

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

Ramblings and Ruminations:

A mounted policeman's horse on West Forty-fourth street standing with its hind legs crossed...

An Indian, all done up in feathered head dress and buckskin pants, wobbling up Broadway...

A big interstate bus with "World's Fair Route" in prominent letters on both sides...

Women workers going into the Fifth Avenue headquarters of the British War Relief Society...

An ambulance gliding through Forty-second street traffic with its siren moaning...

A small white-haired woman jumps up in great consternation at the headquarters of the American First Committee...

Mountain Lion Hunter Bags More Than 500

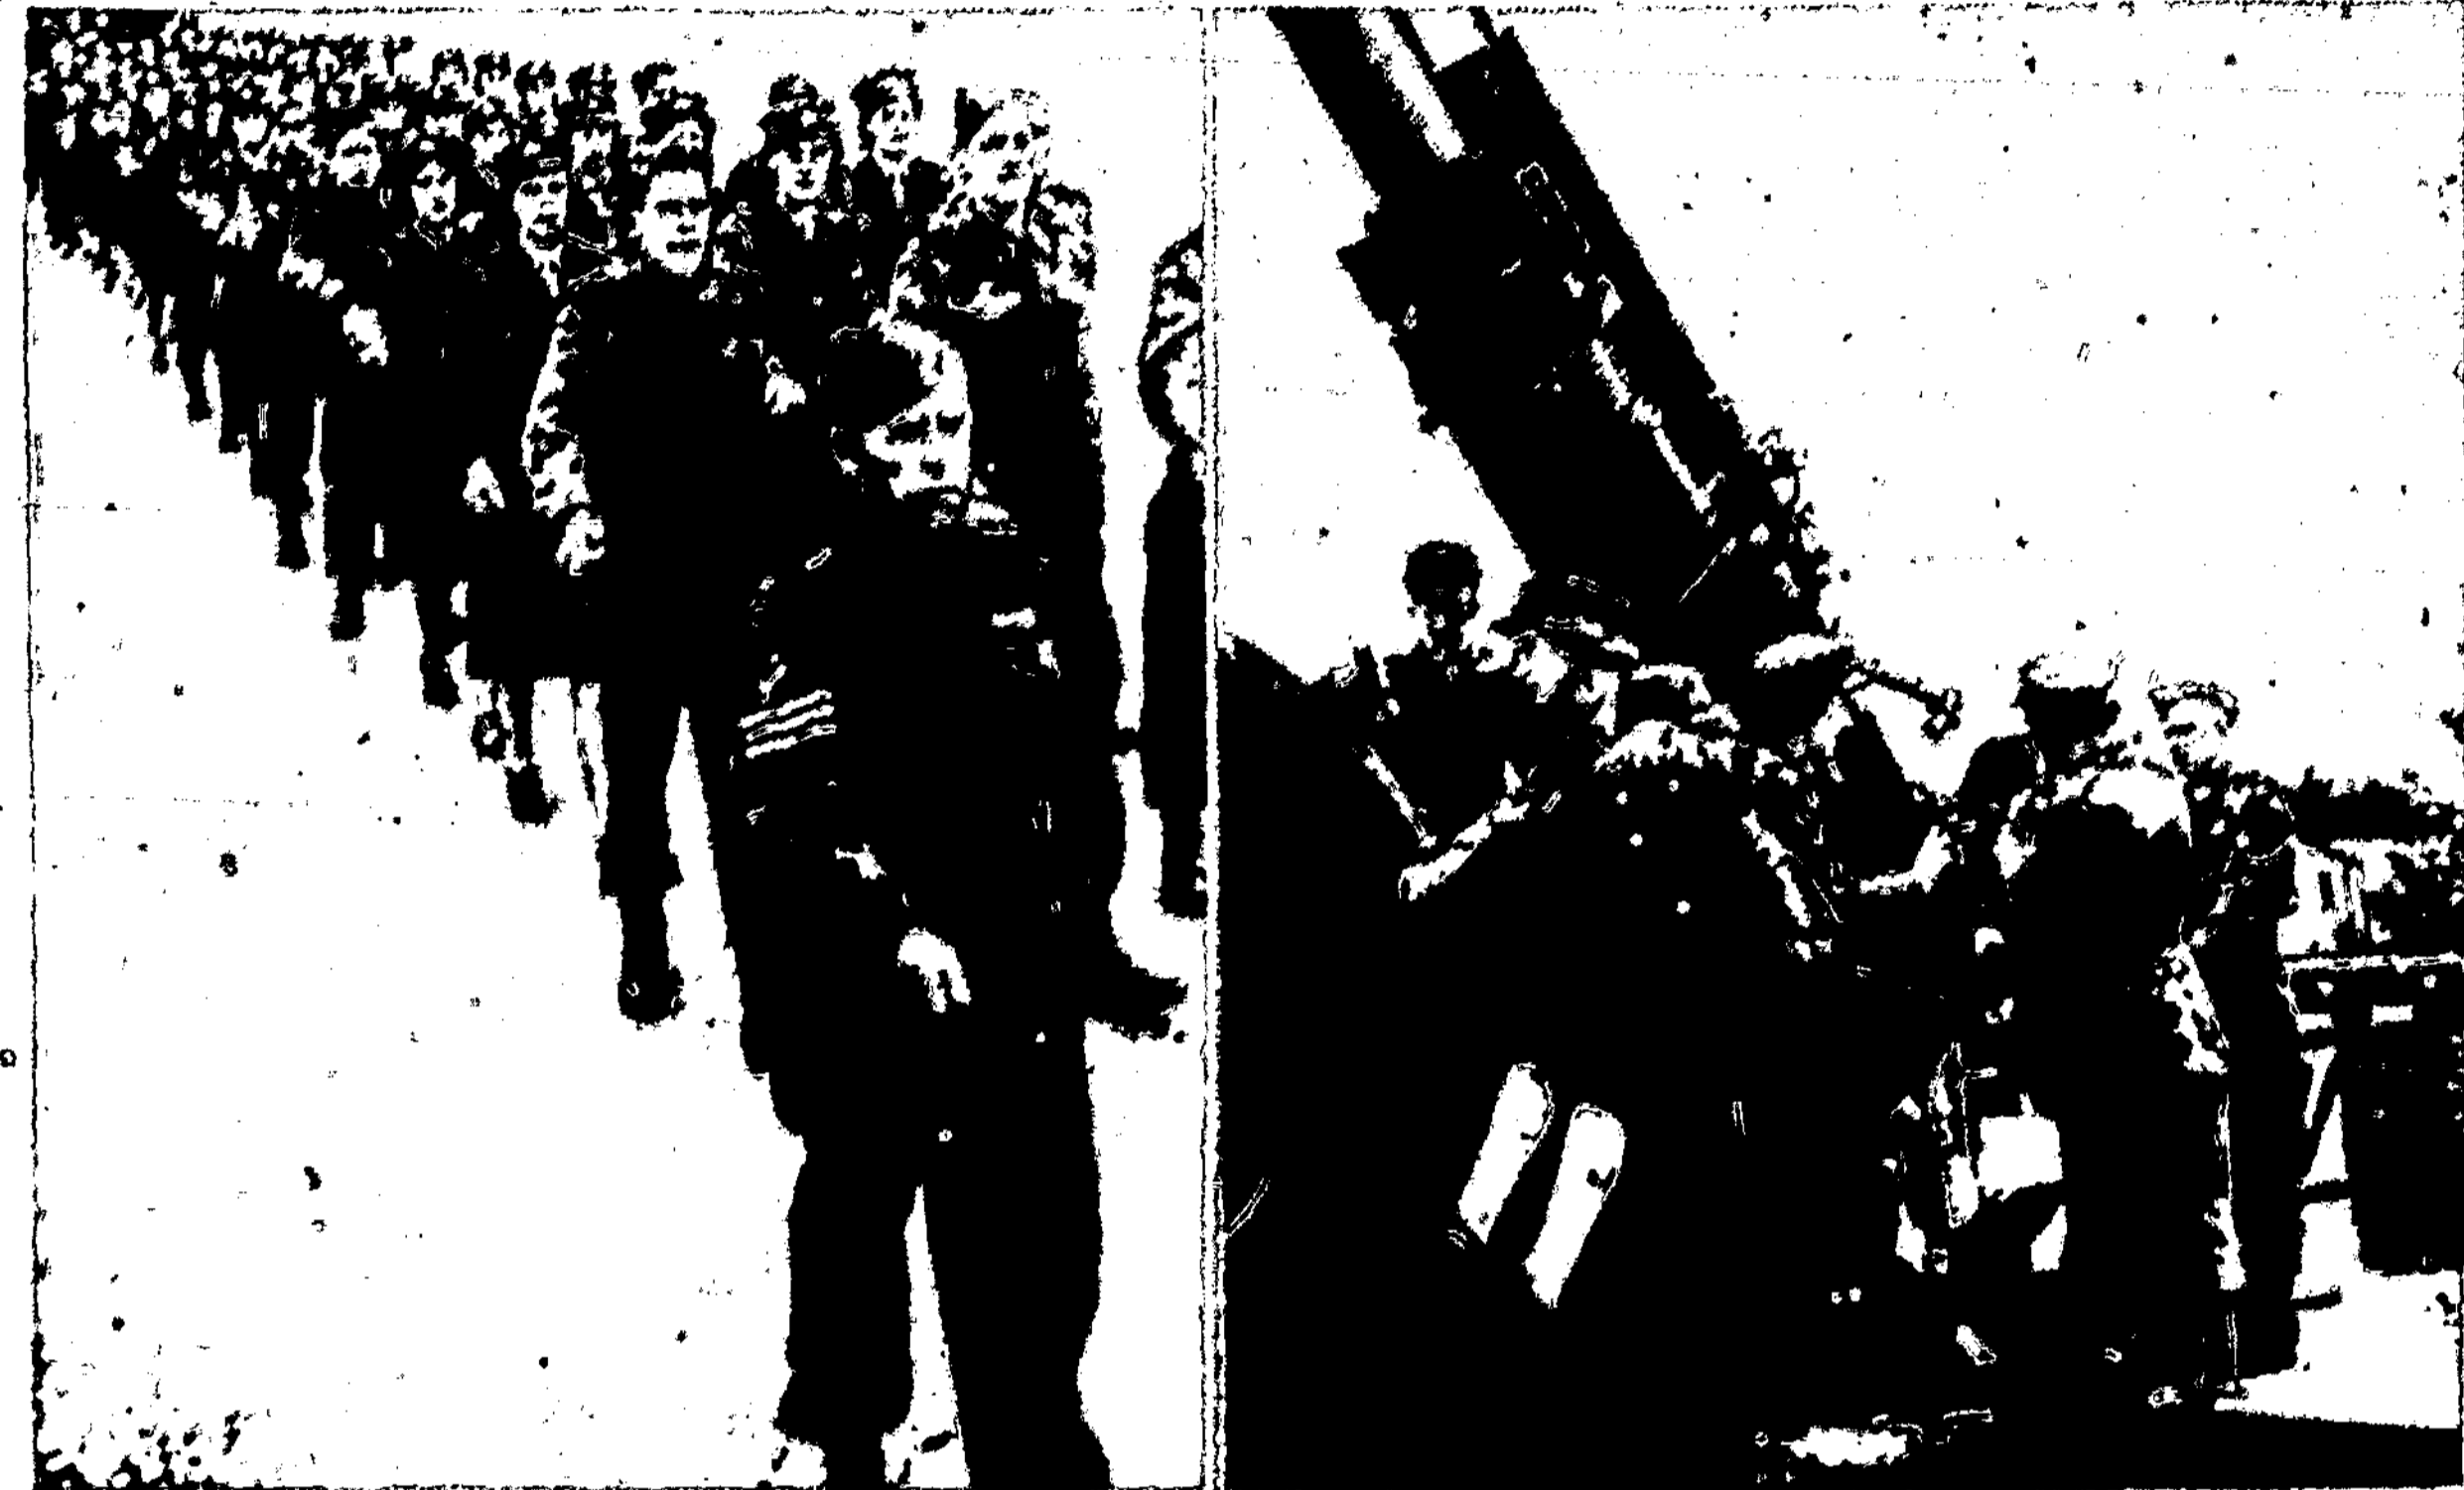

BIG MESA, ARIZ.—Giles Goodwick of the division of predatory control, U. S. Fish and Wild Life survey, has killed or captured more than 500 mountain lions...

Where New U. S. Base Is Taking Shape

A 'Mixed' Artillery Battery in Britain

The present World war is an experimental ground for many things that "were never done before." Typical of the sever-nevers was the fact that men and women could not work or fight together in the same regiment...

American Base in Greenland

A scene at the American base in Greenland, showing two patrol ships tied to an oil tanker, with a coast guard tug beside them.

Fighting Photographer

For the first time since the World war, fighting photographers are being trained by the U. S. army. The photographers are taught to crawl up into the front lines and get pictures of real action.

New Senator

Finger Painting Aid in Paralysis

Opens New World of Action, Color for Physically Handicapped Tots.

DURHAM, N. C.—The medium of finger painting is opening up a new world of action and color for physically handicapped children...

