GMC Trucks

The least traveled trucks in the world-- and at the same time the most modern-- make up a fleet of GMC Streamliners recently put into service across the country for the rapid refueling of giant TWA Skyliners.

These huge trucks, capable of pumping gasoline at the phenomenal rate of 350 gallons per minute, refuel the big transport planes in one-third the time formerly required, without condensation and with a minimum of danger.

Each of the trucks travels only about 1,200 miles a year, making daily trips from airport bulk tanks to the ships as they land at TWA stations. Thus, the truck which operates the gasoline pumps, "travels" about 12,000 miles annually, although the vehicle only covers approximately 100 miles each month.

The GMC trucks, owned by Texaco and operated by TWA, carry every conceivable device to aid in operation of the rigid airline schedules. In addition to the usual set of driving lights, dual searchlights front and rear atop the body-- which resembles an ultra-modern streamlined train. There is a retracting spot light front and rear and separate lights on the pump meters.

Each truck carries four fire extinguishers and electrical apparatus for heating engine oil to the proper temperature for immediate use in plane motors. An air compressor operated by the truck engine provides power for rewinding the two reels of 75-foot hose used in refueling of planes. The same compressor supplies air for servicing plane tires and for the truck air brakes in event of emergencies.

Four of these ultra-ultra GMC trucks are now in use. They service TWA planes at municipal airports at Kansas City, Chicago, Albuquerque and Pittsburgh. Beautifully streamstyled, these snappy red trucks are a bright complement to the TWA Skyliners, and serve to attract much attention from the crowds that gather daily to watch the giant ships sweep down out of the clouds.

Chavez Defends WPA Building Aid

Senator Hayden (D-Ariz) seeking to amend the emergency relief appropriation to prevent use of the $250,000,000 for buildings, was interrupted by Senator Chavez (D-N. M.) who defended WPA building activities.

Hayden's amendment was defeated.

The Modern Juggernaut

Suppose that, on a given day, we rounded up nearly forty thousand American men, women and children, herded them into a field, and there proceeded to slaughter them. Suppose that, at the same time, we wounded, blinded, crippled and otherwise harmed several hundred thousand more.

Horrible? Impossible? More barbaric than the barbarians? Of course it is--but, in effect, that is what happens on American highways every year. The slaughter doesn't occur on a single day, but over 365 days. And instead of killing the victims with shell and fire, and gas and grenades, we use that well known servant of mankind which can also be a monster of destruction--the automobile.

If an airplane falls and kills ten people the fact is headlined throughout and millions feel a sense of horror. If a ship sinks and 50 men die, the entire world knows it in a few minutes, and world-wide sympathy is extended to the victims and their survivors. But when automobiles crash and people die horribly as a result, we note the fact absently, and turn the page to the comic strip.

Our people are criminally negligent in driving automobiles. And America is criminally complacent in its attitude of more or less bored indifference toward the accident toll.

Juggernaut is no more--but the automobile more than fulfills its gory role.--Industrial News.

Economic Highlights

A few weeks ago this column discussed the pending world armament race. At that time there were still some frail shreds of hope this could be prevented by negotiations between the powers. Now those hopes are utterly blasted.

Japan, in response to an American inquiry, has refused to divulge her naval building plans; has said, in effect, that she will do what she wants and brook no interference. England, France and the U. S. will shortly hold conferences to establish their policies--which, unless a miracle happens, will involve bigger and faster building.

Latest U. S. plans call for the construction of 48,000-ton men-of-war, mounting 18-inch guns. Largest guns used in the World War were 15-inch. Japan is supposed to have actually embarked on the building of naval giants of similar size and potential destructiveness.--Industrial News.

The remarkable development of the 4-H clubs has made it possible for tens of thousands of young men and women to learn scientific agriculture, and to earn generous rewards for work well done.

In addition, leading groups take an unremitting interest in the affairs of tomorrow's farmers. From these groups, farm youth learns not only the great advantages of loyal cooperation between producers, but is instructed in a wide range of topics that are of direct and indirect importance to successful farming.

