Here We Are Again With a New One

The National Whittigig has issued an article in which it gives another outline of a new order which will soon be put into effect by the OPA covering the use of gasoline, mileage and other things, which shatters precedent to a fare-you-well. We follow with the article and readers should probe every word of it and what's more, be prepared to get in line for it.

Here it is:
OPA will soon make every owner specify in elaborate detail his need for mileage. He will have to give the distance between his home and place of work, the time needed for negotiating that route, the number of passengers he carries. He must state if his wife uses the family jitney for shopping, if he drives, to his club, to play bridge with friends, or to eat out. It is no exaggeration to say that his movements in so far as they relate to consumption of fuel will be blueprinted from the time of arising to going to bed. Stiff penalties for false statements will be provided and enforced.

Allowances for the precious fluid will be sharply curtailed on the basis of this data. Persons now receiving three gallons a month may be cut one-third. Shoppers and pleasure seekers may be compelled to jack up their vehicles for the duration. Not a wheel will turn unless its motion helps to propel American armies in the direction to Berlin, Rome or Tokyo.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dale and baby daughter May Ellen, were here this week. Mrs. Dale and the boy from Dallas and Jim from Hobbs, where he had been operating a steam shovel in government work. After visiting the Dale folks at Ancho, they left for Dallas and from there, they will go to Denton, Texas, where Jim will engage in the same line of work of operating the steam shovel. Elmo Dale is home from the army, having arrived from Kearns, Utah, last week. Shortly after his induction, he was taken ill and was in the hospital for four months. Failing to improve, he was finally given an honorable discharge and sent home. After his complete recovery, will be re-classified, so we understand.

Business Men's Club

The Club met at Community Center February 24th for the chicken pie dinner prepared by the Methodist Missionary Society. Seventeen members and two visitors were present. Dr. J. P. Turner and Lonnie McClintock were the guests of Dewey Stokes and both were elected to membership in the club. Miss Mary Simpson, band director for the Carrizozo High School appealed to the club to assist the band in obtaining six additional band uniforms. Upon motion of L. A. Whitaker, properly seconded and carried, Pres. H. B. Kelt appointed F. A. English, S. D. Stokes and Roy Shafer as a committee to investigate the feasibility of buying these suits. Moved by A. J. Rolland, seconded by Sabino Viduarri, that the elective officials of the county and city be extended an invitation to the meeting next Wednesday night. Doctor. Turner and John Hall will entertain the club with motion pictures made by photographers Turner and Hall. The matter of the Truant Officer was deferred until next meeting pending further information.

Block Plan Organization

The organization of the Block plan in our community has been initiated by the appointment of Mrs. Ben S. Burns as chief of the Block Leader Service. Our city is divided into four zones and four zone leaders have been appointed by her. Namely, Mrs. Sally Ortiz, zone I; Mrs. Roy Shafer, zone II; Mrs. Laura Norman, zone III; and Mrs. Lorene Smoot, zone IV. These leaders will appoint their assistants in each sector.
It is important that this organization be completed soon to get vital war information into every home, rapidly and accurately. Local Civilian Defense Council

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Women at War today are saving for Women at Peace when the War is won. They are buying War Bonds as thrifty housewives, saving to buy those handy, convenient and necessary electrical appliances when their Bonds mature.

Women know that money saved now will help win the peace, putting their menfolk to work in our domestic factories when the war is over. They know purchase of War Bonds today will help their family and the whole country tide over the readjustment period from War to Peace.

Woman's Club

The Carrizozo Woman's Club met at Community Center Friday, Feb. 19, with Pres. Mrs. W. A. Nicholas presiding.

God Bless America was sung with Mrs. Ralph Petty at piano and Miss Thelma White leading. Salute to the Flag was given.

The chairman of the picture show committee, Mrs. R. A. Walker, announced the show would be April 7 and 8 instead of March.

The club voted to hold in the stores for 2 weeks when rationing started March 1st.

Business men gave their $100 in notes to the club.

Mrs. Ramey had charge of the program.

Piano solo, Mrs. Burns.
Invitation, Mrs. Ramey.

A talk on point rationing was given by Mr. Carruthers, of Albuquerque.

The committee, Mrs. Eaker and Mrs. Finley served cherry pie and tea.

There will be a meeting Friday, 26 at 8 p. m. at Community Center to study point rationing.

Every one is urged to be present. Mrs. B. S. Burns, Reporter.

Dr. F. S. Randels was here Tuesday from Eagle Creek, where he has been acting as caretaker for the club since late last fall. Doc has stayed on the job continually and all alone, through the winter season at Eagle Creek. Few if any visitors come up to that high altitude. Doc invites his friends to come up as soon as weather will permit and adds, quote, "We have some of the best mountain water in this section of the state;" and quote.

The W. J. Ferguson family are now located at Roswell in their own home, 300 N. Union street and like the change very much. When they decided to move to our larger sister city, they found houses very scarce and rents pretty well in the air, so they did the very best thing; they bought a home and their troubles along that line, are over.

State College, N. M., Feb. 24. —John Hightower of Ancho, a sophomore mechanical engineer at New Mexico A. and M. last semester, has been accepted for training as a meteorologist in the army air forces and is now in the army. Prof. G. E. Hamel, local armed services representative, announced this week.

PERSONALS

Frank DuBois of Corona was a visitor in town Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Belio of Claunch were here on business Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Jarrett of Claunch were shoppers in town Saturday.

Postmaster and Mrs. J. L. Graves of Nogal were here this Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wood of Ocura were visitors in town Wednesday.

Harry Straley, Ancho rancher, was among our last Saturday's business visitors.

Adolph Loebner and Mrs. John Ball of Jicarilla were in town the latter part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Crenshaw of the Crenshaw ranch near White Oaks were visitors in town this Wednesday.

Barney Wilson, popular stockman of the Ancho - Jicarilla country was here on business this Wednesday.

Mrs. Lulu Lewis and son Rex were in from their ranch at the head of the Malpais on a business trip one day this week.

Mrs. Maggie Pfingsten of the Nogal - Mesa, accompanied by her son Jake and grandson Jake, Jr. were visitors here Friday.

Mrs. Wm. Ferguson of the Nogal-Mesa, daughter Mrs. Mary Werner and Mrs. Monroe Howard, were business visitors in town, yesterday.

