A BIG THING.

The Armours have concluded to erect another packing house at Kansas City which will be the largest in the world. There will be three principal buildings, one 500x175, one 150x120, the third 125x100. In their construction six million brick, twelve million perch of stone, and half a million feet of lumber will be used, and 1,000 men will be kept constantly at work. When the building is finished it will have a daily slaughtering capacity of 6,000 cattle, 4,000 sheep and 3,000 hogs. It will give employment to over 2,000 men, and will do a business of from 60,000,000 to 70,000,000 a year.

This, be it understood, is in Kansas City, Kansas, which city is contiguous to Kansas City, Mo. The Lexington boy used to be treasurer of Kansas City, Kansas, and had more to say then than he has since. The States to which both cities belong might be called alliterative States, in that Missouri rises land oceans of pigs, pump kins and p lities, and Kansas of hogs, hominy and h allelujahs. Kansas City, Mo., will very soon, through the Armours, be like unto the ancient Athens—surrounded by Greece.

Across the Seas, to the Far West, the Magnificent, vast and stage-coached, More Palace Sidewheel Steamers is carried on the most magnificent Scale in the historic middle of the habitable globe. It deprives tributary, breathless water of its inherent properties and impregnates Fever, continuously the persistent effluvia upon the stomach of bad or indigestible food, miasmatic exudate, bituminous and wind upon the stomach. It is a fine defense against malarial depositors, maintains the effects of superabundance, heat and damp, relieves debilitated, and all intermittent and other fevers of tropical climes. It is singular, but nevertheless a fact, that no Vice President was ever renominated.

OBITUARY.

Last week we had but time and room to chronicle the death of W. J. Littell, Sr., which sad event took place on Wednesday evening the 15th inst., after an illness of but one week. The cause of death was disease of the brain.

The deceased was the son of Irish Scotch parents. He was born in Scotland on the 12th of July, 1823. Coming to this country with his parents when about 9 years of age he located in Pennsylvania, where he learned the trade of a carpenter, grew to manhood and married Miss Mary Winters, who bore him ten children, the mother and seven boys surviving him. Shortly after his marriage he moved to Cincinnati, Ohio, where his first born first saw the light. Soon thereafter he drifted to Owensboro, Ky., where he resided some 40 years, meantime acquiring a competency.—When the life of his adopted country was threatened Littell left his loved ones and joining the 17th Ky. regiment he battled for the Old Flag four years when he was honorably discharged. We have seen several who knew him in the service and vouched for him as an intrepid soldier.

In 1883 he came to White Oaks as attorney-in-fact for the Winters' heirs, his wife being the eldest sister of J. V. Winters, the locater and owner of the North Homestake Mine. While this estate was slowly working its way through the courts Mr. L. located several mining claims on Baxter Mountain, which he had patented, and possessed himself of considerable town property. Finally, the North Homestake was taken out of court through its sale to Mr. Signius, and of late the deceased was "putting his house in order" contemplating an early return to his "old Kentucky home" and spending the remnant of his days with his beloved wife. But death did not wait his convenience, but struck him down here, coming as "a thief in the night."

"Fate steals along with silent tread;
Found where it is in what least we dread.
Frowns in the storm with angry brow,
But in the sunshine strikes the blow."

He died not in the morning, neither in the meridian of life.—He lived out nearly the allotted span, when

"God's finger touched him and he died."

W. J. Littell was our friend, our particular friend. The chain which united us was golden—but death snapped it asunder, and, as we write it seems as though the shattered links were gleaming around and about our feet. Perhaps no two men in town sustained such close, confidential relations as did the deceased and the writer. We knew him well, understood him thoroughly. No man was truer, or by nature nobler. Whatever he had of imperfections they were not sufficient to obscure the radiance of his sterling qualities. He had no mean faults. He had the most retentive memory of any man we ever knew. He seemed to have all of the poets at his tongue's command. Less than a week before he took to his death-bed he, in our office, recited, for his own pleasure and to our delectation, Lincoln's favorite poem, the following lines of which, now seems as though when uttered by his "lips locked too tight to tell a lie," were prophetic:

"In the wink of an eye, 'tis the draught of a breath,
From the blossom of health to the paleness of death,
From the gilded saloon to the bier and the shroud—
Oh, why should the spirit of mortal be proud?

