IRISH AFFAIRS.

It would be better for our people were they to oftener cast their eyes and senses across the great waters and study the character, conditions and ambitions of other peoples and nations. By way of contrast we could more readily and understandingly determine our own status, socially and politically. Let us to-day take a flight over the Atlantic and visit Ireland. The experience cannot prove other than interesting.

On our arrival we find that the people of the Emerald Isle have lost a great leader through the demise of Charles Stewart Parnell, who it may be truthfully said was the wisest man they have had at their head in many years. He was a born leader and ruler of men.—Wise, clear headed, conservative, shrewd and cautious, he was able to unite the [illegible] of the party, to formulate a policy that commanded the respect of the world, to achieve an alliance with so powerful a leader as Gladstone, and to forward the cause of Ireland in a few years of leadership more than it had been aided in a century of agitation and impulsive, hasty counsels and disastrous attempts by his predecessors. Although he had fallen at his work can never be entirely undone. The world, as well as England, has had a glimpse of Ireland's condition, and in these days of daily intercommunication by telegraph and press the public opinion of the world is a great factor in the politics of every civilized nation.

Like many great men—indeed most of them—Parnell had a weak spot in his moral make-up. (Only clergymen and editors are exceptions to the rule, and sometimes we are in doubt as to the belongings of clergymen.) As in the case of many other strong men, Samson, for instance, Paine [illegible] was discovered by a woman, the fatal reminding us of the old [illegible] potentate, who, when any disaster or [illegible] occurred seriously annoying, was wont to ask "why is not" claiming the calamity was the product of woman. Most men less great, less wise, of less value to their country, have had such offenses condoned, pardoned. But Parnell was too great, and his downfall too desirable to many, who under no circumstances would have been allowed, under the Christian law, to [illegible] Ireland's reputation in England, in Parliament, in society, [illegible] of the [illegible] of Kitty O'Shea, raised his sin against the [illegible]

The pity that Parnell died, and [illegible] it is a pity he died [illegible] fatal error [illegible] was discovered or acknowledged. Yet, despite his fall, history will credit Parnell with having done his country and [illegible] service.

FROM WASHINGTON, D. C.

Washington, D. C.
Nov. 4, 1891.

The story of the destruction of the United States ship "Baltimore" by a Chilian torpedo boat, [illegible] here as such all our [illegible] have been perpetrated without the assistance of the Chilian authorities. That they should participate in such an affair (the nations not being at war) would imply a recklessness unheard of on the part of a civilized people. Possibly some Chilian navy captain might take it into his head to destroy the "Baltimore", with the direct purpose of forcing a war and for the sake of temporary popularity he might thereby gain.

Captain Schley, no doubt, is looking after the "Baltimore" with due vigilance. So far as can be judged by the latest advices from Valparaiso, conditions are changing for the better, and no disposition is manifested to provoke a rupture with the United States, though there is no doubt considerable irritation over the Hats affair; and it is also said that the expulsion of Chilians from the California mines in the days of the Argonauts is still remembered by some who dream of obtaining revenge at San Francisco.

The people [illegible] of Santiago were considerably excited over the [illegible] and demanded that summary punishment be meted out to the Balmacedists alleged to be concerned in the plot and protected by the American legation; but the reply of the President-elect Montt to the Santiago demonstrators [illegible] coupled in the most conciliatory terms, and showed that a world countenance no violence.

There was really no knowledge in possession of the junta pointing to the existence of a plot, and even if there were, the authorities would be governed by the laws of the country in its investigations.

A late dispatch from Valparaiso says that in the notes found by Intendente Carlos Lira to the [illegible] of his learned young Chilians of Santiago, who were mainly [illegible] themselves about the reported plot to assassinate Balmaceda, he not only said that there was no truth in the stories published by some of the local papers, but added that no arrests had been made. He severely criticised the paper responsible for the charges.

The U. S. Government is hastening the completion of the Monitomah and Atlanta to have them in readiness for any contingency, and workmen are busy upon them day and night, last Sunday having been the first devoted to work in the Brooklyn Navy Yard since the war. A show of activity and of strength will no doubt aid negotiation. There is also further assurance of a peaceful settlement of the Chilian matter in the fact that some of her most influential citizens, including President-elect Montt and his brother, and Mr. Foster, were once American citizens and know the wealth and power of this country. These gentlemen, formerly known as George, Peter and Julius respectively, and now styled in Chili, Jorge, Pedro and Julio, and other influential and conservative Chilians will no doubt insure a peaceful course in spite of the machinations of the Balmacedist rabble.

