OUR TICKET.

The nomination of Mariano S. Otero as candidate for Delegate to Congress, vice Antonio Joseph, fills the slate, and the political decks are now cleared for action.

Lincoln County had no preferred candidate for Delegate, but every other county in the Territory had, and they pronounced his name—and Lincoln County joins in the whoop.

MARIANO S. OTERO,

When a man is endorsed, as Mr Otero has been, by those who know him best, his intimates and neighbors, coupled with his character, which, like an open book, has been read by all men, as a citizen, a Delegate in former years, and as a gentleman of honor in his record of life, what Republican can hesitate as to his line of duty, and we submit to many Democrats we wot of, that he, Mariano S. Otero, is more than the pees of the little buffoon who has served as jumping-jack in Congress for six years and until the public have gotten tired of the performance.

Let the Republicans of Lincoln County gird on their armor, and Joseph will be Republican meat. "Those who are not with us are against us." This year, above all others, every man is expected to do his duty. "Otero or Burst" should be the motto of every patriot. This is our slogan, our shibboleth, and success will surely be ours if we pull together, for Right is right since God is God,

And Right the day will win,
To doubt would be disloyalty,
To falter would be sin.

A CONUNDRUM ANSWERED.

The history of the past thirty years proves the Republican party the Nation's friend. Who can refuse being loyal the utmost to such a party? Not primarily because it is the Republican party, but because it is the People's party, having proven itself the people's best friend.

The last issue of the Liberty (I) Banner quotes the above from the LEADER of the 6th inst., and as a starter says: "The above is simply a general assertion, and to those not already convinced, proves nothing. How has the Republican party "proven itself the people's best friend?" or, for that matter, that it is the friend of the masses at all?" and then goes on with mouthings such as the richness of the rich and the poverty of the poor through Republican machinations.

The editor asks, "how has the Republican party proven itself the people's best friend, or, for that matter, that it is the friend of the masses at all?"

This conundrum is easily answered. It's very first act, as well as it's very latest, establishes one position. Before the war, when the lower house of Congress was controlled by the Republicans and the Senate by the Democrats, Galusha A. Grow, of Pa., presented and had passed through the House the Homestead Bill, but not a Democrat in the Senate, save and except Andy Johnson, endorsed or voted for it, and it was not until Jeff. Davis, Wigfall, and their compadres vacated their seats in the Senate that said Bill became a Law, and when the opportunity presented it was railroaded thro' by the Republicans and enthusiastically approved and signed by the first Republican President we ever had, Abraham Lincoln. It goes without saying that said law was the most benificent to the poor the masses, than any ever recorded upon our statute books.

Passing over it's friendship for the masses in legislating and fighting against slavery and in favor of Freedom, we come down to the action of the present Congress, which, without a voice or vote or help from the democrats, passed the Silver Bill, which raised the price of silver from 91 cents per oz. to $1.19 per oz., and the tariff bill, which, while it protects American capital enhances the value, the interests of American labor.

From days ante-dating those of Dives and Lazeras, and those on which "He who spake as never man spake," said, "the poor ye always have with ye," there have been rich and poor, and those conditions will exist while the world stands, and he is a bigot or fool who argues that legislation can stop them. All that can be done in that direction is to see that no special privileges shall be granted to the rich. The holder of money will always be privileged to invest it as he sees fit and upon it's workings the poor will always be interested.

We have always held that were chronic fault-finders to exhaust as much of their time and capacity in improving or trying to improve their condition as they do in ascertaining the rich they would the nearer approach the condition of the wealthy and remove themselves from [illegible]

As a rule these growlers are men who could never clutch a fleeting dollar yet are eternally besmirching their more fortunate neighbors as dishonest—who have no capacity to acquire wealth, yet presume though their ability would cope with the duties of Secretary of the Treasury. They remind us of the preacher who started out to reform the world. At the end of a year he concluded to confine himself to the United States.—Then he restricted his territory to Indiana, when he concluded that Jinkinsville was all he could handle, and encountered so much wickedness that he finally despaired of saving his own soul, and, eloping with a member of his choir has not been heard of since.

Yes, we repeat and challenge argumentative contradiction, that the Republican party is, and always has been the friend of the masses, of the down-trodden, of the poor.

What can thickly populated Europe with a population five times as great as the United States do against such a stretch of virgin soil?"

THE convention which nominated Joseph voted down a proposition to adopt the American Flag as emblematic of Territorial Democracy and chose instead the rooster. On being taunted with this low exhibit the Albuquerque Democrat says the convention would have chosen the Flag, had it not been that there was a law prohibiting it. The Democrat knows better. Congress passed a law making it an offense to deface the Flag with advertisements, but prohibiting it's political use—never. That's what it's for, and that's the use Republicans put it to. Politics signify the science of government. Sorry Banner signifies the [illegible] Government—Republicans love the old Flag more than they do roosters.

SORRY to announce that Jack Forsythe broke his arm in the S. [illegible] last Thursday;

When a man talks about the democratic party having fired on the flag, and having attempted to destroy the nation, and of the republican party having saved the union, he is either a fool or a knave, and most probably both.—Albuquerque Democrat.

Well, mayhaps we are either one or both for that's the way we talk. Let us see.

