Outlook Vol. 37—No. 45

CORONA NEWS

Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Belden and daughter, Vickie, went to Arizona last week, but were called back because of the death of the Doctor's father in Fort Dodge, Iowa. Dr. Larry Belden and his wife and baby were here taking care of the community's health. On the return from Arizona the brothers started on the long trip to Iowa for their father's funeral.

Mrs. Raymond Perkins and Mrs. Walter Bryan attended the funeral of their father Mr. B. Greenwood at Duncan Oklahoma last week. Mrs. Greenwood, their mother returned home with them to reside. As a former Coronan she has many friends here.

Mr. J. M. Shelton's brother Buck wife and daughter Sally of Parker Arizona were in Corona the first of the week.

Mrs. Lee Pulliam visited her sister Mrs. Jones in Claunch last week. She returned home Sunday.

We failed to mention last week that Mrs. Francis Lovelace was called away to attend the funeral of her mother who passed away at Burbank, California.

We have just learned that Garrett Vick one of our most popular high school boys is in the Mountainair hospital with an enlarged heart. Garrett is on the Mountainair ball team, but lived near Corona and is well known here.

Jim Jack Davidson was unlucky in the first ball game of the Bean Valley Tournament at Mountainair last week. He received a broken leg while playing ball. Corona won third place in the Tournament.

Corona Grade School boys won second place in the Grade School Tournament at Capitan. Mr. and Mrs. L. Burgess and Mr. and Mrs. L. Vick were among those attending the Tournament at Capitan.

Mrs. E. E. Jarnagin and Mrs. Wesley King were visiting in the Bill Bagley home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McKibben were in Fort-Summer the first of the week and called on the H. L. Jarnagin family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McKibben made a business trip to Carrizozo Monday.

Three new babies, all girls, were born this past week. One to each of the following couples: Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grosenbacher, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simmons and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Ingram. Mrs. Ingram was the former Miss Elaine Ladd, a teacher in Corona School recently moved to Arizona. She named her daughter, Frances Laddine.

George English

George English was born in Arkansas July 27, 1893. He was married to Miss Susie Dale of Sonora, Texas. To this union two children were born. His wife and children preceded him in death. He was married to Mrs. Minnie Leslie who passed away January 22, 1922.

Mr. English is survived by a brother William and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday from the Kelley funeral home. Interment was at Ancho.

Legion Auxillary President Here

The Southern Pacific Hotel dining room was the scene last Monday of a banquet given in honor of State President of the American Legion Auxillary, Mrs. Josephine Koogler, and Mrs. Goldenberg of Aztec, New Mexico, who accompanied her on the annual visit to the Auxillary Posts of the state.

Auxillary colors of blue and gold were cleverly carried out in the placecards and the decorations. Snapdragons and sweetpeas were tastefully arranged on the table.

Mrs. Joe West, Sr. presented Mrs. Koogler with a gift of toilet accessories, in behalf of the Auxillary.

Guests were presented with oranges as were Mrs. West, the oldest charter member present and to Mrs. R. A. Walker former secretary, who has returned recently from Tucson, Arizona.

An informal business meeting was held at which Mrs. Koogler gave an instructive talk on the activities of the Auxillary.

Girl Scout News

The Carrizozo Girl Scout Organization is rapidly becoming a complete unit. The parents of our Girl Scouts and Brownie Scouts are to be commended for the effort they have made towards rounding out their new troops.

The following women have offered their services to the Girl Scout and Brownie Troop as troop committee members. Assisting leaders Mrs. Mabel Shultz and Mrs. Beale Hodgins of troop three are: Mrs. G. Dabney, Social Mrs. V. Elkins, Registration and Troop Budget. Mrs. Grace Eaker—transportation. Mrs. Lucille Patterson and Mrs. Janie Key—Camping.

Assisting Leaders Mrs. Mabel Vigil and Mrs. Joe G. West of troop two are: Mrs. Vernon Petty—Social. Mrs. Fay Harkey, Registration and Troop Budget. Mrs. J. Moore and Mrs. Eunice Mixon—Transportation. Mrs. Louis Nalda, Camping.

Assisting Leaders Mrs. Jane Shafer and Mrs. Edna Gallacher of Brownie Troop three are: Mrs. Joe Morgan, Social. Mrs. Annabelle Duncan, Camping. Mrs. A. King, Transportation. Mrs. Louis Huffman, Registration and Troop Budget.

The Girl Scouts and Brownies are also to be commended for their rapid advancement to tenderfoot rank a month after their registration.

At the present the girls are preparing for their first public appearance at the Women's Club the 21st of March. They will also celebrate Girl Scout Day, March 12th, at their regular Friday meeting in the Legion Hall.

Preparation is being made for the Annual Playday, March 26th to be held in Tularosa. All Girl Scout troops in this area will attend—each troop taking part in the activities. Carrizozo will be well represented.

To Appear At Methodist Church On Sunday March 16th

Methodist Church

F. J. Johnston, Pastor

Last Sunday I tried to encourage my hearers to do all they could to incline the hearts of our children to the Lord. Next Sunday I am stepping up the line with the topic: "As Goes The Youth So Goes The World." A few months ago we heard a great deal about, "A New World Order" There will be no new world order so long as our youth goes stepping along in the foot-steps of delinquent elders. Every generation must be a little better than its predecessor if our race is to get anywhere. So it is up to youth to tighten up their belts and make something of themselves. They can do it and I believe they will. But not all, and that will not be God's fault.

I am enthusiastic about our young people, or as the poet says "My heart leaps up when I see a rainbow in the sky." Martha Miller will give a reading at this service and Dick Brewster will play a trumpet solo. Please "Live Wires" be out one-hundred percent if there is one-hundred percent to you if not, then make it one-hundred and twenty five percent.

Of course everybody is invited. Please come.

Rifle and Pistol Club

An organizational meeting of the Carrizozo Rifle and Pistol Club will be held at 8 p. m. on Sunday March 15th at the Burton Hardware Store.

Officers will be elected, a request will be forwarded for a charter in the National Rifle Association and a practice range site will be decided upon at this meeting. All interested parties are urged to be present.

Democrats To Meet In Capitan

There will be a meeting of the Lincoln County Democratic Central Committee at Capitan on Saturday March 22 at 2 p. m.

All interested parties are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dow of Santa Fe spent the weekend with their parents Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Dow. While in town they added their names to our subscription list.

The Adult Choir and the Junior Boys Choir of the Tularosa Methodist Church are coming to the Carrizozo Methodist Church to give us a sacred concert next Sunday March 16th, at 8 P. M. This should be the best hour for all concerned. This musical will not be too long. Lovers of singing cannot afford to miss this.

The Boys Choir should be quite an inspiration to our children. In my opinion the Adult Choir would be hard to beat, anywhere. Please don't let these good friends of ours down. Give them a good hearing. No admittance charge. Just a free will offering. Let's pack the house Sunday Evening.

Ethel Maude Wilson

Ethel Maude Turnbull was born in Phillipsburg, Montana on January 25, 1891. She moved with her parents to Arizona when she was nine years old. She was married to Ross Campbell in 1907. To this union six children were born. Five of whom survive, Gloria Campbell, Charles Le Roy Campbell, Mrs. Elva Coe, Ernest Campbell and Mrs. Effie Marler. She came to New Mexico in 1910 and has resided here most of the years since then. Her home has been Ruidoso for the past thirteen years.

She was a member of the Episcopal church at Prescott, Arizona.

She became ill Friday morning February 23 while visiting her daughter at Coyote, was brought to the local hospital, and later transferred to St. Joseph's Hospital in Albuquerque.

Her sister Mrs. Effie Ulyatt, her five children and two of her four grandchildren were with her when she passed away March 9, 1947. These with a host of intimate friends and neighbors mourn her loss and will long hold her in loving memory.

Funeral services were held from the Methodist church at 10 o'clock. Rev. F. J. Johnston brought the message. Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Roy Shafer and Joe Morgan sang several numbers. The floral tributes were beautiful.

Interment was at 2 p. m. in the Stetson Cemetery where many of her Ruidoso friends had gathered. The entire community sorrows with the bereaved family.

