The Bended Knee

(EDITORIAL)

The President's latest act, that of nominating Senator Black of Alabama, is another evidence of the determination on the chief executive's part to attain dictatorship or die in the attempt. It was not presumed that he would nominate a conservative; but it was thought that he would bring out one, who would at least, have a mind of his own rather than to be a stool-pigeon for a dictator.

When the Supreme Court declared the NRA unconstitutional, he said that this country was "boasted" by five decrepit old men. After scoring the Supreme Court, he said the country was going to hell and the Court was trying to lead it there.

With Senator Black on the Supreme bench, it will give the President a majority that will "yea-yes" and bend the knees to every one of his schemes to attain the dictatorship.

Skating Queen

Little Rachel Ann Young, two years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Young, is quite an expert at roller skating. Living just across from the courthouse furnishes her with other children the good advantage of the smooth cement sidewalk around the square on which to satisfy her desire to skate.

Two Real Surprises

On Tuesday, Aug. 17, the editor of this paper reached the 76th milestone of his earthly existence, and at the noon hour, he was pleasantly surprised at his home with a birthday dinner fit for a king. The same was prepared by Mrs. Burke, assisted by Mrs. Walter Grumbles who made a big birthday cake.

Surprise No. 2 came that evening when he attended the regular meeting of Carrizozo Lodge No. 30, I. O. O. F. As the meeting was nearing its close, Thomas Cook of the City Garage, in a well-voiced speech, presented him with a beautiful Past Noble Grand's Jewel in medallion form.

Pablo Telles has built an addition to his home on the east side. Santiago Mirabal is building a house. Ben Herrera had a new roof put on his house.

Floy Skinner, water superintendent for the S. P., was here on business this Tuesday. W. B. Payne was a business visitor today from his ranch holdings in the Encino-Capitan country.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sweet of the Ancho country were visitors in town Wednesday of this week. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Walker of Lyric Theatre are the owners of a Pontiac car, purchased from the City Garage.

Jesse May, successful farmer and truck raiser of Nogal, was a visitor here Tuesday of this week. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Kent of Oscura were Carrizozo visitors last Saturday.

Miss Erma Poage of the Nogal Canyon is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Stearns at Tucumcari this week.

Billy McDonald of the Vera Cruz gold mine returned this week from a business trip to points in Texas.

Harry Aguayo was a visitor from Tortolita Canyon Tuesday.

Mrs. Gussie Johnson and guest Mrs. Jeannette Cazier of Tucumcari were down from Mrs. Johnson's summer home on the Bonito this Friday morning. Mrs. Johnson will leave the early part of the next week to visit her mother in Los Angeles, who is 80 years of age.

CARRIZOZO VS. EL PASO Local Park - Sun., Aug. 22

Lyric Theatre

Show starts at 8:00 p. m. Friday and Saturday

"Dangerous" Featuring Robt. Ann Sothorn. A concerned, lured life. "Swing Wedding" and "be a Detective."

"Nancy Steel Is Missing"

Sunday - Monday - Tuesday Featuring Victor McLaglen, Walter Connolly, Peter Lorre, with June Lang and Robert Kent. The story of the news flash that shocked the world and held five lives in a spell of vengeance.

"Sinner Take All"

Featuring Bruce Cabot, Margaret Linzey, Joseph Calleia, Charles Grapewin. The story of four members of a wealthy family who receive death threats simultaneously—and what happens. "Pay As You Exit" and "Colorful Islands."

Highway Work In All Directions

Work on the highway east, west and north of here has already begun. The big trucks, tractors and other equipment from the highway department arrived in town and arrangements are being made to start graveling and oiling Monday.

The highway toward Capitan will be oiled 8 miles east to the Nogal Crossing. Oiling will be done 6 miles north on the Corona road, and 26 miles west on the Carrizozo-Socorro highway.

The Straley brothers, Harry, John, Spurgeon and Cap were business visitors from the Ancho vicinity this week.

J. H. Kimmons, grandsons Jimmy Jean Johnson of Alamogordo and Earl Lindell, Jr., of El Paso were here this Friday morning from the Oscura country, where the boys are visiting their grandparents.

Mrs. J. J. Hoffman was here from her ranch one day this week, purchasing supplies and visiting her son, Henry Hoffman and his family.

