CARRIZOZO, NEW MEXICO, FRIDAY, AUG. 28, 1936

NUMBER 9

Attorney Hall

Objects to Albuquerque Stealing our Publicity

Carrizozo, N. Mex., August 25, 1936.

The Albuquerque Journal, Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Dear Sirs:

The following item appeared in the Journal columns today:

"Scrolls four feet long and a foot across bear the invitations of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kudner of Bernardo Gap for their barbecue Friday morning.

"The invitations are red paper decorated with a two-foot block print by Martin Schaefer showing a bull dragged to a barbecue pit by a chef.

"Mr. Kudner is head of a New York advertising firm headquartered in the Rockefeller Center who spends part of his time on his New Mexico ranch property. His plane takes him to Santa Fe, Roswell and other points in the state, as when he flew here last week to fly Mr. and Mrs. John Oliver La Gorce, of Washington, D. C., to his ranch home."

From a casual reading one might get the impression that scenic Bernardo Gap is just outside the city limits in Albuquerque's Sandia hills and might even be reached by bus on a nickel fare.

Outside of Lincoln county, possibly not one person in ten thousand in this state knows where Bernardo Gap is. Perhaps a larger proportion know the location of Carrizozo and if the editor had desired to identify the locale of the event it would have been easy to note that Bernardo Gap is just twelve miles east of Carrizozo in Lincoln county. But that would not do as it would place it about 170 miles southeast of Albuquerque and thus destroy the romance of the impression that anything of importance is within walking distance of that metropolis.

Perhaps the society editor should leave the editorial desk some morning and take a stroll out to Bernardo Gap before breakfast. It would be refreshing.

Of course, we in the provinces are accustomed to Albuquerque grabbing the lion's share of these things and Albuquerque-I-Zing them, but so long as we can enjoy the barbecue down here we will have to let them have the advantages of the publicity.

Yours very truly,
John E. Hall.

The Editor of the Lincoln County News, not from a spirit of criticism, but because we regret to see the picturesque Spanish name for the famous Venado Gap entirely obsolete would like to say that even the people in Lincoln county scarcely recognize Bernardo as the name for the famous gap. VENADO is the Spanish word for deer, and is an appropriate name, as deer hunters for many years were always successful when they went to this hunters' paradise to make their kill.

Carrizozo Teams Lose

Cardinals lost to Fort Stanton 6 to 3.

Vaughn trounced the Cobras by a score of 12 to 9. Andy Luzzaz pitched a good game, but costly errors and a few bad decisions were too much for him to overcome.

The Cardinals and Cobras will play here Sunday.

He cast his first vote in Lincoln County.

Burnses Visiting Here From New Mexico

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Burns of Carrizozo, New Mexico, are here on a two week's visit among relatives and old friends. They haven't been back to Illinois for quite a number of years and that tends to make their visit all the more enjoyable. Mr. Burns is a station agent and operator working for the Southern Pacific Co. and has been one of their employees for a great many years, starting his railroad career here in Plano. Mr. and Mrs. Claude Boyer of Evanston are out for several weeks' stay at the old Henning homestead.

Mr. and Mrs. Burns have a host of friends who will be glad to see them. The picnic held Sunday out on Mrs. Warren Henning's farm enabled them to meet and visit with all of the Hennings in this part of the country.

Fall Livestock Marketing

Denver, Colorado, August 22, 1936. Shipments of cattle and calves from the 17 states in the western cattle area extending from North Dakota to Texas and westward during the five months, August to December 1936, are expected to be considerably larger than the relatively large shipments during the corresponding period in 1935, according to the report issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. On the basis of reports received early in August as to probable marketings, of feed conditions in the various states, and of the shipments from these states during the first seven months of the year, the indicated increase is about 15 percent, equivalent to about 800,000 head.

All of the indicated increase is in the states where the 1936 drought has been most severe and where feed production has been greatly reduced. This includes the Plains States from North Dakota to Oklahoma and the Mountain States of Montana and Wyoming. For the other states as a whole, marketings are expected to be somewhat smaller this year than last, with most of the states about the same as last year or somewhat smaller. Although abundant rainfall and favorable temperatures during the next two months may considerably improve the feed situation in the drought states, such improvements apparently cannot be sufficient to eliminate the necessity for continuing heavy shipments from these states. Such improvement, however, might reduce the total of these shipments from what seemed probable in early August. In states outside the drought area, in most of which feed supplies are quite plentiful, the trend in prices during the next few months will be an important factor in determining marketings.

For Probate Judge

Mr. Marshall C. St. John wishes to announce his candidacy for Probate Judge of Lincoln County on the Democratic ticket. He is sincere, competent and through his knowledge and experience gained by employment in the business world, coupled with his keen sense of justice qualifies him for this post. He is an ex-service man; served with the Fourth Division, overseas and is a member of the D. A. V. organization. Outstanding qualities are promptness and courtesy. He will appreciate your support.

Picnic on Bonito

The Titworth Company held their annual picnic last Sunday, the 23rd, up on the Bonito by the Mon Jeau school. For several years the company has been holding a picnic every summer for their employees and their families, and the festival has become a regular holiday for them. A sumptuous dinner was spread and there were ice cream and watermelons galore. Games were played in which old and young participated such as pitching horseshoes, running races etc.

The concluding feature of this picnic has been, and was this time, a "Pinata" game. This is a game in which a large olla decorated in bright-colored festooning and filled with all kinds of goodies is hung from a tree. Those wishing to try a crack at it are blindfolded and given a long stick with which they are to try breaking it. When the olla is broken after many have tried, the contents fall to the ground and the children all make a dive for their share. Everyone enjoys watching the procedure. The "Pinata" was cracked this time by Edward Provin.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Lee Beal and children Jack, Jennie Lou and Raynell, from Alamogordo. Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Galt and daughter Jean, and Mrs. Galt's mother, Mrs. Pond, from Mayhill. Mrs. Gibbany and Arlene Gibbany from Roswell, and Mrs. Otto Skinner and daughter Shirley from Albuquerque.

