrizozo, N. M.

Try—
The Waffle House
"The Place to Eat"
Miners' Headquarters
Leave your samples here

We Patronize
Home Industries.

Mrs. J. E. Compton
Proprietress
Carrizozo, New Mexico

For Sale
One Used Hand-Operated Book-keeping Machine in Good Order.—The Titworth Co., Inc., Capitan, N.M.

EL PASO - ARIZONA
Motor Truck Line

We carry Refrigerator Trucks
And guarantee all perishable goods to reach destinations in perfect order.

General Trucking Service

SHETLANDS
Solid Colors $20; Pintos $35
Mrs. J. R. Jenkins, Corona, N. M. July 19

—Announcing the Opening of—
The Ruidoso Home Laundry
Ruidoso, N. Mex.
Which will Clean, Press and Launder
Any kind of wearing apparel—at very reasonable prices, and guarantee our work, which is being done by Experts ONLY.
We call for work and deliver.
We ask for your valued patronage.
Louis Johansen, Prop.

of July
Celebration
Fort Stanton
New Mexico

Barbecue Dinner - Rodeo Events
Steer Riding—Bronco Riding—Wild Cow Milking
Calf Roping
10:00 A. M.—Concessions on Picnic Grounds
Admission: Adults, 50c; Children under 8, FREE

Save after Seven
Long Distance Night Rates
now begin at 7 p. m. instead of 8:30 p. m.

"WATCH THE FORDS GO BY"

OVER TWO MILLION

Over two million Ford V-8 cars and trucks have been built — over a million within the last year. You see them everywhere. Owners are enthusiastic about the all-round value and economy of the car.

THE REASON

The Ford has made it possible for the average purchaser to have the kind of car that used to be beyond his reach. Fine-car performance, comfort, safety, beauty and convenience are now available to all.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY

SEE THE FORD EXHIBITION AT THE CALIFORNIA PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION AT SAN DIEGO

In The Probate Court of Lincoln County, New Mexico

In the Matter of the Estate of James E. Compton, Deceased. No. 401

Notice is hereby given that on the 28th day of May, 1935, the undersigned was appointed by the Probate Court of Lincoln County, New Mexico, Executrix of the Estate of James E. Compton, deceased. Notice is further given that all persons having claims against said estate are required to file the same with the undersigned or with the Probate Clerk at Carrizozo, New Mexico, within one year from this date or the same will be forever barred.

This the 19th day of June, 1935.

Una M. Compton, Administratrix of the Estate of James E. Compton, Deceased, 321-7 July 12 Carrizozo, N. M.

Big County Singing Convention

The third Lincoln County singing convention is to be held at Corona on the 2nd Sunday in July. The Huff Sisters' Quartette of Lovington, the Melrose Quartette of Melrose and possibly many others, will be present to help make this the best convention Lincoln County has ever known. Each community will be expected to render one or more special numbers. Convention books may be borrowed from Mrs. Don English, Carrizozo, county president. Remember Corona is ideal in the hot summer time for picnics. Bring well-filled baskets and let's combine pleasure with the worship of our Lord — give Him just a portion of our time on July 14.

Dine and dance in an "individual" Frook. Look like a million — in a Frook to please your purse. — Burke's Outlook Art & Gift Shop.

Lode and Placer Mining Location Blanks and Proofs of Labor on Mining Claims on sale at this office.

BURNETT'S Cash Grocery & Market

Is the place to make your purchases of Choice Groceries Fresh Meats of all kinds Finest Quality of BABY BEEF

Our Aim is to please YOU in every sense of the term. Give us a call and be convinced of our rare values in table luxuries.

W. L. Burnett, Proprietor

When in EL PASO Stop at the GATEWAY HOTEL or LOCKIE HOTEL

GATEWAY Hotel	LOCKIE Hotel
SINGLE $1.50 - $2.00	Rates $1.00 - $1.50
DOUBLE $2.00 - $2.50	Family $2.00 - $3.00
Rates 2 - $3.00
These Rates Include FREE GARAGE

LODGES

CARRIZO LODGE No. 41 Carrizozo, New Mexico. A. F. & A. M. Regular Meetings 1935 First Saturday of Each Month

S. B. Bostian, W. M. R. E. Lemon, Sec'y.

COMET CHAPTER NO. 29 ORDER OF EASTERN STAR Carrizozo, New Mexico.

REGULAR MEETING First Thursday of each month.

All Visiting Stars Cordially Invited. Bernice Nickels, W. M. Maude L. Blaney, Sec'y

COALONA REBEKAH LODGE NUMBER 15 I.O.O.F.

Meets second and fourth Wednesdays of each month. Mary Dozier, N. Grand Birdie Walker, Secretary Carrizozo New Mexico

CARRIZO LODGE No. 30, I.O.O.F Carrizozo, New Mexico.

L.P. McClintock Noble Grand W.J. Langston Sec'y-Treas. Regular meetings every Tuesday night.

PROFESSIONS

JOHN E. HALL Attorney & Counsellor at Law Lutz Building Carrizozo — New Mexico

T. E. KELLEY General Director & Licensed Embalmer Residence Phone 33 Carrizozo — New Mexico

DR. R. E. BLANEY, Dentist — Lutz Building — Carrizozo New Mexico

A. L. BURKE Notary Public at Carrizozo Outlook Office Carrizozo, New Mexico. Entries made of all Legal Transactions.

ALBERT MORGAN Attorney & Counsellor at Law Old Rolland Building Carrizozo — New Mexico

NEW Things

in Dresses, Lingerie and Hosiery, Kiddies' Dresses arriving daily. A new lot of California Dresses and Blouses just in. Outlook Art & Gift Shop

DR. FRED R. BAKER, the Southwest's Leading Eyesight Specialist, who has a hundred references of local citizens, will be at the Hotel El Cibola Thursday and Friday, June 27 and 28 Only. Latest Styles in spectacle ware and eye testing equipment. Ten years' service to local people.

NOTICE

To Whom It May Concern: The party signing himself "Friend," from whom I have had two letters of late, wishes to interview me with some valuable information and wishing to avoid coming to my office, may be interested to know that if he will name a place and time, I will interview him privately so that his identity will not be made public. A. S. McCamant, Sheriff of Lincoln County.

"Naughty Nities"

Naughty — but Nice. They have to be seen to be appreciated. They're not Too Daring. — At the Outlook Art & Gift Shop. PLANTS of all kinds for sale. — Apply at the Degner home two miles south of town.

