25th Birthday Order of Rainbow

Carrizozo Assembly No. 7 of Order of Rainbow for Girls, observed its church attendance day on April 13, by attending eleven o'clock services at the Methodist Church. Rev. Johnson delivered a sermon to the girls on "God's Promises as Symbolized by His Bow in the Clouds".

Many Mothers, Eastern Star members and advisory members were also in attendance.

Rainbow celebrated its 25th anniversary on April 6. Twenty five years of interesting and beautiful work has brought the Order from a small beginning to be recognized as one of the greatest youth movements in the world.

Rainbow is established in 42 states and seven countries. Regularly constituted assemblies number 1404. This Order has an active membership of 130,000 teen-age girls, and girls past 20 of 500,000.

Girls Scouts Visit White Sands

Carrizozo Girl Scout Troops 1 and 2 and Brownie Troop No. 3 attended the White Sands Annual Playday, April 12.

Nine carloads of excited girls left Carrizozo at 8:00 a. m., dressed for the occasion in levis, long sleeved shirts, and straw hats. Each girl brought her own lunch. Hot beans and free soda pop were provided by the Leaders and Board members.

It would have delighted anyone to have seen the mad scramble of girls pouring out of the cars and over the sands. For many, it was their first visit to such a remarkable phenomena of nature.

Altho the weather was disagreeable at times, the girls had a wonderful day. One of the Scouts was overheard to remark "the food tasted much better with the sand in it!"

The Girl Scouts witnessed the Mesalero Indian Dances and heard Gov. Mabry address the crowd.

The Excursion broke up about 4:00 p. m., and headed for home, a very tired but happy group of Girl Scouts.

The Girls will visit Ft. Stanton, April 26 for an all-day camping meet.

Mrs. Joe Morgan,
Publicity Chairman.

Methodist Church

F. J. Johnston, Pastor

I am still fighting my battle in this community. Which battle is psychological or as some might say spiritual battle.

There are some Protestants who object to the use of the Cross as a Christian symbol. Of course I can't think of using the picture of a Glamour Girl (like so many business houses do) around the church to attract attention to our gospel and its purposes. Furthermore so many church members furnish such a poor testimony for Christ in their lives that the church is between the devil and the deep sea. And this community isn't very much worse than a few others.

We need every red-blooded, he man who is worthy of the name to join the ranks of the Kingdom and help pull Gods work out of the bog into which it has settled. As you read these lines please don't get hot but let your blood get redder and redder until you have overcome the spiritual anemia that has become so epidemic in these parts. We churches have some good blood plasma on hand if you will submit to a transfusion God has guided me to this place to help you. Please give me a chance. This may be 11th hour. Church services are from 11 A. M. to 12 M. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

THE TELEPHONE STRIKE

As the telephone strike enters its second week, we regret sincerely the inconvenience it is causing and its damaging effect on the economy of the community.

The Company has bargained in good faith with the unions. The demands, which follow largely a national pattern, are so excessive, that, if granted, they would increase our payroll 70 per cent and would place telephone workers in wage brackets far above community levels of wages and would necessitate very substantial increases in telephone charges to our customers.

The management does not feel that it is fair either to the users of the service or to those who have risked their savings in the business to accede to these prohibitive demands. The management believes that it had to resist these demands even though it meant partial interruption in the service.

The offer to extend the present liberal contracts covering wages and working conditions still stands; the offer of arbitration of all wage issues by impartial citizens from this area is still open. The Company holds itself ready to resume negotiations and make every effort that is in keeping with fairness to everyone to terminate this unhappy situation.

We sincerely appreciate the friendly cooperation and understanding of the public.

THIS is supposed to be the season when baseballs are thudding into gloves and bats are thudding against baseballs. But, apparently, football now covers the entire 12 months.

It might surprise you to know how many football coaches, scouts and players are seeking the sun, or holding a spring-training south of the Mason and Dixon line, as well as above. And they already have started talking about next fall, including the 12 or 15 bowl games that will open the campaign of 1945.

