1913 Business Card Found in Courthouse Dome

When workmen began to dismantle the dome at the courthouse and took the flagstaff off they found a business card with the following: "Edward Sackett, Tin and Sheet Metal Works, Albuquerque, N. M." and written in long hand on the card was "July 21, 1918."

Mr. Roy Shafer was ill the first of this week. The Methodist pastor, Rev. John Klassen, stood in the Garage office during his illness.

Paul Brazel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Brazel, has been promoted to staff sergeant. He is stationed in California.

WARNING TO MOTORISTS
Albuquerque, N. M., July 27, 1942. S. P. Vidal, Collector of Internal Revenue for the District of New Mexico, has announced that while many operators of motor vehicles have purchased the five dollar "Use Tax Stamp" which was due on July 1, 1942, there are still many individuals in New Mexico who are operating such vehicles and who have not yet purchased the Stamp.

Through the month of July, Mr. Vidal pointed out, the Stamps may be purchased through local Postoffices but on and after Aug. 1, they may be bought only from the Cashier in the Internal Revenue office, Albuquerque.

As this tax is definitely a tax on the "use of an automobile, motorcycle or any motor-driven vehicle on the public highway," it attaches to any such vehicle which is in use or has been so used since July 1, 1942.

Collector Vidal has announced that any person operating a motor vehicle on the public highway without the necessary Stamp affixed thereto is subject to penalty of a fine of twenty-five dollars and/or thirty days in jail for failure to purchase the Stamp and to have it affixed to the windshield. It is the intention of the Bureau of Internal Revenue to vigorously pursue to a conclusion any such violation.

The New Mexico State Police, the sheriffs of the thirty-one counties in New Mexico and all law enforcement officers have been and are cooperating with the Internal Revenue force in enforcing the collection of the Motor Vehicle Tax.

John Allen Hamilton
Funeral services were held 2:30 Sunday afternoon at Ancho school for John Allen Hamilton, with Rev. T. N. James pastor Carrizozo Baptist Church officiating. Interment was in Ancho cemetery.

Mr. Hamilton was accidentally killed July 23 in an auto-truck wreck while on duty at Deming, N. M. He was a core driller for a Bisbee, Arizona, Mining concern. The body was shipped to the Kelley mortuary.

He was born March 30, 1912 in Hot Springs, Arkansas. In 1933 he was married to Lucile Millie Balow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Balow of Ancho, who survives, together with three children; Charles Allen, Christine Ann and Louise Lucile, also his father, Edward Hamilton of Hot Springs, Ark., and two brothers and one sister.

Out of town relatives who attended the services were: Mrs. J. W. Hill, Hot Springs, Ark.; Miss Bernice Balow, Hiawatha, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Balow, Reserve, Ark.; Mrs. Clarence Moyer, Kansas City, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Junious Tulk of Lovington, N. M.

THANKS
I wish to thank my fellow-Democrats for their generous response in signing my petitions, and also to those who took interest in behalf of my candidacy for Probate Judge of Lincoln County, by circulating my petitions. Again, I thank you.

Marcel C. St. John, Probate Judge, Lincoln County.

After attending the funeral of their brother-in-law, Mr. Ed L. Sullivan at Roswell last Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Scharf returned to the northern part of the state to finish a two weeks' rest period which they had started.

Mrs. Blaney Continues Very Ill
From the hospital comes word that Mrs. Blaney is still no better, and in fact some of her symptoms are much worse. At her bedside are her husband, Dr. R. E. Blaney, her sister, Mrs. Ernie Prehm and her friend, Mrs. Crone, a Christian science church leader from Chicago, Dr. Marce Kohn also of Chicago and Mrs. Robena Rogers, of Hillsdale, Michigan.

Mrs. Blaney has been a leader in civic, social and lodge circles for a number of years. She was one of the prominent educators of the County until her health began to fail. She is past Worthy Matron of the Eastern Star and her many friends continue to hope for her improvement.

Scrap Campaign Gaining Momentum
According to reports submitted by Victory Councilmen, 116 tons of scrap metal and 18 tons of scrap rubber have been sold or collected ready for sale, as a result of the recent scrap campaign conducted in the rural area.

According to the 1940 census this would give an average collection of 58 pounds of rubber and 363 pounds of scrap metal per person for farmers and ranchers. The campaigns were sponsored by Victory Councilmen under the general supervision of the USDA County War Board; each councilman contacting a group of five to ten people who were previously assigned them by the war board.

The drive is still under way in some of the communities and it is believed that the final report will be very complimentary to the Victory Councilmen and to the people in the rural areas, with whom the War Board was designated to work in sponsoring the drive.

Carl P. Radcliff, Sec. USDA Co. War Board.

Emergency Call For Knitters
The 42 Red Cross sweaters in the Lincoln County quota have been called for August 15th. If you can knit, please let us hear from you or contact us immediately, so that we may not fall down on this most urgently needed and useful apparel.

Thelma White, Chairman Red Cross Knitting Project

Card of Thanks
We wish to express our appreciation for the many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy to us in our recent bereavement.

Mrs. C. O. Davis and family

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Houston are entertaining Mr. Houston's father and sister, Mr. L. E. Houston, and his daughter, Miss Josephine Houston, from Lamesa, Texas.

The Vega Feed store is undergoing some changes. New counters, shelves and grain bins are being added.

Mr. and Mrs. Randall Greer went to Alamogordo on business the last weekend.

Mr. Lester Greer has been transferred from the Jap-Alien Camp at Santa Fe to German internment camp at Ft. Stanton as civilian guard. The Japs from the Santa Fe camp are being placed at Ft. Bliss and Lordsburg.

HONDO ITEMS
KANSAS VISITORS
Mr. John Bell, of Hondo, was pleasantly surprised last Sunday evening when his brother Jim Bell came to visit him. The brothers had not seen each other for thirty-four years.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bell of Haven, Kansas were accompanied by their two daughters, Miss Marceline Bell and Mrs. Roy Beach, the latter's husband being somewhere in Great Britain with the American armed forces.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Joiner of Hondo and Mr. and Mrs. Dimmit Bond of Ancho. Mrs. Bond is the oldest daughter of Mr. John Bell.

The Kansas visitors were delighted with our beautiful mountains and valleys and pure refreshing air and hoped to return to New Mexico soon for a longer visit.

Disagreeable Reports May Prove to be of Benefit
Developments in the progress of the war unfavorable to our side are always disagreeable and often disheartening and there's no use in blinking the fact that many recent events have been distinctly of that kind. These reverses, however, may in the long run prove to be a benefit instead of a disaster. If they serve to arouse the whole nation to a realization that the struggle against international gangsterism has only just begun and that it will require supreme and unified effort to suppress it and to deliver the world from its threat in the future, they will have done some good.

There are indications that there are still some elements in the country who have not yet come to this realization. Emphasis on self-interest is unfortunately apparent in some quarters. A complacent feeling that it is not necessary to exert one's self, that everything will turn out all right in the end exist in others. Magnification of the petty annoyances and discomforts inevitably incident to a war-time economy is still to be met with in various communities. All these attitudes tend to hamper the war effort and to prevent an all-out, whole-hearted, intensive support of the fight against barbarism and savagery.

