LABOR SAVING MACHINERY.

Continuing our discussion on this subject we would remark that during the last half century there has been an immense addition made as to valuable inventions for saving labor, and during that time our Government has been at great pains and expense in giving encouragement to everything of this kind and granting patents for all useful inventions. We believe every branch of industry belonging to our country is now helped along by one or more of these inventions. Among other industries agriculture has received a full share of attention in this direction, and the labor required to-day for the harvesting of a given number of acres of small grain or hay is not a tithe of what it was fifty years ago. The introduction of the patent reaper and mower has worked the change of which we speak.—A single team of horses now, with a good reaper or mower, as the case may be, will do as much work in a day in a grain field or meadow as a dozen good men did at the same work fifty years ago. But the reaper and mower, like unto all other valuable inventions, had, upon their first introduction into practical use, to encounter strong opposition from the very men who were to be the most benefitted by them. We can well remember when it was a common thing for wise old farmers in all parts of the country to shake their heads at the new patents and refuse to have anything to do with them—but that time has now gone by, and there is hardly a farmer to be found that can afford to get along without the reapers and mowers.

In the long list of valuable inventions, we have the power loom, the sewing machine, the knitting machine, and sundry other inventions of less importance connected with the manufacture of textile fabrics, and the making of the same into all kinds of wearing apparel; and then we have a long list of inventions in all branches of business, all designed to save human labor, and to day it would be impossible to estimate and express in figures the amount of human labor that has been saved in human affairs, taking in all branches of industry, during the last half century, by the inventions to which we have referred.

And now the question comes, Has the great mass of humanity been benefitted by this revolution in the affairs of mankind, or has the power been used to make the rich richer and the poor poorer? We know it has been a question of feeling with the world at various times and on of these great questions has become full, yet we believe it possible candidly and fairly to consider the question, that the invention may be limited upon as a public benefaction, and the answer to the value attached to each one of these inventions in turn has always been fixed according to it's capacity for saving human labor. The world, in it's present spirit of progress and improvement, would never consent to lay aside all this labor saving machinery in it's industrial affairs, as the popular opinion now would be that we could not possibly get along without them. But the world did get along without them for ages before they were brought into use, and in our day the question is a hard one to answer as to whether the common, the general use of labor saving machinery does not operate to increase the wealth and overgrown power of the capitalist at the expense of the toiling millions. As we believe God to be the factor of brain force we also believe "He doeth all things well," hence reject the proposition.

LAST Saturday Mrs. Dr. N. W. Lane, accompanied by her daughter, Edith, and Ritie Cox, Public, left for California, there to rejoin her husband. For months past ill-wishers of the Dr. have endeavored to make life a burden to Mrs. L. and her two interesting children, and had it not been for the reading out to them of sympathetic letters the devilish machinations of the conspirators would have well nigh succeeded. We heartily hope that as the Dr. and wife descend the western slope of life on which they are now traveling the clouds may roll by and the sun shine upon them with fervent favor.

Before leaving Mrs. L. sent to us the following agreeable missive:

DEAR MAJOR:

Allow me to thank you for your many courtesies during my stay in White Oaks. When in thought I shall often revisit your little town and remember with gratitude the many kindnesses received. I shall always give a foremost place to those received from the editor of the LEADER

Yours, Most Sincerely,
ANNIE LANE.

Roswell, Sept. 15, '91.

MRS. E. W. PARKER—

My Dear Sister—

Owing to several misconnections of trains and my lack of knowledge of distances between places, I am nearly one week behind time. I now find that I could not reach your place from here before next Wednesday and write to say that I will be compelled to postpone my coming for the present. Will write you and arrange a time in the near future and go there via Carthage. May a blessing attend our future efforts for God, home and humanity.

Sincerely,
MRS. M. J. ROBINS.

A copious rain storm, accompanied by heavy thunder and vivid lightning, visited us on Thursday night.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. R. R. CONVENTION.

Letter From Col. T. W. Heman.

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 22.