Prior to the war, and during the incumbency of Buchanan as President, the Harriet Lane, bearing the U. S. Flag and provisions for U. S. troops at Ft. Moultrie, was fired upon and under fire retreated. Senator Wigfall, of Texas, gloated over the disloyal act, and gave informal notice that the episode would be repeated.

Subsequently, when an effort was made to provision troops in the same harbor, and before war was declared, the Flag was fired upon and it's authority defied. Senator Wigfall was present and indulged in a shot.

Finally the inevitable came, and as parties were then formed, not a single Republican joined the Confederacy—hence the Republicans did not fire upon the Flag.

Then, during the war, and less than a year before it's collapse, the democrats in National Convention assembled, declared the war a failure.

Without legislation the boys in blue would have gone down, with will admit that Congress was Republican.

Then we come down later. Not a single Democratic legislature ratified one of the Constitutional Amendments.

Yes, as a political organization the Republicans fought under the Stripes and Stars—as a political organization the democracy did'nt. Could the rebel army have been purged of democrats there would not have been enough left of which to form an "awkward squad."

FIRE AT SAN PEDRO.

EDITOR LEADER—

About 2 o'clock last night (Sept 12th.,) the cry of "fire!" was given when it was discovered that the Keg House, a frame building, 20x40 ft., just east of U. S. Bar was all ablaze. In 30 minutes U. S. Bar was in same condition, and in less than an hour the whole row of buildings, as far down as Bell's store, was all on fire. By the energy of our citizens Mackel's goods were removed and building saved. A strong wind was blowing from the south-east all night. The fire was evidently the work of an incendiary.

Losses—Wm. Loftirick, wholesale and retail dealer in liquors, $1,500; M. Tinninluam, retail grocer, $5,800; John Bell, $200. Sundry cabins and contents, $500.

Yours, Faithfully,
ALEXANDER G. LANE.

The ideal magazine should be like the perfect dinner; seasonable, tempting satisfying, never heavy each course perfect in itself with dainty entrees and entremets to give zest and piquancy, the whole affording such pleasure and satisfaction that it leaves desire for a repetition of the feast. This is the case with DEMOREST'S FAMILY MAGAZINE for October, just received; when one has read it all thorough (and everyone who takes it up will do so) there is a desire to begin at the begining and enjoy it all over again.

The October number takes us visiting again this time to the palatial residence of Senator Hearst of California; and when one has looked thought the magnificent illustrations one feels quite at home "upstairs and downstairs and in my lady's chamber." The young folks will all be interested in "The Game of Golf for Ladies," which is quite new on this side of the water and old and young will read with interest and profit the curious facts about animals embodied in "Disguises in Animal Life," and soft-shell crab will be invested with a new interest after one has read about "The First Armor-Wearers." In fact every page is as good as it can be: Demorest's Family Magazine is the ideal magazine.

But this month there is a special Premiums. Not only is there is a host of handsome as well as useful articles offered including material for an elegant silk dress but ten more than liberal offered is made that if this generous list does not include the thing or things desired the prospective getter-up of a club may write to the publisher stating what would be liked better and special terms will be made for the coveted article. The offer is unprecedented anything from a paper of needles to the complete furniture of a house being obtainable without paying out a cent!

The effects of the increased value of silver is commencig to be felt in the mining camps of the southwest. At Kington, N. M. dumps are being sorted over and mineral that months ago could not be shipped at a profit, is now being sent forward to smelters. This is notably the case also at Tombstone, Arizona. Upon the other hand in numerous localities in the southwest managers of mines have permitted large ore bodies to remain unstoped in their mines because it did not average sufficiently in value to pay a profit over and and above the cost of extraction and treatment. These ore bodies frequently possess disirable elements, as for example manganese lime or iron. The work of extracting this ore, now rendered profitable by the enchanced value of silver, will also become importance factors in swelling the bullion output of New Mexico and Arizona for 1890. Numous mills that for years have remained idle, in their rust, are now being burnished up preparatory to dro pping their stamps. Other mills and concentrating pants are projected. We are pleased to note this revival of the silver industry in the southwest which is certain to increase by judicious national legislation.

WOMEN IN EUROPE.

Observations Made by an American Working-Woman in the Old World.

When we landed at Liverpool and went to the Adelphi Hotel our unsophisticated eyes were opened to an unusual extent to find all our wants attended to by women instead of men, as we had been accustomed to have in our own land. The white-capped maid—this term is applied to all ages—answered bells, brought up water, hot or cold, lunch, or whatever was required. We actually expected to have her bring up our luggage, but a male porter, fortunately, did this.

Our stay in Liverpool being very short, we had not much time for observation, but as we advanced every thing seemed to us very strange. Ice-water, that American luxury, is a thing rarely used by the English people, and such a thing as a man behind a bar is unheard of. Maids—selected, I was informed, for their beauty as much as any other consideration—attend the bar of every hotel; and, although we American women look upon this with peculiar feelings, in old England it is a custom, and the position is regarded as respectable as any other a woman may occupy in service. At the hotels there are no housekeepers in the sense we use the word. The first chambermaid takes most of the responsibilities of such a position, while the actual labor is shared by the under-chambermaids. The scrubbing, cleaning and dusting is done by housemaids.