REBEKAHS NOTICE
It is very urgent that the Daughters of Rebekah hold a meeting on Wednesday, August 12, 1942. Some business of the Lodge absolutely must be attended to on that date.

Birdie Walker, Secretary, Coalora Rebekah Lodge No. 15.

The Lincoln County mattress project is still in operation. The machinery was moved to Corona last Monday. Any number of Carrizozo families who came within the income classification limits are enjoying new mattresses made from new cotton which had been baled at nearby New Mexico points.

Mrs. Laura Sullivan of Roswell has passed the examination and has been accepted for the Women's Ambulance Corps. She was called to report for service last Monday.

try in a state of defense against threatened aggression, men who expressed sympathy for Hitlerism, men who were willing to treat with and do business with Hitler, such men certainly have no place in Congress or any part of a government engaged in a war against those very things.

No private business man, no head of a corporation, no director of any kind of enterprise would think of putting a man in a key position of his affairs who sympathized with his rivals or competitor. To send men to Congress whose records are conclusive evidence that their hearts are not in the war effort would be like the manager of a baseball team sending a pitcher to the mound whom he knew wanted the opposing team to win.

The people want this war prosecuted to a victorious conclusion and they want a just and humane peace that will make less likely, if it cannot prevent, such upheavals of barbarism as the world is now experiencing. To obtain this desire they will be careful to choose for their spokesmen in Congress men who think and feel as they do.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON
Consolidated Features—WNU Release.

NEW YORK.—One fancies that the least of current worries of Col. Julia O. Filkke, superintendent of the army nurse corps, is involved in the question whether or not she is entitled to retain the silver eagles which accompanied her new commission as colonel.

By the same token the commission itself seems to be in danger as a result of the prying of legal comma hunters who after the manner of their kind are probably rejoicing in a point they have extracted from their study of the law cheating the army of the United States. The law says that "qualified persons" are eligible for commissions. By virtue of this ruling Mrs. Filkke's colonelcy was sanctioned by the surgeon general, the adjutant general and the judge advocate.

High authority indeed; none the less it is questioned on the basic ground that there were no women in the army when congress passed the law; that, therefore, promotions of women are outside the law. The United States controller general, an important official since he passes on all pay vouchers, is inclined to accept the point raised. If, he says, congress meant women to be eligible for army rank, it would have said so. So there we are and so specifically is Colonel Filkke.

Even should the nice distinction be upheld, she will still, as major, be the highest ranking woman in the United States army. Commander of nearly 10,000 nurses, she is well-fitted to her responsibility, colonel or no colonel. A native of Verona, Wis., she went to Chicago, married there and was there left a widow. She prepared for nursing in the Augustana hospital in Chicago and after a post-graduate course in nursing and administration at Columbia university, she returned to Augustana hospital as assistant superintendent.

When World War I involved the United States she joined the army, serving three years in France, China and the Philippines. Subsequently she was attached for 12 years to the Walter Reed hospital in Washington and in May, 1937, succeeded Maj. Julia C. Silmsen as superintendent of the army nurse corps.

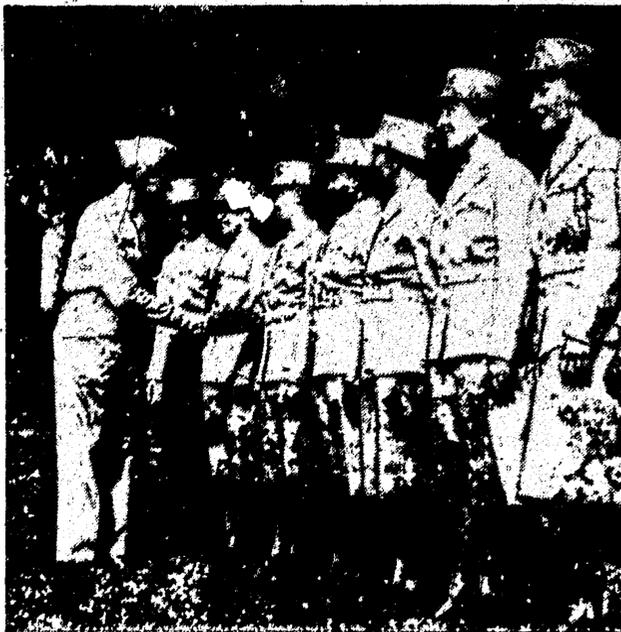

ELEVEN years ago Eugene J. Houdry, a Parisian scientist and inventor, arrived on these shores with his wife and two small children. Established in Philadelphia the family eventually moved to Ardmore, a main line suburb. Then 33 years old, Houdry had been at work in his native country over a period of years on a method for the catalytic cracking of oil by which the crude is converted into vapors at lower temperatures and pressures than had hitherto been used. These vapors, then, are brought into contact with a catalyst and are condensed into their various derivatives in proportions which can be controlled in the operation. In the midst of these researches in France—having already invented a process for obtaining octane gasoline vital to aviation—his money ran out. He could get no more and seeking practical encouragement in the United States, he migrated hither and found two great oil companies eager to finance his laboratory. Some $10,000,000 was paid out in perfecting Houdry's process and in devising and making apparatus for its use on a large commercial scale.

Now Eugene Houdry is cited as having succeeded in applying his catalytic cracking process to the commercial production of butadiene—something for which an eager public has been waiting since war began and our supply of rubber was cut off. For butadiene is the main ingredient of a very fine brand of synthetic rubber. Consequently, if all is well with the Houdry process, the present shortage in an essential commodity may be overcome much sooner than had been hoped.

In such case a currently dreaded event will be postponed, if not forever averted—the requisition of your tires by the government.

Immersed since his arrival in this country in scientific research Mr. Houdry, now a naturalized citizen, found time after the fall of France to help organize here that aggressively militant organization, "France Forever," a large national group of Free Frenchmen of which he is the president and its chief spokesman. "Only here," he has said, "could I have achieved such scientific success as has been vouchsafed me."

This cartload of Russian prisoners, captured by the Nazis, is on its way to be shot—somewhere on the Russian front. The Russians, following the "scorched earth" policy, deprive the Germans of any food that may be had, and for this reason, according to the Nazis, the Germans are forced to kill the Russians in order to feed their own soldiers.

Learning to Fly 'Sky Pups'

The U. S. Balloon Barrage Training Center at Camp Tyson, Tenn., provides the training necessary for the handling, sailing and repairing of the huge bags which are flown as an aerial stockade against attacking bombers. These balloons are flown in critical areas to prevent enemy aircraft from bombing at low altitudes and can be raised to great heights in a few minutes.

DOANS PILLS

RED RANGE By EUGENE CUNNINGHAM W.N.U. RELEASE

THE STORY SO FAR: Forced to run from the law to save his life, Con Cameron is anxious to prove his honesty. Arrested as a murder and robbery suspect because of his association with the notorious Rangers, he was in danger of being hanged as "Comanche" Lina, in spite of the fact that he had recently saved the life of the marshal, Nevil Lowe.

