Food Stamp Plan

Members of the food trades industry in Lincoln county attended a meeting on the Food Stamp Plan in Carrizozo Wednesday evening. Officials of the Plan explained in detail the purpose and operation of the plan which will become effective throughout the county shortly after the middle of the month.

For this county: Vernon Petty and Sabino Vidaurri, Carrizozo; E. V. Morris, Hondo; C. F. Roberts, Ruidoso; B. D. Garner, Tinnie; Ben Roberts, Corona; Kivas Tully, Picacho; Julian Herrera, Capitán; with George A. Titworth of Capitán.

Ups and downs of a woman's $50,000,000 romance. Her husband, who shot up like a rocket from a $20 per-week drug clerk to multi-millionaire socialite under her guidance, died broke on one of the downs. Read the surprising story of a remarkable career in the American Weekly, magazine with next week's Los Angeles Examiner.

KNOW YOUR BANK

WHO ISSUES MONEY?

Do Credit Requirements Change?

In general, credit requirements are rather constant. It may seem that when times are bad, particularly during depression, that requirements are more severe. This perhaps is because loan applicants' own affairs have taken a turn for the worse and so they are unable to meet credit requirements which they were able to meet during better times. Thus is created the mistaken impression that requirements have been tightened.

Also, during bad times there may be a greater demand for cash by bank customers who are forced to draw their savings to meet emergencies, and hence the bank does not have as much money available to lend as in normal times.

Mr. W. J. Ferguson of Coyote has purchased the Nickels place just out of town.

Local and Personal

Mrs. Riggs Houston was ill the first of this week.

Can't bomb out of men's minds Lady Godiva's heroic ride. The ancient city through whose streets she rode clothed only in her hair to lift the burden of her town-folk, almost wiped out by ruthless Nazi airmen. How the memory of her self-sacrifice still lives, even though its scene is turned to rubble and ashes, told in the American Weekly, magazine with next week's Los Angeles Examiner.

Ramon St. John of the Tokay C. C. Camp spent the weekend here with the home folks.

Mrs. Earl Reeves and baby left for their home in Artesia this week after a short visit to her father, Mr. Les Harman.

The High school students held a band concert and dances at the Country Club Saturday night.

Mrs. Edgar Phillips has been quite ill for several days.

Mr. Albert Snow went to Lubbock, Texas last Tuesday to visit relatives. He was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Mae Jordan and her daughter, Elizabeth.

The Alamogordo News has a new automatic job press, which is a thing of beauty and will doubtless be a joy forever. All the printer has to do is arrange the "make-ready" and let it go.

Judge Manuel Corona was in Carrizozo on business last Saturday. He is a newly-elected county commissioner on the Democratic ticket and will take office on January 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crumley of Capitán visited Mrs. Earl Reeves here Sunday.

Mrs. Sparkman of Jicarilla was in Carrizozo on business yesterday and while in town was a pleasant visitor at the Lincoln County News office.

Bobby Hughes celebrated his 4th birthday Tuesday, Dec. 3, by having a party. There were 10 of his little friends present and all enjoyed the afternoon of play, which was followed by ice cream and cake.

Mrs. Edith Beck spent last Saturday and Sunday here visiting the Dudley family. She was accompanied by Mrs. Meda C. Haley, who is spending some time at Alamogordo with her sister, Mrs. Bernice Haynes.

Mrs. Jack Zumwalt and Jack Graves of Nogal were shopping in Carrizozo last Monday.

Mr. Billie Ferguson of Nogal was a business visitor here today.

Mrs. Pflingsten of Nogal was a pleasant caller at the News Office yesterday.

Mrs. Louis Ferris of Carrizozo mounted the head for the prize deer which was shot by Mr. Tom Bragg during open season.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ferris have moved from their ranch home and are now living at the Crenshaw place near town. Mrs. Ferris shot a deer during the open season head of which was mounted by her husband.

Selective Service Call

Postmaster H. E. Kelt and Messrs. Roland and Miranda, the Lincoln County draft board received a call for 20 men to report for military training in January. Cards have been sent to 45, it being thought that from this number the 20 called for may be selected. Dr. Turner of Carrizozo will give the preliminary examination. One of the volunteers who left recently did not pass, another volunteered to replace him. He left Dec. 4th.

STATE SOIL CONSERVATION COMMITTEE OF NEW MEXICO

Notice of Hearing Upon Organization of Proposed Upper Hondo Soil Conservation

Whereas, on the 17th day of August, 1940, there was duly filed in the office of the State Soil Conservation Committee of State College, a petition signed by at least 25 land owners pursuant to the provision of the Soil Conservation Districts Law, Chapter 219 of the 1937 New Mexico Session Laws, as amended, establishment of the Upper Hondo Soil Conservation District, and described as follows: "An area including the Bonito and Ruidoso Watersheds—Bound on the east by the county line and including a part of the Nogal Canyon watershed."

Now; Therefore, notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held pursuant to the said petition, on the question of the desirability and necessity in the interest of the public health, safety and welfare of the creation of such district; on the question of the appropriate boundaries to be assigned to such district; upon the property of the petition, and all other proceedings taken under the said Act; and upon all questions relevant to such inquiries.

The said public hearings will be held by the State Soil Conservation Committee on the 4th day of January, 1941, beginning at 10:00 o'clock a. m., at the Capitán High School in the county of Lincoln; and on the 4th day of January, 1941, beginning at 2:00 o'clock p. m., at the Hondo High School. All owners of land lying within the limits of the above described territory and all other interested parties are invited to attend and will be given opportunity to be heard at the time (s) and place (s) hereinbefore specified.

LINCOLN COUNTY TO PARTICIPATE IN FOOD STAMP PLAN

ALBUQUERQUE. — Claude H. Wickard, Secretary of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, announced November 26, 1940 the extension of the Food Stamp Plan in the state of New Mexico to the counties of Chavez, Curry, Eddy, De Baca, Gualapá, Lea, Lincoln, Otero, Quay, and Roosevelt.

