County candidates spoke first and were well received. Mr. Fernandez for representative in Congress, Messrs. McCulloch and Mrs. Romero were all favorably received. Mr. Ingram B. Pickett gave an extremely good talk and pointed out the good points of each candidate. He mentioned General Hurley as being from Oklahoma and called him an "Oakie." He said what we needed in Washington, was "not an ambassador, but a Senator." If our lofty friend could come down to earth and see what us lesser lights are thinking he would know that we do want a Senator in Washington.

In addition to the teachers, both local and county, about 80 other guests were present; a few from Ruidoso, Glencoe, Hollywood Ancho and other points in the county. After preliminary talks by Mmes. Eaker, Turner and Mr. Shults, some lovely musical numbers by Mrs. Stout with her musical saw, accompanied by Mrs. Bonnell at the piano. The speaker of the evening, Mrs. Louise Coe in her usual gracious manner, gave a very interesting address on the different countries of Europe where she spent the greater part of the summer; she visited the peace conference two days. How to help your child fight FEAR OF DARKNESS

... as recommended in the interest of child welfare by Ross G. Anderson, Ph. D., Director of the Psychological Services Center of N. Y.

1 Fear of the dark is based on a dread of the unknown. Many a grown man feels his courage ebb with the daylight. And to a child, whose limited experience makes him even more fearful, the dark can be filled with terror which may affect his emotional adjustment.

Bring back the daylight of a world he knows, with your "Eveready" flashlight... show him the yard, or the basement, in the most familiar places by light as by day. Or show mysterious situations made less scary by simple things—rotting wood, moving furniture, gas. Let him see your flashlight himself, or, better still, get him out of his own. Then—

2 Encourage him to perform 30 small tasks after dark, when he must use his "Eveready" flashlight, such as putting something for you down in dark closet. Above all, never frighten him with "bogymen" appeal to his pride. Then he will accept darkness as just another part of the day.

FEDERAL 'GIFT' TO RAILROADS TURNED OUT TO BE EXPENSIVE

I REMEMBER, when back in boyhood days in Washington county, Iowa, the discussions by a group of senior citizens assembled each day around the big stove in the general store of the village. A favorite subject was the prodigality of the government in giving away to trans-continental railroads the vast acreage of western lands. It would always arouse rabid condemnation on the part of the villagers and farmers.

There was another side to that story that was not evident in my boyhood days, and not considered by that general store debating society. It concerned a siring that was tied to that gift (?). Recently I heard that other story.

In the late 1860's through to the early 1890's the land that was being given (?) to the railroads was considered of but small per acre value. An individual could pick almost any 160 acres that suited his fancy, and it was his for the taking. The government used it to induce people with money to invest in the building of railroads through the then sparsely populated sections of the nation. For that gift (?) of land the railroads agreed to haul government supplies and government personnel at a less than scheduled price. The government would receive a rebate on its freight and passenger bills, covering such things as the transportation of soldiers and war supplies. To that agreement there was no time limit, and it still applies.

The president of one of the trans-continental systems—the Santa Fe—that received government land grants three-quarters of a century ago, told me what that agreement on the part of the railroads has meant to the government during the war period. On his road alone it had reduced the government's transportation costs, freight and passenger, by some 50 million dollars during 1943.

That 50 million dollars would have bought a lot of land at prices prevailing back in 1870, and it represented only the saving by the government of one year and on one railroad in 1943. Over the years the railroads have paid a big price for that gift (?) the government made to them. Buying the land at the prevailing prices of 1870 to 1890 would have been more profitable.

COMPANY PENSION PLANS ARE NOW FAVORED

ABOUT 1908 A CENTRAL states' manufacturing concern proposed a pension plan to its employees. The plan called for a percentage of the weekly wages of each employe to be paid into the fund, to which the company was to add an equivalent percentage of its profits, if any. Employees voted a decisive "no" to the proposition, but immediately demanded an increase in pay equivalent to the percentage the company was proposing to put into the pension fund. Radio Corporation of America recently inaugurated a very similar pension system, and the employes have eagerly endorsed it. Main difference is the Radio Corporation definitely meets the payments by employes, instead of a percentage of its profits. It is possible social security may be changing the attitude of employes toward compulsory savings to cover old age insurance.

