Under this Emblem We Fight

By Hon. Morris Sheppard

(Author of the Eighteenth Amendment.)

I regard Governor Smith's acceptance speech as a convincing and able deliverance. That he will give us an effective enforcement of prohibition as long as it is the law no one can justly doubt after noting his declaration in that respect. I oppose the changes he has suggested in the case of prohibition, but I shall not permit my devotion to that great reform to blind me to the fact that other questions are calling imperatively for solution.

Dieffenbach Answered

Before Rev. Albert Dieffenbach left Cabell hall yesterday, after denouncing Al Smith as unfit for the presidency because of his religion, two things had been demonstrated. One was that devotion to the principle of religious liberty has not been destroyed in the state where that great doctrine was proclaimed. The other was that there is a vast difference between the dogma of some Catholic theologians and the conduct of Al Smith as a public man.

If Smith ever had the slightest intention of heeding the absurd claims put forward by a few cloistered dreamers in Rome—of whom he probably has never heard—he would have done so in New York. Sixty three per cent of the people affiliated with any church in that state are Catholics. Smith has been governor four times and has commanded the unyielding support of the Democratic machine in New York City, the stronghold of his party and of his church. If he had wanted to destroy the public schools and to surround himself with the secret emissaries of Rome, he has had such a chance as no Catholic has ever enjoyed in America.

And what has he done? In ten years he has raised the public school appropriations of New York from $7,000,000 to $70,000,000, and as the fifteen department heads he has chosen one Catholic, one Jew and thirteen Protestants. More than half the department heads are Masons, and Smith's own private secretary, whom he sometimes styles the "assistant governor," holds his thirty-second degree in Masonry. This condition, familiar to all newspaper editors in America, is the reason they have not delved into those theological mummeries that Dieffenbach thinks they should study. They know Smith and his record, and they believe that the man and the record are a complete answer to the Boston mislatter. And it is just possible that in this matter the composite judgment of the American press may be as good as that of the Rev. Mr. Dieffenbach. — Richmond, News-Leader.

Lincoln County Democrats Name Ticket

Pursuant to call, the Democrats of Lincoln County assembled in Convention at the Court House at 11 o'clock Saturday, September 1. County Chairman Johnson called the Convention to order, read the call and asked for the election of a temporary chairman. John A. Haley was selected, and upon taking the chair announced that a secretary be named, and Miss Eva Rose was chosen. Upon motion Mrs. Carl E. Freeman was selected as assistant secretary.

Committees were then named one each from the several precincts, on the following committees: Credentials, Resolutions and Permanent organization and Order of Business, and the convention took a recess until 1:30 p. m.

At the hour of reconvening, the various committees made their reports. The credentials committee reported 90 delegates and proxies in the convention. The committee on resolutions presented a splendid set of resolutions, which were adopted, but the News has not been furnished a copy and cannot give them. The committee on permanent organization recommended that the temporary organization be made permanent and the report was adopted. The order of business followed that published in the convention call.

The candidates were presented in accordance with the report and began with treasurer and M. B. Paden was re-nominated without opposition.

For county assessor, John L. Bryan was renominated by acclamation.

For Probate Judge, the names of John Kimbrell and R. J. Copeland were placed in nomination, and John Kimbrell was declared the nominee upon the announcement that he had received a majority of the votes.

G. C. Brown, Corona, was nominated for surveyor by acclamation.

Two names were presented for county clerk, Harry Galacher and Mrs. Zoe Glassmire. Mrs. Glassmire received a majority of the votes cast and became the nominee of the convention.

E. W. Harris and Pete E. Johnson were placed in nomination for sheriff. Two ballots resulted in a tie and another ballot thrown out, because of a failure of the count checking, but a later ballot resulted in Harris securing the nomination by a small margin.

Three candidates were placed in nomination for county superintendent of schools: Mrs. Ola C. Jones, Mrs. S. H. Nickels and J. E. Koonce. Mrs. Nickels received a majority of the votes cast and was declared the nominee for the position.

W. B. Rose was renominated for commissioner from the first district without opposition.

In the second district, Lon Jenkins won the nomination over Wayne Van Schoyck.

