PASTOR KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

The Best Remedy
In this world, says J. Hoffner, of Syracuse, N. Y., is Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic, because my son, who was partially paralyzed three years ago and attended by Drs., has not had any symptoms of them since he took one bottle of the remedy. I most heartily thank for it.

Dyspepsia, Not Convinced.
So. Norwalk, Conn., May, 1890.
Although I took pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic with a certain prejudice, it has done me so much good that I must thank him for it, because now I can sleep again. Since the terrible accident of the Johnstown flood, where I lost five members of my family, terrible fictions occupied my mind, so that I was almost quite dependent. But now I come to myself again, and attribute this to the good effect of the Tonic.
Rev. ect. B. CUNZ, Pastor.

CHRISTMAS.

Friday of next week will be Christmas Day.

It is held by commentators that Friday was the day of Adam's creation, which is held as the Pagan day of Venus; the day Christ's crucifixion; the Sabbath of the two hundred million followers of Mahomet; the popular Scottish wedding day. By the same authority Friday is held to be an unlucky day since according to church legend Adam and Eve ate that fateful apple on Friday and both on Friday died, as did Abel also, and the Christ.

From time immemorial there has been a wide spread superstition touching Friday, many refusing to travel on that day, to enter new employment, make contracts or covenants of any kind, etc.—But in our judgement it was not until Gregory's day and reign that time was intelligently and intelligibly divided into days, weeks, months and years, hence we hold that the Gregorian calendar, tho' acceptable, was and is arbitrary, and that there are none sage enough to peer beyond the period indicated and truly inform us upon what day of the week, as now recognized, Adam and Eve ate apples, Abel died, or Christ was crucified.

Nor will the superstition against Friday stand scrutiny, for it was on Friday that the American Continent was discovered and if there is anything more than another in which the finger of God can be rendered visible it is in the putting out of Columbus on his voyage of discovery, his experience on the uncertain trip, landing, &c. Why, one in silent meditation on the subject can fain feel the Divine touch. Then it was on Friday that most of the signal victories achieved by the Continental soldiery and the boys in blue occurred.

No day is more generally, universally celebrated within the area of civilization than is Christmas, for it will not be denied that the sections of the world not Christian, not inhabited by believers in Christ, are beyond the pale of civilization and are not estimated as within civilized realms by those acknowledged to be factors in educational economy, not from self estimate but as proclaimed by the sentience of man's genius, which, as it further removes itself from barbarism grows more to the teachings of the Nazarine.

Another evidence that Christmas is not like unto other days is found in the fact that innocent childhood intuitively hallows it's mention and presence. Their little souls and hearts glow on that day with a fire not of earth but borrowed from celestial furnaces.

To each and every reader of the LEADER we wish a Merry Christmas.

OUR CALIFORNIA LETTER

FROM MRS. LANE.

Santa Monica, Cal.
Dec. 4th, '91.

DEAR MAJOR:

"Sun, silence and adobe, this is New Mexico in three words," according to Mrs. Summers. I am glad to see by your paper that the "silence" of White Oaks will be broken at no distant day by the whistle of the locomotive.—The people there have listened for it a long time and have patiently "held the fort," not idly by any means, but working while they waited. Some have been called home to rest forever, not seeing, during their lives, the fruition of their hopes. It is left for those who come after to reap the benefits of their self denial.

New Mexico is a terra incognita to most of our California people. I have been asked many strange questions about things there. A good many have, or have had relatives in New Mexico; but when you ask "where?" well, you find their ideas are very vague—it is a country lying off loose somewhere but when you get your R. R. then you will find people coming to White Oaks to spend their summers and enjoy it's beautiful scenery. I think I shall go myself on the first excursion.