BREAD AND MILK NO PUNISHMENT

Children and Grownups Like This Simple Food.

By EDITH M. BARBER

IT USED to be considered a punishment for a child to be put to bed with only bread and milk for supper. It may still be a punishment to be put to bed, but nowadays milk is more fully appreciated; it is a common thing to see a child eating a bread and milk supper from choice.

Not only children like this simple food. Have you ever noticed in restaurants, especially at railroad stations, the number of orders there are for crackers and milk? Graham crackers and milk form a nutritious meal, especially when followed by fruit or a salad. A cracker and a glass of milk or buttermilk are the best kind of things to eat just before going to bed. If you have trouble getting to sleep try this little lunch before retiring.

There are many kinds of milk toast, and each person may suit his individual preference. One way to make it is to toast the bread, cut it into small squares, dot it with butter, sprinkle with salt and pour hot milk over it. Another way is to put slices of buttered toast in a shallow soup plate and serve a pitcher of hot milk with them. In this way persons can have the toast as crisp or as well soaked as they like.

Another well-liked supper or luncheon may be composed, mainly, of gingerbread and milk. This is very satisfying on Sunday when dinner has been served in the middle of the day. Gingerbread batter may be mixed, placed in the ice box, and baked any time within a week. The standing does not harm the cake in any way. It is convenient to mix a large recipe of gingerbread and have it baked from time to time during the week. It is not only good at meals, but tiny hot cakes of gingerbread are delicious with tea in the afternoon.

Ginger Cake

- 4 tablespoons fat
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 1/2 cup sweet or sour milk
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon ginger
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 1 1/2 cup flour

Cream the fat, add the sugar gradually, add the egg, and beat well. Mix the molasses and the milk. Mix and sift the dry ingredients, add alternately with the liquid to the creamed fat and sugar. Bake in an oblong cake pan or in muffin pans 25 minutes in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit).

Combination Sandwich

Allow two slices of buttered rye bread, two lettuce leaves, one slice of cooked ham and one slice of swiss cheese for each sandwich. Arrange lettuce, ham and cheese on one piece of bread. Spread cheese with mustard and cover with other lettuce leaf, and other slice of bread and cut diagonally. Garnish with sliced tomatoes.

Pumpkin Soup

- 1 small pumpkin
 - 3 pints water
 - Small piece of salt pork or beef
 - 1/2 pound soup meat
- Seasoning
Cut up pumpkin and add to water with the meat. Add seasoning (black pepper, thyme, one red pepper). After half an hour, add salt pork and salt to taste. Cook until tender. Strain soup and serve hot.

Escovitched Fish

- 1 pound fish
 - 1/2 cup vinegar
 - Pimiento seeds
 - 1 onion, chopped fine
 - 1 red pepper
 - 2 tablespoons salad oil
- Fry the fish. Pour over the vinegar, which has been mixed with the seasonings and oil. Rub the dish in which it is to be served with a little garlic.

Rum Punch

- One of sour, lime juice
 - Two of sweet, sugar
 - Three of strong, rum
 - Four of weak, water
 - A dash of bitters
- Mix well and serve very cold.

In a room containing an Aubusson rug in faded tones of green, mauve and red, walls are painted a soft Venetian pink. At the windows long curtains of yellow and white striped moire hang while striped silk in green and dull pink covers the armchair. The rest of the furniture in the room is Eighteenth century.

The brilliant use of color distinguishes the director's hallway in a prominent Chicago home. The walls are marbled yellow-pink and accented by an emerald green dado. Trim and cornice are in mauve and gold. The ceiling is gold leaf and the floor black terrazo.

The Household

By LYDIA LE BARON WALKER

A HOLDER BAG is one of the nicest solutions of what to do with the essential accessory of the kitchen namely hot dish holders. Many ways of keeping holders handy, and in trim array, or in safe hiding have been devised, but the bag is to be recommended. It should be large enough to contain several holders, and sufficiently open for them to be easily accessible. The bag should be decorative, an attractive furnishing for the kitchen. The bag that I am describing and giving directions for making has all the wanted characteristics. And, to continue the good things about it, the bag is quickly made and costs but a few cents to complete.

The material is table oil cloth. The dimensions are nine inches square, with a handle of two six-inch strips one and one-quarter inches wide, and tapered to points at ends. All edges are bound with cotton bias binding. An eight petal flower is centered on the front of the bag. At two tips of the handle is a ring worked over with button hole stitches. This ring does double duty as it holds the handle straps together so that they are inseparable at this place and it also is the loop by which the bag can be hung up.

A Flower

A fancy oilcloth is used for the outside, while two predominating colors in plain oil cloth are used for alternating petals of the flower. Each petal is two and three-quarter inches long by one and one-half inches wide and is rounded at one end. The straight end is folded to half its width. Petals are held together in the center of the flower by a one-inch circle of black oil cloth having five or more large French knots distributed over it.

The lining of the bag is one of these plain colored oil cloths while the crochet cotton (mercerized) covering the ring, is of the other color. The handle is attached by machine stitching to one corner of back and front portions. These two portions are stitched together along the two lower edges. This leaves the other two sides open, and thus makes it easy to get at the holders and to tuck them away after using. The bag is large enough to hold six holders, each five inches square. This attractive fitted holder bag should prove a best seller at a fair.
© Bell Syndicate—WNU Service.

Both gay decoration and convenience are features of this bag for holders.

Riding With Their Backs to the Horses

Some people are always looking into the past. All the worth of things is there. They are forever talking about the good times that once happened.

There is no romance in the world now, no heroism. The winters and summers are not as they used to be. Life is altogether on a small, commonplace scale. . . Now that is a miserable sort of thing: It brings a kind of paralyzing chill over the life, and petrifies the natural spring of joy that should be ever leaping up to meet the fresh new mercies that the days keep bringing. The fault is not in the times, but in the people.

