CARRIZOZO, NEW MEXICO, FRIDAY, JULY 25, 1947

Outlook Vol. 38—No. 12

Joe Hunter Drake

The Carrizozo Methodist church was filled to overflowing Monday afternoon with friends and neighbors assembled for the last rites of Joe H. Drake, 27, who lost his life as the result of an explosion when a P-80 jet propelled plane, crashed into Albert Roberts' filling station here last Friday about noon in an attempted take off. Young Drake, who was employed at the Carrizozo Country Club, had driven up to have his pick-up truck serviced and was watching the takeoff when the crash occurred, followed by an explosion. The entire locale was immediately enveloped in flames, gas fumes and dense smoke. Before Joe could get away from the scene he was so severely injured that little hope was held for his recovery. He was flown to William Beaumont Hospital at El Paso, quickly as a plane was available, but died Saturday morning.

Joaquin Ortiz, Arthur Holquin, Duff May, Roy Harmon and Bill Dolab, Dick Brewster blew taps.

No one realized the nearness of life's sunset hour, but his fine, courageous life will forever live in the hearts of his young wife, his devoted parents, his loved sisters and his friends all of whom are the losers by his sudden tragic death.

By his wife's request we print his favorite poem:

CROSSING THE BAR

Sunset, and evening star
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar
When I put out to sea.
But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound or foam
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home
Twilight, and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell
When I embark.
For though from out our bourne
Of time and place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.
—Alfred Tennyson.

LOCALS

Joe Hunter Drake was born February 29th, 1920, in Wellington, Texas. He passed away July 19th, 1947, at the William Beaumont Hospital in El Paso, Texas. Joe was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Drake of Roswell, New Mexico. Moving with his parents to Ancho, New Mexico, at the age of four years, he received his grade school education in the Ancho school and graduated from Carrizozo High School with the class of 1939. He attended the New Mexico School of Mines at Socorro for three years prior to his enlistment in the United States Air Corps. Ranking as a First Lieutenant and piloting a B-17, he served his country for over three years in World War II. He completed fifty missions over the European theatre of war. After receiving various awards of merit including the Purple Heart, Joe returned to this country and instructed trainees in B-17 bombers.

On March 1st, 1946, Joe was united in marriage to Marjorie Parks of Columbus, Ohio. He was residing in Carrizozo at the time of his death.

Besides his wife, Marjorie, he leaves to mourn: his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Drake, of Roswell; four sisters—Mrs. Lavona Miller of Ancho, Mrs. Lucille Dale of Alamogordo, Mrs. Lallah Lee Dale of Mountainaire, and Mrs. Oleeta Cathy of Carrizozo; and seven nephews and two nieces, besides a number of other relatives and a host of friends.

Mrs. Ray Lemon sang two songs. Prayer and tributes were by Rev. Howard S. Pitts. Pall bearers were: Mark Sloan, Fred H. English, J. B. Howell, Wenzil Rickerson, Fred Knapp, and Robert Means. Flower women, Mesdames Reed Sherrill, Julia Sherrill, Vernon Petty, Albert Snow, Wenzil Rickerson, Bobbie Shafer, Wm. Gallacher, Lorena Casey, Clyde Shultz, L. M. Huffman.

Burial was in Ancho cemetery with military honors. Henry Means had charge of the firing squad consisting of, Bobby Shafer,

Large Crowds Attend This Year's Ranchmen's Camp Meeting

Another Ranchmen's Camp meeting has gone into history. It opened Wednesday, July 16th, and closed Sunday, July 20th.

The attendance struck an all time high, with thirteen hundred present for the Sunday services. Much good was accomplished and a number of professions of faith resulted.

Dr. Erwin F. Bohmlok of Corsicana, Texas; Rev. Paul Gaston of El Paso did the preaching while the Rev. Herrick Darling of Wilmington, Delaware was the song leader, and also assisted with the preaching. Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Evans of El Paso conducted special prayer services for the young people each day. It is stated that this famous Camp Meeting held on Nogal Mesa has been responsible for, and the inspiration of four other meetings conducted for ranchmen that are becoming equally popular, and productive of much good in the Kingdom of Christ. The four to which we refer are: one West of Magdalena; two in Arizona and one in Wyoming.

The camp meetings are interdenominational. The one on Nogal Mesa has the following gentlemen on their executive committee: Pat Murpy, White Oaks; Forest L. Sherman, Joe J. Lane of El Paso; R. E. Lemon, Carrizozo; Gil Peters, Nogal; Henry Peabier, Nogal; Russell Bird and Lon Merchant, Capitan. Ralph J. Hall of Albuquerque is business manager.

Many people took their tents and camped in the coolness of the invigorating mountain air. Meals were served at noon, and 6 o'clock p. m. Santiago was cook as usual, and the people were well fed.

The grounds were well lighted and accommodations were improved in many ways: it is hoped that each year will find things more convenient, and that an ideal camp ground and camp meeting will be something to which everyone can look forward with anticipation.

Former Resident Visits Here

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Bobier of Glendale, California spent last Monday and Monday night here as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Braum, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Smith. Mrs. Bobier will be remembered as the former Miss Lalia Peek. The Peek family moved to Arizona in 1914.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie J. Hansen have sold the Golden Key Night Club at Capitan and left last Saturday for Trenton, New Jersey where they will reside.

Mrs. Julia Sherrill, District 6 President, representing Lincoln County and Mrs. Jess Weaver member of the Executive Board, representing Otero County, left Thursday for Albuquerque to attend the two day, American Legion Auxiliary School of Instruction.

Mr. Lee Carl, clerk in the local postoffice, is enjoying a two week vacation in California.

Mr. Ray Hobbs and daughter Helen were business visitors here Wednesday.

Tragedy Hits Carrizozo Last Friday

$1,010.00 Prize Money For Young Demo Membership Contest

Byran G. Johnson, Democratic Chairman, announced in Santa Fe today, that he has notified all Young Democratic County Presidents of a $1,010.00 Membership Contest, among County Organizations and individual membership.

The contest will start at once, ending Midnight, August, 12. Every member of the Young Democratic Club of each county is eligible to participate.

The first prize money for the County will be $250.00 for the largest number of memberships sold, prorated on the Democratic Registration, October, 1946. Second prize $100.00, third prize $75.00, fourth prize $50.00 and fifth prize $25.00

The first prize for the individual member selling the largest number of memberships in New Mexico will be $150.00, second prize $100.00, third prize $75.00, fourth prize $50.00, fifth prize $35.00, seventh prize $25.00, eighth prize $20.00, ninth prize $15.00 and tenth prize $10.00.

Mr. Johnson further stated Ingram B. Pickett, State Organizer, will have full charge of the contest and present cash prizes at the State Convention in Albuquerque, August 16th. Mr. Pickett reports only two counties yet to be organized, and they will be organized this week.

Shields-Coe

Miss Betty Lee Shields of Carrizozo and Mr. Ross Coe were united in marriage Monday, July 20, 1947 in Alamogordo at the Baptist parsonage.

The bride wore a 2 piece green street dress with white accessories. The young couple will be at home in Douglas, Arizona.

Visit at the Meyer Barnett Home.

Brothers and sisters of County Treasurer Meyer Barnett who arrived last Sunday morning for a two day visit here were Mr. and Mrs. William J. Sallon, of Miami, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Si Barnett, of New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Barnett of Roswell. All enjoyed the reunion and Mr. Meyer Barnett who has been ill for the past two months was able to be up and around for their stay.

