CORONA NEWS

The regular meeting of the Directors of the Central New Mexico Electric Co. opened in Corona April 17. The large number of sales people present attest to the eagerness of "jobbers" salesmen to take orders. This would seem that in the not-to-distant future materials will be available for construction. The $707,500.00 allotted for a generating plant and line construction should mean much to both Torrance and Lincoln counties.

Mrs. L. Parker and Mrs. Cliff Switer went to Santa Fe as delegates to the state Federation of Women's Club the 17th, 18th, and 19th.

Tuesday of last week Mesdames W. A. Meys, Wilbur Dushman, C. Porter, Bill Krelin and Walter Pfeiffer attended the District Meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary in Carrizozo.

Have you considered the seriousness of our City water supply? What can we do about it?

There has been an outbreak of smallpox in Torrance and Duran. Mrs. Lorene Casey and Mrs. Aljio Bumgardner, County Nurse were here and assisted Dr. Barry in vaccinating most of the school children, pre-school children and many adults of the community Thursday of last week.

Attorney John E. Hall of Albuquerque attended the R. E. A. meeting in Corcha, April 27.

The appearance of the Baptist Church has been much improved by a retaining wall across the front of the lot.

The Youth's Revival is going along fine this week. Rev. W. C. Stevens of Bayard is giving the people here in Corona something to think about.

Corona Clean up Campaign
Mr. Harlin Harris and Mr. Glen Houchin helped the Scouts to a running start in Corona's Clean-up Campaign. Our most unattractive spot was the City Dump where tons of rubbish littered the entire hillside and spread to the very edge of the Highway. Corona's four Scout troops have sponsored a clearance of this dump.

Friday evening Mr. Harris brought in his bulldozer with Mr. Houchin as operator, and the garbage and trash was all cleared from the hillside and buried. On Saturday the Boy's Troop assisted with the work, and by Saturday afternoon the hillside was all beautifully clean and the fences rebuilt.

The Scouts had raised $57.60 to pay the cost of moving and operating the bulldozer, but Mr. Harris most generously donated this entire amount to our Scout Cabin Fund.

This task was not easy for the boys and girls of Corona, without the help of Mr. Harris and Mr. Houchin it would have been impossible. We hope everyone will cooperate in keeping it clean. Please drive your car over the hill and dump your refuse in the spots provided.
Thank you, Mr. Harris and Mr. Houchin, for your help and for your donation. Folks like you make Scouting a pleasure.
This is the week to clean up the town. Everyone is busy this week and especially the Scouts.
The four Scout troops have set for evergreen trees in front of the Corona Church.

Veteran Ball Team

At a recent meeting of the Veterans of Foreign War it was decided to form a baseball team. Red Huffmeyer was elected as manager, Salvador Ortiz assistant manager, and Friday Sherrill Secretary.

The first game will be played Sunday April 27th at 2 p. m. at Tularosa.

In Brooke General Hospital

Pfc. Charles E. Norton, son of Mrs. E. R. Norton, of Capitan, New Mexico has been admitted to the Brooke General Hospital at Brooke Army Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, for treatment.

These are choice, sturdy trees selected from the finest stock in the Albuquerque nurseries, and the Scouts will assume the responsibility of watering them through the summer.

The men of the church showed a fine spirit of cooperation by laying the church yard to make a more beautiful setting for the trees.

Hobbies Display

Among the many hobbies and antiques exhibited at the Woman's Club last Friday were the fascinating button collection, belonging to Mrs. A. E. Roselle and the extensive coin collection of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harkey.

Mrs. Roselle started her collection in 1941. She has her buttons classified and catalogued according to name, style, and the time they were in vogue. The cards contain more than six thousand varieties. They are of glass, china, metal, pearl, wood, crystal. Mrs. Roselle will be glad to exchange buttons with her friends or with anyone who has several alike. Her mother, Mrs. John Dering is a member of the National Society of Button Collectors and has sent her daughter some very rare specimens. Mrs. Roselle enjoys the work and acquires numerous friends through her correspondence with other collectors.

Mr. Jack Harkey started the coin collection about fifteen years ago, the first coins, a handful of Indian Head pennies.

Today, the arkeys have an almost complete series of United States coins and an extensive variety of foreign money.

Mr. Harkey is a member of the American Numismatic Association. He will be glad to help other collectors with classifying and identifying their coins.

The club appreciated the interest shown by Mrs. Frank Titworth, who brought her dolls from Tinnie, and by Mrs. Wallace Ferguson, who brought her collection of horses from Capitan. Any interest shown by people from other points gives the club great pleasure.

Art Exhibit And Tea

Last Sunday afternoon, the Carrizozo Woman's Club held their second Art Tea. A large crowd was present to listen to the lecture by the distinguished artist and teacher, Mr. Morang of Santa Fe. Mr. Morang delivered an interesting talk. Twelve pictures were exhibited, Mr. Morang found good points in every painting. The younger artists of the State, whose works were displayed, represented, "realistic" "expressionistic" "abstract" and "non-objective" styles in their interpretation of subjects.

It was an interesting and lovely display of water colors, oil on pressed wood, oil on canvas, oil on upon board, tempera and gold leaf on wood. "St. Francis" by Dorthea Weiss, "Chinese Merchant" by Sam Smith, "Ghost Town" by Millard Everingham, "Appassionata" by Dorothy Morang, (the guest artists wife) and the "Mescalero Crown Dance" by our own Captain Earl Thornton, William Lumpkins, were especially eye taking, and received considerable praise from everyone.

After the lecture the crowd viewed the pictures informally, singly and in groups after which they were served tea from well appointed tables. Dainty open faced sandwiches, individual cakes, bon bons, tea and coffee were generously served by the committee, Mrs. Bradley Smith, Mrs. William Gallacher and Mrs. Clifton Zumwalt assisted by Mrs. Earl Thornton, Mrs. Frank Richardson, Mrs. Kelley Stephenson and Mrs. Paul Mayer.

Methodist Church

F. J. Johnston, Pastor

I often hear people say, "We'll there isn't much that we can do about it." Some do not face life realistically. While there are others who are not mentally or spiritually alert and have no real sense of life conditions and needs. Their existence is a sleep, a dream, an opinion.

But this is no time for the followers of Christ to be discouraged or to acquiesce to world conditions. Even a rich man can be saved. "With man it may be impossible but with God all things are possible." Jesus. We can always hope and work and pray.

This is a peculiar year in my life. I have nearly always had a garden. But we haven't put a seed in the ground yet this year. Of course I have my spiritual garden and I am scattering some seed there each week, and watering it with prayer.

Mrs. Johnston says that the Church is her fraternal and I confess to a strong emotion. Some of our co-members are doing nobly. New interest is awakening. Let us press on to greater victories. To all our dear neighbors I quote from Hosea, "Sow unto yourselves in righteousness; break up your fallow ground; for it is time to seek the Lord till He come and rain righteousness upon you." I'll be having a spring time topic, "The Flowers Appear On The Earth." Cant 2: 12. Come away.

Dr. L. Morgan our D. S. will be with us for the 4th Q. C. next Sunday P. M. at 8, in the church. Everybody welcome. Official papers take notice and govern yourselves accordingly.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Blood of Alto were business visitors in Carrizozo last Tuesday.

Mr. W. J. Langston has returned from a two week stay at Albuquerque where he had been receiving medical treatment.

New Equipment Installed At Lyric

Mr. A. P. Sitton, Jr. of the Lyric Theatre not only believes in Carrizozo, but shows his faith in the town by buying a new projector, and new sound equipment.

The opening show was Sunday at one o'clock p. m. and the house was filled to capacity the entire afternoon and night. People were here from everywhere in the county and were very enthusiastic in their praise of the improvements which include the latest patents from Western Electric and Radio Corporation of America. The equipment weighs 8500 pounds, the speaker alone weighs 650 pounds and is built by a company that specializes in theatre speakers and has spent years in experimenting to produce a unit which will faithfully reproduce sounds naturally.

Mr. Sitton is to be congratulated upon his enterprise and the people are already showing their appreciation in a marked degree by their patronage not only locally, but from every point in the county.

Carrizozo-Capitan Facilities Enjoy Joint Picnic

The school facilities from Capitan and Carrizozo had an enjoyable afternoon up at the Ranchers' Camp meeting ground on Tuesday April 22nd. The purpose of this get-together was to get better acquainted, have fun and eat. This purpose was fully realized. The outing was well attended and all seemed to have a good time.

It is hoped that this is the first of many such socials for these and other school facilities. It is only through getting acquainted that people learn to work together. The teachers of these two schools are taking the lead in promoting better community relations. It is hoped that the different clubs and organizations will follow suit and help our younger generation to get away from the complex that friendly competitors must be enemies.

Anti-Communist Policy Offers Us Stern Choice

The impact of President Truman's new doctrine of American destiny... his new policy embracing the principle of freedom as opposed to forces of disruption in the world...

