Messrs. Eddy and Tillotson having declined conferred candidacy at the hands of the late republican convention for legislative honors the committee authorized to fill vacancies have performed their duty and presented the name of Jas. A. Tomlinson for Councilman, and Cruz Gallegos for the lower house.

The appointments are apt ones. Tomlinson is probably better known in old Lincoln county than any man in it, and she never held a nobler, honester citizen. We knew him years before he came hither when he was book-keeper for us in Kansas and Nebraska, hence speak by the card. It is surreptitiously bruited about that on retiring from the Ft. Scott, Kansas, postoffice he was a defaulter. Having seen his clearance receipt we know the story to be one as groundless as any ever set on its travels. He has all the elements and requirments for the position, being competent, honest and faithful to duty. We hazard but little in predicting his election.

We have but little acquaintance with Mr. Gallegos. He is a native citizen and bears the reputation of being an active one, a clean cut representative of his race and people.

Now, brother republicans, all aboard the [illegible] and if there be no [illegible] will crown our every candidate on the 4th prox.

Shaken Out of Gear.

By malarial disease, the human machinery cannot half perform its office. Digestion, secretion, evacuation are disordered, the blood becomes watery, the nerves feeble, the countenance ghastly, sleep disturbed and appetite capricious. Terrible is this disease, fell its consequences. There is, however, a known antidote to this pernicious poison, and a certain safeguard against it. In malarious regions of our South and West, in South America, [illegible]

Is the Republican Party the People's Friend.

The Nogul Banner of Liberty(?) says, "No." Other aiders and abettors of the democratic party say "No." We say "Yes," and adduce the following in proof.

When the democratic party went out of power, March 4th, 1889, the commercial condition of this country was in a deplorable state. The party had gone into power four years previous on the war cry of "reform." The "reform" resulted in unsettling values by the lack of business capacity and the absence of the qualities of statesmanship—the failure to grasp the science of finance and abortive efforts at tariff tinkering, until the Nation was on the verge of financial and commercial disaster, that nearly two years of careful and skillful management has only barely averted. The silver dollar was worth only 70c., caused by the democracy's insane adhesion to a monometallic theory in the interests of Wall Street gold-bugs and capitalists always us against the producing classes for whom they profess a special and eternal friendship. Silver was worth about 88c. per oz., gold was scarce and insufficient to conduct the business of the country and that was in the hands of capitalists in the U. S. and Great Britain and for these, and these only, were the U. S., through their national officers under control of British gold and American capitalists and trust corporations paying a fearful tribute through the party in power.

The cries of the laboring classes rose up as of old "to the ears of Sabbooth," but found no response from the democratic heart, that was closed and it's ears open only cry of "gold, gold, more gold for the democratic reform party," while the country might go to the dogs and the laborer die of starvation and his prayer remain unheard, unanswered. Was the "surplus" in the National treasury, of which so much was said during the four years of democratic mis-government a mark of credit to the Bourbon party? No, on the other hand it was a discredit to them and a detriment to the various departments of our National Government. How? By withholding the appropriations essential for the well being of the Nation, and thus injuring it's most vital interests by crippling it in the Postal department where the interests of the people are all directly touched and easily damaged—by causing the judiciary to feel the need of well earned salaries and it's officers crippled in the discharge of their duties—by many such instances of a niggardly policy for political capital—that large amounts of money became necessary to be appropriated, necessarily, by the incoming administration before the needs of the country could be met and the wheels of governmental machinery could move to the necessities of the hour.

In contrast with this record of incompetency and misgovernment and callous indifference to the wants of the Nation and it's citizens, whose interests they had not only sworn to hold sacred but violated [illegible]

Look at the record of the Republicans since the present administration came into power. By a financial policy that defies just criticism, the prosperity of the country has never been more assured than to-day. Through it's response to the demands of the laboring classes every wish expressed to the House of Representatives of our National Congress over whose procedings "Brute Reed" presided. Yes, their every request has been granted—The democracy promised much while in power and patted the laboring classes on the back, saying "good fellows." The Republican House has talked and promised little but did all requested of it.—Silver has, in a measure, been remonitized, and it's value increased from 90c. per oz. to $1.10, and the silver dollar, which was such a fearful spectre to President Cleveland, has grown, by the good Republican diet given it, to be worth 90c. Foreign nations have shown their faith in the present administration, in it's capacity and integrity, such as they never before did since the establishment of our Government. Never before has so much foreign capital flowed into this country for investment as within the past few months. Coupled with it's practical policy, G't Britain declaims against the tariff, but has abiding faith in the Nation that unswervingly maintains it for the interests of it's citizenship.