Children in the spastic dormitory of Duke hospital for the first time in their lives are able to express themselves without muscular tension—tension that sometimes can bring on a chaos of writhing movements.

The finger painting technique was originated by Miss Ruth Faison Shaw, famous painter, teacher and designer. The technique is simple—children dip their fingers into colored paint and "daub" the colors onto a board.

Remarkable pictures sometimes are created by the children, who are unable to hold drawing pencils or brushes in their hands. Occasionally vivid and original designs are formed. The designs, adaptable to textile prints, may be a means of some of the "spastics" earning a living.

Brushes Fall Hands. Miss Isobel Moore, who proposed a project in rhythmic drawing in color for relaxation, ran into difficulties when she found the patients could not hold brushes or crayons very well...

There are no set rules in finger painting, and the child is left to create as he will. His senses are stimulated by the pleasant texture of the paint, and pupils who could not remain interested in one subject more than a few minutes were engrossed for hours in finger painting.

One child who has been unable to articulate an individual word saw the other children working and pulled the hem of Miss Shaw's skirt to attract her attention.

Often, Miss Shaw says, the realization of physical shortcomings in a child "builds up an emotional conflict that aggravates his condition. In our experimental classes here we find that the birth-injured child tactfully but unremittingly trained to a determination to surmount his handicaps, encouraged to a sense of accomplishment by work especially adopted to his individual needs, gradually acquires greater confidence and assurance.

Technique Developed. Miss Shaw developed the technique while abroad, opening her first school in 1923 in Rome.

In 1932 she was called to Paris to give a public demonstration. She lectured at the Sorbonne, instructed at the Trocadero school and arranged for six exhibitions of the work of her pupils. Later she came to America and demonstrated finger painting at the Dalton school in New York.

Patients range in age from 4 to 14. Older girls, she said, produced patterns that have suggested a possible vocational aptitude in the field of textile design.

Dr. Earl R. Carlson, himself a spastic child, and author of a receipt book, "Born That Way," said when he was not afraid, self-conscious or overanxious about what he was doing he was able to move his muscles successfully, although usually such an attempt—such as moving a finger—was enough to cause writhing. He said the "best medicine" for the spastic would be to become financially self-dependent and that it was to be hoped finger painting might open a way.

English of Middle Ages

To-Form New Dictionary ANN ARBOR, MICH.—Something the Middle Ages lived without—a dictionary—is being completed for that period of history by University of Michigan scholars to supplement existing knowledge of life in England between 1100 and 1475.

The work is scheduled to be published before 1949 in five volumes under the title of "Middle English Dictionary."

Stops Car to Save Cat, Tree Crashes on Hood

KANSAS CITY.—A black cat darted across the driveway as Lyle Riley started his car out of the yard during a wind and rain storm. Riley stopped to avoid hitting the cat. Just then a 100-foot elm tree crashed down on the car hood, crushing it.

Of Trainees Be Saved MONTGOMERY, ALA.—Save letters from the boys at camp. That's the advice of David L. Darden of the Alabama department of archives and history, who said they may have great historical value 100 years from now.

