Something Should be Done

"Stop and View the Historic Lava Beds" is a sign erected by our enterprising Business Men's Club, to the left of highway 380, just as you enter the Mal Pais. About 75 yards beyond the sign and just as you become interested in the view, several piles of old tin cans heave into sight, and embellish the landscape to such an extent for a mile or two that the effect is spoiled. Something should be done to stop the pernicious practice of dumping rubbish on our nearest beauty spot.

While so many state and National Parks are being created, why not make a local park at the Mal Pais? A few shrubs on the Island; a pavilion and presto! We could do this for ourselves, with very little aid from any outside agency.

School Notes

Mrs. Irene Hart, Co. School Supt

The County Commissioners have ordered the county offices closed on Saturday afternoons, so beginning March sixth, the office and library will close at 12 noon.

The new Bogle school building is completed. It is one room, mission type, and has been equipped with new furnishings. The Bluewater school building is under construction. It will also be one room, mission type.

A. N. Runnels is the new owner of the Mon Jeau school building, L. P. Hall of the Jack's Peak building and William McInnes of the Macho building. The Bethel building was not sold.

Sunday, George T. McQuillen, President of the Lincoln County Board of Education made a school trip to the Jack's Peak country.

Wednesday, the School Superintendent visited the Macho country.

Christmas Science Services

"Soul" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Societies and Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday February 14, 1937.

The Golden Text is: "Truly my soul waiteth upon God: from him cometh my salvation." [Ps. 62:1]

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Lord redeemeth the soul of his servants: and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate," [Ps. 34:28]

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Beauty, wealth, or fame is incompetent to meet the demands of the affections, and should never weigh against the better claims of intellect, goodness, and virtue."

Wm. A. J. Degner

William A. J. Degner was born June 30, 1858 in Friedland, Germany. He died at the home of his son, Mr. C. E. Degner in Carrizozo, New Mexico on February 7, 1937, after an illness of nearly two years. He was married to Henrietta Dorothea Gebhardt in 1883 and they came to the United States that same year, settling at Muscatine, Iowa. To this union five children were born. His wife and three sons preceded him in death. He moved to Couer D'Alene, Idaho, in 1906 and built the great Couer D'Alene Park with its flower gardens, which is one of the beauty spots of the Pacific Northwest. He was superintendent of this park a number of years after its completion. He moved to New Mexico in 1925. He leaves to mourn one son, C. E. Degner of Carrizozo, New Mexico; one daughter Mrs. E. J. Wittrock of Adrian, Minnesota, thirteen grand children, one great grandchild and two brothers and one sister who live in Germany.

Rev. J. A. Bell conducted funeral services, followed by interment at the local cemetery.

'Tis hard to break the tender cord

When love has bound the heart,

'Tis hard, so hard, to speak the words

"We must forever part."

Dearest loved one, we must lay thee

In the peaceful grave's embrace,

But thy memory will be cherished

'Til we see thy heavenly face.

Contributed.

Aragon-Duran

Miss Josefina Aragon and Mr. Teodoro Duran were united in marriage last Monday morning at the Catholic church by Father Salvatore. Grooms men and Matrons of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Juan Baca and Mr. and Mrs. Epefameo Aldez. Relatives honored them by giving a supper and dance at Capitan Monday night; many from here were in attendance. The bride was reared in Capitan and is very pretty and attractive. The groom is a foster son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Duran of Carrizozo and assists at the Duran store and wood yard.

Missionary Society

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. C. O. Garrison Wednesday. The committee in charge: Mrs. Luckey, Mrs. Chas. Young, Miss Evelyn Sprinkle.

Mrs. T. A. Spencer had charge of the meeting.

Each member gave a verse telling how she won her dollar for Dollar Day. Mrs. T. A. Spencer won first place for her verse. Mrs. Tracey and Mrs. Butler were next high. February 24th the society will meet at the home of Mrs. C. O. Davis.

Senator Chavez Receives Petition

Washington, D. C. February 8th, 1937.—Senator Chavez' Office has received a petition signed by the Indian Council of Taos Pueblo including Alberto Martinez, the Governor, with reference to the use of Peyote by Indians of that Pueblo, and asking that its use be prohibited by Federal Law.

The Senator has prepared a bill which was introduced in the Senate today, practically identical with Section 58-401 of the New Mexico compiled Laws which makes it unlawful to possess or sell Anhalonium.

Moved Chieftain Plant

January 28th the Socorro Chieftain issued Number one of volume 55. This is of interest locally, as our fellow townsman, Mr. E. E. Wright, moved the Chieftain to Socorro from White Oaks 55 years ago. Mr. Wright moved the plant with freight wagons, and that was quite some time back Mr. Wright is hale and hearty and could do it again if there happened to be a demand for his services, tho we doubt very much his undertaking the job with bull teams.—Hot Springs Herald.

Mr. A. F. Roselle of Jicarilla was a business visitor here yesterday. He paid his Lincoln County News renewal for 1937.

Mr. Andrew J. Cate of Adobe was a business visitor here yesterday.

Special Attraction At High School

Mr. Tyler and his talking Dog plus 3 reels of Alaskan scenes at the High school Auditorium today 1:45 to 3:15. Admission 10 cents. per person.

Methodist Church

Quite a bit of interest is being stimulated in the Sunday schools of town as the Lieutenants of the camp are encouraging the boys to attend Sunday school and are delivering them in trucks to the churches. Let the good work go on.

Mrs. Bell will speak at the church Sunday evening from 7 to 8 on the subject of "Home". You are always welcome to our services. There will also be service Sunday morning. We are emphasizing that we have a community church and whether or not, your denominations is represented in town come any way.

J. A. Bell

Card of Thanks

We wish to extend our deepest appreciation and thanks to our friends for their many kindnesses and the lovely flowers sent during the long illness and at the death of our beloved father and grandfather. Also we wish to thank Rev. Bell for the beautiful sermon which shall always be remembered.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Degner and family
Mrs. May Phillips has recovered from influenza.

Carmen Navarro

Miss Carmen Navarro, age 16, passed away last Saturday at the home of her father, Mr. Jose Navarro, after an illness of several months. Funeral services were conducted at the Catholic church Monday afternoon followed by interment in the local cemetery. Besides her father, she is survived by two sisters and three brothers.

School Notes By Ruth Barnett

Mr. Tyler and his talking Dog will be at the High school Auditorium today at 1:45 to 3:15. He will also present 3 reels of educational pictures of Alaska. Admission 10c per person.

The Carrizozo Grizzlies Basketball team left Thursday at noon for Hagerman where they played at 7:00 p. m. and Friday they are to come back to Roswell and to play the Roswell five.

The Olson Terrible Sweedes will be unable to play here this season as our telegram reached them about 10 minutes too late.