Then he felt a terrific blow upon his left breast.

long arroyo which the road paralleled.

"You'll be all right," he told her. "You can sit down and take it easy in the arroyo. They'll never guess you're here."

He jumped to scramble up again. The shooting was a steady rattle, now. There were yells, too. Caramba, he could tell from the flashes, was on the ground.

"Ride over him!" someone yelled savagely. "Come on!"

Con did not mount. He could see the bulk of Megeath's men and, this time, he had no slightest compunction about shooting at riders instead of horses. He shot his carbine empty with a raking fire along the line of the flashes that answered Caramba. Then he reloaded quickly and turned to the quiet arroyo.

He went abruptly over to explore Irby's alforjas. One of the leather saddle pockets held a pint of whisky, a can of matches, some bacon and a blackened length of telegraph wire with short sticks for handle—the rustler's flexible "iron" for altering brands. In the other alforja was an old shirt, some coffee, cartridges, and a piece of dirty, greasy cloth at which Con stared frowningly before he held it up for Caramba to see.

"Miral Looky! Now, where'd the rat get this motto he's been using for a gun-rag? God Bless Our Home

From the books of the corners, he jerked it off some wall. Bad luck, Monk! Like tearing up a Bible for cigarette papers."

They started the horse along the trail to the boulders. It went steadily, as if knowing the way. Then they had a drink apiece, and another, and smoked quietly.

The sun was dropping behind the western ridge and all the land was clear in a light that had a tinge of blackness in it. It was very still.

"Wonder when Topeka and the girl will come out," Caramba drawled as they swung into their saddles. "Not likely they'll catch up with us, them in a buckboard, even if we have killed plenty time awful dead."

They went at the walk along the dim ranch road. Caramba hummed and sang snatches of a dozen songs. Con looked to right and left, content to go slowly and watch the range. Abruptly, both turned to listen.

"Por dios! Seems your guess was poor," Con said, as behind them hoofbeats pounded. "The old man—Say! If he's really coming, he's rolling up the dust!"

The hoofbeats now blended with the dry whirring of wheels and thundered closer. And as they made out the mass of horses and buckboard, Topeka Tenison's voice lifted, calling them.

"What's the hurry?" Con answered, jumping Pancho into a lope and leaning to the buckboard as it came up to him.

"Megeath!" Tenison told him harshly. "He's up to something. We left town after you—all. Just before sundown Janet looked back. Megeath and a bunch is coming hell-bent. Can't be too much behind."

Mechanically, Con looked at Janet's face, a white blur in the dark. He wondered if she understood what Topeka was making so plain to him; that Gloomy Megeath was on her trail, not Tenison's. He put out a hand and it touched her arm. A thought came. He grinned one-sidedly and wondered how she would receive it. Before he could speak, Caramba voice it from beside Tenison.

"Leave the girl here! You go on with the buckboard, lickety-bridle! We'll put her off safe to one side. She'll be out of sight. We'll wade with Gloomy and his outfit a spell. Even if they stampede around us, they'll naturally figure that she's at with you. They'll bolt right after you. When you hit the house, send us out some of your best firemorners."

"But—" Janet began gaspingly. "But surely—"

"It's the best way!" Con assured her, face almost against her. Janet stood and stepped into the stirrup that Con cleared for her, then swung up to sit behind him, arms about his waist. Tenison lashed the team off, and Caramba, facing the rear, called that he could hear the Megeath men.

Con rode to the side, toward the of his wounds, while Caramba was telling the cook about their fight.

The pounding of a triangle waked Con and when he moved in the bunk his stiffened side twinged painfully. "He sat up and faced Caram-ba, who was examining his own burns and yawning. They went out to a long trough behind the bunkhouse and Con washed his side and rebandaged the long, shallow gash.

"Now, if somebody'll bring on about half a cow," he said, "I'll be ready to take care of it." They found the long bunkhouse table set. Gale Goree sat at the head of it and he grinned at them.

"Well, how's the young gladiator? Plain hell, as missing out on an aquabale that was right on our stepstone."

They finished breakfast and as they ate Goree set the cowboys to jobs for the day. Con listened and watched appreciatively. Goree marshaled his men like a general, with quick, sure orders that showed how he held every detail of the Broken Wheel work in mind.

Con found that his ugly gash and the weal across his right thigh hardly slowed him in the dusty confusion of the round corral. On the vice Pancho, he forefooted his first colt and dragged it to the wretches. Goree watched down his nose, lids gogging, apparently half-asleep where he leaned against the logs. But when Con had roped his fifth, surer and faster with the practice, the lanky Texan nodded slightly and went off to other affairs.

As Con went after his sixth colt, he saw the heads of Topeka Tenison and Janet above the corral top. He grinned faintly at sight of them. There were many things about the business of a working ranch which he had yet to learn, mostly dull, practical details connected with the business of profitably growing steaks and roasts on the hoof. Goree knew these things; Tenison, of course, knew even more, or knew the business more completely. But the spectacular part of a cowboy's work, the riding and roping, Con could do more expertly than most range-bred cowboys. For around the stockyards he had done more roping, ridden more dangerous horses, than the average working cowboy. So he looped the colt deftly and hummed to himself.

He was anxious to show his ability because of the Broken Wheel's name for hard efficiency. If Perch were something unusual with a rope and he could match him, that would be a good start as a Wheeler. Too, it might make Goree and Tenison less critical of what he lacked in general knowledge of range business. So he ignored twinges of pain from his side and concentrated on making every catch perfect.

As the morning wore on, the branding crew forgot to look critically at his work. Their faces grew strained and tired. Con knew that he had never done better roping. At last, the sixty-fourth colt was wearing the odd Broken Wheel brand and Con by way of bravado spun out a "county loop" that enclosed him, crooked a leg around his saddle horn, and put on his most respectful expression for Goree.

"If Perch—or somebody—will just show me a few of the fine points about roping," he said, "I'll try to earn my way."

"I reckon you done all right," Goree admitted.

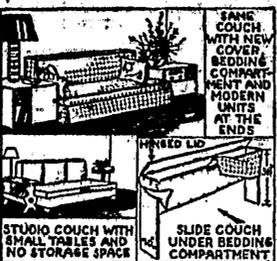

"All right?" one of the branders grunted. "Hell! You never run the iron on colts that fast on the Wheel since it had an axle! Perch never seen the day he could spin the twine with this boy, Gale. He had us yelling 'calf rope!' a time or two."

"He'll maybe make a hand, yet," Goree said, grinning. "This is just short-grass country, you know. You boys better eat. We never stopped you, account it's the first good morning's work any of you done in a month of Sundays. Then I want you, Skeet, to take Twenty and Caramba over to Red Mesa. Johnny Dutch is by himself. That'll be the last horses you bring in."

He turned away, then turned back: "Keep your eyes peeled. That no-account Helligo Canyon outfit might just accidental bulge over toward the Mesa. With four of you, you ought to do. But—take plenty shells!"

