FOR PRESIDENT,
Benjamin Harrison,
—OF INDIANA—

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
Whitelaw Reid,
—OF NEW YORK.—

THERE are some benedicts, as there doubtless are all over, who profess not to understand why the government of Pennsylvania sho'd so exert itself to save Carnegie's property from spoliation. It is because the law demands it. The property of a citizen is first under the protection of the county,—if that is not potent enough then the arm of the State is invoked—that proving impotent the National government steps in and closes the game. In 1878 the labor rioters destroyed much valuable property in Pittsburg, which Allegheny County had to pay for—$4,000,000. The property destroyed was mostly R. R. property up, but the corporations got pay for their losses. Allegheny Co. wants no more like experiences.—But the State will have a big bill to pay the cost of maintaining the troops, being $22,000 a day.

FROM time immemorial it has been the boast of Englishmen that "a man's home is his castle" into which even a king cannot enter unbidden. Thank God, that law has been engrafted into our jurisprudence. The rich have no license to invade the homes of the poor, neither have the poor privilege to do violence to the possessions of the rich.

THE fact that the Pinkertons are democrats was not known by the nurses of that faith outside of Chicago else the democratic press would not have so mercilessly pounced down upon them. For years they have been a holy terror to the Republican party of Cuyahoga. Under the running fire they have lately endured from the enfranchisements of their friends they must be at a loss for political turnings. The Republican party would not tent with them, so they must perforce take the middle of the road and make a running jump into the third party corral.

The Great American Desert.

No wonder the American people like to be fooled. They are brought up, educated that way. Before a dowed with reasoning powers they are made to believe that unless they cease crying the "bad man" will catch and carry them off. Then afterward tell about Santa Claus and kindred myths. And so on, step by step, till they go to school, and there the chances are that they will be taught the "hatchet" and like stories until the imaginations are so warped that unvarnished truth seems to them as being stale, flat and unprofitable.

Perhaps it is not so bad now as it was when the writer and many of his readers were innocent kids, which period brings to our mind when in a reflective mood, what we were taught when we went to school, even after passing beyond the primary department.

Then Olney's Geography was undisputed authority, and it taught us, and illustrated to us on the atlas, that the region from present Iowa to Wyoming and the Dakotas, embracing, of course, New Mexico, was a "Great American Desert unhabitable except by buffaloes and roving tribes of Indians." In fact we were taught then what many of the East have not yet had time to unlearn. We were educated to believe that the territory now known as Kansas, would produce nothing but buffalo and Indians, whereas since becoming a State it has captured prizes for being the greatest wheat and best fruit producing State in the Union, and it now produces more and wilder middle-of-the-road cranks than any State in the Union. Of course New Mexico was rated as the edging of the undesirable white.

But people live to learn. Jefferson was maligned for giving $15,000,000 for the "Louisiana Purchase," embracing much of the "Desert," and now the fact is patent that the "Great American Desert" has become a veritable blossom as a rose, and has become of equal if not greater value than any equal sized tract in the U. S.—It produces a breed of meat sufficient to feed the entire continent; it has countless wealth and restless enterprise; it has over 40,000 miles of railway (not counting the White Oaks Short Line or Gould's Spur); and farm houses and school houses are so close together that one is never out of sight of them. The buffalo has gone and the red man has given way to the white man without a red who came here to make a fortune and made it. From a desert it has bloomed into an Eden. We walk on carpeted wealth here, in this, the most favored section of the "desert," and our air is the purest, our ozone the purest, our men the noblest, our women the greatest and our babies the sweetest in the world.

Out upon Olney and his old geography.

WHEN Cleveland ran for sheriff governor and president smarty's united in saying that he could take off his shirt without unbuttoning his collar and they wore it to a chestnut so that when indulged in now "suits" is the occasion used instead of laughter.

WHY cannot the tariff smashers tell the truth and shame the devil" and instead of attributing the late "unpleasantness" at Homestead to the high protection given Carnegie by the McKinley bill, admit the fact that said bill reduced the tariff on the products of the Homestead mills, thus showing, without so much straining, that if anything, the strike is an argument against a reduction in custom duties.

THE laborers need not worry about Andrew Carnegie, if it is true, as alleged, that he owns no less than eighteen English newspapers. Those properties will land him in the poor house soon enough without outside assistance.

NOW that the troops have relieved the strikers of their self-imposed duty of caring for Carnegie's property, it is safe to say that the strikers do not like the presence of Homestead law.

