Lies the Might of America

RAILS AND RODS
Very early in the steel industry in this country, mills arose at Joliet, Ill., which produced rods, rails and wire, important to the agricultural West. These items could be efficiently made there because of the city's proximity to coal fields. With the great plants near Chicago have since overshadowed the Joliet industry, this steel center stands high as an asset in the might of America. Insuring full payment of all War Bonds. U. S. Artillery
Okinawa (Delayed)—When artillery shells whizzed over their heads on the Shuri battlefield, the question of who fired was answered in Loathorneck terminology, reports Staff Sgt. William B. O'face, Marine Corps combat correspondent.

If the shells are headed south toward enemy territory from the Marine artillery units in back of our lines, its "artillery." If the shells are headed north from the big guns of the Nipponese, it's "their artillery."

Marines Welcomed To Ryukyu Island

RYUKYU ISLANDS (Delayed)—The last thing Marine Lt. Col. John C. Miller, Jr., of San Diego, Cal., expected to see when he entered a town on this island was what he saw first—a sign which read "Welcome Americans." Cpl. Miller is a battalion commander in the Fifth Regiment of the First Marine Division, reports Sgt. Leo T. Batt, Marine Corps combat correspondent.

AMERICAN HEROES

By WOODY COWAN

COMDR. JAMES HAILE MINI, U.S.N., already holder of a DFC, has been awarded a Navy Cross for leading a flight of carrier planes against the Japs in the Philippines. He so deployed his command that they severely damaged six major combat vessels. Despite heavy anti-aircraft fire, he made an accurate bomb-run on a battleship, scoring a direct hit with a 1000-pound bomb. War Bonds helped pay for the planes and bombs that enabled the Manila-born officer to render that foe ineffective. His home now is at Vallejo, California. U. S. Treasury Department

Lieut. Jamison explained that the Los Angeles WAVE procurement office will furnish applicants living outside of Albuquerque transportation for the trip there for examination. However, in order for the applicants to be furnished the required papers, they should first file their complete application with one of the Navy Recruiting Stations, located at Santa Fe, Albuquerque, Clovis or Roswell.

Need for Legume and Grass Seed Increases

Good Profit Seen For Seed-Growers

Harvesting legume and grass seed will bring a three-fold return to farmers; additional income, assurance of feed for livestock and protection for their soil, says the U.S.D.A.

An increase of 67 per cent over last year's harvested acreage of alfalfa seed is sought in 1945, a total of 179,000 acres. One reason for the larger acreage is the urgent call for this seed from liberated areas of Europe, in addition to increasing home requirements for hay and soil protection.

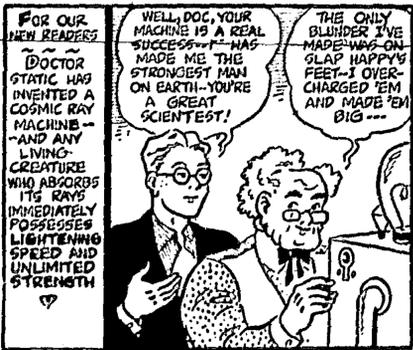

Half again as much alfalfa seed is needed as was harvested in 1944, about 100,000,000 pounds.

About 120,000,000 pounds of red clover seed are needed, some 15 per cent more than was produced last year.

Hay and pasture account for more than three-quarters of the feed consumed by dairy cows and furnish a major share of the feed for other livestock.

In addition, farmers depend on legumes and grasses to check soil erosion and maintain fertility. For example, legumes used as green manure add nitrogen to the soil and when grown in mixtures, they furnish this essential element to the grasses in the mixture. When used in crop rotations, legumes maintain and increase the acre yield of other crops. Both grasses and legumes are valuable as permanent cover for the land, holding the soil against erosion by wind and water.

Good prices and a ready market are indicated for legume and grass seed in 1945-46, pointing to additional income for farmers from properly managed fields. The first crop of many of these plants may be cut for hay or used as pasture, and the second harvested for seed.

Killing Bean Beetles

Mexican bean beetle, left, and bean leaf beetle, right, can be gotten rid of by spray or dust with cryolite every 10 days until pods begin to form, then using rotenone.

For cryolite spray use 1 ounce to 1 gallon of water. For dust, 2 pounds to 1 pound of talc. For rotenone spray, use Ferris or tubo root powder, 5 per cent rotenone content, 1/2 ounce to 1 gallon water. For dust, use ready prepared dust mixture containing at least 1 per cent of rotenone.

