The Optic and Weekly Kansas Democrat, Topeka, Kansas, [illegible]

Dear Leader:—

You talk a good deal with your pencil and type about the inability of democrats to elect their candidates for [illegible] in this county. Now I know democrats were [illegible] last fall. Now I know democrats [illegible] for you, and I know you [illegible] it hard. Now, is it not a fact that the [illegible] would not [illegible] party because they [illegible] the year of 1812? [illegible] democrat [illegible] the [illegible] and republicans [illegible] always have [illegible] [illegible] who buy their [illegible] London and upon [illegible] vote the republican [illegible] merchants of the [illegible] who buy English [illegible] daughters and English [illegible] [illegible] their [illegible] party. PATRON.

We know it, do we? Why to know it we'd require the eye of a bat and the astuteness of a lawyer. No, we don't know it.

To begin with: Everybody who knows anything about the history of the Whig party knows that the conservative or Federal element of that party went over to the democracy in 1844. Filmore and the "Silver Grays" of New York the pro-slavery Whigs, were the "spotted shirt and still dicky" Whigs of those days. The "Wide Awake" of Boston all went over to the Democratic party, while such hard-fisted and hard-headed [illegible] as old Ben Wade of [illegible], Seward, of New York, Lovejoy of Maine, and Lincoln, of Illinois helped in organizing the Republican party. All the old Whigs of the South went over in a body to the Democracy, and, with few exceptions, are there to-day, fighting everything that is American, and [illegible] everything that is [illegible].

Why don't have to go further back than 1844 to learn which party is "a house with [illegible]"? Indeed one has only to read the English and Canadian papers of to-day to know beyond the shadow of a doubt which the English people in fact [illegible]. The sentiment of the [illegible] Democracy of the late Confederate States as to the [illegible] Democracy [illegible] upon their [illegible] with Lincoln as the [illegible] party. Tenderfoot Lawyer—

You talk a great deal with your mouth and type about the intention to deprive the U. S. [illegible] are friends of the U. S. [illegible] democrats want to [illegible] land. Now I have a few questions to ask you, and though you may think you know it all, I think I can prove it but. Where is it said that the soldiers want to prevent the party because they opposed the war of 1812? [illegible] political sentiment existed [illegible] while and republicans [illegible] always been friendly to [illegible] that when [illegible] whose buy their [illegible] London and are [illegible] vote the republican [illegible] wine-bottle of the [illegible] who buy English titles for their daughters and English [illegible] capitals for their [illegible] are, simultaneously, the first to [illegible] the negro. [illegible] but from the [illegible] party. Republicans are [illegible] fit to guard the country against [illegible] murders, are to guard against the importation of pauper convict labor, and you know it.

PATRON.

We know it, do we? Why to know it we'd require the eye of a bat and the intellect of a dunce. No, we don't know it.

To begin with: Everybody who knows anything about the history of the old Whig party knows that the aristocratic or Federal element of that party went over to the democracy in 1844. Fillmore and the "Silver Grays" of New York the pro-slavery Whigs, were the "boiled shirt and stiff dicky" set of those days. The "blue bloods" of Boston all went over to the Democratic party, while such hard-fisted and hard-headed men as old Ben Wade of Ohio, Seward, of New York, Fessenden of Maine, and Lincoln, of Illinois helped in organizing the Republican party. All the old Whigs of the South went over in a body to the Democracy, and, with few exceptions, are there to-day, fighting everything that is American, and advocating everything that is [illegible] Irish.

We don't have to go further back than 1861 to learn which party is in favor with England; indeed one has only to read the English and Canadian papers of to-day to know beyond the shadow of a doubt which the English party in this country is. Its sympathies for the secession Democracy in the late Confederate States, as well as the Democratic sympathizers here, plainly showed their colors when they plotted upon their return to England, a month's [illegible] to kill the heroic Lincoln. Indeed the Democratic party of the North in every crisis has been the ally of the extreme element of the South. [illegible] Everything that is American, [illegible] everything that is [illegible] Irish.