As a matter of fact, President Truman's message did not contain or advance any new American doctrine because such statements as America's interest in the freedom-loving peoples of the world...

Those high in government circles are aware of exactly what is entailed by support of the action. They accept it—Senator Vandenberg, Senator Lodge, Senator Morse, Senator Aiken—all agree that the President's action and his policy must be supported and carried out...

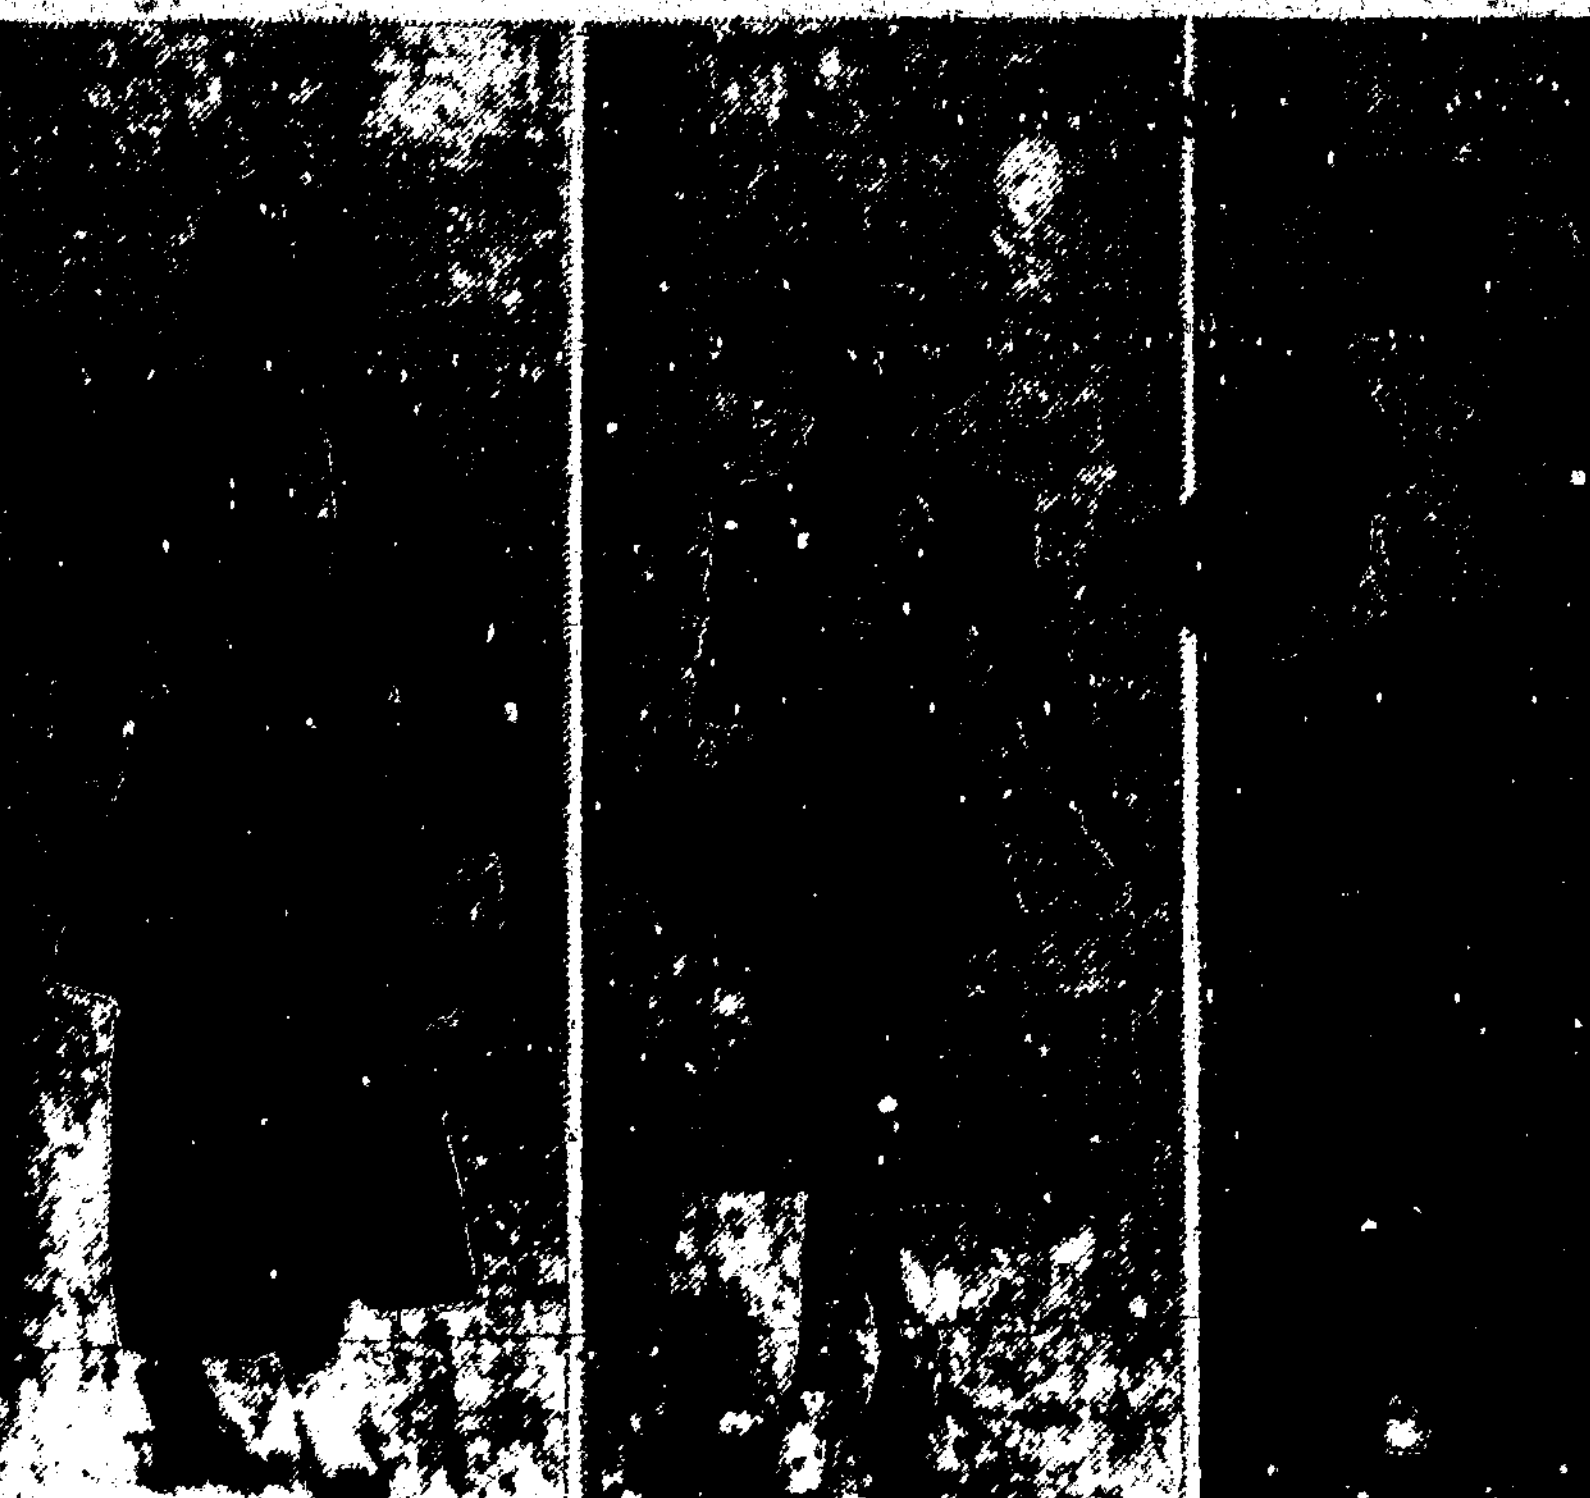

This tremendous responsibility, the aftermath of war, strikes at the very security of every man, woman and child in America. It is, in fact, a new call to arms...