He was a man of exceptionally quiet, unobtrusive demeanor, one of the most signal characteristics of a "born gentleman." He loved sincerity and loathed duplicity. Association with him was like unto reading an interesting book, parts of which one can ever recall, other portions suggesting the marking, but all of more than passing interest. He was the incarnation of good humor. Care didn't wrinkle his brow nor gnaw at his heart-strings. Nothing ever worried him but ingratitude from whom gratitude was due, and the memory of that he would fling from him as soon as he could threat the it. He was one of "God's gentlemen, an honest man," his honesty being a transparent as chrystal which from every angle reflects the liquid light.

Death was kinder to him than he usually is to mortals. No lingering disease wasted his form, his sufferings were not protracted. The Pale Messenger touched him with his wand and he sank to sleep.

The grave gives forth no audible voice, no promise of tomorrow, but it does admonish us all to look down the mental to path way our friend has been called to tread, and so order our living that each of us may not fear to follow in our turn.

May God temper the visitation to the stricken widow and the boys who wear his honored name, is our fervent prayer.

Concerning the Minneapolis convention the London News gives this significant utterance.

The candidate selected will stand as the exponent of protection, which blocks the American market against British manufactures. A Republican victory in the coming election would retard for a long time the progress of the sound commercial doctrines that underlie the commercial greatness of Great Britain and alone maintain British ascendancy.

The American who understanding and appreciating the above, votes the Democratic ticket, should be deprived of his citizenship and sent over to England, of which country he is the better friend.

The Republican party could win the election this year simply on a declaration of opposition to the course that has been pursued by the Democrats in the present Congress.

THE Albuquerque of Thursday proclaims in flaming letters the nomination of Cleveland for President but its dispatches do not verify the claim. The wish is probably father to the thought.—But we believe and hope such will be the outcome.

The dems. have had a good deal to say about the "array of office holders at the Minneapolis Convention, whereas had all of them been eliminated from the roll Harrison would have been nominated. They also seem to forget that in 1888 Cleveland had a similar but larger representation in convention. And at the convention this week the "Stuffed Prophet" was represented by five members of his old Cabinet, his Ministers, Consuls, U. S. Marshals, Post Masters, et id genus omne, in galore.

JAKE WEISNER, of the Jicarilla, from whom we won a wheelbarrow ride bet on the Presidential election four years ago, paid White Oaks his first visit in over a year on Thursday. While warming a chair in the moral centre we duplicated the old bet, so that we are sure of an Irish carriage ride in November unless Jake beats us out of it by dying—and we know, Democrat though he is, he ain't mean enough to go to that extreme to leave us "in the soup."

Congressman Dingley made a speech lately in which he interpolated the following story to illustrate a point:

There was a bright Hibernian in my State once who illustrated this point in a way that I trust my friend from Nebraska will appreciate. He was a Republican and a Protectionist, by the way and he had been over in this country for fifteen years. He had not been able to get ahead in the old country, but he came here to this country to improve his condition—this country where people are taxed so much, where such burdens are imposed upon them. He came here to improve his condition, as he did improve it. He secured himself a little house and paid for it. He had a little money in the savings bank and was getting along very prosperously. He went back to pay a visit to Cork and while he was gone he bethoughts him that as he had to get a new coat he buy one there. He did so, and he paid $8 for it, and when he returned some of my Democratic friends having heard that he bought the coat and paid $8 for it, and that the price of same coat was $9 here, undertook before a crowd of fellow Democrats, one day, to rally him on the point. So they said: "Mike you are a Protectionist, yet see what you have done. You have paid $1 more for that coat on account of Protection than you could have got it for if we had been under Free Trade." "Ah, not so," said Mike; "I can buy that coat in this this country for six days' labor, and in Cork it will take twelve days' labor to buy it."

Cured After Thirty-two Years.

Milwaukee, May 26, 1891.

I was personally acquainted with a man who in the year 1859, then forty-four years of age commenced to take your medicine for epilepsy, which he had had for thirty-two years. The attacks which he had formerly every four weeks diminished as soon as he took your medicine and disappeared entirely after August, 1860. The man is so healthy now that he can attend to his business without fear. By this wonderful cure a large family has been made happy, and of this he is convinced and gladly testifies.