Fashion Goes Definitely Bolero

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

a wide binding or bordering of animated print to which a gypsy sash is matched. Then again the entire bolero is of the print with sash to match.

EVENTUALLY, why not now, a bolero costume? The bolero vogue is sweeping through all fashiondom like wildfire. Both in suits and dresses the bolero has leaped into the very foreground of the mode with such a flourish none can escape it and what's more no one with an eye to chic and charm will want to escape a fashion so flattering, so kind to waistlines, so make-you-look-young as do these new bolero silhouettes.

You can get most any type of a bolero outfit you happen to want which counts a lot when you are choosing a fashion "frill" for spring. A simple tailored model is very practical in that with a supply of diverse blouses and a collection of intriguing accessories your bolero costume comes well nigh serving as a whole wardrobe in itself.

If you decide on a tailor we would suggest that you look for a tweed in the ultra smart new wheat color or if navy or black be your preference you will be able to find models galore tailored of wool twills (watch twills for they are going big) or of gabardine or of dependable crepe or that which will carry the summer through, triple sheer. See to it that the bolero be duly equipped with trim little pockets, two or more if you please.

For those whose fancy turns to softer dressmaker styling there's no limit to the models available. Perhaps the outstanding note is sounded in plain with print combinations. Of these types there is such a vast outpouring from style sources you will feel an attack of brain storm coming on when you try to make a selection. Sometimes the bolero and skirt is in monotone with perhaps

With object in mind of calling attention to the widely diverse trends interpreted in the now-so-important bolero costume, the three models were carefully selected from among a showing of advance fashions designed by the Style Creators of Chicago in the wholesale district. These are typical of what you will find in leading shops and departments during the coming months.

In the center of the group we present a charming dress of navy crepe, its modish bolero effectively trimmed in white nailheads. "They say" navy is going to be an outstanding color choice for spring. In fact, all blues are good with especial emphasis on the new gray blues. Here's another "pointer:" try with a navy bolero suit a blouse and sash in a soft violet shade, with which wear a boutonniere of spring violets, with plenty of self leaves in cool green.

Sugar sacking in the very, very new wheat color makes the costume to the left. It has a brown print silk blouse with sash to match. The meticulously tailored bolero has the smart military influence.

Ideal for spring is the sheer wool crepe in beige outfit pictured to the right. The revers in tuxedo style are of cat lynx, the tawny colorings of which tune admirably to the general scheme of things. The fur-trimmed bolero is a fashion highlight that is destined to shine brightly in the style parade, so be sure to keep your eye upon it. In concluding we just thought you might like to know that in the shops you can find the most fascinating boleros of colorful suede with belts or tie sashes to match. Wear them with any skirt or dress and you'll be classed with the best-dressed.

LACE RESORT MODE

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Whether for active or for spectator sports this cotton lace dress is just the thing for wintering in the South or taking along on a cruise, and then keeping until spring, when it will serve delightfully for warm days. The dress is cool and colorful and does not rumple easily, which is important for long, hot days, also an argument in its favor when it comes to packing for travel. The scalloped edges and the contrasting belt are new notes for the classic two-piece frock.

LATE BELT MODES IN HUNGARY STYLES

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Every nation has some form of art particular to its people. In Hungary, little nation in southern Europe, this folk art takes the form of exquisite embroidery that has become famous throughout the world.

Weisz of Budapest has adapted the traditional patterns of the peasants and styled them for the newest belt modes. Skilled peasants, both men and women, have transferred the gay designs to linen and hand-loomed jute belts.

The linen belts in natural or chalk white have bright woven flowers embroidered on them. The edges are finished with a button-hole stitch of the cheerful yarn. All of them are finished with amusing and unique shaped buckles of natural colored wood, hand-painted with tiny flowers.

The hand-loomed jute belts that are perfect with suits, sweaters and light woolen frocks are also embroidered in bright yarns.

These belts are washable and of fast colors. They are in time for the crepe frocks of spring and summer.