Means Risks, Sacrifices

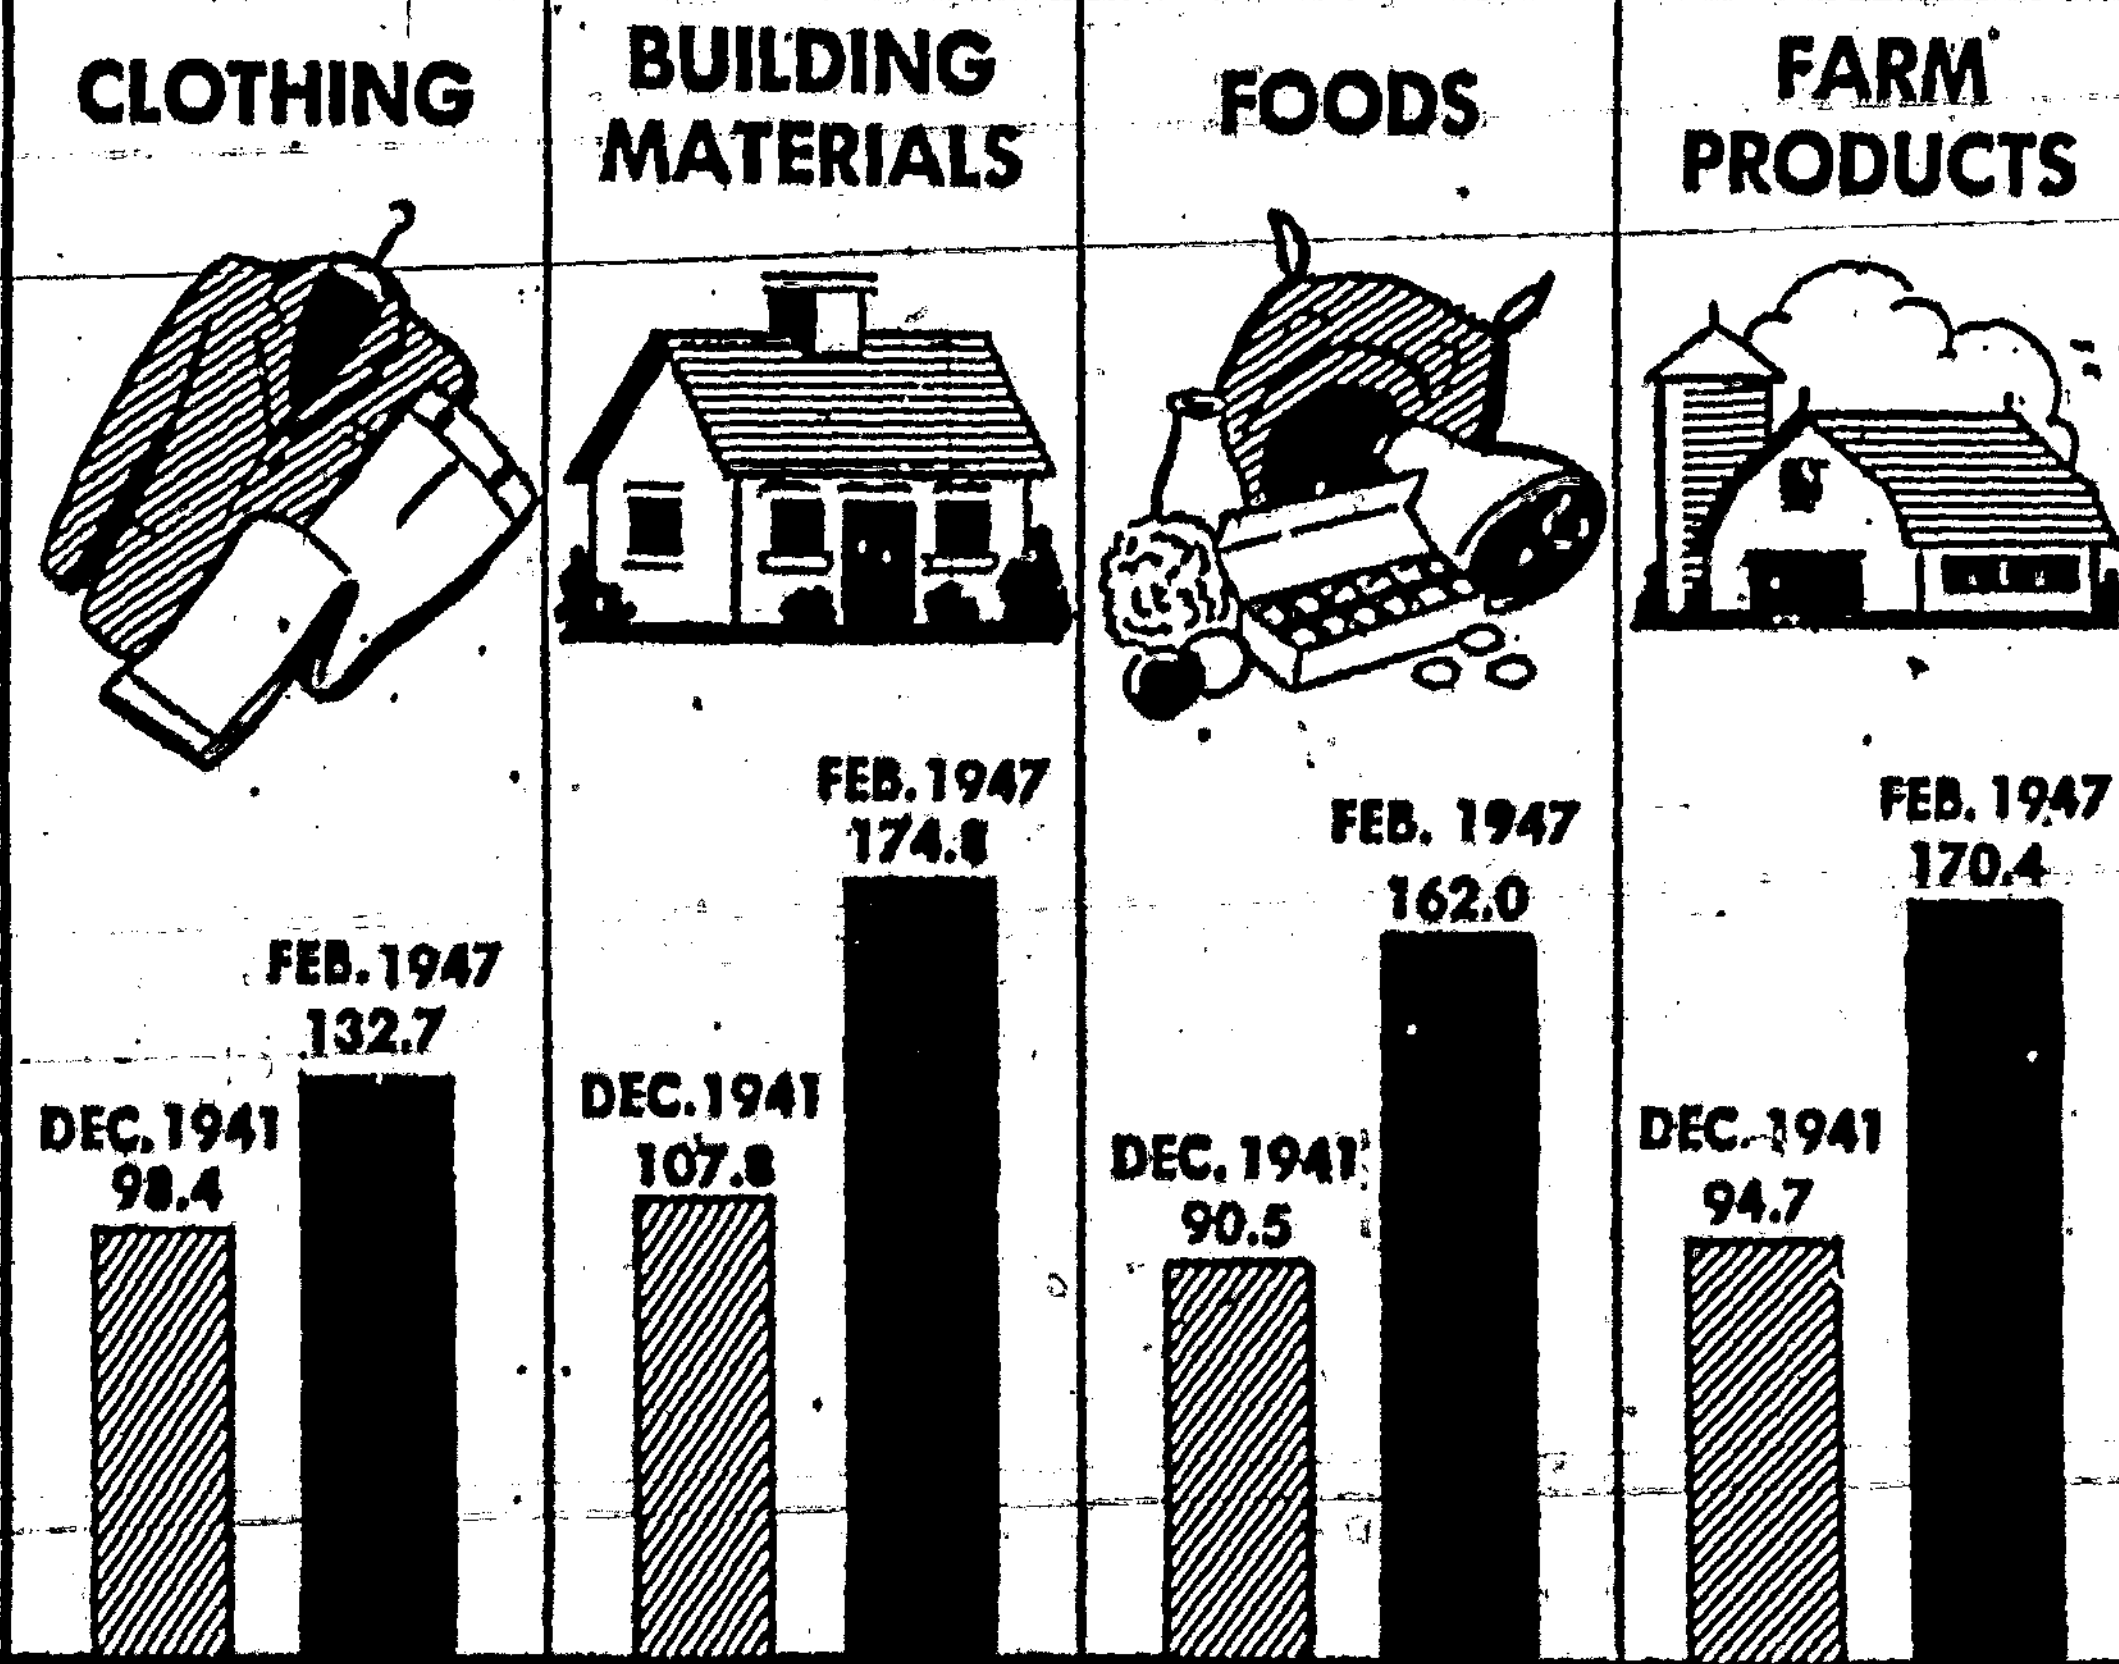

The people of the nation in every hometown in the land must be as united, as single of purpose, as we were in fighting a victorious war; the people must be ready to back up and accept compulsory military training; they must be willing to spend not only the 400 million dollars but in all likelihood, billions of dollars in the next few years...

So this tremendous new concept of the responsibility of this nation as a result of this last war must be either accepted wholly or rejected wholly by the American people; there can be no half-way