Your Local Fire Department

What do you know about it? What does it mean to you?

If you carry Fire Insurance—it saves you many dollars each year. Without it, your rates would be MUCH HIGHER.

If you do, or do not, carry Fire Insurance—You have the assurance that the Fire Department will do it's best, when you have a FIRE.

Their best is none too much. Without the proper equipment, it will be even less.

To maintain and improve your Fire Department, the Village budget has a fixed amount each year. Also they receive a payment from the underwriters which is used for improvements.

But that is not enough, they need more; if the department is to be well kept and improved. Also none of this money can be used for anything except equipment and building to house the equipment. Not even for an extra room as a club room for the boys or to pay them anything.

The boys give their time WITHOUT PAY. Sure they wear old clothes at the weekly practice. But how about a real FIRE—do they stop to change, NO. The boys take a loss in clothes ruined at every fire. Who pays for that? THEY DO.

They have never asked for donations; they do not intend to, so to raise the needed money they must resort to other means; each dollar you give, donate or pay to the fire department is money they can use, as they see fit, to finish their club room, to complete their building, etc.

So when you are called upon in their sale of tickets, buy as many as you can. It will be far better to pay a few dollars to the Fire Department NOW and keep it up and coming than to REBUILD after a Fire.

Street Carnival and Dance to be Held October 1st Benefit Hospital Fund

School Notes

A large crowd of fans witnessed the first football game of the season held here last Friday. The score was 12-0 in favor of Captain. The Grizzly's will journey to Corona today.

Mrs. Doyle, of Santa Fe, State Representative of the School Lunch program will be here next week to visit the lunch room here and discuss plans for the program.

New pupils enrolled this week are: Auvy Gunnels, 8th grade pupil; Sylvia McLeod, 1st grade; Betty McLeod, 2nd grade; Billy McLeod, 4th grade; Kenneth McLeod, 6th grade.

The Student Council has had the Grizzly football schedule for the season printed on 14x22 cardboard posters and placed a schedule in every business place in town, they plan on sending the schedules to neighboring towns.

The generous cooperation of local merchants in buying advertising space on the card, not only made the schedule possible but netted a nice sum for the Athletic association, which was badly in need of funds.

Our thanks to you for helping us out of a spot.

BOONE-FRAZIER

Mr. J. J. (Buster) Boone and Mrs. Cora Frazier were united in marriage Saturday afternoon September 18, 1948, in the city of Portales, at the home of the Rev. Harvey Giles, Baptist minister who is an Uncle of the groom. Rev. Giles performed the ceremony.

Wedding guests present for the occasion were Mrs. Frazier's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam DeLott, Tulare; her daughter, Mrs. Graham of Puento, Calif.; Mrs. Boone's mother, Mrs. W. M. Boone; and his uncle, Mr. W. G. Kelsey.

The bride was attended by her daughter, Mrs. Betty Graham, and the groom's only attendant was his elder son, James Boone of Carrizozo.

The bride is chief operator for the local Mountain States telephone exchange. She is efficient and has many friends here.

The groom has made his home here for about 15 years. He is driver for Ray Tinguely's truck Mrs. Boone's representative. He also has a great many friends.

The couple are at home in Carrizozo where they recently purchased a home.

REBEKAH LODGE MEETING

At the regular meeting of Coal-ora Rebekah Lodge No. 15, last Thursday evening the members voted to donate $50.00 of their Beehive fund to the Carrizozo Municipal hospital which is to be built. An intensive campaign is being conducted by all the local organizations, and citizens of this part of the county to raise the $15,000 which have been pledged for this purpose. The Rebekahs expect to raise additional funds October 1st when the street carnival or block party is held.

After the business meeting was closed and during the social hour Mrs. James Duncan was presented a beautiful embroidered and fringed bed spread as a going away gift from the Lodge. Mrs. Duncan has been an enthusiastic worker and Lodge members regret her departure very much.

As is customary Lodge members attended church services Sunday, as that was their anniversary date. Last Spring's special attendance was at the Baptist church.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

Boy Scouts, under the direction of their leader, Mr. Warren Ratliff have been cutting weeds and cleaning off the vacant lots around town. Lots next to the Lyric theatre and at the rear of the Masonic Temple have been cleaned. Mr. Ratliff and his troop will leave for Camp-o-ree near Captain today.

Every organization in town is to join forces for a Street Carnival and dance which will be held here Friday, October 1st immediately following the big rally in honor of Governor Mabry and party.

The V. F. W. will be in charge of the Street Dance. Mr. Elmer Huet and his orchestra will furnish the music.

Refreshment booths, food booths, and the many attractions usual for a street carnival will be in operation.

The Student Council will have charge of a section of the evenings events.

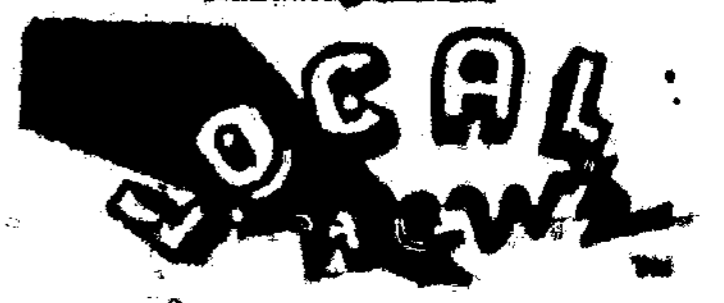

Now don't forget the date—October 1st, following the political rally. But the main thing not to forget is the purpose of this all-out fund raising campaign. It is to augment the hospital fund and will go toward the $15,000 pledged for the purpose.

This is the largest and by far the most important fund we have been called upon to raise for many years and is perhaps of greatest import and significance.

Faith: A Family Tradition
Lesson for September 24, 1948

HERE IS a brief Bible quiz: What Christian man did Paul recommend to the Philippians as the one completely unselfish person he knew? When Paul needed a man to present his ideas to a "problem church," whom did he send? When Paul wanted reliable information about a church, on whose report did he depend? Whom did Paul call "son" more often than any one else? The answer to all these questions is the same: Timothy.

Certainly a man whom the great Saint Paul found so congenial, so reliable, so unselfish and effective a Christian, is a man worth our careful attention. We ask this question about him: What made him what he was?

Faith at Home

SOME MEN have to leave home to find faith. But perhaps the happiest Christians, certainly the most fortunate, are those who cannot remember what it was not to have faith. It was the atmosphere they breathed as children. The first people they knew were Christians, prayer and faith were taken for granted, the name of Christ was heard only in reverence and love, never in jest or anger.