Hats of Youthful Drapes Style Shown by Milliners

Youthful draped hats are the leading contributions of Paris milliners, and a variety of new designs has been launched for wear with costumes of leading couture houses.

Still rising skyward with a forward movement, the newest hats have height in modified form to effect a lengthened silhouette without giving an exaggerated line.

Berets, toques and turned up brims, worn well back on the head or poised to one side, are leaders among the new types.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK... By Lemuel F. Parton

NEW YORK.—There is hope for world peace and solvency. Some day a little band of diplomats and financiers will meet in the Paris catacombs or a London fog, heavily disguised, and put something over, and Pertinax won't catch them at it. To date, the watchful French journalist has anticipated and cried down every effort, warning all and sundry that, whatever it is, it won't work.

Thus, the studious proposals of Paul van Zeeland, former premier of Belgium, were blasted several weeks in advance of their publication, as just so much eye-wash. Pertinax is one of the most brilliant and influential journalists of Europe and anything he touches up in advance goes in with two strikes against it. As does the Van Zeeland plan for economic reconstruction.

Walt Disney is reading "Snow White" for France. That probably means that Pertinax is preparing to swing on it, just before it lands there. One American commentator made the film his sole exception in many years of dissent. Nothing like that may be expected from Pertinax.

He is the only full-time dissenter who bats 1,000. He has picked fights with Senator Borah, former President Hoover (being the only man ever to assail an American President with that dignitary present), with all the Germans, before, during and after the war, and with all ambassadors of good will.

In 1933, the French government announced it would spend $1,320,000 to build good will in America. Pertinax, holding that one, pegged over to this country some sour cracks about American materialism. And, just in passing, any French journalist ought to know a lot about materialists. For a few days it looked as if he might overlook the recent Brussels conference, but he was on the job and smeared in plenty of time to get it a bad press. He is at his best in discovering and exposing Geneva's good will conspiracies.

He is a Parisian sophisticate, dapper, dresy, monocled, getting about a great deal and nosing in various diplomatic feed-boxes—a first-class reporter; but never satisfied. One of the depressing things about him is that he is so often right as he pans this or that hopeful endeavor before anybody else knows what it is.

At the age of three, the boy was working hard at his violin lessons. His only toys were music boxes. And now, Eugene Ormandy, conductor of the Philadelphia orchestra, gets the Gustav Mahler medal, following the performance of his composition, "Das Lied Von Der Erde."