R. C. Withers was here from his ranch near Ocura last Saturday, attending to some matters of business and returned in the evening.

Ben Sanchez has received word from his oldest son, Leonard who has undergone an operation for appendicitis in the Navy and is recovering nicely.

In a letter from Mrs. Rosa Sandoval, she desires the Outlook sent to her address in Los Angeles. All right, Rosa, it will begin with this issue.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thomas of Corona were business visitors Friday. Mrs. Thomas is Postmaster and her husband is the proprietor of the Thomas garage of that place.

Adolph Loebner came down from Jicarilla Monday and presented the Outlook Gift Shop with two fine young pine trees and what was more, Adolph, in order to make a finish of it, he planted them, too.

Ed Fitzpatrick, who is now located on the old Stearns ranch near Nogal, was among our business visitors this week. Ed likes the Nogal country very much, but says it gets pretty cold up there in the winter time.

Our old friend, Frank Todd, is home from El Paso, where he was confined in a hospital for a period of about four weeks. Frank looks well and is gaining rapidly from a double-rupture he sustained as a result when he slipped and fell about six weeks ago.

"First Purple Martins"

This office is the recipient of a leaflet which contains the names and pictures of 27 men and one woman who were recently decorated with what is called, in aviation circles, "First Purple Martins", in honor of distinguished service in this war. The leaflet gives full description of those who were decorated, their numbers, standing, etc., in full detail, in the center, while on the border appears the portraits of the entire group. This honor is equal to the distinguished Flying Cross.

This article will prove of interest to Carrizozo people from the fact that in coming to No. 11, we find the smiling face of Daniel S. Elliott, Jr., oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Elliott of our home town. Young Dan bears the distinction of being credited with the gun mount with Collapsible tripod for airplanes, in which Dan is given more than ordinary complimentary mention. So we add a laurel to another Carrizozo boy in our list of those who have performed faithful service and received distinguished honors.

Mrs. Dan Elliott has returned from El Paso, where she was confined in a hospital for about two weeks. She is recuperating nicely, we are glad to say.

Operator Buddy has gone to Lordsburg and Mooser-Dudrey takes his place on the second trick at the local S. P. station. The line-up of operators is now, Elmer Eaker, 1st, Mooser-Dudrey 2nd and Harry Miller 3rd trick.

Mrs. Roy Clark is still with Mrs. Stearns and will remain until the latter part of the week, when she will pack her goods and move to El Paso. Mrs. Stearns is progressing nicely and the laundry business is good under the new order of things, under Mrs. Stearns' direction.

Mrs. John Gutnecht was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lemon on Thursday of this week. Mrs. Gutnecht made a stopover at Carrizozo enroute from an extended trip in Mexico with her husband—Judge John—Gutnecht, on her way to her home in Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Gussie Johnson came in the first of the week from Salina, Kansas, accompanied by George Stebbins, her brother-in-law George has retired as an operator on the Union Pacific railroad after 50 years of service, disposed of his property in Salina and came here to make Carrizozo his future home. Glad to have you with us George.

It seems as though Roswell is claiming many of our former residents Mr. and Mrs. George Simpson have sold their ranch interests near Corona and have located at Roswell, but we still have their daughter Mary, who is teaching in our schools. Mary is also leader of the girl's High School orchestra, the "Jirettes" and they produce excellent music, too.

A. L. Burke, Lewis Burke and J. R. Hoffman of the Outlook office and J. W. Chaney of the Petty Grocery & Market, made a trip to Socorro last Sunday. While there, they met our old friend, George Harkness, owner and manager of the passenger and bus lines between Socorro and Roswell. George has his headquarters at Socorro and was here on a business trip Tuesday.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

OES Opposes Increase in Farm Parity; Showdown in North Africa Prelude to United Nations Invasion of Europe; Reds Continue Ground-Gaining Drive

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

How momentous have been the results of the Russian winter offensive against the Nazis... From the beginning of the Red drive last fall, through the relief of Stalingrad and the sweep of the Russian momentum westward and south, Hitler's forces have had to yield virtually all the land they gained in their 1942 spring offensive.

TUNISIA:

Ready for Zero Hour

Only a continuance of the traditional African rainy season and the necessity of waiting until stores of supplies were sufficient, had prevented the long-awaited Allied offensive for final control of Tunisia.

Axis forces had been completely cleared out of Tripolitania, and the British Eighth army after a short rest had resumed movement by storming into southern Tunisia along the coastal road over which Marshal Rommel's retreating army had passed.

RED RESURGENCE:

Regains Lost Ground

Prophetic of Rostov's fall had been the Russians' capture of Novocheerkassk, for in wars past and present any army that took the gateway town of Novocheerkassk had always succeeded in taking Rostov.

How far the Nazis' fortunes had receded since their peak at Stalingrad last autumn might be seen in the spectacular gains in territory recorded by the Russians.

In the last six months, he pointed out, Anglo-American and Canadian shipbuilding exceeded all losses of the United Nations by over 1,250,000 tons. The rate of Allied destruction of U-boats has also improved.

SENATE PROBE: To Study Food

As the threat of a possible food shortage loomed more ominously, the senate agriculture committee ordered an investigation into the production, transportation and distribution of foodstuffs.

COAL & RAIL PAY: OES Dooms Raises

Rejection of demands by John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers for a $2-a-day raise for bituminous coal miners; of demands by the railroad brotherhoods for 30 per cent pay increases for rail workers and all other wage requests beyond the Little Steel formula of 15 per cent.

FARM PRICES:

Parity Battle Brisk

Even as the administration threw down its battle gage against further advances in farm prices, the senate agriculture committee laid the ground for such price increases by voting to report a measure sponsored by Senator Bankhead of Alabama designed to revise the parity formula upward.

The administration's position was set forth in the speech of Economic Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes. Declaring that a change in the farm parity formula "would not be in the farmers' interest," Mr. Byrnes indicated that the administration would fight to preserve its present policies on farm and food prices and production.

U-BOAT REPORT:

Better Than Expected

Out of the "hush-hush" and into the limelight came the subject of German submarines—a subject that has painfully worried many an Allied leader. Prime Minister Winston Churchill turned the light on the U-boats and his examination was optimistic: "We are more than holding our own."