"The Food Stamp Plan," Wickard said, "is a means of distributing over-abundant crops through retail grocery stores to the 5,000 families receiving public assistance in these counties." The plan will begin operation in these ten counties about the middle of December. This program reaches 207 cities and rural areas in the United States today. Based on the averages in other areas, officials of the Surplus Marketing Administration estimate that approximately $225,000.00 worth of surplus foods will be consumed annually by the persons receiving public assistance in this area.

Addition of the newly designated area makes a total of sixteen counties in the state which will be operating under the stamp plan method of moving agricultural surpluses. The first was Bernalillo, and on November 16 the counties of Rio Arriba, Torrance, Taos, Santa Fe, and Sandoval, were added. The extension of the program was recommended following meetings between Jennie M. Kirby, Director of the New Mexico Department of Public Welfare, and Donald F. Clark of the Surplus Marketing Administration.

With the exception of purchases for the school lunch program, direct distribution of surplus foods through commodity depots and from trucks will be discontinued in these counties when the Stamp Plan is put into operation. Instead, public assistance families will purchase their food at regular stores. Purpose of the Food Stamp Plan. The primary purpose of the Food Stamp Plan is to assist farmers to dispose profitably of their over-abundant crops.

Participation is voluntary. However, all persons certified by the Department of Public Welfare are eligible to purchase food stamps.

Two Types of Stamps. There are two types of stamps, both issued in denominations of 25c and combined in books similar to postage stamp books. The orange-colored food stamps are good for the purchase of all edible foods at retail food outlets. They cannot be used to purchase beef, wine, liquor, tobacco, or household articles. Food bought with stamps may not be consumed at the point of purchase.

The blue-colored stamps are given free by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to all eligible relief families who participate and must be used to purchase specially designated surplus food products at regular grocery stores. These are the foods the farmer grows and cannot sell at a profit.

Since the Food Stamp Plan is a supplement to and not a substitute for local relief, all participants must buy orange Food Order Stamps in an amount equal to their former food purchases. Then they are given the free blue stamps enabling them to get $1.50 worth of food for each $1.00 they spend for the orange stamps.

The requirement that, in order to take part in the plan, orange stamps must be purchased in an amount equal to former food purchases, protects the farmers by insuring that foods obtained free are in addition to, and not in place of, food formerly purchased by eligible families.

Under this plan eligible participants get half again as much food for their money, food merchants in the area will increase their sales by approximately $225,000 annually, and the greatly increased consumption of surplus foods will be of direct benefit to our farmers.

The currently designated surplus foods are: butter, raisins, rice, pork lard, pork, corn meal, Irish potatoes, fresh oranges, apples, pears, cabbage, grapefruit, onions, (except green onions), eggs, prunes, hominy grits, dry edible beans, wheat flour, and wholewheat flour.

Changes From Time to Time. The surplus food list changes from time to time in accordance with market and crop conditions.

A stamp issuing office will be established in Alamogordo by the N. M. Dept. of Public Welfare, where eligible participants may purchase stamps. Notices of location will be sent to all families eligible to participate.

THE STORY

When Virgie Morgan, widow, and owner of the Morgan paper mill in the Carolina mountain district, turns down a marriage proposal from Wallace Withers, he leaves her house in a rage. Virgie turns him down because she believes he is more interested in possession of her mill than in obtaining a wife. After he has gone, Branford Wills, a young stranger, who has been lost on the mountain-side for three days, finds his way to the Morgan home. Taken in by the fed and warmed and allowed to remain overnight.

"Not even when they're on the opposite side of the feud?" Wills asked, whimsically. "Well, I don't dignify any argument I get into with the title of feud," said Virgie. "Though the Government is hen-fussy—sticking its bill into every little mess that the rain would cover up charitably in a couple of days! But I'm like this—if I've got a spoonful of meal, I'll share it. You get some rest tonight. It's a wonder you aren't half dead. You must be as tough as a balsam knot. Tomorrow I'll put chains on a car and send you wherever you want to go."

"You're very generous." He stood up, wavering a little and grinning sadly at his weakness. She saw his well-knit, lean young body, the unconscious grace of youth, with silken muscles and leaping blood—youth that knows exactly where it is going and has not learned yet the grudging welcome of the world. "I was fortunate," he went on, "in having tumbled on your door-step."

"You can pay me back some time. I'm merely circulating some propaganda to the effect that there are one or two decent pulp people in the world. You can carry that word back to Washington."

"I'll do it gladly. I'll add some personal endorsements. In fact, I think I'll launch a campaign—"

He stopped. A tiny horn blared. The dogs set up an excited yelping outside and a car door creaked shut. Then the front door crashed open, letting in a blast of wind, a swirl of icy rain, and a girl in a green rubber coat and beret.

A slim, small girl, with reddish-chestnut hair tumbled damply on her collar, with a small, tanned face and very big brown eyes.

"Oh—" she stopped, surprised, seeing him. "Shut the door," directed Virgie calmly. "This is my daughter, Marian Morgan. This is Mr. Branford Wills—from Washington. He's staying with us tonight. He's been lost."

"Oh—!" Wills was confused. A slow, unhappy red crept over his haggard face. "We've met before," announced Marian, coolly. "Good gracious," her mother exclaimed.

ticular anxiety as to appearances. No artist had ever stched the steaming ugliness of the plant, dome and stack, snatching cable and roaring chute. There was no chilled, modern music of steel and glass, no men in white, no ranked battery of shining stacks and retorts. But there was good pulp. Through the defeating lag of the depression, since David's death, Virgie's market had held. When a finishing mill got an order for extra quality paper they wired for Morgan pulp to mill it from. There had been half-time work, half-week lay-offs, but always the pay-roll ready on the fifth and the twentieth, whether Virgie's rusty old leather handbag had a nickel of spending money in it or not.

Tom Pruitt knew how it had run on. And Virgie Morgan knew. Tom Pruitt had been David Morgan's friend. Once Tom Pruitt's timber land had covered three counties. Little rivers that he owned had shuttled with trout; coves and ridges to which he held title had sheltered pronged buck and snuffling bear, and the frantic industry of beavers slowed mountain creeks that began and ended on Tom's domain.