Save the Tractor and Conserve Time and Life

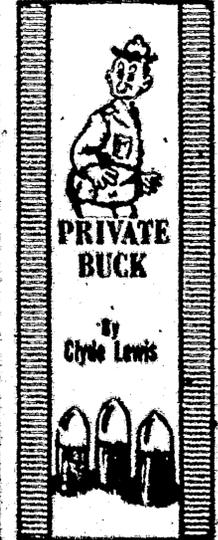

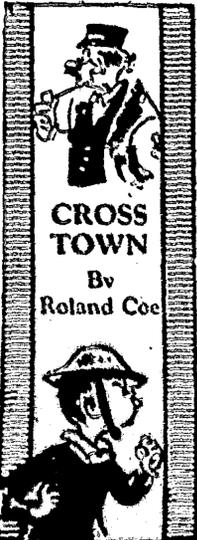

Time, money, injuries and deaths resulting from tractor accidents may be largely prevented by proper operation. Avoid holes or ditches that may cause tractors to overturn. Drive slowly; reduce speed on turn or when applying brakes. Never ride on draw bar. Don't permit riders. Make all adjustments while tractor is idle. Stop power take-off before dismounting. Be sure that all power line shielding is in place.

Do not operate tractor in a closed building. Refuel only when motor is cool and dead. Be sure the gear shift lever is in neutral before cranking the engine.

Effect of Pregnancy

The severe price discriminations practiced by market buyers against pregnant yearling heifers are not justified when such heifers are marketed by the end of the fifth month of gestation, according to the Illinois agricultural experiment station.

Slaughtered tests and carcass show that pregnant heifers take on a higher degree of finish and that at this stage of pregnancy neither the dressing percentage nor the market grade is lowered.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for July 1

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

GOD'S JOY IN CREATION

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 1:1-5, 10-12, 15-23, 27, 31. GOLDEN TEXT—God saw everything that he had made, and behold, it was very good.—Genesis 1:31.

The destiny of this world seems to be in the balances in our day with wicked men ruthlessly trying to destroy that which is good and upright.

In such a day it is good to remind ourselves, as we will in our three-month series of studies in Genesis, that man did not make this world, nor is it the product of natural forces. God made it.

God, who is eternal, infinite, and knows all from the beginning, is not moved by the impulses of the moment nor staggered by the catastrophes of a day.

He made the world. He made man. He had a plan for them, and still has a plan which He will in due season work out for His own glory.

I. God Made Heaven and Earth (vv. 1-5, 10-12, 16-18).

The biblical account of creation—"In the beginning God"—stands as a dignified, satisfactory, intelligent explanation of the origin of things, and in bold contrast to the confusing and almost unbelievable theories of men.

The best of scientists admit that they know nothing of the origin of things, and come say that they never will know. The answer to this query, with which every human philosophy opens, is the affirmation with which the divine account in Genesis opens—"In the beginning God."

Space forbids full discussion of the account of creation, but a study of it will reveal its beautiful order, symmetry, and completeness.

Compare that orderly account with the absurdities of the ancient human cosmogonies, and you have a new regard for Scripture.

II. God Made Man in His Own Image (vv. 26, 27).

Although man has often so debased himself by sin and disobedience to God that it seems almost unbelievable, it is nevertheless true that he was made in the likeness and image of God. Because that is true, we never give up hope for him. Because of that image, no matter how deeply defaced by sin, man still may be touched by redeeming grace and restored to fellowship with God.

The likeness and image of God in man refers to a moral and spiritual likeness. Man is a living soul with intelligence, feeling and will. He is a moral being, knowing the difference between right and wrong. He is a self-conscious, personal being.

To man God gave dominion over the earth and all its potential powers. Sometimes one has been hopeful that man was making good progress in the development of the earth's resources for his own good and the glory of God. But one is sad to see how he has used this great God-given opportunity for destruction and death. Only a revival of real Christianity can bring him back to his senses. Let us pray and work for it.

Observe that the family was established as the center of man's life on earth, as God gave him a "help meet unto him." Woman was taken "out of man's head that she should rule over him; nor out of his feet to be trampled upon; but out of his side to be equal with him, under his arm to be protected by him, and near his heart to be loved by him" (Matthew Henry).