WE ARE BEING GOVERNED

largely by a group of Redding bureaucrats who tell us what we must, or may not, do, and pronounce penalties for violation of their edicts. We have, in the past, been subject to laws, not to men, but that is no longer true. We are subject to the dictates of bureau chiefs and their armies of assistants. Most of us never know of, or see, the edicts they issue. The attorneys could not tell us what they are or what they mean, but our violation of any of them could send us to prison, subject us to heavy fines or deprive us of what we have considered our privileges as free Americans. During one recent week 444 such decrees were issued by the bureaucrats who are governing us, and the average is above 1,000 per month. It is the bureaucrats, not congress, that are making our laws and regulations.

IT IS EASY to vote a public bond issue, but it is hard to pay the increased taxes a bond issue forces.

THERE ARE MANY more houses than there are homes. Some are but four walls and a roof. They lack the content of affection and consideration that makes of the house a home.

SOME PEOPLE, who in a sky, were but small frogs in a big pond, and they are not even tadpoles in a small pond.

FEW OF US are ever satisfied. Regardles of what we may have we always want something more.

FAR EASTERN REPORT—

Here's what members of the house military affairs committee reported to General Eisenhower, following their return from an inspection of our military bases in the Far East.

1. Morale of our Far East occupational troops is being endangered by the army's delay in sending wives and families to officers and enlisted men.

2. The army is doing little to set up facilities for the proper housing of army wives and children who want to join the troops. On Okinawa, for instance, surplus army stoves and plumbing supplies—badly needed in quonset huts where army families will be housed—have been sold to the Chinese.

3. Another demoralizing factor is the shortage of cigarettes, fresh fruit and vegetables.

Eisenhower promised to look into these facts immediately.

Congressmen reported that an estimated 350 Jap soldiers are still at large on the island of Okinawa, living a Robinson Crusoe existence in the hills. American authorities are not seriously troubled. . . . A lone Jap fugitive was picked up a couple of months ago on Saipan, after having been at large for over a year. When asked where he had been getting water on the very dry portion of the island to which he had been confined, the Jap replied that he had gone at night to a large house in an isolated sector, drinking from the tap and filling his canteen. The house was that of the American commander.

The returned congressmen are worried that lower ranking commissioned officers are "taking the Japs to their hearts." Congressmen fear that many occupational officers have forgotten that the Japs were our enemies only a year ago. Japs, the congressmen say, have not forgotten their dead, but some of our men have forgotten the Americans who died battling these same Japs.

One of MacArthur's difficulties is the great shortage of Jap-American interpreters. Result: In Japanese towns without any interpreter reports on conditions, written by Jap authorities, are sent to U. S. headquarters as official reports.

Plans to recruit 50,000 Filipinos for our army have fallen through because of lack of money. The present goal is 35,000, with the training now under way.

Worst areas in the Pacific for troop morale are Korea and the Aleutians. Korea is the center of political intrigue and, because it is at the end of the supply lines, the food served our troops is hardly better than field rations. In the bare, treeless Aleutians, the big wish of U. S. troops is for a 12-month rotation system. They now are sent on a two-year hitch with scant chance to get back to the comparative gaiety of Alaska.

STALIN'S WAR OF NERVES

Most interesting fact about Stalin's recent widely broadcast and widely-hailed-as-conciliatory statements to a London newsmen is the date. The date was September 24.

For on exactly the same day Stalin was telling the world that there was no danger of another war, he was sending a note to Turkey which sang another tune.

The note to Turkey was not made public until four days later. Thus Stalin publicly put fears to rest, while simultaneously warning Turkey that she must yield to Russia on the Dardanelles and that she must permit Russian troops on Turkish soil. If not, the implied threat was war.

Thus, despite Stalin's attempt to woo the world, his aims remain exactly the same. Furthermore, they remain exactly the same as those of the czars before him. Finally, they remain today, with his allies, exactly the same as with his old sparring partner, Hitler.

For, in 1940, when Russia and Germany were under a non-aggression pact, the same Molotov now dickering in Paris went to Berlin to dicker with Ribbentrop for terms under which Russia would come into the war against England. The terms Molotov wanted were the Dardanelles, Iran, Iraq, the Balkans and the mouth of the Red sea. Hitler wouldn't give these terms, and Russia finally was forced into the war on the side of the Allies, not against them.

Now that the war is over, Stalin and Molotov are right back where they were in 1940—trying to get the Dardanelles and other long-range Russian objectives.