Then had come the incredible hysteria of '25. Men, their blood carbonated by a virus bred of the madnesses of Florida, came prowling into the mountains, a wild, acquisitive light in their eyes. They bought land, optioned it, leased and contracted for it.

Men came—gray men with the air of affairs, who spoke slowly and little. Men to inspire confidence. They wanted to buy Tom Pruitt's land. Tom thought things out slowly. He was a meditative, heavy, slow-moving man. His great body was slow, but terrible with strength.

Tom sold his land finally. There was considerable pressure before they got him up to the point, two concerns bidding for it, and when he at last gave in, there was a tremendous down payment made—more money than Tom Pruitt had ever seen in his life. Too much money. Not a check—Tom was suspicious of checks—but cash in green sheets, with heavy paper bands around it. Fifty thousand dollars. And more in five, seven, and ten years, according to the contract.

Tom was dazed. The sum total of his former possession diminished in his mind, became subordinate to the cash. He forgot the great stand of virgin poplar up the Hazel Fork, forgot the mellow bottom land with orchards on it, where his mother's turkeys had fed. All he thought about was this money. Enough money to last as long as he lived, if he spent it. But he would not spend it. He would hold onto it. It numbed and thrilled and frightened him.

He took it to David Morgan, his friend. "You keep it for me," he begged. "Put it some place." "I'll put it in the bank for you," David, the cautious, said. But Tom Pruitt had little faith in banks. They got robbed every now and then. You read in the paper where a bank had busted and some fellow gone off to South America with all the money belonging to other people.

"No, you keep it, Dave," Tom begged. "Then if I want it I can get it back again. If a banker gets it he'll lend it to some of these real-estate fellers over to Asheville, and then when the concern goes bust my money will be sunk in one of them subdivisions with fancy gates and red-white-and-blue flags stuck in the ground. And I don't want none of them."

Morgan argued. "I can't put fifty thousand dollars in this old safe, Tom." "You put it somewhere, Dave. Put it in something so I'll know you've got it. Anywhere's is all right—just so I know you got it."

night he rode the rusty old truck up the mountain road to Morgan's house, where he shaved helpless David, cut his toe-nails, trimmed the white dry locks of hair, rubbed his weary, wasting back.

In the meantime Tom's land on Little Fork and Hazel Fork became one of a hundred tracts lost in a fog of indefinite involvement; owned and not owned.

Tom waited, worried, dubious, and unhappy. Then David Morgan died. And after that there was no chance of selling Morgan pulp stock enough to finance a suit to foreclose and clear title, even if Tom had known how to begin it.

Tom locked the old safe on his beautiful yellow papers, with the gilt seals upon them, pulled his belt tighter, hunched his shoulders, and set to work to help Virgie Morgan save the mill.

It was still partly his and the stacks were still scrawling their bleared autograph of hopefulness upon the Carolina sky.

Afterwards Virgie Morgan looked back on those three years, trying to separate phases, distinguish definite epochs of despair, as a person who has emerged alive from an inundation or a frightful wreck tries to recall incidents of that catastrophe, decide what came first and what after. But only one thing stood out clear—Tom Pruitt's unvarying loyalty, his quiet and unflinching support.

There was ice on every branch and dead leaf, every blade of grass and jointed weed, when Tom came through the gate of the mill in that raw November dawn. The wind was still frigid with little promise of a thaw. Smoke was snatched from the stack, torn to pieces, strung along the ground in rags. The steel padlock, with which for twenty years the plank door of the office building had been locked, was like something dipped in melted glass. Tom beat it against the door frame, twisted the key, pushed the door inward on a musty, cummy-smelling of mildewed paper and raw chemicals.

The stove was still faintly warm and Tom raked out the ashes into a bucket and kindled a new fire, fanning it encouragingly with his hat. Then with two buckets he plodded toward the engine room, head down, big hat flapping. He had carefully drained both trucks at sunset last night; hot water would make them start quicker. He took care of all the equipment, he liked to do it. No alcohol in radiators. That made the cars heat on the mountain grades. And today things had to be entirely right because Virgie Morgan was going up to look over her reforestation project.

CHAPTER II

Meanwhile in her kitchen Virgie Morgan held a hot-water bottle over the sink, filled it gingerly, ducking her head as the kettle steamed.

Lossie spooned coffee into a percolator. Her brassy waves were cushioned in a heavy net. "Think it's pneumonia?" she asked, taking the kettle from her mistress's hand.

"A chill doesn't have to be pneumonia," Virgie said, "but his voice sounds funny and I heard him coughing a lot in the night. That bed was damp probably. Nobody has slept up there in a time. He should have had a fire—worn out the way he was."

"If this house just had a furnace in it—"

"Now, don't go harping on that, Lossie Wilson," Virgie snapped. "Carry up some coal before the doctor comes."

Lossie picked up the coal bucket, stepped into the back hall to remove her hairnet and dab some grayish-lavender powder on her nose. The young man coughing in the bed upstairs had romantic dark eyes and a mouth cut wide for laughter.

But all these devoted pains were wasted after all. Branford Wills was asleep. Red-hot coals of color burned in his cheeks, his hair was disordered and dry looking, his hands twitched, thrusting out of the blue sleeves of a pair of David Morgan's old pajamas.

"He's sure enough got something," Lossie decided, as she laid coal softly on the fire.

Virgie came up presently, tucked the hot-water bottle under the young stranger's feet, looked at him with troubled eyes.

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

When placing serving dishes directly on the table have them within easy reach. Also put the silver needed for serving on the table at the right of the dish.

If a teaspoon of molasses or brown sugar is added to griddle cake batter, the cakes will brown more easily.

Partly cook cereal in a double boiler the night before using and leave it on the back of the stove, being sure to cover well with water. It will be well cooked in the morning.

An ice cream carton makes an excellent mold for ice-box cookies. Press the mixture in firmly and put on the cover. Then, when wanted, just tear away the cardboard and you have a perfectly shaped cylinder all ready to be sliced.

