CAPITAN WOMAN'S CLUB

Held their regular monthly meeting April 12 in the Library of the High School building. The new officers took office and are as follows: Mesdames Philip Reynolds, Pres.; Leroy Merchant, Vice-Pres.; Charles Ferris, Sec.; Warren Rockwell, Treas.; Gussie Titaworth, Parliamentarian; B. Williams, Historian.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Hobbs, May 10. Co-hostesses will be Mesdames Ruckwell, Buck and T. Werner. Program leader will be Mrs. Ferris. Topic for program will be Report of delegates of state meeting at Las Vegas.

NOTICE

Effective April 15th The New Mexico Transportation Company resumed Bus Service between Vaughn, Alamogordo and Las Cruces. Direct connections at Alamogordo for El Paso and returning from El Paso.

Lincoln County C. of C.

The Annual meeting was held in Carrizozo, Tuesday, April 16, at 6 P. M. Governor and Mrs. John E. Miles were guests of honor. They sat at table with members of the organization, their wives and a few invited friends of the Governor.

The Chairman introduced Gov. Miles, who in a short speech said: "Any community that depends upon two or three persons to do all the promotional work will not accomplish very much; there must be co-operation among all peoples."

Mr. Bloodworth, who spoke briefly on the benefits that can be derived by a Chamber of Commerce, said that the tourist business was the greatest industry in the nation and by proper advertising through the C. of C., any community can get its share.

The meeting adjourned at 7:45 and all proceeded to the High School Auditorium, to which place the public had been invited. Mayor-elect M. U. Finley introduced Gov. Miles, who with Mr. Bloodworth, entertained the large audience for one hour—each making, what was considered the most inspirational and promotional speech that has been heard in Carrizozo for many years.

Extension Clothing School

Mrs. Helen D. Grandall, State Extension Home Agent, State College, conducted a clothing school last Saturday for 4-H Clothing Leaders in Lincoln Co. The meeting was held for the purpose of giving 4-H Leaders instructions in clothing club requirements and an opportunity to learn any construction process with which they were not familiar.

Wayne Van Schoyck Jr., of Tucumcari is a member of the Utes baseball team of that city. Wayne was the catcher for our team for several years.

Mrs. Nellie Reilly visited Mr. and Mrs. Albert Scharf a few days the first of the week. Miss Scharf and Mrs. Reilly are sisters.

Miss Mildred Clayton of Alamogordo, niece of D. L. Jackson of White Oaks, visited her aunt and uncle for the week-end. Miss Clayton is a teacher in the Alamogordo schools.

Messrs. Milton Barnett, Vice President of the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company, A. R. Grosheider, Secretary-Treasurer, Stuart Shaw, Editor of the Monitor, the official magazine of the company, were here Monday on a tour of good will and inspection for that business's organization.

Mrs. Winzell Rickerson and Miss Vernon Ruth Peckham left last Saturday for Dallas, where Mrs. Rickerson, the former Miss Pinkie Ruth Skinner, will make her future home.

Manuel and Zeke Chavez are working for Gunther Kroggel at Corona, in the installation of the new addition to the light plant at that place.

Mrs. C. C. Bell of Santa Rosa, sister to Mrs. M. T. Pruett, was a guest at the home of her sister over the past week-end.

Mrs. L. A. Boone, proprietor of the Buena Vista Hotel and Beulah Hartley, manager of the telephone system at Capitán, were Carrizozo visitors Wednesday.

Dewey Not Popular with Racketeering Politicians

THE success of Thomas E. Dewey in the different states where he has made his campaign thus far, is sufficient to show that he has popularity with the rank and file of the people which is extraordinary, but at the same time, is puzzling to the politicians who would be pleased to have a candidate they could wrap around their thumbs and lead by the nose in certain nefarious schemes, with which, we are already too well acquainted.

He has often been ridiculed and belittled by them—therefore the public estimate on Mr. Dewey's qualifications and capabilities for Presidential timber differs very much from the opinions of the racketeer politicians and hucksters who seek to lead an executive, rather than assist.

Dewey, if nominated and elected, would surround himself with men of wisdom and ability; men who dare to place patriotism and true American character far ahead of personal gain. The politicians know that they could not lead and dictate his policy.

The un-American organizations would have no sympathy with Dewey, for he is a true-blue, patriotic American. They fear him pretty much as do the racketeers and under-worlders of every stamp.

Such a man is Thomas E. Dewey, our preference for this nomination.

Family Reunion

Last week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Nickels a family reunion was held, the parties participating being Mr. and Mrs. Talley B. Cook, sons Porter and Bill of Monticello; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cook and daughter Sue Ann of San Jon, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Willis and daughter Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Nickels. Of the above named ladies, Mesdames G. C. Willis and Robert Cook are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Nickels, Mr. and Mrs. Talley B. Cook are Robert's parents.

Those who attended the 54 Highway meeting Tuesday at Tucumcari were: Sheriff S. E. Grelson, Dr. R. E. Blaney, Wm. Gallacher, A. H. Harvey, Earl J. Truax, Shirley Phipps, Wm. Peterson, R. A. Walker, Roy Shaffer and M. G. Peckham.

In Monday morning's mail, we received a nice letter from our old friend, John Miller, who now resides at Muskogee, Okla. John is a great baseball fan and is always anxious to know how the game is going here in Carrizozo. He wants us to take care of his part of the boosting and sends his kindest regards to his old friend here.

Birthday Party for Mrs. Anna Brown

Last Friday, April 12, at White Oaks, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Jackson were host and hostess at a birthday party in honor of Mrs. Anna Brown at the Jackson home.

Mrs. Jackson was assisted by Mesdames Ellen Whitwell, A. N. Price, J. H. Fulmer and Don Queen. Ed Queen was Toastmaster.

