Red Cross Potential Life Savers Number Nearly 2,000,000

First aid and life saving certificates issued by the American Red Cross since the start of the service 24 years ago now number 1,881,702. During the past year the Red Cross qualified 229,935 persons in first aid and taught water safety and rescue methods to 89,981.

This array of First Aiders and Life Savers is one of the great safety factors in the nation. They are trained to give immediate first aid at the scene of accident, thus saving many lives and preventing permanent injury. Red Cross training includes skill in treating for shock, splinting fractures, checking arterial bleeding, applying artificial respiration, towing drowning persons to safety, and in the safe handling of boat and canoe.

Red Cross volunteers, framework of the organization, last year gave a total of 1,707,380 hours of service, producing $5,074 garments, 4,857,719 surgical dressings, 13,778 Christmas bags for soldiers, sailors and marines serving overseas. Perhaps the most important undertaking of these generous contributors to the public welfare is the making of braille books for the blind, with 342,000 pages printed during the past twelve months.

Of the 16,500,000 school children enrolled in the Junior Red Cross societies of 52 nations, more than half are members of the American Junior Red Cross representing 74,398 schools in this country.

Red Cross chapters aiding the needy in their communities act on approximately 22,674 family problems each month.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Clements, Jr., and children were business visitors in town today, returning to their ranch near Corona in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. French were here from Albuquerque as guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lemon for the past two weeks.

E. Bello and Lupe Gabaldon are here from Claunch today on some business.

Mrs. Maggie Pfingsten of the Nogal-Mesa was a Carrizozo visitor this morning, returning home in the afternoon.

John Owen

The first part of last week Uncle John Owen of Corona died at his home in our neighboring town of Corona. John was an old resident of this County, and at one time, held the office of Sheriff. In the absence of word from our Corona correspondent, we are without an obituary of the life of Mr. Owen. The family have the sympathy of their many friends both at Corona and Carrizozo.

Mrs. S. H. Nickels, Chairman

At the recent Convention of Teachers in Albuquerque, Mrs. S. H. Nickels was elected Chairman of the Kindergarten Section of the New Mexico Educational Association.

Business Men's Club

met at their customary 6 o'clock dinner at the S. P. Hotel Wednesday evening. After the dinner, the club listened to a talk by Mr. Dutton, who is in charge of the street work of building gutters and oiling of the streets, which was very interesting.

Successful Deer Hunters

Lewis Nixon, Colonel Jones and Paul Wilson, are among the successful deer hunters who reported this week.

On account of the election, the "no catch em" society has increased its membership.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Brannum were here Tuesday to cast their votes, returning to Roswell Wednesday morning.

The two headquarters, Republican and Democratic, have closed their doors and the workers will enjoy a "breathing spell" for the next two years.

SE "Ben" Grelson, newly-elected Republican Sheriff of Lincoln County, was a Carrizozo visitor on election night. Needless to say, "call again, Ben!"

Barney Wilson was discharged from the Rathmann Hospital yesterday after having been a patient for the past two weeks with pneumonia. Mrs. Lon Merchant, who has been a patient for the past nine days, is slowly recovering, we are glad to say.

The new street gutters are completed and the work of oiling has begun on Main street. Following that, will come the oiling of Alamo Avenue and so on, until the principal streets have been serviced in the same manner. Thus, will Carrizozo appear in full city street attire, and the town is far from being dead.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Rentfrow of their ranch across the Malpais were here Tuesday of this week.

George Curry, one time territorial governor of New Mexico, was a Carrizozo visitor last week and while in town, made this office a friendly call.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Ed Harris and Mrs. Nellie Reilly were business visitors from their ranch in the Gallinas this week.

Mrs. Sherman Buje and baby daughter have returned from a brief visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Porter at Luna.

Willis Lovelace, Jr., was in from his ranch across the Malpais on election day.

Willingham-Roberts

In the city of Carlsbad last Saturday, Oct. 31, Miss Evelyn Willingham of Corona and Marvin Roberts of Carrizozo were united in marriage.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. R. L. Willingham of Corona. She is a graduate of the Carrizozo High School and has many friends both here and at Corona.

Mr. Roberts, like his esteemed wife, was reared in Lincoln County and was educated in our schools. He is a mechanic at the Carrizozo Auto Co., where he enjoys the confidence of his employer, Mr. Shafer, and also of his associates in the local automobile industry. The newlyweds are receiving the congratulations of their many warm friends. They will make their home at the Roberts ranch about 8 miles east of here.

