Cattle Growers to Meet December 17-18

Albuquerque, Nov. 21, 1945.—The Executive Board of the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association will meet at Raton on December 17 and 18 according to E. G. Hayward, Cimarron, President of the organization. In addition to the 100 members of the Executive Committee, all members of the association and state cattlemen in general are urged to attend this session due to the numerous problems confronting the association and industry at this time, Hayward said.

Chief problems under consideration will be Forest Grazing Land and Public Domain Grazing Land questions which have come up in recent months. In addition considerable time will be given to discussions on the protein feed situation in the state, the ranch labor shortage, meat rationing and the government meat subsidy program, Hayward continued.

Grover Hill, former Under-Secretary of Agriculture who is now with the Farm Credit Bank, will be one of the chief speakers on the meeting program.

Plans will be made at the Raton session for the general business to be taken up at the Annual Convention of the Association which will be held at Albuquerque, in March of 1946. Plans will also be made for a large delegation to attend the Annual meeting of the American National Live Stock Association at Denver on January 9-11. A. D. Brownfield of Deming, is serving his second term as President of the National organization.

More than three hundred applications for membership are now pending in the Association office and they will be formally approved by the Executive Board at the December meeting. Approval of these new members will bring the group's total membership past the 3300 mark.

Mr. Clifford M. Wimberly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Sears of Capitan has arrived in Fort Bliss and is expected home at once.

NOTICE

The Junior play has been postponed until January 11th. This was a matter of necessity; four or five of the cast are ill. Even the between act performers have influenza. So now we have another play to look forward to in '46. Mrs. Karlin hopes everybody will be present Jan. 11th to see a really good play, "Nuts and Bolts."

Robinson-Peebles

On Sunday, December 2nd, a quiet wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Margaret Espy here, when Miss Margaret Robinson became the bride of Mr. Donald A. Peebles, with Rev. Mr. Lawton performing the ceremony. Miss Clara Ellen Pfingsten was bridesmaid, and Louis B. Peebles, brother of the groom was best man. Louis just arrived on the morning train from the Fort Bliss separation center. He had been in service in the Southwest Pacific and this was the first meeting of the brothers in over two years.

The bride is very attractive and has been an employee of the Mountain States Telephone Company. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Lee Robinson.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Peebles, and received his honorable discharge from the army November 27th after spending eighteen months as a flight engineer in the China Burma India theatre.

After the wedding ceremony refreshments were served and the couple left on their honey moon trip.

Albro-Wigley

Lloyd W. Albro of Syracuse, N. Y. and Miss Billie Jo Wigley of Capitan were united in marriage Friday, November 23rd, at 8 p. m. The marriage was performed in the Wesleyan Methodist church in Syracuse, New York with members of the groom's family present. The church was decorated with beautiful pom poms.

The bride was wearing a powder blue suit, with black accessories, and carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses.

Mr. Albro, who was recently discharged from the army was wearing his uniform.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wigley of Capitan. She was graduated from the Capitan High school in 1941. She was employed at the Fort Bliss separation center when she met Mr. Albro, he being a warrant officer there.

The couple will reside in Syracuse, New York. Their many friends and relatives wish them happiness and success.

U. S. Code Interceptions Bared Jap War Plans; Attlee Outlines Labor Party Economic Program

Released by Western Newspaper Union. (EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

As Joint U. S.-British commission studies Palestine problem, Jewish youth parade in Jerusalem in protest against restriction of immigration into Holy Land.

PEARL HARBOR: Code Secrets

As the Pearl Harbor investigation got underway at Washington, D. C., before a joint 10-man congressional committee, intercepted messages placed in the records disclosed that U. S. intelligence officers had cracked the secret Japanese code a year before the start of the war.

While the early intercepted messages dealt with ship movements, chief interest centered in the diplomatic documents dating from July 2, 1941, when Tokyo told Berlin that Japan would work for its "greater East Asia co-prosperity sphere" regardless of the world situation.

On November 23, Tokyo advised Nomura and Kurosu, Jap envoys negotiating in Washington with Secretary of State Hull, that it had been decided to set November 23 as the final date for effecting an agreement, after which things would "automatically... happen" in case of failure.

On November 23, Tokyo informed Berlin of the imminence of war with the U. S. and later relayed the same message to Rome. Meanwhile, Tokyo warned its consulates on December 3 to be on guard for the "wind" messages in short wave radio broadcasts indicating rupture of relations with the Allies.

Among the last messages received were Tokyo's reply to Hull's ultimatum on December 6, with final instructions for presentation to the U. S. at 1 p. m. the following day coming in on the morning of December 7. Dated December 7, a Jap message from Budapest, Hungary, to Tokyo stated that the American minister to that country had presented his government with a communique from the British that a state of war would break out on the seventh.

BIG TALK: Reassures U. S.

In the nation's capital to discuss disposition of the horrible atom bomb and touchy international questions, British Prime Minister Attlee also found time to address congress and outline the democratic objectives of his labor party just as negotiations for a multi-billion dollar loan from the U. S. were materializing.

Aimed at helping Britain get its export-import trade functioning again and lighten the load of six billion dollars of debts to wartime creditors, the projected multi-billion dollar advance was attacked in some circles as an aid to the labor party in recapturing the United Kingdom. In addressing congress, Attlee declared that British businessmen were only to be nationalized when they had grown into monopolies detrimental to the economy.

No radical in speech or appearance, the short, mild-mannered, mustached British leader described the labor party as a representative cross-section of liberal English society, with professional and business men, and even aristocrats, joining with the working classes in its membership.

In determining to retain the secret of the know-how of harnessing the atom, President Truman and Attlee declared that until effective safeguards were set up against its destructive use, no advantage would come from sharing its use. To work out such safeguards permitting exchange of vital information on atomic energy for industrial purposes, the Big Two recommended the creation of a United Nations commission.

As revealed by Foreign Minister Bevin in the house of commons recently, Britain has expressed deep concern over Russian demands for trusteeship of Eritrea and Tripolitania in the Near East, and establishment of a naval base in the Dodecanese Islands, inasmuch as these territories lie athwart the famed "life-line" of the empire through the Mediterranean and Suez canal.

Coinciding with Attlee's visit to Washington was the U. S. and British announcement that a joint commission of the two countries would undertake a study of the tithed Jewish immigration question with a view toward easing the plight of European refugees.