MY DEAR MAJOR:

El Paso is doing itself credit in the R. R. Convention now being held here, and judging from the determination and business-like manner that everybody is taking hold of the work before them I truly believe that something tangible will materialize as the result of this convention and that White Oaks will have a R. R. ere long, at least that active work will commence at this end.

Some of the cities, Denver, Trinidad and Pueblo, are not represented by numerous delegations but make up in quality what they lack in quantity.

The Mexican Central has extended an invitation to the entire delegation, including their wives and sweethearts, to visit Chihuahua, going down Wednesday night spend a day in that historic city, and return Thursday evening.

White Oaks never had so many friends as she now has judging from the many laudations she has received both at Albuquerque and here.

HEMAN.

We are in receipt of Tuesday's El Paso papers giving report of Monday's session of the convention. Hon. T. M. Patterson, of Denver, was chosen permanent chairman, Jno. Y. Hewitt of this place one of the vice-presidents, and our townsman, Col. Heman, secretary.

On taking the chair Mr. Patterson among other good things said:

It was, he said, the city that built roads to secure north and south connections, that became a great city. That was the theory Denver had adopted. Since leaving Denver, said the orator, I have found the "promised land." It does not flow with milk and honey but in mineral wealth; in vast and rich deposits of coal and copper and silver and lead ores and beautiful marble, it rivals the picture Proctor Knott drew of Duluth. I refer to the camps of White Oaks and the rich agricultural lands beyond. White Oaks is destined to be the great central con and El Paso, Albuquerque, Las Vegas and Trinidad will be the lesser lights. The great sun will give warmth and life to the others. This convention was called for a purpose. It was called to solve the question how to build a road from El Paso through White Oaks and to connect at Trinidad to give a direct line into Denver. With the spirit that has built El Paso and made Las Vegas you cannot tell me this road will not be built. It is but a question of time, a question of push, of energy and of the confidence of capital you are to enlist. This city of El Paso is not the result of fortuitous circumstances but of energy and American pluck. These are the qualities that make great cities

The Geological and Mineral Character of Lincoln County.

Interview with Prof. Buddington, Special Correspondent of the Kansas City Journal.

Prof. Buddington, the author of some scientific works on Planetary Evolution, was has been sent by the Kansas City Journal to get some more definite ideas relative to the Rocky Mountain country and it's resources, has been spending the past five weeks over in the Bonito country, studying the geological structure and mineral resources of that portion of Lincoln County.

He reports that the western side of the White Mountain range is evidently of very ancient formation and abounding in porphyritic veins, carrying gold, silver and lead in considerable quantities.—He says, this section is the nearest in nature to the famous silver-bearing fissure veins of Georgetown, Colorado, and as far as external indications testify should rival that country. There has been little practical development of the minerals, and it is premature to condemn it on account of the failures that have occurred in some prospect holes which at first had been supposed to be bonanzas by their discoverers.

There are some wide true fissure veins that bear carbonate of lead and silver; some sub-chloride deposits of gold and combinations of baser metals. The country is the original home of volcanic energy and the mineral deposits show conclusively that they belong to a period when the external surface was saturated with acidulated waters.

The ores will need special treatment, but when properly treated will yield their metals easily.—They are not refractory when the proper fluxes are used by expert and intelligent chemists or metallurgists.

The resources of coal and iron that are but a few miles distant ought to make the Bonito district one of the best smelting camps in the world as there is abundance of timber and water. Probably the true policy of development in this district has been overlooked. It has been regarded as the mineral section of Colorado but the ores are different and need different treatment. While the ores may be low grade on the surface all the shafts sunk show a steady increase of richness of the ore. There should be a systematic investigation of these mines, both geologically and chemically.

The coal fields east of Nogal are quite extensive and the quality, as the shafts descend, steadily improves. At about 200 ft. the lowest yet opened up the coal is semi-anthracite and remarkably free from sulphur or other impurities. No reason exists why this district should not furnish coal for Southern New Mexico by [illegible] rapid to the last [illegible] do.

Below Ft. Stanton the limestones abound, both of the sulphates (Gypsum) and the carbonates. There is also excellent sandstone for building purposes.