The contest for commissioner in the third district was a close one between T. J. Grafton and J. H. Jackson, the latter nosing out on the ballot.

Mrs. James Cavanaugh was nominated by acclamation for representative.

Ten delegates were chosen to represent Lincoln county, at the state convention which was held at Albuquerque the 4th, 5th and 6th, as follows: Mrs. B. C. Sellers, A. S. McCamant, John Y. Hewitt, B. L. Luck, Mrs. Louise H. Coe, Herman Kelt, Henry Hoffman, Joe West, M. U. Finley and John A. Haley.

The convention then adjourned following the naming of the various precinct committeemen.

State Democratic Convention

The Democrats of the State were in convention at Albuquerque, from the 4th to the 6th, and nominated the following ticket:

For U. S. Senator, long term, J. S. Vaught.
Juan N. Vigil for the short term, from December to March 4.

Robert C. Dow for Governor.
Coe E. Howard for Lieutenant Governor.
Miss Jennie Fortune, Secretary of State.
John Bingham, State Treasurer.
Carlos Manzanares, State Auditor.
Frank Patton, Attorney General.
Ira J. Briscoe, Land Commissioner.
Henry A. Kiker, Supreme Court Justice.
Mrs. Georgia Lusk, Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Estanislado Garcia, Corporation Commissioner.
Mrs. A. A. Jones, Emmett Wert and R. W. Isaacs, Presidential Electors.

Short Interviews

TREATING ON MATTERS PERTAINING TO THE TOWN AND OTHERWISE

BY M. DOERING

In all the larger cities talking pictures are being shown and are drawing large crowds to the theatres putting them on. The first one shown at San Diego had a run of 48 days. Those who have seen them like them very much. A person looking at them thinks he sees the original actors the work is so perfect. I had the pleasure of listening to a movie-tone complete brass band, and considered the music fine; there wasn't any of that tin horn sound. A little later on there will be companies probably that will put on shows of this kind in towns the size of Carrizozo for a night or two, thus giving the people a chance to hear them. El Paso is not showing them.

The recent rains have caused the weeds on some of the vacant lots in Carrizozo to grow to considerable height. These weeds unless cut or pulled out by the roots will soon go to seed. Let's give them attention now.

Motorists in Carrizozo should make no left turns while motoring within the city limits, only at corners. Of course, if they make a left turn, it isn't likely they will be arrested, as Carrizozo has no traffic officer. It is a good rule and one that every careful and law abiding motorist should heed.

San Diego, California is about to get up a new chicken ordinance designed to put crowing roosters out of the city. The new ordinance will also include warbling felines and howling dogs. The ordinance will not be prepared until the city attorney has learned how other cities handle the problem.

At the Exposition at Long Beach, Calif., last week I saw the new thing in motor car building, a "nitecoach" which permits

Knows Wants of the Poor

(Montgomery Advertiser)

The Democratic party has always had a heart for the poor man. This attribute it has never lost.

The party never before demonstrated its fundamental interest in the poor more strikingly than when it nominated Al Smith for president. Every sentimental tie binds him with hoops of steel to the poor. His great gift for constructive statesmanship, as shown by his long and brilliant record, is warranty that the poor should receive something more from him as president than a few sympathetic words.

Golf Club Dance

The Golf Club gave a dance for the benefit of the Club last Monday night. It was well attended, and the music, which was most excellent, was furnished by our gifted home players: Marshall Beck, Don English, Don Lemmon, Max Shaver, with Mrs. Lois Reynolds at the piano.

twenty six people to sleep comfortably while traveling in one of them. Some of these "nitecoaches" are to be used from California to New York City, making the trip in 48 hours with the aid of airplanes. The "nitecoach" will doubtless mean in highway transportation what the Pullman has meant to railroad travel—but only to those who are inclined to be economical, as nothing has yet been put into service that can beat the Pullman. They are a little high in price, but give excellent satisfaction.

One of the best things that ever happened to Ruidoso was when the El Paso Herald and Times commenced boosting it in double page and one page advertisements last spring. They are still boosting it. They say it is the summer resort ideal, high up in the Sacramento, and are asking people to spend there vacation there.