Has the Silver Bill been a benefit and will it continue to be, such to the producing classes of this country? It is asserted by the representatives of the democracy who are, to a man, opposed to it, and who voted solidly against it, through their representatives in Congress, that it only puts money in the coffers of the speculators. Let us see! Maj. Brock, at the head of the Bureau of Statistics, in Washington, says that numerous inquiries are being made daily for statistics relative to the effects of the Silver Bill and it's influence in enhancing prices of our products. They come from all over the country but more particularly from the Western States—and from Missouri a greater number than any other single State—and from Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota and Dakota, than any other equal section of the U. S. While these inquiries cover all branches of business relating to our commerce with foreign nations, especially do they relate to the fluctuations in the prices of silver and the comparative prices of farm products With the rise and fall of silver bullion and the bullion value of the silver dollar, people are figuring up how much they have made out of this Silver Bill since it became a Law. Dunn & Co. report in a recent circular that there is an unprecedented volume of business now being transacted, which really reaches the dimensions of a boom. Maj. Brock also stated to a reporter that "it is singular that from the passage of the Bland Bill, Feb. 28th, '78, there has been a steady decline, not only in the bullion value of the silver dollar but in the leading farm products. In '78 the silver dollar's value was [illegible] in '88 it was 72c., in March, '89 it was 72c. For the same periods the export prices of wheat were $1.38, $1.24, $1.18, $1.06, 87c., 85c., 89c. Corn went down from 56c. to 47c.—Cotton from 11.1c., to 9.9c."

Since the present administration came in there has been a steady increase in the bullion value of the silver dollar and a corresponding increase in farm products.—The price of the silver dollar from March '89 up to Sept. '90, increased 20c., and silver bullion 26c per oz. The increase of the value of silver in the U. S., during the same period was $74,000,000 and a large value increase of farm productions. The average value of the wheat crop throughout the U. S. as given in the Agricultural Report for Dec. '89, 70c. per bushel; corn 28c.; oats 23c. There has been an advance since of 31½c. per bushel on wheat, 17c., on corn and 23c. on oats Mo. alone gain'd in her oat, wheat and corn crops, this year over that of last year as follows: on the value of her wheat crop an increase of $6,501,285; on her corn that of $37,202,070, and on oats that of $8,368,820, or a total increase for 1890 over 1889 of $52,072,555 on those three crops.

The Weekly Drovers' Journal, of Chicago, Sept. 4, '90, states that cattle (per 100 lb) were selling at 50c., and hogs from 30c. to 50c. per 100 lb higher than they sold a year ago. Apply this increase to the value of cattle and hogs, as given in the Agricultural Report of January 1890, and the aggregate increase in value of the cattle and hogs of Missouri alone, is $8,595,610 on the cattle and of $5,096,000 on the value of hogs. This gives to Missouri farmers an aggregate increase of $65,764,165 on the wheat, corn, oats, cattle and hogs. And this does not include many other productions the value of which has been and is being materially increased in value by this Silver Bill.

Take the five States of Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa. Applying the above rate of increase which has taken place from friendly legislation on silver and in other respects to their combined product of last year, as given in the Report of the Department of Agriculture, and there is an increase of $207,057,110 in the value of corn over the price quoted in Dec. '89, of $40,142,390 on wheat and $80,290,770 on oats an increase of $53,657,130 on cattle, and of $21,378,227 on hogs or a total gain in the five States of $402,435,593 on these five products of the farm. These five States produce 58 per cent. of the corn, 20 per cent. of the wheat, and 40 per cent. of the oats in the U. S. If this rate of increase is applied to the products of corn, wheat and oats in the U. S. the gain in price from Dec. 1, '89 to Sept. 1, '90, represents a value of $[illegible]85,477,490, and the gain on the other products of the farm would bring an increased value of over a billion of dollars.

And this is only a part of the evidence of the friendships of the Republican party for the people, and when this contrasted with equal convincing proof of the democratic party having always [illegible] ple in words and show, is still disposed to fleece and enslave them by compelling them to compete with the pauper labor of Europe and the peon labor of Mexico—by voting against the Silver Bill, and against the Tariff Bill, which protects the interests of the producing classes. What sane man can conclude that the Republican party is not the people's party and the people's friend.

HUMOROUS.

—Editor—"How was it you did not acknowledge the receipt of that check we sent you the other day?" Poet—"Because you neglected to inclose stamp."—Puck.

—Countryman—"Who are they putting that statue up for?" Citizen—"That's the statue of James Brown Smith." "Did he do any thing great or wise while he lived?" "Yes, he paid for that statue before he died."

—"I married for love, Dick, and I've had about enough of it! What did you marry for?" "Well, ye see, I'm an artist; I married Jenny for her figure." "That's only natural." "No, by George, 'twasn't natural! Mostly art."—Life.

—"Been on your vacation?" "No. Why?" "I saw you riding home in a hack the other day, and thought likely you had just returned." "Do you suppose I could have afforded to ride home in a hack if I had been on my vacation?"—Lowell Citizen.

—"Is there any thing that I can do for you?" asked the hotel clerk of a seedy-looking man. "Yes, sir, you can loan me five dollars." "But I'm not going to do it." "No, I didn't think you would. I merely wanted to answer your question."—Merchant Traveler.