measures. We must either take on the responsibility fully and with all our power and resources...

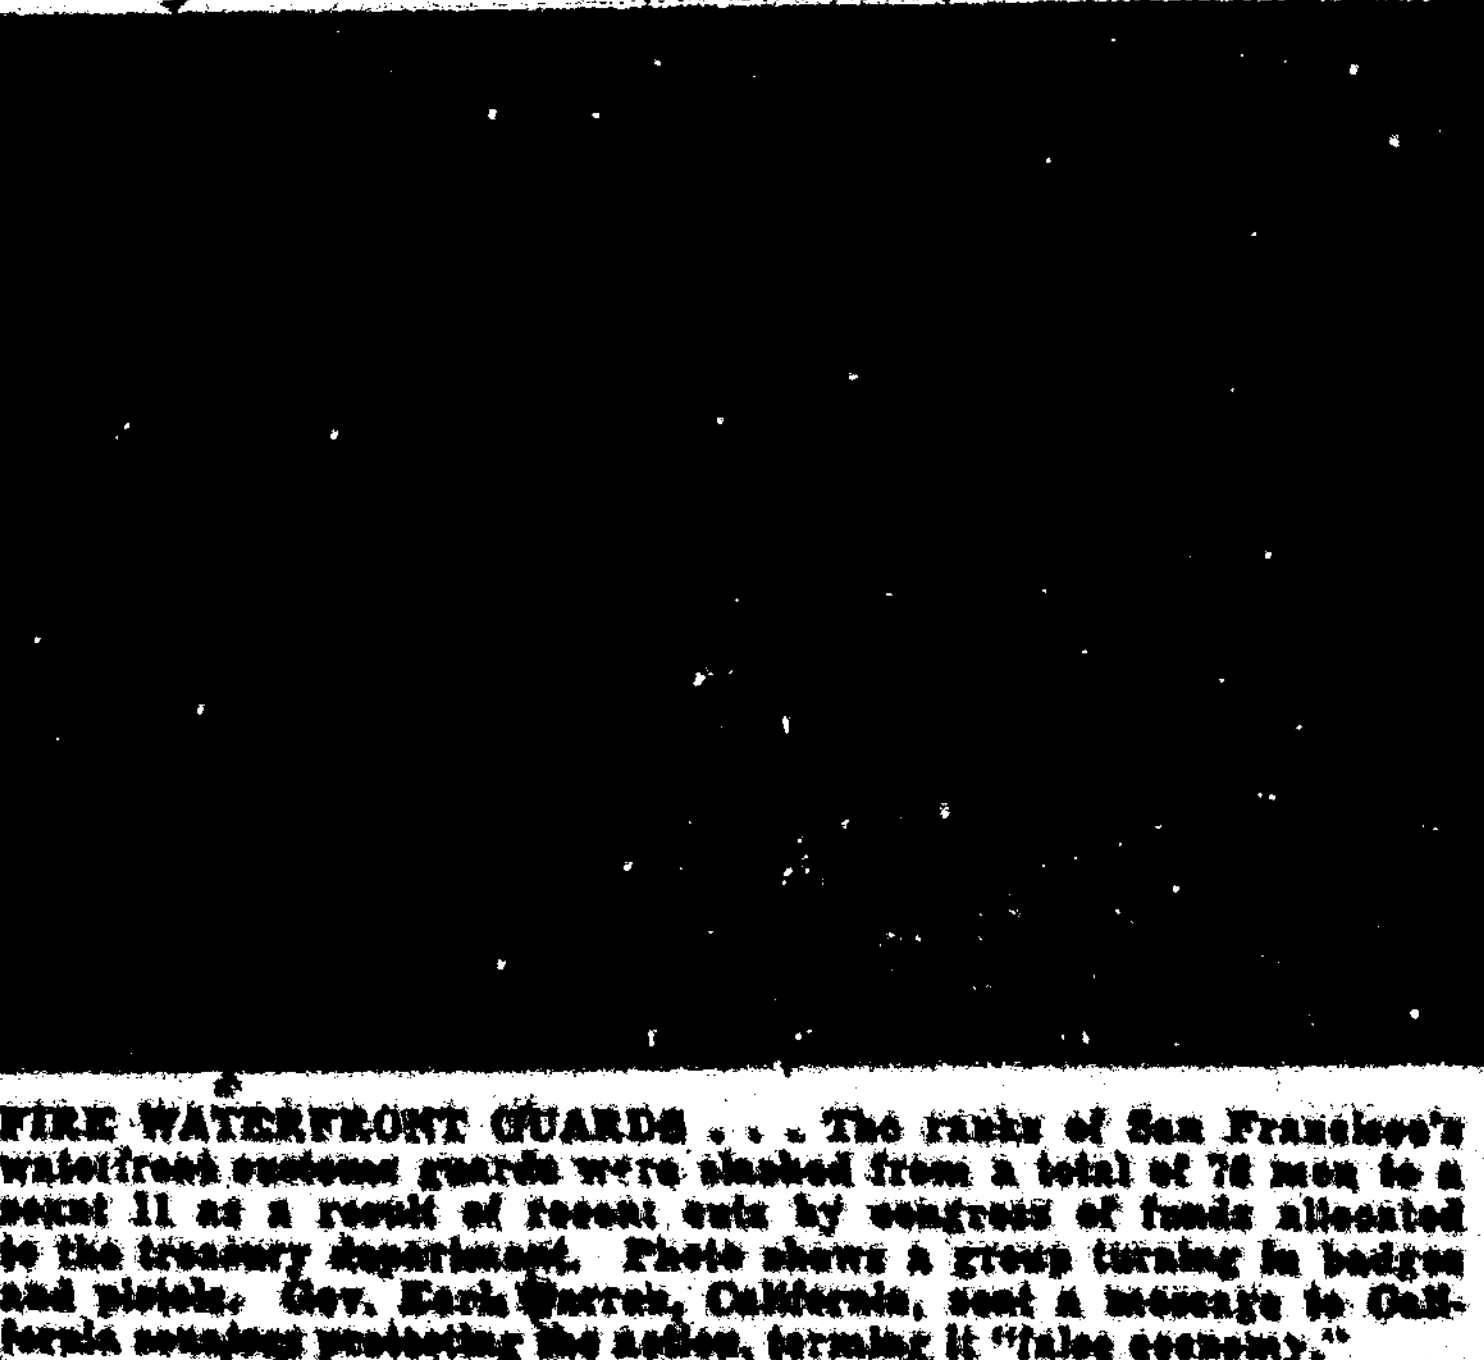

NEW VINTAGE VOGUE IN OLD BOTTLES . . . A thing is now to you merely because you haven't seen or heard it before. That is why the "unseen audience" laughs at the jokes of radio comedians, women's hats or dresses. Were mildy old enough to have watched the parades of yesteryears, in the "gay nineties" she would be astounded at the resemblance that her "derniere cri" of a ducky costume bears to the creations worn in her grandmother's day. Can you pick out the new designs?