Notice of Dissolution of Partnership

Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between Roy Shafer of Carrizozo, N. M., and the Roswell Auto Co., of Roswell Auto Co., doing business under the firm name of Carrizozo Auto Co., at Carrizozo, N. M., has by mutual agreement been this day dissolved. Mr. Shafer has purchased the interest of the Roswell Auto Co., in the business styled Carrizozo Auto Co., and all debts due said Carrizozo Auto Co., should be paid to Roy Shafer, who has assumed all obligations of said Carrizozo Auto Co. Dated October 27, 1936.

Roswell Auto Co., Roy Shafer.

The Outlook wishes to pay its respects to the Republican County Central Committee, especially the chairman, Wm. Gallacher and the secretary, Don English. They, with their precinct chairmen, worked long hours and had the organization well in hand. The perfect working of the organization showed in the manner in which the vote was put out. They had a good ticket to back them up and had it not been for the tremendous national landslide, there would have been a different story to relate.

Personals

Dr. Woods of Lincoln was a business visitor in town this Monday, and while here, was a pleasant caller at this office.

BORN—On October 29, to Mr. and Mrs. Pete Johnson, a girl, Emily Ann. Mother and daughter are doing nicely.

Misses Aurora and Carmen Anaya and Rosa Padilla were visitors from Capitan Monday night.

Mrs. Holm O. Bursum, Jr. and son Holm, III, and Mrs. Mabel Nations were guests of Mrs. Gunther C. Kroggel several days this week.

Fortino Beltran and Paulino Aldaz were business visitors from Lincoln this week.

Rev. George W. Shearer of Fort Worth, Texas, will be in Carrizozo this coming Sunday. Dr. Shearer is a very able preacher and we are anxious for all to hear him Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. I have known brother Shearer for many years and know him to be a very splendid character. I count him as one of my best friends.

—J. A. Bell.

Yesterday morning our front door opened gently and wide enough to admit the form of Uncle Steve Boston, who produced a picture and merrily chirped: "Here is a picture of the President of the United States." It is such schoolboy acts as that which would give a boom to a certain state representative's bill for an addition to the school for delinquents.

Another fellow, flashing a red, white and blue pin, muttered: "The colors of the American flag."—Why, oh why hadn't he told us that before?

Mrs. W. C. Hendren was here from Fort Stanton Monday and from her we learned that W. C. is at the present time, at Washington, D. C., to which city he went in the interest of the government improvements now going on at the Fort. He will be absent about two weeks.

NOTICE

To the electors of Lincoln Co.: I wish to thank everyone of you for your generous support and promise to repay the people of Lincoln County with my best service.

Yours truly,
L. P. Hall.

Prof. F. E. Meeks of Fort Stanton was a Carrizozo business visitor here yesterday.

Ernest Lopez was a visitor in Albuquerque the latter part of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Juan Baca and the children were Roswell business visitors the latter part of last week.

During the sessions of the Teachers' convention at Albuquerque last week, Mr. R. R. A. Chase suffered an injury which almost proved serious. As he was passing a garage, a car backed out under heavy speed, striking him and falling him to the pavement. He was taken to a hospital where it became necessary to make four stitches in his forehead to close an ugly cut. We congratulate him on his narrow escape.

Keeping Up With Science

"Lie Detector" May Explore Minds of Mental Patients

Unconscious Emotions May Be Discovered

HANOVER, N. H. — A new technique for detecting emotion through measurement of electric resistance of the skin was reported to the American Psychological Association here.

Possible use of this new test in exploring the unconscious minds of the mentally ill was suggested by the results of experiments reported by Dr. T. W. Forbes, of the New York State Psychiatric Institute and hospital.

Sometimes known as the "lie detector," the psychogalvanometer — used to record the physical changes that occur when a person is questioned about his guilt or when his emotions are aroused in any other way — has previously been incorrectly used, Dr. Forbes indicated. The electrodes have customarily been applied to two separate skin areas. By reading potentials from just a single skin area, Dr. Forbes found not one but two waves which were confused or masked in the readings from two areas.

Reading the Waves.

One wave is negative and the other positive, and both occur with great regularity in most individuals. The "a," or negative, wave showed little variation in amplitude and occurred whether the subject was excited or not.

The positive "b" wave, on the other hand, occurred with increased magnitude whenever the subject was excited.

This was true whether the "exciting" situation involved electric shock, the startle of a revolver shot, or words designed to be embarrassing.

