Here's a Gift

It may be the gift for which you've been looking, and perhaps this suggestion from us will help you in figuring out a worthwhile gift for a worthwhile friend. Almost everyone in Carrizozo is looking for hints at this time of year. Here is ours:

In order to give happiness all the year around, your gift should be lasting, so why not send that absent relative or friend the home town paper for 1939. It means a present each week for 52 of them, and costs little in comparison to the appreciation they will have for your thoughtful remembrance. What is nicer than a letter from home, your home paper? We will drop a note telling of the gift and from whom it is sent.

First Methodist Church.

J. M. Glazier, Minister

Sunday, Dec. 18th.

Sunday School, 10:00 A. M., Mr. Frank Adams, Superintendent.

Sermon Themes:

11:00 A. M. "Is There Reality in Prayer?"

7:00 P. M. "The Skeleton in the Closet."

It is gratifying to note the growing interest and attendance in connection with all our religious activities.

Special music by the choir and a dynamic message are at your service.

You are invited and welcome to come and be a part of this which you and your community provide.

Invites Two Americas to Hold Meet in New Mexico

John E. Miles, Governor-Elect of New Mexico, cabled Lima, Peru, Wednesday, December 7, inviting the representatives of North and South America, assembled at a good-will meeting there, to hold their next meeting in Santa Fe. Miles pointed out that Santa Fe has a background of Spanish culture four hundred years old and that the Spanish-Americans, descendants of those early settlers in New Mexico, and Americans who have since arrived and are descendants of settlers of our east coast, have fused into a happy citizenship, working side by side.

He suggested that the next Pan American conference be held here during the celebration of Coronado's visit to New Mexico and said: "Delegates would be welcomed by our Spanish speaking citizens."

Cephas Brown

Mr. Cephas Brown, age 60 passed away Wednesday morning about ten o'clock after a brief illness of pneumonia. He was well known and universally respected. He had lived here many years and was formerly an employe of the railroad company. Funeral services were held at Angus at 2:30 yesterday afternoon, followed by interment in the Brown family plot.

Christian Science Services

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Societies and Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Dec. 18th.

The Golden Text is: "Hearken unto me, O Jacob and Israel, my called; I am he; I am the first, I also am the last. Mine hand also hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heavens." (Isaiah 48:12,13.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is, the following from the Bible: "The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof; the world and they that dwell therein" (Ps. 24:1.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mind, not matter is the creator. Love, the divine Principle, is the Father and Mother of the universe, including man."

Will Attend a Conference

C. W. Beeman, President, and T. H. Boswell, jr., Secretary-Treasurer of the Roswell Production Credit Association, will attend a conference of the New Mexico production credit association presidents and secretary-treasurers, at the Alvarado Hotel, in Albuquerque, Thursday, December 15.

The five New Mexico associations to be represented at the Albuquerque meeting are Albuquerque, Clovis, Las Cruces, Roswell and Springer.

President Beeman said before leaving for the conference, that the main item to be considered will be the programs for the 1939 annual stockholders' meetings.

Dr. J. P. Turner was an El Paso visitor the first of the week.

Public Health Column

Today we are at war, but no massive battleships steam out of their harbors in long grey lines of majesty. No brave battalions march down the streets to the accompaniment of martial music. Nevertheless we are at war! Every day the casualties are being brought in and every day thousands of lives are being sacrificed on the altars, not of Mars, but of Neglect, Carelessness or Ignorance.

We all deplored the ghastly loss of life in the Great War of unhappy memory, but the toll of life on the three altars of Neglect, Carelessness, and Ignorance every year exceeds the loss of life sustained by America in the sad years of 1917-1919.

The biggest trouble is that many of us do not see and thus do not realize the situation. No well-equipped hospital ships or transports bring back those wounded or hurt by preventable disease or by disease which is definitely open to control. No glamour surrounds those who have died from the causes I have mentioned.

Yet every individual who has passed to the Great Beyond as a result of preventable disease has died a martyr to the inadequacy of our civilization.

No one today need have smallpox. Universal vaccination would make the disease unheard of. To date this year we have had in New Mexico 51 cases.

No one today need have diphtheria. Universal Toxoid Immunization of children at an early age would make the disease unheard of. To date this year in New Mexico we have had 164 cases.

No one need have typhoid fever. Efficient sanitation would go almost all the way in stamping out this disease. To date this year we have had 210 cases of typhoid in New Mexico.

These are only some of the diseases susceptible of control measures. In addition many diseases due to dietary deficiency are readily controlled. Some of these diseases are terrible in their effects and may be completely controlled by some simple dietary addition.

So much of human suffering is unnecessary if we only know it. The trained medical men, National Organizations, and all others interested in health and in humanity are striving to place the facts before the public so that with public understanding and public co-operation as much as possible of the needless suffering may be eliminated.

It is your battle, and yours, and yours! We are fighting for a healthier happier race, and for the future of your children and mine.

Public understanding, interest and co-operation are the factors which will win this war!

"About Forgiveness"

When people make mistakes because they are blue, everybody forgives them; if they make mistakes because they are green, the majority forgives them, but when they make mistakes because they are yellow, no one forgives them, not even their own crowd, who encouraged them and furnished the ballyhoo to whoop them up.

Appeal Stays Execution Of Ben Mixon and Son

An appeal to the State Supreme Court stayed the scheduled executions of Ben Mixon, Sr., and his son, Randall, convicted in Lincoln County District Court last September of first degree murder in the slaying of an Ancho, N. M. stock raiser and his clerk. They were to have been executed Monday, Dec. 19.

Business Men's Club

The faculty of the Commercial School entertained the members of the Business Men's Club at a banquet at the Hotel Carrizozo at the Home Ec. room at the High School by members of the Home Ec. Club.

Mr. Paul Bright was Treasurer. Superintendent Carpenter gave the address of Welcome. Reported by Attorney John E. Hall. A program consisting of a duet by Messrs. Bright and Suttman; a solo by Mr. Suttman; a reading by Mrs. Bobbie Clark and a Quartet composed of Mr. Snyder, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Martinez and Bright was given. Christmas trees were carried out in the decorations.

Next week at the S. P. hotel the Business Men's Club will be honored by the presence of Senator Louisa C. Sen. Senator Perry Sears and Rep. Johnson.

School Notes

Students and teachers are looking forward to the Christmas holidays. School will be dismissed in Carrizozo and the High School County Thursday Dec. 22 at 1 p. m. until Tuesday Jan. 3rd at 9 a. m. About all the teachers are planning on going to their home fireside during these days.

The faculty sponsored a show at the Lyric Theater on Wednesday and Thursday nights entitled "Mr. Duode Keks Oil." For the large sum of money accruing to class, treasurer we thank Mr. Walker manager of the Lyric and people who attended.

The basketball fans were thrilled by the fast game between Socorro and Carrizozo last Friday. Carrizozo was defeated by a score of 21 to 13. This was the first game and the boys hope to improve.

The senior class is planning on giving a big dance at the community hall, Dec. 28th. Everybody Welcome! Admission: $1.00 per couple; spectators 25.

The Carrizozo school faculty entertained the members of the Business Men's Club on Wednesday at a six o'clock dinner prepared by the home economics department.

Mrs. C. Carl and son, Charles, were in El Paso last Monday and Tuesday. Miss Teddy Lee Ward accompanied them.

Lincoln County Organizes Society

Lincoln County Museum of Art, History and Archeology Society was organized at Lincoln, December 8, 1938. About fifty people from all parts of the county were present at the meeting, which was held in Lincoln School Auditorium.

Dr. Reginald Fisher, assistant director of the Museum, directed the meeting. He first took the group all through the old Lincoln County Court House, showing and talking about the plaques of the WPA in showing the building to make a museum building.

The trustees of the society are: Walter Cog, A. T. Pfingsten, Geo. Thaworth, Geo. T. McQuillen, Larry H. Dow, Lurrie Atkinson, Mrs. Geo. McCarty, Mrs. J. M. Penfield, Dan Kusonovich.

The constitution by law and charter of the society will be located with the State Museum.

A board of nine trustees was elected. They each serve three years, three of them being elected each year. These trustees are the governing body of the society. Each year they elect a president, secretary and treasurer, and appoint such committees as they deem needed.