—Husband—"And what leads you to think that Mr. Springday and our daughter are finally engaged to be married?" Wife—"Well, he doesn't come so often as he used to, and when he calls they most always have a quarrel and say mean things to each other."—Omaha World.

—John Loss (consulting a clairvoyant)—"My watch has been stolen, and I want information that will lead to its recovery." Clairvoyant—"Cross my palm with a silver dollar." (It is done and the clairvoyant falls into a trance.) "Your watch is in the pocket of a bad man. Find him; cause his arrest, and the timepiece will again be yours."—Jeweler's Weekly.

—In New York.—A number of enthusiastic men rush to the cell of a condemned criminal. "My dear sir!" exclaimed the leader of the party, "let us congratulate you!" The criminal was staggered with joyful emotion: "Am I pardoned?" he asked. "Oh, no." "Then why do you come to congratulate me?" "Because it has been demonstrated that our electric apparatus is sure death."—Arkansaw Traveler.

—It was a suit involving a claim of fraud in the sale of a cargo of coffee, and a melancholy man was in the witness box. "You have been summoned, Mr. Ollapod, to testify as an expert in this case, I think?" said the attorney. "Yes, sir." "You are a judge of coffee?" "I think I ought to be." "What is your occupation?" demanded the judge. "I am the proprietor of a railway eating house." "You can stand aside."—Chicago Times.

Jay Gould as an Author.

The great wizard of Wall street is so distinctly fixed in the public mind as a financier that few ever think of him as an author. But authorship was, in fact, his first vocation. When he was just beginning a business career, thirty years ago, and when he had barely attained his majority, he made a survey of his native county, and not only published a history of it but accompanied it with a supplementary map. His peregrinations with a wheelbarrow over its many crooked roads are still remembered, though the financial success of his enterprise was not by any means equal to that which followed afterwards. Yet his "History of Delaware County, N. Y.," now so scarce and difficult to procure, was a most creditable performance. It cost no little labor and was exceedingly well done. The county had a stirring history and was the scene of fierce Indian, anti-rent and Tory conflicts, all of which were faithfully and graphically related by Mr. Gould. The book, however, soon went out of his mind and, it is said, has been partially extinguished through his own efforts. Whenever a stray volume appears it commands a uniformly high price, a single copy selling at auction here once for $13. The book was dedicated to Hon. Amasa J. Parker, and a fine steel portrait of this eminent jurist precedes the title page.—N. Y. Letter.

The Physiological Ebb-Tide.

A tramp knows what it is to be leg-weary, a farm laborer to be body-weary, a literary man to be brain-weary, and a sorrowing man to be soul-weary. The sick are often weary of life itself. Weariness is generally a physiological "ebb-tide," which time and patience will convert into a "flow." It is never well to whip or spur a worn-out horse, except in the direst straits. If he mends his pace in obedience to the stimulus every step is a drop drawn from his life-blood. Idleness is not one of the faults of the present age; weariness is one of the commonest experiences. The checks that many a man draws on his physiological resources are innumerable, and, as these resources are strictly limited, like any other ordinary banking account, it is very easy to bring about a balance on the wrong side. Adequate rest is one kind of repayment to the bank, sound sleep is another, regular eating and good digestion another. One day's holiday in the week and one or two months in the year for those who work exceptionally hard usually bring ... balance to a ... physiological ... rapid and ... Ledger.

Excellent Train Service

The present schedule of train service on A. T. & S. F. R. R. from New Mexico is an excellent one.

A fast express leaves El Paso, Deming and Silver City early each afternoon, making the run to Rincon, and from Wallace to La Junta, by daylight, arriving at Kansas City evening of second day, and Chicago morning of third day after day of departure. This train carries Pullman palace sleepers from El Paso to Kansas City and Los Angeles to Chicago, with Pullman tourist sleepers Los Angeles to Kansas City making direct connection at La Junta for Pueblo, Colorado Springs and Denver, and at Burrton for St. Louis via the 'Frisco Ry.

The train from San Francisco with palace sleepers to Kansas City and tourist sleepers to Chicago) leaves Albuquerque daily about noon, strikes darkness near Wagon Mound, arriving in Kansas City evening of next day, and in Chicago the following morning. An additional Pullman sleeper is attached at Las Vegas, running through without change to Denver via La Junta and Trinidad.

The Santa Fe Route aims by its fast time, fine equipment and reasonable rates, to merit the patronage of the traveling public.

Free Reading Matter.

There are various schemes for supplying reading matter at a trifle above actual cost. What would you think if you could get good literature free?

Drop a postal to G. T. Nicholson, G. P. and T. A., A. T. & S. F. R. R. Co., Topeka, Kan., and ask for ... of "To Mexico by Palace Car." POST-OFFICE NAMES.

Odd Appellations Bestowed Upon Some Newly-Created Offices.