Timothy grew up in such a home. When he became a mature, working Christian he had no wasted years to regret, no wild oats to pull up. The faith of his adult mind was not scarred by the acid remains of earlier doubt. Timothy's life was all of one piece. He was born to faith, he grew up in it.

Home can do a great deal for the children who live in them. But nothing else—physical health, police, culture, friends, ambition—nothing else is quite so valuable a gift or quite so lasting, as faith.

In later years faith may have to be pounded into a person or shocked into him; but in childhood faith is woven in, welded in, and that is as it should be. Happy the Christian who does not have to turn his back on his childhood when he turns his face to Christ!

Book of Wisdom

"RELIGION cannot be taught, it can only be caught," is an old saying. It is partly true, for you cannot set any dozen people at random down on a bench and teach them into faith. If teaching religion were as simple as that, then every Sunday school could guarantee that every one of its graduates would become a saint. Nevertheless, religion can partly be taught, for in a book there may be crystallized the faith of many a generation. A book may concentrate and preserve the insight, the inspiration, the assurance of men and women who though dead yet speak.

Living with books of faith is like living with many families of faith at the same time. Such a book is the Bible. And it was the Bible, or so much of it as had been written, the Old Testament, which was the one book in Timothy's boyhood home. Through the Scriptures, the boy's mother taught her son not merely her own faith but that of many a generation before her time.

In our own day, parents may feel that they come too far short of being saints, so they hesitate about urging their perhaps dimly-kept religion on their children. Yet in our Bible there is open to all fathers and mothers a means of placing their children in an atmosphere of intense faith.

Personal religious genius is rare; but even though you may be anything but a genius, you still can bring to your child the treasures of the Bible, product of the highest inspiration and insight the world has known.

Women of the Family

TIMOTHY'S FATHER was Greek, probably not a Christian. He and Timothy may never have understood each other. It was the women of the family who molded the boy's mind and heart, his mother, Eunice, and his grandmother, Lois.

It is always so. It is the women of a family who have most influence for faith or against it. The boy knows his mother before he knows any one else. She teaches him to talk, he absorbs her attitudes and ideas even before he understands them. If father and mother differ in religion, it is likely that children will follow mother rather than father.

Nourishing Boxed Lunches Are Hard to Resist
(See recipes below)

Lunch Box Magic
WHILE THE YOUNGSTERS struggle with readin', writin' and 'rithmetic, mother frequently has her problems with the lunch boxes which she must fix for the family that lures its own.

The lunch box preparation is a steady grind now that school has started, and it's a wonder that more women don't go into the doll-drum about it more often. You have to supply nourishment plus food appeal to keep the family happy with their meals out of a box, so here are ideas aplenty.

If you have several lunches to prepare, have jars of filling ready. All lunch box equipment can be kept handy on a tray so that you don't have to scurry around for waxed paper or a knife while you try making sandwiches in the midst of breakfast preparation.

Leave butter or spread out the night before so that you can smooth it on immediately. Fruits can be washed, puddings made in advance, and relishes such as carrot and cucumber sticks and pickles can be wrapped in waxed paper ready to tuck in the box in the morning.

BE KIND to the budget and make the whole thing as simple as possible by making several jars of filling beforehand so they can be sliced on the sandwiches easily. Here are several ideas tailored to your needs.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

- Baked Lamb Loaf
 - Broiled Peach Halves with Mint Jelly
 - Baked Potatoes
 - Spinach with Cheese Sauce
 - Oatmeal Bread or Muffins
 - Baked Apples Beverage
- Blend ingredients together thoroughly and store until ready for use.
- Liver Spread
1/2 pound calves' liver
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
2 cups boiling water
2 slices cooked bacon
1/2 cup soaked cream or salad dressing
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
2 tablespoons minced onion
Dash of pepper
- Simmer liver in salt and water until tender. Cool and put through fine blender on food chopper. Run bacon through chopper. Mix all ingredients, place in jars and chill until used.

HERE ARE OTHER well-liked fillings:
Fried dried beef browned with onion in the skillet, then mixed with cream cheese.
Peanut butter mixed with orange marmalade.
Sliced cooked beef roast with chili butter, made by mixing softened butter with chili sauce to taste.
Chopped ham mixed with mayonnaise and shredded pineapple, drained.
Grated American cheese mixed with grated raw carrots, grated raw onion and mayonnaise.

USE THESE TRICKS for the lunch box when appetites fall, when there's an exam or some special event.

- Meat Pastries (Makes 4)
1 cup pastry mix
1 cup ground leftover meat
1/2 cup tomato soup
- Roll out pastry one-eighth inch thick. Cut into four squares. Place a mound of cooked meat on each square. Top with one tablespoon of tomato sauce. Fold pastry squares and pinch edges together. Bake in a hot (400 degree) oven about 20 minutes or until browned. These can be baked if you are making a hot bread in the morning. They are good even when cold and take the place of sandwiches.

Lunch Box Eggs
2 hard-cooked eggs
1/4 loaf sliced liver sausage
1 ounce cream cheese
1 tablespoon milk
1 teaspoon prepared mustard

Remove shells from eggs and cut in half lengthwise. Remove yolks and mash. Mash liver sausage, blend with cream cheese and milk and egg yolks. Add mustard and blend thoroughly. Refill whites and press eggs together.

Here are other sweets for packed lunches: gingerbread topped with lemon powdered sugar frosting; individual upside down cake made in a custard cup and left in the cup, maple sugar candy, popcorn balls, cookies or puddings.

Cream cheese mixed with pineapple or orange marmalade, spread on toast, is good when broiled until bubbly.
Canned or cooked tongue, sliced thin, can be spread with pickles relish and toasted.
Salmon and tuna fish salad mixtures make excellent toasted sandwiches. Season the fish salad with horseradish, mayonnaise and salt.
If you don't want young fry or Dad to raid the refrigerator, tuck up menus on the pastry shell, telling what they can use.