Covent Garden market in London presents a panorama well worth seeing. Vegetables, fruit and flowers in abundance are disposed of with a great deal of noise and clatter, the venders being mostly women, who drive a bargain with a shrewdness unequaled elsewhere in the busy marts of London. Especially was this fact shown in their answers to some of the prying Yankees, whose inquisitiveness broke forth in "How much is this?" "Where is that raised?" "Do you sell by the pound or quart?" "What do you call this?"

A novel sight was about twenty-five women sitting in a semi-circle shelling peas. Inquiry elicited the fact that they received for this work a penny a quart of shelled peas, and when peas were plentiful they could make three pence a day.

Traveling in a railway car over the continent for a month would be a good school for the American who has not yet learned what to do with his legs and spreads them out on two or more seats in our American cars. The coaches here are divided into compartments about five feet wide, with two seats running the width of the car facing each other. Each seat holds six persons. The train, which crawls along at the rate of a mile a minute, quickly spies a vacancy, so at the next station it is filled if there is a passenger requiring it, and then you must sit, knee to knee, with your back to the wall, and no chance to stretch out and take things easy Yankee fashion.

All along the route we saw evidences of women's rights with a vengeance. Women stood shoulder to shoulder with men in the fields and gardens, binding grain, making hay, digging and picking. Finally we saw them yoked into the small carts that haul the produce about the streets. I am sure that at every stage of the journey the women of the expedition were more and more thankful that they were Americans.—Mrs. Leonora M. Barry, in Chicago News.

CRUEL CANNIBALS.

Ubanghi Savages Who Fatten Slaves for Culinary Purposes.

Fattening slaves in a park and feeding them up like animals destined for the table and then leading them to a shambles where they are slaughtered to be eaten, cut into pieces and shared out bit by bit among hungry cannibals—such is the practice which is permitted, according to M. Pondeca, a French explorer, in some of the French, Belgian, Portuguese and even British territories in Ubanghi. M. Pondeca was sent out three years ago by the French Government to discover the sources of the Niarguillon, and having returned after the successful accomplishment of his task he hastens to tell his countrymen all about the terrible things which he has seen in his travels.

The "fattening parks" or paddocks are, he says, to be seen in each village and contain men and women who have been taken in war. The poor wretches take their doom philosophically, and some of them to whom M. Pondeca offered freedom actually refused it. They eat, drink, dance and sing until the head "fetishman" comes round, accompanied by an orchestra of tom-tom and tin-kettle players, selects a sufficiently fat specimen, carries him or her to the market-place of the village, and splits his or her head with a hatchet or scythe-like knife. The eyes and tongue of the victim are given to the "boss" fetish and the rest of the body is divided among the anthropophagi.—N. Y. Sun.

—Severe discipline.—Western Undergraduate—"Don't you abominate college discipline? So unnecessarily severe, you know." Rasta a Undergraduate—"Yes, beastly! What are some of your rules?" Western Undergraduate—"Let me see. I can't remember but two of them just now. One is that a student shall burn the college buildings, and the other is that under no provocation shall a student shoot a professor."—Burlington Free Press.

Excellent Train Service

The present schedule of train service on A. T. & S. F. R. R. from New Mexico is an excellent one.

A fast express leaves El Paso, Deming and Silver City early each afternoon, making the run to Rincon, and from Wallace to La Junta, by daylight, arriving at Kansas City evening of second day, and Chicago morning of third day after day of departure. This train carries Pullman palace sleepers from El Paso to Kansas City, and Los Angeles to Chicago, with Pullman tourist sleepers Los Angeles-Kansas City in Cars direct connection at La Junta for Pueblo, Colorado Springs and Denver, and at Barstow for St. Louis via the Frisco Ry.

The train from San Francisco with palace sleepers to Kansas City and tourist sleepers to Chicago) leaves Albuquerque daily about noon, strikes darkness near Wagon Mound, arriving in Kansas City evening of next day, and in Chicago the following morning. An additional Pullman sleeper is attached at Las Vegas, running through without change to Denver via La Junta and Trinidad.

The Santa Fe Route aims by its fast time, fine equipment and reasonable rates, to merit the patronage of the traveling public.

Inquire of local agent, or write to C. T. Nicholson, G. P. & T. A., Topeka, Kans.

Free Reading Matter.

There are various schemes for supplying reading matter at a trifle above actual cost. What would you think if you could get good literature free?

Drop a postal to G. T. Nicholson, G. P. and T. A., A. T. & S. F. R. R. Co., Topeka, Kan., and ask for a copy of "To Mexico in Palace Car." You can also get some free copies of "A Search for Health Holiday," "Guide to Santa Fe Bay Region," "Las Vegas Hot Springs Guide," and folders relating to Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Important to Subscribers.

A Postmaster is required to give notice by letter or paper to the publisher when a subscriber does not take his paper from the office, and state the reason of its not being taken; and a neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publisher for the payment.

Any person who takes a paper from the post-office, whether directed to his name or that of another, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.

If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether it be taken from the office or not. The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them uncalled for is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

PRINTERS' INK.

