

Food Needs of Starving Europe Present Problems for America

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)
NEW YORK CITY, N. Y.—Should America send food to the starving, war-stricken nations of Europe which have been successfully invaded? Considerable controversy surrounds the answer to this question for it may be a vital factor in the outcome of the current war.

England fears feeding these nations would indirectly aid Germany and tend to neutralize the effectiveness of their blockade, but others disagree. Herbert Hoover successfully supervised distribution of food in Belgium during the World war and believes it can be done again. The "National Committee on Food for the Five Small Democracies" has been formed to carry out his plan.

The following article presents the committee's reasons why the "five small democracies" should be aided.

Food is a weapon but famine is a boomerang. Each is powerful and effective and, like all deadly arms, should be handled with knowledge and experience and not emotion.

The first reaction of the British government of October, 1914, to the proposal to feed Belgium was, in the words of Lord Robert Cecil, chief of Great Britain's foreign office, "directly counter to every dictate of military prudence."

But the British government later came to realize, in the words of Mr. Aquilino, "that this relief food reaches the Belgians and the French, and reaches them plone"; while Lloyd George, speaking of "the work for the allied and associated powers," said, "It has been of incalculable value."

They demonstrated their belief in its necessity by giving priority to relief shipments even over shipments of troops, munitions and food for the Allies.

This is a striking lesson from the annals of the World war and should cause us to explore deeply the facts of the present proposal before condemning to possible death 37 millions of people, as well as occasioning the inevitable concomitant diseases that will crop at no ideological, political or geographical frontier—not even the Atlantic ocean.

In the World war experience, the condition of starvation in Germany at the close of the war, as contrasted with the maintenance of the Belgian population in good health and without the loss of a life by starvation throughout four years, is eloquent proof of the fact that the blockade of Germany had been effective and in no way affected by the feeding of the occupied territories.

Outline Proposal.
 What is the proposal? How was this effected last time? How could it be repeated?

The proposal is not to dump miscellaneous quantities of food into western Europe in the vague hope that they will be distributed exclusively among the conquered people. Nor is it an arrangement by which any imported food would release to the Germans equivalent quantities of native produce.

On the contrary, it is to set up a total administration under which all of the native produce would be mobilized, by centralization in the administration's warehouses, for the exclusive use of the civilian populations, and then to import only those foods in which there is a deficiency so as to make up a bare subsistence maintenance-of-life ration—precisely as was done in the World war. It is, further, that Germany contribute towards this program important quantities from her own supplies which she has produced or requisitioned.

Under such a plan, it is obvious that any leakages out of the total stores in sufficient quantities to affect the German food supply by any amount large enough to influence the German ration, and thereby the war, would be immediately self-revealing and very simple to check and to control.

A great deal of opposition to this plan is based upon the assertion that the Germans would not live up to any "guarantees" which they might give. But, curiously enough,

U. S. Soldiers Require 90 Different Shoe Sizes
 The war department has announced that in order to provide shoes of the proper size for each soldier, it is necessary to keep in stock at least 90 different shoe sizes in every army camp and post. Regular stock includes 90 sizes, in lengths from 8 to 13, and widths from A to EE. In addition, it is necessary to provide in some cases shoes as large as size 18 or as small as size 4 1/2.

The 'Other Side'

Many persons believe that it would be impossible to satisfactorily supervise distribution of food sent to conquered nations of Europe. Among those who hold this view is Wallace R. Deuel, who has spent six years in Germany as foreign correspondent for the Chicago Daily News.

Recently a reader wrote him and asked, "If we could ship food through the blockade to the starving Belgians (for example) what percentage of it might we expect the Nazis to take?"

To this question he replied, "You might expect the Nazis to take either most or all of what you sent. If they refrained from taking the same food you sent they would take a corresponding amount of other stocks. The starving Belgians would, in either event, be little or not at all better off than they were before."

guarantees are of secondary importance and German national interest the primary factor. What are these so-called "guarantees"? Naturally, operations could only begin after the negotiation of an undertaking with the German government that they will abstain from seizing either native or imported supplies.