With intelligent handling of the resources of Lincoln County, gold from the gold mining interests, a large population might be supported from the utilization of the coal and iron deposits, as there is no place this side of Birmingham, Ala., where rich bodies of both lie in so close proximity. Any iron or steel industry could be developed here probably as cheaply as anywhere in the United States.

Mr. H. L. Ross leaves the city to-day on the southbound train for New Mexico, and will make an extended tour of the Territory and an examination of its mining interests. As is well known Mr. Ross is one of the best informed mining men in the State, is a both prospector and mineralogist. Whatever reports he brings back can be relied upon as correct. He is also a literary man of no mediocre attainments and we bespeak for him a cordial reception on the part of the newspaper fraternity in New Mexico.

—The above we clip from the Trinidad Advertiser. Mr. Ross, of whom it speaks, is now here and will write up our county for the Globe-Democrat and other popular papers.

AT the annual convention of our Territorial Republican League held last week at Albuquerque, a very enjoyable time was had. In closing Col. A. J. Fountain nominated Col. A. L. Morrison for re-election. Vice-President J. A. Whitmore was called to the chair and Col. Morrison was elected for a fourth term an unanimous rising vote. The other officers of the league were elected as follows:

First Vice-President, S. W. McCrea.

Second Vice President, Wm. Caffrey.

Third Vice-President, T. W. Collier.

Secretary, R. E. Twitchell.

Treasurer, Pedro Perea.

Delegate to National League, Max Luna.

The convention unanimously resolved to meet in Albuquerque next year during the progress of the territorial fair.

The grand lodge Knights of Pythias which met in Albuquerque last week transacted much business of importance to the order, and elected the following officers:

G. C. C.—J. J. Leeson, Socorro.

G. V. C.—Harry W. Lucas, Silver City.

G. P.—C. L. Hubbs Albuquerque.

G. M. of E.—W. F. Kuchenbecker, Gallup.

G. K. of R. S.—F. L. Harrison, Santa Fe.

G. I. G.—Windsor H. Jones, Bloomberg.

G. O. G.—Joseph Grieshaber, White Oaks.

Supreme Representative.—F. C. Martsolf, Hillsboro.

SUCH STRANGE FOLKS.

Uncle Anthony Preferred to Let Money to Having Dealings with Them.

Anthony Phillips is a well-known citizen of Little Rock. He is something of a politician, having at different times worked with the Democratic and Republican parties; but his chief distinction is that he is the blackest negro in Arkansaw. The other day Anthony went into a life insurance office and asked for the man who paid out the money.

"What do you want?" the manager asked.

"I want er thousand dollars," the negro answered. "Erbout three months ergo I had my wife's life insured in this company an' now I want my money, for de lady is dun dead. Yere's de papers, yere da is, sah."

"What was the matter with her?" the manager asked.

"Got drownded, sah; was down in de country an' fell offen er foot-log inter de water an' drownded ez dead ez er mackerel."

"Did anybody see her when she fell in?"

"Yas, little gal seed her; oh, she fell in all right, an' now ef you'll jest count me out er thousand dollars I'll be mighty 'bliged ter you. Yas, fell in all right enough."

"Did the coroner hold an inquest over her?" the manager asked.

"N-u-n-no, sah, he didn't."

"Why?"

"Well, sah, me an dat man doan speak ter one nuder. We ain't on de same quality er tall now, sah. Wife she get mad wid him some time ergo an' den me an' him fell out, an' when my wife wux tuck outen de bayou dead and gone, why I didn't think it wuz jest de right thing ter hab dat coroner holdin' his proceedin's over her."

"So you buried her without the coroner being notified."

"Yas, sah, dat's whut we done—'zackly whut we done under de 'sisting circumstances, sah. Yas, we done dat."

"Where did you bury her?"

"Huh—oh, whar did we bury her?"

"That's what I asked."

"Yas, tibby sho'. We set her 'way off yander whar her sister libes, sah. Uster say dat w'en she died she wanted ter be buried 'way off yander 'cuz she tuck 'er likin' ter dat country."

"What is the name of the place?"