IN A season when jumpers have jumped way out in front of any other school style, this one stands right at the head of its very smart class. Why? Because it's the pinafore type, cut high and darts-fitted, that juniors are mad about. Because the skirt is made with unpressed front fullness that looks perfectly charming on slim little figures. Because it's adorned with two big patch pockets, an decor-

Strange Facts

Birds Take Ballast Mark of Marriage Wedding March

As their loose feathers prevent them from diving for food during their six weeks' molting period, penguins become so emaciated and buoyant that they have to swallow sufficient "ballast," consisting of pebbles, to enable them to reach the depth where they find their fish and crustaceans. As the birds regain weight, they gradually disgorge these small stones.

Mohammedan women in Tunisia and northern Libya indicate that they are married by letting their eyebrows grow together.

The Lohengrin Wedding March, also known as Here Comes the Bride, is not the music that is played, in the opera, as the bride walks to the altar of the church. It is sung as the bride and groom enter the bridal chamber of the castle several hours later. As this composition is auspicious, as well as secular, its use in church weddings is frowned upon by a considerable part of the Christian world.—Collier's.

Who's Who Among Students

Mr. Carl A. Freeman, son of Dr. Carl D. Freeman and the late Mrs. Rhoda B. Freeman of Carrizozo, who will receive his B. S. degree from New Mexico State College in May, is among those students who will be listed in the 1940-41 issue of WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES. The book will be released in January or February.

This publication is published through the cooperation of over 500 American universities and colleges. It is the only means of national recognition for graduates which is devoid of politics, fees, and dues. Several students from accredited colleges are selected each year, by an unprejudiced committee, for their biographies to appear in WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES. These books are placed in the hands of hundreds of companies and others who annually recruit outstanding students for employment.

The purpose of WHO'S WHO is to serve as an incentive for students to get the most out of their college career; as a means of compensation to students for what they have already done; as a recommendation to the business world; and as a standard of measurement for students comparable to such agencies as Phi Beta Kappa and the Rhodes Scholarship Award.

Mr. Freeman is a member of Alpha Delta Theta fraternity in New Mexico State College; was President of the Cibola Playmakers, and is a member of the Alpha Zeta National Honorary Fraternity of the Ag. Club, the Dramatic Council, of the Group Life of Students Council and is a Lieutenant in the N. O. T. Corps. During his college career he has taken part in many plays. He has maintained a grade average of B in three years of college study. He is majoring in Horticulture. Mr. Freeman graduated from Carrizozo High School in 1935, and during his high school career was active on the football team, basketball team, and in dramatics.

HAWK IN THE WIND

★ by Helen Topping Miller

When Virgie Morgan turned down Wallace Withers' proposal of marriage she started something in the Carolina mountains. There was sabotage at her pulp mill, labor troubles without end, unscrupulous enemies to be dealt with. And, on top of it all, she had to manage a headstrong daughter with gentle hands.

"Hawk in the Wind" is an absorbing novel of love and intrigue. If you've read Helen Topping Miller's "Whispering River," "Let Me Die Tuesday," or her "Storm Over Eden" and "Blue Marigolds," you'll know what to expect.

How to have a Merry Xmas Trip

- IN FOUR EASY STEPS

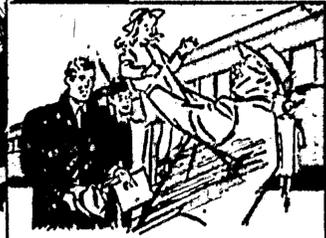

1. Leave your faithful car in the garage and save the wear and tear of a winter trip.

2. Cares are forgotten when you board a cozy, steam-heated Southern Pacific train.

3. Relax and take it easy while the engineer drives you swiftly and safely to your destination.

4. Arrive really rested, not worn out by a tiring drive. On longer trips, you save time, because trains travel day and night. You save money, too.

LOW FARES EVERYWHERE

Southern Pacific offers a wide variety of low round trip fares to all points in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

Careers in Engineering

By Rufus T. Strohm
Dean, International Correspondence Schools

ANY young man who is planning a career in engineering must give consideration to the pay he may earn. A recent study showed that the earning curve of engineers as a class continues upward to well past the age of 50, in sharp contrast to that of the artisan or technician whose earnings usually taper off after 40. Incidentally, this upward trend also is common to most other professions, such as law and medicine.

An effort has been made by the United States Civil Service Commission to divide the various grades of engineering ability into eight brackets, with annual compensations ranging from $4,000 for the lowest professional grade with duties under immediate supervision, to $9,000 or over for special administrative work.

Another study of salaries for engineering graduates conducted by the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education showed a first-year salary of $1,475. After five years the salary was $2,850, and then upward to about $7,500 thirty years after graduation. The highest ten per cent of this group reached salaries averaging $19,000.

Never before have the opportunities in engineering been so great. Under such circumstances there is no question but that the field is an appealing and a promising one for the young man who has ability to work with people, ability to analyze programs, good judgment, good imagination, and mechanical aptitude.

Summing It Up
It is a good thing to be rich and a good thing to be strong, but it is a better thing to be loved by many.

FOR YOUR INBETWEEN HOLIDAY PARTIES
(See Recipes Below)

Household News

By Eleanor Howe

Expected, and unexpected situations too, arise during the holiday seasons. People drop in just to wish you a "Merry Christmas." Others are invited for some specified time. The night before Christmas you may want to have a "trimming the Christmas tree" party. Or, your daughter may ask a few of her chums in for a small party.

Whether you expect to be on the entertainment committee for a family reunion, or just a hostess for a casual holiday gathering, it's a good idea to put on your thinking cap and plan some easy-to-prepare mass refreshments.

Sandwich makings that the guests can put together themselves are always a good choice for quick-party menus.

Fruit refrigerator cakes are the perfect solution for chief cooks who want to play the role of leisurely hostesses without last minute culinary responsibilities. They are practical, too, from the standpoint of using left-over fruits that might be cluttering up the refrigerator. These delicacies always have a glamorous "party" look and appeal to every sweet tooth; but, best of all, they can be made in 15 minutes in the morning, leaving the afternoon and early evening free for "fun."

Fruit Refrigerator Cake.

