Rev. O. L. Oldham, Pastor

This has been another busy week with us in our Vacation Bible School, with an average of thirty-eight in attendance. We began winding up all of the school work Tuesday, with a closing program Wednesday night and a picnic Thursday.

Our attendance in Sunday School last Sunday was above the average, and we are expecting a still larger attendance next Sunday. Come and be one of the number. We welcome you in our Sunday School and preaching services. I will speak Sunday morning, on John, 1:29-46, "Why should Sinners be brought to Jesus" and Sunday night on Isaiah, 32:1-4, "Christ our Hiding Place."

New Well For Baptist Church

Members of the local Baptist Church are highly appreciative of a new well which has just been drilled by their parsonage. Mr. Leroy Perry donated the work. This is a fine contribution to the church and its members. A donation which will be of benefit for years to come.

Mr. Poe Corn and family were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Rolland Sunday.

Capitan Methodist Church

F. J. Johnston, Pastor

"Off again, on again, gone again; Flanigan." The Methodist Conference is now over and my name was read-out for Capitan. But please don't blame me, Mrs. Johnston and I never did like moves. This is the shortest stay we ever had. And don't blame the conference, the bishop or the district superintendent. One of our bishops once answered a local board thus: "I got what you sent, I read what you rit, I did what you said." Perfect cooperation, surely.

Our prayers and endeavors will be transferred to Capitan. It is easy for me to be loyal to any place where, under the Providence of God, I may be privileged to hang up my hat. I have been loyal to Carrizozo I will be loyal to Capitan. They are both beloved of heaven, else there is no hope for the world. So far as I am concerned I have no enemies. You are still all my friends and always will be. I saw possibilities in Trinity Church but there were those who didn't see the possibilities they dreamed of in me. The Rev. Howard Pitts of El Paso, a fine man, will take over the Methodist work in Carrizozo. Please help him in every way.

The expectancy is that he will fill the pulpit next Sunday and be with you for all services. I will be with the Capitan Church. My topic D. V. will be "Sweetness and Light". May God bless everybody in these parts and sustain our hearts for greater service. Thank you all.