The "lie detector" technique would not be equally effective on all individuals for the purpose of detecting their emotional responses, Dr. Forbes' experiments indicated. Some individuals, he reported, failed to show any change of the "b" wave except with very intense startle.

Eskimo Mummies of Alaska Shed Light on Ancient North

WASHINGTON. — Discovery of important mummy caves, where prehistoric people of the North hid away their dead, is a signal achievement of the Smithsonian Institution's expedition to Alaska, just returned.

Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, leader of the anthropological expedition, and his four associates braved fog hazards and rocky barriers to explore two caves which they believed would contain mummies of Alaska's early Aleutian Islanders.

These caves are no more than crevices in rocky mazes of the Aleutian islands, Dr. Hrdlicka explained. A first attempt to reach one cave failed due to heavy fog that shut out the island and the two great volcanoes nearby.

Find Ancient People.

With the aid of the Coast guard, the party returned and, finding that here were indeed buried many ancient people, both adults and children, they began to work fast as they could to remove mummy bundles from the confusion of fallen rock and debris. Foxes in the cave tomb had added to the damage of time.

"We worked with our hands," said Dr. Hrdlicka. "Tools were of no use. We had not time to think of resting or eating, for if fog settled down we would be marooned, perhaps for days."

By afternoon, the sea was running to a considerable swell, and the workers made haste to get away. All material collected had to be passed by relay in sacks from one man to another for three-quarters of a mile to the beach where the boat was waiting.

Your Eye Can See One Millionth of an Inch

WASHINGTON. — The next time you see a film of oil on a rain puddle in the pavement look for the colored light fringes.

Pretty. Yes. But, more important, they indicate that your eye can detect a difference of one-millionth of an inch. That is the thickness of the oil films which produce those colors by interference. The beautiful coloring of some butterfly wings is a similar phenomenon of thin films. The best microprojector gauges now in use will detect differences of only one ten-thousandth of an inch.

Fossil Remains of Man's "Great Uncle" Found in Africa

Ape Bones Date Back to Beginning of Ice Age

FRAGMENTS of bone from a South African cave, described in the British science journal, Nature, by Dr. R. Broom of the Transvaal museum, may prove to be some of the most significant fossils thus far turned up by science in its long search for facts bearing on the natural origin of man.

For sketches of these bits of bone, sent by their discoverer to Dr. William K. Gregory of the American Museum of Natural History, "suggest the right characters for the adult of Australopithecus or a nearly allied form."

Australopithecus, or "the Ape of the South," was first found in 1925 at Taung in Bechuanaland, by Prof. Raymond A. Dart of the Witwatersrand University, Johannesburg. The two fossils then discovered, a brain-cast and part of the bones of the face, were definitely those of an ape, but of an ape with more man-like characters than any previously known subhuman species, living or fossil. Australopithecus was apparently a real missing link.

Comparisons Possible.

Professor Dart's specimens were those of a young specimen, just cutting its first permanent molar teeth. It was therefore of less value scientifically than an adult specimen might have been, because young apes and human children are always more alike than the adult forms become.

By an especial stroke of good fortune, the newly discovered material described by Doctor Broom also includes a brain-cast, so that a direct comparison with the juvenile brain cast of the earlier find can be made, and comparisons with the brains of human beings and the brains of apes will also be possible.

With this very important cast were also parts of the skull base and a fragment of the upper jaw.

The age of the formation in which the fossils were found may be Pliocene, that is, the time just before the beginning of the world's latest great Ice age, more than a million years ago. Since man's ancestry had already been well separated from the ape stock by the late Pliocene at least it is not considered probable that Australopithecus was a direct ancestor. He must be looked upon as a collateral relative—a great-uncle rather than a grandfather.

Bigger Sized Brain Needed to Improve Man's Behavior

CAMBRIDGE, MASS. — If man's life is ever to be lived along entirely rational lines, free from such disturbances as war, crime, and economic booms and depressions, he will have to find a way of increasing the size of his brain.

This is the conclusion to be drawn from what Prof. Edgar Douglas Adrian of Cambridge University, English Nobel laureate and one of the pioneers in "brain wave" investigations, told scientists at the Harvard Tercentenary celebration here of the relation between the nervous system and human behavior.

Scientific delvings into the mechanism of the mind and body, by "brain waves" and other techniques, show that the only certain method by which human behavior can be improved is the apparently impossible feat of breeding men with large brains.

Superhuman Behavior.