CAPITAL CHAFF

Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson picked an ideal time for his vacation, the moment of the Wallace-Byrnes feud. He was the happiest man in the administration to have missed the fight. . . . Sighed Mildred Eaton, one of Wallace's secretaries, when informed her boss had resigned, "We haven't got through unpacking from our last move yet." . . . Mrs. Truman refused to use a White House car while vacationing in Missouri, driving her own car in Independence.

FIRESTONE scores again with a revolutionary new tractor tire... the FIRESTONE CHAMPION GROUND GRIP... which outcleans, outpulls, and outlasts every other tractor tire. The results of actual field tests, shown below, prove what this tire will do for you on your tractor.

CLEAN UP TO 100% MORE EFFECTIVELY...
The traction bars curve like a plowshare... flare outward to make a wider exit for mud and trash. The bars join in the center—no open centers to pick up trash and clog the whole tread. When the going is really tough, that's when Champion Ground-Grips clean up to 100% more effectively.

PULL UP TO 62% MORE AT THE DRAWBAR...
The pyramid-type, curved traction bars cut deeply into the soil with wedge-like action. The joined bars provide a powerful "center bite" right in the heart of the traction zone. This patented tread design gives up to 62% more drawbar pull.

LAST UP TO 91% LONGER... Extra high traction bars, buttressed at the base and Triple-Braced in the center, have greater strength and stability. They don't bend, break nor push through the cord body. They last longer on the highway because they don't bounce nor wobble like unconnected bars. Under extreme conditions they give up to 91% longer traction life.

See the new Firestone Champion Ground Grip at your nearest Implement Dealer, Firestone Dealer Store or Firestone Store today. And when you order a new tractor, be sure to specify Firestone Champion Ground Grips.

— but many calls are going through without delay ...

• Since last year almost 20,000 miles of long distance circuits have been added in the states we serve and nearly 70% of all long distance calls are being completed while the person calling holds the line.

• However, especially during busy periods, some calls are delayed. Generally the busiest hours are during the latter part of the morning and early evening.

• The job of adding more circuits is going ahead despite shortages. Every expedient is being used. We have installed Army surplus material to relieve many congested areas, added substantially to our operating force and frequently rearranged existing facilities to handle peak loads.

• Your understanding during this period of expansion is sincerely appreciated.

Friday, October 25, 1946

We never have seen any explanation or any printed reason for the shortage of soap. Soap for most part is made from imported vegetable oils. Previous to the war no effort was made to collect waste fats. The millions of pounds now turned in by housewives were thrown away or destroyed. Vegetable fats and oils are as plentiful as ever and in addition we have these millions of waste fats that are turned in regularly. As an earnest seeker after the truth we would like to know why soap is scarce.

We catch ourselves longing for the good old days, wishing for the time to return when we can go to our grocers and get sugar, soap and lard without the feeling that this may be the last we can get for some time. We long for the time to come when we can dig into the sugar bowl and get enough sugar for our oatmeal without the haunting fear that we have taken more than we should and that there may not be an for the last of the month. We long for the time to come when we can sit down to a home made cake without the feeling that we have carelessly and foolishly depleted the sugar supply for one cake. We realize that we have a lot to be thankful for when we think of the condition of thousands of others, and we are appreciative and thankful. Still we have a nostalgic yearning for the good old days before the world got out of joint and we were called in to fix it up.

One of the speakers at the democratic rally in Capitan last Sunday night railed loudly, "We don't want an ambassador in Washington; we want a senator." If we elect the Honorable Patrick J. Hurley, a Senator is what we will have in Washington.

In the U.S. today an estimated 2 million people are drawing unemployment pay. At the same time industries are closing down because they cannot get workers.

Investigation by the Baltimore Sun, the Providence Rhode Island Journal, and the Chicago Tribune reveal that thousands in those states are drawing unemployment compensation illegally either because they refuse to work or are holding jobs down on the side. As the result of the Baltimore Sun investigation it was found that in Maryland alone 85,000 persons were on unemployment rolls. At the same time the US employment service which acts as the employment agency for claimants of jobless pay listed more than 8,000 jobs open with no takers.

There was never a time in the history of the nation when people had so much money to spend; when bank deposits were so large or when so many people had savings accounts; nor when there was a job at good wages for everyone who wanted to work. Also there was never a time when people did so much crabbing and complaining. Perhaps as a nation we have become so prosperous we have forgotten to be thankful for our prosperity and the many blessings we have; we should remember that complete contentment does not come with an abundance of wealth and material things, but is based upon appreciation and thankfulness for what we have

Are Returning Veterans "Different"?