Outranking in interest his prediction of an Allied invasion of Europe within nine months and his report that 500,000 British and American troops are now in Africa, was his survey of the submarine situation in a report to the parliament.

DIES COMMITTEE: New Lease on Life

The American people indicated clearly that they wanted the work of the Dies committee continued, even though some of them did not always agree with its methods of investigating un-American activities.

SENATE PROBE: To Study Food

COAL & RAIL PAY: OES Dooms Raises

Rejection of demands by John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers for a $2-a-day raise for bituminous coal miners; of demands by the railroad brotherhoods for 30 per cent pay increases for rail workers and all other wage requests beyond the Little Steel formula of 15 per cent.

JAP REVERSES: Spur U. S. Offensive

With Guadalcanal completely cleared of Japs, U. S. forces in the southwest Pacific had prepared for new offensive action. How costly had been the Japanese effort to hold this key island and their foothold in the Buna-Gona area of New Guinea was disclosed in estimates of enemy casualties.

Allied air raid activity, strafed Jap-held positions on Kolombangara and Munda. Meanwhile in New Guinea American and Australian troops opened up a long-awaited drive on Salamaua. First activity had consisted of skirmishes in which enemy forces were pushed back in the Wau-Mubo area; 35 miles southwest of Salamaua. While this attack was on a minor scale, the tempo was being increased with the Allies definitely taking the offensive.

DEFERRED DRAFTS:

Face Early Summons

As plans moved forward swiftly for enlarging the size of Uncle Sam's fighting forces, selective service made public estimates that 1,000,000 single men of draft age are now deferred on occupational grounds. This number would be sufficient to fill more than one-fourth of the requirements of the armed services for the remainder of the year if they are physically fit.

That many of these men would soon land in the army or navy was indicated by instructions to local boards to review deferments within six months after granting them and eliminate unnecessary ones so that their industrial places could be taken by women or other men.

Of the draft age deferrees, 370,000 are in class 2-A which covers occupants of essential civilian jobs; 570,000 are in class 2-B covering those holding essential industrial jobs; and 150,000 are in class 2-C, necessary men in agricultural pursuits.

PACIFIC BASES:

For Peace Insurance

Victory over Japan in the Pacific would not solve the problem of future aggression. Some other insurance was needed. And it became increasingly clear that such insurance must be the acquisition and maintenance by the United States of a chain-of-air-and-naval-bases across the Pacific.

Immediate steps to implement this movement were taken when the house naval affairs committee appointed a subcommittee to investigate ways and means of acquiring these bases. Secretary of Navy Knox had previously recommended such a program, indicating that lend-lease aid might be the basis for negotiations for the bases. He said it probably would be necessary to locate some of the bases in territorial possessions of France, Holland and Japan.

SENATE PROBE:

To Study Food

As the threat of a possible food shortage loomed more ominously, the senate agriculture committee ordered an investigation into the production, transportation and distribution of foodstuffs.

Washington Digest

John L. Lewis Leading Anti-Wage Ceiling Fight

'Man Who Came Back' Is Responsible for Battle Against Little Steel Formula of Increases.

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, Union Trust Building, Washington, D. C.

There is a new candidate in Washington for the title of the "man who came back."

He has come back before so it is probably no great thrill for him but it is a terrific pain in the neck for a number of people who hoped this fall, dark ghost had been laid away for the duration, if not for longer. I am speaking of John Lewis, stripped of his robes as head of the CIO which he hewed out of the rock of AF of L opposition. But if his head is bloody, it is bowed in no humility whatever.

Lewis may not be all the way back but it seems very much as if Messrs. Green and Murray are going through some preliminary shuffles that may be a dance to Piper Lewis' tune.

Lewis loudly sounded the keynote for what he hopes to be the death march for the Little Steel formula, which held wage raises down to a 15 per cent maximum. When Murray and Green heard of Lewis' press conference, on the day he sounded his threat, they hurried to the White House where the President, who isn't seeing just anybody, permitted the visit and let the CIO and the AF of L talk to reporters on the White House steps—but they had nothing to say which could drown the Lewis roar.

I talked with a man who has fought labor's cause for many a year without affiliation with any group. He said to me:

"There are only two things that will keep from blowing the whole price control system into the high heavens. Either Murray and Green can turn their backs on Lewis, put aside their fears that he will win the plaudits of labor away from them by being the sole champion of wage raises and say boldly to their followers: 'We'll do what is best for you and everybody. Inflation will be worse in the end than the squeeze you feel you are getting now.'"

"If they don't, Lewis will have his way. 'The alternative,' he went on, 'is to have the President call in both the farm and the labor leaders and say: 'All right. How much of an increase do you want? Twenty per cent? Thirty? But then prices will go up by just that much. You and everybody else will be that much worse off.'"

Of course, there is another alternative—a cast-iron ceiling on prices but the metal to withstand the upward pressure has not been found. With this situation before him, almost anyone would rather be right—or left of center—than President.

Different Problem

Recently, to add to the troubles of the labor leaders themselves as well as the government, there was evidence of a different type of problem in scattered hot-spots in the labor world—undisciplined groups which one man described as made up of men "who wouldn't even take orders from Stalin."

Some 300 workers in a zinc smelter in Moundsville, W. Va., gave notice that they weren't going to work Saturday or Sunday without overtime pay. This, in spite of the fact that they worked only 35 hours a week. The orders are clear that double-time is only paid for a seventh day of consecutive work. But these men said "orders or no orders" they weren't going to work Saturdays or Sundays without that overtime. Zinc is one of the bottle necks. The War Production board was frantic.

These are only pin pricks and not typical but they cause a near-crisis every time they occur in industries producing essential materials.

Quick Comeback

To McNutt Edict

There has seldom been a quicker comeback in a Washington bout than the smart jab to the chin that followed Paul McNutt's haymaker delivered at the boys in non-essential industry.

The echoes of the "work or fight" ukase of the Manpower commission were still reverberating up and down the corridors of the long list of industries from bootblacking to window-curtain manufacturing when the house military committee arose with its "no, no, a thousand times, no!"