Mr. Clint Branum of Denver spent the weekend with his daughter Barbara Jean and his sister Mrs. Margie Clouse.

Methodist W.S.C.S. Hold Meeting

The W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. R. Wellington.

Mrs. Albert Snow, president conducted a short business meeting, and for the program Mrs. Charles Hodgins presented, "Children and Their Church," with Mrs. Wellington taking part. Mrs. Calvin Carl and Mrs. Julia Sherrill served refreshments.

Three visitors were present, Mrs. Bill Kelt Mrs. Dea McDaniell and Miss Frame Degner. The members present, Mesdames Degner, C. W. Jones, L. Z. Manire, Charles Hodgins, Calvin Carl, Earl Thornton, Albert Snow Mrs. F. J. Johnston, Clyde Shultz and E. R. Wellington.

The next meeting will be March 26th at the home of Mrs. Lewis Ferris.

Civil Service Examination

Residents of New Mexico may now apply for United States Civil Service examinations for positions in local field offices of the Social Security Administration in the State. Examinations will be given to fill positions of Claims Assistant and Field Assistant with entrance salaries per year from $2394 to $2644.

Applications must be on file with the Board of Examiners, Social Security Administration, 321 Equitable Building, Denver, Colorado, by April 3. Application forms may be secured from the secretary of the United States Civil Service examiners at any first or second-class post office in which this notice is posted and field offices of the Social Security Administration or by writing the Board of Examiners at Denver.

The positions are key entrance jobs in the social insurance program and successful performance is excellent preparation for advancement in the service.

Field Assistant in these offices interviews employers and employees at their business offices, interviews in their homes persons interested in filing claims, and explains the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance program to groups, to individuals, and over the radio.

The Claims Assistant in each of the Administration's field offices interviews persons interested in filing for benefits under the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance program, assists in securing proofs of eligibility, and computes the amount of benefits due.

Rebekahs Entertain

Last Saturday night Coalinga Rebekah Lodge No. 15 entertained the Oddfellows and the friends of both orders at a social. A large crowd was in attendance.

Games and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. Refreshments of sandwiches, doughnuts and coffee were served.

Lincoln County Singing Convention

The Lincoln County Singing Convention will hold its first meeting since the war at Tularosa Saturday and Sunday March 15 and 16.

Everyone is cordially invited to bring a basket lunch and attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Spillier, Jr., of Albuquerque spent the past weekend at the Ben Nickels home. Mrs. Lola Spillier returned with them for a short visit.

Resolution

WHEREAS, the citizens of the Village of Carrizozo have petitioned the Board of Trustees, of the Village of Carrizozo, calling our attention to the necessity of an underpass between the East and West side of the Village of Carrizozo under the Southern Pacific Railroad Tracks and WHEREAS the Village Board of Trustees realizes the necessity of such an underpass, and the most appropriate place would be on Fifth Street, and that such an underpass be sufficient to carry pedestrians and automotive traffic. The crossing at Main Street could be closed thereby eliminating any street crossing within the limits of the Village so that the Southern Pacific Company would not have to cut their trains.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that we, the Board of Trustees, request that this matter be placed in the hands of the proper authorities for action.

KOB's Children's Show Every Saturday

Every Saturday morning children have their radios tuned to KOB waiting for Smilin' Ed McConnell's show to start at 9:30.

One of the real old-timers of radio is NBC's Smilin' Ed. He began his radio career quite by accident in 1922. Ed happened to be with a friend visiting a small studio in Atlanta, and when they arrived they learned that the piano player who was supposed to appear was ill. The friend announced that Ed was a piano player and singer, and he was immediately asked to fill in. That first audition started Mc Connell on a radio career that now is going on its 25th year.

He loves to recall the days when radio was in its infancy, when programs were of no definite length, when a station went on the air and stayed on as long as there were any performers handy, and then signed off until a willing artist came along.

Unusual Occupations

Sportlight

By GRANTLAND RICE

WHAT brand or breed of athletes make the most money out of professional sport? How do salaries paid out today compare with those of the past? Those marveling at the salaries paid to Bob Feller, Charlie Trippi and others fail to recall the total amounts collected by Babe Ruth annually from all of his financial deals. They also overlook the change picked up by Red Grange after he left Illinois to play with the Chicago Bears.

In addition to his contract with the Bears, the Redhead made a motion picture called "Two Minutes to Play." As I recall Grange's conversation at the time, something like two years after he had left Illinois, he was around $250,000 in front, and those were the golden, happy years when they let you keep most of what you made when there were no 70 and 80 and 90 per cent brackets.

The Galloping Ghost at the end of two years had made and kept more money than any four stars could do today. Unfortunately in other deals with C. C. Pyle, Grange blew a big part of his budding fortune.

Babe Ruth averaged far more than $100,000 a year in his prime. There were years when he passed the $200,000 count, including all the addendums with which he dalled.

Feller and Trippi have ranged into rich pastures, but they won't be so rich when they have paid taxes on their various checks. Don't forget that when Gene Tunney received a check for more than $999,999 after his second fight with Dempsey, more than 20 years ago, Tunney retained around 99 per cent of his pay. Today the tax department would take 60 per cent and leave Tunney 10 per cent.

In actual cash returns, Feller's $20,000 won't approach Babe Ruth's $20,000, not by $20,000 or more.

Leading Collectors

What are the leading money making sports as far as the individual star is concerned? Byron Nelson passed the $20,000 mark one season in golf prize money and this didn't include his receipts from addendums. This was worth around $40,000 more.

Ben Hogan reached the $44,500 mark in prize money in 1946. Hogan also had other pay checks that golf brought in. My guess would be a total of around $85,000 or $75,000.

So the pro golfer, or at least a few of them, can get along pretty well comparatively. A Nelson or a Hogan will do far better than a Coulter, a Trippi, a Buddy Young or any other pro football player. But the golf drop is rather steep after you take in the few crowd pleasers, the few big money makers.

Top baseball salaries have ranged lately from Hank Greenberg's $135,000 to Bob Feller's estimated $90,000. The difference in actual dollar returns won't be large after they have moved into certain brackets where the golden harvest suddenly reaches an abrupt finish. When you figure in the taxes and the present cost of living, the $10,000 that Hans Wagner and Charley Mathewson once drew are not so far away from the $25,000 and $30,000 boys of today.

As far as pro football goes it is an established economic fact that the two rival leagues can't possibly break even, team for team, with the salaries they are paying today. Baseball has 154 games a year, excluding the 30 or 34 exhibition contests. Against this, pro football can offer only 14 or 16 games a season. As every one knew it would, the new football league look a million dollars beating last fall. Certain National league teams were none too happy. The only happy people were the football players, who frequently were paid double their actual value.

Durocher Tops Managers
Leo Durocher apparently set a new mark for high pay as a manager in 1946. Here guesses have ranged from $60,000 to $70,000. Certainly Leo's unfortunate winter publicity isn't going to help him this spring and summer. He has left himself too wide open for the barb throwers, including rival teams and the umpires. But the Lip is still one of the best managers baseball has known. I've seen him work at close range—and this is no guess. It is also no guess to say that he hasn't made Brother Branch Rickey any too happy this winter.

In the way of pay, such jockeys as Johnny Longden and Eddie Arcore head the list. Longden's lifetime earnings are rated close to the million dollar mark. Arcore has known $20,000 and $100,000 years. Longden and Arcore probably are better paid than any other starting stars.

When they finally quit riding, they have a prospect of long and profitable careers as trainers, track executives, or owners.

After all, it is what you finish with, not what you get for a year, that tells the story.

BETTER THAN PILLS FOR CONSTIPATION

Finds Famous Breakfast Cereal Most Helpful of All

Have you given up hope of being "regular" again? Then read this sincere, unsolicited letter:

"I am a registered nurse and I know what a problem constipation is, especially with patients deprived of their usual physical activities. Where pills brought temporary relief, eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly actually prevented irregularity in more cases than I can mention. Your product is a great boon to our modern age." Miss Katherine E. Walsh, Town Hall, Newington, Conn.