Small Help to Germany.
 But food alone would scarcely provide the motive for seizing the imported supplies. Native produce is hers for the taking, anyway. Germany is consuming today 1,400,000 tons of food a month; the invaded territories would need about 200,000 tons a month; foodstocks would be maintained in these countries (as they were last time) on a two-weeks' protection basis. Thus, if at any one moment Germany effected an all-embracing seizure from the North Cape to the French border, she would receive thereby exactly 72 hours of supplies for her 80 millions of people. And if she did, the flow of food would be cut off from one shipment to the next. There we see exposed, amazing and yet so obvious, the maximum menace to Britain—a three-days' supply of food for Germany!

Some believe that it is Germany's obligation to feed these people, but this also is inconsistent with the prevailing opinion of the German regime. The more ruthless one believes them to be the more obvious it is that they are not going to raise a finger to help their victims.

We have heard of requisitions and leaks of food supplies during the World war, but the audited and published accounts of the commission that did that job reveal that throughout the four years of their operations there was not one single requisition—at least, not one that was not replaced directly or in equivalent supplies. It is not improbable that there were small leaks such as have been cited in personal letters to the press; but when it is considered that over 11,000,000,000 pounds of goods were taken into the occupied territories, it is petty to raise these infinitesimal proportions of the total amount handled as an objection that may condemn these 37 millions of people to death.

Revolt Held Unlikely.
 Is it possible that if we do not feed these people they may revolt against their conquerors? Formerly, when there was less disparity between the weapons of an army and those of a mob this would have been possible; today, it is absurd to expect that a mob armed with scythes and pitchforks, hunting guns and knives, could withstand the weapons of modern warfare.

Anyone who advances this theory is apparently unacquainted with famine which, far from emboldening men, slowly and progressively breaks their spirit and reduces them to impotence and utter apathy.

Some thought, too, must be given to the question as to whether it is not, after all, merely one of distribution and not of shortage in Europe. Agricultural experts reveal that Europe is normally 15 per cent short in her food supply. Due to one of the coldest winters on record last year followed by one of the wettest springs, there is a further shortage of another 15 per cent. Add to these the additional shortages due to war phenomena, such as the doubling of consumption immediately upon mobilization, the destruction of stocks, and the interference with sowings, cultivation and harvests, and it is obvious that the total shortage in Europe this year will be far over and above 30 per cent.

One proposal has been to send into these countries medicines and food concentrates for children. There is but one cure for famine and that is food and no amount of serums or medicines can ward off death by starvation. Such "relief" is but a saline solution, a prolongation of the agony.

No, either this thing is right and of no risk to England or it is wrong. If it is right, since we have a stake in this war which we are steadily increasing, it is our duty to raise our voice that at least a trial be made to save these millions of people of our own ideals and philosophy—especially when the risk, the worst that could happen for the British cause, is but 72 hours' supply for Germany.

The only alternative is to deny food to these victims of aggression, exposing them to dangers of starvation.

Valentine's Day

Greeting cards are very well
 For the friends that you know well;
 But we wrote some special verses
 For these very famous persons.

TO THE PRESIDENT

We are "Your Friends," and we remind you
 "You're the Boss" and we're behind you!
 But now we must guard our every border
 So please hurry that stuff you've got "on order"
 For don't think you can stop our foes
 With that little "piece of garden hose"!

TO WINSTON CHURCHILL

As long as you keep that "bulldog chin,"
 Old Adolf knows he just can't win.
 For just as long as you're the Boss,
 The channel he won't dare to cross!
 And when he's ready to finish war-ing,
 John Bull's lion will still be roaring!

TO MUSSOLINI

With stubby jaw you stood on high,
 To watch your legions marching by
 But soon these boys will be back home!
 The Greeks have shown them road to Rome!

TO HITLER

You're just a rawdy on the loose;
 And someone's yet to "cook your goose!"
 For you'll surely find, before you're through
 You've bit off more than you can chew!

History Records Lives Of Seven St. Valentines
 Any attempt to explain why valentines are sent on St. Valentine's day bumps into the question: "Which St. Valentine do you mean?" For history records not one, but seven St. Valentines.

Some historians believe that the observance is dedicated to all seven, while others specifically name the bishop of Terni and a Roman priest who were both burned at the stake by Claudius, Roman emperor.