There will be one of the wildest shifts of coaches this season that football has ever known. There are new men at California, Alabama, Northwestern, Cornell, Mississippi, San Francisco university, Ohio State, Pittsburgh, Maryland—too many to mention. But a big part of the old guard is still standing pat. We have been taking a vote of these sun-seeking wanderers, here in Florida, to get an early line on what might happen from September to November. We first ran into a well-known eastern coach, one of the best, who had this prophecy to offer:

Navy vs. Pennsylvania. "The college battle in the East should be between Navy and Pennsylvania. They have the two strongest squads coming up. Columbia and Yale can be close. Yale especially so, if Howie Odell can dig up another line. Both Yale and Columbia will have fine backs. Cornell can be strong—and probably will be. The eastern race will be a good one, one of the best in many years. Army? A guess. No team can lose nine of its best-starting team, especially such men as Blanchard, Davis, Tucker, Foldberg and Poole, and have too much left. This should be Navy's year, as far as West Point and Annapolis go. Army won't be bad, but none too good. It may lose four games.

"South—Georgia loses Trippi and others. Look out for Alabama, Tulane and Tennessee. Tulane can be extra good. So can LSU. And don't overlook North Carolina with Charlie Justice. Duke is still a guess."

"Just a minute," another scout cut in. "If you leave out Georgia Tech you are crazy. This will be the team to beat in the South."

On the early evidence, it seems that the South again will face one of its big seasons, with at least 8 or 10 strong teams.

Moving to the Midwest, the vote went to Michigan in the Big Nine roundup, with Notre Dame heading the country's list, East, West, North or South.

"Frank Leahy's Notre Dame squad should be even stronger than it was last season," one traveling scout reported. "Notre Dame has most of her veterans back, most of her stars, plus some young backs who will be brilliant. The squad again will be two or three deep. As Leahy happens to be one of the game's ablest coaches, you can see what this means. A South Bend gallop all fall."

Michigan is rated highly in the Big Nine, without an early Army-game pressure to set her back this time. Ohio State and Minnesota both will be dangerous. Illinois loses several of her best men, including Agnew and Buddy Young. Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma are rated well.

In the ever-hustling Southwestern conference, Jess Nealey's team at Rice is given a good chance to repeat. The battle for conference leadership is so fiercely fought in this section that early predictions are useless.

UCLA Leads in West

"What about the West coast?" I asked a wayfarer from California. "UCLA should still be the strongest squad," he said. "I know how terrible they looked against Illinois, but they are a far better team than that game showed. When the Army game was called off, the spirit of the squad took a heavy drop. UCLA still has a strong nucleus left, a bunch that will be keen to wipe out that Rose Bowl showing. Stanford will be improved. So will California and Southern California. I don't know so much about the Northwest."

I have a feeling that the pressure will be lightened, this next fall, in the way of salaries and rosters. This doesn't mean perfection. It means that the effort, on the side of amateur play, will begin showing early effects. The game was undoubtedly getting out of hand.

Tiger Pitching Best

The Tigers may miss lank Hank Greenberg's busy bat, but they still expect to beat out the Yankees for second place. They also expect to crowd in much closer on the favored Red Sox, and perhaps move into the front spot.

The answer to this is pitching. The Tigers have the best pitching staff in both leagues. The one team that might argue this point is the Cardinals.

"Pop, how about increasing my allowance to a point where it's worth complaining about?"

"It's in celebration of Dad's new raise!"

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD I. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for April 13

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

THE KINGDOM ESTABLISHED

LESSON TEXT - I Samuel 9:1, 2; 11:12, 13; 15:1, 22-24, 34, 35. MEMORY SELECTION - Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord. - Psalm 33:12.

A major crisis had come in the history of Israel when we left them in our study of January-March, 1946. They were ready to change their form of government. They no longer wanted God to rule them directly through his representatives, but wanted a king like other nations round about them.

God acceded to their request and instructed his servant Samuel to anoint Saul as king, and they began that period in their history which led to their ultimate captivity and disgrace. We shall study together during the next three months the facts and factors involved in the rise and fall of the nation of Israel.

Our lesson concerns their first king, Saul, the son of Kish, who promised to be a great and good king, but who failed through disobedience.

I. Saul - a Choice Man and God-Chosen King (9:1, 2; 15:1).

To begin well is to be far on the road to success. Here was a man of excellent quality, "a choice young man and a goodly" - in fact, there was not among his people one who surpassed him. What a splendid recommendation for the prospective ruler!