Work is now progressing nicely on the new School Library. The exterior will be of concrete. "Dub" Talley is supervising the work.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sanchez and daughter Natalia have returned from their trip to Albuquerque and Ben will again be behind the counter at Ziegler Bros. Store next Monday morning.

Mrs. Margie Clouse is in receipt of word from the Masonic Hospital in El Paso to the effect that her mother, Mrs. Nellie Branum, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Sager were White Oaks visitors today.

Carrizozo vs. El Paso Here--Aug. 22

Pioneer Lady Passes Away

Last Friday night about the hour of midnight, Mrs. Petra Gonzales, aged 78, answered the last summons after a lingering illness of several years, which she endured with patience and fortitude.

Mrs. Gonzales was born in Canada Alamosa in 1859. She was married to Geo. Van Syckle in 1876 and after the death of her first husband she married Manuel Gonzales in 1890, who preceded her in the inevitable about 10 years ago. Mrs. Gonzales lived the greater part of her life in Lincoln County, making her home in Lincoln, White Oaks and Carrizozo.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Bell at the Methodist Church Sunday afternoon, in which he paid a glowing tribute to the many becoming qualities of the deceased. During the services, a choir composed of Mesdames Don English, Bell, C. E. Smith and Carl, sang "Rock of Ages" and "When They Call The Roll Up Yonder."

Interment was made in the local cemetery, a large concourse of friends accompanying the remains to their last resting place. She leaves to mourn her, one daughter, Mrs. Saturnino Chavez, four grandsons, Manuel, Sat, Jr., Reuben and Esequiel Chavez, one granddaughter, Bertha Chavez, one sister, Mrs. Nabora Harrison of Los Angeles, other relatives and friends, to all of whom the sympathy of this community is tendered.

Attention, O. E. S.

There will be a Basket Picnic held at Keller's ranch home on the Nogal - Mesa on Saturday, Aug. 28, to commemorate the birthday of Robert Morris, founder of the Order of Eastern Star. Come and bring well-filled baskets.

Dance at White Oaks Friday, Aug. 27

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cleghorn wish to announce that on Friday evening, Aug. 27, they will give a big dance at their new hall in White Oaks. Music will be furnished by Sat Chavez and his "Gloom Chasers."

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Queen, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Queen and son D. M. Queen, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Whitwell, all of Wickenburg, Ariz., came in last Friday and will visit with the R. E. Lemon family for about two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Scharf returned home Wednesday from their pleasure trip to places of interest in the northern part of the state and in Colorado. They had planned to extend their trip farther to the northwest, but were detained at many points on account of rain. They arrived here during the rain, but claim no credit for being the cause of it.

Diamond Dust

By Joe Chavez

	Won	Lost
Carrizozo	11	8

Skousen's Road Builders from Lincoln came to Carrizozo last Sunday afternoon for a game of baseball with Manager Sanchez' Malpais Dinosaurs and they got it. We didn't get to see the catastrophe, but those who adored the bleachers on that day, report a good batting practise for the Dinosaurs and lots of footwork and worry for the Road Builders. Our boys, with the ol' hoss Red Huffmyer on the slab, limited the opposition to three measly runs, while they turned the diamond into a Kentucky race track and crossed the plate eighteen times, making the derby last until almost dark, that we thought that the mattress man from Roswell would clear a good profit if we'd wire him to head for these parts at once.

Frank Vega, who abandoned the big leagues years ago for the more lucrative position of rancher and cowpuncher, substituted for a Carrizozo player until he showed up, and Frank showed them that he still retains his batting eye by belting the first ball pitched to him for a home-run. Frank was all but exhausted when he crossed the platter, but he made it. He is now having a time to get on and off his horse and milking old Bossie.

Deputy Sheriff Hugh Bunch umpired the game and had better luck than his superior officer had years ago while acting as arbiter of a ball game. Sheriff Grelsen, at that time county clerk, was behind the catcher and a foul tip struck his pocket full of matches. You can imagine the rest, if you have ever had matches to set on fire in your pocket.

