Swiped Page of Roman History

(The Harding County Republican Committee has issued the following statement in the Roy Record, It is interesting—Read It.)

Franklin D. Roosevelt took a page from Roman history when he created his various alphabetical agencies. During the later days of the Republic the small Roman farmers became indebted to the nobility and the money lenders. A great many not only lost all of their property but were even sold into slavery to satisfy their debts.

This condition was brought about by the endless wars waged by the Roman state, and the conquest of vast territories outside of their own country. The Roman farmer, as a Roman citizen, had to serve in the Roman army. Large numbers of them were either killed or wounded—pushing the boundaries of the Roman state to the uttermost ends of the known world and were only released from army service when too old, too feeble or too incapacitated by wound or disease to serve longer. Their pay was very low and the taxes on their small farms were very high to meet the enormous expenses of the conquest.

Large numbers of small places were not farmed. Great numbers of captives were taken, brought to Rome and sold as slaves to large land owners and other wealthy people. The ruling classes became very wealthy through plunder acquired from subject people and from farming the taxes as St. Matthew did before he became a disciple. That is, they would pay the Roman state a fixed plan for the privilege of collecting the taxes in a certain district. All above the government payment was velvet and the profits were enormous. Rome was in a deplorable state; the common people had lost their land and other possessions. The dispossessed flocked to Rome and the politicians bid for their support and vote with free shows and bread. The doles became larger and the shows more gorgeous as politicians bid against politician. The Roman citizen no longer served in the army but left that manial duty to the barbarians. The government became corrupt until the bubble burst and the Roman Republic no longer existed. Julius Caesar and the Roman Emperors took over. The poor became poorer and the rich richer. Great was the Roman state.

In 1882 the United States was at the bottom of the depression. Roosevelt bid for the votes of the poor with promises of public assistance (dole) for the well-to-do by promises to reduce government expenditure by 25 per cent and so reduce taxes.

For the farmer by paying him not to produce; labor higher wages and shorter hours; the debtor by lowering the value of the dollar and raising commodity prices and reducing the interest rate.

But it was only the old Roman game of buying votes. Labor against capital; the poor against the rich—the farmer against the city people.

Very Commendable Undertaking

The Stitch & Chatter Club has had the names of all boys in the service from Carrizozo printed and will arrange them in suitable form in a plaque to their memory. That move on the part of the club is certainly commendable and the ladies are to be congratulated on the undertaking. It means work and expense to carry out such a patriotic endeavor, but the club is ready and willing to do its part in everything. The arrangement of the names and adjusting them to the plaque was the work of different committees appointed for that expressed purpose. See the names on page 5, where we have published them as our courtesy to the cause.

M. U. Entertains: Mid-Night Visitor

As M. U. Finley had slept and shall we say, snored, for a short while, last Sunday night, M. U. awakened by a queer noise on his front porch. On opening the door he encountered a large porcupine, which was making desperate efforts to scratch a hole in the floor of the porch. At first he refused to go away, but finally strolled to the front gate and bid M. U. adieu. Funny, isn't it, how a big porcupine will pick on little fellow like M. U.

NEW! "BACTERIOSTATIC" FEMININE HYGIENE

now finding great favor among women...

Many doctors urge the regular use of douches for women who want to be refreshingly clean — for women troubled by offending odor, itching or discharge.

Some products may be harmful germicides which burn, harden and damage sensitive tissues. But NOT Lydia E. Pinkham's Sensitive Wash. Instead—Pinkham's Sensitive Wash is an effective "bacteriostatic" (a new modern trend).

It not only discourages growth of the more vulnerable bacteria but cleanses, deodorizes, relieves minor irritations and discharges. Despite its sweet strength—Pinkham's Sensitive Wash has a beneficial effect on delicate membranes. Inexpensive!

Farm War News
Sales at the San Angelo Ram Sale, the best barometer of the seventh annual New Mexico Ram Sale, indicate that New Mexico sheepmen are going to pick up some fine bargains according to Ivan Watson, manager of the sale.

More than 6,000 New Mexico residents secured 11,902,000 board feet of timber, valued at $17,116 free of charge from the state's national forests last year.