We are having a blow to day that would do credit to White Oaks. It began during the night—it rained and blew by turns and now the ocean is a raging foam tossed waste of waters. We saw a large steamer going south last evening just at sunset. I think the passengers do not care for any breakfast this morning. "A life on the ocean wave" sounds very well on land, but the reality is a snare and a delusion. You get a good deal of this sentiment taken out of you if you have ever been to sea. On a cranky vessel (they are very much like folks,) she won't mind the helm, and if you want to "port" 'tis sure to go to "starboard—the "bowsprit" is always getting mixed with the rudder. I have actually thought at times she was going backward and would not have been surprised had I been told so. This is the time the captain always walks the deck, audibly saying his prayers. They always whistle for the wind, but I never yet saw it answer. It is entertaining to lookers-on to see the sailors launch the bowsprit. No, now I come to think of it, it is the "jibboom." It generally lays out a few poor fellows before they get it successfully launched, and you can't find a resting place that is not covered with brimstone. The best thing I found to do under those circumstances was to "go below."

Well, you will begin to think I have outstaid my welcome and that is something I should not want to be guilty of as I want to be able to come again some day.

There are so many things to learn in this dear old world, and, as Samantha says, "We are all on'y poor pupils down in the earth's school room, learnin' with difficulty and heart-aches the lessons God sets for us. "Tough old experience gives us many a hard flogg'n'" before we learn the day's lessons, and we find the benches hard, long before sun down. But we grind at our lessons as best we may, learnin' a little, maybe.

A. M. L.

FROM ELKHORN.

Nov. 28th, 1891.

EDITOR LEADER—

Thinking you would like to hear from the southern portion of Lincoln County I will give you a synopsis of the doings here and hereabouts.

The farmers are gathering their corn—the wheat is all threshed. Some cattle are being driven to Eddy and El Paso for butchering. They bring from $15 to $20 per head.

Frank Garst got married and is now happy.

The Elk Horn school house that the trustees have had built this fall was completed and the patrons met on Thanksgiving day and had the finest dinner you'd wish to sit down to. We would like to have Thanksgiving come oftener than once a year.

Is Lincoln County's School Superintendent dead. He has never visited this part of the county, and the people over here are ignorant as are those of Arkansas as to how he looks. Speaking of Arkansas, it is said that there was a family living in the mountains there that did'nt know that Christ was dead 1800 years after His crucifixion. I am sure that if our School Superintendent were a Republican he would have been around. They are never ashamed to be seen.

It is circulated around that the C. A. boys are going to build a flouring mill, which would help the county more than would the White Oaks R. R., and if J. F. Hinkle and J. B. Matthews set their heads to build a mill one will surely be built.

If the White Oaks R. R. she'ld be built we want a new County with county seat at Tularuso and the county named Riley and Riley County would bloom and blossom early in the season. Why, you can ride out of snow two feet deep down to town in 6 hours on a mule to find peaches in full bloom.

Yours, &c.,
SCHOOL DIRECTOR.

CONSUMPTION CURABLE.
An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all throat and lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. MERRY CHRISTMAS.

DR. PRICE'S Cream Baking Powder.
Used in Millions of Homes—40 Years the Standard.

Always at the Front.

We have received a copy of the handsomely illustrated prospectus for 1892 issued by the Detroit Free Press. The achievements of this famous paper in the past have been great, yet if its promises for the future are to be fulfilled—and there certainly is no reason to expect the contrary—The Detroit Free Press will in 1892 be, as its publishers confidently claim, the the most entertaining and instructive paper published, giving additional pleasures to its thousands of old subscribers and fresh enjoyment to the many thousand new ones that its merits deserve. Its list of contributors for 1892 includes many of the most famous names in American literary and public life, and most of the articles to be published are of unusual importance and interest, presenting a splendid array of valuable features in addition to the inimitable work done by its own staff of bright and famous writers.

The publishers of THE FARM PRESS will mail copies of the paper and prospectus to all applicants.

A PATRIOTIC WORK.

