SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Overloading has been responsible for much lost tire mileage on commercial and farm motor trucks. Loading of a truck or trailer so the weight is evenly distributed to all load-carrying wheels will prove an important rubber conservation measure. It pays to check loads.

If the average rubber consumption in China, Russia and India were brought up to American rubber consumption standards, they would require 4,500,000 tons of rubber a year, nearly twice as much as the anticipated world supply of natural and synthetic rubber after the war.

Things I Never Knew 'Til Now: That Uncle Sam lost 10,500 soldiers, sailors and marines in 1944—not by Jap or Nazi bullets, but by accidents in the U. S.

That 39,999,000 Americans have been injured in home-front accidents since the war started.

That drinking on the part of either the driver or the pedestrian is involved in one out of every five fatal traffic accidents, and that, even in wartime, one or both drivers in fatal accidents violate a law in two out of every three cases.

That about 7,000 persons were drowned in the United States last year. . . . Smokers cause nearly a fifth of all fires in the U. S. A.

That thousands of hunters will be maimed this year—and nearly 1,000 will be killed in hunting accidents unless the hunter is extra careful.

That Benjamin Franklin was one of the first safety advocates in America. Remember? He said: "Haste makes waste" and "Carelessness does more harm than want of knowledge."

That the Chicago fire of 1871, the Johnstown flood of 1883, the Galveston tidal wave of 1900, the San Francisco earthquake of 1906, the sinking of the Titanic in 1912, the Boston night club fire in 1942, and all the other major disasters since 1865 have killed less than 25,000 Americans.

That accident figures prove the safest people in the U. S. are little girls between the ages of 5 and 14. . . . There is an accidental death in the U. S. every 8 1/2 minutes—and an injury every 3 seconds!

That the Seaford Nylon plant of E. I. duPont de Nemours & Company has the best no-injury record in American industry, having gone nearly 17,000,000 man-hours without a single lost time injury to one of its employees.

That even if more than 700,000 women drivers were involved in traffic accidents in 1941, there is no conclusive evidence that women are more reckless than men when it comes to driving automobiles.

That communications is the safest industry and mining the most dangerous. . . . One person in 14 will have an accident in the United States in 1945, if the 1944 pattern prevails.

That peanuts, coins, medals, marbles and such simple things can be and are killers. More than 400 children under five years of age are killed every year because small objects like these are so easily sucked into the lungs.

Chic Easter Costumes Flaunt Smartest Accessories Ever

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THE new accessories for the spring, 1945, costume are simply breathtaking, and they are playing a spectacular role in the style parade.

As to whether your Easter costume will be a success is for the greater part a matter of the hat you wear, the bag you carry, your gloves, your neckwear, the dash of a flamboyant scarf, the sweet femininity of exquisite lingerie accents and the drama of important looking jewelry, the dicker you choose.

The ensemble for accessories is the big idea this year. Anything is apt to happen in way of unique ensemble technique. For instance, gloves, hat and handbag made of identical print is a combination that gives the suit or coat, no matter how simple and plain, a style distinction that every woman might well covet.

A navy suit topped with a sailor hat done in pink-and-navy striped cotton with gloves and accent tie to match takes on drama galore. Likewise the flair for hats matched to dresses and blouses is new and treacherous.

In embellishing hat and handbag, milliners like the idea of using straw braid because it is so refreshingly springlike. There is something very attractive about the hat and bag twosome made of pink straw braid, which is shown above to the left in the illustration.

Orchid Applique

Orchids to you! Which is exactly what this smart afternoon dress of bottle green crepe with its eye-thrilling applique of print orchid cutouts seems to say.

will be highlighted with beguiling pink hats, gloves and other accessory items. In this instance the hat of pink rough straw braid has a wide band of green grosgrain, a spray of green and white feathers is placed at the back to swirl gracefully down to the tip of the ear.

The notable thing about fine lingerie dicker and jabots and such is that they are so beguilingly feminine. This year the accent is on the exquisiteness of the lace and sheer beauty of the dainty embroidery that makes them.

There's magic in the new scarfs and it would take a whole book to tell of the remarkable things designers are doing with them. Could anything in the way of a hat-and-bag set be more thrilling and eye-compelling than the stunning twosome shown to the left below?

Mix-and-Match Skirt And Jacket Outfits

About the gayest little Easter costume one can choose this season can be ensemble right before your very eyes in the mix and match separate-skirt and separate-jacket section.

The pale pink jacket is a great favorite with fashion this spring. It is stunning with a navy or black skirt. Pink is the color rage this year.

Gleaming Patent Leather For Shoes and Handbags

Patent leather is "it" for footwear, bags and belts this spring. One handsome beautifully designed handbag of gleaming patent with shoes of the same and your costume will take on a patrician air indeed.

Fewer "Hands" Make Heavier Work!