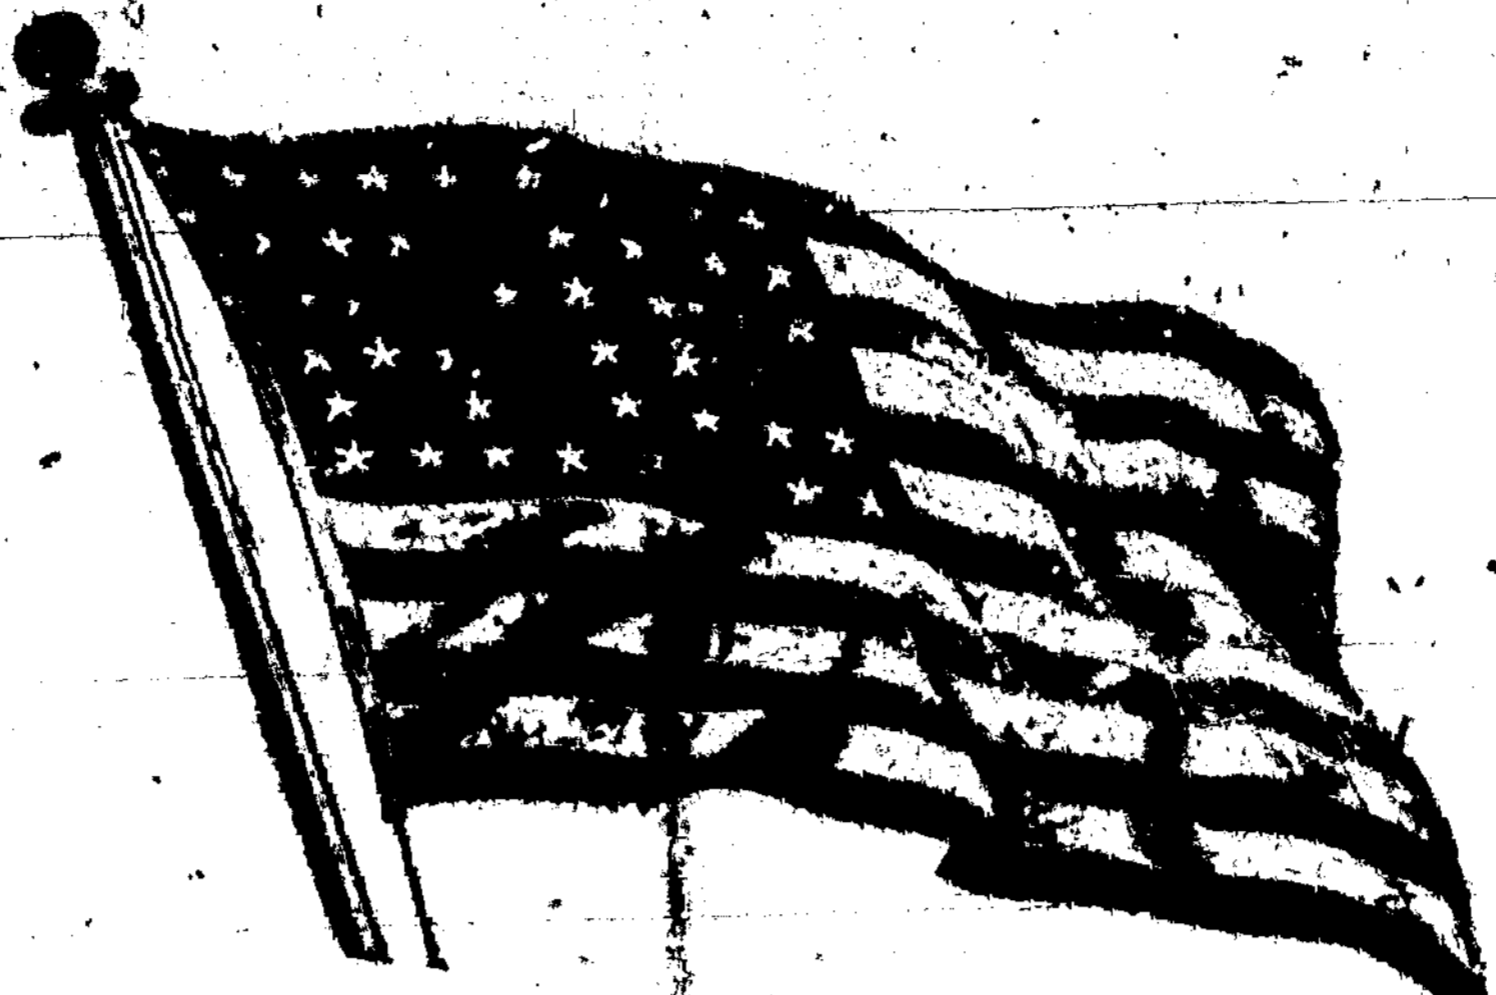

Vacation Bible School And Revival

Capitan Nazarene Church
Rev. Lewis H. Perot, Pastor

Rev. Charles Cox of Albuquerque, New Mexico will preach each evening from May 23 through the next two Sundays.

The daily vacation Bible School will be sponsored by the pastors wife, Mrs. Perot. We are expecting a good attendance during this revival and vacation Bible School.

Today Is Memorial Day

In Honor Of Our War Dead

Today the world over, wreaths are being placed on the graves of our brave young men who fought and died in the most stupendous war of the World's history. While our hearts are heavy, our sorrow profound, we feel that their loyal courage in fighting to help win this war has enabled us to hold on to the fundamental things, the rights and privileges we have always had in the United States of America, to vote according to our individual consciences, and to believe and live according to our religion.

As we stoop to place the flowers at the shrine of their sacred memories, we look with thankful hope toward a lasting peace and a glorious future made possible by their consecrated sacrifice. —Ed.

Twenty per cent of the proceeds will go to the department head for Disabled Veterans, the remainder will be used for child welfare work among families of veterans. The chairman wishes to express her appreciation to the ones who made the sale so successful, and to the ones who bought the poppies. The girl scouts held a good natured contest to see who could sell the most, and Bertha Shrum won the contest.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Serve Crabmeat Party Loaf for Luncheon (See recipe below.)

Spring Luncheons

Now that spring housecleaning is over and we are proud of our shining, spic and span homes, it's time to return obligations for luncheons which have piled up within the last several weeks. There is truly no season during which it's more fun to entertain than these luxuriously warm days when garden foods are plentiful.

If you want to carry luncheons off successfully, plan light in-season foods. Use sufficient fruits and vegetables to keep the menu seasonal, and let your table decorations carry out the theme.

Lamb chops and chicken, asparagus and strawberries, and a few other foods are reigning favorites. Around them you can build a luncheon menu that will be both eye-appealing and tasty. Plan to do most of the cooking ahead of time so you won't be ruffled by the time the guests begin to come in.

If you want to serve a nice meat dish you might like to start off with a stuffed lamb chop, follow it with a tomato aspic or tossed salad and asparagus, then top off with strawberries and cream.

- *Stuffed Lamb Chops.
- 4 double-thick lamb chops
- 2 washed peaches
- 1 cup crushed pineapple
- 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
- 1/4 cup butter or substitute

Brown lamb chops in skillet on both sides. Turn together finely chopped peaches, pineapple, bread crumbs and butter. Pile on top of chops which have been placed in a casserole. Bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 20 minutes.

Asparagus Vinaigrette.

- (Serves 4)
- 3 tablespoons vinegar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon paprika
- 1/2 cup salad oil
- 1 tablespoon minced parsley
- 1 tablespoon chopped pickle
- 1 tablespoon minced chives
- 1 bunch asparagus (1 pound)

Combine seasonings, add vinegar and salad oil. Beat until thick and smooth. Add remaining ingredients and let stand for 1/2 hour. Clean asparagus and cook in boiling salted water until tender. Heat sauce and serve over asparagus.

A luxury luncheon for special guests uses both chicken and ham in the main dish. However, you can keep the rest of the luncheon cost down by serving simply a tossed salad and a rhubarb compote for dessert.

Chicken DeLuxe.

- (Serves 4)
- 4 thick slices ham
- 4 breasts of chicken, cooked
- 4 tablespoons melted butter
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 2 cups rich chicken stock and milk combined
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- Whole sautéed mushrooms

Arrange breast of chicken on top of ham slices. Melt butter, blend in flour and seasonings, then add chick-

Asparagus takes on extra glamour when served with a white sauce, crowned with grated hard-cooked eggs. en stock and milk. Cook until thick and smooth. Cover chicken and ham with sauce and top with mushrooms.

Rhubarb Compote.

- (Serves 4 to 6)
- 4 cube cubed rhubarb
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 2 whole cloves
- Juice, pulp and grated rind of 1 orange

Combine all ingredients and place in baking dish. Cover and bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 40 minutes or until rhubarb is tender. Serve warm or cold with cream and crisp cookies.

A more economical luncheon, but one just as pretty, consists of this sautéed loaf done with aspic and crabmeat. This is delicious served with hot biscuits and topped off with pineapple sherbet with fresh strawberry sauce.