- Special Sandwich Filling
2 hard-cooked eggs
1 can pineapple
1 small onion
4 stalks celery
Salt and pepper to taste
2 packages cream cheese
- Chop eggs and pineapple fine. Put onion and celery through food chopper, then mix all ingredients with cream cheese and season to taste. Let stand 15 to 20 minutes or longer before using. Thin to spreading consistency with mayonnaise.
- Beef-Tomato Filling
1 pint hot tomato pulp, strained
2 tablespoons quick tapioca
1/2 pound ground beef
1/2 pound dried beef, ground fine
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon mustard
Add tapioca to hot tomato, and cook over low flame for 15 minutes. Add cheese gradually and cook slowly until melted. Remove from heat, add beef and seasonings. Cool and store.
- Corned Beef Spread
4 ounces cooked corned beef
1/2 cup minced sweet pickle
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
2 teaspoons minced onion
2 ounces sharp American cheese
Salt and pepper
- Cut cheese into tiny pieces and blend with mayonnaise. Add shredded corned beef and remaining ingredients. These sandwiches can be made up with sliced tomato and lettuce, if desired.
- Cheese-Bacon Spread
2 ounces cream cheese
2 ounces Old English cheese
1/2 cup chopped, cooked bacon
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon horseradish
2 tablespoons milk

LYNN SAYS:
Snacks From Popcorn
As Weather Cools
Toasted sandwiches are always popular and take but little time to make with a regular toaster, grill or skillet.
Hot toast can be spread with any number of fillings kept on 'tap, and served with pickles, relishes, potato chips, carrot sticks, cole slaw, or munched with fresh fruit.
If you want a more interesting sandwich, dip it into a smooth toast mixture and fry in the skillet.

Scientists Probe Rain Secrets of Mother Nature

WASHINGTON.—How does nature pull the trigger in a cloud to release rain? Scientists working on the secret have found three ways to make rain, but they haven't wrestled the whole story from nature.

Some of these are the same scientists who were working on hurricane-busting projects. They have given up that job temporarily for more intensive laboratory studies of man-made weather-in-miniature and for investigations of clouds.

Dr. Irving Langmuir, a leading rain-making scientist, has said that if some present experiments are successful it may be possible to decrease winter cloudiness in northern parts of the United States and increase average winter temperatures.

Among other possibilities that scientists have discussed are these: Thunderstorms may be broken up before lightning occurs, which might save some of the timber now destroyed every year by lightning-caused forest fires.

Some of the damaging ice storms that occur in many parts of the nation might be prevented.

Move Clouds to Desert.
Moisture-carrying clouds might be "floated" to drought or desert regions and then triggered open.

Airports could be kept free of clouds or fog.

As for far-distant possibilities, can electricity that causes lightning be harnessed for power? Experiments indicate there may be millions of volts in clouds.

Military applications of weather control also have been widely discussed. Besides clearing skies for bombing operations, such operations as scattering disease germs in clouds and then causing them to fall in rain have been talked about.

Thus far scientists know these basic facts:
1. A tiny bit of dry ice dropped into a "super-cooled" cloud always will cause ice crystals to form. These fall as rain if the air below is not too dry. A "super-cooled" cloud is below the freezing point but is filled with tiny particles of moisture that haven't yet frozen. These are fairly common in northern latitudes, especially in winter.

Drop Small Crystals.
2. If small crystals that closely resemble snow crystals are dropped in a super-cooled cloud they, too, will cause moisture to fall under certain conditions.
3. If water or ice is dropped into certain clouds above the freezing point it sometimes causes rain. Such clouds are common over the United States in summer.

These are the triggers that man uses to start rain. Nature apparently has others, too, and scientists are trying to find out what they are.

One of the major rain research studies is called "Project Cirrus," sponsored by the army signal corps, the navy and General Electric company. It is spending close to one million dollars a year.

There also is a thunderstorm-studying project at Wilmington, Ohio, sponsored by the navy, the air force, the weather bureau and the national advisory committee on aeronautics.

Senses Play Important Roles in American Marketing

NEW YORK.—If you have ears, brother—you're any salesman's prospect.
If you see well and have a sense of touch, you're the apple of his eye.
But if you can smell things and also taste them, you're a sitting duck.

The sad tale of the man who goes out to buy a necktie and comes back with four suits, a bird cage and a string of saddle ponies is all too familiar.

Our senses betray us. They are an open door through which any modern salesman leaps with a ringing American hurrah.

This frank appeal to the senses is in no small way responsible for retail sales in the United States which, last year, amounted to more than 117 billion dollars.

Florida Honey Producers Use Boats to Raise Bees

WEWAHITCHKA, FLA.— West Floridians say you need a boat to be a successful tupelo honey producer.

And they say the only place in the world where tupelo honey is produced in quantity is along the swampy banks of the lower Apalachicola river, where tupelo trees are found in great numbers.

These every year bees are brought by boat from the farm-lands where they have spent the winter.

Many of the hives are placed on high platforms by the edge of the river to protect them from spring floods.

During the brief tupelo season, the bees ignore other flowers to concentrate on the tree blossoms. The honey they produce is unique because it never crystallizes.

First Aid for Angina Pectoris
There are times when a little knowledge of heart disease may be of great value in dealing with heart attacks. One of the most common is angina pectoris. The main symptom of this disease is pain in the chest, usually under the breastbone or in the pit of the stomach. This pain may radiate down the arm and is described as tightness or squeezing in character. Quite frequently it is attended by vomiting, and naturally is thought to be an attack of acute indigestion. The only first aid that can be given in the home is to have the patient sit quietly until the pain subsides. If the patient has been under the care of a physician he will usually carry nitroglycerin tablets given to him by the physician. One of these tablets should be placed under the patient's tongue. If the pain or vomiting continues, a doctor should be called at once. The recognition of this type of heart attack, not putting it down as just indigestion, and seeking medical aid at once, may save a person's life.

In Chicago the American Music Conference completed a national survey, reported findings no disk jockey in the land could be expected to believe, says Pathfinder. From returns on questionnaires sent to a representative 4,537 U. S. families, AMC announced that 60.8 per cent families put religious music, particularly hymns, at the top of their list. Furthermore, churches were rated above theaters and concerts as the No. 1 outside factor in stimulating musical interest.

ROSWELL FAIR TO OPEN
SEPTEMBER 29TH

Exhibit tents have been added to the equipment in order to take care of the entries at the Eastern New Mexico State Fair to be held in Roswell September 29, 30, October 1 and 2. Existing buildings at the present grounds will not be adequate, and this emergency provision was made until the fair can be on its new grounds with new buildings in 1949.

This year's fair will open with a gigantic parade Wednesday morning at ten o'clock. Some fifteen bands, many of them high school bands from the southeastern New Mexico, will appear in the parade in addition to floats from organizations, communities and business firms. New Mexico Military Institute cadets will lead the parade as in past years. Walker Air Force will stage an overhead show while the parade is moving.