Con and Caramba watched the party go fast and eagerly off. Then Topeka Tenison showed them bunks and they crawled wearily into bed. Con fell asleep, in spite of the sting

A stiff wire brush is a great aid in keeping the burners of a gas or electric stove free from crumbs.

Chopped ripe olives with the merest dash of garlic make a pungent filling for small white bread sandwiches to be toasted and served with cocktails.

Strained honey, heated and mixed with soft butter and a dash of cinnamon and cloves, gives a delicious flavor to toasted muffins, hot waffles or pancakes.

Oven pre-heating for short baking jobs wastes heat. Plan to do your baking and oven-cooking at the same time, when possible.

Copper flashing around pipes, dormer windows and the edges of roofs never needs painting. But copper is now on the priority list. If you have or are installing galvanized flashing, remember that it should be examined frequently and kept covered with paint.

To increase the amount of frosting for custards, puddings, etc., without increasing the amount of material used, take the whites of the eggs you saved, beat them as usual and drop the mixture into a saucepan of boiling water. It will instantly rise to the top and will make a large amount of very light white frosting. Spread at once and serve.

A little candied ginger, finely chopped, gives zest to a fruit cocktail, salad or sherbet. It also is good added to whipped cream and used to top puddings. Be careful to use just a little of it, however.

A good way to utilize stale bread is to make crisp rusks to eat with butter and cheese. Break up the bread into fairly equal sizes, dip into a little sweetened milk, and bake in a warm oven until dry and crisp.

(SEAL) OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE Certificate

I, Mrs. Jessie M. Gonzales, Secretary of State of the State of New Mexico, do hereby certify that the attached mimeographed copy of the proclamation entitled:

"PUBLIC PROCLAMATION CALLING A PRIMARY ELECTION TO BE HELD IN THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO ON THE 12TH DAY OF SEPTEMBER, A. D., 1942"

is a true and correct copy of the original proclamation filed by Governor John E. Miles, in the office of the Secretary of State on the 6th day of July, 1942.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of New Mexico, at the City of Santa Fe, the Capital, on this SIXTH day of JULY, A. D., 1942.

Jessie M. Gonzales, Secretary of State, PUBLIC PROCLAMATION CALLING A PRIMARY ELECTION TO BE HELD IN THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO ON THE 12TH DAY OF SEPTEMBER, A. D., 1942

WHEREAS, the Primary Election Code of the State of New Mexico in Section 8 of Chapter 2, Laws of 1938, provides as follows:

"It shall be the duty of the Governor of the State of New Mexico by public proclamation issued by him and filed with the Secretary of State of the State of New Mexico on the first Monday in July of each even numbered year to call a primary election to be held in each county and precinct in the State of New Mexico on the second Saturday in September of such even numbered year, and he shall state in said proclamation the names of the political parties to which the primary shall apply, together with the offices for which each such political party shall nominate candidates, and such proclamation shall also contain the date on or before which the declarations and nominating petitions of candidates for such nominations shall be filed; and the offices wherein such declarations and petitions shall be filed, in order to entitle the candidate for such nomination to have his name printed upon the official ballot of his party at such primary."

WHEREAS, said Primary Election Code provides that said Act shall apply to all political parties for any of whose candidates there was cast at the last preceding general election as many as fifteen percentum (15%) of the total number of votes cast for the candidates for Governor by all parties at such election; and,

WHEREAS, at the last general election, the Democratic and Republican parties were the only political parties for any of whose candidates there was cast as many as fifteen percentum (15%) of the total number of votes cast for the candidates for Governor by all parties at such election; and,

WHEREAS, said Primary Election Code provides that candidates desiring to participate in the primary for any office must file their declaration of candidacy at least thirty (30) days before the date of the primary election; and,

WHEREAS, said Primary Election Code provides that the declaration of candidacy, together with supporting nominating petitions, shall, in the case of precinct and county offices and legislative offices filled by one county, be filed with the county clerk of the county wherein the declarant seeks office; and, in the case of offices filled by the state at large and districts comprising more than one county, such declarations and petitions shall be filed with the Secretary of State.

NOW, THEREFORE, by virtue of the authority and duty in me vested by law, I, John E. Miles, Governor of the State of New Mexico, do hereby publicly proclaim as follows:

1. That a primary election be and the same is hereby called to be held throughout the State of New Mexico and in each county and precinct thereof on the 13th day of September, A. D., 1942.

SELECTIVE SERVICE

Santa Fe, N. M., July 25. Developments on the Selective Service front were highlighted this week by the setting up of seven categories in a broad policy covering the induction of registrants. The new regulations will in no way interfere with the fundamental purposes of Selective Service, the procurement of sufficient men for the armed forces and maintenance of production essential to win the war.

Selective Service will first consider registrants without dependents of any kind under the law. These men will be selected for induction as rapidly as they can be made available.

When local boards have drained this category, they may then dip into the 3-B classification for registrants with similar dependency.

As the drain on manpower continues, local boards will move in logical sequence into the 3-A and 3-B classifications again, considering those registrants in 3 A and 3-B classifications who have wives and children with whom they maintain a bona fide family relationship.

1. Single men with no dependents.

2. Men who are not engaged in an activity essential to the war effort, but who have dependents other than a wife or child.

3. Men with dependents other than a wife or child, who are engaged in an activity essential to the war effort.

4. Married men without children who are not engaged in an activity essential to the war effort, but who maintain a bona fide family relationship with a wife only.

5. Married men without children who are engaged in an activity essential to the war effort, and who maintain a bona fide family relationship with a wife only.

6. Married men who are not engaged in an activity essential to the war effort, but who maintain a bona fide family relationship with a wife and children or children only.

7. Married men who are engaged in an activity essential to the war effort, and who maintain a bona fide relationship with a wife and children or children only.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Aside from the sixty-mile an hour Mosquito Torpedo Boats, the Sub Chasers are the speedsters of our Navy. Light and fast, they are the eyes of the Fleet on the water. They displace approximately 1,500 tons and cost about $2,400,000 each.

We need many of these powerful, fast little boats to cope with the treacherous submarine type of naval warfare fostered by our enemies. Everybody can help pay for more Sub Chasers by putting at least ten percent of his income into War Bonds. Buy Bonds or Stamps every pay day. Buy them from your bank, your post office, or from your office or factory through the Payroll Savings Plan.

abc's of wartime travel

avoid week-end travel

Travel is always heaviest on week-ends. By planning to start your trip on a Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday, you have a wider choice of accommodations and you make room for those who must travel on week-ends—war workers and men in the armed services.

be an early bird

Get full information well in advance of the day you plan to leave. Make your reservation and purchase your rail and Pullman tickets early. You thus are assured of accommodations and you avoid last minute rush. It's a good idea to buy your return reservation at the same time.

Cancel promptly IF PLANS CHANGE

The space you reserve on a train is valuable—too valuable to go unused. If you are forced to change your plans, please cancel your reservation and turn in your Pullman ticket for refund immediately so the space can be used by other travelers. Remember that seats on the Streamlined Daylights must be reserved in advance. Here, too, we ask you to turn in your reservation promptly if you decide not to go.

don't waste space

If you need a compartment, a drawing room, or a bedroom by all means buy it. But please don't take more space than absolutely necessary. A berth may be all that you really need. Or share a room with a friend or business associate when you are traveling together.

