DUTIES OF A GOOD AMERICAN CITIZEN

Citizenship calls for accepting responsibility and for service to one's fellow men. A good American citizen is loyal to his country. He does everything possible to help the government and keep it a good democracy. He participates in the government by voting and by holding an office when he can. He accepts the government in the same way that a good sportsman accepts the rules of a game and he helps support this government by paying taxes willingly.

A good citizen is always well informed on civic questions and takes an interest in public problems. He is always careful about his own health and property.

It is the duty of a good citizen to respect the authority of officers and give them information concerning lawbreakers that they know about.

FOURTH CLASS POSTMASTER EXAMINATION

Receipt of applications to close May 23, 1941.

The date for assembling of competitors will be stated in the admission cards which will be mailed to applicants after the close of receipt of applications.

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination, as a result of which it is expected to make certification to fill a contemplated vacancy in the position of fourth class postmaster at Lincoln, New Mexico and other vacancies as they may occur at that office, unless it shall be decided in the interest of the service to fill any vacancy by reinstatement. The examination will be held at Roswell, New Mexico. The compensation of the postmaster at this office was $669 for the last fiscal year.

Applicants must have reached their twenty-first birthday but not their sixty-fifth birthday on the date of the close of receipt of application.

Applicants must reside within the territory supplied by the post office for which the examination is announced.

The examination is open to all citizens of the United States who can comply with the requirements.

Application blanks, Form 9, and full information concerning the requirements of the examination can be secured from the postmaster at the place of vacancy or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Applications must be properly executed and on file with the Commission at Washington, D. C., prior to the hour of closing business on the date specified at the head of this announcement.

NOTICE OF NEW TAX LAW

Santa Fe, May 12, 1941. Property tax owners are given seven more weeks in which to pay under one of the acts of the Fifteenth State Legislature. It postpones the sale of property for delinquent taxes from the first Monday in December to the third Monday in January.

The law also lightens the load on the county treasurer. Heretofore the annual sale of property because of unpaid taxes has fallen at the beginning of the tax collection period; current taxes fall due December 1st.

The postponement of the sale date however, doesn't change the redemption period for property already sold although it will for that sold hereafter.

Another tax law requires the head of a family to claim his exemption before the date set for the meeting of the county board of equalization, in May. If he fails to make the claim before then he loses it. The purpose is to avoid the upsetting of budgets.

Substantially affecting only two counties, Lincoln and Grant, another law is intended to deliver to the state tax commission deeds on property acquired by counties under the 1923 certificate tax lien act. Owners of this property thus will be given the benefits to which delinquents are entitled under the 1939 act, being permitted to recover it on the installment plan.

Another law requires the county treasurer to notify taxpayers of all delinquent taxes with which they are charged at the time they are notified of the amount of their current taxes due. In this way, taxpayers will be protected against the unwitting loss of their property for unpaid back taxes of which they were unaware. Strange as it may seem, cases of this kind have happened, especially where the property has recently changed ownership.

Albert Bates of Carrizozo, ministerial student of Baylor University, occupied the pulpit at the local Baptist Church while the pastor, Rev. L. D. Cochran conducted a two weeks' meeting in Tularosa.

The hail storm Sunday evening did considerable damage to foliage and small fruits in the immediate vicinity of Carrizozo. At Luna, pumping station windowlights were knocked out, and several places around were damaged.

The Business Men's Club went to Channer on a booster trip last Wednesday.

Conley-McPherson

Miss La Wana Conley became the bride of Mr. Jay McPherson at a ceremony performed in the Methodist Church yesterday evening, May 15, 1941 at 8:30, with the Rev. Loyd A. Hughes officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Conley and is pretty and popular. She was reared in Carrizozo and attended the Carrizozo school.

Mr. McPherson has made his home here for sometime. He is in the S. P. signal service and they will go to Mosquero shortly.

Present at the ceremony, bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Conley and her brother, Dan Jr. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kincaid.

Immediately after the ceremony the wedding party went to Conley home, where a large group of intimate friends extended congratulations, while cake and coffee were being served.

Mr. and Mrs. McPherson went to El Paso for a short honeymoon trip and will return to Carrizozo Sunday.

INCREASED EGG PRODUCTION IS NEW DEFENSE GOAL

A drive to produce the maximum number of eggs from every poultry flock in New Mexico during the spring and summer months of 1941 has been launched by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as a part of a National effort to increase egg production by 10 million cases over the next few months.

Impetus for the produce-more-eggs drive announced this week by Extension Poultry Specialist E. E. Anderson comes from the designation by Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard of eggs as an ideal commodity for converting Ever-Normal granary feeds into Defense food.

The Secretary of Agriculture is urging all poultrymen to attain the goal of more eggs per flock by better feeding and management. As a result, heavier production should be maintained from now until fall.

Secretary Wickard is urging all poultrymen to fill their houses to capacity with laying birds next fall. Poultrymen are warned, however, that an expansion of the industry to the point where the construction of permanent new poultry houses is necessary will probably not be justified.