Everyone who is interested in having this museum is urged to become a member of the society. Active membership fee is a dollar a year. We hope to have many people of the county become life members and endowment members or donors.

The trustees of the society are: Walter Cog, A. T. Pfingsten, Geo. Thaworth, Geo. T. McQuillen, Larry H. Dow, Lurrie Atkinson, Mrs. Geo. McCarty, Mrs. J. M. Penfield, Dan Kusonovich.

The ex-officio members will be the persons who hold these offices. Assistant director of the State Museum, Santa Fe, County School Superintendent, Senators, Chairman of the County Board of Commissioners and Superintendent, Senators, Chairman of the County Board of Commissioners and Superintendent of Captain High School, who are now Dr. R. G. Fisher, Mrs. Nellie W. Day, Louise H. Coe, Perry Sears, Burton F. Williams, F. H. Hall, mayor of Capitán.

After the meeting adjourned the newly elected trustees met in session and elected the following officers: President, G. T. McQuillen; Vice-President, A. T. Pfingsten; Secretary, Mrs. Geo. McCarty; Treasurer, Dan Kusonovich.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our deep appreciation and gratitude for the many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy during our recent bereavement in the loss of our beloved husband and father, Chas. H. Thornton. Mrs. Chas. H. Thornton, Mr. & Mrs. Herbert P. Edwards, Mr. & Mrs. Arthur W. Moore.

J. K. Such Passes Away

Mr. J. K. Such, age 67, passed away last Saturday afternoon at his home here after an illness of several weeks. Funeral mass was at the Catholic church at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, with Rev. Fr. Salvatore in charge, followed by interment at the local cemetery.

J. K. Such was born at Kirksville, Mo., Jan. 4, 1872. At the age of ten he began learning the trade of jeweler and watch maker at Ft. Smith, Ark., and became most skilled in his line. For years he was watch inspector for the railroad company at Tucumcari and in Carrizozo.

He was married to Ella Ione Hornish at Monett, Mo., Jan. 1, 1896. They moved to Tucumcari, N. Mex., in 1906, where they lived until March 1915, when they came to Carrizozo.

Besides his widow, Mr. Such is survived by two sisters, Mmes. Mahlen, and Carl Such, of Little Rock, Ark.

A Correction

In an article published in last week's paper by one of our friends it was stated that Mrs. Sheffield was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aguayo of Nogal. It should have been stated that Mrs. Sheffield was a sister to Mrs. Aguayo, having been formerly Miss Elizabeth Sheppard. We are glad to make this correction.

Mrs. Veda Rustin, of Santa Maria, Calif., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Claud Branum.

WHAT to EAT and WHY

C. Houston Goudiss Counsels Wise Eating During the Holiday Season

By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS

THE advent of the holiday season marks the beginning of one of the most difficult periods of the entire year for the homemaker.

To begin with, she is busied with the hundred and one details of Christmas shopping, the planning of holiday entertainments . . . and the preparation of extra food for parties.

Secondly, the health and comfort of every member of the family depend to a considerable degree upon how they eat and what foods she serves during the weeks between now and January first.

Guard Against Lowered Resistance Unfortunately, statistics show that the common cold and other similar ailments greatly increase in number directly after the first of the year. That is also the period when we find more people suffering from fatigue than at any other season. Both conditions are frequently traceable to faulty habits of eating and faulty hygiene during the holiday season.

The person who is forewarned is usually forearmed. Therefore, every homemaker who has the interests of her family at heart should plan, now, to arrange activities so that strain and fatigue will be reduced to a minimum.

And more specifically, she should see to it that she formulates a sound eating program. Far too many people, at this season of the year, suffer the ill effects of lowered resistance brought about by unwise eating and by over-eating.

Overeating of a poorly chosen diet is inadvisable at any time because it tends to overburden the digestive system. But it is particularly undesirable during the winter season when almost everyone tends to stay too long indoors, frequently in overheated rooms, and to take too little outdoor exercise.

Regularity in eating a carefully balanced diet, containing sufficient bulky foods to help promote regular health habits, is of the utmost importance if resistance is to be maintained at a high peak during the holiday season.

Keeping Body Machinery Efficient

One should always remember that the body is a machine working as regularly and as accurately as a clock. Any good mechanic knows that a fine mechanism requires the same type of care day in and day out. Homemakers, too, should remember that the body does not function differently just because we celebrate a holiday with age-old customs. Thus, to keep every member of the family well and rested, try not to allow the holiday celebrations to upset the ordinary routine of your household.

Late breakfasts, heavy dinners, and suppers taken at odd hours do not constitute the best possible menu-planning. The unfortunate over-emphasis on rich foods on special occasions may easily result in digestive disturbance, unless great care is taken to avoid dietetic indiscretions, and to maintain always the ideal of a balanced ration.

Child's Diet Especially Important

During the dark days of December, the children's diet requires extra thought and care. Too close confinement indoors and the lack of sunshine may easily have an adverse effect upon the temper and vitality of young children. Then, too, the excitement of anticipating Christmas is bound to add to their general fatigue.

Children seldom complain of fatigue, which makes it all the more necessary for mothers to be on guard against, or to look for, the first intimation that it may exist. A child who is tired is very apt to be irritable. More than likely his appetite will be poor, and when he does eat, he may not be able to care properly for the food he takes. You may find, if you allow him to become overtired or feed him unaccustomed foods, that it will be a struggle to get him to bed, and even then he may not sleep soundly. And it is generally recognized that disturbed sleep, plus unwise eating, may have most unfortunate consequences.

The Ideal Holiday Diet

Holiday or no holiday, both children and adults should have at least two fruits daily, one of which should be a citrus fruit or tomatoes, to help provide adequate vitamin C; there should be two vegetables besides potatoes, one of which should be of the green, leafy variety; an egg daily, or at least three or four weekly; a quart of milk for every child, and a pint for each adult.

If your meals are built on this foundation, there will be less room for the rich heavy foods which should only be taken in moderation, and after you have helped to be pure and wholesome, or to purchase them from a reliable source. If these goodies are then given to children at the end of a well-balanced meal, and not indiscriminately between meals, there should not be the upset digestions that make Christmas a bugbear to some mothers instead of the joyous occasion it should be.

By following out these suggestions, you can help your family to enjoy the holidays without regret. You will feel fit and your good health will be the basis of good cheer.

Questions Answered

Mrs. S. M. B.—Your letter was the first of a large number I received on the subject and I am therefore answering you, though my reply is also directed to all the others who have inquired concerning a recent announcement that cereals might be harmful to the teeth.

I have seen reports on this subject by two investigators and I know that other investigators are now endeavoring to check their work. As soon as there is further progress to report, I shall be glad to comment.

In the meantime, I would not hesitate to follow the advice of leading nutritionists and give your children cereals, at least half of which may well be served in the whole grain form.

Metal-Threaded Laces Tune To Elegance of the Mode

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THIS is a season of rich fabrics, sparkling embroideries and sumptuous effects. The new laces tune to this era of elegance perfectly, especially the exquisite gold or silver-threaded types that gleam and glitter in a very ecstasy of beauty. Being delicately patterned, the enchanting laces that are playing an outstanding role in the fashion pageant this winter yield to re-embroidery and outline tracery with metallic thread most graciously.

We can conceive of nothing more charming in the way of an afternoon dress that will be right for cocktail and bridge dates and for tea-dancing throughout the present social season than the smartly styled frock centered in the illustration. Here Chantilly lace in a horizontally striped pattern is outlined all over in gold metal thread. It is made simply because the lace itself is so superbly decorative. The square neckline with its brilliant clips and the short sleeves will be flattering to almost every figure. You can get this lovely gold-threaded lace in black, wine, brown or royal blue.

Characteristic of the rich fabrics is the brown lace embroidered almost coldly with gold thread that fashions the handsome gown to the left in the picture. The dress is artfully modeled to conform with the favored slender silhouette that takes on a proper flare at the hemline.

These entrancing metal-embroidered laces can be used in infinitely fascinating ways. They make up beautifully in the separate blouse to wear for formal occasions with your floor-length velvet or crepe evening skirt. Grand, too, is a blouse of this gold-worked lace for the costume blouse that glorifies the dress-up afternoon velvet suit.

