PROMINENT COUPLE WED AT HOME OF BRIDE'S PARENTS

Fifty guests were in attendance last Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock when Miss Jane Elizabeth Gallacher became the bride of Mr. Robert, Marion Shafer at a most beautiful and sweetly solemn wedding at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Gallacher.

The Rev. John J. Loudin, pastor of the Methodist church read the marriage vows with the double ring service. The rooms were elaborately decorated with ferns and flowers. An improvised altar was arranged before which the couple stood for the ceremony. Myriads of soft glowing candles lighted the darkened rooms. Just before the ceremony Miss Betty Phingston of Hondo, sang "Because" and "O, Promise Me," with Mrs. Ben S. Burns playing piano accompaniment.

The bride wore a light grey street dress with black accessories and her corsage was white gardenias.

The bride's maid was Miss June Lusk, of Roswell, who was wearing a white suit with orchid accessories.

Mr. Allen Beck of State College, Las Cruces, was best man.

Following the ceremony, the three-tiered wedding cake was cut by the bride and groom and served to the guests with champagne.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wade Corn, Mrs. Lusk and son, Jimmie, and Miss June Lusk of Roswell, Mr. Harry Ball, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Austin, and little daughter Phyllis K., of Garden City, Kansas.

Just prior to their departure for their trip, the local photographer took pictures of the wedding party.

The bride and groom left Saturday afternoon for El Paso, and from there they were going to Kingville, Texas, to visit Mr. Shafer's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Howell, also a recent bride and groom. Upon their return home Mr. and Mrs. Shafer will reside in Carrizozo.

The bride is one of the most attractive girls in the younger crowd and is very accomplished. She attended Stephens College in Missouri and the State University in Albuquerque. She is a member of Alpha Phi Omega sorority.

The groom was graduated from the Carrizozo High School and entered the Navy shortly afterward. He is a veteran of World War II and was in the service of his country overseas for many months. In civilian life he is helping his father, Mr. Ray E. Shafer of the Carrizozo Auto Company.

The popularity of this couple was well attested by the many gorgeous and elaborate gifts bestowed upon them.

Miss Jordan is to be married early in June to Mr. McVeigh, former army sergeant, of New Jersey, who was stationed near Alamo-gordo prior to his overseas army service.

Guessing games and a musical program preceded the opening of the numerous packages, which contained beautiful gifts to delight the heart of a prospective bride. Cake, coffee, nuts and candy were served to 20, and after signing the guest book and more music, everyone departed thanking the hostess for a delightful evening.

Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom

The Junior-Senior prom was held at the Community hall last Saturday evening. About 100 attended and the dance was very successful. Decorations were in rainbow colors. The girls were wearing beautiful formal dresses.

A floor show was given at which the Girls Glee Club gave several numbers. The Junior-boys sang: "Rainbow Round My Shoulder," and Veda Lou Branum sang a solo.

Just preceding the prom the Junior-Senior banquet was held at the Woman's Club building.

The following invited guests from out of town were in attendance: Miss Patricia Morrison, Messrs. Albert Gause and Fred Hendrich of Albuquerque; Miss Helen Jeanne Kelt, of Santa Fe; Messrs. Chas. Snow and Allen Beck, of Las Cruces.

Capitan High School to Acquire Art Collection

A plan to acquire a mammoth exhibit of 150 fine reproductions in full colors of the old masters was stated by school authorities at C. H. S. Monday. Artists included Annick, Cezanne, Dorn, Innes, Monet, Rembrandt (Four Titles), Rubens, Velasquez, Vincent and Wiegand, in addition to a score of other artists.

Acquisition of the picture is intended to accelerate art study and appreciation in the schools, which previously had been somewhat retarded in New Mexico at the present time.

DAMAGE SUIT FILED

SANTA FE—Suit was filed in U. S. District court today on a removal from Lincoln County, in which Mrs. T. Otero of Roswell, seeks $2000 damages from E. E. Erickson and his daughter, Helen Miller, Greely, Colo., and Marvin Jackson, of Argyle, for injuries allegedly suffered by Mrs. Otero's daughter, Freda O'Brien, in an automobile accident at Hondo last October 8.

BASEBALL GAME

The Carrizozo and Claunch baseball teams played here Sunday, with Carrizozo winning. The score was 2-1. Mr. Red Huffmyer, of White Oaks, a favorite of the locals, pitched part of the game, which was close enough to be exciting.

THE CARRIZOZO FIRE DEPARTMENT

Now that the war is over the Carrizozo Fire Department has announced plans and more plans for their organization. They are going to be right at the head of the procession in the Progressive Movement for Lincoln County. They have some money for a building, but they must have other funds too, and they have launched an intensive campaign to raise those funds. Starting the 8th day of June they will give a dance. This is going to be followed by other entertaining affairs. Of course everybody in Carrizozo will get behind their project and help them realize their ambitions for an up-to-date building and all that goes with it. This is not a dream, but is an absolute certainty. They are all enthusiastic, ambitious, and full of determination. Carrizozo is proud of her fire department.

REPORT ON THE RUSSIANS.....

INSTALLMENT FOURTEEN

The Red Army band selected for their skill from all of Russia's millions. Their uniforms were spotless. Half of them played instruments and the other half was a perfectly drilled male choir of perhaps thirty voices. The big river rang with gorgeous Red Army marching songs and heart-breaking old Russian folk tunes.

Whenever they stopped for breath, the other band, out of sight on the stern of the boat, would play. Mike proudly ushered us down to the dining salon and the boat turned around, heading for our dock.

When the boat returns us to the dacha, we find half a dozen women in evening gowns—artists from the local opera. In the next room another staggering banquet is laid; they are to dine with us. They speak only Russian but do their best to make polite small talk with gestures. Bob Magidov, who represents the Associated Press, is particularly helpful. His Russian is perfect.

Lenin Optical Plant No. 60 now makes range-finding equipment for artillery and tanks.

This factory was evacuated from Russia had its USO, units which also provided entertainment for foreign visitors.

Leningrad on November 16, 1941. Sixty per cent of its 15,000 workers came with the machinery. The factory is clean, well-lit and apparently very well-run, for no one is idle at the benches. Walking down the assembly line, Mike lags behind, talking to the workers, a wave of the hand to this one, a pat on the back for that—a ward-boss patrolling his precinct. Strictly Tammany.

The director here is proud of his precision work. We ask him if it is as accurate as the great Zeiss plant in Germany—admittedly the best in the world before the war. He says it is now as good as that, but only recently and there are two reasons.

A pretty Komsomol presents Eric with a bouquet of flowers and a speech, to which he must reply in kind. During the pause we get some information out of Mike. First we ask him about restrictions on traveling; and he says here there are none. Back in Moscow, Leningrad and in the war zone, yes, of course. But on this side of the Ural travel permits are not hard to get.