The Home Ec Club held their regular meeting Tuesday the 8th period. Plans for making a cookbook were discussed. The C. K. C. T.'s brought in four new members. Lois Smith was chairman of the program committee. The subject of the program was "Antiques and old Curios". Margaret Elliott gave an interesting talk on some old New Mexico; Miss Davis showed us a scarf her mother spun the yarn for and knitted. Refreshments of salad and crackers were served.

Seventh Grade

Each pupil is reading at least one book outside of school each six weeks, and making a book report on it before the class.

Thomas Truax received a grammar grade certificate in Penmanship this week.

The seventh grade room is planning a Valentine party for Friday afternoon. Doris and Lorraine Aguayo made a very pretty box in which to keep our valentines until the afternoon of our party. Petra Pino and Dewey Stokes received free passes to the picture show for six months. Their scholarship average was the highest in the seventh grade for the first semester.

Carl Degner was out of school Monday, because of the death of his grandfather.

Eighth Grade News

The eighth grade donated a dollar to flood relief. Earlier in the school year we bought a membership in the Red Cross.

Marjorie Compton and A. N. Spencer were awarded free passes to the Lyric Theatre for the second semester for good scholarship, deportment and attendance. Margaret Ramirez is a new pupil from Rabonton.

Virginia Grumbles transferred from Tucumcari to us at the beginning of the semester.

Every farmer and rancher interested in knowing about the provisions of the 1937 program should attend the meeting in or nearest his community.

Marries in California

We have received an announcement of the wedding of Mr. Vaden Gallagher, of Riverside, California, to Miss Jennie Wadsack of Bellflower, California, which took place on Sunday, January 31st at 8:15 p. m. at Burrows Hall in Bellflower.

Mrs. Gallagher is a graduate of the Excelsior Union High school and is a charming and accomplished young lady. She was honoree at several parties and showers.

Mr. Gallagher was born, reared and educated in Carrizozo and has many friends who congratulate him upon his new found happiness. He is a son of Mrs. Geo. Jeffreys, who formerly lived here but now resides in Lubbock. Mr. Gallagher is a mechanic and holds a responsible position in Riverside, where they will make their home, after a short wedding trip.

Baptist W. M. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Wednesdays of each month, at Baptist parsonage. All members are urged to attend each meeting and visitors are welcomed.

A new subscriber this week is Mr. Don Gordon, who is the new county agent, replacing Mr. Evans.

Mrs. Lloyd Treat of Picacho is spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Johnson, Sr.

Michigan Troops Called to Check Strike Riots

GENERAL MOTORS and city police in Flint, Mich., came into violent conflict with strikers there and the sheriff decided he couldn't handle the situation, so he called on the governor for troops. The National Guard of the state was mobilized and the units already in Flint moved into the strike zone and formed a military blockade. They were ordered to clear the area around the plants but not to enter the buildings unless there was renewed violence.

This outbreak came while Judge Paul Gadola was hearing arguments for and against an injunction to eject the sit-down strikers from the Fisher Body plants.

The violence resulted in a new sit-down strike in a Chevrolet plant and the announcement by the union leaders that they would close every General Motors plant in the country.

Secretary of Labor Perkins and Gov. Frank Murphy had been unsuccessful in all efforts to bring G. M. chiefs and John L. Lewis together for peace conference, because President Sloan of the corporation insisted that first the plants must be evacuated by the strikers. Miss Perkins thereupon asked congress for legislation empowering her department to subpoena persons and papers in connection with strike investigations.

Forty thousand employees of the corporation had been called back to plants in Michigan and Indiana and put on part time work, and they and other non-union workers were assured again by Sloan that their rights would be protected.

Sloan contends that more than 100,000 G. M. employees have expressed a desire to return to work. Lewis scoffs at this claim but will not countenance the holding of an election to determine whether his unions command the majority necessary to constitute them the sole collective bargaining agency. The federal labor relations board could order such an election but it has not intervened, and probably will not.

Richberg Is Drafting the New Labor Bill

HEARINGS were held by a senate judiciary subcommittee on the O'Mahoney federal licensing bill designed to give the government control over business.

Senator O'Mahoney

but it is probable this will be supplanted by a measure that is being drafted by Donald Richberg, former head of the NRA. The Richberg bill will be less regulatory than O'Mahoney's and presumably will be introduced as an administration measure.

So far little is known of it except that it will cover minimum wages and maximum hours and outlaw child labor. Probably it will also include the licensing features considerably modified.

Some officials in Washington regard the O'Mahoney bill as a "feeler." It would require corporations doing business in interstate commerce to obtain federal licenses which would include stipulations on wages and hours of employees and prohibit the use of child labor.

But actually the bill would go much farther, including almost every reform in labor relations, trade practices, and corporation structure and financing that has ever been proposed during the past 25 years. A more sweeping, drastic, and all-inclusive proposal could hardly be drafted. It was warmly indorsed by the American Federation of Labor.

The O'Mahoney bill would vest the licensing power in the federal trade commission, enlarging the present board of five members to nine. It was thought likely that the Richberg draft would eliminate the commission and vest the licensing power in a new board or commission created to administer the proposed law.

Hitler Denounces "War Guilt" Treaty Clause

CHANCELLOR HITLER, as was expected, stirred up a lot of debate by his speech on the fourth anniversary of his assumption of full power over Germany. With dramatic emphasis he denounced two more clauses of the Versailles treaty, those dealing with war guilt, the Reichsbank and the railroads. Of the former he said:

"I hereby solemnly withdraw the German signature from that declaration forced upon a weak government against its better knowledge—the declaration to the effect that Germany was guilty of starting the World war."

Concerning the latter he declared that hereafter the Reichsbank and the German railways are free from obligations imposed upon them by the peace treaty and are restored to the complete sovereignty of the German government.

The fuhrer reiterated Germany's demand for eventual return of her colonies; and offered co-operation with other nations for peace and economic development. But he repeated his determination not to deal with Soviet Russia, and he also left Czechoslovakia and Lithuania out of the list of nations with which he was willing to make agreements. He promised Belgium and Holland their territory would not be violated, and said there are "no humanly conceivable points of dispute between France and Germany."

Foreign Minister Delbos of France, commenting on the speech, was not hopeful that Hitler's attitude would make European disarmament an easy task. He said, too, that Soviet Russia must not be excluded from the "international community."

Crest of the Flood Moves Down the Mississippi

GRADUALLY the terrible flood in the Ohio valley subsided, but the yellow torrents were pouring down the lower Mississippi and the nation was mobilized to save the people there. By direction of the President and Gen. Malin Craig, chief of staff, the army made all preparations for the evacuation of all inhabitants along the river between Cairo, Ill., and New Orleans.

General Malin Craig

The details for this mass movement were worked out to the last point by commanding officers in the region and thousands of motor trucks and railroad flat cars were collected. Headquarters for the evacuation were set up at Jackson, Miss.

The secretary of war authorized the use of not only regular army troops but also members of the Civilian Conservation corps, the National Guard, and the Red Cross.