Pressing importance of the issue was emphasized by continued Arab and Jewish riots in the Near East, with scores killed and wounded in widespread demonstrations over the question of making Palestine a national homeland for the Hebrews.

Because they have been banded into a league 33 million strong spread over the entire Near East, with control over rich oil deposits cherished by U. S. and British concerns, the Arabs have greatly complicated settlement of the Palestine issue in view of their stubborn opposition to large-scale Jewish immigration.

Taking the Arab objections into consideration, the joint U. S. and British commission will look into the question of whether heavy immigration would upset the Arabs' political and economic position in Palestine. Consideration also was to be given to providing remedial action in Europe itself and allowing immigration to other countries.

JAPAN: Seek Trade

As the question of reconstituting the Japanese economy arose, Nipponese officials drew a pattern for the nation's future trade relations with the world by recommending a barter system to facilitate immediate imports of needed foodstuffs and raw materials. Under terms of surcharge, Japan will not be permitted to produce some of the items formerly exported.

Under the Japanese proposal for the resumption of trade, Nippon would receive substantial amounts of food, salt, cotton, copra, coal, iron and non-ferrous metals, in exchange for gold, diamonds, silk, cotton goods, chemical products, medical supplies, machinery, hardware, and tin.

The problem of recreating the Japanese economy was pointed up by revelation that the country had been the sixth biggest prowar exporter, shipping out almost a billion dollars worth of goods each year. Of the total amount, China obtained the largest part, with the U. S. and India following.

Of the total amount, China obtained 37.2 per cent; the U. S., 18.2 per cent; India, 6.2 per cent; Great Britain, 5.7 per cent; Latin America, 3 per cent; Australia, 2 per cent, and Germany 0.7 per cent. Other European and Asiatic countries took 2.1 and 3.1 per cent of the remainder of exports respectively.

FOOD:

Europe's Need

As congress wrangled over appropriation of $340,000,000 to complete the original government pledge of $1,350,000,000 to the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, and President Truman asked for another $1,350,000,000 for the agency, UNRRA officials abroad estimated that liberated European countries would need 9,000,000 tons of foodstuffs this winter to avoid starvation and serious malnutrition.

Because of interruptions in farming caused by the war and drought, European agriculture will be able to furnish metropolitan districts with food assuring a daily intake of only 1,200 calories, UNRRA said. Though receipt of 9,000,000 tons of food would boost this figure to 2,000 calories, the diet still would fall below standard nutritional requirements.

Investigations in Czechoslovakia, Greece, Italy, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, Yugoslavia and Norway revealed that there was a pressing need for feed to help rebuild the cattle and dairy industries, seriously depleted by butchering of conquering armies and the diversion of grains to human consumption. Having already shipped 2,400 cows to southern and eastern Europe, UNRRA plans additional substantial monthly deliveries through the winter.

Meanwhile, American grain markets boomed upon the prospect of heavy demand in the coming months, with cash and December rye a seasonal leader on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Cash rye held a substantial margin over cash wheat, what with millers scrambling for the grain in view of a shortage of corn and sorghum, while the December future soared to almost $1.00 a bushel, topping December wheat for the first time since 1921.

Another bullish factor in the market was an estimated drop of 237,000,000 bushels in the 1944 rye crop in Europe where the grain is an important bread staple, and smaller supplies in both the U. S. and Canada.

Because of the slowness in delivery of grain to coastal ports, many exports feared exports in the early half of 1945 might fall below expectations. Railroads clamped on emergency demurrage charges in an effort to speed up unloading of box cars to cope the situation.

'Sonny' Sets Fast Pace

To the question of what makes Ellsworth "Sonny" Wiscrover, 16, so irresistible to women older than him, Mrs. Eleanor Deveny, 24, who figured in his latest romantic intrigue, mused: "Dream man—ideal companion—perfect lover."

Mother of two children and wife of an army corporal serving in Japan, Mrs. Deveny eloped with "Sonny" following a meeting at the home of a mutual friend. Two years ago, Mrs. Elaine Manfredi, 22, and also the mother of two children, ran off with young Wiscrover in his first amorous episode.

In elaborating on "Sonny's" attributes, Mrs. Deveny asserted: "I'd like to take care of him the rest of my life... He's good, considerate and older than his years." She would not return to her husband, she said.

CHINA:

Friendly Enemies

Once deadly enemies, Chinese nationalists and Japanese troops have become brothers in arms in northern China, where Nipponese forces have been employed by the central government for the protection of vital territory and railroads against communist attack.

While the Japanese actively aided the nationalists in their drive to secure a foothold in the north, U. S. marines kept their distance in the bloody strife between Chiang Kai-shek's troops and the Reds, being ordered only to guard American lives and property in the battle zone. Meanwhile, the nationalists pressed their advantage with lend-lease supplies originally destined for use against the Japanese.

Though fighting raged throughout the whole northern area, attention was riveted on nationalist attempts to smash into the industrial province of Manchuria, which the communists reportedly planned to convert into a military stronghold. Early fighting centered around Shanhaikwan, gateway city to Manchuria lying at the eastern end of the Great Wall.

G.I. INSURANCE:

Too much high pressure on draftees when they took out government life insurance on entering the service and not enough salesman-ship now to get them to keep it after discharge, are the main reasons why three out of four veterans are lapsing their insurance, according to a study by Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

World War II service insurance is less flexible and carries fewer privileges than government insurance for veterans of World War I.

Washington Digest

UNRRA Test of Sentiment For World Co-Operation

Faith in Ideal Necessary to Continue Work of Allied Relief Agency After Reports Of Early Difficulties.

By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, 1616 Eye Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

The forces in Washington battling for world co-operation are finding the going tough. It is hard to get people to have faith in collective security when they witness such things as the breakdown of the foreign ministers' conference in London, Russia's reluctance to co-operate in the Far East advisory commission, Argentina's espousal of the ways of the dictators. At times it seems as though, internationally speaking, democracy were approaching the winter of its coarsest discontent.

It is unfortunate that in the midst of this period of suspicion and anxiety, a yes and no vote has to be taken on a matter that may mean life or death, and to that extent, peace or anarchy, to hundreds of thousands of people in Europe. I refer to the $90 million dollar appropriation for UNRRA which has been winding a precarious way through congress.

By the time these lines appear, that appropriation which congress previously authorized may have been granted. There has never been much doubt as to its final approval. But the danger lies in the effect of proposed reservations.