According to Mr. Anderson, early hatched chicks have proved to be much more profitable in New Mexico than those hatched late. Therefore, in complying with the eggs for defense goal of the Government, it is urged that chicks purchased after the first of May be started with chicks that have been hatched previously to that date. When possible, some may wish to purchase grown pullets late in the summer to finish filling their houses.

The previous Department of Agriculture announcement to support long term egg prices at an average of about 22 cents, Chicago basis, until June 1943 would be of assistance in stabilizing the egg market. Since this price is based on grade, it is especially important that New Mexico producers use the utmost care in marketing good quality eggs.

Marvin Burton is erecting a new building on his lot where the wood and coal yard is located.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Rosello were in Carrizozo on business last Tuesday from their Jicarilla home.

Mrs. T. J. Rowden has moved to the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Langston.

Mrs. Jake Weber of Alto has moved to Carrizozo.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Cazler of Tucumcari visited Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Johnson here last Tuesday. They were enroute home from Dexter, where they had been visiting Mr. Cazler's mother.

Spotting Saboteurs

Plant parasites and diseases which come to America from foreign lands cost Uncle Sam about 3 billions per year. But the U. S. is busy trying to stop these saboteurs. A chain of plant quarantine stations has been established around our borders where incoming plants must pass rigid inspections. These photos take you to one of these "agricultural Ellis Islands" at Hoboken, N. J.

Americas Hold World's Future, Industrialist Says

Wenner-Gren Urges U. S. To Assert Leadership In Realm of Ideas.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.) NEW YORK.—"The future of the world lies in the future of the Americas, and all the means to provide freedom and progressive democracy for the rest of civilization are available right here in the Western hemisphere," according to a notable message delivered personally to Americans by Axel L. Wenner-Gren, outstanding Swedish industrialist-philanthropist, in a recent interview. Regarded as one of the rich men of the world and connected with the United States by former business ties, long-standing sentiment and marriage, the Swedish industrial leader advised Americans, "both North and South," to take stock of themselves and to recognize that "today is the Western hemisphere's hour of destiny."

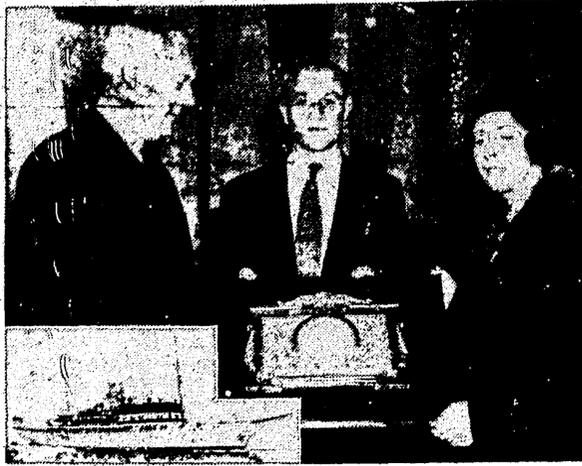

Wenner-Gren, whose previous relations with the press have been featured by consistent Swedish reticence, started on his rise to riches following a study of U. S. commercial methods 33 years ago. Thereafter he carved out a remarkable though little known career. Even in Sweden he elicited little public attention till his name was published as the nation's largest individual taxpayer. He rose to this industrial pinnacle via development of a vacuum cleaner—inspiration for which was an American model seen by chance in a Vienna shop window—and a flame-fed refrigerator, perfected from the research of two young Swedish scientists. The third great source of his wealth is the Swedish Pulp company, occupying forest areas as large as the state of Connecticut.

Rescued Athenia Victims.

A year ago Wenner-Gren made news when his yacht, the Southern Cross, rescued 376 stricken passengers at the scene of the torpedoed Athenia tragedy; also, recently, when Prof. A. J. Meyer announced that he had "donated $150,000 for research designed to foster airplane engine supremacy for the United States."

In his significant message to the Americas, the tall, handsome Swede, erect and Nordic for all his 53 years, struck an earnest note. "I know America and Americans. I built my own successful enterprises largely on American techniques, learned by working in your factories and through association with business enterprises in the United States. I am married to an American girl, the former Marguerite Liggett of Kansas City—incidentally the only marriage of either of us. And I admire Americans and number hundreds of your citizens as my friends. But," he pointed out, "no matter what the course of the war, European countries are undoubtedly due for years of economic and cultural depression, their emergence from this depression dependent largely upon the way of life in the Americas. "The center of civilization in our Machine age," Wenner-Gren continued, "started to move toward the Western hemisphere the day the first mass-production ship was set up in New England or Detroit—perhaps before. Today, the United States is at its peak. Tomorrow, Canada and the Latin-American countries will have great, vital, dynamic civilizations and their strength will necessarily be the strength and inspiration of whatever civilization survives in the Old World. "New Incentives Needed. "Americans," he warned, "can no longer afford to live snugly in the stuffiness of a rich national prosperity or the vacuum of isolation. Preparedness for national defense is, of course, vital and your peoples have decided upon what form that preparedness should take, but along with all of these vast undertakings America should and can assert its leadership in the realm of ideas.