In the factory dining room each of us is presented with a fine pair of $30 Red Army field glasses, with our names engraved in Russian characters, and, of course, there is another banquet.

Back to the dacha at the evening banquet, Mike Kalugin had risen for the first toast. He was talking slowly and looking from face to face with narrowed eyes. Magidov was translating.

"Mike says," said Magidov, "this will be our last dinner together, that we have been good friends, that he has tried to show us Novosibirsk and the hospitality of a Siberian, and he hopes we have enjoyed ourselves."

Mike continued with measured words, his eyes narrowed to slits. "He says parting with friends is always sad, but on some occasions it is less sad than on others. On such occasions guests who have pretended to be friends of the Soviet Union after they have left have become traitors—writing and saying bad things about the Soviet Union. Parting with traitorous friends like this is not very sad, he says."

The room was in complete silence. But when Mike began again, his eyes were not quite so narrow. There even seemed to be a grim smile on his lips.

"Mike says," said Magidov, "that he is sure our friendship is not like this, so our parting is truly sad, and he invites us to drink that our friendship may forever endure."

Then we rose to drink the toast. After it Eric remained standing. He filled his glass, and raised it, looking first at Mike and then at the interpreter.

"We have enjoyed your generous hospitality," he said, looking now at Mike, "and when I was invited to the Soviet Union, it was agreed that I would be free to say and write exactly what I thought when I got home. While there are many things that we admire about the Soviet Union, there are some things I do not understand."

"I have never understood the policies of the Communist Party in America. The Soviet Union should understand that if the American people feel Russia is interfering with our local affairs through this Communist Party, then co-operation between America and the Soviet Union will be impossible."

"As you know," he said, "in Moscow I saw many of your important people, and only four days ago I saw Marshal Stalin. I talked with him and with him as frankly as I am talking to you now."

We drank. Mike rose rather slowly to his feet. Then he looked sharply across at Eric and began to speak.

"He says," translated Magidov, "that from the days of the Civil War, when he fought with the Red Guards, he has always followed the discipline of the Communist Party, as he follows Marshal Stalin today. He says the Marshal now tells us that we should not interfere in the affairs of other nations. That we should get along with foreigners. That's all he wants to know: it will be done. So he raises his glass to the health of his great leader, Marshal Stalin."

Breakfast next morning was in the same room, and as we sat down, the mayor of Novosibirsk, apparently having first obtained Mike's permission, rose for a toast.

The mayor said they had found Americans to be good and warm friends; he could assure us that Russians were also warm friends. But if a friendship is broken, Russians can be terrible in their anger, Russia's friendship with Germany had been so broken, and to her great sorrow Germany now knew the weight of Russian anger. The mayor wished Mr. Johnston and those with him a pleasant journey on through the Soviet Union, and that they would get safely home.

Then the ten servants of the dacha lined up alongside the dining table and in true baronial style, each was given a glass of vodka to drink our health. We had seen Novosibirsk.

In 1917 when it seized power after the collapse of the Romanov dynasty, the Bolshevik Party was a handful of Marxist theoreticians. Russians only fleetingly enjoyed freedom and the Party then assumed the autocracy of the Autocrat of all Russias. The heritage of this Party is in almost equal parts of Marx and of Genghis Khan.

In America, a Republican can be anyone—white, black, rich, poor, drunk, or sober, who has decided he likes the party's principles or candidates. But becoming a member of the Communist Party is as difficult as joining a yacht club. The usual first step is to join the Komsomols or Young Communist League, which works under the direction of full-fledged Party members. After some time in this, the aspirant may apply for Party membership. For a year he is watched carefully. Everything about him is investigated—from his work habits and political opinions to his sex life.

The Party wants only intense workers who will subject themselves completely to a discipline as rigid as that of any army. It also tries (with less success) to exclude those who may not have strong convictions about its principles, but see it as a necessary step on the ladder to success. It does not want "careerists" although in Russia membership is indispensable to a career.

Once the coveted membership is gained, the man is less closely watched, but any slackening in zeal, any deviation from the Party's political line, or any signs of "personal ambition" are punished with expulsion. These admissions and expulsions are controlled by the Party's secretary, and in the early days this was put in the charge of an unobtrusive Bolshevik named Joseph Stalin. Only after Lenin's death did the more prominent Communists like Zinoviev, Kamenev, Bukharin and Trotsky come to realize that the man who controls the Party's membership controls not only the Party but all Russia.

The high Party members, who now wield the power of the Romanovs, have moved into both the palaces and the privileges of the old Aristocracy, and are drinking quite as much champagne. But no one can argue that they do not justify their existence by hard and useful work for the state, and by taking leadership and responsibility.

Class distinctions are rapidly springing up in Russia. But, for the present at least, these distinctions are based on achievement and hard work—even though the achievement may sometimes be only political skill necessary to climb to the top of the hierarchy.

"He's got everything a Communist should have," the correspondent once said, "a motor car, a peroxide wife with gold teeth, and a dacha." But at least, he got these things by hard work, presumably (and usually) in the service of the people and the state. The privileged class in Russia is full of the rich sap of hard work. There is in it so far none of the rotten dead-wood of hereditary fortunes, piled up by useful men with vision but handed down through generations of weaklings who yet retain the privileges.

The Communist Party had about 5,000,000 members until Stalin's purges beginning in 1936 reduced it to about 2,500,000. After the war began the base was broadened and membership raised to 4,500,000, many from the army. But since responsibility for leadership goes with Party membership and Communists are supposed to (and do) set an example of personal courage, an unduly large number of them have been killed and nobody now knows the exact membership.

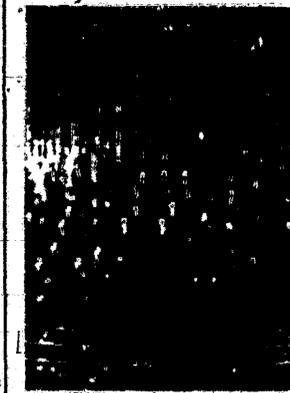

One of the Party's functions is to provide the Kremlin with accurate reports on the state of Russian public opinion. In the field of foreign affairs, of course, the people have no facts other than those provided by the government-controlled press. But in domestic matters the Russian people have definite ideas as to what they like and do not like. The Party is sometimes unable to check a trend in public opinion. If it is a real ground-swell they do not fight it, but divert it into proper channels.

They remember 1917, when they themselves rode into power on the crest of a tidal wave of unrest which the old autocracy failed to recognize in time, and was too stupid to handle. They expect similar unrest after this war, and are sure they will be quick enough to canalize it before it gets out of hand.