The Highway Auto Supply team of El Paso will be here Sunday. Come out and see two evenly-matched teams in action. The team is a little in the hole at present and the management and the boys will certainly appreciate a good turnout Sunday. You surely will get your money's worth. Carrizozo vs. EL PASO.

Notice of Sale of Property

To whom it may concern: Notice is hereby given that the cabin lately occupied by Mrs. W. F. Hanagan and situated about 200 yards northwest of the postoffice at Ruidoso, New Mexico, upon certain land belonging to the Cree estate, will be sold at public auction in accordance with law at the front door of the postoffice at Ruidoso, on the 11th day of September, 1937, at 10:30 a. m. to satisfy a claim of $150.00 due as back rental to which will be added costs of this sale. Signed: Charles M. Cree Gerald E. Cree

Local Mention

Mrs. Alma Evans arrived last Friday night from Tucumcari to visit with her mother, Mrs. Roberts, sister, Mrs. Louie Baco and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Stearns of Tucumcari arrived here last Friday night accompanied by Miss Betty Shafer, who had been their guest for two weeks.

Sister Mary George of the St. Rita School has been transferred to the St. Francis School at Grand Rapids, Michigan. Sister Mary Chrosostom of Toledo, O., will be the new teacher at St. Rita's.

Mr. and Mrs. Benigno Gallegos and Mr. and Mrs. Gregorio Pino were here from their respective ranches last Saturday.

Mrs. Glennath Stokes and little son are here this week from Roswell, visiting Mrs. Stokes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. English of the Carrizozo Hardware Co.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Garrison and daughter Christopher are here this week visiting with the Jesse Garrison and Paul Wilson families. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. are the parents of Jesse Garrison. They are leaving today for their home in Willman, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Degner were Roswell visitors Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Greer came up from their ranch in the San Andres mountains Monday night after receiving word of the illness of Mr. Greer's mother, who is greatly improved at the present time.

Estanislao Bello, wool-grower from the Ciaunch country, was a business visitor in Carrizozo yesterday. Mr. Bello was accompanied by Mr. Bello.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hickey, daughter Dorothea and son Dick-ey who were mentioned in our issue of Aug. 6, as touring the northwest, arrived here the latter part of last week and remained over with their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Hickey, leaving for their home in Chicago Wednesday.

Adolph Sultemeier and Jack Chancey of Corona were here yesterday attending the White Sands Grazing Association and seeing to other matters of business.

Sheriff and Mrs. S. E. Grelsen returned from Chicago last Friday, accompanied by Mrs. Pruet and the children. As to what disposition will be made of her case in connection with the license disclosure, will be determined later.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Fox, daughters Jean Marie and Billie Bob of Wapes, Iowa, came in Wednesday and after remaining over with Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Walker of the Lyric Theatre, they left this morning for California, where after visiting the different places of interest in the Golden State, they will return to their home in Iowa. Mrs. Fox is a niece to Mr. and Mrs. Walker.

Ben Holguin and Leandro Vega motored to El Paso Wednesday on a business mission.

Congress—And Its Responsibilities

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN

National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

Recent events at Washington indicate a renewed and encouraging recognition of our American demand for Government by the People.

For within the past few weeks many members of Congress have shown a fresh sense of responsibility to the great body of American citizens whom they were elected to represent.

Measures deeply affecting our form of government and our method of life have received careful consideration and serious discussion in Congressional halls—in marked contrast to earlier habits of rush and jam.

The voice of the public—as expressed in the press and in appeals to individual members—has been heeded to a degree too seldom attained during the past few years.

The wishes of constituents have, in a number of recent cases, made their influence felt over the insistent voice of expediency.

All this is cheering to American citizens who regard Congress as their voice in government. And, undoubtedly, the names of those members who showed their sense of responsibility to the men and women they represent will be remembered at the polling places.

Blind and unquestioning enactment of measures prepared and written by heads of appointed boards, bureaus, and commissions to perpetuate their own temporary power, constitutes, in fact, a surrender of the authority vested in the American citizen through the principle of representation.

Careful and considered legislation enacted by a Congress elected under the provisions of our fundamental law, constitutes the American method of Government by the People.

HOW OFTEN CAN YOU KISS AND MAKE UP?