Any book you may want, you may order it through the Rental Library at Mrs. Garrison's residence.

TYPEWRITER PAPER

—at Bargain Prices 500 Sheets BOND, $1 at Outlook Office

FOR SALE—One second hand 8-foot windmill. In good shape. $20.00. — John W. Harkey & Son.

New California Blouses just in at the Burke Outlook Gift Shop. Reasonably priced, of course.

Bargain Sale Used Electric Mangle, in Perfect Condition, $7.50

Electric Washing Machine in good condition, $8.50. Phone 124

FOR RENT—Two-room house furnished. — Apply to Fred Getty.

FOR SALE—O. M. Franklin's Blackleg Bacterin, per dose .10 Parke Davis & Co's. Blackleg Bacterin, per dose .06 The Titworth Co., Inc. Capitan, N. M.

RAWLEIGH ROUTES open for reliable men. Good profits for hustlers. Old established company. No experience necessary. Pleasant, profitable, dignified work. Write today. Rawleigh, Dept. NMF-15 - P. Denver, Colorado. J14 28

LUMBER

Windows—Doors—Paint—Glass Builders' Hardware—Cement—Roofing Lime—Three-Ply Wall Board—Rope—Pipe—Pipe Fittings—Bolts $2.70 Screen Doors $2.70 Honest Grades -- Fair Prices Western Lumber Co.

For Sale

Yearling Hereford Bulls, at Reasonable Prices. The TITSWORTH Co., Inc. Capitan, N. M.

THE WAFFLE HOUSE ANNEX

Cool Refreshing Drinks Served As You Like Them	An Enjoyable Place To Meet Your Friends	Appetizing Light Lunches With Your Favorite Beers
--	---	---

JESS ROBERTS Will Serve You Right Private Booths

CARRIZO AUTO CO.

Sales  Service

Before you buy ANY Car at ANY Price, drive the 1935 FORD V-8. Expert Mechanical Work AT Greatly Reduced Prices

Gasoline, Kerosene, Lubricating Oil and Greases

Yu'an Hee See Laughs

By SAX ROHMER

Copyright by Sax Rohmer.

WYU Service.

SYNOPSIS

Matt Kearney, young American living in London, says good-bye to his sister Eileen, on board the Wallaroo bound for Colombo. The Wallaroo is conveying £2,000,000 in gold to Australia. Kearney meets Inspector Dawson Haig, of Scotland Yard, very much in love with Eileen. Haig is convinced opium is concealed in Jo Lung's warehouse. Called to other duty, he delegates Kearney, with Detective Norwich, to visit the place and find out what he can. While in the warehouse Kearney picks up a notebook. Yu'an Hee See, Chinaman, whom Haig has long been seeking as the leader of a band of international thieves, is at Jo Lung's. Discovering the loss of his notebook, he sends two of his followers after Norwich and Kearney, one of whom he realizes must have picked it up.

CHAPTER II—Continued

The little notebook in his pocket! He had meant to speak to Norwich about it, but changing his mind had determined to examine it himself and then to hand it over to Haig when he met him. His idea that it might prove to contain some piece of evidence of value to Scotland Yard assumed a new and grave importance.

Coming upon it after the discovery of the Dakenham opium, he had appropriated it without scruple. Now, watching slowly approaching head lamps, and questioning the reality of that figure which he believed he had seen part into hiding, he remembered that he was unarmed. And he wondered.

Nearer and nearer came the lamps. He stepped out onto the edge of the curb and raised his arm. The man pulled up.

Kearney opened the door, uttered an audible gasp of relief, jumped in, and banged it shut behind him. Twisting about, Matt looked through the rear window.

Baleful eyes glared at him! Someone, indistinguishable except for his eyes, was clinging to the back of the cab!

"My G—d!" Kearney whispered, suddenly, those weird eyes, which seemed to belong to no tangible body, disappeared. . . . The taxi was well under way now.

Kearney crawled through the open window, looking back.

Fog . . . desolation . . . nothing!

But one or two belated pedestrians, notably a constable, as the taxi passed into Fleet street, observed upon the luggage rack surmounting its roof what looked like a rolled up blanket, or, as another thought, a very dilapidated kit bag.

Dawson Haig hurried across the little court in which Kearney's rooms were situated. The old manservant who looked after the place opened the door at once. He knew Haig well.

"I'm sure it's very important, sir," he said, "but Mr. Kearney had to go across to the office the moment he arrived home."

"But what's this about some book?" "The book is lying on the desk upstairs, sir, with a note, and my orders are for you to go up."

Two minutes later he sat at Kearney's table, reading the note which his friend had left. Haig had not removed his white raincoat. A yard car was waiting—and a ghastly duty called. . . .

But, as he read, his expression changed—grew puzzled—and then indicated sudden excitement. The little leather-bound memo-book, to which Kearney's note chiefly related, lay upon the table beside him. It was really an advertisement issued by one of the shipping companies, containing a calendar and all sorts of odds and ends of information about tides, and such-like material.

He picked it up again, glancing at the curious penciled entries it contained. The book was newly issued, and these were few. Some were unintelligible, being written in what looked like a combination of cipher and Chinese. But others, opposite to certain dates, set him furiously thinking.

Suddenly he stood up, shed his raincoat, and dropped it with his hat on the floor. By heavenly he might be better employed here than down in Limehouse!

The first of these intriguing notes appeared against the date—the 11th—the day which had just passed. It read as follows:

"D 21—25—32. B 7—D 4."

The last number—B 4—had been written on the margin of the opposite page as though it were an afterthought, but a delta and pencil line indicated that it should be added to the others.

Under date of the 15th was: "Paris. Suleiman Bey's."

For the following three days, the diary contained no notes, but under date of the 17th the following appeared:

"D 41."

A gap until the 22d, and then occurred the entry: "Mohammed."

On the following day, the 23d, the writer had scribbled something which Haig was unable to read. But on the 24th came this curious item: "25 24 N. and 41 5. E."

Finally, against date the 26th, appeared a cross in red ink. This was the last entry.

Dawson Haig reread Kearney's note and looked for and found a leaflet referred to. It was one issued by the steamship company, and it gave the dates at which the Wallaroo touched ports en route to Brisbane, Australia. Very deliberately, although his brain was on fire, he compared certain entries in the memo book with this leaflet. The date, the 17th, corresponded to that at which the ship reached Marselles; the next—the 22d—to that when she arrived at Port Said! The final dates meant nothing to him, except that he estimated them to correspond to the Wallaroo's position at some place south of Suez.