American correspondents in Russia who are most warmly sympathetic with the dictatorship say that it amounts to a government by the Gallup Poll, which is much too rosy a view of the facts. The dictatorship is, of course, acutely concerned with public opinion. But most of this is created by the government's own press; another portion may be directed into safe channels—and there remain a few instances where the government finds it must abandon, reverse, or postpone policies because they are too unpopular.

Only in foreign affairs does the dictatorship have a completely free hand. Since no Russian may travel abroad except on official government business, the people know nothing of the outside world except what they learn from their controlled press, which is of course only what their government wants them to know. Lacking any independent basis for judgment, they must accept wars, allies and peace treaties as these are handed out from the Kremlin.

Some observers in Moscow think even this will change. They say that the top Bolsheviks realize what they have lost by permitting their people to travel abroad, for Russia has always sorely needed foreign help. But always they say—even if it grants this concession—the Party will control.

On one side of the picture this is a slave empire. On the other side it is a vigorous, dynamic empire—moving on.

Just what, I asked of the correspondents, will the Russians want in Europe? That was easy, they answered. Russians already have the Baltic States. They want some kind of frontier settlement with Poland, approximately the Curzon line. They want to be sure Germany is rendered harmless. Beyond this they won't want much, except to be sure that the governments in their border states—Finland, Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Bulgaria—will not be hostile to them.

Telephone Wires Not Used by New System

Power Lines to Carry Voices in Rural Zones

A new telephonic communications era has begun for the nation's farm families. Tests made in Arkansas and Alabama by the telephone, private power companies and the REA have proven the feasibility of "talking" over the same rural power lines

Outwardly, the new and old telephonic equipment looks very much alike. In the new system, however, speech is transmitted over power wires by means of a carrier wave of radio frequency produced by electronic tubes, located either in a small box adjacent to the telephone or attached directly to the instrument. A device called a "coupler," placed on a pole outside each telephone user's house, allows the carrier current to enter and leave the lines but prevents the power current from interfering with transmitting and receiving instruments.

Equipment to change the high frequency current back to normal voice frequency, is located at a point on the power line where vocal messages are channeled over wires to the telephone central office. The new system, experiments on which were started by Bell laboratories and REA in 1935, is expected to "telephonically link" thousands of families who now reside along rural power lines but are too far off the beaten path to be reached by existing telephone lines. Approximately three million farms are now electrified and scores of others are being added daily.

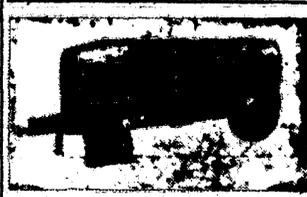

U. S. Can Produce the Highest Quality Silk

A movement was started in the United States about 1830 to produce silk. Proper varieties of silkworms were not available and the industry failed.

It has not been determined that California has a more suitable climate than Japan for silkworm culture, being able to raise three crops a year, contrasted with Japan's one, and at the same time produce a better quality silk.

In Texas sericulture has become a community project. At Mineral Wells, a fund to develop the Texas silk culture was oversubscribed. There are other states in the South, East and West, where silk culture can be made to produce satisfactory returns.

Improved Machinery Power-Spray

New Meyers Power Spray

Built to be operated by one man, this power sprayer was designed to cut down weight and over-all length. Cypress tank eliminates corrosion.

The sprayer, built by F. E. Myers & Bro. Co., Ashland, Ohio, is of the air-blast principle. Handy push-button control regulates the accuracy for orchard work.

Keep Stock Away From Newly Painted Building

Hundreds of valuable cows and other livestock are killed annually by licking the paint from buildings. Cows seemingly have a craving for the lead which is an ingredient in most paints, according to the American Veterinary Medical Association. Herds have been known to dig down to the bottom of a trash pile to reach a discarded paint can with fatal consequences. After the paint is dry, little trouble will result.

RUN-AWAY INFLATION RESULTS FROM SPENDING FOR THE GOVERNMENT

continued deficit financing, an unbalanced budget, the spending of more than we take in, means continued borrowings from the banks. The continued borrowing means an ever-increasing amount of circulating currency, of which we now have many times the amount we ever before had throughout our history. Back of that currency is now nothing other than the honesty, the integrity, the solvency of the government. When government reaches the point where it is impossible to redeem that circulating currency we are broke. To continue on such a road means government dishonesty. When we have reached the point where our currency is worthless, we have run-away inflation. This is what we are rapidly approaching.

Our money of today, all of it, is but a replica of those unsupported greenbacks of post civil war times. Today we have very many times as much of what can become worthless currency as we had following the close of the Civil War. We will have more as long as we continue deficit financing, spending more than we take in. Money is not wealth, it is but a medium of exchange. When that medium becomes worthless, the food, clothing, fuel and shelter it has provided are no longer obtainable.

Such a condition affects all of us, rich or poor, and especially those of the towns and cities. The farmer's acres can continue to supply for him food, fuel and shelter. The rich man of the cities and towns, with more to lose than the poor, may lose the most, but will not suffer most. He may have to do without servants; heat and occupy but a small portion of his mansion; continue to wear his accumulation of clothing, but out of his present abundance he will be able to live. While the rich man may become a poor man, the poor man will become a corpse through starvation and exposure. Inflation, caused by deficit financing, can create such conditions for us, as it has in other nations.

REDUCTION OF FEDERAL SPENDING IS URGED

THE GREATEST SERVICE congress can render the people of the nation is to stop every unnecessary dollar of government spending. We have prospered in the past without socialized medicine; without government investment in public enterprises of vast magnitude. We can, for the present, continue to do without that development of hydro electric power to be developed by harnessing streams we have lived with through many generations. Such things can wait until a more propitious time. We were able to get along without these things for many years, and can continue to do so for more years.

If congress will stop appropriations for these unneeded expenditures; will dispense with useless bureaus, and cut operating costs, it can balance the federal budget, and so materially reduce the threat of inflation. Congress should play the game for all America, and not for partisan advantage only. Inflation, because of an unbalanced budget, is looking around that corner.

GREATEST OF ALL CAREERS—MARRIAGE

SHALL SHE CHOOSE marriage or a career? is a question many a woman asks herself. The fact is marriage offers the greatest of all careers, that of mothering and training those who must take over the destinies of nations, and of world civilization. To plant and cultivate in the mind of a child a laudable ambition, integrity, honesty, the foundation of good citizenship is far greater as a career than the writing of books, the portrayal of character, the management of business, or any other of the lines in which women occupy a place. Of all of women's activities, motherhood, the training of children, the keeping of homes, offers the greatest career, the one of most importance to the race.

FRIENDS are assets we dissipate when we attempt to use them as collateral.

STRIKES provided the millions of unemployed we had anticipated.