Friday, October 1, will be old Timers Day when men and women who have lived in New Mexico thirty years or longer will be guests of honor. An open air program by old timers will start in the down town area at nine that morning, featuring old time songs and other events recalling the old days by old timers will start in the town area at nine that morning, featuring old time songs and other events recalling the old days by old timers themselves. The parade of old timers with many new ideas will follow that and the entire group will be guests at a barbecue at noon. Old Timers are running this part of the fair, Floyd Childress, president, has announced, and they will not permit anybody who does not have 30 years residence in New Mexico to participate. The "Younger" people—who do not have thirty years in New Mexico to their credit—will be welcomed as spectators.

"This will be our greatest fair in the 20 years and we believe the attendance will equal any previous figure," said President Childress.

The greatest length of Lake Erie is 241 miles and its greatest width is 57 miles.

Davenport, Iowa, located on the Mississippi river, is an important railroad and shipping center.

1 Million

AN IMPORTANT MILESTONE

Last year we passed the million mark in telephones.

Just a few years ago—in 1939—there were only 500,000 telephones in the seven states we serve, and it had taken us about 60 years to grow to that size.

We added the second half-million in less than ten years!

The economic development of this state has played an important part in telephone growth.

There are still unfilled orders, pending the installation of more equipment in our buildings and the extension of wire and cable facilities. Completing these orders is our number one job.

NEW MEXICO WEEKLY NEWSBITES
G. Ward Kenley
Every now and then—when I think my wife won't see this column—I have to take a swing or so at the follies of feminine nature.
It's not that I'm allergic to women but simply that—well they do and say such crazy things.
Take For Instance
An El Paso woman phoned the TIMES last week griping about Gov. Dewey's attempts to appear taller.
Said this dame: "I don't like small men. They are bossy, impossible to work for; fussy about details, dictatorial toward women, and have an inferiority complex."
Continued the dame: "Take Napoleon. He wasn't even a good general. He was as shortsighted as he was short of stature. The Duke of Wellington who defeated him was a big man."

Sour Grapes
I'll bet ten to one, it was a case of sour grapes with this Texas lady. She probably wanted to become president. I agree with Johnny Desmond of the Milwaukee Journal who said: "A woman can't become president because when a woman throws her hat in the ring, by the time people recognize what it is the election is over."
And, personally I resent such chatted about a man of Dewey's caliber. Being rather on the below average height, it has been somewhat a personal gripe to have my six-foot, three-inch, 180 pound son look down on me and say: "Daddy, why don't you eat your spinach and grow up to be a man like your son?"
Anyway, I'll bet that El Paso lady had more span than spide about her—or else she wouldn't be so free with her criticism of short men.

And Other Things Feminine
Women are such impractical creatures. Take, for example, the Clowis Journal's yarn about the wife of the high school basketball coach. Her husband left her to finish drilling in a batch of wheat. Husband Bill returned later to find Bonnie had finished the job. The only trouble was she had drilled in most of the field with an empty seed box!!!!
And always waiting until the last minute, they get into superb jams. Dr. Harriet Smith, new instructor in modern languages at Silver City Teachers' College, found her last minute plane from Europe grounded. She reported late—and out of breath for the first class.

Perfume and Chocolate Eclairs
Some folks just have a hankering for that feminine smell. Harry Hazelby, pressman for the Roswell Dispatch is one of the culprits.
Last week, Roswellites were astonished at the scent of the morning paper after Harry had mixed a bottle of "Evening in Paris" perfume in the ink fountains. Editor McEvoy expects every morning now to drop into the composing room and find lace panties adorning the linotype machines.
Besides all that, men can usually beat women at their own game. East Side New Mexico 4 H's beat the tobby Sox off all girls entered in the muffin and cookie contest at Pleasant Hill.

Before Leaving the Women
I was amused at Bob Hawk's NEC Quiz show when he asked an elderly woman: "I suppose you remember the wasp-like waists?"
"Remember," snorted the man: "That's when I got stung."

The Last Word
And this is a good word for the ladies. Orchids to a sweet little Ohio lady tourist who disentangled a small Las Cruces boy last week when his pants leg got caught in the sprocket of his bicycle and ditched him with the Mopyle o-top.

Also, a nice bunch of sweet peas to Helen Hilton, formerly of Tucumcari for her nation-wide drive to encourage careful, safe driving. Her awards go to people who deserve them, those who are "A-lert, C-ourteous, E-efficient." ACE drivers.

Other Ways to Make the News
Mrs. A. F. Rocelle of Carrizozo collects buttons—10,000 of them—and to two alike. Her mother back in Kansas started the family fed by collecting 40,000 buttons.

And In Conclusion
That's all this week except to remind you that politicians along with the fair are making life in Albuquerque a fast and furious proposition this week.

IN APPRECIATION

We want to take this means of thanking you for your continued patronage of the Nu-Way Cleaners. Our aim is to do the best work possible in cleaning, pressing and repairing your clothes, and replacing all ordinary buttons.

OUR PUBLIC BUSINESS

Gasoline Tax Collections

For the first eight months of the calendar year 1948, the New Mexico Highway Department reports $8,189,468 in gasoline taxes collected—as compared with $5,558,965 collected in the corresponding period of 1947—an increase of $3,630,503, or 11.34 percent.

Motor Vehicle Licenses

For the first eight months of the calendar year 1948, the total collection of motor vehicle licenses is reported by the New Mexico Highway Department as $2,684,018 as compared with $2,285,041 for the corresponding period of 1947—an increase of $398,977, or 17.48 percent.

1948 Tax Levies

The total amount of property taxes levied on the 1948 tax roll to provide revenue for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1949 is $11,986,354 as compared with $9,747,898 levied for the year ended June 30, 1948, an increase of $2,238,456, or 22.96 percent.

The Average 1948 Tax Rate

The average property tax rate for 1948, in New Mexico, obtained by dividing the total taxes levied of $11,986,354 by the total assessed valuation of $482,411,779, is 24.85 per $1,000 of assessed valuation as compared with 23.54 for the preceding year. The increase of $1.31 is due, principally, to increased levies for interest on and payment of bonds voted by the taxpayers.

State and Federal Taxes

For the year ended June 30, 1948 the state collected taxes and licenses to the amount of $38,248,523. Taxes and licenses collected by counties and municipalities are not included. In addition, however, unemployment compensation taxes collected by the Employment Security Commission amounted to $3,298,572. Federal Government collected internal revenue taxes, including income taxes, of $53,320,140.