Yes, eating ALL-BRAN regularly often brings lasting relief from constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet. For best results, eat it for breakfast every day—and drink plenty of water. Try KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN for 10 days! If by that time you are not completely satisfied, send the empty carton to the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Michigan, and get double your money back!

ALL-BRAN is not a purgative but a wholesome food made from the vital outer layers of a whole wheat. Eat daily either as a cereal, or in muffins. Ask your grocer for KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN.

Brandeis: There are two kinds of women. One is the kind men cheat on; the other is the kind they cheat with.

Will Harness Winds For Light and Power

German Engineer Has Plan to Solve Fuel Shortage.

FRANKFURT, GERMANY.—Herbert Honnel, one of Germany's foremost electrical engineers, plans to harness the force of the winds to solve his country's fuel and power shortage.

First practical application of Honnel's "waterwind power" is planned for Selenter basin, near Hamburg. Twenty huge wind generators, coupled with the same number of pumps, will be used to drive 10 turbines.

Honnel gets his power from "upstairs" wind currents, at an altitude of some 300 feet. He first noticed the winds in 1923 when he was building a lofty radio mast.

Later he found the wind currents were not 100 per cent dependable, but he overcame that weakness by coupling his wind generators to water pumps for "windwater power."

Now, with pilot plant experiments behind him, Honnel says he is ready to set the darkened cities of Germany aglow and restart the machines of factories made idle by the coal shortage.

Engineers say the same type of installation can be used at other dependable water power stations in Germany. Honnel tried to interest power companies and municipal governments in "waterwind power" before the war, but no one would listen.

His idea is a simple one. Wind power is used to pump water, which in turn is used to operate the turbines—which produce the electricity.

Electricity produced by water power is considered cheap in Germany at one cent per kilowatt hour, but Honnel says his wind generators reduce the rate to one-fifth of a cent. Furthermore, his revolutionary generators are not affected by rain, snow or ice.

Honnel's only problem will be in obtaining steel enough to build practical-sized plants. The steel shortage is almost as acute as the power shortage. There's no coal to create the power to operate steel mills.

Fancy Trimmings for Men on the Way Back

PHILADELPHIA.—The row away that plain suit of somber hue, Mr. Conservative Male. You're going to blossom out in color and fancy trimmings for the next year or two.

Museum of American Circus Is Being Planned in Florida

SARASOTA, FLA.—Work on Florida's newest showplace, the Museum of the American Circus in Sarasota, has been stepped up. Ringling Museum's Director A. Everett Austin Jr., announced.

The state board of control has granted approval of architectural plans for converting into a circus art museum a building erected by the late John Ringling.

An appropriation for circus museum construction funds has been inserted in the Ringling museum's budget which will go to the Florida state legislature for approval in April. All American circuses, as well as show people and collectors the world over will be called upon to furnish at the museum classic examples of American circus art.

Circus chariots, wagons, trapezes, programs and costumes worn by great performers will be shown in the new museum. Exhibits will include an old steam callopo, recalling the way in which outdoor shows summoned customers. While 19th century circus art will be displayed, 1947 performers—clowns, midgets, bareback riders, aerialists and such high-wire wonders as the Wallendas will be on hand.

Frontal Type Thunderstorms To Be Studied by Government

WASHINGTON.—Secrets of the "frontal" type of thunderstorms which occur from the Rocky mountains to the Atlantic coast will be sought in a six-month investigation beginning April 1.

Weather Bureau Chief Francis W. Reichelderfer said the investigation will be conducted from the Clinton County, Ohio, army air field.

Army and navy planes will fly through and around the storms to measure and record their characteristics. Other observations will be made with radar ground equipment.

Woman Really 'Drops In' For Meeting of Union

NEW YORK.—The business meeting of Local 14, AFL Engineers' union, was interrupted when a young woman dropped in—right through the skylight.

Cynthia Buckman, 18, explained that she was on the roof taking pictures and absent-mindedly sat on the glass to focus her camera. She was treated at a hospital for cuts and bruises, but her condition was not serious, physicians said.

Nijinsky, Greatest Dancer, Alone Did Entrechat Dix

Vaslav Nijinsky, the greatest male dancer of all time, although still alive, has not given a performance since he became insane in 1918, a year after his one American appearance in New York.

One of his ballet steps, never achieved by any other dancer, was the entrechat dix, a vertical leap during which he crossed his feet ten times while in the air.

6 mod. 3 yrs.

A COMPLETE four-piece outfit for your tiny cherub. It's delightfully easy to make—round yoked princess dress is trimmed with ruffling; slip and panties are edged with dainty lace. Make several of the gay rompers for warm weather. An ideal gift for a new arrival.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Keep the heels of new shoes unscuffed by painting them with your colorless nail polish.

Save small glass jars with screw tops. Use them to keep food in the refrigerator. They require less room than dishes, and the tight covers keep odors from refrigerator.

Few foods contain such a variety of vital nutrients as peanuts. Use them in cookies, cakes and frostings, also with meat and vegetable dishes.

Do you lose your patience when you sew with a double thread and the thread tangles? Tie a knot at the end of each thread instead of tying the two threads together.

Use a stick and not a brush for stirring paint. Forcing the brush into the corners will damage the bristles.

Onions can be used to disguise a strong flavor in lamb, mutton, soups or stews.

Papered walls often can be painted successfully provided the paper is not too badly torn. However, if there are some worn places it is better to strip the wall completely, repairing cracks and crevices before starting to apply the water paint.

Select a shelf in the kitchen on which to store waxed paper, napkins, individual cups, string and scissors. When preparing lunches you'll find this a wonderful convenience and time-saver.

Rinse milky glasses promptly in cold water to prevent stubborn rings.

Reinforce bath towels along the sides with heavy tape. Then the shower addicts in the family can give themselves the usual vigorous rubbing without pulling your bath towels apart.

END CONSTIPATION THIS NATURAL WAY!

Millions Now Take Healthful Fresh Fruit Drink Instead of Harsh Laxatives!

It's lemon and water. Yes—just the juice of 1 Sunkist Lemon in a glass of water—first thing on arising.

Taken first thing in the morning, this wholesome drink stimulates bowel action in a natural way—assures most people of prompt, normal elimination.

Why not change to this healthful habit? Lemon and water is good for you. Lemons are among the richest sources of vitamin C, which combats fatigue, helps you resist colds and infections. They also supply B1 and P. They alkalize, aid appetite and digestion. Lemon and water has a fresh tang, too—clears the mouth, wakes you up!

Try this grand wake-up drink 10 mornings. See if it doesn't help you! Use California Sunkist Lemons.

It's What You Keep That Counts
It's an old axiom that anyone can make money, but it takes a special kind of ability to put a few dollars away regularly for the future. A well known business leader once said, "If you want to know whether or not you are likely to succeed in life, ask yourself this question, 'Can I save money?' If you can't, the seed of success is not in you." The reason is simple. Money management calls for good judgement, discipline, wisdom, thrift and determination—the qualities that help a man to succeed at any task. If you haven't a savings account with us, we invite you to open one. If you already have an account here, come in and make a deposit every pay day.

Thin The Vegetable Garden Row
It is next to impossible to grow vegetable seed thinly enough so that the young plants do not crowd each other in the row when they come up. This is particularly true when the seeds are very small.
Correct seedlings, for example, should be thinned to stand about an inch apart when they are three inches tall. Otherwise the roots cannot develop as they should. Radishes are of better shape, too, if the plants are thinned to stand about an inch apart while still tiny seedlings. Green onions can be thinned by pulling and using the extra seedlings for the table when they come up too quickly.
Best seed should be planted at least 1 1/2 to 2 inches apart for each little pellet usually contains two to four seeds. When the plants are four to five inches tall, every other one can be pulled for greens. If this is done at intervals while tops and roots are small, space will gradually be left for some of the roots to reach good size.
Sowing last lettuce seed sparsely helps to avoid the extra work of later thinning. Even when the plants are fairly thick, instead of thinning the plants, some home gardeners prefer to cut the larger outer leaves, leaving the inner ones to grow. If you like to use each lettuce plant just once, thin to about two inches apart when small. Then, as they become large enough to use, pull up alternate plants and leave the others to grow.
Best beans should be planted two to four inches apart and just enough seedlings removed from the row so that the remaining ones are four to five inches apart. Beans usually produce more abundantly when the plants do not crowd each other.
Turnips usually do better and grow more rapidly to table size if given three or four inches in which to spread. It is important that turnips grow to about an inch in diameter to avoid being tough and fibrous. Of course the thinnings make delicious greens when young and tender.