Crabmeat Party Salad.

- (Serves 6)
- Part I: Aspic
- 2 tablespoons gelatin
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 2 1/2 cups hot consommé
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon white pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon celery salt

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add hot consommé, lemon juice, white pepper and celery salt. Stir until dissolved. Pour into an 8 1/2 by 4 1/2 by 2 1/2-inch loaf pan enough of the aspic to make 1/2 inch deep. Chill until firm. Place a smaller loaf pan or container within the 8 1/2-inch loaf pan; anchor firmly with weights or tie in place. Pour remaining aspic in the space between the two pans. Chill until firm. Remove inner pan by loosening aspic with a small knife. Chill for 10 minutes and fill center with the following:

- Part II: Crabmeat Filling
- 1 tablespoon gelatin
- 2 tablespoons cold water
- 1/4 cup cream or top milk
- 1/2 cup real mayonnaise
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon onion, minced
- 1 1/2 cups crabmeat, flaked
- 1 cup celery, chopped fine
- 1/4 cup parsley, chopped fine
- Tomato slices
- Watercress

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add cream and heat over hot water until gelatin is dissolved. Add real mayonnaise, lemon juice, salt and onion. Add crabmeat, celery, parsley and mayonnaise to gelatin. Pour into center of aspic mold and chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with slices of tomato and watercress. Serve with additional mayonnaise.

Variation: Pour aspic into ring mold, and crabmeat mixture into a smaller mold to fit in center of ring mold. Or, use chicken or tuna in place of crabmeat filling.

Green beans cooked until tender may be served with a mustard sauce made by preparing a medium white sauce, adding to it leftover uncooked egg yolks for color and nourishment, and seasoning to taste with mustard. Green beans take on a southern note if they are served with chili sauce seasoned with salt and a bit of oil to facilitate blending. Leftover green peas are delicious mixed with bits of crisp crumbled bacon and a bit of heavy cream. Plokked calves perk up green peas

WHY NATIONS PERISH

LESSON TEXT—II Kings 17:1-23; Isaiah 31:1-4. MEMORY SELECTION—For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous; but the way of the ungodly shall perish.—Psalm 115.

Nations as well as people come to crossroads in their history, and taking the wrong road then means future disaster. Solomon had built up great national prosperity, but at the expense of heavy taxes. He had forgotten God, and was succeeded by a son who followed in his footsteps.

Offered an opportunity to ease the burden of the people (I Kings 12:14), Rehoboam in his folly made it greater, and the nation was divided. The ten northern tribes, which were henceforth to be known as Israel, followed Jeroboam, and the two southern tribes under Rehoboam became the kingdom of Judah.

Jeroboam started with God's favor, and might have led his people aright, but instead he became the king whose name stood for wickedness (see II Kings 15:18). The story of that downfall is a sad picture of unbelief and failure.

Through varied experiences and under different kings, Israel had gone down, down in its history of sin and departure from God.

I. Doomed by Sin (II Kings 17:5-12, 22, 23). The hour had struck when God's heavy hand-of-judgment had to fall on them. Verse 6 relates their carrying away into captivity to Assyria, and verses 7-9 tell us the reason for that judgment.

Ingratitude for God's blessing (v. 7) led to the worship of other gods (v. 8). They knew God's hatred for the sin of idolatry, and his judgment upon those who walked in that way, but they went right on.

Note in verse 9 that these things were done "secretly." "The same thing is true today of many who profess to be the people of God. The line of demarcation between the church and the world is not clearly drawn. We do well to note carefully the outcome of this course of procedure on Israel's part (vv. 6, 18). The fact that Israel did these things secretly did not hide them from the eyes of Jehovah (Ps. 139:1, 2; Heb. 4:13)" (John W. Bradbury).

The statement in verse 23 is a striking one. The prophets had repeatedly spoken of the impending destruction of the nation. Now the time had come that the Lord could no longer stand to look upon their sin, and in a sense put them "out of his sight." That does not mean that they had been forgotten or that God was not watching over them in mercy and love, but that he had to judge them for their sins, and for a time bring them into judgment leading to repentance.

There is always a reason for a nation's deterioration, and with Israel there were many reasons. Outstanding among them is the one for which they were rebuked by Isaiah in the verses of our lesson, namely, drunkenness.

II. Deceived by Drink (Isa. 28:1-4).

The picture here is a graphic one. The leaders of Israel (here called Ephraim) lingered long over their bowls of wine, and in their drunken stupor gloried in the fact that Samaria, their capital city, was so situated at the head of a valley that it was not only beautiful but practically safe from attack by the enemy.

The drunkards spoke with pride of their nation and of Samaria its "crown." The description was apt, for it was beautifully situated on a hill surrounded by a fertile terraced hillside. But their boasting was vain, for after a bitter three years' siege, the city eventually fell to Sargon II of Assyria.

All this has a familiar sound. We think of the nations that have gone down to oblivion even while the people engaged in foolish levity, and in the awful stupefying and degrading use of alcohol.