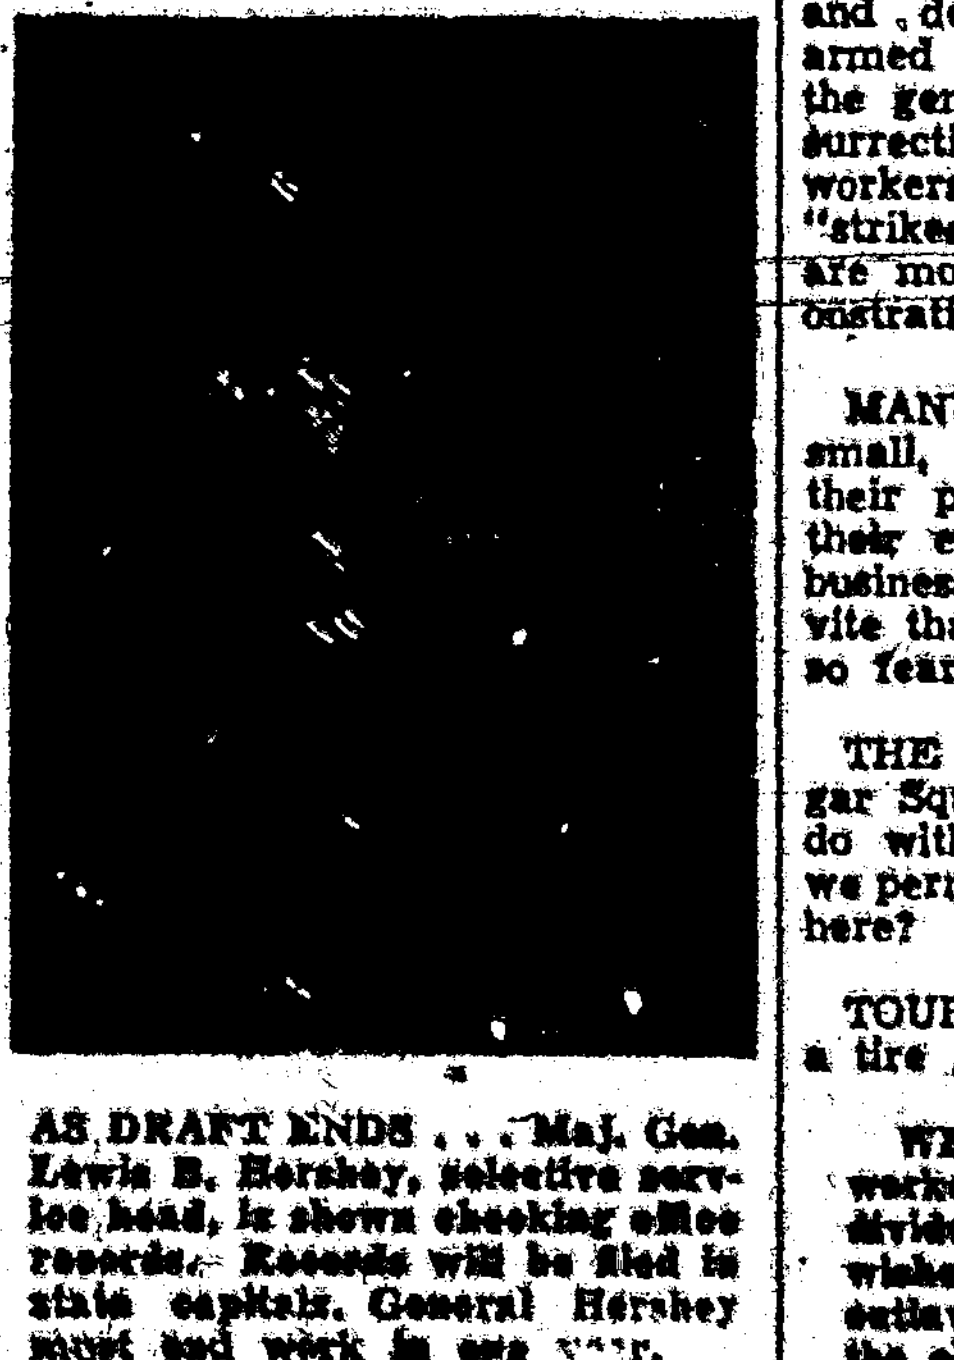

MORE HOMESTEADS FOR VETERANS . . . Opening of 43 irrigated farm units in the Minnesota area of southeastern Idaho for homesteading by World War II veterans has been announced by the Bureau of Reclamation. Photo shows two veterans who already have proved that such land can break all records for high-yielding crops.

CROWN PRINCE AND MOTEKE . . . Prince Constantine of Greece, who became the crown prince at the age of five. He is shown with his mother as they review a military parade. The crown prince has an older sister who he is barred from the throne.

FIRE WATERFRONT GUARDS . . . The ranks of San Francisco's waterfront customs guards were slashed from a total of 78 men to a scant 11 as a result of recent cuts by congress of funds allocated to the treasury department. Photo shows a group turning in badges and photos. Gov. Earl Warren, California, sent a message to California senators protesting the action, terming it "false economy."

AS DRAFT ENDS . . . Maj. Gen. Edwin B. Hershhey, selective service board, is shown checking office records. Records will be filed in state capitals. General Hershhey must end work in one year.

INFLATION HARMS SAVER, BENEFITS GOVERNMENT
 A reader, George Treadwell, secretary of Rotary club No. 1, Chicago, sends me an authorless clipping which, he says, sounds like something I had written. The little story was supplied to the Rotarian by Dan D. Clinton of Houston, Tex., who said he had heard or read it. Thanks for the compliment, "Tread" but I cannot claim to be the daddy of the waif, although I wish I could. That little piece so aptly describes the conditions of these times—today, tomorrow and next year—that I am swiping it to pass along to other readers. Here it is as printed in the Rotarian under the title, "What's Inflation?"

"A man who ran a small chicken ranch needed wheat for his chickens, so he went to work for a farmer one day a week. The farmer paid him $5 a day. He used the $5 to buy wheat from the farmer at $1 a bushel. So, every day he took home five bushels of wheat.
 "One day he said to the farmer, 'I've got to have more money. I'm going to charge you $5 a day for my work.' 'I know how it is,' said the farmer, 'I've got to have more money for my wheat. Starting today, wheat will cost you $1.25 a bushel.' So the man worked one day a week for the farmer, and at the end of the day took home five bushels of wheat.
 "A little while later, the man said his wages would have to go up to $7.50 a day — and the farmer put the price of wheat up to $1.50 a bushel. So the man continued to work one day a week with the farmer and at the end of the day he brought home five bushels of wheat.
 "After a while his wages got up to $10 a day, and he paid $2 a bushel for his wheat. 'Isn't it wonderful? I'm getting twice as much for my wheat as I used to.' The man with the chicken ranch said to his wife, 'Isn't it wonderful? I'm getting twice the wages I used to get.'
 "Famile — who's ahead? Nobody. Who's behind? The people with savings in the bank. The people with government bonds. The people with insurance policies."

It is at that $2 a bushel wheat price, and the $10 a day wage scale that Senator Taft suggests we stabilize our economic standards. To do so means just what this little story so aptly illustrates. It would standardize the dollar at about 30 cents as compared with predepression values.
 There is one who will win. That one is our Uncle Samuel. He has sold billions of dollars of war bonds to his nieces and nephews. They patriotically invested the savings they made from their predepression 100-cent dollars, but at a 60-cent dollar value. Now it is suggested that Uncle Samuel pay off the nieces and nephews in 20-cent value dollars.
 That may be a popular procedure for those who have products or labor to sell, but it will be hard on those who have only the savings of 100-cent dollars on which to live, whether those savings be invested in Uncle Sam's war bonds, in savings accounts, insurance policies or other things from which returns do not increase to compensate for the difference between a 100-cent and a 30-cent dollar. On that deal Uncle Sam is the one winner, but we, collectively, are Uncle Sam.

'ARMED INSURRECTION'
 An illuminating paragraph from the Communist textbook, issued as instructions to party workers by the Third International, with headquarters in Moscow: "The task of the party is to lead the working class to the revolutionary struggle for power. This is done by carrying on propaganda in favor of increasingly radical slogans, and by organizing mass action, including strikes and demonstrations, strikes and armed demonstrations, and finally the general strike with armed insurrection." In America the party workers have reached the stage of "strikes and demonstrations" and are moving towards "armed demonstrations."

MANUFACTURERS, large or small, who unnecessarily increase their earnings in order to increase their profits beyond a "stay in business" point, are helping to invite that inflation of which we are so fearful.
 THE soap box orators of Trafalgar Square, London, had much to do with socializing England. Will we permit the same thing to happen here?
 TOURING can be enjoyable until a tire goes flat.
 WE can have freedom for the workers, the right of each individual to work at the job he wishes, only after congress has outlawed the closed shop and the check off system.