In a few days the [illegible] will be transferred to this city. The conditions will open their headquarters here two weeks [illegible] the number of the members of the next House will [illegible] the majority of them have expressed their preferences in one way or another. But it is an open fight yet. There has been some talk of a protracted contest in the caucus, but that does not seem probable. The caucus will be held the Saturday before Congress convenes and a few ballots will be apt to settle the Speakership question. The candidates generally express great confidence in their own strength and in the weakness of "the other fellows." At one time it looked as if there might be considerable bitterness developed, but the unwisdom of such a course is apparent to those who were at one time disposed to make the campaign one of personal attack rather than argument, and now the struggle promises to be one of calculation and reason, with a strong element of enthusiasm.

Speculations as to Presidential nominees are as abundant in Washington as elsewhere, and as uncertain. Cleveland, Hill and Flower are each a possibility on the Democratic side; so, in fact, are others, including Mr. Gorman, who has many admirers; probably Mr. Cleveland will have [illegible] for second place are now almost named.—On the Republican side, Harrison and McKinley seem to lead, tho' Blaine would, no doubt, be nominated if he so desired. The most prevalent opinion probably is that he will not run. His health is good, so far as known here, and he is, apparently, fully recovered from the exhaustion, sickness, infirmity or whatever mysterious cause it was that kept him at the North during the summer. Between the enterprising correspondents who confidently asserted for many weeks that he was a broken down man, and the other wide-awake fellows who as positively affirmed that he had never been sick but was getting better very fast, the public was somewhat puzzled. It is probable that he needed rest and very sensibly took it and both his political friends and his opponents can but rejoice in his recuperation.

The Western Settler's Chronic Specific.

With every advance of civilization into the far West, a new demand is created for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Newly peopled regions are frequently less salubrious than older settled localities, on account of the miasmatic influence from recently cleared land, particularly during the months of spring that are proverbially always the months of illness. Immigrants, whether they come from the Old World or the New, are more liable to be attacked by fever and ague, and other disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, to which climatic influences, exposure, and unaccustomed or unhealthy water, often contribute. [illegible] Constipation, [illegible] and [illegible] are [illegible] of the [illegible] and promotes of health so indispensable to the settler upon the [illegible]

A National Family Paper.

The announcements of The Youth's Companion for 1892, which we have received, seem to touch about all health topics. Its fiction embraces folklore, serial, sea, adventure and holiday stories. Frank Stockton, Clark Russell, Will Allen Dromgoole, Mary Catherine Lee are a few of the distinguished story-writers.

Its general articles cover a wide range. Self-Education, Business Success, College Success, Girls Who Think They Can Write, Natural History, Railway Life, Boys and Girls at the World's Fair, Glimpses of Royalty, How to Set Great Cities, Practical Advice, and some of the lines to be written on by eminent specialists.

Gladstone, De Lesseps, Vasili Verestchagin, Cyrus W. Field, Andrew Carnegie, Mrs. Henry M. Stanley are among the contributors. The Companion readers thus come into personal touch with the people whose greatness make our age famous. Its 500,000 subscribers show how it is appreciated.

Whoever subscribes now for '92 gets it free from the time the subscription is received till Jan. 1, '93 $1 75 a year. Address, The Youth's Companion, Boston, Mass.

A big crop of old maids seems imminent, judging from statistics. If the statistics of Great Britain are correct, the excess of women and girls over men and boys in that country is about 2,000,000, an increase in ten years of about 200,000. In Germany the number of females in excess of males is about 1,000 000. In Sweden and Norway the "weaker sex" is in the majority by about 250,000; in Austro-Hungary by by 500,000, and in Denmark by 60,000. In the United States, Canada and Australia the males are in the majority. In this country there are about 1,000,000 more men than women.

Our streets are full of faces strange to old settlers.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The following proclamation was issued this afternoon by the President of the United States:

"It is a very glad incident of the marvelous prosperity which has crowned the year now drawing to a close that its helpful and reassuring touch has been felt by all our people. It has been as wide as our country and as special that every home has felt its comforting influences. It is too great to be the work of man's power and too particular to be the device of his mind. To God, the beneficent and all wise, who makes the labors of the husbandman fruitful, fade his thoir losses by His grace, and the measure of whose giving is as much beyond the thoughts of man as it is beyond his deserts, the praise and gratitude of the people of this favored nation are justly due.

"Now, therefore, I, Benjamin Harrison, President of the United States of America, do hereby appoint Thursday, the 26th day of November, proximo, to be a day of joyful thanksgiving to God for the bounties of His providence; for the peace in which we are permitted to enjoy them, and for the preservation of those institutions of civil and religious liberty which He gave our fathers the wisdom to devise and establish, and the courage to preserve. Among the appropriate observances of the day are rest from toil, worship in the public congregation, the renewal of family ties about the fireside, and thoughtful helpfulness toward those who suffer lack of the body or spirit.