The decay of family life and the modern substitution of social and civic units as the basis of life have led to disastrous results, one of which is juvenile delinquency. Not only do we need a revival of religion, we also need a revival of the home life of the nation.

III. God Made All Things Well (v. 31).

When men do recognize the hand of God in creation, they often seem to feel that what He made was rather limited and defective. It would almost seem that God should be clever about perfecting His work, developing it and making it useful.

As a matter of fact, God, who had all knowledge and whose standards are higher than man's standards could possibly be, looked over His creation and "behold, it was very good" (v. 31). It was a "finished" job (2:1).

Man has destroyed much of creation's beauty. Sin came in and marred it. What man's inventive cleverness has developed of the possibilities of this world is only a minute fraction of what is yet available. Instead of boasting, man might well be distressed at the pathetic slowness with which he has "thought God's thoughts after Him."

Instead of fighting and destroying, he ought to give his energies to building, developing, and above all, to loving God with all his heart and his neighbor as himself (Matt. 22:37-40).

Of Such Stuff

By J. WILLARD RIDINGS McClure Newspaper Syndicate. WNU Features.

NO ONE in Brownton would ever have guessed that Joe Adams would be the town's first war hero. But there it was; Joe had been decorated for bravery in action.

Brownton mothers insisted that the weather was still too cold, even if Spring was in the air. "Joe, you really shouldn't go," Mrs. Adams admonished.

But the boys were sure that swimming days had returned. "Last one in's a sot!" yelled Zeke Davidson, biggest boy in Joe's grade, as he jumped hilariously into the water of Parson Creek.

Zeke came up, teeth chattering. "It is a little cold," he sputtered.

But splashes came in rapid succession as each boy met the challenge. Finally Joe was left alone on the bank. "Joe's a sot!" came the cry.

Joe could barely swim. But he stepped off the sloping mud bank into the edge of the creek. "Joe's a sot!"

The taunt was lost in a gasp as Zeke doubled up, anguish on his face. "Zeke's got cramps!" the boys yelled excitedly.

Zeke made it to shore in spite of his pains but Joe, attempting to help, fell into the swimming hole, beyond his depth. Two of the boys had to pull him out, shivering with

"Disregarding the cross fire of the enemy's machine guns."

"Disregarding the cross fire of the enemy's machine guns, Pfc. Joseph W. Adams carried a wounded man one hundred yards to the safety of a shell hole." Brownton read in the official citation as printed in the Messenger.

It was the last half of the ninth inning. Brownton High, one run behind, had men on second and third. Joe was at bat. "Come on, Joe. Give us a bingle!" "A hit means the old ball game!" "Just a little single!"

The pitch looked good and Joe swung hard. "Strike three. You're out!" the umpire pronounced. Brownton rosters groaned. Somebody said it, not loud, but clearly. "Joe's a sissy! What can you expect from a boy who plays the piano?"

Joe hadn't particularly wanted to take piano lessons. But circumstances had combined against him. Mrs. Adams was the mother of six boys. She loved music and had dreamed of a daughter who would sing and play. Each time, after the first boy, she had prayed for a girl. Joe was the youngest—and not a girl. When Joe was ten, his father accepted a piano in payment of an old account. There, then, was the piano in the Adams home. There was Mrs. Adams' longing for a talented child. There was Joe. "Music is ennobling," Mrs. Adams insisted. It was so inevitable as that.

"Pfc. Adams, after silencing two enemy snipers with rifle fire, went out and brought in a second badly injured man, this time sustaining a wound in the leg from a machine gun bullet."

"Boy, is this a day to shoot quail. Come on, Joe, let's go hunting!" Joe wasn't too responsive. But shooting was the one thing he could do as well as the other boys.

"If I had a gun like that one of your dad's, I'd go hunting every day, one argued."

They tried boyish flattery. "You can shoot better'n any of us." "But I don't much like to kill things," Joe said. Jeers greeted this statement. "Joe feels sorry for the poor little quail!" "Joe can't stand the sight of blood!" "Joe's a killer!"

Yes, Brownton had a war hero of its very own. He lay on a hospital bed in Italy and smiled up at a nurse. "Now don't get me wrong," he told her. "The medal is swell and I'm proud to get it. But this hero stuff is all the bunk! I'm no hero. You know, the thing I do best is play the piano. Anybody back in my home town will tell you that I'm just a sissy!"