Add Act, $450,000,000 will be distributed among the states during each of the years ending June 30, 1950 and 1951. Forty-five percent of this amount, or $202,500,000 will go for projects in the regular federal-aid system. Thirty percent, or $135,000,000 will be for secondary and feeder roads, including county and township roads. Twenty-five percent, or $112,500,000, will be for projects on the federal-aid highway system in urban areas. For each year additional allotments for various purposes will be made as follows: Forest highways, $20,000,000; forest development roads and trails, $17,500,000; national park roads, $10,000,000; parkways, $10,000,000; and Indian reservations, $5,000,000.

Income Payments to Individuals

In the August number of Current Business, a publication of the U.S. Department of Commerce, the average income of all individuals in the state was estimated as $576 million compared with $161 million in 1929, $86 million in 1932, and $182 million in 1936. For 1947 only four states, had a lower total income than New Mexico, Delaware and Vermont in the East and Nevada and Wyoming in the West.

HOLLAND HAS A NEW QUEEN

Juliana, Holland's beloved royal princess, today reigns as Queen of The Netherlands Kingdom. On September 4, Wilhelmina stepped down from the throne in favor of her daughter. "Inauguration" ceremonies were held September 6.

Wilhelmina, longest reigning monarch in Europe (she Dutch have just celebrated her 64th birthday) announced her decision to retire in a broadcast May 13. That she said: "I want, in the interest of you all and of the Kingdom, to cede the sovereignty to Juliana, who, apart from her wise insight, also has the advantage of her age and her fresh young power. . . . God bless you and my beloved child!"

Juliana, born April 26, 1907, was named in the most democratic tradition. She attended and graduated from Leiden University as an architect and until she has continued to interact with her people as one of them.

Her husband, Prince Bernhard, now bears the title of Prince of the Netherlands. The couple had four children.

In keeping with the Dutch tradition of democracy, Juliana was not crowned, nor were the ceremonies which formally installed her as queen, called a coronation. Instead she was "inaugurated." Her crown was placed on her head, but it lay as a symbol on a table by her side together with the orb and scepter. She was "sworn in" much as the president of the United States, giving her oath of loyalty to the preservation of the Constitution.

Why Are Public Banking Hours Short?

Much of a bank's work must be done before the doors are opened each day and after they have been shut. For instance, here are some of the jobs done: opening the vault, supplying tellers with cash, distributing mail, proving cash, making up the balance sheet, sending out-of-town checks for collection, to mention a few. In short, public banking hours are as long as may be necessary to serve the community efficiently.

VETERAN NEWS

State supervisors of agriculture from Colorado, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming met in Denver this month with Veterans Administration officials to discuss the joint Federal-State institutional on-farm training program for World War II veterans.

Main topics of discussion were length of training periods and uniform methods of computing farm income and exemptions. Farm training courses, it was generally agreed, should extend over a period of from two to four years, depending on the experience and training of the veteran prior to his entrance into the program, and the size and scope of his farm operations. It was felt that each case should be handled on an individual basis according to the needs of the veteran.

Under the farm-training program, the state provides instruction in the classroom for the student veterans and assigns instructors for actual on-farm training. VA provides tuition, supplies and subsistence allowances and supervises the veteran's progress in the program.

Each veteran must either own or have control of the farm which he operates during training, and the farm must be large enough to occupy his full time. In exceptional instances, employer-trainer situations are permitted. Trainees must receive at least 200 hours of group instruction and a minimum of 50 hours of individual instruction per year, together with work experience and training on the farm.

More than 5,000 veterans in the four states are now engaged in institutional on-farm training—1,867 in Colorado, 1,716 in New Mexico, 1,557 in Utah and 480 in Wyoming.

Clifford D. Carter, VA's chief of education and training, who presided over the two day conference, stated that VA and state supervisors are working together from the same viewpoint in administering the joint program. The program in this region has shown a steady growth, he said, in spite of a shortage of qualified instructors.

State supervisors of agricultural education who attended the meeting were A. R. Bunker, Colorado; L. C. Dalton, New Mexico; Miller Brown, Wyoming; and Elvin Downs, Utah.

Veterans with disability ratings of 50 per cent or more who have dependents are advised by Veterans Administration to submit promptly to VA documentary evidence of dependency so that they may qualify for increased compensation payments under Public Law 577 of the 80th Congress. The new law provides additional allowance for such disabled veterans who have a wife, children or dependent parents.

As to the veteran's wife and children, certified copies of public or church records usually are the best and most easily obtained evidence. If for any reason the veteran cannot get these, he should submit the best evidence available, such as sworn statements of responsible persons. For parents, proof of dependency in the form of sworn statements as to income and property ownership are required.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

1948 Election Campaign Hits Stride As Democrats, GOP Vie for Labor; Soviets Aggravate Berlin Situation

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

THE GOLDEN KEY . . . Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, beams as he accepts from former French Premier Robert Schuman a golden key as a symbol of France's temporary surrender of sovereignty over the Palais de Chaillot, where the U. N. general assembly opened on September 21. What treasures of peace that key might unlock this year is a question that gives pause to the entire world.

CAMPAIGN: Trumpets Sounded

Politicians cleared their throats as with the sound of trumpets, and the 1948 presidential election campaign swept into motion.

The first skirmish between Democrats and Republicans featured President Truman and Harold E. Stassen, who carried the word of their respective parties into the great industrial area around Detroit.

THAT INDICATED that, for the time being at least, the pivotal factor directing the policies of both GOP and Democratic campaigns would be the labor vote.

To win the election this November Mr. Truman probably will need the same proportionate amount of the labor vote that turned out in favor of Roosevelt in the 1932, 1936 and 1940 campaigns. Whether he will get it is very much open to question at this stage.

Truman

Launching his battle for re-election in the Detroit area over the Labor Day week-end, President Truman fired at will.

AT GRAND RAPIDS, Lansing, Detroit, Pontiac and Flint he exhorted all the "little people" of the U. S. to register and vote in the November 2 election.

If a heavy vote turns out, he insisted, not only will he be re-elected, but the Republican majority in congress will be replaced by a Democratic one.

"IF YOU STAY home next November and keep these reactionaries in power, you will deserve every blow you get and you can expect a barrage of body blows," said Mr. Truman. This was a repetition of an idea—that "you'll get what you deserve"—which he had expressed earlier in the year and which, at the time, was received with some animosity by the people to whom he addressed it.

"You can elect a reactionary administration and go into an era of fear, or you can elect a congress and an administration that stand ready to play fair with every element of American life and enter an era of new hope. We're in a hard, tough fight against shrewd, rich opponents. They don't count on your vote; they just don't want you to vote."