CHAPTER III

Mark had arranged for a supply of money...

"I understand you're the foreman of the gang..."

"Broussac told me he was drowned at sea..."

On the morning after their arrival, Mark and Nat made an inspection of the mill...

Mark put the men to work upon the boom.

"I don't see," said Mark, "that I am called upon to cancel a business undertaking..."

"So you are not willing to reconsider, Monsieur?" asked the priest...

ing invective against her husband for being out of work...

"I'm glad you called, Father, and I hope we're going to be good friends," he said.

The freshets had already started. There was still ice in the gorge...

"Which means plenty of money." "More than we've got to risk..."

"He'll have to bring it down." "The mill office was a sound, substantial structure..."

"I guess we'll move in tomorrow," said Mark. "I think we could be comfortable here..."

Foreman Larousse Goes Back to Work

Mark was surprised that Broussac seemed to have told the truth about those two thousand cords...

"How many of you are from St. Victor?" he asked.

"Well, who's your foreman?" he asked.

"I'll go and see him. I haven't discharged him yet..."

Striking back down the trail with Nat, Mark glanced back and saw

"Let's forget it," he said again. "You mean you want me to remain as foreman?" stammered Larousse.

"Why, you're still foreman," answered Mark, "and your wages are going on..."

"That's okay," said Mark. "Come along Nat, let's move our things..."

The snows were melting fast, and water was pouring over the dam from a score of freshets...

The crew worked well, but there was the same furtive attitude on their part...

On the third evening of his taking up his residence at the office, he was surprised by a visit from Monsieur Lacombe...

"A strike!" queried Mark. "Yes, we strike, we all strike," shouted Larousse...

A Strike Threatens To Ruin Everything

"A strike!" queried Mark. "Yes, we strike, we all strike," shouted Larousse...

Mark laughed into the sullen faces about him. "You will have to move out of the cabins, then," he said...

"They're asking for what they're going to get," retorted Mark. "All right, I'll pay you off tonight..."

The meaning of his decision was unmistakable. Half-a-dozen women had joined the party...

A. Your best bet is for your son to tell his immediate commanding officer, his personnel officer and his chaplain of the conditions at home and if he can prove what is called a hardship or dependency case...

Q. Are members of the WAO eligible to take a course in vocational rehabilitation?—Mrs. J. D., McAlester, Okla.

A. Yes, since they were made a part of the U. S. army under Public Law 110.

Q. Is there any provision for legal aid at the expense of the government if a veteran is not getting what's coming to him?—A. J. W., Norfolk, Va.

A. There is no law which provides that the government shall pay for the services of a lawyer in behalf of any veteran. However, if a veteran considers the services of a lawyer necessary and he is not inclined to retain a personal attorney, it may be borne in mind that associated with each selective service system local board, there is an advisory board for registrants...

Q. I am a widow of a World War II mariner. I received government insurance up until I recently remarried. Since then I have not received my monthly payment or any ward. Is it possible payments are discontinued at the time of a widow's remarriage?—Mrs. E. T. C., Daytona Beach, Fla.

A. Your remarriage should have no effect on your veteran husband's insurance and you should continue to receive it. Suggest you write to the Insurance Division of the Veterans' Administration, Washington 5, D. C.

While You're Waiting For Delivery
In ordinary times when a purchaser could walk right into a dealer's showroom and get quick delivery of the car he wanted, he was likely to spend little time in choosing a financing plan. As a result, many people took the first financing suggestion offered to them. Today the picture is different. With delivery delayed, there is ample time for every car purchaser to select his financing plan as carefully as he chooses his car, why not take this opportunity to look into the advantages of financing your car with the help of a convenient bank auto loan? Come in and ask us for the exact cost figures on the loan you will need. Then make your decision.

From where I sit... by Joe Mars
Main Street is One up on Broadway
Our Main Street isn't Broadway. But for cleanliness and neatness, it has Broadway looked to the main! (I'm sticking my neck out, so far as these city people go, but it sure is the truth.)
Our sidewalks, all along Main Street are swept clean each morning; the store fronts are kept neatly painted; the windows are always bright; and there's grass and flowers every place that grass and flowers can be made to grow!
Once when "Buck" Barber let the swing of his stool get torn and dirty, folks up and down the street just gently nudged him till he went out and got it repaired and cleaned. That's how it works around this town of ours.
From where I sit, it's a little like the Brewers' program of Self-Regulation. They want all taverns selling beer to be a credit to the city - neat and orderly and up to scratch. And when any tavern lags behind, they nudge it back to standard. Works too!

Virginia To Display Showplaces For Garden Week Observance

WNU Features.

RICHMOND, VA.—All the traditional charm and graciousness of life in the "Cradle of the Nation" will be revived as Virginia once again plays host to the people of the nation. From April 28 to May 3 the showplaces of the state—including approximately 200 serene and stately homes, lovely gardens restored to their original beauty, historic buildings and other national shrines—will be open to the public in observance of Garden Week.

Sponsored by the Garden Club of Virginia, Garden Week is being resumed this year for the first time since 1941. Before it was disbanded during the war years, Garden Week had become a recognized institution, annually drawing thousands of visitors from all parts of the nation.

In Springtime Dress.

From the western tips of the Allegheny, the Shenandoah and the Blue Ridge mountains, their slopes ablaze with the blossoms of rhododendron and mountain laurel, through the lush green valley, up through "George Washington's country" to the outskirts of the nation's capital city, down through the rolling bluegrass section that is Piedmont, to the yellow sands of Tidewater and the flourishing tobacco area of the south, all Virginia has hoisted the welcome sign.

High on a plateau above the Potomac is the "perfect little house" so dear to the heart of its builder, George Mason, that he declined offers of fame and fortune so that he might never be far from the sight of the smoke from its tall chimneys or the fragrance of its box-hedged gardens planted by the same hands which so unflinchingly penned the Bill of Rights and the first constitution of Virginia.

Impregnable Mansions.

Its lovely formal gardens shaded by century old trees, Westover-on-the-James was termed "the most beautiful place in America" by the Marquis de Chastellux. This plantation was bought by William Byrd in 1688 and the present house built in 1730 by William Byrd II (the Black Swan) founder of Richmond.

In the 18th century "great house" of Carters Grove, near Williamsburg, is "the finest Georgian woodwork in all America," the richly carved balustrades of its stairway still bearing the subtle marks of Tarlton's men.

Not far from busy Washington is Mount Vernon, abiding white and peaceful in its wide expanse of green lawns, while on another arm of the broad Potomac is Wakefield, the sturdy little brick memorial home marking the site where Washington first saw the light of day.

At Berkeley-on-the-James, of mellow brick without and rich paneling within, America's ninth president, William Henry Harrison, and his famous father, Benjamin Harrison, signer of the Declaration of Independence, were born in the same upper room.

"First Thanksgiving."

Berkeley was built in 1726 by Benjamin Harrison (father of the signer) but the plantation was in the news in 1618 as the site of what Virginians claim was the first Thanksgiving in the New World. The occasion was the arrival of the ship Margaret from England with supplies, settlers and servants. The proprietors had given instructions that the day of the ship's arrival must be "yearly and perpetually kept as a day of thanksgiving to Almighty God," and when on December 4, 1618, the weary voyagers set foot on the soil of Berkeley their first act was a service of thanksgiving.

Homes of Presidents.

In the foothills of the Blue Ridge is Jefferson's beloved Monticello, reached by a winding roadway lined with golden forsythia and snowy white bridal wreath. The Blue Ridge mountains and the rolling Piedmont provide a picturesque setting and trees and shrubs planted by the hand of Jefferson nod to one another across the white portals of one of the most beautiful houses in all America.

Just over the line in Orange county with a venerable weeping willow at its gateway is Montpelier, home of James Madison, fourth president of the United States, and his charming wife, Dolley. This imposing and gracious mansion, set far back behind green lawns, is surrounded by breath-taking drifts of color in the springtime.

In Westmoreland county, set far from the Potomac, is the great house of Stratford, which in all its simplicity and dignity probably has harbored more men of eminence than any other residence in Virginia. Built by Thomas Lee, acting colonial governor of Virginia more than 200 years ago, Stratford was the birthplace of two patriots of the Revolution, two signers of the Declaration of Independence and Virginia's own Robert E. Lee, son of "Light Horse Harry," who long called Stratford "home."

Fredericksburg, George Washington's first "home town," has all the charm of an old valentine. Here imagination and memory play tag along old brick sidewalks, past half-hidden gardens and mellow brick homes dreaming in the sunshine behind white doorways, with shiny brass knockers. Here Mary Washington, mother of George, greeted the Marquis de LaFayette on his way to Yorktown and on the steps of the little cottage she kissed her famous son goodbyes. Along these streets, which all called home, walked John Paul Jones, Matthew Fontaine Maury, pathfinder of the seas, and Lewis Littlepage, only American citizen ever to hold office in the cabinet of a king.