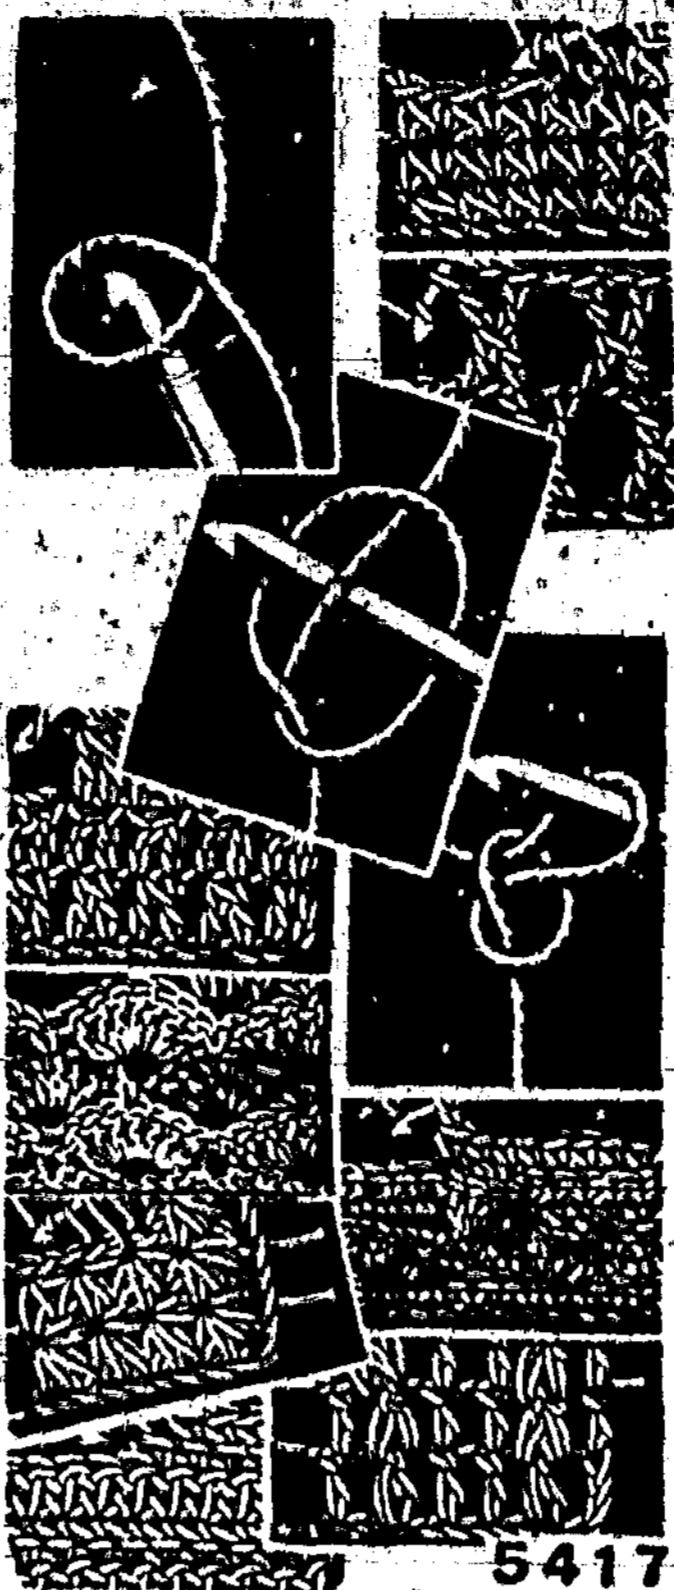

Remember the fall of France in the recent World War when its own leaders said that the defeat could be largely attributed to the tremendous increase in the use of alcoholic liquor.

What about our own United States? With an annual liquor bill of about eight billion dollars, saloons on almost every corner, liquor flowing freely in hotels and restaurants, bottles and cases of it being brought into the home, booze the common medium of not only social but business relations, our insane asylums so crowded with alcoholics that the poor inmates have no real care—but why go on? It is a picture so appalling and so utterly distressing that every sensible person is shocked by it.

Do we think that God can long withhold his judgment upon a people blessed by all his many bounties, and yet using them for destruction of body and soul? Can a people continue to be strong which is determined to undermine itself by the use of alcohol?

"Well, not exactly," said the owner. "I got two $5,000 dogs in exchange."

Champion Farmer Moore Uses

Firestone CHAMPION GROUND GRIPS

THERE are four sound reasons why men like Champion Farmer Moore are putting their tractors on Firestone Champion Ground Grips: (1) they clean up to 100% more effectively; (2) they pull up to 62% more; (3) they last up to 91% longer; and (4) they roll more smoothly on the highways.

The extra high, curved, connected traction bars make this superiority possible. Shaped like a pyramid, they cut into the soil with a sharp, cleaving action. Mud falls from them freely because the space between the bars is wider at the shoulders than near the center of the tread. The bar connections brace and strengthen the tread and give the tires a powerful "center bite" in the very heart of the traction zone. The tires roll smoothly because the curved, connected bars are in continuous contact with the highway.

It will pay you to insist upon Firestone Champion Ground Grips for your tractor. They cost no more than ordinary tires.

To Have And To Hold
One of the best reasons for holding your War Bonds is featured in a poster entitled, "How War Bonds Grow," published by the American Banks Association. In it, a chart shows that after the 6th year, your bonds increase in value twice as fast as they did before. These are the harvest years for everyone who holds U. S. Savings Bonds until maturity.
"One of our depositors remarked to us the other day, 'I'm keeping my bonds. If I need cash, I'll see you about a personal loan.'
If you should need extra cash, why not get a low cost loan here and repay it out of income? Then you can be sure you won't be tempted to let go of the best investment you ever owned.