A pleasant afternoon was spent which ended with delicious refreshments being served by the host and hostess and her assistants.

Mrs. Brown is one of the pioneers of Lincoln county; she came to White Oaks in the days when White Oaks was on the boom. Mrs. Brown operated a store until several years ago, when she decided to give up business, since which time she has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Jackson.

On the above date, her birthday, Mrs. Jackson and other of the town took pleasure in honoring her with the above party in order to show their appreciation of her friendship and to honor her in that befitting manner.

Mrs. Brown received many gifts from the guests on that happy occasion.

At the highway meeting in Tucumcari Tuesday, Gov. Miles prefaced his remarks with the statement that when he was running for Governor, he was very cautious about making promises, but after the election, he found that he had been credited with making ten times as many as any Governor could possibly fulfill.

His statement brought out the fact that Highway 54 from Santa Rosa to Alamogordo was a part of the Secondary road system, but there is only a limited amount of money to be spent on such projects each year—but an effort is being made to place 54 on the primary system.

If that can be accomplished, 54 could be completed within the next two years.

Piano Recital

Last Saturday evening, Mrs. T. E. Kelley presented her pupils in a piano recital at her home.

Pupils who participated in the recital were: Veda and C. A. Branum, Adeline Stokes, Ann Baker, Geraldine Dixon, John Allen, Janie Riggs, Miriam Hewitt and Marion Joyce.

by GRANTLAND RICE

HAVING drifted around from the starting spring camps of California to the closing spring camps of Florida, some potroon has asked me to work out the surer spots and the big guesses of baseball's two big league shows.

My guess would be there are three clubs in each league which can be removed from the guessing division.

They are the Yankees, Red Sox and Browns in the American league—the Reds, Cardinals and Phillies in the National league.

The Yankees and Red Sox should carry the pace alone in the American. The Reds or Cardinals—the Cardinals or Reds—should have the main jump in the National. I'll let you guess where the Browns and Phillies will probably wind up in the long parade.

This leaves us twelve clubs under both big tents for the main guessing act. They are the Dodgers, Pirates, Cubs, Giants and Bees in the National—the Indians, Tigers, White Sox, Athletics and Senators in the American. I don't believe any of these clubs can run 1-2 and I don't believe any one of them will finish last.

The First Division Clubs

Starting with the American league, as the Yankees are still on top after four years, we have the Yankees and the Red Sox almost certain to run 1-2, granting the fact there is nothing certain in sport.

Cleveland with Bob Feller is undoubtedly the best bet for the next first division berth. After Mr. Vitt's Indians we have the battle for fourth place left among the Tigers, White Sox and Athletics, unless Bucky Harris can pull off a miracle.

The scramble, tangle, or general upheaval is much more pronounced in the National league.

After the Reds and Cardinals we have the MacPhail-Durocher Dodgers, Cubs, Pirates and Giants battling for the two open spots. This is where the guessing begins to steam and emit smoke.

With two places open, I like Dodgers, Cubs and Pirates as the best bets for these upper berth locations. Both the Cubs and Dodgers might just as well keep an eye on the team Frank Frinch is bringing to Pittsburgh from the coast. It will be the hardest-hustling Pittsburgh team the Pirates have known in a decade.

The Biggest Guess

The Giants are a still bigger guess. An usual large part of it all depends on how the pitching works out, how many veterans come in, how many rookies blow. Bill Terry says his Giants can bag around 90 victories this season. Bill also announced in ringing tones last April that his Giants would finish 1-2-3. Bill remains an optimist. He will need all the luck that Dame Fortune, that cock-eyed wench, can dish out to finish as good as fifth.

In my hazy winter book the battle for fifth place will be between the Pirates and Giants, with the Pirates having the better chance to displace the Cubs in the upper set.

You'll usually find the manager with the better team trying to pick someone else.

For example, Head-man Bladen of the Cardinals asked me rather sharply why so many were picking his Cardinals to beat out the Reds.

"The Reds beat us last year," he says. "The Reds have improved. We haven't. The Reds are all set. We are not."

Here is one answer—the Cardinals, being a young team in many ways last season, should improve. There is still no substitute for experience.

In a season loaded with fate, luck, chance and the rest of it, my guess at this spot would be New York, Boston, Cleveland and Detroit for the top division in the A. L.

There are many more kinks when it comes to acting as a National league soothsayer. You can name St. Louis, Cincinnati and Brooklyn. Then you pause abruptly as you stumble over Chicago, Pittsburgh and New York for the next notch below. From this uncharted medley I'll take a chance on Gaby Hartnett's Cubs. Frank Frisch is building for the future. Frisch is looking more to 1941 than he is to 1940, although Frisch, like any other scrappy manager, wants to win every game in sight. The Pirates will win their share.

Cue Shovers Still Bow to 'Mr. Billiards'

By ROBERT McSHANE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

IN 1906 Willie Hoppe defeated Maurice Vignaux in Paris, France, for the world's 18.1 balk line billiards championship.

That was long before Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis was born. It was the year that Chicago won both the National and American league pennants. James J. Jeffries had just relinquished his world's heavyweight title. Joe Gans was lightweight champ, and Philadelphia Jack O'Brien was king of the light heavies.

It was the year that 500 lives were lost in the San Francisco fire and earthquake. Teddy Roosevelt was President of the United States, and Admiral Robert E. Peary was exploring the Arctic. It was the natal year of stage and screen stars Madeleine Carroll and Francis Lederer.

And now—34 years later—Willie Hoppe—otherwise known as Mr. Billiards—has annexed the world's three cushion billiards championship. This isn't the first time that Willie has topped the angle players. After Welker Cochran won the three cushion championship in Chicago in 1936 he met Hoppe's challenge and was relieved of his crown. In 1937 Cochran again ascended the throne.