"Americans must realize that it is not enough merely to try to preserve what is now held. They must establish new incentives. For instance, in their own hemisphere, they cannot let the share-croppers in North America and the forgotten peon populations of South America remain at miserable starvation levels, if only because these are fuel for subversive fires. The peoples of the New world must reach out towards new heights in health, housing, employment, interchange of ideas, practical techniques and co-operation. They must rouse all their energies and ingenuity to do this job—to bring our great machine civilization to the point where it can provide the good things of life for everybody, not only in the Americas, but also abroad. All of the resources in men, money and materials essential to this are at hand in the Americas. If they are utilized, then no matter how the victories of violence mount up, a new constructive world will inevitably replace those destructive forces."

Explains International Views.

With regard to his international status, the retired millionaire frankly said, "It has been vaguely rumored that I am in some way or other sympathetic with the ideologies which are now dominating most of the continent of Europe. I grant you that I shall always prefer peace to war so long as there is a reasonable basis for hoping for peace, but never at a sacrifice of the principles of freedom and progressive democracy.

"Anyone who has read my book, 'Call to Reason,' knows where I stand on these issues. Miss Inez Robb, who interviewed me a few months ago in Miami, wrote in reference to my views on democracy in this volume, 'It is doubly amazing its author could ever have been labeled an enemy of everything he pleads for.' I think Miss Robb is an impartial critic, and I feel impelled to ask whether it would not be better sportsmanship if rumor-spreaders would also take the trouble to read what I have written and check up on my actual record before they indulge in silly innuendoes. I maintain now, as I have always maintained, that totalitarian concepts represent a retreat not only from humanitarian ideals but from reason. They are definitely not progressive because they use the tools and organization of the enlightened machine age in an effort to enforce principles worthy of the Stone age."

The retired Swedish industrialist, who is vividly American in his optimistic outlook, his blend of practical idealism and his generous attitude toward scientific and humanitarian causes, announced at the conclusion of his interview, "I wish to acknowledge the deep debt I feel towards America by more than the donations I have recently made for scientific research in various universities and by sponsoring the scientific expedition which recently discovered the 'lost' Inca-cities in South America. I am therefore setting up the Viking fund in the United States for further grants in line with the ideas I have expressed here, because in these confused and shifting times, if I am sure of anything it is this—that the future of the world lies in the future of the Americas."

Experts Predict Aircraft Engines Of 8,000 H. P.

DAYTON, OHIO.—An 8,000-horsepower engine for an airplane—fantastic? Not at all!

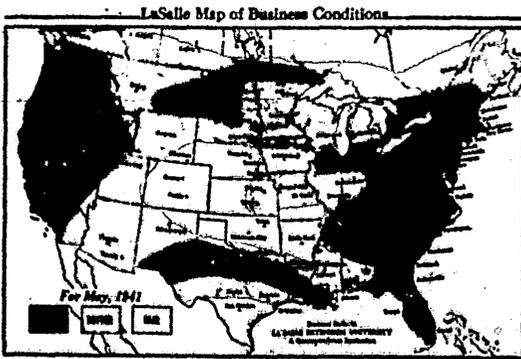

It may be several years away, but army air corps research experts at Wright field are already looking forward to the day when airplane power plants, delivering four times the power of the big 2,000-horsepower engines now being tested for the nation's newest warplanes, will be ready to go on the test stands.

Now power plant test equipment now being assembled at Wright field has been designed with this goal in mind, and when the big engines are ready, as engineers are confident they eventually will be, the equipment here will be heavy enough and strong enough to perform the necessary tests.

Aviation is a young industry, less than 40 years old, yet in the 37 years since the Wright brothers' first flight at Kittyhawk, N. C., aircraft engines have grown from the small, four-cylinder, water-cooled, 12-horsepower motor which turned twin propellers on the first Wright plane, to the big 18-cylinder 2,000-horsepower motors of today. And now the Wright field power plant laboratory is working in close co-operation with engine manufacturers to develop a practical 8,000 horsepower engine—and they earnestly believe it can be done.

Present-day engine developments are along two lines, the radial air-cooled type and the liquid-cooled type. Huge frontal areas of the air-cooled engines interfered seriously with clean aerodynamic design, whereas the liquid-cooled engines had far less frontal area to buck the air streams. Air-cooled engine manufacturers redesigned their engines to meet the challenge, until the newest air-cooled radial engines provide a diameter not far out of line with the diameters of liquid-cooled engines of comparable horsepower.

Improved Conditions Become Widespread

Improving conditions in the U. S. during the month of May are indicated by the above map. Farm income is slowly but steadily rising. Volume of trade is at a peak 15 per cent higher than last year as larger pay rolls boost buying power.