Have you seen the charming new sequin-embroidered laces? If not you surely are missing a treat to the eye. Wine-red sparkling in flower and leaf motifs on wine red sheer lace excites an urge to yield to temptation of buying forthwith. If your social program does not call for anything so formal as a frock-entire of this exotic lace, then satisfy your longing with just enough for a blouse (mere remnant does the "trick").

Women who needs must limit to one and one only formal gown find a handsome simply-styled lace frock proven excellent choice.

A dress that will prove a tried and true friend in any dress-up emergency that may arise is shown to the right in the group. It will meet all dine, dance, dinner, theater and "at home" dates triumphantly throughout the season. This model is simply styled of black lace of handsome durable mesh that gives excellent service, at the same time that it carries the tradition of a lady of high fashion. The accented shoulders and new elbow-length sleeves are high-style features. It is made over a shimmering foundation of silver lame. We suggest also a foundation of black to interchange at will.

Leather Chic

Notable in the realm of modern costume design is the wide use of leather manipulated in a fabric way. Soft suedes in glorious dyes are deftly tailored and dressmakered into fashionable wearing apparel as successfully and attractively as any yardage weaves. The casual fingertip hunter's green suede coat worn by Anita Louise, film star, as here pictured is just such a type as any woman might covet for campus, for country or even for daytime in town.

It is also the height of fashion to wear accessories of suede or other leathers. One of the novelties brought out this season is the "mad money" buttons. These unique buttons by La Mode are really diminutive coin purses. See these clever leather coin-holder buttons on the sports tailored blouse pictured.

New Suits Remain Simple and Smart

New suits and outfits for casual wear are extremely smart, remaining simple despite a clever use of color. There is a three-piece model, a neat coat and skirt in deep wine wool, with a collarless, flaring topcoat of gray Chinese kid, lined with the wool of the suit. A hand-knit ensemble has a dress in red, coral and azure blue, and the jacket with curved patch pockets in azure blue.

Scotch plaids are used for neat little numbers, many of them with fitted velvet jackets or with high, round necks. The three-piece suit of tweed, with topcoat richly furled, is always with us. A suit in purple tweed has the topcoat handsomely collared with gray fox.

Pink Roses Adorn Chiffon Nightgown

One of the great successes of Bialo, Paris designer, is a nightgown in black chiffon with applications of pale pink silk satin roses scattered over the bodice; the extremely full skirt is edged with a shirred frill. Another in white chiffon is encrusted with enormous black lace bird motifs, the lace re-embroidered in black chenille. It has a rounded neckline, gathered bodice and black velvet sash tying back under a widespread bird motif.

Bialo favors silk crepe, silk satin and mousseline—white, sky blue and pink are the colors favored outside of the shaded effects.

Gibson Sailor Is Back in Fashion

Don't be discouraged if you find you are not typed to wear the coy little hats that perch over one eye and harbor everything from birds' nests to a tree of bows. Some of the new high hats are infinitely more becoming. And, moreover, the flat Gibson sailor is in again with its flattering veil, and that's something most anyone can wear.

Fragile Look Fostered by New Coiffure

By PATRICIA LINDSAY

ARTISTS and poets have raved about the lovely nape of a woman's neck since time began. It is supposed to be one of our most alluring feminine charms! And because fashion repeats itself, napes of necks are bare again, as those new and exciting, brush-the-hair-high coiffures are here for a long stay!

Such a hair-do is gloriously feminine. It has a way of making a woman or a girl more fragile. You know—looking as if she might not be able to take a severe scolding! And that's always a help!

Dame Fashion has a way of keeping us on our toes. We can never quite sit back and say, "I'm all settled for the next year!" For instance, two things will concern the woman who decides to make this change in her hair style—How to keep the back hair-line trim and appealing, and how to make her hair stay up just after she has traipsed it into a long page-boy bob!

Take an honest look at that back hairline.

Take an honest look at that back hairline of yours after you have combed and brushed your hair high on your head. Not very beautiful, is it? What can you expect if you have allowed hair dressers or barbers to hack away at it for years? But you've got to groom it into a smooth even line and train the hair to grow softly and naturally upward. For a time you may use a tiny barrette or small hairpin to keep it up, but by late fall it should stay of its own accord.

How to Train Straggly Hairs

Each day brush those harsh straggly hairs upward by letting your head hang down and brush toward the crown of your head. If you are not going to business, knot it high in a roll, pin up the ends, and tie a bandanna around it. That holds it in place.

Each night before going to bed apply a scalp pomade or a good hair tonic along the hairline. Gently massage it. The rich lubricant will not only feed the starving tissue but the rubbing will stimulate growth.

Don't have your hair cut again—just let it grow. Later on you may have it shaped, once you determine which high style you will wear. Or you may just twist your long hair into becoming puffs on top of your head. Many girls are letting their hair grow long.

As your hairline grows, attempt to keep it curled for gala nights with very small curlers, the iron, or by twisting it on hairpins. We will all have to go through the growing pains unless we have been wise enough to keep our hairline unclipped. During the heart-breaking stage you might pin false curls over the ragged ends.

HINT-OF-THE-DAY

Cologne is Feminine Necessity. Cologne is an extremely refreshing body rub and is also a luxurious body deodorant. You will find that an after-bath rubdown of cologne before going to bed will leave a lovely fragrance clinging to your sheets in the morning. This makes for the kind of daintiness that lovely women seek—a faint fragrance that seems to be a part of their personality, exuding from them as they move and breathe.

A good brand of cologne, one with a distinctive personality, in its fragrance, should be used. It should hint at lightheartedness, glitter and gaiety.

Cologne, by the way, makes a splendid gift, and for this purpose several brands are available in unique bottles as an adornment to the dressing table.

Spies During World War. During the World war, the British Intelligence service, through a simple trick, finished the career of a clever Turkish spy. Securing his secret address in Constantinople, says Collier's Weekly, the service in London sent him $150 in cash in a plain envelope that, when intercepted by the Turkish censor, was considered to be "sufficient" evidence of his dealing with the enemy. Consequently he was executed.

HOW TO SEW

by Ruth Wyeth Spears

round thread art linen so that the threads may be counted easily in making the cross-stitches. This foundation material should be marked off in 1-inch squares as shown in the diagram at the upper right. The numbers indicate the color used for cross-stitching each square. The velvet used for backing adds the richness that all small gifts should have. Sawdust or hair from an old mattress are most satisfactory for stuffing.

If you would like to make some of these cushions for gifts or for your next bazaar, clip these directions and keep them as they are not in either of the books offered below.

NOTE: Mrs. Spears' Book 2—Gifts, Novelties and Embroidery, has helped thousands of women to use odds and ends of materials and their spare time to make things to sell and to use. Book 1—Sewing, for the Home Decorator, is full of inspiration for every homemaker. These books make delightful Christmas gifts. Mrs. Spears will autograph them on request. Crazypatch quilt leaflet is included free with every order for both books. Address: Mrs. Spears, 210 S. Desplaines St., Chicago, Ill. Books are 25 cents each.

Undie Set and Day Dress

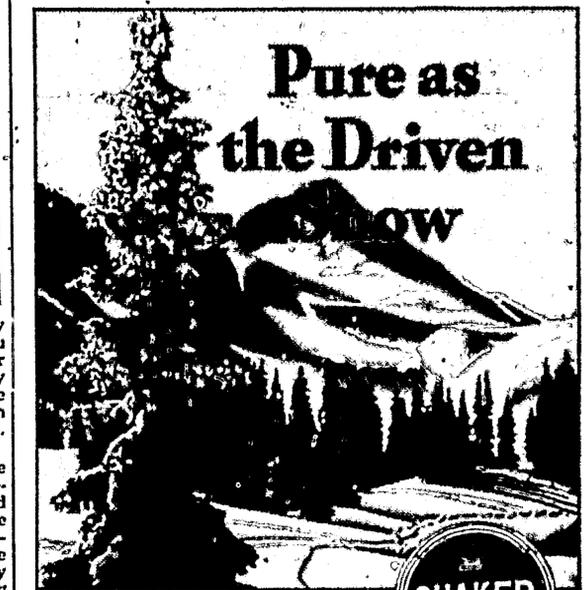

THE undie set goes so quickly and easily, in fact, that you can finish it for a gift in time for Christmas—and you'll certainly want to make it for yourself. The house frock is a diagram design that you can finish in a few hours.