This appropriation bill is considered a bell-wether. If it goes through unencumbered, it may mean that other measures affecting our relations with other nations are fairly safe and that such isolationism as exists in the country (and, therefore, in congress) is less than one-third of the whole.

It is true that there have been loud and emphatic demands that such knowledge as we possess concerning the atom and its potentiality be kept strictly to ourselves even though scientists say it cannot be less than common knowledge—even the "know-how" to turn it to military or commercial use — within a few years. But I believe that if you will submit to careful analysis the expressed sentiment of congress on this subject, it would reveal a line-up which takes little consideration of any international aspects of the use of atomic energy. In other words, the viewpoints so far expressed have differed as to whether this new force has been looked at as something to call at home and the question has been whether it be produced under state control or by private enterprise. The question of internationalizing the bomb has remained in the domain of theory.

A look at the arguments for and against UNRRA and the reaction to them gives us a much clearer picture of tendencies, isolationist or otherwise, of the arguer.

U. S. Support Is Vital

When a congressman casts his vote "aye" or "no" on the bill to appropriate the money for UNRRA he is not simply virtually voting aye or no on whether we help feed starving Europe. If he votes no and the news have it, there will be no UNRRA. True, all contributing nations put in the same proportion of their national income — 1 per cent — but it so happens that 1 per cent of the national income of the United States is nearly three-quarters of the entire sum contributed. Your voter knows this. And he can't help realizing the UNRRA is symbolic of American participation in any world organization. Without this country's advice, consent and support, no world organization can exist. And likewise, with American support no nation can afford not to go along.

Another thing that the congressional voter knows when he votes on UNRRA is that it is far from perfect. He knows that the personnel, the efficiency, the standing of the organization have improved tremendously in the last few months since it has been able to get the personnel it required, which it couldn't get before because of the manpower and horsepower shortage due to the war. But he knows it is still hampered by its polyglot nature and he has to have faith enough in its purpose to make him feel that the risk of failure is worth taking. Because UNRRA, like any international organization, is everybody's baby, it can easily become nobody's baby. Each nation has been only too ready to criticize it, always excluding their own representatives' functions, of course. UNRRA has suffered greatly from a poor press because the task it faced was well nigh impossible in wartime.

The bad news, therefore, overbalanced the good news as far as reports of progress on the part of the active, contributing countries were concerned. From the passive, recipient countries naturally there were plenty of complaints. These "sins of omission" were ballyhooed. The other side of the story was not. It was the sad and familiar tale of priorities, a story many a business man can tell. Even when UNRRA had money in hand for food required (although some of the contributing members are very slow to pay, the United States still was a little less than half of its allotment and authorization), it was impossible to get the combined food board, which decided who got what, to allot any to UNRRA until the armed forces, the domestic market, the lend-lease, and the liberated countries who had money to buy, got theirs. And even if the food was available, frequently there were no ships in which to transport it.

That situation has changed. Food is now being delivered to Europe. By Christmas it will be moving at the rate of half a million tons a month. But the memory of past deficiencies lingers and doubt as to future performance could easily be used as an excuse to defeat the measure unless one is really convinced that UNRRA's job is so important it must succeed. And there we get down to the nub of the whole argument. For to agree with the theils that UNRRA's objective is desirable is to agree that the good of one is the good of all and the good of the other fellow is the good of the us — "us" standing for the United States.

It is easy to show that millions in Europe will starve this winter unless they get food from outside their own borders. It is easy to prove that in these countries which are UNRRA's concern — the ones which were invaded and which cannot pay for food — starvation will lead to disease, riots, revolt — and death. And we know that under such conditions, nations turn to totalitarianism and when that fails, to chaos. We also know that unless we help tide these people over, we cannot expect to sell them our surplus because "you can't do business with a graveyard." Nevertheless the isolationist would respond, what of it? Let's stay in our own backyard.

Therefore, the voter, weighing UNRRA's past errors with its future potentialities, will vote for it only if he still believes that world co-operation is something worth taking a risk for.

So UNRRA becomes a test of how well this belief is standing the test of misunderstanding and disappointments on the diplomatic front which we have faced in the past weeks.

We hear a great deal about the difficulty of understanding the Japanese mind and many people have their fears as to how we are going to get along in the years ahead during which we will occupy the country and attempt a reconversion of Japanese thinking as well as economic life.

Recently I had a long conversation with an officer who had interviewed some of the more intelligent Japanese officers captured in the Philippines just before the surrender. Several remarks of one of these men illustrated the difficulty of reaching the enemy mind.

"My friend asked the prisoner: 'What did you think of our propaganda?'"

"It made us laugh," the Jap replied.

"Be specific," my friend said.

"Well, you sent us leaflets saying, 'Surrender; come over to our lines and receive plenty of hot food and cold water.' We laughed at that. We had plenty of cold water in the mountains. What we wanted was hot water."

Water, to a Jap, meant in this case a bath. They bathe in very hot water. That was what they wanted and couldn't get. To the Americans — water means, after the heat of battle, first, a drink.

about RUBBER

Special sponge rubber fabrics, developed by B. F. Goodrich, attached to tables in factory assembly lines enable assemblers to pick up small metal parts without fumbling. Officially predicted, tire production may jump to nearly 4,000,000 passenger car tires a month during the next quarter of 1945. Spare tires should never remain idle until other tires are worn out. Rubber needs to be "exercised" to keep it in best condition. The new B. F. Goodrich all-synthetic Elvertown passenger car tire actually outwears regular rubber tires.

THIRD SMITH BRIDE GETS GOOD ADVICE

HAMILTON, KANSAS. — Mrs. W. H. Smith wrote a most interesting letter to Faultless Starch about the way the Smith family has used that starch. Here is her letter:

"Forty-seven years ago, Mrs. W. O. Smith, as a young bride, started using Faultless Starch in her home.

"Twenty-five years ago Mrs. O. T. Smith, as the very young bride of Mrs. W. O. Smith's son, started using Faultless Starch in her home. She tried many other starches, but always went back to Faultless Starch.

"Ten months ago I started using Faultless Starch as the bride of Mrs. O. T. Smith's son. I started using it at Mrs. Smith's request, and now I am a stiff backer of Faultless Starch.

"As 'three generations of brides,' we say, 'three cheers for Faultless Starch.' 'I might add that I am very fussy about my husband's shirts. And also that Mrs. W. O. Smith has never used any other starch for over half a century!'"