Republican Platform

The representatives of the Republicans of the United States assembled in general convention in the shores of the Mississippi river, in the everlasting bond of an indestructible republic whose most glorious chapter of history is the record of the Republican party, congratulate their countrymen on the marvelous growth and prosperity of the nation under the banners inscribed with the principles of our platform of 1888, a signal victory at the polls and prosperity in our fields, workshops and mines, and make the following declaration of principles:

We reaffirm the doctrine of protection. We call attention to its growth abroad. We maintain that the prosperous condition of our country is largely due to the wise revenue legislation of the Republican congress. We believe that all articles which can not be produced in the United States, except luxuries, should be admitted free of duty, and that on all imports coming into competition with the products of American labor there should be levied duties equal to the difference between wages abroad and at home. We assert that the prices of manufactured articles of general consumption have been reduced under the operations of the tariff act of 1890. We denounce the efforts of the Democratic majority of the house of representatives to destroy our tariff laws by piecemeal, as exhibited by their action upon wool, lead ore, iron ore, and we ask the people to render judgment thereon.

We point to the success of the Republican policy of reciprocity under which our export trade has greatly increased and new and enlarged markets have been opened for the products of our farms and workshops. We remind the people of the bitter opposition of the Democratic party to this practical business measure and claim that as enacted by a Republican administration, our present laws will eventually give us control of the trade of the world.

The American people, from tradition and interest, favor bi-metallism, and the Republican party demands the use of both gold and silver as standard money, with such restrictions and under such provisions to be determined by national legislation as will secure the maintenance of the parity of value of the two metals, so that the purchasing and debt paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold or paper, shall be at all times equal.

The interests of the producers of the country, its farmers and its workingmen, demand that every dollar, paper or coin, issued by the government shall be as good as any other dollar.

We commend the wise and patriotic steps already taken by our government to secure an international conference to adopt such measures as will insure a parity of value between gold and silver for use as money throughout the world.

We demand that every citizen of the United States shall be entitled to cast one free and unrestricted ballot in all public elections, and that such ballot shall be honestly counted and returned as cast; and that such laws shall be enacted and enforced as will secure to every individual, rich or poor, native or foreign born, white or black, this sovereign right granted by the constitution.

The free and honest popular ballot, the just and equal representation of all the people, as well as their just and equal protection under the laws, are the foundations of our Republican institutions, and the party will never relax its efforts until the integrity of the ballot and the purity of the elections shall be fully guaranteed and protected in every locality.

We [illegible] the action of the present administration in securing the participation of the [illegible] countries of the American continent in the Pan-American conference, and in the [illegible] of the Bering sea controversy, and we look with confidence to the future results of these negotiations for the establishment of closer commercial relations between the United States and the countries represented in that conference, and for the peaceful settlement of international disputes.

We favor the admission of the territories of New Mexico, Arizona, Oklahoma, Utah and the Indian territory into the union as states.

We favor the admission of the territories of North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana and Washington as states.

We favor the admission of the territory of Wyoming as a state.

We favor the admission of the territory of New Mexico as a state.

We favor the admission of the territory of Oklahoma as a state.

Yet there are thousands of homes in America and yet supplied with a set of Dickens, the usual high cost of the books preventing people in moderate circumstances from enjoying this luxury. But now, owing to the use of modern improved printing, folding and stitching machinery, the enormously low price of white paper, and the great competition in the book trade, we are enabled to offer to our subscribers and readers a set of Dickens' works at a price which all can afford to pay. The representatives of the Republicans of the United States assembled in general convention on the shores of the Mississippi river, the everlasting bond of an indestructible republic whose most glorious chapter of history is the record of the Republican party, congratulate our countrymen on the unexampled success of the nation under the principles of our platform of 1888, culminating in victory at the polls and prosperity in our fields, workshops and mines, and make the following declaration of principles.

We reaffirm the doctrine of protection. We call attention to its growth abroad. We maintain that the prosperous condition of our country is largely due to the wise revenue legislation of the Republican congress. We believe that all articles which can not be produced in the United States, except luxuries, should be admitted free of duty, and that on all imports coming into competition with the products of American labor there should be levied rates equal to the difference between wages abroad and at home. We assert that the prices of manufactured articles of general consumption have been reduced under the operations of the tariff act of 1890. We denounce the efforts of the Democratic majority of the house of representatives to destroy our tariff laws by piecemeal, as manifested by their action upon wool, lead and lead ores, and we ask the people to await the completion of their judgment upon the whole.