The Undie Set.
Slip, panties and brassiere are all included in this one simple design that even the inexperienced can make with no difficulty. Make it up in fine quality materials—satin, crepe de Chine or flat crepe—and you'll save money not only in the first place, but in the long run, because the undies will wear and wash so long and so well. The slip has a beautifully fitted line over which your doll-waisted clothes will look their best. The brassiere provides support and uplift that you need for a definite bustline, and the panties are unusually smooth-hipped, because they fasten with a zipper.

The House Dress.
This full-skirted frock is such a pretty thing that you'll be wise to make it up in flannel or-challis for shopping as well as in calico, gingham and percale for around the house. The bodice has darts just above the waist to create becoming fullness over the bust. The sleeves are puffed high at the shoulders, and the neckline, outlined with a double row of braid or ribbon, is extremely flattering. No. 1649 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 10 requires, for the slip 2 3/4 yards of 39-inch material; for the panties, 1 1/2 yards; for the brassiere, 1/2 yard.

No. 1650 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 14 requires 4 3/4 yards of 35-inch material; 11

Mrs. Era B. Smith, Editor and Publisher

Columbia may be the Gem of the Ocean, but Carrizozo is the Gem of the great Southwest

Carrizozo is aglow with more Christmas lights than it has ever been our pleasure to see in this little Starlit Star of the Southwest

We have up to date schools, public and Catholic with a full corps of teachers. We have churches where all denominations may worship; four hotels; two newspapers; banking facilities, three hardware stores, ten groceries, eleven service stations, two lumber dealers, two drug stores, two pool halls, two insurance firms, one abstract company, a mechanical equipment company, lodges and every other line of business. We are located in a famous mining district; we are surrounded by many fine cattle, goat and sheep ranches; we have one of the best country clubs in the state, a live club of local businessmen. We are near the Lincoln National Forest, we have a fine, healthful climate--we're the "Garden Spot of the World."

For several years the Santa Fe Railway Company has been sending the Lincoln County News a very attractive series of Indian calendars, entitled the Indian Detour Country. The lovely calendar for 1939 is captioned, "Navajo Indians on Way to Laguna." It is a marvelous combination of blue sky and clouds with the Indians on their well laden ponies riding unconcernedly forward. The caption for the 1938 calendar was "The Arrow Maker." It was also an ideal picture of an Indian brave carefully making his arrow. Both pictures have an artistic magnificence of the Santa Fe in the lower left hand corner.

Calendars of previous years were given to a friend who collects Indian pictures and who has already secured our promise for the '38 picture

We have another friend whose artistic soul craves the western cowboy series sent by an ink establishment.

Patronage--Ho!

It is reported that all roads leading to Santa Fe are congested with job hunters seeking audience with newly elected state officials. Jobs are scarce, so hop to it, boys and girls, and heaven help the patronage dispensers.

The Livestock Situation

By J. A. McNaughton

Los Angeles Union Stock Yards, Dec. 15.--Reports from the western states as regards the cattle feeding situation indicate that there will be a sizeable reduction in the number of cattle fed this season. Here in Los Angeles County, the number of cattle in feed lots at the end of November, 1938, was set at 15,474, which is only 56 per cent of the 27,701 head that were in feed lots here during the latter part of November, 1937. Estimates place the number of cattle in the Imperial Valley at about 40,000, which is below normal. All through the state, we are advised there are fewer cattle on feed than last year. Arizona also shows a substantial decrease in the number of cattle on feed.

Feed prices generally are the lowest in the past several years. The spread in price between feeder and fat cattle of recent months has been very narrow. In fact, in relation to the level of cattle prices, it has been about the narrowest on record. Notwithstanding this, the Corn Belt feeder has set the market in the Southwest for stockers and feeders, buying them at a price which our Western feeders are reluctant to pay. The latter cannot see in the present price level of fat cattle a chance for reasonable margin over the cost of the stockers and feeders. Corn Belt feeders must have livestock in some form to move their crops. Even at the present price of fat cattle, they figure they will get more out of their corn by feeding at home rather than selling the corn on the present market. This situation has been responsible for the continued purchase of feeder cattle at levels little lower than fat cattle prices.

Southern California has had practically no moisture so far this year. Other sections of the state are spotted. In the central and northern part of the state where there has been considerable rain, the grass is started sufficiently to encourage ranchers to stock up. As soon as we begin to get the usual rainfall there will be an increased demand for stockers and feeders. After all, California and other Southwestern states are not much different than the "Corn Belt" in the marketing of our grain and forage through livestock. At the present time there is a good demand for stockers and feeders from these sections that have feed that can be marketed to best advantage only through livestock.

As somewhat affecting the situation generally, it is well to keep in mind that hog prices are now to a point where pork products are going to enter more extensively in competition with beef and lamb, and it logically follows that a shortage of cattle will be offset by increased pork supplies.

The situation is somewhat confused as to the future trend of price levels but feeders are holding back supplies in anticipation of an increased price. However, a great deal depends upon the movement of cattle from middle western feed lots to market. Furthermore, we have a readjustment of duties on Canadian and other favored nations which may have a material effect upon our price structure. It seems logical that the reflected shortage of cattle on feed forecasts a general strengthening up of price levels on fat stuff.

British Empire, Beset by Woes, Faces Battle to Retain Position

BRITAIN'S TROUBLE SPOTS

Five Trouble Spots Draw London's Attention in Desperate Effort to Appease Dictators and Still Maintain World Supremacy

By JOSEPH W. LABINE

Every world empire in history has eventually been threatened by disintegration. It happened to Alexander the Great, to Rome and to Spain. Today it is happening to Great Britain.

Obviously any alliance of world powers like that of Germany, Italy and Japan must run smack-bang into conflict with the far-flung British Empire, whose tentacles reach from London into every cranny of the globe. Such is the case in China, Africa and Palestine.

Moreover the United Kingdom now hears demands for independence from her colonies, who no longer cringe in fear of the shaggy lion. Once vassal-like possessions have grown up and learned to assert themselves. Two examples are Eire, which has already won a large measure of freedom, and India, the world's No. 1 problem child.

This Twentieth century territorial octopus springs from a seafaring mother country, whose sons went forth to trade and came home with an amazing empire. Mostly they acquired it not by aggression, but by just happening to be handy when it fell into their hands.

Importance of Navy Wanes. The United Kingdom is held together by no stronger a cohesive force than come 3,000 commercial ships and the world's largest navy, but this has been enough to make Great Britain a referee of international affairs. In such a position she has sometimes been strong and aggressive, but her star may now be dimming. Since 1933 she has suffered a steady series of diplomatic defeats to appease Germany, Italy and Japan, rather than face the stark realities of the situation and stand her ground firmly. This is the traditional British way of doing things, a trait personified by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain.

The United Kingdom now faces trouble at five vital spots. None is more important than Hongkong, which for 99 years has been the base of Britain's economic operations in the Far East. During that period one-fourth of all China's foreign trade found inlet and outlet through the tiny island port which lies a scant 30 miles from Chinese Canton. From here to the interior runs the Canton-Kowloon railroad, jointly owned by the British and Chinese.

Started With Manchukuo. Britain's economic grip on China was first threatened in 1931 when Japan began her two-year battle to capture Manchukuo. In 1936 the danger became more acute when Japan turned to Shanghai, for years the base of British trade in northern China. Though the tremendously important Yangtze river was subsequently closed, Britain's trade remained substantially safe until a few weeks ago when Japan suddenly captured Canton and severed the Canton-Kowloon railroad.

Although Hongkong has been made impregnable against possible Japanese invasion, these precautions seem pointless in view of the city's death as a trading center.

Deprived of its rail connection to interior China, and with Chinese merchants intent on boycotting Japanese-owned Canton, Hongkong bids fair to become a ghost city.

African Colonies Important. Britain's second trouble zone is Africa, where Germany demands return of the colonies mandated to the United Kingdom following the World War. These include Tanganyika, British Cameroons and British Togoland, all held directly by London, and Southwest Africa, mandated to the British Union of South Africa.

Economically, most of these colonies are useless to the empire but their strategic value is something else. Tanganyika gave Britain a connecting link between East Africa and South Africa, across which she hopes come day to build a Cape to Cairo railroad. Moreover, the British realize that Germany could use the war-lord colonies as naval and air bases, and that African possessions would give the Reich an excuse for building up her navy. This is a danger London is anxious to avoid.