What an interesting story! Certainly here is positive proof that Faultless Starch makes wonderful friends that stay for a life-time.

YOU DESERVE FAULTLESS

There is no reason in the world why you can't enjoy Faultless Starch, too. You might just as well make your starch — WITH-OUT COOKING — with Faultless Starch. You might just as well over $7 million fingerprint cards, stop that "sticky" iron — with But they don't all belong to crooks. Faultless Starch. You might just as well be proud of the absolutely faultless look you get with Faultless Starch. You might just as well be proud of the absolutely faultless look you get with Faultless Starch. You might just as well be proud of the absolutely faultless look you get with Faultless Starch. You might just as well be proud of the absolutely faultless look you get with Faultless Starch.

Predict Another Full Larder for U. S.

Total food available for civilians in 1946 will be considerably greater than in 1945 with average food consumption per capita expected to be larger than in 1945, the department of agriculture reported. All foods, however, will not be equally plentiful, with pork, the better grades of beef and veal, fats, oils and sugar in shorter supply. Most of the expected improvement in civilian food supplies next year stems from the sharp cutback in military food requirements, which will drop to one-third or even one-quarter of the 1945 level. Exports and shipments of food in 1946 will continue large, assuming that satisfactory financial arrangements are completed. The greater part of these exports will move in the early months of the year, mainly to the United Kingdom and the liberated areas of Europe.

BARBS... by Baukhage

Three wheeled "bugs" — little tear-drop cars run by an airplane engine — will soon be available at around a thousand dollars. More use for DDT.

About 800 "lasters" in shoe factories were among the many strikers of the day. The question is how long can a laster last when he isn't lasting?

The department of justice has over $7 million fingerprint cards, stop that "sticky" iron — with But they don't all belong to crooks. Faultless Starch. You might just as well be proud of the absolutely faultless look you get with Faultless Starch. You might just as well be proud of the absolutely faultless look you get with Faultless Starch. J. D. HERRON DIES IN TEXAS.

Tuesday, November 27, 1945, at 3 o'clock in the morning, Mr. J. D. Herron, age 53 years, suddenly became ill and died shortly afterward at his home in Terrel, Texas, where he has resided with his family for a number of years, and where he practiced optometry with his wife, Dr. Pauline Herron.

Mr. Herron will be remembered by people of Carrizozo, Capitan and Roswell where he followed several lines of business.

At Carrizozo he was in the grocery business. At Capitan he was employed by the Titworth Company, and in Roswell he was employed in one of the banks.

He was born in Monroe, Louisiana, and grew to manhood there. He was best loved for his absolute honesty and devotion to duty. He was a Shriner Mason and a member of the Presbyterian church, and had been taking an active part in the church work at Terrell. He seemed to have a premonition that death was near.

Besides his widow, he is survived by three children; also by two sisters and two brothers.

Funeral services were conducted at Terrel, Texas, followed by interment there. A host of friends join relatives in grief for his passing.

CAPTAIN ELLIOT JONES DIES IN PLANE CRASH

On October 5, 1945, while on his last mission carrying out orders, one of Lincoln County's most loved and brave heroes "Elliot," as he was known to his many friends, was killed in a plane crash on Morotal Island in the South East Indies.

Elliot was born in Corona, New Mexico, on March 10, 1920. He attended both the Corona and Capitan schools, graduating from Corona HI in 1937. The following September he enrolled in ENMC, and from there he entered the army as a flyer soon after the Pearl Harbor attack. In November, 1941, Elliot and Miss Helen Townsend, an ENMC student, were united in marriage. Two years later a daughter, Sherry K, was added to this happy union.

Elliot possessed unusual talent and personality. He, as a child, was naturally kind, affectionate and obedient, and as he grew into manhood his pleasing manners, his wonderful gift of wit, plus highly intellectual strength, gained for himself friends among every age and rank. From infancy he was gently taught and led by a kind, devoted Christian mother, who gave him reverence and love for Divine things. He became a member of the Missionary Baptist Church while in his early youth. His unhesitating and quiet response to every call of duty promoted his rapid progress through his school days, also after he entered into military service.

Though his years were few, he gave much to make this world a better place in which for those remaining to carry on the unfinished task. Besides his wife and little daughter, of Colorado Springs, Colo., he leaves his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Carpenter, of Telluride, Colo., a brother, Lt. Frank Jones, who is still in the service, and now on Iwo Jima, an aunt, Mrs. L. L. Argenbright of Corona, and many relatives and friends, all of whom sorrow and share in sorrow because of one so loved and enjoyed by all, can now only be with us in our memories.

Elliot flew a speedy P-39. He flew alone on all of his missions with perfect success, but on his last flight that October morning at 8 o'clock, the motor in his plane was not up to par, and so, crashed to earth on the island where his tired, war-worn body now rests in a lonely grave, but the spirit of our brave hero was winged to that City of Immortal Glory to live in peace through the eternal ages.

"No... I'm staying in the Army!"

THERE ARE PLENTY OF REASONS... AND HERE THEY ARE!"

- "First, I keep my present grade. That means a lot.
- "By reenlisting for 3 years I can pick my own branch of service in the Air, Ground or Service Forces, and can go to any overseas theater I wish.
- "I get my mustering-out pay, even though I'm reenlisting. Also, I get $50 a year reenlistment bonus for each year I've been in the Army. My dependents receive family allowances for the full term of my enlistment. And I'll be eligible for GI Bill of Rights benefits when I get out of the Army.
- "My food, clothes, quarters, medical and dental care are all supplied to me. And I can learn any of 200 skills or trades in the Army schools.
- "All of us who are reenlisting are going to have from 30 to 90 days' furlough at home with full pay and our travel paid both ways. And we'll have 30 days' furlough every year with pay.
- "Any time after 20 years I can retire at half pay increasing year by year to three-quarters retirement pay after 30 years of service. And the time I've already served in active military or naval service counts toward my retirement time. Added up, reenlistment seems pretty sound to me!"

EISENHOWER—DEMOCRAT OR REPUBLICAN

WASHINGTON. — When Admiral Dewey returned triumphant from capturing the Philippines in the Spanish-American war, newsmen asked the conquering hero whether he was a Democrat or a Republican. The admiral wasn't quite sure which. That ended the Dewey boom for President.