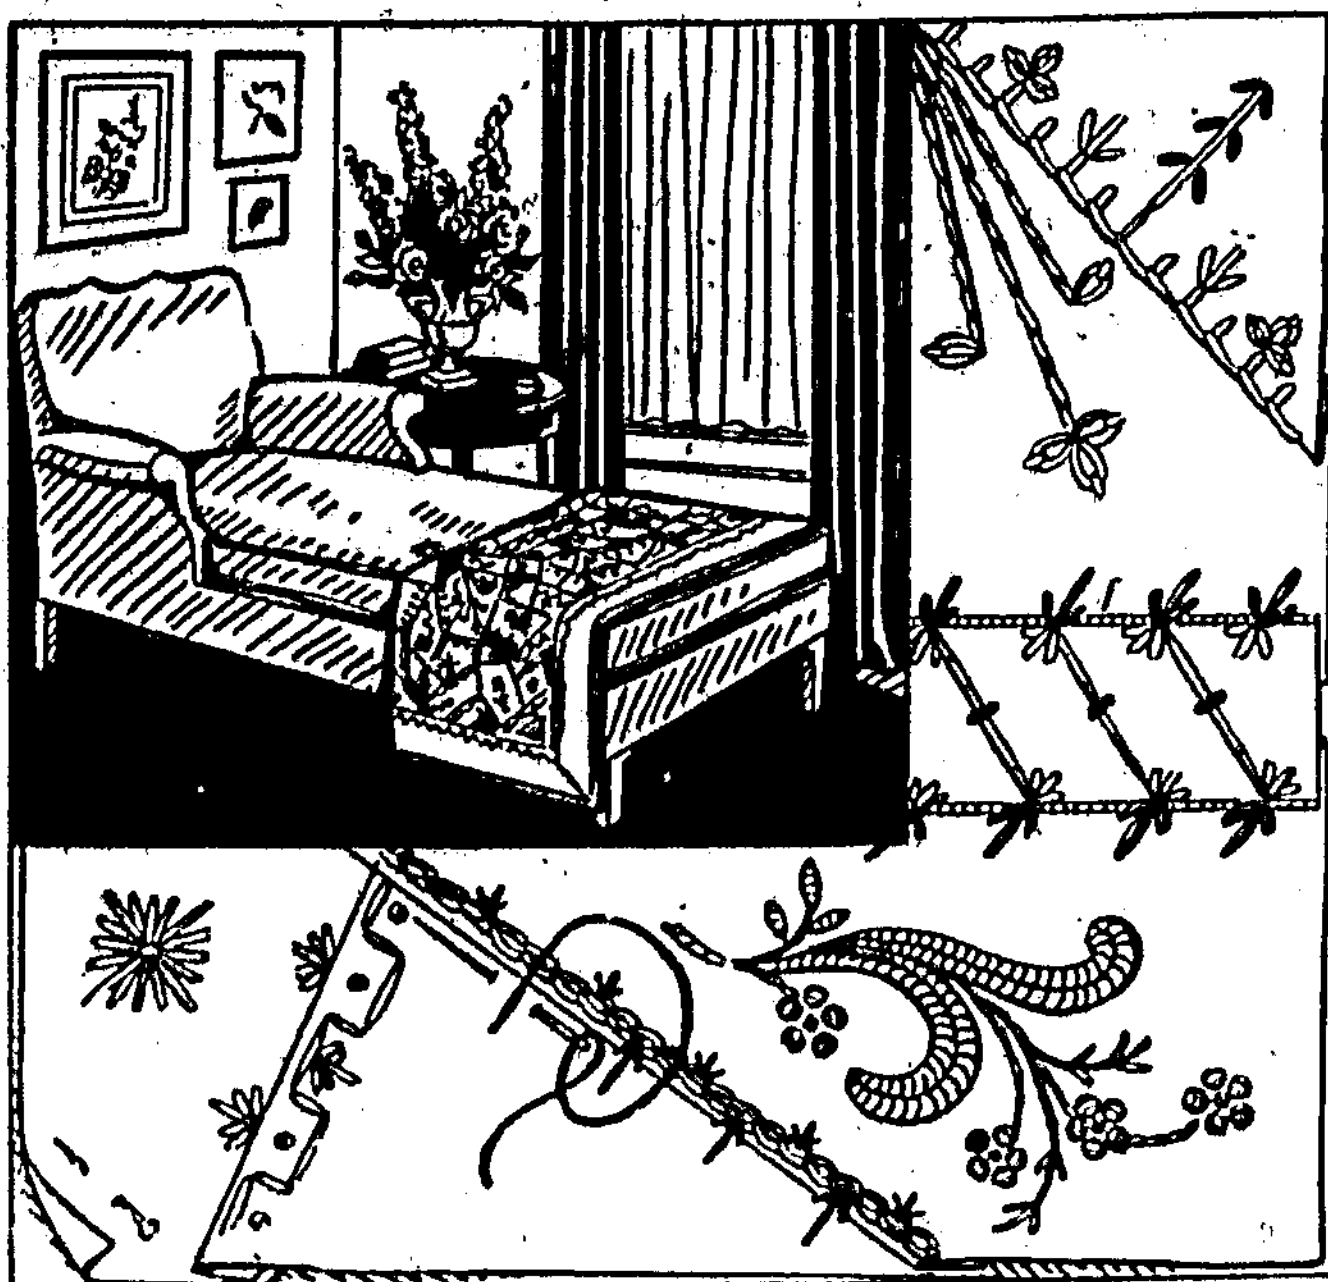

At the age of five, he was a student in the Budapest academy of music, through at fourteen, but not allowed to go on tour as a violinist until he was seventeen. In 1921, he was in New York, hoping to bridge the break in his career with his last five-cent piece. He did, as a violinist at the Capitol theater, then assistant conductor, later with Roxey's gang and then six years as conductor of the Minneapolis symphony orchestra. He is perhaps the first conductor to be upped to fame by radio.