New Booklet on Vitamins Guide to Healthful Diet

24 YRS. AGO TODAY LACK OF VITAMIN C INCREASES DENTAL TROUBLES

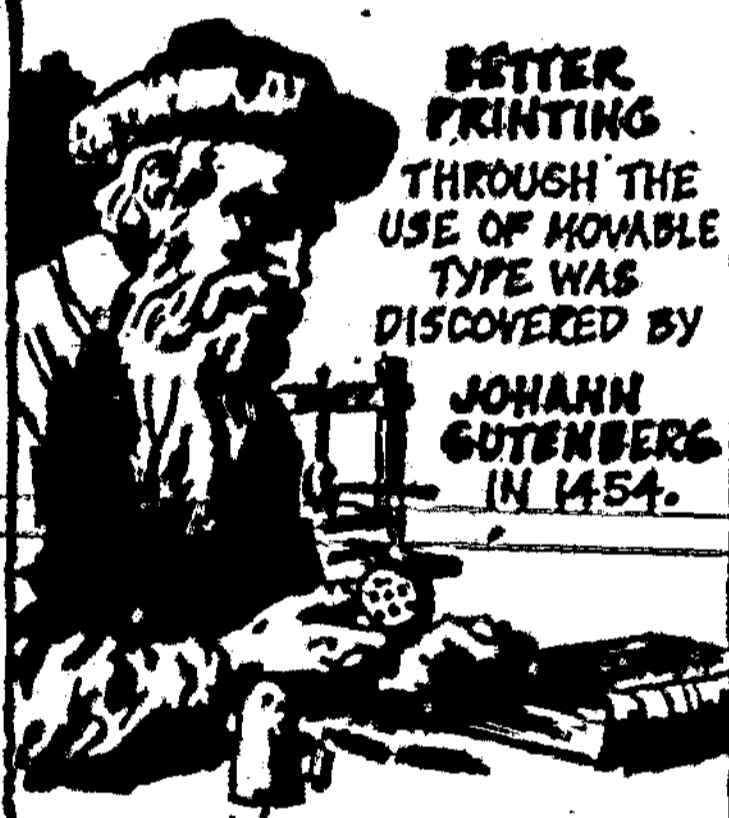

SHOCKING news, to learn that your youngster needs costly dental treatment.

This is what lack of Vitamin C in our diet can do and what it has done to more and more young Americans. Three times as many men are being rejected for bad teeth in the draft today as in 1917.

Does this mean expensive meals? No, our new 32-page booklet suggests several vitamin-rich yet modest-cost menus. Gives charts showing vitamin content of everyday foods, the minimum you should get every day to have radiant health, youthful good looks.

WAR and LOVE in the CATTLE LANDS
Riders of Buck River
A rustler is killed by someone unknown—shot in the back! This is the beginning of a cattle war in the Buck River country—a war which required U. S. troops to stop. But before the troops arrived, events piled upon each other with dramatic swiftness, and it began to look as though Calhoun Terry, manager of the Diamond Reverse B Ranch, was slated to go. However, he lived through all the shooting to marry Ellen Carey, daughter of the postmaster—Ellen Carey, who had so seriously misunderstood him! Riders of Buck River is a story that will keep you guessing. Be sure to read it.

THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO:

To each of the above named defendants against whom substituted service is hereby sought, to be obtained, Greeting:

You and each of you are hereby notified that a certain cause wherein you and each of you are defendants, and Willis R. Lovelace is plaintiff, being Civil Cause No. 4899 on the Civil Docket in the above named Court, is now pending against you.

The general object and purpose of said suit is to establish and quiet plaintiff's title in and to the real estate and property described in the Complaint in said cause, the same being in the County of Lincoln, State of New Mexico, to-wit:

Lot six—6— and lot seven—7—, in block nine—9—, of the Townsite of Corona, as shown on the official plat thereof, on file in the office of the County Clerk of said Lincoln County, against the adverse claims of you and each of you, and anyone claiming by, under, or through you, or any of you, and to forever bar and estop you and each of you from having or claiming any lien upon, or right or title to, or interest in said real estate and property.

You are further notified that unless you enter your appearance in said cause on or before October 10, 1941, judgment will be rendered in said cause against you and each of you by default.

That the name of Plaintiff's attorney and his postoffice address is H. Elfrad Jones, Carrizozo, New Mexico.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Third Judicial District Court of the State of New Mexico, this the 20th day of August, 1941.

—D. C. Seal— Felix Ramey,
A22-S12 District Court Clerk.

Revival

Evangelist E. W. Stovall of Carlsbad, assisted by Elvin Boat of the Carrizozo Church of Christ will conduct a revival, beginning Sunday, August 24. Everyone is urged to hear Brother Stovall. Services will be at 10 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. throughout next week.

Billy Bamberger of Magdalena spent the week-end here as the guest of Fred English.

Landro Vega and Tom Current are putting up a building for Martin Vega on the east side.

This office is in receipt of a letter from our old friend, Jeff Herron, formerly of Carrizozo, but now residing at Terrell, Texas, and engaged in the optical business. Among other things of interest, he informed us that R. E. Kent, Mayor and Chief of Police of Ocuca, was a visitor at his office and joined Jeff in sending best regards to Carrizozo and Ocuca friends.

Rebecca Gules, Rosa and Senaida Padilla of Albuquerque visited relatives here and at Capitan this week.

Joe Garcia, Sr., and granddaughter Felice returned Sunday night from Bisbee, Arizona, where they had been visiting relatives for several weeks. Mrs. Garcia will return in about two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Crenshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Crenshaw and Mrs. R. M. Page of Bristol, Okla. were here from the Crenshaw ranch near White Oaks for the rodeo. Mrs. Page is visiting her sister, Mrs. Crenshaw, Sr., and family for a short time.