Will you please state from a reliable source the number of acres of land in the United States that are yet open to settlement. The United States is a country that does not know how big it is. The citizen who is afflicted with "land hunger" is certain of a square meal if he will go to the right place.

In Western Texas there has been no rain for three years, and in one district 5,000 people are on the verge of starvation and have issued an appeal for aid. Citizens of the United States, who a short time ago gave so liberally and with such a flourish in aid of the starving people of Russia, are now presented an opportunity to give a hand of their charity to their fellow countrymen. It may not be the valuable for advertising purposes, but the influence are really deserving.

What is happening in New York this week? Some evening papers of last Friday week are being circulated and the London Times has gone to press for the next day.—The news that Garfield was shot was announced by San Francisco papers three hours by the clock before the assassin pulled the trigger of his pistol. This length lads daughter with enterprise to [illegible] this fact make evening [illegible] possible.

Notes

Editor Leader—

The writer of this article has been for the past four weeks watching the various aspirants for democratic honors as delegate to the National Convention at Chicago, and particularly of the candidacy of Mr. G. A. Richardson, of Chaves County.

The writer admires the political ambitions of Mr. Richardson, and have no doubt that he would be a fair representative of the young democracy of the Territory—but there is the rub. Why should the democratic party of the Territory shelve the old, tried and trusted democrats, such as Manzanares, Kade Wilde, Long, Creamer, Gildersleeve, Hewitt, Ferguson, etc., and shove to the front a new "Rockwood," comparatively, who has suddenly appeared claiming political honors.

Let us further investigate and see why we should be sent to Chicago as a delegate. Mr. Richardson has been in this Territory not to exceed five or six years, as the writer remembers well, and settled in Lincoln, the county seat of Lincoln County, then embracing the counties of Chaves and Eddy. How long he remained in Lincoln the writer does not know but he fully remembers his exodus from there to the new county of Chaves where he has resided ever since. He entered the political arena at once and at the District Senatorial Convention was nominated as candidate and elected the following November. On reviewing the returns of said election it will be seen that he was beaten by a Mexican in his old Lincoln home and had not Chaves and Eddy counties been overwhelmingly democratic Mr. Richardson's name would have been changed to "Dennis."

Again, he has successfully championed the cause and cause of foreigners and poor laboring classes at Roswell to secure support for his action in the "school report meeting," and of the subsisting school element he was badly defeated.

Then, again—why should the democratic party of the Territory select a man whose residence is not at present within the contiguous limits of the county, as large. It cannot be denied that [illegible] is becoming [illegible] that [illegible] of democratic [illegible] Chaves [illegible] not of New York, but of the United States of America, for he says that he is not of that sentiment but for [illegible] well P. Flower, of New York, is he was one of the instigators of the "Roswell T. Flower Democratic Club of Roswell" and was one of its officers.

If he can creditably explain his action in the Irrigation Convention it is more than any of his friends can do.

During the last campaign, when there was a revolt against the regular democratic ticket in Chaves [illegible] Lincoln County [illegible] party [illegible] Lincoln [illegible] Eddy and Lincoln counties in his own behalf, and all the benefit he has contributed to the democratic party of the Territory was his vote for the Panlin School Bill, which was his redeeming feature.—He may do us a fair representative and the people may do well in returning him to the Council but to send him as a delegate to the Chicago Convention would but be a burlesque, not a representative of the democracy of New Mexico.

Safety in the Midst of Danger.

This would seem a contradiction—is so, in fact, to the eye. But experience has proved its possibility. Take the case of the individual who dwells in a pestilent region. A resolute constitution is now certain defense against the dreaded chills. What for [illegible] century, covering a period little short of half a century, proves that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is precisely this. This continent does not limit the field where the medicine has proved its efficacy. In South America, the isthmus of Panama, Mexico, everywhere in the United States and Canada, in the British provinces, in a regular land campaign against fever and ague, biliousness, kidney complaint, heart, bowel, and nervous disorders it conquers. It improves the appetite, [illegible] and [illegible]

Through the commissioner of the general land office, the president has directed a change in the boundaries of the Lincoln land district. By the change all that part of townships 10 north, ranges nineteen, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen and nineteen east of the New Mexico principal meridian lying in Lincoln county, detached from the Lincoln land district by the change of the boundary, is added to the Santa Fe land district and will hereafter form a part of said district. Further notice of the exact time when the [illegible] changes will be carried into effect will be given by the register and receiver of the Santa Fe and Lincoln land districts.