We point to the success of the Republican policy of reciprocity upon which our export trade has vastly increased and new and enlarged markets have been opened for products of our farms and workshops. We remind the people of the bitter opposition of the Democratic party to this practical business measure and claim that as executed by a Republican administration, our present laws will eventually give us control of the trade of the world.

The American people, from tradition and interest, favor bimetallism, and the Republican party demands the use of both gold and silver as standard money, with such restrictions and under such provisions to be determined by national legislation as will secure the maintenance of the parity of value of the two metals, so that the purchasing and debt paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold or paper, shall be at all times equal.

The interests of the producers of the country, its farmers and its workingmen, demand that every dollar, paper or coin, issued by the government shall be as good as any other dollar.

We commend the wise and patriotic steps already by our government to secure an international conference to adopt such measures as will insure a parity of value between gold and silver for use as money throughout the world.

We demand that every citizen of the United States shall be entitled to cast one free and unrestricted ballot in all public elections, and that such ballot shall be honestly counted and returned as cast; and that such laws shall be enacted and enforced as will secure to every individual, rich or poor, native or foreign born, white or black, this sovereign right granted by the constitution.

The free and honest popular ballot, the just and equal representation of all the people, as well as their just and equal protection under the laws, are the foundations of our Republican institutions, and the party will never relax its efforts until the integrity of the ballot and the purity of the elections shall be fully guaranteed and protected in every state.

We denounce the [illegible] practiced and encouraged by the Democratic party in many states, by which [illegible] are deprived of their votes and their power [illegible] for the protection of [illegible] votes and the honest count of all votes, the most stringent laws should be enacted, and we favor an amendment to the constitution of the United States which will secure the choice of electors by the people in districts.

We favor the admission of the remaining territories at the earliest practicable date, having due regard to the interests of the people of the territories and of the United States. All the federal officers appointed for the territories should be selected from bona fide residents thereof and the right of self government should be accorded as far as practicable.

We favor the cession, subject to the homestead laws, of the arid public lands to the states and territories in which they lie, under such congressional restrictions as the disposition, reclamation and occupancy by settlers will give the maximum benefits to the people.

The World's Columbian Exposition is a great national undertaking, and congress should promptly enact such remedial legislation thereon as will insure a successful termination of the expectations and obligations which attach to the celebration of results commensurate with the dignity and progress of the nation.

We sympathize with all wise and legal efforts to lessen and prevent the evils of intemperance and promote sobriety.

Remembering all the services and sacrifices of the men who saved the life of the nation, we pledge anew to the veteran soldiers of the republic our watchful care and recognition of their just claims upon a grateful people.

We commend the able, patriotic and thoroughly American administration of President Harrison. Under it the country has enjoyed remarkable prosperity, and the dignity and honor of the nation at home and abroad have been faithfully maintained, and we enter the record of its performance for the past and the pledge of its future performance in the future.

We give in the following table the new apportionment for each state, the old states being divided between the two parties as they voted the last presidential election:

Free Alcohol Talks.

There are various schemes afloat supplying reading matter at a little above actual cost. What would you think if you could get good literature free?

Drop a postal to G. T. Nicholson, G. P. and T. A., A. T. & S. F. R. R. Co., Topeka, Kan., and ask for a copy of "To Mexico by Palace Car." You can also procure free copies of "A Santa Barbara Holiday," Guide to San Diego Bay Region," Las Vegas Hot Springs Guide," and folders relating to Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Newspaper Laws.

Dr. Tuckerman, editor of the Workman, Cleveland, has taken some pains to collect and compile the decisions of the U. S. Courts on the subject as given to the Washington Post, as the result of his investigations, the following, which may be relied upon as correct:

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered wishing to renew their subscriptions.

2. If the subscriber or [illegible] the discontinuance of his periodical the publisher may continue to send it until all arrearages are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the office to which they are directed, they are responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publisher and the papers are sent to the former address, they are held responsible.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them unsalled for is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

6. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time if they do not wish to continue taking it, otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it, and the subscriber will be responsible until an express notice, with payment of all arrearages, is sent to the publisher.