By L. G. ELLIOTT, President, LaSalle Extension University

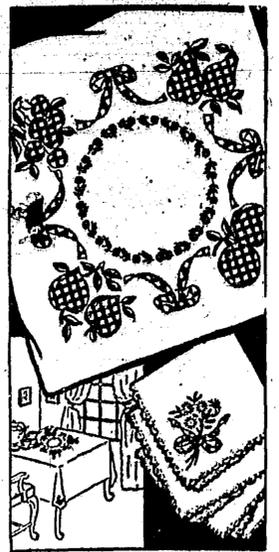

The influence of rising pay rolls in industry continues to be reflected in increased purchasing power of consumers. Production of factories is 30 per cent higher than a year ago, and retail sales are up about 15 per cent. The trend in nearly all lines is upward.

The beginning of the new growing season finds farm conditions favorable. Good crops are anticipated, and prices are expected to average higher than last year. Total farm income is now running several per cent above a year ago, and is expected to show still further gains.

The expanded program of the department of agriculture encourages larger production of some farm products and supports prices, thus providing a further stimulus to improving conditions. Farmers raising hogs, poultry, and those producing dairy products will be most favorably affected by the new program, but all farmers will feel beneficial effects.

U. S. MARINE CORPS
RECRUITING STATION
OPENED AT ALBUQUERQUE

In line with their recruiting drive to build the Marine Corps up to a strength adequate for National Defense, the U. S. Marines have opened a new recruiting station at Albuquerque, according to information received today from Sergeant Marvin H. Martin, non-commissioned officer in charge of the new office.

The Albuquerque office has been authorized to accept an unlimited number of qualified applicants during May and will probably have an unlimited quota for at least the next six months. While the new recruiting station will be the only Marine Corps recruiting station in New Mexico, traveling recruiting parties will visit other cities in New Mexico at various times in order that all interested men may have an opportunity to apply for enlistment without any expense to themselves.

Applicants for enlistment in the Marines are required to be between the ages of 18 and 30, between 5' 4" and 6' 2" in height, with weight proportionate to height and age, be unmarried, possess at least an eighth grade education or equivalent, be of good character, and pass the required physical examination.

Young men enlisting in the Marines at the present time have their choice of obligating themselves to serve for the duration of the present National Emergency, or for four years, the regular term of enlistment.

British Soldier, Suitor for Seven Years, Charged With Murder.

LONDON.—After finding letters from a corporal on his sweetheart's dressing table, an army private, it was claimed by the prosecution, shot her dead.

"You have not been true to me," he is alleged to have told the girl. "I do not intend you to have another man to fool like you have me."

The soldier, Driver Edward George Beesley, 29 years old, of Oxford, England, British army private, was charged at Oxford with the murder of Miss Irene Sherry, 20 years old, whose real name was Irene Winifred Edwards, of Craven Arms, Shropshire, a domestic servant at Oxford, by shooting her with his service rifle.

Prosecutor E. G. Robey said Miss Sherry had been friendly with Beesley for a number of years, and it was obvious that he wanted to marry her.

In July of this year she became acquainted with Corporal James Fuller of Totnes road, Reading, and apparently they made up their minds to become engaged.

Rejected Admirer Calls.

On September 16 Beesley went to Oxford because he was anxious about Miss Sherry, not having heard from her for some time. He went to the girl's lodgings and waited in her room until she returned at 10:30 p. m. Shortly afterwards the fatal shot was heard.

Beesley, while waiting, had seen some letters which were written by Corporal Fuller. They were obviously love letters and they showed that Fuller and the girl were hoping to marry.

After reading the letters, alleged Robey, Beesley discharged his rifle, with the result that the girl was shot through the heart at close range while sitting in an armchair.

Counsel alleged that in a statement Beesley said:

"I waited until Miss Sherry came in. She seemed surprised to see me. I asked her why she had not written to me for nearly a month, and told her I knew the reason why."

"I asked her who Corporal James Fuller was, and she said she did not know. I produced some letters which I had found on her dressing table and she tried to grab them from me, but I pulled them back and put them in my pocket."

Treats It as a Joke.

"I said to her: 'You have not been true to me while I was in the army. It is about time you made up your mind after going with me for seven years. I do not intend you to have another man to fool like you have me.'"

"She then said she would please herself what she did, and laughed and treated it as a joke."

"I picked up my gun and pointed it at her as she sat in the chair. The next thing I heard was a shot. I thought I had missed her, and left the room and the house by the front door."

"I walked up Richmond road to the corner of Walton street and just wandered about. In the end I gave myself up at the Central police station."

Prosecutor Robey said that when at the station Beesley asked if the girl was dead. When told she was, he said he did not care what happened; he did not mean to kill her. Beesley was committed for trial at Oxford Assizes.