Representative Kilday of Texas obtained a promise from Chairman May of the Military Affairs committee for immediate hearings on his amendment to the Selective Service act and the "block McNutt" move was soon heavily under way.

As you know, Representative Kilday's bill is aimed to make dependent the basic cause of deferment while McNutt's move was to establish participation in the war effort in field, factory or the armed forces as the principle governing the order of induction.

McNutt's order set the boys in the non-essential businesses hammering at the doors of the United States Employment offices all over the country and consternation and confusion reigned.

Then up spoke Mr. Kilday. The attitude of those favoring the measure to draft the single men first, everywhere, before the married men and the others with dependents go, is this: They say they do not want the Selective Service act made a weapon to force men into essential jobs. They claim the act was never so intended.

Legislation, they say, must be passed after careful study which will lay down a manpower program; military service is an honor as well as a duty. It must not be used as a threat.

Kilday's Views

I talked with Representative Kilday before the hearings began. He was optimistic over quick committee acceptance of his bill though he said he didn't want to hurry the hearings and he realized all sorts of opposition might develop. He pointed out that his measure would not alter the present deferments, that it doesn't mean, as some seemed to think, that single men, now deferred under the present deferment rules, will be yanked out of their jobs and thrown into the army. Opponents say, however, in some cases, this will be the actual effect.

Whatever the effects on agriculture and industry may be if the bill passes, it will sink the present Manpower commission program without a trace and with all hands on board.

There is plenty of public appeal in the Kilday measure—the argument that it is more important to keep the family together than to fill quotas for industry or the army and the navy, the argument that there is no authority in the Selective Service act to do what the Manpower commission order is aimed to achieve, namely, to state what job a man is to hold. And that side of the argument has particular appeal in a congress exceedingly jealous of its prerogatives, sworn to prevent usurpation of its powers by the administrative branch.

A Prediction

Last week, I reported the prediction by a keen observer of this whole problem to the effect that one more desperate measure would be attempted by the Manpower commission before it would be forced to step aside for some other agency. McNutt acted—and within 24 hours of that prediction, the military affairs committee, announced hearings on the Kilday bill, looks very much like a bird of ill omen echoing the second part of the dire prediction—the end of the Manpower commission as an agency with any power of initiative left. To many high army officials, there is grim satisfaction in what is happening. Long ago, it was intimated that sooner or later the military would have to take over the whip hand and settle the manpower question in its own way. Some military men would be quite happy to have the Kilday measure pass, sweep everyone draftable into the armed forces and then do its own re-allocation, screening out the men necessary to industry and agriculture and furlough them back as military needs, first, and the industry's, second, demanded.

One can imagine, however, how union labor would like to see khaki and navy blue manning the stamping machines and the lathes beside the workmen in civvies. Labor's objection to the bill was expected from the first.

And so we have a four-way clash: Legislators, Manpower commission, Military, Labor.

Once more, a labor draft "looms" as the headlines say.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

Horse meat on sale in Washington is being received very well. So did the muskrat served to Secretary Wickard and Vice President Wallace. Soon the order will be "One Porterhouse steak, well broken."

Someone suggested "Marinettes" for the marine corps girls auxiliary. It didn't take. Even a she-devil dog won't be a puppet.

Until it was announced that General Eisenhower was to continue to have full command in North Africa, a string of stories kept coming out of London to the effect that it might go to a British general. It was considered anti-Eisenhower propaganda.

Newsmen returned from North Africa are not enthusiastic over the harems they claim they saw.

Birds Set Broken Bones
Naturalists have reported cases of actual bone-setting by birds in which the feathered doctors used small straws or twigs with a dressing of down in the same way that a physician would set a broken leg in splints.

One thing a soldier is afraid of is a display of emotion. That's why his slang so often sounds derogatory. For example, he refers to the silver eagles on his colonel's shoulder straps as "buzzards." But when he speaks of his favorite cigarette, he says: "Camels." They're first with men in the Army as well as with Sailors, Marines, and Coast Guardsmen. (According to actual sales records in service men's stores.) A gift of a carton of Camels is always well received. Local tobacco dealers are featuring Camel cartons to send to any member of our armed forces. Hint for the day: Send "him" a carton of Camels.—Adv.

FEVERISH COLD SUFFERERS NEED EXTRA B Complex Vitamins

Intensive Scientific laboratory and clinical studies proved this startling fact... proved that additional B Complex Vitamins are used by the body cells in feverish illness. With those deficient in these vitamins, the feverish stage of a cold demands an extra supply. If you're suffering with the fever of a cold, perhaps your limited diet does not supply enough vitamins! DOAN'S PILLS

ISLANDS STUD PACIFIC BATTLE ZONE

The South Pacific is a constellation of hundreds of islands, some of which like the waters around them remain uncharted. Jap possession and fortification of many strategic islands have given them key positions for the South Pacific fighting. Any Allied march on Tokyo from present bases, would necessitate the movement of troops through these regions.

Hundreds of Islands in Pacific Lie In Path of Allies' March to Tokyo

(Exclusive to Western Newspaper Union by the National Geographic Society.)

The armchair strategist, enjoying a few waking hours away from his war production job, scans a large map of the Pacific ocean war theater. In his ears ring encouraging words of President Roosevelt to the 78th congress: "The period of our defensive attrition in the Pacific is passing." He settles down to work out his own solution to the battle of the Pacific. How will the United Nations forces reach Tokyo?

Will the conquest be step by step backward through the Netherlands Indies, Malaya, Burma, the Philippines? Will it be from interior China by way of the coast where Japan has been tightening her foothold for five years? Will it be by way of Alaska and the Aleutians, or from Siberia? Can it be done across 2,500 miles of open ocean from Midway at the western edge of the Hawaiian Islands? Will it perhaps be across more than 3,000 miles of island-studded but little-known Pacific from the present hard-held positions on New Guinea and on Guadalcanal in the Solomons?

First Part Scene of Battle

Starting from New Guinea and Guadalcanal, the maze of small but strategic islands on a map resemble the outpouring of a giant pepper shaker in the hands of cartographers gone berserk.