The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can attach any one for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under this law the man who allows his subscription to run along for some time unpaid and then orders it discontinued, or orders the postmaster to mark it "refused," or have a postal card sent notifying the publisher, leaves himself liable to arrest and fine the same as for theft.

A PATRIOTIC WORK.

The above are without question the most famous novels that were ever written. For a quarter of a century they have been celebrated in every nook and corner of the civilized world. Yet there are thousands of homes in America that are yet supplied with a set of Dickens, the moral high tone of the books protecting people in modern environments from enjoying this luxury. But now, owing to the use of modern improved printing, folding and stitching machinery, the extremely low price of white paper, and the great competition in the book trade, we are enabled to offer to our subscribers and readers a set of Dickens' works at a price which all can afford to pay. Every home in the land may now be supplied with a set of the great author's works.

YOU WANT

A San Francisco paper and a premium picture, you want a good one. The WEEKLY EXAMINER is the best paper in the world for you every week, for all the news, for the best literary and miscellaneous matter published on the Pacific Coast—and it is a specialty being for you. It needs no introduction to you particularly—and others not only to you, but to every other member, one or more attractive premiums.

In the first place, it gives every subscriber, one of the two magnificent etchings or paintings described below, and delivers it safely at his address, postage paid.

"The Retreat from Moscow," by Meissonier.
"The Roman Chariot Race," by A. Wagner.

Each of these pictures is 21x36 inches, and they are elegantly reproduced in the finest, showing every fine and color of the great originals, about one of which could not be purchased for $100, each.

"Women and Children First," by C. Napier Hemy.
"Christ Leaving the Pretorium," by Gustave Doré.

Each of these pictures is reproduced in photogravure, size 21x36, and exquisitely fitted for framing, and will adorn the walls of the most refined home.

Each subscriber has the choice of any one of these two pictures, which will be mailed him in a tube direct from the EXAMINER office, as soon as the subscription is received.

In the second place, it will give 3,000 premiums, valued in the aggregate at about $125,000 to its subscribers this year. If there are 50,000 subscribers, one in ten will get one of these premiums; if there are 100,000, only one in twenty. But no matter how many there are, each and every one of these premiums—which range in value from 50 cents to $5,000—will be given absolutely without cost to some of those who have paid $1.50 for the WEEKLY EXAMINER for one year. The EXAMINER is thoroughly responsible, as you know, or as Dun, Barlow & Co. or any bank or commercial agency in San Francisco will assure you, and the leading men of the city will see that the premiums are distributed exactly as agreed and that every subscriber no matter where he is located, will receive just what is assigned to him.

Of course you want your home paper also, and you can just as well as not save a little money by taking the EXAMINER with it. The price of the WEEKLY EXAMINER is $1.50 per year, including the premium picture and your share of the $125,000 list of premiums, which are fully described in the twelve page Premium Supplement, which will be sent free on application to

W. R. HEARST, Publisher, San Francisco, Cal.

The EXAMINER and the LEADER, the combined price of which is $2.50, will be sent you for one year, postage paid, for $2.00. Send the money to the office of the LEADER and your subscription will be promptly forwarded to the EXAMINER, and you will receive therefor the EXAMINER's numbered receipt. You can get a Premium Supplement by applying at this office.

Anybody can freeze her own ice cream in five minutes, and for an expenditure of two or three cents. If the preparation desired to be frozen is placed in a tin bucket or other receptacle, it can be readily congealed by putting it in a pail containing a weak dilution of sulphuric acid and water. Into this throw a handful of common Glauber salts, and the resulting cold is so great that a bottle of wine will be frozen solid in a few minutes, and ice cream or ices may be quickly and easily prepared.

$200 Reward for Ore Thieves.
The common experience of this camp shows that much is lost by the mine operators by the stealing of gold in specimens, if not in smaltum and bullion. Therefore, the "Old Abe" Company offers a standing reward of Three Hundred Dollars for the arrest and conviction, or information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person guilty of stealing any of the property of the Old Abe Co., even the smallest specimen of ore. The rule of this company is to mill all specimens. Therefore none of the ore from this mine can be honestly held as specimens. And as the receiver, with guilty knowledge, is as guilty in law as the thief, this offer applies to the holder of Old Abe specimens.

For fifty years carriage makers have tried to invent a "short turn" vehicle that would not be a "tip-under." Success came with the invention of