A good old Baptist preacher in Kentucky on one occasion went into politics and was billed for a speech at a cross roads. The house was full, for it was known that the minister had at one time voted the Republican ticket and there was no little curiosity to hear him speak. When the speaker arose he was given a round of applause.

"Fellow citizens," he began with a bow, "before opening my address I want to ask all the democrats in this room to stand up."

Every man in the house got up.

"Now all who are sure they will vote the democratic ticket, in spite of any and all opposition, please raise their right hands," requested the speaker, and every hand went up.

"Thanks, fellow citizens," he said, "now you may sit down, and as I see you are all democrats clean to the core and nothing on earth can change you [uproarious applause], there is no necessity of my making any political argument, and I shall preach a sermon to you on the salvation of your immortal souls, which, it seems to me, you are more in need of."

They raised a great row, but he threatened to have them arrested for disturbing divine worship, and quieted them until he finished a sermon two hours long.

Below the Rest, to the Far West, On steamboats, cars and stage-coaches, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is carried as the most important item in the medicine outfit of the traveling public. It deprives vitiated, bewildering water of its dangerous properties, and, as a genial, harmless corrective of biliousness, dyspepsia, constipation, kidney troubles, heartburn and rheumatism, it is a thing defense against malarial disorders, neutralizes the effects of exposure, fatigue, and irregularities, relieves debility, nervousness, sleeplessness, and overcomes that tendency to premature decay which is the bane of so many lives. Use it systematically, and you will be free from all these troubles. Ask your druggist or dealer for it.

THE Pope says that in discovering the American Continent Columbus was primarily inspired by the Catholic faith. Perhaps so.—Wonder if he was similarly inspired when he voyaged to a remote part of Spain from where his first wife and children were and wedded another woman. It's a poor rule that won't work both ways.

NEWTON BOOTH, ex-Governor of and ex U. S. Senator from California, died the other day. He had been troubled for some time from cancer of the tongue. Just before death he had a copious hemorrhage, and the flow of blood so scared him that the diseased tongue fell into his throat and strangled him to death.

NEW MEXICO has one mile of railway to ninety five miles of territory.

THERE still appears to be considerable Frickenton at Homestead.

"All this talk about the heroic age of our grandfathers is wonderfully tornero," says Walter Blackburn Harte in the April New England Magazine. "We are quite as heroic in this generation as were the men of any generation; and this is not saying very much. There are, however, heroes in our midst all the time; but the only heroes we know anything about are those of history and literature. We are torn and swayed by the same passions and fears as actuated the people of ancient Egypt; and a tragedy in a Broadway restaurant is just as much a tragedy, and just as full of the human element necessary for poetry as if it took place on the banks of the Nile. The engineer who stands in his cab, at the risk of his life in a railroad crash, is quite as heroic a figure as Columbus threatened by his mutinous sailors. As long as the human drama continues, there will be tragedies and there will be heroes. The critics who say that this age is too prosaic for the production of poets and poetry do not appear to realize that as long as birth and death and the essential solitariness of every individual existence remain, human life can never become commonplace. The fact is, in reading about our ancestors we accept shadows, continually elongating with the years, for men."

Recommended as the Best. Dr. H. BURNHOLM, Dr. Mass., Plymouth Co., Ia., May, 1892. I suffered from temporary disturbances from nervousness, for two years, for which I used Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic, and can recommend same to those suffering from similar troubles. H. BURNHOLM.

A Great Blessing. CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 1, 1887. I can most truthfully testify to the fact that here in Cleveland several cases of epilepsy which were cured by the medicine of Rev. Koenig of Ft. Wayne, Ind., have come under my personal observation. In other similar cases great relief was given even if up to the time they have not been entirely cured. It would certainly be a great blessing if the fillings were more widely circulated that many could be cured by this medicine. Prof. ARTHUR ANDERSON.

FREE—A Valuable Book on Nervous Diseases sent free to any address and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge. This remedy has been prepared by the Reverend Father Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., since 1876, and is now prepared under his direction by the KOENIG MED. CO., Chicago, Ill. $300 Reward for Ore Thieves.

The common experience of this camp shows that much is lost by the mine operators by the stealing of gold in specimens, if not in amalgam and bullion.—Therefore, the "Old Abe" Company offers a standing reward of Three Hundred Dollars for the arrest and conviction, or for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person guilty of stealing any of the property of the Old Abe Co., even the smallest specimen of ore.—The rule of this company is to sell all specimens. Therefore none of the ore from this mine can be honestly held as specimens. And as the receiver, with guilty knowledge, is as guilty in law as the thief, this offer applies to the holder of Old Abe specimens.

