Carrizozo came back from behind at the local park last Sunday after trailing Socorro 5 to 1 for six frames, and turned back the ferocious, man-eating Sharks by a handsome figure of 10 to 5.

Tino Lopez, playing second for Zamora, came to bat in the 6th with two men out and took hold of a fast one to start a rally for Carrizozo which netted the boys 4 runs to tie the score at 5-all.

To the Socorro manager's sorrow, he jerked Mora from the box and sent in just the man our boys had been praying for. Tino started another fusillade in the 7th to hoist up the score 8 to 5. It was Tino again in the 8th and this time the boys piled up two more scores to sew up the game for Carrizozo.

Prof. R. A. A. Chase conducted his classes in music at Capitán Tuesday of this week.

Joe Mirabal, Valentin Sanchez and another man, all of whom are employed by Brack Sloan, were going to the ranch Saturday with some supplies and just as they got to a big curve, the driver lost control of the truck which turned over with its occupants.

FLOYD GIBBONS FAMOUS HEADLINE HUNTER ADVENTURERS CLUB

Hold Everybody

"Late for Work"

BY FLOYD GIBBONS

YOU know, for a long time I've been inviting the boys and girls to tell me about the biggest thrills of their lives...

Well, sir, when I got that far in Frank's letter I began thinking to myself, "Hold on, there! Reading a newspaper might give you a thrill now and then, but it just ain't adventure."

That doesn't sound like an adventure either, does it? Plenty of people not only "almost get fired," but DO get fired every doggone day, and nobody thinks it's exciting.

Frank Heard a Scream for Help.

Boy, that is news, isn't it? All my life I've wanted to work for a boss like that. But being late for work still doesn't come under the head of adventuring...

Frank Starr—young Frank's dad—worked for the dock department in New York City. He lived in West One Hundred Fifty-first street, not far from where he worked...

Frank looked in the direction from which the scream had come. Out there on the water he saw a head bobbing up and down and a little arm raised up in the air.

It was hard going with his clothes on, but he swam on toward the spot where he had seen that little head go down. As he reached the place, the boy came up again and Frank grabbed him.

Jimmy Also Had to Be Saved.

Jimmy? Who was Jimmy? Frank had seen but one head bobbing around in that water. Was there another kid out there?

He had a tough job reaching the spot. His clothes—the current—the boy under his arm—all of those things hampered him in his battle.

Frank tucked the second youngster under his other arm. Both his arms were full now. Two KIDS, as well as a lot of heavy clothing, were dragging him down.

Too Modest to Tell of His Feat.

Both kids were unconscious when they reached the shore. After a long treatment they were both brought around again and taken to their homes.

Frank stood up for work just half an hour late. The boss wanted to know what was the trouble, and Frank—well—he just sort of shrugged his shoulders and said he'd got wet pulling a couple kids out of some water...

Commissioner Huriburt took a look at that report but he wasn't satisfied. Maybe it just looked like a new version of the sick grand-mother alibi.

And the result of those phone calls was that Frank was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor and the Medal of the Life Saving Benevolent Association of New York for being late for work and, to use the words engraved on the back of one of those medals, "For saving human life in peril."

Spiked Boots Ban Saved Traverse City Sidewalks

His boots were as sacred to a lumberjack in Michigan's boom timber era as a saddle to a cowboy, but the loggers couldn't wear them in Traverse City, reveals a Traverse City correspondent in the Detroit Free Press.

The city passed an ordinance providing a maximum fine of $10 or 10 days in jail for the lumberman who was found wearing spiked boots in the city limits.

Marks of Past Illness Shown by Hair and Nails

Signs of past illness often remain long after the illness has ended. These are to be found where the circulation is poorest, viz., in the hair and the nails, says a writer in Pearson's London Weekly.

To restore the appearance of the nails you must, of course, first restore the general health. The principal cause of the debility must be treated, and when this has been done improvement in the circulation follows.

The Rogues' Gallery JOHN LARDNER Why Go to College?

"Why, some of you guys must still be in the hole," said Elite '30 in frank astonishment.

By JOHN LARDNER

THERE is a book on the market now called "Was College Worth While?" in which you are told that the average fellow who graduated from Yale, Harvard, and the University of Nebraska 25 years ago is making less than $5,000 a year for himself and dependents as we go to press.