Naming a post-office is like naming a child—there is no accounting for the taste displayed in the name selected. Usually the post-office is named after the town, and when the town is started some enterprising citizen gets in his daisy work and the town is named after him. Others take their names from surroundings and often from incidents which happened when the site was first selected. Some are good, others bad; some long and some short, but there seems to be a general disregard of the proprieties in the selection of names. For instance, Happy Camp is the name of a newly-created post-office in California, and the probabilities are that the inhabitants are constantly fighting, and the only person who is happy is the undertaker, who is growing wealthy. Mountain View is more likely to be the name of a village at the bottom of a two-hundred-foot hill than to be near a mountain, while Marble Cliff is very remote from a marble quarry.

Passing events also help decide the names of places, and with the Johnstown horror fresh in the public mind many smaller towns will select that name to emphasize the establishment of the place.

Peace and Cain are two villages where post-offices have been established in Alabama, while Hat, Rye and Urbanity have been discontinued. Sassafras is the name of a spicy Arkansas village, while people who desire to go to a new postal station in Alaska will have to have their letters addressed to Belkofsky. California has a choice collection of new names. Bitter Water, Calabasa, Orcil and Simlopilis make a splendid quartette. Tourtelotte and Bovina are Colorado offices. Dakota, as becomes a newly-admitted State, is selecting names for its new offices from among those who advocated its admission, and is getting rid of its old Territorial names, reminiscent as they were with the names bestowed by cow-punchers whose idea of the ridiculous was very keen.

GRAND PREMIUM OFFER!

A SET OF THE

WORKS OF CHARLES DICKENS,

In Twelve Large Volumes,

Which we Offer with a Year's Subscription to This Paper for a Trifle More than Our Regular Subscription Price.

CHARLES DICKENS.

Wishing to largely increase the circulation of this paper during the next six months, we have made arrangements with a New York publishing house whereby we are enabled to offer as a premium to our subscribers a Set of the Works of Charles Dickens, in Twelve Large and Handsome Volumes, with a year's subscription to this paper, for a trifle more than our regular subscription price. Our great offer to subscribers eclipses any ever heretofore made. Charles Dickens was the greatest novelist who ever lived. No author before or since his time has won the fame that he achieved, and his works are even more popular to-day than during his lifetime. They abound in wit, humor, pathos, masterly delineation of character, vivid descriptions of places and incidents, thrilling and skillfully wrought plots. Each book is intensely interesting. No home should be without a set of these great and remarkable works. Not to have read them is to be far behind the age in which we live. The set of Dickens' works which we offer as a premium to our subscribers is handsomely printed from entirely new plates, with new type. The twelve volumes contain the following world-famous works, each one of which is published complete, unchanged, and absolutely unabridged:

DAVID COPPERFIELD,	BARNABY RUDGE AND CHRISTMAS STORIES,
MARTIN CHUZZLEWIT,	OLIVER TWIST AND GREAT EXPECTATIONS,
NICHOLAS NICKELBY,	THE OLD CURIOSITY SHOP AND THE UNCOMMERCIAL TRAVELER,
DOMBEY AND SON,	A TALE OF TWO CITIES, HARD TIMES AND THE MYSTERY OF EDWIN DROOD.
BLEAK HOUSE,
LITTLE DORRIT,
OUR MUTUAL FRIEND,
PICKWICK PAPERS,

The above are without question the most famous novels that were ever written. For a quarter of a century they have been celebrated in every book and corner of the civilized world. Yet there are thousands of homes in America not yet supplied with a set of Dickens, the usual high cost of the books preventing people in moderate circumstances from enjoying this luxury. But now, owing to the use of modern improved printing, folding and stitching machinery, the extremely low price of white paper, and the great competition in the book trade, we are enabled to offer to our subscribers and readers a set of Dickens' works at a price which all can afford to pay. Every home in the land may now be supplied with a set of the great author's works.

MEMORY

HUMOROUS.

—Editor—"How was it you did not acknowledge the receipt of that check we sent you the other day?" Poet—"Because you neglected to inclose stamp."—Puck.

—Countryman—"Who are they putting that statue up for?" Citizen—"That's the statue of James Brown Smith." "Did he do any thing great or wise while he lived?" "Yes, he paid for that statue before he died."

—"I married for love, Dick, and I've had about enough of it! What did you marry for?" "Well, ye see, I'm an artist; I married Jenny for her figure." "That's only natural." "No, by George, 'twasn't natural! Mostly art."—Life.

—"Been on your vacation?" "No. Why?" "I saw you riding home in a hack the other day, and thought likely you had just returned." "Do you suppose I could have afforded to ride home in a hack if I had been on my vacation?"—Lowell Citizen.

—"Is there any thing that I can do for you?" asked the hotel clerk of a seedy-looking man. "Yes, sir, you can loan me five dollars." "But I'm not going to do it." "No, I didn't think you would. I merely wanted to answer your question."—Merchant Traveler.