"Oh, it's er little bit o' er place, sah; 'taint es big es Argenta jes' across de riber yere. Yas, mighty little, no-'count kind o' er place—so little dat you wouldn't know it of you wux ter see it, sah."

"I don't care any thing about the size. What is the name?"

"Oak Bluff is de name o' de place, ef dat's whut you wanter know. 'Way off yander an' er small place, too."

"Well, no matter how far nor how small. We'll send a man out there to dig her up and bring her back here before we pay you; but mind you, if she can't be found, we'll have you sent to the penitentiary for ten years."

"Oh, well, now, ef dat's de way you do business you neenter send arter de lady. Jes' let de blame money go. I 'spise ter hab dealin's wid sich strange folks."—Arkansaw Traveler.

GRAND PREMIUM OFFER!

A SET OF THE

WORKS OF CHARLES DICKENS,

In Twelve Large Volumes,

CHARLES DICKENS.

Which we Offer with a Year's Subscription to this Paper for a Trifle More than Our Regular Subscription Price.

Without a doubt increase the circulation of this paper during the next six months, we have made arrangements with a New York publishing house to furnish as a premium to our subscribers a Set of the Works of Charles Dickens, in twelve Large and Handsome Volumes, with a year's subscription to this paper, for a little more than our regular subscription price. Our great offer to subscribers will not last forever to readers made. Charles Dickens was the greatest novelist who ever lived. No author before or since his time has written books that he achieved, and his works are more popular to-day than during his lifetime. They abound in wit, humor, pathos, masterly delineation of character, vivid descriptions of places and incidents, thrilling and skillfully wrought plots. Each book is intensely interesting. No home should be without a set of these great and remarkable works. But to have read them is to be far behind the age in which we live. The set of Dickens works which we offer as a premium to our readers is handsomely printed from entirely new plates, with new type, on fine, white, and absolutely unobjectionable paper, and contains the following world-famous works, each one of which is published in a large, and absolutely complete form:

DAVID COPPERFIELD,
MARTIN CHUZZLEWIT,
NICHOLAS NICKELBY,
DOMBEY AND SON,
BLEAK HOUSE,
LITTLE DORRIT,
OUR MUTUAL FRIEND,
PICKWICK PAPERS,
BARNABY RUDGE AND CHRISTMAS STORIES,
OLIVER TWIST AND GREAT EXPECTATIONS,
THE OLD CURIOSITY SHOP AND THE UNCOMMERCIAL TRAVELER,
A TALE OF TWO CITIES, HARD TIMES AND THE MYSTERY OF EDWIN DROOD.

The above are without question the most famous novels that were ever written. For a quarter of a century they have been celebrated in every nook and corner of the civilized world. Yet there are thousands of homes in America not yet supplied with a set of Dickens, the usual high cost of the books preventing people in moderate circumstances from enjoying this luxury. But now, owing to the use of modern improved printing, folding and stitching machinery, the extensive type plates of these works of a certain well-known publishing house, and reckless cut-throat competition, we are enabled to offer to our subscribers and readers a set of Dickens' works at a price which all can afford to pay. Every book in the set may now be purchased with a few days' work.

A. T. & S. F.

An eminent example of American Enterprise, Energy and Perse[illegible]

In the hands of young men this great system has been so skillfully managed that it has earned a reputation second to none for convenience, safety and the luxuries of travel. It is fast becoming the popular route for transcontinental travel, in connection with the Southern Pacific railroad

It has opened up an almost unlimited field for pioneer enterprise in the far West. No other railroad can carry a man, who is seeking his fortune, to go deeper into fertile districts such as are opened along a thousand miles of this great system.

Special freight rates are given to miners and immigrants.

ARTHUR GREEN, after an absence of some two years, returned back on Monday. Arthur has many friends here, in both sexes, and all unite in hoping that he has come back to stay.

THERE will be no Court held in this judicial district this fall for the want of an appropriation to pay expenses. So Judge Freeman informed deputy-sheriff J. P. C. Langston last week.