Of course, Kearney might have set him off on a wild-goose chase, and these entries bear no relation to the voyage of the Wallaroo. But, considering where the book came from, what was he to think?

And "B 4" was the number of Eileen's stateroom!

"What the devil does it mean?" he said aloud.

He turned the leaves back. If only he could read those hieroglyphic notes! But they were meaningless. He stared again at the entries in the diary. Then a possible explanation presented itself. Of course! He should have thought of it before!

These notes related to Jo Lung's abandoned dope-running enterprise! This theory almost covered the facts, but left him uneasy about the entry "B 4" until, sitting back in Kearney's chair and smoking furiously, a possible explanation came of this also. The cabins of all suspected persons, who might be revenue or police agents, had been marked by the plotters, and for some reason Eileen had fallen under suspicion.

"That's it!" he muttered. At which moment the phone bell rang, and:

"Is that you, Haig? Kearney speaking. I'm hung up at the office. Have you grasped the facts about the memo book—I pinched from Jo Lung's?"

"Some of them. It needs a good many hours' work and a man who knows Chinese. But I think it does the hanging trick. Good for you! Shall you be long?"

"I may be an hour. Can't say."

"Then I shall have to push off. I'll take the book with me. I'm on my way back to Limehouse."

"Limehouse! Why, at this hour?"

"An awful thing has happened, Matt—Norwich has been murdered!"

"What!"

The words had a stupefying effect upon Kearney. Norwich murdered! That cry in the fog! The shadowy figure in the doorway!

The unmistakable figure which had looked in at the back of the taxicab!

"You left him somewhere at the corner of Three Colt Street?" Dawson Haig went on rapidly.

"Yes—yes—that's right."

"He was found, some time later, dead in the door of a warehouse. His pockets had been rifled—everything taken. Looked like the work of a common footpad, but I know it wasn't! I didn't know until Wilson phoned me and told me about the book. Now I've read your note and studied those entries, I'm pretty sure the murderer was looking for this incriminating evidence on the table before me! You had a d-d lucky escape!"

"But—Kearney gasped—"how was poor Norwich killed?"

"There was a slight interval; then: "I don't know," Haig replied. "From the account given by Limehouse and confirmed by Lemar street, he seems to have fallen in with a stray panther."

"Stray panther? What on earth do you mean?"

"Well, they tell me his throat is horribly torn, but not by a knife cut. The thing's teeth pierced his jugular. He bled to death. Thank God you're safe, old scout."

"But—the Wallaroo. . . ."

"I'm putting a good man aboard the Wallaroo. . . ."

CHAPTER III

The person variously known as "Yu'an" and "Excellency," wearing a plain blue house robe, paced up and down Jo Lung's office. The dark-eyed woman seated in a chair near the door watched him uneasily.

"They do not return," he crooned presently. "This may mean death, but you sit there very quietly, tender blossom."

"What can I do?"

"You have done all that it lies in a woman's power to do. You have perhaps ruined me. Jo Lung, who did his share, will fall in that ruin, and Polodoss with him."

He continued to walk up and down, once pausing to glance at a clock on the writing table.

"We are watched," he said, in his reedy voice, "because of the trade, the petty trade, which is done here. And because of a series of blunders, those who are watching these small things may be rewarded unjustly by a glimpse of the great."

Consciously he paced the floor, until "All left more than an hour ago," said the woman suddenly; "and we cannot trust the Adder. If he has . . ."

"His orders would justify it." Into the high voice crept a soothing note. "What does it matter, most beautiful, provided that it corrects the consequence of your folly?"

"My folly!" the woman exclaimed, and laughed indignantly. "How was I to know when I saw the man pick the book up that it was not his own—that it meant so much?"

"A woman who is beautiful," the Chinaman replied softly, "is desirable. But there are many. A woman who has not only beauty but also intuition is a worthy companion."

He resumed his promenade and presently began to laugh. As the short squeals of his evil merriment rose higher and higher, reaching a note unattainable by any normal human voice, the woman shrank back in her seat.

"Tonight," said the man who laughed, "I shake off the dust of England from my feet forever, or I lay my bones in this cold island."

"Let us start!" the woman implored.

"What are we waiting for?"

"Tender flower," the reedy voice replied caressingly, "a clever man knows how long to wait. It is only the fool who flies when no enemy pursues him. I have promised you a rope of pink pearls twice as long as your body. This, also, is the length of the rope used at executions in England."

Dawson Haig sat back in the chair, replacing the telephone. A tramcar was passing along the embankment beyond the gardens. He knew those all-night trams with their cargo of weary Fleet street workers. He listened to the familiar sounds audible through an opened bedroom window behind him.

"His throat was mangled as though he had met a wild animal. . . . The jugular had been penetrated. . . ."

That was what Lemar street had reported. Automatically his hand touched the little leather-bound memo book. In leaving the establishment of Jo Lung, Matt Kearney had picked up something which meant life or death to . . . someone.

Silhouetted Against It He Saw a Crouching Figure.

Haig believed he knew that someone's name; began to believe that what he had failed to find in Singapore might lie here under his fingers.

"The jugular . . . penetrated. . . ."

He no longer doubted that poor Norwich had been followed by agents of that someone. And for this—this very book upon the table!

Yes! here lay the clue, if only he could unravel it. . . . Here, on the table, lay something which meant the hangman's rope for the Big Chief!

Good "G—d!" it was maddening! He bent again over the pages of the diary. And now, suddenly he found himself listening—listening for what?

"He bled to death. . . ."

Dawson Haig thought of those words, and, at the same moment, thought he detected a faint sound in the bedroom behind him!

He sat rigidly still. Definitely, something was moving in the bedroom—gently, lightly.

Haig turned very quietly in his chair and looked towards the half-open door leading into Kearney's bedroom; silhouetted against it he saw a crouching figure. . . .

The fact flashed through his mind that he was unarmed. . . . Gently but unmistakably, he could hear the door opening behind him. With assumed indifference, he walked towards the lobby, and went out.

In five seconds he had snatched from the wall a Japanese sword (the lights in the sitting room had been switched off), unsheathed it—turned. And as he turned—he saw it.

As a man he could not regard this visitant who fabulously had gained admission to these chambers. But he saw the thing which he could not doubt, had killed poor Norwich!

It was bending over the writing table—a small, thickset figure, enormously deformed, humped, grotesque long arms and disproportionately large hands. But the head—the head, glimpsed for a moment in the lobby light!