His physical appearance was also attractive. That is not as great a factor in success as some think, but it does have a bearing on a man's influence over others.

Most important of all, this man Saul was the one whom not only the people but also the Lord had chosen. The Lord sent Samuel (15:1) to anoint Saul as king, and to give him the key to success as ruler - obedience to the voice of God.

II. Saul - an Obedient and God-Blessed King (11:12, 13).

The attitude of a man toward his enemies is often the test of his character. Bitterness, hatred, revenge, or velle hostility with a purpose of ultimate destruction - these are the common reactions of men toward them who oppose them.

Saul, who was not essentially different in his own spirit (as we shall see later), was a man after God's own heart in his early reign, for he was obedient to the Lord.

Some "worthless fellows" despised Saul and refused to recognize him as king. The urge of the flesh to destroy them was aggravated by their own unworthiness. Some wanted to put them to death for their disloyalty to the king, but Saul in true kingly spirit, and recognizing that he reigned by the good grace of the Lord, decreed that there was to be no revenge, but rejoicing.

The story which we touch on so briefly here is one that teaches the eternal truth that the way of blessing and power is the way of obedience to the laws and the will of God.

Saul began well, but before long his pride and self-will began to assert itself and he thus brought to ruin and personal disaster that which had begun with such promise and blessing. There were many such incidents, but we consider only one.

III. Saul - a Disobedient and God-Rejected King (15:22-24, 34, 35).

God had commanded that there must be utter destruction of the Amalekites and their possessions - something like the burning of a disease-infested house - a wiping out of a king and people who were condemned of God. We may not fully understand this act of God, but if we know him we will not doubt that it was in accordance with his infinite wisdom and love.

Saul chose to disobey, later contending that it was done because of the people, that sheep and oxen had been spared for a sacrifice to the Lord. Samuel cut through his hypocrisy and declared that God wants obedience rather than sacrifice. This is a lesson that many who profess to follow the Lord have not learned.

The church or the individual who denies or disregards the teaching of God's Word and attempts to make up for it by sacrifices and ceremonies declares to the world that there has been a departure from true faith in God. Obedience is a virtue all too rare.

Too late! What sad words - and never sadder than when they speak of spiritual failure. Saul talked of repentance and prayer, but the Lord had already rejected him as king.

There comes a time when God's patience with man's disobedience is exhausted, and the door to further service is closed. It is a long, long way to the boundary line of God's patience; but mark it well, there is a boundary line!

Woman's World New Techniques Are Required For Sewing Plastic Materials

By Ertta Haley

WITH plastic film and plastic-coated fabrics, it's easy to achieve all sorts of smart effects for the home. Using them, you can make things that have a smart appearance and are easy to clean.

With these fabrics appearing in stripes, checks, florals and plain designs, you'll find it easy to turn out attractive curtains for the kitchen and bath, bedspreads, shower sets, chair covers and other household accessories that can be kept fresh and stainless with a swish of a damp cloth. If they need more attention, you can even launder them periodically in lukewarm suds.

Even beginners can achieve the ultimate in thrifty home decoration with these newest of fabrics after a few short-cut decorating lessons at a local sewing center. You'll find, too, that many of these new fabrics come in color-coordinated arrays so you can mix stripes, florals and plain designs for any sewing project you've set for yourself.

There are just a few things you should remember when sewing on these new fabrics. It will require some adjusting to learn how to stitch most efficiently, but actually that's an easy matter to learn even if you're an amateur at this sewing business.

Adjust Sewing Machine For Stitching

When using either plastic film or plastic-coated fabric for such projects, local sewing center instructors recommend the use of a size 11 needle for the sewing machine. Thread the machine with mercerized thread and regulate machine for a slightly longer stitch. Light tension and light pressure also are recommended for plastic film stitching.

When using plastic film for shower curtains and matching window curtains, it's a good idea before cutting desired lengths to hang the fabric over an open door with ends balanced evenly on both sides. You then can smooth out the wrinkles with the balls of the fingers or the palm of the hand. Avoid fingernail contact, however.