"It is tantalizing," Professor Adrian said, "to think of the new relations we should see, of the new world of thought we should live in, if four brains were but twice their present size. Our behavior would then be superhuman!"

Not even the most fanciful mind, given to picturing a race of supermen in a world to come, could conceive of the result, which Professor Adrian described as "beyond the power of human thought."

There's Life in the Dead Sea, After All

JERUSALEM. — Living organisms have been found in Dead Sea water, which has always been supposed to be utterly devoid of life of any kind because of its exceedingly high concentration of salt, potash, and other mineral matter. The discovery was made by Dr. B. Wilkansky of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

Doctor Wilkansky collected samples of water in the Dead sea, at various depths to 22 feet. After suitable laboratory preparation, three microscopic forms of life were found: one consisting of yeast-like cells, one of short, rod-like cells, and the third in the shape of long, fine threads.

CRANBERRIES IN GENERAL FAVOR

As Jelly or Sauce They Are Always Welcomed.

By EDITH M. BARBER

CRANBERRIES lend a gay note to the markets at this time of year. I can never resist them and as they have now begun to take their place with the other fruits for general use in cooking, we do not have to consider whether we really need them for jelly or for sauce to serve with meat.

They will always hold first place for this purpose. They are a great comfort to the cook because they seldom has to worry about cranberries jelling. Unless they are over-ripe, they are certain to mold. The recipe for either sauce or jelly is a very easy one to carry in your mind—just one-fourth as much water as berries and half as much sugar.

Pick over and wash one quart of cranberries. Cover with one cup of water and cook in a covered kettle ten minutes. Add two cups of sugar and cook three minutes. Skim and serve very cold. This sauce will keep indefinitely if kept cold and covered.

For cranberry jelly cook the berries in the same way until very tender. Press through a strainer, add the sugar and stir over the fire until the sugar is dissolved. Pour at once into a mold or jelly glasses and cool. This recipe will be more than enough for one meal, but it is time saving to make at least this amount as the jelly will keep.

Many recipes advise boiling the pulp and sugar together for a few minutes until you get the usual jelly test, two drops hanging side by side from the spoon when dipped into and then held above the saucepan, but I do not find it necessary to do this. Cranberry tapioca is one of my favorite desserts.

Cranberry Tapioca.

- ¾ cup granulated tapioca
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 3½ cups boiling water
- 1 pint cranberries
- ½ cup water
- ½ cup sugar

Cook tapioca, salt and boiling water together until clear. Cook cranberries and water until soft and add to the tapioca with the sugar. Cook five minutes, pour into a wet mold, chill and serve with whipped cream.

Cranberry Juice Cocktail.

- 4 cups cranberries
- 4 cups water
- 2-3 cup granulated sugar

Cook cranberries and water until all the skins pop open (about five minutes). Strain through cheese cloth. Bring the juice to boiling point, add sugar and boil two minutes. Serve cold. This may be corked and sealed for future use.

Gold Cake.

- 2 cups cake flour
 - 2 teaspoons baking powder
 - ¾ cup butter or other shortening
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 3 egg yolks
 - ¾ cup milk
 - ½ teaspoon lemon extract
- Sift flour with baking powder. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks beaten until very thick; then flour, alternately with milk. Add flavoring. Beat well. Bake in two eight-inch or nine-inch layer pans in moderate oven, 375 degrees Fahrenheit, 25 to 30 minutes. Spread lemon filling between layers. Sift powdered sugar over top of cake.

Ginger Ale Salad.

- 2 tablespoons gelatin
 - ½ cup water
 - 1 cup boiling water
 - 1½ cups ginger ale
 - ½ cup sugar
 - Juice of 1 lemon
 - 2 cups fruit, cut fine
 - ½ cup nuts, chopped
- Soften gelatin in cold water five minutes, dissolve in boiling water. Add ginger ale, lemon juice and sugar. Set aside to cool. When beginning to thicken add fruit and turn into fancy molds. Serve on lettuce and garnish with dressing.

Cinnamon Biscuits.

- 2 cups flour
 - 4 teaspoons baking powder
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - ¼ cup shortening
 - ¼ cup milk or water
- Mix and sift dry ingredients. Rub shortening into the flour mixture. Add liquid. Roll into one-half inch sheets. Sprinkle top with mixture of cinnamon and sugar. Roll up and cut into slices one-half inch thick. Bake in a greased pan in a 400-degree oven about fifteen minutes.

Ice Cream Meringue.

