FOR PRESIDENT,

World's Fair Proclamation.
As provided in the joint resolution adopted June 29 last, President Harrison has issued a proclamation appointing Friday, October 31, the 40th anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus as a general holiday for the people of the United States. "On that day," said the proclamation, "let the people, so far as possible, cease all toil and devote themselves to such exercises as may best express honor to the discovery and appreciation of the achievements of our completed centuries of American life. Columbus stood in his age as a pioneer of progress and enlightenment. The system of universal education is in our midst the most potent and salutary feature of the spirit of enlightenment and it is particularly appropriate that the schools be made by people the center of the day's demonstration.

Let the national flag float over every school house in the country and expense be taken so shall impress upon our youth the patriotic duties of American citizenship. In churches and other places of assembly of people, let there be expression of gratitude to divine Providence for the devout faith of the discoverer and for the divine care and guidance which is a constant blessing to our people."

The leading depositors of the Ministry are telling tales out of school and spitting at and on each other. Of course our own Father had some superluous talk. In his return journey he said to me that the last additional sentence he had written about him gave him great trouble, "Now up to God Almighty, I don't know what to do for the drink if you will help me, he didn't come to the leading deposits of the Ministry any telling tales out of school and spitting at and on each other. Of course our own Father had some superluous talk. THE GREAT STRIKE.

Nothing can be, as nothing is more natural, than the sympathies of the people reaching out to the working man in his struggle for "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." But it is not always that the workman is right or reasonable in his demands and since all the evidence is in, surely it has been demonstrated that in the Homestead embroilie the workmen were in the wrong. This has been proven by the men themselves, under oath, before a Congressional committee, appointed when the excitement incident to the Pinkerton episode was at its height, and composed of men inclined to prejudice agaist Carnegie and to the belief that the men had just cause for grievance, but in their report to Congress they are forced by the facts revealed to condemn the strikers. The report is voluminous, but we submit a few of the conclusions arrived at. The report says:

"The earnings of the workmen are governed by the market price of billets. The minimum price in the scale does not affect the pay of the men except when the price of billets reaches and goes below that figure."

The company has between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 invested at Homestead. The plant is the finest of its kind in the world and makes the largest output to the crew.

The employees of the Carnegie Steel company are better paid than men in similar positions anywhere else in the world.

In the 20 inch mill a roller earned $283.05 in twenty-four days. In the 219 inch plate mill when the price of billets was $23, the minimum under the old scale, rollers earned $13.25 per day; screw men $10.83; shearers $12.26; tablemen, $9.43; and so on down to sweepers who received $3.10 per day.

The men average 270 work days in a year.

The prosperous condition of the workmen at Homestead is shown by the testimony that they have on deposit with the Carnegie company $145,000 drawing 6 per cent interest, saved from their earnings.

The company has also loaned money in the sums of $500 or less to those workmen who wanted to build homes. The company holds mortgages for money thus loaned of $12,000.

The McKinley tariff has had no effect whatever, on wages in the steel mills. The McKinley bill reduced the tariff on billets.

Mark Twain once told a story of a minister who had a call in the country. He had to ride nine miles over a rough road. The horse was skittish and the cart had no springs, and the poor donkey was jolted up and down until he almost wished he was dead.

The horse ran away at last and threw the minister on the road. When would he wake if he was hurt. He said he did not know, but he felt as if his collar bone was broken. "If he ever went to hell," he said, "he wanted to ride the Devil's road, he would never get out, he didn't care

We notice with mingled feelings of pain and amusement that the Protestant religious press of the country is complaining because the World's Fair Commissioners have extended an invitation to the Catholic church an opportunity for making an educational exhibit at that great exhibition. The invitation is not exclusive but extends to all kinds of educational institutions and to all denominations alike, and surely none but Protestants will be to blame if they do not keep pace with the Catholic exhibition.

Could bigotry or intolerance go further? Why, the aphorism about the play of Hamlet with the character of Hamlet left out is apropos. What was Columbus, religiously? A Catholic, and under whose auspices did he make his voyage of discovery? Queen Isabella, the Sovereign of a Catholic nation. Then, while the sit is on why not anathematize the cardinal, handed down to us, not only by a Catholic, but by a Catholic Pope—Gregory.