A JOURNAL FOR ADVERTISERS.

Is issued on the first and fifteenth days of each month, and is the representative journal—the trade journal of American advertisers. It is taken by the intelligent advertising few, who, and what is their interest; try to write an advertisement; type to display one; what newspapers to use; how much money to spend—in fact, discourse on every point that stands of profitable discussion. Advertising is an art practiced by many but understood by few. The subscribers of PRINTERS' INK understand it, and their advice is based on an experience of more than twenty-five years in placing advertising contracts for some of the largest and most successful advertisers.

After Forty years' experience in the practice of Patent Law before the United States Patent Office, the Courts and Foreign countries, the publishers of this paper continue to prosecute American and foreign inventions, and to procure Patents in the United States, England, France, Germany and all other countries. Their charges are moderate, and their facilities are unsurpassed. Drawings and specifications prepared and filed in the shortest possible time. Communications strictly confidential. Address, MUNN & CO., Office of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, 361 Broadway, New York.

Have you a patentable invention? If so, you should have it protected. If you have made a sketch or model of your invention, we will examine it and tell you our opinion as to whether it is probably patentable. We make a specialty of the preparation of applications for patents, and of the prosecution of rejected cases. We have had thirty-five years' experience, and have prepared more than fifty thousand applications for patents in the United States and foreign countries. Our facilities are unsurpassed. Our charges are reasonable. Our work is done promptly. We advise as to the patentability of inventions without charge. We make preliminary examinations at the Patent Office. We furnish copies of patents. We attend to interferences before the Patent Office. We prosecute rejected cases. We obtain patents in all countries where patents are granted. We register trade-marks, and attend to the litigation of patent cases. Our clients are in every part of the United States, and in all foreign countries. Every patent obtained through us is noticed in the Scientific American. Send for a copy, free. Address, MUNN & CO., Office of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, 361 Broadway, New York. Have you anything to sell or exchange, or do you wish to buy anything not kept by dealers in your town? If so, you can probably find what you want, or dispose of your property, by inserting a small advertisement in the Business Opportunities column of the Scientific American. Terms, $1.00 a line. EXPERIENCES.

...Miller Depicts Life's Ups and Downs ...ong Tramps.

...ome two' experiences to relate in ...ing to engage' which set me even ...ughts in connection of disgusting Louesty ... Dishonesty among them. On ... morning, I was sitting in the dining-room at home when a poor fellow came up to the kitchen door and asked my wife for breakfast, stating that he was hungry, could get no work and was actually starving. I went out, however, to see what specimen of a beggar was there, and I found an intelligent-appearing young fellow, dressed tolerably well in clean, though threadbare, clothes. He assured me that he had tried in vain to secure work until he was heartily discouraged, and as a last resort was compelled to wound his pride by begging. "If you'll prove your willingness to work by sawing up that pile of stove wood, you can have breakfast," said I. "Well, I'll work," cheerfully responded the young man, as he threw off his coat and pushed a bucksaw with an alacrity born of hunger and desperation. I gave him a good breakfast—the best my table afforded. In conversation I found him bright. He was a book-keeper, he said. I took an interest in him and secured him a position in the Missouri Pacific freight office, after persuading a friend in charge to give him a trial. The young man proved one of the finest penmen in the office, and after a trial of three or four months at forty dollars a month he was given a fine position in an office with the same line in Arkansas. The other experience with a tramp was with a young fellow who had got down in the world, but came to this city from Leavenworth, Kan., with a letter of introduction he had formerly received from an acquaintance of mine there. He accosted me one cold winter's night and said he had been sleeping out for two nights and had not eaten any thing for two days. I gave him a meal ticket and paid his hotel bill for a week, and took him down to see the same man at the Missouri Pacific offices, which, I was inclined to believe, was becoming an asylum for unfortunate fellows who were gaining my sympathies. The manager didn't like the appearance of this young man, but he gave him a trial. The wages were not to be paid for a month

Dobbins' Electric Soap
THE BEST FAMILY SOAP IN THE WORLD.
It is Strictly Pure, Uniform in Quality,
THE original formula for which we paid $10,000 twenty years ago has never been modified or changed in the slightest. This soap is identical in quality to-day with that made twenty years ago.
It contains nothing that can injure the finest fabric. It makes the skin and bleaches white.
It washes flannels and blankets as no other soap in the world does—without shrinking—leaving them soft and white and like new.
READ THIS TWICE.
There is a great saving of time, of labor, of soap, of fuel, and of the fabric, when Dobbins' Electric Soap is used according to directions.
One trial will demonstrate its great merit. It will pay you to make that trial.
Like all best things, it is extensively imitated and counterfeited.
Beware of Imitations.
INSIST upon Dobbins' Electric. Don't take Diamond, Electro-Magic, Pitts (alpha) Electric, or any other brand, simply because it is cheap. They will ruin clothes, and are dear at any price. Ask for and take no other. Nearly every grocer from Maine to Mexico keeps it in stock. If yours hasn't it, he will order it from his nearest wholesale grocer.
DOBBINS' ELECTRIC
READ carefully the inside wrapper around each bar, and be careful to follow directions on each outside wrapper. You cannot afford to wait longer before trying for yourself this old, reliable, and truly wonderful
Dobbins' Electric Soap.