Judging from his Labor Day speeches, President Truman is planning to shape his campaign around these contentions:

- 1. THAT THE MAIN issue boils down to Republican special privileges as against Democratic concern for the little man.
2. THAT THE "DO-NOTHING" 80th congress, under GOP control, has done nothing to justify its reelection.
3. THAT ANYTHING EXCEPT an all-out-vote by labor on election day "would be a betrayal by labor of its own interests."
4. THAT IF THE MASS of the nation's voters go to the polls on election day a Democratic victory is assured.

Stassen

Just a step and a half behind Mr. Truman came Harold E. Stassen, striving valiantly to scatter the coals of the bonfire the President had kindled in Detroit.

Apparently blessed by Thomas E. Dewey, GOP presidential candidate, Stassen's speech in the motor city was billed as the official kickoff of the Republican campaign.

Employment Record

The U. S. rounded the turn from summer to autumn with its civilian employment at the highest level in the history of the nation.

Approximately 61.5 million workers are employed, while the unemployed number only 2,217,000 as compared to more than 12 million during the gloomy depression years of the early 1930s. Personal prosperity now depends, however, on the impact of inflation.

STASSEN SPARED no words in taking President Truman to task, referring to him as a "complaining" failure who had resorted to "demagogic appeals" in seeking reelection.

Specifically, he charged that Mr. Truman had "dishonored labor with an extreme demagogic appeal to set class against class."

In thus resorting to the time-honored political device of attacking and reproaching the opponent from a personal standpoint, Stassen had gone Mr. Truman one better. In his Detroit address the President did not even mention Thomas Dewey.

THE DEFEATED GOP aspirant for the party's nomination declared that Mr. Truman had come not to laud labor for its record, but "as a complaining candidate for election seeking labor's vote."

"His scolding, threatening, complaining speeches" indicated that he lacks the leadership "in affairs at home and abroad so vitally needed in these next crucial years," said Stassen.

"He failed when he had a Democratic congress to work with."

"He failed when he had a Republican congress to work with."

TURNING TO THE political football which the election year has made of the issue of Communist activities in the U. S., Stassen asserted that the Republican party is "driving the red herring out of the official waters of the Potomac" by means of congressional inquiries into the Communist problem.

"Too many red herrings have been in Washington for too long a time," he blasted. "The President, should help man the red herring nets instead of complaining against the fishermen."

BERLIN: More Trouble

There was, it appeared, no end to the Russian-sponsored trouble in Berlin, and it was having its grimly detrimental effect on the fiber of the peace.

Latest incident piled atop many other instances of petty Soviet encroachments, needed little more than a small flame to turn into a funeral pyre for what is left of world harmony.

IT WAS A FLAGRANT invasion of American offices in the Berlin city hall by armed, Russian-controlled police who kidnapped 19 western sector policemen who had sought sanctuary in the building.

What the purpose of the raid was never became quite clear. On the surface it looked like pure terrorism carried out as part of the overall Soviet plan eventually to get control of the entire German capital.

AN AMERICAN protest by Col. Frank Howley, American commander in Berlin, was rejected bluntly by the Soviet commander, Maj. Gen. Alexander Kolikov, who flatly warned the U. S. officials "not to interfere in matters which don't concern them."

Kotikov's letter followed rejection of French protests that demanded the release of another 19 anti-Communist western sector policemen who were kidnaped by Soviet police while traveling in a French convoy under a Russian guarantee of safe conduct.

In the face of these intolerable developments, how could East-West negotiations for a Berlin agreement continue? Apparently they couldn't, except under almost impossible strain.

SECRETARY OF STATE George Marshall charged that the Berlin city hall kidnappings were aimed, at least in part, at disrupting the talks by the four military governors who were, ostensibly, seeking the road to a settlement of the Berlin problem and the issue of uniform currency.

Thus, it was easy to understand why U. S. diplomatic authorities were concerned with the possibility of an early collapse of the formal negotiations. It was likely that the Kremlin would be the first to back the red light.

CABINET: Si Vous Plait

They couldn't find a government in France. As a political situation that appeared slightly ludicrous from across the Atlantic, but Frenchmen were becoming sorely worried for fear that they had lost the ability of power to govern themselves.

AFTER PREMIER Andre Marie's cabinet fell, President Vincent Auriol appointed Robert Schuman as premier, and gave him the usual instructions to form a cabinet.

Schuman duly gathered together an administrative body and then, 64 hours later, watched it fall apart when he was defeated on a technical proposal to postpone questioning of the new cabinet by the national assembly. In short, he failed to get the necessary vote of confidence.

Desperate by this time, President Auriol then named Henri Queuille, veteran Radical Socialist, to succeed Schuman.

WHAT QUEUILLE could do to produce some kind of order out of political confusion and economic travail no one knew. He is 64 years old, a little known political figure in France and was a wartime assistant of Gen. Charles DeGaulle.

The situation pointed up the alarmed belief, becoming more predominant in France, that no individual or group can command the working majority that will enable him to govern the nation successfully.

It is a paradox that the parties in the moderate center of the political scale in France can speak for less than 25 per cent of the people, General DeGaulle, on the right, commands 45 per cent of the vote, and Communist groups hold another 30 per cent.

Although the past few weeks have not been conducive to a coherent examination of the political situation in France, the principal trend seems to be toward a return of General DeGaulle and his right-wing beliefs to power.

ANYTHING NEW Bloomin' Sage

That sagebrush is mighty pretty when it blooms purple, and the song-writers can't be blamed for making something out of it.

But out West they hate that sage.

It swathes nearly 98 million western acres in a tough, resistant blanket, and ranchers and federal range managers alike consider it an almost complete nuisance.

THEY WANT TO REPLACE the whole 98 million acres with nutritious grasses for cattle and sheep. Some of the sage would have to be retained to prevent erosion, but most of it could go.

They were talking about the problem of eliminating sagebrush at the annual meeting at Fort Collins, Colo., of the American Society of Agronomists and the Soil Science society.

Despite efforts to control or eradicate it, the sage continues to spread and probably covers a greater area now than before the pioneer settlers went West.

MOST HOPEFUL development is the new brush-land plow, 10 of which are being built for further trial. Also, congress will be asked next year to provide more money for range reseeding and improvement.

About five million acres of western range already have been reseeded. These pastures almost invariably carry more nutritious and abundant food for cattle than the original prairie, according to U. S. forest service officials. Animals make better gains on it.

IN THE LONG RUN that could mean more and cheaper meat.

Lip Service

First truly by-product of the formulation of the 1948 presidential campaign is the "Dewey doctrine," a false, Dewey-esque doctrine to hold the fancy of still-upper-lip Republicans. Seen to appear on store counters across the nation, the gadget consists of a bit of black charcoal slipped to the upper lip in true-blue GOP style.