The most likely trouble spot is Southwest Africa, which alone of the one-time German possessions is desirable for colonization.

Moslems Unite. Palestine, the third problem, is a battleground for Arabs and Jews. Its modern history goes back to the World War, when Britain enlisted Arab support against Turkey, promising the Moslems control over Palestine as payment. But after the war, when Britain won a mandate over Palestine, she established part of the Holy Land as a national home for world Jewry.

The resultant battle between Hebrews and Arabs has been bitter and has placed London in an uncomfortable position. First, by supporting the Jewish cause, she faces conflict with Jew-hating Germany and Italy, both of which are now trying to make their nations 100 per cent "Aryan." Moreover, Britain's forced hostility toward the Arabs is fomenting a nationalistic feeling in the Moslem world.

As a ruler of Moslems in Palestine and elsewhere, Britain is thereby cutting her own throat. But her primary interest in Palestine is not Arabs or Jews but rather the Holy Land's strategic importance as a connecting link between her empires to the west and the east. It lies along vital air and sea routes which she must preserve.

Indian Question Unsolved. Trouble spot No. 4, is India, little mentioned in today's headlines because nationalistic outbreaks are all too commonplace in this richest of all lands. India offers the United Kingdom no immediate threat to her empire security, yet it is an ugly sore that adds to the whole of London's embarrassment.

India contains one-fifth of the world's population, represents every religious and political creed, and is a mixture of at least 20 races that speak some 220 languages and dialects. It is obviously impossible to satisfy such a people, nor is the new "home rule" constitution a very far-reaching attempt to satisfy them. Under it, all real power is vested in British provincial governors who can veto what few actions the legislatures are empowered to take. Moreover they rule by decrees when legislatures are not sitting and can disband the sessions at will.

Although Mahatma Gandhi is no longer a leading force in Indian nationalization agitation, he has been succeeded by an equally strong chief, Jawaharlal Nehru, who is leading the battle to have the constitution abolished. Difficult though Britain's position may be, it is to be deplored that she has not made a more aggressive attempt to make peace in India. This responsibility is especially incumbent in view of the pot of gold that the empire has discovered in India. Since 1600 Britons have waxed rich in the Indian trade. Today the country is England's best customer, buying one-tenth of all her manufactured exports. Out of each dollar in revenue collected by the Indian government, 27 cents is spent in England, although England contributes less than 2 cents.

Eire Seeks Plebiscite. The final trouble spot is Eire, just across the Irish channel from England proper. At the end of this year Great Britain will lose its last shred of control over the largest part of Ireland, which has an area about the size of Massachusetts and New Hampshire. Under Eamon de Valera, the southern portion of the island has waged a successful battle for nationalization and is now attempting to increase its sway by taking possession of Ulster. This latest development follows Mr. Chamberlain's pronouncement in favor of "self-determination" for European minorities. He was immediately denounced upon by Mr. De Valera, who said that self-determination should also hold good for Ireland.

If he has his way, Mr. De Valera will conduct a plebiscite in Ulster. Four of the six counties, almost entirely Protestant, will probably vote to join with Catholic Eire, the once-pronounced religious difference being forgotten under pressure of Eire's economic grasp on the island.

Such is the string of Great Britain's troubles and liabilities across the empire on which, it was once boasted, the sun never sets. If Mr. Chamberlain's policy of dictator appeasement is continued, observers believed these liabilities will indeed be lessened, that the empire will begin a steady process of internal decay in which one collapse will follow another. Offsetting this fear is the growing English opinion against Chamberlain conservatism, a movement which found expression last year in the anti-dictator policy of Anthony Eden, former secretary of state for foreign affairs. Mr. Eden is back in private life now, but repercussions against Mr. Chamberlain's "peace" of Munich are mounting every week and many Englishmen see hope for a new government with a stronger chin.

Some Things to Do With Molasses

Largest Present Day Use In Cakes and Puddings

By EDITH M. BARBER

WHEN I was a little girl I visited some cousins who lived in the country. We spent the first morning in the chestnut wood searching under the leaves for the prickly burrs which Jack Frost had picked from the trees during the frosty nights. Appetites sharpened by air and exercise, I remarked that I was hungry. At that my little cousin answered: "It's time for a piece, anyway. We'll go up to the house and ask mother."

The word "piece" was new to me in this connection, as it is perhaps to you today. What was it? Bread and molasses—fresh bread liberally spread with country butter and covered with golden brown molasses.

I know a number of persons who demand molasses with griddle cakes, waffles and French toast, and who think there is nothing like its distinctive flavor. Our largest use, however, of this product today is as an ingredient of cakes and puddings. What is better than hot ginger cake? Unless it is spice cake or a steamed pudding. Oh, and then there are molasses cookies which may be thin or thick, crisp or soft. And I wonder if you have ever tried molasses shoofly pie? It's a good old-fashioned recipe and worthy of trial.

Molasses Shoofly Pie.

- 3/4 cup flour
- 1/2 teaspoon each, nutmeg, ginger and cloves
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons shortening
- 1 1/2 teaspoons soda dissolved in 1/4 cup boiling water
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 1 egg yolk, well-beaten

Pastry. Mix flour with spices, salt and sugar. Rub in shortening. Add water to molasses and mix well. Stir this mixture into egg yolk. Line pie plate with pastry. Make alternate layers of flour mixture and molasses mixture. Top with flour mixture. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees Fahrenheit) for 10 minutes, reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees Fahrenheit) and bake until filling is firm, about half an hour.

Prune Steamed Pudding.

- 1 cup bread flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon cloves
- 1/2 teaspoon allspice
- 1 cup bread crumbs
- 1/2 cup chopped suet
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1 cup prune pulp
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1 cup chopped and seeded uncooked prunes
- 1/4 cup shredded citron
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 3 egg yolks
- 3 egg whites

Sift flour, salt, soda and spices together. Mix ingredients in order given, folding in the beaten whites of eggs last. Grease the pudding boiler and dredge with flour and pour in mixture. Steam three hours. Serve with hard creamy sauce.

Molasses Nut Squares.

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup chopped nuts

Combine shortening and molasses and cook over a low flame for two minutes, stirring constantly. Add soda and brown sugar, and stir until sugar is dissolved. Cool. Beat eggs until fluffy and blend with molasses mixture. Sift flour with the salt, and add with the nuts to the mixture, mixing well. Bake in greased pan, in moderate oven, (350 degrees Fahrenheit) 35 to 40 minutes. Cut into squares.

Molasses Popcorn Balls.

- 1 cup light molasses
- 1 cup dark corn syrup
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 3 quarts popped corn
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Mix molasses, syrup and vinegar in a pan and cook, stirring occasionally to prevent burning until slightly brittle (270 degrees Fahrenheit). Stir at the last when the syrup boils with large bubbles. When done add butter and stir only enough to mix. Slowly pour the cooked syrup over the salted popped corn, and mix well. Form into balls with the hands, using as little pressure as possible.

Omelet.

- 8 eggs
 - 3/4 tablespoon salt
 - 1/2 cup butter
- Break eggs into bowl, add salt, beat until very foamy. Heat butter in heavy frying pan until foamy. Add eggs, cook over moderate fire, stirring occasionally. Shake over low fire until golden brown; fold and serve on hot platter.

Baked Fish Spencer.

Dip fish fillets in salted milk, using one tablespoon of salt for each cup of milk. Dip into the dry bread crumbs or cornflake crumbs. Arrange on well oiled baking sheet and sprinkle liberally with oil. Bake in a very hot oven for about 10 minutes. Garnish with sliced lemon.

Household Hints

By BETTY WELLS

THIS year it's a birdie with a turquoise bill—and he's graduated from the window sill to the wall. One of the season's most delightful papers has a very modern bird and bird cage—I'm partial to it in pink and blue on a white ground.

It would be as delicious for nursery or bathroom. But my favorite place for it would be a dinette or breakfast room—with maybe a kitchen to match. What a fresh chirpy place that would be to fly about your work in! I'd paint table and chairs a sparkling white enamel, add pink voile curtains—yes pink—and get a not-too-deep blue linoleum. And there I'd be as cheerful as a canary I'm sure. The only catch is that I don't have a dinette and kitchen in need of redecorating.