Veteran's New
A total of 13,889 World War II veterans in Wyoming, Utah, New Mexico and Colorado have reinstated nearly 86 million dollars worth of National Service Life Insurance during the past three months, Veterans Administration insurance service reports.
Colorado leads the list with reinstatements to the value of 37,489,000 dollars. Utah reports 25,087,000; New Mexico, $14,315,500, and Wyoming, $9,098,500. Recent legislation by Congress has liberalize the insurance act to provide better protection for the families and dependants of former servicemen.
VA now has contracts with 42 states and the Territory of Puerto Rico to reimburse the states for expenses they incur in approving establishments that provide on-the-job training for veterans. Under the terms of each contract, the state acts as the approving agency following investigation and determination that the establishment meets certain training requirements.
World War II veterans with 90 days of active service and a discharge other than dishonorable are eligible to apply for education and training under the G. I. Bill. Those with less than 90 days of service are eligible if they were discharged for a service-incurred disability.
Because of the limited number and size of its cemeteries, VA has announced that burials are restricted to veterans who die in VA's 126 hospitals and homes and whose relatives do not desire burial elsewhere. VA outlined its policy in response to many inquiries arising from plans to return the bodies of World War II servicemen who died overseas.

The return and final burial of men overseas has been delegated by Congress to the War Department. Under War Department regulations, next of kin have the choice of (1) having bodies buried in permanent American military cemeteries overseas, (2) having bodies interred in private cemeteries overseas in the country which was the homeland of the next kin, (3) having bodies returned to the United States and buried in private cemeteries designated by relatives, and (4) returning bodies to this country and having them buried in one of the 64 national cemeteries operated and maintained by the War Department.

Experienced portrait artists will take part in the USO-Camp Shows sketching programs which will be featured soon at all VA hospitals in the branch area. Sketches of patients will be made by the artists and the patients will be furnished with photostatic copies to send to their relatives and friends. The plan has been in operation at Army and Navy hospitals and has proved very satisfactory as ward entertainment.

Want to Run a "Collective" Farm?

Was reading the other day about the "collective" farms they have in certain countries. It seems the folks who run them have plenty of help... good hours... and the best equipment.
Sounds pretty nice—till you learn that the "farmer" doesn't own his land, or even farm it, in our sense. He takes orders from the state; produces what they want, at prices they set. Even his off-hours are spent according to state regulations.
That wouldn't go here. We're proud of our farms... but prouder still of the right to make our own rules. That goes not just for farmers, but for every American industry. Like the brewers' program of Self-Regulation which says to it that taverns selling beer are decent, law-abiding places.
From where I sit, we've gone a lot further in this country with self-regulation than other nations have with strict controls. Let's never change.

Aleman Proves A 'Good Neighbor'

Mexican President's Visit Boosts Friendly Relations

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, 1616 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON.—Despite the fact that relations between the United States and some of our sister republics to the south have degenerated considerably since the inventor of the "good neighbor" policy died that's not the case with Mexico. You would realize that if you had seen the all-time high in demonstrations that took place when Pres. Miguel Aleman visited Washington.

BAUKHAGE

The first meeting and greeting on Constitution avenue had the inspiration of local pep-campaign but there was no outside stimulant injected into what was a really rip-roaring response to the lanky and smiling Latin when he visited congress on May Day. More than a few of his hearers could follow him in the Spanish—and everybody could match up his liquid phrases with the translation they held in their laps. The speech was short and snappy.

When he was through, senators, representatives and the packed galleries couldn't stop applauding even after el Presidente had disappeared. Applause burst out again and again for almost everybody as they passed up the aisle. Senator Vandenberg, who usually is associated with foreign relations of another sort, got a generous share along with the cabinet members and diplomatic corps.

From the rostrum of the house of representatives, Aleman said that "nearly 300 million people living side by side in this hemisphere are concerned not only with assistance to ward off foreign aggression, but also with the efforts to overcome the dangers of poverty and despair in the difficult years of peace." A little bit earlier that day a joint statement had been issued, signed by both President Truman and President Aleman, stating that agreements had been reached for the U. S. to grant credits to Mexico—credits to make the greatest and earliest contribution to the economic development of the land below the Rio Grande. The two chief executives agreed that their respective administrations must exert every effort to raise the standards of living in their countries, increasing productivity and, consequently, purchasing power.

Confusion Prevails At News Conference

We newsmen had our own "hasta la vista" later that afternoon in Blair-Lee house, a part of the twin residences turned over to visiting dignitaries for a press and radio conference which came near being chiefly a photographic contest. It was a struggle, unseemly indeed, in that somewhat pretentious setting of antique furniture, pale green walls, wide mirrors and not very large early American rooms.

Not large enough anyway for the mob which surged about between the little bar, the battery of cameras and the doorway into the garden through which el Presidente was to appear. Dogwood in the garden looked over the brick wall, somewhat startled at the noisy gathering.

At last the tall smiling figure, flanked by secret service men, appeared. He sat at a table. The newsmen crowded around him, completely cutting off the cameras. The newsmen's huge heads completely screened the view. A controversy of no little heat ensued and no little heat emanated from the high candle-power bulbs and the normal radiation of a hundred or so energetic human beings.

Finally the newsmen were pushed back and the cameras set to work. Some of the reporters were pushed clear out of range and I saw one helpless, hapless gentleman wedged tightly between the bar and the backs of three husky Mexican pressmen. The poor fellow's right hand was pinioned so note-taking was impossible. Only his left arm was free, and that was deep in the middle of a neat of scotch-and-odas. What else could he do about it? (Sated y pesetoes!)

The photographing continued. The photographers in front wouldn't stop. The newsmen cried, "Enough!" One reporter, reversing the ancient proverb sighed, "One word is worth a thousand pictures."

"The photographer yielded. "Do they do this in Mexico?" asked an American reporter. "Yes," answered a Mexican reporter, in perfect English, white teeth gleaming.

Little news was brought out beyond what Aleman had said to congress or what was in the joint statement concerning loans for Mexican industrial and agricultural development.