The use of weights rather than pins on the cutting table also is a big help when working with plastics. You can fill small sacks with beans or borrow marbles from the youngsters for this purpose.

Use a pencil to mark off heading, hems for curtains or follow pattern markings. Do not use tailor's tacks under any circumstances. You can easily keep the pattern pieces together with ordinary paper clips and thus avoid tearing the fabric.

Tubes or rolls of wrapping paper come in handy, too, for you can roll each cut section over it in the opposite order to the sequence on the construction chart of the pattern. This will keep pieces from becoming wrinkled as well as giving neatness and orderliness to your work.

Be Smart!

Look for the biggest, richest black plaids ever imagined... in coats, suits and dresses. Cottons are a dream of color combinations - often five or six - plus silk-like sheen, novelty touches as to weave. You'll love 'em!

Fashion Flashes

Clever ideas for making new dresses out of one good one include different accessories such as scarves, gloves and belts.

Even though your hats are small this season, they should fit your head, say the experts. The styles particularly filling this order are bonnets, beretons and small side rolls.

Peplum Pockets

Designer Kivietto knows the value not only of glittering sequins but also of the tailored classic in which a woman lives most of her life. This one is in beige with peplum that has pockets and a soft silk scarf at the neck.

Pinning and basting are considered non-essential when sewing with plastic film. Another thing, you won't have to turn under raw edges as the fabric does not fray. Always finish edges plain or "pinked" with the pinker attachment on the sewing machine.

Tips to Make Sewing Easy

It's easy to achieve smart decorator finishes such as ruffling, gathering and binding on these fabrics with attachments of the sewing machine such as the binder, ruffler and gathering foot. The fine hemmer and edge stitcher attachments can readily be used; also.

If the plastic film becomes soft and moist from humidity, brush a bit of talcum powder lightly over the edge to be inserted into the sewing machine attachment. If the film seems tough from cold, brush a very thin film of oil along the edge of the fabric with the finger tips. One drop of oil is sufficient.

When a great deal of ruffling is necessary, as in curtain making, it's advisable to pass a 1/2-inch strip of very fine emery cloth between blades of the ruffler from back to front, should there be any inclination to skip gathers.

The emery cloth will provide a gripping surface for the blades since continued contact with plastic film sometimes causes a waxy or oily deposit to interfere with the drive of the blades.

If an oily condition develops when using plastic film, simply dust very lightly with talcum powder. If waxiness appears, use emery paper on the underside of the gathering foot.

Plain fabric binding may be used with plastic film and this is simply treated as in average sewing. When plastic binding is used, cut binding 1/2-inch in width and insert in the outside slot of the binder. Since plastic film does not fray, it is not necessary to fold the edges under as in fabric binding.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Obtain a piece of window pane the size of your cookbook. Bind the edges by gluing a half-inch strip of thick cloth around it. Then, when following a recipe, open your cookbook and place the glass over it. Recipe can plainly be read through the glass, and the glass also prevents the book from closing while it's being used.

Knives and other kitchen gadgets with painted handles should not be allowed to stand in water. The wood under the enamel will absorb water and cause the paint to chip off.

Cut off the buttons before throwing an old garment away. Slip a fork under the button and cut thread with scissors or razor blade.

To get ready for spring house-cleaning and to obtain more storage space, it is a good idea to start now to weed out kitchen utensils and other odds and ends which are no longer useful.

To prevent rust marks on bathroom or kitchen fixtures where scouring powder can rest, dip the bottom of the can in hot paraffin.

If your aluminum pans are discolored, try this easy method to bring the luster back to them. Boil a cream of tartar solution in the discolored pan. Use one teaspoon of cream of tartar to each quart of water for best results. This simple method keeps your pans gleaming.

Use precaution when selecting a lining for your jacket or coat. It should last as long as the garment.

Plastic covered coat hooks in color fixed on that empty wall space make a fine support for showing off your pretty trays.

Iron rayon jerseys lightly and don't pull the garment. Avoid having the iron too hot or the result may be disastrous.

When the request is made by the VA office or center, the chief medical officer or his designate will make the final decision on the basis of complete information furnished by the veteran or his representative.