—Husband—"And what leads you to think that Mr. Springday and our daughter are finally engaged to be married?" Wife—"Well, he doesn't come so often as he used to, and when he calls they most always have a quarrel and say mean things to each other."—Omaha World.

—John Loss (consulting a clairvoyant)—"My watch has been stolen, and I want information that will lead to its recovery." Clairvoyant—"Cross my palm with a silver dollar." (It is done and the clairvoyant falls into a trance.) "Your watch is in the pocket of a bad man. Find him; cause his arrest, and the timepiece will again be yours."—Jeweler's Weekly.

—In New York.—A number of enthusiastic men rush to the cell of a condemned criminal. "My dear sir!" exclaimed the leader of the party, "let us congratulate you!" The criminal was staggered with joyful emotion. "Am I pardoned?" he asked. "Oh, no." "Then why do you come to congratulate me?" "Because it has been demonstrated that our electric apparatus is sure death."—Arkansaw Traveler.

—It was a suit involving a claim of fraud in the sale of a cargo of coffee, and a melancholy man was in the witness box. "You have been summoned, Mr. Ollapod, to testify as an expert in this case, I think?" said the attorney. "Yes, sir." "You are a judge of coffee?" "I think I ought to be." "What is your occupation?" demanded the judge. "I am the proprietor of a railway eating house." "You can stand aside."—Chicago Times.

Jay Gould as an Author.

The great wizard of Wall street is so distinctly fixed in the public mind as a financier that few ever think of him as an author. But authorship was, in fact, his first vocation. When he was just beginning a business career, thirty years ago, and when he had barely attained his majority, he made a survey of his native county, and not only published a history of it but accompanied it with a supplementary map. His peregrinations with a wheelbarrow over its many crooked roads are still remembered, though the financial success of his enterprise was not by any means equal to that which followed afterwards. Yet his "History of Delaware County, N. Y.," now so scarce and difficult to procure, was a most creditable performance. It cost no little labor and was exceedingly well done. The county had a stirring history and was the scene of fierce Indian, anti-rent and Tory conflicts, all of which were faithfully and graphically related by Mr. Gould. The book, however, soon went out of his mind and, it is said, has been partially extinguished through his own efforts. Whenever a stray volume appears it commands a uniformly high price, a single copy selling at auction here once for $[illegible]. The book was dedicated to Hon. Amasa J. Parker, and a fine steel portrait of this eminent jurist precedes the title page.—N. Y. Letter.

The Physiological Ebb-Tide.

A tramp knows what it is to be leg-weary, a farm laborer to be body-weary, a literary man to be brain-weary, and a sorrowing man to be soul-weary. The sick are often weary of life itself. Weariness is generally a physiological "ebb-tide," which time and patience will convert into a "flow." It is never well to whip or spur a worn-out horse, except in the direst straits. If he mends his pace in obedience to the stimulus every step is a drop drawn from his life-blood. Illness is not one of the faults of the present age; weariness is one of the commonest experiences. The chances that many a man draws on his physiological resources are innumerable; and, as these resources are strictly limited, like any other ordinary banking account, it is very easy to bring about a balance on the wrong side. Adequate rest is one kind of repayment to the bank, sound sleep is another, regular eating and good digestion another. One day's holiday in the week and one or two months in the year for those who work exceptionally hard usually bring [illegible] balance to a [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] sound and [illegible] lodgin.

Excellent Train Service.

The present schedule of train service on A. T. & S. F. R. R. from New Mexico is an excellent one.

A fast express leaves El Paso evening and Silver City early each afternoon, making the run to Rincon, and from Wallace to La Junta, by daylight, arriving at Kansas City evening of second day, and Chicago morning of third day after day of departure. This train carries Pullman palace sleepers from El Paso to Kansas City and Los Angeles to Chicago, with Pullman tourist sleepers Los Angeles to Kansas City making direct connection at La Junta for Pueblo, Colorado Springs and Denver, and at Burrton for St. Louis via the 'Frisco Ry.

The train from San Francisco with palace sleepers to Kansas City and tourist sleepers to Chicago leaves Albuquerque daily about noon, strikes darkness near Wagon Mound, arriving in Kansas City evening of next day, and in Chicago the following morning. An additional Pullman sleeper is attached at Las Vegas, running through without change to Denver via La Junta and Trinidad.

The Santa Fe Route aims by its fast time, fine equipment and reasonable rates, to merit the patronage of the traveling public.

Inquire of local agent, or write to G. T. Nicholson, G. P. & T. A., Topeka, Kans.

Free Reading Matter.

There are various schemes for supplying reading matter at a trifle above actual cost. What would you think if you could get good literature free?

Drop a postal to G. T. Nicholson, G. P. and T. A., A. T. & S. F. R. R. Co., Topeka, Kan., and ask for a copy of "To Mexico by Palace Car." You can also procure free copies of "A Santa Barbara Holiday," Guide to San Diego Bay Region," Las Vegas Hot Springs Guide," and folders relating to Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

MRS. LEE. "Why, Addie, you needn't cry about it! I only said Mrs. Allen was a very well-informed woman, and I wished you would follow her example."