POLIO: Mice Cured

Columbia university has announced the development of a new sulfu-type drug, called Darvinol, that cures one kind of infantile paralysis in mice and is also a successful preventive to the disease in mice.

Despite extensive tests during the past summer, it is still not known whether the new drug will prove effective against polio in human beings.

HENRY IN THE LAND OF COTTON . . . Henry Wallace, Progressive party presidential candidate, fared but ill during his campaign tour through the South when he discovered that the people there weren't having any of the political ideas that he preached. As a relief from the moral battering he was taking from his southern audiences, Wallace turned now and then to more basic things. Here, at Boss, Ala., he talks about cotton with Robert Knott who has 20 acres of it and ought to know something about it.

REFLECTIONS OF HOPE . . . Wherever there are bars there are hopeful, leaping faces peering through them. These people are citizens of Berlin, not imprisoned but simply watching through the fence around the Allied control council in the German capital as the Allied and Soviet military governors were meeting also there in an effort to ease the dangerous situation in that city. And the anxiety on these faces is the anxiety of the world, possibly excepting the Russians, who seem to be doing all they can to promote more anxiety.

THEY WON IT AGAIN . . . Here are the members of the U. S. Davis cup team who again clinched the classic tennis trophy for the United States by virtue of victories over Australia in matches held at Forest Hills, N. Y. Left to right are: Frank Parker, Bill Talbert, Alrick Mann, non-playing captain; Gardner Mulloy, and Ted Schroeder. They are posed with the handsome trophy which they retained for the U. S. without being put to less much trouble. Winning the Davis cup matches has become a habit with American teams in recent years.

CALL OF THE WILD . . . The abstemious reader may entertain some doubt about this, but there is supposed to be a new 1948 Noah somewhere in that big box. Also, this picture would lead one to believe that the Robinson, who customarily travel by dog-sled—like the one displayed here—are agree with impatience as they wait for the wraps to be torn from the new car so they can tell it to march.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE

by Roger C. Whitcomb

QUESTION: I would like to know if I may use varnish on asphalt tile flooring.

ANSWER: Varnish is not recommended for asphalt tile, neither is paint or lacquer.

QUESTION: We would like to know how to prepare our enameled walls before installing steel tile. Can you inform us?

ANSWER: Wash the walls with a fairly strong solution of trisodium phosphate, about a cupful in a gallon of water. Rinse well with clear water and allow to dry thoroughly. Dull any remaining gloss by rubbing with fine sandpaper; then wipe off the dust. Spread a putty-like cement, which comes with the tile, over the wall and apply the tile. The method of application is described in a leaflet which comes with each shipment of tile.

DOLL FOR LUCK

By GENE GILBERT

PALMER soared through the sky with a light heart. He was leaving a hard life behind, years of hand-to-mouth existence, years of depending on occasional charter trips and the students able to pay the high rates on his big machine. The future opened before him: He would get a new ship, one of those long-range, all metal jobs, go in for long-distance competitive races. And he would have a swell-looking girl with a pile of dough to pay the bills.

He glanced at the instrument board, saw that everything was all right. The cabin ship roared steadily over Connecticut at four thousand feet. There were scattered clouds beneath him, but not enough to hide the ground. His luck was breaking right for the first time, just right. Reaching up, he patted the mascot swinging from the roof on a length of ribbon.

It was a small doll, black of face, with two pearl buttons set in the satin for eyes, a piece of red silk stitched across the lower half of the face for a mouth. It was garbed in a loud plaid dress green and red.

That rag-stuffed little figure had been hanging in this ship for over two years. Palmer had come to believe it was lucky. The girl who had loaned him the down payment on the machine had put it there. He had met her one summer when he had been barnstorming with a small, old ship, and they had knocked around together for three months. She had been pretty sure of herself, Palmer recalled, loaned him money, talked about how "we" were going to make a fortune with the larger ship.

He recalled the night when they had won the doll at a small carnival, in one of the ring-toss games. He had made up his mind already to pull out sometime soon. And it had annoyed him somewhat to see her having such a gay time. But he could not tell her, there was no need to say goodbye tearfully and have her bawl and carry on in front of him.

On their way home she had insisted that they go to the field where his ship was staked down in the open, and sit in the cabin for a few minutes. She had been big, and light blonde and sentimental. Just before they had left the cabin, she had pinned the thing to the upholstery on the ceiling. "That's our luck, Eric," she had said. "As long as she's there, we'll always be safe."

Palmer had smiled, kissed her and taken her home. At dawn of the same morning, he had taken off and come East. He had never returned. Once in a while, a letter from her had caught up with him, but he had not answered. What was the use? He had intended to send her back the loan when he could. He was grateful for the help, and everything. But how could he explain without hurting her, that they were just not suited to each other?

When the letters had stopped coming, he had thought that she had understood. Then some fellow, who had known them both, had handed him a clipping, without a word. She had been killed in a crossing accident. It seemed that her car had stalled on the tracks, and that she had made no effort to get out. The fellow evidently thought she had done it on purpose. Palmer knew better. That girl had had character, she would not have done away with herself, not a few hundred bucks and a broken engagement.

He had been tempted to take that doll down. Then he had reasoned that it would be, in a way, an admission of remorse. And he had nothing to blame himself for. The doll had brought him luck at last; Eleonore. She had looks and background and money. Furthermore, she had the kind of a spirit he liked, which he needed close to him. To her, a ship wasn't something to work for a small house, for an ordinary living. She enjoyed what he enjoyed, fame, her name in the papers. She loved him, all right, but she would always understand that he must take long chances.

He jerked the doll loose and tossed it out through the open side window.

AHEAD, he saw the small field where she was waiting. They would drive to her home, be married, and fly away. He tipped his left wing, banked lazily over a field. A bright spot of color detached itself from a long, sleek, dark car. Eleonore waving her scarf. That was service—already: His girl waiting for him with a sixteen cylinder bus, complete with chauffeur.

His spirits surged higher. This was a private airport, no inspector would be around, so he was safe in giving her a show. He slammed the motor full on, nosed down the tight loop, he leveled off and eased her around, a few wing-overs—and level-flight again.

Something caught his eye, the doll, swinging from the roof, grinning redly. He smiled and slapped it like a punching-bag, a few times.

glanced at his altimeter. He still had fifteen hundred feet. One last stunt and then he could land. He circled the field once more, swung around and when he was almost over the car, shoved the throttle full on and dove in a screaming fall. The moving doll again attracted his glance.