During the war you heard a lot about how hard it was going to be for returning veterans to get adjusted to civilian life... how they'd be "different."
Well, plenty of them have returned to our town, and a finer, staidier bunch you couldn't ask for. Most of them are back at the same jobs... going with the same nice home-town girls (getting married, some of them, and setting up families)... renewing the same old friendships.
Even their amusements are the same. Nothing more exciting than fishing Seward's creek or pitching horseshoes... enjoying an outdoor barbecue with friendly wholesome beer and pleasant talk.

If they've changed at all it's in the direction of maturity and tolerance... tolerance for everything except dictators, and those who would destroy our democratic principles of life and let-live. And from where I sit, that's another reason to be proud of them.

CO-OP PLAN WOULD BENEFIT ENTIRE AREA

Consolidation of Capitan's electric system with the facilities of the Otero-Lincoln County Electric Cooperative would benefit both the town itself and the entire surrounding area, Mr. Wilbur Coe, director of the cooperative, said today.

In a statement aimed toward the City Council, which will soon decide whether or not Capitan is to have REA-financed electric service, Mr. Coe pointed out that an enlarged cooperative electric system would give Capitan and the surrounding rural areas the benefits of direct personal ownership and control, lower rates eventually, better loan terms at lower interest, lower per capita overhead expenses, and wider electrification of nearby districts.

"It is to the advantage of every Capitan resident to consolidate the two systems," Mr. Coe said. "By joining with the Cooperative the citizens of Capitan will still have direct control and ownership of their own electric facilities. They will lose none of the rights and privileges that they now enjoy under municipal ownership."

"In a larger system," Mr. Coe continued, "fixed items of expense such as management, maintenance, and other overhead charges will be spread among a greater number of consumers, thus reducing the per capita cost. This should make it possible to reduce rates eventually, below the present low rate schedule."

"One of the greatest advantages in consolidation," Mr. Coe emphasized, "is financing by the Rural Electrification Administration. The co-op pays only two per cent interest and has 25 years to repay its debt, while under municipal ownership the city would have to pay interest and it would have only a limited number of years to repay the loan which has been proposed for necessary improvements of its system. Our financing is the only connection we have with the federal government, and when the loan is paid back the members will hold full title to their own power system."

Mr. Coe indicated the eventual advantage to Capitan of the electrification of the surrounding areas. "Unless Capitan joins its system with the Cooperative's," he said, "many farmers and ranchers in the Capitan area who are potential users of electricity, may have to go without service for a long time because of the difficulty of serving them on an economically feasible basis. Under the expanded system, however, these people could have the benefits of electricity in the near future. Increased rural electrification of the area will mean more profits for farmers and other rural establishments, more business for Capitan, new community wealth, and greater prosperity for everybody."

To finance its immediate program, the Cooperative has received loans totaling $708,000 from the REA. These funds are sufficient to make possible the construction of 363 miles of line to serve 1,656 rural consumers. More than half of this system is in operation, and additional lines are being built as rapidly as materials can be obtained.

As an indication of the progress in New Mexico toward more cooperative rural electric systems, Mr. Coe pointed out that before the war there were 5 co-ops operating in New Mexico. Today there are 10 under construction or in operation and 5 more under development, he said.

The Otero-Lincoln Cooperative is a locally owned, member-controlled home enterprise, organized under the laws of New Mexico. Every consumer served with power by the co-op becomes a member upon payment of the membership fee of $5.00. Members meet yearly to elect directors from among their own ranks on an area-representation basis. In the event that Capitan's electric system becomes a part of the cooperative system, areas will be redistricted in order to give the new members proper representation on the board, according to Mr. Coe.

The directors determine operating policies and appoint operating personnel to carry out their policies. At annual meetings, officers make complete reports, and members have an opportunity to voice their approval or disapproval of co-op progress and policies.

According to the co-op spokesman, nearly a half million miles of power lines serving more than a million and a half rural consumers, have been built since the REA program since it began in 1935. The percentage of American farms electrified during this period has increased from less than 11 percent to more than 52 percent. Of the total in New Mexico, the number of electrified farms has increased from 6 percent to more than 20 percent of the total.

This record has been made possible chiefly by the accomplishments of rural electric cooperatives like the Otero-Lincoln County Electric Cooperative. More than 900 of these cooperatives have been financed by the REA. The financial success of these enterprises is indicated by the fact that, in addition to making regular payments on their REA loans, they have repaid almost 20 million dollars in principal before the money was due.