Gayly Colored Cottons Favored For Sunback Dresses, Swim Suits

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

WHAT a sun-worshiper fashion has come to be! The big idea this year seems to center about the theme of brief and beautiful clothes that bare you to the beneficent and health-giving rays of the sun.

The bare-back frock to the left is a perfect example of the new trend to sun-exposure fashions. Quaker gray broadcloth makes this sunback dress that is far from demure with its back cut to the waist, but as you will note, she has her bolero in hand ready to slip on at will.

Not only does the costume described go sunning on the beach, but it will be fun to wear to barbecue parties and all sorts of get-together outdoor playtime occasions. When it comes to the fabrics used for the new sun-frocks, it's gay colored cottons that turn on the glamour full force. The best of it is that in these modern times one need have no misgivings as to whether the gorgeous prints or monochromes will fade. One of the miracles of the age is the achievement of overfast cottons that you can buy as bright as you like and launder as often as you wish without danger of color deterioration or shrinkage.

It does make up stunningly in the new bare midriff, sleeveless and bareback fashions, but it is "the latest" for swim suits with sarong skirts and bra tops. Checked ginghams and striped chambrays are also high fashion for sun frocks with boleros and for swim suits with matching beach coats. Yes indeed, it's the coop 'n' water cottons that hold fashion's spotlight this summer.

Beach cottons for sports and beach fashions, especially rope top fashion. Speaking of black, the swim suit that is creating the big sensation is a sleek form-fitting one-piece made of black elasticized water-repellent velvot that is light as a feather in weight. Or you may choose models of black satin. Practical and ever so good-looking too, is the swim suit of black wool jersey. The girl centered in the illustration is wearing a handsome black swim suit. That this fair swimmer throws a white wool sweater about her shoulders is important news for a new fad is going the rounds which calls upon the sweater to play the role of a smart beach coat or wrap. Fashion-wise girls are taking up the idea with enthusiasm.

Much ado is being made over handsome accessory ensembles including bra and headpiece made of brilliantly colorful striped or plaid taffeta. As you see pictured in the inset to the right the bra is formed of an artfully arranged pair of woven taffeta in gay stripes teamed with which is a draped headpiece of the same beautiful taffeta. To add to the colorful scene on the beach, huge bags cleverly designed of fabrics to match the sun-exposure costumes together with wide self-fringed scarfs of the same material form a most fascinating twosome. These sets are ever so smart, made of gay gingham. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Checks for Summer

This New York style in navy and white crepe artfully designs the now-so-voguish dressmaker checks for a woman's figure. The styling given this daytime dress is unusually attractive. Self fabric ruching, a flat bow at the neckline, and a subtly arranged fullness in the skirt contribute smart details. The large white pearl buttons adds greatly to their charm.

Jacquard Sweaters Are Gay, Colorful

No wonder enthusiasm for the co-colorful, co-designful jacquard sweater is soaring to a new high! The advance models now arriving are beauties. Fancy seems to run to deep yoke effects. These sometimes extend over the shoulders in the now cap cleave effect forming an epaulet embroidery for the wrist-length sleeves. If you are going vacationing they are nice to take along. They look striking worn with the teen-age bright plaid skirt. Another practical sweater that is a welcome newcomer this summer is made of soap 'n' water white cotton jersey. It is grand to wear with the shorter shorts on the playground. Worn with slacks it makes the ideal garb for ambitious Victory gardeners. The cardigan-blouse type is attractively worn with smart plaided skirts or with the now-popular narrow wool skirt.

Dressmaker Apron Lends Glamor to Basic Dress

Something new in the way of a striking novelty has happened. It is the dressmaker apron or "fashion apron" as it is sometimes called, designed to glamorize the basic black dress. Made of fine colorful taffeta or faille, and other dress-up fabric, and ruffled all around with lace, it is far removed from the humble kitchen type. It ties around the waist like any apron and has sash-wide "apron strings" for a bustle bow at the back. One fetching style is fashioned of apple green faille trimmed with a wide ruffle of black Chantilly-type lace.

Gay and Practical Sun Suit for a Tot

Okinawa Dishes For Small Eaters

Okinawa (Delayed)—Marine Pfc. John Haas, Jr., of Cornell Mich. returned from a patrol convinced that Lilliputians inhabit this island, according to Sgt. A. D. Hawkins, Marine Corps combat correspondent.

While searching for Japanese stragglers, Haas found several pieces of tiny silverware in an Okinawa cave.