FABLES IN SLANG

By GEORGE ADE

WNU Service

He Was Rotten, and the Divot Went Almost as Far as the Ball.

BEING A TRUE SPORT

ONCE there was a very small and succulent Urchin who discovered before he had been on the Planet many Moons...

As soon as he could sit on a hard adult knee he was warned that, during the Years to come, he must be Polite, Unselfish, Industrious, and Economical...

Many a Clove-Eater told him that when he grew up he must shun Liquor. The Poker-Players explained to him that Good Little Boys played Marbles for Fun...

No wonder that Griswold, when he was eight years of Age, sat down one Day and figured it out, in a Spirit of utter Cynicism...

Even at that Early Age he felt stirring within Himself an outlaw Desire to be a True Sport. He took note of the Fact that all of the Juvenile Paragons who were held up as Models of Deportment...

On the other Hand, all of the Hard Eggs who could fight with their fists and went swimming in the Crick before the Ice was out carried Nigger-Shooters.

Griswold was groping toward a Fact which has long puzzled and discouraged a good many Moralists.

Robin Hood remains a glorified Figure but who is interested in John Bunyan?

The trouble with straight-laced Morality, as practiced in a perfunctory Manner in so many Communities, is that it holds out no glittering inducements. Griswold, or "Griz," as he was addressed by his Colleagues, knew, even at the Age of Eight, that he never would be respected as a coming Buffalo Bill...

It seemed to Griswold that if he wanted to be a cowboy or travel with a Circus, he had better demonstrate an immediate spirit of Bravado by learning to Smoke.

If he finally could puff at a Two-fer without getting dizzy, it was because he showed the Optimism and dogged Determination that are demanded of anyone who would learn to eat Olives, play Bridge, reduce the Weight, listen to an Opus or read Hindoo Poetry.

By the time he was in his Teens he owned a Pipe and painfully tried to use the kind of Language that would have horrified his Sunday School Teacher, and he had a semi-criminal Record on account of playing Hookey, smashing Windows and stealing Watermelons.

The Sporting Code of Honor

When a Boy who is brought up in a Refined Home and surrounded by all of the Civilized Influences, shows a wide Streak of Wickedness, some Persons say that he is proving the Doctrine of Original Sin...

Why did Griswold, a little later, put his Foot on the Rail and try his damndest to Drink a Glass of Lager without making a Face? Because he had learned that he had to burst through the swinging Doors and pound on the Bar in order to acquire any real Standing as One of the Boys.

Even after he had acquired the Standard Vices, it became evident to Griz that he would not be regarded as a True Sport unless he could hand up a Performance such as one of the Following:

- 1. Sit in the same Chair for 14 Hours playing Draw and then appear unconcerned after being nicked for a Month's salary.
2. Go to the Race Track and listen to a tout and plaster all the Currency on a Crippled Goat that comes in just before they are starting the next Race.
3. Slip out at Night and attend a Wild Party at which great Sums of Money are devoted to the Purchase of Partridge and Champagne for Ladies connected with the Theatrical Profession who were brought up on Soda Biscuits and Young Hyson Tea.
4. Feed the Rent Money to a Roulette Wheel.
5. Bet in a Loud Voice on every Election Result.
6. Never, under any circumstances, express a willingness to terminate a Party and go Home.

Giving Credit Where It's Due

It is no easy matter for a Man who is trying to get a Foothold in the Business World to perform all of the blithering Idiocies involved in the foregoing Tasks.

The Point is that when it comes to being a real, sure-enough hot Sport, the Rules of Common Sense do not apply. There are certain Traditions and Precedents which must be observed. One must know how to part with a large Hunk of Money and never bat an Eye. If the Money really belongs to the Creditors, that makes no Difference. Usually it does.

Well, Griswold kept on being a True Sport until he nearly ruined his Health, so now he is living out in the Country and letting somebody else buy Diamond Sunbursts for the Wives of the Distillers.

Some People think he is a Has-Been, but he got quite a Thrill the other Day when he tried to make a 200-Yard Shot, over Water, with a Niblick. He was Rotten and the Divot went almost as far as the Ball, but he was very much pleased to hear a Spectator say: "Well, you've got to give the Old Bird credit for one Thing. He's got his Nerve with him. He's a Sport."

Which is true. Probably they will put it on the Head-Stone that he was a Real One up to the Time that his Stomach and Nerves and Pocket-Book gave out. MORAL: Better ride in an Ambulance than be known as a Piker. Dignified in Argument. Be calm in arguing; for fierceness makes error a fault, and truth discourtesy.

The Man Who-o-o

THE BIG SHOW COSTS

SOME presidential candidates are wafted into office on a cloud of smoke while the aspirations of others are dashed to oblivion by the same breeze.

All of which is by way of saying that the cigar-making industry is due for a boom, now that a presidential election year is with us. As far back as 1888 when Harrison was elected the astounding number of 100,000,000 more cigars were manufactured than the preceding year.

The astonishing thing about the big, countrywide show of an election is that the Havana filler the politician stuffs into your mouth is merely an item in the whole campaign and election costs. The latter, it has been estimated by competent and conservative observers, reaches $40,000,000.

In addition to that huge sum there are other millions impossible to compute.

Out of all this spending it is perhaps fortunate for the American public that usually more good than merely the choosing of a President is the result.

For one thing, hundreds of thousands of persons are employed—not the least of them being newspaper workers who figure briefly but actively in compiling election returns.

In Chicago, for example, the business of collecting returns is in the hands of the police. An officer visits each precinct, obtains two results of the vote. One of these he speeds to the board of election commissioners, the other to the City News Bureau which has moved bodily into Chicago's council-chambers for the evening.

Rents are paid out for organization quarters, down to the smallest precinct; spellbinders are employed, with all expenses paid; bands are hired; banquets are spread and the politicians pass out cigars.