JUDGE MABRY

New Mexico's
Outstanding Citizen

For Governor

In 1910, at the age of 23, he helped to write the Constitution of New Mexico.

For eight years he served on the Supreme Court of New Mexico, resigning in May, 1946 to become candidate for Governor.

Here is a man whose qualifications none can deny, whose 41 year record in our state is an inspiration to every man, woman and child in New Mexico—a man for whom you can vote with complete confidence and trust.

Judge Mabry was born on a farm in Kentucky and homesteaded (and proved) a 160 acre claim in New Mexico. He attended the University of New Mexico, taught school in New Mexico, married a New Mexico teacher, studied law and entered practice.

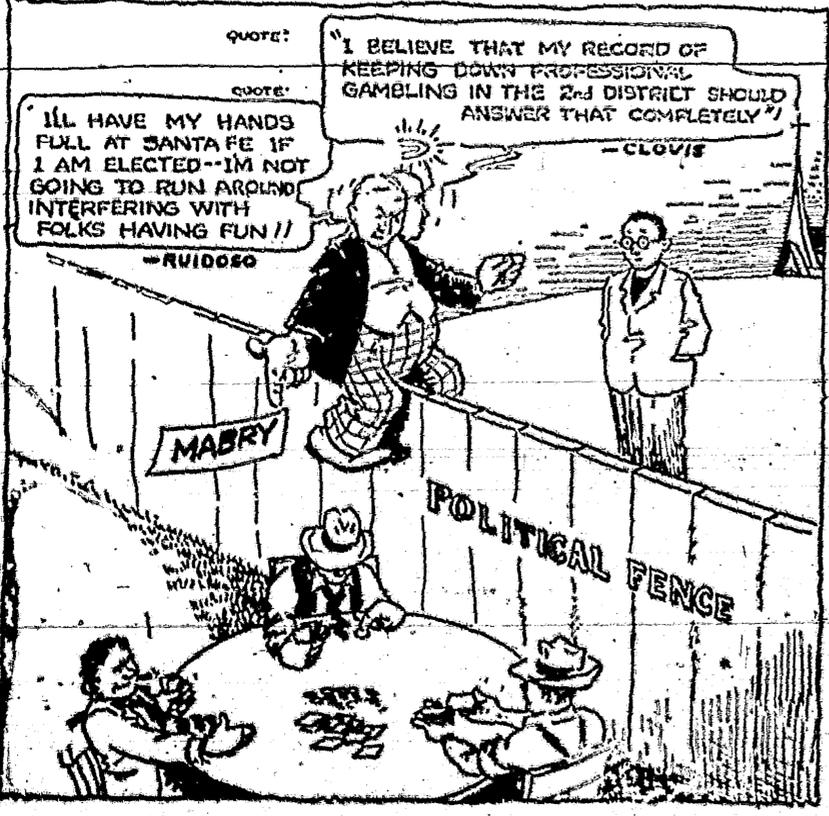

In 1910, when the constitution of New Mexico was drafted, he was sent from Curry County as the youngest delegate to the historic Constitutional Convention. He was again elected by the people of Curry County to represent them in the first State Senate.

In 1915 he moved to Albuquerque, and in 1936 was elected Judge. In 1938, he was elected to Supreme Court of New Mexico by the tremendous majority of 26,000 votes—a record vote, showing the high esteem in which he has always been held by the people of New Mexico. Judge Mabry served 8 years on the Supreme Court, resigning as Chief Justice to become candidate for Governor.

His election will bring to the office of Governor the able, honest, aggressive, distinguished, qualified and capable executive our State will need so desperately in these changing times.

We urge you to be sure to cast your vote on November 5 for Judge Thomas J. Mabry for Governor and Good Government in New Mexico.