The forks measured only three inches in length, and a quarter of an inch in width. Spoons were about the same size. There were tiny five inch chopsticks also.

"This is something which belongs to children, I said to my self. So I thought, until I noticed the small dishes and utensils near by," Haas explained.

"Seems that this island reminds everybody of some place. But it doesn't remind me of home. Its tiny farms, toy houses, furniture and miniature railroads bring back memories of 'Gullivers Travels'."

Readjustment Allowances

In the nine months that readjustment allowances have been payable to veterans under the G. I. Bill of Rights, New Mexico ex servicemen, temporarily unemployed, have received $11,299, it was reported today by Benjamin D. Luchini, chairman of the employment Security Commission of New Mexico which administers Title V of the Act in this State.

Of 134 veterans filing initial claims in this State, he said, one was discharged from Coast Guard, six from the Marine Corps, 17 from the Navy and 110 from the Army.

It is estimated that over 50,000 New Mexico servicemen and women will be eligible for readjustment allowances when the war ends.

Veterans with service of 90 days or more, and whose discharge is not dishonorable, may be entitled to as much as 52 weeks of allowances, depending upon length of service.

Veterans register for work and apply for readjustment allowances at any of the 15 local offices of the U. S. Employment Service, Luchini declared, adding that the Commission has prepared and is distributing booklets for veterans concerning readjustment allowances, so that they will have the desired information in a form convenient for ready reference.

$5.00 AUTO USE TAX STAMPS

U. S. Vidal, collector of Internal Revenue for the District of New Mexico, announced today that the new $5.00 Automobile Use Tax Stamps will be placed on sale in all post offices and offices of Collectors of Internal Revenue on Saturday, June 9, 1945. The law requires the owner of every motor vehicle which is used upon the highways to buy this stamp and to display it on the vehicle beginning July 1, 1945.

The law provides both cash and jail penalties for failure to pay this tax. To protect themselves against unnecessary penalties, Collector Vidal advised owners of motor vehicles not to be misled by false rumors alleging that this tax has been repealed.

The stamps will be sold over the counter at all post offices and offices of Internal Revenue Collectors. In addition, Collectors of Internal Revenue will fill mail orders when accompanied by cash, money orders or certified checks. Personal checks cannot be accepted for the purchase of revenue stamps.

The law requires that the stamp be prominently displayed on the motor vehicle on and after July 1, 1945. Where possible, the stamp should be placed on the windshield as recommended by the proper officials of each State.

Motorists will find that the stamps usually will stick better if they dampen the windshield instead of the stamp. They should avoid repeated dampening of the stamp. Motorists who desire to do so may reinforce the stamp with adhesive tape or similar aids.

To protect themselves against loss or theft, Collector Vidal advised motorists to keep a separate record of the serial number which appears on each stamp. Motorists also are asked to write on the back of the stamp the make, model, serial number and State license number of the vehicle.

EL PASO—International Mining Day will be celebrated November 2 and 3 in El Paso.

The mining committee of the El Paso Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the annual celebration, has decided to advance the date so as not to interfere with the opening of the hunting season in New Mexico.

The committee also began to poll mining machinery corporations throughout the country, asking whether they would care to participate in a mining exhibit which would be held in conjunction with International Mining Day.

Eugene M. Thomas, Dean of Engineering of the Texas College of Mines, is the general chairman for International Mining Day of 1945.

Nearly 500 registered for the 1944 celebration. International Mining Day is a get-together for mining men of New Mexico, Texas, Arizona, Colorado and Mexico. Although the program is primarily social, culminating with the famous Sourdough Supper, one business meeting is held at which leaders in the mining industry speak. The El Paso Metals Section of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers also has a program in conjunction with International Mining Day.

The Carlsbad Section of the AIME is expected to participate in this year's program.

CAMP MARY WHITE

Camp Mary White, the modern, completely equipped camp for girls, located in the cool Sacramento mountains, 16 miles from Cloudcroft, will be operated again this summer from June 27 to August 22 by the El Paso Fort Bliss Girl Scout Council. Girls from the entire Southwest will be accepted and registrations are now open to non-Scouts and out of town girls.

Around $2,000 is being spent in improvements on the camp which will include cleaning out and repairing the lake, installing of lights in "Great Hall" and the kitchen reconditioning of dish-washing units and remodeling of kitchen, repairing of roofs on the Adirondack huts where the girls live and construction of new shower houses.