American Ambassador Welcomed to Vichy

Lord Halifax Gets Acquainted With Wallace

Viscount Halifax, member of the British war cabinet, and his majesty's new ambassador to the United States, has been making the rounds of Washington, getting acquainted and urging his country's cause. The tall, angular Briton is shown chatting with Vice President Wallace in this picture, which was snapped in the vice president's office.

Land Mine!

Sappers of Fifteenth Royal Australian engineers explode a land mine by fuse, during maneuvers near Sydney, Australia. Tactics such as this were responsible for destroying Italian land mines, opening the road for British tanks on the way to Bardia, Tobruk and Derna.

Against Il Duce

Thousands of Ethiopians have joined the British forces in Libya. This 14-year-old boy of Bardia has been waging war against the Italians for five years. He is wearing the cap of an Italian officer sniped during one of his encounters with the enemy.

We've put one over on the yardsticks

Here are FOUR NEW ADDITIONS to the BUICK SPECIAL Line that Compact Motorcar Bigness into Handy Size

Buick SPECIAL 4-door Sedan, model 47, $1021.*

TIME was when you measured a car's ability and standing by the yardstick distance from bumper to bumper.

But not any more — not since Buick made ready the four new additions to its 1941 SPECIAL series that are built for big-car travel tastes — and small-car garages!

They are cars to take the measure of almost anything on the road in the lift and life of their 115-hp. Buick FIREBALL engines.*

*Add Compound Carburetion at slight extra cost and hotrod power steps up to 125 while gasoline mileage goes even higher.

They are cars with room for all the family, with all the little Buick luxury touches, with the unrivaled comfort of Buick's all-coil springing and steady-going roadability.

But bumper to bumper they are shorter — so they fit your garage.

Their wheelbase is 118 inches, so they park like a bicycle and flit through traffic with ridiculous ease.

They go farther on every gallon — farther, even, than other Buicks.

So you can't take their measure with a yardstick.

You've got to measure them by what they do for you—in the easier handling, the bigger thrill, the extra convenience they add — and by prices made lower by their new compactness.

How about seeing them — now?

Justice of the Peace Erastus Grice dismissed the case, saying, "This young man has given an exhibition of sportsmanship very rare among hunters. His license has been restored to him with the admonition to look more closely for horns the next time he goes hunting."

Trail Blazers to the Sea

The Louisiana Purchase in 1803 added more than a million square miles to the United States. After securing an appropriation from Congress to explore the vast territory, President Thomas Jefferson chose Captains Meriwether Lewis and William Clark to lead the expedition.

Starting up the Missouri River near St. Louis in May, 1804, they returned in September, 1806. Not only had they found a land route to the Pacific and located a river flowing to the sea, but they had transferred the western boundary of the United States to the Pacific Coast.

Lewis and Clark were the trail-blazers who opened up this vast new territory holding so much of promise for the future of the country.

There are trail-blazers in industry today. In the telephone service they are not only the men who build the lines over mountains, deserts and plains, but the trail-blazers in science in the Bell Telephone Laboratories, ever seeking better ways to do the job.

Keeping the nation's channels of communication open twenty-four hours a day is the job of your telephone company... a responsibility it shoulders eagerly. Whether it may be a local emergency or one of national defense, telephone men and women are ready.

HAWK IN THE WIND

by HELEN TOPPING MILLER

When the widow, Virgie Morgan, and her daughter, Marian, decided to manage a pulp mill in the Carolina mountains they could not foresee the troubles ahead of them. But through all those harrowing days the widow watched understandingly as Marian's pride kept her from admitting her love for a fine young man.

The story moves briskly from start to finish, while alternate threads of romance and intrigue run through it. You'll enjoy Helen Topping Miller's great new novel immensely. Don't miss it!

Rent Land Under Water? It's Quite the Thing Here!

Water, water, all around! Here's lesson No. 1 on how to "get away from it all!" Visitors are renting ground under water at $1 per acre in Miami's Biscayne bay, 11 miles off shore, and building "tumbledown" shacks with all the comforts of home except a telephone. These pictures show some of those with a Robinson Crusoe complex who can reach their "summer homes" only via boat.