Every person who is opposed to Free Trade Slavery and favors American Industrial Independence secured through the policy of Protection, should read the documents published by the American Protective Tariff League. As a patriotic citizen it is your duty to place these documents in the hands of your friends. They are interesting and instructive, and contain speeches of all phases of the Tariff question. The League publishes over 50 different documents, comprising nearly 600 pages of plainly printed, carefully edited and reliable information. Among the authors of these documents are, Hon. James G. Blaine; Wm. McKinley, Jr., Governor of Ohio; Senator S. M. Cullom, of Illinois; Senator Joseph N. Dolph, of Oregon; Senator A. S. Paddock, of Nebraska; Senator Frye, of Maine; Senator Casey, of North Dakota; Senator Henry D. Money, of Mississippi; Senator Redfield Proctor, of Vermont; Senator William Allison, of Iowa; Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, of Rhode Island; Hon. Thomas H. Dudley, of New Jersey; Hon. Robert P. Porter, of Washington, D. C., late Superintendent of the Agricultural Department at Washington; Commissioner W. H. T. Hughes; Hon. Rufus Hatch, of New York; Congressman [illegible] of Iowa; Hon. D. P. Jones; David Hall Rice, of Boston; Congressman Perkins, of Kansas; Hon. H. Hitt, of New York; Congressman Dingley, of Maine; Hon. [illegible] Edwards, of Texas; Hon. Thomas J. Campbell, of New York; Hon. Wm. McKinley, of Ohio; Hon. R. G. Horr, of New York; Hon. Geo. R. Wentworth, of Maine; Hon. E. H. Ammidown, of New York; Hon. [illegible] Beatty, of Tennessee.

This complete set of documents will be sent to any address, post paid, for Fifty (50) Cents. Address: Wilbur F. Wakeman, Secy., No. 24 West Twenty-Third Street, New York.

Crisp, the new Speaker of the Democratic House, was born in England, came to this country in time to serve as a colonel in the rebel army. Since the war he has been a judge on the bench and a member of Congress. He goes with his face toward the four quarters of the globe on the tariff question—is a free trader to those of that belief—a revenue reformer to revenue reformers—a protectionist to protectionists but a prohibitionist at all times and to all men.

Now, there is a law that under certain conditions the Speaker shall become President and a Constitutional provision that the President must be of native birth.—Should the fates indicated roll down to Crisp what an awkward fix the Speaker and country would be in.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA.
Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for children teething, is the prescription of one of the best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and has been used for thirty years with never failing success by millions of mothers for their children. During the process of teething its value is incalculable. It relieves the child from pain, cures dysentery and diarrhœa, griping in the bowels, and wind colic. By giving rest to the child it rests the mother. Price [illegible] a bottle.

FLORAL DECORATIONS.

How to Make a House Look at Its Best for Weddings and Parties.

It is truly amazing to know the amount that is spent for floral decorations every year. During the present season "flower weddings" are the correct thing, and are as pretty as they are novel. One bride, whose name was Lily, had the whole house decorated with lily of the valley. Another, whose name was Rose, used roses for the decorations. Pansies, with their almost human faces, make very effective decorations.

The old-time wedding bell has been done away with and the umbrella, wishbone, four-leaf clover and other new designs have taken its place. Among the latest things are found the portieres, which are formed of dozens of ropes of smilax, dotted here and there with rosebuds. A canopy of smilax makes a most effective and simple bower of green.

Large balls, suspended by almost invisible wires, are no still, but they are pretty. The frame is composed of wire and filled with wet moss; then it is filled as may other designs is. Ferns and scarlet flowers are especially pretty for such a design.

A pretty idea is to decorate a house throughout with the same colors; for instance, yellow or pink. Roses, carnations and other flowers of the same shade are used. White can be used with any color and plenty of ferns, smilax and other green.

A pretty wedding that occurred in November, when flowers were scarce and high, the decorations were mostly of arbor vitæ and the red, bittersweet berries. The dining-room was festooned with ropes of arbor vitæ, dotted here and there with the bitter-sweet. In the papers there were ropes of green and a canopy of smilax, under which hung a four-leaf clover design. Bouquets of roses and carnations were scattered here and there.

An apple-blossom wedding, where the entire decorations were the sweet-scented apple blossoms, was truly a pretty scene. Field daisies used for designs, banks, bouquets and baskets made lovely decorations. Fancy shells filled with moss and flowers and an occasional fern make the most graceful and effective decorations. All sorts of odd shapes can be used, and where they will not hold water very well, fill with wet sand before putting in the flowers. Nasturtiums are especially pretty for decorating a house and will last so long. They can be grown in water all winter, or in earth, and their foliage is so graceful. Sweet peas and mignonette are particularly pretty in a slender, glass vase. Rose-bowls or jars of blocked glass are much in vogue now, and can be found in all styles and sizes.