Prices Are Partly Up To You
Most of the shopping for the home is done by the women in the family. They know a bargain when they see one, but they are usually willing to pay a fair price for what they buy. When the asking price gets outrageously out of line, the women shoppers of the nation can take effective action as they have done in some instances, by simply not buying until the price is lowered. This is one of the most effective means of keeping prices from running wild. It's a veto power that's largely in the hands of those who hold the family purse strings. Spending carefully is another habit like thrift. Like depositing regularly in your bank account, this habit pays handsome dividends.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
Slim's Cows Are All Aristocrats
Slim Hines, who owns the Leaf-green Dairy, played host to government inspectors Wednesday. They inspected his barns for cleanliness, his milk for butterfat content, and his cows for health. And they ended up giving Slim a Grade-A record for fine milk!
He was boasting about it over a friendly glass of beer in Andy Holkin's Garden Tavern. Andy says: "I know just how you feel."
And we know what Andy meant. Under the Brewer's program of Milk-Inspection, Andy's tavern is open day and night to inspection by agents of the industry or of the law. And Andy gets a lot of satisfaction out of getting a "clean bill of health" for running a wholesome, law-abiding tavern.
From where I sit, people thank Slim and Andy for a vote thanks from their community. They're proud to have their place open to inspection at all times. They know they're running a business that's a credit to the town!

Slowness of GOP Congress Draws Sharp Criticism

Three months have passed since the 80th congress convened, and the Republicans still are mired down on both the domestic and foreign fronts.

They admit it and are chafing at criticism directed at them from throughout the country. Most of the critics go on the theory that the voters gave the Republican congressmen a mandate to change things quickly for the better . . . on labor, taxes, governmental expenditures, high cost of living and many other items which were made in hasty campaign promises.

Your Hometown Reporter, watching the legislative wheels spin into deeper and deeper ruts of congressional inaction, is inclined to sympathize with the everwrought congressmen who are, as a matter of fact, working hard, working long hours in an attempt to bring some order out of the chaos, occasioned when any change in leadership is made in congress.

When you start to change the basic law of the land after 14 years, it just doesn't happen. There are many viewpoints. There is a routine legislative routine which must be followed and it's a long drawn-out process. It takes time, and time is what the Republicans are asking for.

Your Hometown Reporter also is inclined to think that the criticism which is being poured onto the Republicans is coming, not so much from the rank and file voters as from the GOP friends, those who expected them to serve their special interests, industrialists who wanted to slap labor down in a hurry, big taxpayers who confidently and enthusiastically expected them to force through an across-the-board 20 per cent tax reduction, landlords who thought they had lifted all rent controls, railroad leaders who thought the GOP would free them from anti-trust laws, those who believed the story that you could fire a million government employees and not miss them. And then there are the New Deal haters who wanted to see all vestige of New Dealism thrown out the window, when the GOP leadership here realizes that the New Deal all along was nine-tenths common sense and practical government and only one-tenth idealism or plain nonsense, according to the point of view. So the New Deal laws will not all be thrown out.

No Real Leadership

The trouble with the new GOP majority here, in both the upper and lower houses of congress, is that while they have the leaders, they have had no real leadership. Each of their leaders is busy running for president, and running against the other leaders. Senator Taft of Ohio has set himself up as the leader of the party in congress but it is a leadership always with an eye cocked on 1944. And Senator Taft, usually so logical, so straightforward in his thinking, has permitted his leadership to veer with the political winds, and has lost face with his colleagues.

He has not won a major battle in congress. He started out advocating a $9,000,000,000 budget cut, but finally compromised on the $4,500,000,000 figure; he demanded only a billion dollar payment on the national debt and finally compromised with a majority of the GOP for $3,000,000,000; he opposed confirmation of the Llewellyn nomination, and he lost that fight; he lost on the reciprocal trade agreements when Senator Vandenberg of Michigan set the ground from under him by his agreement with President Truman, he forecast repeal of the excise taxes, only to be forced to vote for their extension, the first major bill passed by the GOP congress.

Look to Vandenberg

He had himself named chairman of the GOP policy committee (some here in Washington are spelling it police committee) and soon found a small-sized revolt on his hands when the 18 GOP freshmen senators, led by Senator Baldwin of Connecticut, forced him to take them into consideration in formulation of party policies.