His father in Hungary isn't altogether pleased. "Just think what a great violinist you might have been," he wrote to his son.

Constitution-Maker Pelafiah Webster was a Philadelphia business man, remembered for his advocacy of a revision of the Articles of Confederation by creating a new Constitution in his "Dissertation of the Political Union and Constitution of the Thirteen United States of North America (1783)." He is, therefore, sometimes considered as the originator of the Constitution, though his plan was unlike the product of the federal convention.

Eat Fish in Norway In Bergen, Norway, fish is served three times a day in nearly all families, and as a result, the life of the community revolves about its fish market. The Bergen housewife is a somewhat fastidious shopper, insofar as fish is concerned, and prefers to have her fish scooped up alive from salt water pools within the market. The serving of fish amounts to a fine art in Bergen.

HOW to SEW By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

If You Are Making a Crazy Patch Quilt.

MAKING an old fashioned silk crazy patch quilt is a simply fascinating thing to do. From the moment you start collecting bits of silk and satin and velvet until the second you invent your last combination of embroidery stitches it holds your interest.

This type of quilt is not quilted after piecing, but tied like a comforter. No padding is needed if soft warm material is used for the foundation. The pieces are always in irregular shapes—often very tiny and the largest is seldom more than four or five inches long. They are pinned or basted to a foundation of soft muslin, flannel or an old wool blanket is good to use. One patch shown here is a piece of ribbon and the selvages are not turned or covered. It is best to arrange a number of patches before you start to sew them in place with the embroidery stitches.

The embroidery is really used to give balance and unity to the whole design. If a patch seems too light make it darker by embroidering it in dark thread. If it seems too plain you can trace the little forget-me-not design shown here onto it and embroider it in natural colors or use some of the more simple designs shown here as fillers.

Many more authentic old patchwork stitches are in a new leaflet which is now included with the book offered herewith. This book also tells you how the draperies in today's sketch are interlined.

Every Homemaker should have a copy of Mrs. Spears' new book SEWING. Forty-eight pages of step-by-step directions for making slipcovers and dressing tables; curtains for every type of room; lampshades, rugs, ottomans and other useful articles for the home. Readers wishing a copy should send name and address, enclosing 25 cents (coins preferred) to Mrs. Spears, 210 South Desplaines St., Chicago, Ill.

Everybody but Attendants on Job

Unmindful of their duties, two young bridal attendants march majestically beneath arched sabers in the van of a happily newly-married couple who await congratulations during a fashionable wedding ceremony in London. The newlyweds are Diana Brassey and Capt. Humphrey Whelan Lloyd and their ceremony took place at St. Margaret's chapel at Westminster.

A back view of a Paris beauty contest, with one Frenchman wielding a rule in one of the easiest jobs on record. He's tallying the points of four girls competing for the title of "Prettiest Parisian of 1938" and faces alone aren't enough to convince him that a girl is beautiful.

Tars Training for Battle

Gas-masked pupils shown during a six-inch gun drill aboard H. M. S. Calcutta at Chatham as part of the training of Britain's newly recruited naval personnel. Shortage of shore training establishments because of the size of the rearmament, has made it necessary to use ships at sea for training British tars instead of the customary land stations. With the construction of new battleships, cruisers, destroyers and aircraft carriers, the personnel of the British navy has been considerably increased, putting a strain on the facilities for training the new recruits.

TEA TESTER

Among the many tea testers assembled by Uncle Sam in New York recently was Robert Lewis. Mr. Lewis sampled many brands of tea which will determine the standards for 20,000,000,000 cups of the beverage to be consumed by Americans in 1938. One of them, at least, didn't make a hit with Mr. Lewis. It's the one he is shown holding—and disliking.