Long-Time Champion

Hoppe won his latest tournament in Chicago. He displayed all his old cue wizardry to win 16 consecutive games and clinch the championship—an unheard of feat in tournament games. Ten consecutive victories by Johnny Layton was the previous high in tournament play.

Hoppe admitted that he played the best billiards of his life in the national meet. He was "on" from the first—and continued to outclass his competitors.

Measured by sport's stop-watch, it's almost impossible to realize how long Hoppe has been master of the cue pushers. Fifty-two years old now, Willie was only 18 when he conquered the great Vignaux. He was the Boy Wonder—the marvel of the mahogany tables. Ty Cobb then was a rookie in Detroit and DeWolf Hopper was setting the Broadway stage aldre.

WILLIE HOPPE AT WORK

But Hoppe goes back further than that. Playing with Jake Schaefer Sr., Willie toured the country in 1904, consistently outclassing "The Wizard." He played his first exhibition with his father, who taught him the game, when he was eight.

The experts have laid Hoppe away with the old masters many a time—claiming that he was all through. As far back as 1922 a newspaper piece said: "At 34, Hoppe is the patriarch of the billiard world, the survivor of the old school."

Temporary Retirement

That piece appeared after he was successful in the first of his misnamed comebacks. He had lost the 18.2 balk line title in 1921, a title he had held since 1912. Young Jake Schaefer beat him. Then, because of an irritation in his shooting arm, he retired for six months. He came back in 1923 to recapture the title.

Willie had things his own way from the time he first came back from France and beat the 18.1 claimant on this side of the ocean. He licked George Slosson, The Student, for a $5,000 purse and a $500 side bet. Two years later, in 1908, he beat George B. Sutton for the 18.2 title. Then he gave up both titles because he didn't like conditions governing play. When the rules were changed he won back both championships in 1910. From there on—the story of Hoppe—is the story of billiards until 1921, when Young Jake caught up with his ailing arm. Then, in 1923, Willie won again, and has continued to reign as the Old Master of Billiards.

'All Through' Again

In the winter of 1936 he was "all through" again. His shooting arm was badly lacerated in a fall. Young Jake made it "certain" once more when he took the 18.1 title from Willie—the title he had won from Ora Morringstar in 1912.

Ten years later, in 1939, Willie had the 18.1 title again, plus the cushion carom and three cushion titles. Both Schaefer and Cochran were in the tournament, and they also occupied the mourner's bench in the recent Chicago tourney.

HOME, SWEET HOME

"There's the doorbell."
"What! Again?"
"You'd better answer it."
"Why?"
"It might be somebody who ISN'T looking for any information."
"Optimist! You answer the bell. I answered it last time."
"No, you didn't."
"Yes, I did. I remember distinctly. It was one of those Gallup poll fellows."
"Well, I answered the Gallup poll before that one. It was the one where he wanted to know whether I favored public officers with or without whiskers."

"He's still ringing. Are you going to sit there and let him ring forever?"
"I'm standing on my rights."
"What rights?"
"Fifteen minutes between rings."
"After all, why so obstinate?"
"I'm sick of answering questions. A man's house is his castle, not a quiz program."
"Suppose it's the letter man?"
"Let him leave the mail and go away. I'm taking no chances on him asking me any questions, either. I answered a knock on the door from the milkman yesterday. And what do you think he wanted?"
"What?"
"He wanted to know the height of Mount McKinley and the name of the inventor of the buttonhook. It seems he was going on a radio program."

"There's the bell again. Please answer. It might be somebody WITH NO QUESTIONS TO ASK."
"WANNA BET?"

VOICE IN THE DARKNESS
I am a lost cause
I am a forgotten virtue
I am an abandoned tradition
And a forsaken leader.
I once ruled all civilized nations
I held the respect of savages
And was not completely ignored
By the lowest of the barbarians.
Men held to me in moments of mad impulses.
I ruled warfare
Even on the battlefield
Among friend and foe; and in
The fearful heat of carnage
I was not forgotten.

Sorely pressed soldiers,
Grim and bleeding fighters,
Swayed by their patriotisms
And prejudices, paid me tribute
Generals planning campaigns
Admitted me to their council tables
"This far we shall go," they said,
"And no farther!"
At their side when swords were drawn
I took their word
I knew it would never be broken.
Rulers respected me
War lords took my hand and
Gave me their firm pledges
Before the first cry of "Forward!"
Before the first killing,
And until the last black death.
I saved the innocent millions
I spared the toiling womenfolk
I protected the little children
I saved the unoffending home
From the raider and the torch
From the unspeakable horror of High explosive bomb.
I saved the infant from poison gas
I kept the family from
The pitiful refugee camps
I made the bombing of orphan asylums,
Hospital, kindergarten and cottage
Impossible and unthinkable
In the heart and mind of Man.
Now I am betrayed and forsaken
I am excluded from the councils,
The battle plans and
The fields of warfare.
At the side of the warriors
Stand Barbarism, Paganism, Bestiality, Hatred.
I am in the outer darkness
But I shall one day rule, emerge
I shall one day rule again
For it is not in the heart of
The world to exclude me forever
I am

SEWING CIRCLE

AN EXTREMELY smart and simple frock, this has triangular pockets, which make it new. Buttoned down the front like a coat, it's so easy to slip into, and has attractive belt detailing. The skirt seams extend into the bodice, so that you get fullness over the bust, where you want it. The waist is finished with a narrow roll collar, and three darts at the tops of the sleeves broaden the shoulders becomingly. A style equally becoming to both misses and women, this design (8654) makes up smartly in wool crepe, flat crepe or silk print, and will be nice for street cottons later on. It is easy to make, and includes a step-by-step sew chart, with complete directions.
Pattern No. 8654 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 42 and 44. Size 18 requires, with short sleeves, 4 1/2 yards of 39-inch material; with long sleeves, 4 3/4 yards without nap; 1/2 yard contrasting material for collar, if desired. Send order to:

STAGE SCREEN RADIO
By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

"REBECCA" was released at last, a few weeks ago, and people are still arguing about it; the chances are that the arguments will continue for a long, long time. For it's one of those cases of "If you liked the book you probably won't like the picture."