A MESSAGE OF INTEREST to all who await deliveries of new Chevrolets
 We want you to know that everything possible is being done to speed deliveries to you; but production still lags far behind schedule—even though Chevrolet has built more cars and trucks than any other manufacturer from January through September 1946

WE REALIZE how eagerly you are awaiting delivery of the new Chevrolet you have ordered from us, and we want to pass on to you the latest information received from the Chevrolet Motor Division, even though that information isn't too encouraging at this time.
 It is true that Chevrolet leads all other manufacturers in total production of passenger cars and trucks from January through September 1946, despite the fact that Chevrolet was out of production entirely during the first three months of this year. It is also true that Chevrolet has continued to maintain its lead in total production during the third quarter of 1946. And yet production is still running far below desired levels, with the result that Chevrolet's output of cars and trucks through September 1946 was only 38.7% of the number produced during the corresponding period of 1941.
 This means it may take many months for the Chevrolet Motor Division to reach peak production of new Chevrolets—even longer to fill the unprecedented demand for this product of BIG-CAR QUALITY AT LOWEST COST—and, for the present at least, "there just aren't enough Chevrolets to go around," much as we wish there were.
 However, we want you to know that new Chevrolets are leaving the plants in the largest numbers possible today. The Chevrolet Motor Division tells us it is doing everything it can, in the face of continued suppliers' strikes, material shortages and manpower problems, to step up shipments to us and to all dealers, in accordance with a predetermined distribution plan assuring each dealer his fair allotment, based on 1941 passenger car sales. And we, in turn, are doing our best to deliver new Chevrolets to our customers as rapidly as they are received and in the fairest possible way. We are too appreciative of your loyalty and goodwill—too grateful for your patience and understanding—to do anything less than continue to serve you to the very best of our ability.

KEEP YOUR PRESENT CAR RUNNING
 Meanwhile, the most important car of all to you is the car you are driving now. May we suggest that you keep it in top running condition until you secure delivery of your new Chevrolet, by bringing it to us for skilled service now and at regular intervals. Remember—cold weather is hardest on old cars. Please see us for a complete check-up today. . . . And, again, thank you!

Unpaved Feeder Roads Retard Farm Progress

PUBLIC Roads administration tentatively has considered approximately 200,000 miles of secondary farm-to-market roads to be taken into the nation's secondary highway system under provisions of the 1944 federal aid highway act. There is now available some 600 million dollars in the second postwar fiscal year for this type of road.

Two hundred thousand miles seems like a lot of mileage . . . a stretch which would reach from New York to San Francisco some 60 times. Yet, viewed in the light of total mileage of these secondary or feeder roads, of which there are 2,400,000 miles and of which 1,400,000 miles are unsurfaced, it is only a step toward taking rural America out of the mud and dust.

This fact was pointed out graphically in a recent highway meeting by Charles M. Upham, engineer-director of American Road Builders association, who emphasized the fact that despite federal aid for farm-to-market roads, local and county road improvement is not keeping pace with mechanization of American farms.

"Improved year-round all-weather farm-to-market roads are as necessary to the people of the nation as the primary trunk lines," Upham said, and to back up his assertions he pointed to the fact that of the $12,000,000,000 worth of farm production annually hauled to market, nearly the entire amount is trucked over secondary or farm-to-market roads to reach consumers of the nation.

As an example, he declared that in 1944 approximately 3,620,000 truck loads of livestock alone—some 66,000,000 cattle, sheep and hogs—were shipped to market over these secondary roads, good and bad.

Carry a Third of Traffic

Under the 1944 act a billion dollars a year in matched funds is made available to the nation's highway system, of which 30 per cent was apportioned to these secondary roads, 45 per cent to the federal-aid system of primary roads and 25 per cent to urban roads and streets. States reporting and asking for these matched funds indicate that 29 per cent of all needed construction work on highways is on the secondary and feeder road system. This is due largely to the fact that 34.5 per cent of the nation's vehicular traffic, measured in vehicle miles, is carried over these county roads serving 68,033,000 people or 62.3 per cent of the population of continental U. S. A. who live in the areas fed by these secondary highways.

Farmers of the nation are among the greatest road users, since agriculture uses 34 per cent of all trucks built, adding up to 1,000,000 trucks now on the farms of the nation, of which 1,100,000 are farm-owned and 500,000 are for-hire units handling farm products and supplies. So the food distribution system, so vital in these days of food shortages, relies almost entirely upon the secondary road system.