Nausea swept over him at sight of that small, malignant head, that nearly hairless head, like the skull of an infant. The brow was no more than an inch and a half high, and the nose upon a small, dark face, was represented by two distended nostrils. The chin retreated into the neck, but the upper lip below those flattened nostrils protruded inhumanly. . . .

The creature turned its little sunken eyes upon him. He saw two enormous teeth, exaggerated canines, curved downward over the lower lip—white, and gleaming. . . .

For one instant, a sort of supernatural dread held him spellbound. Then, sword in hand, he leaped.

But, quickly as he leaped, the thing was quicker. Like a shadow, the white-fanged horror sprang through the bedroom door.

Haig lunged wildly. The blade of the Japanese sword passed completely through a lower panel as the abnormally active fugitive crashed the door fast behind him. Haig threw himself against it, and as it swung open he crashed forward, face downward upon the bedroom carpet.

He was up—in an instant, and sprang to the light switch. The room was empty! The window was more widely open, and, racing across, he craned out, looking down the face of the building into the shadowy court below.

Something that looked like a big cat was moving twenty feet underneath. Even as he looked, it had gone—fading, had disappeared. He would have been prepared to stake all he possessed upon the impossibility of any human being climbing down the face of the building at that point. Yet, he had seen it accomplished!

He thought of the creature's sunken, blazing eyes. It had been under the influence of drugs—was, for the time being, homicidal—endowed, probably by some preparation of Indian hemp, with supernatural daring and agility.

Running back to Kearney's writing table, he pulled up, fists clenched. The memo book had disappeared!

Absolute silence prevailed in the office of Jo Lung. The woman smoked cigarettes ceaselessly one after another. Yu'an paced the carpet with his heavy yet cat-like tread. Suddenly:

"We shall be trapped," the woman said. "Why are we waiting? All—or the Adder—may be caught as they return."

Yu'an glanced at the speaker through slit-like eyes. Then silently he extended a plump yellow hand in the direction of the wall behind the desk. In one of the openings of the switchboard glowed a tiny speck of light.

"The blue lights are on," he returned contemptuously. "Even if we were surrounded—neither would be taken."

Came the muffled note of a phone bell.

Yu'an stepped quickly to the table and took up the receiver. "Yes?" he said.

"Something is afoot," Polodoss reported. "Shan announces that the party which set out from Lemar street is now leaving Limehouse—bound in this direction. What are your orders?"

"As already arranged," the high, piping voice replied. "I am now going to join Jo Lung. There will be no sea tonight, so we shall cross in the cruiser."

"Where do you wish me to join you?"

"At Trieste on Thursday morning—the usual place."

Yu'an replaced the receiver. "The police! I knew it!" cried the woman, springing up.

He faced her. "With you," he said softly, in Chinese, "the police are like an evil dream. One would think Orange Blossom, that you feared them. This is not flattering to me."

His voice rose very high on the last note. The woman called Orange Blossom summoned all her natural arrogance to confront him, but that cloak of high disdain which she wore so gracefully somehow had slipped from her.

As the portly Chinaman moved slowly in her direction, she shrank back, nearer to the door. With a curling smile of arched red lips he turned aside, slipped off his blue house garment, which he hung in a cupboard and resumed his heavy overcoat, taking up the broad-brimmed black hat from the table. Then:

"Come," he said, "we are going. Jo Lung waits for us."

Inspector Eddy of Lemar Street had placed his men with care. It would have been difficult for a rat to enter the premises of Jo Lung without attracting the attention of one of them. His dispositions effected:

"That ought to do," he said to the detective sergeant who accompanied him. "Scotland Yard seems to think that the murderer will make for here tonight; if he does, he'll fall into the net."

In a mean house near the corner of a mean street, outside the cordon drawn by the police around the suspected premises, a light shone behind a blue shade of an upper window. On the opposite side of a second, wider thoroughfare a furtive figure crept along close to the dingy shops. It paused, turned, and seemed to sink into the shadows again.

It next appeared, this slinking shape, at a spot east of the treasure house of Jo Lung. At the end of a little courtyard upon which several mean residences opened, a blue-shaded fanlight was dimly illuminated.

The lurking figure became merged in shadows once more . . . then immediately opposite a narrow alley it stood watching.

At the far end a dim yellow light was visible. The indeterminate shape darted across, then swiftly slipped aside, and exercising a strange affinity with darkness, became magically lost again . . . except that reddish eyes—like the eyes of a watching leopard—gleamed in the dusk.

Some one was coming out—some one who had stopped dead at the moment that that elusive thing darted across his path.

There was a moment of silence . . . a soft whistle—two minor notes. It was answered from the lee of a high wall. Thereupon a reed-like voice spoke rapidly in Chinese. "All is here. Follow swiftly. Do not show yourself."

Yu'an came out into the street. Beside him was a small figure so muffled that, beyond the fact that she was a woman, no one could have identified her. They set out in the direction of the river.

Ten paces they had gone when a figure appeared from the alleyway and glided in the same direction. Close behind him, stooping, ape-like, came another. And this singular procession headed toward the Thames.

A wicket gate was opened, and a deserted yard crossed. Out onto a wharf Yu'an led, and down slippery wooden steps to where, riding the sluggish tide, a boat was moored. Jo Lung assisted his passengers on board. The following shades, one swift behind the other, leaped on board also.

As Jo Lung cast the painter loose and took to his oars:

"Quick!" Yu'an spoke the word in Chinese upon a note high with excitement. "Which of you has it?"

A large, claw-like hand was stretched back to him . . . and in it was the green-bound memo book!

"How many?" he asked.

"One."

Whereupon he began to laugh, that high, uncanny laughter which seemed to harmonize with the creaking of Jo Lung's oars. . . . Jo Lung rested on his oars, and:

"Police patrol," he said. "Shall I pull for the bank, my lord?"

"Fool! They would hear the oars. The tide is carrying down to those barges. Stand by, my friend, with the hook, and when we reach the first of them, cling tightly."

"Cut outside those barges, Mason," said the officer in charge of the river police launch. "I want to get a closer look at that smart motor cruiser lying in the Reach."

"It belongs to Mr. Van Steyn, the American sportsman. It has been under repair in Bulker's yard. I suppose the repairs have been completed, and they meant to 'go down' this evening but were held up by the fog."

"Where the devil are they going? This is no season for motor cruising."

"I don't think there's anybody on board except a scratch crew. They intend to take her round to Cowes, I expect."