THE LIVESTOCK SITUATION

Government support of the hog market to assure a minimum of around $9 a cwt. for hogs at Chicago has already added much confidence to the hog growing fraternity. For the benefit of Pacific Coast hog growers, it should be pointed out that on the basis of $9 hogs at Chicago, the Coast price at the central markets may be figured at $10 or better per 100 lbs. On this basis, hog production should be a profitable business for many farmers and grain raisers through the western country, who are not now raising hogs.

The buying of pork products to support the market is to continue well into 1943 and if the plan works out satisfactorily, it may be extended. It is something new in government assistance to the farmer and there are many practical people in the trade who see in this form of government subsidy possibly a more practical means of farm help than anything that has yet been attempted. It is believed that the plan may also be less costly to the taxpayers.

There is much talk these days of government activity to stabilize commodity prices. It is understood that the control of retail prices may be a very difficult job, and of course the price paid by the consumer in going to be watched with no little interest by the producer. He will not be agreeable to a check on his own opportunity for profitable production unless there is also some control of the retail price. But in spite of this admitted difficulty in price control, many a rugged individualist in the livestock business has come around to the idea that a curb on undue inflation in commodity prices during the war emergency might be of long range value to the livestock and agricultural business.

Central livestock markets are available to the industry and to the government in its price control program. In fact, it would be impossible to have any satisfactory price control of cattle, calves, hogs and sheep without basing such programs on the use of the central markets at the various stockyards, where close supervision of trading is possible; and where all buyers and sellers would be trading on a basis of equality.

29 MILLION!

A record never before approached!

★When the 29,000,000th Ford rolled recently from the assembly line, an all-time record for the industry was set. 29,000,000 units built by the same management and all bearing one name—a name that has become one of the best-known trade-marks in the world!

It is significant that this achievement comes at a time when our country is making a mighty effort to re-arm swiftly. For to further that effort, to help speed it along in any possible way, we have offered the vast facilities of the Rouge Plant and every ounce of our experience.

As you read this, a new $21,000,000 Ford airplane engine plant, started only last fall, is nearly completed. A new magnesium alloy plant, one of the few in the country, is already in production on lightweight airplane engine castings. Work is right now under way on a new $18,000,000 plant for mass production of big bomber assemblies. Orders have been filled for military vehicles of several types, including army reconnaissance cars, staff cars and bomb service trucks.

In the midst of this activity for National Defense, building the 29 millionth Ford car is simply one part of the day's work.

The public has acclaimed the 1941 Ford car as the finest in Ford history. Ford Dealers are enjoying their greatest sales and expecting their best year since 1937.

It is good to be producing the things America needs, and to be setting records on the way!

NEW YORK

Birthday inter-views with venerated patri-archs of this land are usually given to bland optimism, though the heavens are falling. It's an old American custom. Henry Morgenthau Sr., just turned 85, has been an exception. We haven't seen his customary chat with the reporters this year, but when and if it is recorded we may be sure he sees what he sees and isn't trying to slick things up. Not that he's a pessimist or defeatist. I remember meeting him on Mt. Desert Island, Maine, a few years ago and was tremendously impressed with his faith, ardor and fighting spirit.

He knows a lot about wars and trouble. It was our Civil war that brought him here from his native Mannheim, Germany. His father was a prosperous cigar manufacturer. Civil war tariffs put him out of business and the family came to this country when Henry Morgenthau was nine years old. He was a lawyer at 23, turned to real estate and finance, and had his money-making over at 55, with time, means and mental equipment to turn to the human-ities, to philanthropy and good works in general. Now he has a son in the cabinet, children, grandchildren and great-grand-children and the unflagging en-ergy which are the reward of an abstemious life.

If there's a dark side, he isn't afraid to look at it. He who back from Europe in 1933 with the simple conclusion that the world was head- ing into another war. "There is, in Europe," he said, "no honest moral desire for peace." In 1913, his friend Woodrow Wilson made him ambassador to Turkey, which post he held until 1916. Thereafter, he helped pick up the pieces, in the ruin and chaos of the middle east. He has been both observing and studious and unhappily for easy-going optimists, singularly clear-sighted in his prophetic look ahead.

THERE'S

a tale of a professor who grew old writing a history of civilization. Late one night he finished it. Then, after a brief survey of the result of his arduous labor, he heaved a great sigh and threw the history in the fire.

Thorndike Now Holds Intelligence Can't Be Tested

"What's the matter?" asked his wife. "There isn't any civilization," he replied.

Dr. Edward L. Thorndike, author of the famous Thorndike intelligence test, probably wouldn't have been but any intelligence can't be tested, according to news reports of his latest lecture before the American Psychological Society at Philadel- phia. Dr. Thorndike's apos- tasy no doubt will set up some new theories.

If we don't learn much, about keeping out of wars and such, it isn't Dr. Thorndike's fault. A pro- fessor at Columbia for 37 years, he is the author of a shelf of books in the general field of the psychology of learning. He has just about sur- rounded the subject of "How We Learn." The question of what we learn seems to be still wide open.

From Williamsburg, Mass., he went to Wesleyan university, Har- vard and Columbia and taught at Western Reserve before joining the Teachers' college faculty in 1922. He is 67 years old.