Picture Parade

The picture above shows Miss Barbara Wells calmly pulling in a fish through her bedroom window, caught while she was napping in the afternoon at one of Miami's "tumbledowns." If this isn't the last word in piscatorial comfort then we're missing our guess by a mile.

Left: All water is either carried to the houses via boat or caught off the roof tops. Here Miss Ruth Fay collects some fresh rainwater for the household.

A room in one of the luxurious houseboats near the swanky, $250,000 Quarterdeck club which has just been opened in the area, featuring the last word in life aboard ship. This room, which has been redecorated, is tastefully designed and furnished.

View from the deck of the new Quarterdeck club during a "Miami Flyer" boat race. When the owners want a change in marine tempo they whizz over to the club in their speedboats.

FIRST-AID to the AILING HOUSE

Lightning Rods.
QUESTION: What value do you consider lightning rods have in protecting country houses? In making an installation, what are the essential things to look out for? Where can I get information?

Answer: Modern lightning rods and their connections are reliable and give adequate protection. The National Board of Fire Underwriters, 222 West Adams St., Chicago, issues a pamphlet describing the needs. There is also a government pamphlet, Farmers' Bulletin 1512, "Protection of Buildings and Farm Property From Lightning," to be had from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, for five cents.

Condensation From Gas.
Question: My house is frame, with brick lining and plaster. Since using natural gas, the house sweats. In the kitchen and bathroom water drips off the ceiling and runs down the walls. Can you suggest something to overcome this?

Answer: When natural gas is burned, great quantities of water vapor are formed. If this vapor goes into the air of the house, there will be condensation when the warm and damp air is chilled by contact with cold surfaces. Very evidently the kitchen and bathroom ceilings are cold, probably because they are under an unheated attic. Insulation in the attic floor will keep the ceilings warmer, and there will be less condensation. You can get over the trouble in another way, by connecting all gas burners to flues that will carry the water vapor outdoors.

Lawn Ants.
Question: My lawn is fairly riddled with holes around which are swarms of small brown ants, and a larger variety with wings. Could these be termites? How can I get rid of them? And how can a lawn be cleared of Japanese beetle grubs?

Answer: These insects are not termites; they are swarms of ants. Ant traps of different kinds can be had at a hardware or garden store; these or some other ant poison scattered around a lawn will get rid of the trouble, for the worker ants will carry the poison back to the queens on the nests. A lawn can be cleared of Japanese beetle grubs with arsenate of lead, which, however, must be handled with great care because it is poisonous, and can kill your pets and birds as well as the grubs. The usual method is to mix with four times as much sand, to scatter it over the lawn, and then wash it into the ground with a hose.

Warped Floor Boards.
Question: On advice of a contractor, who guaranteed that moisture would not come through, an oak floor was laid in asphalt mastic on a concrete slab laid on the earth. Moisture has come through, and the floor has buckled so greatly as to be of no use. How can this condition be taken care of? What kind of flooring suitable for a living room would be successful?

Answer: If your contractor is responsible, you should hold him to his guarantee. The floor can be made waterproof by taking up the boards, putting down one or two thicknesses of heavy, impregnated felt, and relaying the floor with mastic on top of the felt. The trouble seems to be in the thinness of the coat of mastic, and the fact that the water-proofing felt was omitted.

Care of Floors.
Question: Having recently purchased a new home with hardwood floors, we would like to know how to take the proper care of them, and if water can be used to clean them, or if it turns them dark.

Answer: It is advisable to wax the floors with paste floor wax. Clean regularly with a dry brush or mop; never use an oil mop. Take up dirt with liquid wax—not water wax—or with a cloth slightly damp with water, and immediately wipe dry.

Apply new wax once every few months or when wear begins to show at doorways and other points of heavy traffic. Use a polisher at least once a week. Do not use water on a hardwood floor, for it may make black spots.

Ping-pong Table.
Question: What are the correct dimensions for a ping-pong table? What wood should be used?

Answer: For a really good tennis table—and no other quality should be considered—the details of construction will take much more space than I can give.

Plans of a table tennis outfit may be secured from the Handicraft department, P. O. Box 75, Station C, New York, N. Y., on payment of 10 cents in full.