In defense of all that pink and blue for dinette and kitchen, let me say that you can just about use any color anywhere—if your eye is sure. We have entirely too many color inhibitions anyway and this is as good a time as any to go through your head and clear them out—just as we sort our old clothes.

Take rust, green and gold for living rooms, for instance. I've got no grudge against that trio. But you must admit that it's been done to death. So if I had a room like that, I'd begin to inch up on it. Perhaps I'd use the gray cure—do over the walls in a fine light gray and hunt around for a gray and yellow chintz to ring in. If nothing else, I'd add some smart gray cushions or some important looking pieces of gray pottery.

Then there's the green and orchid bedroom, once such a joy to behold, now as "out" as the Buster Brown bob. If I had a room like that, I'd try to inch the orchid out of the picture and introduce yellow in its place—trying for that freshness you see in daffodils or buttercups. Any odd tidbits of orchid that have to be retained would look all right with the yellow, but with yellow and green predominating, I'd have a newer, crisper looking room.

If your room is too dull and neutral looking, try some inclusive shade to pick it up—magenta, jade, orange, scarlet.

An Economy Move.

"During the depression we moved into a second story flat which we own," writes Ethel K. "And like all flats, the rooms are boxy and cut up with windows and doors. My problem is the living room, which is 11 by 15. I have maple furniture, a sofa in brown linen with blue and pink in the pattern, a wing chair in black with a small colonial pattern, a yellow linen barrel chair, a highboy with a desk section.

"The walls are a dusty pink, which looks awful with the maple furniture. I have a blue-green rug and white Venetian blinds. Now, what would you suggest for new wall paper and new draperies for the windows which are only 65 inches long and look as if someone had hung them up on the wall. I'd thought of using soft white mesh with tiny white fringe draped in swag fashion across the top and down the sides. There is just enough money for new wall paper, curtains and perhaps a few accessories. I have a lovely Sully portrait to go on the wall over the sofa. Thanks for any help you can give me."

We moved to a second story flat.

One thing you can be thankful for—you have plenty of windows which makes an apartment so much pleasanter to live in. If I were you, I'd consider the book shelves between the windows as a focal point, using it as the center of interest in the room. Have the sofa at right angles to it on one side and two easy chairs facing the sofa on the other side of the shelves. This will add a great deal of graciousness to the room.

An aquamarine tint would be my choice for your wall color. It will be smart with the rug and the maple and will go with your upholstery. Your idea for draperies sounds all right—though you might consider using aqua mesh instead of white. I'd like to see copper and details of yellow here in accessories.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON

NEW YORK.—In the pre-war years, about the only sure-enough newspaper man who covered Europe was Henri S. De Blowitz, the Bohemian who became a Frenchman and scooped the world with the full text of the treaty at the conference of Berlin, at the end of the Franco-Prussian war. Although he did this for the London Times, English journalists—distinctly that, rather than newspaper men—seemed to think it wasn't quite cricket and they went on wearing spats, carrying canes, and dodging leg-work. I remember citing to an English friend the De Blowitz book, published posthumously in 1903, in which he told how he got that heat on the treaty—an exciting newspaper yarn if there ever was one. "Bit of a rotter, don't you think?" said the Englishman.

After the war, the English correspondents started shaking a leg, but, with all this Chauvinism loose in the world, we may boast that it was the American lads who set the pace. One press association and a few of our newspapers sent over to the big war some news beagles who began retrieving stories right under the nose of the morning coat scribes. They've been getting better all the time, and one of the bell-ringers is Frank Smothers of the Chicago Daily News, the tenth correspondent to be bounced out of Italy for faithful reporting in the last year.

Mr. Smothers was a fast-stepping and fast-thinking reporter in Chicago for nine years before he went to the Orient, as correspondent for the Chicago Daily News and the Boston Transcript. He was close in when the Japanese made their first grab for China and pegged home some of the best stories from that boat. In Italy, he made a similar record.

A keen analyst, as well as news-getter, he is one of a number of American foreign correspondents who have told the story of world catastrophe faster and better than any others at any place or time. He grew up in Roseville, Ill., and finished at the University of Wisconsin, after two years at Northwestern. He is 37 years old.

GEORGE RUBLEE, 70 years old, is beset with a thousand plans for taking care of European political refugees, as he heads the American efforts in this humane undertaking. His fame rests upon his achievements as an international lawyer, of the firm of Covington, Burling & Rublee, of Washington. He was a strong supporter and ally of the late Robert L. Follotte.

Whenever they have had oil trouble anywhere in the Western hemisphere, they have sent Mr. Rublee. He has straightened out snarls over oil rights in Colombia, Mexico and other countries. He was a friend and associate of the late Dwight W. Morrow and helped him settle a number of oil and banking arguments in Mexico.

He is a native of Madison, Wis., and an alumnus of the Harvard law school. He began the practice of law at Chicago.

THERE was a news story the other day about a thwarted artist, who came through and had a glorious revenge on his thwarters.

The Fine Arts Substitutes association, in behalf of teachers flunked by the New York board of examiners, gives an exhibition by which the public is to judge whether the board bopped them unjustly. Among the exhibitors is Max Weber, distinguished artist, represented in the Metropolitan museum, who was among those flunked by the board. With his picture goes a note to the board in which Mr. Weber tells what he thinks of it and cites his success as "proof of their incompetence."

Mr. Weber, a native of Russia, here at the age of 19, was a modernist, so far out of bounds that the academicians would turn a riot call whenever anybody mentioned his name. He has been marked up more by the critics probably than any other man in America.

The turn in Mr. Weber's fortunes came in 1924, when a discerning New York Sun critic, among others, piped him up as a thoroughly competent artist. His pictures sell. He has a nice home at Great Neck, Long Island.

Q. Under what circumstances? A. Miss Randall came in to say that Miss Wines had asked to see Mr. Loran. Mr. Loran was not in. Miss Randall suggested that I see her.

Q. Never mind what Miss Randall said. The District Attorney might object to your telling us that. But as a result of something Miss Randall said to you, and of your reply, what happened? A. Miss Wines came into my office.

Q. She talked with you. Yes.

Q. Did she ask for something? A. She wanted money.

Q. How much? A. A hundred dollars.

Q. Why that exact amount? A. She said—

Q. No, you had better not tell what she said. Do you know of your own knowledge, and not because of anything she said, why Miss Wines wanted the money? A. No.

Q. Was it in consequence of anything you had done? A. No.

Q. Where was Mr. Loran that afternoon? A. He was out of town.

Q. Refused Dead Girl Help.

Q. As a result of what Miss Wines told you, Mr. Sentry, did you give her any money? A. No.

Q. Or advice? A. I went into the reception room to speak to Miss Randall.

Q. Immediately? A. Miss Wines had been with me perhaps five minutes.

Q. She came to you for money and you sent her away? A. Yes.

Q. Why? A. I was afraid of being involved.

Q. Afraid? A. Yes.

Q. You sent her away? A. She was crying. I went into the reception room and spoke to Miss Randall, leaving Miss Wines alone in my office.

Q. Did you ever after she left your employ give her any money? A. No.

Q. Did she offer that day any reason why you personally should give her money? A. Only that she needed it.

Q. No attempt to blackmail you then or later? A. No. She asked, but she did not demand.

Q. By the way, you had a duplicate key to the back door? A. Yes.

Q. Where was it that day? A. In the side drawer of my desk.

Q. When you went into the reception room that day, what did you discuss with Miss Randall? A. I asked her to get rid of Miss Wines.

Q. Did she? A. She went into my office. I went downstairs.

Q. Down the main stairs? A. Down the back stairs.

Q. And on that occasion you did not see Miss Wines again? A. No.

Q. When you came back to your office—did you see her? A. I did, half an hour later.

Q. Did you notice anything unusual? A. The side drawer of my desk was open.

Q. The one in which you kept the duplicate key? A. Yes.

Tells of Bridge Game

Q. Had you left it open? A. Perhaps not.

Q. Did you notice whether or not the key was gone? A. No.

Q. And was this before or after you began to carry a revolver in the car? A. Before.

Q. How long before? A. A week or more.

Q. How long before Miss Wines was killed? A. About three weeks.

Q. Was Mr. Loran in town after that day and before Miss Wines was killed? A. Yes.

Q. Do you know whether Miss Wines stole the key? A. I do not.

Q. Now, on a certain Thursday evening, Mr. Sentry, did you play bridge after dinner at your club? A. Yes, every Thursday evening.