Republican Platform

The representatives of the Republicans of the United States assembled in general convention on the shores of the Mississippi river, the everlasting bond of an indestructible republic whose most glorious chapter of history is the record of the Republican party, congratulate their countrymen on the prevailing unanimity of the nation under the banners inscribed with the principles of our platform of 1888, vindicated by victory at the polls and prosperity in our fields, work shops and mines, and make the following declaration of principles.

We reaffirm the doctrine of protection. We call attention to its growth abroad. We maintain that the prosperous condition of our country is largely due to the wise revenue legislation of the Republican congress. We believe that all articles which can not be produced in the United States, except luxuries, should be admitted free of duty, and that on all imports coming into competition with the products of American labor, there should be levied duties equal to the difference between wages abroad and at home. We insist that the prices of manufactured articles of general consumption have been reduced under the operations of the tariff act of 1890.

We denounce the efforts of the Democratic majority of the present congress to destroy our tariff laws by piecemeal, as foreshadowed by their attacks upon wool, lead and lead ores, and we ask the people to pass judgment thereon.

We point to the success of the Republican policy of reciprocity, under which our export trade has vastly increased, and now sustains large markets of our farms and workshops. We remind the people of the bitter opposition of the Democratic party to this progressive business measure, and claim that as enacted by a Republican congress, in addition to our present laws will eventually give us control of the trade of the world.

The American people, from tradition and interest, favor bimetallism, and the Republican party demands the use of both gold and silver as standard money, with such restrictions and under such provisions to be determined by national legislation as will secure the maintenance of the parity of values of the two metals, so that the purchasing and debt paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold or paper, shall be at all times equal.

The interests of the producers of the country, its farmers and its workingmen, demand that every dollar, paper or coin, issued by the government shall be as good as any other dollar.

We commend the wise and patriotic steps taken already by our government to secure an international conference to adopt such measures as will insure parity of value between gold and silver for use as money throughout the world.

We demand that every citizen of the United States shall be entitled to cast one free and unrestricted ballot at all public elections, and that such ballot shall be honestly and correctly counted, and that each lawful vote shall be duly counted as cast; that such laws shall be enacted and enforced as will secure to every individual, rich or poor, native or foreign born, white or black, this sacred right granted by the constitution.

The free and honest popular ballot, the just and equal representation of all the people, as well as intelligent and equal protection under the laws, are the familiar boast of the political institutions, and this party will never relax its efforts until the integrity of the ballot and the purity of the elections shall be fully guaranteed and protected in every state.

We denounce the continued [illegible] upon American citizens [illegible] and we demand [illegible] and the [illegible] of the [illegible] and the [illegible] of the [illegible] and the [illegible] of the a San Francisco paper and of course you want a good one. The WEEKLY EXAMINER fills the want completely, for it is the best. It gives you every week not only all the news, but the best literary and miscellaneous matter published on the American continent—that is its specialty; being the best. It merits your subscription—yours particularly—and offers not only to you, but to every other subscriber, one or more attractive premiums.

In the first place, it gives every subscriber, one of the five magnificent etchings or paintings described below, and delivers it safely at his address, postage paid.

"The Retreat from Moscow," by Meissonier,
"The Roman Chariot Race," by A. Wagner.

Each of these pictures is 21x28 inches, and they are elegantly reproduced in the finest, showing every line and color of the great originals, either one of which would not be purchased for $100.00.

"Women and Children First," by C. Napier Henry.
"Christ Leaving the Pretorium," by Gustave Doré.

Each of these pictures is reproduced in photogravure, on plate, and exclusively used for framing, and will adorn the walls of the most refined home.

Each subscriber has the choice of any one of these five pictures, which will be mailed him in a tube direct from the EXAMINER office, as soon as the subscription is received.

In the second place, it will give 5,000 premiums valued in the aggregate at about $125,000 to its subscribers this year. If there are 50,000 subscribers, one in ten will get one of these premiums; if there are 100,000, only one in twenty. But no matter how many there are, each and every one of these premiums—which range in value from 50 cents to $5,000—will be given absolutely without cost to some of those who have paid $1.50 for the WEEKLY EXAMINER for one year. The EXAMINER is thoroughly responsible, as you know, or as Wells, Fargo & Co. or any bank or commercial agency in San Francisco will assure you, and the leading men of the city will see that the premiums are distributed exactly as agreed and that every subscriber no matter where he is located, will receive just what is assigned to him.