MRS. LEE. "Yes, and last week you said you wished I could manage to dress as stylishly as Mrs. Allen, and she makes all her own clothes. But she has what I haven't."

MR. LEE. "What is that?"

MRS. LEE. "Well, she gets all of her information from the Magazine they take. I admit that she knows all that is going on, and is bright and entertaining in conversation, but I could do as well as she does if I had the same source of information. She lent me the last number of her Magazine lately, and I learned more in one hour's reading, about various social matters and the topics of the day, than I would pick up in a month by my occasional chats with friends. It contains covers every topic of interest, from the news of the day down to the details of household affairs, and everything is so beautifully illustrated, too. Every time Mamie goes over to the Allens' she comes back and teases me to get you to take Demorest's Family Magazine, as the stories are so good. Even the boys watch for it every month, as a place is found for them also in its pages; and Mr. Allen swears by it. It is really wonderful how it suits every member of the family!"

MR. LEE. "Well, perhaps I had better send for a Specimen Copy; for, if it is anything like what you say it is, it will amuse and instruct the whole family."

MRS. LEE. "I see that W. Jennings Demorest, the publisher, 15 East 14th Street, New York, is offering to send a Specimen Copy for 10 cents, so we can't lose anything, as each number contains a 'Pattern Order' entitling the holder to any Pattern she may choose, and in any size—which alone makes each copy worth 30 cents; and I just want a jacket pattern like Mrs. Allen's. The subscription price is only $2.00 a year; and I must say I can't see how they can publish so elegant a Magazine for so little money."

Dobbins' Electric Soap

THE BEST FAMILY SOAP —IN THE WORLD.—

It is Strictly Pure. Uniform in Quality.

THE original formula for which we paid $50,000 twenty years ago has never been modified or changed in the slightest. This soap is identical in quality to-day with that made twenty years ago.

IT contains nothing that can injure the finest fabric. It brightens colors and bleaches whites.

IT washes flannels and blankets as no other soap in the world does—without shrinking—leaving them soft and white and like new.

READ THIS TWICE

THERE is a great saving of time, of labor, of soap, of fuel, and of the fabric, where Dobbins' Electric Soap is used according to directions.

ONE trial will demonstrate its great merit. It will pay you to make that trial.

LIKE all best things, it is extensively imitated and counterfeited.

Beware of Imitations.

INSIST upon Dobbins' Electric. Don't take Magnetic, Electro-Magic, Philadelphia Electric, or any other fraud, simply because it is cheap. They will ruin clothes, and are dear at any price. Ask for and take no other. Nearly every grocer from Maine to Mexico keeps it in stock. If yours hasn't it, he will order from his nearest wholesale grocer.

READ carefully the inside wrapper around each bar, and be careful to follow directions on each outside wrapper. You cannot afford to wait longer before trying for yourself this old, reliable, and truly wonderful

POST-OFFICE NAMES.

Odd Dogmomens Bestowed Upon Some Newly-Created Offices.

Naming a post-office is like naming a child—there is no accounting for the taste displayed in the name selected. Usually the post-office is named after the town, and when the town is started some enterprising citizen gets in his deadly work and the town is named after him. Others take their names from surroundings and often from incidents which happened when the site was first selected. Some are good, others bad; some long and some short, but there seems to be a general disregard of the proprieties in the selection of names. For instance, Happy Camp is the name of a newly created post-office in California, and the probabilities are that the inhabitants are constantly fighting, and the only person who is happy is the undertaker, who is growing wealthy. Mountain View is more likely to be the name of a village at the bottom of a two-hundred-foot hill than to be near a mountain, while Marble Cliff is very remote from a marble quarry.

Passing events also help decide the names of places, and with the Johnstown horror fresh in the public mind many smaller towns will select that name to emphasize the establishment of the place.

Peace and Cain are two villages where post-offices have been established in Alabama, while Rat, Rye and Urbanity have been discontinued. Sassafras is the name of a spicy Arkansas village, while people who desire to go to a new postal station in Alaska will have to have their letters addressed to Balkofsky. California has a choice collection of new names. Bitter Water, Calabasa, Orest and Bimlopilis make a splendid quartette. Tourlelotte and Bovina are Colorado offices. Dakota, as becomes a newly-admitted State, is selecting names for its new offices from among those who advocated its admission, and is getting rid of its old Territorial names, reminiscent as they were with the names bestowed by cow-punchers whose idea of the ridiculous was very keen.

The warm climate of Georgia boasts of an Arctic town, while Sinker is the name of a village in Idaho.