Severs Finger at Play

Little James Earl Thornton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thornton, severed the end of the left index finger while playing about a parked car Saturday afternoon. The cut was clean and above the first joint.

Chicken Dinner

The "C" Club, whose members are the lettermen of the Carrizozo High School, are giving a chicken dinner Wednesday July 23rd, 6:30 P. M. at the Woman's Club Building, seventy-five cents a plate. Everybody welcome.

Mrs. Lucille Patterson, County Superintendent of Schools, is enjoying a two week vacation in California.

Two Succumb To Injuries

After we were off the press last Friday morning and had the paper in the mails, the P-80 piloted by Captain Floyd G. Soule of March Field, California, on a routine training flight to Biggs Field, Texas, attempted a take off on Highway 380 toward the Junction of highway 54.

The plane apparently went out of control as it left the roadway, some 300 yards from the Monte Vista Service Station and sheared off a tree in its path, hit the rear wall of the living quarters of the station, plowed into the wash and grease house at the South side of the station and exploded into flames.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoffman were seated in their car parked beside the wash and grease house. Mrs. Fay Harkey and two children were in their pick-up truck parked in the field in rear of the Service Station, the driver of Mr. Bruce Dugger's truck loaded with hay was parked nearby on 54, all miraculously escaped injuries. Mrs. Hoffman suffered from shock.

The pilot of the aircraft was killed in his ship. Joe Phillips, in an attempt to rescue the pilot suffered severe burns.

Mr. Joe Drake and his nephew Glenn Dale were critically burned. Joe Drake passed away in William Beaumont General Hospital on Saturday morning.

Mrs. Piek Warden, Jr., received severe cuts and bruises when a pick-up truck backed against her suddenly.

A team of army doctors were called in from Alamogordo bringing with them emergency supplies and blood plasma which was administered before the injured were flown to El Paso by C-47's that were sent here by the Army for emergency purposes.

The station and its entire contents were a total loss. Mrs. Albert Roberts had just stepped out the back door, seconds before the plane hit. Mr. Roberts, fearing that his wife was still in the building, which was by that time a raging inferno, knocked out a window and would have gone in after her had Mrs. Roberts not appeared on the scene. Mr. Roberts had old newspaper files worth untold thousands of dollars which he had collected all of his life. A collection of gups was also in the building.

The volunteer fire department were soon at the scene, and although water pressure was low at first, they did heroic work in an attempt to save what could be saved. Fire Chief, Fay Harkey had the additional worry as to the safety of his family.

The Service Station force consisting of Richard Phillips, Wenzil Rickerson, Ed Morales and proprietor Roberts were all uninjured.

Fuel for the ship had been received on Thursday afternoon but the batteries of the P-80 were so low that the pilot waited until the next day for a charger to be flown in from El Paso, and the ship was apparently ready to take off. Eye witnesses say that the uneven surface of the roadway and the various dips in the path of the plane prevented sufficient speed to lift the plane into the air.

Sheriff Niek Vega was slightly injured in an attempt to administer first aid to some of the injured.

Co-operation, with the authorities in remaining at a safe distance from the danger zone, was only fair. Deputy, Mark

Methodist Church

Rev. Howard S. Pitts

Fifty men present is our aim for this Sunday. It's "Men's Day" at Trinity Church.

Last Sunday, our Trinity family joined hundreds of ranchers' families at the Camp Meeting. It was a grand week for all and a clear demonstration that those who have Christ fellowship in common need not be divided by less important creeds.

Our prayers go with Glenn Dale Joe Phillips and Mrs. Piek Warden as they bear the pains of last week's tragedy. As we reflect upon the likelihood that Captain Floyd Soule paid the supreme sacrifice in order that more lives might be spared, we bow in silent tribute to those who dare find the life of the spirit through losing the life of the body. The spirit of self-sacrifice knows no death. May God's abiding love keep the families of Joe Drake and Floyd Soule who have gone to meet their Pilot face to face.

Clyde Shultz, Joe West, C. A. Branum, and Don Shultz deserve a lot of credit for installing the new pump in the churchyard. It will indeed be good to have a lawn.

Sunday's Intermediate Fellowship meeting will be led by Peggy June Cathy. The program of the Youth Fellowship will be led by the pastor. The nursery Sunday morning will be directed by Helen Kelt and Pat Reil. And, the Box Supper Committee announces their big occasion for Thursday, August 7th. Committee members are: Janet Mae Shafer, Hope Snow, and Ann Eaker.

The Intermediate Assembly (for ages 12-15) will meet all this next week in the mountains near Weed, N. M. Elaine Shultz and Veda Lou Branum have been the first to sign up. The pastor will be there to teach a course and lead the singing.

The Tuesday evening group continues to grow. Join us in discussing Mark 3 next week at 7:30. Clyde Shultz will be the leader.

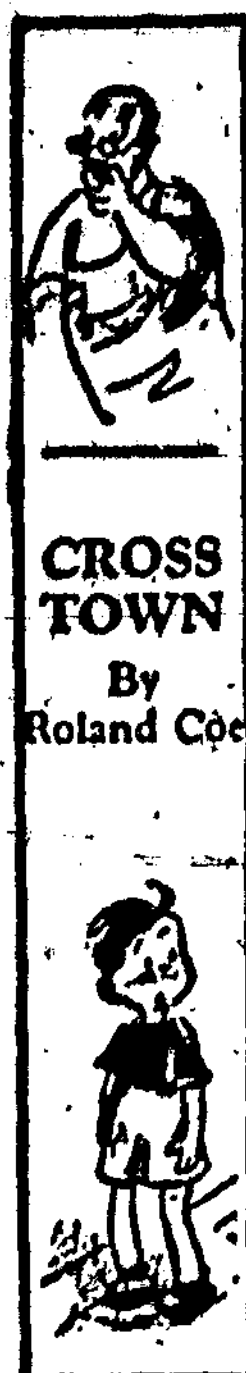

Sunday morning's sermon 11 a. m. will be the first of three on stewardship. It is entitled, "First Things First", being concerned with God's use of time.

Here are some thoughts from E. Stanley Jones: "It is easier to set our way into right thinking than to think your way into right action. . . . Act as though all depends on you; trust as though all depends on God. . . . To worry is un-Christian. Do the best you can and leave the rest to God."

Sloan assisted by personnel of the transport plane that had brought in the battery charger did excellent work and prevented any further serious injuries.

The Kelley Funeral Home had charge of the body until arrangements were completed by the Army to fly the remains to March Field.

Milk Cooling With Electricity Sound

Better Quality Product Results at Small Cost

Milk customers don't pay off on the quality of milk as it is produced on the farm. It's quality at the point of sale that puts money in the bank.

The dairy farmer, therefore, faces a double task—to produce good milk at milking time, and to preserve that hard-won goodness until his product has been sold. Preservation of quality requires that milk be cooled below 50 degrees within approximately an hour and a half after it is drawn in order to check bacteria growth and eliminate souring and off-flavors.

Water alone is not a satisfactory cooling agent, because only in rare instances is its temperature lower than 60 degrees. The addition of ice to water will help, but storage difficulties and the work involved in keeping the tank adequately supplied present certain obstacles to its use. In addition, its cost, if purchased, often is so high as to offset the price received for satisfactorily cooled milk.

Because of this situation many electric milk coolers (either of the tank or aerator type) are being installed on electrified farms. Such coolers, according to the Pennsylvania State college school of agriculture, meet the farmer's requirements for they are "designed to cool fresh milk quickly, uniformly and economically."