To get $25 a month starting in 10 years, buy an $18.75 War Bond every month now.

Garden—Fresh Vegetables Bring Health to Your Table (See Recipes Below.)

Summer Salads

Salads with summertime meals form a perfect alliance bringing your family precious pep-giving minerals and vitamins. Vitamins A, B, and C are well represented in crisp celery, golden skinned carrots, rosy cheeked tomatoes, green glowing cucumbers and lettuce. Dress them up with a light liquid salad oil blended with seasonings to bring out the hidden flavoring of the vegetables, and you have a perfect warm weather meal.

 Tossed Garden Salad
Wash and drain dry your favorite salad greens—such as lettuce, romaine, watercress or endive; a combination of two or more may be used. Cut or break into pieces and combine with portions of sliced celery, cucumber, green pepper, radishes and minced onion. Chill thoroughly. Then place in a salad bowl; add Basic French Dressing and bits of tomato. Toss lightly until well blended. This type of salad may also be served with just an oil and vinegar combination as a dressing.

Basic French Dressing.
(Makes 1/2 cup)
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon paprika
Dash white pepper
1/2 cup cider vinegar
1/4 cup mild salad oil
1/4 cup elder vinegar or lemon juice

Combine first five ingredients in a jar and blend well. Add vinegar, cover and shake; add oil and shake again thoroughly. Just before using, shake again. Or simply mix ingredients together in a bowl and beat with mixer until well blended.

Leftover meats and vegetables served daintily in lettuce cups make tempting main dishes for lunch or supper. Have a hot soup, potato chips, thin bread and butter sandwiches and fresh fruit to serve with salad. The next three salads are perfect as a main course.

Veal Salad, Summer Style.
(Serves 6)
2 cups cold veal, diced
1 cup string beans or celery or both
6 hard-cooked eggs
Salt and pepper
4 tablespoons salad oil
1 1/2 tablespoons vinegar
3 tomatoes
Mayonnaise
Lettuce and parsley

Chop eggs coarsely, combine with veal, oil, vinegar, salt and pepper. Let stand 30 minutes. Add mayonnaise to moisten. Arrange salad in a mound and garnish.

Jellied Green Pea Salad.
(Serves 6)
1 tablespoon gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1/4 cup pea liquor

Lynn Says:
Save Washing Time: So many new demands are being made on your time these days, it is wise to make the best possible use of each minute. One way is in how you use your washing machine. For instance, long washing is not necessarily good washing, and it wastes time. Soap undergoes a chemical change after it has been used a little while, suds "break down" and the soil is actually deposited again on the fabric. Then it is practically impossible to get the articles clean. Only individual experimentation can show how short to keep the washing of each load, and yet be thorough. Tests have revealed one woman taking only half the time of another to wash a practically identical washing, yet doing it better. Twenty-minute soaking hastens washing by loosening soil. Then remove water by wringing the articles into the first washer full of sudsy water of the right temperature.

THIS WEEK'S MENU

- Potato Salad
- Cold Sliced Corned Beef
- Tossed Garden Salad
- Bread and Butter Sandwiches
- Chocolate Pie
- Beverage
- *Recipe Given

1 tablespoon green pepper, chopped
Allspice, cloves, nutmeg
Green pepper rings
1 cup tomato puree
1 1/2 cups peas
1 hard-cooked egg, sliced
1 teaspoon chopped onion
Salt
Lettuce, dressing
Fix gelatin with pea liquor. Add puree, onion, salt, spices. Let cool and thicken. Add peas, chopped green pepper. Mold and chill. Garnish with pepper rings, egg, and lettuce.

Royal Meat Salad.
2 cups diced, cooked meat
1 cup diced celery
1 cup Bing cherries
4 hard-cooked eggs
1/2 cup chopped pecans
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup mayonnaise
Salad greens
Combine meat with celery, pitted cherries, diced eggs, pecans and salt. Chill thoroughly. Just before serving, add mayonnaise and toss lightly. Pile on salad greens and garnish with additional slices of hard-cooked eggs and Bing cherries.

Savory Corned Beef Loaf.
(Serves 6)
2 tablespoons gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1 1/2 cups tomato juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated onion juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 1/2 cups corned beef cut in small pieces
1/4 cup chopped celery
3 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
1/4 cup chopped pickle relish (if desired)

Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve in hot tomato juice. Add salt, onion juice, lemon juice and Worcestershire sauce. Stir well. Rinse loaf pan out with cold water. Garnish bottom with slices of hard cooked egg and cover with a little of the gelatin liquid. Chill in refrigerator until set. Cool remaining liquid until mixture begins to thicken and fold in corned beef, celery and pickle relish. Line sides of loaf pan with sliced eggs and fill with meat mixture. Chill until firm. Unmold on platter and garnish with watercress, lettuce or desired greens. Serve with mayonnaise or any desired dressing.

To save sugar, omit dessert and serve a pretty chilled salad with coffee and wafers as a last course. You can prepare this in the cool morning hours and keep in the refrigerator until just ready to serve.

Frozen Fruit Salad.
(Serves 6)
3 three-ounce cakes cream cheese
2 tablespoons cream
1/4 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup orange sections
1/2 cup seeded and quartered Royal Anne cherries
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup maraschino cherries, chopped
2 tablespoons ginger, ln.
1 cup cream, whipped
Mix cream cheese and 2 tablespoons cream. Add mayonnaise, lemon juice and salt. Combine orange sections, cherries, and nut meats, and add to cream cheese mixture. Fold in whipped cream and pour into freezing tray and allow to freeze in electrical refrigerator without stirring. Garnish with orange sections and cherry halves.

Common Sense Will Help Smash Summertime's Heat

Dress Lightly, Eat Little but Often, Relax, Don't Get Too Much Sun at One Time, Is Way to Keep Cool.

By CLIFF LANGE
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Don't let the heat get you down! Don't let it keep you from working, or eating or enjoying your spare time. Don't let it keep you from sleeping and getting that so very necessary rest.

Science and 1942 ingenuity have gone a long way helping you combat the heat waves. Combine this with the basic aid of forgetting the temperature, and you'll be well on the way to whipping those red hot, "mid-summer blues."

True, you can't do much about lowering the sizzling temperature. You can do a number of things to help keep yourself cool as you go through your daily routine.

For instance, the first thing to remember to do is to "dress cool." Don't wear heavy, tight fitting clothing.

Clothing has been devised—from the time when animal pelts were the style both for man, woman and grown-up children—as a protection from the elements whether sun, rain, snow, sleet or biting wind. Don't use winter style of "dressing" for the summertime. Shed some of those clothes!

You ladies who are handy with the scissors, needle and thread can whip together some dandy summer work, play or "visiting" dresses easily enough these days. There is still plenty of dress material to be had. Ready-made dresses are also plentiful, and reasonably priced, too.