Did we say $40,000,000 expense? Well, it's a conservative estimate, anyway.

CROPS AND ELECTIONS

IF THE Democratic party is dubious about the 1936 election it may be because of the drought.

History of our political campaigns indicates that the size of crops has an important bearing on national elections. In other words, if there be a scarcity of farm products, the party in power is turned out of office.

None can say that this is an infallible rule, yet there are notable periods and events which tend to prove its truth. A seven-year drought, for example, starting in 1933, is the first widespread destruction of crops of which there is record. At the end of it, Martin Van Buren was voted out of office and the Whigs came in with a great show of strength.

A second drought occurred shortly before the Civil war, but the latter event dominated, of course, every trend of political development for that period. In 1874 there was a large Republican majority in the lower branch of congress—but there had been drought years immediately preceding, and Democratic congressmen were elected in droves.

Beginning in 1837, ten years showed a deficiency of rainfall and crops naturally suffered. It was during this period, perhaps more than in any other, that the American voter practiced assiduously his right to vote parties in and out of power.

Conditions may be changed today. The Democratic party, which happens to be in the saddle, has survived one of the country's worst crop years, 1934. There are political observers who assert that we are too much an industrial nation today for Old Man Weather to lay such a heavy hand on political fortunes.

Only time will tell if this estimate of the situation is correct. When this is written, however, indications point clearly that "burning, dry winds have destroyed a large part of the spring wheat crop in the Dakotas and Montana.

Industrial nation or not, it is at least an even bet that when the campaign warms up particular attention will be paid to those three states by Messrs. Hamilton and Farley—not to mention Congressman Lemke, who hails from that area himself.

A Smartly Simple Frock

1933-B

Swingin' down the lane with a bit of a zip and a full quota of what it takes, this smartly simple frock goes places without effort—an engagingly youthful and chic affair which can be made in a trice (first cousin to a jiffy) and make you the belle of the campus.

Its simplicity is totally disarming, yet it has all the aplomb of a professor in English—just one of those frocks which can't miss. Delightfully cool and as chipper as a breeze, it requires just seven simple pieces in the making, in any fabric from the A's to the Z's. The yoke and sleeves cut in one and the collar is just long enough to take the prize. Send for Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1933-B designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20—just $2 to 38. Size 14 requires 4 yards of 39-inch fabric. Send 15 cents in coins.

Send for the Fall Pattern Book containing Barbara Bell well-planned, easy-to-make patterns. Exclusive fashions for children, young women and matrons. Send 15 cents for your copy. Send your order to The Sewing Circle, Pattern Dept., 367 W. Adams St., Chicago, Ill. © Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

OF INTEREST TO THE HOUSEWIFE

A mixture of one part vinegar and two parts linseed oil, applied with a soft cloth to suitcases and bags will clean and polish them.

A large piece of blotting paper placed on the closet floor will absorb moisture from wet rubbers that may be placed in closet.

Scorch on cotton or linen may be removed with soap and water. Wet the spot with water and expose to the sun for a day or longer if necessary. The scorch disappears more rapidly if the material is moistened first.

If your garden peas get too hard, for serving in the regular way, cook them until tender, press through a sieve and use the pulp in soup.

THE TICKET-BOOTH TRAP!

AN INSIDE STORY OF MELVIN PURVIS FORMER ACE G-MAN MELVIN PURVIS, the young lawyer who became America's ace G-Man. In these inside stories Mr. Purvis reveals the methods used in catching desperate criminals. Names have, of course, been changed. Here is the story of "Gyp" Gollick and his gang, who ran a gigantic stolen automobile—or "hot car"—racket in the Mid-West, as Melvin Purvis told into his friends Paul and Joan. The "G-Men" had traced Gollick to a Mid-Western city where he was "hiding out."

BENTILION MEASUREMENTS First perfected by M. Alphonse Bentillon (Paris). These consist of careful measuring and classification of characteristics of the head and body which cannot be disguised. G-Men can take a long course of training in these measurements, so that they can spot instantly such features. At the right are some simple examples of head types: TYPE A LONG-HEADED, OR DOLICHOCEPHALIC SKULL. TYPE B SHORT-HEADED, OR BRACHYCEPHALIC SKULL.

WE'VE GOT YOU GOLICK! THAT DOESN'T MEAN YOU'RE A G-MAN! PURVIS AT THE G-MEN! YOU CAN'T GET AWAY FROM US! ...AND GYP GOLICK WENT TO PRISON FOR A LONG TIME. NOW PAUL AND JOAN SINCE YOU'RE BOTH MEMBERS OF MY JUNIOR G-MAN CORPS, I WANT YOU TO FOLLOW MY DREAM-FUTURE RULE—EAT LOTS OF POST TOASTIES!

COME ON, BOYS AND GIRLS! JOIN MY JUNIOR G-MAN CORPS! I'LL SEND YOU FREE MY OFFICIAL JUNIOR G-MAN BADGE, PLACE YOUR NAME ON MY SECRET ROLL, AND SEND YOU MY BIG, THRILLING "MANUAL" THAT TELLS ALL ABOUT CLUES, FINGERPRINTS, SECRET CODES ONLY JUNIOR G-MEN CAN USE—AND HOW TO BECOME A ROVING OPERATIVE AND EVEN A CHIEF OPERATIVE. ALSO MY BIG CATALOG OF OTHER FREE PRIZES! SEND COUPON NOW!