C. G. Coleman and a surveying party leave to-morrow for the Mescalero Apache Indian reserve, in Lincoln county, for purpose of surveying the arable lands there into ten acre tracts, soon to be allotted in severalty to those Indians. There are 472,000 acres of land in this reserve and 460 Indians to occupy it. The land is generally referred to as the best land in the southwest. Oklahoma's soil is not a marker here in, while the climate is well nigh perfect. The reservation is in a mountainous region, altitude about 6,000 feet; well watered and timbered, while the valleys are from one to two miles wide and will produce almost everything and anything. There is much talk of making an earnest demand to have this reservation thrown open to settlement after the Indians shall have received their land in severalty.—New Mexican.

Holman of Indiana, with [illegible] objections, never objects to a resolution for Congress, and he has just received his fifteenth.

ORIENTAL CRUELTY.

An Account of the Ordeal by Boiling Oil as Practiced in Ceylon.

Recently the district judge of Kalutara, in Ceylon, had before him three persons, including a village headman, charged with causing grievous hurt to four others by requiring them to plunge their right hands into a caldron of boiling oil. The medical evidence described the hands as being in "a sodden, suppurating condition," the fingers being in some cases deformed. In all cases the injured persons were unable to follow their ordinary avocations for about a month.

The facts of the case as stated in the judgment were these: A woman in the village had some plumbago and rice stolen from her; a headman made inquiry, and failing to obtain a clew to the theft, announced that it would be necessary on the third day to hold an ordeal by boiling oil. This appears to be a not uncommon custom in remote parts of the country, and the formalities are as follows: Ghee, or from newly-gathered King cocoanuts is manufactured by one of the friends of the complainant; this is poured into a caldron and heated to boiling point. Each of the suspected persons is supposed to dip his hand into the vessel of boiling oil and thereby to sprinkle as much of the hot oil as he brings up with his fingers on the person of the complainant, who stands close at hand. Any exclamation of pain on the part of the suspected person is construed into an admission of guilt. If no such exclamation is made, the innocence of the party is supposed to be established.

In the present case the evidence established that the pressure on the accused was not merely moral; they were forced to dip their hands into the burning oil. No force seems to have been used in bringing them to the scene of the ordeal; they collected there in response to the orders of the headman, who, seated on a platform opposite the vessel of oil, appears to have acted as the presiding judge. Each of the complainants deposed to the fact that they were reluctant to submit to the ordeal, but were forcibly dragged up to the caldron by the other two named, and their hands plunged into the boiling oil. They had sufficient self-control to abstain from calling out, except a boy of seventeen, who cried out lustily, and was thereupon pronounced the guilty one. The judge took the fact that it was a custom into account, but refused to dismiss the prisoners with a warning as suggested by their counsel. He fined them one hundred rupees each, with the alternative of rigorous imprisonment for ten months.—London Times.

LOCAL ROUNDUPS

[illegible] Locke's [illegible] and [illegible] will give a talk peculiar [illegible] Thursday [illegible] evening.

A coroner's jury found Potter, choked [illegible] to death here Thursday night. No particulars.

W. H. Peters, one of the owners of the Eureka Mine: J'ontillas is again with us. Wish he'd resolve to stay with us.

Wm. Simms, a cowpuncher here for some six years, died on Thursday leaving a mother, wife, child and a host of friends to mourn his demise.

We are pleased to announce that Mrs. E. W. Parker, who has been critically ill for some two weeks, has passed the danger line and is fast recovering her wonted vitality.

Al. Kinne, who last fall established the Little Casino Restaurant and has run it ever since, left with his family on Thursday for San Pedro, there to take charge of a hotel. A surprise awaits the public when the name of the new caterer is made known.