But there was one, last question: "What impressed you most on your visit, Mr. President?"

"Arlington and Mount Vernon," he replied, "The enduring lessons of George Washington, the great father of your country, must be constantly taught and rehearsed in your country."

And so the Truman gesture at Chapultepec was reciprocated.

Mexico Embarking On Six-Year Plan

Mexico still has some credit previously approved by the Export-Import bank which she hasn't used. She has borrowed 68 millions largely used for highway construction, transportation and industry; she has repaid 13 millions; still has 30 millions in the bank.

More will be needed to carry out Aleman's six-year plan, which includes increased irrigation and power facilities—two TVA's will be constructed, Mexican style.

Mexico is an agricultural country without too much arable soil; she needs to raise more to feed herself properly. To do this will require six times as many irrigated acres as at present.

The joint statement also indicated that the two presidents were working out an arrangement to stabilize exchange which would permit Mexico to buy American dollars when she needs them to buy American goods, and sell them back when she can spare them. In wartime, when she was selling us more than she was buying, she built up a supply of dollars. But now she's buying more from us than she's selling to us. By allowing her to buy dollars at the rate of five pesos to the dollar, Mexico's money will be kept stable—otherwise individuals might start bidding up the dollar, which would decrease the value of the peso.

What did it add up to? Good sense between good neighbors who want to continue to be good customers. Mexico is farther to the left politically than we are, but it is by no means one hundred per cent socialist.

As for Aleman's political philosophy, it was plain what he thought about the one-party totalitarian states when he said before congress:

"Civilization wanes when the state curtails individual freedom. . . to impose its will or that of a political party on its citizens."

It appears that Aleman's brand of democracy is near enough to ours to make him the good neighbor we Washingtonians who met him think he is.

RECORD OUTPUT

Farm Productivity Increases

CHICAGO.—Measured on a volume basis, farm output in recent years has been 30 to 35 per cent higher than the 1929-33 average, according to an article in the Northern Trust company's monthly publication. The gain, it is pointed out, was recorded despite a decline of 10 per cent in the number of farm workers.

Although generally favorable weather and longer hours in the fields aided in the production record, the article contends that more important factors were greatly increased mechanization of farming methods, widespread use of improved crop varieties of the hybrid type, shifts to crops and livestock requiring relatively less labor per unit

Oklahoma Senator Shot; Telephone Strike Settled

PHONE STRIKE ENDS: Workers Accept $4.40

Long distance telephone operators agreed to accept a compromise pay increase of $4.40 a week, thereby ending the month-old strike that has been tying up the nation's communications. Quick settlements of 23 other disputes followed the acquiescence of the long lines workers to the new terms. The increase means about 11 cents per-hour pay boost, vacation benefits and certain other concessions, such as seniority rights. About 22,000 workers in 42 states are affected.

The agreement was announced by Asst. Secy. of Labor John Gibson and Conciliation Director Edgar Warren, after a 7 1/2 hour night session with representatives of the unions and the American Telegraph and Telephone company. Strikes against local companies of the Bell system were settled on substantially the same terms.

Besides the wage hikes and other benefits the contract with the long distance workers was practically a renewal of old terms, which were extended for one year. A clause permits either the union or the company to begin negotiations, after September 1, for reclassification of towns to readjust wage schedules. Officials of the long lines workers' union indicated the members would not cross picket lines of striking local telephone workers.

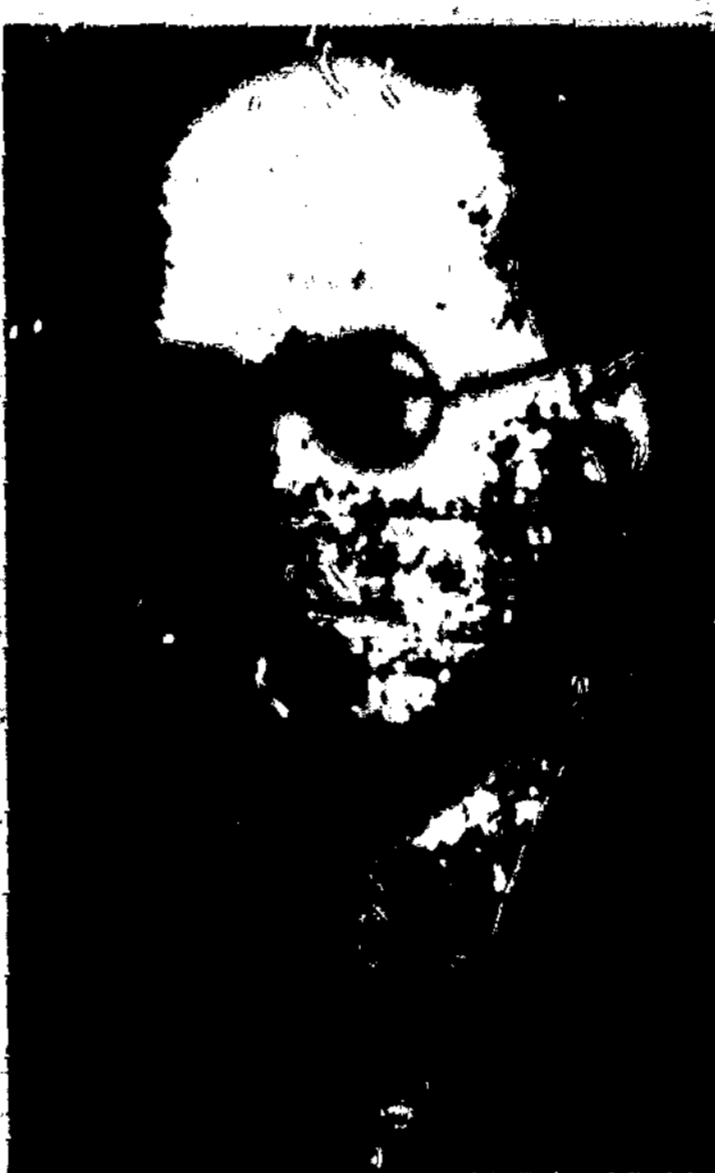

BOX CARS: Shortage Easing

Slowly but steadily the boxcar situation is improving, declares John Hayden, Chicago district manager of the American Association of American Railroads. Midwest freight conditions, he said, are the best they have been for a long time. Grain cars are moving in adequate numbers to the Southwestern wheat belt, where cutting of the new crop has begun.