That's unfortunate, because the picture is superb. Hitchcock, the top-notch English director, handled it unusually well. Technically, it could hardly be better. The eerie, supernatural feeling that pervaded the book has been admirably brought to the screen.

Joan Fontaine, under Hitchcock's direction, gave such a performance that she has proved her right to be known as an excellent actress in her own right; the time may come when Olivia de Havilland will be known as "Joan Fontaine's sister," instead of its being the other way round. The entire cast is exceptionally good; it's one of the best pictures that have come out of Hollywood in a long, long time. So, even though you were quite mad about the book, don't miss seeing it.

For the first time in recent years the Legion of Decency cracked down on a picture made by a major studio when it stepped on "Strange Cargo," the Joan Crawford-Clark Gable film. One of the objections was that there were "lustful implications in dialogue and situation." This picture, incidentally, had already been passed by the Production Code administration.

Joan Crawford

Barbara Stanwyck is very proud of the gift with which Robert Taylor celebrated their first seven months of wedded bliss—a diamond-studded pin in the shape of a covered wagon.

Eight-year-old Johnny Sheffield is a hero, partly as a result of his role as Tarzan's son in a picture made not so long ago. The other day he and Ann Todd, who's a year younger, were working in a scene for RKO's "Little Orvie," when a water main burst, flooding the set knee-deep. Before any of the grown-ups could reach them, Johnny swung Ann onto his back and marched her to safety.

John Farrow, Maureen O'Sullivan's director husband, felt so strongly about getting into the war that he gave up his job and was sworn into the Royal Canadian navy; he's a lieutenant, and off to the wars.

If Edward G. Robinson, of the movies and radio's "Big Town" can arrange his schedules he and Mrs. Robinson will accompany Symphony Maestro Leopold Stokowski on that musical jaunt to South America with a troupe of young American musicians. Stokowski is taking a complete symphony orchestra with him, composed of talented young American musicians.

Edward G. Robinson

Few people knew how much the Hollywood preview of "Primrose Path" meant to Joan Carroll. In it she plays Ginger Rogers' brat sister, and the option on her services was written to run not longer than three days after the picture's official preview. The contract provided that she would be signed to a five-year studio contract if the audience reaction was favorable for her.

Probably no showing of a picture ever meant more to a girl. She's done her best, and all she could do was sit and wait—to see if a lot of strangers liked her. When you see it—and it's swell, don't miss it—you can imagine how she felt. When the showing was over, and she learned that she'd won that coveted contract, she wanted to embrace everybody in that audience.

Ken Murray, master of ceremonies of CBS's "Star Theater," says he turned comedian when he was fired from his first stage job, which was not so very long ago. He tried to crash vaudeville, and a comedian who felt sorry for him told him that his jokes were terrible, and offered to take him along as a "straight" man. On his first two appearances in that capacity Ken got practically all the laughs—and lost his job. Whereupon he became a successful comedian in his own right.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MICAH'S VISION OF PEACE

LESSON TEXT—Micah 4:1-3; 5:2-5a. GOLDEN TEXT—And they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks; nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.—Micah 4:3.

Peace on earth! Why, that is hardly more than a phrase which we recall at Christmastime as we think of the song of the angels. Yet now is the time to assure people that there will be peace on earth. Peacemakers who are now silent were striving to bring in a man-made peace, following a will-o'-the-wisp. Let us tell men about the real peace which will come when the Prince of Peace sets up His kingdom. Let us urge upon them the glad acceptance of His personal kingship in their hearts that they may even now know peace within.

Micah warned Judah that their rejection of God and His love would bring them sorrow and judgment. In the midst of his message, however, he breaks forth into a glowing prophecy of the glory that is to come during the reign of the Messiah, the Prince of Peace.

I. The Foundation of Peace—God's Word (4:1, 2).

Vainly do men labor to bring about a lasting peace built upon the words of men, for the moment there seems to be gain in repudiating promises given in the greatest of solemnity, they become mere scraps of paper. There is no security in such words, nor in the guns and battleships used to support or to break them.

God's Word, the teaching of His law, walking in His paths—here is the foundation for real peace. Micah speaks of the time "in the last days" when the people of the earth shall go up to God's house to hear His Word and to learn to walk in His ways. To that blessed and holy day we look forward with anticipation and joy even as we now bring men the message of Christ's redemption and His peace.

II. The Prince of Peace—Jesus Christ (4:3-5).

This beautiful portion of God's Word (and such parallel passages as Isa. 2:1-5; 11:1-12) gathers together the longing and hopes of peace-loving men of every age. Perfect justice, the end of all wars, prosperity for peaceful pursuits, boys no longer learning warfare, complete social security, universal worship of God—what a thrilling promise!

Will it ever come true? Yes. When? In the "latter days" (v. 1, R. V.). Who has made such a promise? God Himself, Who will bring it about? God's Son, the Prince of Peace, who will come to "judge between many people."

Why will men be so blind to the "sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place" (II Pet. 1:19)? Why will we reject Him who is "the day star" (II Pet. 1:19; Rev. 22:16) and who is even now ready to "arise in your hearts"?