Q. I am referring to the evening Miss Wines was killed. A. Yes.

Q. Till what time did you play, on that occasion? A. Till about ten thirty.

Q. You left the club when? A. Eleven o'clock or a little after.

Q. In your car? A. Yes.

Q. With the revolver in the dash locker? A. Yes.

Q. You went where? A. I started home, got almost there, then went back to my office.

Q. Why? A. Mrs. Sentry had arranged that day to have a package delivered at the office for Mr. Butler.

Q. Dealers in kitchenware? A. Yes.

Q. What was in it? A. A drip coffee-pot.

Q. What was to be done with it? A. Mrs. Sentry had asked me to bring it home.

Q. Was it in the car? A. I forgot to go to my desk when I left the office.

Q. And you went back to your office? A. To get it, yes.

Q. You got there—when? A. Some time between eleven thirty and twelve.

Q. Stopped where? A. At the curb by the back door.

Q. Did you look the car? A. I left the key in the lock.

Q. And went immediately upstairs? A. No. I unlocked the door, and started up, and I thought I heard voices.

Q. Voices? A. A voice.

Q. A woman's or a man's? A. A man's.

Q. And what? A. I listened, but the sound was not repeated. I was nervous, came out and looked for a policeman, saw none, decided it was my imagination.

Admits Killing.

Q. So you did what? A. I took the revolver out of the car and went quietly upstairs.

Q. Suddenly braver, Mr. Sentry? A. Playing a game, like a fool kid. I didn't really think there was anyone there.

Q. Took the revolver and went upstairs? A. Yes.

Q. How far upstairs? A. To the third floor.

Q. Was anyone there? A. Yes.

Q. You saw some person or persons? A. It was dark.

Q. You had no light? A. There is no light on the back stairs.

Q. So you came up in the dark? A. The stairs are familiar. I've been using them for thirty years.

Q. Is there a door at the head of the stairs? A. Yes.

Q. And what did you do? A. Opened the door, stepped through it.

Q. Still in the dark? A. Yes.

Q. And did anything happen? A. Someone jumped against me.

Q. Man or woman? A. A man.

Q. What then? A. The impact knocked me against the wall. It jarred me so that the gun went off.

Q. Had you cocked it? A. Yes.

Q. And it went off. Then what? A. The man who had bumped me ran down the back stairs.

Q. You saw him? A. I heard him.

Q. What did you do? A. I turned on the light.

Q. Where? A. In my office.

Q. You went into the office? A. I stood in the doorway and reached the switch.

Q. Did that light the hall? A. Yes.

Q. Did you see anything? A. I saw a woman lying on the hall floor.

Q. And you did what? A. Turned on the hall light to look at her.

Q. To see who she was? A. To see how badly she was hurt.

Q. Did you see who it was? A. It was Miss Wines.

Tells of Robbery Plan.

Q. And what did you do? A. I started to telephone the police.

Q. And did you? A. No.

Q. Why not? A. I realized that I might be blamed.

Q. In other words, you were afraid? A. Yes.

Q. And you did not telephone? A. No. When I went into the office, I saw that the safe was open. There is a money drawer in it, and this drawer had been taken out and was on my desk. The money was still in it. About three hundred dollars.

Q. Yes? A. I realized that no one would believe there had been a robbery there unless the money was taken.

Q. Yes? A. I decided to make it look like a robbery.

Q. What did you do? A. Took the money.

Q. You had gloves on? A. Yes, the night was cool.

Q. And then what? A. I turned off the light and went downstairs.

Q. Did you take the package for which you had come back to the office? A. No, I forgot it again.

Q. When you got downstairs, did you notice anything about the car? A. It was gone.

Q. What did you do? A. I supposed it had been stolen. I walked to the corner at random, and then I saw my car.

Q. Where was it? A. It was just around the corner, half a block from where I had left it, parked the wrong way of a one-way street.

Q. What did you do there? A. Got in and drove home.

Q. What did you do after? A. Put up the car. Then I threw the pistol in the river back of the garage. I went in the house and down cellar and burned the money in the furnace.

Q. And then? A. I went to bed.

Court adjourned till Monday morning.

Mr. Falkran afterward announced that he had finished with direct examination, so that Mr. Sentry's direct examination will begin at once when he resumes the stand.

That state like a hypnosis, in which Mrs. Sentry had found herself so much of the time since the trial began, persisted during Mr. Sentry's direct testimony.

When at adjournment Mr. Sentry left the stand, her eyes met his and she smiled at him firmly as he was led away. Then she and Phil went out together, slowly, surrendering themselves to be a passive part of the sluggish stream of spectators which banked at the door and trickled through, and dispersed along the marble corridors.

She slung to Phil's arm, and they came down to the limousine, and many eyes pinned them and whispers galloped like hounds hot on their trail as they drove away.

They rode in silence for a while, till at last Phil mopped his brow and looked at her and asked miserably, "Want to talk, mother?"

"No, not yet, Phil!"

He said with a jealous loyalty: "I don't believe he ever looked at any woman in his life but you. No matter what he says."

But she did not answer him. After a while he asked huskily: "Mother, did you know what he was going to say? I mean, about the night she was killed?"

She remembered with a pitiless clarity that day she first saw Arthur after his arrest. She said: "He told me, yes. Told me he went there and found her dead." And she added, quickly, "He didn't know then that his shot had killed her."

Phil cried, "Why didn't you tell me?"

"It couldn't have done any good, Phil, to tell you."

"But it was an accident!"

"Yes," she added, unable to check the word in time. "If they believe him."

"Why, they've got to, haven't they? It all fits." He pounded his fist on his knee. "It's rotten enough; but at least he's not a murderer." She said nothing; and he spoke half to himself: "I've never seen him except with you; never—asked him any questions. Did he tell Mr. Flood all this?"

She said wearily: "I think not. I think Mr. Falkran and Mr. Hare both advised him to answer no questions, say nothing at all, after he was arrested."

When at last they came home, Linda was there with Barbara. Barbara as they came in looked at her mother and then at Phil, searchingly; and Mrs. Sentry said quickly: "He was fine, Barbara!"

Linda cried, "There, Barb! I told you he would be." She explained, in a tender tone, "She's been worrying so!"

Mrs. Sentry thought how little Barbara seemed, and how young, and so terribly hurt. This, too, Arthur had done; yet—suddenly today she could not hate him. She said again to Barbara: "Yes, he was fine! I was never so proud of him."

She saw Phil watch her wonderingly; and she said calmly: "Lunch must be ready. Linda, will you stay?"

While they were at table—Barbara had a tray in her room—Mr. Falkran telephoned, spoke with Mrs. Sentry.

"He's going to see Mr. Sentry first," she reported, "then come out to consult with me. He feels that Mr. Sentry made an excellent witness, that the jury was impressed."

"Of course," Linda agreed.

After lunch, Mrs. Sentry suggested: "Linda, take Phil away for the afternoon, will you? Take him for a long drive." She smiled. "He needs fresh air, fresh ideas; needs you."

And she added suddenly, apologetically: "Don't if you'd rather not! You've been such a rock of strength, I don't want to impose on you."

"Of course I will," Linda declared; and when they were gone, Mrs. Sentry was deeply relieved to be left thus for a while alone.

Presently the doorbell rang, Dean Hare. Mrs. Sentry greeted him composedly, said, "Well, Dean?"

"How are you?" he asked in a low tone.

"All right."

"You were wonderful!"

"Why not?"

He said ruefully: "I didn't know what was coming, Ellen. Falkran didn't take me into his confidence."

She made no comment, and he said at last, "It had an effect on the jury."

"Mr. Falkran thought so."

He watched her as though he hoped, by adding some word, she might make it possible for him to say more; but she greeted any sign of sympathy, gave him no opening, asked instead: "Had you some business? Mr. Falkran is coming presently."

He said reluctantly: "Well, yes."

Grow Tomatoes Without Seeds by Use of Chemicals; Fruits Have Solid Meat

Tomatoes without seeds are being grown in the department of horticulture at the University of Missouri by use of chemicals.