Take a look at your favorite store. You'll see both plenty of dresses, and material to make them.

There is no reason, either, why the men, young and old, shouldn't be dressed to combat the heat. Many men, when asked why they are dressed so "hot" in the summertime, usually give an answer which seems to suggest they "hadn't thought about it" or "were too busy" to do anything about it. Meanwhile they continue working with the sweat rolling down their temples.

Men are slow in changing to new, even a more comfortable style of clothing. Those that aren't conservative aren't getting chafed around by the heat this year like their more backward brethren are. They were more willing—i.e., the married men, the fathers—to see their daughters going around in shorts, rather than themselves. When really it was the men, not the women that needed them!

Maybe, when shortages in cloth, dress goods begins to appear, which it hasn't, as yet, it will be the usual thing for the men to be wearing them. What difference does it make whether they are worn driving the tractor, working in a factory, or rolling a truck down the highway.

Like clothing, food in the summertime has much to do about keeping one from being knocked out, figuratively or actually.

Don't eat so much "heavy" food even though you do have to eat plenty of food, either because of your job, or your nature. "Eat but little, but often" holds more true for summertime than any time of the year.

That "little, but often" holds for the so-called light foods which you see advertised in your grocery, meat shop, fruit store and delicatessen.

In the summertime is when "acid conditions" get you quicker than any other season. It is such a condition which affects you both in your ability to work, and capabilities of Uuum-Humh!

And this is an ice cream cone. It could be vanilla, peach, lemon, tutti-frutti, or perhaps pineapple. It doesn't make that much difference, though.

The man behind the ice cream cone is important. That man is hot. He wanted to do something about it. He did. He bought that ice cream cone. He is now about to give it a genuine workout.

When he was a little boy he learned that this was one of the more suitable ways of cooling off. He also learned that the hotter the weather the more you eat of them, and also the quicker you have to eat them or they drip over your hands.

enjoying your activities during the heat of the day.

Check up on yourself. See how much of the food you are eating is "acid" producing. If you aren't sure, ask your doctor. He'll be able to tell you without much ado. A trip straight to the druggist from his office in case he has prescribed for you either to counteract an acid condition, or prevent one, is then in order. If you haven't noticed already, at the druggists you'll see many preparations to prevent, allay, or stop the personal outward discomforts due to the heat.

Talcum powder, salt tablets, soaps, sunburn salves and oils—such are just a few of the many articles available which are almost a necessity around the home during the torrid time.

It is during these hot months when the very youngest, and the oldest suffer the most. Infants, not being able to express their displeasure at being uncomfortable in any other way than their only way, a reasonable crying spell, or a healthy wail, should be closely watched.

They should be dressed with a minimum amount of clothing. Either next to nothing, or nothing. The coolest side of the house, or out on the porch, or in the shade beneath the tree is the spot for them.

The old folks even though less apt to complain about the heat are more susceptible to it than those

—King Cold—

This method of keeping cool (or cold, if you prefer) is just one of many hundreds of ways available. This young fellow has a look of doubt, a stiffness of form which causes a person looking at him to wonder whether this is the best method to defeat the heat of summer. Perhaps it is just a spirit of contemplation which has overcome him—lifted him above all mortals, away from mundane sights. Or is it?

'War Nerves' Even Disturbing Children

The war has created for children many serious problems, which American parents and teachers must face. Dr. Clifford E. Erickson of the school of education, Northwestern university, asserted in a lecture of the summer session series at the Evanston, Ill., university. Basing his conclusions on research studies and confidential documents regarding the effect of the war on English children, Dr. Erickson warned that under present conditions it is impossible to protect children from many life situations which have formerly been "tabooed." "In many cases we can no longer keep children from knowledge of death, dying, disease, wounds, birth, sex, and human nature in the raw," he said, adding that as a result children are emotionally disturbed.

Best Way

This is one of the nation's favorite ways of cooling off. It doesn't make any difference whether you swim in a private pool, a park, river, pond lake or sea—it does the trick.

The summer sun, in seeming retaliation, shows its resentment on thousands of swimmers every day by giving them a severe case of sunburn, or blistering.

Enjoy your swim, but don't take too much of the sun at one time.

who complain. They, too, should be made as comfortable as possible. They, too, are the ones who should be reminded that what they formerly used to do, "just to help out," shouldn't be done in the hot weather. For there is a debilitating effect of the sun quickly noticeable on the aged and weak.

One of the pleasures of the summer months are the outdoor picnics, the family reunions, the parties and fishing trips both for the youngsters and the grownups.

Although rubber restrictions will cut down on many of the long auto trips on such picnics and outdoor excursions, it won't—at least it shouldn't for the ingenious—cut down on the outings held in the nearby woods, or even in the side, or back.

It is on such picnics, and side-yard excursions that real summer time meals, old style "Dutch Lunches" can be served. Meals having cold cuts, cold cuts, cheeses, lemonade, iced-tea, iced-coffee, and other fruit juice drinks.

The little extra equipment needed for such meals that break the monotony of eating indoors all the time is available at any of the local retail stores. It used to be during the not far past days that it was thought necessary to travel 15 to 50 miles to a favorite picnic spot. There there would be the steak fry on the fire pits, or the welner roast.

Today, with plenty of room available, alongside or behind the house, or in the field or woods near home, there is no reason why similar "picnic" equipment isn't available. The war hasn't stopped, in fact, couldn't stop, American ingenuity.

Many times, too, in the desire to cool off there were long trips to distant pools, or "favorite" spots on lakes and rivers. Today, when rationing has stopped that there is no reason why the shower equipment at home shouldn't be given an extra workout.

You know, just because it used to be only the kids who had a good time with the outdoor shower is no reason why you couldn't enjoy one, too.

Of course if you dislike the idea of imitating the kids and enjoying the whirling spray, why not rig up an outfit for you and the rest of the older persons.

Such an outfit could be dropped from one of the trees in the yard, or attached to a post used for the washing.

This war has brought the people of the nation more closely together than at any time since the advent of the automobile. This year there'll be more local entertaining, visiting, and genuine social life than ever before.

Common sense will take care of most of the heat's oppressiveness. That which can't be taken care of should be treated as a matter of fact. A matter of, "Well, this is the summertime. It should be hot." This summer has seen, and will continue seeing until the days cool off, plenty of local picnics in which various successful means to combat the heat have been achieved. You can do more about taking care of the heat by actually doing something to counteract the effects of it. Talking about the weather, about "how hot it is" isn't doing you any good, nor the person saying it. You got to help yourself, and those not able to help themselves, if you want to let Mr. Sun continue working while you do.

Such a Racket Couldn't Be Kept From Landlord

The landlord was showing a prospective tenant the premises. Everything seemed to be satisfactory, when the landlord spoke up. "You know, we keep it very quiet and orderly here," he said. "Do you have any children?" "No, just my wife and myself," was the reply. "Do you have a piano, a radio, or a phonograph?" "No." "Do you play any musical instruments?" "No." "Do you have a cat, or dog, or a parrot?" "No, but I feel that in all fairness I must tell you my fountain pen scratches when I write with it."