WOMEN IN EUROPE.

Observations Made by an American Working-Woman in the Old World.

When we landed at Liverpool and went to the Adelphi Hotel our unsophisticated eyes were opened to an unusual extent to find all our wants attended to by women instead of men, as we had been accustomed to have in our own land. The white-capped maid—this term is applied to all ages—answered bells, brought up water, hot or cold, lunch, or whatever was required. We actually expected to have her bring up our luggage, but a male porter, fortunately, did this.

Our stay in Liverpool being very short, we had not much time for observation, but as we advanced every thing seemed to us very strange. Ice-water, that American luxury, is a thing rarely used by the English people, and such a thing as a man behind a bar is unheard of. Maids—selected, I was informed, for their beauty as much as any other consideration—attend the bar of every hotel; and, although we American women look upon this with peculiar feelings, in old England it is a custom, and the position is regarded as respectable as any other a woman may occupy in service. At the hotels there are no housekeepers in the sense we use the word. The first chambermaid takes most of the responsibilities of such a position, while the actual labor is shared by the under-chambermaids. The scrubbing, cleaning and dusting is done by housemaids.

Covent Garden market in London presents a panorama well worth seeing. Vegetables, fruit and flowers in abundance are disposed of with a great deal of noise and clatter, the venders being mostly women, who drive a bargain with a shrewdness unequaled elsewhere in the busy marts of London. Especially was this fact shown in their answers to some of the prying Yankees, whose inquisitiveness broke forth in "How much is this?" "Where is that raised?" "Do you sell by the pound or quart?" "What do you call this?"

A novel sight was about twenty-five women sitting in a semi-circle shelling peas. Inquiry elicited the fact that they received for this work a penny a quart of shelled peas, and when peas were plentiful they could make three pence a day.

Traveling in a railway car over the continent for a month would be a good school for the American who has not yet learned what to do with his legs and spreads them out on two or more seats in our American car. The coaches here are divided into compartments about five feet wide, with two seats running the width of the car facing each other. Each seat holds [illegible] comfortably. The train is bowling along at the rate of a mile a minute, quickly spies a vacancy, so at the next station it is filled if there is a passenger requiring it, and then you must sit, knee to knee, with your back to the wall, and no chance to stretch out and take things easy Yankee fashion.

All along the route we saw evidences of women's rights with a vengeance. Women stood manfully side by side with men in the fields and gardens, binding grain, making hay, digging and picking. Finally we saw them yoked into the small carts that haul the produce about the streets. I am sure that at every stage of the journey the women of the expedition were more and more thankful that they were Americans.—Mrs. Leonora M. Barry, in Chicago News.

CRUEL CANNIBALS.

Ubanghi Savages Who Fatten Slaves for Culinary Purposes.

Fattening slaves in a park and feeding them up like animals destined for the table and then leading them to a shambles where they are slaughtered and eaten, cut into pieces and shared out by bits among hungry cannibals—such is the practice which is permitted, according to M. Fondere, a French explorer, in some of the French, Belgian, Portuguese and even British territories in Ubanghi. M. Fondere was sent out three years ago by the French Government to dive ver the sources of the Niarguillon, and having returned after the successful accomplishment of his task he hastens to tell his countrymen all about the terrible things which he has seen in his travels.

The "fattening parks" or paddocks are, he says, to be seen in each village and contain men and women who have been taken in war. The poor wretches take their doom philosophically, and some of them to whom M. Fondere offered freedom actually refused it. They eat, drink, dance and sing until the head "fetishman" comes round, accompanied by an orchestra of tom-tom and tin-kettle players, selects a sufficiently fat specimen, carries him or her to the market-place of the village, and splits his or her head with a hatchet or scythe-like knife. The eyes and tongue of the victim are given to the "boss" fetish and the rest of the body is divided among the anthropophagi.—N. Y. Sun.

—Severe discipline.—Western Undergraduate—"Don't you abominate college discipline? So unnecessarily severe, you know." Easte n Undergraduate—"Yes, beastly! What are some of your rules?" Western Undergraduate—"Let me see. I can't remember but two of them just now. One is that a student shall turn the lights out at ten, and the other is that under no provocation shall a student shake a policeman."—Burlington Free Press.

Excellent Train Service

The present schedule of train service on A. T. & S. F. R. R. from New Mexico is an excellent one.

A fast express leaves El Paso Deming and Silver City early each afternoon, making the run to Rincon, and from Wallace to La Junta, by daylight, arriving at Kansas City evening of second day, and Chicago morning of third day after day of departure. This train carries Pullman palace sleepers from El Paso to Kansas City, and Los Angeles to Chicago, with Pullman tourist sleepers Los Angeles Kansas City and Kansas City Chicago direct connection at La Junta for Pueblo, Colorado Springs and Denver, and at Barton for St. Louis via the Frisco Ry.

The train from San Francisco (with palace sleepers to Kansas City and tourist sleepers to Chicago) leaves Albuquerque daily at noon, strikes darkness near Wagon Mound, arriving in Kansas City evening of next day, and in Chicago the following morning. An additional Pullman sleeper is attached at Las Vegas, running through without change to Denver via La Junta and Trinidad.