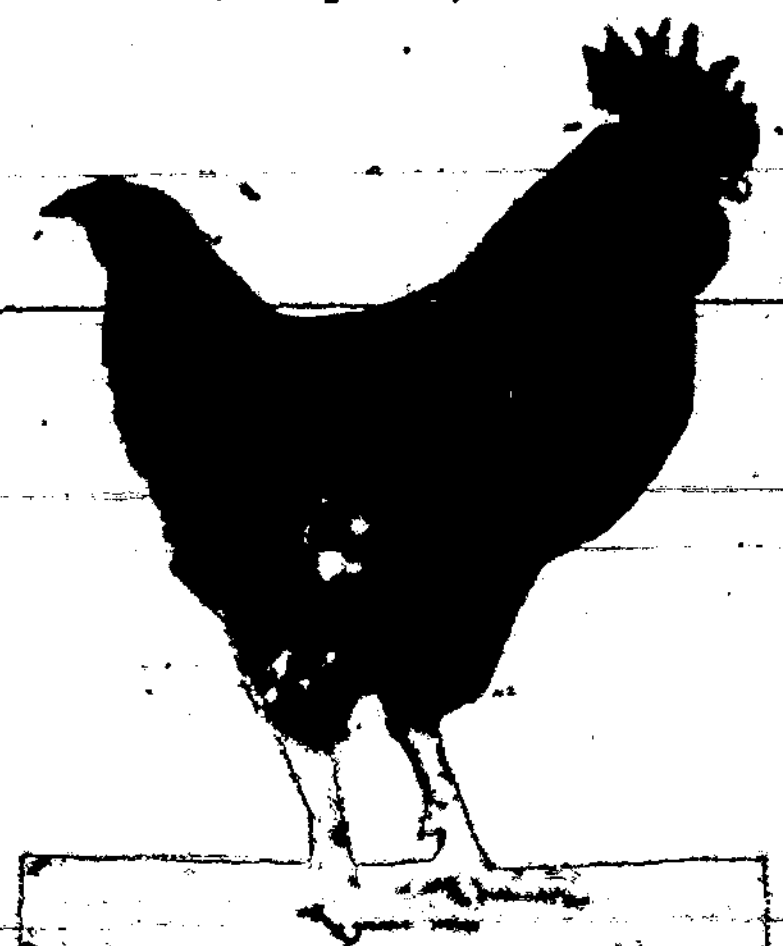

On the basis of tests conducted recently on 101 electrified New York state farms, the cost of cooling milk electrically averages from 12 to 13.5 cents per hundred pounds. The power rate in the test area was 3 cents per kilowatt hour of power, which is about 1/2 cent lower than the national farm electricity rate.

pulorum disease, rapid growth, rapid feathering and egg quality were considered equally with type and color.

The ideal male is rich brilliant reddish bay in hackle and saddle, brilliant deep chestnut red on wing, bow and back, and medium chestnut red on breast and other sections. The female is medium chestnut red throughout. A pullet will weigh 5 1/2 pounds; hen, 6 1/2 pounds; cockerel, 7 1/2 pounds, and cock, 8 1/2 pounds.

Disposal Incinerator

An incinerator for disposal of dead birds, poultry, turkeys and animals or birds that might be carriers of disease may be constructed from an old metal barrel.

Iron rods are run through the barrel six or eight inches above, and parallel to the bottom to serve as a grill. Holes are cut below the grill for draft. This incinerator is considered a must by Clemson Agriculture college.

Spraying Cattle for Flies Improves Herd

For spraying cattle, Purdue entomologists recommend the use of 50 per cent DDT wettable powder mixed with water at the rate of two pounds in five gallons. It is applied at the rate of one quart per animal, and three or four applications each season at about three week intervals or as needed are recommended. A three gallon compressed air sprayer or larger equipment is suggested for the job.

Light on the Problem Of Human Suffering

LESSON TEXT FOR JULY 26—Job 1:1; 2:7-10; 19:7-10; 42:1-6; James 5:11.

MEMORY SELECTION—Thou (charity) endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.—II Timothy 3:2.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D., Of The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

HUMAN suffering—what a problem it is to all of us, in greater or smaller measure. From the broken heart of men and women comes the question "Why?"

We cannot always answer, nor do we fully know the meaning and purpose. We must often simply put ourselves and our loved ones into the hands of God, trusting him to bring us into assurance and victory.

There are some things we can know, and they are most helpful. The book of Job reveals much concerning the background of suffering and its uses and advantages. It is not all loss and pain. God does not forget his people in their hour of trial.

Job had suffered the loss of property, family, and was now personally afflicted by sickness of his body. His friends who came to comfort him had added to his troubles by their pious platitudes about suffering being the result of sin (cf. John 9:3), and so on.

There was enough truth in what they said to make it hurt, and so we are doubly glad we are given a look behind the scenes. We learn that this was not a struggle between God and Job, nor even between Satan and Job. We see

I. The Battle Between God and Satan (Job 1:8).

READ the entire story here and you will see that Satan, whom faced by God with the godly example of Job's life, threw down a challenge. He declared that the only reason Job loved God was because he received so much good out of it, because God protected him.

The issue was clearly drawn; the question was whether God was able to keep a man in the midst of trial and suffering. Was His grace sufficient for the dark hours of life, as well as the happy and bright ones?

Having stripped Job of all his possessions, and left him childless and heart broken, Satan had to admit failure up to that point. But he sneeringly slandered both Job and God by saying that Job was not concerned about these other things so long as his own body was unharmed (2:4-5).

So the Lord permitted him to afflict Job's body, and we see the conflict raging in

II. The Battleground—the Life of Job (2:7-10; 19:7-10).

THE mystery of God's permissive will enters into the picture here, and we learn too that Satan, while a mighty being, has limits to his power. God may give him liberty to test his people, but it is never with the thought that they will fall; rather to prove that they can stand true come what may.

Was any mortal ever more afflicted than Job? We find him finally an outcast, sitting on an ash heap, scraping the awful sores upon his poor body.

Job did have his times of questioning and doubt (19:7-10). He felt at times that God had forsaken him. He misunderstood the providences of God. But through it all he held on to his faith in God. He could do without his possessions (1:21). God could even take his life and he would say, "Though he slay me, yet will I trust him." He saw beyond the grave, for he knew that if his body were destroyed he would still see his Redeemer.