Normally tomatoes require pollination and fertilization to set fruit, but that also means that seeds will be formed. So the workers at Columbia pinch out the parts of the flower that produce the pollen, thus stopping fertilization, and then seek another stimulus in the form of a growth-promoting substance, or hormone, to cause the fruit to set.

The result is that tomatoes develop normally, but instead of containing seeds and pulp, the tomatoes are solid meat. The fruit is of normal size, but weighs more, says the Kansas City Star.

The hormone used is indoleacetic acid dissolved in lanum paste at the rate of one part acid to 500 parts paste. About three applications, put on a week or ten days apart, are required.

The cost of the materials is negligible, the greatest expense being the labor involved in emasculating the flowers and applying the hormone. In an attempt to cut down the labor involved, one group of tomatoes was sprayed with a solution of the hormone mixed with water. Fair results were obtained, but not as good as where the hormone was applied by hand. The difference is believed to be caused by the fact that the water evaporates quickly, leaving the hormone in crystals which are not absorbed by the plant. Further experiments are being conducted to find a material such as an oil, that does not evaporate quickly and which will hold the hormone in an absorbable form for a greater length of time.

Further experiments may show that it is possible to increase yields when seedless tomatoes are produced, since the fruit may be induced to set during summer months when hot, dry weather usually renders pollen ineffective.

Woods Have Odd Names

Have you any Juglans nigra in your home? You have if you possess anything made of so-called "black" walnut. The tongue-twister is the botanical name.

Juglans californica is the trick title for walnut grown on the Pacific coast, as you might guess. Circassian walnut, found in Europe and Asia, does business under the technical moniker, Juglans regia. Oak is playfully dubbed by the scientific hosts as quercus alba, quercus rubra and quercus robur, according to color. Other jawbreakers include: Gumwood (liquidambar styraciflua) and zebra-wood from West Africa (distemonanthus benthamianus). In fact, every kind of wood has its tantalizing scientific tag.

CHRISTMAS MORNING ECSTASY

"Hello, Santa? Sorry I'm so late but Christmas is just around the corner and I'd like to place my order. Bring me a doll, a teddy bear, a tricycle, a toy piano, a bag of candy, a new dress and a . . . What's that Santa? Have I been a good girl? Of course I have! Er . . . that is, I hope I have."

"Look at that doll! Santa WAS here last night, wasn't he, mummy? Guess I must have been an awfully good girl to deserve a doll like this! Brown eyes, real hair, a pretty dress . . . 'n everything!"

"What's this? Another doll! Kind of hard to get it out. Wonder what else is in this big stocking . . . maybe it's the candy I ordered from Santa Claus."

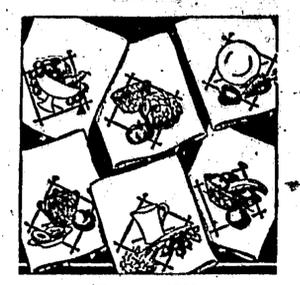

"Whew-e-e! Some tricycle Santa left me. There's so much to play with that I hardly know where to start. Wouldn't it be nice if Christmas came every day? But maybe that would be too much work for Santa Claus, and, after all, maybe I'd get kind of tired, too."

"Here it is bedtime already. I've had a busy day but I'm really not tired. Better go to bed, though, 'cause mummy says I should . . . and I really ought to be a good girl after this wonderful Christmas. Thanks a lot, Santa Claus!"

ACTS FAST TO BRING RELIEF FROM COLDS

This Simple Way Eases Pain with Amazing Speed

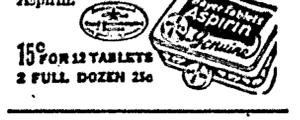

1. To ease pain and discomfort and reduce fever take 2 Bayer Tablets in 1/2 glass of water. 2. If throat is raw discontinue use of Bayer Tablets and take 2 Bayer Tablets in 1/2 glass of water . . . gargle.

Use Genuine BAYER Aspirin—The Moment Your Cold Starts

The simple way pictured above often brings amazingly fast relief from discomfort and sore throat accompanying colds.

Try it. Then—see your doctor. He probably will tell you to continue with Bayer Aspirin because it acts so fast to relieve discomforts of a cold. And to reduce fever.

This simple way, backed by scientific authority, has largely supplanted the use of strong medicines in easing cold symptoms. Perhaps the easiest, most effective way yet discovered. But make sure you get genuine BAYER Aspirin.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them! Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer from headache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worst off.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney activity.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisons from the body. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Look on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Local and Personal

Camp Captain for girls has had an invitation to "La Treada," a play of the Christmas season in Old Mexico, Sunday afternoon December 18, 1938. Place is invited.

In another column will be found the record of Gus Quinn, who is well known and has been in the community for many years. He has a car and a house. It has three and a half acres and is the largest of all in the town in America.

Mr. T. A. Spenser went to Albuquerque on business yesterday.

Be sure to take advantage of the Southern Pacific holiday rates.

Dr. R. F. Blaney reviewed his Lincoln County News this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Taylor were here yesterday on account of the death of Mrs. Taylor's Uncle, Cephus Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Brown were here from El Paso yesterday to attend the funeral of Mr. Brown's father who passed away last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Branum and little daughter Barbara Jean of Los Cruces will spend the holidays with relatives in Carrizozo.

The Titsworth Company invite their friends and patrons to view their splendid display of gifts, so reasonably priced. Wearing apparel, blankets, rugs, dishes, hosiery, cotton towels, table linens, bed linens, etc.

Basketball

The first game of the season played at Carrizozo last Friday night between the Grizzlies and Socorro's Southwestern champions of last year was a well played game and the Grizzlies put up a grand fight against their wary opponents, who have been practicing the best part of the winter. Joe Phillips, Billy Bamberger, (Babe) Walker, Bobbie Mackey, Geo. Sanchez, Ralph Pruitt and Orlando Vigil were the only members of our squad that we saw in action, how ver the squad consists of twelve members. Joe Phillips and Bamberger were our scoring artists. Sending the ball through the loop for a score of 13. Socorro did some better on the scoring end by chalking up a score of 20.

The house was packed and we hope that the same spirit will continue throughout the season. Don't forget the special rates offered through a season ticket.

Tonight the Grizzlies meet the Tularosa eagles on the enemy court for the second tilt of the season. Let's, as many as possible accompany the boys help them win this game by our undaunted spirit.

Notice of Hearing of Final Report and Account

In The Probate Court of Lincoln County State of New Mexico
In the Matter of the Estate of Tom W. Jones
No. 356
Deceased.

To Ola C. Jones, Tom W. Jones, Jr., and Paul H. Jones and to all unknown persons claiming any lien upon, or right, title, or interest, in or to the estate of the said decedent, and to whom it may concern:

You, and each of you are hereby notified, and notice is hereby given, that Ola C. Jones Administratrix of the Estate of Tom W. Jones deceased, has filed in the above entitled Court her final report and account as such Administratrix, and the Court has appointed Friday, the 27th day of January, at the hour of 2:00 o'clock p. m., as the hour and day for hearing of objections, if any there be, to the approval and settlement of said final report and account, and the discharge of the said Ola C. Jones as such Administratrix, and at the hour on the day named, the Probate Court will proceed to determine the heirship of said decedent, the ownership of his said estate and the interest of each respective claimant thereto and therein and the persons entitled to the distribution thereof.

Witness the honorable Marcial C. St John, Judge of the said Court, and the seal thereof, this 15th day of December, 1938.

Edward Penfield, Clerk.

Hotter It Gets, Less It Burns, Is Latest Wonder

New York.—A chemical process which is retarded by increasing heat was described recently by the American Chemical society. Such a thing, the society declared, is as remarkable as "a fire which quenches itself as it grows hotter." The process was reported to the society by Prof. D. B. Keyes and H. D. Foster of the University of Illinois. It was described as a phenomenon which "is believed to mark the first time that anyone has been able to slow up burning of an organic material by raising the temperature."

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Rentrow were in from their ranch last Saturday.

BANKING LOOKS AHEAD

The Outlook For Youth

There is a tendency on the part of today's young people to view the future with alarm.

Yet the outlook is bright. Great new industries loom on the horizon. From the test tubes of science, and the laboratories of industry, a steady stream of discoveries, inventions and improvements point the way to a new era of industrial advancement. Youth has every reason to look ahead with confidence.

The progressive young mind will readily see the value of a banking connection with a progressive institution such as ours.