"POST TOASTIES FOR ME—EVERY MORNING!" says Melvin Purvis TO JOIN: Send two Post Toasties packages with coupon to Melvin Purvis. He'll enroll you as a Junior G-Man, send you his official Junior G-Man badge... ATTENTION! Boys and girls! Melvin Purvis has some sound advice for you: "Make it a rule, as I do," he says, "to eat Post Toasties for breakfast every morning." "They're made from the sweet, tender hearts of the corn—where most of the flavor is stored. And every golden-brown flake is toasted double crisp... that's why they stay crisp longer in milk or cream." You'll say you never tasted a more delicious cereal! So get Post Toasties, the better corn flakes, at your grocer's now... the price is low. And join the Junior G-Man Corps! Also order Post Cereals in any restaurant, hotel, or dining-car. "Waste" and its Results; An Impressive Portrayal

President Franklin D. Roosevelt said: "In by-gone years we have seen the terrible tragedy of our age-- the tragedy of waste. Waste of our people, waste of our land. It was neither the will nor the destiny of our Nation that this waste of human and material resources should continue. That was the compelling reason that led us to put our idle people to the task of ending the waste of our land. . . . We seek to pass on to our children a richer land-- a stronger Nation."

David Cushman Coyle has taken the President's message as a theme for a half-dollar book just out, which is apt to be as much talked about as "Brass Tacks" or "Uncommon Sense," other little books by this engineer, turned writer, that are now passing from reader to reader from one end of the country to the other.

In "Waste", Coyle paints simple, impressive pictures such as "Eastern Oklahoma was bleeding mud down every river channel," and the reality of soil erosion begins to appear.

"The banners of the desert march across the plain. . . . The Geological Survey had published a warning in 1873 that the dry plains were not safe for farming."

"The bugs have no illusions about economy. . . . Cost is nothing to them if they win the war."

"Petroleum, soil and forests are an emergency."

Coyle writes of "humanerosion," ton, and hoarding, in fresh paragraphs likely to be quoted often in the next few months.

A Landon Advisor Who Can Advise

Col. William J. Donovan at Topeka, Kans., Aug., 1936: "New York State, in my opinion, will be definitely in the Landon-Knox column."

Col. Donovan, Republican nominee for Governor of New York, October, 1932: "I am certain that next November will see New York State returned to the Republican column."

In 1932 Roosevelt and Garner carried New York by 400,000 and Col. Donovan himself was swept to defeat in a Lehman landslide.

12 Millionth

Chevrolet Built

Flint, Mich.,—Spurred by a record-breaking demand continuing month after month, the production of Chevrolet cars and trucks passed the 12,000,000 mark here today, the last million of that all-time total having been built in almost exactly eight months. The announcement was made by M. E. Coyle, president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Co. The number of cars and trucks built since the introduction of the 1936 model is now 1,182,000, he said.

Achievement of the 12th million car milestone in the company's history was hastened, Mr. Coyle said, by sustained demand which these products are enjoying all over the country, and increased production facilities which, installed a year ago, have enabled the company to keep pace with that demand. Even with those facilities, he said, it has not been easy to build cars and trucks as fast as they were wanted in the field.

The steady acceleration of Chevrolet's manufacturing operations is shown by production figures from 1912, the company's first production year, down to the present time. It took until 1923 eleven years, to build the first million units. The second and third millions were reached at two-year intervals thereafter, and the fourth and fifth millions in 1928. The sixth, seventh and eighth million were attained in the three years succeeding, the ninth in 1933 and the 10th in 1934. The 11,000,000th car was built Dec. 1935, and, like the 12,000,000th, just completed, was a 1936 model.

Number 12,000,000, Mr. Coyle announced, will be displayed in Detroit and at the Great Lakes Exposition in Cleveland prior to being driven to Dallas for exhibit at the Texas Centennial.

President Denounces War in Chautauqua Speech

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT was at his best as a radio orator when he addressed the summer camp at Chautauqua, N. Y., on foreign relations. He expressed his deep concern about tendencies in other parts of the world and spoke bitterly about the violation of both the letter and the spirit of international agreements "with-out regard to the simple principles of honor."

President Roosevelt

"Our closest neighbors are good neighbors," the President said. "If there are remoter nations that wish us not good but ill, they know that we are strong; they know that we can and will defend ourself and defend our neighborhood."

Mr. Roosevelt said he had seen war on land and sea. "I have seen blood running from the wounded," he said. "I have seen men coughing out their gassed lungs. I have seen the dead in the mud. I have seen cities destroyed. I have seen 200 limping, exhausted men come out of line—the survivors of a regiment of 1,000 who went forward forty-eight hours before. I have seen children starving. I have seen the agonies of mothers and wives. I hate war!"

Germany felt that Mr. Roosevelt's speech was aimed at them and resented his criticism. A Mexico City newspaper saw in it evidence that the Monroe doctrine was to be revived. The press of Buenos Aires warmly applauded the address, one journal saying:

"Without the intention of making a parallel between discourses recently heard from Rome or from Berlin and which proclaimed violence and expansion as the two sole aims of the modern states, we recommend reading this dignified and sincere Roosevelt speech, enabled by the spontaneity of human content and with which Roosevelt raised his figure above the stature of all dictators."

Wheat Supply Adequate, Says Federal Report

THERE is enough wheat in the United States for the usual domestic requirements of the season of 1936-37, according to the mid-summer report of the bureau of agricultural economics, but the supply of red spring wheat and durum is short and consequently importation of those varieties will be continued. The amount, however, will not be large, Secretary Wallace stated.

"It is probable the spring wheat mills in the 1936-37 season will use a larger percentage of hard red winter and Pacific northwest wheat than last year," said the report. "A larger than usual quantity of soft red winter wheat is also likely to be used in bread flour. As a result, imports of milling wheat may be less than in 1935."

Wheat prices in the United States may be expected to average about as high relative to world price levels as during the 1935-36 season, when the price of No. 2 hard winter at Kansas City was 15 cents over Liverpool, the bureau said. During the last three years short crops together with other influences resulted in wheat prices in the United States being maintained unusually high relative to the world market price.

"Farm prices probably have been 20 cents to 30 cents higher than might have been expected with more nearly normal yields in the United States," the report continued. "A return of average or greater than average yields in the United States would result in an export surplus and prices would adjust toward an export basis."