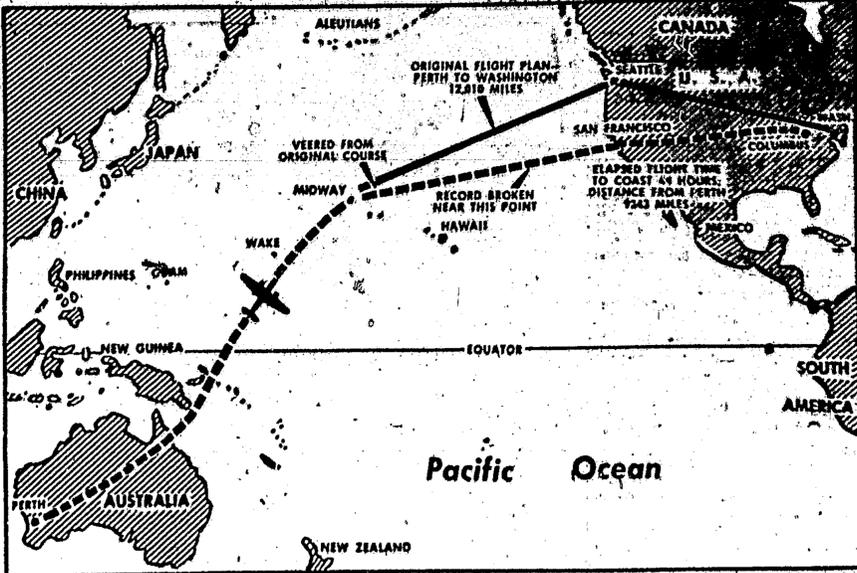

That Congress has at last taken cognizance of the need for improvement of these roads is evidenced by inclusion of them in the highway-aid law. Lack of funds, which heretofore has kept many thousands of farmers in the mud, is no longer a valid excuse. Statistics show that only 45,000 miles of feeder roads have high-type paved surfaces; 90,000 miles have low-type bituminous surface; 780,000 miles have non-treated surfaces; 613,000 miles are merely graded and drained, and 861,000 miles are classed as "primitive." Despite the fact that 200,000 miles are tentatively considered for improvement, the rural highway picture is not too bright, and immediate action in bringing more mileage into the system for improvement is considered essential.

Highway Taxes Diverted

One of the disturbing factors in the farm-to-market highway picture and indeed in the entire field of highway construction, is the continued diversion of highway-user taxes to other purposes by the several states. Improvement is being made, however, since during the past 17 years 18 states have passed constitutional amendments to prevent diversion of these funds.

How these taxes have grown is indicated by the fact that under a registration of 20,486,000 motor vehicles in 1936, total receipts from all highway-user sources was $302,082,900. In 1944, with a registration of 29,940,000 vehicles, only slightly greater than seven years earlier, receipts had grown to $1,126,370,000, more than three times the amount collected in 1936. The average auto owner pays $36.94 a year.

With federal aid added to state funds there should be plenty to take rural America out of the mud.

PLANE'S WORLD RECORD-BREAKING ROUTE . . . The broken line on the above map shows the route followed by the navy's "Traculent Turtle," a Lockheed P2V Neptune, on its world record non-stop flight of 11,236 miles from Perth, Australia, to Columbus, Ohio. The plane took 55 hours and 17 minutes for the trip, landing at the Ohio airport in excellent condition. It carried a crew of four and a nine-month-old kangaroo. The solid line, above, indicates part of the proposed route, from which the plane veered at Midway Island.

HORSES ARE HER PLAYMATES . . . Most four-year-olds are content to "play house" with their dolls and toys, but not Shirley Adams. She is happiest when she can drive the horses about the farm of Andy Walker, Neillings Hill, Australia, where she is staying. Here Shirley drives five draft horses so that they can be hitched to the plow for the day's work. A real farmer's daughter, the tiny girl loves horses and is not in the least frightened by them.

Twelve Nazi war leaders were sentenced to be hanged, three were acquitted and seven received jail sentences, ranging as in case of Hess to life imprisonment. All defendants who were sentenced to hanging immediately filed notice of appeal. Those sentenced to hang were Goering, Joachim von Ribbentrop, Field Marshal Gen. Wilhelm Keitel, Ernst Kaltenbrunner, Dr. Alfred Rosenburg, Hans Frank, Wilhelm Frick, Julius Streicher, Fritz Sauckel, Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl and Arthur Seyss-Inquart.

When measuring windows for new curtain fabrics, measure all the windows. They may look the same size, but often differ. Correct measuring may save you needless waste of material.

Leather or skin gloves should be mended with cotton thread; never with silk.

Store paint brushes in turpentine, not in water. Water causes the bristles to become soft and flabby.

To remove chewing gum from clothing, rub the spot with ice until the gum rolls into a ball, then scrape it off.