THE DEMAND for government economy is met by congress by more and larger appropriations.

A DISREGARD of law and regulations, a flouting of public opinion, resulted in the adoption of a prohibition amendment to the constitution in 1918. Again there is a disregard and evasion of regularity laws, again a flouting of public opinion, on the part of the liquor trade. It is providing the prohibition forces with new ammunition, and the next time it might prove to be an atomic bomb. Those engaged in the manufacture and sale of liquor should watch their step.

Southern Pacific is happy to announce plans for Two streamlined trains to Chicago and Los Angeles!

1. Starting June 3 "Golden State Limited" daily schedule many hours faster to Chicago. No extra fare. Plans for complete streamlining under way.

Starting June 2 from Los Angeles and Chicago, the partially streamlined Golden State Limited will speed daily between those cities in 48 1/4 hours eastbound, 49 1/4 hours westbound—fastest non-extra fare schedule in history for this run. Only 38 1/2 hours to Chicago from Phoenix, 36 hours from Tucson, 28 1/2 hours from El Paso. It will be as fast as the Arizona Limited, popular extra fare train operated during the winter seasons of 1940 and 1941.

As additional light weight cars can be obtained from the builders, the Golden State Limited will be completely streamlined with the most modern equipment. The Pullmans, lounge cars and dining cars now on this train are being refurbished and re-decorated for the faster service starting June 2.

Here in the sensational, new schedule of Southern Pacific's Golden State Limited—the first time in history, remember, that such fast service has been provided without extra fare:

The new faster Golden State Limited will carry streamlined Pullmans and modern chair cars to Chicago, and a streamlined Pullman to St. Louis. Important, too, the Golden State Limited will carry—

Through Pullmans to New York!

No more changing trains and stations in Chicago when you leave for New York on the Golden State Limited after June 2.

You and your luggage stay right in your Pullman while it is switched to crack trains of other lines for New York!

Faster "Californian"

Starting June 2, the Californian, Southern Pacific's popular "economy" train, will return to its pre-war schedule. The Californian will carry tourist Pullmans to Chicago, chair cars to Chicago, Memphis and Ft. Worth, and a standard Pullman to Memphis. Lounge car for Pullman passengers, dining car for all passengers. Complete schedules have not been worked out, but following are times at some points:

"Sunset Limited" Fastest in History!

Starting June 2, the running time of the famous Sunset Limited, Los Angeles-New Orleans, will be slashed to 49 1/4 hours eastbound and 48 hours westbound, fastest schedule in this train's history. No extra fare.

Argonaut on this route will be returned to its faster pre-war schedule.

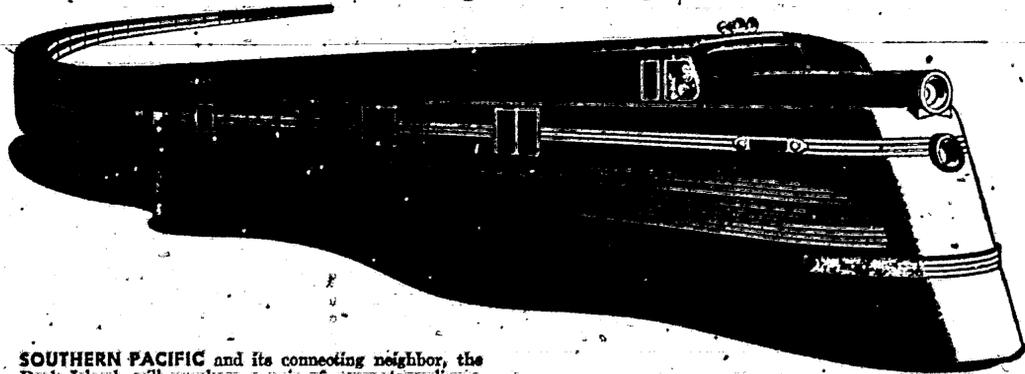

OVERLAND LIMITED schedule will be cut to 48 hours between San Francisco and Chicago.

Later we will announce plans for improved equipment on these trains.

What it all adds up to is this—Southern Pacific and its connecting lines are stepping out in a sincere effort to give the finest train service ever offered to the East and to California. And this is just the beginning. You haven't seen anything yet!

2. A 39 1/4-hour extra fare streamliner Los Angeles-Chicago, three times a week!

SOUTHERN PACIFIC and its connecting neighbor, the Rock Island, will purchase a pair of super-streamliners, powered by fast Diesel-electric locomotives, to provide the very finest extra fare service between Los Angeles and Chicago, via Phoenix, Tucson and El Paso, three times a week.

Plans for these trains are nearing completion, and orders will be placed as soon as possible. We hope that the trains will be at your service early in 1947.

The new, custom-built, super-streamliners will be eleven cars each (in addition to the power cars), made of light weight, high-tensile steel, and will be the very last word in comfort and luxury. Their outside color scheme will be red and silver. Their interior decorations will be inspired by the colorful mountain and desert country along the Golden State Route. We promise you we will spare no expense to make these trains the finest in America.

Annual Meeting Monday

Officers were elected and a legislative committee appointed at the annual meeting of the Lincoln County Petroleum Industries Committee held at Woman's Club Carrizozo, Monday evening, May 6th, chairman Walter Nicholas, Carrizozo, reported.

Officers elected were: Chairman, Walter Nicholas, Carrizozo; Vice-Chairman, Albert Roberts Carrizozo; Secretary, Nathan Moore, Capitan; Legislative Committee: Roy Shafer, Clifton Zumwalt, Albert Roberts, all of Carrizozo, and W. M. Bagley of Corona.

Fred Linn, Albuquerque, Executive Secretary of the New Mexico Petroleum Industries Committee was present.

According to Chairman Nicholas, New Mexico oil men have a natural interest in tax problems and legislation affecting their best customers. Motor vehicle and gasoline taxes were originally designed by State to produce revenue for roads and should be used exclusively for that purpose, and according to Mr. Nicholas these tax revenues should be protected by amending our State Constitution, and by repeal of the Municipal Gasoline tax law. Petitions urging repeal of this law are now being circulated throughout Lincoln County.

FBI Conference

R. C. Suran, Agent in Charge of the El Paso Office of the FBI, has announced that the next FBI Law Enforcement conference for law enforcement officers from Chaves, Lincoln and Guadalupe counties will be held in the City Council Chambers, City Hall, Roswell, New Mexico, beginning at 7:30 P. M. on May 14, 1946.