"In testimony hereof I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be fixed.

"Done at the city of Washington, this the 13th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety one and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and sixteenth.

"By the President,
BENJAMIN HARRISON.
James G. Blaine, Sec. of State.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. ATTENTION MINERS!

To the prospectors, miners, mine and claim owners of New Mexico, Arizona and Western Texas

The depression that exists throughout the southwest is due to the universal depreciation of silver and to the anti-silver clause in that portion of the alien act that prohibits the investment of foreign capital in mining property in the territories. The object of the Southwest Silver Convention that is to convene on the 15th day of December, 1891, in El Paso, Texas is to discuss and take steps to remedy these evils. No other subject but the silver question and the modification of the alien act will be entertained by the convention, and all attempts to pervert the object of this mass meeting of miners by the introduction of questions foreign to the principles for which it was called, will be suppressed. The restoration of silver to its former value or parity with gold 1 to 16, 29 and the obliteration of an unjust discrimination against miners operating in territories, will engage the entire energy and time of the assembled miners of the southwest.

By order of the Executive Committee. Chas. Longenecker, President; F. W. Edelston, Secretary; O. F. Heckelman, Chairman Committee of Arrangements; Jno. S. Hart, Chairman Committee of Finance; and D. W. Beckhart, Chairman Committee of Finance, Amusements and Program.

Newspaper Laws.

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered wishing to remain subscribers.

2. If a subscriber orders the discontinuance of his periodical the publisher may continue to send it until all arrearages are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the office to which they are directed, they are responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publisher and they suppose the sent to the former address, they are held responsible.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them unsettled for is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

6. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time if they do not wish to continue taking it, otherwise the publisher is authorized to consider, and the subscriber will be responsible, until an express notice, with payment of all arrearages, is sent to the publisher.

The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can prosecute any one for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under this law the mere act of allowing a subscription to run along for some time unpaid and then ordering it discontinued, or ordering the paper stopped, or removing and leaving it uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

GRAND PREMIUM OFFER!

WORKS OF CHARLES DICKENS,

The Leader proposes to offer its readers the famously prized and entirely new plates, of a new type, limited [illegible] of Charles Dickens' works, each one of which is published to sell at the [illegible] in which we live. The [illegible] of Dickens' works which we offer as a premium [illegible] of these great and remarkable works. Many have read them in the days of their youth, and remember them as among the most [illegible] of their early reading. To have such a set of these great works in which to refer to the [illegible] of character, [illegible] of places and incidents, [illegible] of wrought plots. Each [illegible] is a [illegible] and valuable addition to any [illegible] and is worthy a place in the [illegible] of the most [illegible] reader. No home should be without a set of these great works. Many have read them in the days of their youth, and remember them as among the most [illegible] of their early reading. The above are without question the most famous novels that were ever written. For a quarter of a century they have been celebrated in every nook and corner of the civilized world. Yet there are thousands of homes in America not yet supplied with a set of Dickens, the usual high cost of the books preventing people in moderate circumstances from enjoying this luxury. But now, owing to the use of modern improved printing, folding and stitching machinery, the extremely low price of white paper, and the great competition in the book trade, we are enabled to offer to our subscribers and readers a set of Dickens' works at a price which all can afford to pay. Every home in the land may now be supplied with a set of the great author's works.

IF YOU WANT

a San Francisco paper and of course you want a good one. The WEEKLY EXAMINER fills the want completely, for it is the best. It gives you every week not only all the news, but the best literary and miscellaneous matter published on the American continent—that is its specialty; being the best. It wants your subscription—yours particularly—and offers not only to you, but to every other subscriber, one or more attractive premiums.

In the first place, it gives every subscriber, one of the four magnificent etchings or paintings described below, and delivers it safely at his address, postage paid.

"The Retreat from Moscow," by Meissonier.
"The Roman Chariot Race," by A. Wagner.

Each of these pictures is 21x28 inches, and they are elegantly reproduced in [illegible] showing every tint and color of the great originals, either one of which could not be purchased for $100,000.

"Women and Children First," by C. Napier Hemy.
"Christ Leaving the Prætorium," by Gustave Doré.

Each of these pictures is reproduced in photogravure, size 21x28, and eminently fitted for framing, and will adorn the walls of the most refined home.

Each subscriber has the choice of any one of these four pictures, which will be mailed him in a tube direct from the EXAMINER office, as soon as the subscription is received.