Yale, Harvard, and Nebraska are taken merely as examples—"cross-sections," as we say in the statistical racket. Surely it must be obvious to the veriest dolt that the author of the book could not cover all the American colleges in one survey.

But the Yales, the Harvards, and the Nebraskas have been pretty well lined up by our author, Mr. John R. Tunis, in private life a tennis player. Mr. Tunis has some interesting data to show for the work he has done. He reports, for example, that in 1933, the year the Giants knocked Crowder out of the box, the members of the class of 1911 at Harvard were earning an average of $4,000 apiece, which, according to figures of my own compilation, is exactly $109 less than they would have made if they had gone to the Blaise Institute of Taxidermy and Wessel-Stuffing, instead of to Harvard.

What's Ten Bucks?

Yet Harvard is a rich man's college, catering to the sons of rich men. I will give you an idea of how rich it is. The other day I ran into a member of my own class at Harvard, McGew, and said to him, by way of courteous greeting: "McGew, old sporting life, can you spare ten bucks?" McGew laughed scornfully.

"Ten bucks!" he exclaimed. "I don't happen to have ten bucks in my pocket at the moment, but if you would only take a check I would write you one for $12,000. That's how much I think of you, old pal, if you would only take a check."

But There's a Catch.

And McGew strolled away, fairly dripping prosperity. His watch and chain alone must have cost the original owner something like seven hundred and thirty-five smackers. But there is a catch in the situation somewhere, because Mr. Tunis, who knows the facts, says that the average grad of 25 years ago is lucky if he can keep his wife in clothes and his babies in bourbon during the long, hard winter. Something is wrong. Either the class of 1911 was not very bright, as a class, or else some vicious, mean-spirited dog is holding down the average by not making any money at all.

What would the old coach say? It takes a school like Princeton, where patriotism is a byword, to inspire real loyalty in her sons. While Harvard's ingrate class of 1911 was amassing a paltry $4,000 per capita in 1933, a group of clean-cut, starchy-eyed, exalted young blades from Princeton (class of '21, to be specific) made the Harvard men look like utter bouncers and rank quitters by piling up $5,600 apiece. What's more, a certain Princetonian told me he could have lifted the average even higher by selling another stock short.

Dental Schools Neglected.

"But I thought our lead was big enough already," he explained, "so I let it go." Besides, the man he was swindling was not a college man. Inspired by Mr. Tunis' survey, I decided to make a similar survey of my dentist, the only dental college graduate I know (Skowhegan Bicupid, '18). It struck me that dental schools had been sadly neglected, and so had my teeth.

Fling at High Finance.

"A sweetheart," yelped the loyal alumnus-enthusiast, "must have pulled down close to $20,000 in 1929. And I got some of it in cash, too—at least three or four thousand."

And the rest of it?

"Still owing," beamed Dr. Gurbel. "That was quite a year." "And who were your customers that year?" "The very best people, all college men and their wives," replied the good doctor. "Six distinguished Princeton families, four fine Yale families, and a couple of important Harvard families. Believe me, their teeth were in terrible shape."

Harvard Falls Short.

Right now I am engaged in a preliminary survey of the graduates of American barber colleges. One alumnus (Elite Tomsonial, '30) estimated that he earned a net of $1,100 last year. The Harvard average is higher, but, as the old Elite grad pointed out, they don't show you a thing about facial massages at Harvard. They don't even teach you how to cut hair.