The conference will be opened by an address of welcome by S. Pat O'Neill, Sheriff, Chaves County, Roswell, New Mexico. This will be followed by a discussion of the manner of obtaining surplus property for police use and a discussion of the Federal Statutes entitled, "Unlawful Flight to Avoid Prosecution" by Mr. Suran. A practical demonstration and lecture on the subject of "Interviews of Persons" will then be given by Special Agents Leo E. Kuykendall and Arthur T. Potter of the El Paso Office of the FBI. The program will be closed by a discussion and practical demonstration of Problems of Arrests by Special Agent Hugh J. Pharies of the El Paso Office of the FBI.

Suran states that this conference is one of a series being sponsored by the FBI throughout the State of New Mexico.

Advantages in Army

This station would like to send a team of speakers to your High School in 10 made up of specialists in radar, photography, electronics, etc., to talk to the young men of your graduating class about the advantages of enlisting in the Army Air Forces. The team of speakers will be made up of young officers who have faced the enemy during our last armed conflict as operators of recently developed highly technical equipment. These young officers have operated equipment that will revolutionize occupation as well as future for all of us.

Considered purely from a vocational standpoint there are very few opportunities in the United States which equal the advantages of service with the Regular Army Air Forces. Chief among these advantages is the means of a college education. Of course, the real value of this educational benefit is worth much more and cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents. Congress has made through the Armed Forces Voluntary Enrollment Act of 1945, plus the G. I. Bill of Rights.

It is not our intention to enlist boys before they complete their high school education. When one considers the educational advantages, as well as better than ordinary pay, plus the retirement features, there is no other business in the United States which will offer as much to them. Enlistments whether for a short or long term must be voluntary.

Girl Scouts to Organize at Capitan New Mexico

Girl Scouts and Brownie Troops are to be organized this week at Capitan, it was announced by Mrs. Jack Earling. The troop will be sponsored jointly by the Womens Auxiliary of the American Legion and the Capitan Woman's Club.

Granting Loan to Britain Would Benefit U. S. Business

FROM observations this reporter has made in the hearings on the proposed British loan it appears that opposition is coming largely from the same sources which were definitely pre-Pearl Harbor isolationists.

To the uninitiated the arguments pro and con on this proposed $3,750,000,000 loan are confusing. They are involved with high finance and foreign trade, with the sterling bloc, the export cycles, with international credit and many other factors which only experts at that sort of thing can readily perceive.

Stripped down to everyday language, however, here are the potent factors: (1) We are actually merely extending Britain a line of credit to the amount of $3,750,000,000; (2) she can draw on this credit until December 31, 1951, and pays us back in 50 equal installments with interest at 2 per cent; she must pay the principal installment every year and (3) Britain agrees to open up to unrestrained American trade the entire British Commonwealth of South Africa, India, Australia, the British Isles and every place else where sterling is the rate of exchange to American business and American dollars and she cannot obtain a loan from any third country until after 1951. Now that's what we give and Britain promises.

What do we get back? We get our money back, plus interest, plus $650,000,000 of lend-lease balance, plus increased exports to Britain and the British Commonwealth, plus payment in dollars, plus no discriminatory import restrictions against the U. S., plus paying a portion of her debts to other nations in American dollars giving other countries more money with which to buy American goods, plus support of the American proposals for getting world trade going through an International Trade Organization.

We Would Gain Much

New why is this loan important to the average business man and farmer in the small towns of the country? There are four reasons: (1) We must have an expanding foreign trade to keep our high productive capacity on farm and factory going full tilt; (2) Britain and the British Commonwealth of Nations were our best customers before the war... they took 42 per cent of our trade; (3) an expanding foreign trade among nations can't happen unless Britain can pay her war debts and can be put on an economically sound basis, for though we have a huge war debt, we owe no one but the American people, whereas Britain owes other nations and (4) without economic security of other nations, fostered by expanding world trade, there can be no insurance of world peace. And a fifth reason is that Britain, our ally, took an unmerciful pounding costing thousands of British lives, to save American lives while we were getting prepared for war.

The argument is made that Britain did not pay her debt to us after World War I. She did pay back 434 million dollars in principal and 1 1/2 billion dollars in interest before the world depression caught her. The argument also is made that to make this loan will cause some inflation here and the answer is that Britain only wants goods which come from our war-expanded industries and commodities of which we have surpluses and moreover, if she spends it all here, it would only amount to five-tenths of 1 per cent of the total demand for goods and services in this country over an anticipated five-year period.

Let Britain sell her holdings in this country, is another argument of the isolationists. But she has only $80 million dollars in unpledged assets in this country, and in addition she is borrowing 1 1/2 billion dollars from Canada at 2 per cent, the only other country which has dollars.

Another argument is, why should we loan our dollars to a socialist nation? Well, there is a question of whether or not England really is socialist. Even if it is, nevertheless it is the Bank of England that finances the British government with internal loans. Most certainly an expanding world trade and attending prosperity will tend to strengthen rather than weaken the free enterprise system, even in England. So the British loan will not subsidize socialism in England.

And the argument that to make a loan to Britain will open the door to applications for other nations. This is answered in this fashion.

UNRRA will take care of relief loans. The International Bank will take care of long-term reconstruction and development loans and the U. S. Import-Export bank will help finance American foreign trade.

British financiers have held house majority leader Barkley that they cannot enter the international bank or the monetary fund unless the loan is granted without strings.

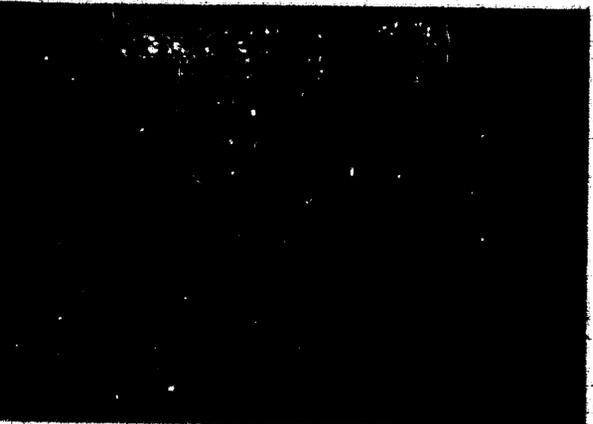

HOW THE POSTWAR WORLD HAS CHANGED... Miss Susan Turner, instructor in English composition, is shown lecturing to the first co-educational class in the history of Vassar college, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. The vets may attend classes but cannot live on the campus, nor will they be granted degrees from Vassar, whose charter prohibits the issuance of degrees to male students.