Veteran News
 New hope for war-deafened and other hard-of-hearing veterans who seek restoration of normal hearing has been developed in a series of operations conducted by a doctor in the VA hospital in Sawtelle, California. As a result of surgery, 15 veterans whose ears were made useless by service connected injuries now are able to hear partially and in six months, hospital officials believe, hearing will be restored to normal. Plans are being made to adopt the technique in all VA hospitals depending on results as evident at the end of that time.

The Veterans Administration has ruled that any veteran who while on active duty, was subject to a court martial including punishment, but was later restored to active duty, is eligible to apply for National Service Life Insurance. The only veterans barred from applying are those who were not restored to active duty following their court martial.

Veterans who wish to transfer from one school to another no longer need fear a delay in their subsistence allowance checks as a result of new procedure instituted by Veterans Administration. The veteran merely applies for a Supplemental Certificate of Eligibility with this, he includes a statement of acceptance from the school to which he wishes to transfer and a letter of good standing from the school at which he is at present enrolled. Upon submission of these to his training officer, a transfer is speedily effected without delay of other subsistence payments to the veteran or tuition checks to the school.

Veterans with spinal cord injuries, in previous years doomed for the most part to a life of inactivity, now are offered a chance to lead productive lives through modern medical science and developments in the Veterans Administration hospital program. VA has established seven centers in hospitals strategically located from coast to coast, especially designed to treat veterans with spinal cord injuries which result in partial or complete paralysis of the body.

Personnel skilled in this field have been assembled at these hospitals and veterans will be transferred to the hospital nearest their home for proper treatment. The two centers nearest the Rocky Mountain area are located at Chicago, Illinois and Van Nuys, California.

Surplus Sale
 Construction, farm, mining and industrial machinery, as well as parts for mining and industrial machinery, will be offered by the War Assets Administration in a spot sale to be held at the Denver Auditorium Annex March 19, Regional Director John A. Skeen announced. The equipment cost $145,000. Veterans may participate in the bidding by presenting their honorable discharge from the service.

Blasting caps and detonating fuses which cost $200,000, now located at the Wingate Ordnance Depot, Gallup, New Mexico and the Pueblo Ordnance Depot, Pueblo, Colorado, are offered on a fixed price basis until March 17.

Miscellaneous construction material, including sewer pipe, tile, conduit, ventilators, cement and asphalt, suited to use in housing construction are included in the sale which closes March 21. The materials are at various army installations located at Clovis, Roswell, Ft. Sumner, Santa Fe, Kuniac, Albuquerque and Alamogordo, New Mexico; Pueblo, La Junta, Colorado Springs and Denver.

Electrical fittings, also adaptable in building construction, are programmed for sale through March 20.

The sale of builders' hardware, precision and hand tools is scheduled in a WAA sale which closes March 21.

Another sale of miscellaneous hardware and hand tools, including horse-shoes, harnesses and saddles, will close March 24.

Litter carriers and ambulance litters, suited to use by hospitals, scout organizations and various types of health units, are offered in a sale which closes March 27. These items, which cost approximately $85,000, are located at Colorado Springs and Denver.

The Livestock Situation

Los Angeles Union Stock Yards March 10, 1947 — Livestock markets were extremely erratic for the week. Substantial upturns were chalked up on slaughter cattle, the first half but advances were not fully held on steers. Hogs, after strengthening the initial session broke rather sharply in late rounds, while lambs hit hard going and closed unevenly lower than the previous week.

Cattle receipts, locally were slightly under the week but marketings at 12 points were somewhat larger. A very light run Monday started prices on fat cattle on the upgrade and steers advanced $1 to $1.50 the first half of the week. Some late sales and bids showed part of the earlier upturn lost. Cows and heifers advanced unevenly 50c to $1.50, maximum improvement on dairy cows and fed heifers. The upturn in the stock was fairly well maintained in late rounds. Bulls worked 50c or more higher than the previous week while calves displayed little change. Stocking and feeders, in light supply ruled strong to slightly higher.

Good to choice steers reached a peak of $25 Tuesday and $24.25 to $24.50 was paid on a few loads in our quiet auctions. The $25 top was the highest since the week price advances were dropped, in mid-October. Several loads of good steers brought $23 to $23.85 with bulk of fed steers turning in a spread of $19.75 to $23, common grades down to $18 and under, some very plain light Mexicans dropping to a $15 to $17 spread. Good fed heifers touched $21 for the first time in several weeks. Good cows hit $15.50 to $16.50, including dairy breeds up to $16 and a load of 1016 lb. Imperial Valley cows at $16.50. Medium to good average good cows sold largely at $18.50 to $19, cutters $10.50 to $11.50 and a few canner down to $9 and below. A few outstanding bulls sold at $17 to $18 while several loads of range bulls brought $16.50 to $16.75; bulk medium sausage bulls $16 to $16.50; few common down to $13 and below. Good to choice vealers held at $22 to $23, with good weighty calves going at $20 to $22, common kinds dropping to $15 and under. A few loads of fleshy feeders sold at $19 to $20 and good yearlings at $17 to $18.

After a slight rally Monday to a top of $30.50, equalling the all time record of the previous week hog values went into a tailspin. The late actual top was $28.50 with possibly 29 indicated on strictly good grainfeds. Some extreme heavy butchers sold late at $25.75. Good smooth sows sold at $24 to $24.50; with some plain rough sorts down to $20 and $21 in final rounds. Feeder pigs sold freely at $30 to $35.

Fat lambs were under pressure all week and prices gravitated to lower levels. Some good to choice 115 lb. Imperial valley lambs sold at $20.25 with possibly $21 quote on select lighter weights of similar grade.

Are you using these "hired hands"?

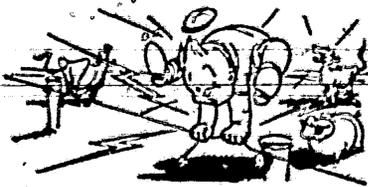

It often seems as though a farmer or rancher never has enough help. But did you ever stop to think that there are literally thousands of people who work for you that you seldom, if ever, see?

These unseen "hired hands" are the scientists of agriculture, who work for you the year 'round in agricultural experiment stations of the nation. Their accomplishments are many—and can benefit you directly in proportion to the advantage you take of their services. They've helped increase productivity of the land, helped develop better yielding crops, better livestock and poultry. Let me, never satisfied that perfection has been reached, the experiment stations continue to explore the possibilities of further aid to agriculture. The experiment stations in the 48 states are to the business of agriculture what our research laboratories are to Swift & Company. It is in the research laboratory that we put science to work for us, to improve our products and our business. It costs us money—but we consider it money well spent. Farmers and ranchers are indeed fortunate to have much of their research work done for them—are paid for out of public funds derived from taxes.

We like to think of these agricultural experiment stations as a vast bank of valuable scientific knowledge. To maintain the assets of this bank, millions of dollars from this year's $1,235,055,000 budget of the United States Department of Agriculture go to the various state experiment stations, to conduct experiments sponsored by the U. S. D. A. In addition, about $12,000,000 is provided by the states to staff and maintain the stations. Remember, this is your bank from which you can make withdrawals of real value any time you wish. Information is available on any subject relating to farming or ranching. Direct your request either to the Dept. of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., or to your own state college, state experiment station or extension service. If you do not have the address, ask your county agent or vocational agriculture teacher. Or write to us at Swift & Company, Department A-5, Chicago 9, Illinois.

Two Different Things

There seems to be a good deal of misunderstanding about two factors which are important in the marketing of livestock—grade and price.

Simply defined, the purpose of grading is to provide a convenient but necessary means for comparing qualities of the meat animals in a market; or for comparing the animals in one market with those offered for sale in another market. However, grading is not an exact science because it depends to quite an extent on the judgment of the person doing the buying or selling. Grades are standards which take into consideration the sex, weight, quality, conformation and finish of animals.