III. His Coming—As Saviour (5: 2, 3).

This remarkable Messianic prophecy gave more than 700 years before the birth of Christ the exact place of His birth, so closely identified as to make both the prophecy and its fulfillment a testimony to the inspiration of the Bible. Note that this was the passage with which the priests and scribes answered the question of Herod (Matt. 2:1, 4-6) regarding the place where the Messiah was to be born.

Thus the coming ruler of Israel, the Judge of all peoples, the Prince of Peace, is none other than the Lord Jesus who was born into this world as the Babe of Bethlehem, "a Saviour . . . Christ the Lord" (Luke 2:11). Israel rejected Him and He had to "give them up" (v. 3), but the time will come when they shall see Him as their King.

IV. His Reign—As King (5:4, 5a).

"This man shall be our peace" (v. 5, R. V.). He it is who "shall be great unto the ends of the earth" (v. 4); and that can be said of no man in all history except of Him of whom we sing,
Jesus shall reign where'er the sun
Does his successive journeys run;
His kingdom stretch from shore to shore
Till moons shall wax and wane no more.
—Isaac Watts.

His shall not be the reign of a despot, for we read that "He shall feed his flock in the strength of Jehovah" (v. 4, R. V.). His enemies and the enemies of God the Father must be put down, but His people will find Him to be the tender "good shepherd" who "giveth his life for the sheep" (John 10:11). He is that now to every believer. Sinner, why not take Him now as your Saviour, your Good Shepherd, and join with His people in looking for His coming as King?

Opposition Helps

Efforts against the truth sometimes help its progress; the zeal and the guard only make it more clear that the Savior rose from the dead.

PREPARING FEED IMPORTANT JOB

Popular Methods Are Not Always Justified.

By DR. GEORGE TAYLOR

The digestibility and food value of the various concentrates and roughages used in rations for dairy cattle can be influenced by the way the feeds are prepared, experiments at the New Jersey college of agriculture indicate.

The practice of grinding, cutting, cooking and soaking feeds is often advocated. Some of these practices are warranted and some are not. There is no doubt but what they add to the cost of the feed.

The practice of grinding or crushing such cereal grains as barley, corn and oats is a good one, however. Older animals do not chew grain thoroughly when eating. When whole grains are fed, between 20 to 35 per cent of whole corn or oats will pass through the digestive tract undigested. Experiments have shown that crushing or grinding to a medium fineness gives better results than pulverizing or fine grinding. In such experiments, finely pulverized feed produced 5.4 per cent less milk than medium ground feeds, and in addition pulverizing costs more.

The grinding of roughage for dairy cattle has been advocated by some who claim increased digestibility, but many experiments have shown that grinding sometimes decreases digestibility. In the few cases where increased digestibility has been reported, the difference was so slight as to be insignificant. Ground roughage is less palatable than whole roughage and cannot be justified from a cost standpoint in the case of good quality hay.

Equipment for cooking feeds for dairy cattle have been offered on the market, claiming both more palatability and digestibility for the cooked feed. Numerous experiments have proved such claims to be false. In fact the protein in cooked feeds is rendered less digestible by heating. The labor and cost of cooking feeds are, therefore, wasted.

Hen's Eggs Are Used In Producing Vaccines

Hen's eggs are being used as experimental material and are supplanting larger animals in producing vaccines. Eggs are doing a better job than horses in producing a vaccine for treating a serious disease among horses.

Many diseases of horses, chickens, swine, dogs and cats are now being treated with egg vaccines produced by a method worked out at Vanderbilt university a few years ago. The method has been adopted by the federal bureau of animal industry, which reports that a more reliable and uniform product is obtained in this way.

Fertile eggs are inoculated when they are 9 to 11 days old. In 16 hours enough virus can be grown in one chick embryo to kill 5,000,000 guinea pigs.

The viruses are not used in their virulent form. They produce two effects in the living body. One is to produce their particular kind of disease and the other is to stimulate the body to produce the agencies that protect the body against this disease. They have to be put in a state in which the disease-producing property is eliminated and the immunizing property is retained.

This is accomplished by treating them with formalin, which has the property of producing rigidity in organic substances, a kind of living rigor mortis.

Farm Notes

Weed out defective, diseased or undesirable kinds of trees from your farm woodlot. Cut fuel or post needs, when possible, from crooked or poorly formed trees. Keep stumps low, so that sprouts will come out near the ground.

The United States department of agriculture has developed incubators equipped with a wavelike motor-driven mechanism that tilts the eggs every 15 minutes, just as Biddy used to.

Dairy experts say it pays a farmer to be on friendly terms with his cows, as they respond to kind and gentle treatment. High producing cows especially are of a nervous temperament.

An acre of good pasture used by spring pigs from weaning time until they are ready for market should save from 500 to 1,000 pounds of corn plus 500 pounds of tankage. An acre of legume pasture will carry 15 pigs.

Rural customers make greater use of electric power for household tasks than city residents. The average consumption in farm homes was 1,084 kilowatt hours, as compared with 779 kilowatt hours in city homes.

HOW to SEW

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

CUT PAPER 1/4" LONGER THAN 2/3 OF THE MEASUREMENT OF THE TOP OF THE SKIRT.

TACK SNAP FASTENER TAPE TO TABLE THEN SEW OTHER SIDE OF TAPE TO SKIRT TOP.

HOW to cut a flared dressing table skirt without fullness at the top, is something worth knowing. You may be making a smartly tailored affair of white pique with pink bindings and buttons, like the one shown here; or an under lining for a full skirt of transparent material.