The people of Illinois were so glad to get new postal facilities that they did not stop to complete the names, and sent them out as Lis and Mac. Nail and Chock are two villages in the Indian Territory. Fritz, Snyder and McBrayer represent the ruling population in three Kentucky places. China is located in Michigan, and Minnesota boasts of its short Lino Park. Missouri contains Lust and Clio. Eaten is in Nebraska, while Redstone takes its name from the granite hills of New Hampshire. New York is provided with a Beston, Echo and a Joyville. Elm and Wharf are the names of two post-offices in North Carolina, and South Egood Twin have Ohio written after their envelopes.

THE LITTLE WOMAN.

She Need Only Express Her Wishes and They Will Be Obeyed.

A pretty little woman with soft, appealing eyes, a low voice and an air of daintiness in dress and manner. Not much force about such a little creature, you say? She will never set the world afire. She rules it by her helplessness, just as the [illegible], sweetest, daintiest morsel of a baby, enthroned in frills, and cambric, and fine lace, can govern an establishment of men, and they feel proud of the little tyrant. The tyranny of womanhood is the strongest in the world. The woman who rules is really the woman who says: "Protect me." The woman who says: "I will protect you," [illegible] of hybrid who may rule one man, who may always spell woman with a capital W, and prefer a [illegible] that is the extent of her [illegible] Weak woman, daring to face the March wind; weak woman, with [illegible] ideas as to her rights or her wrongs; weak woman, with strong opinions as to the value of a kiss, a smile, a pleasant word; weak woman will have all paths opened to her with a request that she will only express her wishes and they will be obeyed.—N. Which we Offer with a Year's Subscription to this Paper for a Trifle More than the Regular Subscription Price.

CHARLES DICKENS.

Wishing to largely increase the circulation of this paper during the next six months, we have made arrangements with a New York publishing house whereby we are enabled to offer as a premium to our subscribers a Set of the Works of Charles Dickens, in Twelve Large and Handsome Volumes, with a year's subscription to this paper, for a trifle more than our regular subscription price. Our great offer to subscribers eclipses any ever heretofore made. Charles Dickens was the greatest novelist who ever lived. No author before or since his time has won the fame that he achieved, and his works are even more popular to-day than during his lifetime. They abound in wit, humor, pathos, masterly delineation of character, vivid descriptions of places and incidents, thrilling and skillfully wrought plots. Each book is intensely interesting. No household should be without a set of these great and remarkable works. Not to have read them is to be far behind the age in which we live. The set of Dickens' works which we offer as a premium to our subscribers is handsomely printed from entirely new plates, with new type. The twelve volumes contain the following world-famous works, each one of which is published complete, unchanged, and absolutely unabridged:

DAVID COPPERFIELD,
MARTIN CHUZZLEWIT,
NICHOLAS NICKELBY,
DOMBEY AND SON,
BLEAK HOUSE,
LITTLE DORRIT,
OUR MUTUAL FRIEND,
PICKWICK PAPERS,
BARNABY RUDGE AND CHRISTMAS STORIES,
OLIVER TWIST AND GREAT EXPECTATIONS,
THE OLD CURIOSITY SHOP AND THE UNCOMMERCIAL TRAVELER,
A TALE OF TWO CITIES, HARD TIMES AND THE MYSTERY OF EDWIN DROOD.

The above are without question the most famous novels that were ever written. For a quarter of a century they have been celebrated in every nook and corner of the civilized world. Yet there are thousands of homes in America not yet supplied with a set of Dickens, the usual high cost of the books preventing people in moderate circumstances from enjoying this luxury. But now, owing to the use of modern, improved printing, folding and stitching machinery, the extremely low price of white paper, and the great competition in the book trade, we are enabled to offer to our subscribers and readers a set of Dickens' works at a price which all can afford to pay. Every home in the land may now be supplied with a set of the great author's works.

LOCAL ROUNDUPS

Luck sometimes makes a name,
But printers ink so black and solemn,
Will give a man peculiar fame,
When put in this peculiar column.

ROLLA WELLS struck town on Wednesday.

DR. LANE and Geo. Brown went gunning on Thursday. They promised to bring us a dear.

J. A. ALLEN, the publisher of the Interpreter, has so far recovered as to be around again.

WM. FROST and Tom Wixted started on Thursday for the Gallinas where they will employ a month in developing claims.

THE other day a vicious steer ran it's cheek into that of Jno. H. Riley, of Las Cruces, lacerating the latter badly. Lord, what a strong, heavy brute it must have been.

HON. W. C. MCDONALD is rapidly recovering from his recent severe illness and late news from Liberal gives us assurance that we may soon welcome him home again.

WORK is progressing favorably in the North Homestake mill. Mr Paterson, who is superintending the work, will have everything in readiness for starting by the 1st. prox.

COLD weather is in the land but in this locality it is at best only a mild summer—while our northern and eastern neighbors are suffering with the familiarities of Jack Frost.

C. WEIDERMAN, of Lincoln, Alliance candidate for County Treasurer, and Mr. Storms, the lie ance candidate for Assessor, were in town this week interviewing the "dear people."