Now, let's have a look at price. Price is not a factor in determining grade. Just because some animals are in a higher grade does not mean that they always will sell for a higher price than animals in a lower grade. For example, it happens at times that a medium grade of cattle sells for as much or more than a good grade. Such a condition may come about when there is a heavy demand for, but only a light supply of, medium cattle; while on the same day a big supply and a light demand of good grade cattle will not bring so high a price.

The same situation may exist in the case of lambs. In communities where racial customs affect eating habits, there are times when carcasses of light weight, thin, lean lambs sell for as much as the fat, well-finished, choice type. Again the law of supply and demand is in action.

Always remember that price and grade are two different things. Try to think of each separately, and we believe you will have a much clearer and truer picture of grading and marketing of livestock.

F. C. Smith, Vice President In Charge of Beef, Lamb, Veal

Martha Logan's Recipe for BEEF GOULASH

- 2 pounds beef chuck
 - 1/4 cup flour
 - 3 tablespoons fat
 - 1 1/2 cups water
 - 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
 - 1/2 cup celery leaves
 - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 - 1 clove garlic
 - 1 teaspoon dry mustard
 - 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
 - 1/4 teaspoon sage
 - 1 teaspoon caraway seed (optional)
 - 1 teaspoon salt
- Cut beef into chunks and roll in flour. Melt fat in skillet. Brown meat well. Add remaining ingredients. Cover skillet and cook slowly for 3 1/2 hours, or until tender. (Yield: 6 servings).

Things are NOT always as they seem

Which of the two steaks shown at left is the larger? The white one or the black one? The white one certainly appears to be bigger. But actually they are exactly the same size.

In the livestock meat industry, too, things are not always as they seem. For example, sometimes people think of Swift's total profits as being large. Yet the actual fact is that in 1946 dividend payments to shareholders were less than 4% on the shareholders' investment; the company's net earnings from all sources were 1 1/2¢ per dollar of sales... only a fraction of a cent per pound of product handled. That's news to be doing business on a mighty narrow margin—and it is!

CARE OF FEEDER LAMBS

By T. D. Watkins, Jr., Montana State College

Feeder lambs, thrifty, growthy, healthy, ready for the feed lot, are generally a product of the grassy western rangelands. Because the gain of a lamb is closely correlated with its mother's condition, the ewe must be well nourished prior to lambing time, and thereafter, until the two of them go on green pastures. Newly born lambs thrive when clean lambing facilities are supplemented by fresh green grass. During lambing time, and the first few days afterwards, individual attention on the part of the breeder means dollars in his pocket.

Range lambing accepted, as soon as lambs are born, the parent and her offspring should be placed together in a small enclosure, until the lamb is strong. As ewes and their lambs are grouped together, the numbers should be gradually increased in order that each lamb may learn to find its mother in the band. Those ewes bearing twins should be separated from those bearing singles. The former should receive additional supplemental feed and the best pasture. From the time lambs and ewes go on pasture until marketing time, the less the disturbance the greater the gains. The key to good feeder lambs lies in adequate nourishment of the ewe, good sanitation, and personal attention and management.

A Big Market of Little People

A new outlet for meat has been developed! Hundreds of thousands of "little people" in America, the babies of the nation, are now eating meat. Swift's Meats for Babies and Juniors are specially prepared for them. These new products give today's babies a better chance than ever before for robust health and full physical development.

The better the feed, the better the baby! That's why doctors are so enthusiastic about Swift's Meats for Babies. They know that meat provides complete, high-quality proteins, the essential body-builders—iron, the blood-builder—and needed vitamins in natural form. They know, too, that these vital food elements in meat are most important when babies are young—actually, building their bodies. And so, many doctors are recommending Swift's Meats for Babies and Juniors—strained for the very young and diced for older children.

This is but one example of the many ways Swift's research, distribution and promotion contribute to the nation's nutrition and build new markets for the products of your farm and ranch.

Mothers: If you'd like a free copy of a new informative booklet, "Meat in Your Baby's Diet," write Swift & Company, Dept. B, Chicago 9, Illinois.

New Sugar Stamp Valid April 1st

Spare Stamp 11 in family ration books will be validated on April 1, 1947, for ten pounds of sugar. Frederic A. Adams, Regional Sugar Executive, announced.

The new stamp, OPA said, is provided to cover both regular home use and current home canning needs. There will be no special stamps for home canning sugar validated during 1947.

Spare stamp 11 will remain valid through September 30, 1947, the agency said. Barring unpredictable disasters affecting sugar supplies, it will be possible to make another ten pound stamp good on July 1. It is emphasized that such sugar is to cover both home canning and other home uses.

Stamp No. 53, now valid and good for five pounds will expire on March 31, 1947.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

And That Ain't Hay - Or Is It?

I guess all of us secretly hanker from time to time, for the good old days and the good old-fashioned pleasures. Leastways, Buddy Richards done a thriving business reviving the old-time hayride.

With a team of horses, and a stout straw-headed rack, Buddy can take as many as thirty adults - at fifty cents a head!

Two or three times a week they start from Town Hall, and go out along the river; stop for a friendly glass of beer at Shoreside Tavern; and come home by way of Pound Ridge... nine miles in all.

Not very exciting, you might say. But from where I sit it's not excitement that we need these days - but those simple country pleasures that are part and parcel of America - the old-fashioned hayride, with its song and jollity; the horseshoe games; the friendly glass of beer; and the good companionship that they engender.

Lillenthal Expounds Democracy to Senators

AGAINST the background of a crowded committee room and amid an atmosphere of spine-tingling dramatic tension and pin-drop silence, the smug complacency of this capital city has been jarred into acclaim for a son of immigrant parents who gave the senior member of the United States senate a lecture in fundamental Democratic precepts. It was a lesson which every person, every official and bureaucrat in every unit of the government down to the township and school districts in every community of the land should take to heart.

The son of immigrant parents was David E. Lillenthal, former head of TVA and now chairman of the highly vital and important atomic energy commission. The senator was Kenneth D. McKellar, of Tennessee, who is serving his 20th consecutive year as a member of the United States senate.

During the 76th Congress he was president of that body and acting vice president of the United States. He is vindictive, petulant, tyrannical and grudge-bearing. Like some others in congress he often has used his official position to browbeat and smear senators and witnesses before senate committees in a manner foreign to any democracy, and more akin to totalitarian dictatorship.

Senator McKellar has been a bitter political foe of Lillenthal because he could not control him nor make a political football out of TVA. He sought to prevent senate approval of his chairmanship of the atomic energy commission by hurling innuendoes as to his character, his competence, his parentage, without avail. Finally he began heckling him as to whether or not he was a Communist and believed in communist principles.

'Integrity of Individual'

Then the drama unfolded and in a voice, low but distinct and electric with fervor, Lillenthal said:

"Senator, my convictions are not so much concerned with what I am against as what I am for. . . I believe, and I so conceive, the Constitution of the United States to rest upon, as does religion, the fundamental proposition of the integrity of the individual; and that all government and all private institutions must be designed to promote and to protect and to defend the integrity and the dignity of the individual; that is the essential meaning of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, as it is essentially the meaning of religion.

"Any form of government, therefore, and any other institutions which make men means rather than ends, which exalt the state or any other institutions above the importance of men, which place arbitrary power over men as a fundamental tenet of government, are contrary to that conception, and therefore I am deeply opposed to them.

"The Communist philosophy as well as the communist form of government fall within this category, for their fundamental tenet is quite to the contrary. The fundamental tenet of Communism is that the state is an end in itself, and therefore the powers which the state exercises over the individual are without any ethical standards to limit them. That I deeply disbelieve. . .

"It is very easy to talk about being against Communism. It is equally important to believe those things which provide a satisfying and affirmative alternative. Democracy is that satisfying, affirmative alternative. Its hope in the world is that it is an affirmative belief, rather than being simply a belief against something else and nothing more.