General Craig said that if the billion dollar levee system, erected after the great 1927 flood, failed to hold, about the same area affected then would be inundated. Many thousands of people already had been removed from homes along the Mississippi, but cities like Memphis and Vicksburg, being on high ground, were believed to be safe.

At this writing the effects of the flood may be thus summarized: Homeless, nearly a million. Dead, probably more than 600, including 200 in Louisville. Damage, conservatively estimated at more than $400,000,000.

Congress hurried through a deficiency appropriation of $5,000,000 which the President promised would be made available for flood relief; and the American Red Cross, working at high speed, was raising a fund of $10,000,000 to which the people of the entire country contributed liberally. Supplies of food, drinking water, clothing and medicines were poured into the stricken areas.

Paducah was completely evacuated, and most of the inhabitants of Cairo were removed. The flood waters at the latter city were creeping up close to the top of the reinforced levees and it was feared the protections would not be sufficient.

Harry Hopkins, WPA administrator, and other members of the special flood relief committee named by President Roosevelt, went to the flood areas with the expressed intention of seeing that the job of caring for the refugees was well done. Mr. Hopkins indicated he was prepared to spend $700,000,000—the entire deficiency work relief budget—for flood relief if necessary.

Accompanying Mr. Hopkins were Maj. Edward T. Markham, chief of army engineers; Surgeon General Thomas Parran, Jr.; James F. Felsor, vice chairman of the Red Cross, and Colonel F. C. Harrington, Jr., WPA engineer.

England Would Check Our Neutrality Legislation

AS WALTER RUNCIMAN, president of the British board of trade, ended his visit at the White House, which President Roosevelt had said was to be merely social, he told the press that he and the President had agreed in principle on a reciprocal tariff treaty. Later it was revealed that his main purpose in coming to the United States was to head off, if possible, the proposed neutrality measure under which Great Britain, if involved in war, would be unable to purchase war supplies in this country. It was reported that he told Mr. Roosevelt that if such legislation were passed England would not enter into a reciprocal tariff treaty, and besides would buy her supplies in peace time as well as in war time, in other countries.

Japan Army Supports Hayashi as Premier

GENERAL UGAKI having abandoned the attempt to form a new cabinet for Japan because of opposition by the army, the emperor entrusted the task to Gen. Senjuro Hayashi, former minister of war. He made concessions to the army and navy and appeared likely to succeed in getting a cabinet together which would stand up.

Lieut. Gen. Kotaro Nakamura, bureau chief of the military education board, accepted the post of minister of war. He is one of the so-called "big three" of the army, a clique which fought and prevented the formation of a cabinet by Ugaki.

Vice Admiral Mitsumasa Yonal, commander of the combined fleets, agreed to accept the navy ministry. Industrial leaders in Tokyo believe that under General Hayashi, the promotion of national defense and the strengthening of continental policy will be the basis of the administration, and that an increase in the budget is inevitable.

It is expected that state aid will be extended to the iron manufacturing, fuel, and light metallic industries. A greater state control of motive power resources is envisaged. Fear also was expressed that both exports and imports will be placed under state control.

Twelve Navy Planes Make Flight to Honolulu

TWELVE planes of the navy successfully made the greatest non-stop transoceanic flight in history, 2,553 miles from San Diego to Honolulu, in 21 hours 43 minutes. They carried 60 officers and men and were under the command of Lieut. Commander William H. McDade.

No difficulty was experienced by the planes until they were within 300 miles of their destination. Then they ran into terrific winds that tossed them about for hours and almost blew them backward. Navigation, the officers said, was impossible. It was a case of flying blindly around, seeking a way out. This way out came suddenly, and on the side of the storm nearest Honolulu. From there on in to Honolulu was "easy sailing."

The Navy department called this notable flight merely a "routine transfer" of material from one point to another, but it was a fine test of the ability and endurance of the aviators.

Death for 13 Russians; Thirteen for Four

THIRTEEN of the Russian conspirators tried in Moscow, for plotting the overthrow of the Stalin regime were condemned to death by the trial court, and their pleas for mercy were rejected by the presidium of the communist executive committee. They were ordered shot within 48 hours after sentence was pronounced. One of the executioners said "they died like soldiers."

Gregory Sokolnikov

To the surprise of the world, four of the leading defendants were saved from the firing squad, being sentenced to terms of imprisonment. These were Karl Radek, once noted journalist, and Gregory Sokolnikov, former Soviet ambassador to London, given ten years each; and M. S. Strojlov and V. V. Arnold, ordered confined for eight years. The judges said these four men, while guilty of treason, did not actually participate in terrorist and wrecking activities. It was the belief of neutral observers that they had been spared in order to get their testimony against the scores of men still under arrest for participation in the conspiracy.

The London Daily Express published a story to the effect that Radek's life was spared because of the existence of certain state papers implicating Stalin himself in intrigues. Radek was said to have deposited these documents a year ago with Trotskyists abroad, with instructions to make them public if he should fall a victim of a "Stalin purge."

Illinois Farmers Reject Two New Deal Plans

THE New Deal's farm tenancy and crop insurance plans, advocated by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, were rejected in a resolution adopted by the Illinois Agricultural association, which represents 63,000 organized farmers of the state. The resolution said farm tenancy could not be corrected solely through liberalization of credit or expert supervision of tenant farmers who would buy farms. It strongly opposed the establishment of the proposed Farm Home corporation. It suggested that any law enacted to relieve tenancy evils should be based upon a system of sound credit extended over a long period of years and administered by existing federal and state agencies. The resolution asserted that "in large part the farm tenancy situation will be ultimately solved by restoring farm commodity price levels to a fair and permanent basis."

Time to Plan Sew-at-Home Program

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

WHY not start your spring sew-at-home program now and "avoid the rush?" Those who are in a position to know declare that women are turning back to the art of sewing at home with an enthusiasm such as has not been manifest for years. Make-it-yourself clothes are not only a sure means of self expression, these enthusiasts say, but they offer the best answer to being really well dressed on a limited budget.

And there's the new spring fabric! Nuff said! No further argument is needed. So here's taking a look toward the new materials. Such ravishing colors, subtle textures and glorified patterns as the spring prints, the cottons, the linens, the piques, the gabardines, the chantungs, the silks, the satins and so on ad infinitum are flaunting in enough to entice anyone into bringing home rolls of yardage, and it follows like the night the day that you will eagerly and without delay be joining the sewing-bee clan.

Of course when one starts in to do spring sewing the really sensible thing is to tackle the simplest garments first, made of inexpensive wash materials. So let's betake ourselves to the wash goods sections and see what's doing in the way of pretty prints or "what have they." Never were sturdy cottons so novel, so amusing and so irresistibly likable. The best of it is, if you ask for the right kind you can get materials that are guaranteed against shrinking and that's something not to be lightly considered.