At a recent wedding reception that was given by a bride who had every thing that love or money could buy, it was noticed that the house was decorated with garden flowers. The parlor was made fragrant with slender vases and rose-bowls, filled with sweet peas, and the dining-room was gorgeous with the many colored nasturtiums.—Carlo May Ashton, in Farm and Fireside.

STIRRING UP STRIFE.

How an Ape Brought About a Battle Between Two Monster Reptiles.

One morning, says a traveler in Java, I was standing beside a small lake fed by one of the rills from the mountains. Stretching its limbs over this pond was a gigantic teak-tree, and in its thick, shining, evergreen leaves lay a huge boa, in no easy coil, evidently taking its morning nap. Above him was a powerful ape of the baboon species—a large race of scamps, of huge bust on stalched.

The ape, from his position, saw a crocodile rise to the surface of the water, just beneath the teak limb where lay the serpent. Quick as thought he jumped plump upon the boa, which fell with a splash into the water just in front of the crocodile. The opposite limb of the tree, being quite relieved immediately began to fall.

The crocodile had fixed its jaws in the snake, which made the water boil by its furious contortions. Winding his tail round and round the body of his antagonist, the boa disabled its hinder legs, and by its contractions made the scales and bones of his enemy crack.

Over and over the combatants rolled, neither being able to obtain a decided advantage.

All this time the cause of the mischief was in high glee. He leaped up and down the branches, came several times close to the scene of the fight, uttered a yell, and again frisked away. Perhaps ten minutes passed and the noise of the conflict began to fall into silence. The folds of the serpent were relaxing, and though they trembled along the back, the head hung lifeless in the water. The crocodile, also, was dead. The monkey now perched on a low limb just above the dead bodies of his two foes, and amused himself by making faces at them. This seemed to be adding insult to injury. I picked up a stone from the edge of the lake and hurled it at the ape. It struck him on the head and down he fell upon the crocodile's body. He was up again in a moment, and sprang into the tall trees, where he disappeared among the thick branches.—Youth's Companion.

Newspaper Laws.

Dr. Tuckerman, editor of the Worthington Leaflet, has taken pains to collect and compile the decisions of the Courts on subjects and given to the Washington Post, as the result of his investigations, the following, which may be relied upon as correct:

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered wishing to renew their subscriptions.

2. If the subscriber orders the discontinuance of his periodical the publisher may continue to send it until all arrearages are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the office to which they are directed, they are responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publisher and the papers are sent to the former address, they are held responsible.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them uncalled for is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

6. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time if they do not wish to continue taking it, otherwise the publisher is within his right to send it, and the subscriber will be responsible until an express notice, with payment of all arrearages, is sent to the publisher.

The latest postal laws are such that a newspaper publishers can have any one prosecuted for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under this law the name of a former subscription to run along for some time expired and then ordered discontinued, or orders the publication to cease at a time named in advance, and refuses to take it from the office to which it is sent, or takes it from the office and leaves it uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud, and any one of the above decisions will hold a subscriber responsible for the payment of his subscription, and any one who will refuse to pay for a paper and notify the publisher to stop it will be liable to arrest and fine the same as for theft.

Brunswick, his heirs and assigns, the following described parcel of land and real estate situated in the county of Lincoln, and Territory of New Mexico, to wit:—

The west half of the north west quarter of section (5) twenty-one township (9) nine south of range (16) sixteen east of the New Mexico principal meridian, and containing 80 acres.

The condition of said mortgage deed is such that whereas the said Felipa Miranda did on the 19th day of November, 1881, for the sum of $[illegible] payable to the order of the said M. Brunswick one day after date with interest on the same at the rate of [illegible] per cent per annum from maturity and [illegible] per cent per annum from maturity on the whole last above mentioned.