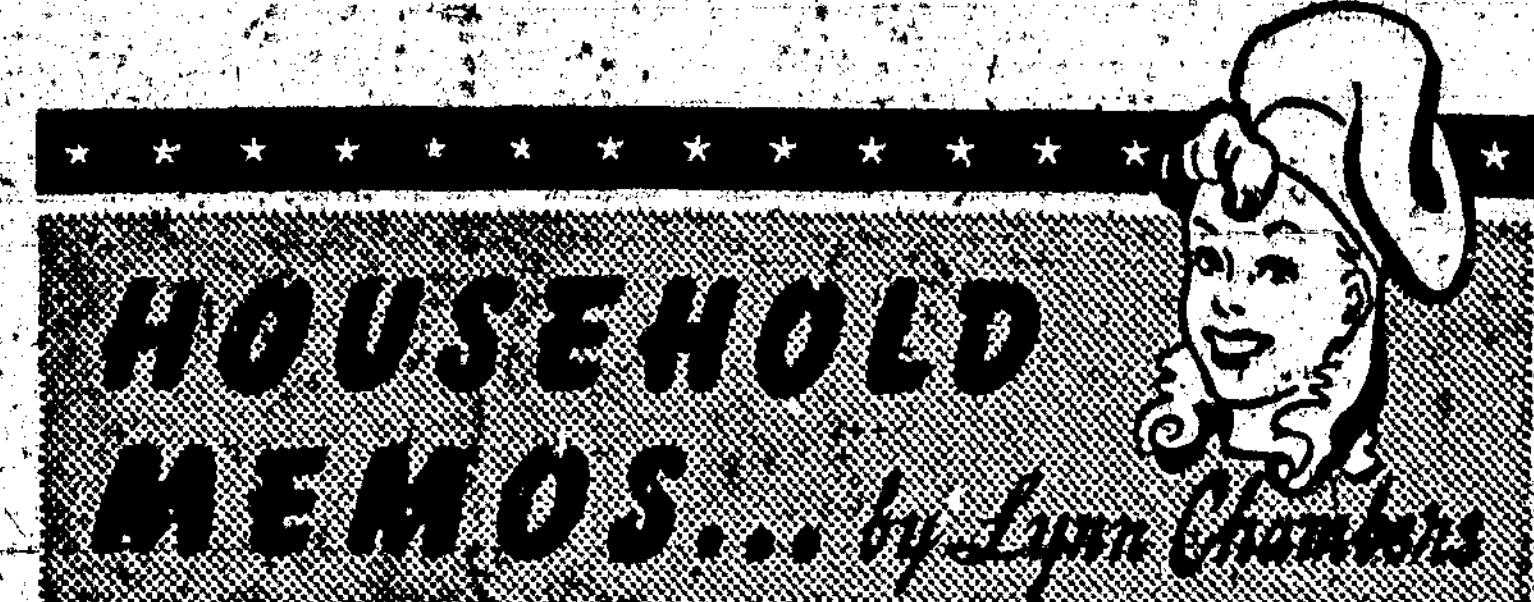

What more sublime expression of faith could a man make than to say in his hour of seeming despair, "I know that my Redeemer liveth."

III. The Outcome—Victory for God in Job (42:1-6; James 5:11).

JOB had to come to the end of himself. Judging himself to be unworthy (42:6), he repented of all his own self-righteousness and cast himself upon the mercy of God. God then vindicated him and restored him to a place of blessing and usefulness.

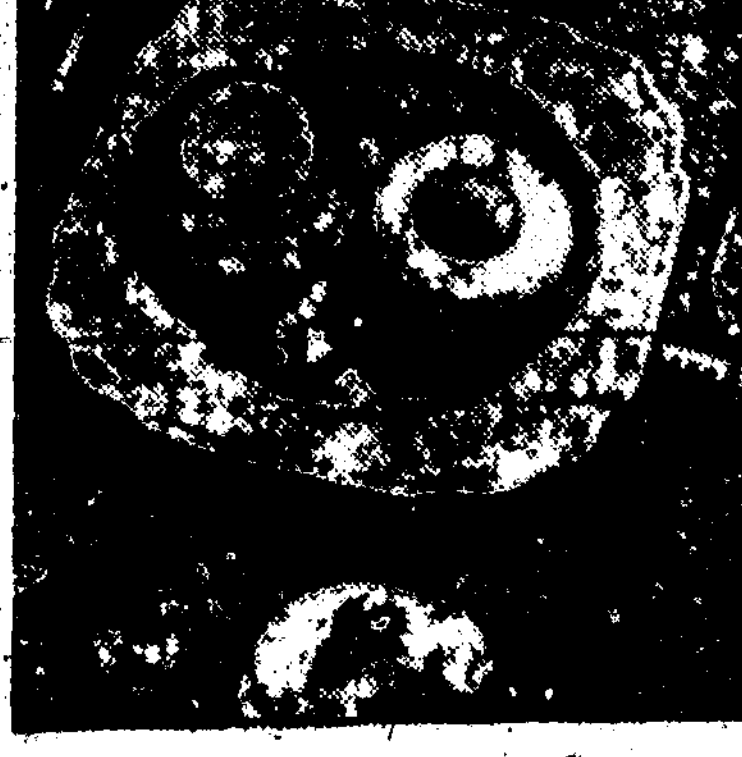

The answer then to our problem is this—God is able to keep to the uttermost those who put their trust in him (Heb. 7:25) through the grace he gives. Suffering may be in his permissive will for our own self-judgment and growth in grace. But back of it all is the assurance that God knows about us, he has not turned away; that in due season, if we faint not, we shall see victory.

Ultimately, the question is not whether we can stand or not, but whether God is able to keep us in the midst of the onslaught of the world, the flesh and the devil.

Various Sandwiches Make Good Porch, Picnic Suppers

Sandwiches such as these "egg-burgers" are the perfect answer to summertime eating. When served with salad and relishes, beverage and fruit, you have a complete meal ready in no time.

It's estimated that sandwiches are eaten at the rate of 30 million daily here in the United States, and it's no wonder, because they are one of the simplest, most nourishing foods to serve.

Do you like to make suppers simple on a hot, sweltering night? Serve a sandwich-salad supper on the cool back porch. Do you like to whip up a picnic at a moment's notice? Then wrap together a few sandwiches, fruit and beverage to take along to beach or woods.

Simplest of all sandwiches is the slice of meat between two pieces of bread; but it tastes even better if you add some toothsome spread or accompaniment to it, such as:

1. Cover with a thin slice of cranberry jelly, especially ham or roast pork.
2. Cover with thinly sliced sweet or sour pickles or mustard.
3. Spread with horseradish mixed with mayonnaise.
4. Cover with lettuce and boiled dressing or sandwich spread.
5. Cover with chili sauce or catsup.

When you have leftover meat, chop it or put it through the meat grinder and serve in any of these ways:

1. Mix with mustard and season with chopped pimiento or green pepper.
2. Mix with equal parts of finely shredded cabbage and serve with chopped pickle or onion.
3. Season with chow-chow or pickle relish and season with enough boiled dressing or mayonnaise to mix through.
4. Mix with chopped olives, green pepper and dressing.
5. Mix with chopped hard-cooked eggs, chopped green pepper and mayonnaise.
6. Mix with chopped celery and moisten with mayonnaise.

When you plan to feed a bunch of hearty eaters and the weather is a bit on the crisp side, then serve hot sandwiches for a real treat. The barbecued type is ideal for the occasion.

Barbecued Hamburgers. (Makes 6)

- 1/2 cup milk
  - 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
  - 1/2 pound ground beef
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
  - 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
  - 1 tablespoon cider vinegar
  - 1/2 cup tomato catsup
- Combine bread crumbs and milk. Add ground meat, salt and pepper. Form meat into patties, then brown on both sides in two tablespoons of fat.
- Combine seasonings and vinegar with catsup and pour over meat. Cover and simmer slowly about 10 minutes, or until sauce is very thick. Serve hot between heated or toasted bun halves.
- The above sauce also may be used for sliced, broiled beef roast or for frankfurters as barbecues.

LYNN SAYS:

Use These Memos In the Kitchen

When ironing ruffled curtains, it's easier to do the ruffles first and then the body of the curtain. Start at the top of the hem and iron down. Use a moveable ironing board, or lay a clean blanket on the floor, covered with a sheet to do the best ironing.