NEW husbands can understand why a wife should turn from a pleasant companion into a shrew for one whole week in every month. You can say "I'm sorry" and kiss and make up easier before marriage than after. Be wise if you want to hold your husband, you won't be a three-quarter wife. For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus relieving the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three eras of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age." Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and go "Smiling Through."

Expert Photograph Work

To those who have been sending away to other places for photo finishing, will be glad to know that we now have an expert photographer at Fort Stanton who will do the work as good—and much cheaper than can be done by sending away. Rixie B. House has an ad on page 5 of this paper which carries out all details. Give Mr. House a trial and be convinced.

SHE LOST 20 POUNDS OF FAT

Feel full of pep and possess the slender form you crave—you can't if you listen to gossipers who tell you to take off excess fat so light on fatty meats, butter, cream and sugary sweets—eat more fruit and vegetables and take a half-teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning to eliminate excess waste. Mrs. Emma Verille of Havre de Grace, Md., writes: "I took off 20 lbs.—my clothes fit me like new." No drastic cathartics—no constipation—but blissful daily bowel action when you take your little daily dose of Kruschen.

"Sky Dog Team" of 2,000 Balloons Seeks Stratosphere

Jean Piccard Will Attempt Hop, Using New Method

Denver. — New stratosphere records will be sought in an entirely new kind of stratosphere balloon, Jean Piccard, twin brother of strato-pioneer August Piccard, announced to the meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science here.

Mr. Piccard will undertake the long ascension under the lift not of a single giant balloon as heretofore used, but with a "sky dog team" of 2,000 small rubber pilot balloons of the type now used by the U. S. weather bureau for unpowered flights with light recording instruments.

"Since a single sounding balloon is able to carry a half-pound instrument to an altitude of twenty miles it is obvious that 2,000 sounding balloons could lift an air-tight gondola weighing 1,000 pounds to the same lofty position," he said.

"It is my intention to construct such an assembly and to make scientific observations at the altitudes reached by sounding balloons.

"Before making such a flight I intend to test the possibilities of the composite balloon by making, in the near future, an experimental flight with eighty sounding balloons attached to an open gondola."

On this experimental flight, Mr. Piccard expects to be contented with the modest altitude of about two miles. He added:

"As a whole, our new lighter-than-air craft, if it works, will work like a very large dog team and the pilot will be the driver of 2,000 'sky dogs.'"

There is a widely accepted story of a multiple-balloon flight 150 years ago, with a craft said to have been invented by two prominent early members of the American Philosophical society in Philadelphia. Published in France not long after the first balloon flights there, it went into great and convincing detail—and was all a hoax. But the story has persisted, and is solemnly repeated in every history of aeronautics and in all the encyclopedias.

However, multiple balloon flights really were made in both this country and Europe during the 1820's, so the Piccard proposal has precedents of quite respectable standing.

Fear of Dead Is Blamed in Indians' Babel of Languages

Washington.—Dead men tell no tales, but they helped create the babel of over 100 languages spoken by American Indians.

This theory is advanced by Dr. John P. Harrington, Smithsonian Institution ethnologist and authority on America's ancient tongues.

Widespread among Indian tribes, he explains, was terror of the dead so intense that even a dead person's name was not whispered aloud. Since Indians commonly bore personal names such as Blue Reindeer or Strong Bow, relatives and friends, after a death would find it advisable to invent new words or at least change slightly the words of the dead Indian's name.

This doubtless accounts in part, Dr. Harrington says, for there being over 100 Indian languages, many as different as English and Russian.

Laws Now Bar Child Marriage in 39 States

Washington. — The wave of sentiment aroused by publicity given to a number of child brides early this year has apparently resulted in general tightening of regulations to prevent such marriages of very young children.

A survey by the United States children's bureau shows that the legal minimum marriage age for children has now been raised above the common-law age in 39 states and the District of Columbia. In all but nine states the youngest age at which a girl can legally marry is between fourteen and sixteen years. For boys in these states the legal minimum marriage age varies from sixteen to eighteen years.

In Colorado, Florida, Idaho, Maryland, Mississippi, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Tennessee and Washington the common-law marriage age still applies and boys of fourteen and girls of twelve years are considered able to give valid consent to marriage.