And whereas it was provided in and by said mortgage deed that if default should be made in the payment of said notes and the interest thereon at the time and place in the same [illegible] specified in said notes, then the said [illegible] should become due and payable, then and there, the said mortgagee, his heirs and assigns, or his agent or by their agents or attorneys, might sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash first giving notice of the time and place of said sale by publishing a notice in some newspaper published in the said county of Lincoln for ninety days before the date of said sale and to mail to their name or names might make and deliver to the purchaser a [illegible] and sufficient deed of said mortgaged premises.

And whereas default has been made in the payment of said notes and interest thereon, which default still continues.

And whereas I, the said mortgagee, M. Brunswick did, on the 1st day of September, 1881, for a valuable consideration, sell, assign and set over unto Fred Stamm the said mortgage and together with the said notes and the money due and to grow due thereon, with interest.

Now, therefore, public notice is hereby given that on the

between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 3 o'clock p. m. of said day at the front entrance of the court house in the town and county of Lincoln, the undersigned, Fred Stamm, agent of attorney, will sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, the property described in said mortgage deed, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due on said notes and interest thereon, and all costs of sale and [illegible] to the purchaser a good and sufficient deed thereof.

Dated, Nov. 23, 1881.

GRAND PREMIUM OFFER!

WORKS OF CHARLES DICKENS,

In Twelve Large Volumes,

Which we Offer with a Year's Subscription to this Paper for a Trifle More than Our Regular Subscription Price.

Wishing to largely increase the circulation of this paper in this city and county, we have made arrangements with a New York publishing house whereby we are enabled to offer as a premium to our subscribers a complete set of the works of Charles Dickens, in Twelve Large and Handsome Volumes, with a year's subscription to this paper, for a little more than our regular subscription price. The great object in subscribers at once and over becomes made. Charles Dickens was the greatest novelist the world ever had. No author before or since his time has ever written the same number of novels that were so popular in their day that during his lifetime. They abound in wit, humor, pathos, masterly delineations of character, and interesting scenes of plots and incidents, the like of which only wrought pens. Each book is complete in itself, and forms a set of three great and remarkable works. Not to have read them is to be far behind the age in which we live. The set of Dickens' works which we offer as a premium to our subscribers is handsomely printed from specially new plates, with new type. The twelve volumes contain the following world famous works, each one complete and unabridged, and absolutely unabridged:

DAVID COPPERFIELD,
MARTIN CHUZZLEWIT,
NICHOLAS NICKELBY,
DOMBEY AND SON,
BLEAK HOUSE,
LITTLE DORRIT,
OUR MUTUAL FRIEND,
PICKWICK PAPERS,
BARNABY RUDGE AND CHRISTMAS STORIES,
OLIVER TWIST AND GREAT EXPECTATIONS,
THE OLD CURIOSITY SHOP AND THE UNCOMMERCIAL TRAVELER, A TALE OF TWO CITIES, HARD TIMES AND THE MYSTERY OF EDWIN DROOD.

The above are without question the most famous novels that were ever written. For a quarter of a century may have been enlightened in every book and corner of the civilized world. Yet there are thousands of homes in America not supplied with a set of Dickens, the usual high cost of the books preventing people in moderate circumstances from enjoying his luxury. But now, owing to the use of modern improved printing, folding and stitching machinery, the extremely low price of white paper, and the great competition in the book trade, we are enabled to offer to our subscribers and readers a set of Dickens' works at a price which all can afford to pay. Every home in the land may now be supplied with a set of the great author's works.

IF YOU WANT

the Freshest paper and of course you want a good one. The WEEKLY EXAMINER fills the want completely, for it is the best. It gives you every week not only all the news, but the best literary and miscellaneous matter published on the American continent—that is its specialty; being the best. It wants your subscription—yours particularly—and offers not only to you, but to every other subscriber, one or more attractive premiums.

In the first place, it gives every subscriber, one of the four magnificent etchings or paintings described below, and delivers it safely at his address, postage paid.

"The Retreat from Moscow," by Malassonier,
"The Roman Chariot Race," by A. Wagner.

Each of these pictures is 21x28 inches, and they are elegantly reproduced in the finest style, showing every line and color of the great originals, either one of which would not be cheap at $150,000.

"Women and Children First," by C. Napier Henry,
"Christ Leaving the Prætorium," by Gustave Doré.