Medical officers have long recognized tobacco as an aid to morale among our armed forces. Surveys among the men themselves have shown that tobacco is their favorite gift. If you have a friend or relative in the Army, Navy, Marines, or Coast Guard who smokes a pipe or rolls his own, nothing would be more appreciated than a pound of his favorite tobacco. Prince Albert, the world's largest-selling smoking tobacco, in the pound can be recommended by local dealers as an ideal gift for men in the service.—Adv.

WINTER USE OF SUMMER CABINS REQUIRES RECONSTRUCTION

IT OFTEN happens that there is need for doing something to summer cabins to make them possible for winter occupancy. Whether or not this is possible depends on construction, of course; on the tightness of the walls and roof. With log cabins there should be little difficulty, for the heavy walls when tightly chinked give good protection against winter cold. The first step should be the closing of openings by which outside air could enter, including the fitting of storm windows and doors. If necessary, the inside of the roof should be sheathed; if not with boards, at least with two layers of heavy building paper or roofing felt, nailed over the rafters. As cabins are usually built on posts and are open underneath, the insulation of the floor is important. One method is to cover the floor with heavy building paper to make it proof against drafts and to lay a new floor on top. Another is to cover the under side of the floor with insulating material in blanket form, and with moisture-proof protection. Many kinds of this material can be had in sizes that will fit between the floor beams, and that can be easily put on, if there is space enough under the cabin for working. A third method is to stretch chicken wire between the posts as a support for a bank of earth to keep out winter winds. In winterizing a summer cabin the two important points are to check the entrance of cold air and the escape of warm air. The extent to which this can be done depends, of course, on the original construction and also on the ingenuity of the owner.

Cleaning a Gas Range
Question: What is the best method for removing burned grease and drippings from the burners and surfaces of a gas range?
Answer: This is a question that has been troubling home owners for years, and has finally reached the point where many gas companies are paying attention to it. Some of the larger companies now have an arrangement by which they will undertake the cleaning and conditioning of a gas range at a charge that depends on the amount of work to be done. Cleaning crusted burners involves boiling them in a strong solution of washing soda and water, and at best is a messy job. The first move should be to ask the gas company whether it is prepared to give such service. If it is not, it will, at least, instruct the home owner on the best methods.

Darkened Stone Fireplace
Question: I have a carved Bedford stone fireplace which has become quite dark gray. Washing does not help. How can I freshen up the stone without whitewashing it?
Answer: Try scrubbing with a paste made of scouring powder and a little water, to which add some household ammonia. Or rub with a carborundum block. Rinse thoroughly afterward. If this does not clean the stone, the next thing to do would be to have a stonemason do the job.

Attic Ventilation
Question: Can sweating in the attic of an insulated house be remedied by putting a louver between the roof and the ceiling?
Answer: The best offset for sweating is ventilation; but for best results in an attic, there should be louvers or other openings at opposite sides, so that cross ventilation will be secured.

Spattered Paint
Question: When our church was redecorated, paint was spattered on one of the lacquered brass vessels. How can it be removed without injuring the lacquer?
Answer: That cannot be done; for anything that would take off the paint will also affect the lacquer. Your best chance is to scrape very gently with a razor blade.

Soot in Pipes
Question: We burn soft coal in our cookstove. Can the pipe be cleared of soot without taking it down?
Answer: Not with any satisfaction. The collection of soot in a stovepipe can be greatly reduced by running it from the stove to the chimney on a continuous slant. Soot will then not be as likely to collect as it is in a pipe that in parts is horizontal.

Ink Stains on Rug
Question: How can I remove ink stains from my Chinese rug? I have tried salt, mild soap and water, scrubbing and a cleaner, but the spots remain.
Answer: Skim milk is the usual solvent for ink stains. But some kinds of ink are indelible. For best results, the rug should be sent out for professional cleaning.

Lace Makes Lovely, Dignified Midseason Suits and Dresses

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

KEEPING women attractively and suitably apparelled with minimum yardage and maximum good taste and ingenuity is the responsibility which rests with designers in these momentous times. Realizing that the "feminine touch" is a part of every woman's duty to her country, those to whom the task of timely costume design has been entrusted turn to lace as a wonderfully effective weapon when it comes to combatting the tenseness war brings on and maintaining a high morale front. Then, too, lace is non-priority, which counts greatly in favor of its use.

That dress-up call which comes to women after they have spent hours and hours in war service, as so many thousands are doing these days, is being perfectly answered not only by gowns made of lovely lace but by the newest gesture, the suit-dress tailored of lace. See the "full-dress" jacket dress of black celanese lace shown to the left in the above illustration. You'll be ready for every occasion with a stunning twosome like this in your wardrobe collection. One of the nice things about celanese lace is its fine sheen and choice silken look.

It adds oomph to this costume that the jacket is well cut on the longer lines so smartly in fashion this season. Self-lace covered buttons add to the fine fineness of this charming outfit. The sleeves are long and snug to make them perfect for the long or short colored gloves which add dash to black lace. There's always a ladylike, about long sleeves. The dress has a discreetly flared skirt which flatters the figure. This ensemble is completely smart and in good taste for the street, restaurant or for dancing. The hat with its cunning lace frill is a masterpiece in coquetry as it dips saucily over the brow and swings high to the back.

Two romantic fabrics are combined in the charming dress pictured to the right. For this attractive dress black lace is used with black crepe. This disarmingly lovely afternoon costume would decorate any scene to good advantage. The slim skirt is knife pleated for added interest. The rather tailored jacket is nevertheless dressy because of the mere fact that it is lace. The long, narrow sleeves are edged with the black crepe, and the collar and closing are bound in the crepe, cardigan style. There are two large patch pockets.

There's an exquiliteness about sheer black Chantilly lace which always carries an aristocratic air born of years of high style prestige. Chantilly lace will ever and always continue to give that wonderful feeling of assurance only the best can give. Pictured in the inset is a blouse of patrician black Chantilly lace such as never fails to perfectly complement feminine beauty. A blouse of this type will prove a most treasured possession. They carry these black lace charms in almost any important blouse department or specialty shop. If you know how to sew, the making of the blouse is simple, and remnants of perfectly exquisite lace are often available at prices to fit low budgets. When this lace fantasy is completed, you'll find it a priceless possession.

As to lace accessories, you can get adorable little calots to wear back of your pompadour, also an assortment of lace mantillas, lace gloves, long or short. The climax is reached in tiny lace butterflies mounted to wear as earrings.

Pastel Plaid

Choose for your fall casual coat a plaid wool in soft pastel coloring. This is a coat that college girls adore and young matrons find utterly to their liking. The colors are so blended they "go with" everything.—The tuxedo collar is excellent style, and the slashed pockets are a practical detail. The beret is especially a "conversation piece," for fashion's stamp of approval is affixed to berets in accents bold and clear. They are not only showing berets in conservative dimensions, but the huge beret either in felt or velvet registers as a "fashion-first" timed for immediate wear with summer and midseason frocks. Some of the new, large berets are dramatically feathered or strikingly and picturesquely quill-trimmed.