- 1 1/2 cups (1 can) sweetened condensed milk
- 1/4 cup lemon juice.
- 1 cup canned sliced peaches (well drained)
- 2 egg whites (stiffly beaten)
- 24 chocolate wafers

Blend sweetened condensed milk and lemon juice thoroughly. Stir until mixture thickens. Add sliced peaches, which have been well drained. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into mixture. Line narrow oblong pan with wax paper. Cover with fruit mixture. Add layer of wafers, alternating with the fruit mixture, finishing with a layer of wafers. Chill in refrigerator 8 hours, or longer. To serve, turn out on small platter and carefully remove wax paper. Cut in slices, and serve plain or with whipped cream.

Refrigerator Fruit Cake.

- 2 1/2 cups graham cracker crumbs (rolled fine)
- 1/4 pound marshmallows (cut fine)
- 1 1/2 cups dates (cut fine)
- 1/2 cup nut meats (broken)
- 1/4 cup thin cream
- 1/4 cup Maraschino cherries (cut fine)

Combine ingredients in order listed. Mix well. Press firmly into a tube pan lined with heavy wax paper, buttered. Chill thoroughly in refrigerator over night, or longer. Slice and serve with whipped cream.

Gingerbread Wafers.

- 1 cup molasses
  - 1/4 cup butter
  - 1 teaspoon soda
  - 1/2 cup sour milk
  - 1 egg (beaten)
  - 2 cups cake flour
  - 2 teasp. ginger
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Heat molasses and butter to boiling point. Remove from fire and beat in the soda. Add sour milk, beaten egg, and the flour which has been sifted with the ginger and salt. Mix well. Bake in hot waffle iron. Serve with whipped cream and a dash of nutmeg.

olve gelatin in hot mixture and blend in orange and lemon juices. Chill until almost thickened, then add chopped prunes and all remaining ingredients. Pour into one large mold or individual molds and chill overnight.

Plum Pudding.

- (Serves 8)
- 1/2 cup milk
- 3/4 cups soft bread crumbs
- 1/4 pound suet (ground)
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 eggs (separated)
- 1/2 cup seedless raisins
- 1/2 cup currants
- 1/4 pound figs (cut fine)
- 1/2 cup citron (sliced thin)
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon cloves
- 1/2 teaspoon mace
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup apple cider

Scald milk and pour over bread crumbs. Cool. Cream ground suet in warm bowl. Add sugar, cream together thoroughly, and add well-beaten egg yolks. Combine these two mixtures. Add cut fruits together with spices and salt. Add cider. Lastly, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into well-greased pudding mold. Cover tightly and steam for 8 hours. Serve with hard sauce.

- (Serves 8)
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1/2 cup maraschino cherries (cut fine)
- 1/2 cup nut meats (broken)
- 1/2 cup crushed (drained) pineapple.

1 tablespoon lemon juice
Left-over sponge or angel food cake (sliced)

Cream butter, add sugar slowly and beat well. Add beaten egg yolks and blend thoroughly; then add cherries, nut meats, crushed pineapple and lemon juice. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites.

Line a shallow pan with thinly sliced left-over cake and top with a layer of the filling; repeat until all filling is used, ending with a layer of cake. Chill overnight. To serve, cut in slices and top with whipped cream.

Graham Cracker Dessert.

- (Serves 6)
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 eggs.
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 1/2 cups graham cracker crumbs (rolled fine)
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Cream butter and add sugar gradually, while beating constantly. Separate eggs and add egg yolks which have been well-beaten. Combine graham cracker crumbs with the baking powder and salt. Add this mixture alternately with the milk to the butter and sugar mixture. Add vanilla extract. Beat egg whites and fold in carefully. Bake in two well-greased layer-cake pans in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) for approximately 25 minutes. Serve as a dessert, putting the two layers together and topping with whipped cream.

Better Baking.

Quality in food is what Americans look for today. Not only must the ingredients be good, but they must be combined in the best way possible for perfect results. Formerly, just the thought of baking pies, cakes or breads would frighten the inexperienced cook. Today, the most timid beginner has little difficulty in following recipe directions.

Miss Howe's cookbook "Better Baking" contains such recipes, simple and easy to understand, and easy to follow; and the results will do the young cook proud.

You may secure your copy of her cookbook by writing to "Better Baking," in care of Eleanor Howe, 312 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and enclosing 10 cents in coin.

*FIRST-AID* to the AILING HOUSE

By ROGER B. WHITMAN
(© Roger B. Whitman—WNU Service.)

Plastering.
QUESTION: Our dining room, bedroom, and kitchen walls are plasterboard, with two thicknesses of wallpaper. We want to put on plaster with a hard, smooth finish. Must the wallpaper first be entirely removed? Could we use plastic paint?

Answer: Before plastering, the wallpaper must be removed, which can be done by soaking it with water. Be careful in doing the job, so that in taking off the wallpaper you do not also take off the paper that is part of the plasterboard. With the paper off, you can apply wall plaster, of the ordinary kind; but I should prefer plastic paint of a kind that is made with gypsum. This contains an adhesive that will make a good bond with your plasterboard. It can be applied with a broad brush and smoothed down with a trowel or a plasterer's float.

Damp Cellar.
Question: In an old farmhouse that we recently purchased, the cellar is very damp, even though it is cemented. The stone walls sweat, and in wet weather water comes in at the side. Can we do anything ourselves at no great expense to make the cellar dry?

Answer: You can check or even stop the leakage through the walls by repointing the inside masonry. Using a cold chisel and a hammer, dig out the mortar to a depth of an inch or more, and replace it with a mortar made of 1 part portland cement, 1/2 part of hydrated lime, 3 parts of clean building sand, and only enough water to make a workable mixture. Wet the joints with water, and pack them tightly with this mortar. If your rainwater leaders discharge into the ground 10 feet or less from the house, change their positions so that the discharge will be at least 15 feet away. For condensation, run a low fire in your heating plant for a day or two; air the cellar only on dry and hot days; keeping it closed on days that are humid and at night.

Damp Odor.
Question: Last year's rains brought a strong, damp odor in our basement, and much mold appeared. With two rains in June the smell reappeared. How can the cellar walls be waterproofed?