"The acreage seeded for the 1937 crop, 74,000,000 acres, was the second largest in history, and seedlings as large for the 1937 crop would produce fully enough wheat for total domestic utilization even if yields should turn out to be one-fourth below average."

San Sebastian Shelled, Hostages Are Slain

DISPATCHES from the French border said Spanish rebel warships finally had begun the long threatened bombardment of San Sebastian and Irun, and that the loyalists were carrying out the threatened execution of the 1,000 Fascist hostages they were holding there. The battleship Espana fired a lot of heavy shells toward Fort Guadalupe but for a time at least was apparently not trying to hit that stronghold because many of their sympathizers were held prisoners in the fort. The Guadalupe garrison was hesitant in returning the fire for fear that shells would fall on French territory. Already the French government was angered by the dropping of bombs on French border towns, though it was disputed whether they came from loyalist or rebel planes.

The Fascists captured the important town of Badajoz, near the Portuguese border, at the point of the bayonet, and were reported to have executed 1,500 government adherents taken there. The rebels also reported a victory near Zaragoza after a bloody battle. General Franco met General Mola and "President" Virgilio Cabanellas at the northern rebel headquarters in Burgos and planned for further advances of their southern and northern columns on Madrid. These will be supplemented by 4,000 Moors and foreign legion veterans marching eastward from Badajoz.

United States Will Not Interfere in Spain

EFFORTS of European nations, notably France, to persuade the United States to join in a neutrality pact concerning the civil war in Spain are not likely to succeed. However, it is the intention of our government not to interfere in the situation in any way whatsoever. Instructions to this effect were sent to all American representatives in Spain by William Phillips, acting secretary of state. While asserting that the American neutrality law prohibiting assistance to warring nations does not apply to the Spanish civil war, Mr. Phillips said that the United States intended to conform with its "well established policy of noninterference with internal affairs in other countries, either in time of peace or civil strife."

Most of the nations invited to participate in the non-intervention agreement were willing, but Germany temporarily blocked the plan by announcing that its answer would be delayed until Madrid gave a satisfactory reply to German protests regarding the execution of four German nationals in Barcelona.

American Ambassador Bowers abandoned his "floating embassy" aboard the coast guard cutter Cayuga and went ashore at St. Jean de Luz, France, by advice of the Department of State in Washington. According to the Army and Navy Journal, Mr. Bowers had tried to assume the role of commander of the American fleet in Spanish waters, and when the officers politely told him they took orders only from the Navy and Treasury departments or the President, he protested hotly to Washington, with the result recorded above.

Father Coughlin's Group Indorses Lemke

FOLLOWING the recommendation of Father Charles E. Coughlin, the National Union for Social Justice, in convention in Cleveland, indorsed the candidacy of Representative Lemke and O'Brien, heads of the Union party ticket. But, also on the advice of the priest, the Lemke platform was not indorsed. The 25,000 members of the N. U. S. J. present enthusiastically and unanimously elected Father Coughlin president of the organization. Lemke and O'Brien both appeared before the convention, delivered speeches and were given a rousing reception.

The final episode of the meeting of the Coughlinites was sensational. The militant priest was delivering a dramatic address before a vast throng in the Cleveland municipal stadium when suddenly he faltered, begged pardon and announced weakly that he could not finish because of illness. He was half carried to a car that hurried him to his hotel. There it was said his indisposition, due to the heat and overwork, was not serious, and next day he returned to Detroit.

No New Taxes Promise for Coming Year

FOLLOWING a conference of President Roosevelt, Chairman Harrison of the senate finance committee, Chairman Doughton of the house ways and means committee and Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, the administration's fiscal program for the coming year was thus outlined:

1. Assurance that no request will be made to the next congress for the levying of additional taxes or increase of present tax rates.
2. Launching of an immediate study by treasury and congressional tax consultants of present revenue laws as a basis for recommendations to the next congress for elimination of inequitable taxes, especially those unfair "to consumers or to traders."
3. Treasury assurance that "with continued recovery" the revenue yield is approaching the point where it will cover government costs and provide a surplus for reduction of the public debt.

Commodity Exchange Act Attacked in Court

AN EQUITY suit attacking the constitutionality of the commodity exchange act, chiefly on the ground that it seeks to regulate intrastate rather than interstate commerce in violation of the Constitution, was filed in the federal district court in Chicago.

The suit was instituted by William S. Moore, a member of the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, and names the exchange, its board of directors, and the following as defendants: Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture; Leslie A. Fitz, supervisor of the commodity exchange administration in Chicago; Daniel C. Roper, secretary of commerce; Homer S. Cummings, United States attorney general; Michael L. Igoe, United States district attorney of the northern Illinois district, and Ernest J. Krueger, Chicago postmaster.

In his petition Mr. Moore asked that the commodity exchange act be declared unconstitutional, void, and unenforceable.

Reds Waging War to Win America, Says Hobson

ADMIRAL RICHMOND P. HOBSON, now head of the Public Welfare association of New York, told the National Conference of Clergymen and Laymen at Asheville that Comintern, the international Communist propaganda agency, is waging "scientific warfare" to gain control of the United States. He said the board of strategy of his association, after exhaustive studies, has collected evidence that a competent Communist general staff has been at work and has succeeded to the extent of casting widespread doubt on the Constitution and bringing discredit on the Supreme court.

John A. Lyon, New York attorney and a leading Methodist layman, supported Admiral Hobson by citing the success of pacifism throughout Methodist youth organizations.

Migration From Drouth States Is Urged

DR. C. W. THORNTHWAITE, former climatologist of the University of Oklahoma, has made a study of the drouth area of the Great Plains, and his interesting conclusions are published by the University of Pennsylvania. Briefly, Thornthwaite recommends that 50,000 migrate from the farms of the damaged region. He contends that wind erosion has damaged 65 per cent of the plains region, extending from the Canadian border into the Texas panhandle. A long range government program for the return of millions of acres of wheat land to its native sod, he says, might be the only means of checking the devastating dust storm.