ED. BONNELL this week cut his elongated lumber office in twain and moved one half of it down on White Oaks Avenue near Pearson's hardware store. It is said that it will be occupied as a barber shop.

PARENTS and Secretaries of Lincoln County school districts should make a note of the fact that Mrs. Timoney has a full line of the books authorized to be used in our public schools, which she sells at the prices limited by the Territorial Board of Education. Call at her literary emporium, post-office building.

The World Invented.

The fruitfulness of the present day for the production of everything that will contribute to the comfort and convenience of mankind are almost unlimited, and when Ayer's Pills were first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and efficient to cleanse the system gently in the spring time or, in fact, at any time. The better it is known the more popular it becomes.

MR. KERR, whom the Las Vegas Optic sent here some weeks ago to write up his impressions of this section of New Mexico's vineyard filled his commission well and in doing so got "stuck" and has located here. This week, in consideration of $2,181 he purchased all the personal property belonging to the Fierrilla Mining & Water Co., embracing well boring machinery, boiler, engines, buildings, &c. He also gobbled up 16 placer claims. The next day he bought 750 feet of the Miners Retreat placer claim, for which he paid $2,000.

$300 Reward for Ore Thieves.

The common experience of this camp shows that much loss by fire might be materially lessened by the stealing of gold in specimens, if not in amounts and bullion. Therefore, the Old Abe Co. offers a reward of Three Hundred Dollars for the arrest and conviction or for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person guilty of stealing any of the property of the Old Abe Co., even the smallest specimen of ore.—The rule of this company is to mill all specimens. Therefore none of the ore from this mine can be honestly held as specimens. And as the receiver, with guilty knowledge, is as guilty in law as the thief, this offer applies to the holder of Old Abe specimens.

YOU WANT

a San Francisco paper and of course you want a good one. The WEEKLY EXAMINER fills the want completely, for it is the best. It gives you every week not only all the news, but the best literary and miscellaneous matter published on the American continent—that is its specialty; being the best. It wants your subscription—yours particularly—and offers not only to you, but to every other subscriber, one or more attractive premiums.

In the first place, it gives every subscriber, one of the four magnificent etchings or paintings described below, and delivers it safely at his address, postage paid.

"The Retreat from Moscow," by Meissonier,
"The Roman Chariot Race," by A. Wagner.

Each of these pictures is [illegible] inches, and they are [illegible] showing every tint and color of the great originals, either one of which could not be obtained for $100,000.

"Women and Children First," by C. Napier Hemy,
"Christ Leaving the Praetorium," by Gustave [illegible]

Each of these pictures is reproduced in photogravure, and [illegible] for framing, and will adorn the walls of the most modest home.

Each subscriber has the choice of a picture of these four [illegible], which will be sent him in a tube direct from the Examiner office, as soon as the subscription is received.

In the second place, it will give 5,000 premiums, valued in the aggregate at about $125,000 to its subscribers this year. If there are 50,000 subscribers, one in ten will get one of these premiums; if there are 100,000, only one in twenty. But no matter how many there are, each and every one of these premiums—which range in value from 5 cents to $5,000—will be given absolutely without cost to some of those who have paid $1.50 for the WEEKLY EXAMINER for one year. The EXAMINER is thoroughly responsible, as you know, or Wells, Fargo & Co. or any bank or commercial agency in San Francisco will assure you, and the leading men of the city will see that its premiums are distributed exactly as agreed and that every subscriber no matter where he is located, will receive just what is assigned to him.

Of course you want your home paper also, and you can just as well as not save a little money by taking the EXAMINER with it. The price of the WEEKLY EXAMINER is $1.50 per year, including the premium picture and your share of the $125,000 list of premiums, which are fully described in the twelve page Premium Supplement, which will be sent free on application to

W. R. HEARST, Publisher, San Francisco, Cal.

The EXAMINER and the LEADER, the combined price of which is $2.50, will be sent you for one year, postage paid, for $2.00. Send the money to the office of the LEADER and your subscription will be promptly forwarded to the EXAMINER, and you will receive therefor the EXAMINER's combined receipt. You can get a Premium Supplement by applying at this office.