Reminiscent

We were pleased to see that old Democratic war horse, Judge John Y. Hewitt...

Now, a little story about John Y. Hewitt may not be out of place here. The Judge has passed his 92nd milestone on Life's journey...

To illustrate the Judge's strain of humor: In replying to the toasts, he said: 'Ladies and gentlemen, and friends, I fully appreciate the honor you do me by this entertaining me.'

A few years ago a number of friends entertained him at a banquet at White Oaks, the occasion being his 90th birthday. The hall was decorated with flowers, of course, and 90 candles, representing his years, furnished the illumination.

The Chevrolet engineering division, in checking back on the performance of one of its bigger and better models, might find that on May 9th its gasoline consumption exceeded slightly that of the preceding and following days.

The Chevrolet engineers will set out to find the cause of these variations. And one of the first aids they will call upon is the weather recorder.

In checking back with the graphic weather records, the engineers might find that the wind velocity varied on May 9th between six and ten miles an hour.

"Thanks for Buggy Ride,"

(REVIEW) There is something inherently fascinating about a song writer trying to market a popular song, especially when presented in such a gay, lulling manner as in Laura La Plante's new feature comedy, "Thanks for the Buggy Ride."

This picture is one of the finest of the La Plante's. It is the type that will do her a lot of good with the fans because it is infinitely pleasing, a rare combination of rollicking farce (not slapstick) and a struggling, youthful love story.

Miss La Plante again proves herself to be the screen's leading comedienne and is so beautiful that she could easily be the screen's sweetheart if she wanted to specialize in romantic pictures.

Gienn Tryon is excellent in his role. Youthful and spontaneous, he is the ideal lead for Miss La Plante. Tryon, since the days when he was a two-reel comedian, has always had that spark which makes great stars.

Other members of the cast are well chosen for their roles with especial credit due to Richard Tucker, Lee Moran, Jack Raymond, Kate Price and Trizie Priganza.

Directional honors go to William A. Seiter, Miss La Plante's husband.

An Outdoor Laboratory

General Motors Proving Ground, the 1245 acre outdoor laboratory near Milford Mich., where cars are accurately measured to find out their performance ability, has in response to a demand for greater accuracy, added a weather house to its many ingenious scientific checking devices.

Adapted, like so many of its companion devices at the Proving Ground, to the sole task of evaluating precisely and impartially all makes of automobiles, the weather house is, perhaps, the only one of its kind in the world. Unlike other observatories, this one is not a weather forecaster, but a weather "binder-caster" to use a term employed by Proving Ground engineers.

It has been in use for several weeks, and is now operating day and night under the skilled meteorologists. Its reports are available to all General Motors divisional engineers and daily reports are filed at Lansing with the Michigan state weather department.

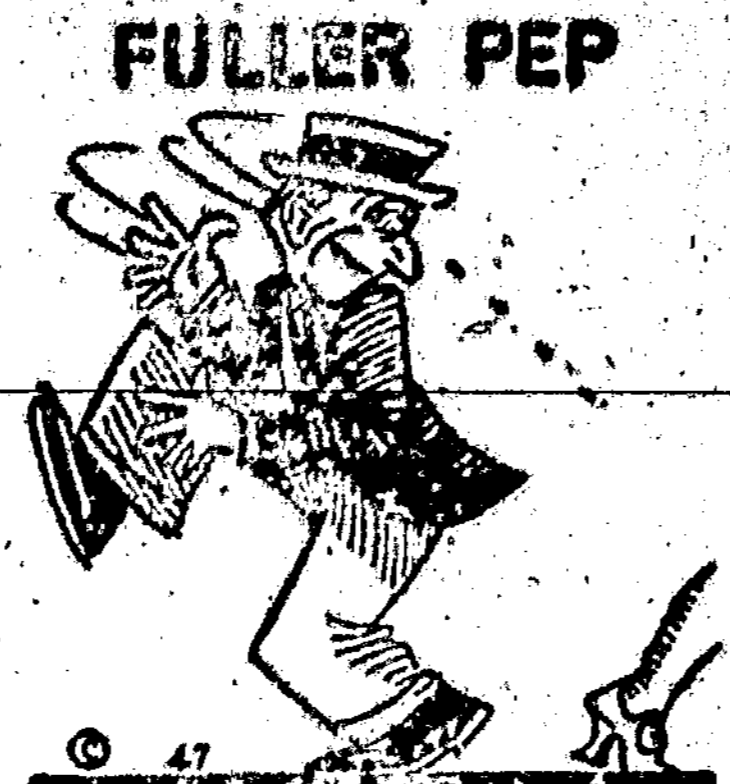

Here is a hypothetical instance of the manner in which the weather house assists the engineer in the precise task of measuring an automobile's merit:

The Chevrolet engineering division, in checking back on the performance of one of its bigger and better models, might find that on May 9th its gasoline consumption exceeded slightly that of the preceding and following days.

In checking back with the graphic weather records, the engineers might find that the wind velocity varied on May 9th between six and ten miles an hour. On May 8th and May 10th it remained below five miles an hour throughout the day.

The wind velocity, incidentally is one of the most important meteorological factors in motor performance. So marked is its effect in fact, that precise tests are impossible when it exceeds 10 miles an hour.

Weather has always been a bugaboo to automotive engineers and the Proving Ground has not neglected to place it among the most important factors bearing upon performance.

Cold winters, warm summers, and general redistribution of moisture make it an ideal location.

The Millionth Car

Further entrenching itself in its position as the world's foremost automobile producer, the Chevrolet Motor company last week reached a new mile stone in its manufacturing history.

The record making car was a coach, one of the most popular models in the line. It was a standard model in every respect. Like hundreds of thousands of Chevrolet coaches it was finished in avenue green Duco, with Tartan tan wheels, black beading and striping in gold.

After a brief informal ceremony the millionth car passed through the usual channels of distribution and was shipped a few hours after it came off the line to a dealer in the middle west.

An idea can be grasped of the immensity of the task of building 1,000,000 cars in less than eight months when it is borne in mind that to achieve this record it was necessary that a Chevrolet be built approximately every 10 seconds of every working day.

Mr. Knudsen pointed out that the building of 1,000,000 cars since Jan. 1 would not have been possible without strict adherence to precision methods. "Chevrolet knows that inaccuracies in manufacture and assemblage slow down the line with a consequent lowering of output and increase of cost," Mr. Knudsen said.

Undoubtedly much of our difficulty can be overcome by anticipating at the time the swinging of the pendulum to the point of increased production. There are two things to consider—quality and quantity. The latter is the danger element and the former is the beneficial result to strive for, for quality sells first.

The Livestock Situation

L. A. McNAUGHTON

Students of economics have for some time felt that there should not be a difficult marketing problem in the United States, insofar as meats are concerned.

The advanced prices of meat foods result from the natural aid of organized packer and retail effort initiated a country wide campaign to interest the consumer to eat more lamb.

Competent authorities vary in opinion as to the length of time necessary to reach the apex of high values and start on the downward trend to lower levels, but we can reckon pretty accurately when we consider that beginning with the period of gestation, a lapse of nine months occurs before the calf is dropped.

Undoubtedly much of our difficulty can be overcome by anticipating at the time the swinging of the pendulum to the point of increased production.

The sheep flocks in this country have been increasing in recent years. There were many who believed that the country had reached the saturation point some time ago and that the large offerings this year would be taken at lower price levels. There continues, however, to be a broad outlet for lambs without the anticipated diminution in price because the public has been told in an effective way of the value of lamb as a meat diet and the product has been placed before the consumer in an attractive manner, selecting the tops out of the different bands; the cut backs going to the feed lots for additional flesh so that with larger supplies and lowering prices starting the industry in the face, i.e. a der

Through the medium of practical advertising, special cooking classes to devise and demonstrate new ways of preparing lamb, distribution of recipe books, carcass cutting demonstrations, the woman especially were sold on the idea of including lamb as part of the daily menu.

The same possibilities are within the reach of beef, veal and pork producers. Production beyond the immediate demands and worrying about exceeding the saturation point are nothing new and have been overcome in a great many instances by intelligent merchandising with advertising and display playing an important role.

The county nominates will soon be interviewing the voters.