THE Chaves County Herald is a pleasant looking journal which has just come to us from Roswell. Its face is pretty, its form pleasing and why it should not live to be a bloomer as it is now a boomer we cannot trow. We believe it will.

THE Albuquerque Democrat esteems itself funny when it denominates Mariano S. Otero, republican candidate for Delegate to Congress, as "old intestines." Now, Cleveland is the democratic candidate for President. Which of the two has the most intestines! Oh, s—hame.

JNO. WALTERS, an old time settler of White Oaks, now of Lincoln, pulled into town this week and called at the "centre." He said he smelled the same old aroma. We, despite our catarrh, smelled something too, but we wouldn't call it aroma. John always carries it with him, but not in his handkerchief.

A FLAT DENIAL.

Lincoln, Oct. 20, '90.

MY DEAR MAJOR:

I see by the issue of the 17th inst. "New Mexico Interpreter" that I am accused of bringing out Mr. John Thornton, of this place, as an independent candidate for sheriff against Capt. Roberts, the regular nominee of both parties. Will you be kind enough to state in the columns of your paper, in reply to same, that such a statement is maliciously and grossly false and the originator of it is a liar in the blackest sense.

Respectfully &c.,
JAS. J. DOLAN.

HON. G. W. PRITCHARD, of Las Vegas, was in town this week in company with Maj. Whitcomb, both on court intent. Had they read the LEADER constantly they would have learned that there would be no court in this county until the arrival of Judge Freeman. However we are always glad to see our friends and shake.

THE special copy of the edition of the Lincoln Independent* has reached us. It is beautifully and artistically illustrated and cannot help being a feeder to the great Pecos Valley. Its issue must have cost many shekels and we trust brother Kibbee raked them in instead of, as is the rule with printers as with barkeepers taking fingers for pay.

THE campaign so far has been somewhat heated but not at all belegerent. With the exception of a few who arrogate their [illegible] of Lincoln county in their pockets, but, who, when in the van sunk in the slums, no offensive remarks have been uttered in our hearing during this campaign. In English vernacular we say, "a fight and let the best man win."

FREIGHT has arrived in large quantities this week and new goods tastily enough are found in the sale rooms of all our merchants. Where do all these goods go to is a question which will present itself to any casual observer. But they do go—in a never ceasing tide of outflow and they come in a constant flood tide of inflow—and the money comes too, from somewhere. Yes times are better and the dawn of a more prosperous era has begun to make its appearance. Down with the croaker and hurrah for the members of the community who work, hope and look cheerful.

"'Tis true, 'tis pitiful." The Republicans of Lincoln county are in a plight this fall. They have no candidate of their own for Sheriff to vote for. Two candidates are presented of democratic persuasion. We have made our choice—the one we consider the cleanest. A fellow once said "one stick is as good as another to stir the dirt with" and we are in that extremity. Had a republican been presented who was half white or all black, with a decent character he would secured our vote and influence for Sheriff, but as it is, D. W. Roberts is our candidate. We had no hand in making him such, nor would we have had, for political reasons; but we don't expect to have matters run our way at all times, and realizing the fact that "God works in a mysterious way His wonders to perform" we abide the behest of the concentrated wisdom of the republican party of Lincoln county as expressed at the late republican convention and await the unfolding of promised glory. Let the friends of the LEADER vote for Roberts, but for no other candidate so contaminated politically.

EASLEY and Rexford started for Socorro on a business trip Thursday last.

[illegible]

COL. HINDMAN RHODES, of Socorro County, has been appointed Agent of the Mescalero Apaches. We have known the Colonel for many years and rejoice in this recognition of his services. He was a brave soldier on the right side during the war and a conspicuous leader in the Nebraska legislature for several terms. His administration will be a clean one.

ANOTHER WhiteOaker has skipped leaving behind him many mourning creditors, several who weep over several hundreds of dollars. Monday night Peter Lamar skedaddled, to the infinite disgust of John A. Brown & Bro., Littell, Ridgeway, Pearman and several others. Such men are a dire injury to honest men who desire and deserve credit but cannot obtain it for the reason that confidence in fellow man has been dethroned by the antics of those who live on the motto "the world owes me a living," and virtually steal their way through the world.

LEE BOWMAN, Ross & Weisher have got their arastra in motion at the Jicarrillas and have seen enough to satisfy them that the investment is a good and profitable one. The ore there is plenty and Ross well provides sufficient water for present purposes. We admire pluck and enterprise and the gentlemen above named cannot realize more than the LEADER hopes they will.

The World Enriched.

[illegible] of the present day for the [illegible] of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

LEO BURKE and family now live in White Oaks having moved here this week.

Old Soldiers Take Notice.

I have received a large supply of Pension blanks and will make out your applications FREE OF CHARGE, and forward them to Col. S. P. Hineline, of Washington, D. C., a thoroughly competent Pension Attorney, who will see that your claim is properly cared for.