Flee Homes in Flood Areas of Middle West

Three Frocks—a Wardrobe

IF YOU want to be all set for a full and gay Spring, have these three dresses in your wardrobe. Something for morning, something for street and a lovely frock for afternoon parties. All three are easy to make.

Shirtwaist Style.

Trim and tailored, this is the favorite silhouette for Spring. The skirt with kick pleat back and front is fun to wear, very comfortable for walking and going about your daily work. Note the yoke top and inverted pleat in back of bodice to permit perfect freedom. It is a grand spectator sports dress and will make up beautifully in silk crepe, rayon print or cotton fabrics.

Princess for Morning.

You'll feel sweet as sixteen in this pretty square-necked princess dress with fitted lines. The silhouette is molded and slim. Note the pretty sleeves, puffed high, to make the waistline look even smaller. Choose a pretty cotton print or one of the new rayons to make a dress as charming as the one shown.

Fitted Lines for Afternoon.

Look lovely and picturesque in this frock on molded lines with uplift at the waist and soft shirring in front of bodice. The roll collar and low V neckline is very slenderizing. You'll enjoy the good lines, the flattery of this dress and its grand wearability. Whether it is a luncheon for six or a dinner at eight, you'll be correctly dressed in this frock.

TIPS to Gardeners

Know Your Soil

A GARDENER who knows the quality and texture of his soil can get maximum returns from his garden.

Clayey soils require careful handling, but are productive. Sandy soils are early. Sandy loams are just about ideal for most home garden crops.

Peas, lettuce, cabbage, broccoli, cauliflower, beets, carrots, radish and onion like moderately cool, moist conditions during development. Plant them early so they will develop before the extreme heat of summer arrives.

Plant them again later, timing the planting so they will mature during the cool, moist fall months.

Sweet corn, beans, tomato, pepper, egg plant, cucumber, melons, squash and pumpkin are not as hardy as those listed above and prefer plenty of heat, sunlight and ample moisture for best development.

They should be planted later than peas, lettuce and carrots, so as to come into maturity during the warmest weeks of summer.

On the Highway

Probably the worst fault in driving a car is believing you haven't any fault.

The dullest drivers usually have the brightest headlights. Many a woman thinks she can drive as well as a man, and, too often, it's the sad, sad truth.

It isn't so funny to be a crazy driver as it is crazy to be a funny driver.

Democrats Still Popular

Republican thunder filled the air on the anniversary of Lincoln's birthday. We had speeches from Senator Vandenberg, potential candidate for the Presidency, from Chairman John Hamilton of the Republican National Committee, and various Senators, Governors, and lesser lights.

With one exception the speech of Governor Aiken of Vermont it is doubtful if anybody who listened to those speeches can recall more than an empty rumbling of attacks on President Roosevelt and the reiteration of threadbare banalities to the high motives, purposes and prospects of the minority party.

There was no constructive word anywhere. Several of them, including Senator Vandenberg and Senator Bridges, of New Hampshire, essayed the task of writing a Republican platform. They numbered the points eight in the case of the Michigan Senator, ten in the case of his New England colleague and there was not a new word or a new thought in any of the numbered paragraphs. The Republican principles would seem to be limited to being for what everybody else is for and against poverty, unemployment, dictatorship, communism and fascism. The inference was, of course, that the Democratic party, and particularly the Roosevelt administration, stood for all the evils and none of the beatitudes. That was why the note sounded by the Governor of one of the two States that actually voted against Roosevelt in 1936 was such a relief. In all probability, the Governor of Vermont sounded a very wide spread warning when he said: "Forget your hatreds of the President. Stop crying Fascist every time he makes a move. Stop worrying about rods in the White House. Because of your reckless hatred the minds of many American men and women are shut against your honest criticisms."