Today, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower may be put in the same position as Admiral Dewey. Both parties are considering new blood for 1948. GOP leaders are convinced that, given a candidate who can win labor votes yet not alienate the Hoover conservatives, they can win. Obviously, Eisenhower is important presidential timber.

Popular impression is that Eisenhower is a Republican. He was appointed to West Point from the rock-ribbed Republican state of Kansas by GOP Senator Joseph P. Bristol. And nobody in those days could get anywhere in Kansas unless he was a Republican.

However, though it may be news to GOP leaders, Dwight Eisenhower put himself on record early in life as a Democrat. Furthermore, he was an energetic William Jennings Bryan Democrat, and in November, 1900, made a speech at the annual Democratic banquet held in Abilene, Kan. The other speakers were older and seasoned Kansas Democrats; but Dwight Eisenhower, then only 19, was picked to stand up with them and harangue the crowd. He did.

HOWE'S OLD FRIEND

I am indebted for this information to J. W. Howe now of Emporia, Kan. Howe not only published the Abilene News, but was a member of the school board and knew young Dwight better than anyone outside his own family.

The Abilene News office was headquarters for a group of high school boys who came there to discuss their problems, talk sports and politics, read the papers and do odd jobs for the paper. J. W. Howe pays of Eisenhower.

"Dwight liked to read the exchange newspapers from out of town. He never complained about working, seeming to take that for granted. In school discussions, he was always for the under-dog and contended we needed a somewhat better distribution of wealth."

William Jennings Bryan at that time had made many speeches in Abilene and the young folks liked to hear him. In fact, Bryan made some definite inroads on the republicans. The Republican party at that time was beginning to be split into two groups, led by Taft and Teddy Roosevelt. The fight in Abilene was bitter, and this was the situation when Dwight Eisenhower started out in 1909 to get the proper endorsements to enter West Point.

DWIGHT GOT TO WEST POINT

The Eisenhower family had no political pull — on the contrary. Dwight's father was listed as a Democrat, though he took little part in politics. Dwight himself was more active than his father, but whatever pull he had was with the Democrats. However, the factional Republican fight helped him. Editor Howe, the town's chief Democratic leader, advised Dwight to go get the endorsement of Phil W. Hoath, editor of the Abilene Herald and a spokesman for the "Square Deal" Republicans; also to get the endorsement of Charles M. Harger, editor of the Abilene Record, spokesman for the "Stand-Pat" Republicans.

Since young Eisenhower was not allied with either faction, Harger and Harger were very friendly, and gladly gave him their support. Thus, he was able to obtain not only the endorsement of the Democrats, but of both Republican factions—a real compliment to his standing in the community.

Eisenhower's first and only venture into politics occurred while he was taking postgraduate work at the Abilene high school, preparatory to West Point. Chief speaker at the Democratic banquet was George H. Hodges, later governor of Kansas. Dwight's subject was "The Student in Politics."

Two themes ran through the speech of the 19-year-old future commander of the Allied armies in Europe—preparedness and helping the under-dog.

According to the Abilene News: "To say that he handled himself nicely would be putting it mildly. His speech was well received."

A few months later, like Eisenhower was in West Point, where no one is supposed to be a Democrat or a Republican.

EISENHOWER MERRY-GO-ROUND

In high school, young Dwight was called "Ugly Ike." . . . One day a gang of schoolboys, trapped into J. W. Howe's editorial offices to narrate how the fell off a horse. "The horse turned the head to knock off a fly and Ike just fell off," they said. . . . Dwight had come in walking on one leg, and guarding his arm. He just grinned. Actually, the horse had stepped in a hole and fallen, but Ike never tried to explain it to the other boys. . . . The Eisenhower gang at school had odd traits.

Good Fields Look GOOD From the Air!

Looking Down on the Land The Fellow in the Airplane Above Quickly Surveys Your Farm!

By EDWARD EMERINE WNU Features,

WE WERE a few minutes out of Kansas City, and the C-47 transport plane was gliding along at about 160 miles an hour, some 2,500 feet above sea level. The rolling lands of eastern Kansas lay below us.

"Notice the erosion down there, Art?" I asked the man sitting in the bucket-seat next to me.

"Yes, I do," he replied quickly. "I've seen a lot of those farms, but look at the ponds, the terracing and contour farming on others."

The mission was a press flight, and "Art" was Arthur W. Burrows, editor of the News-Press, St. Joseph, Mo. At the time I was a public relations officer with the Air Transport command. A group of radio and press representatives was being flown to Abilene for the homecoming celebration for General of the Armies Dwight D. Eisenhower. A lot of us were looking out of the plane's windows, surveying the soil situation as we sped through the air.

Like many others, Editor Burrows is interested in conserving the rich soil of northwest Missouri and northeast Kansas. The city of St. Joseph, with its stockyards, packing plants, cereal mills and rows of business houses, depends on that soil. Art Burrows writes editorials about it, gives spots for news stories and pictures that tell about keeping that good earth from going down the Missouri river, into the Mississippi, and on down to the Gulf of Mexico to build a greater delta there. He was that day seeing his beloved country for the first time from the air.

Take "Mental Photographs."

But for the past four years or more, while bombers and fighters have circled overhead and crossed the 48 states, American youths in these planes have been looking down on American cities and farms. With practiced eye they've taken mental photographs of hills and valleys, gulches and mesas, plains and mountains, rivers and lakes. As they trained to be pilots, navigators and bombardiers, they also learned about America.

"I'm going to buy a farm when the war's over," a young pilot told me. "But I want to fly over and look at it first."

I know what he meant. He wanted to see the colorations of the soil, the yellowish patches where the soil was thin, the darker shades of red and brown, and finally, the black, rich bottoms. He wanted to see how much of his farm would be good land and what percentage would be poor. In a pilot's flight over the farm he could see every gully, locate every pond, and view every effort at soil conservation.

That pilot had seen soil all over America, from the Everglades of Florida to the hills of New England. He had seen rocks sticking up out of fields in Virginia and had battled red dust over Oklahoma. He had flown over detoured hills of Alabama and Georgia and traced the missing soil to the marshes down near the ocean.