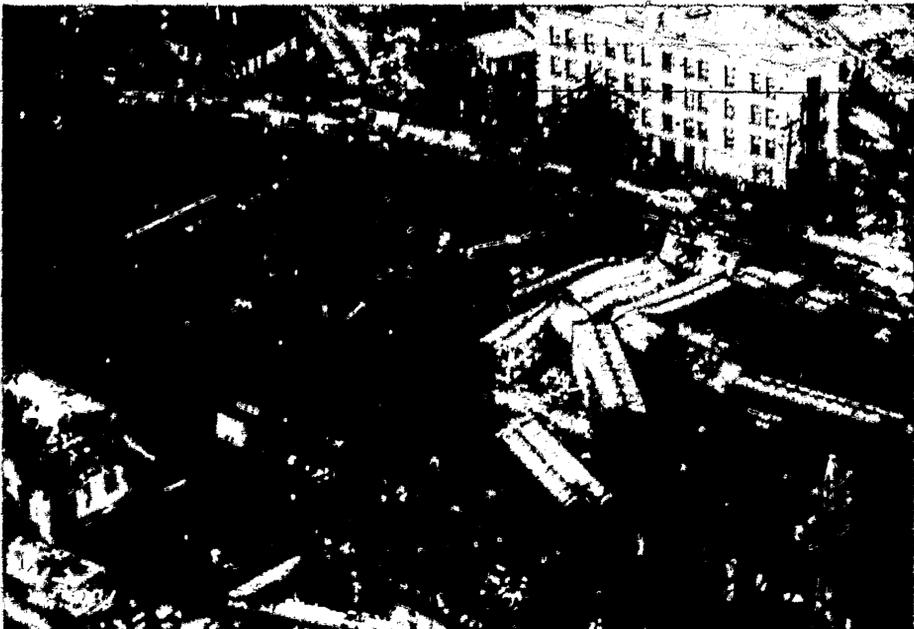

"Among the things we must practice is that while we seek fervently to ferret out the subversive and anti-democratic forces in the country, we do not at the same time, by hysteria, by resort to innuendo and sneers, and other unfortunate tactics besmirch the very cause that we believe in, and cause a separation among our people. . . cause one group and one individual to hate another, based upon mere attacks, mere unsubstantiated attacks upon their loyalty.

Legal Safeguards

"Whether by administrative agencies; acting arbitrarily against business organizations; or whether by investigating activities of legislative branches, whenever those principles . . . of the protection of the individual and his good name against harassment by government and the maintenance of his freedom of expression . . . are violated, then, too, we have failed in carrying forward our ideals in respect to democracy. That I deeply believe."

CANDLELIT CONFERENCE TABLE . . . Clad in overcoats, members of the central electricity board met around a candlelit conference table to discuss the British power crisis, with not even one measly little watt of electricity to help them think.

PICTURE OF DESTRUCTION . . . An all-embracing view from the air of the scene where a 41-car New Haven railroad freight train jumped the tracks a short distance out of Stamford, Conn., station and spread spilled cars and merchandise over two city blocks. A railroad foreman was slightly injured in the crash.

DIAMOND SHAPES . . . Big Crosby and Bob Hope take a detour from "The Road to Rio," to see a little brighter about their favorite outdoor sport. . . Both baseball owners, they look askance at each other as they exhibit what the well-dressed baseball player will wear on the diamond this season. They seem to have forgotten their horses and golf in their new-found love. Pittsburgh Pirates and Cleveland Indians may ask them to be active in management of clubs next summer.

TWENTY-FIVE FASHION . . . You know what kind of park your ancestors wore in the Victorian age, but what will your descendants be wearing in the year 2477? The answer it shows, above in design of Buck Rogers' contact.

PAYS CONGRESS A VISIT . . . Gen. George C. Marshall, U. S. secretary of state, told the foreign relations committee that the "world is in a very critical condition." Left to right: Arthur H. Vandenberg (Rep., Mich.), chairman of senate foreign relations committee; General Marshall, and Sen. Tom Connally (Dem., Tex.), former committee chairman, listen to the nation's number one diplomat as he tells the senate committee his attitude on world affairs.

CAN YOU BLAME 'EM? . . . They're so tired of automobiles, telephones, "Kitty Was Here," detective, skywriters, traveling salesmen, tall buildings and "Open the Door Richard" that Nellie Kenyon, 38, and her cancer wife, Constance, 37, are going to do what a lot of other people would like to do. They're taking in a 36-foot hotel for the South Seas.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round
DREW PEARSON

OTHER SIDE OF UNRA
WASHINGTON. — All the angry shouting and politicking which surrounded UNRA during the last two years have given taxpayers the general impression that this global agency was just tossing money down the drain. That, however, was not the case. Here are some little-known facts about UNRA's remarkable accomplishments.

UNRA supplied enough grain to make 11,500,000 loaves of bread for Europe, prevented Europe from becoming a disease-ravaged, epidemic-plagued continent, rebuilt health departments all over Europe, supplied them with DDT, penicillin and sulpha drugs. It inoculated hundreds of thousands against typhus and typhoid, thus preventing the type of epidemic that ravaged Europe after World War I.

Last year UNRA fed at least one meal a day to five million children, helped reclaim 10 million acres of flood land for planting this year. It took care of one million displaced persons, provided them food and shelter, saw hundreds of thousands of them safely home.

Despite its errors on the political side, UNRA did two things. The agency made nations work together in harmony, made the postwar world a better world for millions who otherwise might have perished. It is only fair to remember this side of the picture.

GOVERNMENT JOBS

Memo to government workers: Don't get too excited about those statements by Representatives John Taber and Harold Knutson that the congressional budget committee, of which they are members, favors immediate reduction of government personnel by one million workers.

Inside fact is that most members of the committee, excluding Congressman Taber and Knutson, are apprehensive that a too-sudden slash in the personnel question will be referred for further study to the senate and house appropriations committees.

When a decision finally is made, the reduction in government personnel will be much closer to 500,000 than one million.

BEATS TRUMAN AT FARMING

IA Vern Hall of Westby, Wis., champion 4-H farmer of America, who has made $43,000 at the age of 20, called to shake hands with President Truman, who never was able to make a go of farming in Missouri.

GOP Congressman William Stevenson, who escorted his young constituent, told the President how Hall was chosen "national achievement winner" among junior farmers at the International Livestock exposition in Chicago. One of the prizes was a silverware set from the White House.

"I'd like to meet more of your type," said Mr. Truman, perhaps remembering how his own farm was sold for his mortgage. "You young Americans are doing great things for the country. It must feel pretty good to be a successful farmer at the age of 20. When did you get started?"

His visitor replied that he started at the age of 11 with one pure-blooded calf and two Poland China hogs. He did not mention that his farm holdings are now worth $43,000.

QUEER VISITORS

The late FDR once told a visitor he was considering sending an ambassador from the American people to the state department, since that department sometimes seemed so out of tune with the rest of the USA. Unfortunately, that condition hasn't changed.

While thousands of Hitler's victims still sweat it out in displaced persons camps unable to get visas, the state department has been throwing the doors open to various interesting visitors. These include Austria's former premier, Kurt Schuschnigg, Pastor Niemoller—who reiterated his belief in a powerful Germany—and now, one of the key Fascist operatives of the Near East, Ahmed Hussein.

Hussein arrived ostensibly as a correspondent for Cairo newspapers but he is still head of the pro-Fascist "Young Egypt" party, and an intimate of the infamous "Muti" of Palestine, whom Hitler chose as his fueler of the Middle East. Since reaching these shores, Hussein has cast off his role of newsmen and has registered with the justice department as a foreign agent representing "Young Egypt." He has been selling his special brand of pro-Fascist, anti-British vision.

CAPITAL CHAFF

It hasn't leaked out, but Brig. Gen. Elliott Roosevelt was recommended for a permanent reserve commission by the army reserve officers commissioning board, headed by Lt. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle. But when President Truman sent the nomination to the senate, Elliott's name was omitted. On the list, however, were several GOP opponents of the Reserve bill, particularly former Maj. Gen. Pat Hurley, who blasted both the President and the state department a year ago.