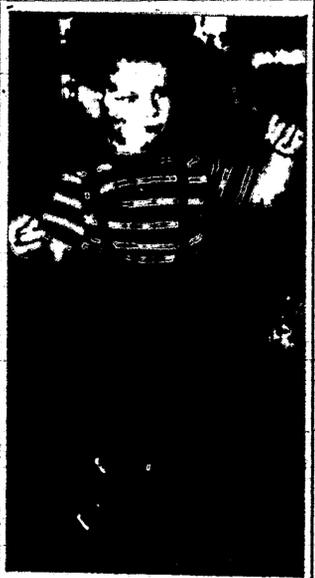

SWISS JURA HORSE TYPIFIES NATIONAL BREED... A lively parade is one of the features of the annual National Horse fair and races at Saignelegier in the Bernese Jura, Switzerland, held during August. The Swiss Jura horse typifies the national breed. It has proven its worth, having temperament, strength and resistance. The Jura horse is of exceptionally strong build, is tame and docile, and stallions can even be used for all sorts of farm work.

Skipper had nervous breakdown, mutiny followed, babies attacked the skipper—wars highlights in the voyage.

CABINET LADIES AND MENUS... WASHINGTON. — Ladies of the cabinet are really practicing what their husbands preach regarding the saving of food for Europe. Ever since President Truman urged that the American people eat the equivalent of a European ration two days a week, cabinet wives have been studying menus.

Mrs. Clinton Anderson, whose secretary of agriculture husband is one of the hardest-working of the food conservers, has given permission to publish one of her menus. It provides 1,540 calories — the equivalent of a European ration — as compared with the normal American diet of 3,800 calories.

Here it is, with the number of calories listed after each item of food:

Breakfast—glass of orange juice (75); bowl of cereal (100); milk for cereal (85); half-a-pint of milk or cocoa (170)—total, 430.

Lunch—half-a-cup of thick soup or chowder (150); vegetable salad without oil in dressing (75); muffin (75); baked custard (100); half-a-pint of milk (170)—total, 570.

Dinner — poultry, fish or meat (150); potato (large serving) (150); green vegetable (peas, beans, greens or broccoll) (40); raw vegetable strips (carrots, celery, tomato, cabbage) (50); half-cup of fruit (150) or milk for children—total 540.

TRUMAN'S GIRL-FRIEND

The leading lady of the poppy presentation ceremonies to President Truman fell hard for the chief executive.

Three-year-old Betty Lou Hall of Eaton Rapids, Mich., one of five orphaned children left by a heroic infantryman killed after the Normandy invasion, was selected to put the poppy in Truman's lapel in behalf of war orphans of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Her job finished, the little girl was asked by photographers if she didn't want to kiss the President. She complied not with one kiss, but a shower of them. In fact, the young lady seemed inclined to continue this part of the proceedings indefinitely until reminded that her embraces were sufficient for picture purposes.

ARMY MORALS OVERSEAS

One reason for strong sentiment in the senate against drafting 18-year-olds is that many senators have been abroad since V-E Day and have seen first-hand the wanton immorality to which young soldiers are exposed.

Returned senators are especially critical of U. S. army officers for setting a bad example to young G.I.s.

"When they see their superior officers living in German castles with frauleins," reported Sen. Harley Kilgore of West Virginia, "called men get a very bad impression. It's no place for youngsters. After they get to be 21, they can stand on their own feet, but give them a chance to get some education first."

Other senators feel that the army has an obligation to put its house in order before it demands drafting of 18- and 19-year-olds.

"An officer is supposed to set an example to the enlisted man," commented Sen. Ed Johnson of Colorado. "An example of upright living. Some of the examples set by officers in Germany are shocking. Until they clean house they can't expect us to be enthusiastic about the draft."

Case Bill Boomerangs

Some of the GOP southern coalition who stamped the Case anti-strike bill through the house are singing a different tune in the cloakrooms since the Illinois primary election returns have come in.

One of the most significant battles in this primary was in the district represented by GOP Con. Robert B. Chipperfield of Canton, Ill., an all-out advocate of the Case bill.

A fourth-term, Chipperfield boasts that never before has he been opposed in a primary election. However, it was different this year. The Illinoisan not only had an opponent, but he was re-nominated only by the skin of his teeth — approximately 1,300 votes.

Chipperfield makes no bones to close friends about the reason for his tight squeak.

"My support of the Case bill came darn close to licking me," he admitted in the GOP cloakroom. "That was the main issue of the campaign."

DIPLOMATIC CHAFF

The Russian Trade mission to Argentina is not on a brief visit. The Russians brought their families and are prepared to negotiate a long-term trade deal, especially trying to buy the Argentine linseed oil crop. If they succeed, the American home-building program for veterans will be very short of paint.

The United States and Great Britain are pressing for an early election in Romania — which the Russians don't seem to want but others do.

Suffer from constipation? Want relief without drugs? Then read this sincere, unsolicited letter:

You, too, may never have to take another laxative as long as you live—for constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet—if you eat ALL-BRAN every day, and drink plenty of water. Try it as a delicious cereal—and in muffins.

KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative. It's a good, wholesome cereal made from the vital outer layers of wheat, supplying gentle bulk, helpful to normal laxation. Eat it every day for ten days and drink plenty of water. If not completely satisfied, send empty carton to the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Mich. Get double your money back.

HOLD-OUT

Knowing that it was unethical but feeling that it was justified, the attorney hired a stubborn-looking, stolid, unsophisticated jurymen to hold out for life imprisonment. It seemed that this was the only way to save his client from the death penalty.

The jury finally went out and was out for hours. Finally late on the second day, the jury filed in, and rendered a verdict of guilty with a recommendation that the prisoner be sentenced to life imprisonment.

As the lawyer was paying his man, he asked, "You had a difficult time of it, didn't you? I'm certainly glad you succeeded in swinging the jury your way."

"Yeah," was the answer. "It was pretty tough. They were all for acquittal except me."

Sportlight

by GRANTLAND RICE

YOU might not think that football was back with May on its way to June, but football is always back. It has few intermissions now from January to January, when you pack in spring practice and the never-ending flow of football talk. I found this true again on a recent jaunt through the Southeast where record squads were busy at spring practice in Florida, Georgia, Alabama and the Carolinas.

Many of these practice delegations ran from 125 to 175 men. The early enthusiasm, even under blazing suns, was far beyond normal.

I ran into Wally Butts, Georgia's coach, who coyly admitted his 1946 Bulldogs would be better than fair. "We had no line last fall," Wally said, "but we have a good line now and with Trippi on hand for the backfield, plus a few more, we hope to be ready for Alabama and Oklahoma A. and M., to mention only two. Also L.S.U."

In the meanwhile Alabama and Oklahoma A. and M. are facing the chance of losing Harry Gilmer and Bob Fenimore, two All-America stars. The beckoning finger of the army draft has called both for a physical test. These two have been in the 4-F class the last two seasons. But if they are taken, there can be no replacements to match their worth—Alabama has a great squad. But losing Gilmer is like losing a Sammy Baugh or a Luckman. Losing Fenimore, the 195-pound sprinter, passer and kicker would be no worse than the army losing Doc Blanchard.