Get Courage in Bitter, Bubbly

In These Days

Prof. Russell M. Wilder of the Mayo foundation is alarmed over our shortcomings in "the regard," he says. "Continued deficiency of the thiamin content of American diets may have led to a certain degree of irremediable deterioration of the national will."

His conclusion is one of many in which it is believed that we must look to the stars and planets for a remedy for our ills. Courage comes in many guises in these fantastic days.

Dr. Wilder is one of the country's leading specialists on nutrition and diseases of metabolism. Born and reared in Cincinnati, he was educated at the University of Chicago, and Rush Medical college, practiced in Chicago and has been with the Mayo foundation since 1922. He was a medical gas officer in the World war.

Old Glory Flies Abroad

The occasion was a visit to the field by President Roosevelt's ambassador to Poland, (insert, left) and Anthony Drexel Biddle, U. S. ambassador to Poland (insert, right).

U. S. Army Trics Dual Helmets

THE GETTYSBURG ADDRESS

Available for Framing
1/4 MAT

Those were modest words—Lincoln spoke at Gettysburg—and they proved wrong. For Americans do remember, still live for the ideal he expressed that day.

The Gettysburg Address, in Lincoln's handwriting, is one of our new set, "Three Great American Documents." Others are the Bill of Rights and the original Star Spangled Banner, by Francis Scott Key's handwriting. All are handsomely printed, full size, in sepia on cream antique paper. Includes a large leaflet giving the history of the documents. For the set, send your order to:

Building a Cottage.

QUESTION: I am planning to build a small cottage, doing all the work myself. Starting now, I plan that in two months I can finish the externals, and complete the interior at leisure. Does this seem too short? My idea is a one-room cottage, with a garage, altogether about 17 by 25 feet. Can you suggest a list of books containing instructions for the different trades that will carry me through to the end of the project?

ANSWER: If you have had no experience in building, you are tackling a job that is bigger than I think you realize. I greatly doubt if two months would be enough for the exterior. For information on concrete, write to the Portland Cement Association, 347 Madison Avenue, New York City. The National Lumber Manufacturers' association, Washington, D. C., has a very good pamphlet on the details of house framing. The large mail order houses issue instructions on plumbing and wiring. You should visit every house under construction that you can find, to see how the different materials are being put together. Before you start, you should be sure that the local building authorities approve of your plan and will let you go ahead.

New Shingles Over Old.

QUESTION: Should old wood shingles be removed before putting new ones on top? Are shingles that come in strips, as satisfactory as single shingles?

ANSWER: New shingles should be on top of the old, not only to save the cost of tearing out and clearing up the mess, but for the advantage of a roof with double thickness. Strip shingles are satisfactory, and should cost less in labor to apply.

Buying Furniture.

QUESTION: Where can I get information on what an inexperienced buyer of furniture should look for when he's out to get a bedroom set? Answer: Much of the information you need is furnished in a government booklet and "Furniture Selection," Report No. 18, of the National Committee on Wood Utilization. Write to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, enclosing 10 cents in coin.

House Painting.

QUESTION: Which is the better time, spring or fall, to have a house painted?

ANSWER: A house should be painted during a dry spell, and at a time when the thermometer is at 50 degrees or higher; however, there should be no painting during really hot weather. In spring, fresh insects, which are not so likely to be on hand in the fall.

Cracked Marble Floor.

QUESTION: How can I fill in or repair marble floor of halls four feet wide? In one case one side has dropped a little. We cannot put in a new floor.

ANSWER: The marble floor should be taken up and relaid. A new bed of cement can be laid down that will bring the flooring to its proper level and will take up the crack. To a good floor man the job should be simple.

Welding on Pipes.

QUESTION: Each of the burners in my range burner works perfectly by itself, but when both are on, one of them floods. What can I do about it?

ANSWER: As there may be any one of several causes, your best course is to report the case to the store where you bought the burner, or to the manufacturer. Curing the trouble may need an examination by a service man.

Replastering.

QUESTION: We are doing some remodeling, and need to replaster several spaces about four by eight feet. What is mixed with the lime for finishing coats, and in what proportions?

ANSWER: You can get ready mixed plaster from dealers in mason materials, and will find it more satisfactory than a mixture to be made at home.

Grease Spatters.

QUESTION: After removing grease spots from a wall, how should a kitchen wall be treated so that grease will not appear on new paper?

ANSWER: Wash the wall with a solution of ammonia in water, about half a pound to the gallon. Follow by rinsing with clear water, and allow to dry before papering.

COMMENCEMENT TIME

You can't believe it, can you? Susie is graduating from high school!

In between putting the final stitches on her organdy dress and entertaining visiting friends and relatives, are you going to try to find time to give her a party?

Please do. To her, it's a very important time, and she'll undoubtedly remember the gang's "last real get-together" for the rest of her life.