The new cottons and linens and other wash prints run the gamut of design from sporty little designs for house, active sports and spectator wear to gorgeous multicolored large florals that look handblacked, for evening dresses. There is a set of cunning classroom prints that are delightful for school and home wear. These prints are practical as well as youthful. History, geography, algebra, even music print supply motifs for these clever prints. What could be more fitting to wear during study hours and easier for the amateur seamstress to begin with than a two-piece pajama outfit made of one of these interesting prints such as we are picturing to the left in the group illustration. The porky classroom print that fashions this attractive two-piece is pre-shrunk, which means that its snug neckband can not grow tight, tighter, too tight when pajamas go to wash.

A house coat of cotton so fine it rustles like silk and washes without a tremor because it is sanforized, shrunk, as in fact are the materials in each of the garments pictured, is shown to the right. An effective light navy blue is its color with white cord and buttons. Any girl can make herself such a garment, since it requires no close-fitting. Merely cut carefully by the right tailored pattern and take care to give a neat finish so that the making will do credit to the lovely lustrous material.

It is especially encouraging to home-sewing enthusiasts to know that smartly new fabrics that wash perfectly yet look formal enough for any type of wear have come into their own in a big way. The dress centered in the group can be very easily made, especially after you have mastered the making of the pajama outfit and the house coat as shown. This is a broad-shouldered frock on the popular shirt-waist dress order. It has crisp youthful lines and contrasting color accents. Use swagger broadcloth, which is one of the shantung-like new cottons now available in all wash goods sections and this frock will cost you next to nothing. The original style is developed in brown swagger broadcloth with belt, vest and neck trimmings of the same material in rust shade. Can be sent to the laundry week after week without loss of fit or style through shrinkage.

BRAIDED JACKET

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

This two-piece daytime dress is of satin-back bengal and acetate crepe, a material you will love to wear during the midseason and coming months. It is simply but very effectively styled with all-over soutache braid trim on the jacket. The ascot and breast pocket handkerchief lend bright color accents.

NIGHTGOWN BIB IS WELCOME PRESENT

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

A most original and welcome gift is something that you make yourself, giving that personal touch that means so much. A charming suggestion is a nightgown "bib" made of dainty lace. It is so easy to slip on for breakfasting or reading in bed, and is that becoming you will be wanting to make another one, after your gift is duly sent, to keep for your very own.

One we have seen is made of insertion lace gathered and joined row-and-row to form a circle measuring not less than twelve inches across. Satin ribbons were attached at the top and tied around the neck. There is great opportunity for originality in making these "bibs" for you can vary their shape, having them round, square, in triangle form or whatever strikes your fancy. You can use lace edgings, or insertions or all-over lace and decorate it in your own way. Thus you can express yourself to your friends and know that you are selecting a gift that is sure to delight any feminine heart.

Redingotes for Spring

Prophetic of spring is the full-length redingote with princess cut worn with the gayly printed frock.

Exotic Prints

The tendency is for more exotic and striking prints this season.

Household Questions

Fairy Bread — Two cupfuls flour, one dessertspoonful sugar, one teaspoonful bicarbonate of soda, two teaspoonfuls cream of tartar, pinch of salt, one egg, half cupful milk (or a little more). Make into a nice light dough, and bake as a loaf in a slow oven.

To remove paint from cotton clothing soak the spot in a solution made of equal parts of ammonia and turpentine. When spot disappears wash garment in soap suds.

Men's patent leather shoes — dancing pumps, evening shoes, and so on—will last twice as long if they are kept on trees and rubbed with vaseline after use.

When the teakettle becomes discolored inside, it can be brightened by boiling a clean oyster shell in it.

Two parts boiled linseed oil mixed with one part turpentine will make a good furniture polish.

When laundering sweaters or knitted blouses let dry on cloth or bath towel placed on a flat surface. No ironing is required.

A boiled custard poured over peaches or bananas makes a delicious dessert.

Leather book bindings can be preserved by periodic treatments with an equal mixture of castor oil and paraffin.

Pie crusts will be flakier if a tablespoon of cornstarch is added to the flour used for each pie.

Don't Sleep When Gas Presses Heart

If you want to really GET RID OF GAS and terrible bloating, don't expect to do it by just doctoring your stomach with harsh, irritating alkalies and "gas tablets." Most GAS is lodged in the stomach and upper intestine and is due to old poisonous matter in the constipated bowels that are loaded with life-causing bacteria. If your constipation is of long standing, enormous quantities of dangerous bacteria accumulate. Then your digestion is upset. GAS creates a heart and lung, making life miserable. You can't eat or sleep. Your head aches. Your back aches. Your complexion is sallow and pimply. Your breath is foul. You are weak, nervous, wretched, unhappy person. YOUR SYSTEM IS POISONED. Thousands of sufferers have found in Adierka the most effective way to rid their systems of harmful bacteria. Adierka rids you of gas and cleanses four poisons out of BOTH upper and lower bowels. It is a REAL cleaning with Adierka. Get rid of GAS. Adierka does not grip and is not habit forming. At all Leading Druggists.

DON'T NEGLECT A COLD

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fall to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous "heaviness" and loss of leg and arm strength. Other signs are a bad taste in the mouth, or may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wise when these signs are seen. Doan's Pills have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nationwide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Senator Sears Introduced Memorial

A national monument preserving the salty tang of the old Southwest in the days of Lincoln County cattle war and Billy the kid...

Sen. Perry Sears (Lincoln-Otero) introduced in the Senate a memorial requesting Congress to declare the historic building at Lincoln a national monument.

The historic structure rickety and unsafe now, its windows gaping and its floors and walls slowly rotting--saw history made in the territory during the 80's.

New Mexico, Sears' memorial said, lacks the money to care for the tottering building in the manner it deserves. The proposal asks the government to designate it as a monument, restore and repair it with the intention of making it a museum.

The same session which witnessed the memorial's introduction saw a bill designed to authorize the state's purchase of its official song, "Oh Fair New Mexico," from its author, Elizabeth Garrett, daughter of the sheriff credited with killing Billy the Kid.

Sen. J. H. Nullos of Roswell introduced the bill which would appropriate $1200 allowing an annuity of $60 monthly to be paid the blind Roswell musician.

President Roosevelt Presented with Invitation

Washington, Feb. 5, 1937. Senator Dennis Chavez of New Mexico, accompanied by V. C. Chertoff, Supreme President of the Order of Ahepa, and C. Constantine C. Economou, Supreme Secretary of the Order of Ahepa, were received by President Roosevelt at the White House Friday morning.

President Roosevelt was presented with an invitation to dedicate the Ahepa Silver District Sanatorium at Albuquerque, New Mexico, a National charitable institution for tuberculosis.

In extending the invitation Senator Chavez lauded the noble and humanitarian effort of the Order of Ahepa. He praised the healthful and rehabilitative climate of his native State and called attention to the personal and official interest that President Roosevelt has always shown towards institutions of this nature.