Why, just think of it. A Catholic discovered this continent. 13 signers of the Declaration of Independence were Catholics. The highest reward offered by Johnny Bull for the rendition of a patriot in Colonial days was for Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, brother of Bishop Carroll, a Catholic, and the richest man in the country, who contributed lavishly of his wealth toward the achievement of our independence. The first chief of the Continental Navy was a Catholic. Lafayette, without whose aid Washington would have had no country to Father, was a Catholic. Then in the late war, Sheridan, Shields, Rosecrans, Meagher, Mulligan, and hosts of other Catholics formed no inconsiderable or insignificant portion of the Union army.

We are not a Catholic and have no leanings toward that church—but we love fair play and despise bigotry as we do the devil. It is gratifying to know that in the Columbia Exposition no denomination or sect will have advantage over any other organization. Such complaints as indicated are unworthy of the great Protestant world and do an injustice to the cause the complainers represent. There is room and need for all.

A Cork lecturer once began address by remarking very solemnly: Parents, you may have children, or, if not, your daughters may have—concluded with: There is no man, woman or child in this audience who has arrived at the age of fifty years but that has felt those mighty truths, thundering truths, thundering through their minds for centuries.

Money is not exactly a religious article, but still it has a denunciation of its own.

$300 Reward for Site Thief.

The clamor of the public allows that much is lost by the mere operation of the stealing of gold. It specifies, if not in amount and belligerence, therefore, the "Old Abe" Company offers a Reward of Three Hundred Dollars for the arrest and conviction, or information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person guilty of stealing any of the property of the Old Abe Co., even the smallest specimen of art. The rule of this company is to fill all specimens. Therefore note $3. The value of this value can be honestly held as specimens. And as the receiver, with guilty knowledge, is as guilty in law as the thief, this offer applies to the holder of Old Abe specimens.

Republican Platform

The representatives of the Republicans of the United States assembled in general convention on the shores of the Mississippi river, the everlasting bond of an indomitable republic whose most glorious chapter of history is the record of the Republican party, congratulate their compatriots on the majestic merits of the nation under the banners inscribed with the principle of our platform of 1858, vindicated by victory at the polls and prosperity from fields, work and trade, and make the following declaration of principles.

We reaffirm the doctrine of protection. We call attention to its growth abroad. We maintain that the prosperous condition of our country is largely due to the wise revenue legislation of the Republican congress. We believe that all articles which can not be produced in the United States, except luxuries, should be admitted free of duty, and that on all imports coming into competition with the products of American labor, there should be levied duties equal to the difference between wages abroad and at home. We assert that the prices of manufactured articles of general consumption have been reduced under the operations of the tariff act of 1890. We denounce the efforts of the Democratic majority of the house of representatives to destroy our tariff laws by piecemeal, as manifested by their attacks upon wool, lead and lead ores, and we ask the people for their judgment thereafter.

We point to the success of the republican policy of reciprocity upon which our export trade has vastly increased and now and enlarged markets have been opened for products of our farms and workshops. We remind the people of the bitter opposition of the Democratic party to this practical business measure, and claim that as executed by a Republican administration, our present laws will eventually give us control of the trade of the world.

The American people, from tradition and interest, favor bimetalism, and the Republican party demands the use of both gold and silver as standard money with such restrictions and with such provisions to be determined by national legislation as will secure the maintenance of the parity of values of the two metals, so that the purchasing and debt paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold or paper, shall be at all times equal.

The interests of the producers of the country, its farmers and its workingmen, demand that every dollar paper or coin, issued by the government, shall be as good as any other dollar.

We commend the wise and patriotic steps taken already by our government to sent to an international conference to adopt such measures as will insure a parity of value between gold and silver for no money throughout the world.

We demand that every citizen of the United States shall be allowed to cast one free and unrestricted ballot in all public elections, and that such ballot shall be counted and returned as cast; that such laws shall be enacted and enforced as will secure to every individual, rich or poor, native or foreign-born, white or black, this sovereign right granted by the constitution.