Up in the air the story of the land is told graphically and quickly. The chart spread out below hides nothing and reaches from coast to coast, from border to border. The various colored soils admit their worth. The extent of damage by a forest fire is viewed within minutes. An Ohio river flood, lashing out to destroy or carry away man's home and food, will take only a few hours to cover from an airplane. Houses, livestock and debris floating down the stream do not make a pretty sight, but hundreds of acres have seen it. Years ago I flew from Scottsbluff, Neb., over the North Platte valley in a small biplane. There were uncovered fields where potatoes and beans had been grown, and the wind was whipping up dust to be carried away. But southwest of Mitchell, I noticed something else. Where the Hall Brothers had used strip-farming for their wheat growing, the dust wasn't blowing!

Abandon Ranch.

It was in 1939, after the "dust-bowl" years, that I talked to an old friend, R. T. Cline, at Brandon, Colo., inquiring about acquaintances of other years. How is the Rupp family? It was my question.

"They left their ranch," Dick Cline told me. "They moved to the Arkansas valley and have a filling station, I think. So much dust covered the range they couldn't run cattle any more."

Recently I flew over eastern Colorado, and the range looks good now. Maybe the Rupp's are back on their ranch.

About 10 years ago I visited my Uncle Ira, who lived on my grandfather's old farm between Carroville

The first erosion I ever saw was on our homestead ranch near Calhan, Colo. The settlers planted trees for a windbreak, and I chased tumbleweeds for sport.

The Honorable Robert G. Simmons, now on the supreme court of Nebraska, used to be a representative in congress. I've heard a lot of his speeches, but the most impressive thought he ever uttered was, to me, something like this: "Nebraska has no mines, no oil wells," said Bob Simmons. "Nebraska's wealth is eight inches of top soil."

Early in the New Deal, a shelter belt was suggested. It was to be a grove of trees from the Canadian border to the Rio Grande. It was laughed at until it was abandoned. But I'm not so sure it wouldn't have been a good thing.

Gigantic Windbreak.

My reason for believing in a shelter belt is the Halsey National forest at Halsey, Neb. Out in the middle of an arid country is a beautiful pine forest covering 30,000 acres, a gigantic windbreak which conserves the soil and builds it up year after year. I can imagine such a forest extending across the United States, and it doesn't look silly to me!

Soil erosion in everybody's business, I think. The banker, the doctor, the merchant—all are affected as much as the farmer. Some two billion people in the world depend for their livelihood on that thin skin of top soil spread over the earth.

Erosion Shows Its Colors.

and Hampton, in Livingston county, Kentucky. We walked over the hilly farm.

"It should have been terraced years ago," Uncle Ira admitted. "It could have been done. There was a big wash right here, for instance, but I kept filling it in with brush and trees and stuff. Not a trace of it left now, see?"

I've never seen that old farm from the air, but thousands of American fliers have looked down upon it. I think I know how it looks from up there.

Several aviators I've known are concerned about erosion in America. Don't expect them to join Friends of the Land, or write about conservation with the skill of Louis Bromfield; but they're concerned about it just the same. One of them who had flown over the Sahara and Gobi deserts remarked that there were no Chicago or New Yorks in those places. He might have added that there were no Ford or General Motors factories there either.

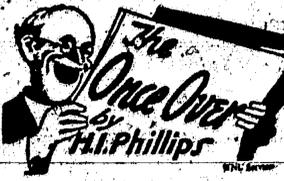

I am not a farmer, no more than I am a pilot. For three years I rode around in planes while I was in the army, but I'm just a newspaper man with a rural background.

Looking Down on Texas From a BT-14

Thousands of men who trained with the AAF at Randolph Field will remember the BT-14, the plane from which they first surveyed Texas from the air. The BT-14 allowed an unobstructed view of the landscape below, and many of the student pilots wondered, just how soft these fields really were in case they had to make a landing on one of them.

Randolph Field has long claimed to be Uncle Sam's "West Point of the Air." One of our permanent air fields, Randolph greatly increased its training as early as 1914. The service records of most pilots, young or old, will show a tour of duty at Randolph Field. Training will continue at Randolph for AAF personnel, even though the war has ended.

Many other types of planes were used, and are being used, at Randolph for both basic and advanced training.

ALARMING REACTIONS TO FOOTBALL FLASHES

Elmer Twitchell, red hot football enthusiast, is near his annual grid season collapse. He can't stand the strain of those football battles. Not that he goes to many games. He sees few in the bowls. What ruins Elmer are the newsreel movies!

He can sit quietly through most movies without any impulse to join the players on the screen, but football scenes get him. Just flash on those views of two big teams tearing up and down the screen and Elmer goes berserk. He rips off his coat the moment a game starts. (Lately he has taken to wearing a heavy sweater and perhaps wrapping himself in a blanket. How he loves to throw them off and gallop down the aisle!)

Last night the big game suddenly flashed on the screen between two big features. With only 10 yards to go for a touchdown a player dropped the ball and it rolled over the sidelines and clean out of the movie. Elmer thought it went into the third aisle. He sprang from his seat and went for it.

He came up with a felt hat, a handbag and a bag of potatoes belonging to a Long Island movie addict, reversed the field and seemed about to make the most sensational run of the year when thrown by the house policeman and a violinist.

There is something to be said for Elmer. These movie flashes of epic contests are hard to follow. Half the time we are not sure whether the action moves closer to the photographer now and then or whether it's vice versa. And it is our conviction that the football episodes frequently get mixed up with the episodes in the double feature picture.

LINES AFTER STUDYING

What's become of that old beaver That my father used to wear? It was tall and rather battered; Of hard knocks it had its share; Oh, for years it had been missing. But it's back among us now, And this season sees it perching Over mom's and sister's brow.

Father wore it but to weddings Or when greeting folks of fame; It was not worn on the bias— Comedy was not his aim. But now mother has no scruples— And her mirror seems to please, As she puts it on her needle When her milliner decrees!

Mom may cut it down, extend it, Doll it up with things galore, But she never can deceive me— It's the plug hat father wore; And this is my firm conclusion: Though she wears it with aplomb, It looked better on my old man Than it ever looks on mom!

PLANET JOYTINGS

H. Truman, the former hatter, saw his lawyers recently. He wants to sue the fellows who sold him the idea of taking a nomination for vice president on the ground it would be just an honor.

German war criminals posed for a group picture the other day. It should be a big help in convicting them on all counts, even if retouched a little.

Things have taken a turn for the worst. Peace has broken out in China, Java, Palestine, Cairo and other points. Folks are trying to get the White House to issue a radio statement assuring them it will not spread to America.

Robbers broke into the General Motors plant recently but as what they wanted to steal was a new auto they left empty handed.