The dedication will take place on Greek Independence day, March 25, 1937.

A national drive to raise $100,000.00 annually among a million of the nation will be officially launched February first. During the month of February more than half a million Greek people will dance in the name of charity throughout the United States and the profits from these dances will be turned over to the Ahepa Silver District Sanatorium in Albuquerque, New Mexico. This is the only Greek Tuberculosis Sanatorium in the country.

In this week's paper will be seen an ad for the famous "Rosa Bowl Game" which will be at the Lyric for one day only, Saturday, February 20th. All tickets will sell at 30 cents. Saturday afternoon at 2:30 a matinee will be held for children. Tickets at 10 cents.

New Mexico Livestock Report

State ranges have a fair to good supply of feed for this time of the year. The grass is short, but nutritious. The supply of hay and grains is generally ample to carry stock through the winter. About the usual amount of cottonseed cake and other concentrates and hay have been shipped into localities that usually import feeds. There has been a heavy snowfall in northwestern counties and also in the higher altitudes of the southwestern corner of the state which will improve the soil moisture for spring growth of grass. Precipitation is needed in most eastern counties to increase the soil moisture and prevent soil blowing. The winter wheat in Curry and Quay Counties is badly in need of rain, and is affording very little feed at this time. The stock water supply is ample in all parts of the state; however, cold weather during January in northern counties made it difficult to keep water holes open. The condition of ranges is reported at 75 percent of normal as compared with 76 last month and 82.3 for the 10-year average.

Cattle and calves remain in good condition, although there has been some shrink in flesh during January. The month of January in many places over the state has average lower temperatures than for many years. Cows are in good condition and present prospects indicate a good calf crop this season. Losses of all classes of cattle are very light and should continue with normal weather during the next two or three months. Late winter and early spring months are often accompanied by the heaviest losses of the year. The demand for young stock has been well maintained at somewhat firmer prices. Stockmen are generally in a better financial condition than for several years. The condition of cattle and calves is reported at 82 percent of normal as compared with 84 last month and 85.9 for the 10-year average.

Sheep and lambs have wintered well so far. Feed has been sufficient to maintain flocks and there has been very little decline from the good condition in which they began the winter. Ewes have held up well, and prospects at this time indicate a good lamb crop. Losses of sheep have been light this winter in all sections of the state, except in western San Juan and McKinley Counties where heavy snowfall and cold weather have caused losses among Indian flocks. There has been some action in wool contracting during the past months. Wool contracts reported range generally from 22c to 38c. Lambs in feed lots have made good gains and many have been moved out of the state during January, with market prices reported stronger than those prevailing in December. The condition of sheep and lambs is reported at 85 percent of normal as compared with 87 last month and 86.3 for the 10-year average.

Lincoln county, Ancho: Two to three inch snow on north side of mesa. Depends upon severity of weather whether enough feed is on hand. Pastures good to short. Most all stock was sold and shipped in latter part of October and November. Condition stock fair to fat. Picacho: Range fair; no snow or rain so far this winter; well water only. Feeds ample. Condition of cattle fair; losses light. Condition breeding ewes good. Few losses. Very mild weather. Several clips contracted at 30c to 32c. Otero Co. Mesalero: Snows light. Plenty water for winter; ample feeds. Cattle wintering in good condition. Condition breeding ewes good. No wool sales. Three Rivers: Winter range good; more snow than usual; stock water plentiful. Will ship in some cake; have enough other feeds. Condition cattle good; no losses.

THE 25-MILLIONTH

F O R D

HAS JUST BEEN BUILT

It HAS never occurred before in automobile history that 25 million cars of one make, bearing one name, have been manufactured under one management. The 25,000,000th Ford car rolled off the Ford Rouge Plant production line on January 18, 1937.

25 million cars since 1903... more than one-third of all the cars ever built... enough cars to transport the entire population of the United States.

The figures represent a remarkable contribution to the social welfare, the industrial stability and the general progress of our country.

People respect Ford efficiency. They know Ford uses fine materials, the best workmanship at good wages, the most exact precision measurements. They know these things are passed along to purchasers in the form of extra value. Naturally, they like to do business with such a company. That is the only reason it has been required to produce 25 million cars.

Naturally, too, they expect more of a Ford car, more this year than last year—more each year than the year before. They have every right to. The experience gained in building 25,000,000 cars enables Ford to produce today a really superb motor car at a really low price—with the Beauty, Comfort, Safety and Performance of much more expensive cars.

The 1937 Ford V-8 combines advanced design, all-steel construction, extra body room, and brilliant brakes with a choice of two V-type 8-cylinder engines—the most modern type of power-plant on land, sea, or in the air.

The 85-horsepower engine provides top performance with unusually good economy for its high power.

The 60-horsepower engine gives good performance with the greatest gasoline mileage ever built into a Ford car—and wears the lowest Ford price tag in years.

People expect more of a Ford car because it's a Ford—and they get more, for the same reason. It is undeniably the quality car in the low-price field.

Father of the County Fair

IF YOU remember pleasantly that high spot in the days of your youth—"going to the county fair"—you should remember gratefully the name of Elkannah Watson. For he was the "father" of this typically-American institution and he is all the more worthy of honor because he labored in the face of difficulty and prejudice to bring it into being.

Watson was born in Massachusetts in 1758 and his natural Yankee shrewdness was enlivened by travel and adventure. Finally he settled down on a farm near Pittsfield, Mass. But he could not be content there and, as he said, "to fill up the void in an active mind led me first to conceive the idea of an agricultural society on a plan different from all others."

So in 1807 he secured the first pair of Merino sheep, ever brought to his state and exhibited them under a great elm in the public square in Pittsfield. They attracted so much attention that he decided it would be a good thing to invite other owners to show their livestock. But he soon discovered that this wasn't so easy for the farmers were afraid to take part in such an exhibition lest they be laughed at.

However, after three years he got 26 of them to sign an "appeal" for a cattle show and this was such a success that an agricultural society was formed with Watson as president. The next year he began the fair with a parade and closed it with "a pastoral ball." Also prizes to the amount of $70 were offered. By the next year the premiums had risen to $208 and the fair was so popular with the men that he decided the next thing to do was to make it "respectable" by getting the indorsement of the clergy and the women.

But that was more difficult, for the clergy regarded such things as "frivolous" and women's place was still very much in the home—not in the public eye. But with the aid of his wife he finally prevailed upon them to exhibit their weaving and sewing and be present when the awards were made. When they did that, the success of the fair was assured and for the next 12 years Watson labored to extend the idea into other states. By 1819 he had induced the legislature of New York to pass an annual appropriation of $10,000 to aid new societies in staging fairs and from that time on the county fair became an established American institution.

"The Spirit of '76"

IT STARTED out as a humorous sketch and it ended up as one of the most famous of all American paintings. That is the story of the patriotic picture, "The Spirit of '76." The story of the painter is equally interesting.