The free and honest popular ballot, the just and equal representation of all the people, as well as their just and equal protection under the laws are the foundations of our Republican institutions, and the party will never relax its efforts until the integrity of the ballot, and the purity of the election shall be fully guaranteed and protected in every state.

We denounce the combined influence of foreign governments upon American cities to prevent our citizens in certain states of the Union.

We favor the extension of our foreign commerce, the protection of our marine marine and the creation of a more liberal provision of a number of internal and the cause of our day; the maintenance of the most friendly relations with foreign powers, entangling alliances with none; and the welfare of the cause of our freedom.

We record our approval of the Monitor and the achievements of the present dealers in the broadest sense.

We favor the enactment of more stringent laws and regulations for the restriction of criminal, pauper, and contract immigration.

We favor efficient legislation by congress to protect the life and liberty of employees of transportation companies engaged in carrying interstate commerce, and recommend such legislation by the respective states as will protect employer engaged in state commerce, in mining and manufacturing.

The Republican party has always been the champion of the oppressed, and recognizes the dignity of manhood, irrespective of faith, color or nationality; it sympathizes with the cause of home rule in Ireland and protest against the persecution of the Jews in Russia.

The ultimate end of free popular government is the intelligence of the people and the maintenance of freedom among men who are, declare anew, our devotion to liberty of thought and conscience, of speech and of instrumentation which contribute to the education of the children of the family.

We believe that religious liberty, we are opposed to any union of church and state.

We reiterate our opposition declared in the Democratic platform of 1856, to the usurpation of any authority to control arbitrarily the condition of traffic among the states. We heartily endorse the action already taken upon this subject, and recommend to the people to remain, to remold any defect in existing laws, and to render enforcement more complete and effective.

We approve the policy of extending the franchise to colored men, combining the advantages of the free delivery service now enjoyed by the larger cities of the country, and reducing the cost of transportation in the Republic. We decline to support any legislation which would, in any case, interfere with the earliest possible moment consistent with the maintenance of the post-office department and the highest class of revenue, with the existing system of rates in the cities, towns and the two and consistent enforcement by the Republican party of the laws regulating the same.

The constitutional importance to the American people as a measure of national defense and to build up an impartial American commerce and should be controlled by the United States.

We favor the admission of the remaining territories at the earliest practicable date, having due regard to the interests of the people of the territories and to the rights of the inhabitants thereto and the right of self-government should be accorded as far as practicable.

If there is occasion, subject to the boundaries of the said public lands to the states and territories in which they lie, under such congressional restriction and the like, to collect a sum equivalent to the maximum benefit to the people.

The World's Columbian Exposition is a great national and international opportunity for all to gain much educational information as will be a discharging of the expense and obligations incurred in the conduct of these fairs, however, in case of failure to account for payment of all arrears, is sent to the publisher.

We sympathize with all who legal efforts to lessen and prevent the evils of temperance of whose locality.

As we are all aware, the men of the men who saved the life of the nation, we pledge anew to the extermination of the scalp, a watchful care and recognition of their just claims, and the speedy and thorough Americanization of the Indian and the non-American population of President Harrison. Under his country has enjoyed remarkable prosperity, and the dignity and honor of our nation will be enhanced if the scalp is faithfully maintained, and we offer the record of pioneers kept a place of faithful performance in the future.

We give in the following table the new apportionment for each state, the old states being divided between the two parties as they voted the last presidential election:

LOCAL ROUNDUPS

Each Saturday makes a new and voluminous newspaper column, which with this popular column.

Rolla Wells arrived in town on Thursday.

Beef and mutton always on sale at the City Meat Market.

Buy your Drugs and Medicines from the Post Office Drug Store.

Fox fat, luscious juicy beef go to the City Meat Market, opposite Exchange Bank.

Try Creole Bandana Cure that never fails, at Post Office Drug Store.

Go to Shields & Co., for your drugs and medicines in post office building.

Our circus benefit for the brass band boys on Tuesday night, was liberally responded to and a nice little nucleus for uniforms was secured.

W. S. Siegrist and F. P. Clark, two rattling clever gentlemen from Tulsa, spent a couple of days in town this week and left regretfully.