Why not a buffet supper? What with war raging elsewhere, you might play up the patriotic theme in decorations, refreshments and entertainment.

Use a white tablecloth, dotted with red and blue stars, and matching napkins — they're inexpensive and colorful. To top this off, use a trio of star-shaped red, white and blue candles for a centerpiece.

It won't be necessary for you to do much, except, of course, prepare the food. Games and chatter will fill up the evening. But remember that you have as guests youngsters with appetites. They like second helpings.

Serve an appetizer, one hot dish, plenty of salad and hot rolls, more cake or ice cream than you think you will possibly need, and flatter their sense of sophistication by offering second cups of coffee.

A fortune telling cake is always fun when the crowd is young and merry. You can write fortunes on slips of paper, roll them and wrap them in bits of waxed paper, and put them in the cake after it is baked. Another idea is to put in a little trinket for each guest — an engagement ring and a wedding ring, to forecast the first engagement and the first marriage; a key for happiness; a bean for industry; a toy soldier and so forth. You can buy these favors at the ten-cent store.

*Good Fortune Cake.

- 2 cups sifted cake flour
- 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup butter or other shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 egg yolks, well beaten
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 3 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks, then flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla and fold in egg whites. Bake in two greased 8-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375 degrees) 25 to 30 minutes. Double the recipe to make three 10-inch layers. Spread chocolate or maple frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake.

LYNN SAYS:

Games may or may not be the type of entertainment your crowd will enjoy. Just in case—here are a few suggestions:

As soon as guests arrive, they receive a card with the name of a food printed on it. Each player must then find someone with the card with the name that combines with the name on his own card. Suggested names are liver and bacon; apple pie and cheese; sauerkraut and wieners; brown bread and baked beans; ham and eggs; bread and butter; doughnuts and coffee; steak and onions; hot dogs and mustard. This game may be used in choosing supper partners.

Sardine—Some guest is chosen to be "It," and is given five minutes to hide in a spot large enough to hold several people. At the end of five minutes everyone else goes in search of "It." When one guest finds "It" he hides in the same spot and before long the hiding place is packed. The first person unable to squeeze in is "It."

THIS WEEK'S MENU

- Graduation Party
- All-American Appetizers
- *Americana Salad
- Clover Leaf Rolls
- *Veal on Skewers
- *Good Fortune Cake
- Ice Cream
- *Spiced Coffee
- *Recipes given.

*Spiced Coffee.

- 6 cups decaffeinated coffee
- 1/2 cup whipping cream, whipped
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Top each cup of coffee with a spoonful of whipped cream into which the spices have been folded. Sugar may be served with the coffee, if desired. You can use your favorite method of making the coffee, with regular grind for percolated or boiled coffee and drip grind for drip or glass maker. Allow a heaping tablespoon for each cup. And if you "perk" it, give it a few minutes extra brewing to bring out its full flavor.

Now that I've made suggestions for dessert, I'll go back to the real beginning of your party.

While placing the supper foods on the table, Susie can pass a tray of appetizers, which are, after all, just a reminder of the good things yet to come. A tiny American flag placed in the center of the tray will add to the party theme.

Potato Chips and Gratin.

Spread crisp potato chips with pimiento cheese. Serve plain or with a thick slice of pickle in the center of each. Chips may also be sprinkled with grated American or Parmesan cheese. Before serving, put under broiler to melt cheese and heat chips.

Stuffed Celery.

Scrape deep stalks of celery. Cut into 3-inch lengths. Place in ice water to which lemon juice has been added. The celery may be placed in a covered jar in a refrigerator until crisp. Several types of filling may be used to add variety.

Bacon Snacks.

Wrap 1/2 slice bacon around a sweet pickle or stuffed olive and fasten with a toothpick. Broil until bacon is crisp and serve immediately.

One first glance at the salad will bring an enthusiastic response from the crowd. Illustrated in the picture at the top of the column, it is called

*Americana Salad.

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 2 cups tomatoes
- 3 whole cloves
- 1 small bay leaf
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 1/2 teaspoon thyme
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper or paprika
- 3 tablespoons vinegar

Stir gelatin and cold water together. Let stand at least 3 to 5 minutes. Meanwhile simmer tomatoes with seasonings in a covered container for 10 to 15 minutes. Strain and add vinegar. Dissolve the softened gelatin in this mixture, and pour into one large mold, and chill until firm. When it has set and is ready to serve, it is divided into two squares with layers which are joined together with a filling of cream cheese. A cream-cheese star decorates the top. This recipe makes 6 portions.

Now for something truly different in the way of a hot dish—

*Veal on Skewers.

Cut boneless veal in pieces 1 1/2 inches square by about 1/4 inch thick. Stick on 8-inch metal skewers, alternating meat with slightly smaller peeled potato halves or cubes, chunks of carrot, and whole small white onions. Lay skewers in roasting pan, add 1 cup hot water, and salt. Cover and bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) for 1 hour, reduce heat to 350 degrees F., add more water if needed. Bake about 30 minutes longer, or until tender. Garnish with broiled bacon. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Assortment of Frills, Jabots to Highlight Summer Fashions

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

FRILLS, frills, frills! The call for frills and jabots and cascades of sheer loveliness as costume adornment recounds throughout all fashiondom this season.