Matching Hat, Handbag, Give Chic Accent to Spring Costume

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

IF YOU want to be fashion-wise this spring, it is absolutely necessary that you become thoroughly and wholeheartedly accessory-minded. From the very start in assembling your new wardrobe, keep firmly implanted in your mind that accessories, above all else, are cast to play the dramatic role in fashion this season. Do this and you will find yourself safely charted in the right course through both spring and summer.

It is a matter of tradition that a new and becoming hat ever has and ever will prove the most effective first aid in sounding the first joyous note of spring. This season fashion goes the idea "one better" with the insistence that a matching handbag complete the picture by way of adding drama to the occasion. Try the hat-and-matching-handbag-way and you will find that it works like magic in broadcasting the glad tidings of spring.

Note the quartette of fetching hat-and-bag ensembles shown in the illustration. Twosomes of this sort are typically "first fashion" news for spring. At the upper right of the group a navy blue stucco braid beret is shown which claims distinction because of the bright patriotic-colored strips which detail the beret and are repeated in the "nautical knots" which enliven the navy felt handbag. By the way, navy will be tremendously smart again this season.

To the upper left the problem of matching hats and handbags has been eliminated by two well-known American designers. Clear syntho-lic strips laced through the Howard Hodge hat and the Nat Lewis handbag subtly emphasize harmony of colors and materials. In the popular South American manner the hat of artichoke straw has a high pleated crown of the same flame red felt used for the handbag.

Below to the right black felt and spaghetti braiding is manipulated into a new version of the fashionable off-the-face pillbox with its low-tied bow of the braid, repeated in the laced handbag.

For the handsome hat and bag set pictured on the figure seated, bright green silk petal-shirred grosgrain ribbon is used by Lilly Dache. A matching petal-shirred envelope bag completes this distinctive accessory ensemble.

The supremacy of accessories in the spring mode carries courage and inspiration in the thought that the movement is being aided and abetted by the very highest style-creative talent in all industries that pertain to fashion in women's apparel. The whole trend is to correlate and to co-ordinate costume detail. To this end designers, manufacturers and merchants are enthusiastically working together to co-ordinate color, material and style motif. By way of suggestion when you go accessory seeking, look up the new tiger yellows and browns, the many smart greens, the beiges, Peruvian pink, the new pastel jewel colors, and reds are bolder and brighter than ever.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

New 'Half Hat'

Of all the exciting fashion news for spring, 1941, what is more exciting than the novel "half hat" recently turned out by Lilly Dache! There will no doubt be a rush for these flattering flowery hats when the season gets into full swing, for they are not only charming but practical.

Unusual Fabrics Enhance Dresses

Unusual fabrics frequently add to the attractiveness of evening gowns. A little use of the imagination will often produce satisfactory results.

If you are a smart young person you might consider going to the upholstery department next time you need material for a new evening dress. You will be doubly smart if you choose material with a gray background.

Heavy gray rayon taffeta has great possibilities, as does gray satin with tiny motifs in gold or striped and damask designs. This material is so wide that it takes only a few yards to make a beautiful dress.

Jewelry Innovation Adds Chic to Frocks

A new development in the jewelry realm is clips that come in series from two to three, four or five. They vary in size and are worn along a neckline or are clipped or pinned to sweep down one side of the bodice like a flock of little birds.

Another version of the jewel series is interpreted in several clips that may be worn singly, in a series or fastened together to form one important individual-looking piece. Such is the new lotus flower clip. One clip may be the flower, another the bud still another the foliage. Wear them separately and they serve many purposes, fasten them together (they are made to do just that) and you have one imposing piece of jewelry to wear with your evening gown.

The idea is carried on in some instances to include matching finger ring and earrings.

Main Street Gone From Fashion World

"There is no more Main Street in Fashion," declared Mrs. Wilhelmina Cushman, fashion editor of Ladies Home Journal, before a convention of retailers and manufacturers who recently held their spring national shoe fair in Chicago. Mrs. Cushman says she has found in her travels of 20,000 miles in the past that Main Street and Fifth Avenue meet and now launch simultaneously the same advance fashions.

Declaring that this season "a costume will be bigger, softer and more colorful" in footwear, the news is of softer shoes. There is a new softness about the leather used. The seamless glove will also be featured this season, she added.