Archibald Willard, while serving as a soldier in the Union army, often amused himself by making sketches of army life to send back home. After the war he painted a huge panorama of war scenes which he began exhibiting. But people wanted to forget about the war and his venture was a failure. So he went back to his home in Wellington, Ohio, and got a job with a wagonmaker, painting decorations on the wagons and occasionally doing the same work on the gaudy circus chariots of that period.

Willard also continued making sketches and one came to the attention of James F. Ryder, a Cleveland photographer and art dealer. He encouraged Willard, made chromos from several of his pictures and from their sale Willard was able to study art in New York.

In 1870, the year of the Philadelphia Centennial, Ryder suggested that Willard draw a picture appropriate to the celebration. So the artist set to work on a humorous picture showing three rural musicians at a Fourth of July celebration and depicting the two drummers as having imbibed too freely in honor of the occasion.

Then his father, who was the original of the middle figure, the tall drummer, fell ill and it was apparent that he would not live long. Willard reproached himself for having his father a figure in a comic picture of that character and the idea of "The Spirit of '76" was born in his mind. He worked furiously in the daytime to complete the picture and at night sat by the side of his father. But the older Willard did not live to see the finished product nor to learn how he was to be immortalized as the white-haired patriot in his son's great picture.

Ryder made reproductions which were sold at the centennial in Philadelphia and they attracted so much attention that officials of the exposition sent for the original. During the time it was on exhibition there were always crowds gathered in front of it. Since that time reproductions of it have been sold by the hundreds of thousands. Willard painted many other pictures before his death in 1880 but none of them ever became so famous as "The Spirit of '76."

what Irvin S. Cobb thinks about:

The Plight of Spain.

BEVERLY HILLS, CALIF.—In the bloody task of utterly destroying herself Spain cannot complain that she lacked for hearty co-operation on the part of some of her sister countries.

Openly or secretly, half of the great European powers are contributing to the bloody ruination, so that, when the finish comes, they'll have spoils or dubious prestige or both and that ill-fated land will be a burying ground and a desolation.

A fellow gets to wondering why this or that government chooses for an emblem some noble creature when the turkey buzzard or the grave-robbing hyena would be so appropriate.

Fierce winters and devastating floods may be curing us here on this side of the water, but at least we have been spared the affliction of having for our next-door neighbors certain nations.

Kidnapers' Ransoms.

IT'S all well enough to pass an act making payment of ransom to a kidnaper a criminal offense—as though heartbroken parents would hesitate to pay ransoms to get their babies back, no matter what the penalty for so doing might be. And can you see any American jury convicting those parents? The author of the law is no doubt well-intentioned but there is another law, called the law of human nature, which most surely would defeat his purposes.

By the way, a person who should know what he's talking about, tells me that three out of every four known kidnapers during recent years have been ex-convicts with records as repeated offenders.

So, instead of trying to penalize ogonized parents for obeying a natural instinct, how about a snappy little law to curb certain parole boards which seem to delight in turning 'em out as fast as the courts can clap 'em in?

Optimism De Luxe.

I LIKE the spirit of a gentleman in New York who started dredging operations in East river. He set out to dig up a minimum of $4,000,000 in gold and silver from the ooze, and to date has salvaged 99 cents, two rusty frying pans and a penknife—and is still probing.

For gorgeous optimism I can think of but one case to match this. I was on the French Riviera one summer. They'd been shifting the railroad tracks along the Grand Corniche. This left a disused tunnel. So, week after week, a bearded gentleman sat at one mouth of the empty bore with a sign over his head reading: "This property for sale." When I left he was still there, waiting for somebody who was in the market for a second-hand tunnel.

South American Explorers.

OF RECENT years, those hardy adventurers who set forth to invade the last great unexplored area, interior South America, seem to follow a regular routine, to wit, as follows:

First—They start off.

Second—They get lost.

Third—They are rescued.

But wouldn't it save wear and tear and nervous strain if the rescue expedition went on ahead so it could get settled down in camp all nice and comfortable and be waiting for the explorers when they staggered in, exhausted from toting all those tons of material for future lecture tours? The modern discoverer is gallant, but apparently has no more sense of direction than an egg-beater and seemingly could get lost on top of a marble-top table. Or possibly the tropic sun has an adding effect on the human brain.

Anyhow, since nearly always he is in an intact state when rescued, this would seem to indicate that the head-hunters of the Amazonian jungles are now getting fussy about the types of heads they collect.

The Charms of Music.

ACCORDING to a medical professor in Pennsylvania, samples of whisky, when subjected to a musical sound treatment for seven hours, produce a liquor which equals one that has been aged in wood for at least four years. But why get excited about this? I've known certain brands of classical music which, in one evening, have aged a grown man to a point where he figures the present Christian era must be about over.

Only a few weeks ago, being softened by the spirit of the approaching holidays, I suffered myself to be lured to a Chopin recital and got jammed in and couldn't escape and finally staggered forth into the night feeling that Methuselah had little if anything on me.

Ancient Ruins Are Found in Utah Close to Trail

Ceremonial Building and Many Other Houses

Blanding, Utah.—Within 80 yards of a trail over which Zeke Johnson, custodian of the Natural Bridges National Monument, Utah, has walked for more than 20 years, he has discovered a ledge full of prehistoric houses, including that rare find, a kiva or ceremonial building with an almost complete roof and what is apparently the original ladder for entrance still in place.

Mr. Johnson was engaged in repairing the trail between the Augusta and Caroline bridges—two of the three natural arches which the national monument was established to protect—and lunchtime found him in a narrow canyon in which there is little sunshine at this time of the year.

Lucky Find on a Cliff.
Seeing the sun bright and warm on a cliff about 30 feet above, he scrambled up to eat his lunch in the sunshine.

"Imagine my surprise," he says, "when I saw a ledge full of houses, within 80 yards of the trail over which I have walked for 20 years. There is one large kiva with the roof almost complete and a fine ladder standing in the hatchway with the small willows still holding the rungs in place.

Two Well Preserved Houses.
"Besides the kiva," Mr. Johnson continues, "there are two well-preserved stone and adobe houses with no roofs but walls which are in a fine state of preservation. A small barrel-shaped structure abuts against one of the houses. Six or eight rooms with walls of fine masonry but partly torn down also are on the ledge. There is a lot of broken pottery and flaked stone lying around. I picked up six arrow points and several broken pieces."

Roots of Prairie Grasses Grow at Astonishing Rate

Washington.—Roots are formed at the rate of two miles a day by an average clump of one of the wild prairie grasses of the West. When the plant is two years old, it has a total of nearly 320 miles of roots, probing through a mass of soil seven feet deep and four feet square.

These figures on the root "mileage" of crested wheat grass were presented at the meeting of the Botanical Society of Washington by T. K. Pavlychenko of the University of Saskatchewan. Mr. Pavlychenko was born in Ukraine, but for several years has been a Canadian citizen.