Starting the march, Malaita, Santa Isabel, Choiseul and the New Georgia group with its notorious Japanese air field at Munda, are neighbors of Guadalcanal in the British Protectorate portion of the Solomons. In the heart of Melanesia ("black islands"), these are large compared to their neighbors of Micronesia ("little islands") to the north. Their inhabitants are ebony-dark, unresponsive to attempts at civilizing, still inclined to break out in spells of inter-tribal head hunting. First discovered in 1567, they were "lost" for 200 years before new exploration confirmed their existence. American fighting men, writing home from Guadalcanal, rave of the islands' lush, tropical beauty.

The western portion of the first group belonged to Germany before the First World War and was mandated to Australia in post-war settlements. It includes large Bougainville and little Buks, westernmost of the Solomons, each with a harbor that has sheltered Japanese ships gathering for attack farther east. It includes the sweeping arc of the Bismarck Archipelago—New Britain with the captive base at Rabaul, New Ireland, New Hanover and the St. Matthias and Admiralty groups. It includes the steaming, mountainous, eastern half of gigantic New Guinea, with such new household place names as indomitable Port Moresby, liberated Buna, captive Lae and Salamaua.

Just across the Equator lies Micronesia, the middle stage of the "march." The 1,500 islets, mostly of coral formation, are scattered like star dust over an area the size of the United States.

North of their center is Guam, and to their east are the Philippines. This entire region fell rather easily to the United States as part of its conquest in the Spanish-American war. Unprepared to defend all of it, America held on to the Philippines and Guam, but handed the rest back to Spain. Spain then handed it to Germany for 4 1/2 million dollars. Japan seized it from her present ally promptly with the start of war in 1914. At the peace table the Allies entrusted the islands to Japan, stipulating that they should not be fortified. Thus America's Philippines and steppingstone island of Guam became surrounded by a Japanese controlled sea.

Islands Fortified by Japs

Key island groups in the Carolines, the Marshalls and the Marianas were secretly fortified. Barred to foreign visitors, the islands remained unknown even to the seasoned globe-trotters who hunted for island paradises and knew every corner of Honolulu, Pago Pago and Manila. From such strong bases as those on the Palau and Truk islands, Japan may have launched her attacks on Hawaii, the Philippines, the Netherlands Indies and the island neighbors of Australia. From Rota and Saipan it was no surprising military coup to overwhelm and capture near-by unfortified Guam.

The Palau group, nearest the Philippines, combines coral and volcanic isles. It has been described as the Japanese Singapore, seat of the entire Japanese South Seas government, hive of new industry and agriculture, magnificent fleet and air base.

To the northeast Yap, despite a poor harbor, is a naval station. Many islets dot the 40-mile lagoon of Truk. Ideal for yachting, blessed with a wealth of natural color and the year-round even temperature of all Micronesia, Truk could be a paradise of international fame. Instead, its great lagoon, with deep water and convenient gaps in the surrounding reef, provides a perfect haven for the constant traffic of the Japanese fleet.

Ponape, 130 square miles, is the largest single island of the Japanese Mandate. Headquarters in the days of Spanish rule, it contains a blend of all Pacific island peoples. It has several harbors and fertile soil of volcanic origin, in which many hundred plants from far parts of the world have thrived.

Still further across toward the funnel's eastern edge are the Marshalls, some 32 islands and innumerable reefs, many enclosing broad, well-sheltered lagoons. Closest to Honolulu (2,300 miles to its southwest) they might have been the springboards for the Pearl Harbor attack. Less than two months after Pearl Harbor, the United States navy made a brilliant surprise raid that damaged Japanese planes and ships at Jaluit, Wotje, Maloelap and Kwajalein in the Marshalls.

Marshalls Menace Shipping

Nearest to Panama and the Pacific coast of America as well as to Hawaii, the Marshalls threaten the vital American supply line to Australia. From them America could threaten many strategic Japanese bases.

Turning southeast across the line of the Japanese Mandate without leaving Micronesia, the armchair strategist finds Great Britain's Gilbert group—16 low, barren atolls—ribbons of coral rock from 10 to 50 miles long. Promptly after Pearl Harbor the Japanese seized the northern Gilberts and began the work of converting Makin atoll into a well-equipped base from which to launch seaplane raids on the shipping lane from Hawaii to Australia. The subsequent attack by the United States navy on the Makin island construction brought the Gilberts their first world-wide notice.

Today, from bases at Darwin and on Cape York, Australia's northern tips, and from Guadalcanal Flying Fortresses can range 1,500 miles toward Tokyo. Thus they can guard sea lanes and strike Japanese ships and bases anywhere in the Carolines, Marshalls and Gilberts. Within the area of the Japanese Mandate only Guam and the curving arc of Marianas to its north are beyond range of United Nations bases on Australia and Guadalcanal. The Marianas lie in the funnel's collector close to its junction with its tube.

Last Leg of March to Tokyo

And now the strategist enters the tube of the funnel, the third and last leg of his imaginary "march" on Tokyo. The course is through a sea where volcanic islands come and go and coral reefs are a threat to navigation. Kazan Retto, 800 miles from the Tokyo goal, is a group of volcanic islands, units of which are shown on old charts by such names as "Sulphur Island" and "Submarine Volcano Island."

THAT NEW RATION BOOK
Uncle Sam is author of the Book of the Month for March. It will be entitled "Life With Mother" or "Through the Grocery With Pen and Pencil."

It will have action, excitement, drama and plenty of mystery. But no romance unless it is possible for a love affair to develop during an argument with a groceryman.

There will be a foreword by the department of justice. And an appendix by the same people.

It will be read by more people than "Gone With the Wind," "Cross Creek," "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and "East Lynne." But they will have more trouble understanding it.

It will be linked up with more battles than "Napoleon's Memoirs" and "The Founding of the West." And it will combine the best features of Burpee's Simple Arithmetic, the Nursery A B C Book and "How to Diet With Federal Co-operation."

Publication date March 1. Available at all rationing boards. And you can't get it through a circulating library, madame.

It's the new 1943 model Point System Ration Book in technicolor. If the ladies think they had fun with the last book wait till they wrestle with this. We intended to have our book editor review it, but we found him disqualified. He had just swapped "Van Loon's Lives" for nine cans of tomatoes and was offering anything in the library for a dozen bottles of catsup.

So we'll have to review it briefly. It's a snappy fast moving thing in old blue, the action revolving around 48 coupons of various values ranging from one point to eight. (And no point for goal after touchdowns.)