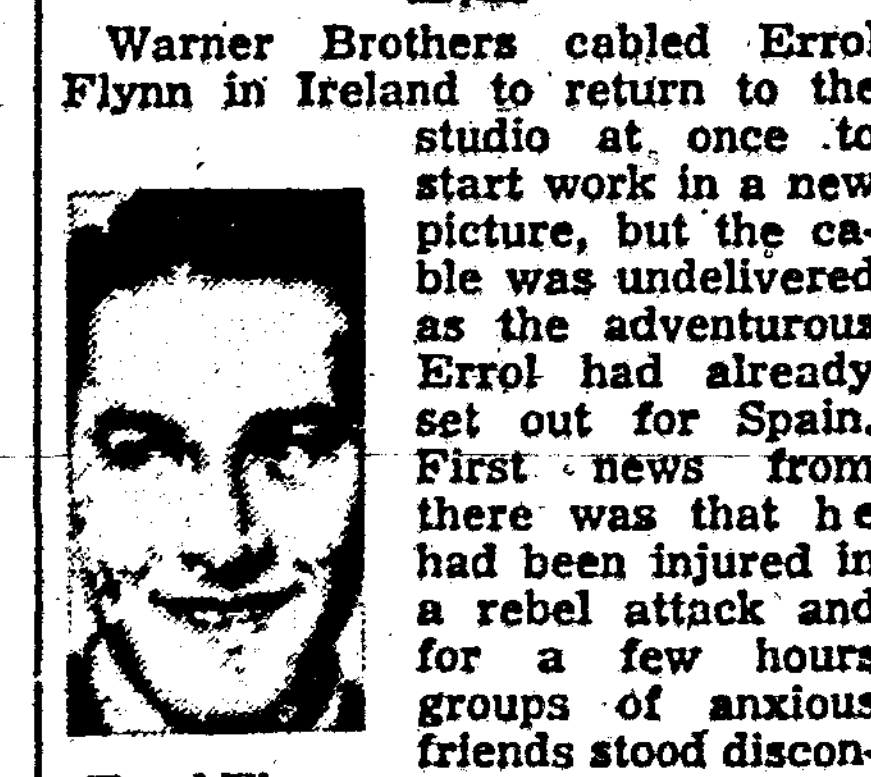

There is something in what Elite '30 says.

I will have to take it up in my next survey. © Bull Graduate. -WNU Service.

STAR DUST Movie Radio

By VIRGINIA VALE

THE Women's National Radio committee has named the Rudy Vallee hour as the best variety program on the air, and Bing Crosby's loyal host of followers are so upset that letters of protest are pouring into radio stations and newspaper offices.

Errol Flynn

Warner Brothers cabled Errol Flynn in Ireland to return to the studio at once to start work in a new picture, but the cable was undelivered as the adventurous Errol had already set out for Spain.

As summer approaches and radio programs call it a season, radio singers look wistfully toward the big rewards of Hollywood engagements. Two who have already landed engagements are Jessica Dragonette and Lanny Ross. Miss Dragonette will appear in a Bobby Brown picture called "Make a Wish."

Being just the husband of a popular Hollywood actress is no career for an ambitious young man.

According to Leonard Penn, who left the New York stage to come to Hollywood with Gladys George, and George McDonald who left his newspaper job when he married Jean Parker, Penn is being tested by M-G-M, and George McDonald is being tested by Paramount.

Gall Patrick, the only survivor at the Paramount studio among all the girls who won in their "Panther Woman" contest a few years ago, has at last attained real recognition.

Not only will she be featured in "Artists and Models" with Jack Benny, she will get one of the best dressing rooms on the lot. It was built years ago for Pola Negri and was later occupied by Clara Bow.

Every time Sam Goldwyn spends a few days away from the studio, he catches up on all the newest national fads and promptly arranges to use them in pictures.

Recovering from a cold at Tucson, Arizona, a few days ago, he was impressed by a trailer camp. Promptly he bought a story called "Heaven on Wheels" and cast Barbara Stanwyck for the lead.

Fred Astaire is so determined to have Carole Lombard in the first film that he makes without Ginger Rogers that he is postponing production until she is free.

And James Stewart is so determined to play opposite Ginger Rogers in her solo starring vehicle that he is pleading with M-G-M to release him from working in Luise Rainer's next. It is so much fun working with Astaire or Rogers that players are willing to give up better roles in order to be with them.

ODDS AND ENDS

Dick Form won't finish any more pictures with an embrace. It seems that the juvenile audience who enjoy his pictures shied in derision when he went romantically with Elissa Landi's plan to ride in the hunters' trials at Palm Springs. They won't let her risk her neck while she is making "Thirteenth Chair" for them. ... Claire Windsor, so long absent from the screen, will return in support of Constance Bennett in "Topper". ... Luise Rainer has dyed her hair bright red for "The Emperor's Candlesticks" and likes it so well she is going to leave it that way. ... Whenever Bob Conway-Fox needs Wallace Beery, for scenes of "Blaze Ship" they see him at the circus. Ever since the day when he traveled with a circus as a steeplechase, he has loved hanging around the steeplechase tent.