Murder in Plain Sight

by GERALD BROWN

W.N.U. FEATURES

McCauley, private detective, is investigating the murder of Curt Vallancourt, who was about to marry Veronica Bigelow, heiress to thirty million dollars, when he the principal suspect—McCauley was the principal suspect—McCauley was the principal suspect—his throat. "All right," he said. Then, "I'm not going to let you. Things to do. Lots of them. Chin up, now. I'll see you tomorrow. Good-night."

"Good-night." She made an attempt at a smile. "And thank you." Of one thing he was sure, Curt Vallancourt had really loved Veronica Bigelow. Start with that fact. He had burned his bridges, carefully and conscientiously, including Shari Lynn? He thought so. Funny what love will do for a guy. But he must have been aware of his antagonists—of their viciousness if what he intended doing became known. He was certain that he knew of his danger. He had woven his spell with the blackest of arts and had been caught at it. That was his undoing. He must have been conscious of playing a long chance those last few days. But he went to his death blithely all the same, even welcoming it in the knowledge that something fine had happened to him that had never happened before. He had been betrayed, however, by hope.

McCauley was silently deriding the philosophizing he had been indulging in when he came abreast of his own doorway. Just when it was that the first warning came, he

They formed slowly out of the mist that still clouded his vision somewhat. They read: DETECTIVE SHOOT. His mind struggled with this and he made a slight motion with his head. A golden blonde angel leaped over and kissed him lightly on the brow.

"Where am I?" He mouthed confused thoughts. "Why, darling, this is Ann. You know where you are?" "Uh-huh," Fuzziness began to leave the edges of his brain. "This is heaven. Do that again angel." He started to put an arm about her. Pain seared his shoulder. He groaned a bit coming wide awake. "Behave, yourself!" Ann said. "You're in no condition to become amorous. Good lord, did you see that?" She flung the morning paper on the floor. "The papers have you at death's door. Here, let me lift you up a little."

She propped a pillow behind him and sat down. There were deep shadows under her eyes.

"Have you been here all night?" he asked. "Sure, why not?" "Why didn't Rocky make you go home?" "Do you think I'd leave you to the tender mercies of that behemoth? Every time you asked for a drink, he reached for the bottle of Scotch." She scowled.

Just then the door opened and Rocky stuck his head in. He grinned broadly on seeing McCauley awake and sitting up.

"Doc Preble is here, nurse." He dropped a curtsy to Ann. "Preble!" McCauley howled. "The coroner! What is this? I'm not dead—or am I?"

Ann chuckled. She did not look too tired or harassed now that she smiled.

"When you fell in the doorway last night, you looked pretty dead to me. I fainted. Rocky had the two of us in his hands. Of course, he simply let me lie there. With the door wide open, I wasn't unconscious long. I came to and stumbled up the stairs to find he had stretched you out on the office desk, too much like a corpse for me to think of anything else. What with Rocky beating his own brains out and cursing that someone had bumped off the boss, I dialed headquarters. The homicide squad, down to the last legman, were here in three minutes flat."

Preble was short and thin and past middle age and sported a goatee. He had the typical medical man's all-seeing eyes.

He looked McCauley over shrewdly, examined the wound, and re-bandaged it in short order.

"You'll do," he said. "Stay in bed for twenty-four hours. Don't want you running a temperature. You're a lucky guy. The bullet was deflected by the cigarette case you carried in your upper vest pocket."

"Was it a forty-five?" "Undoubtedly, from the nature of the wound. If it hadn't been for that cigarette case, it would have ripped you wide open. Well, mind what I say now. This girl needs some sleep." He turned to Ann, hunched, and went off, giving Rocky the stare of an anthropologist ignoring an interesting but inferior specimen.

Donlevy Calls And Talks

A half hour later, McCauley was interrupted in the middle of exasperated resentment at the "light" diet ordered by the doctor and carried out to the letter by Ann. The telephone rang. Ann, provokingly placing the bedside telephone out of his reach, and with a smug expression on her face went into the outer office to take the call.

"That was Veronica Bigelow," she said matter-of-factly. "I had the devil of a time before she'd trust me with the message. She's upset no end. It seems that Donlevy has arrested Christopher Storm."

"When?" "Last night or early this morning. She's been trying to get the office ever since, I suppose."

"You suppose?" "Well, I—I stuffed blotting paper in the telephone bell last night. I thought the ringing might disturb your rest—the doctor said."

"God Almighty. Between you and the doctor, I might as well be a corpse. I was all hopped up with morphine, wasn't I?" He turned himself around with a painful effort.

"Now, Duke, you're not to excite yourself. You'll raise a temperature."

"To hell with my temperature. Get Donlevy on the wire."

Obediently she called police headquarters, only to learn that the homicide man was on his way there at that very moment.

McCauley patted her hand, feeling ashamed of his irascibility. He resigned himself to waiting for Donlevy.

In less than twenty minutes, the lieutenant strode in, in the wake of Rocky. The two of them so big, but so different, bulked hugely in the doorway. Donlevy, with a muttered greeting to McCauley, flung himself into a chair. Cravices of fatigue and worry lined his face.

"MASSES" DO NOT REALIZE BENEFITS OF FREE ECONOMY IN A REPUBLIC, such as our forefathers established for us, democratic government is controlled by the masses, not by either the mobs or the business executives. The masses include those who plow and sow and reap that all may eat; those who gather our raw materials from the mine, the soil and the forest; those who tend the machines in our factories; those who man our system of transportation; those who build our homes and roads. These, all consumers of our products, constitute the masses as distinguished from the business executives. The masses outnumber the executives by fully a thousand to one, and each has an equal voice as to what our government shall be.

The executive class does not control or direct America, much as it may believe it does, or should. Each executive has only the same percentage of say-so as has each worker in field, factory, store or transportation. That system of government, that way of life, favored by the masses, will be dominant in America.

The executive class, those who direct our industry, transportation and large scale merchandising, can see the direct result of the working of the American economic system to the industrial and financial problems as directed by them. Such results appeal to their ego in many cases. They look upon their achievements as great things accomplished for the nation, and they wish to see those accomplishments fully recognized. Many of them spend money rather lavishly to pay for that recognition! It tickles their vanity, although it accomplishes nothing in the matter of preserving the economic system that makes such accomplishments possible.

To us, the masses—the workers and consumers—the results for us as achieved by our economic system are more indirect than direct. While we may not see the black figures on the balance sheet of industry, transportation and large scale merchandising, we do profit indirectly by a higher standard of living than that enjoyed by any other people in the world.

What we call Communism, which is nothing more than state capitalism, the nationalization of business, is contending for world mastery. Communism is fighting the profit system, with this country the main battleground. The forces of communism are waging a propaganda warfare among the workers and consumers of America. Because our benefits from our free enterprise system are sufficiently indirect that we do not fully realize its application to our individual problems, we are more susceptible to that communistic propaganda than are those whose benefits are direct. If we are to be proof against that kind of warfare we should be provided with the armor of factual information. As individuals we are, as are those of the executive class, seeking that which we believe is best for ourselves as individuals.

While vast sums are being expended to attack our economic system; to show us, the workers and consumers, the so-called advantages of Communism as they apply to us as individuals, little or nothing is being done to provide us with the weapons or armor of defense. Many of the executive class are spending large sums for the purpose of portraying themselves, to themselves, as exemplary citizens and business successes. They are but fiddling for their own edification while the primary foundation underlying our American greatness, our system of free enterprise, is burning. We, the workers and consumers, need to be told the values of that system to us as individuals. Without such telling we may lose that heritage, and when we do those who profit directly will pay heavily for their negligence.

IF WE CAN believe the crude, amateurish, fantastic oil paintings the state department is sending to foreign governments as examples of American culture, are really representative, it probably would be better to substitute Russian Communism for our vaunted superiority. It could not be worse than the paintings that are presented as the best of American art.

"MISERY IN LOS ANGELES"

A DIRE "disaster" happened to some people in the Los Angeles railroad station. All connecting trains for the night had departed when that train from the East arrived. Passengers did not have hotel reservations, and rooms were unobtainable. There was nothing for the unfortunates to do but spend the night on station benches, and the benches are hard. Many of those "disaster victims" wished they had remained at home. California did not look soapy to them.