Due to an unusually large demand and current conditions, slightly more time is required in filling orders for a few of the most popular pattern numbers.

TREASURE OF THE SEA

BY George E. White WNUU Release

THE STORY TUCU TOLD: The crew of a small sailing vessel in the Caribbean pick up Dick Jordan, a drift on a raft. Dick realizes that he is among men who are virtually pirates.

CHAPTER V

Dick walked slowly forward again, keeping a more watchful eye in the direction of the lugger, and listening for any strange sound.

When he reached their meeting point, she was not in sight. He waited impatiently for her, but when she did not appear he grew anxious.

"I missed you," he exclaimed in a whisper, "and couldn't go back until I was sure."

When Dick recovered, and his wife returned to him, the Caribs were in full possession of the schooner. He needed no further verification of this than his own helpless condition.

Dick Stalls for Time By Bargaining

A foot prodded him in the ribs, and a black face was thrust into his. Dick recognized the crafty one of Captain Tucu, leering with triumph.

"Where's Captain Bedford's daughter?" he asked. "Did she get hurt?"

"I tried to trick me once," growled the other, "an' y'll do it again. Y'word ain't worth nothin'."

him, an' his daughter ain't said nothin' to ye. Dick was puzzled and mystified. He shook his head finally.

If Tucu believed there was any treasure hidden on the schooner, he would search for it, spend days overhauling every part of the craft.

He concluded finally to favor the idea that there was something of value aboard, and that Captain Bedford had hidden it. By pretending that he and Rose knew of its existence, but couldn't locate it, they would gain time.

When Tucu appeared a few hours later, with the first streaks of dawn breaking in the east, Dick's mind was made up.

"Then it's a bargain!" fighting against fate. I'll make a new deal with you. Captain Bedford has enough loot aboard to make those smuggled jewels look like cheap imitations.

"Thought y'said there wasn't none," growled the man, scowling hard at his prisoner.

"The hell she don't! Y're lyin' to me." "All right!"—shrugging his shoulders. "Don't believe me. Ask her!"

"If she don't know where it is, who does?" he demanded sturdily. "Captain Bedford, of course. He hid it in one of his crazy moments. His daughter knew where it was before that, but now she doesn't know any more than you do."

"What treasure?" Captain Tucu walked and laughed. "Y'don't know nothin' 'bout it, I suppose. Tain't likely y'heard enough to know that. Feel the air, and that wind—" Tucu studied the leaden skies.

"Y'can't help any in searchin' the schooner," he decided finally. "But y'can lie here an' watch us."

Dick nodded. He had gained his point. Nothing would happen to him or Rose while they searched the schooner for the mythical treasure.

His ready compliance awakened the other's suspicion. "Y' got to help us in one way," he added.

"Y'cu was still suspicious, that he there was no other way he'd decided to grant this request."

"No, I got a knock on the head, but it didn't amount to much." He glanced around him. The cabin was empty except for his two captors and a third Carib on watch at the entrance.

"Yes, to gain time," he continued. "While he's looking for the treasure we may plan some way of escape."

"Why does Captain Tucu think there's any treasure on the schooner?" she asked slowly.

"I don't know there was anything, Rose," he said positively. "I supposed your father's chatter was all moonshine. I'm sorry if I've blurred."

Footlights of GRANTLAND RICE

THE Big Nine, the South, the Southwest and the Far West are not the only sections that have returned to prewar speed and power in football.

In this connection, we'd like to call your attention to the Ivy League, too often underrated by football camp followers around the map.

Excluding Army and Navy, Pennsylvania has a Red and Blue squad this fall that should be an even match for any team in the country.

Best Yale Squad But the Red and Blue doesn't stand alone. Howie Odell has the best-looking squad Yale has known in years.

You can add Lou Little and the Columbia Lion to this group. Little's Lions won eight out of nine games last fall, losing only to Pennsylvania.

This season Columbia has an even better team with Kasprzak added to Kossides and Kusserow in the backfield, a speed back, a power back and one of the best passers that ever chucked a pigskin.

Ed McKeever's Cornell squad is no "shove around" for anybody. The Big Red from Ithaca and Cayuga's Waters has a star tackle in Wydo and a star back in Martin.

Tom Hamilton's Navy team took the leading losses in material. Navy material may be doubtful, but Hamilton, plus Rip Miller, are hot.

Amazing Greenberg When the season started, all American league batting talk was banked around Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio and Dick Wakefield.