"Is that so? Well, edge in close, dead slow, and let's have a good look."

The river police drifted alongside the spruce-looking craft—a forty-foot motor cruiser. Her paint work was very new, but of a queer battleship gray, unusual in pleasure boats. There was nothing to show that there was anybody aboard.

But when, half an hour later, Jo Lung's party drew alongside, two very active Athletics appeared above the bows of the motor cruiser. Having assisted Yu'an and the woman aboard, they rapidly hauled up and disposed of a great number of small packing cases stowed in the stern of the boat.

These contained the opium destined for Australia—which Dawson Haig had been covering.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Smoothly, Smoothly

There is no known reason for speaking smooth without a final s, for it rimes with soothe. In the period about 1870, in England, an attempt was made to introduce a final s, but the effort gained no permanent following. In 1890, the verbs to breathe, to loathe, to soothe, and to soothe, were all spelled without a final s, although breathe, bathe, sheathe, and clothe (though spelled cloathe) had the final e to indicate a soft th. This inconsistency was remedied in most instances; but we still have the verbs to meath and smooth, and the prepositions beneath and with without a final s, though in each instance th is properly softened by a final y.

POISON OF PRIDE

Pride is a poison so very poisonous that it not only poisons the virtues; it even poisons the other vices.
—G. K. Chesterton.

Week's Supply of Postum Free
Read the offer made by the Postum Company in another part of this paper. They will send a full week's supply of health giving Postum free to anyone who writes for it.—Adv.

Suffering
Strong minds suffer without complaining, weak minds complain without suffering.

Quick Safe Relief For Eye Irritation by Exposure to Sun Wind and Dust.

MURINE FOR YOUR EYES

Works Both Ways
Forgetfulness is a plague, sometimes a blessing.

AT GROCER'S

20 FROZEN SUCKERS

NEUTRALIZE Mouth Acids

—by chewing one or more Milnesia Wafers.

You can obtain a full size 20c package of Milnesia Wafers containing twelve full adult doses by furnishing us with the name of your local druggist if he does not happen to carry Milnesia Wafers in stock, by enclosing 10c in coin or postage stamps. Address SELECT PRODUCTS, INC. 4402 23rd St., Long Island City, N. Y.

My Name is . . .
Street Address . . .
Town & State . . .
My Druggist's Name is . . .
Street Address . . .
Town & State . . .

MILNESIA WAFERS

TIRES Truck and Passenger. Easy Terms. Buy while using shipped anywhere. For particulars write to G. C. Treadwell, 808 Berkeley Ave., Franklin, Conn. Dealers Wanted.

Cuticura Talcum Powder Comforts & Refreshes

Pure, medicated and mildly antiseptic, it cools and soothes the skin, protecting against chafing and irritation. It absorbs perspiration and imparts a delicate fragrance. Ideal for every member of the family.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Be Sure They Properly Cleanse the Blood

YOUR kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as nature intended—fail to remove impurities that poison the system when retained.

Then you may suffer nagging backache, dizziness, scanty or too frequent urination, getting up at night, swollen limbs, feel nervous, miserable—all ills.

Don't delay! Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are especially for poorly functioning kidneys. They are recommended by grateful users the country over. Get them from any druggist.

DOAN'S PILLS

ECZEMA-ITCHING

Quickly soothe burning torment and promote healing of irritated skin with—

Resinol

ANTISIE

Sprinkle Ant Food along window sills, doors and openings through which ants come and go. Guaranteed to rid quickly. Used in a million homes, insect pests. At your druggist's.

PETERMAN'S ANT FOOD

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By Rev. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, C. Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for June 30

LIBERTY UNDER LAW (Temperance Lesson)

LESSON TEXT—Romans 14:13-21; 1 Corinthians 3:13-15. GOLDEN TEXT—It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth.—Romans 14:21.

A more appropriate title for this lesson would be "The Christian's Obligations in Matters of Conscience." The Scripture reference from Romans sets forth fraternal duties in matters of conscience.

1. Neither Party is to Sit in Judgment Upon the Other (14:1-13). This instruction applies to things which are indifferent in themselves.

2. Every man must decide for himself what is right for him to do (vv. 5-7). Concerning matters indifferent in themselves, an action which may be right for one may be sinful for another.

3. Every man lives not unto himself, but unto the Lord (vv. 8, 9). The supreme purpose of Christ's death and resurrection was that he might be the Christian's Lord, both in life and death.

4. Every man must give an account to God (vv. 10-12). Every man must one day stand before the judgment seat of Christ, and render an account of himself unto God.

11. A Stumblingblock Should Not Be Placed in the Way of Another (14:13-23). In many things the Christian has liberty so far as he personally is concerned, but that very liberty may become an occasion of stumbling to another.

1. The weak brother for whom Christ died may be destroyed (v. 15). If it was worth while for Christ to die for a man, surely it is worth while that we should deny ourselves some privileges for his sake.

2. Good should not be evil spoken of (vv. 10-18). One's manner of life determines the measure of his influence over his fellow men.

a. Righteousness, or moral rectitude. b. Living in peace among brethren. c. Joy in the Holy Ghost, the usual characteristic of the saved man.

3. That which makes for peace and edification should be followed (v. 19). He who causes the weak brother to stumble through the exercise of his liberty destroys the work of God.

4. We should exercise faith in God and abstain from meats and wine which offend the weak brother (vv. 21, 22).

111. Personal Liberty to Be Abridged (I Cor. 8:13).

Love is to be the governing principle of the life. Love is more important than knowledge. This love will move one

1. To abridge his liberty for the sake of the weak brother (vv. 10, 11). While the one who has proper knowledge can eat meat with impunity, if his eating would cause his weak brother to stumble he should desist from eating.

2. To exercise liberty in such case is to sin against the brethren (v. 13). Sinning against our brother for whom Christ died is to sin against Christ. The great question in all our acts should be "Will they harm our brethren?" This obligation is enforced by three important considerations.

a. The fate of the weak brother (v. 11). It may cause him to perish. Such a possible loss shows the responsibility of our actions. b. The relation of the man to his slayer (v. 11). He is his brother. c. What Christ did for the weak brother. Christ died for him. If Christ was willing to die for the man, we ought to be willing to deny ourselves our personal rights for his sake.

Purpose The longer I live, the more deeply am I convinced that that which makes the difference between one man and another, between the weak and the powerful, the great and indigent, is energy, invincible determination, a purpose once formed and then death or victory.—Nowell Baxter.