The Santa Fe Route aims by its fast time, fine equipment and reliable rates, to merit the patronage of the traveling public.

Inquire of local agent, or write to G. T. Nicholson, G. P. & T. A., Topeka, Kans.

Free Reading Matter

There are various schemes for supplying reading matter at a trifle above actual cost. What would you think if you could get such literature free?

Drop a postal to G. T. Nicholson, G. P. and T. A., A. T. & S. F. R. R. Co., Topeka, Kans., and ask for a copy of "To Mexico by Palace Car." You can also procure free copies of "A Short Christmas Holiday," "Guide to Santa Fe Bay Region," "Las Vegas Hot Springs Guide," and folders relating to Texas, Old Mexico and Kansas.

Important to Subscribers.

A Postmaster is required to give notice by mail to the publisher when a subscriber does not take his paper from the office, and state the reason of its not being taken, and is neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publisher for the payment.

Any person who takes a paper from the postoffice, whether directed in his name or that of another, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the pay.

If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether it be taken from the office or not. Persons in the habit of taking papers from the postoffice, whether addressed to their names or others, or whether they subscribe or not, are responsible for the payment.

If the subscriber orders his paper to be stopped at a certain date and the publisher continues to send it, the subscriber is bound to pay for it if he takes it out of the office. The law proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the postoffice is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

Mr. Lex. "Why, Addie, you needn't cry about it! I only said Mrs. Allen was a very well-informed woman, and I wished you would follow her example."

Mrs. Lex. "Yes, and last week you said you wished I could make as fine a look as she'll be at Mrs. Allen—and she makes all her own clothes. But she has what I haven't."

Mr. Lex. "What is that?"

Mrs. Lex. "Well, she gets all of her information from the Magazine they take. I admit that she knows all that is going on, and is bright and entertaining in conversation; but I could do as well as she does if I had the same source of information. She lent me the last number of her Magazine lately, and I learned more in one hour's reading, about various social matters and the topics of the day, than I would pick up in a month by my occasional chats with friends. It certainly covers every topic of interest, from the news of the day down to the details of housekeeping; and everything is so beautifully illustrated, too. Every time Minnie goes over to the Allens' she comes back and teases me to get you to take Demorest's Family Magazine, as the stories are so good. Even the boys watch for it every month, as a place is found for them also in its pages; and Mr. Allen swears by it. It is really wonderful how it suits every member of the family!"

Mr. Lex. "After all, perhaps I had better send for a Specimen Copy; for, if it is anything like what you say it is, it will amuse and instruct the whole of us."

Mrs. Lex. "I see that W. Jennings Demorest, the publisher, 15 East 14th Street, New York, is offering to send a Specimen Copy for 10 cents, so we can't lose anything, as each number contains a 'Pattern Order,' entitling the holder to any Pattern she may choose, and in any size, which alone makes each copy worth 20 cents; and I just want a jacket pattern like Mrs. Allen's. The subscription price is only $1.00 a year; and I must say I can't see how they can publish so elegant a Magazine for so little money."

After Forty years' experience in the prosecution of claims and obtaining patents in the United States and foreign countries, the publishers of the Scientific American continue to act as solicitors for patents, caveats, trade marks, copyrights, assignments, and all cases arising in the Patent Office, or in the courts, promptly and carefully prosecuted. Terms reasonable. Preliminary advice free. Hand book about patents sent free on application.

Drawings and specifications prepared and filed in the shortest possible time. Models of inventions should be sent by express. Rejected cases, however hopeless, carefully examined, and opinion as to patentability frankly given without charge. Our extensive facilities for obtaining patents in Canada, England, France, Germany and all other countries are unsurpassed, and clients' interests are carefully guarded and promptly pushed.

Patents obtained through the Scientific American are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, which has the largest circulation and is the most influential newspaper devoted to mechanics, inventions, new discoveries, scientific progress and industrial enterprise published in the world.

Terms and specimen of the paper sent free. Address MUNN & CO., PUBLISHERS, 361 Broadway, New York.

TWO EXPERIENCES.

A St. Louis Police Captain Airs His Opinions About Tramps.