Florida Full of Hope

Florida was running a high football fever. Ray Wolf and a new strong staff are now at Florida with the best Gator prospects in several seasons. Miami university, Orange Bowl winner over Holy Cross, expects to have a much better team than the 1945 squad.

Buffy Strawless, backfield coach at North Carolina, reports the arrival of halfback Justice at Chapel Hill, plus several additions that Carl Snavely can use with considerable pleasure. I also received the news that Bob Neyland will have another Tennessee squad that will be hard to clean away. Also that Wallace Wade, back at Duke, is busier than ten swarms of bees getting ready for a hard campaign.

Southern teams have a stiff spring training grind and they are busier than usual with so many Bowls to be filled next year. With Neyland and Wade back they also face keener competition, especially if Frank Thomas at Alabama loses Gilmer. No one can say yet what Henry Frka will have at Tulane, but you can gamble the Green Wave is rolling forward. It might also be noted that no one can say yet just how many good football players the draft will remove from the scene all over the map. This draft procedure will wreck some teams while missing others completely.

Army and Notre Dame

We ran into several Notre Dame ex-stars who advised us to keep an eye on Frank Leahy's 1946 squad. "The last two Army teams piled up 106 points against us in 1944 and 1945. A beating is one thing. A massacre is something else. But brother it is going to be different in 1946. Notre Dame will be there with what it takes. This means line, backfield, power and speed.

"Leahy will have both Kelly and Melle back. Here are two of the best backs Notre Dame has known in years. But they are only a small part of the material now on hand for spring practice at South Bend."

"You don't figure any Army push-over?" I asked the Notre Damer. "Certainly not. But Army won't be the Army of 1944 and 1945. Why? The line. Yes, Army will have or should have the best backfield in football, headed by Blanchard, Davis and Tucker. But don't forget Army has lost a number of valuable linemen and that Army line has been a big factor in their victories.

In the meanwhile Capt. Tom Hamilton, now on the job at Navy, finds himself caught between two fires—Army and Notre Dame. Tom Hamilton is not only one of the best coaches in football, but one of the best inspirational leaders. Hamilton has the foundation or basis for a hustling, fighting squad that can make it extremely uncomfortable for any opponent on Navy's schedule.

Michigan's Troubles

Hamilton was the one man who saved college football during the war. At least he did more for the cause than any other three men I know about. One team that may acquire more than its share of draft trouble is Michigan. Last fall Fritz Crisler had 18 freshmen on his squad, 8 of whom were classed among his regulars. The Wolverines had one of the youngest squads in the country and for this reason may suffer heavier casualties.

Quilted Bedspread Makes Fine Jumper for a Teen-Aged Girl

By Etta Haley

THOSE lovely quilted bedspreads of which we are so fond for dressing up our bedrooms begin to show wear after a few seasons. Perhaps it is a pity that the lovelier materials do not last longer, but do not despair. There's fine material in these bedspreads for quilted jumpers for the girl in her teens.

Quilted jumpers for the younger set are just the thing to wear for household duties. They keep the dress from getting soiled, and because of their loveliness, they often lend glamour to the menial tasks such as dusting or straightening up to which every girl must devote some of her time.

The principal function of these jumpers is to add a bit of color, gaiety and charm. For this reason, the loveliness of these old, worn-out bedspreads are truly ideal. See that the spread is well laundered and pressed before you begin working on it. In many cases, these spreads are just made of cotton, with little or no filler. If you are not certain of material laundering well, then have it dry-cleaned.

Patterns for jumpers are extremely simple to cut and easy to sew. They consist of a square neck, usually, perhaps a bit of ruffle over the shoulder, a nipped-in waist and seamless skirt.

By the way, if the bedspread has a white background—with a print on it; you might like to dye it. Even though the background is an attractive pastel, the print will show through.

Essentials of Laying Pattern, Cutting

Before you attempt to cut the jumper from the material, make sure that the fabric is straightened out. Stretch and straighten the goods until both lengthwise and crosswise grains line up perfectly. Never pull so hard as to damage or tear the fabric. If necessary, press the fabric if you have a lot of cutting to do.

If you have a light quilted spread...

You will find chalk marks and tailor's tacks of inestimable value as a guide to sewing and fitting the pieces together. These should be made in contrasting color so they will be easy to find. Both sides should be marked in exactly the same way.

Before you start cutting, make sure that the pattern—whether it be a professional or a home-made one—fits. Then there will be no major alterations, once sewing and fitting are started.

It may be necessary to lay the pattern out several times before you can make it fit the material. This is especially true when you are making a garment out of old material, for then pattern layouts, which are made with new material in mind, will be of little help.

For the simple jumper which I have described, you will need only these parts: front bodice (made without sleeves); back bodice; back of skirt and front of skirt—two pieces, since no gored or seam effect is desirable on this quilted type of material and then the two or three-inch band which will circle the waist. If ruffles or capped effect over the shoulders is desired, this will add two more pieces to the pattern.

Sew the shoulders together first, then the side seams. Finish the skirt next, by stitching the side seams, then fit the skirt to the waist band and to the bodice, pin in place carefully, baste, and sew. The capped effect over the sleeves may be added after the jumper itself is finished.

In a quilted material of this type, it is best to make the garment three to five inches shorter than the dress. No large turned seam should be used, as this will make the hem too bulky. Rather, it is best to use a narrow binding at the skirt and turn a little of the quilting underneath (so the band will not show on the outside), press carefully, and then hem in place.

Bewig Heavy Fabric Needs Special Care

It's the wise woman who will test her sewing machine on the type of fabric she is using before she attempts to do any sewing on the garment itself. It may be that the needle is too light or too heavy. Special attention should be given to the thread—remember that the bobbin and the needle should have the same type of thread! And last, but not least, check the tension on the machine to make sure you are getting nice stitches without any forcing or pulling. In ideal sewing technique, the tension, stitch and thread work in such accord that they seem to flow out of the machine without any restraint. Every stitch should be straight and perfect.

In learning how to stitch straight, mark pieces of paper with straight lines, squares and triangles. Take the thread out of the machine and the bobbin out of the machine and practice stitching on the marked lines. Turn the corners accurately and keep spaces even.

Pockets may be placed on the jumper if desired, provided the material used is not so heavy as to make the finished garment bulky, appearing or stitching too difficult. The hems at the tops of the pockets must be placed in first before the pockets are placed and sewed onto the garment.

Stain Removal

One of the problems in the upkeep of clothing is the removal of stains. There is no single set of directions that can be given for success every time, because stains and fabrics vary greatly. Some of the general tips for stain removal, however, should be part and parcel of every woman's knowledge.