Next to Mary Washington's home is Kenmore, home of her daughter Betty, wife of Col. Fielding Lewis, who gave his fortune and his life to the cause of the Revolution.

Fascinating History.

Just down the street is a low brick building, complete with quaint colonial garden, where James Monroe first began the practice of law. One of its many treasures, carefully preserved, is the desk on which the Monroe Doctrine was written.

Down the river is the "noble mansion" of Chatham, built before the Revolution by William Fitzhugh, which served as headquarters for General Sumner during the Battle of Fredericksburg in 1862 and for the federal troops under General Burnside during the War Between the States. Mrs. Clara Barton of Red Cross fame helped to nurse hundreds of wounded. Today its gardens are a riot of bloom and the waters of the Rappahannock ripple off in the distance.

Restored Williamsburg, tourist mecca at all seasons of the year, is like a perfect stage setting. Its actors all in character playing their lines with the casualness of long understanding. The feeling of watching a play continues as the sharp tattoo of horse hoofs sounds along Duke of Gloucester street (described by the late Franklin D. Roosevelt as "the most historic avenue in all America").

An 18th century carriage rolls by—past the Palace of the Royal Governors, the ancient capitol which rang to the voice of Patrick Henry, where met the convention of 1776 and where Mason's Bill of Rights was adopted; past Bruton parish church and Raleigh tavern (birthplace of Phi Beta Kappa) and William and Mary college, second oldest in America.

History in Review.

Just outside of Williamsburg on the Jamestown road an amphitheater is in process of construction, and during this coming summer the drama that is the whole early history of the founding of the nation will sweep across its stage, the parts of the founding fathers played by leading actors of the American stage.

Farther down the road is Jamestown—first in importance of all the historic shrines in America, where the three little ships discharged their cargo of adventurous souls on that May day in 1607 to lay the foundation of the American nation. In this old brick church about which the ivy clings, Pocahontas was baptized and married and here the first legislative assembly in the new world met.

In Richmond, capital of the confederacy and "city of the seven hills," there are many historic points to visit, beginning with the columned capitol, designed by Thomas Jefferson, around which teems the life of the cigarette capital of the world. Opened especially for Garden Week are two homes which were ancient when America was first dreamed of and which have been transported, stone by stone, from England. One of these, Virginia House, was once the Priory of the Holy Sepulchre at Warwick, England.

Virginia's eastern shore, second oldest settlement in America, is across Chesapeake bay from the rest of Virginia. The eastern shore has the oldest continuous court records in America, dating from 1632. Located here are some of the loveliest homes in the state, 13 of which will be open to visitors during Garden Week.

A ride across the ferry from the eastern shore brings the visitor to Princess Anne county, the haunt of Blackbeard and the spot where the first permanent English settlers landed on American soil. Here are churches built in the early 18th century with their silver communion services, the gift of Queen Anne, and lovely old gardens and homes.

In the heart of the Valley of Virginia, Staunton, birthplace of Pres. Woodrow Wilson, stands ready to receive Garden Week visitors, and Lexington, hallowed with memories of Lee, does all its spring bloom.

So Good and So Dull

Bell Syndicate, -WNU Features.

When Jimmy was afraid he wouldn't make the team, she kissed him and said, "You will next year, and mother loves you, team or no team."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

"CAN'T you write something about women being just sweet?" asks a man in Phoenix, Ariz. "My wife is a fine woman," his letter continues, "but she is so darned dreary! I don't think it ever goes through her head that a man and kids get home tired, too, and that had news and complaints are sort of discouraging when you first come in.

"My wife looks sad all the time. We haven't had it too hard. My work is steady, I don't drink or run around nights; we have a good home and two fine kids. But Emma never cheers up. She looks us over and sighs. Bob got his marks in arithmetic this month; she shook her head and said she hoped he'd keep it up. Mary Lou hates studying and practicing and dishwashing, as all kids do, but her mother never smiles or encourages her. She just says things like 'you'll have them to do all your life. Life isn't any joke, so you might as well make up your mind to it. I don't like it any better than you do.' If I say 'let's go to a show' she says 'and wear what? I never have any clothes.' If I say 'it's a grand night for home and the fire,' she says, 'but it's not exactly exciting for a woman who's been cooped up in the house all day.'

"I began by saying Emma's a fine woman. She is. She keeps my house spotless, keeps bills down, keeps the children healthy and well-groomed. If the neighbors are in trouble she's the one who takes a turn at night-watching or mothers a baby for a few days. And she does a lot of praying, too.

A Hard Life Before Marriage.

"The thing is," the letter ends, "that Emma has had a hard life. Her folks were the shiftless sort, and she supported most of them off and on. Her brothers were a steady anxiety to her. During the first years of our marriage her paralyzed mother was with us. Then I had a long illness and when I recovered I went into the army as a captain. She hated being alone. When I came back she gave me a grand party and now she really hasn't much to worry about. But she can't stop fretting and worrying, and looking anxious and putting the darkest construction on everything.

"You get tired of it. You get darned tired of a person who sets her lips tight, sighs, reminds the children that we can't have what rich people have, apologizes for perfectly good dinners, and goes into gloomy abstractions when she doesn't hear anything at all. I've tried for years to shake her out of it, now I don't know what more to do. But it's not much of a prospect, to live with a woman who patiently puts up her cheek when you want to kiss her, and if you praise anything she does, begins to tell you what's wrong with her clothes, her house, the market, the pudding and your little girl's hair."

This comprehensive summary pretty well describes the way some wives act. They are patient, tireless, capable, uncomplaining to a degree that makes any man of spirit want to kill them. To live with a meek drudge, who only wants the least encouragement to break into a mild whining recital of her wrongs, is almost the worst domestic tragedy that can befall a man.

Some years ago a woman wrote

"She never cheers up."

PERMANENT DEPRESSION

A woman who gets into the habit of complaining, worrying and sighing when she has real troubles to endure often can't change her ways when the clouds roll by. She is so used to the dark view of things that she can't realize that there is another and a brighter side to life. Her unhappy outlook can cast a pall over her entire family.

Such a woman is Emma, who lives in Phoenix, Ariz. She is a capable, industrious, dutiful wife and mother, religious and neighborly, writes her husband. In short, he says, she is a fine woman, by all outward standards. But she is hard to live with because of her perpetual sadness, dreariness and anxiety about the future.

There is an explanation for her attitude, her husband admits. She had to endure many hardships and face many troubles.

All this has worn down Emma's spirit and has given her a permanent depressed attitude. Now, when she has no real worries and a chance at last for real happiness, she seems unable or unwilling to change her mental habits.

me of this fault in herself. She was making everyone about her wretched, suppressing all the natural happiness of her children and sister, because a perfectly unworthy husband had done her the great favor to desert her. There was plenty of money and there were four boys to raise, but the dreariness of the affront she had suffered, added to her characteristic gloom, was too much for her.

Serenity and Sweetness.

I suggested that she rise above herself, always a heroic, but always a possible thing to do, and stun the family by suddenly assuming a pose of serenity and sweetness. It would be only a pose for a while, of course, but such a pose brings such immediate results in enthusiasm and joy to the household, that any sensible woman may find herself turning it into the real thing. Whether my correspondent of that day ever tried it, I don't know. But if she did she must have had many a chance for interior laughter, watching the completely bewildered faces about her, hearing the incredulous: "What on earth's happened to Mother?" She was laughing at breakfast. She said she loved a day like this, when she was free to get at a thousand things she wanted to do at home here. She said I could have Bill over for supper Saturday. She said we were so fortunate to have neighbors like the Jacksons right next door. And when Jimmy said he was afraid he wouldn't make the team, she kissed him and said, "You will next year, anyway. And your mother loves you, team or no team!"

A miracle like this is in the power of many a woman to perform. Overnight she can wipe away the gloomy, self-absorbed past, and emerge as the center of a happy group. The Emmas of the world, darkening the whole scene, are very often women who have no real troubles to face. They have simply gotten into their heads the notion that life is a wearisome drag and a woman's lot especially bleak, and they are too obtuse and unimaginative to get it out.

More Blind Babies

An increase in the number of blind babies born every year is noted by Dr. Merrill J. King of Harvard university.

Dr. King lays the increase in number of babies born blind (retrolental fibroplasia) to the fact that the affliction occurred mostly in babies born prematurely. He said improved incubation had made possible survival of premature infants who a decade ago would not have lived.

"Medical treatment is very unsatisfactory," he concludes.

Woman's World

Make, Plan Summer Clothing Before Warm Weather Comes.

By Ertta Haley

HAVE you ever been caught short with your winter clothing still hugging tight to the closet walls when the sun turned on its warmest rays and sent you scattering to get out your cottons?

This has happened to most of us at one time or another, perhaps more frequently than we like to admit. When it actually gets too warm it's really too difficult to start going over the closets and hemming last year's dresses or even remodeling them, so let's work a little in advance of schedule and get some things ready for summer now.