CHAPTER XIV

But how can I be sure it's the emptiness of love? It's more like—oh— She broke off, burying her head in her arms. "I don't know."

"I think I understand," he said quietly. "It hits you sort of in the stomach instead of in the heart."

"Yes, yes. That's it." But she grimaced as though the thought so stated was a trifle vulgar. She brushed a tear from the corner of her eye.

"About the scrap of letter you found—a letter to Curt."

"Yes, that. I was sure it was from Vicky. She's always been so funny about Curt. Her attitude seemed to be that because she had known him first, she had priority rights over him. Something like that. I was shattered by that note and what it implied. And when I accused her, she was so hard in spite of her denial. In a foolish moment I gave it to Aunt Addy. I was so upset."

"I know that," he said. He hesitated, not sure whether to go on; then decided to risk her shock at what he had to say. "It is cruel, perhaps, to tell you now," he began, "but necessary. We haven't much time. The inquest is the day after tomorrow and—"

"Oh, but do, I'm able to stand anything after—" she shuddered—"after this afternoon."

"You see," he said bluntly, "the thing you suspected, the plot to gain control of your inheritance, was real. It was a diabolical plot—all were in it."

He expected her to cry out or to huddle away from him. He was nearly bowled over himself when she almost laughed, saying, "But no—no. You're wrong, Mr. McCauley. Oh, I don't mean about the plot. You're wrong in thinking I didn't know about it. I was so horrified. . . . Well, I went first to Chris—and."

"You went to Chris Storm?" A signal flashed through his mind. He clamped his teeth together hard!

"Yes. He was furious, of course. He wanted to have it out with Curt then and there, but I persuaded him not to. I said it was my job and that I would do it."

"And did you?" "Yes. I went right to Curt before the rehearsal, the day before—before he died. But you see, I was wrong in one thing. Curt confessed to the original plot. That was true enough, but—"

"But what?" McCauley's mind was working furiously, conjuring up all kinds of absurd visions. He pulled himself up abruptly.

"You see," she said carefully, a tremor in her voice, "Gurt loved me. He really did. Oh, I know. He'd been a hellion all right. He told me a great deal about himself that day—about his past—about Shari Lynn. But for once, it was the real thing with him. He could hardly understand it himself, but there it was. He was truly in love for the first time in his life. He was going to turn his back on them all. We were going to be happy together. There wasn't anything they could have done after we were married."

"Had he told them?" His voice was soft, insistent.

"Oh, no. I think he realized the danger, because someone was watching him."

"You mean—"

"Yes. He told me we'd have to be careful right up to the hour of the wedding. He joked about it a lot because he considered it funny. He said, 'Set a thief to catch a thief,' or 'When thieves fall out, things like that. He supposed they were suspicious because he'd been seen with Shari Lynn. The papers had got hold of it, you know.'"

"Didn't he know who was following him about? Did he say whether it was a man or woman?"

An Attempt on McCauley's Life

"No. He said I wasn't to worry about it. That was all." She began to cry softly. He helped her out and paid the driver. He didn't speak until the taxi had driven off.

That afternoon—the one before yesterday—when you and Curt came into the living room, he flashed you a signal with his eyes."

"You noticed that?" "Yes. What did it mean?"

"It meant that everything was all right, that he'd destroyed everything—his letters, his associations, everything that had tied him to the past. It was as if he said—her voice broke—"as if he said, 'Look, darling, the past is all finished. I'm done.'"

McCauley blinked the eyes, cleared couldn't afterwards recall. He had just looked up to see the lights of his office gleaming faintly. He was only a few feet from the doorstep when it came—that intuitive message from his nerves, his glands. Call it what you will, it reaches up out of the vastness of our primeval beginnings to warn us. It gripped him now, thrusting icy claws down into his diaphragm. He started to turn; then thought better of it. Then he began to run.

The report came like a firecracker, hard by on his right. He heard the sound of running feet. He felt a ghastly blow near his heart. He reeled, stopped in his tracks. A low whisper escaped his lips. His knees buckled as a pain shot through his side. He climbed up the steps somehow. He thought, "Oh, God, this is how Curt Vallancourt died. I wonder what went through his mind—crawling up those endless stairs?"

After a thousand years, the door swung open. Ann stood there. She seemed far away in the dark. He forced a smile.

"Hello," he said, conscious of slobbering.

"You're tight," she said.

A Narrow Escape From Death

"No." His own voice sounded different and from way back somewhere. "I don't drink. You know that. I've been held up."

"Yeah—all the way home. I'll bet. What have you done with Veronica Bigelow?"

"Don't tell me you're jealous of her." He swayed, hardly aware of this insane stalling.

It must have been then that she saw pain glaze his eyes, bare his teeth. She moved forward, sudden terror striking her.

"Duke!" she gasped.

His legs gave way again. Slowly he slid to his knees, crouching there. His face twitched a moment and he made a mumbling noise before he pitched forward.

He didn't hear Ann's scream.

Once during the night, he became conscious. It was like being dragged up into the light from the depth and darkness of a great well. He felt a breath of cool air and opened his eyes. He realized his throat was parched. He asked for water and a phantom floated into view. It was Ann. She held a glass of water for him. Her eyes, he noticed, were big and filled with love for him and fear for him, too.

"That's Ann," he thought. "I'm sick and she's worried about me. She loves me and she's worried. That's great. That's the best."

When the black curtain of morphine lifted again, it was another day. The room was light. The first thing he saw was big black letters.

Notice is hereby given that on the 14th day of February, 1947, in accordance with Section 8, Chapter 128, Session Laws of 1941, Daniel R. Brenton of Carrizozo, County of Lincoln, State of New Mexico made formal application to the State Engineer of New Mexico for a permit to appropriate the Public Waters of the State of New Mexico in Nogal Canyon and LeBaron Spring, Canyon of the Tularosa Closed Basin by means of sand, gravel and earth diversion works located at 5 points; S. 72° 30' E. 1600 feet distant; S. 72° 30' E. 1570 feet distant; N. 71° 30' E. 1950 feet distant; N. 59° 00' E. 2120 feet distant; N. 55° 00' E. 3230 feet distant; all from the SW Corner of Section 32, Township 8 South, Range 13 East, N. M. P. M., being in the SE¼ SW¼ and NW¼ SE¼ of said Section 32, and Lot 3 of Section 5, Township 9 South, Range 13 East, N. M. P. M., and 60 acre feet of water are to be conveyed to 20 acres of land described as follows:

Subdivision	Sec.	Twp.	Range	Acres
SE¼ SW¼	32	8	South 13 East	1.1
NE¼ SW¼	32	8	South 13 East	4.0
NW¼ SW¼	32	8	South 13 East	0.5
SW¼ NW¼	32	8	South 13 East	4.8
SE¼ NW¼	32	8	South 13 East	5.1
NE¼ NW¼	32	8	South 13 East	3.2
NW¼ NW¼	32	8	South 13 East	1.3

Total 20.0 and Supplemental Water to be conveyed to 40 acres of land on 40 acres of land having rights established under License No. 2444 and described as follows:

Subdivision	Sec.	Twp.	Range	Acres
SE¼ SW¼	32	8	South 13 East	12.0
NE¼ SW¼	32	8	South 13 East	16.0
SE¼ NW¼	32	8	South 13 East	12.0

Total 40.0

Said Water to be conducted to the lands described by means of open ditches and there used for irrigation, fish culture, stock and domestic purposes between the dates of January 1st and December 31st of each year. It is also proposed to build 3 reservoirs with a combined capacity of 2.1 acre feet to be filled and refilled with flood waters as they are available and to store the same for use on the lands described.

Any person, firm, association, corporation, the State of New Mexico or the United States of America, deeming that the granting of the above application will be truly detrimental to their rights in the waters of said stream system, may protest in writing the State Engineer's granting of approval of said application. The protest shall set forth all protestant's reasons why the application should not be approved and shall be accompanied by supporting affidavits and by proof that a copy of this protest has been served upon the applicant. Said protest and proof of service must be filed with the State Engineer on or before the 21st day of April, 1947, the date set for final consideration of this application if not protested.

John H. Bliss, State Engineer.