Eleonore had tightened her lips when he had told her it was a souvenir from a dame; before he got serious with her. It might be tactful to ditch it now—scarcely the memento for a perfect honeymoon! A small sacrifice to love. He reached out, jerked it loose and tossed it out through the open side window and pulled the wheel back to neutral.

Eleonore was standing still by the side of the car, he noticed and he decided to level off. No need to frighten her. He hauled back further on the wheel. It yielded an inch—and stuck. He pulled again, harder, and the wheel stuck—the wheel stuck—

He must get her nose up, level off—he was doing better than two hundred and the ground was close. Too close.

Caught between the horizontal stabilizer and the counterweight for the elevators, the small black doll in the loud green and red plaid dress seemed to widen the grin of her scarlet satin mouth.

New Unit Improves Ventilation of Barn

Dairyman Finds Device Particularly Effective

Many of a cow's troubles can be traced to heat and humidity. A cow, unlike a human being, can perspire only through the mouth. So when the temperature and humidity inside a barn get high, the animal becomes uncomfortable and stubborn, particularly at milking time.

According to the department of agriculture, an average cow gives off almost a pint of water every hour through breathing. In addition to the high humidity caused by this breathing, a cow has an extremely high body temperature. During the winter months, when the cows are in the barn most of the time, this combination results in generation of an enormous amount of water vapor and heat. When the warm, moisture-laden air comes in contact with the cold walls, condensation occurs and frost is formed.

The net result to farmers is rotting beams, joist and siding; a loss of hay because of mold created by moisture and frost; milk contamination, disease, particularly among the young stock and reduction of milk production because of discomfort to cows.

A simple solution to all of these costly problems is an automatic cooling unit, which is proving popular with dairy farmers.

These automatic ventilation units, easily installed, reduce condensation to a negligible degree—less than 2 per cent. This action, in turn, decreases barn deterioration, hay mold, milk contamination and disease. It also provides much more comfort for the cows and increases milk production. In addition, working conditions for the operator are much more pleasant.

Picture on Verne Jullins farm at Freeport, Ill., shows installation of automatic cooling unit in dairy barn.

The cooling units are equipped with an automatic "air-switch" thermostat.

Higher Yields Outweigh Cattle Spraying Costs

An increase of $3.75 per head more than covers the cost of spraying beef cattle with DDT. It was revealed in a test of the value of fly control conducted at the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

Protected cattle gained about 35 pounds more per head during the pasture season than a group that had not been sprayed. At 25 cents a pound, an increase of 15 pounds a head amounts to $3.75 a head, a return that far outweighs the cost of spraying.

Beef cattle should be sprayed often enough to control flies, whether it requires two or three sprayings during the season or once a month.

Herds and Flocks

Use of 2, 4-D sprays for weed control in pastures is not dangerous to grazing animals.

A home-mixed spray of crude benzene hexachloride powder and water is more likely to taint eggs in poultry houses than a good commercial roost paint containing the effective portion of the same chemical.

Poultry houses with light colored roofs are cooler in summer than those with roofs painted black.

To get water to hogs in distant pasture where there is no water supply, pipes can be laid on top of the ground. To prevent freezing in winter, disconnect and drain the pipes.

Benzene Hexachloride Will Check Hog Mange

If hogs stand around and rub instead of eating, they may have a touch of mange. Benzene hexachloride has been found to be more effective than lime sulphur. Benzene hexachloride should be applied when temperatures are up around 75 degrees, using one pound of 50 per cent powder to four gallons of water. It is important to see that the animal is completely covered, including the inside of the ears.

TRICKS FOR TEENS

By NANCY PEPPER

Meek Turtle.
The latest fashion to turn into a fad is the long-sleeved, turtle neck cotton knit T-shirt. You're wearing it in white only and you tie one of your shaded silk scarfs under the roll collar with the long ends hanging down in back. On the front of your turtle neck shirt you wear your trickiest pin or set of matching pins. At a CALLING ALL GIRLS fashion show held up in Stamford, Conn., we counted no less than eight of these shirts, similarly scarfed, in the first row of the audience! Your favorite teen department has the T-shirts, you have the scarfs—so what are you waiting for—a date with Lon McAllister?

Time Marches On.
Oh, happy the days when dates were for eating
And happy the days when dates were for learning;
But, now you're a teen, there's no retreating—
Dates are for making, breaking—and yearning.

You Said It—and You're Glad!
"Well, Meek My Shoedest!"—Expression of surprise which you could transpose to mean, "Well, Shock My Modesty." Only it wouldn't be so much fun that way.

"Glad to Hear It"—Your comment on any good news.
"Sad to Hear It"—Ditto on any bad news.

"Concert a Wittichism"—Very formal for "pop a corny."
"That's Your Red Wagon"—That's your worry.

"Ticky Bird"—New name for a drip and no relation to the Dicky Bird who announces spring in that popular song.
"R Man"—Top man, formerly known as your O. A. O.

"Once in a Red Moon"—Indicates a much longer interval than the traditional "Blue Moon."

"I Wish Your Mother Had Raised Dicks Instead"—This retort can mean only one thing; that you wish the person to whom you're talking had never been born.

"Chee Chee"—You pipe it in a mousy voice and it means "wonderful." It also means you've been spinning Rose Murphy's platters. Well, as the man said when he followed the fire engines, "I want to see what's cooking!"

TRIXIE TEEN SAYS—
You're so engrossed in how you're going to look for this important date that you haven't given much thought to how you're going to sound. You know he's a big basket ball player; you know he's a bug for aviation; you know he's majoring in history and economics at school. They're all clues to his interests—but you haven't had time to follow one of them. Instead, you've concentrated on your clothes, your hair, your make-up. Well, you'll be pretty as a picture, all right—but haven't you heard that silent pictures are obsolete? These days, a boy prefers a picture with sound—a talky that really has something to say!

HE WHO IS GLAD

Grace Noll Crowell

HE WHO is glad for every day's bright beauty,
For a flower or a red leaf in the wood,
Who seeks fresh color in each hour's drab duty,
I think he thanks his Maker as he should.

He who is brave to meet each day's new sorrow,
Whose courage marches with him as he goes,
Carries a stronger heart into tomorrow,
And thus thanks God the very best he knows.

He who walks calmly, surely, through disaster,
Trusting an unseen hand to bring him peace,
Lifts up his life, a prayer unto his Master,
And offers him a praise that does not cease.

He who moves gently when the stress is pressing,
Leading a head, such as a woman would,
Who turns his days and years into a blessing,
I am sure he thanks his Maker as he should.