Observing that long dry spells have been frequent in the history of the plains, Thornthwaite predicts that "the present drouth might be prolonged for 20 or more years."

The weather expert estimates that a minimum of 12,610 families should move out of Montana, the state in which he reports the greatest "surplus population." He urges a migration of 12,200 families from Texas and 7,360 from North Dakota. Heavy removals also are suggested for South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Wyoming, and Colorado.

Borah and Robinson Are Renominated for Senate

TWO veterans of the senate, William E. Borah of Idaho, Republican, and Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, Democrat and majority leader, won their fights for renomination without much difficulty. Borah defeated Byron Diefenbach, who was backed by the Townsendites. His Democratic opponent at the polls in November will be Gov. C. Ben Ross.

In the Presidential contest the American Federation of Labor, as an organization, will maintain its traditional non-partisan policy, according to the firm declaration of President William Green. The federation, said he, is not in the Non-Partisan Labor league, which is backing President Roosevelt.

AAA May Abandon Control of Grain Crops

OFFICIALS of the agricultural adjustment administration discussed in Washington the advisability of drastically reducing or removing altogether the planting restrictions on corn and wheat next year. No decision was made and farmers will be consulted before any changes are ordered. It was, however, definitely stated that wheat acreage will be expanded.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, passing through Chicago on his way back from Iowa, said he believed government-controlled crop insurance would prevent wild price fluctuations in farm produce. The plan, he said, has not progressed beyond the embryo stage, but probably would entail storage of crops in government granaries. Each farmer, depending on the percentage of his normal crop he wished to insure, would make his "insurance" payments in the form of bushels to be stored in a common pool. The plan, preventing "lean years and fat years," would tend to stabilize market prices because it would assure a continual adequate supply of whatever commodity was to be insured. Gradually, he said, it might be worked out to include all major farm products.

Solving Midseason Dress Problem

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

WHEN summer clothes begin to take on a jaded and somewhat worse-for-wear "has been" air, and you are loath to force the season by donning advance fall fashions before the psychological moment arrives, then what? Aye, that's the problem that has destroyed perfectly good dispositions and peace of mind of the fair sex throughout decades and decades of time.

However, we are not going to be tantalized and tormented with such momentous worries this midseason, for good news concerning this question is winging its way forward at this very moment. Tidings of great cheer, they are told in terms of dresses and suits tailored of the black or dark-toned silk sheers, nets and laces which have come into favor of late as they never came before. These cool and comfortable dark sheers are a perfect blend from summer to fall. In such you are sure to hold peace and serenity in the assurance that you will be smartly and appropriately costumed all through the prologue which nature and the weatherman play to autumn. In fact, no wardrobe may be said to be complete these days without at least one tailored black or dark sheer in its collection.

Acquire a two-piece gown of black silk marquisette as shown to the left in the illustration and your between-season dress trials will vanish like dew on a sunny morn. In regard to selecting a sheer for dependable wear, perhaps a few words of advice will not come amiss. When you buy, insist on a weave of guaranteed quality. In order to get maximum service and real joy and satisfaction in the costume you rely upon to carry you through the between-season valiantly, the sheer of which it is made should be nothing less than pure silk and fast dyed. Perish the thought of a shoddy black that is apt to take on a greenish billous cast as cheaper blacks in cheaper weaves are wont to do. Buy pure silk and your dress will wear dependably. As to the smart styling of the model pictured, note that it is a tunic costume. Newly arriving fashions, verify previous reports that the tunic will continue to be the big idea for fall. The large black buttons that fasten this tunic, also the modish short sleeve and the white jabot, register important fashion details.

Advance fashions tell of the emphasis placed on the princess silhouette for both dresses and coats as the print costume with full-length princess coat of the print in this group demonstrates. The print is black and wine on a cream ground. There is increasing interest shown for wine and red shades and they are regarded as color "firsts" for fall and winter. An innovation is the use of velvet revers on coats and jackets after the manner noted in this costume. This coat-dress qualifies admirably as an ideal midsummer costume. Its sheer print guarantees comfort while its modish velvet revers tune to the march of time that leads to fall days.

In the redingote made of fine black lace as portrayed to the right, answer to the midseason dress problem is given in no uncertain terms. A lace redingote such as this may be worn over different dresses converting the simplest frock into a costume of style distinction. For formal wear pose it over a black satin slip. What could make a more charming hostess or dinner gown than the redingote of black lace topping a white cotton pique foundation as here illustrated. The soft pique collar and perky bow lend fetching accents to this costume. You'll love a black lace redingote or jacket over your summer pastel silk crepe frocks. Try out the idea. You will find it well worth while. Separate lace jackets are smart, too, in either black or white.

TYROLEAN JACKET
 By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Here is a little indispensable jacket you will want to wear with your culottes or shorts. It is made of white linen bound in bright colors like copen, red, navy or black with silver buttons. It is colorful and has the decorative buttons because it is of Tyrolean inspiration. Much of the fashionable sports-wear this season reflects influence of Austrian peasant dress. The outstanding fashion note of this attractive jacket is the hand-quilted Trapunto design at the neck and on the pockets and sleeves. The vogue for hand-quilting is growing into a most outstanding style movement.

Why It Is Castile Soap
 Castile soap took its name from Castile, Spain.

GLACE KID IS NEW FALL GLOVE STYLE

The smartest gloves this fall will be "smooth." There is a definite revival, to quote Vogue, "of the firm, moulded hand," possibly following the moulded bust and moulded hips, which will be featured for fall. As the high style leather of the coming season, Paris is consequently sponsoring thin, supple glace kid. It has always been a standby and favorite, but now it is coming up rapidly in the fashion world.