Senator Vandenberg's speech in particular, ran true to the archaic political habit of prophesying abundant success in the elections this year and in 1940. Perhaps some people may remember the equal positiveness with which the election of Governor Landon was forecast. Perhaps some of the more sanguine Republican chiefs did for a time entertain the thought that the Governor of Kansas would become President of the United States two years ago, but certainly neither Senator Vandenberg nor any other of the statesmen who went on the air on Lincoln Day entertains a similar superstition about what will happen next November or November two years hence. Even those funny alleged surveys which the newspapers are publishing do not even suggest such a possibility. The most recent of these alleged surveys described in headlines the falling off of the administration's popularity as about one per cent. In other words, if this guess were correct and the election were today, a democrat would still be elected by a majority of about 10,000,000 votes.

The absurdity of the Republican prophecy may be illustrated by the circumstance that if they doubled their present membership in both House and Senate, the two chambers of Congress would still be Democratic by a comfortable majority.

Office of Senator Chavez

Washington, D. C., February 18, 1938.—The consistent efforts of Senator Chavez to establish the fact that the Indian Bureau does not have popular support in its recent handling of affairs on the Navajo Reservation is bearing fruit. The petition signed by some 8,000 Navajos and presented to the Interior Department by Jake Morgan, Bert Tsosi and Josecito Jesus, Navajos, protesting against Bureau policies received studied consideration by the Department and it now appears that stock reduction will be held up pending an investigation by Interior Officials. The Interior Department, itself, is beginning to realize that "there is something rotten in Denmark."

The much discussed Farm Bill was at last passed by the Congress and signed by the President. The limitation of irrigation cotton on the basis of acreage was a welcome concession for New Mexico.

In the meantime, the President's request for an emergency relief appropriation of $250,000,000.00 is occupying the attention of Congress.

The House Naval Affairs Committee has been meeting throughout the week to consider the Naval Building Program.

Increasing Federal Land purchases in New Mexico are viewed with concern by the Congressional Delegation. This week Senator Hatch, Senator Chavez and Congressman Dempsey met with members of the New Mexico Livestock Industry, Mr. Floyd Lee, San Mateo, and Mr. Ed Sargent from Chama, at which time plans were discussed for best meeting the situation.

The New Mexico flag which the ladies of the NYA Weaving Project of Las Vegas presented to Senator Chavez through the State Director, Mr. Tom Popejoy, never fails to receive comment from visitors. The flag hangs in Senator Chavez' private office. The field of the flag is New Mexico hand spun woolen yarn, dyed yellow. The Zuni Sun symbol is embroidered by hand in bright red woolen yarn.

Three years ago Senator Chavez made an address in the United States Capitol on the anniversary of the birth of Susan B. Anthony, the great suffragist leader. This year his young daughter, Gloria, placed a wreath on the statue of Susan B. Anthony at the Capitol at the request of the National Women's Party. Senator McAdoo of California made the address.

Recent visitors to the office have been: Mr. Anthony Pavlantas of Albuquerque; Tom Popejoy, Director of the National Youth Administration; Mrs. W. H. Wurt of Santa Fe; Mr. C. W. Beeman, President of the Carlsbad Irrigation District; Mr. Keith Edwards, Attorney at Ft. Sumner; Miss Mary Dow, daughter of former Attorney General, Robert C. Dow of Lovington; and Miss Eleanor Marron of Albuquerque.

File Information

S. P. Vidal, Collector of Internal Revenue for the District of New Mexico, has announced that a very large number of taxpayers in New Mexico have failed to file the summary information returns for the second half of the calendar year 1937, required under Title VIII of the Social Security Act. This return is a summary of the monthly returns filed from July through December and is accompanied by an individual report for each employee, showing thereon the wages paid to each individual employed during the last six months of 1937. The Bureau of Internal Revenue is anxious to have all of these returns properly filed, in order that the office record may be complete and also on

New Mexico PCA
Stockholders Hold
Attendance Record

For the second successive year the production credit association of New Mexico have led the four states of the Ninth Farm Credit district in percentage of stockholders attending the annual meeting according to a report issued by D. L. Mullendore, president of the Production Credit Corporation of Wichita.