NEW YORK.—Everybody who offered an elixir vitae before Eugen Steinach got much renown and few disputed them. Professor Prof. Steinach, boiling with energy and full of plans for a long future on his eightieth birthday anniversary, met a harsh challenge from both the lay and professional world, when, 21 years ago, he turned from animal to human experimentation. He was so embroiled in public controversy, in spite of his scientific aloofness, that the Nobel prize, otherwise his, was withheld from him. But this is all forgotten now as the professor is appraised for his sound contribution to endocrine research.

The Swiss Paracelsus, born the year after Columbus discovered America, was perhaps the first physician to explain life as chemist, and to set up a process of rejuvenation. His elaborate formula included caustic lime and alcohol, carefully distilled, with a dash of melissa leaves. While he got only 48 years out of this mixture, a stretch which Professor Steinach may easily double, his discovery brought him much more acclaim.

The Nazis drove Dr. Steinach out of Vienna in 1938, confiscating his possessions, including his house, library and art collection. He is happily established again in Zurich, "until better times come back."

He was born and reared in Vienna, was graduated from medicine at the University of Wien in 1899 and, had acquired a world reputation as a physiologist before his sensational experiments of 1920. Many eminent persons in various parts of the world have testified to the effectiveness of his "rejuvenation" treatment, among the Adolf Lorenz, the great Austrian orthopedic surgeon.

WHEN the speech of the children of Shem was confounded and they couldn't finish their tower of Babel, they didn't try singing. Such a gift was left to a later generation.

Waving the 'Good Neighbor' Baton day to meet Over Americas a somewhat similar situation. North American folk songs, love songs, and jazz are now heavy exports to Latin-America. Redressing the rhythm balance are the Latin opposite numbers of romance, adventure and cynicism, gaining favor in the U. S. A.

Dr. Andre Kostelanetz, famous orchestra conductor, who was a pioneer of this musical entente, informs this reporter that this cultural exchange is working out beautifully. He says American batoneers, radio program directors and song writers are swinging in handily.

"This is giving South America a better understanding of North America and they are beginning to like us a lot more," said Dr. Kostelanetz. "Our songs are filtering in everywhere in the Argentine, Chile, Brazil and 17 other Latin-American republics. We are similarly responding, with Latin melodies being listed among our current musical favorites. Incidentally, we are learning a lot of hemisphere geography from the songs, and that knowledge is helping us to understand our southern neighbors."

About two years ago Dr. Kostelanetz began marshaling a parade of noted orchestra conductors on tours of the Western hemisphere. He believes that when nations soothe their tongues get snarled up, and can't talk to each other, the international language of music is a great help. His own career tends to bear out that theory.

Heralds Music Soothing Tongue In Upset World when nations soothe their tongues get snarled up, and can't talk to each other, the international language of music is a great help. His own career tends to bear out that theory.

Somewhat of an infant prodigy, he made his debut as a concert pianist at the age of eight. He was 19 when he applied for a job as assistant conductor of the Petrograd Grand Opera. He played a dozen operas and got the job in spite of his youth. Russia fell into turmoil which not even music could soothe and Dr. Kostelanetz came to the United States. He was almost immediately on tour as an accompanist with Metropolitan and Chicago Opera stars.

GUARANTEED TO GET THE FAMILY UP IN THE MORNING
(See Recipes Below.)

BREAKFASTS TO GET THE FAMILY UP

"The nice thing about breakfasts" said one newlywed, "is that you don't have to plan them, you just serve them." Although it is possible to get a breakfast with whatever there is at hand in the line of toast, coffee, and fruit juices, a little planning does yield big dividends.

For it is planning that makes possible the breakfast specialties that get the laggards out of bed in the morning—and down to eat before they go. And that's important, because they miss the Vitamin C in the orange or tomato juice when they skip breakfast, the Vitamin B in the whole grain cereal, the iron in the egg yolk, which aren't always made up later in the day.

A sketchy, hurried breakfast, or none at all, accounts, too, for some of that mid-morning fatigue. It's a long time to go without food, from six o'clock of one night until noon of the next day.