The diagram shows how to make a pattern for half of the skirt. The center front may be placed on a fold of the goods in cutting if there is no front opening. Cut the paper by the dimensions in the diagram. Mark point A in 14-inches from the upper left corner. Measure up from the lower right corner a distance equaling the length of the skirt from A to the left edge of the paper and mark point C. Connect these points with lines drawn, as shown.

NOTE: The new 32-page edition, of Book 1—"Sewing for the Home Decorator," shows three other interesting styles of dressing tables, with detailed directions for making. Also slip covers, draw curtains, and numerous household articles. Write Mrs. Spears for a copy, enclosing 10 cents to cover cost. Address:

Decision Was Quite Just, Considering the Evidence

The magistrate was deaf, but certainly not deafar than the two men before him. The first man leaned forward earnestly.

"Sir," he exclaimed, "this man owes me a grocery bill amounting to no less than $20, and refuses to pay it!"

The second man sprang up. "That's a lie!" he cried, indignantly. "My dog didn't bite him."

There was a pause while the magistrate reviewed the situation, then he announced his decision.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I fully appreciate your feelings, but I can see no reason why you should not combine to support your mother."

Strange Facts

! Might in Mite Ream of Love 150-Mile Shadow !

Q The most powerful permanent magnet of its size in existence is a piece of sintered alnico, made recently in a General Electric laboratory. This bit of alloy, which is smaller than a thimble and weighs less than three-quarters of an ounce, can lift and hold 200 pounds, or 4,450 times its own weight.

Q The longest love-letter in the world is at the British museum. It was written by one of Queen Elizabeth's courtiers to his lady, and runs to 410,000 words, on over 400 sheets of paper.

Q For more than 250 years, Finland has required both men and women to be able to read and write before they are married.

Q El Piton peak on Tenerife, the largest of the Canary islands, rises abruptly 12,200 feet above the Atlantic ocean and, at sunrise and sunset, casts a shadow nearly 150 miles.—Collier's.

Teamwork in Serving You

THE MOST IMPORTANT THING about your telephone is the spirit of the men and women of The Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company, who provide your service.
The loyalty of these people to the ideals of their work is reflected in every phase of your telephone service. It shows in the speed with which your local and long distance calls are completed. It shows in the greater accuracy with which they are handled. It shows in the continuous effort to make the service more comprehensive.

Because of this spirit we hope that your needs for fast, complete and inexpensive telephone service are more fully met each year.

The greatest asset of this Company lies in the skill, energy and purpose of the men and women who carry on its work.

Behind us is the experience of the entire Bell System, dedicated to providing the best possible telephone service at the lowest cost consistent with financial safety.

WE LOOK FORWARD to 1940 as a year in which our goal is making your service more and more satisfactory and dependable.

THIS RIDDLE IS EASY FOR
RAILROADERS

If you're tired of crossword puzzles
 here's a railroad riddle from Benard
 S. Burns, local agent for the Southern Pacific Company.

How can Southern Pacific's westbound "Californian", popular economy train on the Chicago-Los Angeles run, arrive in Yuma, Arizona, today and leave yesterday?

Well, it's because Yuma is the beginning and end of a time zone, which makes it necessary for westbound travelers to set back their watches one hour at that point.

That being the case, it so happens that the Californian rolls into Yuma at 12:35 a. m. Mountain Time, on Sunday, say; stops 15 minutes, and departs at 11:50 p. m., Pacific Time, Saturday.

Employers were urged today by

Pointing out that the Law does not who participate in a strike, or who

"The Commission has given full consideration," the statement said,
 "to the avoidance of the use of the

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Nazi Invasion of Scandinavia Draws Berlin Closer to Reds; Europe Awaits Rome Reaction

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) Released by Western Newspaper Union.

INVASION:

Europe's long dormant warfare suddenly sprang into action. First sign was a North sea battle in which a German troop transport was lost. If the world wondered how troops happened to be moving in the North sea, the answer was not long in coming. Fatalistically, Danes watched their little nation occupied by Germans. A few hours later Nazi troops, planes and warships descended on Norway, which immediately declared war and asked for British-French aid. Neutral for the moment were Sweden and Finland, caught between the Russ-Nazi pincers. Immediate object of the German attack. To defeat Britain's North sea blockade and safeguard Swedish steel shipments bound for Germany. Immediately the European air was filled with question marks. Would the sudden turn of events draw Russia and Berlin closer together in a common drive against Scandinavia? Most important, what reaction would this abortive Nazi attack bring from Italy, sole major European power still at peace?

THAT TALKIE WAR:

Everybody was making speeches in England, France, Germany, Canada, and elsewhere. Mainly, they were fight talks, intended to convince neutrals, chemics, and home public that this was not a phoney war. Premier Reynaud of France was especially insistent that the war was gen-u-ine, and broadcast as much by radio to the United States. He assured Americans that the allies would win, and would inaugurate a "real" peace.

In Germany, Airmaster Goering, Fibmaster Goebbels, and Labor-boss Ley also talked their heads off. The usually well-balanced Goering said, in a speech to some of his student flyers, that Germany was going to strike a deadly blow in the western theater of war, whenever Herr Hitler decided to finish off the allies. It all sounded very impressive. Pudgy Dr. Ley, ever bellicose, got off some of his generally pungent observations, which tend to take an anti-capitalist angle. Prime Minister Chamberlain said he was "10 times" as confident as he was last September, and he and his generals gave the impression that, somehow, they had out-bluffed the Nazis on the western front. According to these gents, Hitler had lost his golden opportunity for an overwhelming Blitzkrieg attack, and that from now on the Fuehrer was going to get it, economically, in the neck. Intensification of the blockade, the English chieftains stressed. Chamberlain re-shuffled his cabinet, but seemed to satisfy nobody very much. Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, who now wears a yachting cap, was made director of all three unified armed services. Churchill and Chamberlain never have been friendly, and Churchill's elevation was received with mixed emotions.