For seven or eight years past White Oaks has religiously observed Memorial Day. This year will form no exception. Last Monday night the G. A. R. met and named a committee to serve in conjunction with the W. R. C. A programme will soon be formulated and published. Memorial Day, May 30.

Col. Hirman Knowles has been removed as agent of the Mescalero Apaches and Col. Dick Hudson has been appointed in his stead. We thought the Las Cruces cabal would succeed in having Rhodes fired. They couldn't use him. We opine they will have no little use for Dick—there's no pulp in his composition.

Las Vegas is now busily engaged in raising her quota of stock for the Hot Springs line railroad, $100,000. El Paso seems to be talking and gives no promise of redeeming the pledges she made at the railroad convention held within her gates. Unless she does the proposed road should by rights go on to Deming. As the directory does not meet until February tangible news need be expected before then.

An Albuquerque woman complains that "an old fashioned" wart on her nose, red hair and [illegible] gray mustache always in sight, should like the address of the man who dropped his pedigree home [illegible] Chamber of Commerce. She is not in the matrimonial mart. Would worry at the drop of a hat and drag the bottom. A controversy is in progress in the south to determine who fired the first shot at Fort Sumter. The last statement of the honor is Major Wade Hampton Gibbes, who at the time was fresh from West Point. The school books used to credit the performance to a soldier named Hollis, whose name to Northern ears had a similar appropriate sound.

If your Friendship having returned from a trip to White Oaks, reports that little city as very prosperous. There is a general activity along all lines which is quite encouraging. This is not to be wondered at when it is remembered that actual wealth is added, there, at the rate of about $500,000 or $400,000 per month. This is the very reverse of where business bounds merely in handling wealth already made. Mining, agriculture and manufactures create wealth; commerce merely takes toll for handling it.—Optic.

The Leader has for sale a piano, an organ, 2 wagons, 2 carriages, 2 carts, 2 type writers, a watch, a soda fountain, a shot gun a stove and range, 2 bycicles, one for a lady and one for a gentleman—also a first-class sewing machine. Calvin Fisk is our agent for the sale of any or all of the above—See him and secure bargains.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

And all Persons Interested in the Proposed White Oaks Park Reservation at White Oaks, New Mexico.

In pursuance of Instructions of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, the undersigned has made a personal inspection of the lands and country comprising the Drainage Basin to the north and west of Carizo and Patos Mountains in the vicinity of White Oaks, and has decided to recommend to the Honorable Commissioner that not only the lands sloping to the north and westward of Patos and Carizo Mountains, but also the [illegible] on the west and sloping to the southward and furnishing a watershed and running into a common channel and arroyo basin descending to the westward toward the playas to the west of the Carizo Mountains be conserved within the limits of said reservation.

The preservation of the timber sloping to the southward of the mountains are essential to the preservation of such limited water supply and springs as may be utilized for agricultural or mining industries that may be developed in the future.

The lands embraced in the proposed White Oaks Reservation are described as follows:

Sections 12, 13, 24, 25 and 36, twp. 6 s. r. 12 east.

Also, sections 1, 10, 12, 24 25 and 36, twp. 7, s. r. 12 e.

Also, sections 7, 8, 9, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34 and 35, twp. 6, s. r. 13 e.

Also, sections 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 15, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34 and 35, twp. 7, s. r. 13, e.

Also, sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9, t. 8 s. r. 13 e.

Recommendation will be made that no restrictions be placed on mining for coal, minerals, or devolopment of water supplies within the boundaries of the proposed reservation. The restrictions will only apply to the cutting or removal of forest trees on the proposed reservation.

The object of this publication is to give timely notice of the proposed reservation in order that all persons who favor or oppose its establishment may have opportunity to submit their views to the Honorable Commissioner of the General Land Office by petition or otherwise for the purpose of having the same considered prior to the final establishment of such reservation.

Objections to the proposed reservation may be forwarded to the undersigned, Special Agent of the General Land Office, at Santa Fe, N. M., for transmission to the Hon. Commissioner of the General Land Office.