Activities for the 1945 camp will be enlarged and expanded, according to Miss Faytene Zumwalt, camp director and Executive Secretary of the local Council. Miss Mary Louise Phillips, field secretary of the Council will be assistant director.

Camp Mary White, which is in the heart of Lincoln National Forest is divided into small units according to the age level of the girls. In the program offered girls who attend the camp will have an opportunity to acquire the essentials of western horsemanship. Ring trip and trail riding will be taught by a qualified instructor.

The Arts and Crafts program directed by a skilled counselor will offer lessons in weaving, block printing, sketching, drawing, bookbinding, wood-carving and camp craft.

Swimming, which will be a new addition to camping facilities at Camp Mary White this year, will be offered under the supervision of a licensed Red Cross instructor and life saver. Several boats also have been provided for the waterfront activities. Girls will be able to work on their junior life saving certificate.

Included in the dramatic and dancing programs are campfire programs, the planning and executing of "Scouts Own," a Sunday service, square and folk dancing lessons, puppet shows and special day programs.

A special unit for Senior Girls with activities geared to more advanced skills in all forms of camping and outdoor living will be offered during the summer. The last four weeks of camp will offer a special pre-counselor course for High Juniors and Seniors who are interested in doing future camp counselor work.

The staff will include experienced camp people, a dietitian and three cooks, a trained nurse on duty at all times and a nearby doctor on call.

The camp is open to all girls from 10 years of age through High School. It offers the opportunity to spend two totally different and thrilling weeks in a healthy, democratic environment when they are given the feeling of independence yet their health and safety are minutely supervised.

The sessions are June 27-July 11; July 11-July 25, July 25-Aug. 8, Aug. 8-Aug. 22. The fee per session is $30.00 for girls outside of El Paso. Registrations which must be accompanied by a $3.00 deposit are being accepted at 102 County Court House in El Paso.

Why Phillips is Today One of the Country's Greatest Producers of Butadiene for Synthetic Rubber

That American industry has been able to meet this terrific demand for all-important truck tires is due, to a great extent, to companies like Phillips.

But that truck also represents one of the biggest headaches tire men—and oil men—have had to face in this war!

For long before Pearl Harbor, Phillips scientists foresaw the possibilities of butadiene in producing synthetic rubber. As a result, when the blow fell at Pearl Harbor, Phillips great research and production facilities were ready to step into the breach.

You see, our synthetic rubber program has had to overcome more than the lack of raw rubber from the Jap-held East Indies. It has had to cope with a fantastic demand for tires for Army trucks and other vehicles.

Today, the Phillips 66 Shield stands for one of America's leading producers of butadiene for synthetic rubber... as well as a great producer of 100-Octane Aviation Fuel, and an almost endless list of newer and better products from petroleum gases and petroleum.

Why is that demand fantastic? Just imagine speeding along roads pitted by shellfire and sprinkled with shrapnel... hub-deep in mud, or rutted in frozen ridges. Under those terrible conditions, tires have become frayed and useless at an appalling rate.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh.

How Sober Hoskins Got His Name

Everybody kids Sober Hoskins about his name. Of course, they allow that it's appropriate. Sober never drinks anything stronger than a glass of beer. And a harder worker in the fields there never was.

From where I sit, there may be something in what Sober's dad says. Naming children after virtues is a fine old American custom. Look at the names of our pioneers and pilgrims: Faith, Plow, Charity, Hope, Ernest.

"Shucks," says Sober's dad. "We named Sober 'Sober' just because he looked that way when he was born. Like we called his sister 'Gay' and his other sister 'Frissey.' And it's had its effect on all of 'em," he adds with spirit. (Frissey is the old maid in the Hoskins family.)

Maybe we should use such names more often. And one I'd like to add is "Tolerance." If we all had Tolerance for a middle name, and lived up to it, we'd have a better, happier world.

COUNTRY HOMER Cured by CROY

THIS STORY TOLD BY: Amos Croy and his wife, who first married settled on a farm in Missouri, where Homer was born.

CHAPTER XVII

I got up respectfully. "Sit down," he said, and we sat on the creaking seat. He looked at me, puzzled.

some of their crested stationery, and had a fine flourishing correspondence. I'm sure no one ever guessed I was living in a second-class rooming house on Lexington Avenue, at Twenty-eighth Street.