Answer: The moldy odor indicates rotting wood, or other vegetable or animal material. To get rid of the odor you must locate and get rid of the cause. If the dampness is from condensation on the cellar walls, which is likely, no coating on the walls will prevent it. You must line the walls with something that will keep the warm and damp air from being chilled by the cool masonry.

Floor Finish.
Question: My floors have just been scraped by machine and two coats of wax put on. Dirt is beginning to show where there is constant walking. How can I keep the floors clean and fresh looking?

Answer: Wax should not be applied directly to the floor boards, for dirt will go through and into the wood. The floor should be given a coat of varnish or shellac before waxing. To take up the dirt, wipe with liquid wax—not water wax. This will loosen the dirt, which can then be wiped up with a clean cloth. Follow by re-waxing. If you decide to put on a preliminary coat of varnish, you must first remove the wax, which can be done by several wipings with turpentine.

Rusty Refrigerator.
Question: In my refrigerator the unit burned out, and the escaping gas corroded the wire shelves and the metal in the ice cube compartment. These parts are all very rusty. How can I remove the rust?

Answer: All of those metal parts were originally plated or coated with some metal intended to prevent rusting; possibly zinc. Rusting shows that this preventive coating has disappeared. Cleaning off the rust will be only temporary. You should either get new parts, or send the rusty parts to a plating shop to be cleaned and plated with chromium. A garage can give you the name of a nearby plating shop.

Repairing a Porch Floor.
Question: Our porch needs repainting. In some places the old paint is chipped and peeling. Before repainting, we plan to rub these spots with sandpaper. Do you know of any product which can be used as a base to cover these spots, before the new paint is applied?

Answer: Sandpaper the edges of the chipped and peeled spots. Exposed knotty or resinous areas should be wiped with turpentine. All spots where the wood is exposed should be given a prime coat of paint. To prevent peeling, seal all cracks and crevices between the floor boards with putty.

Fur Cape Comes Into Vogue With Hats and Muffs to Match

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

CAPES! Fur capes have come out in spectacular array this winter. Some are wrist length, while others go elbow deep. Among the "little furs" worn separately with a cloth coat, cunning shoulder capes are especially chic.

To add to the romance of this intriguing fur cape vogue come muffs to match, which together with hats of the same fur compete a very attractive ensemble.

Fur capes included in mid-winter collections are so versatile they interpret the casual and sporty or the regal and stately. They qualify for not only smart daytime wear but also for gala night occasions.

Your presence will add greatly to the grandstand scene this season if you flaunt a dashing spectator sports cape or leopard or ocelot fur. The tremendous demand for these spotted furs is so great that many dealers are finding it difficult to keep them in stock. The cape to the left in the picture is typical of what's "the latest" in fur fashions for casual daytime wear.

Speaking of the popular spotted furs, stores are showing perfectly charming accessory collar, belt and muff "sets" to wear with furless cloth coats or suits. Outdoor girls find special appeal in the stunning capes made of raccoon with hats and muffs to match.

With the smart wool daytime frocks and the ever-voguish black gown, the new fur capes make perfectly stunning wraps. See the cape shown to the right for evidence of its high-style appearance. This particular model is in gray. It can be interpreted to your own liking in such furs as krimmer, gray kidskin, squirrel to wear with your gray outfits. If you favor the very smart new cereal tones, order this cape made up in beaver, golden seal, mink, brown caracul or natural. All these pelts yield gracefully to the cape silhouette.

Brown furs are particularly good this season. Stress is placed on brown fur with black. Women of discriminating taste are topping their chic afternoon black dresses and suits with capes of marten, mink, dyed fox and seal/skin hats, capes and muffs. These handsome brown pelts look good with any costume, whatever its color scheme. Among the most attractive fashions of the season is the costume that tops a gay plaid wool dress (made very simply with a seal-wrist-length cape and a jaunty seal turban to match—plus a muff of course.

Ermine evening fur capes are very young looking with their bright red linings. Another fur luxury in the sable cape, and mink rates ace high for evening capes and jackets with muffs and other accessories to match.

By way of a suggestion, if you are planning to have your last winter fur coat "done over," why not have it made into a fashionable cape? Many women are doing just that. Of course if your budget permits buying a spic and span new cape you couldn't make a better purchase.

Dinner Shirt

If you are abreast with the times in matter of modern fashion parlance, "dinner shirt" is exactly what you will call the new dressy blouse shown here which can be worn to informal dine and dance parties. This attractive dinner shirt with waistband and pleated front is fashioned of res-sheer silk triple sheer. It is a very much up-to-date affair. It takes on a glitter-embroidery accent across its yoke where a horizontal floral motif is done in sparkle-sparkle paillettes and tiny beads. The sprightly black velvet colar on the model's pretty head gives chic accent to this charming ensemble.

Dude Ranch Clothes Add 'Dash' to Sports Wear

Campus girls are thrilled with the idea of dude ranch clothes for sport wear. They especially like plaid flannel shirts, studded belts and fringed suits for roughing it and the latest is to wear riding boots to replace galoshes.

Long-Haired Fur-Felts

Stage New 'Comeback'
Often a fashion that has dropped out of the picture for many a season stages a revival that makes old fashion become new fashion. This is especially true in the case of the long-hair fur felt hat which is again becoming popular.

These big picturesque nonchalant furry shaggy felts feature high in the fashion "picture." They come in fascinating colors and all they need is a quill jauntily positioned and a deft turn here and there to the brim to give the dash required.

Amusing, and chic to the uttermost are the new little hats of raccoon.

South American Clothes

Influence New Fashions
South American costumes are inspiration for modern clothes. The vivid colors and startling combinations of color sound a gay note in contrast to the vogue for black that has prevailed so long and is still holding its own. The South American trends also make lavish use of braids, embroideries and fringe.

Old Chinese Costumes

Enter Fashion Picture
Fashion is in a mood for borrowing ideas from the rich costumes of Chinese origin. Mandarin tunics, dragons embroidered on yellow wool dresses, sleek straight silhouettes, pompadors lacquered smooth and high, chrysanthemums for coiffure adornment, all of which are entering the winter fashion picture.