Stocks are soaring on the best bad news in years from all points. Nothing can stop the rise but prosperity.

OH BOY!

Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts comes out with praise for Indian pudding as the tastiest dish in America, and how this warms our hearts! It is years since we had any, and yet the memory of this golden dish makes our mouths water. "Inch meal," we called it back home. It was made into a sort of pudding the night before and put away to "set." Then in the morning Mom carved it into strips about a quarter of an inch thick—maybe closer to a half—and fried it on the kitchen stove. We can still hear it sputtering and see it in all its golden glow as we poured maple syrup on it and went to town. What's become of it?

Radio is 25 years old. This makes it still too young to give the right answer to its outstanding question, "Are you over 33 . . . ?"

It seems only yesterday that there was no radio at all and we would think of a pill, ointment or cigarette without associating it with any crooner or comic.

A British plane has done 600 miles an hour. When doing less than 400 it is considered parked.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disturbed Kidney Action

Modern life with its busy and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—the lack of exercise and infection—throws heavy strains on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acids and other impurities from the circulating blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up right leg pain, swelling, faint, constantly tired, nervous, all work out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes a burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body wastes. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your doctor.

Angelo had been hired to work with a road gang high in the mountains and had been warned about rattlesnakes. He had been told, however, that a rattlesnake would always give a warning before striking.

One day as Angelo sat on a log eating his lunch, he noticed a large rattler a few feet away from him coiled and ready to strike. Depending on the information he had been given, he nonchalantly crossed his legs and waited for the signal. Just as he made this move, the rattler struck, landing on the log just a quarter of an inch away from Angelo's leg. For a second there was nothing but dust, and a few hundred feet away Angelo was heard to say: "Son of a gun, what's a da mat you no ringa da bell."

Silk From Central America
Mexico, which was raising silkworms experimentally in the 1870s and 1880s, is now planning a silk worm raising as a national industry which will employ thousands of rural workers. Cuba and Nicaragua have also been looking into the possibilities of sericulture.

Although silkworms can be raised in some parts of the United States, the silk culture as an industry is not sufficiently profitable to tempt the North American farmer to tempt him to give up his corn and pigs. So this country will have to go on importing silk.

Bake Cookies Now To Have Them Ready For Holiday Time

Bake holiday cookies before Christmas and store them in wax paper lined tins to keep them fresh and moist. A raw, unpeeled apple will prevent them from drying out.

Sugar-Shy Cookies

Good cookies are always in season, but particularly so at Christmas time. This year, of course, we are still working under difficulties because sugar is not easy to obtain. But that needn't put a crimp in the Yuletide cookie jar. Corn syrup, honey and unrationed chocolate are all on hand to help with the Christmas baking. You will find the recipes for these substitutes so good that they're here to stay even when we have plenty of sugar.

Cookies made for Christmas are usually prepared ahead of time to save work as the big celebration approaches. It's a smart idea to take precautions with them to keep them fresh and moist. First of all, use nuts and dried fruits whenever possible as these ingredients add moisture. Second, pack them in waxed paper lined tins with a raw apple. Then they won't dry out.

Incidentally, when using honey or corn syrup in cookies, grease the baking pans thoroughly to prevent sticking. Melted fat brushed on the tins usually solves the problem neatly.

Here are two types of cookies, neither of which requires any sugar at all. One uses corn syrup for sweetening and the other, honey:

- Fudge Nut Squares. (Makes 10 2-inch squares)
1 cup chocolate pieces
2 tablespoons shortening
2 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup corn syrup
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup cake flour, sifted
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup nuts, chopped

Melt chocolate and shortening over hot water. Beat eggs thoroughly, add corn syrup and vanilla and beat until light and fluffy. Stir in melted chocolate and shortening, which have been slightly cooled. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Add to chocolate mixture. Stir in nuts. Pour into a greased, 8-inch square pan. Bake in a moderately hot (375-degree) oven for 25 to 30 minutes.

- Honey Drops. (Makes 4 dozen cookies)
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup honey
1 egg, unbeat
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour

LYNN SAYS

Taste Tips: When all the meat has been sliced off the roast, whittle off the pieces from the bones, grind them and mix them with mayonnaise or salad dressing for sandwiches.

The bone from a roast may be simmered with onion, celery, carrots, bay leaf and parsley. This stock is excellent for casseroles, sauces, or as a gravy base.

To prevent the broiler from becoming dry, fit it with a wire rack, and then the fat will drip into the pan. It is easy to pour off, and the broiler pan is easily washed.

When serving veal, complement the flavor with sausage, spiced fruits or pickles.

Never press meat loaf or hamburgers into tight loaves or patties. When loosely shaped, the meat will be more tender.

Frankfurters will have extra appeal if wrapped in biscuit dough, baked and served with mustard white sauce.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENUS

- Stuffed Baked Potatoes with Creamed Ham
Asparagus Spiced Glazed Carrots
Pineapple Cole Slaw
Biscuits
Beverage
Sponge Cake Custard

- 1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup nuts, chopped
1 cup chocolate pieces
Cream shortening and honey together. Add unbeaten egg and vanilla and beat until light and fluffy. Mix and sift flour, soda and salt. Add to the first mixture. Stir in nuts and chocolate pieces. Drop from teaspoon on a greased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderately hot (375-degree) oven 10 to 12 minutes.

Using only a small amount of sweetening, cookies in the following two recipes take on extra sweetness because of the molasses that is used in them. Both contain dried fruits to make them moist:

- Prune Cookies. (Makes 5 dozen cookies)
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup molasses
2 eggs
1 1/4 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup cooked prunes, pitted and cut in small pieces
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream shortening and sugar, add molasses and eggs, one at a time. Sift flour with baking soda, salt and cinnamon. Add to creamed mixture. Beat thoroughly. Add prunes and vanilla. Mix well. Drop by teaspoonfuls on a greased baking sheet. Bake in a pre-heated (375-degree) oven for 12 minutes.

- Molasses Raisin-Nut Bars.
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
1/2 cup molasses
2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 cup sweet milk
1 cup chopped nuts
1 cup chopped raisins or dates

Cream shortening, add sugar and beat until light. Add eggs, beat well, then add molasses. Sift flour with dry ingredients and add alternately with milk to first mixture. Add chopped nuts and fruit. Spread thinly in a greased shallow pan. Bake 15 to 20 minutes in a moderate (325-degree) oven. Cut in bars.