The Right Do the right and your ideal of it grows and perfects itself. Do the wrong, and your ideal of it breaks up and vanishes.—Martineau.

Washington Digest

National Topics Interpreted

by William Bruckart

National Press Building

Washington, D. C.

Washington—It is never easy or simple to attempt a forecast of the reactions of a nation as large as ours.

Issue Drawn for 1936 There are so many cross-currents, so many local influences and factors at work that the popular reaction sometimes, usually in fact, is slow in crystallizing.

Yet, certainly it can surely be said that the issue is now drawn and that the battle next year will be between radicals and conservatives; between those who favor constitutional government and those who think our nation has gone beyond the considerations laid down by the founding fathers.

In these days of swiftly changing conditions in Washington, one can observe certain outcroppings in the numerous controversies and the wild confusion, and these point definitely in one direction.

1. Neither Party is to Sit in Judgment Upon the Other (14:1-13). This instruction applies to things which are indifferent in themselves.

2. Every man must decide for himself what is right for him to do (vv. 5-7). Concerning matters indifferent in themselves, an action which may be right for one may be sinful for another.

3. Every man lives not unto himself, but unto the Lord (vv. 8, 9). The supreme purpose of Christ's death and resurrection was that he might be the Christian's Lord, both in life and death.

4. Every man must give an account to God (vv. 10-12). Every man must one day stand before the judgment seat of Christ, and render an account of himself unto God.

11. A Stumblingblock Should Not Be Placed in the Way of Another (14:13-23). In many things the Christian has liberty so far as he personally is concerned, but that very liberty may become an occasion of stumbling to another.

1. The weak brother for whom Christ died may be destroyed (v. 15). If it was worth while for Christ to die for a man, surely it is worth while that we should deny ourselves some privileges for his sake.

2. Good should not be evil spoken of (vv. 10-18). One's manner of life determines the measure of his influence over his fellow men.

a. Righteousness, or moral rectitude. b. Living in peace among brethren. c. Joy in the Holy Ghost, the usual characteristic of the saved man.

3. That which makes for peace and edification should be followed (v. 19). He who causes the weak brother to stumble through the exercise of his liberty destroys the work of God.

4. We should exercise faith in God and abstain from meats and wine which offend the weak brother (vv. 21, 22).

111. Personal Liberty to Be Abridged (I Cor. 8:13).

Love is to be the governing principle of the life. Love is more important than knowledge. This love will move one

1. To abridge his liberty for the sake of the weak brother (vv. 10, 11). While the one who has proper knowledge can eat meat with impunity, if his eating would cause his weak brother to stumble he should desist from eating.

2. To exercise liberty in such case is to sin against the brethren (v. 13). Sinning against our brother for whom Christ died is to sin against Christ. The great question in all our acts should be "Will they harm our brethren?" This obligation is enforced by three important considerations.

a. The fate of the weak brother (v. 11). It may cause him to perish. Such a possible loss shows the responsibility of our actions. b. The relation of the man to his slayer (v. 11). He is his brother. c. What Christ did for the weak brother. Christ died for him. If Christ was willing to die for the man, we ought to be willing to deny ourselves our personal rights for his sake.

Purpose The longer I live, the more deeply am I convinced that that which makes the difference between one man and another, between the weak and the powerful, the great and indigent, is energy, invincible determination, a purpose once formed and then death or victory.—Nowell Baxter.

The Right Do the right and your ideal of it grows and perfects itself. Do the wrong, and your ideal of it breaks up and vanishes.—Martineau.

flexible to cover life as we now live it. From sober-thinking individuals, I gather that this is the point which must be developed fully in advance of the November elections of 1936.

Consequently, some observers believe the campaign next year ought to be on a higher plane than any in recent history. They point to the fact that determination of the question just outlined above carries with it the collateral determination of whether the United States shall be one vast empire with state lines virtually obliterated.

But there will be some sixteen months of time that must elapse before the American people can express their opinion and their wishes at the polls.

Problems to Solve In that interim, pressing problems resulting from the New Deal program must be solved.

At the moment, what to do with NRA as well as how to do it stands foremost. Behind it lies troublesome questions centering in the farm-policies of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

3. Every man lives not unto himself, but unto the Lord (vv. 8, 9). The supreme purpose of Christ's death and resurrection was that he might be the Christian's Lord, both in life and death.

4. Every man must give an account to God (vv. 10-12). Every man must one day stand before the judgment seat of Christ, and render an account of himself unto God.

11. A Stumblingblock Should Not Be Placed in the Way of Another (14:13-23). In many things the Christian has liberty so far as he personally is concerned, but that very liberty may become an occasion of stumbling to another.

1. The weak brother for whom Christ died may be destroyed (v. 15). If it was worth while for Christ to die for a man, surely it is worth while that we should deny ourselves some privileges for his sake.

2. Good should not be evil spoken of (vv. 10-18). One's manner of life determines the measure of his influence over his fellow men.

a. Righteousness, or moral rectitude. b. Living in peace among brethren. c. Joy in the Holy Ghost, the usual characteristic of the saved man.

3. That which makes for peace and edification should be followed (v. 19). He who causes the weak brother to stumble through the exercise of his liberty destroys the work of God.

4. We should exercise faith in God and abstain from meats and wine which offend the weak brother (vv. 21, 22).

111. Personal Liberty to Be Abridged (I Cor. 8:13).

Love is to be the governing principle of the life. Love is more important than knowledge. This love will move one

1. To abridge his liberty for the sake of the weak brother (vv. 10, 11). While the one who has proper knowledge can eat meat with impunity, if his eating would cause his weak brother to stumble he should desist from eating.

2. To exercise liberty in such case is to sin against the brethren (v. 13). Sinning against our brother for whom Christ died is to sin against Christ. The great question in all our acts should be "Will they harm our brethren?" This obligation is enforced by three important considerations.

a. The fate of the weak brother (v. 11). It may cause him to perish. Such a possible loss shows the responsibility of our actions. b. The relation of the man to his slayer (v. 11). He is his brother. c. What Christ did for the weak brother. Christ died for him. If Christ was willing to die for the man, we ought to be willing to deny ourselves our personal rights for his sake.

Purpose The longer I live, the more deeply am I convinced that that which makes the difference between one man and another, between the weak and the powerful, the great and indigent, is energy, invincible determination, a purpose once formed and then death or victory.—Nowell Baxter.

The Right Do the right and your ideal of it grows and perfects itself. Do the wrong, and your ideal of it breaks up and vanishes.—Martineau.