SPRING brings a new lamb crop to the western ranges—and a new crop of wartime problems. For instance, experienced lambing crews are increasingly hard to find. But in spite of fewer hands and other difficulties, millions of lambs are being dropped and raised to provide the nation's wool and meat. Beyond the "romance" of sheep ranching lies a great deal of hard work. When early lambs arrive in wintry weather, there's no time to be lost in moving them from the "drop corrals" to the lambing shed. Chilled lambs often must be revived in heated incubators. It's not unusual for a good "night man" to "lamb out" 125 ewes in a night—and that is work. There's the feeding and, later on, crimping, docking, bunch herding, shearing, and finally the trailing of the bands to the summer ranges in the high mountain country. And always herders must be on the alert to protect their hands from coyotes and other predatory animals. Yanks are the best-fed, best-clothed fighting force in the world. They know the comfort of warm wool uniforms. And nutritious lamb has helped prevent meat shortages at home. Sheep ranchers, like other livestock producers of the nation, deserve the thanks of a grateful America.

Martha Logan's Recipe for BARBECUED SPARERIBS

(Yield about 6 servings)
3 lbs. spareribs
1 onion
1/4 cup vinegar
1 cup tomato juice
2 lbs. brown sugar
1/2 cup
1/4 cup homemade catsup
1 tsp. dry mustard
1/2 cup water
1 tsp. paprika
1/4 tsp. chili powder
1/2 tsp. cayenne pepper
Cut spareribs in pieces. Brown lightly about 10 minutes. Dice onion and combine with all other ingredients and simmer 15 minutes. Pour over browned spareribs. Cover. Simmer or bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 1 1/2 hours. Remove cover. Baste ribs. Cook about 15 minutes uncovered.

WHAT'S HAPPENING TO THE MEAT SUPPLY

WE are faced with a serious shortage of meat for the civilian population. The current meat situation is not peculiar to any local area. The problem is national in scope.

LARGE DECREASE COMPARED WITH LAST YEAR
Government figures indicate a decrease of 38% of civilian meat supplies is expected during this quarter (January to March, inclusive), as compared with a year ago. The decrease will vary on the different types of meats.

It is also estimated that during the second quarter of this year (April to June, inclusive), a decrease of 35% is expected.

GOVERNMENT REQUIREMENTS

Few people realize how much beef, pork, lamb and veal must be set aside by meat packers operating under federal inspection to be purchased by the Government for the Armed Forces and for Land Lease. As of February 20, 1945, we are required to set aside:
BEEF: 60% of choice, good, and commercial steers and heifers, except extremely light weights.
70% of all utility steers, heifers and cows.
90% of all cutters and canners.
PORK: 50%, approximately, of dressed weight.
LAMB: 75%, approximately, of production in accordance with recent order.

The Government is also taking a large proportion of Swift & Company's lamb and veal production:

LAMB: 40 to 50% of choice and good lambs.
VEAL: 60%, approximately, of choice, good and commercial veal produced within specifications.

Whether these percentages will continue at the same level throughout the year cannot be foretold. The above percentages are as of February 20, 1945.

Consumer misunderstanding and dissatisfaction also arises from

HOW THE DOLLAR IS DIVIDED

There's an old proverb, "One picture is worth a thousand words." So I decided to draw this month's column instead of writing it. The picture is below and it tells this story... 75 cents (on the average) out of every Swift sales dollar goes to agricultural producers for their cattle, lambs, hogs, etc. And 11c out of every dollar goes to the people who work in Swift plants, preparing those farm and ranch products for market. Transporting meat, etc.; an average of 1,100 miles from producer to consumer takes another 2c. But, after all, the picture tells the story better than words of mine. Few businesses operate on such a narrow margin—few return such a large slice of their sales dollar to the suppliers of raw materials.

F.M. Simpfson, Agricultural Research Dept.

HERE'S WHERE THE DOLLAR WENT

another important factor that does not show up in these figures. The civilian population has more money now than in 1939 and fewer goods on which to spend it. Also, more people are working longer hours and need more food, particularly meat. The demand for meat has, therefore, increased tremendously. The Government in a recent statement said that the average American, at present income levels, would consume 170 pounds of meat this year, if it were available. In contrast, the Government estimates that there will be available during 1945 only about 127 pounds per capita.

NON-FEDERALLY INSPECTED SUPPLIES

The Government takes only federally-inspected meat. Therefore, the shortage of meat available for civilians is not so acute in the case of local packers who do not operate under federal inspection. Non-federally inspected processing plants have been able to supply a larger percentage of the product they produce during normal times as compared with federally inspected plants.

GRASSROOTS by WRIGHT A. PATTERSON

BREAKING DOWN DEBT TO UNDERSTANDABLE FIGURES AINSWORTH, IOWA, was, and, I believe, still is, a country town of some 800 people.

Collectively the people of Ainsworth have a debt of $1,300,000 over their heads that they do not consider, and in the creation of which they had but an imperceptible voice.

It is only when we break down the staggering sum into individual, family or community portions that we even begin to realize what the national debt means.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round by DREW PEARSON

COMING COAL CRISIS President Roosevelt got back from his notable achievements at Yalta to find serious problems awaiting him at home, particularly on the labor front.

Another move, proposed backstage, was to appoint coal mine representatives on local OPA boards to make sure the cost of living did not go up, or if so, under circumstances they understood.

But the most important move was to have appointed a new secretary of labor, with a new, fresh outlook, untarnished prestige, who could have tackled the job firsthand, and, if necessary, gone out to the mining areas to meet with the miners themselves.

No one is looking for this thankless job. But senate colleagues say the one man who could do it, if willing, would be forthright, fair-minded Senator Harley Kilgore, who comes from the great coal state of West Virginia.