Mrs. J. W. Zolling, wife of our popular bank cashier, arrived last Saturday from Ohio. She will be quite an acquisition to White Oaks society and we cordially welcome her to our mountain home.

W. B. Brekes informs us that just week while Tom. and Will. Henley were doing development work on a Negal claim they struck a dotted lead of free gold which promised to yield untold wealth to the guiding proprietors.

CHARLEY ANDERSON caught a little boy last Sunday that didn't have his hat on his head or teeth in his mouth. The little fellow looked so cute and withal forlorn that Charley took him in out of the wet and swears he'll keep him.

Quarried a large fishing excursion left town for the fishing banks of the Colorado on Tuesday morning. The party consisted of Joe A. Guarni and sister, S. M. Parker and wife, Mr. Doyle and wife, E. Sager and wife, Mrs. L. W. Stewart, Mrs. Barber, Geo. Ulrich, C. Bell, and A. P. Green.

What men in the eastern cities are afraid to venture out of doors lest they be snatched and fall between women and horses limp on the streets, our folk run around without such apprehensions. Few people have been known to die in White Oaks, but none from such a knowledge or influence.

A year or more ago misfortune struck us in the shape of a break in our press. To repair the damage we invoked the help of every iron worker within half wreath to press founders and employed all means in the realms of thought to remedy the trouble. None of the mechanics summoned ever saw a printing press before and albeit they did the best they could their services availed nothing. Press founders made suggestions which we utilized, yet between all aids it took a long time to surmount the difficulty enveloping us. To add to our misery many thought the condition to be the outgrowth of carelessness. But a majority of our patrons, indeed all of our good ones, bore with us without serious complaint. Now that the clouds have rolled by and our press has received its old time relations with us, throwing off clean and clear impressions, we feel like returning thanks to such as sympathized instead of condemning or damning us. We were racked with trouble. Such we will always gratefully remember. Those who gorged over our distress we will remember too—not in our prayers, perhaps, but we'll remember them all the same.

LIST OF LETTERS

Unravelled for and remaining in the White Oaks Post Office one month Aug. 1, 1892:

Armenio, Minnow Brunster, Will Brea, Gabriel Brea, Juan Brown, Elijah Butler, J. T. Caldwell, Andrew Clark, Robert Sedillo, Pedro Davidson, Milt Davidson, M. F. Duran, August Duff, W. G. Daly, W. W. Fitzpatrick, W. F. Hillman, Eliram Johnson, P. Mr. Keller, M. C. Lee, C. C. Lee, J. A.

Miller, P. J. Nunney, J. C. Hawkins, S. J. Orr, T. W. Pickett, J. W. Ritter, John Roe, George Tagdale, A. Skelton, J. F. Swindler, W. A. Tatti, F. Wallace, H. G. Walker, J. F.

Persons calling for any of the above letters will please say "advised."

Mrs. G. Timoney, P. M.

Mrs. Dr. Hagen, with her little babe goes to join her husband at White Oaks in a couple of weeks. Miss Olive Hughes, her sister, is to go with her for a visit of a few weeks. They will find White Oaks a very pleasant place of residence, and its people excellent neighbors to live amongst. Sorry to lose them from Dewing's social circles, even temporarily.—Deming Headlight.

It would be just as much out of place to call the World's Fair the Chicago Fair as to term our Territorial Fair the Albuquerque Fair. The World's Fair is to be held at Chicago because that city has more enterprise than any other city in the Union. The Territorial Fairs are held at Albuquerque for the reason that there are fewer flies on her than any other New Mexico city carries.

THURSDAY morning: Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Taiaferro, and the Misses Taiaferro and Shields, wheeled out of town for a week's outing on the Ruidoso. From there they will go to the Mescalero Arroyo and Tularens. We keep our fingers crossed for them a good time and wish that the surplus of their fancy catalog will drift to ye salader's cause.

H. B. Ferguson arrived in town on Thursday.

COUNTLESS KILLED IN ACCIDENTS
Persons suffered. Every family now knows the local Ambulance—pedaling private—used for over a year. It will compete with some of the public. Our Hospital is small, but it is part of the Medical faculty, so you know where to get medical aid.