Rub greasy containers with cornmeal if you want to clean them easily.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

- Assorted Sandwiches
- Potato Salad
- Cole Slaw
- Sliced Tomatoes
- Pickles
- Celery
- Carrot Sticks
- Beverage
- Lemon Sherbet

If you want to use ham or pork for barbecued sandwiches, use the following sauce:

- Barbecued Ham or Pork Sandwiches.
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 1 clove garlic
- 1/4 cup tomato catsup
- 1/4 cup Worcestershire sauce
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 cup tomato soup
- 1/4 cup vinegar
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 2 tablespoons sugar

Mix all ingredients together and simmer a few minutes. Use to baste meat while it is cooking. When meat is tender, slice and add to sauce in pan with 1 cup sweet pickle relish, and serve sauce as a relish on the sandwiches.

If you are having a large crowd in either for a picnic or for a porch supper, plan to have several different varieties of sandwiches on a large platter, a selection of salad, fresh fruit and cookies and beverage. The sandwiches may be made in the morning and wrapped in heavy waxed paper and chilled. Here are some suggestions:

1. Beef or tongue, sliced thin and spread with mustard-horseradish on rye or pumpernickel bread.
2. Cold pork, chopped sweet pickle, salad dressing and lettuce on white bread.
3. Sardines mashed with chopped hard-cooked eggs, moistened with lemon juice and boiled dressing and Worcestershire sauce.
4. Swiss cheese, tomato slices and water-sliced beef with lettuce and mayonnaise on rye bread.
5. Chopped hard-cooked eggs mixed with chopped stuffed olives and salad dressing with lettuce on whole wheat bread.
6. Ground, cooked chicken mixed with an equal amount of chopped cooked ham, seasoned with chopped olives and mayonnaise on white bread.

A creamy iced beverage and slices of a simple cake, or fruit and cookies, fittingly top off a sandwich supper.

For a nourishing "burger" type of sandwich, you might like these made with eggs.

De Luxe Eggburgers. (Serves 6)

- 6 eggs
  - 2 tablespoons fat for frying
  - 6 round buns
  - 6 slices cheese
  - 1 medium-sized onion
  - Salt and pepper
- Split buns. Lay halves, split side up, on baking sheet, place cheese slices on them and toast in hot oven or under broiler until cheese begins to melt and other half is toasted. Meanwhile fry eggs medium firm, turning once; season. Place eggs on toasted halves. Top with onion rings. Serve hot, open or closed. Pass chili sauce, chopped pickle relish or mustard.
- For beverage at porch or picnic, use 1 rounded tablespoon of all purpose grind, decaffeinated coffee to every cup of water. Make by boiler or percolator method. Freeze coffee in ice cube tray. At serving time, heat milk but don't let it boil. Fill glasses with coffee cubes and pour on hot milk. The result will be a smooth, creamy, iced beverage.

25,000 Engaged in 3-Mile Race to Diamond Fields

Since diamonds were discovered in the Union of South Africa in 1867, the government has opened several potential diamond fields and made the prospectors, in order to stake out a claim, race to the areas from a given point at a given signal. The greatest of these races took place at Lichtenburg on March 4, 1927, when 25,000 diggers, watched by 100,000 spectators, ran three miles to the new Grosfontein field.

"On the farm I need plenty of room for storage. That's why I have a Perfecold—the same refrigerator markets and restaurants use. Big. Dependable. And inexpensive to operate. Not many people would think of using a commercial refrigerator on the farm—like Perfecold. But it really pays!"

STILL RACING AGAINST TIME

• Working 'round the clock, telephone equipment manufacturers are delivering more telephones, switchboards, wire, cable and other items than ever before—and they're all being put to use as fast as they come off the assembly lines. Even so, the huge backed-up demand leaves us with nearly 65,000 unfilled orders for service in the seven-state area we serve.

• Providing service to new customers isn't all we expect to do. We want to give every one of our present customers the kind of service he wants. Many people who have been sharing party lines will want individual lines. We'll get going on that job as soon as we get enough equipment installed but it takes time to get caught up after long years of shortages.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

The Picnic Was a "Hug" Success!

Our local Wild Life League went on a picnic Saturday, and I went along to cover it for the Clarion. Monday, folks kept stopping me, and saying: "Must have gotten out of hand, that picnic!"

"Nonsense," I say. "It was mighty pleasant and congenial. Just beer and hot dogs, cheese and cider." And then they show me the headline reading: "WILD WIFE PICNIC HUG SUCCESS."

Of course it was Elmer, my typewriter, who had made the "prints." But is my face red! It's only because folks are so temperate and well-behaved in our town, that they could afford to take the whole thing as a joke.

From where I sit, even a newspaper editor's entitled to a few mistakes. And since I reported that they served a moderate boverage like beer, I'm sure nobody thinks the picnic was the least bit wild, or anything but a huge success—and I mean hug!

Capitan Methodist Church

Rev. F. J. Johnston, pastor

My topic for next Sunday is "Life". And isn't that a mouthful and a heartful.

There is a lot of work being done on our new church this morning. With three carpenters busy on the inside and six men and a big mixer, pouring cement on the outside, I thrill with the timeliness of my topic "LIFE". I know that some of the ranchers will be working their cattle and that other men will be building roads. The Camp Meeting preachers have gone on their several ways to promote the kingdom of God on earth. I declare that it is great to be alive in this wonderful world. What precious days were those spent with the Ranchmen in Campmeeting on Nogal Mesa.

I believe that Jesus thrilled with similar experiences of work and fellowship and devotion. He knew well that life is more than food and the body and clothes so he lived redemptively every day. What a LIFE He lived!

The pity is that we shall have so short a time to consider this great topic of LIFE. Pray earnestly for me that I may be able to make use of every moment. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Thank you.

County Exhibits at State Fair

The State Fair Commission has undertaken to interest every county in New Mexico in entering a county exhibit at the 1947 State Fair. Leon H. Harms, fair manager announced. At its July meeting, Harms said, the Commission laid special stress on expanding the fair's agricultural displays and members undertook to interest their own home counties and adjoining counties in entering county displays. Last year only 14 of the state's 31 counties were represented in the county display building.

"It is the feeling of the Commissioners," Harms said, "That with the best crop year New Mexico has had since establishment of the State Fair ten years ago, we should make a determined effort to have every county represented with a county display of representative resources, thus going a long way toward making this year's fair our best and biggest agricultural show. Now in the midst of the crop season we are contacting county agents, chambers of commerce and leading farmers throughout the state in an effort to bring every county into the county agricultural building."

"Should all of the thirty-one counties enter displays the fair will award a total of nearly $1,000 in cash awards for the county division. We are offering a first county award of $100, second, $75; third, 50; fourth, $35; fifth, $30; sixth, $25 and to each other county entering, an award of $20. The county exhibits will be scored 50 per cent on correct representation of natural, industrial and agricultural resources; 25 per cent on quality of materials used; 25 per cent on arrangement and display or attractiveness of the exhibits."

New Parts Plant

A new parts fabricating plant devoted exclusively to the manufacture of Chevrolet parts to supply assembly plants and service parts warehouses throughout the country will be erected in Parma, a Cleveland (Ohio) suburb, it was announced here by Nicholas Dreystadt, Chevrolet general manager and vice-president of the General Motors Corp.

The new unit in the nation wide Chevrolet manufacturing system will occupy 1,325,000 Square feet. Construction is expected to begin immediately. "When in full scale operation, the new parts plant will employ approximately 5,000," Mr. Dreystadt said. "Employment will be on a gradually expanding basis as the plant moves toward capacity output."

Selection of Cleveland was made in consideration of the city's strategic central location, since this unit will supply assembly plants from coast to coast. Excellent shipping facilities and an adequate labor supply were factors recommending this choice.

Albert Kahn Associated Architects and Engineers, Inc., have been selected as architects, Mr. Dreystadt said.