The Traffic Ordinance

As will be noticed in this paper, the traffic ordinance as amended, is undergoing two publications ending with this issue. The ordinance was framed to prevent accidents by thoughtless people who are in the habit of disregarding their own safety as well as that of other people. In that act, Mayor Richard and his Board of Trustees have taken a wise course. The traffic laws are being grossly violated and if that flagrant abuse of the law is pursued, violators will be severely dealt with. Some people seem to think that the streets belong to them and that they are the only ones to be suited—at least, that is the manner in which they seem to think, to the other element who believe in observing the safety first procedure.

The yellow STOP signs mean just that and people must observe them and act accordingly or suffer the consequences. Some drivers and those who know better, too, have been in the habit of parking on the wrong side, cutting across in the middle of streets regardless of who is coming or going; to such an alarming extent that people who are out for pleasure driving, live in constant fear of having to suffer from traffic violations. Ofttimes it is the "wise-cracker," who would yell "slazy" at the fellow who believes in being careful and rush into trouble for themselves and others. Don't be silly! Obey the ordinance and think of other people. If you don't, you will see that the city Dads mean business.

ARE YOU ONLY A THREE-QUARTER WIFE?

MEN, because they are men, can never understand a three-quarter wife—a wife who is all love and kindness three weeks in a month and a hell on the rest of the time.

No matter how your back aches—how your nerves scream—don't take it out on your husband.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood, 2. Preparing for motherhood, 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and go "Smiling Through."

SHE LOST 20 POUNDS OF FAT

Feel full of pep and possess the slender form you crave—you can't if you listen to gossipers.

To take off excess fat go light on fatty meats, butter, cream and sugary sweets—eat more fruit and vegetables and take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen salts in a glass of hot water every morning to eliminate excess waste.

Mrs. Nina Verille of Havre de Grace, Md., writes: "I took off 20 lbs.—my clothes fit me fine now."

No drastic cathartics—no constipation—but pleasant daily bowel action when you take your little daily dose of Kruschen.