Some of this erosion preceded the coming of the white man, but old timers say that more than half of the gullying has taken place since 1904. However, ranchers cooperating with the Canadian River Soil Conservation District are not sitting idly while erosion gnaws into their lands.

American farmers and ranchmen, who have a way of making "miracles" the rule, are apparently heading toward their eighth straight year of record-breaking production. Analysts who do a mean job of prognosticating, estimate that the 1944 food production will be 38 per cent above the 1935-39 pre-war average, which the 1943 record production exceeded by 32 per cent.

Number of sheep on U. S. farms is expected to be nearly 2 million less on January 1, 1945, than a year earlier—about 50 million—and somewhat less than the 1933-42 average. The decreased number of sheep next year will not affect the total meat picture very much, because lamb and mutton account for less than 5 per cent of our total meat supply.

School Opening Set
School will open on August 21, 1944.
All high school pupils that have not attended here before should have a complete transcript sent to the superintendent of school before opening date to be able to get classified without delay.

Book cards and report cards are necessary for each pupil to present at the beginning of school. Birth certificates should be presented by all pupils that enter school this year for their first time.
L. Z. Manire,
Supt. of Schools.

Mrs. Marshall Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Wilson, sons Sgt. Walton Wilson and Charles were visitors from the White Oaks and Ancho country Tuesday.

Press Comment
"We content ourselves in the assurance the Republicans have nominated for the presidency in this great crisis a man of high character, of demonstrated ability and of full understanding of the responsibility of his candidacy. John Bricker will be a good and useful running mate to Governor Dewey. . . . The Republicans did a creditable job in Chicago. If they do as well in the campaign they will win the support of many independents who frequently cast the deciding ballots." —Cleveland, Ohio, Plain-Dealer.

"Governor Dewey's rousing speech of acceptance last night must have sent every delegate away from the Convention with head high. The Republican nominee only touched on the issues which he will cover in the campaign, but he touched on them with so sure a hand, so directly and so searchingly that an assurance was provided of a real fighting campaign. Those who heard Governor Dewey last night heard a man with great gifts rise to the new level that opportunity and responsibility offered him." —New York Sun.

Planless Planners
NEVER TOO LATE
The War Labor Board finally corrected a more-than-slight contradiction among members of its staff.
At the very time last April, when one part of the WLB was declaring that Montgomery Ward & Company was a "war" business, another branch of the same agency declared in a little-publicized opinion that Sears, Roebuck & Company was not a "war" business.
To prevent this contradiction from embarrassing the New Deal, the WLB in Washington belatedly has called Sears, Roebuck & Company a "war" industry, too.

A MERE $250,000
Senator Alben W. Barkley says that the "difference between $15,000,000 and $15,250,000 is rather inconsequential" and, of course, Senator McKellar agrees with him. No wonder we can't get the truth about spending in Latin America as long as the New Deal is in power.

IT IS A STRONG TICKET. The Governor of New York and the Governor of Ohio, standing upon a sturdy platform, form an admirable team for the great task of freeing the American people from the bureaucratic bog of the New Deal. —Phil. Pa. Inquirer.

WE'RE MUDDLING ALONG
While our American boys are giving the enemy a brave and brilliant fight on every battle front around the world, here at home we are continuing to make a most miserable and deplorable failure of winning the war. Bureaucratic government is surely making a foul mess of things at present and many are hoping, as a local business man remarked this week, that "the country will soon be given back to the people." —Milton (Ore.) Eagle.

STILL "UNCO-ORDINATED"
Although Paul McNutt, head of the War Manpower Commission, has had more than two years in which to solve the manpower problem, it is evident in Washington that he and his thousands of political workers have not even tied in their activities with other bureaus.
When McNutt recently urged businessmen to employ furloughed servicemen for industrial and other work, the businessmen liked the idea. So did the servicemen.
But the General Accounting Office, another government agency, has labeled the practice as "incompatible and objectionable." As a result, Government agencies which claim manpower shortages and would like to hire veterans for short periods of time are stymied in their efforts.