Stains should always be removed before they set in the fabric. Soap and water make an excellent solvent for many stains but will be harmful if the fabric will not stand water. Ammonia must be used cautiously as it may remove the color from certain fabrics.

Sheer fabrics like crepe and chiffon can stand but little sponging, so place an absorbent pad underneath them and pat the stain lightly with a solvent, following immediately with a dry cloth.

Lipstick, one of the commonest stains, should be removed by washing out, if possible. If the fabric is not washable try a white petroleum jelly and sponge with carbon tetrachloride, available at the drug store.

Spring Fashion Notes

Dresses of pure silk are very simple indeed, probably because of the price of the material for one thing; and the other, because the loveliest designs of the fabric look best in simple classic form. Black crepes are decorated with lace inserts. Chiffon seems to be ready to return to the fabric world, and shantung is being used for dress suits.

White pique is another trimming that is giving that crisp touch to spring and summer ensembles. Gray and black are two important shades for suits this spring. The jacket usually carries the stripes, the dolman sleeves and a lacy jabot or neckpiece add smart notes to the costume. Hats will pick up the different shades in the suit itself.

The prune-faced lady (in the Fifties) handing out slips of paper with Scriptural passages on them. . . . Sidewalk hawkers who sell books, mags, ties and kitchen utensils. One-man department stores. . . . Sleuths in railroad terminals keeping their eyes peeled for muggs with police records arriving from the hinterland. . . . Ladies who put a coat over their nightgowns and take their pups for an airing every dawn along Madison Ave.

Quilteso, Quilteso: Ted Breton reminds us that Maurice Barrymore loaned his presence to yaudeville for one consecutive 3-day run. It was at the Olympic in Chicago. . . . One matinee Maurice dashed off the stage and into the manager's office. . . . "See here!" Maurice sez-hered. "I cannot continue. They just don't get me. I cannot please your audience!"
Manager George Castle calmly comforted: "Don't try. Just draw 'em in. The nobodies on the program always give the show."

Worse's the Electric Chair: Jack Haley was listening to a newcomer in Movietown, who was discussing international events. . . . "The worst moment I ever had," he said, "was when I saw Gromyko walk out on the U. N." . . . "Then," said Haley, "you haven't really lived. Wait'll you see Louella Parsons walking out in the middle of the preview of your first picture!"

Bob Beachley was also irked by literary pirates who sped his yarns. He brushed them off this way: "Anyone who is stupid enough to steal ideas—isn't smart enough to steal the good ones!"

American who have recently returned from Spain inform us that the Spanish undergrounders have launched a campaign of ridicule similar to the one that flourished in Germany when Hitler was in power. Frisexample: Night after night the walls in an industrial section of Madrid are daubed with anti-fascist inscriptions. In vain the Spanish soldiers hunted for the authors of this outrage. One day, a tired and enraged soldier wrote under one of the slogans on the wall: "Why don't you do it in broad daylight, you cowards?"
The next day there was an answer: "Sorry, but in the daytime we are too busy parading with you fellows!"

Keywood Brown was an optimist who believed that men of good will would some day build a world of peace and prosperity. But there were times when tragic news left him glum.

A friend who was with Brown when he was depressed heard him mutter: "This world started from chaos and it will end in chaos. What happens in between does not seem to matter very much."

When an interviewer asked H. L. Menck what he thought of love at first sight, Menck snapped: "It's a labor-saving device!"

A foreign sawbrey tells us that the black market has dominated Europe's economy so long, Europeans now have a standard joke about it. "Countries should concentrate," they say, "on building jails and lunatic asylums. The former are for the people who buy in the black market—the latter are for those who don't."

HOUSEHOLD TINTS

Coffee grounds make a good weeping compound for the basement floor.

For roasting pork, 20 to 25 minutes to the pound is required. Pork should never be roasted in a quick oven.

Frequently dust behind the pictures on the wall to prevent dust accumulating and forming a black outline.

If your floor squeaks, sprinkle alum powder between the boards. If this doesn't work, try nailing a small wedge between them.

LOOKING AHEAD

The Third "R"

For a short while before my first day at school, and for several weeks after, I heard a great deal of conversation about the three R's of education. My elders seemed to expect me to think it was very funny that the three R's should stand for reading, writing and arithmetic. It left an impression, to say the least. I still know that education includes some variety.

One of the things about modern education that dismays me is the fact that students don't pursue the three R's long enough. They are at liberty too early to ignore one of them—the last one. Figures are dry at first and a lot of youngsters drop mathematics. High school freshmen have learned to say "it's only a waste of time to study things you don't like and will never use."

Ignorance Is Costly
"What you don't know doesn't hurt you," is rubbish. Certainly what you don't know does not do you any good. Truly an actor may draw a fabulous salary for years and die in debt. Tales are told of artists and musicians who can't balance their check stubs. Their ignorance of math did not make them better artists. It would be like saying liquor made Poe a poet, or that haremms make great kings.

A national poll might show that millions of Americans don't know what it means to "balance" the budget. It wouldn't be surprising; most of us don't even have a personal budget, we live so easily and well. But our national budget needs to be balanced. People who try to laugh that off don't know what it means or, worse yet, would welcome national bankruptcy as a stepping stone to revolution.

What Does It Mean?
Balancing a budget, whether it is a family budget or a national budget, means keeping a safe relation between income and outgo. The inevitable result of spending more than we get is debt, bankruptcy and loss of credit. That's just another way of saying "loss of our good name and the respect of our neighbors." When we stop paying our debts and start breaking our promises, that's loss of credit.

Uncle Sam is on his way to that social level. He has not reached it yet, but when he does it will be too late to save him. Now is the time to balance the national budget. I was never so proud of my home state as when the entire Arkansas delegation in Congress, senators and representatives, went on record in March of favoring a balanced national budget. That's practical.

Read These Truths

"A balanced federal budget can be accomplished in the next fiscal year if congress will meet its full responsibility and adopt a program of economy. By considering each appropriation bill in the light of its effect on total necessary expenditures, we can hold the cost of government within the amount of taxes collected. . . . The time to begin is now." So said the statement.

Habitually spending money we do not have can't help but lead this nation to collapse, and nothing worse could happen to the world's economic welfare. Think of the war functions now idling along; of the men whose energies might be transferred to the credit column. In every locality there is unaccounted waste that could be and can be transformed into a bit of thrift.

NEW STAMP FOR SUGAR

Spare Stamp 49 became valid for five pounds of sugar on May 1 and will remain valid through August 31. William H. Black, district OPA rationing executive, announced.

At the same time it was announced that Sugar Stamp 39, valid for five pounds of sugar, expired April 30. "World sugar production is now six million tons below pre-war average," H. Leslie Williams, Chief District O. P. A. attorney, stated in a radio address over KOB April 29.