In the second place, it will give 5,000 premiums, valued in the aggregate at about $125,000 to its subscribers this year. If there are 50,000 subscribers, one in ten will get one of these premiums; if there are 100,000, only one in twenty. But no matter how many there are, each and every one of these premiums—which range in value from 50 cents to $6,000—will be given absolutely without cost to some of those who have paid $1.50 for the WEEKLY EXAMINER for one year. The EXAMINER is thoroughly responsible, as you know, or as Wells, Fargo & Co. or any bank or commercial agency in San Francisco will assure you, and the leading men of the city will see that its premiums are distributed exactly as agreed and that every subscriber no matter where he is located, will receive just what is assigned to him.

Of course you want your home paper also, and you can just as well as not save a little money by taking the EXAMINER with it. The price of the WEEKLY EXAMINER is $1.50 per year, including the premium picture and your share of the $125,000 list of premiums, which are fully described in the twelve page Premium Supplement, which will be sent free on application to

W. R. HEARST, Publisher, San Francisco, Cal.

[illegible] the Leader, the combined price of which [illegible] $2.00 will be [illegible] you for one year, postage paid, for $2.00 [illegible] $2.00 will be sent you for one year, postage paid, for $2.00 [illegible] money to the office of the LEADER and your subscription will be promptly [illegible] mailed to the EXAMINER, and you will receive therefor an EXAMINER numbered receipt. You can get a Premium Supplement by applying at this office.

ATTENTION MINERS.

To the prospectors, miners, mine and mine owners of New Mexico, Arizona and Western Texas:

The depression that exists throughout the southwest in the mineral industry, and to the arrest of legislation by that portion of the silver act which prohibits the investment of foreign capital in mining property in the territories. The object of the Southwestern Silver Convention that is to convene on the 15th day of December, 1891, in El Paso, Texas, is to discuss and take steps to remedy these evils. No other and just but the silver question and the modification of the silver act will be entertained by the convention, and all attempts to pervert the object of this mass meeting of miners by the introduction of questions foreign to the principles for which it was called, will be suppressed. The restoration of silver to its normal value or parity with gold 16 to 1, and the obliteration of an unjust discrimination against miners operating in territories, will engage the entire energy and time of the assembled miners of the southwest.

By order of the Executive Committee, Chas. Longenbrake, President; F. W. Eidelston, Secretary; O. F. Hoelzeman, Chairman Committee of Arrangements; Jno. S. Hart, Chairman Committee of Invitation; D. W. Peckham, Chairman Committee of Finance, Accommodations and Program.

Newspaper Points.

The Postmaster-General has issued instructions to postmasters, which [illegible] Courts of the United States and rulings of the Washington [illegible] questions, which can be relied upon as correct:

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to continue their subscriptions.

2. If the subscriber orders the discontinuance of his periodical the publisher may continue to send it until all arrearages are paid.

3. If subscribers remove to other places without informing the publisher and the papers are sent to the former address, they are held responsible.

4. The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them uncalled for is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

5. If subscribers pay in advance they are entitled to give notice at the end of the time if they do not wish to continue taking it, otherwise the publisher is entitled to send it, and the subscriber will be responsible until an express notice, with payment of all arrearages, is sent to the publisher.

The latest postal laws are such that agents or publishers can arrest any one for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under this law the case of a subscription to run [illegible] and then ordered discontinued or ordered to be stopped, and then continued or ordered again, or refused to mark it "refused," or leaving the publisher to recover if able to prove fraud for theft.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS, Felipe Miranda and Dionesia Miranda his wife of the county of Lincoln, and Territory of New Mexico, by their certain mortgage deed, bearing date the 21st day of May, A. D. 1881, and recorded in the Probate Clerk's Office of Lincoln County, in Book "A" of the records of mortgages, page 176, the said mortgagors, for the consideration therein mentioned, did grant, bargain, sell and convey unto M. Brunswick, of the county and Territory aforesaid, the following described real estate, situate in the county of Lincoln, and Territory of New Mexico, as follows, to-wit:

The west half of the north-west quarter of section (2) twenty six (26) township (9) nine south of range (17) seventeen east of the New Mexico principal meridian, and containing 80 acres.

To secure the two promissory notes of said Felipe Miranda and Dionesia Miranda respectively bearing date 21st day of January, 1881, for the sum of $110.00 and February 10th, 1881, for the sum of $110.00 payable to the order of the said M. Brunswick, one day after date, with interest on the first note above mentioned at the rate of eighteen per cent. per annum from maturity, and twelve per cent. per annum from maturity on the note last above mentioned.