New FORD BRAKES

SAFETY OF STEEL FROM PEDAL TO WHEEL

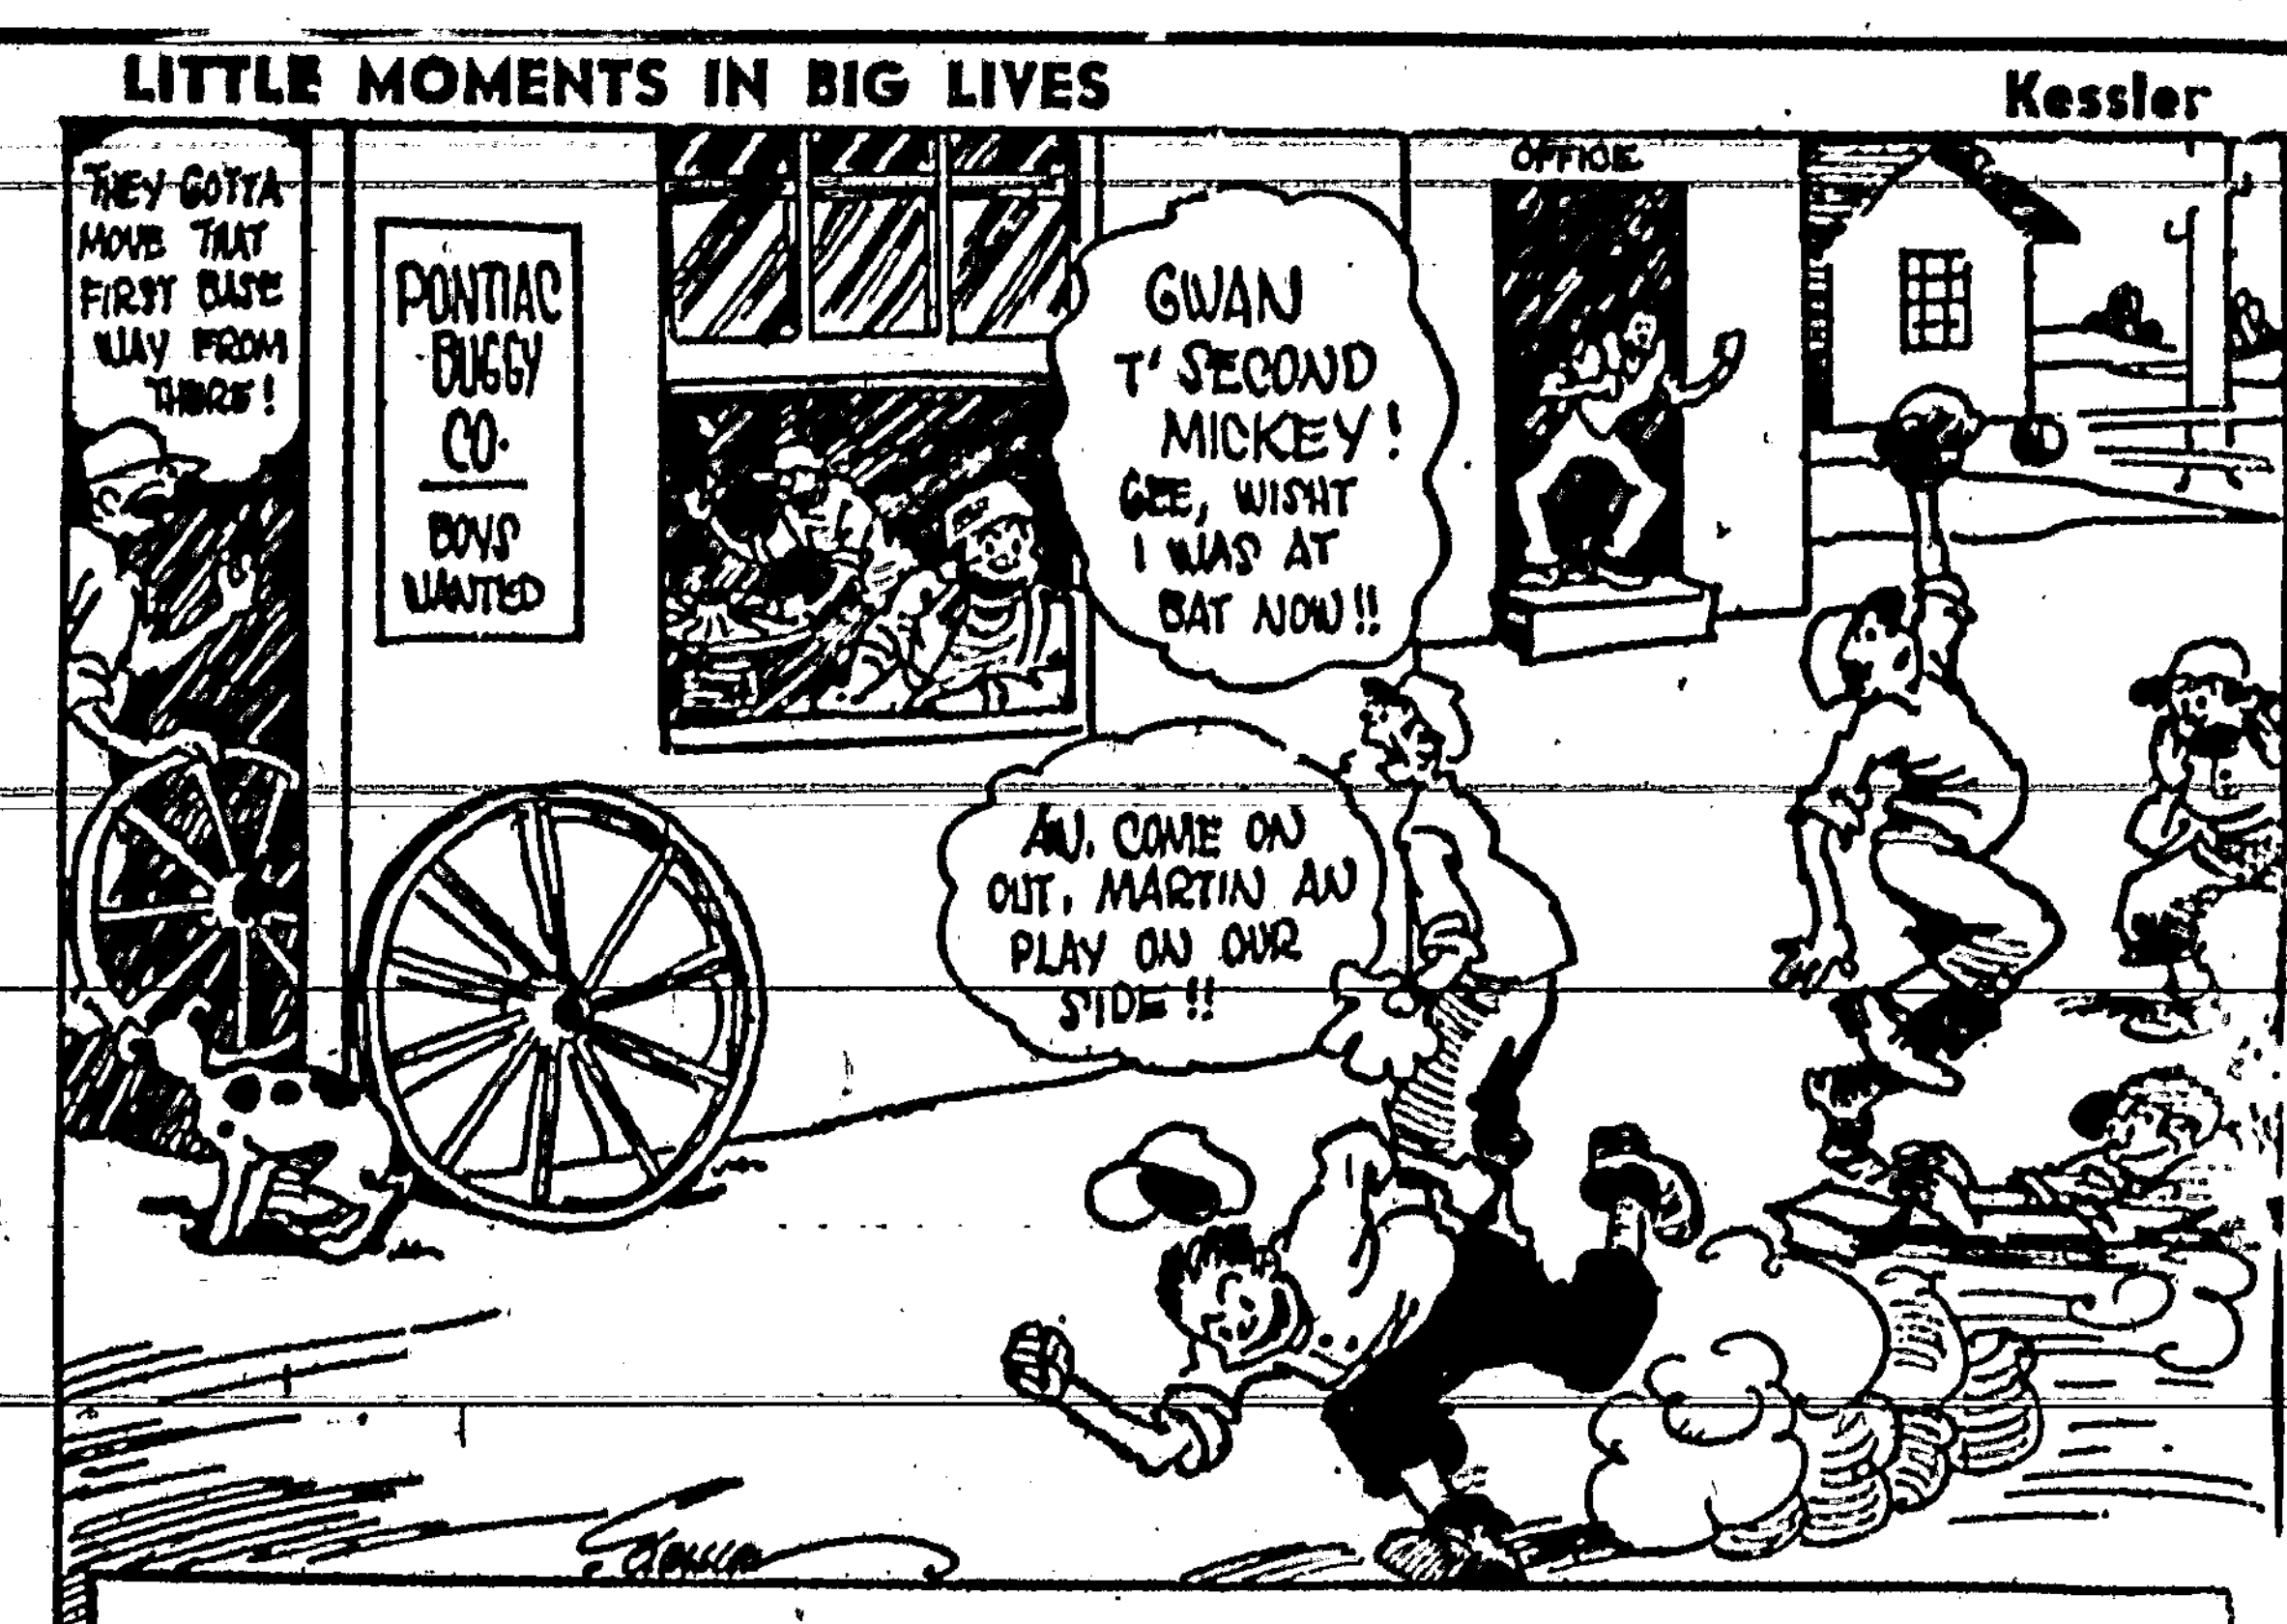

Easy Action—Always Dependable!

Most of the people who have bought 1937 Ford V-8s from us investigated brakes thoroughly. They appreciated the reliability of the new Ford brakes under all conditions—the "safety of steel from pedal to wheel." But what opened their eyes was the easy action! Less pedal pressure is needed to stop the car. If you haven't tried these new Ford brakes, you have something to learn. Stop in for a trial.

HOW OFTEN CAN YOU KISS AND MAKE UP?

NEW husbands are wondering why a wife should turn from a pleasant companion into a shrew for one whole week in every month.

You can say "I'm over!" and kiss and make up easier before marriage than after. Beware, if you want to hold your husband, you won't be a three-quarter wife.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood, 2. Preparing for motherhood, 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and go "Smiling Through."

COMMENTS

Lewis Burke

Howdy, Amigos. Time for another informal visit with you.

We are taught in public speaking the best way to get the attention of the audience is to relate some humorous incident. They say it always works, providing, of course, the speech is meritorious.