Steps in the Training of a Good Hunting Companion

There's nothing like a good dog to add pleasure and profit to the hunt. But good dog companions don't just happen; practically without exception they are the products of long, conscientious training in the demands of the woods and fields. Some of the steps in the training of a good gun dog are here illustrated by Elias C. Vail, widely-known trainer of field dogs and director of the Galnes Research Kennels, Ridgefield, Conn.

"NO!" is one of the most valuable commands in preventing waste shooting in hunting. A dog who will refrain from eating when commanded "No!" is well on the way toward being well trained.

"HEEL!" This command keeps the dog at his master's side ready for any contingency. Pointers and Setters "heel" on the right side while Retrievers walk on their master's left side.

"WHOA!" Picking the dog up and then planting him down firmly on all four feet while restraining him from moving is the best way to teach him to stop in his tracks on this command.

"COME!" is the first step in training a field dog. He learns from repeated tugs on a long lead and from pats when he obeys.

THE YOUNG DOG learns the correct form for a point by example from association with an older and well-trained dog. Constant correction leads to ultimate perfection of stance.

FIELD TRIAL DOGS are run in braces. Exuberant dogs have to be held back until they learn to stand without a lead while waiting for the starting signal.

HOLDING a point until a gun is fired is taught by having one man flush the bird while another holds the dog. After the gun is fired the dog is allowed to run to the end of a long lead, and thus comes to associate the two.

Why Throw Minutes Away
 The other day, we heard about an interesting experiment a checking account depositor had made. He had fourteen bills to pay. So he paid each one in person with cash, and kept track of how long it took. He walked to the stores. At some places he had to wait in line; at others he had to wait for change. When he had completed his rounds, he walked home. It had taken him over two hours to do the job. The following month he had sixteen bills to pay. This time he sat at his desk, wrote a check for each one, addressed envelopes and mailed them at the nearest post box. It took him 34 minutes— exactly one-fourth of the time it took him to pay with cash.
 And that is only one of many reasons why a checking account at our bank can be useful to you.

Wash Hands Before Eating Urged as Polio Precaution
 Parents should see that children wash hands thoroughly before eating as one precaution against polio, particularly during the summer epidemic season, according to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.
 The National Foundation through its local chapter is issuing a series of six simple health rules that should be observed during the summer to help combat the disease.
 Scientific studies, financed by March of Dimes funds, indicate that the hands may be a means of spreading the virus infection through contamination of food, drinks or objects carried to the mouth.
 For this reason, a high standard of personal cleanliness should be maintained especially during the polio danger months—late June through September, the National Foundation cautions, adding that fresh fruit and vegetables should be washed well before eating.

THE FICTION CORNER

KITTENS HAVE CLAWS

By FAITH ELLEN SMITH

"YOU'VE got to go after them," Doris said. She sat on the upholstered wall seat, opened her bag, took out her vanity case and her cigar case. "That's the trouble with you. You're mousy."

"I'm what?" Nan asked. She sat on the stiff, hard chair on the other side of the little table and took off her gloves. They were white gloves, rubbed shabby by repeated cleanings.

"Mousy!" said Doris. "Mousy girls never get anywhere. Remember what I said that first day we saw Ralph going up in the elevator?"

"You said, 'There's the man I'm going to marry, unless he's got a wife and ten kids'."

Doris studied her reflection in the mirror of her vanity. Her hand, long, crimson nails gleaming, patted the crisp blonde waves beneath her small hat. A large diamond on her finger kindled to green and orange flame under the subdued lights of the dining room.

"Well, he had a wife and one kid, but I did it, didn't I? Do you suppose I got him by sitting still and wishing for him?"

"No," Nan said. "I used my head. I found out he worked for J. B. Simpson. I made up to the Simpson crowd when I met them in the washroom and took to calling for that dumb egg of an Adams girl for lunch. I got introduced to him—"

"I remember," Nan said. "I worked to get that man. If I hadn't, I wouldn't have an apartment on East Sixtieth Street and this set of summer furs that cost fifteen hundred dollars and my own car—and a house in the country next fall, when Ralph gets his promotion. . . . Now, about this man—"

"What man?" said Nan. Color of a newly open wild rose flooded her face. Her childish honest brown eyes were starry.

"How should I know what man? I haven't seen you since I had you to the wedding six months ago. A girl that's attractive to men and shows some initiative might be married in six months. But of course you're the kind that will drag along waiting for him to wake up and know you're on earth until he marries somebody else. . . . You wouldn't be so bad, at that, if you took a little pains with yourself and got some decent clothes."

Nan, who had started to slip off the coat of her suit, buttoned it again. The lining, she remembered, had ripped a little on the shoulder.

"And you'd be a good bet for some man who wanted a sensible, economical wife that didn't mind housework."

"Thank you," Nan said. "You would! I never could learn to cook and scrub and fuss around when we lived together—"

"Well, it's lucky I had what it takes to get a fellow that can afford a servant. . . . But, of course I'm younger than you are."

"Eleven months," Nan said softly. "Just a baby, really. Ralph always calls me Babe. . . . Did I

"There's the man I'm going to marry—unless he's got a wife and ten kids now."

"There's the man I'm going to marry—unless he's got a wife and ten kids now."

tell you he's in line for the vice-presidency?"

"Is he?"

"Sure of it, my dear! J. B. depends on him for everything. He and J. B. are like that. . . . Remember the fellow came up to the apartment with him the week before we were married?"

"Of course. Why wouldn't I?"

"Well, you moused around as if you were only half there. Hardly opened your mouth all evening. That was J. B."

"Was it?"

"There you got! That's just what I mean. You don't take any interest. Now if this man—"

"But what makes you think there is a—"

"It's written all over you, darling. You're in love. I never saw a worse case."

Nan's big brown eyes lowered to her glass. She became peony-red.

"Well, if you don't see fit to confide in your best friend, that's your business. But you let me tell you this for your own good. If he's worth having, don't let some other girl beat you to it! You will, though. You're all set for being a neat little old maid, living on a pension and loving a pet cat."

"I don't like cats," Nan murmured.

Doris extended a toeless suede sandal and a slender, silk-clad leg. "Cats!" she said. "Look at that run!"

"I see it," Nan said.