Following young Minister Cromwell's "bones" in Canada, came another "unfortunate" speech by Gordon Conant, attorney general of Tory-minded Ontario. Conant spouted that the allies might lose if the United States did not enter the war, and that Canada had better exert every effort to snare Uncle Sam in the toils of Mars. Secretary Hull was annoyed, as were congressmen, Gordon D. Conant, attorney general of Ontario, who urged Canadians to help enlist active support of the U. S. in the allies' cause.

and also many Canadians, who believe ardently in handling the Santa Claus next door with consummate tact. Said one Canadian parliamentarian: "That's not the way!" Chamberlain's talk of increased economic warfare threatened Jugoslavia in the Adriatic, and Norway's coastal waters, bauxite and iron destined for Germany being the primary English objectives. Norway said she would defend, with arms if need be, the freedom of her shipping. Italy was infuriated by the Adriatic situation (Mussolini considers the Adriatic as his lake); and Japan, in the Far East, growled against John Bull. And speeches were made, too, in Norway, Jugoslavia, Italy, and Japan.

COUNTING SHEEP:

Roosevelt told census-takers that his income was more than $5,000, while Senator Tobey continued to attack the personal-financial-census data. He charged that some of the census "snoopers" were communists, others the creditors of their victims, and still more the enemies of the well-to-do. Secretary Hopkins, badgered on all fronts, had sent forth 120,000 of these so-called creatures, to "prey" on the estimated 135,000,000 Americans. Hopkins told his census-takers to act polite. How polite they would act with Senator Tobey, remained to be seen.

WEAPONS:

The U. S. battle fleet eased out of its San Diego Pacific base, for seven weeks of maneuver on Fleet Problem 21—activity designed to teach the boys in blue how to protect our West coast and Pacific outposts. A Japanese admiral protested, but nobody paid much attention to his ire. The navy, also, had under construction a flying boat bearing 84 tons and 9,000 horsepower, which will be good for a round-trip to Japan, where the hostile admiral's growl.

BATTLING TITANS:

Secretary Ickes accused Vice President Garner's campaign managers of "talking like Republicans, because the managers said that the Wisconsin Democratic primary result showed third-terming to be a poor bet. In the Wisconsin race, Garner made a stronger showing against Roosevelt than was expected, just as Dewey's striking victory, over Senator Vandenberg, surprised many. But old-line Democrats got back at the pugnacious Ickes by asking just when Honest Harold became a Democrat, anyway. This reminded Ickes that he used to be a progressive Republican.

Postmaster Farley took a trip to Texas, where he fraternized with Garner enthusiasts, and everybody seemed happy enough. Farley said Garner was one of the great all-time Americans, and Garner did not say very much in return. Farley indicated that he still wanted to be President, but there was talk of a combination Garner-Farley ticket of anti-New Dealish tendencies. Wendell Willkie, the Republican utilities magnate, sometimes mentioned as presidential timber, declared that he didn't have a look-in, but that he would take a nomination if it blew his way. Willkie also indicated that the present administration was out to "get" him, and kept a dossier about him into the bargain.

Down in West Virginia, John Lewis made the potent threat of a third party: that ever recurring phenomenon of quadrennial American history. Lewis sketched out a not-so-streamlined vehicle consisting of Negroes, "professional" youth, "professional" old age, farmers, and laborites, unless the Democratic party snaps to attention and produces an "acceptable" platform. Landon of Kansas said that it was a Republican year, and Senator Wheeler of Montana said he was willing to run for President, but not for vice president. Wheeler ran for vice president, on the LaFollette ticket, back in 1924.

As to Third Termism, the President's wife and mother made statements that told—little or nothing. Mrs. Roosevelt, senior, said she would like to have Franklin home again. Mrs. Roosevelt, junior, cheered for Tradition. Definitely, electoral-year chaos was on the increase.

SQUIBS OVERSEAS:

Holland is shipping valuable art objects and pictures to peaceful Portugal. Twenty paintings arrived, from a Dutch plutocrat in Amsterdam, to brighten up Lisbon.

George VI, King of England and Kaiser of India, announced that his old military uncle got the Canadian job. John Buchan, novelist, had died, and that left the Ottawa governor-generalship wide open. Uncle, a bald Buchmanite, took the vacancy by storm. He is well-liked, on the whole. His full name runs: Alexander Augustus Frederick William Alfred George Cambridge, first lord of Athlone.

Some 36 French parliamentary deputies, with communist views, got five-year jail terms, fines, loss of civil rights, and there was serious talk about the death penalty for red propaganda in Paris. Night-invasion of private houses, hitherto banned, now was permitted to the police. Fritz Thyssen, big German Rhenish industrialist, who financed Hitler to power, once underground Nazi No. 1, arrived in Paris from Switzerland, en route to Portugal and the United States. Communists always used to claim that Hitler was Thyssen's stooge, but Thyssen thinks different, as does Hitler. Thyssen opposed the war last fall: hence the break. Thyssen's vast properties, allegedly, were confiscated. In Paris, too, were Fritz Mandel, Austria's former No. 1 industrialist and ex-husband of Hedy Lamarr, and Prince Starhemberg, Austria's ex-No. 1 landlord. Starhemberg once had been a Nazi.

MISCELLANY:

Mayor LaGuardia of the Big Town persuaded John Lewis, C. I. O. big shot, to avert the threatened N. Y. C. subway strike, which would have tied up everything in the metropolitan belt. The Mayor assured Mr. Lewis that the city's transit unification plan would take over private-company bargaining contracts, subject only to judicial decision. Lewis came to town, and it was a close call, with police reserves mobilized, and the buck teeth of plain citizens on edge.