Of course you want your home paper also, and you can just as well as not save a little money by taking the EXAMINER with it. We denounce the continued [illegible] appointments for each of the old states being divided between the two parties as they voted the last presidential election.

Publishers' Terms.

There are various schemes to supplying reading matter at a little above actual cost. What do you think if you could get good literature free?

Drop a postal to G. T. Nicholson, G. P. & T. A., A. T. & S. F. R. R. Co., Topeka, Kan., and ask for a copy of "To Mexico by Palace Car." You can also procure free copies of "Santa Barbara Holiday," "Guide to San Diego Bay Region," "Las Vegas Hot Springs Guide," and folders relating to Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Newspaper Laws.

Dr. Tuckerman, editor of the Workman Cleveland, Ky., has taken some pains to collect and compile the decisions of the U. S. Courts on the subject and gives to the Washington Post as the result of his investigations, the following, which may be relied upon as correct:

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered wishing to renew their subscriptions.

2. If the subscriber orders the discontinuance of the periodical the publisher may continue to send it until all arrearages are paid.

3. If any shows neglect or refuse to take their papers from the office to which they are directed, they are responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers and the papers are sent to the former address they are held responsible.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

6. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice of the discontinuance if they do not wish to continue to take, otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it, and the subscriber will be responsible until an express notice, with payment of all arrearages is complied with.

The latest decision of importance is that newspapers published for the express purpose of advertising the business of persons or firms, are entitled to the same postage as papers published for regular subscribers.

A PATRIOTIC WORK.

As a patriotic citizen it is your duty to place these documents in the hands of your friends, they are interesting and instructive, and embrace discussions of the leading questions. The League publishes over 30 different documents, comprising nearly 500 pages of closely printed, carefully edited and reliable information. Among the authors of these documents are, Hon. James G. Married—At Copake, N. Y. July 13, 1892, by Rev. E. J. Bekhuk, at the residence of the bride's aunt, Frank H. Richmond to Louisa H. Shaver, both formerly of White Oaks, N. M.

"Another Richmond in the field" and two shanks less. Mr. Richmond was the first teacher in the White Oaks Academy and deservedly held high place in the esteem and admiration of our people because of his department and learning. The bride was for a long time the guest of our fellow citizen, E. W. Parker, and was best known to her young companions here as Lou. Long. She was a prime favorite in White Oaks with all who knew her, and upon the heads of the happy couple will be wafted congratulations from their host of friends here so soon as this notice is provided them. Frank in communicating his good fortune to us adds that groom and bride would feel that marriage would prove a failure to them without the Leader. Of course. There's nothing like it in times of blue or despondency. The Leader goes, and will carry with it it's "God bless you my children."

Silk umbrellas and parasols, to be closed out very cheap, during the next 30 days, at Goodman, Ziegler & Co's.

Fine weather has been extremely warm this week with occasional showers of rain, which maketh the heart of the ranchman glad. The grass on the ranges this fall and winter will be better than it has been in three consecutive years.

Mr. Frank Sager's new brick residence is nearly completed. It is an ornament to our town, and shows the owner's faith in the future of White Oaks.

There's a married man in town who's curious to know if everybody's wife is like his, who lets friends whole in his raiment save when one appears in the pocket of his pants.

The Stuttz theatrical troupe has played here to full houses every night, appearing in the most interesting of comedies and acquitting themselves to the entire satisfaction of their every patron. The troupe goes from here to Las Vegas. We commend them to the confidence of the good people of the Meadow City.

The small boy was sitting on the fence in front of a ramshackling old house with a bed quilt for a door and a slouch hat acting in the capacity of a window pane, and the boy's general appearance matched the house. I hailed the youngster as I rode by, and after a few questions about the neighborhood I asked if they had a school house.

"Naw, not 'roun' here," he answered, "but there's one three mile down the run."

"Do you go to school," I inquired.

"Naw."

"Can you read or write?"

"Naw," and his eyes opened wide.

"How old are you?"

"Fourteen goin' on fifteen."

"And can't read and write?"

"Naw, I can't and I don't have nays to," he said, with great confidence. "My pa's a Democrat, and I'm goin' to be one, too, I am."