On the old book you could win only on a knockout, but with this one you can win or lose on points.

It's going to complicate life for people who can't count. You can bring along a public accountant but remember, he can't have mustard or jam.

The corner delicatessen store is going to be a fine place to brush up on your arithmetic. Shopping for groceries wasn't so bad before but from now on it's strictly an upper brackets routine.

SONG ABOUT MEAT

The OPA, the OPA—
It has so very much to say:
It sets up ceilings most confusing—
And does it just to be amusing!

It sets, with forms and rules galore,
A price on beefsteak at the store;
But with the farmer there's no roof
On what he gets "upon the hoof."

He gets more money for the cow
Than what the dressed-meat rules allow;
Oh, how I love the OPA,
It makes me more confused each day!

Private Purkey Is Lonely.

Dear Harriet: Just a quickie to let you know I am okay. But it seemed kind of lonesome here in Africa on account of there is just the army around. No presidents or prime ministers has been here in over two weeks now. There was a report last night a prime minister had been sighted off the coast flying low, but nothing came of it.

Also a rumor that four White House officials had been spotted in the stratosphere between Dakar and here was false. I will write you a long letter tonight.

Love,

Oscar.

P.S.—Things look better over here. The French generals almost trust each other now.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS

"Oh, well!" shouted Il Duce,
"An Empire is here today and gone tomorrow."
—E. ROELOFS JR.

"This war will be won by him who is able to hold out for one quarter of an hour longer than his enemy."
—Benito Mussolini.

But it's later than you think, mister.

"A loafer is a person assigned to a needless job."
—Mr. Jeffers.
My eye! You ought to see some of the fellows assigned to wholly essential duties, Bill.

NO HOPE

No Rum! plan can get by us—
Of that there is no fear;
We'd never stand for any plan
That is so crystal clear!

COPPER SCREENS

Question: How can I care for my copper screens to prevent dark streaks from running down on the window sills? How can I prepare them for storing during the winter?

Answer: Clean the screens by scrubbing with scouring powder and a stiff fiber brush. Then rinse with clear water and allow to dry. Wipe with benzine (being very careful about fire), and then apply a coat of two parts good quality spar varnish and one part each of linseed oil and turpentine. Or you could use a special thin kind of varnish that can be wiped on. When dry, lay the screens flat in a dry place and cover with newspaper. Screen enamel can be used in place of the varnish.

Rusty Nailheads

Question: Flat-headed nails on the boards under the eaves of my house have rusted badly and show through the paint. How can I prevent this from happening the next time I paint? Would touching them up with red lead help?

Answer: Yes, but they should be sanded first to remove the rust. Or you could touch them up with shellac. If it is at all possible, better results will be obtained by driving the nailheads slightly below the surface of the wood. The space thus created then is filled with putty and paint applied over it. A nail set is handy for this.

Upholstery at Home

Question: I should like to do over some of my upholstered furniture myself, and think I could do a good job if I had some directions. Are there any booklets that I could get?

Answer: The New York State College of Home Economics at Cornell university will send you on request Extension Bulletin No. 295, "Refinishing Old Furniture," by Florence E. Wright, (June, 1934) and Extension Bulletin No. 293, "Reconditioning Furniture," by the same author (April, 1933). I believe these will be sent free to residents of New York state. There may be a small charge for non-residents.

Black Incrustations on Silver

Question: How can I clean off the black incrustations from my silver that silver polish does not remove?

Answer: That black corrosion is practically impossible to remove at home. Ordinary tarnishing can be taken off with polish, and sometimes with a hot water and washing soda solution in an aluminum pan. But the black corrosion should be removed by a silversmith, who probably will not make an excessive charge.

Unfinished Bookcase

Question: I have an unfinished bookcase on which I should like to get a wax birch color effect. How can I do this?

Answer: Use what is known as a penetrating wax finish; it comes in light, natural and other wood colors. The better stocked paint stores sell it. Or give the wood a coat of thin white shellac, and then finish with two coats of paste wax.

Storing Furniture

Question: I intend to store some pieces of furniture in the attic, which is not insulated. What precautions should I take against summer heat and winter cold?

Answer: After cleaning the furniture, polish with a paste wax. Cover the pieces with a heavy kraft paper. If the finish on the furniture is of a good quality, heat and cold should not damage it.

Fireproofing Beams

Question: Do you know of any fireproof material I can put on the beams in the basement above the furnace?

Answer: Dealers in asbestos products sell a wallboard material composed of cement and asbestos which you can apply on the basement ceiling. Building material dealers in your community should be able to get the board for you.

Smoking Fireplace

Question: Why does our wood-burning fireplace smoke? Our furnace is connected to the same chimney as the fireplace. Could this be the cause?

Answer: If furnace and fireplace are connected to the same flue, that is undoubtedly the cause.

Fireplace Coal

Question: We have just bought a coal grate for our fireplace. What size anthracite should we burn in it?

Answer: Use nut size.

THAT NEWSPRINT CUT

The printing industry has been advised by the paper chief of the War Production Board, B. G. Wakeman, to prepare for another ten per cent cut in printing papers, including newsprint, about April first.

That again means more difficulty for the American newspaper to meet costs without vastly increasing the cost of reading the news and of advertising.

One of the greatest wastes of paper is in the government itself with its many bureaus sending out countless thousands of tons of publications of all kinds, some of value, but many of them only for the waste baskets of the land. Some steps have been taken to curtail this but such steps are only on the fringes of the great waste that is occurring.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Many of the women of the Women's Auxiliary Army Corps are already overseas serving in various capacities to help win the war. The WAACs go through a strenuous training to fit them for the arduous duties they must perform.

A uniform for a WAAC, complete, costs approximately $170.00. The quartermaster's department must provide thousands of them. Your purchase of War Bonds helps pay for these uniforms. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every payday through a Payroll Savings plan at your office or factory.

POINT RATION EFFECTIVE MARCH 1st

Rationing of commercially canned, bottled and frozen fruits and vegetables, including juices, all soups, and dried fruits, under the point system will begin Monday, March 1 it was announced by Mr. W. Gallacher, chairman of the local War Price and Rationing Board.