Lepke Buchalter, convicted by "D-A" Dewey in his New Yorker cleanup operations, got a life term in General Sessions. Judge Freschi did the good deed. Abraham-Kid Twist Reles cleared up 20 Brooklyn murders: one victim. It was disclosed, was buried alive in the dread Canarsie marshes. Reles was trying hard to save himself from "boiling"—that is, from the electric chair.

Seventeen rough young New Yorkers, of the anti-semitic Christian Front, under indictment for planning to overthrow the United States government and for alleged smuggling of weapons out of armories, were to be tried by jury under a middle-aged Hausfrau, officiating as fore-woman.

Glenn Guertin, age five, is learning to be a hobo. His first solo jaunt (in a snowstorm) was 12 miles. His second away-from-home was a 15-mile affair. But his third vagrancy was tops: 150 miles as stowaway on a bus.

Finns Evacuate Homeland to Escape Russian Rule

Their worldly goods loaded on a horse-drawn sleigh, members of this Finnish family flee from Russian rule. They are going into exile, evacuating their home, which is situated in the section of Finland ceded to Russia by terms of the peace treaty. The father rubs his child's nose to guard against frostbite. Right: A Finnish soldier helps this old lady and her daughter carry the last of their portable belongings from their home in Hango, which was included in the area taken over by Russia.

Harvard Inaugurates Housing Project for Benedicts

No longer need married students attending Harvard university at Cambridge, Mass., be separated from their families. The university has established living quarters for the benedicts. Homes in three communities serve 171 married students. Rentals range from $35 to $70 a month. Pictured here is Eric Rafter, law student at Harvard, reading Blackstone and looking after his daughter, Mary. Right: A view of the Shaler Lane homes for married students, sponsored by the university.

Practice Time for Anti-Tank Gunners

Because all is too quiet on the western front for real tank warfare, British and French anti-tank crews brush up on their marksmanship by using dummy tanks made of wood and cardboard. Here are British anti-tank gunners with their dummies loaded on trucks on the way to the gunnery range behind the lines on the front.

Drum Majorette

World's champion drum majorette is Miss Jeanne Ladd of Swampscott, Mass. She is pictured leading the annual festival of states parade in St. Petersburg, Fla. She won her title at the American Legion convention in 1939.

Action Scene 'Somewhere in France'

Approved by both the British and French censors, this picture was snapped at the moment a shell, smoldering hot, was ejected from the breach of a big gun just as its massive load had been sent on its way to enemy lines. Both the Margot and Siegfried lines are strongly fortified with heavy artillery.

Fond Farewell

Bidding farewell to his infant son is this British soldier who returns to the front after a leave of absence. The baby was born while his dad was at the front.

NAMES in the news

Mahatma Gandhi, in India, told some of his more troublesome followers that, if they started up a civil disobedience campaign before he gave the word, they could get along without him as leader. This was exactly what some of the younger, more radical Indian leaders—like Subhas Chandra Bose—wanted to do. Bose was very vocal, in favor of complete independence for India, and that right now! Wang Ching-wei, Japanese puppet chief in China, was burned in effigy in New York's Chinatown. Some 3,500 local Chinese participated. Wang Ching-wei and his rival, the patriot Chiang Kai-shek, were the two bright young men of the Chinese George Washington, Dr. Sun Yat-sen. Finland and Russia resumed diplomatic relations, and Ivan Zotov was named as new Russian minister to Helsinki. He was moved there from the same job in nearby Latvia. Zotov is considered hostile to the allies.

MAYOR OF MALPAIS
Sayres Crockett has been unanimously elected as Mayor of the Malpais (ancient lava flow) so we were informed by a phone call from Malpais Clerk Fay Herkey.

If Great Britain loses the war in Norway, she has lost the conflict of the new world war.

Italy and Russia are ready for battle (on the side of Germany.)

Beginning May 1, shows will start at the Lyric Theatre at 8 p. m.

GARNER SAD

We see that Garner is the most broken-hearted man in Washington. His presidential primary went all hay-wire. But cheer up, Amigo Jack; we'll take the matter with Pres. Roosevelt.

Quin Sabbe points out that if they see Germany is going to win the war, they'll immediately fight on the side of the Nazis.

In other words, "ride the winner."

A little story - In Burlington, Iowa, Alexander Wilson, a levee hum, was elected City Scavenger. One of the daily newspapers came out with this statement - "The first load of muck to be taken to the river should be HIM."

ANOTHER PROMISE?

Headline - Gov. Miles pledges highway 64 aid.
-You're not kidding us, Gov?

TODAY'S OPPORTUNITY
Classified Ad - Stenographer, attractive; willing to assist modeling history; beginner considered. -Box 1000. Apologies to Ted Cook in the Los Angeles Examiner.

The lot across from the El Cibola Hotel, near the City Park is going to have cement sidewalks and concrete curbing muy pronto. This is Mr. Roy Shafer's property, and is used as a used car sales lot.

NO-RUN-NO-HIT GAME

Bob Feller, young Cleveland pitching star, entered baseball's Hall of Fame Tuesday by hurling a no-hit game against the Chicago White Sox in an amazing opening of the season's ball series.

To John Miller, former S. P. Conductor - Your letter received. The writer will keep you posted on the baseball games, as if you were there in person. - Seguro Que Si (bet your life.)

FDR URGED TO SEEK THIRD TERM

-All he has to run against is Thomas E. Dewey. -Headline.

(Shows they are much scared of the Racket Buster.)

TODAY'S THOUGHT

They are wearing gas protectors in Europe, while we are donning baseball masks in this country.

-So, Hasta la Vista.