Here, then, are some breakfast menus, and some recipes for new breakfast specialties, that are guaranteed to get the family out of bed in the morning. Just let them get one whiff of a platter of shiny brown sausages garnished with orange slices, like that in the picture above, and no coaxing will be needed to get them down to breakfast.

- Oven eggs in cornbread cases
- Pan-fried bacon
- Coffee, milk

LEISURELY BREAKFAST

- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup melted shortening
- 2 eggs
- 3 cups sifted flour (all-purpose)
- 1/2 cup raisins

Scald milk and cool to lukewarm (85 degrees Fahrenheit). Add crumbled yeast, sugar, and salt. Add 2 cups flour, beating thoroughly. Add melted shortening and beaten eggs. Add remaining flour, beating until smooth. Add raisins. Fill greased muffin pans half full. Brush with butter (if desired), cover and set in warm place to rise until doubled in bulk (about 45 minutes). Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees Fahrenheit) for 15 minutes.

Eggs in Corn Bread Cases.

- (Serves 6)
- 6 squares or slices corn bread
- 1/2 cup butter (melted)

Sprinkle with salt and pepper, place on baking sheet and bake in hot oven (475 degrees Fahrenheit) for 10 minutes or until white of egg is set. For quick-breakfast, corn-bread should be prepared the day before.

Grated Apple Waffles.

- (Makes 8 waffles)
- 1 1/2 cups flour (all-purpose)
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup milk
- 1 1/2 cups cooking apple (grated or cut fine)
- 2 tablespoons melted shortening

Sift flour once before measuring. Then add salt, cinnamon, sugar, and baking powder and sift again. Separate eggs. Combine milk, eggs, and cooled melted shortening. Add dry ingredients to milk and egg and stir lightly until just dampened. Fold in grated apple. Beat egg whites until stiff and glossy and fold in, using a spatula. Bake on pre-heated waffle iron and serve with butter and brown sugar.

Corn Bread.

- (1 8-inch square)
- 1 1/2 cups yellow corn meal (uncooked)
- 1/2 cup flour (all-purpose)
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup milk
- 2 eggs (beaten)
- 2 tablespoons fat (melted)

Sift corn meal with flour, baking powder and salt. Combine milk, eggs, and shortening and add to dry ingredients. Bake in a well-greased 8-inch square baking pan, in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees Fahrenheit) for 40 to 50 minutes.

Bran Griddle Cakes.

- (Makes 15 cakes)
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 1 egg (well-beaten)
- 2 tablespoons melted fat
- 1 1/2 cups flour (all-purpose)
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1/2 cup bran cereal

Combine milk, beaten egg and cooled melted fat in mixing bowl. Sift flour once before measuring. Then add salt, baking powder, and sugar and sift again. Combine dry ingredients with bran cereal. Add to milk, stirring until just mixed. Bake on a hot griddle and serve with butter and strained honey or maple syrup.

Apricot Omelet.

- (Serves 4)
- 1/2 pound dried apricots
- 1 cup water
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 4 eggs

Prepare apricots ahead of time. Cover them with water and let cook 30 minutes. Then simmer until tender, about 25 minutes. Add sugar and cook for 3 minutes more. To make the omelet, drain juice from the apricots and measure. Fill to the 1/2 cup mark with water, if necessary. Combine tapioca, salt and apricot juice in top of double boiler over boiling water and cook 10 to 12 minutes. Add 1 tablespoon butter, remove from heat and cool. Separate eggs. Beat whites until they are stiff and will stay in a partially inverted bowl. Without washing beater, beat yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Add egg yolks to tapioca mixture, then lightly fold in egg whites.

Melt 1 tablespoon butter in large frying pan (10 inch). Turn in egg mixture. Cook over low heat for 5 minutes, then place in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) to finish cooking for 15 minutes or until golden brown on top and firm to the touch. Make a shallow cut across the omelet at right angles to the pan. Cover half the surface with finely cut cooked dried apricots. Fold over omelet, turn out onto hot platter and serve at once.

Codfish Toasts.