Therefore, if you like to do dainty handwork, meet opportunity at your door. Make your own frills, for, as every woman knows, nothing can add the exquisite touch as well as a bit of fine needlework, whether it be in hand-rolled hems, deft hemstitching or wee hand-run tucks. It is almost unbelievable what a wondrous assortment of frills can be made from a yard or so of crisp, snowy organdy, exquisitely sheer handkerchief linen or other dainty fabrics.

Take a look at the collection of frilly items here illustrated. By devoting spare moments to the fascinating pastime of handrolling hems, handrunning wee tucks and so on, you can very easily fashion a wardrobe of fashionable frills. Being meticulously handmade, they will launder perfectly.

The spotlight of fashion is on sheer lingerie yokes, either in collar form or sewed into the dress as an actual yoke top. It does not take long to hand-tuck a yoke. Like the one pictured in the circle in the upper left corner. You can edge it with a ruffle of self organdy or lace. You really should have at least one big yoke collar in your collection.

A dramatic collar and cuff set, such as the girl seated is wearing, is almost indispensable when it comes to accenting a navy or black dress. Note the new low-cut "plunging" neckline of the collar. The collar is lined with self organdy. Cut duplicates, seam the wide frill in between, then turn and press and you will have no fraying edges. You can either hemstitch the frill or finish with a tiny rolled hem. Make the frill very full so that it will fall in uprightly ripples, as pictured. The same working directions apply to the cuffs. You can launder these collar and cuffs as often as you wish, and they will come out like new.

Simple indeed but very effective is the organdy frill worn demurely about a round snug-fitting neckline, as sketched. Emphasize the frilly effect with ruffling on the sleeves, as illustrated in the picture.

Bolero jackets take on a new look this season when they are collared with a frilled ruff, made of gleaming white organdy that goes rippling down each side of the front opening as the sketch here portrays. Try it! With scraps of the organdy left over, make yourself a scalloped collar with a wide frilled ruff as suggested in the sketch.

Perhaps the most intriguing news of all is the frilled lingerie cascade that travels from the neckline to the hemline of the now-co-fashionable slim princess frock. The sketch in the group pictures the idea. To get best results, cut the ruffling on circular lines, and, if you finish the edge with a hand-rolled hem you will be delighted with the sheer loveliness of this cascade that fans from a sailor collar of the organdy on down to the very hemline of the dress.

Make a white organdy cascade to baste in the front of your simple basic gown. Duplicate this frill in pastel blue or pink or orchid organdy to wear "on occasion" with your afternoon dress. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Glen-Plaid Suit

It's a suit season and no mistake. Plaids, checks and stripes are big news, they're tailored so meticulously they have the look of perfection. Here is a model that is characteristic of the present trend, which exploits quality-kind woollens styled in the new longer-jacket. Forstman does these Glen-Plaids in soft neutral tones, notably gray or beige with white. The skirt has grace and action because of its pleats. A suggestion of the military theme is achieved in the curved tucks at the shoulder line and in the saucy two-toned beret-type chapeau.

Wear Clothes Which Enhance Your Beauty

So you don't like slit skirts. Well, then, don't wear them.

You think purple is a horrible color? All right then, don't wear it.

You can't wear sailors? Then don't try. There are lots of women who adore slit skirts, look marvelous in purple and are mad about sailor hats. Leave these women to their choice and you take yours. There are enough good styles to go around, and no one woman need take it upon herself to illustrate all the current fashion trends.

It's up to each woman to select from current — and past — styles those which she likes and which look well on her—and if she wants to delve into the future that's all right, too, provided she conforms with current laws about what constitute clothes.

Nowadays fashions are really flexible. Many long-held taboos have been broken, and women are in the mood to shatter more traditions. We wear open-toed shoes in the winter and wool all the year round. If we like suits we don't confine their use to spring and fall—we wear them all winter under our fur coats. We wear chiffon in January, as well as velvet and lame; we wear sequins and lame in the afternoon instead of reserving them for evening.

Fashion changes with the times. To dress well is not a matter of aping, but of creating.

Men and Motors—The New Army on Wheels

Uncle Sam's motorized force—the new army on wheels—is symbolized by the "dawn patrol" of Chevrolet 4 x 4 army trucks shown across the bottom of the photo. The Chevrolet four-wheel-drive army truck, above, carries a complete telephone switchboard. Within a few minutes after the Fourth Division's motorized units completed a 235-mile trek from Fort Benning, Ga., on a practice mass movement, Major-General Lloyd R. Fredendall could communicate with every part of the vast encampment. The Fourth, moving in three columns, each 45 miles long, made the trip in 10 hours as compared with nearly 10 days before motorization.