- 12 small meringues
 - Chocolate sauce
 - 1 pint vanilla ice cream
- On each serving plate put a ball of ice cream and press a meringue on each side. Pass chocolate sauce.

Fall Painting

A coat of paint applied this fall to porch and cellar steps will do much to insure them against the onslaughts of winter. At the time these are painted, it is well to give the wooden or metal floor supports in the cellar a coat of paint and also the inside woodwork of slanting cellar doors.

Pilot Light Saves Cash

A switch at the head of your basement stairs with a tell-tale pilot light attached will remind you if you've forgotten to turn off the cellar lights. It deprives the most careless members of the family of their last excuse for not turning off the lights.

The Household

By LYDIA LE BARON WALKER

THE name American patchwork was given by the English to a certain type of piece patchwork evidently originated on this continent. It is a name unfamiliar to most Americans, although credit for the beautiful work is given to the women in the United States and Canada. American patchwork found its way from this continent to England in the latter quarter of the last century, somewhere about 1875 or 1880. In Great Britain it was attributed equally to the United States and Canada, both countries being in America, and there being an uncertainty about just which section was responsible for the distinctive patchwork.

The name of loghouse quilting was given the design abroad. It has an odd sound to us for log homes are termed log cabins in America. Here the pattern has been known through the century as the log cabin pattern, but the name loghouse quilting has a fascinating ring to it. The patchwork was, and is, one of the handsomest types of all. Its special feature was its use of ribbons for patches and also silk and satin (and sometimes velvet) cut into strips of ribbon widths.

How To Make Squares.

The strips are positioned in ever-widening rows about a small square of one of the materials. In each row strips overlap one another. Ends are straight, that is they are not dovetailed or mitered. The ribbon-like strips can be sewed to a foundation square or be seamed together. In the old work the ribbons were sewed to a foundation, with a square of silk sewed on the exact center of the foundation square. After this the rows were set in order about it. Edges slightly overlapped so no lining was visible.

The method of arrangement of colors is definite. One diagonal half of a square is of dark colored pieces, the other of light ones. When squares are sewed together dark comes against dark and light against light, producing a fascinating sequence of ever widening squares of light and dark. When colors are artistically combined, the quilt with its rich materials is superb. We can well be proud of the quilts which bear the name of American loghouse quilting.

"The Gentle Art of PICKING POCKETS"

"With apologies to Freeman Tilden"

THE NEW DEAL is smooth. It works gently, softly. Assisting it is the largest and highest paid staff of propaganda workers in the world's history. They are in every government department. They are trained writers. They are on the government pay-rolls. The taxpayer pays for the propaganda.

But the Taxpayer is beginning to wonder what it is all about. He feels the gentle hand patting his shoulder and assuring him that all he has to do is take the government's money and everything will be all right. He hears the crooning voice on the radio, soothing him with the same promises the same smooth voice made in 1932—and broken!

"But," says the taxpayer, "what is that peculiar feeling in my trousers pocket where I keep my money. It feels like somebody was making a touch. Can that mean that with New Deal gang is soothing me with doles and dough and other things and taking the money out of my pocket to pay for it all?"

That's what thinking taxpayers now know! That's what keen minds have known for many months!

They've fooled many of us, since the broken Roosevelt promises of 1932, with the soft hand on the shoulder and the clutching hand of hidden taxes in the taxpayer's pocket.

Shall we let them work the same shell game on us in 1936.

The Roosevelt Record

"The record of the Roosevelt administration presents the most callous disregard of party principles, platform promises and personal pledges in all the history of American politics."

—John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for President in 1924; in a speech delivered in New York Tuesday night, Oct. 20, 1934.

With apologies to "The Trumpeter"

The Wail of the "COAT-TAIL" Candidates

WHAT IS this chorus of voices we hear crying in the wilderness of New Mexico voters in this vital campaign in 1936, in which the forces of constitutional government and economy, in the name of the Republican party, are lined up against the armies of the New Deal and its program of continued borrowing, continued reckless spending, and concentration of all power in the hands of the executive and his bureaus?

They are the trembling voices of Senators Hatch, Chavez, Congressman Dempsey and Governor Tingley; and behind all of their blasts of campaign oratory is the question they are asking themselves, daily and hourly:

"Will the Roosevelt Coat-Tails Hold?"