Slightly more than 48 percent of the membership of the five associations in the state were at the annual meetings from January 24 to 31, inclusive, Mullendore's report states. This year's attendance is a 14 percent increase over 1937 figures.

Clovis Production Credit
association, covering Curry, Roosevelt, DeBaca, Guadalupe and Quay counties, ranked first in attendance with 68 percent of members present, an increase of 23 percent over last year. The Springer association, whose district includes Union, Grant, Mora, Harding and San Miguel counties, was a close second with 66 percent answering the call, compared to 37 percent in 1937.

Roswell association, taking in Lincoln, Chaves, Eddy and Lea counties, reported 41 percent attendance, a nine percent increase over last year. The Las Cruces and Albuquerque associations ranked fourth and fifth in attendance, both showing an increase over 1937.

"The jump in attendance figures
this year reflects the keen interest New Mexico livestockmen and farmers are showing in their own credit system," Mullendore states.
"In spite of the drop in farm prices last year, the business of the production credit associations in our district—covering New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas and Oklahoma showed an increase over 1936 and previous years.

"The five associations in New Mexico, have lent over $16,600, 000 in 2,730 separate loans from their organization in early 1934, to the close of business January 31, 1938."

Here's a school girl's own comment on Aladdin light: "It has helped my school work by creating a desire to study. What student likes dim light?" No wonder teachers say that their brightest pupils come from Aladdin homes. Aladdin lamps help avoid eye strain, which to so many thousands of rural folks has brought the expense of an eye specialist, and glasses; and often permanent injury to eyes.

surpassed by electric light for whiteness and steadiness.
Aladdin runs 50 hours on one gallon of ordinary coal oil (kerosene), gives a whole evening of light for about a penny's worth of oil. It's so safe a child can operate it. No noise, pumping up or pressure. Not smelly or smoky. The colorful new Aladdin shades decorate a room by night or day.

Used Car Reconditioning Schools

Modern equipment is introduced in the schools, and its use is taught the mechanics. They, in turn, generally lose no time in pointing out to their employers just what it would accomplish for them. The result is that hundreds of dealers have modernized their reconditioning shops, thereby placing themselves in a most advantageous position from the standpoint of their ability to do two major things: perform a more thorough job of reconditioning at the same outlay as before, or perform as good a job of reconditioning at the same outlay as before, or perform as good a job at substantially lower cost. Either advantage reacts in the end to the customer's benefit.

"Chevrolet's whole set-up in connection with used cars is designed to heighten the satisfaction derived by the used car owner. The public recognizes this, too, for Chevrolet dealers have sold over 100,000 used cars monthly now for an unbroken succession of 85 months."

Beer Cans Are Used to Roof Texas Barn
Abilene, Tex.—Dr. E. W. Crow has decided upon discarded beer cans to use for roofing his barns. The cans will be straightened into tin "shingles" and nailed to the roof. About 30,000 cans are needed to roof a 30 by 60-foot building, Dr. Crow estimates, and the high quality metal and varnish finish is expected to give his barns a lasting top.

SHOVE WITH YOUR CAR!

Your Mileage Merchant Advises...

Try to have the two cars slightly "staggered"—not exactly in line with each other. This often helps if bumpers lock, especially when the car with its bumper below can reach a drain or similar depression. Another way is for the car with its bumper on top to get up on a curb or "hump." That's all "just in case."

Now ask the poor fellow who wants your help to get into HIGH—keeping his clutch pedal down—letting it back gradually only after you get his car under way.

Push with your LOW gear. That's easiest on your car... for half a block. Then if the other fellow's car hasn't started, have him get into neutral and push him up to a nearby Mileage Merchant for Special Winter Blend Conoco Bronze like yours. That can't help but get him started... Then the way to dodge further battery trouble, dangerous oil dilution—and embarrassment—is to get sure-starting Conoco Bronze all winter! Continental Oil Co.