My seeming prosperity was too good to last, for my hotel friend left, and when I tried to continue my arrangement I was sternly rebuked. But I had a way around that.

the job, I was delighted. Here was a peek at things other people had written. At first I read each one carefully and meticulously, making marks on it to refresh my memory.

One day I got to see the wheels actually go around. Dreiser called me—the cub—into his office and, peering over the top of the glasses dangling on his nose, said:

That was the way an editor should look.

any place I could. In fact, no sheet of blank stationery was safe. If I could purloin a letterhead from the Eden Musee and put it in a Fliss, Deorr & Carroll Horse Auction envelope, I was delighted.

My impersonal Missouri friend did give me the tip. He said that Theodore Dreiser, who was editor of three Butterick women's magazines, was looking for a cub.

I seemed hardly to breathe when I was shown into his presence, but I might as well have, for he seemed hardly to notice me. He was tall, but not so tall as I, and balanced on his nose was a pair of eyeglasses with a cord running down the side.

Then I said something about Missouri. I must have already mentioned it several times, but seemingly he had not heard, for suddenly he paused in his paper chuffing and said, "You say you are from Missouri?"

"Where is Washington, Missouri?" It came with such utter unexpectedness that I had to think a moment before I could answer.

"It's in Franklin County, not far from St. Louis. That's where they make corn-cob pipes."

He looked at me with real interest, then asked a few questions about my experience which, evidently, he had paid no attention to. Then said, "I've asked a hundred people that question, but not one has known. I think I'll hire you. That's where my wife is from."

I was tremendously pleased. A New York magazine! And under Theodore Dreiser. I was terribly afraid of Dreiser, but still I liked him, for he was a curious combination of sternness and gentleness. I can still see that flashing eye and that low-hanging underlip; and I can still hear his sympathetic voice, if someone was in trouble.

I had been there only a few days before I was given my first real task. The magazine had had a contest entitled "My Pet Animal True Story," and ten thousand letters had come in. They were stacked in boxes and piled on desks and tables. None of the regular staff wanted to read them, but when I was given

The HOME TOWN REPORTER in Washington

WALTER A. SHEAD WNU Correspondent

This Concerns Every Citizen

WASHINGTON today is a vast stage upon which events of national and international moment crowd themselves with lightning rapidity and with kaleidoscopic clarity.

And we criticize our congressmen... gripe at our governmental agencies freely and often, but, as a matter of fact, it is amazing that with the quickening and increasing tempo of affairs here, the men and women in government keep abreast of the times and the responsibilities with which they are faced as well as they do.

Just within the last few days... Victory for the Reciprocal Trade extension in the house and its defeat by a senate committee... the overwhelming vote of confidence in world cooperation by the house action of Bretton Woods... the streamlining plans for the Veterans administration by General Bradley... the President's victory in the Russian embargo at San Francisco... the Truman proposal for temporary unemployment compensation during the reconversion era... the modernization of the governmental cut-up as planned... the Murray-Wagner-O'Mahoney full-time employment bill... all these are a few examples.

It completely overhauls, enlarges and federalizes the present social security law, bringing under its provisions an additional 15,000,000 farmers, farm laborers, domestic employees, small merchants, professional men and women, seaman and employees of non-profit organizations.

Rate to employers are increased from the average of 3 1/2 per cent they are now paying to 4 per cent to finance all the insurance features, and employees would pay approximately 3 per cent more than they are paying under the present law but are given greatly expanded protection.

The farmer is entitled to all the provisions of the bill except unemployment compensation and temporary disability insurance. He would get medical aid, old age and survivors insurance and disability insurance for which he would pay 5 per cent on his net income up to $3,000.

The same method would be used by the small business man. He would pay on his net income up to $3,000 at the same rate, and if he has one or more employees not now receiving benefits of the social security law, he would deduct their percentages and issue stamps to the employees to eliminate bookkeeping. In some states from one to eight employees are not now covered by the social security law.

Domestic help would aided. Domestic help would come under the same provisions. If you have a maid, a cook, a washwoman, you would deduct the proper percentage from her pay on pay-day and present her with stamps for her book issued for the purpose. Professional men such as doctors, lawyers, dentists, veterinarians etc., also become eligible for the benefits under the law with a cost of 5 per cent on net income up to $3,000.