Warns Young Men of Big Cities Not to Overtax Hearts

Beware Too Much Work, Food; Too Little Exercise

Atlantic City, N. J.—Warning to young professional and business men who live in large cities, work hard, exercise little, eat too much and smoke too much appeared in the report of Drs. R. Earle Glendy, Samuel A. Levine and Paul D. White of Boston at the meeting here of the American Medical association.

Heart disease before they are sixty years old is the likely fate of such young men.

More than one out of every hundred cases of heart disease—1.6 per cent—occurs in patients under forty years of age, these physicians found. Young men are much more frequent victims than young women in the ratio of 24 to 1.

Hoping to learn why so many young men are falling victims to what has generally been considered a disease of old age, the Boston physicians investigated the inheritance and living habits of a group of 100 young heart patients and compared these with similar information obtained from men and women of eighty, ninety and one-hundred years of age.

Jews More Susceptible. Relatively far more of the older people were of British race stock, although the method of selection of this group for study and the time of immigration may have influenced this factor. Jewish people are more susceptible to heart and blood vessel disease, the study showed. The old men and women had longer-lived ancestors than the young patients.

These factors are beyond the control of the individual, but living conditions and habits which he can control evidently also play an important part in causing development of heart diseases.

Country life, for instance, is not as hard on the heart as the stresses of city life. Nearly three-fourths of the men and women past eighty years old lived in the country or small towns, while nearly nine-tenths of the young heart patients lived in large cities.

The older persons all claimed to have been moderate eaters and while, as the doctors pointed out they may have forgotten the hearty appetites of their youth their body build was generally lean as compared to the heavy build of the young heart patients.

Smoking Plays Big Part. Over nine-tenths of the older people exercised considerably till well past middle age. The young heart patients had many of them been strenuously athletic in their youth but only a few continued to exercise regularly.

A striking difference between the two groups was found in their use of tobacco, and this together with other evidence of the effect of tobacco, the Boston physicians believe, suggests that smoking plays an important part. A little over half the old group were smokers but only a few were heavy smokers. Over nine-tenths of the young group were smokers, more than half of them heavy smokers.

The two groups were more alike in their use of alcohol. A surprising finding was that severe infectious disease, generally supposed to impose considerable strain on the heart, had occurred, with the exception of diphtheria and pneumonia, more frequently in the older group than the young group.

Irregular and few hours of sleep and nervous sensitiveness and nervous strain were other conditions found much more frequently in the young group.

Fainting Spells May Be Latest Strike Technique in France

Washington. — A fainting strike as an advance in technique over sit-down strikes may be the explanation of the reported mass faintings of girl workers in a Lille, France, sugar refinery where 400 workers fainted while at work one day and another 70 collapsed within a few hours after resuming work.

The faint strike explanation is the suggestion of a national authority on industrial hygiene. He refused to be quoted directly but pointed out that a combination of high temperature and high humidity, labor unrest and a little hysteria might lead to such mass collapses. Dissatisfaction with working conditions generally plus uncomfortable working conditions during hot weather might lead the girls to think all their troubles due to something in the plant and they would then faint on going to work.

A possible chemical explanation is that during the refining process there might be some fermentation which would increase the carbon dioxide content of the air and reduce its oxygen content. This could easily cause fainting.

By VIRGINIA VALE

WHEN word went around the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio the other day that Leatrice Joy Gilbert, thirteen-year-old daughter of Leatrice Joy and the late John Gilbert, was making a film test, there was more craning of necks and rushing toward the set than there is even for Garbo.

If good wishes could make good actresses little Miss Gilbert will be the greatest of all. Back in the wardrobe department many a tear was shed as seamstresses who had dressed her mother and her father sewed on her costume, and cameramen who had been devoted to her father begged for the chance to photograph her. For a long time the studio has owned film rights to "National Velvet," but couldn't find a girl who was both young and appealing enough to play the heroine. Everyone hopes that little Leatrice will be chosen.