"We hope to have several thousand empties stored there ready to handle the wheat when it comes from the combines," said Eugene Coughlin, assistant to the chairman of A.A.R. "The carriers are in considerably better condition to handle grain traffic than they were last year."

OKLAHOMA: Shooting in Senate

A hometown feud exploded into gunplay on the floor of the Oklahoma senate house in Oklahoma City. When the smoke cleared, elderly Sen. Thomas Anglin was lying wounded, shot through the hip. His assailant, Rep. James Scott, a marine veteran, was arrested a few minutes later in a washroom. The shooting occurred before the afternoon session had opened, when about half the senators were on the floor. Scott apparently fired twice, with one shot going wild. Some senators were under the impression that Anglin returned the fire, but this has been denied. Police said that Anglin's curious nine-shot, .25-caliber automatic had not been in action.

Both legislators come from Holdenville, Okla. Anglin is 64, the oldest senator in the chamber in point of service. Representative Scott, 34, is help to an oil fortune. Only motive that has been discovered for his action is that Anglin's law firm represented Scott's former wife in her divorce suit and property settlement.

GERMANY: U. S. to End Army Rule

Control of the U. S. zone of Germany soon will be transferred from the American military government to civil authority. Secretary of State Marshall is preparing to take this long-delayed step, as soon as possible. The move will reverse the state department's 158-year-old tradition. Heretofore the department has vigorously resisted taking on any functions except formulation of policy.

Former Secretary Byrnes wanted administration of Germany left with the war department, but Marshall, himself a veteran of the war department, is willing to change that. He has not revealed any details of the civil government setup that he has in mind. Obviously a considerable military force will be needed in Germany for some time, in case of outbreaks.

Marshall denied that American and British officials had run into difficulties over basic policy in plans for merging the American and British zones, as reported from Berlin.

BLASTS PROPOSAL . . . Earl O. Shreve, newly elected president of the U. S. chamber of commerce, took sharp issue with President Truman's "moral suasion" campaign to cut prices. He declared the people will not be "fooled by attempts to make business men scapegoats."

DRAFTS TREATY . . . Joseph H. Dodge, Detroit banker, has been appointed special minister to Austria to represent Secretary of State Marshall in drafting the Austrian peace treaty.

RETURNS TO BERLIN . . . Dr. Michael L. Munk, the first rabbi of Berlin since before the war, has returned to the city of his birth and will live in U. S. quarters there. He escaped from Germany in 1938 at the height of Nazi persecution of the Jews.

DIRIGIBLE EXPERT . . . Dr. Hugo Eckener, German dirigible expert and designer of the ill-fated Graf Zeppelin, is in the U. S. to work with government experts in developing lighter-than-air craft.

NEW CITIZEN . . . Ida Lupino, film actress, leaves the Los Angeles department of justice office after passing her citizenship examination. Miss Lupino was born in London but had long wanted to be an American.

DOANS PILLS

The Sweeping Tides

By H.M. EGBERT

Mark Darrell, young American lumberman, is boss of a lumber camp near St. Victor, Canada. He has fallen in love with Madame Madeleine Kinross, young widow who owns the timberland. She returns his affection, but tells him that marriage is impossible, as she believes her husband is still alive. ...

swerved in trembling accents, "Eric, we were not so much to blame. We tried to restrain you from drinking that French brandy. Then the brawl arose with the French revenue men, and you killed one of them with a blow of your fist. ..."

Mackintosh. "That affray on St. Pierre is already old history. Besides, it was not we who killed the French revenue man. Let matters take their course; we are safe. Leave that devil to make his plan. If he kills Horace Broussac, nobody in St. Victor will miss him. He is not one of us habitants by birth; he is a foreigner, from Quebec. ..."

CHAPTER VIII

The smoke cloud had blotted out the mist. A little, anxious group had gathered about Nat Page at the mill, looking northward toward it. Now and again flashes of lurid fire could be seen in the midst of the curling smoke, that was beginning to obscure the stars in the night sky. ...

"We were afraid. We fled back to the schooner. We told everybody that you had been lost on an ice-ber, for fear that the truth would be known, and we should be arrested, and taken away to prison in France—Hector and I and Andre. ..."

There was a sea-rod at low tide by which one could pass from St. Victor to the lighthouse. It was along this that Broussac had driven, tortured by the terrors of Kinross' anticipated return, and his desire for Madeleine. ...

Within five minutes, twenty-five men were streaming across the terrain. At first they poured along the trail under a sky of billowing smoke. Then the heat of the fire began to reach them. Little tipples of fire ran through the underbrush on either side of them. ...

A roar of anger broke from Kinross' lips. "So he is here? He has dared come back here?" There was no reply. "That money that would have saved me, had I been able to employ a lawyer—what did he do with it? It never reached me. It has cost me five years of my life. ..."