- (Serves 4)
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 2 eggs (hard-cooked)
- 1 tablespoon green pepper (minced fine)
- 1 cup shredded codfish (freshened)
- Few grains white pepper
- Few grains onion salt
- 4 slices bread
- 1/2 cup grated cheese

Melt butter and add flour. Stir to make a smooth paste. Add milk. Dice eggs and add to milk mixture together with green pepper and shredded codfish. Season with white pepper and onion salt. Toast bread on one side, cut in half diagonally and place codfish mixture on untoasted side of bread. Sprinkle with grated cheese and brown lightly in a hot oven (450 degrees Fahrenheit.)

Open New Chapter In Fortune Mixup

Thousands Claim Share in Millions Amassed by Snuff Magnate.

PHILADELPHIA.—Legal referees of an international fortune scramble are ready to shake another family tree.

Somewhere among its branches they may find what they seek—the heir, or heirs, if any, to millions a little old lady didn't bother to mention in her will.

Amassed from sales of snuff during the mid-Victorian era, Mrs. Henrietta Garrett's fortune totaled $17,500,000 when she died 10 years ago.

That sum has expanded into a $20,000,000 golden apple—and it's still growing.

25,000 Claimants.

It is claimed by no less than 25,000 persons scattered throughout 46 states and 27 foreign countries. In the fight, too, is the state of Pennsylvania, which contends that since there are no known heirs, the money should go into the public coffers.

But four years of turbulent and interminable court hearings have failed to establish whether any are entitled to it. This fabulous grab-bag has driven people to suicide, fraud and even murder.

Court hearings were interrupted last October by commonwealth charges that a Pennsylvania family group falsified Bible birth records to support a fraudulent claim.

They contended one of their kin, Isaac Newton Sheaffer, Newark, Del., wall paper dealer, was an illegitimate son of the widow—born before her marriage to Walter Garrett, wealthy Quaker snuff manufacturer. Sheaffer and five others were convicted. Their appeal for a new trial is pending.

And now—with less than 5,000 cases heard—investigators are ready to explore the next claim—that of the German clan of Kretschmar.

It was from the junction of the Kretschmar and Sheaffer families a century ago that Mrs. Garrett came. Daughter of an immigrant German cabinet maker, she met Garrett under Cinderella circumstances (she was scrubbing a porch) and married him not long after. He died in 1835. Disposed of $62,500.

She was 61 when she scribbled her now-famous "request" to "Dear Mr. Charles S. Starr," wealthy investment broker and one of the two executors:

"Give you my estate and belongings which are named in my book per A/C the following amounts: "Give Henrietta G. Ferguson the sum of $10,000 if living. Give to Mary A. Weaver. . . ."

In that manner, to a few intimate friends and employees, she disposed of only $62,500—a pittance of her fortune.

The stupendous problem confronting investigators could have been avoided had the widow heeded the advice of her business-like husband. Fifty years ago he urged her to "make a will at once" and not "let the scoundrels get any" of her money.

She put it off for 26 years. Then when she did write a will, it was the inadequate document. If there was another will, it never has been found, although the search has extended even to her grave.

Walls in her old home were torn down, floors ripped up, closets virtually demolished and an iron safe drilled open, without avail.

An eerie tale prompted reopening of the widow's grave in lonely Laurel Hill cemetery. There was, however, no will.

Run Over by Locomotive, Sleeper Just Has Headache

MONTGOMERY, ALA. — Oliver Graham, 47, went to sleep on the tracks of the Seaboard air line, using a rail for a pillow. A freight train bound for Americus, Ga., struck him and the big locomotive and three box cars passed over his body.

In consequence, he is suffering from a severe headache.

The engineer saw the head on the rail just before the train reached it, whereupon he stopped the train and the crew went back to investigate the remains. They found Graham sitting beside the track, dazed.

Railroad men say Graham's head was too low for the cowcatcher, and the ponderous wheel simply pushed his head from the rail. A few slight bruises were evident when he was taken to Hubbard hospital.

Fleeing Rabbit Scores

Knockdown in Cornfield
DES MOINES, IOWA.—Dick Van Whye, farmer, got the surprise of his life as he walked through a cornfield.

Something hit him. The next thing he knew he was flat on his face, knocked down by the strength of the blow.

He looked around to see what had hit him. Nearby lay a large jack-rabbit, also stunned from the collision.

In its hurry to get away from a dog the rabbit collided with Van Whye. Van Whye was bruised. The rabbit died.