Retail sales of the foods to be rationed will be suspended as of midnight Saturday, Feb 2, and registration of the civilian population for War Rationing Book Two will be conducted during the six days beginning Monday, Feb 22nd

The first ration period will cover the month of March. Each holder of War Board Book Two, except those possessing more than the allowable maximum of five cans, will have 48 points to "spend" for the rationed foods when retail selling resumes on Monday, March 1

These 48 points will be represented by blue stamps bearing the serial letters "A," "B" and "C" This gives each person 8-point stamps, 3 5-point stamps, three 2-point stamps and three like horses. These three things are his hobbies. Mr. Slaughter is expecting his wife and seventeen year old son, who is a senior in high school, to arrive here the first week of February. His daughter is teaching in Arkansas.

Post Office Department Order No. 19687 requires that no copies of newspapers may be mailed to a person serving in the armed forces outside the continental United States unless such newspapers are mailed by a publisher to a soldier, who is a bona-fide subscriber, therefore, it will be necessary for you to place the following inscription on each copy which you may mail to a member of our armed forces serving outside the continental United States: "Mailed in conformity with P. O. D. order No. 19687. Herman E. Kelt, Postmaster."

BANKS AND THE WAR

Live Without And Like It!

This is the meaning of total war—that the home front and the fighting front pull together. It is not enough that men fight, and give their lives. This will be in vain unless the millions of Americans at home fight and give them. Would you jeopardize victory for a cup of coffee and another lump of sugar, for a tire and another gallon of gas? Would you want to hear again from some far-flung military outpost the words of defeat, "Too little and too late"? Or are you willing to drive less, drink less, eat less of certain foods, in the sure knowledge that we can achieve total victory only through total war?

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Judge, I didn't realize till the other night when I ran across an article in the paper what a whale of a lot of industrial alcohol the government needs for the war."
"I should say it does, Chet. I understand the beverage distillers around the country are producing about 240,000,000 gallons of industrial alcohol this year for ammunition, tires, and other things. I'd say it's mighty fortunate these distilleries are available to do the job. Otherwise, if we still had prohibition, the government would have had to spend millions of dollars and use up a lot of critical materials to build plants...to say nothing of all the time it would take. It might have been just another case of 'too little, too late'."

Save Tin To Win

Sometime this month the ration point system will begin to operate. The general public will make smaller purchases in canned foods. Make every moment count for our tin salvage program. Tin is a vital material for war needs. Much of our war machinery depend upon tin. There is no substitute. Plans are being formulated for shipment of tin cans out of New Mexico. It is your job to save tin cans and have them ready when the collection program starts. "SAVE TIN TO WIN"

THE GOAT THAT HIDES IN A CAVE

Malta is a little rocky island in the Mediterranean Sea not so very far from Italy. It is the most bombed place in all the world because the Axis seeks desperately to wrest it from England.

There are farmers in Malta, as there are farmers in America. They lead a dangerous life; work when they can and hide when they must. Even the goats have learned to scamper for the caves when the planes are overhead.

We who are free and independent farmers—how would we like to live and work with such terrible odds against us? That is why, as we sell our crops and milk and eggs, we must buy Bonds. We must buy Bonds to the full limit of our ability.

There is another very good reason for buying Bonds, aside from helping to win this war. They are a real investment backed by the strongest government in the world. They return a third more than you pay for them in ten years. They never depreciate in value. And you can always cash them after sixty days if you need the money. Buy Bonds now... keep on buying—from your bank or post office.

JESUS RESTORES LAZARUS TO LIFE

LESSON TEXT—John 11:32-35, 38-44.
GOLDEN TEXT—"I am the resurrection, and the life."—John 11:25.

Suffering, sorrow and bereavement are so common in our day that this lesson is peculiarly appropriate. Life, even to the Christian, finds its full measure of things which hurt and grieve. Many ask: "Why must I, a follower of Christ, bear such burdens?"

The answer is, that while the believer is not "of the world," he is "in the world," and here he must meet the problems of life, including the evils to which the flesh is heir because of sin. The fact that Jesus is our Friend and our Saviour does not exempt us from human sorrow, but it does assure us of the needed grace to bear the trial and makes us ready to trust Him even in life's darkest hour.

Lazarus, the friend of Jesus, was sick. The home in which Jesus had found rest and fellowship was in deep trouble. Jesus was no longer in Judea. In haste, word was sent to Him of His friend's illness. But He did not come.

Why does He delay? Such is the heart-cry of thousands today who call on Him in their hour of trouble. The purposes of God we cannot fully understand. We need only to trust Him and abide His time.

Notice that His failure to respond at once to the message of Lazarus' sisters did not mean that He had deserted them (John 11:4-9). Nor did it mean that He had denied them His help (v. 7).

Above all, note that He came. He always does. Jesus has never failed any child of His. The time and the manner of His answer to our prayers may not conform to our opinion of what should have been done; but let us remember that we know only in part. He knows all. Let us trust Him. Job, in his darkest hour, said: "Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him" (Job 13:15).

The steps from sorrow to victorious joy in this story are three in number.

I. Death and Tears (vv. 32-25). By the time Jesus came, Lazarus was dead and his family and friends could only weep as they said: "If thou hadst been here—" Try as we may to temper its cruel blow, the fact remains that death is the enemy of man. It came into the world as the result of sin (Rom. 8:12), and only in Christ is it "swallowed up in victory" (I Cor. 15:54). Until the glorious day of Christ's returning, when the redemption of the body will be complete (Rom. 8:23), death will continue to bring sorrow to the heart and tears to the eyes.

But let us not fail to notice that as the friends of Jesus, we do not sorrow alone. "Jesus wept" (v. 35) with Martha and Mary. We know that He weeps with us in our trying hour. He is the "friend that sticketh closer than a brother." He is the one who gives grace to meet the deepest sorrow, and to bear it with grace because of His tender fellowship.

II. Faith and Hope (vv. 38-40). "If thou wouldst believe, thou shouldst see the glory of God," said Jesus to Martha. She must look beyond the evident fact of the deadness of her brother and see God's glory in his resurrection. Thus faith assures us that those who believe in Christ have more than the comfort of His sympathizing presence—they have a sure hope (read I Thess. 4:14-18).