"You're mad," cried Madeleine. "My husband is alive, and, if he were dead, I don't love you." "You're a fool, a little fool! I tell you he's dead. Come with me—you're coming with me, I say," he panted, clutching her by the wrists. ...

A 'Dead Man' Returns To Take Vengeance

The lumbermen halted, overcome by the heat of the conflagration. "We can't go any further," big Louis said to Nat. "See, boss, there is a line of flame right along the ridge. The cabin is behind that. If he has not escaped, he is roasted to cinders by now." "No time," Nat panted. "We've got to get on." And he hurried himself against the wall of living fire that was sweeping down with a roar, as the rising wind fanned it—hurled himself against it only to recoil. He knew that, if Mark was in the hut in the heart of that conflagration, there was not one chance in a thousand that he could escape alive. ...

Andre leaped at Broussac again.

"Mon seigneur, we are poor men. There was nothing that we could do," faltered Monsieur Vitard. "We knew that Horace Broussac had raised that money for you, but we were not sure whether he sent it to you, after he became guardian of Madame Kinross." "Guardian?" Eric Kinross set his back against the door. "Go on. You amuse me," he said. "My lands—Horace Broussac, my dear kinsman Horace, has perhaps sold them?" "No, mon seigneur, but he has leased a strip to an American, a Monsieur Darrell, who is operating the mill that Horace Broussac set up." "Name of a dog, where is he?" "He is dead," snickered Hector Mackintosh. "He died in that fire that is raging along the lighthouse neck. You see, Horace Broussac persuaded Andre Galipeault that this Monsieur Darrell was a spy, come to take us all away to prison in France. We knew better, but Andre is a very ignorant man." "Go on."

Eric Hears What Has Been Going On

"And Horace Broussac loves your wife and was jealous because she is in love with this Monsieur Darrell." The seigneur remained perfectly silent, glaring at the two, stammering out their story like school-boys. "So it was arranged tonight that this Monsieur Darrell should die, an—" "Where is Horace Broussac?" "I think he is at the lighthouse, mon seigneur." Another hoarse peal of laughter burst from Eric Kinross' throat. Then, without a word, he opened the door and strode out into the chill fog and whipping wind, leaving the two men looking at one another in terror. "He is the same devil as ever," whispered Hector Mackintosh, "but I think his years in the French prison had made him mad. What shall we do, Alphonse?" "Do? Nothing. Keep still!" "But what will he do?" "Kill Horace Broussac, of course." "Then everything will be known, and we—" "Bah, you are a coward, Hector."

Parasite Dodder May Be Killed by 2, 4-D

Selection of Clean Seed Also Essential

By W. J. DRYDEN
Field dodder is an annual parasitic vine, growing on lespedeza, alfalfa, clover and various members of the dandelion family. It attaches itself to other plants and sends small growth into their tissue to absorb the sap. As preventive is easier than the cure, it is essential that only seed free from dodder be planted. Spots in fields should be eliminated. This is possible by the use of 2, 4-D weed killer. While the 2, 4-D also will kill lespedeza and other plants in the sprayed areas, the loss usually will prove negligible as the dodder usually will be confined to small scattered areas. The labor involved in cutting out dodder is excessive and it is almost impossible to remove all of the parasite by this method. Infested fields may be planted to grain or corn for several years. These crops are not attacked, but care should be taken that the dodder does not continue growing on weeds in the field.

Circle shows how dodder wraps itself around alfalfa to absorb the sap.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Silver tableware tarnishes more quickly if it is not thoroughly rinsed of soap suds.

When cutting flowers, slant the stems. This gives your posies longer life.

In order to keep a flushing tank in good condition it should be cleaned out and every last scale on the inside surfaces scraped off at least once every year. An overflow pipe in the lavatory always should have a rapid fall.

Furniture that is bought unfinished should first be wiped with a cloth dampened with water. This raises the grain, which should be sanded before stain is applied.

NEW SUPERIOR LETTUCE

Slabot lettuce, developed by the USDA, is available for the first time to the gardener. Non-heading, long-standing Slabot produces wrinkled, frilled, light green leaves. Plants are of moderate size. If the plants are set 10 to 12 inches apart and only basal leaves used, Slabot lettuce may be harvested over a period of several weeks. Slabot makes a good fall crop from midsummer plantings. It produces usable leaves three weeks longer than many well-known commercial leaf lettuce varieties. It receives its name because it is slow to "bolt" seed stems in warm weather.

Horns and Flecks For Greater Profit

Even up the size of litters. A sow will take strange pigs before hers are two days old. Make changes when pigs are ready to suck. Sprinkle the strangers with a weak solution of stock dip.

Doct all lambs and castrate all buck lambs at one to three weeks. Combine the two operations—castrate first, then dock. Use a reliable disinfectant on wounds. Bloodless docking and castration can be done with instruments made especially for the purpose.

Dehorn calves when young (under 10 days) with a chemical dehorner that won't rub off on the udder or flanks of the cow. A chemical dehorner works best on young calves, and calves are easier to handle when young.

To help prevent damp litter in brooding and laying houses, mix hydrated lime in the litter at the rate of one pound to eight square feet of floor space. Hydrated lime, remember—not ground limestone.

Treat Egg Right to Keep in Cold Storage

Treating an egg right means storing it clean, covered and cold, say University of Nebraska specialists. Eggs when clean should be stored in a covered bowl or pan, away from strong-smelling foods. Without a cover, eggs lose moisture and are likely to absorb odors. When kept in a cold place, even for part of a day, they stay good longer. Stored at room temperatures, eggs may lose much quality in three days.