Everyday brownies will take on a festive touch if they are simply iced with powdered sugar frosting. The cookies should be well cooled before they are spread with icing.

Bury cooks know that bar shaped cookies save preparation time. These molasses flavored fruit bars are just the thing for holiday time.

- Molasses Fruit Bars. (Makes about 3 dozen bars)
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup shortening
1 egg
1/2 cup molasses
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1 1/2 cups whole wheat flakes
1/2 cup milk
1 cup chopped seedless raisins

Beat together sugar and shortening. Add egg and blend well. Sift flour with salt, soda and baking powder. Crush whole wheat flakes into fine crumbs and mix with flour. Add to egg mixture alternately with milk. Fold in raisins. Spread batter 1/2 inch thick in a greased baking pan. Bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven.

- Four Season Dessert. (Serves 4)
6 pear halves
6 cupcakes
Raspberry preserves
Whipped cream

Cut each pear half in half. Split cupcakes and lay a piece of pear on each half in dessert dish. Pour a spoonful raspberry preserves in center of pears and top with a spoonful of whipped cream just before serving.

Boon Is Foreseen In New Radar Set SEWING CIRCLE PATTERNS
Gay Jumper and Matching Jacket

Can Detect Vessels Under the Worst Kind of Weather.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS.—A new radar set that will "completely revolutionize" American coastal artillery defense and also answer the problem of guiding incoming ships through fog and darkness even though they themselves lack radar, was disclosed here.

Details were revealed by the radiation laboratories at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, which designed the apparatus for the army signal corps. Sets had been placed in operation along both our coastlines and on the coast of Iwa Jima before the war ended. The equipment is called "seacoast fire control radar."

It can detect vessels at least 25 miles out at sea, under the worst weather conditions with a definition hitherto impossible with other shore to sea sets, the scientists said. Since its accuracy of detection is within five yards in any direction at the effective firing range of 12 miles, it enables big coastal guns to hit their targets with virtually foolproof exactness. Moreover, it allows the guns to be fired with accuracy at night for the first time, because the radar automatically "feeds" the guns information on range and bearing.

The set gives such definition that a fleet of several hundred large and small ships, detected at a distance of 30 miles, shows up as separate, clearly defined dots of light, whereas previous sets would present such a fleet as a conglomerate mass, the radiation laboratory men said. An area one mile square can be brought to such magnification that a ship five miles away can actually be seen to turn, and sometimes even identified as to class. The radar operator ashore can see when the vessel passes within a few feet of a mark—Capt. Matthew Flinders (1774-1814) detect even sea gulls in flight.

2-8 yrs.

THIS gay little jumper is bound to delight the younger set. Pretty to wear with snowy blouses or brightly colored sweaters. The matching jacket has a pet collar and can have long or short sleeves.

Pattern No. 8947 is for sizes 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 8 years. Size 3, Jumper, requires 1 yard of 23 or 23 1/2 inch material; jacket, short sleeves, 1 1/2 yards; long sleeves, 1 3/4 yards.

He Named Australia

Australia is the only continent that was named by one man alone—the famous English navigator, James Cook, who discovered the continent within a few feet of a mark—Capt. Matthew Flinders (1774-1814) detect even sea gulls in flight.

Due to an unusually large demand and current conditions, slightly more time is required in filling orders for a few of the most popular pattern numbers. Send your order lot.

Make New Sports Boat That Will Fit Into Auto

AUSTIN, TEXAS.—Those back-breaking days of tugging your boat from atop the car or off a trailer may soon be over.

All you have to do in the future is lift an 11-foot, 7 1/2-inch long boat from beneath the "turtle" of your car.

Expected to start into commercial production soon at Abilene, Texas, is this new wonder boat made of 22-gauge steel which comes in three sections. At the stern the boat will be 32 inches wide. It will taper slightly toward the cam-pointed bow.

That's how the sections fit one into the other for stacking into your car. And the parts can be assembled in about five minutes or less by use of eight V-bolts.

Safety feature of the new craft is that the sections individually are buoyant. Should one spring a leak, the others still will float. And the E-Z Tot Boat Works plans to make separate sections for replacements.

Highway Travel Climbs

As Gas Rationing Ends
WASHINGTON.—Highway travel took a big and immediate jump upon termination of gasoline rationing but it's not back to prewar levels yet. The weeks following the end of gasoline rationing, weekday automobile travel increased 31 per cent and Sunday traffic jumped 23 per cent, the Public Roads administration reported.

Despite the increases, the administration said, travel on weekdays late in August was 23 per cent below comparable 1941 figures while on Sunday, August 23, it was down 33 per cent from four years previous.

China Asks U. S. Help in Disarming Jap Troops

CHUNGKING, CHINA.—P. H. Chang, a government spokesman and counselor of the executive yuan, said the United States had been invited to send troops to Shanghai, Nanking, Peiping, and Tientsin for the purpose of helping disarm the Japanese. The invitation by the Chinese government, he said, was on the understanding that it was a temporary measure.

24,000 G.I.s in Egyptian Theater to Return Soon

CAIRO, EGYPT.—Maj. Gen. Benjamin F. Giles, commanding general in the African-middle east theater, said about 24,000 United States troops, including all WAC units in the theater, would become eligible for return to the United States from Egypt by November 1. He said the figure comprised about two-thirds of the over-all American strength in the theater.

2,500,000 Servicemen Were Disabled in War

WASHINGTON.—Almost 2,500,000 servicemen were disabled by wounds, disease or accidents in World War II. That estimate was made by Millard W. Rice, national service director for the Disabled American Veterans. He says this is more than five times as many as were disabled by World War I. He figures that 1 in 10—or 250,000—are totally disabled.

STEP ON THE STARTER AND-

ZING!

Brother, here's a gasoline that's quick-on-the-trigger no matter how cold it gets! *

And that isn't all. The first time your toe touches the accelerator you can expect new power - new pick-up - new pep, from the new Phillips 66!

This isn't a claim and it isn't a boast - we say: fill up with Phillips and see for yourself! Open her up on the open road... nurse her in and out of city traffic... man, you'll know why the whole town's talking about Phillips 66!

* PHILLIPS CONTROLLED VOLTILITY DOES THE TRICK. AS THE WEATHER GETS FROSTIER-PHILLIPS 66 GETS PEPPER!