Each of these pictures is reproduced in photogravure, on India, and suitably fitted for framing, and will adorn the walls of the most elegant home.

Each subscriber has the choice of any one of these four pictures, which will be mailed him in a tube direct from the EXAMINER office, as soon as the subscription is received.

In the second place, it will give 5,000 premiums, valued in the aggregate at about $125,000 to its subscribers this year. If there are 50,000 subscribers, one in ten will get one of these premiums; if there are 100,000, only one in twenty. But no matter how many there are, each and every one of these premiums—which range in value from 50 cents to $6,000—will be given absolutely without cost to all of those who have paid $1.50 for the WEEKLY EXAMINER for one year. The EXAMINER is thoroughly responsible, as you know, or as Wells, Fargo & Co. or any bank or commercial agency in San Francisco will assure you, and the leading men of the city will see that its premiums are distributed exactly as agreed and that every subscriber no matter where he is located, will receive just what is assigned to him.

Of course you want your home paper also, and you can just as well as not save a little money by taking the EXAMINER with it. The price of the WEEKLY EXAMINER is $1.50 per year, including the premium picture and your share of the $125,000 list of premiums, which are fully described in the twelve page Premium Supplement, which will be sent free on application to

W. R. HEARST, Publisher, San Francisco, Cal.

The EXAMINER and the LEADER, the combined price of which is $3.50, will be sent you for one year, postage paid, for $2.50. Send the money to the office of the LEADER and your subscription will be promptly forwarded to the EXAMINER, and you will receive therefor an EXAMINER numbered receipt. You can get a Premium Supplement by applying at the office.

Merry Christmas.

THE wife of Jas. Bruce is quite ill.

CHRISTMAS is coming. 'Twill be here next Friday.

WE were three days this week without an eastern mail.

ROSS, of the Eagle, and his little family, arrived in town this week.

IN 1892 Christmas will fall on Sunday and the Fourth of July on Monday.

COL. G. W. PRICHARD, of Las Vegas is in town on a business visit of a week or ten days. The Col has large mining interests on Baxter Mountain.

NEXT Friday being Christmas, and Friday being our usual press day, we will next week issue but a half sheet, and put that to press on Thursday so that our force will be loose to observe the Day.

THE wind blew great guns here on Friday and Saturday of last week. But our people had a summer picnic compared with those of Albuquerque, some of whom had their buildings unroofed, others their dwellings demolished, fences extirpated, porches relocated generally, and every denizen frightened almost to death.

THE prettiest doll we ever saw is on exhibition at the post office and to the successful the most pop[illegible] will be given. [illegible]

LAST Tuesday morning the wife of Geo. Fitzpatrick presented his lodge lord with a brand new screaming, howling boy, and all hail White Oaks is chock full of babies. George struts around as though he was the only father in town. It is the wish of the LEADER that the little gentleman may live and prove to his parents a well spring of pleasure.

Something for the New Year.

The world renowned success of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and their continued expenditure of over a million of dollars annually to acquaint mankind with its merits, is abundant evidence that it is a medicine of great value. The valuable medicine is manufactured by The Hostetter Company, Pittsburg, Pa., under their own immediate supervision, employing no hands in that department. They are running about 11 months in the year on this work, and the issue of same for 1892 will be more than ten millions, printed in the English, German, French, Welsh, Norwegian, Swedish, Holland, Bohemian and Spanish languages. Enter to a copy of it for valuable and interesting reading concerning health, and numerous testimonials as to the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, amusement, varied information, astronomical calculations and chronological items, etc., which can be depended on for correctness. The Almanac for 1892 can be obtained free of cost, from druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the country.

NEXT Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, the Congregational pastor will preach a short Christmas sermon to the Sunday School. The subject of the evening sermon will be "The Star in the East." All are invited to attend these services.

On Christmas Eve the Congregational Sunday School will have a Christmas Tree from which gifts will be distributed for the encouragement of the children. The distribution of gifts will be preceded by brief, appropriate exercises of singing and recitations.

WE wish everybody indebted to the LEADER on any account, subscription, advertising or job work, would make it a point to square accounts between now and the new year. Dear delinquent reader, don't forget us.