And whereas it was provided in and by said mortgage deed that if default should be made in the payment of said notes, and the interest thereon at the time and in the manner specified in said notes when the same should become due and payable, then, and in such case, the said mortgagee, his heirs and assigns, in person or by their agents or attorneys, might sell or dispose of said mortgaged premises at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, first giving notice of the time and place of said sale by publishing a notice in some newspaper published in the said county of Lincoln, for ninety days before the date of such sale, and in his or their name or names might make and deliver to the purchaser or purchasers of such sale good and clear title of said premises.

And whereas default has been made in the payments of said notes and the aforesaid interest on same, which default still continues:

And whereas, also the said mortgagee, M. Brunswick, did, on the 12th day of September, 1881, for a valuable consideration, sell, assign and set over unto Leslie Ellis, the said mortgage and the notes therein and herein described, and the money due and to grow due thereupon, with interest;

Now, therefore, public notice is hereby given that on the 23rd day of January, A. D. 1882,

between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m., and 3 o'clock p. m. of said day, at the front door of the court house in the town and county of Lincoln, the said assignee Leslie Ellis his agent or attorney, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, the premises to wit: [illegible] of said mortgage deed described, [illegible] and deliver [illegible] purchaser, [illegible] good and [illegible] thereto.

Next Thursday will be Thanksgiving Day

The Little Casino is having an overcoat of paint and is being burnished up on the inside.

Frank Lloyd left for the R R by Thursday evening's stage there to greet his wife who has been visiting in New York State a month or more past.

M. W. Horle's married brother will arrive from the East next week with his family. The brick building of John E. Wilson, on Livingstone St., has been secured as a residence.

Married—At the Southwestern Hotel, on Thursday evening, Nov. 19th, by Rev. Hurd, Mr. S. P. Williams to Miss Ollie McLwee, both late of Trinidad, Colo., now of White Oaks Paradise.

Last Monday Jos. Church of the Alcantara, left for his old New York home. He was accompanied by his brother, who came hither after him. Joe. said he would return to the spring. We hope so.

On Thursday evening the little family of Mr. Reynolds, our new and highly respected barber, arrived in town. For the winter they will bivouac in the residence immediately in the rear of Ridgeway's store.

Last Tuesday Brothers regaled his boarders with a turkey dinner and a catfish supper. John never fails supplying his table with the best the market affords and if our market does not provide anything especially toothsome he imports it

Next Sunday P. m., at 11 o'clock, the Congregational pastor will preach in the Congregational Church, by special request, a funeral sermon of the late Thomas W. Corey.

In the evening at 7, the subject of discourse at the Congregational Church will be "Belshazzar's Feast," a temperance sermon.—All are invited.

The R. R. surveyors are working their way here from Pinos Wells. They expect to take their Thanksgiving dinner in White Oaks. A hearty welcome is in store for them. Their appearance will enhance the appetites of all our people and give a zest to the day for raising above and beyond weight and measurement the multitude generated by the Restaurant in the [illegible] we are glad to learn we are going to have a R. R [illegible] town.

The Thrill Express.

The sensations of the present day for the realization of everything that will contribute to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

The Leader has for sale a piano, an organ, 3 wagons, 2 carriages, 2 carts, 3 type writers, a watch, a soda fountain, a shot gun a stove and range, 3 bicycles, one for a lady and one for a gentleman—also a first-class sewing machine Calvert Fisk is our agent for the same and any other [illegible] and will sell low and sell on [illegible] terms.

$500 Reward for Ore Thieves

The [illegible] experience of this company shows that much is lost by the mine operators by the stealing of gold in specimens, if not in smelting and bullion.—Therefore, the "Old Ale" Company offers a standing reward of Three Hundred Dollars for the arrest and conviction of information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person guilty of stealing any of the property of the Old Ale Co., even the smallest specimen of ore.—The rule of this company is to sell no specimens. Therefore none of the ore from this mine can be honestly had in specimens. And as the receiver, will guilty knowledge, is as guilty in law as the thief, this offer applies to the head of the Old Ale operations.

In Its Worst Form.

Burton, Ind. Co., Wis., Dec. 28, 1889.
Rev. J. C. Bright writes for the following: James Toomey, who was suffering from St. Vitus' Dance in its worst form for about 12 years, was healed by several physicians without effect. Two bottles of Paxton Koehler Rose Tonic cured him.

St. Thomas, Wis., Jan. 21, 1891.
A member of my congregation used Paxton Koehler Rose Tonic with good results. He suffered from the most severe nervous headache, which terminated in insanity. After the second bottle of Rose Tonic had been administered to him, he commenced to improve rapidly, and to-day the sufferer, who has almost died with it, is enjoying excellent health.