Crested Wheat Grass Valuable.
Crested wheat grass, the subject of his special study, was introduced from western Siberia into the Plains area several decades ago, as a means for combating weeds which were spreading at an alarming rate in the old cattle country. The grass proved to be not only a very successful weed control and a good forage plant but also a remarkably efficient binder of the soil against the wind erosion that starts dust storms.

To make a really thorough investigation of the cord-like roots of this grass, Mr. Pavlychenko undertook a monumental job, combining the patient digging of a geologist with the delicate technique of a surgeon.

Russians Invent New Musical Instruments

Moscow.—An instrument resembling the organ, which produces sounds of oriental music as well as those of western music, has been invented by A. S. Ogotvetets. The octave of this instrument has 17 intervals.

Demonstrated before the Academy of Sciences of the U. S. S. R., the new instrument won high praise, Tass, official Soviet news agency, reports.

Soviet musical inventors have produced interesting results by using electricity to intensify the sound of violin and guitar music. Recent electric musical instruments introduced include the Emoriton, Violen and Equodin.

Oxygen's Magnetic Property Plays Role in Life

University of Illinois Scientist Tells How

THAT human life is in some way bound up with the great force of magnetism has long been a speculation of man. "Personal magnetism" is a pseudo-scientific phrase which shows one form of this type of speculation.

At the recent conference at Princeton university on molecular structure, however, a true scientific basis for linking magnetism and life was discussed. And the link appears to take place in the blood and makes possible the body's respiration.

Dr. Worth H. Rodebush of Illinois university's chemistry department, told of the role the magnetic property of oxygen plays in life. Oxygen, he pointed out, supports respiration by permitting the oxidation of the blood's impurities at relatively low temperatures. But if it supported all forms of combustion as it does respiration the whole world would shortly burn up.

Oxygen Behaves Queerly.
Something of the paradoxical behavior of oxygen is shown, Dr. Rodebush indicated, by its position in the periodic table of the chemical elements, where it stands between the inert gas nitrogen, on one hand, and the extremely reactive gas fluorine, on the other. Oxygen, in other words, has a considerable amount of chemical activity and affinity and yet not too much.

"A possible clue to the paradoxical behavior of oxygen is found in the fact," declared Dr. Rodebush, "that of all the common elementary diatomic gases, oxygen alone is paramagnetic, gathering in a magnetic field, and hence reacts readily with other magnetic materials, such as the iron in the hemoglobin of the blood."

Not Easily Explained.
Because of the magnetic characteristic of oxygen, explained Dr. Rodebush, it does not react so readily with the non-magnetic substances like cellulose and the hydrocarbons. And thus spontaneous combustion does not occur at ordinary temperatures. Yet within the human body, the reaction between oxygen and hemoglobin, by which the impurities in the blood are burned, takes place readily without raising the temperature above body heat.

History Is Traced in Adobe Bricks of Old Missions

Berkeley, Calif.—Adobe bricks from ruins of a Dominican Mission in Lower California have preserved evidence of a smallpox epidemic that ravaged the Indian population in 1781.

Two California scientists who have been examining bricks from old missions made the discovery of bones in bricks from San Vicente Mission. It is supposed that builders of the mission must have shoveled in bone fragments from unmarked graves of smallpox victims when they were getting earth to make the brick.

Yield Many Clues.
Mission bricks are yielding many clues to early western history, according to the two brick investigators, Prof. G. W. Hendry of the University of California, and M. K. Bellue of the State Department of Agriculture.

On some bricks are footprints of men, dogs, coyotes, birds; and in other bricks have been found nut shells, leather trimmings, pottery, copper fragments, and seed of plants grown in early days in the west.

African Skull Gives Man a New Relative

London.—A prehistoric human skull that has come to light in East Africa provides man with a brand-new relative for his proud old family tree.

Enthusiastically hailing the skull as "of the greatest importance," Dr. L. S. B. Leakey, noted British anthropologist, gives his opinion that this early African was an entirely different genus of man from any heretofore known.

Dr. Leakey's verdict, if generally accepted, means that an unsuspected extinct branch of the human race is now known; and that this distinct type of man, low in type, was among a number of genera and species of humans who were on earth, but who died out, leaving only the species Homo sapiens to which all mankind-alive belongs.

The skull, which Dr. Leakey has examined in Berlin at the Natural History Museum by special arrangement with the discoverer, was unearthed during the scientific expedition to the Eyassi lake basin in Tanganyika territory.

All... I Owe to My Angel Mother

A LITTLE girl, reared in poverty in the backwoods of Virginia, destined for a brief and none too happy life, was to grow up and bear a child whose career more than fulfilled her highest dreams for him.

Born at Patterson's Creek, Va., in 1784, Nancy Hanks went at the age of twelve to live with her aunt and uncle, Thomas and Elizabeth Sparrow, in Mercer county, Virginia. She had a chance to attend school there, and made the most of it. In a community where many of the men could neither read nor write, she learned to do both, notes a writer in the Indianapolis News.

She was skilled at needlework, too, and hired out to families in the neighborhood. Though she worked for wages she was never regarded as a servant, but sat at table with the household wherever she went. Report says she was tall and handsome, with a frank, open countenance and a voice pleasing both when she sang and when she talked.

A young apprentice named Thomas Lincoln was learning the trade of carpentry in the shop of Joseph Hanks, uncle of Nancy. The two young people were attracted to each other, and were married on June 12, 1809. Thomas took his bride home to a tiny house fourteen feet square.

He could not write his own name until the ambitious Nancy taught him how. But his ambition could not keep pace with hers. Her disappointment at his easy-going ways was forgotten in her children: first, a little girl, Sarah; then, in 1809, the son known to history as Abraham Lincoln.

Between this child and this backwoods mother there was a powerful bond of sympathy. They understood each other without words. Perhaps she felt in him her own fierce hunger for learning, for a larger, richer world.

She was thirty-four years old, and Abraham Lincoln was nine, when she fell ill of an epidemic disease known in southern Indiana (to which the family had migrated) as the milk sickness. In seven days she was dead.

Abraham helped his father to make her coffin out of green lumber cut with a whipsaw, helped to bury her in a forest clearing. There was no ceremony. This troubled the boy until several months later, they secured a wandering preacher to deliver a funeral sermon over the lonely grave.

His mother's influence stayed with him always, and was voiced in that most famous of filial epigrams: "All that I am or hope to be, I owe to my angel mother."

SOME WAYS TO MAKE FRITTERS

Only a Few of Many Methods Are Worth While.

By EDITH M. BARBER

THERE are almost as many ways of making fritters as there are foods to flavor them! All fritters, however, are made with a batter of flour, eggs and liquid. This batter is thin enough so that it may be dropped from a tablespoon into hot deep fat, or in the case of those corn fritters, which are known as "oysters," to be dropped on a griddle like a pancake.