Pastel Felts

A most charming fashion has been launched in a way of pastel felt hats trimmed in flowers. The possibilities are endless with promise of headgear that will flatter to the point of achieving a new high in glamour and allure.

There's a Good Reason You're Constipated!

When there's something wrong with you, the first rule is: get at the cause. If you are constipated, don't endure it first and "carry it" afterward. Find out what's giving you the trouble.

Chances are it's simple if you eat the super-refined foods most people do: meat, white bread, potatoes. It's likely you don't get enough "bulk" and "crunch" to sweep a lot of food through the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If this is your trouble, you should eat a natural "bulk" producing food—first and "crunch" second. Kelllogg's All-Bran, Mat it often, drink plenty of water, and "Join the Regulars." All-Bran is made by Kelllogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is chronic, it's wise to consult a physician.

Making the 'Coin of the Realm' At Rate of $16,799,283 Per Day

$16,799,283 in new paper money every day! And that's some ponderous ticks! Most of this is made into dollar bills, as these are in greatest demand, and the life of the dollar bill is only about nine months. After that it is a fiscal wreck, so it is recalled to the treasury department and carefully destroyed. Some of the principal stages in the manufacture of Uncle Sam's paper money are shown here. No coins are minted in Washington—only at the mints in Philadelphia and elsewhere.

Motorists Warned to Drive With Care As Winter Ice Raises Traffic Hazards

CHICAGO. — Remembering last winter's fall down the front steps, the average person probably will tell you that ice is ice, and that it's always slippery.

He'll be right, but there's more to it than that. Ice is much more slippery when it's wet than when it's dry, at least so far as automobile tires are concerned.

This was the most striking fact brought out by Ralph A. Moyer, associate professor of highway engineering at Iowa State college and chairman of the National Safety Council's special committee on winter driving hazards. The committee's annual report was presented before 10,000 persons at the National Safety Congress last fall. All phases of accident prevention were studied at the Congress.

The committee's report is based on the most exhaustive skidding tests ever conducted. For two weeks last February, automobiles were sent splashing over the frozen surface of Lake Cadillac, Michigan, in an effort to gather information which would protect motorists from the hazards of winter driving. Cars were driven over the lake's smooth ice under many different conditions to determine the weather's effect on driving safety.

Thawing Ice Slipperier.

It was found that ice is somewhat sticky at near-zero temperatures. But above 20 degrees and when the sun comes out—beware! Brakes are only half as effective on thawing ice, acceleration is reduced 70 per cent and the maximum speed on curves is 50 per cent lower.

Winter presents a tough problem for traffic safety experts. Traffic death rates go up in all sections of the country as the mercury goes down. Traffic death rates in winter are about 40 per cent higher than summer rates in the northern half of the country, and about 20 per cent in the southern half.

The chief reason, of course, is skidding on snow or ice covered roads. Skidding is involved in only 1 per cent of the accidents on dry roads, but on wet roads the figure is as high as 27 per cent and on snowy or icy roads, up to 50 per cent.

The second most important reason is poorer visibility, resulting from more hours of darkness, snow and sleet storms, and fog.

These hazards can be largely overcome, the committee says, by correct driving practices, adequate equipment, and proper maintenance of the roadway.

Tire Chains Effective.

Use of tire chains is the most practical means of self-help for increasing traction on snow and ice. On rear wheels only, chains cut braking distance and increase acceleration an average of 40 per cent as compared with tires alone. On all wheels chains further decrease braking distance 30 per cent as compared with chains on rear wheels.

Performance of chains is fairly uniform on ice at all temperatures—a big advantage over the variable performance of tires on ice. Speeds should not be much higher with chains than without, however, and on icy curves speeds with chains should be no higher than without them.

Safe driving requires more skill and caution in winter. Mechanical safeguards cannot be relied upon to take the place of ordinary common

50,000 Deep Sea Fish, 26 Voters Live in Tiny Marineland, Florida

Marine Studios, world's only oceanarium, contains two huge tanks containing 550,000 gallons of sea water. It is the only one of its kind in the world. Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, founder of Marineland, is shown in the inset.

MARINELAND, FLA.—A spectacular idea, a million dollars, and two huge sea-water tanks housing nearly 50,000 deep sea denizens—these three crystallized officially recently into the ambitious municipality of Marineland, Fla.

With a "population" in which humans are outnumbered, 2,000 to 1, by fish, the settlement was incorporated as a town in the fall of this year. As such Marineland began its census-recognized existence with many advantages over other American villages and with several distinctions unmatched by any city in the world. Here are some:

1. It is the smallest incorporated municipality in Florida, having only 26 qualified registered voters (it takes 25 registered voters to incorporate a municipality).

2. It is believed to be the smallest incorporated municipality in the entire United States.

3. The whole town is built within 300 acres around Marine studios, containing two huge tanks constructed at a cost of nearly a million dollars—raised chiefly through the efforts of C. V. Whitney, New York aviation executive and philanthropist.

4. The tanks, called oceanariums, are the largest in the world and were built especially for motion picture study of the deep sea and its inhabitants.

5. The town was the scene recently—for the first time in scientific history—of the milking of a porpoise. The product was flown by plane immediately to the University of Chicago for analysis.

6. Marineland's porpoises are the only ones in captivity.

7. Marineland is the only place in the world where large marine specimens are fed by hand daily.

8. The largest great manta ray ever exhibited alive in captivity lives in one of the tanks. It has a wing spread of 13½ feet and weighs over 1,500 pounds.

The humans of this unique place, aside from its founding fathers, Whitney and Dr. W. Douglas Burden, of the American Museum of Natural History, are themselves much more than an ordinary group of people because they range from scientists to the divers who care for the fish.

Presiding over the municipality is a good-looking young man, Milton E. Bacon Jr., mayor of Marineland. He is 30 years old, a publicist and not a politician by profession. Many of the men of his town are within draft age limits, Bacon says, raising the possibility that his council and aldermen may have to vote on political issues while wearing muffs.

Bacon's town includes several resident scientists and photographers who daily make intensive studies of Marineland's fish life for scientific journals, magazines and motion pictures.

sense. The important thing is to greatly reduce speed, and keep the car under control at all times.