As a matter of fact, GOP senators today are looking more toward Senator Vandenberg as the man to tie to rather than Senator Taft. Many GOP congressmen and senators, so-called isolationists, including Senator Taft, are forced, before they are ready, to declare themselves on international questions, particularly whether this country will take over any British commitments, all aimed at halting Russian expansion. But without the new GOP congressional control may, after all, come through—if but given sufficient time.

SCIENTIFIC REDFELLOWS
It's not making the front pages, but significant hearings are being held before the house interstate and foreign commerce committee for establishment of a national science foundation. In view of frantic atomic experiments abroad, these are important.

Originator of the science-foundation idea (providing federal funds for research) was West Virginia's able senator, Harley Kilgore. His bill, which set up a board of nine men appointed by the President and confirmed by the senate, was backed by the White House and many scientists. Key to the Kilgore bill was the provision that all discoveries made through the use of federal funds be made available to the public.

However, the bill now before the house interstate and foreign commerce committee, introduced by reactionary Congressman Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, is carefully angled in another direction.

It provides that a board of 43 $1-a-year men from private business shall administer the funds allocated to the national science foundation. And most significant is the fact that the Mills bill provides no safeguards to prevent assigning patents and processes to the big business groups which these $1-a-year men represent.

Kilgore's bill was passed by the senate last year, despite the open opposition of the National Association of Manufacturers, which wanted its members to profit from government-endowed research.

However, the NAM did succeed in bottling up the Kilgore bill in the house and now is trying to substitute the big business-authored Mills bill in its stead.

DEMOCRACY AT WORK
MAKING DEMOCRACY WORK
DEPARTMENT: The Virginia Press association is bringing two French journalists here for a three-month tour to get acquainted with the United States. Charles Sans and Girard d'Orgeville are the working newsmen who will make the trip. Credit Miss Daphne Dalley, editor of the Bowling Green Caroline Progress, with the idea. . . . The American field service, having done a great job as volunteer ambulance drivers during the war, has taken on a peacetime job—sending American students to study abroad with a reciprocal arrangement for foreign students to study in the USA.

Upon the death of Harold D. Smith, ex-budget director and a great public servant, his family asked that friends not send flowers, but donate the money to cancer research. There are now 180,000 deaths annually in the USA from cancer, yet its origin and cure are still unknown. . . . The Bronx veterans' hospital is building a swimming pool dedicated to the four chaplains—Protestant, Jewish, Catholic—who gave their lives to soldiers on the sinking transport Dorchester and went down praying that there might be more good will among men. The four chaplains were Father John P. Washington of Newark, N. J., Rabbi Alexander Goode of York, Pa., the Rev. George L. Fox of Cambridge, Vt., and the Rev. Clark V. Poling of Schenectady, N. Y.

TAKING HOLLYWOOD

It hasn't been officially announced but the treasury department is all set to collect several million dollars from Hollywood stars and film executives who cleaned up huge sums by paying capital gains taxes rather than income taxes on picture profits.

What happened was that when income taxes seemed, the film people hit on the idea of organizing separate corporations for single pictures. Then after each film was produced they liquidated the corporations and paid a capital gains tax of 25 per cent instead of a personal income tax of 30 to 36 per cent.

One of the single-picture men was producer Sam Goldwyn, who last fall learned that the treasury intended to collect the difference between the income and the capital gains rates. Goldwyn announced that he would go into court to uphold his right to pay at the lower rate. Following this it looked like the treasury had backed down.

However, the treasury now has ironed out all the legal kinks and bills for back taxes now are going out from the Los Angeles office of the bureau of internal revenue.

Hollywood drug stores will do a booming business in aspirin.

Dainty cupcakes decorated with Rainbow colors gave a finishing touch to the refreshment table. Serving at the punch bowl were the Misses Hops Snow, Immortality; Ethelyn White, Love; Eva Howard, Chatty; Rose Bingham, Choir Director.

Rev. and Mrs. F. J. Johnston spent several days in attendance on the Albuquerque District Conference held at Alamogordo this week. They returned Wednesday. The Reverends J. J. Loudin and J. L. Lawson, former pastors of the Carrizozo, church were also in attendance.