They shout at you what THEY have done for you with the money Roosevelt has let them have: They do not tell you that it was public money taken out of the taxpayers' pockets: Your pockets and mine. They have not advanced a single constructive suggestion. When mention is made of their individual records, Hatch, Chavez and Dempsey advise us to read the Congressional record. The reading discloses that these three men voted as Roosevelt, or boss Farley told them to vote; that they were rubber stamps for Tugwell, Felix Frankfurter and the rest of the radical crew who now surround the President of the United States and guide his policies along their radical line of theory.

The four rubber stamps shout ridiculous criticisms at their opponents. They KNOW how Harry Hopkins' WPA money is being used for political coercion and intimidation of helpless workers. They know all the political corruption that has crept through the nation under the abuses of New Deal policies. Do they lift their voice in protest?

Never a single protest, friends. They just keep telling us how much money Roosevelt gave them to spend in New Mexico; hoping that thus if the Roosevelt financial coat-tails stand the strain, they may ride through to re-election . . . knowing that if Roosevelt is defeated, they are through.

Now here's a curious contradiction: While Roosevelt is going around and about the nation telling the people, as he did in 1932, that he is going to economize and balance the budget "in a year or two," these men, Hatch, Chavez and Dempsey, and his friend the Movie Cowboy, Pardon us, Governor Tingley, tell you that the spending is to go on, on a bigger scale than ever. If Roosevelt is right and keeps his present promises, these four men are misleading the people with falsehoods. If Roosevelt is misleading the people as he did in 1932, then we can look forward to wrecked government credit, printing press money and national financial ruin. So we have rough days coming if Roosevelt and his coat-tail riders win Nov. 3rd and either side is telling the truth.

Why not play safe?

Why not elect Alf Landon, the sound, conservative business man and back him up with Everly and Otero in the senate and Brown in the house?

Why not put an end to the wild career of Tingley the cowboy builder of debt and elect Jaffe Miller governor, with the Republican staff of responsible business men candidates to back him up in his policy of economy?

Grab your pocketbook, Mr. Taxpayer! See if it's still there; and if it is, vote to save what is left of the contents.

Lo, the Poor 4th Class Postmaster Gets the New Deal Call to Arms--Plus Cash Donation

AFTER MR. LANDON had made his position on the restoration of the civil service so clear that even a New Deal bureaucrat could understand it, President Roosevelt issued an order placing all postmasters under the civil service. This was a great victory for Mr. Landon. It was the first time he had exhibited the New Deal trailing his policies. It has happened often since.

But, apparently, the Roosevelt order didn't mean much, if anything. Maybe Jim Farley got hold of it and did things to it. At any rate we find Mr. Johnny Miles, democratic state chairman, boldly writing to a postmaster, as shown in the above photostat of a letter and envelope and telling that postmaster, in paragraph three, in carefully guarded words, that "maybe your friends, your neighbors, your family x x x can help financially."

It is reasonable to assume that if ONE postmaster received such a letter, ALL postmasters in the state, save only hold-over Republican appointees, received them.

So, as far as Johnny Miles and the Tingley-Zinn machine are concerned, the Roosevelt executive order and the law behind it, are openly and flagrantly violated.

Carefully as it is worded, this letter mean but ONE THING. It means "come across with the dough."

Thus postmasters who had thought themselves free from the threats and coercion used again the PWA and the WPA and the other alphabetical employees, find themselves enlisted in the New Deal army with orders to fight for the New Deal, and especially to "help financially."

It would be interesting to know just how much Johnny Miles got out this letter to postmasters. And just to gratify our curiosity, we are going to send a copy of this statement to Mr. Roosevelt and to Mr. Farley, although he isn't in the postoffice right now. We know what Farley will do with it. But Mr. Roosevelt, with his love for suffering humanity and his detestation of "economic royalty," can hardly fail to express his sympathy for the poor little country postmaster who, at today's high tax rates, gets just about enough to live on. But maybe Mr. Roosevelt will think we are interfering with perquisites of the dictatorship which he acquired from his rubber stamp congress, and throw the letter in the presidential waste basket. That's the New Deal method of disposing of anything unpleasant . . . just throw it in the ash can and go fishing, with a battleship as escort.

You Postmasters Who, in spite of the law and the presidential ukase are being held up for campaign contributions . . . Use your Grand American Privilege and tell the political stick-up men to take a walk.

Hugh Bradley Says

Army Looms Tough for Navy, and Lion Will Roar Plenty

IF CONGRESS were in session I right now the duty of all humans and forward-looking taxpayers would be quite plain. Letters could be rushed to the guardians of the public purse...

I mention this as the result of viewing Army in some of its recent football enterprises. The Cadets seemed far better than they have seemed in any early recent season.