Wise motorists will investigate weather and road conditions before starting a trip, and if possible postpone or interrupt it when weather conditions are hazardous.

Everything possible should be done to maintain adequate vision. Windshield and windows must be clear of frost and snow. Heaters, windshield wipers and defrosters should be in good condition. Lights should be properly focused and aimed.

"Think Ahead."

The report does not recommend letting air out of tires on slippery roads, since the added traction for stopping is slight and the tendency to skid on curves is increased. Also, tires with good treads, while safer on dry and wet roads, give no better performance on snow and ice than smooth tires.

Thinking ahead—anticipating emergencies—is more important in winter, because sudden stops and turns are impossible on slippery roads.

Watch out for varying conditions of the road surface. Don't take it for granted that because part of the pavement is clear, all of it is free of ice. Anticipate ice around curves and over hills, in shady spots and on bridges. Remember that ice is more slippery when it is thawing. Watch out for the sudden freeze in late afternoon which may convert a wet pavement into an icy one.

Keep a steady foot on the accelerator. Too fast acceleration may spin the wheels, causing a side skid. Slow down gradually. Once a skid starts turn the front wheels in the direction the car is skidding, leave the car in gear, and don't apply the brakes.

Highway departments can do much to reduce winter traffic hazards, the committee reported. Highway officials should strive to keep roads clear by prompt and complete snow removal; establish uniform and effective systems of road condition reporting, and adequately warn the motorist of the presence of snow, sleet and other equipment, or culvert headwalls, guard rails and other low obstructions covered by drifted snow. They should improve traction on ice by spreading abrasives treated with calcium or sodium chloride.

U. S. Blind Workers Aid National Defense

NEW YORK.—Although they will never be called upon to fight, blind men and women of the country are taking an active part in the nation's preparations for defense.

Hard at work in 43 workshops across the land, they are preparing certain supplies necessary for the government's defense plans, according to Robert W. Irwin, sightless executive director of the American Foundation for the Blind.

Under provisions of the Wagner-O'Day act, federal government departments purchase blind-made products whenever possible and for the past two years blind workers have been supplying these departments with brooms, mops, deck swabs, mattresses and the like at a fair market price, according to Irwin.

In recent weeks the government's order for pillowcases to serve the men in training has kept blind men and women working overtime, and has brought into the wage-earning group more than 400 additional sightless men and women who, up to now, have lacked the chance of employment.

The American Foundation for the Blind acts for the sightless across the country as a national agency. Connected with it is a non-profit marketing agency called National Industries for the Blind. This agency receives orders for blind-made goods, and allocates these orders to those institutions and sheltered shops best equipped to handle them. It is the foundation's aim to give blind men and women the opportunity to earn money for their own support. Work on national defense brings many blind persons opportunity to earn money of their own

Lauds Transportation Act

The declaration of policy embodied in the 1940 Transportation Act is the most heartening development for the future of the railroads in many years, according to J. T. Saunders, vice president, system freight traffic, Southern Pacific Company.

Addressing the annual meeting of the Association of American Railroads recently in New York, Saunders referred to this part of the Act as "almost a transportation bill of rights," in that Congress for the first time has adopted a policy of placing the American railroads on a par with their heretofore more favorably treated competitors in the matter of governmental regulations.

"The policy," he said, "is first an affirmative statement of what is desirable in a transportation system for the welfare of the country, and second and to my mind the more important, the definite declaration that all of the provisions of the Act shall be administered and enforced with a view of carrying out the policy."

"Those who have not had the responsibility of attempting to meet the tremendous impact of competing forms of transportation can hardly realize the extent to this offers hope for the future of the railroads. For five years the Interstate Commerce Commission has been under Congressional mandate to recognize and preserve the inherent advantages of motor transportation, and for 20 years under a similar mandate to promote, encourage and develop water transportation. And this notwithstanding the fact that in those 20 years every commission or committee, official or private, investigating transportation has universally declared the railroads are the backbone of the American transportation system."

Good Selections

In the appointment of the selective service machinery for New Mexico, Governor John E. Miles seems to have accomplished a feat heretofore believed to be impossible. Not a word of criticism of any of his selections, either to the state appeal board or the local boards for the counties, has been heard. The response of young men to the call to register has been unanimous, and the spirit with which the draft has been accepted throughout New Mexico has been little short of marvelous. Not a single case of evasion has been reported to the authorities yet despite the difficulties in the way of getting into communication with residents of all parts of the state. The spirit with which the draft has been accepted in this state was due in a large part, no doubts to Governor Miles' care in his choice of the men to administer it. It inspired the confidence of the young registrants and the public generally, including the mothers. Probably the most remarkable thing about the governor's accomplishment, in avoiding every possibility of complaint, was that he was able to do it in the middle of a strenuous campaign, one in which the opposition was ready to seize upon anything, no matter how trivial, to try to make political capital out of it.

Careers in Engineering

By R. T. Strohm

Dean, International Correspondence Schools

WHO enriched our lives by the airplane, the modern refrigerator, the automobile, the radio? Who provided us with light at the flick of a switch? Who, indeed, has wrought more changes in our manner of life than the engineer?

In conquering the forces of nature man has heard engineering. The first lever used to pry a rock, the first wheel built to move burdens, the first wedge shaped to split a log were creations of primitive engineers. Over four thousand years ago, engineers built the dams on the Euphrates and erected the Egyptian pyramids.

Two thousand years ago Roman engineers tied Europe together by highways, spurred the migration of older civilizations into unexplored countries. There the conquerors provided uncontaminated water supplies and shelter against the elements. So down through the ages, making life more secure and more satisfying, the work of engineers has gone forward.

The work of engineers, often unsung, has provided for ever-widening and continuous benefits to the human race, through control of nature's forces and materials.

Today the youth of vision, interested in knowing more about our fast moving age may well consider engineering as one of the most utilitarian and fascinating professions.

Engineering embodying a knowledge of mathematics, technological arts and sciences and the ability to direct and work with men offers worthwhile careers for youth of ability!