I have two experiences to relate in regard to tramps, which set me even on the question of discovering honesty and dishonesty among them. One morning I was sitting in the dining-room at home when a poor fellow came up to the kitchen door and asked my wife for breakfast, stating that he was hungry, could get no work and was actually starving. I went out, however, to see what specimen of a beggar was there, and I found an intelligent-appearing young fellow, dressed tolerably well in cleanish, though threadbare, clothes. He assured me that he had tried in vain to secure work until he was heartily discouraged, and as a last resort was compelled to wound his pride by begging. "If you'll prove your willingness to work up sawing up that pile of stove wood, you can have breakfast," said I. "Well, I'll work" cheerfully responded the young man, as he threw off his coat and pushed a buck saw with an alacrity born of hunger and desperation. I gave him a good breakfast—the best my table afforded. In conversation I found him bright. He was a book-keeper, he said. I took an interest in him and secured him a position in the Missouri Pacific offices, after persuading a friend in charge to give him a trial. The young man proved one of the finest penmen in the office, and after a trial of three or four months at forty dollars a month he was given a fine position in an office with the same line in Arkansas. The other experience with a tramp was with a young fellow who had got down in the world, but came to this city from Leavenworth, Kan., with a letter of introduction he had formerly received from an acquaintance of mine there. He accosted me one cold winter's night and said he had been sleeping out for two nights and had not eaten any thing for two days. I gave him a meal ticket and paid his hotel bill for a week, and took him down to see the same man at the Missouri Pacific offices, which, I was inclined to believe, was becoming an asylum for unfortunate fellows who were gaining my sympathies. The manager didn't like the appearance of this young man, but he gave him a trial. The wages were not to be paid for a month. The young man braced up and worked steady, and I stood good for his board in the meantime. One pay night he drew all his month's salary, and that was the last ever heard of him. He skipped. I was "in the soup" to the depth of fifty dollars for his bills. I wrote the men in Leavenworth, who had so highly recommended him to me for honesty, that I thought he ought to reimburse me. He replied that it was "my own look-out; he wasn't paying tramps' bills." I happened to hear that he was fishing after an important Government appointment at Washington. That was pie for me. I wrote him to pay that fifty dollars in thirty days, or I would nail him to the cross by getting a certain United States Senator, who was a stanch friend of mine, to fight him. Well, that fifty dollars came up smiling by the next mail. But the fact was I was not acquainted with the United States Senator alluded to, and wouldn't know him if I saw him—but the Leavenworth man wanted office, and I know I could scare him into doing what was nothing more than right.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Some of the Uses of Silk.

Silk is an agreeable and healthy material. Used in dress, it retains the electricity of our bodies; in the drapery of our rooms and furniture covers it reflects the sunbeams, giving them a quicker brilliancy, and it heightens colors with a charming light. It possesses an element of cheerfulness, of which the dull surfaces of wool and linen are destitute. It also promotes cleanliness, will not readily imbibe dirt, and does not harbor vermin as kindly as wool does. Its continually proving use by man accordingly, is beneficial in many ways. Grace and beauty, even, owe something to silk. You can not stiffen it like thick woolen or linen without destroying all its gloss and value. The more silk ribbons, therefore—the more silk kerchiefs and robes are used, instead of linen and wool—the more graceful becomes the outward aspect of mankind. A number of strange, grotesque fashions, originating in the use of linen, would never have been invented during the more general employment of silk. The fluttering of ribbons, the rustling and flowing skirts of silk, the silk kerchief loosely knotted round the neck, have materially contributed to make our costume more natural and pleasing to the eye.—N. Y. Ledger.

Something to Show.

Men are too ready to assume that women, as they say, know nothing about business. Some women are ignorant of such matters, it is true, but on the other hand some women have quite as much business capacity as their husbands.

"Do you mean to tell me, Mrs. Bliss," demanded Mr. Bliss, angrily, "that you gave a total stranger an order for ten dollars' worth of groceries at prices less than wholesale dealers can buy them, and paid him for the goods in advance? Didn't you have sense enough to see that it must be a swindle? Your money's gone then, and you've nothing to show for it."

"Why, yes, I have," said Mrs. Bliss, "I have his receipt for it."—Detroit Free Press.

Dobbins' Electric Soap

THE BEST FAMILY SOAP IN THE WORLD.

It is Strictly Pure. Uniform in Quality.

THE original formula for which we paid $100 twenty years ago has never been modified or changed in the slightest. This soup is identical in quality to-day with that made twenty years ago.

It contains nothing that can injure the finest fabric. It brightens colors and bleaches white.

It washes flannels and blankets as no other soap in the world does—without shrinking, leaving them soft and white and like new.

READ THIS TWICE.

THERE is a great saving of time, of labor, of soap, of fuel, and of the fabric, when Dobbins' Electric Soap is used according to directions.

ONE trial will demonstrate its great merit. It will pay you to make that trial.

LIKE all best things, it is extensively imitated and counterfeited.

Beware of Imitations.

INSIST upon Dobbins' Electric. Don't take Diamond, Electro-Magic, Pilla-delphia Electric, or any other fraud, simply because it is cheap. They will ruin clothes, and are dear at any price. Ask for and take no other. Nearly every grocer from Maine to Mexico keeps it in stock. If yours hasn't it, he will order from his nearest wholesale grocer.

READ carefully the inside wrapper around each bar, and be careful to follow directions on each outside wrapper. You cannot afford to wait longer before trying for yourself the old, reliable, and truly wonderful

Dobbins' Electric Soap.

MRS. JNO. A. WOODLAND is slowly recovering from her severe illness which has confined her to her home for some weeks past.

MISS ABBY F. HULL, Principal of the White Oaks Academy, arrived on Tuesday evening last.—Miss Hull is more than welcome and all the community join us in doing her honor.

We received a very pleasant call on Monday from Pago Otero. He informed us, that he had'nt returned to the Jicarillas for fun or health, but would let us know just what he did return for. "Well," we hope so.

CHAS. WEIDMAN, of Lincoln, spent a day in town this week, and paid us a very agreeable call. Mr. W. is the Alliance candidate for County Treasurer. A greater calamity could fall on our county than his election.