Since three out of the four gloves Molyneux will show with his collection are glace kid, it goes without saying that the smartest women in Paris and this country will adopt the fashion. Fashions, as a whole, are becoming more and more feminine and the glace glove is but a natural result of that trend. Thin, smooth leather is the most flattering a woman can wear. It outlines the shape of her hand and makes her fingers appear long and slender.

Color is again a dominant note. Colored gloves are not going out of style. On the contrary, the fashion will be harnessed to practical, sensible shades, of which some will become almost staples.

Prints and Big Hats
 Colorful prints, broad-brimmed hats, and strap pumps with high built-up heels are favorites among outdoor diners at Manhattan's fashionable terrace cafes during the noon hour.

What Irvin S. Cobb Thinks about

Woes of French Hotelkeepers.
SANTA MONICA, CALIF.—As he gazes forth on a boulevard full of rampaging Reds and thinks about his empty bedrooms, I'll bet there isn't a hotel keeper in Paris who wouldn't trade a great gross of assorted French communists, including all the standardized grades, such as the comparatively rare slick type, the partly haired-over hybrid and the common fur-bearing variety, for just one old-fashioned easy-going American visitor—the kind that was too carefree to check up the weekly bill.

Private Olympic Games.
ORIGINALLY these Olympian games were based upon the ideal of strengthening inter-racial friendships through competitive sport.

But when, in dispatches from Berlin a fellow reads of disputed decisions, questioned reversals, alleged discriminations against some winning contestants on account of color, and the unnecessarily brutal publicity, or so it appeared at long distance, that was given to the disciplining of an indiscreet woman athlete; and then the threatened withdrawals of aggrieved teams from certain Latin countries, he gets to thinking, the reader does, that maybe it would be better if each national group held its own little private Olympian show on the home grounds and barred out the riffraff, meaning by that, all foreigners.

Uncle Sam's Allen Burdens
NO matter which party controls congress, watch at the next term for this: A campaign for legislation opening the doors to millions of aliens now barred out under the quota laws, which also would legalize the presence here of a great mass of the foreign-born, come of them criminals, come misfits and malcontents, come avowed enemies of our government, come paupers on Federal relief, who already are biding amongst us through wholesale smuggling-in, through fraudulent immigration papers, through carelessness—to use a gentle term—on the part of public servants charged with the duty of guarding at the gate.

In the years before us, it will be a sufficiently heavy burden to care for such of our own worthy home-folks, whether native or naturalized, as otherwise would go destitute.

Cleverness of the Chinese.
ONCE, long ago, I, being a reporter, was detailed to accompany to police headquarters in New York a Chinese prince, who'd come over to study our police methods. We were in the Bertillon bureau, presided over by the famous inspector Faurot.

"Ah, yes," said the courtly visitor in faultless English, "this same system has been in vogue in my land since time immemorial, except that we use fingerprinting in addition to legal signatures and official seals, for further validating important documents."

"Don't you also use it for recording habitual criminals?"
 "I do not think so."
 "Well, then," asked Faurot, "how do you identify them?"
 "Very simple," said the prince and smiled a gentle smile. "When we catch a chronic offender we immediately cut off his head, and then anyone may recognize him at a glance."

The Spanish Extravaganza.
A FELLOW picks up the paper and reads in the news dispatches from Spain that the Loyalists licked the Royalists, or vice-versa; and the Leftists tied into the Nationalists again—or maybe they're both the same.

Whereas the insurgents walloped the radicals, but elsewhere the government forces drove back the rebels; and meanwhile the Reds or the Centrists or somebody did something unpleasant to the Republican outfit, as opposed to the monarchical group; and at all points south and west the anti-clericals and the church, the Agrarian party, the Fascists and the Communists, the besiegers and the defenders, the peasants and the townspeople, the laboring classes and the aristocrats, the land-owners and the tenants, etc., etc., were snarled into various hard knots. So what?
 If, after all, there are but two main sides engaged—only I wouldn't know about that—the correspondents could confer a great boon by just naming one set the Hatfields and the other set the McCoys. Or would you prefer calling them the Callahans and the Murphys?

Christian Science Services

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches and Societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 30th.

The Golden Text is: "God sent not his son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved." (John 3:17)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ." (John 1:17)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Christ was the Spirit which Jesus implied in his own statements: 'I am the way, the truth, and the life,' 'I and my Father are one.' This Christ, or divinity of the man Jesus, was his divine nature, the godliness which animated him."

Forest News

Capitan, N. M.— Since January 1, 1936 the Lincoln National Forest has had a total of 35 fires, with a total of 51 acres burned. The fires have all been small only two being over ten acres. Ten of the fires have been man caused. The record for this year has been very fine so far and it is hoped that it will continue along the same lines.

There has been a scarcity of rain in this section, however, the Lincoln division has not had a fire since the last part of July.

G. J. Gray,
Dist. Ranger.

Miss Tressie Davis, home Ec. teacher at the High school returned from Missouri last Sunday.

Freight trains nowadays act like express specials. New freight schedules are so fast, sometimes wonder if everything has to be delivered day before yesterday.

Many of our passenger trains are running faster schedules, too. Well, one thing is sure. We make faster runs, but the first railroad commandment is still "Safety First." That's one rule they won't change.

Western railroads and allied industries provided jobs for 750,000 workers last year. Some of them live in our town. Good neighbors.

Passenger fares are now the lowest in history with substantial reductions on round trips. And no more surcharge for riding in sleeping cars.

This free pick-up and delivery of less than carload freight—I heard some traveling salesmen talking about it on the train yesterday. They said it saves shippers a lot of money and centers all responsibility on the railroad. The railroad picks up the freight at shipper's door and delivers it at receiver's door. Of course, the local delivery men get the haul from door-to-car and car-to-door at both ends. But the railroad handles the whole transaction.

When railroads are busy, I notice towns along the railroad are prosperous. The merchants put more ads in the newspapers.

We are proud of railroad achievements, appreciate the public's good will and increased patronage, and pledge continued progress.