Sorrow and unbelief would becloud our faith and thus rob us of our hope. Martha needed to have her faith stimulated by the gracious words of the Lord; and then she triumphantly put her hope in Him, the Christ of God. Once we recognize Him as God, we have no hesitation in believing in His miraculous power.

III. Christ and Resurrection (vv. 41-44). Majestic and authoritative are the words of Christ, "I am the resurrection and the life" (v. 25). He it was who gave life, for was He not "in the beginning with God"? And is it not said of Him, that "all things were made by him" (John 1:2, 3)? Paul tells us that "by him all things consist" (Col. 1:17). He is the only one who could say: "I lay down my life . . . I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it up again" (John 10:17, 18).

So it can rightly be said that if we have Christ we have everything—both in this world and in the world to come. But if we do not have Christ, we have nothing; we are without God and without hope. "He that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live" (v. 25) is the promise of Christ to us. Let us believe it.

The resurrection power of Christ is at work in the world today raising the spiritually dead to newness of life in Him.

May we see many such a Lazarus called forth—loosed from the grave clothes of sin and set free.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

In Zambou, Africa, carts used by the natives have tires made of elephant hide, which serves the purpose of rubber.

In Bulgaria native paint pictures of their enemies on their tires so they can be regularly splattered with mud, as a gesture of contempt!

Cars and trucks for transportation account for 85 per cent of the Army's rubber requirements.

Cord tire construction, the type common today, first made rapid inroads on the cord-woven fabric tire in 1915. Low pressure balloon tires made their appearance in 1924.

Cryptogel is a new word for the rubber latex. To Floridians it is the technical name for the Marston morning glory, which has been recognized as one of the most promising rubber-producing plants.

First Clothes.
YES! These are clothes you can make of flannelette for the little stranger yourself. We've kept them very simple so that even if you haven't sewn much before you can make these. Bonnet, sacque, wrapper, sleeper and bunting are in one size only—but that size is big enough for a baby of any age up to six months.

Pattern No. 8324 includes 3 pieces, in one size only, for infants to six months. Bonnets, sacque, wrapper, sleeper, and bunting require 5 1/2 yards 36 or 38-inch material, 6 1/2 yards ribbon binding.

Plenty of Variety.
YOU'LL be tempted to make dickies in several colors to wear with this smart jacket suit. If you do you will find that the one suit will seem different every time you change dickies. The simple, comfortable lines of both jacket and skirt are ever so becoming.

Pattern No. 8341 is in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20; 40 and 42. Size 14, with short sleeves, takes 3 1/4 yards 36-inch material. Send your order to:

ON THE HOME FRONT with RUTH WYETH SPEARS

SO MANY readers have written me to ask what could be made from old phonograph cabinets, and it is only recently that we have found a really satisfactory answer. This smart reading stand with deep-green-leatherette top has good proportions and is made from an old oak cabinet rubbed down with sandpaper and then waxed. In the next article we will show how the lid of the old cabinet was used.

The new top of the reading stand is made of old lumber and the cover is tacked in place with brass tacks to match the knobs of the doors. The old sound box at the top now houses a small radio and the old record compartment keeps current magazines neatly separated.

NOTE: Today's article is one of more than 20 conservation ideas in the new BOOK 9, of the series of home-making booklets available to readers. Directions

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

If you've spotted a little leak in the roof, get after it immediately. If water is beginning to seep into the cellar through a crack in the cellar wall, don't put it off until some future time. If you have noticed a brick that's beginning to work loose on the chimney, look up the stone mason's telephone number, and don't let it stop there, either; get him on the phone.

If the string for tying packages for mailing is dampened before using, it will stay in place because it shrinks as it dries. Excelsior is excellent for packing glass or chinaware if it is dampened as it clings closer to articles.

A varnished surface which has turned white from water or hot dishes may be restored by rubbing it lightly with a piece of flannel dampened with spirits of camphor or essence of peppermint, followed after a few minutes by an application of furniture polish. A drop or two of ammonia on a damp cloth may be used in place of camphor or peppermint.

To slip a cactus, break off slips at the joints. Break off three or four, as they do not always root, and stick them in fine sand. Keep them wet and in a warm place and they will root in about three weeks. These will make nice gifts for your flower-loving friends.

Lemon juice, salt and strong sunlight are cures for stains on white materials.

When making pastry, use pastry flour made from winter wheat, as it makes pastry more tender than bread flour.

When knitting, don't leave your work in the middle of the row—this tends to leave holes in the work.

Your lipstick will stay put much longer if you pat a little face powder over your lips before applying it for a firm foundation.

FAMOUS NO-SUGAR ALL-BRAN MUFFINS EASY! DELICIOUS!

They really are the most delicious muffins that ever melted a pat of butter! Made with crisp, toasted almonds of Kellogg's All-Bran, they have a texture and flavor that have made them famous all over America.

Kellogg's All-Bran Muffins

2 tablespoons shortening	1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup corn syrup	1 cup flour
1 egg	1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran	2 1/4 teaspoons baking powder

Cream shortening and corn syrup thoroughly; add egg and beat well. Stir in All-Bran and milk; let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Sift flour with salt and baking powder; add to first mixture and stir only until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) about 30 minutes. Yield: 8 large muffins, 3 inches in diameter, or 12 small muffins, 2 1/4 inches in diameter.

TO END THE HOLC

It is evident that the end of the HOLC—Home Owners Loan Corporation—is near, as it should be. Although Congress has evidently intended to have ended that federal body long before this, it has hung on and on and made renewed demands for money for its operations.

Now a Republican-sponsored move in Congress has been approved by the House cutting almost four millions from the HOLC operating funds.

It was maintained that the country's financial institutions could easily take care of the loans and that this move would hasten the liquidation of the HOLC.

And the sooner the better.
—Roswell Record.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Down in the Solomons and on the African coasts the Crocodile Boat or tank lighter played a most important role in landing our invasion armies. These self-propelled, light . . . fast boats haul tanks, artillery and other equipment from the big ships off-shore to the beach heads.

We need more and more of them, for they are essential to the successful operation of the war. They are made in several sizes from small fifty-footers, costing about $2,400 to the big 500-tonners costing around $37,000. Your purchase of War Bonds every payday will help pay for them.