Mother Nature's Great Gift

Either From Utilitarian or Esthetic Standpoint, the Tree Is of the Highest Importance to Mankind, for a Variety of Reasons.

Trees are probably more necessary to the existence of human beings than any other type of plant, and for many purposes they are most desirable. They are planted for economic uses such as lumber, furniture, naval stores, fruit, nuts, rubber, paper, and a great many others.

In so far as individuals are concerned, the reasons for trees are unlimited. They are preferred as shelters for the home, as a background or frame for buildings, as a nesting place and refuge for many beneficial birds, and as ornaments.

Progressive home-owners need not be informed as to the necessity for trees. They need only be advised concerning the best and most suitable kinds for various situations.

There are a number of deciduous trees which are especially desirable for planting on home grounds. Everyone is familiar with the common American elm and sugar maple; two trees which are native to this locality and extensively used in landscape work.

The Chinese elm, which is native to eastern Asia, is a very rapid grower with small leaves and dense foliage. Where time is an important factor this tree produces quick results.

everyone to plant and enjoy trees to the fullest extent.

There are a number of deciduous trees which are especially desirable for planting on home grounds. Everyone is familiar with the common American elm and sugar maple; two trees which are native to this locality and extensively used in landscape work.

There is a considerable natural variation in the form and type of the American elm. Some of these trees are more uniform and regular in shape than others and some have pendulous drooping branches.

The cork elm, also known as rock or hickory elm, is one of the finest elms for landscape planting in this locality.

The Chinese elm, which is native to eastern Asia, is a very rapid grower with small leaves and dense foliage. Where time is an important factor this tree produces quick results.

The English elm and the smooth-leaf elm, both natives of Europe, have been used in many localities as street trees. There are a number of varieties and all have qualities which can be recommended.

The European Linden, or basswood, has become very popular as a shade tree during the past few years. It is very ornamental in appearance, is a good shade tree and honey made from its flowers is said to be of the best.

For strictly ornamental purposes birch trees are planted because of their white bark and the long, drooping branches of the weeping type. Lombardy poplars because of their tall, narrow and columnar forms, various ornamental maples because of their flowers and the mountain ash because of its flowers and red berries.

A great many species and varieties of flowering crabapple, cherries, peaches and plums are available which lend a spectacular note of color to the garden. The double flowering types are particularly desirable.—Detroit Free Press.

Tipsy Fruit Soon, if scientists have their way, all freshly gathered apples, not wanted for immediate consumption, will be gently inebriated.

development follows on recent experiments of the food investigation board to eliminate the wastage of fruit. Apples in a sound, healthy condition, it was found, absorb alcohol readily.

Ordinarily, their natural concentration of alcohol increases with old age. A large artificial dose stimulated their respiratory "organs," while a small dose produced the opposite effect.

As a result, apples, preserved in a semi-conn, a state of mild drunkenness, in which their rate of breathing is slowed down to its absolute minimum, will retain their hardness and choice flavor for months.—London Tit-Bits.

WHOSE WORD WILL YOU TAKE FOR BLOWOUT PROTECTION?

Are you accepting the judgment of men who risk their lives on their tires and know from experience the tire that gives them the greatest blowout protection?

Thirty-three race drivers and their mechanics lined up for the dangerous, grueling grind of the 500-Mile Race at the Indianapolis Speedway May 30th. Firestone Tires were purchased and used on every one of the thirty-three cars.

Kelly Peillo won the race at an average speed of 106 miles per hour. Wilbur Shaw was second, flashing across the finish line just behind the winner. Both drivers broke the track record without tire trouble. In fact, not one of the thirty-three drivers had tire trouble of any kind.

Gum-Dipping is one of the outstanding reasons why Firestone Tires give such amazing performance. It is a patented extra process not used in any other make of tire.

When you realize that last year 43,000 accidents were caused by blowouts, punctures, and skidding, you will understand how important it is for you to protect your life and the lives of others by equipping your car with Firestone Gum-Dipped High Speed Tires—the safest tires built.

It will be worth your time to read these three questions and their answers:

QUESTION 1—"Will the tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"

ANSWER—Leading university tests show Firestone High Speed Tires stop your car 15% quicker than the best of other popular makes of tires.

QUESTION 2—"Are they built to give me the greatest blowout protection?"

ANSWER—Unequaled performance records for sixteen consecutive years prove that Gum-Dipping gives you the greatest blowout protection ever known.

QUESTION 3—"Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

ANSWER—Thousands of car owners report unequaled mileage records—evidence of the longer wear and greater economy of Firestone High Speed Tires.

Volume—Direct Purchasing—Straight Line Manufacturing and Efficient and Economical System of Distributing to 500 Stores and to 30,000 Dealers, enables Firestone to give greater values at lowest prices

Table with columns for tire types (CENTURY PROGRESS, OLDFIELD TYPE, SENTINEL TYPE, COURIER TYPE) and their prices. Includes a 'HIGH SPEED TYPE' section with prices for sizes 4.50-20, 4.75-19, 5.00-19, 5.25-18, 6.00-16, 4.75-19 HD, 5.00-19 HD.

Advertisement for Sealtite LEAKPROOF TUBES and BATTERIES SPARK PLUGS. Includes images of a tube and a battery.

Firestone

Why not own an EIGHT?

with the V-Type eight, Ford gives you a car as economical as a four

FROM the driver's point of view, 8 cylinders make the ideal engine for a car. They give responsiveness, smoothness, quietness.

And in the Ford V-8 engine, you get this performance at 4-cylinder cost. The Ford V-8 you buy today costs less to own than any car Ford ever built! Its initial cost is at rock-bottom, and includes many "extras," such as safety glass all around, big 6.00 x 16-inch air-balloon tires, built-in luggage space.

Operating costs have also been pared this year—in sparing use of gas and oil, and in FORD RANGER REVUE, KOA, Mondays, 9:00 P. M., Thursdays, 8:30 P. M., M. S. T.

improvements which cut down brake, clutch, and tire wear.

Drive this Ford V-8. There's a Ford dealer near you—see him today. Let a Ford V-8 tell you what it has already told to a record number of eager buyers the country over.

AUTHORIZED FORD DEALERS

FORD V-8 495

Standard accessory group including bumper and spare tire extra. Easy terms through U.C.C., the Authorized Ford Finance Plan.

ON THE AIR—3 OUR SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA, Sunday Even., FRED WARING, Thursday Even.—COLUMBIA NETWORK

TOWN HAPPENINGS

WHO? WHEN? WHY?