Some fritter recipes call for milk and some for water. I really prefer the water as it seems to produce a more tender batter. Some recipes call for whole eggs, well beaten, of course; others call for a separation of the yolks and whites, and still others for egg whites alone. Salt is used in all the batters and sugar is added if fruit is to be added to the batter.

Whatever recipe you use for fritters which are to be cooked in deep fat, it is very important to have the fat hot—very hot—about 395 degrees Fahrenheit, if raw oysters, clams, vegetables or fruits are combined with the batter. For a plain fritter which is to be served with sauce or sirup, a slightly cooler fat, a temperature of about 375 degrees Fahrenheit, may be used. It takes from three to five minutes, depending upon the size of your fritter, to produce a golden brown on the outside and to have the inside done enough.

With a fish fritter a tartar sauce may be served. With a fruit fritter a lemon or a wine sauce or maple sirup is usually served.

The business woman housewife will find fritters useful, as a main supper dish or as dessert, because they are so quickly prepared and cooked.

Corn Oysters.

2 eggs.
3 cups grated corn.
¾ cup flour.
Pepper.
Salt.

Beat eggs, add corn, flour and seasonings. Drop by spoonfuls on a well-greased griddle and cook like pancakes on both sides.

Oyster Fritters.

1 cup flour.
½ teaspoon salt.
¾ cup water.
2½ tablespoons melted butter.
1 egg white.
1 pint oysters.
Salt, pepper.
1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Mix flour with salt, stir in water gradually and beat until smooth. Stir in melted butter and fold in stiffly beaten egg white. Drain oysters, dredge with salt, pepper and lemon juice. Drop one oyster at a time into the batter. Using a tablespoon, drop oyster mixed with batter into very hot deep fat (395 degrees Fahrenheit). Cook until golden brown and drain on coffee paper. Serve with tartar sauce.

Sour Cream Dressing.

½ cup sour cream.
1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar.
1 tablespoon chopped chives or onions.
½ teaspoon salt.
Pepper.
Paprika.

Beat the ingredients together with an egg beater and serve with cucumbers or cabbage.

Cheese Custard.

6 slices bread.
¼ cup butter.
½ pound American cheese, grated.
4 eggs, beaten.
¾ cups milk.
½ teaspoon salt.
4 tablespoons catsup.

Into a buttered square shallow baking dish place the slices of bread, well buttered. Over these sprinkle evenly the grated cheese. To beaten eggs add the milk and pour this over all. Sprinkle salt and dot with butter and then sprinkle catsup on top. Place this in hot oven and bake about twenty minutes.

Cereal Cakes With Bacon.

3 cups cold oatmeal.
1 tablespoon minced onion.
1 teaspoon minced parsley.
Salt.
Pepper.
Corn meal.
Bacon.

Mix the seasonings with the oatmeal and form into small cakes. Roll in the corn meal. Put in a greased baking pan and place strips of bacon on the top. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees Fahrenheit) until the bacon is crisp. Serve for breakfast or luncheon.

Cube Veal Steak With Gravy.

1 onion.
2 slices bacon.
6 cube veal steaks.
2 tablespoons flour.
1 cup boiling water.
1 bouillon cube.
Salt, pepper.

Peel and slice onion, mince bacon and cook onion and bacon together until onion is brown and bacon crisp. Push over to one side of pan. Cook veal steaks two minutes on each side and remove to platter and keep warm. Add flour to bacon and onions and mix well. Add slowly the boiling water—in which the bouillon cube has been dissolved and stir until smooth and thick. Season to taste. Serve with the veal cube steaks.

Simplicity That Intrigues

THIS is the problem: Sister wants to entertain the Girl Scouts, it's Jule's turn to have the Bid-or-Bi club and Rose insists she can't put off the Last-a-Lots a minute longer. And each of them has just finished a new dress and is anxious to wear it for the occasion.

Sister's Choice.
Sister's bit of intrigue is, as you can see, a dress worth wanting to show off (Pattern 1223). It is made of velveteen this time and a little later on she's going to blossom out in a bright crispingham version for school. The smart collar, flattering flared skirt and puff sleeves are good reasons for this frock's popularity. It comes in sizes 6 to 14 years. Size 8 requires 2½ yards of 39 inch material.

Jule's Entertaining Dress.
Jule knows a neat trick when she sees one whether on the table or in a page of fashions, and she didn't miscue in choosing Pattern 1998. She'll wear this snappy shirt frock when she's "it" to entertain and because she chose broadcloth it will look more trim and lovely after each washing. The diagram shows why a few hours is all that's needed to sew this grand number. You may have it in sizes 34 to 46. Size 36 requires 4½ yards of 35 inch material. With long sleeves 4½ yards.

It Was Easy, Says Rose.
They didn't believe Rose when she said she made this startlingly pretty dress (Pattern 1224). She did though, even the buttonholes! However the same stunning effect can be had by sewing the buttons on for trimming only. The elegance of the princess-like lines, the eclat of the heart shaped sleeves and withal its ease of construction make the question read "How can I help but make this dress?" It is available in sizes 12 to 20 (30 to 40 bust). Size 14 requires 4½ yards of 39 inch material, plus ¾ yard contrasting. With long sleeves 4½ yards required.

Spearman's Novel Brought Opening For Screen Star

Frank H. Spearman, author of "Gunlock Ranch," this paper's new serial, is credited with giving the late Wallace Reid his start as a motion picture actor. While in his boyhood shortly before death overtook him, Reid said he "rode into fame on the screen with a play by Frank H. Spearman."

In his latest novel, "Gunlock Ranch," the famous Western author has returned to the field of his first literary conquest to gain new recognition as an old-time writer who could "come back." Spearman was born in Buffalo, N. Y., and spent his boyhood in Wisconsin. Orphaned when fifteen years of age, he was forced to leave Lawrence college at Appleton, Wis., and go to work as a salesman for his brother in Chicago, a wholesale grocer.

Spearman was married to Miss Eugenie Longerman, daughter of the late Thomas Longerman, pioneer Chicagoan. Delicate in health, he went to McCook, Neb., where he started writing while regaining his health. Since that time he has lived in Chicago and Hollywood, producing many notable stories.

Spearman's railroad short stories occupy a niche of their own in American fiction. Two of them, "Held for Orders" and "The Nerve of Foley," are still in print. "Whispering Smith" is one of his most famous novels, while his outstanding Western books are "Nan of Music Mountain," "Laramie Holds the Range," "Selwood of Sleepy Cat" and "Flambeau Jim."

The author has four sons, three of whom are married. The other is a newly ordained Jesuit priest.

Her Sea! Shall Be Legion

NEW YORK, (Special)—Miss Liberty, of the statue in New York Harbor, is already playing in her newest role. An artist's impression of her graces the official seal of the New York World's Fair of 1939. Thus, from the vantage point of news columns, mall stickers and innumerable other decorated devices she carries the torch of invitation to every corner of the world and into every home in the United States.