Hot weather in Hollywood so intense that the closed-in sets of sound studios are like furnaces seems to have a calming effect on temperament and nerves. Ginger Rogers and Katherine Hepburn sit together at the edge of the "Stage-Door" set at RKO studio, calmly sipping tea and discussing the day's news. At Twentieth Century-Fox, Virginia Bruce and Loretta Young swap theories on child-raising. At Columbia, the staff is daily more amazed to find Grace Moore agreeing wholeheartedly with every suggestion the director makes. Incidentally, John Ford has an effective way of squelching actors who want to play scenes their way instead of taking his direction. If an actor grows argumentative, he lets him go ahead and play the scene his way. Then he rips the film out of the camera, hands it to the stubborn thespian and says, "You can have it. No one else would want to see it."

Ginger Rogers

The damkest picture of the week is RKO's "Super Sleuth." You couldn't find better hot-weather entertainment anywhere. Jack Oakie provides the laughs, expertly aided by Ann Sothern, but it is the story that really deserves loud cheers. I don't want to spoil it for you by telling too much, but you won't mind knowing that it is the story of a movie star who specializes in detective roles.

Ann Sothern's career, in the dol-drum lately because of second-rate pictures, has suddenly picked up and no one is happier than her close friend, Joan Bennett. If you heard Ann spouting Shakespeare on that best of all summer programs, Charlie McCarthy aided and abetted by Edgar Bergen, you know that she has a sense of comedy that should put her up in the front ranks of high comedy with Claudette Colbert and Carole Lombard.

When Sonja Henie decided to go to Norway for a vacation a big farewell luncheon was planned for her by Tyrone Power. That seemed like a charming idea when it was planned and the invitations sent out, but in the meantime Sonja and Tyrone had a squabble and weren't speaking. They carefully selected tables, at opposite ends of the studio luncheon and avoided speaking to each other. Hollywood has often giggled over parties where none of the guests were interested in meeting the guest of honor, but this was the first time on record when the host and the guest of honor weren't speaking. His attentions to Janet Gaynor and Loretta Young are supposed to have caused it.

ODDS AND ENDS—Officials at NBC who discovered Doris Weston and called Warner Brothers' attention to her are delighted with her performance in "The Singing Marine," say she is the only girl who looks intelligent while listening to other players sing. . . . Ben Bernie is attending dramatic school in hopes of outsmarting Walter Winchell in their next film. . . . Joan Crawford will star in the re-make of that grandest of all film stories, "Shipwreck Angel," which Nancy Carroll once made. . . . Ray Milland has been given Claudette Colbert's former dressing room and his friends are kidding him unmercifully about his fussy surroundings, walls of blue mirror glass, white dressing table, and thick, thick rug. . . . "Whenever actors insist that they just can't do justice to more than two pictures a year, producers remind them that Gene Autry is the biggest attraction in pictures nowadays, partly because he is so good, partly because he makes so many pictures that audiences have no chance to forget him."

Chocolate Wonder Frosting
3 ounces (1 pkg.) cream cheese
2 to 3 tablespoons milk
2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
Dash of salt
Soften cream cheese with milk. Add sugar, 1 cup at a time, blending after each addition. Add chocolate and salt and beat until smooth. Makes enough frosting to cover 8 by 8 by 2-inch cake.
Note: This frosting, when tightly covered, may be kept in refrigerator several days before using.

BECAUSE in Firestone Standard Tires —

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS—eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process. By this process every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber. This counteracts internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES—because under the tread are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING—because the tread is scientifically designed.

YOU GET LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE because of the extra tough, long-wearing tread.

WE NEED A BAND!

"It seems to me that this town needs music. The City Park is a logical place; fancy the crowds that will naturally gather there on band concert night will be large — people from all over the County should attend," suggests a subscriber.

"The band that we had during the County Fair last year was an excellent example of what could be done with our limited talent. Other towns have bands — and without such an organization a town is dead. The band could start with but a few members—a cornet, mellophone, trombone, clarinet or saxophone, tuba, and two drums—and presto chango, we have the start of a band" ventures this same subscriber.

Narrow Escape

Late last Friday afternoon, Manuel Marquez started for Alamo in Marshall St. John's car and about five miles out of town, a tire blew out, with the result that it turned over three or four times. The first person to arrive on the scene was Claud Brannum, who found Marquez unconscious in the back seat. He was hurried to town where after being revived, it was found that his injuries didn't exceed beyond a few bruises and shock. Fortunately for Marquez, not one particle of glass was broken in the car, which otherwise was demolished pretty badly.