The amount of work you actually have to do depends greatly on your own wardrobe needs. If you plan to spend a lot of time at the beach or in the garden, then you will want several outfits for these purposes.

On the other hand, if you work, you will want several cool, crisp dresses that will let you travel to and from work neatly, as well as keep you looking crisp on the job.

All of us, whether we go out a lot or not, like to have several neat dresses for changing into during the evening. It's the wise woman who makes a shower a part of the daily routine when the weather tends to get her down. Then she changes into something cool as the second part of her morale building routine.

Use Utility Fabrics For Outdoor Wear

One of the main considerations clothes for gardening or out-of-doors activity is sturdy fabrics. Another is complete washability, and this means everything from trimmings to buttons.

If you plan to do lots of gardening, then choose pinafores or slacks made of denim, duck, or something as durable. There will be many mornings when you have rough work ahead, and you will want a fabric that will withstand wear.

Another important factor to consider for this type of casual wear is to have colors that will not show the dirt too readily. For this reason, a rather solid blue—not too dark—is very practical. Choose a color that does not fade too readily as this type of garment will need many tubbings before the season is over.

Forget the frills in garments of this type. If you want any trimming at all, then take care of the decoration by piping with a contrasting colored tape, or putting a little row of feather stitching at the sleeves in a contrasting thread.

Another decorative trick for the simple out-of-doors garment is the use of buttons. Since the garment will be laundered frequently, it is best to sew the buttons well but not too tight so they will last with their original stitching.

Proper Clothing For Daytime

If you are a working woman, you will want to choose fabrics that are comfortable but which hold their shape well inasmuch as many clothes seem to wilt before noon when the weather is excessively hot. In this case, select a material that is lightweight but which has some body and preferably one which is fairly wrinkle-free or crush-resistant.

Use the simplest of details for the business dress and avoid elaborate details such as lots of pleats and ruffling, as this makes for a fussiness that can look anything but cool. You will really appreciate the simpler type dresses if you do your own laundering, because they take less time to wash.

Simple, short jackets are very nice on dresses for business wear for they give a charming detail to the dress, and they can easily be slipped off during the middle of the day in the privacy of an office when the weather becomes unendurably warm.

You will notice that there is little work to making the new styles because there are no real sleeve problems and other details that are so time-consuming. However, remember that styling is important, and fit is absolutely essential if you would look your smartest.

When you select dresses for late afternoon or evening wear, you don't want to overlook the possibilities of the transparent fabrics. However, choose the slip with the same care as you do the outer garment as it is an integral part of the ensemble. Make the slip yourself if you are not certain of finding one that looks well underneath the garment.

Generally you'll find that the cooler dresses have very loose sleeves, or cap sleeves which are now so popular. Necklines, too, will help you keep cool if they are loose rather than high up and tight.

In working with the sheer fabrics, if you find them difficult for sewing, use tissue paper underneath while stitching and then tear this off when you have finished.

It is best not to try to make buttonholes for the buttons on very lightweight and sheer materials. If you feel that buttons are essential, sew the buttons on carefully, and then place snap fasteners on the dress for the closings. Do not select too heavy buttons as they tend to pull the dress out of place.

Be Smart

After their long wartime banishment, ensembles are on their way back. Slacks, too, are acquiring new fashion touches such as extra long jackets for wear with long trousers or pedal pushers.

Belt-Making Tips

Use only pre-shrunk material for lining a belt; otherwise it will shrink and make the belt worthless after the garment is washed once.

Buckles should be fade-proof and rust-proof. Watch out for metal buckles which will not launder.

Unshaped belts should be cut with the grain of the material or they will twist constantly after they are made.

Cut belts on the thread of the fabric, either lengthwise or crosswise so you will have a true cut and thus avoid future troubles with twisting belts.

Belts for cotton dresses should always have linings to give the belt body and prevent it from being rolled into an uncomfortable rope when worn.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

A vegetable brush really works better than a dish-cloth for washing dishes. It removes sticky spots and is easier to keep clean and sweet.

A new sashcord should be well stretched before it is installed.

When pressing net or chiffon place it between tissue paper.

Home Repair Plans
Huge Job For 1947

Lincoln County's non-farm home owners will spend an estimated $264,000 on repair and modernization work during 1947.

At least a third and probably more than half of all dwellings in the county will be improved or repaired this year according to estimates released by the Titworth Council of America. "Increase supplies of building materials and easing of restrictions should make possible a record volume of home modernization throughout the county," said F. B. Ortman, chairman of the Residential Construction Committee.

The county's 2,822 single family homes will account for most expenditures, the study revealed. Painting is the most often wanted improvement, with about a third of all owners planning to redecorate home exteriors or some room of the interior. About 13 per cent of all dwellings need new roofs or roofing repairs, and large numbers will have water pipes repaired, bathrooms tiled or showers installed during the year, according to the report.

As evidence of the increase in building supplies, Ortman pointed out that floor and wall tile volume is expected to hit all-time high this year. "Stepped-up production of materials means that the construction industry can both build record numbers of houses and do the repair work neglected during the war," he said.

Home repair expenditures in the county are part of a $11,464,000 modernization program being undertaken in New Mexico this year, according to the study.

Teacher Shortage

An article in the first issue of the Official Bulletin of the State Department of Education brings to mind again the matter of teacher shortage in New Mexico, says the Taxpayers' Association of New Mexico in a recent bulletin. The article is a report by Carmen Espinoza, Assistant State Superintendent of Public Instruction, on the activities of the State Department of Education, and reads as follows:

"Applications for teaching in New Mexico continue to be received daily in the office of the Placement of Teachers. It is no wonder to us that the Land of Enchantment continues to attract so many to its confines.

"From January 1 to 31, inclusive, 97 applications are at hand. The following states are contributing: Arkansas 1, Arizona 5, California 3, Colorado 2, Idaho 1, Iowa 3, Indiana 3, Kansas 6, Kentucky 1, Massachusetts 2, Montana 2, Michigan 6, Missouri 2, Nebraska 3, New Jersey 1, Louisiana 1, New York 4, Ohio 7, Oklahoma 10, Oregon 2, Pennsylvania 1, Rhode Island 1, South Dakota 1, Texas 6, West Virginia 1, Wisconsin 4, Wyoming 2, Washington 1.

The other applications have come from within the state. We have had notice of 14 teachers being placed and there are others of which we have not been notified. Applications come in daily. Ninety three applications from 28 states in one month seemed to be noteworthy in the face of the teacher crisis, so a check was made with the Assistant Superintendent to see if this was an unusual month.

The records of the office of Teacher Placement show that there were 120 applications filed for the six week period February 1 to March 15. Of these applicants, 100 have degrees and 20 have three years of college. They are eligible for standard certificates in the state.

Miss Espinoza says that the applications come in so fast that she keeps only the latest two months in the current files and moves the older ones to the basement. Every month a list of the applicants is sent to each superintendent and they are urged to advise the placement office of their needs in teachers.

Records of the Certification Division show that 2,788 certificates have been issued since July 1, 1946; of these about 90 percent (2,500) have been issued to teachers that have never taught in the state before.

Fellowships Announced

Mrs. J. P. Turner, chairman of the Lincoln County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said that local contributions to the March of Dimes had helped make possible a huge new program aimed at expanding the reservoir of scientists trained to carry on the fight against polio.

She said the program had just been announced by national headquarters of the Foundation and the National Research Council, of Washington, D. C. It will be financed with $200,000 in March of Dimes funds and will be administered by the Research Council.

The Foundation grant, Mrs. Turner said, continues support of fellowships for young physicians of exceptional promise in virology, orthopedics and pediatrics, and will make possible new senior fellowships in neurology and epidemiology.

Assisting the new grant supplements $170,000 previously allocated by the Foundation for similar Research Council fellowships. Mrs. Turner said the funds were derived from the 50 per cent of March of Dimes sent to national headquarters by local chapters.

The fellowships provide up to $6,000 annually per Fellow and up to $1,000 annually for laboratory expenses. Most Fellows will study for three years at various universities throughout the country, and some will have the opportunity to continue for another three years.

The local chairman said the Fellows would devote much of their time to work in laboratories and would be available during polio epidemics for special assignments on behalf of chapters of the National Foundation.

The end of the war, she said, had released many promising young scientists to civil pursuits and the Foundation is expanding its support of the fellowship program so as to harness their talents in fighting disease.

Rainbow Girls Entertain Former Members

Carrizozo Assembly No. 7 Order Rainbow for Girls issued invitations to all former members of the assembly to attend their regular business meeting with initiation following.

Sixteen former members attended and thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Several women had not attended a meeting since they were girls; nearly all found themselves married and with children. Mrs. Johnnie Melton attended and was proud to say that her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Green, was founder of the local assembly and she herself was a charter member. Mrs. Melton's own daughter holds the position of Hope in the Rainbows.

The initiation brought back many fond memories to the group. Refreshments were served.