Among those who went to Alamogordo last Saturday night to attend the dance, were: Mr. and Mrs. Andres Luera, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Chavez, Lloyd Vigil, Joaquin Ortiz, Jr., Alfredo Martinez, Juan Padilla, Tony Perea, Marshall and Lell St. John and Joe Chavez. "Los Rancheros" furnished the music.

Mrs. J. E. Compton, son Bill and Attorney Albert Morgan were business visitors in Roswell Tuesday.

Mrs. M. R. Hendrix and son of Ancho were Carrizozo visitors last Friday.

Judge H. M. and Roman Mares of Lincoln were here this Monday.

Our old friend Bert Pfingsten of Hondo was a business visitor in town this Wednesday.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vega, Wednesday morning, June 19, a girl. Mother and daughter are doing nicely.

Gus Grossmiller of Coyote is sporting the latest model Ford V 8, purchased from the Carrizozo Auto Co., Roy Shafer, Mgr.

Frank White Shelton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Shelton, was named an honor student of John Tarleton College in a report from the registrar's office today. Shelton was included on the Tarleton honor roll for the second semester of the 1934-35 session by reason of making 30 grade points on his semester's work.

Ralph, son of Gus Grossmiller of Coyote, came in the latter part of last week from Phoenix, Ariz.; he will remain until the fall term of school opens.

Conductor C. C. Whittington has just returned from a pleasure trip which took him through seven different states. That was on a portion of his vacation; the remainder of the time being spent at his summer cottage on the Rio Grande.

Mrs. Ed Dixon and children are visiting Mr. Dixon, who is employed at Tucuman.

Just Received

600 New Bright Pattern Enamel Surfaced Rugs
9x12 Size
$4.95

Guaranteed High Quality Standard Weight No Seconds

Mail-Orders Filled Promptly

In ordering state color combination desired and what room to be used in (Kitchen - Bed room) etc.

6 ft. Yard Goods By the Yard 49c

HOLLOMON BROS.

Alamogordo — New Mex.

You can now place low station-to-station night calls at 7:00 p. m.

Two brothers of Bob Ellison of Ancho, who are now in Fresno, Cal., were victims of an assault by a negro last Friday in which the negro shot the Ellison boys and the negro was stabbed. All parties are in a hospital and the condition of one of the Ellisons is critical, according to latest word. The negro is held under heavy bond.

Sam Bigger, printer and at one time editor of Capitan Mountain-ear; is a business visitor here today.

Now get this right — Postmaster Joe Gentry of Fort Stanton and not R. S. Fagan, was here Wednesday night to attend the boxing at the Lyric Theatre.

Jim Gonzalez, former farmer of the lower valley, died suddenly in front of the store at Hondo this morning.

Here's Measurement A "head" is actual measurement in four inches, the common height of measurement of the height of horses.

Keep a Child's Heart The great man is he who does not lose his child's heart.—Maudsley

Nogal Notes (By "JAKO")

Miss Kittie Graves is visiting the Shipmens on the Bonito this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Norton of Capitan visited home folks Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cox of Fort Stanton spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floy Skinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Aguayo and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Smith were Capitan visitors this week.

Mayor Ed Comrey has been plowing corn this week Ed says as a rule you shake the plow, but in this case the plow shakes him.

Rich Hust was a Carrizozo visitor Thursday.

A. Richardson made a business trip to El Paso this week.

"FAIR NEW MEXICO"

I say New Mexico is dry My tears are dusty when I cry, Out on the desert ragged and broke

Forty years old and can't swim a stroke.

WHEN IN NEED

Of a Shave, Haircut or Shampoo, drop in at the Harelson Barber Shop opposite the depot and give him a Break. While there, ask him about those tailor-made suits and let him take your measurements. B. F. Harelson, Prop.

Marshall St. John had a streak of good luck Monday morning, when in opening a can of raw oysters, he took one in his mouth and feeling that he had bitten something hard like a rock, he investigated—and what do you think—Marshall had found a pearl. He was offered ten dollars for the same soon afterwards, but Marshall said "Nix!"

M. Doering of the Doering Bargain Store left Monday night on No. 4 for West Yellowstone, where he will meet his daughter, granddaughter and a party of Indiana people who are visiting the Yellowstone Park. His granddaughter graduated from the state college at Corvallis on June 3, and her mother made the trip from Evanaville, Ind., in order to be present at the graduation exercises. Mr. Doering expects to be absent three or perhaps four weeks.

Wayne Van Schoyck, Wayne, Jr., Ben Leslie and Nonie Littell of White Oaks attended the fight at the Lyric Wednesday night.

Floy Skinner, water superintendent of the Bonito Water System, was here Wednesday, attending to business matters for the S. P.

Miss Ruth Petty and small brother Jesse are visiting Vernon, another brother at Marcia, N. M. They intend to remain about three weeks.

Mrs. T. J. Grafton and son Hugh were in from their home on the Bonito Tuesday.

Word received from Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Petty, who are now in Los Angeles, attending the bedside of Mr. Petty's mother, is to the effect that the mother's condition has improved to the extent that Mr. and Mrs. Petty will soon visit the San Diego Fair.

What You Want How You Want It When You Want It

For anything in the line of printing come to us and we'll guarantee you satisfactory work at prices that are right

Let Quality Top Your Hose!

Now, for the first time we offer the famous

Kayser Mir-O-Kleer Hosiery

Designed to Eliminate All Rings and Shadows

At This Attractive Price—

79c A Pair

Ziegler Bros.

The Leading Dry Goods, Clothing and Grocery Store.

The Titsworth Co., Inc. Capitan, N. M.

We Carry In Stock:

- Hay & Grain
- Blackleg Serum
- Poultry Netting
- Poultry Feeds
- Dairy Feeds
- Garden Tools
- All kinds of Seeds
- Wool Bags
- Barbed Wire
- Hog Fence
- Building Materials
- Kalsomine, Etc.

Dry Goods, Shoes, Notions, Paints and Varnishes

Our Prices Are Reasonable

Mail orders filled promptly.

Carrizozo Eating House

Very Best of Accommodations

Dinner Parties Our Specialty

of July Celebration Fort Stanton New Mexico Barbecue Dinner - Rodeo Events

Steer Riding—Bronco Riding—Wild Cow Milking Calf Roping

10:00 A. M.—Concessions on Picnic Grounds

Admission: Adults, 50c; Children under 8, FREE

Patronize Our Advertisers.