JAS. A. ALCOCK, late Superintendent of the Carrizozo Cattle Co., returned home Sunday night, after an absence of several months. Mr. Alcock is a true, noble hearted, genial gentleman, and his presence adds enjoyment to any party of which he is a member. His many friends give him a hearty welcome home.

MESSRS GRUMBLE AND PRICE started on a prospecting trip on the west side last Tuesday. Some good prospects off the Reservation have been found and located in that section and these gentlemen have gone to personally inspect the mineral resources of the locality and if satisfied of their value will doubtless be heard from in the near future. Both are experienced mining men and their judgment can be relied upon in investigating a hole in the ground where money is said to exist.

THE White Oaks Academy opened it's fall session on Thursday last, with a good attendance of students. Now, let all the citizens of Lincoln County unite in patronizing this, the only high school in the south-eastern portion of New Mexico. It offers superior advantages in education—climate and locality. The citizens of White Oaks will be found equal to those of any locality in giving a hearty welcome to all students of the school out of it's immediate vicinity by doing all in their power to make their sojourn here pleasant and agreeable.

LAST Saturday our streets were placarded with the announcement that on the evening of that day Hon. G. A. Richardson would address our people on the issues of the day. In response to the invitation Town Hall was half filled, the larger number present being Republicans. The gentleman's presence and demeanor were unexceptionable. He is not such an orator as was Brutus, indeed he is not what might be called a speaker at all, but he is a very good and pleasant talker.

He waded into the Republican party by saying that it gained it's prestige through it's opposition to the extension of slavery, but had not the courage of it's convictions as proven by the fact that no State Constitution since formulated protested against slavery, seeming to forget that by a stroke of his gifted pen, Abraham Lincoln, Republican President, eliminated slavery from our system of government, hence, "a bull against the comet" would have as much force as a protest against slavery in the Free America of to-day.

Mr. R. said but little else save that the local Democratic ticket was the best ever presented in Lincoln County.

The candidate for Council was followed by the candidate who got left two years ago, John Y. Hewitt, Esq., who spread himself on the proposed Constitution, denominating it's architects and champions as "thieves and scoundrels." The discharge of such intemperate language from the bowels of a temperate and temperance man paralyzed his auditors. We do not believe he meant it, as the words are too mean and brutally significant for him to honestly entertain and so indiscriminately hurl. He must have been suffering from a sour stomach.

Supposing the entertainment was over we here left, but learn that W. C. McDonald, Democratic candidate for Representative addressed the audience and stigmatized some of his opponents as "liars." Harsh words not only evidence anger but desperation, and what aggravates the democrat provokes good feeling in the Republican ranks. Most of them hereabouts squirm like decapitated centipedes in a populated ant-hill. We enjoy seeing them writhe. It is a good omen and augurs well.

THE White Mountains in Lincoln and Dona Ana Counties, on which, or along which the Mescalero-Apache Indian Reservation is located, has been well known for many years to be rich in the precious metals. A quarter of a century since much prospecting was done along the range and many locations were made and much ore was extracted, surreptitiously, and the prospectors were again and again ejected by the U. S. authorities, until a few years since a portion of the eastern side of the Reservation was thrown open to the public. Along the Rio Bonito and Negals a group of gold, silver and lead properties were located, some of which give evidence of having developed richly, among which may be mentioned the American, Helen Rea, Parsons, Cimmaron, &c. This includes what is known as a portion of the east side of the range.

Years since many claims were located within and without the Reservation line on the west side of the same range. The Mexicans found, in some instances, rich prospects, both in gold and silver.—Recently the hardships of those old prospectors have been forgotten by a few who were cognizant of the flattering prospects of former times and much prospecting in a quiet way has been carried on in that locality in that portion of the Reservation within the past few weeks. Parties from the vicinity of Tularosa have been quietly working on the old leads and it is said by those who have made personal examination that silver ore running from $2,000 to $15,000 has been found in large quantities.

The Agent of this Reservation, Col. Bennett, has caused these parties to come to grief within the past few days and it is reported that all such mining poachers have been ejected. That there is a very rich lead along the west side of the range is evident from personal inspection by the writer [Associate Editor of the LEADER,] and that very rich ore, in liberal quantities has been extracted is also evident. But the invasion by an army of prospectors on the Reservation will be met by the authority and power of the U. S. Government and the law will be fully enforced by Col. Bennett, the responsible Agent, so as to make this kind of prospecting lively to say the least, and more than likely will not pan out well for the miner. The time will come when this Reservation, or a portion of it, will be thrown open to the public for occupancy. The way will be open and the law will uphold the prospector in locating and maintaining his rights. But until that time the Reservation had better be left quietly under control of the proper authorities.

Republican Rally.

A meeting will be held at the Town Hall, on Monday, Monday, September 29th, at 7 o'clock, to ratify the nomination of Hon. M. S. OTERO as Delegate to Congress, and also to discuss the merits of the Constitution to be submitted to the vote of the people on the 7th of October. Messers Jewett, Hudson, Caffrey Timoney and others will address the meeting.

As this meeting is intended for a free and full discussion of the proposed Constitution, our Democratic friends are cordially invited to attend. Come one, come all.