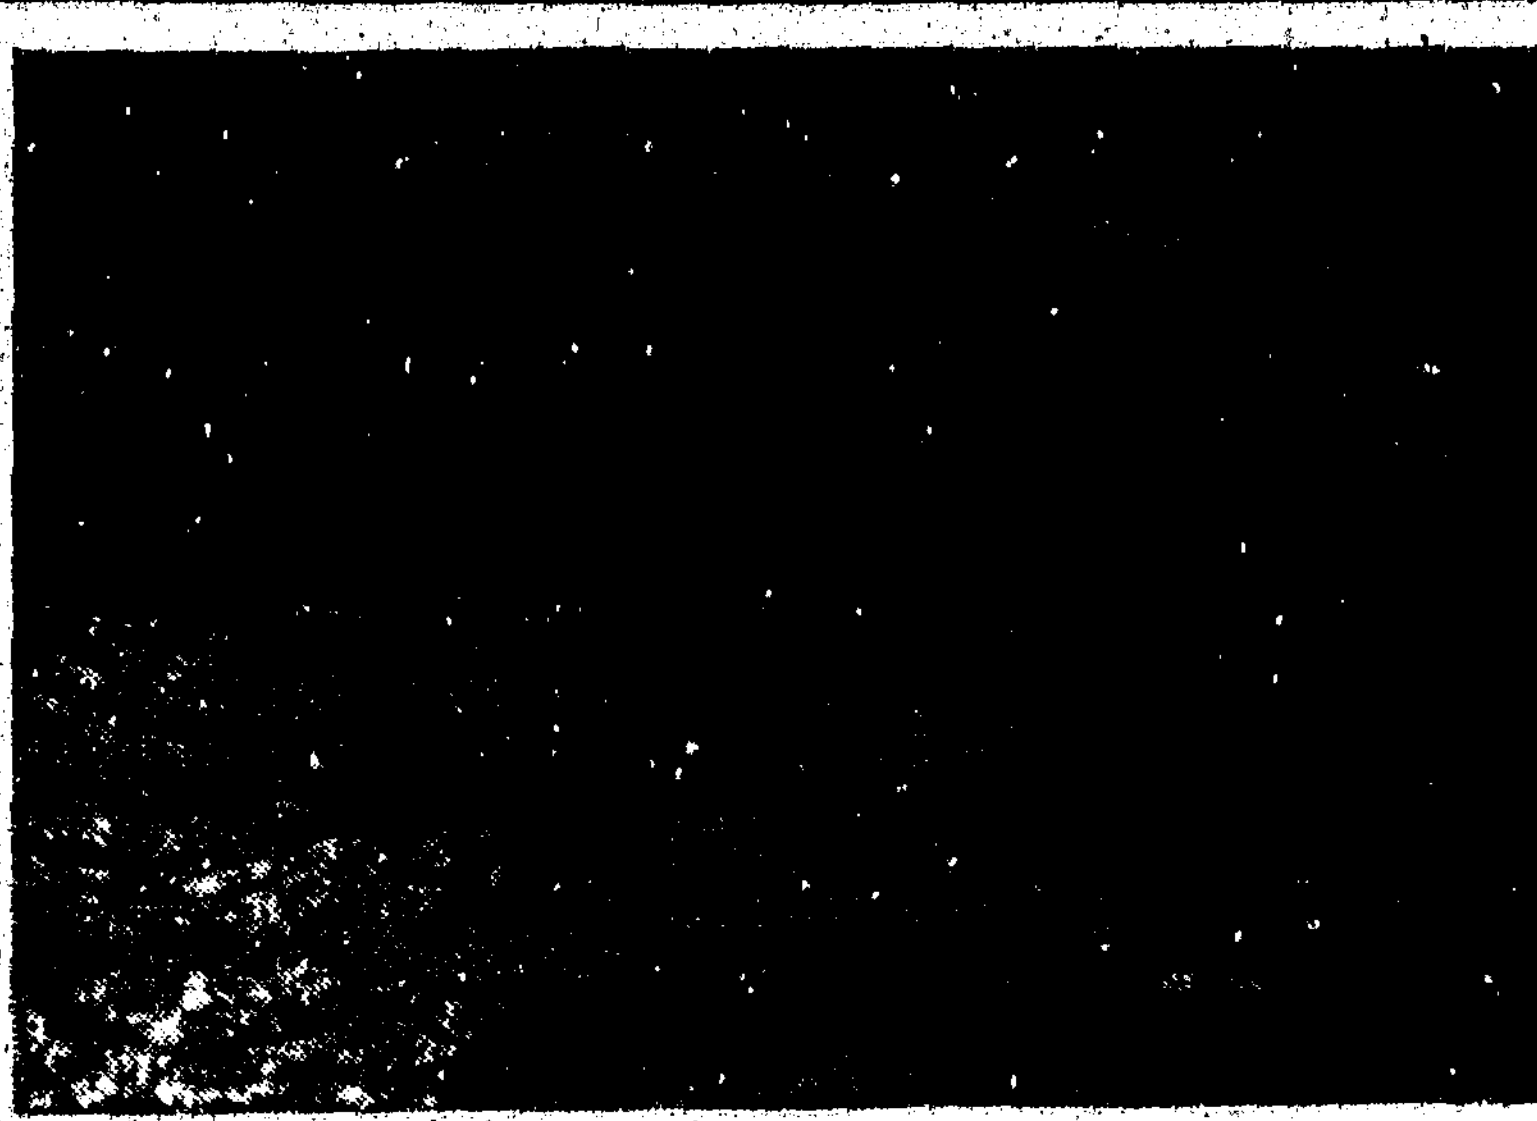

"Ralph bought me an angora kitten for my birthday. The darn thing must have been at these stockings."

"I'll have to dash in somewhere and get another pair and put them on. You come with me, and you can have these. They'll do for you, if you're careful mending them."

"I can't come with you," Nan said.

"You can't? Why not?"

"I've got a—kind of a date."

STORY OF EROSION . . . Acting through the ages, wind and water have carved this masterpiece of nature—the North Window in Arches national monument, Utah.

VAST LABORATORY

National Monuments Protect Scientific, Historic Features

WNU Features.

Several months ago National Park service received an urgent appeal from a small boy. "Send me some information," he wrote, "my class is studying about it." One might assume that the little boy was revealing an overconfidence in the ability of National Park service to "come across." Actually, the youngster was not too far out of line. The 171 areas that make up the national park system of the United States cut a wide swath across the total of natural and human phenomena. Throughout the entire country there is a genuine thirst for knowledge and from 500 to 1,500 requests for information are received daily in the central office of National Park service. These requests come not only from school children, but also from mature men and women. Many more thousands of people go directly to the national parks, monuments and historic sites to seek first hand for the answers to their questions. The national park system serves as a vast laboratory for the study of North American biology, geology, paleontology, history and pre-history.

The great national parks, such as Yellowstone, Glacier, Yosemite and Grand Canyon, were established primarily for the protection of magnificent scenery, but each of these parks also contains a boundless variety of natural phenomena. The national monuments, on the other hand, have been created usually to protect a single scientific or historic feature—an extinct volcano, an ancient Indian ruin or an early American fortification.

It often has been said that a national park covers a large area, while a national monument is small. This is not true. Many national monuments contain only a few acres each, but there are a number of geological exhibits in the national park system of such vast proportions that areas of considerable extent are required for their protection.

THE TWO LARGEST areas in the national park system are national monuments. These are Katmai and Glacier Bay in Alaska. Katmai national monument containing 4,215 square miles, is a volcanic region, the scene of a violent eruption in 1912 which resulted in creation of the Valley of the Ten Thousand Smokes. Glacier Bay national monument, covering 3,823 square miles of territory, embraces several huge glaciers and a bay choked with icebergs. Largest national monument in the United States proper is Death Valley, covering 3,531 square miles of desert and mountains. Here is located the lowest point in the country, 280 feet below the level of the sea.

Katmai and Glacier Bay national monuments are undeveloped and require much preparation and planning on the part of the visitor before he can explore them, but Death Valley, in California, so forbidding to the early immigrant, now can be visited in comfort and safety by the motorist. Death Valley, however, is extremely hot in the summer and the best seasons there are late fall, winter and early spring.

THE FIRST national monument was Devil's Tower in northeastern Wyoming, established by proclamation of Pres. Theodore Roosevelt in 1906. This is an 865-foot column of volcanic rock, which stands high above the surrounding country and may be seen for many miles. Muir Woods national monument in Marin county, California, just north of the Golden Gate, is another early national monument, having been created in 1908. Here is a small but fine grove of California redwood trees nestling in a deep ravine on the slopes of Mount Tamalpais. The monument was named in honor of John Muir, the famous naturalist, who did much to arouse public sentiment for protection of the redwoods and sequoias.