Naturally Gar Davidson's team is, at the moment, far from a smoothly functioning machine. General Pershing had that same trouble at the start of the World War when he was tested 3,000,000 stalwart youngsters...

Against Lou Little's Columbia Army showed little in the way of a running attack. This partly could have been due to the greasy field, the unwillingness to displace cherished formations to eagerly peeping scouts...

In the second period, for instance, the way was paved for the tying touchdowns by means of an aerial connection with Wilson standing on the line. On this play one side of the line stays in position until the ball is tossed to the receiver...

Defensively Army made mistakes—in mechanics as well as in celebration—which could very well have late season games. It is probable such defects can be remedied within another game or two.

Columbia's problem is in the line, usually the place where Little-coached teams are at their best. Luckman, who seems likely to be the most popular football hero in local baseball parks this fall, needs more time to acquire big league savvy on the defense.

Farey also is a back who would win the esteem of almost any coach for all that he weighs less than 170 pounds. Perhaps he does not catch the eye as quickly as did one or two other members of the famous Columbia football family...

Schulze, the rangy end, is another athlete who strengthens the old back convictions that Columbia is back on its feet this year.

NOT IN THE BOX SCORE: FRANK KEARNS, new trainer for Warren Wright's Calumet Farm Stable, should know how to get his horses away from the post. He once was an assistant starter...

If Connie Mack gets hungry again this winter, the Yankees will offer numerous well-sugared doughnuts for Pinky Higgins. They have a notion Pinky might do very well in their second-base show-window on Tony Lazzeri's days off during the next few years...

Eddie Ainsmith, once famed as a catcher and as the best of all baseball fighters, is coming back to the big time. He has done so well as a Southern association umpire that the American League now controls his future...

Pat Malone, Johnny Murphy and the other members of the Yankee bullpen gang are such modest citizens that they refuse to admit it. But little Jimmy De Foe, who runs errands for them out there in their left field station, is very, very happy about that $85 they presented to him as his cut of the World series...

Irish Are Said to Have Backfield Ills

In spite of early season scoring, Notre Dame insiders claim the Irish have backfield trouble. But you can pretty well depend on it that Elmer Layden is a good enough doctor to remedy the ailment before it becomes acute...

Jim Tierney, long secretary of the Giants, hopes to return to baseball next season. He has strong support for his bid for the International League presidency. Foreign spies report that several English thoroughbreds are suffering from "heel bug"...

Joe Dugan never once heeded the ball to the pitcher. Thought it was bad luck. Jack McGraw, the United States Narcotic Squad man, gave Joe McCarthy his first glimpse of New York. That was in 1904 when McGraw refused to let his Giants appear against the Red Sox in the World Series...

Dean Watkins, who has ranked tops among football officials during thirty years and 400 games, now is viewing the sport from a new angle. He takes an autumn Saturday off now and then to enjoy the thrills coming to a cash customer...

Store Root Crops and Make Profit

Simple, Well-Drained Field Location Needed; Do Not Dig a Trench.

By C. H. Nisley, Professor of Vegetable Gardening, New Jersey State College, WNU Service.

By storing such root crops as beets, turnips, parsnips and rutabagas in the field as soon as the weather becomes cold, many farmers are able to take advantage of a profitable market for these vegetables during winter.

The storage operation is simple, but a well-drained location is necessary. Do not dig a trench, but place the vegetables on the surface of the ground in rectangular piles with 25, 50, 75 or 100 bushels in each.

After the roots have been neatly arranged in the pile, cover them with from four to eight inches of straw, salt hay or double layer of burlap. Then place a three- to five-inch layer of soil over the roots to prevent the wind from uncovering them.

But in this report, I want to stress a very much less obvious phase of the problem than was made apparent in any of the electioneering. With all of the verbiage cast aside, with all of the political hoodwinking forgotten, there is a very deep and difficult problem in the coal industry.

This question, if proper analysis is made, encompasses more than the usual factors that operate in economics. It does that because of policies of the federal government, among states and among municipalities.

Not so many years ago coal mine owners and coal labor units had what amounted to a monopoly on our fuel supply. Then came oil, oil with all of the scientific development that followed in its wake.

Last Drawn Milk Richer, Is Why Stripping Pays

Which is richer in butterfat, the first-drawn or the last-drawn milk from a cow? Or is there any difference?

Invariably, the last-drawn milk is considerably richer. That is why it is so important to strip cows thoroughly at each milking. Incomplete milking not only tends to damage the future production of the cow but it also is very unprofitable.