-R U Listenin'?

After listening to those cowboy songs on the radio, we can understand why the cattle used to go on a stampede often in the wild west.

DO YOU KNOW THAT

President Roosevelt asks for $1,500,000,000 more; then again we see that he is going to cut expenses. Maybe we're of the Dumb Dora variety for we don't know what tizall about. — Do you?

THANKS, JOHN MILLER

Retired Railway Conductor John Miller is busying himself with watering the trees and the Bermuda grass of the City Park. John donates his services, for your information, and he works long and tiresome hours.

While we're discussing this subject, let us say that workmen have planted a new lot of Bermuda sod in the City Park. Take it all around, Bermuda is the hardest grass for this alkali or volcanic silt soil. Bermuda will thrive in hot weather, where blue grass will die. Hot days and cold nights are the reasons that blue grass doesn't thrive in the Carrizozo locality.

The Lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Bright is beautiful right now. It is planted in a mixture of Bermuda, blue grass and Dutch clover. The clover predominates and is spreading fast. It seems to thrive here.

ESTABLISH A PRECEDENT?

Gov. Tingley hopes and prays that President Roosevelt will accept a third term — so he can do likewise.

The Carrizozo Baseball Team were victorious at Alamogordo to a tune of 9 to 7. As the fellow says "That's right; do it again." Note — Now don't get swell-headed, Team, and think that you don't need to practise. P.S. — It was the first game of the season.

"The March of Time" show the first of the week at the Lyric Theatre, featured the originators of Jazz music in the Dixieland Jazz Band. This organization was forced to discontinue playing, but later was revived, owing to the demand for "Swing Music." Note — The writer has several phonograph records made by them over 20 years ago. They are, what you say in English, "HOT!"

Numerous requests have come to this office concerning giant Mexican Heavenly Blue morning glory seed. The same may be secured from the Palm Seed Co. of El Paso, Texas. Adv.

We'll bet that Vice President Garner doesn't approve of the sit-down strike. He is known as Cactus Jack.

So, Adios, Amigos Mios — from the Land of Enchantment; Romance, Dreams and Turquoise Sky.