AMONG THE BETTER known national monuments, primarily of scientific interest, are the Petrified Forest on U. S. Highway 66 in eastern Arizona, the White Sands in south central New Mexico, Jackson Hole in Wyoming, adjoining Grand Teton National park, and the Badlands in South Dakota east of the Black Hills. Less well known, but accessible by highway are the Joshua Tree national monument in southern California, the Organ Pipe Cactus and Saguaro national monuments in Arizona. These three areas all contain unusual exhibits of desert type flora.

Capulin mountain in New Mexico, Craters of the Moon in Idaho, the Devil's Postpile and Pinnacles in California, Sunset Crater in Arizona and Wheeler in Colorado are all national monuments illustrating various forms of volcanic action. Capulin mountain is a particularly fine example of an extinct volcano, and the highway spirals around the mountain from the base to the rim of the crater. From the summit on a clear day one has a view extending into four states.

PERSONS INTERESTED in caverns will find the following group of national monuments of interest: Jewel Cave in South Dakota, Lehman Caves in Nevada, Oregon Caves near Crater Lake National park in Oregon and Timpanogos Cave in Utah. Shoshone Caverns national monument in Wyoming is not yet developed and is not open to the public.

Students of extinct forms of animal and plant life will profit from a visit to Dinosaur national monument in Colorado and Fossil Cycad national monument in South Dakota.

PERHAPS THE MOST interesting and unusual of all national monuments is a group in southern Utah near the Arizona border, which includes the Arches, the Natural Bridges and the Rainbow bridge national monuments. All three areas are relatively inaccessible. A road does extend fairly close to the first of the natural bridges, but from there on the traveler must proceed on foot or horseback. To reach the Rainbow bridge the visitor must make a two-day trip by horse.

With an automobile with over-sized tires it is possible to penetrate the Windows section of Arches national monument, but to the Devil's Garden one must go on foot or horse. The story told in these three national monuments is one of erosion by wind and water. Other national monuments which also tell the story of erosion are: Cedar Breaks, Zion and Capitol Reef in Utah, Grand Canyon and Chiricahua in Arizona, the Black Canyon of the Gunnison and Colorado in the state of Colorado.

FURTHER INFORMATION pertaining to national monuments may be obtained by writing National Park Service, Washington 25, D. C., or Chicago 84, Ill.

Statue of Liberty Is a New Yorker

WASHINGTON. — Although Bedloe's island, on which the Statue of Liberty stands, is part of New York state, the water surrounding it is part of New Jersey. Upkeep of the statue, which is now a national monument, is budgeted at about $60,000 a year. The seven families of National Park service employees, who live on the island, vote in New York City. Weight of the statue is placed at 225 tons, including 100 tons of copper and 125 tons of wrought-iron framework. The sheet copper, which has a green patina from oxidation, is three-thirty-seconds of an inch thick, about the thickness of a silver dollar. The head of the statue first was exhibited in Paris and the right arm and torch in Philadelphia at the centennial of American independence.

Be An "Engineer in Good Eating"--Do Home Canning!

Simple Instructions Based on Science

You may not have a degree as an engineer, Mrs. Housewife, but when you're home canning you're using scientific principles just as surely as a mining, chemical, electrical or other engineer. That is, if you follow glass jar manufacturer's instructions, for they are based upon scientific discoveries made over a period of a century and a half.

Back in Napoleon's time, a Paris confectioner, Nicolas Appert, set out to find a method of food preservation and win a 12,000-franc prize offered in 1795 by the French government. Napoleon, like Frederick the Great, believed an army travels on its stomach, and the folks at home got hungry and discontented too. Nicolas won the prize, after 10 years' work, but his methods and equipment have been greatly improved upon. He labored under many handicaps, not knowing a temperature beyond boiling is required for processing some foods and having to design his own glass jars. Not until 1860 did Louis Pasteur establish the fact that microorganisms are responsible for food spoilage. Fourteen years later, an American, A. K. Shriver of Baltimore, invented the "retort" or "pressure" cooker.

In 1858 John Mason patented the Mason jar with neck designed for receiving a screw type cap. The Mason jar with porcelain-lined zinc cap is an old reliable. Mason would probably be astounded by the 1947 cap for sealing the Mason jar. This new style cap is a two-piece metal affair with a Dome lid which has sealing compound on the under side and is tested for seal by pressing on the center of the lid with the finger. Sealing with the Dome lid is made doubly sure by the new type metal band which bears down on the lid at three pressure points.

Also reliable in seal is the lightning type jar with rubber ring, glass lid and wire ball.

Many scientific experiments and jar improvements have perfected processes for today's home canning and it is upon them that instructions you will find in reliable home canning literature such as the Ball Blue Book are based. Follow these instructions and you become an "Engineer in Good Eating"—much to the benefit of your family's health and increased pleasure at the table provided by delicious home canned foods.

Card Of Thanks

From the bottom of our hearts we wish to thank our loved ones, our neighbors and friends for the many acts of loving kindness shown us when we suffered the great loss of our dear husband, son, and brother, Joe. To all who so loyally came to our aid and to all who so faithfully stood by we give our heartfelt thanks. Each word of solace, each act of kindness and encouragement will linger always in our memories. The many and beautiful flowers testified to the high esteem in which our Joe was held, for them all we are deeply grateful.

D. A. V. To Organize In Lincoln County

It was announced by Paul Pomeo, Commander of the Departments of New Mexico Disabled American Veterans that plans were well under way to form a Chapter of the D. A. V., (the third largest veterans organization in America,) in Lincoln County. A meeting will be held in Ruidoso Thursday, August 7th in the American Legion Headquarters on Main Street.

Last week, Denvil D. Adams, National Service Officer for the DAV in New Mexico, accompanied by Field Robinson, Roswell veteran and Junior Past Vice Commander of the state DAV, visited Lincoln County and took the first steps to organize a sponsoring committee in the county, which was held in the Capitan High school July 15th.

"Because of its historical background and color, however, we favor naming the town of Lincoln as the home of the chapter", Adams said, "but the meetings can be held in Capitan, Carrizozo, Hondo and Ruidoso or elsewhere in any rotation which the members may desire".

In Ruidoso, a local committee of veterans has been named to contact veterans who are eligible to join the DAV. Justice of the Peace Herbert Smith is Chairman is being assisted by City Clerk Joe Dryden and H. G. Havenhill. In Capitan a similar committee is functioning with Fred Sweet as Chairman and Orlund Wilson and Lloyd Miller members. In the Hondo Valley Dan Storm of Glencoe and Bob Tilton of Riverside are contacting eligible veterans in their communities.

The formation of the new chapter of the DAV is being sponsored and approved by the American Legion and Veteran of Foreign Wars posts in the county.

Veteran Leland Barnes of Carrizozo, who wrote into the state headquarters of the D. A. V. and applied for membership, is heading up the organization work of the new chapter in Carrizozo, and all eligible veterans are urged to contact Mr. Barnes and make known their presence. Some twenty five Lincoln County veterans are already members of the D. A. V., having joined other chapters of the organization located elsewhere. It is planned to transfer these memberships to the Lincoln chapter in the near future and make these veterans charter members of the new chapter.

"The Legion and the V. F. W. can and will help the disabled veterans with their problems, but the D. A. V. is the disabled veterans own organizations—organized by and for them—and we want to stay within our field. If we do, we know we can be of real service." Robinson concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Weaver of Alamogordo were here Sunday visiting Mrs. Julia Sherrill.