According to the dairy extension service at Iowa State college, convincing experiment along this line recently was conducted. A sample was taken of the first milk, then of the strippings and finally of the total milk mixed together.

Outlook for Wool

Prospective world supplies of wool in 1936-37, including production and stocks, probably will be less than for several years, say the bureau of agricultural economics.

A horse at medium work will require about one pound of hay and one pound of grain for each 100 pounds body weight. On this basis if figured on a 365-day feeding basis for a 1,200-pound horse with no allowance for pasture would require about three tons of hay and two and one-half tons of grain...

CHAPTER XI
Who murdered Mike Kelly? ... Pat darling--was it you?
The Globe had answered the question, but in Southampton, Barry Gilbert held this girl-of-all-girls in his arms...

Harry nodded. That word was the last straw...
"Anything else, sir?" Evans inquired, in front of the Ridder house.

That leaves my account straight, Barry thought.
"Disabused," he credited himself with the same check, which had been banked for Peggy...

Packing proved complicated. Most of his clothing--paid for long ago--was out here, and had to be taken in.

Lesson for November 1
LAW, LOVE, AND TEMPERANCE
(International Temperance Sunday)

LESSON TEXT--Romans 13:1-6.
GOLDEN TEXT--It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor anything whereby thy brother stumbleth.
PRIMARY TOPIC--Why We Keep Rules.

Revolution, political disorder, anarchy--these are words which characterize much of the world's news of our day.

Good citizenship of the true type is the result of staunch Christian character. Much of the weakness in our political and social life can be traced to the neglect of the things of God in the home, the school, and the church.

Lectures on political economy are well worth while. School children should learn to love and honor their country. But for real intelligent citizenship we must have a study of God's Word.

In our land we have a powerful agency for the correction of governmental weakness and error--the ballot box. Let every Christian use it discreetly and in the fear of God.

Before leaving the passage, note that the Christian does not dodge, "fix," or leave unpaid the taxes which support the government under whose benefits he lives and works.

John Boles has a new movie contract, which he wouldn't sign unless it stipulated that he wouldn't have to rush. He has been rushing about the country making personal appearances...

It is a small thing to a man whether or not his neighbor be merciful to him; it is life or death to him whether or not he be merciful to his neighbor.

STAR DUST

Movie · Radio

By VIRGINIA VALE

THE life of a motion picture star leaves a good deal to be desired, no matter how much money or fame or fun he has.

William Powell has had really serious trouble with his eyes of late, and Eric Blore is so careful of his that he will work only a certain number of hours a day--about four or five.

When motion picture actresses come to New York for the first time they usually state for publication that they just couldn't wait to see the places like Central park and the aquarium, that all tourists want to see.

Lily Pons will try anything. She is working hard on "Street Girl" at present; remember when it was made as a silent picture with Betty Compson?

Smith Backs Landon

NEW YORK CITY.—"I firmly believe that the remedy for all the ills we are suffering from today is the election of Alfred E. Smith," Alfred E. Smith, former governor of New York and Democratic candidate for President in 1920, said in a speech here. "I am an American before I am a Democrat, before I am a Republican, before I am anything," he declared.

Landon Against Hidden Taxes

The major portion of government revenue should come from direct taxes levied on the net income of individuals and corporations, says Governor Alf Landon, who has fought for years for legislation to prevent concealment of the income of government.

Excess Taxation Violates Circle

The more money the New Deal wastes, says Governor Alf Landon, the more it has to tax the people. The more taxes are imposed, the less food and clothing people can buy and the less they can set aside for education, building of homes, construction of factories and the improvement of farms. Every dollar the New Deal takes for taxes means just one dollar less for production and jobs.

New Deal Recovery

In July, 1935, there were 3,000,000 individuals and families on relief throughout the United States. The New Deal brand of recovery had increased the number to 3,300,000 in March of 1936, according to the Federal Emergency Relief Administration.

Large Checks

The New Deal paid three Puerto Rican sugar cane growers over $3,000,000 for not growing sugar cane.

2,512,000 People

The New Deal in depriving the American farmer of the opportunity of raising full crops and American processors of processing full crops prevented 2,512,000 people from making a living for themselves and their families.

Out of Balance

In the first three full fiscal years of the Roosevelt administration government expenditures have amounted to $64,942,900,000 and the income has been $10,532,000,000—a deficit of $54,410,900,000. And he promised to balance the budget.