Briefly, the provisions of the new bill provide: 1. A program of federal grants and loans for construction of hospitals and health centers especially in rural areas. 2. It broadens the present federal grants - in - aid for public health services up to 75 per cent of amount expended by the states. 3. Expands the community-wide maternal and child health and welfare service, the federal government paying up to 75 per cent of amount expended by the states.

SNAPPY FACTS about RUBBER

Synthetic rubber, as used in rubber gloves made by B. F. Goodrich, is superior to natural rubber. The new "service gloves" are impervious to strong soap, oils and cleaning fluids that deteriorate natural rubber.

Two synthetic rubber plants operated by The B. F. Goodrich Company have produced 333,000,000 pounds of synthetic rubber. This is equivalent to the normal yield of 28,000,000 Far Eastern rubber trees, requiring the services of 70,000 natives for the same period of time the plants have been in operation. The two plants employ about 1,200 men and women.

People in Carrizozo and the surrounding communities have something to look forward to now as the dates have been set for the Ranchman's Camp meeting. Opening date will be Wednesday, August 1st and the meeting will close Sunday night, August 5th.

The location for this campmeeting is ideal; the scenery is grand; looking toward the rising sun a brilliant panorama meets the eye; later when sunset is getting nearer, the misty vales are just as beautiful and awe-inspiring. This is an opportunity that should not be overlooked. Outstanding preachers will deliver the messages daily; they are men who have successfully conducted services of this kind and who have pointed the way to a better understanding of religious problems will be in charge.

Ranchmen who sponsor the meeting will be Pat Murphy, L. A. Whitaker, Dewey Stokes and several others. Everybody is invited to come to hear the gospel and to be thus encouraged to an acceptance of Christ.

Baited Hooks

Two years ago when national legislation affecting schools was proposed (S-637) nobody who favored the bill ever called it the "federal school control bill." That alone would have defeated it. No sincere friend of America's public schools wants them hosed by the national government. The thing was referred to always as "federal aid to education." That sounded much better.

But a great many people were not fooled at all. They had seen bait used to hide hooks before by political as well as practical schemers. Although the bill stated, right in Section One, that it would be a nice little law if passed and not held any government man, or group of men, grab the schools and run away with them, the platitude was ignored by our sage and seasoned Senate.

Amended by Senate
On the floor of the Senate the "federal aid" bill underwent some changes. An amended, no part of the federal funds therein provided for any part of the local funds thereby supplemented could be used to make or maintain any distinction between races. That's federal control, beyond dispute. I am not discussing the merits of the amendment. I am saying this: Federal control will follow federal aid as night follows day.

The subject is alive again now. A committee in the House and another committee in the Senate are once more considering legislation that flies the flag of "federal aid to education." Once more I am emphasizing that financial aid to local schools from far-away Washington will bring federal control of local schools in spite of all the protective clauses ever built out of words.

It is Federal Law
The Supreme Court of the United States, the most powerful tribunal on this war-torn earth, has established a precedent in favor of federal control. The Supreme Court has ruled that the federal government can control that which it subsidizes. Little, protecting sentences in the preamble of new legislation figuratively fade away in the light of this Supreme Court ruling.

Some people may want to argue that federal aid to schools is not federal subsidy of schools. I maintain that any distinction between the two things is a distinction without a difference. I have learned quite a little about these twin bills recently and about people who advocate their passage. The bills are practically alike and they point to government control like a compass points to the north.

The Entering Wedge
Both bills call for a 300 million dollar annual outlay of federal funds, and it's only a start. Testimony of people who journey to Washington boosting the idea is very clear. It translates the handwriting on the wall. They expect federal aid to grow rapidly after the first bill is passed. I also think it would grow in less than ten years from federal subsidy to federal control.

I am opposed to federal aid therefore for several reasons: (1) It will lead directly to federal control of education. (2) When the national government controls the local schools, the children's parents have nothing to say about what takes place at school. (3) If it happens, popular education, so dearly bought, will be nothing but a handy stepping stone toward political dictatorship.

Winter is Coming Again
The mines at this time advise the early storing of coal again for the coming winter. We are fortunate in having mine connections which were able last season-- by our storing coal thru the summer-- to take care of our demands. But the mines can not offer any better service this coming season. So if you are depending upon coal as a fuel, the mines advise to store as much as you can thru the summer months. This is the only assurance of not being out of coal this winter. The mines can not supply us if we wait until the winter is upon us.
PLEASE HELP ME TO HELP YOU, BY GIVING ME YOUR ORDER FOR COAL NOW.