Less Formal Wedding Dresses Can Be Pretty

The many marriages taking place at a "moment's notice" so to speak, because of limited buroughs for those in service and other circumstances of war, are bringing about a trend to practicality in the matter of simple ceremony. In consequence, many brides are giving up the idea of an elaborate wedding gown, preferring a simple frock or suit which will be wearable for various occasions later.

Summer brides who cling to the idea of white are looking lovely in dainty organdies or marquisettes which can double after the wedding for party wear. The suit of bengaline lavished with white, frilly neckwear and other snowy detail is the choice of many a bride who needs must do away with formality.

Decorative

Charming are the picturesque snoods which young girls are wearing this summer. There simply is no limit to the decorative detail being lavished on these cunning head coverings. An unusually attractive snood is made of red ribbon laced and tied with myriads of wee bows, with gay felt flowers clustered about the lower section at the nape of the neck.

New Tweeds

Comes into the autumn fabric realm a series of new tweeds among which the weaves in olive green tones look refreshingly new and outstanding. Again color will be stressed in woolens, notably bright reds, greens and blues lighter than navy. Gold tones, molasses brown and grape colorings are also in promise.

Amusement in Work

When men are rightly occupied, their amusement grows out of their work, as the color petals out of a fruitful flower; when they are faithfully helpful and compassionate, all their emotions are steady, perpetual and vivifying to the soul as is the natural pulse to the body.—John Ruskin.

A Week of The War

Chairman Nelson, as an index of the nation's productive effort, estimated that approximately 36 percent of the U. S.'s record breaking income during the first six months of this year went into military channels. This compares, he said, to the 50 to 75 percent of total income being spent by Great Britain and Germany.

The War Production Board announced it will concentrate production of civilian goods in certain plants and regions as much as possible. The Board said, as a general rule, small plants will be kept in civilian production and large plants will be required to suspend civilian production. Civilian production will be restricted or suspended in regions where labor is urgently needed in war plants or where power shortages are likely to occur.

RATIONING

Price Administrator Henderson reported gasoline coupon counterfeiters had been peddling bogus ration books in the East and stated these "saboteurs attacking our war program" will be prosecuted promptly and vigorously. All persons found to be in possession of the counterfeit books, he said, are liable to have their regularly issued ration books either revoked or withheld. Because of delays in obtaining gasoline rationing coupon books, the OPA said service stations may sell gasoline on a "coupon credit" basis until midnight July 31.

The OPA increased tire and tube quotas for August and said 90,000 bicycles will be made available for rationing in August as compared with 45,000 in July. The office said only trucks engaged in services essential to the war effort or public health and safety will be entitled to recapped or new tires after July 28 under a drastic revision of the tire rationing regulations. The OPA published names and addresses of Field Representatives who may be called upon by tire dealers, recappers, truck operators and other users of tires for aid in solving problems arising under the rationing regulations.

Maximum PRICES and RENTS

Price Administrator Henderson reported "Government controls of prices and rents, where they are in effect, are doing a good job of holding down prices, but uncontrolled food prices are showing a definite inflationary tendency." He said, "The total cost of food to city families advanced by 1.3 percent between May 15 and June 15, containing the steady upward price trend of the previous 14 months and offsetting the benefits of price control on all foodstuffs covered by the general regulation." Housewives and other members of the buying public will acquire the legal right, beginning July 31, to bring civil suits for damages against any storekeeper who charges more than OPA regulations permit. The purchaser is entitled to recover $50 in damages plus attorney's fees or triple the amount of the overcharge plus attorney's fees, whichever is larger. Similar suits may be filed in defense rental areas against landlords who collect rents above those permitted by OPA orders.

The office reported it has designated 370 areas as defense rental areas and by August 1 rent regulations will become effective in 94 of these areas.

Agriculture Secretary Wickard announced a price adjustment and subsidy program designed to ease the temporary shortage of meats in Eastern states.

THE WAR FRONT

The Navy reported U. S. submarines in Far Eastern waters have sunk another Japanese destroyer, a medium-sized tanker, three cargo ships, and possibly a fourth cargo ship. American Air Forces caused heavy damage to enemy docks and port installations at Tobruk, Benghazi, Suda

Bank Deposits

Santa Fe, N. M. New Mexico bank deposits totaled $18,836,000 last June 30, an increase of approximately $250,000 over the December 31 call report. State Bank Examiner Woodlan P. Saunders announced today. Loans, he said, showed only a "negligible" gain during the six months, but investments in government securities increased almost $1,000,000, indicating, he added, that "the banks are striving to do their part in the war effort."

Bay Crete.

President Roosevelt said Admiral William D. Leahy, Former U. S. Ambassador to Vichy France has been called back to active duty to serve as Chief of Staff of the Armed Forces. Gen. MacArthur reported from Australia that the new 2,500-man Japanese invasion force landed in the Buna-Ambasi-Gona area in New Guinea on July 22 has been subjected to such damaging raids that few, if any, Japanese ships are left in the vicinity of the invasion. The Navy announced 17 more United Nations merchant vessels have been lost.

ARMY

The nine Army Corps Areas were reorganized and renamed "Service Commands." The reorganization will further decentralize the operation of services of supply activity and eliminate duplicating facilities. War Secretary Stimson said 28,000 jaundice cases developed among army personnel in the U. S. and abroad between January 1 and July 4, apparently due to the use of yellow fever vaccine. Sixty-two deaths resulted. "There has been a change in the form of yellow fever vaccine now used which the Surgeon General thinks will eliminate the whole trouble. Director Hobby of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps said 20 companies of 150 women each will be trained by the end of this year.

TAXATION and PROFITS

The House passed and sent to the Senate the War Revenue bill, estimated to yield about $6,300 million, providing a 45 percent normal and surtax income rate on corporations and a 90-percent excess profit tax. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, however, said a tax program of less than $8,700 million of additional revenue would be inadequate.

The House Naval Affairs Committee, after investigating 40,000 contracts, said "95 percent of the war contractors are doing an effective job and receiving only fair and reasonable profits.

Scrap Salvage Campaign

President Roosevelt reported the recent scrap rubber collection drive added 454,000 tons to the government's stockpile—exclusive of rubber in small piles still at service stations and junk dealers. WPB Chairman Nelson asked state and local governments to lend their trucks and workers to local salvage committees to help transport scrap material collections before winter sets in. To keep steel furnaces going at full capacity, more than 750,000 freight cars will be required to carry scrap iron and steel.

The WPB extended the tin can salvage program to 104 cities in addition to 36 metropolitan areas previously announced, because of tinning plant capacity requirements have been increased from 250,000 to 400,000 tons. The Board said the government will requisition from junk dealers all useless automobiles, those that cannot be repaired on a practical basis, to maintain the present peak movement of automobile scrap to mills. On the basis of a questionnaire to 350 firms, the Board estimated 100 million pounds of essential chemicals could be realized in the next 18 months if manufacturers of war equipment began now to recover wasted spray paints.
